

GREEN BUFF QUINTET OUT-PLAYS BAYLOR BEARS IN TWO FAST GAMES FRI. AND SAT.

Joe Fortenberry, Six-and-a-half Foot Buff Center is Sensation of Both Games; Scores Go First to Baylor, Then to W. T.

Opening the 1931 basketball season Friday night, Coach Burton's apparently green quintet of basketballers surprised the spectators by showing the Baylor Bears a superior brand of basketball that only fell short five of defeating the visitors, the final score being 36-32. This same aggregation came back in Saturday night's game and redeemed themselves by smothering the doughty Bears by the decisive score of 45-34.

Joe Fortenberry, 200 pound moon sweeper from Happy and all district high school center last year proved to be the sensation of the two games. The Buffs got off to a good start in the first game and held the lead during the half but during the final period of the game with but five minutes to go the Bears put on a speedy offensive that unknotted the score and won by a score of 36-32. Brown, Comer and Fortenberry carried the brunt of the attack in the first game.

Saturday night the Buffs started the fireworks early in the game and set the pace for the Bears and found them lacking. Burk, Comer and Fortenberry showed a brand of ball pitching that looked like championship stuff to the spectators. Never was there a time in the second game when the Buffs were in serious danger of holding the little end of the score. At the half the score stood 25-16 and despite the fact that three Buffs left the floor on personal fouls, the subs carried on without letting up on the pace and the final score was 45-34 in favor of the Buffaloes.

Stars

For the visitors Alford, and Kirksey were outstanding in the first game, while Alford, Kirksey, Strickland and Wells showed exceptional speed and basketing in the second game. Alford was fast and tricky and is one of the best in the state while Kirksey was plenty good on long distant passing. For the Buffs, Fortenberry was the star, closely followed by Comer, Burk and Clark. Bob made some beautiful goals and is exceedingly good in his floor work. Captain Brown led the new Buff quintet like a veteran and the fans need not worry at the outcome of the season's play because of the

Progress Made By Le Mirage to Date Is Outstanding

Great progress has been made to date on the college yearbook, Le Mirage, according to Margaret Shears, editor-in-chief, and others of the annual staff.

Practically one-half of the Le Mirage has been sent to the engravers. All organization material, and as much other as possible is to be sent by January 15. This means that the annual will be out early in the spring.

1931 Debate Squad Is Organized and Discusses Plans

Turning out in goodly numbers in answer to C. W. Batchelder's call for applicants to the local intercollegiate debate squad, W. T. debating aspirants met last night to organize and discuss plans for the season's work.

According to Mr. Batchelder, who is sponsoring and directing this work, there are already several prospective debates being considered.

The 1931 squad will meet every Monday night from now on.

Kathleen Cronin, of Hereford, a freshman here this year, spent the Christmas vacation visiting in Oklahoma.

NOTICE: WRITERS CLUB

The first meeting of the Writers' Club for the Winter quarter will be held tomorrow night at the home of Dr. McCole, at 7:15 promptly. Members are urged to be on time.

FACULTY TRIPS MARK HOLIDAYS LAST MONTH

FACULTY MEMBERS WELCOME VACATION AS REST PERIOD.

As is usually true at such a time, the holiday season just past offered to the members of the W. T. faculty a welcome opportunity for doing a few of the several things which their routine duties prevent throughout the term. This year's Christmas vacation was especially marked by the number of faculty members who spent all or a part of their time out of Canyon.

Dean and Mrs. R. P. Jarrett during this time visited in Temple, Oklahoma, and in Dallas and Granberry, Texas.

Miss Mary E. Hudspeth visited her brother at El Paso.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Osgood were absent a greater part of the vacation visiting relatives in Tennessee although they were in Canyon for Christmas Day.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Sheffy spent the holidays visiting in Dallas and Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Marion Witt, of Cousins Hall, visited her sister at McGregor.

Miss Mattie Swayne divided her time between visits to Paducah, and Memphis, Texas.

Miss Tennessee Malone made the longest trip of the entire group, going to Chicago for her vacation.

Miss Hattie M. Anderson was the guest of Miss McDonald in Amarillo during the holidays.

Miss Ima C. Barlow went to Austin where she visited members of her family.

The Pierle family spent one day in Clarendon.

Miss Florence McMurtry made a trip to Denver, Colorado.

Children's Theater Production to Be Given Next Week

Continuing the work carried on by it during the past fall term, the Children's Theater Company, under the direction of C. W. Batchelder, will present its first after-Christmas program in the auditorium of the Education building on January 15 at 3:30, at which time "The Three Bears," a version of the child's story entitled "Goldilocks," will be given.

"The Three Bears" will not be a conventional Children's Theater production, as only three characters and the director have been chosen from the company group. All other roles and parts in the play will be in the hands of training school individuals and groups under the direction of Ada V. Clark.

Those members of the Dramatic Club who will appear in the cast are Alvord Swafford, as Ready, the Great Big Bear; Wilmoth Gamble, as Steady, the Middle-sized Bear; and Lorine Robb, as Peggy, a little girl in the play. The student director, also a member of the club is Katie Corwall.

At the meeting of the Dramatics Club held Thursday, casts for two plays to be given as club productions on January 22 were assigned. The plays are "Joint Owners in Spain," directed by Mrs. D. Ola Gillespie, and "Not Quite Such a Goose," directed by Georgia Whittemburg.

Scribblers Will Contribute First Time Wed. Night

Wednesday night, members of the Scribblers Club, organized last quarter, will meet at the home of Mrs. Travis Shaw, sponsor, at which time their first program of contributions will be held.

The purpose of this club is to give those freshmen whose ambition it is to write, and whose talents seem to lie in that direction, an opportunity to have their literary efforts criticized and judged by an audience composed of their peers. Each member is expected to contribute once a month.

At the meeting tomorrow night further plans, business and social will be discussed.

W. T. OFFICIALLY AWARDED 1930 T. I. A. A. CUPS

MEET IS DIVIDED INTO WEST AND EAST CONFERENCE GROUP

At a meeting of the Texas Intercollegiate Athletic Association held in Dallas, December 15, D. A. Shirley, registrar of W. T., was re-elected president, and the West Texas State Teachers College was officially awarded the championship in basketball and tennis, for 1930.

In commenting upon the fall meeting of the Association, Mr. Shirley says, "The most interesting action that was taken at the meeting was the division of the meet into two sections to determine championships in football and basketball." The five schools in the West section are as follows: W. T. S. T. C., McMurry, Abilene Christian College, Daniel Baker, and Sul Ross State Teachers College. The six in the East are North Texas State Teachers College, East Texas State Teachers College, Southwestern State Teachers College, Sam Houston State Teachers College, and the College of Arts and Industries.

Under the new plan each team will play four games of football with four different institutions in its own section, and then the winner of each section will play the winner of the other, the championship game to be played not later than the second Saturday following Thanksgiving.

A called meeting of the Association will be held at Denton in the spring in conjunction with the track and tennis meet.

Intramural Teams In Basketball Now Being Organized

Under the direction of Mitchell Jones, intramural basketball contests are being scheduled for the opening season, to be played between teams of the various organizations of the college to determine the intramural champions of the year. According to Mr. Jones, awards will be given, depending on the support received.

All organizations which plan to enter these contests are urged to have their teams organized by the end of this week, as the games are to start the week following. Three groups already have begun definite work along this line, the Antler Literary Society, the Cousins Literary Society, and the Agriculture Club. All others who wish help in this matter are instructed to see Mr. Jones immediately.

W.T. Only Teachers' College in Texas Named on Arch

West Texas State Teachers College is the only Texas institution of its kind whose name appears on the Walter Camp Memorial Arch at the Yale Bowl, New Haven, Conn.

L. M. Fertsch, formerly superintendent of schools at Hereford, now at Yale, writes to President Hill, "As I pass under that magnificent arch leading to the Yale Bowl I always see recorded the name of the one teachers college in Texas which participated in this project that is dedicated to clean sports. The West Texas State Teachers College's name is recorded there. I have referred to it many times."

ANTLERS PLAN INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL SQUAD

Members of the Antler Literary Society met in regular session on Thursday night, Jan. 1, and preparations for the programs of the new quarter were begun. Mr. White, sponsor of the group, gave an interesting talk on the subject of programs and program-giving.

Preparations for the Antler basketball squad were also made. The squad will begin practice soon, and enter the intramural contests. Winston Wofford was elected captain and manager of the squad.

Miss Esther Rudolph, an ex-student of the college, who is teaching at Mission, spent the Christmas holidays at the home of her sister Mrs. Dan K. Usery. Miss Rudolph will return to Canyon next spring where she will finish her work for her degree during the summer quarter.

Judge J. E. Adams, of Muleshoe, whose little son was killed in the auto accident west of Canyon December 13, is a graduate of W. T., having received his degree from here in 1925.

DR. A. BARNETT RETURNS FROM PEABODY UNIV.

CONSIDERS TIME IN NASHVILLE VERY PROFITABLY SPENT.

Returning Monday night, December 29, from Peabody University, Nashville, Tennessee, where he substituted the past quarter for Dr. K. C. Davis as professor of Agricultural Education, Dr. Albert Barnett has again taken up his work here as a member of the W. T. education department faculty.

According to him, Dr. Barnett's stay in Nashville offered him the opportunity of seeing and learning many new and interesting things, aside from the self-educational value of the work he did while there. His work in the University consisted of teaching and directing special problems in research. His classes, which met four times weekly, consisted entirely of men, most of whom were graduate students in the field of educational research.

Dr. Barnett states that one of the most interesting things that he did while in Peabody was to sit in as a visitor in classes on current problems in teachers colleges and normal schools. In these classes Dr. Barnett took advantage of every opportunity to mention the many noteworthy things about W. T. which were connected with

Throughout the quarter in Peabody, Dr. Barnett was sponsor of the Knapp County Club, of which he was a charter member fifteen years ago.

He made many excursion trips to points of interest in that section, visiting the home of President Andrew Jackson, the home of Sam Davis, confederate boy hero of Tennessee, and the State Teachers College at Murfreesboro, among other places. Dr. Barnett states that all of the state colleges that he visited while away, none have as good buildings as those of W. T., and he declares that this college is also outstanding in campus cordiality.

While there, Dr. Barnett had an article on "The Methods used by Normal Schools in Dealing with Class Absences," accepted by the Educational Administration Supervision Magazine.

College Farm Offers Work to Ten Students

The farm of the West Texas State Teachers College, formerly the headquarters of the T-Anchor ranch, now enables ten boys to continue their college work by giving them employment.

The boys who have been selected to receive this assistance were chosen because of their ability to do the work well and because of their interest in agriculture as well as on a basis of their scholastic records and character ratings. Professor T. M. Moore has general management of the farm and he demands trust-worthiness and dependability of every man who works for him. This, he believes, is one of the reasons the college farm consistently shows a profit.

The young men who share in the work of the farm are A. L. Jones, Eddy; Howard Weatherby, Lakeview; Carleton Cook, Lockney; George Gandy, Tulsa; Estill Allen, Coleman; Charles Jennings, Tulsa; Jess Blair, Seagraves; Raymond Powell, Wellington; John Aldridge, Odell; and Webster Willoughby, Texola, Oklahoma.

BABY SON OF MR. AND MRS. FELIX PHILLIPS DIES

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Phillips whose baby died Sunday, Dec. 14, are both ex-students of W. T. Mr. Phillips was graduated in 1926. The little boy who died was named Tommie Clark after Mr. T. M. Clark, professor of foreign languages in the college here.

Straight "A's" Made By Three Students During Fall Term

Two freshmen students in W. T. Mildred Smith of Tulsa, and Guilford Miller of Hereford, made straight "A" records during the fall quarter. Each was carrying the full load of five subjects.

Mildred Smith is a graduate of the Plainview High School, and Miller of the Hereford High School. Both these schools are members of the Southern Association, and give their students fine foundations for college work.

Another unusually good grade record made in the fall term was that of Mrs. Brice Kennedy, a junior of Clarendon, whose report for that term shows six "A's". Since six subjects is the maximum load, Mrs. Kennedy did all that a student can possibly do to earn scholarship honors.

Mother of J. S. Humphreys Dies Sunday in Ken.

Mrs. Martha Scott Humphreys, age 82, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John L. Deplett at Buckner, Kentucky, Sunday morning, Dec. 28. The deceased was ill only a few days.

Fr. J. S. Humphreys, of the W. T. faculty, son of the deceased was preparing to leave for her bedside when the message came announcing her death. This changed his plans as he preferred to visit the family later when he could have a longer time to stay.

Mrs. Humphreys is survived by four children, three sons and one daughter, and a sister. Burial took place in the family graveyard at Bardstown, Kentucky.

COUSINS INSTALL NEW OFFICERS AT FIRST MEET

College Offers Special Courses to Canyon People

Again the college is making a special offer of courses for the women of Canyon and vicinity, two courses of particular interest being available beginning with the opening of the winter term, December 30.

One of those courses is called Home Economics 222 and is an introduction to nutrition and dietaries. This course is open to any woman who has college entrance.

A course in Child Care, called Home Economics 411 will also be offered with the idea of serving the mothers of Canyon. Women who have had two years of college work in either Home Economics or Education are eligible to take this course for college credit. Any others who desire the material of the courses may enroll as auditors in the classes.

Through a special effort to serve the people of Canyon, President Hill has authorized a fee rate of Five Dollars for persons who wish to take one of these courses for credit, or Ten Dollars for those wishing to take both of these courses for credit. This special rate has been authorized for the present term only.

Anyone in Canyon, (man or woman) may enroll for one or two courses in any department of the college upon the payment of a $5.00 auditor's fee. Auditors do not receive credit for the work, but have all the privileges of other members of the class. They may attend lectures only, or write the papers required of credit members of the class and take examinations if they wish to do so.

President Hill has pointed out that the facilities of the college might be used much more by the people who live in town than is now the case. It is the desire of the college to serve the people of Canyon through its regular courses, its entertainments, and every feature of its organization.

Pierle Lectures on Brown Tooth Stain To Dawn Students

At the request of the Parent Teachers Association of that community, Dr. C. A. Pierle, head of the chemistry department, went to Dawn Friday night to show slide pictures and lecture on the subject of "The Cause and Prevention of Brown Tooth Stain."

The Dawn school has employed the services of several of the departments of the college in this manner during the current school year.

Sent by the student body of W. T. as its representative to the great National Student-Faculty Conference held in Detroit between Dec. 27 and Dec. 31, Ernest Cabe Jr., left here Dec. 23, returning Saturday, January 3, with a report of vast significance to W. T. as a leading educational institution, and of importance to the cause of education itself.

The Great Conference which was held in the Book-Cadillac Hotel, opened Saturday, Dec. 27, at 2:30, with an attendance of eight hundred-fifty students, faculty members, and leading educators, from schools, colleges, and universities all over America. Exercises were begun with an address by George Coe of the Teachers College of Columbia University, who spoke on "Modern Trends in Education," and epitomized the prevailing spirit of the entire conference in his vigorous attack on the evident evil of many of the modern educational systems, and practices, especially in the United States.

The main speaker throughout the Conference was Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr, professor in the Union Theological Seminary in New York City, and an outstanding philosopher of the day, whose thesis was "Religion in Relation to Modern Culture," and whose speeches dealt with the religion which is to emerge from the apparent conflict between religion and science. According to Dr. Niebuhr, more life, more vitality, more human insight and understanding must be injected into modern religious conceptions before religion can serve mankind to the best advantage.

After the first assembly Saturday afternoon, the Conference broke into sub-conferences the following afternoons, the mornings left for general assembly, and the evenings for lectures, and social activities. From among these major sub-conferences, Cabe was assigned to that dealing with the "Place of Religion in Higher Education," which in turn was divided into six sub-commissions, leaving Cabe in one on "Student-Faculty Relations and Student Government." In this division was Treadwell Smith, of Columbia University, as chairman. At the end of the discussion in this group, Cabe was given the opportunity and honor of making the commission's report.

Exes in Randall County Plan to Organize Group

This meeting was formerly called for last Wednesday night, but so few attended that the date was postponed.

Mr. Carruth states that the purpose of the meeting is to organize a Randall County Ex-Students Association of the college. At the first meeting arrangements will be made for an ex-students page in the 1931 edition of Le Mirage.

"From the standpoint of astronomy a new year begins every day; still the day which mankind has designated as the beginning of the calendar year is momentous."

Young 1931 has taken its place in the calendar of the ages, and the courage and hope that it has brought is resolutely supplanting the fear and pessimism of the old 1930. Hearts are lighter, minds are freer, sight is clearer. With the birth of the new year, has come the re-birth of optimism and faith.

Growing out of this newness of life has come "a wholesome mental renovation" and a new and rising strength—strength of purpose and resolution.

Along with the rest of the world, W. T. is experiencing an influx of vitality, and is awakening to a fuller realization of its power and place. We here are starting on a new year, indeed. The effects of national depression and individual failure have been felt here as all over the land, but their influence will, and is, lessening under the efficacy of experience and progressive unfoldment. Evidence of this truth is the forward step recently taken by this college, and others throughout America in sending a representative to the great Student-Faculty Conference which lately took place in Detroit, and which promises to be the nucleus of one of the most influential and advancing movements in modern education, having a world wide significance. Another is embodied in the preparation now being made for the offering of WORTH-WHILE graduate courses in the coming summer term, and thenceforward. W. T. is striving for an ever increasing demonstration, and recognition, of growth toward the highest educational ideals.

It is the sincerest desire of The Prairie to seize every opportunity offered it to help in this perennial advancement; as an official organ of the college, such is its fundamental purpose. To The Prairie, also, 1931, (or, appositionally, experience) has brought many things. We believe that wisdom sanctions a "fair appraisal of motives and activities," and that retrospection which cancels past mistakes and failures by a just evaluation of effort and ability is helpful, in any and all fields of life. In view of this, we hope to realize the resolutions which we have made for our work in this new year, among which is a determination to give all possible consideration (meaning space) to everything that is of educational, economic, political, or social importance to the college, or within it, from chapel programs to pink teas. We hope eventually to learn to recognize these values from among the great amount of too-often valueless material which comes to us, and to acquire the ability to put our knowledge into practice.

Happy New Year!

RESOLUTIONS

Nineteen hundred thirty-one is here. Nineteen hundred thirty, with its sorrows, joys, failures, successes, hopes, and disappointments, has been put in storage and a new model put into circulation. What we have to offer our long suffering public for the year ahead remains a conjecture. We have made no resolutions, for resolutions like hearts and other things, are fragile and made mostly to be broken. However, we have made and expressed a hope that in this year we may be of better service to our fellowman. How we may do this is yet to be seen. We always make this wish and in some unknown manner continue to go down the road of years forgetting that our fellow man is expecting us to do something for him to better his lot on this sphere. At this time we have many, many ideas that we could put into practice that would make life more worth living but lacking the necessary encouragement and financial backing we are going to delay putting them into effect until some future time. There is one thing that we intend to do this year and that will be of untold benefit to those who are associated with us and that is to maintain a smiling countenance. In other words, we intend to practice the teaching of Coue that "every day, in every way, we are growing better and better." Probably not better looking, or more moral or more efficient economically, but better in some way. Optimism is the pass word for 1931 and no man need hope to succeed this year unless he is a full fledged, one hundred percent optimist. We intend to start the local flood by laughing at every asinine joke, smiling at every dirty crack and grinning at every funny looking baby as though it were a bright and shining example of perfection. Who is going to be the next to follow suit? Let's all help and our job will be easy, but if everybody else refuses to get behind this movement of ours we are afraid that we will have a tough assignment.

18 Letters Are Given Buffalo Football Men

A captain for the 1931 squad and eighteen men of the 1930 Buffalo grid team were given their letters at the last meeting of the squad which was held last month. Raymond Powell, premier ground gaining half back was elected captain of the 1931 team.

The men awarded letters are as follows: Backfield men, Powell, Wellington; Rusty O'Donald, Cow Williams, Canyon; Robert Clark, Turkey; Zeke Brotherton, Lockney and Willie Bennett, Amarillo. Ends: Edwin Comer, Clovis; Dock Haley, El Paso; Otis Burk, Ralls; and L. B. Penick, Canyon. Tackles: Wayne Johnson, Canyon; Capt. Weldon Logan, Lockney; Cyril Layne and Alfred Jameson, Canyon. Guards: John Gillham, Canyon; Leo Cooper, Lockney; and George Manning, Ralls. Center: Bill McClelland, Clovis.

This year marks the close of the second season with Coach Claude Reeds in charge of the Buffalo football team. He began the 1930 season with only two lettermen and a group of husky reserves and freshmen. Only four members of the Buff team have donned their football togs for the last time, leaving Reeds fourteen men around which to build the championship hopes of 1931. The four letter men who will not play for their Alma Mater again, are: Captain Logan, twice honored as all-T. I. A. A. tackle and a four year man; Penick, end; Bennett, reserve quarterback and Haley, end, the last three ending their football career by the graduation route.

In addition to the fourteen lettermen remaining Coach Reeds has a flock of reserves who will strengthen the prospects for 1931.

In the backfield such men as Duncan, Daugherty, Dyer and McDaniels with Tidwell at center, will give him a foundation on which to build up the holes left by these losses. Of course the 1931 season is nearly a year off but it is safe to predict with the prospects now in sight that W. T. will be able to put out a team in 1931 that will be as good, if not superior to the husky crew just disbanded.

Three records were hung up in the halls of W. T. during the past season's play. They may not be state or national records, but they are records that will be cherished long by the football fans of the Panhandle. First, the Buffs were

T., and the second highest in the history of the T. I. A. A. conference, that of the 64-0 score against Stephen F. Austin College; and the third and most important insofar as W. T. is concerned, they beat their jinx, the McMurry Indians for the first time in their athletic relations.

In non-conference play the Buffs were not so fortunate, losing three out of five of their games. Two of these games were distinct disappointments to the Buffalo fans, the unexpected loss to the N. M. M. I. by the lopsided score of 27-6 and the heartbreaking loss to Simmons by an equally uneven score of 26-6. Below is given the score of each game and the totals:

MRS. PAGE SPEAKS

The high school music class enjoyed a treat Thursday afternoon, in a talk given by Mrs. Elizabeth Fry Page. Mrs. Page, who has made an extensive study of the American composer, Edward MacDowell, gave an interesting discussion of his life and works. She also read poetry that she had written about some of his compositions which were played for the class by Miss Alice Dawes.

FLAMING YOUTH AT W. T.

There is more flaming youth than ever around W. T. High School now that the Calves have received their new basketball suits. The "outfits," which are made up in a brilliant hue of burnt orange trimmed with green, announce their presence from afar.

CALVES WIN FIRST GAME

The calves came out victorious in their first battle of the season with the Happy Jacks, which took place in the high school gymnasium at Happy, Dec. 15. The score was 22 to 23. The bright suits seemed to add spirit to the fighting power of the Calves, and to fire their determination to win over the Jacks. The Calves who played were John A. McIntosh and Lowell Windsor, guards; Audell Kimmins and Austin Cone, forwards; and Hugh Kay, center. Quentin Ward and Alvin Ream substituted, after John A. McIntosh and Lowell Windsor were taken out because of personal fouls.

TRAIL

of the conference had the privilege of hearing lectures given by the most prominent American educators and thinkers. Among these were J. Stitt Wilson, an influential social worker in New York City, who discussed before the Conference the present capitalistic injustice in the light of the unemployment question, and Norman Thomas, the 1928 Socialist Presidential candidate, who delivered a powerful address on how socialism is trying to adjust the social problems in America today.

One of the most interesting and important aspects of the Conference was the passing consideration given the race question, arising from difficulties incurred by the discrimination of the Book-Cadillac Hotel against the Negro representatives to the Conference. At the threat of the entire conference to remove to another hotel, these difficulties were removed, and the Conference proceeded with utter and absolute equality being observed between the two races. Some of the most enlightening and powerful addresses and work of the Conference was done by the colored representatives.

The Conference was closed the last day by Professor F. J. Kelly, professor of higher education at the University of Chicago. In his address he gave a summary of the work done by the Conference, and admonitions and advice regarding further work along this line.

Of the eight hundred-fifty members of the Conference about half were students and half faculty members from the various schools
over the country. The major purpose of the National Student-Faculty Conference as held was to find and define the best methods of student-faculty co-operation, for the betterment of modern education in all lines. In summarizing the conclusions reached, Mr. Cabe says,

"The whole body was pervaded
with the feeling, the conviction, that both modern education and modern religion need more substance, more vitality, put into them, and a more sincere endeavor on the part of all people to advance in both these fields. It was decided that lack of intellectual curiosity in general is at the base of the decline of educational value."

Mr. Cabe reports that he found that W. T. has one of the best situations in the United States
from the standpoint of faculty-student relations. But he also found that W. T. is behind the majority in the matter of honesty
on examinations, or "cribbing," and is prone to attribute this to the fact that most colleges have the honor system well established.
"We should be more than glad," says Cabe, "that we are free of sororities and fraternities, for according to the reports of practically all of the colleges represented at the Detroit Conference, the troubles of most of them can be traced to that very source."

Mr. Cabe brought a very great number of pamphlets, magazines, books, and other literature from the Conference, which are to be put in the college library here for reference. At his own expense he subscribed for the Intercollegian

for the W. T. library.

Cabe arrived in Detroit at 3:15
Christmas Day, registered at the Book-Cadillac, and spent the interim in sight seeing over the city, and in an excursion trip to Canada. This last he made on Friday, 26, going from the U. S. into Canada by way of the Detroit-Windsor tunnel under the Detroit river, in the morning, and returning on a river boat that evening.
While in Canada he met and talked with an English boy, discussing with him the English school system as compared with that of the United States and other countries.
On the morning of the 27th, he visited the Detroit Art Museum, which is built so as to depict both the interior and exterior architecture of the various ages. Of this visit he says, "I believe that the Museum is the most wonderful thing I have ever seen in my life.
Of the ages depicted I liked the Gothic best."

On the return trip Mr. Cabe stopped over one day in Chicago,
visiting in that time as many places of interest as possible. Those included visits to the famous Field Museum, the Aquarium, and the Chicago Planetarium which is one of the only three in existence. He also made a trip into the Jewish slum district, the Ghetto, "the toughest part of Chicago," to see the Hull House, but on arriving at it found that it was closed to visitors at that time. He made this trip on foot, alone, and was told by street-car conductors on the return trip that he must "keep a sharp look-out, straight ahead of him until he was back to safer vicinities." He also visited the Chicago Plant Conservatory.

tures begins this week; so please get your organization picture in at once. Representatives should turn in write-ups of the various clubs and organization groups, also.

Have you some snapshots that you would like to see in the annual? It is not yet too late to turn them in. We can put in the Le Mirage only those pictures that are turned in to us;
if you will be so kind as to get them to us in the near future,
you will be helping not only yourself, but the workers on the annual.

How many of you have bought your copy of Le Mirage? If you have not yet done so, come by the office now and sign your trust fund slip.

Sincerely,

M. Sheers, Editor-in-Chief.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Weaver

Miss Golda Gruver, a former member of the mathematics department here is now head bookkeeper in the Wholesale Millinery
