

The Editor Speaking

Students and others here were stunned Friday upon hearing of the sudden death of Bill Miles, Junior from Conlen. Pitifully inadequate condolences were expressed by the student body and faculty for Bill's family and close friends at the College Farm.

The enormity of such occurrences is always appalling. It is not, perhaps, because of the fact that one whom we have known and respected has passed on, but that the abrupt transition from life to death was accomplished in such a brief second that we could not readily grasp its full significance.

We are caught again in the last mad whirl of term papers, approaching final examinations, plans for graduation, summer school, job-seeking, and last-minute social affairs. The same thing happens every year, but we are never quite prepared for it. It just happens that way. The whole year flows along quite peacefully, and then, in the last three weeks of the Spring semester, hectic days (and nights) bid fair to destroy the calm of everyone from freshman to seniors. And thus it always will be.

It has been said that he who tootheth not his own horn, the same shall not be tooted (or words to that effect), but the Senior play last week was right up to par. Every member of the cast along with the production staff can well be proud of his part in the play. There is something about a play presented by people whom you know that beats all others. Several members of the cast have been heard to say, though, that they are glad it is over.

Tomorrow night, the Madrigal Club will present its annual spring concert in the auditorium of the Education Building. The Club has been rehearsing on the program for this concert for a long time, and will give a performance that will be worth missing time from study in preparation for the coming exams. We will see you at the Madrigal concert.

Although this column has had more than its share of comment on class editions, I cannot refrain from calling attention to the good paper put out by the Junior class last week. Columnist Bright and his selected staff did a creditable job of it. Why, I even enjoyed reading this column last week. Announcement: the final edition of The Prairie for 1936-37 will come out next Tuesday under the disguise "Official Senior Class Edition." After that, yours truly will be a has-been on this sheet and the readers may find something of interest in it. Get ready with your posties and brickbats, because I'm a-foxin' to duck.

Former Grid Star Accepts Position At Vernon High

Pat Gerald, former football star for W. T., accepted the position Saturday of athletic director for the Vernon High School. For the past seven years he has served as coach for Panhandle High School. Gerald turned out several good teams while at Panhandle and his regional championship team of last year showed decisively his coaching ability.

He succeeds W. C. Weir at Vernon who has taken a position at Schreiner Institute.

S. H. Condon, head of the government department, was a speaker at the Saturday afternoon session of the Texas Wheat Growers, Inc., held at the Herring Hotel, Amarillo. Mr. Condon is public director of the organization.

Unsuspecting Reporter Tells Horrible Narrative of Torture

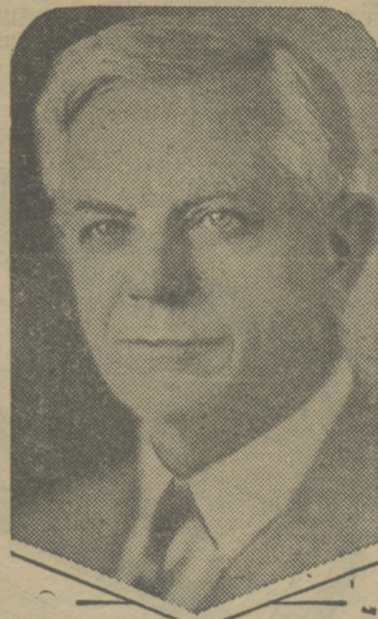

I finally broke down and bought a ticket—it seemed the only way to get enough peace and quiet to get anything done. I rushed home from lab to get ready—even took a bath and put on a clean shirt. I arrived early—early enough to work up a sweat before it started. And did I have a good seat. The little girl on my left popped her gum and between explosions asked her mother what was happening (she couldn't see, too). There was a very charming old lady in the seat to my right. Her perfume and my B. O. made a mixture that stunk to high heaven—and she rattled her program violently. I admired that little bit of heaven in the yellow bonnet who entered in the middle of the first act—until she took the seat in front of me. I was tempted to cut a peephole in the upstanding brim of her charming little bonnet. I finally asked her to remove it so that I could see, and imagine my chagrin when her hair bushied up like the fur on a cat's back. Then, with the beginning of the second act she went into an ecstatic rigor—why, trying to see around her was like looking thru an electric fan.

OH YES, the people behind me repeated the lines until I practically have them memorized.

What! Didn't I enjoy the Senior Play? Sure! I always enjoy contributing to a worthy cause.

Faculty Members Return Thursday From Austin Trip

Dr. R. P. Jarrett, F. E. Savage, and Miss Orpa Dennis returned Thursday evening from Austin. Dr. Jarrett and Mr. Savage had made a survey investigating the practice of the San Marcos college in its teacher-training and laboratory school system in connection with co-operation of the public school system and the college.

Miss Dennis had attended a meeting of the homemaker representatives of all state-aid colleges, called by Miss Ruth Huey, state director of Homemaking Education in Texas. Miss Marie White, federal agent of the southern region, conducted the conference where standards of Homemaking which should be maintained in colleges were discussed and plans were made for the Homemaking program for the next five years were made.

Dr. Jarrett and Mr. Savage spent Monday in San Marcos, as guests of the college, where they visited in the public schools. The San Marcos college has no separate demonstration school, but co-operates with the public schools in placing students for teacher-training.

The State Department of Education had also called a meeting at Austin concerning a revision of curriculum for teacher training. Dr. Jarrett and Mr. Savage were delegates to this meeting during their stay in Austin.

The instructors made several visits to the legislature.

Miss Helen Helton, '37, has been elected to teach in the primary grades in the Tahoka Public Schools.

Miss Shaw evinced interest and promised to return to Canyon on a visit during the session of the Art School.

In addition to all of her other work, Miss Shaw finds time to teach blind children, maladjusted children, and other unfortunate cases of this type.

She left here for Abilene, Wichita Falls, and Denton where she will give lectures and demonstrations.

Magazine Sales Supervisor Visits Campus Saturday

Truman L. Reeder, manager of the educational division of the Farm and Ranch Publishing Co., was here Saturday meeting students who have made application for jobs as subscription salesmen for Holland's Magazine during the summer.

Hundreds of college men from Texas colleges and universities are employed each summer by the Farm and Ranch Publishing Co. Teams of salesmen are organized at central points and work through the southern states reaching the Atlantic coast sometime toward the last of August. Each team of six boys is under the immediate leadership of a team captain, usually a boy who has had experience the previous summer as a salesman.

Robert Linder and Ralph Sanders of W. T., salesmen last year, will serve as team captains this summer. Their teams will begin the circuit at Abilene during the first week of June and work toward the east. Others accepted as salesmen from W. T. are Jack Vantine, David Coats, Gene Shepard and Hugh Harman. Those whose applications are not yet accepted are Ross Wilson, Landon Terry, and B. C. Carter.

Each boy in the sales crews covers approximately ten states thru-out the South during the summer. Reeder is supervisor of five groups of boys totalling about 150 salesmen.

Pampa Band and Chorus Present Chapel Program

The Woodrow Wilson School band and chorus from Pampa presented a program at assembly hour in the W. T. auditorium Saturday morning. The band was directed by Gene Seastrand, while the chorus was under the direction of Miss Hope Wells, former W. T. student. Mrs. Annie Daniels, principal of the school, accompanied the group.

Band and chorus opened the program with "Eyes of Texas," followed by a special arrangement of the W. T. Alma Mater.

A saxophone duet by Billy Tarplay and Wesley Seiger; a novelty dance, "I'm An Old Cow Hand," by Virginia McNaughton, diminutive entertainer; "Go Down, Moses," a Negro Spiritual by the girls' sextette; a double sextette, and numbers by band and chorus featured the program.

Marion Hoover was featured soloist with the school band.

W. T. High Seniors Plan Socialized Commencement

Commemorate Centennial Anniversary of Education

Socialized Commencement exercises, planned by the graduating class of the Demonstration High School for May 29, will commemorate the centennial anniversary of the beginning of the great educational work of Horace Mann, Miss Helen White Moore, class sponsor, has announced.

Thirty-seven seniors will take part in the graduation exercises, Miss Moore said. The socialized program is presented by the students themselves, no faculty member, school official, or speaker, other than the students, appearing on the stage until the presentation of the diplomas, by Supt. F. E. Savage, closes the exercises. This plan has been used successfully by graduating classes at the Demonstration School in recent years.

Glen Davis, president of the Senior Class will act as chairman. Miss Lucille Smith, as the first speaker on the program, will discuss general conditions in schools before the time of Horace Mann. Mary Graham will follow with a discussion of the first 41 years of Mann's life. Lawrence Hodges, third speaker, will tell of Mann's work in "Champion of a Great Cause." Anita Cleland will discuss the modern school and the challenge left by Mann.

Students in English, art, public speaking, and music are co-operating in the preparation of the program. A fine sketch of Horace Mann has been drawn by Martha Miller, high school art student. Smaller sketches, depicting scenes and conditions during Mann's life, are being prepared by art students under the direction of Miss Isabel Robinson, head of the College art department to be used in connection with the talks.

The high school music department, under the direction of Miss Ada V. Clark, is preparing special music for the occasion. The high school string ensemble group will play, and members of both boys' and girls' choruses will sing. The music is to be suited to the theme of the program.

Diplomas will be presented at the close of the student program by Supt. F. E. Savage. Exercises will begin at eight o'clock Saturday evening, May 29, in the Education Building auditorium.

Rev. R. C. Snodgrass, pastor of the First Christian Church of Amarillo, will deliver the baccalaureate address to the Class at the First Methodist Church Sunday evening at eight o'clock, May 23.

Young Democrats To Hold Annual Meeting May 29

Dalhart, May 17.—"The ad valorem tax system in Texas is a failure," declared Dallam County Judge Wilson Cowen today. There are many other moot topics such as the Dust Bowl, poll taxes, natural gas conservation in the Panhandle, local law enforcement, which should be discussed at the West Texas Young Democrats annual convention in Dalhart Saturday, May 29, because into the hands of these Young Democrats these issues are being rapidly given.

Continuing on the ad valorem tax system, Judge Cowen said, "It shows a high per cent of delinquency; it is unfair and in some cases discriminatory in valuations between counties and between sections of the state, because each county and therefore each section has a different board of equalization, each of which figures valuations from a different basis.

"This brings on a host of problems. The Older Democrats as well as the young ones should take a hearty part in it at the coming convention in Dalhart. The tax situation is moving rapidly to a crisis."

Former Student Gets Principal's Job at Panhandle

Miss Louise Orr, a first grade teacher in the Panhandle school system for the past 11 years, was elected principal of the grade school there in a meeting of the Board of Education last week.

Miss Orr, who served as principal of the first four grades this year, will be principal of the entire grade school next term. She will fill the vacancy left by the resignation of J. L. Naylor.

Miss Orr is a graduate of W. T. Miss Novella Goodman recently purchased a new Dodge coupe.

Classmates Serve as Pallbearers at Funeral

Funeral services for Bill Miles, 19, Junior in W. T., who was killed by a truck near the College Farm Friday noon, were conducted Sunday afternoon at Stratford with Rev. J. R. Hicks, pastor of the Canyon Baptist Church, officiating.

Miles and a companion, Wesley Leitner, had "thumbed" a car and were preparing to get in when the truck, forced to turn to the right by an approaching car, struck the youth.

Miles had lived on the T-Anchor Farm since entering school here as a freshman. During the whole time, he worked under the National Youth Administration at the College. He was house manager of the boys at the old T-Anchor Ranch headquarters on the Farm. While living at the Farm, Miles worked on the lake and dam spillway there, in addition to doing mechanical repair work on Farm machinery.

Active pall-bearers were Henry Young, Reece Kilpatrick, Wesley Leitner, George Smith, Dean Storey, and W. T. Falls, all of whom were classmates of Miles and live at the Farm.

All of the T-Anchor boys were honorary pall-bearers. Each class in W. T. was represented at the funeral services. Representatives were Embelle Knight, senior; Mary Lena Huff, junior; Ernest Kerr, sophomore; Oliver Bertrand, freshman.

Besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Miles of Conlen, the victim is survived by one brother, Wayne, Amarillo, and two sisters, Ruth and Evalene.

Miniature Village Being Constructed For Art School

A miniature village is being built in the scenic Palo Duro Canyon State Park in preparation for the opening of the second annual Palo Duro School of Art, sponsored by the art department of W. T., which opens June 2 under the direction of Miss Isabel Robinson, head of the department.

Twenty-five screened-in cabins with canvas roofs are being constructed on the first level below the Lodge to accommodate Art School students while the school is in progress. The building program has been authorized by the State Park Board, and work is being done by the CCC.

Each cabin accommodates two or three students. Conveniences include running water, electric lights, and showers. A unit for camp cooking is under construction for the use of those who wish to prepare their own meals. Meals will also be served at Coronado Lodge.

A good trail has been built from the Lodge to the flats below, Miss Robinson assured, adding that it will be possible to obtain parking privileges for trailers or tents if desired.

The studio will be located in the Coronado Lodge as it was in 1936.

Enrollment is expected to show an increase over last year, Miss Robinson said. A number of nationally-known artists will be visitors during the Art School, and Miss Robinson and Miss Marilyn Miller of the W. T. Department of Art will be in charge.

The school opens June 2, and closes July 13.

Nutrition Class To Exhibit Series of Diets Thursday

The advanced nutrition class in Home Economics will exhibit a series of diets, Thursday afternoon from 2:30 until 5 o'clock in the Home Economics Dining Room, under the direction of Miss Pearne Bowman, instructor.

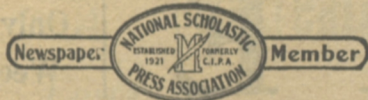

Examples will be shown of adequate diets demonstrating those that might be used to gain or lose weight. These exhibits will illustrate the fact that it is unnecessary for one to employ other means of reducing weight.

Members of the class will serve as guides and will give any desired information. Visitors are welcome to this exhibit.

Joe Smith, ex-student of last year, has been visiting friends on the campus and in Canyon during the last few days. He is employed by a petroleum company at Skellytown.

IN THE WAY OF PROGRESS

A college that has successfully survived the Depression . . . growing steadily through the hardest years that the nation has seen in many a decade, West Texas State College now faces an opportunity for the greatest period of growth and development in its history. Whether that opportunity will be realized to the greatest advantage may be decided definitely by the policy followed by the administration in the immediate future.

Five years of rapid progress, building and improvement, have placed this institution in an enviable position. W. T. has been dubbed "the College the Depression Built." Dr. Hill and his administration, through whose efforts this program has resulted, have done their work well. The College is now in a position to serve to a far greater advantage than ever before. Shall we take advantage of this position?

The answer lies in the extent of the appeal which the institution is able to make to prospective students in the vast West Texas territory.

This spring, in letters mailed to thousands of high school graduates, pamphlets are enclosed emphasizing, in addition to teacher-training work, the opportunity offered by this College to secure training in business and economic fields, as well as in pre-professional work, such as medicine, law, and engineering—all in an effort to broaden the appeal of this College to students interested in fields other than teaching.

TREAT FOR MUSIC LOVERS

Of interest to every music lover on the campus and of this town and surrounding territory is the annual spring concert of the College Madrigal Club which is to be presented tomorrow night in the Education Building auditorium at 8 o'clock.

Wallace R. Clark, head of the music department and conductor of the club, has devoted an almost unbelievable amount of time and energy to the development of the Madrigal Club on the campus, and particularly to this year's organization, which he believes to be the best that the college has ever produced. Weeks of rehearsals have been spent in polishing the spring repertoire of the club, and the entire organization as a whole feels that it is prepared to present a most lovely and satisfying program.

Mr. Clark is recognized throughout the entire Southwest as an authority on the subject of a capella singing and in conducting a capella performances. It was through his influence a few years ago that West Texas State received the magnificent Chicago Madrigal Club library, probably the most complete library of its kind in the country, for a nominal sum.

Music lovers all over the Panhandle look forward each year to the annual spring concert of West Texas State's a capella choir. Some of these people travel distances of hundreds of miles to attend this concert, and there are usually as many people from Amarillo and from points thirty, forty, and fifty miles distant at each of these concerts as there are from the college and the city of Canyon.

The individual who allows himself to miss the spring concert of the Madrigal Club through carelessness or for some trivial reason is making a grave error. Music is assuming such an integral position in the social life of the individual that one cannot longer overlook with impunity such opportunities for cultural development of his personality.

Mr. Clark and the Madrigal Club have expressed the desire that each student on the campus and each citizen of the town consider himself personally invited to what they consider the greatest madrigal concert presented in the Panhandle by a Panhandle organization for years.—H. B.

Shelter Belt Survives Drouth

Surviving two of the most severe drouths on record, a portion of the experimental "Shelter Belt" planted by the government three years ago is shown here, in Greer county, near Mangum, Okla. On the average 550 of these trees out of every 740 planted in 1935 survived. The shelter belt, extending from Oklahoma to the Dakotas, it is hoped, will retard surface drainage and act as wind-breaks in the dust area. Ample rain so far this spring is raising hopes that the project will succeed.

Collegiate Press

(By Houston Bright)

It all sounds very screwy. The headline says COLLEGE GIRLS CURE EXPENSES BY WEARING NIGHT GOWNS TO FORMAL DINNERS AND DANCES.

"Fudge parties," it goes on, "and surreptitious midnight chafing dish parties used to be the height of daring for college girls. But now they wear night gowns to formal dinners and dances."

Screwy—but interesting. Oh, very interesting. But some people would call it scandalous. Such a shameless way for girls—college girls—to carry on—wearing night gowns—Night gowns, mind you—out in public! Of course it's really not scandalous—the news story says so. But to some people it's still scandalous, just like bobbed hair and the use of cosmetics used to be. The trouble with people like that is that they have never learned to distinguish between something interesting and something scandalous. In words of one syllable, anything interesting is, to them, PERFECTLY SCANDALOUS.

This type of person is illustrated in that guy that gets in your hair all the time saying, "Oh, it's not the act itself that counts so much—it's the principle of the thing." Gesticulating wildly he assures you that even though the nightgown may not be quite so revealing as a lot of the formal evening gowns, it's just the idea of wearing a night gown in public—tsk, tsk; the idea!

He is the kind of guy who objects so strenuously to playing penny ante or matching for the drinks and yet feels no qualms about taking a chance on the lottery at the local motion picture theater on bank night.

He is the guy who objects so strenuously to petting, but who, on the dance floor, crushes his partner against his manly chest and enjoys dancing cheek to cheek very much.

He is the guy who believes so emphatically in temperance, but who, at mealtimes, gorges himself unbelievably, and who eats candy by the pound and drinks rootbeer by the quart.

It says here that the reason for the instigation of this custom was that the modern girl found that the problem of the high cost of evening gowns for the many formal college functions was crying for some sort of solution. "You can get a very chic model," says the story, "for about $5.00. Add a buckle here and a flower there and there's your smart-looking evening gown. A mere male would never know the difference." As if the ordinary male cared!

Of course when Mr. Killjoy says that the modern girl might not find her allowance so inadequate if she did not spend so much on cigarettes, we don't have much to say, except that if he didn't spend so much for cigarettes—and cigars—and smoking tobacco—and Brown Mule that he could probably do a lot to enhance his own personal appearance.

What real difference does it all make? Night gown or evening gown—what's the difference? What difference would it make if the male element should decide to wear pajamas to such social functions? What we're trying to say is, what does it matter, so long as the human body is hidden well enough to satisfy the demands of society—what does it matter what particular means of doing this is used?

Besides, such things are held at night, aren't they? Personally, we can see nothing more sane than wearing a NIGHT gown to something that is held at NIGHT.

EULOGY

Bill—
You've gone, but we can't forget. You're with us still.
'Tis why that friendly hand-shake is with us yet.
We mourn—
But not in sorrow.
For we know you're safe on the other shore.
Our hats are off.
Our heads are bowed.
Wait!
What is that voice we hear?
"Look up."
That clear voice calls.
"My loss was my gain."
Yet—
Why do we mourn?
Why don't our lamentations end?
You, Bill, were our loss.
You were our friend.

Epsilon Beta Presents Pledges At Formal Dance

The Epsilon Beta organization formally presented its pledges of the second semester, Saturday evening, at a well-appointed program dance given in the ballroom of Cousins Hall.

CANYON HIGH SCHOOL HAS BANQUET AT RANDALL

The annual Junior-Senior banquet of Canyon High School was held Saturday evening in the dining room of Randall Hall. According to the usual custom, the members of the Junior class, with Mrs. Bert Newlin, class mother, and Gerald Brown, sponsor, in charge, entertained the Senior class and their sponsors.

The purple and white school colors were used in the table decorations; garden flowers, purple iris and red roses, centered each table.

During the evening, Mr. Brown, sponsor, served as master of ceremonies, introducing the speakers and guests. Mr. D. A. Shirley was the featured after-dinner speaker. The banquet was opened with the "Welcome" by Sarah Thompson, Junior president, and the Senior president, Willard Childers, responded for his class. A number of guest artists filled out the evening's program: Royce Park played a group of popular piano numbers; Tiny Craig sang a popular number, "Stardust"; a reading was given by Gordon Beck, and a cornet solo by R. G. Stephenson completed the musical entertainment.

In conclusion, Miss Lillian Chambers of the Junior Class, read the Class Prophecy for the Senior members and class.

W. T. EX-STUDENTS WED SATURDAY

Miss Lois Persons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Persons of Canyon, and Mr. Glenn G. Bobbitt were married in a double ring ceremony at the home of the bride's parents at 8 o'clock Saturday evening in the presence of relatives and immediate friends of both families.

Rev. J. O. Quattlebaum, pastor of the Methodist Church, Canyon, read the ceremony before an improved altar of ferns and blue cornflowers.

Before the ceremony, Mr. Ben Stone, accompanied by Mrs. Doris Roberts, played a saxophone solo, "I Love You Truly."

To the strains of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" the bride entered on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage.

After the ceremony, the tiered, wedding cake was served.

Mrs. Bobbitt is a graduate of the Amarillo High School and attended W. T. She has been employed by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in Amarillo for the past two years.

Mr. Bobbitt is the son of Mrs. S. G. Bobbitt of Panhandle. He is a graduate of Panhandle High School, attended the University of Texas, and was graduated from W. T. He is associated with the Amarillo Hardware Company.

After a wedding trip to El Paso and points of interest in New Mexico, the couple will make their home at Childress.

FORMER W. T. STUDENT WEDS IN WASHINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Wilkinson announce the marriage of their daughter Miss Kathryn to the Rev. Robert Cook Simmons at Washington, D. C., Tuesday afternoon, May 4th. The Rev. R. Paul Scheerer, pastor of the Takoma Park Presbyterian Church, performed the ceremony before a large gathering of relatives and friends.

Mrs. Simmons was educated in the schools of Plainview and Clovis, N. M., and attended college at W. T. She has a large circle of friends here. Acquaintances were renewed when she visited her mother, Mrs. Linna Wilkinson, her sister Marjorie, and brother Donald, here last summer. She has been employed as a Legal Secretary in the Department of the Interior, Washington, D. C. for the past three years.

The Rev. Simmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Winn T. Simmons of Takoma Park, Washington, D. C., is well known in Washington, having graduated from Maryland University. He is also a graduate of the Union Theological Seminary of New York City.

The couple will make their home in Richmond Hill, Long Island, N. Y., where the Rev. Simmons is pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

CHI ALPHA OMEGA HAS WEEK-END RETREAT

A week-end retreat of the Chi Alpha Omega, the presbyterian group of college-age young people, was held in Ceta Canyon, Saturday and Sunday.

Hiking, picnic activities, and recreation occupied the group. A vesper service held Saturday night featured antiphonal singing. The members were divided into tow groups, singing to each other from opposite canyon walls.

Rev. Charles Dickey and Mrs. L. M. Wilkinson accompanied the organization as sponsors. About thirty members attended, including: Opal Smith, Gladys and Mildred Barton, Betty Simmons, Ernestine Scott, Mary Bell King, Marjorie Wilkinson, Helene Oliver, Patricia Wederbrook, Fred Balderston, Lewis Barnett, Charles Reeve, Paul Timmons, Reid Clark, Leo White, Edward White, Woolworth Russell, Herbert Boardman, J. J. Coker, Bob Baird, Maurice Pritchard, Don and Claude Christian, Mary McCaslin, Mrs. L. M. Wilkinson, and Rev. Dickey.

Rochester Girls Not First To Wear Nightgowns

Susan Anthony and other young women of Rochester, New York, are not the first college girls to take advantage of lounging robes, houses dresses and other negligee. Last summer a student at W. T. received compliments for a lovely tailored tea-rose crepe silk.

Those who complimented her did not know that this lovely crepe silk dress was a formal night gown that had been a Christmas present.

The only change necessary to make this a daytime dress was three frogs to fasten the band at the neck and the opening down the front, and a hem to give it the proper length.

This young woman wore this particular dress to interview superintendents for positions and now holds a position in one of the largest towns in this region and is a successful teacher.

HOME EC GIRLS FEATURE CORONATION BANQUET

The spring formal banquet of the Home Economics Club was held Wednesday evening in the dining room of the Home Economics Department. Miss Ferne Bowman and the meal-planning class were hostesses to the entire group.

The banquet featured the Coronation motif, skillfully worked out in the program, the gold and scarlet decorations, and the menu. The eight Senior members of the club were honor guests: Mrs. Gwen McFarling, Fae Wheeler, Elvira Marr, Mrs. John Wheeler, Merle Baggerly, Mrs. Adeline Kirk, Mamie Carol Smith, and Sybil Gidden.

The dinner was served in seven courses, planned and done by the hostesses, the members of the meal-planning class.

The banquet was opened with a coronation ceremony for each of the senior guests. Miss Edna Graham, in the role of Sir Stanley Baldwin, was the main speaker, giving the "Charge to the King" addressed to the senior girls. Each senior had a part on the program, representing some member of the royal family. Mrs. Jim May McCoy, as Archbishop of Canterbury, reigned as toastmistress.

Throughout the evening, Miss Hope Bussey entertained the guests with appropriate piano numbers.

The banquet was concluded with the British anthem, "God Save the King," sung by the entire group.

SENIORS OF CANYON AND W. T. HIGH GIVEN TEA

The senior girls of the Canyon High School and the Demonstration High School were honored Tuesday evening with a reception by the Canyon Branch of the American Association of University Women. The reception was held at the home of Mrs. A. W. Hawks. Roses, tulips, and other seasonal flowers were used in profusion throughout the house.

The guests were received by Mrs. Hawks, and Miss Jewell Foster, Miss Mattie Jordan, and Miss Pauline Brigham, who are officers of the A. A. U. W.

A brief program consisting of piano numbers by Miss Gwendolyn Black, readings by Miss Helen Boswell, and a brief talk by Miss Oscie Sanders was enjoyed by approximately 50 senior girls, and the members of the entertaining group. Delicious refreshments were served.

Entertaining the high school seniors each year is an established custom of the A. A. U. W.

ALPHA CHI PICNIC AT COUNTRY CLUB

A Sunday afternoon picnic to the Canyon Country Club concluded the year's activities of the Alpha Chi honorary society of W. T. A game of soft-ball and a chicken-fry over the campfire occupied the members. In a short meeting, Miss Ora Mae Harris was elected president of the society for next year.

About fifteen members of the organization attended with Miss Edna Graham and Dr. Ford Fronabarger as sponsors and guests.

Wisecracks and . . . Otherwise

Edited by Durward Knowles

Autograph writers or thesis writers? This annual signing business is about the rage now—so I figger. Some carry an ink pad and a stamp while others just jot down a memorized poem or sumpin'. But . . . there are still a few people in this world who like to be flattered. A few?

While I'm raving on this annual stuff I would like to mention the "love-bird tree." It seems that some of them missed their calling. Therefore I dedicate the following poem (not original at all) as a means of consolation to: Lorenzo Wirt, Bill Britton, Houston Bright, Ezell Champion, and others—"Ah! love, true is but a draught of bitterness to me.

I loved a girl—a lovely girl—whose eyes were like the sea. Her lips indeed were ruby red; her cheeks were fair and bright. Her hands and feet were dainty, too, but strangely cruel in fight! This kindly yet deceptive girl I actually adored; And how my heart did leap with joy until her dreadful sword Came clashing through my realm of joy, and severed life's love string. And nothing now can e'er unite and make the love-string ring. I know that I have tried in vain love's bitterness to tell. But those of you who care to know just take a trip to hell!

Many, many, congratulations to my good friend Erma Westmoreland. May the diamond she is wearing mean a happy life in the future for her.

Campus personality: Beautiful brown eyes, a "lux" complexion, and a personality unsurpassed—Iris Gillis.

E. C. Carver just has to have his candy in Economics Class.

For Sale: One student activity ticket for present semester. Has never been used—no occasion for use. Will sell cheap. (Aw, come by and I'll give it to you for a souvenir.)

We welcome Lloyd Johnson back on our campus. Lloyd has been out on account of sickness.

It seems to me that Charles Reeve is making a play for Marjory Wilkinson lately. How about it Marge?

Well—I'm out of soap so I'll drop anchor until next week.

And They Still Call It Senior Sneak Day

It's called "Senior Sneak"—but everyone knows a week in advance when and where they're going and the teachers excuse them from classes.

Most of the seniors don't go, however; they just loaf around the campus and the Buff and cut classes. They call it "sneak."

But it's a good idea—it affords opportunity to sneak home and finish off the much procrastinated term theme that's been spoiling sleep for these many weeks.

And the rest of the student body gets many laughs out of it the next day—and with hangerous expressions, new sunburns, blistered heels, the soreness of newly discovered muscles, and the complaints of over-indulged and much abused digestive systems. They call it "Senior sneak."

DR. HATTIE M. ANDERSON NAMED ON HISTORY BOARD

Dr. Hattie M. Anderson has been re-elected to the executive committee of the Teachers Section of the Mississippi Valley Historical Association, according to notification received from Mrs. C. S. Paine, the secretary.

This is a distinct honor as members usually serve only one term on this committee.

Their Coronation Portrait

History is written in this striking portrait, official photograph of their majesties, King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, taken on the eve of their coronation in London. Neither uniform nor gown were for use in the coronation ceremonies proper, however. Only the colorful robes, dictated by the usage of centuries, are used for the crowning.

Miss Embelle Knight, Class of 1937, has accepted a position in the Mobette High School as music director. Miss Knight has majors in both piano and public school music.

Miss Helen White Moore talked to the seniors in Dean R. P. Jarrett's office Thursday afternoon after education conference on the English Coronation and related subjects.

On the campus Saturday was H. F. Collins of Booker arranging for his summer work here.

Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Roberts, '37, will teach at Spurlock next year.

Words of all varieties have been uttered to describe the grandeur of the Carlsbad Cavern, but it took two well known lexicographers from West Texas to coin words that seem very pleasing. Jack Hays, W. T.'s carefree Bilsy Grant, pronounced it as "ignoramous." Your columnist submitted the word, "stupondorous." All in all, that fissure is really a good-sized gash.

That southern New Mexico weather is just what the doctor ordered for tennis. College tennis players of that region should hide their face in shame at letting a Panhandle school send representatives that whitewashed them under an avalanche of crisp volleys. The least little gust of wind incited much indignation. If some of the New Mexicans moved to this neck of the woods, they would be in a frenzy all of the time.

Numerous ones have questioned Norton Curry's physical stamina all year, feared that he might not be able to stand a hard match. Curry's real mettle was given its test against Cadet "Lefty" Braniff of N. M. M. I. On the second set, the two wrestled for over two hours before Curry vanquished his opponent 18-16 to win the match.

And here's a comment about George Smalley that deserves a mention. In the ranking doubles battle against the New Mexico Aggies, the tall raw-boned Floydada racketeer, smashed, stroked and volleyed like he never did before. As a result, he and his partner won 6-0, 6-1. Subsequent to the exhibition, Taylor, one of the victims, commented, "Gosh, that guy is the best doubles player I ever expect to play against."

For some time, I have had the hankering to express what has been on my mind for some time. It has been the figure of Coach W. E. Lockhart that has pervaded West Texas tennis for nearly fifteen years. The sport was abolished as a major sport in 1931, and it was through his instrumentality that it was reinstated in 1933. Since that time the construction of the concrete courts, and the moulding of a winning quartet serve as a monument to his efforts. I think it a fitting tribute to his marvelous accomplishments to name our tennis courts, "Lockhart Tennis Courts." If this meets with your approval, then your moral and verbal support will go a long ways in bringing about the change.

El Pueblo, Farm Tie For First In Softball Tourney

Intramural softball drew near a close at the end of last week with the Farm team remaining on top, and El Pueblo coming up to a tie with the boys from the T-Anchor.

The games played last week resulted in muddling up the race somewhat. The Farm decisively defeated the Tri-Tau in the mud last Monday, and then lost to the Wildcats, the darkest of dark horses in a thriller Tuesday to drop back into a first place tie with El Pueblo.

El Pueblo defeated the Tri-Tau in a heart-breaker for the Tri-Tau by the narrow margin of 3-2. Vilo Danner, right fielder for the Pueblo aggregation hit a home run with one man on to win the game for the Pueblo bunch. The Tri-Tau came back in the last of the seventh and loaded the bases, but were unable to push across the winning runs. The Tri-Tau redeemed the two previous defeats of the week Thursday by defeating Moore's Co-op, favored team, by a score of 6-3. Hutchens pitched an air tight game for the TTT boys and was backed up in the field by some circus catches, spectacular and demoralizing to the Moore's Co-op team. Joe Bailey hit a home run for the losers. The Epsilon Beta lost to El Pueblo, and to the Moore's Co-op team in the only other games of the week. Last night the Wildcats played El Pueblo.

Plans were made Monday for an All-Star game sometime this coming week. The team was picked by the six managers of the teams in the league. The Panhandle Laundry team from Amarillo has been chosen to oppose the All-Stars in the contest. The game will take place in Buffalo stadium under the lights, and there will be no admission charge. Everyone is advised to see the bulletin board for the announcement of the date, and to witness the game as the grand-finale of the intramural softball season.

Lee B. Dodson, '35, will be principal of the Tahoka High School next year.

Buffalo Tennis Squad Sweeps Circuit Winning Four Victories

Stiffest Competition Met As Cadets Are Beaten

Coach W. E. Lockhart's tennis team flared across New Mexico and the Big Bend country last week to annex four intercollegiate tennis victories in four days of play. The netters dropped only two matches in twenty-four played.

Stopping at Portales Junior College for a warm-up match, the Buffs swamped the Garton men without losing a single set in the six matches.

Their real test was met at Roswell, N. M., when they defeated the N. M. M. I. Cadets 14-7. At mid-time, the team count was 7-7 as the military men had captured two singles matches. Capitalizing on the consistency of Glyndon Riley and the effective overhead smash of George Smalley, the ranking W. T. duo smothered Murphy and Bedwell, New Mexico Intercollegiate champions. 6-1, 6-4. Curry and Hays defeated Braniff-Scannell 2-6, 6-4, 6-4. In the morning singles matches, Curry had spilled Braniff 6-4, 18-16. Hays had ousted Scannell 6-3, 9-7. Murphy dropped Riley at 6-4, 2-6, 6-3. The sharp Bedwell defeated Smalley 8-6, 1-6, 2-6.

Traveling on to Las Cruces, the Lockhartmen lambasted the New Mexico Aggies 21-0. Riley started matters off with an 8-6, 1-6, 6-2 win over Wilson, and Curry won over Taylor, 6-0, 3-6, 6-4. Hays dropped Summers 6-2, 6-1. Smalley was in rare form for a 6-1, 6-0 win over Rigney. It was the volleying game of Smalley that carried Riley and Smalley to a 6-1, 6-0 win over Wilson and Taylor in the ranking doubles. Curry and Hays finished with 11-9, 6-4 sets at the expense of Rigney and Summers.

The Texas School of Mines could not stand up to the pace of the Buffaloes as they won their third dual match in four days without dropping a single match.

Riley staged a surprise win by dropping a left-handed Spaniard, Arroya, in straight sets 6-3, 8-6. Curry at number two out-stroked Lambert 6-1, 6-1. Jack Hays took matters easy in spilling Wilson 6-2, 6-3. Smalley's net game solved the back court game of Davis, 6-0, 6-1. Smalley and Riley defeated Lambert and Arroya, 6-3, 4-6, 6-2. Curry and Hays completed the tour with a defeat over Davis and Wilson, 6-4, 6-2.

The Buff netters finish their season next Saturday against the Texas Tech Matadors on the Tech tennis courts. The Matadors recently took first place in the Border Conference tennis meet.

Six Demonstration School students under the supervision of Landon Terry were awarded Red Cross swimming certificates. Those receiving beginners' cards were Tom Knighton, Scott Vaughn, and Frederick Hughes, while David Sharman, Billy Case Harter, and Joe Gidden received swimming certificates.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen (Tim) Daugherty were campus visitors Saturday. Mrs. Daugherty was enrolling for correspondence work, and Mr. Daugherty was seeking teachers for the school at Bula.

Mrs. Edith Levi, '37, was among those out of town Saturday in search of a position.

Hilda Miller, '37, will teach art in the grades at Littlefield during the coming year.

Softball League Managers Choose All-Star Players

The All-Stars of the six teams entered in the intramural softball league were selected by the managers in a meeting Monday. The All-Stars will play the Panhandle Laundry team from Amarillo.

The first team All-Stars selected are Patterson, Moore's Co-op, pitcher; Horne, El Pueblo, catcher; Hanson, Epsilon Beta, first base; Stitt, Tri-Tau, second base; Hill-ton, Farm A, third base; Blondi, Farm, short fielder; Danner, El Pueblo, outfield; Taylor, Moore's Co-op, outfield; Driver, Farm, outfield; Hayes, El Pueblo, shortstop.

The second team All-Stars are Smalley, Epsilon Beta, pitcher; Cole, Epsilon Beta, catcher; Brit-ton, Tri-Tau, first base; Kerr, Farm, second base; Harvey, Moore's Co-op, third base; Collins, Epsilon Beta, short fielder; Dufflot, Tri-Tau, outfield; Campbell, Epsilon Beta, outfield; McGehee, Epsilon Beta, outfield; Bailey, Moore's Co-op, shortstop. Ole Brown of the Farm team was the third man selected on the pitching staff.

The two teams will oppose each other in a practice game Thursday afternoon at 6:30 and arrangements have been made for a game with the Panhandle Laundry team in Buffalo Stadium.

The teams placed men on the All-Stars as follows:

Epsilon Beta, one first and five second; Tri-Tau, one first and two second; Farm, three first and one second; El Pueblo, three first; Moore's Co-op, two first and two second.

Although the Wildcats did not place a man on the All-Stars they had several running close races for the second team.

Horne, manager of the El Pueblo team, and Kerr, manager of the Farm team, were chosen to manage the All-Star team in its game with the Amarillo club.

"Chuck" Taylor Secured To Give Cage Instruction

Recognized As One Of Most Adept Ball Hawks Today

"Chuck" Taylor, the "Ambassador of basketball," will assist Jimmy St. Clair as an instructor of basketball in the second annual coaching school at West Texas State, June 6-12.

Taylor, trick pass and shot artist, and reputed to be one of the most adept ball handlers in the game today, will illustrate his unlimited number of clever tricks.

Coach Al Baggett and his towering squad of W. T. Cagers will be used in demonstrating shots, plays, and passes of the basketball instructor. The entire squad of Buffaloes, averaging 6 feet 6½ inches, and the tallest team in the world, will be in action daily for members of the school.

St. Clair, who piloted his Southern Methodist University Mustangs to a Southwest Conference championship last year, will add brilliance to the school as head of basketball instruction. He has been at the Mustang institution for 13 years.

Added entertainment and amusements will include swimming in two college pools, a trip to Palo Duro Canyon, a golf tournament, and other types of recreation.

Three semester hours credit in Physical Education 331 or 332 will be given those regularly enrolled in the school.

Carrie Bier, teacher at Crosbyton, who will take her degree this summer, was in Canyon Saturday making arrangements for her summer's work.
