Historical Yarns Are Swopped At Society Meet

By Glyndon Riley
(Guest Writer)

Anecdotes repainting the romance of pioneer days in the Texas Panhandle were exchanged with much abandon at the 17th annual banquet of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society in Cousins Hall Friday evening.

Over 200 persons from all parts of Texas assembled at the social hour and banquet to contribute some of their favorite episodes. Telling yarns was the theme of Friday's gathering since Dr. E. E. Dale of Oklahoma University was unable to be the main speaker when a blizzard caused a postponement two weeks earlier, and he had made a previous engagement in Kansas.

J. T. Christian, Claude pioneer and former employee of the JA ranch, took over Dale's reins and guided the history lovers through a comical version of the Indian scare in the Panhandle in 1891. His ludicrous splices of wild western lingo created the informal air that prevailed throughout the evening. News of the mythical Indian invasion reached the JJ division of the JA ranch at chuck-time, and the hungry punchers went berserk until the anticipated fireworks were explained.

Cash Tells Best Yarn
Mrs. Harvey Cash of Canyon was awarded first prize in the yarn telling division. She related a blizzard story of her school days at Plainview where she had heard about her brother's injury in Dimmitt, but weather conditions prevented a confirmation of the rumor. Others telling tall 'uns were Mrs. L. A. Lite, Plainview; and Dr. Guy Owens, Amarillo.

Society officers elected for the coming year were: President, Judge J. D. Hamlin, Farwell; first vice-president, Dr. J. A. Hill, Canyon; second vice-president, W. T. Coble, Amarillo.

New Directors Are Named
Directors of the society for the coming year include Judge Hamlin, W. T. Coble, re-elected; Fred Hobart, Canadian; H. C. Pipkin, Amarillo; and Frank P. Hill, Tahoka. Retiring directors are John McCarthy, Amarillo, Dr. J. A. Hill, and C. P. Buckler, Pampa.

Two vocal solos, "Sunset in the Palo Duro" and "By the Waters of Minnetonka," were sung by Mrs. Guy Carlander, Amarillo, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John Josey, Amarillo. Mrs. John Josey also presented two violin solos.

Next Meeting In May
Because of the inconsistency of April weather, the society will hold its future annual assembly on the second Friday of May.

Special evening guests were: Dave McCormack, San Antonio pioneer, who was among the cowboys who brought Col. Charles Goodnight's cattle into the Palo Duro; Mayor R. H. Fonville of Houston; Dr. W. C. Holden, curator of the West Texas Museum at Lubbock; J. Everts Haley, Texas historian; and Ellen Thompson, Yellowstone, Wyoming.

If the freshman class continues to flash ideas and actions for four years, this fish day will be a traditional one. It is hoped from several viewpoints that more than one puff of smoke will emanate from this great flame. It is expected that anyone who will wish to know about the freshman four-year plan shall not have to refer to freshman class minutes.

A more complete plan of orientation for freshmen will be a larger project next year—because of W. T.'s inevitable increased enrollment—than this. It is a problem which some campus organization can handle best. Perhaps the sophomores of '38-'39 who have their own cries resounding in their ears will recognize this need.

Mrs. Geraldine Green, dean of women, was the guest speaker at a joint meeting of the study clubs in Silverton Thursday. Mrs. Green reviewed Sinclair Lewis' "Prodigal Parents."

Frances Armstrong, speech major and graduate of '38, has been elected to teach in the Middlewell School, Moore county.

DR. ANDERSON SPEAKS TO SPANISH CLUB

Dr. Hattie M. Anderson, associate professor of history, was guest speaker at the meeting of the Spanish Club Thursday evening at the home of Miss Mary E. Hudspeth, club sponsor.

Dr. Anderson gave an illustrated talk on her recent trip to Cuba, emphasizing the language and customs of the people of Cuba.

In an election conducted by the editorial staff of the freshman edition of The Prairie, Mary Collins of Canyon, was chosen freshman sweetheart to preside at freshman ceremonies today.

Miss Collins was a beauty representing the Freshman Class, and was selected one of the College beauties by McClelland Barclay, New York artist. She was elected Ex-student Queen of Canyon High School last fall.

Miss Collins, charming member of Delta Zeta Chi, is a stately brunette. Typically American, she is tall, slender, and attractive. These traits added to her pleasant personality were influential in her victory. Le Mirage, college yearbook, will give her prominent mention.

As editor of the Eagle's Tale, student newspaper of Canyon High School, her news story entry in the Texas High School Press Association, placed first. As society editor of the freshman edition of The Prairie, she is doing her regular duties because she is society editor on the regular staff.

She was an outstanding basketball player in high school.

TRI-TAU ENTERTAINS WITH PICNIC

Members of Tri-Tau entertained with a picnic Friday afternoon at Ceta Canyon in the Methodist Encampment.

About one hundred guests and members were present.

GREETINGS TO FRESHMEN

You have made for yourself a significant place in the life of the College during the session 1937-38. The future of the College and of the state is closely related to what you will achieve during the next three years. May I express a hope that the class roll will remain unbroken until 1941 when each of you will receive your degree from W. T. May your diploma represent scholarship, personality, and character to the highest degree. It will be the ambition of each of your instructors to work with you to that goal.

S. H. CONDRON, Sponsor.

"Ladies and Gentle(Car)men (Adamson) of the society of the W(S)earer, (Ruth Ann) o' the (Nell) Green, we are assembled here to (Malcom)Day for the purpose of planning our Fresh (Ly)man (Dav)enport day picnic."

"You speak too (Juanita) Low(e) came from the back rows. (Lela) Loud(d)er (Harold) Hud(son), we can't hear you."

"If you would stop your (Audrey) Bray-ing back there, you could hear," yelled the president. "Now (Viola) Do(oley) I hear any suggestions?"

"I think I know a place," said Ralan Wiley, "where there's a creek that (Pauline) Flow(er)s. It is near a (Fred) Farmer-'s house though."

"That means we would have to open too many (Alyne) Gates," (Sibyl) McCall-ed another voice.

"What's the matter with un(Ama)te) Lock(hart)ing a few gates?" yelled L. B. Floyd.

"Shut up, (Dorothy) Simp(son), you wouldn't do it," yelled another.

"Quiet! quiet! What do you think this (Francis) Eli(s)ton anyway?" came from Janette Collins.

"What a little (Audrey) Lee) Lamb(orn) you are," the president rejoined. "Now let's get down to business. Has anyone else a suggestion?"

"I know where a (Elizabeth) Hard)grove (Eldon) Dav(is), said Margaret Doak. "There's lots of (Dan) Hemp(h)ill-s around, too."

"Who owns the place?" said another.

Memorial Services Are Held for Mary Morgan Brown

MISS MARY MORGAN BROWN

"Mary Morgan Brown is gone, but she will live in the memory of those of us who studied under her and loved her, forever," said Ben Guill, Pampa business man and ex-student of W. T., in paying tribute to the memory of one of W. T.'s best loved instructors in a special memorial service Friday morning at eleven o'clock in the auditorium.

Miss Brown died Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock in Neblett Hospital where she had been confined since March 16th with a broken hip. She contracted pneumonia early last week which was the immediate cause of her death.

One of W. T.'s best-loved professors, Miss Brown has been head of the speech department in West Texas State since 1915.

Leon Lassers, associate professor of speech, presided at the memorial service.

Dr. J. A. Hill's tribute to one of his outstanding faculty members was read by Dr. R. P. Jarrett in Dr. Hill's absence. A hymn, "Lead Kindly Light," was sung by a mixed chorus of music students. One of Miss Brown's favorite poems was read by Leon Lassers. O. T. Craig sang "Ave Maria" as a vocal solo with Robert Axtell furnishing the violin obligato.

Ben Guill gave an ex-student's tribute to the deceased speech teacher.

Following a prayer by Miss Mary E. Hudspeth, Wallace R. Clark closed the service with a vocal solo, "The Requiem."

Text of Dr. Hill's tribute to Miss Brown will be found on page two.

Miss Brown was born July 18, 1874, in Perry County, Ala. She attended high school in Alabama and taught at Martyn College at Pulaska, Tenn., and at the State Teachers College at Livingston, Ala.

Freshman Editor Lauds Officers

By Dan Hemphill

The great amount of enthusiasm and activity displayed by the Freshman Class this year may be attributed to the keen leadership of Glen Davis, pre-philosophy student from Shamrock and president of the class. Davis, a former president of the Hi-Y Club, is also president of the Angle Debo Chapter of the National Honor Society.

His conscientious work has spiced the class with a taste of fine school spirit.

Pre-law student, Brynild Vaughan of Canyon, vice-president of the class, has given service which equals his previous record of accomplishments. He is noted for his scholarship and ability as a speaker. He is a member of the Angle Debo chapter of National Honor Society, and he was president of the North West Texas Older Boys Conference last year. He was on the College honor roll last semester.

Irma Jeanette Karnes, secretary-treasurer from Wellington, has performed her duties efficiently. She is a member of Delta Zeta Chi, and was selected as one of the College beauties.

Two Freshman Girls Honored at Plainview

Both girls were presented in a pageant with the queen of the Dairy Show and attended the Queen's ball in the Hilton Hotel.

Frosh Are Pledged to Six College Social Organizations

ALL HAIL FRESHMEN:

I offer you one more thought for your Freshman Book of Memories: Education is the process by which one develops such a philosophy of life as will compel him to live constructively. More people go through college and through life without such philosophy than with it. Is it too much to hope that somewhere along the line you will join the minority group? I'm betting on you.

J. A. Hill, President.

Dr. Charles Wexler Will Talk Friday

Dr. Charles Wexler, of Arizona State Teachers College will lecture at 8 o'clock Friday evening in the Education Building auditorium, on the subject, "Mathematics and Our Everyday Thinking."

Dr. Wexler is the official lecturer this spring of the Southwestern Section of the Mathematical Association of America. He is visiting and lecturing at Colleges and Universities of Arizona, New Mexico, and at West Texas State, Texas Tech, and College of Mines in Texas. His lecture is not of a technical nature, but will be interesting and informative. There will be no admission charge.

Flag Ceremonies Begin Freshman Day Activities

By Billy Norman

With the strains of Alma Mater providing a patriotic atmosphere, the official green flag of the Freshman Class will be drawn slowly to the top of W. T.'s silver flag pole this morning at 11:45 o'clock proclaiming the first official Freshman Day in the history of West Texas State.

Class president Glen Davis will be in charge of the flag-raising and freshman dedication ceremony which will be at the foot of the flag pole in front of the Administration Building.

All freshmen are urged to attend this history-making event of their class, and all other students and members of the faculty are invited, the freshman president has announced.

At 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, the freshmen will assemble in front of the Administration Building to hike to Black's picnic ground, one mile south of town, where the class day entertainment will be held. Games will provide amusement, and a picnic supper will climax the picnic.

The class will then return to the campus at 6:30 o'clock in time to lower the flag at sunset. Then will begin the Freshman march up Fourth Avenue to the business district, led by the class flag-bearers. A theater party at the Olympic Theater has been planned to climax the day's activities. The theater party is scheduled for 7:30 o'clock.

Another feature of Freshman Day is this edition of The Prairie, which is written and edited by a freshman staff.

Frosh Fellowship Club is Largest On W. T. Campus

Enlisting more than 150 freshmen, the Freshman Fellowship Club is the largest club on the campus.

The officers of the club are: President, Bill Longbine; secretary, Charnain Runyan; and sponsor, Helen Lyles.

The purpose of this organization is to keep freshmen in making necessary adjustments to college life. It introduces the first year students to the outstanding persons on the campus and to the college activities.

Club meetings were held every two weeks during the fall semester. Programs included a talk on hobbies by Prof. S. H. Condron, a trip through the library conducted by Miss Tennessee Malone, and an address by Bishop E. C. Seaman.

FRESHMEN, SADDLE YOUR HORSES!

Freshmen, today your lives are in the making. Almost eight months of college life have adjusted you to new thoughts and actions. Your lives tomorrow will be a result of your actions today. Your college four years from today will be a result of what you make it from day to day as you go along. Your abilities in leadership and concerted action will be determined in your life in college.

Some of you no doubt will cling here only for a short time and then go on, thinking that the other pasture is greener. Others will stay here, forming binding friendships from year to year with those among whom they will live in the future, enriching their lives in the friendly atmosphere of their home territory, and their college will be that much greater for their having been here.

FRESHMEN, SADDLE YOUR HORSES! Your first test in life is at hand. It behooves you to plan to attend your four years in W. T. You are over the hard part. You will do more effective work now. Your friends are here; your instructors are interested in you; and what W. T. may do for you in the next four years is entirely up to you. The success of the first era of the ten-year-plan will be determined by you. A cooperative movement among you to bring one new student each next fall would enhance your college life immeasurably, and swell your educational opportunities twofold. Your concerted effort could place a Student Union Building on this campus within the next four years. Your efforts can build a library second to none. You can have a part in making W. T. the greatest educational institution in the state.

West Texas State today offers you a part in her building. Build her in such a way that you will be proud to have had a part in her making. Start your day tomorrow by getting acquainted with one of your classmates you haven't known before. Make your class spirit flame into action and W. T. in the future will stand out as a monument to you.

TEXT OF TRIBUTE TO MARY MORGAN BROWN BY PRESIDENT J. A. HILL

A very rich man died. A neighbor was heard to ask, "What did he leave?" Quick as a flash the answer came back, "He left it all." All the material wealth which a life of toil and self-denial and even penury in this case had built up he parted with forever, and with it most of what little influence he had.

Some ten or twelve years ago I asked a very wealthy man to invest $250,000 in a library building on this campus, suggesting that in this way he could bless unborn generations with his wealth and in the land where he had accumulated it. He was not interested. Today his fortune is scattered, he has been gathered to his fathers, and his name is a vanishing memory.

I cite these examples to draw a contrast. Neither of the above men ever discovered the real values of life. Though rich, they were very poor. Though millionaires they were paupers. Though living in palaces they revelled in the dirt and filth of hovels.

On the other hand, Mary Morgan Brown stood supreme in here understanding of the real values of life. No blurred vision, no mirages, no distorted values, no disposition ever to substitute the false for the true characterized her. She was as true to her best self as the magnetic needle to the pole and if she had a worse self, I never saw the evidence of it. Poise, grace, courage, kindness, energy, service to others, culture, and power to endure seemed to be as natural as breath itself. It seems to me that she had gathered up the beauty and strength and courage and patience of the womanhood of the Old South and combined with the progressiveness, the energy, the resourcefulness of the New South to body forth a new woman—a woman capable of meeting the tasks of a new day.

Personally and officially, I cannot express how keenly I feel the loss. She had woven herself into the warp and woof of this institution's life, and it will forever bear the imprint of her character. A wise, capable, loyal friend and co-worker is gone. Her character will continue to live in the hearts of hundreds if not thousands of her friends and will bear rich fruit through many years to come. She was fortunate in finding the substance of life early, and we are fortunate that she cast her lot with us. Peace to her ashes and God's blessings on her memory.

WHERE TO GO AND WHAT TO DO

Well, really I don't know where to go without Jack Taylor, but he is gadding about in Kingsville, so here goes.

First thing all you Freshmen just must attend that picnic this afternoon—and this does mean YOU, and of course you can't miss that theater party we are having to-night—It's pal night at the show with Preston Foster and Sally Eilers in "Everybody's Doing It" and it's freshman night for the fish, so it looks like fun is on its way.

Ruth Hoover—"Sally, Irene, and Mary" with Alice Faye, Tony Martin, Fred Allen, Louise Hovick, is our choice as this week's best bet—it's a keen musical comedy and it's our opinion that Mr. and Mrs. Tony Martin (Alice Faye) are a couple of songsters that won't quit—don't miss them at the Olympic Wednesday or Thursday, Dorothy Morgan.

Friday brings another one of those Senior nights which is to be held at Cousins hall and if you attended the last Senior night there will be no doubt as to where you will go Friday night—but there are those who will probably be lured by that dime movie "Crashing Hollywood," with Lee Tracy and Joaz Woodbury (a new one on me). And (Nathan Cheshir).

Saturday night brings us "Condemned Woman," a prison story and as far as we are concerned you can do without this one. Mary Helen Nixon.

Then on the same night—you remember Saturday night—we find that those "babes" at Randall Hall are really putting on the dog—to say the least, they are giving a formal dinner and if I had an invitation, I wouldn't miss it.

Sunday, Monday, and "The Joy of Living"—ah, what a life. Oh, as I was saying the show is "The Joy of Living" with Irene Dunne, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Guy Kibbee, Eric Blore. Glen Davis. This show is a comedy drama of the romance of a boy who occupies a room by day for a girl who occupies the same room by night. Not bad, eh!

Freshmen Sponsor Assembly Program

O. T. Craig sang "Wonderful," and a vocal trio composed of Craig, Weldon Bright, and Quixie Bea King, sang "Mood Indigo." Mogie Routh gave a reading, and Marjorie Wilson gave a piano solo entitled, "Tango." Weldon and Houston Bright gave their interpretation of "Temptation" at two pianos.

The assembly program which is the opening feature of Freshman Day, was arranged by Weldon Bright.

BROWN—

(Continued from first page) became associated with West Texas College as head of the department of speech in the term of 1915-16. She was employed with the college in that capacity since.

She attended Emerson College at Boston and had taken correspondence courses and studied summer terms at Northwestern University, the University of Chicago, and the University of Tennessee since coming to Canyon.

Miss Brown spent several years in her early life as a professional entertainer. She has conducted numerous programs throughout the Panhandle, and was well known over the region for her work. Each year she directed two major plays and presented a number of other minor productions at the college.

She was associated with numerous speech arts associations and was active in the work of speech curriculum revision. Her work in the college here will be taken over largely by Prof. Leon Lassers, a member of the speech arts department.

Survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Alice B. West of Longview, and Mrs. A. L. Pough of Uniontown, Ala.; and two nieces, Miss Helen White Moore of Canyon, and Mrs. Henry Sears of Monahans.

Miss Pauline Brigham accompanied the family to the funeral services.

HELPFUL PARENT

"So you are shopping for an adding machine?"
"Yes, poor Junior has been having so much trouble with his arithmetic lesson."

Apologies to Gonda Biggers:

Boo: to the upperclassmen—yes, that includes you Rex Galloup—and if I've found out how the cow ate the cabbage it seems to me and a few other freshmen, that you big bullies (upperclassmen and women) of 1938 had better step when you are told by one of your superiors, the freshmen. In case you don't know what this is all about, it's Freshman Day to all youse guys and gals of W. T.

If what I hear is straight goods there are two Freshwomen involved in a love triangle with BILL ROBERSON. For details ask PHEGLEY.

FLASH—JAM MCCLENDON just returned from a vacation; it wasn't abroad or to New York, but Corsicana, Texas. I can't make one of those famous Winchel reports but the reason Jam left us was because of her heart. Although it's said that it was broken, the doctor gave other reports, and it seems that BITZ'S line didn't work.

Rolled down hose, turned up nose, flapper yes sir one of those—who said JACQUELINE BENNETT? I wish some one would find that guy that's always speaking the truth.

NOMINATION FOR CUTEST COUPLE

J. C. TURNER and AMATENE LOCKHART although there is a cuter boy in Plainview, according to AMATENE.

J. C. BELLAH seems to like these upperclasswomen. At least he likes this girl from Amarillo named MARY HELEN.

Although Julius Buckeniewicz's nickname is "BUCKIE" Marie Riley seems to have a special way of saying it that "BUCKIE" likes.

If MIKE PETRUCELLI came all the way from New Jersey just to find a PEARL he had better go to the bottom of the ocean where he may find a safer one.

There were certainly a couple of red pans in the Buffalo when someone walked in on KATHLEEN McMANIGAL and OWEN THORNTON.

REBA POOL received a long distance telephone call Thursday around 6:30 p. m., asking for a date at 7:30 p. m., and if this had been a usual case, according to BURL BLACKSHEAR, REBA would have been ready at 8 o'clock, but last Thursday this fair dame added her last touch of perfume at 7 o'clock and twiddled her thumbs until 7:30 or whenever DAVID REDELL made his appearance.

For excitement I recommend a visit to "Pop" Humphreys' English class from 9 to 10 on T-T-S. The latest fun had was the ringing of an alarm clock throughout the period, and according to DE GREGORY, JONES, DAVIS and other Freshmen football boys Mr. Humphreys was a good sport about it.

W. T. High School Journalists Eligible For Honor Society

Thirteen members of The Tumbleweed, W. T. High School newspaper, are eligible for membership in the International Quill and Scroll, honorary society for high school journalists. The W. T. publication was granted a charter in the organization last month.

In order to wear the emblem of Quill and Scroll, high school journalists must rank in the upper third of their class, have the approval of their local sponsor and the national secretary, and have done outstanding working the school publication.

Local students eligible for membership are Mary Katherine Sharp, Ida Martha Pierle, Kaki Westmoreland, Mildred Merchant, Christine Jarrett, Bernard Warren, Hertha Baer, Viola Archer, Peggy Savage, Beatrice McCuiston, David Sharman, Thalia Wright, and Merrie Elizabeth Duflet.

Mary Katherine Sharp, former Tumbleweed editor, recently resigned because of illness, and Ida Martha Pierle and Kaki Westmoreland were made co-editors.

Annual B. S. U. Banquet is Held Friday Night

The annual B. S. U. banquet, in the form of graduation activities, was given Thursday night in the banquet hall of the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Tommie Montfort, sponsor of the B. S. U. Council, was toastmaster for the occasion.

The invocation was given by Tom Langston of Canyon. The class poem was read by Roach Allen. Marijo Brown reviewed the organization's history, and Billy Norman gave the class prophecy.

Accordian selections were played by Naomi Slay as special music for the banquet. Toasts were given by George Stokes, Winnie Dee Hicks, Marijo Brown, and Bill Norman.

The baccalaureate address was delivered by Rev. J. R. Hicks, pastor of the Baptist Church.

Dr. Ford Fronabarger gave the commencement address in the form of an oration.

The graduation class, which was made up of retiring council members, was presented at the close of the commencement address. The commencement exercises were closed with the singing of the class song.

Decorations were in black and white with boy and girl graduates silhouetted on the walls. The program was given in candlelight.

A JOURNEY TO HELL

There was a weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth, And things got hot on this earth. The good man was as safe as a babe in its crib, But the sinner cursed his birth.

St. Peter was guarding the Pearly Gates And looked at every ghost To be sure there was no black in the white, To be sure that none would roast.

The lawyer applied for admission in Heaven Saint Peter said, "Oh, no. The place where you want to go, my lad, Is in Hades far below."

The doctor was next with his ether and knife. Saint Peter stroked his hair. He said in a voice so demure and kind "There will be no parting there."

The farmer drove up in his rickety cart And applied for a crown of gold. St. Peter looked jovial and said with a smile "Get out and come in—it's cold."

In time, we will reach the place Which men on earth call Hell. We'll see old Satan at the door And the prisoners in their cell.

We shall see our friends and neighbors there Boiling in the pot, And as we pass, perhaps they'll say "Friend, it sure is hot."

Math professors are in line, And as they shed a tear, They'll wipe their blistered hands and say, "It's as hot as Hell in here."

We'll glance around, and perhaps we'll see A bunch of upperclassmen. A punch drunk bunch; they leer and coo; For dolts they'll fix a fashion.

Ah me! Time does tell on human souls, We realize, as we shame to see Here and there with downcast looks The College faculty!

Saints preserve our wicked souls! When the dreaded day comes near. It makes no difference—old and young We are not long for here.

I dread to see that awful time, The Avenging Judgment Day. We'll ask our superiors where they go. "Go to Hell!" They'll say. —Bill Longbine.

A certain little sophomore a-setting, on a chair Waiting for her date to come—atearing out her hair. "Suppose he sands me up tonight—But then he wouldn't dare." Afrowning fit to kill and still Atearing out her hair.

Then a buzz, two shorts, a long; yes dear, that's your ring. Now please don't rush around that way, we'll get you everything.

Here's your coat and there's your purse And after all it could be worse You can't expect a king You're not that good-looking.

"Oh, thanks-oyu sap—" and out she goes Farewelling us a glance Out to her romance she goes, With a tilted shiny nose Of which she doubtless never knows— So to her date she goes. —B. D.

FISH EDUCATION

Freshman, shine those shoes! It makes no difference whose; As long as he's an upperclassman Pay him homage, slimy freshman, Never stop and never res, man. Freshman, shine those shoes!

Freshman, grab your heels, And find out how it feels! You'll get used to all this trouble, You'll get used to bending double, Bustings 'till you fairly wobble. Freshman, grab those heels!

Freshman, if you wince You'll bear the consequence. You must do what they command you, Take each nasty lick they hand you, They will roughly reprimand you, Freshman, if you wince!

Freshman, go to bed, Like that junior said. Next year you will do the busting Someone else's pants be dusting

Your revenge will be disgusting Freshman, go to bed!

—Weldon Bright

MY ODE

There's beauty in a night of starry skies Of feathery clouds Of floating dreams And mists, and veils of silence. You know; you've seen and felt The burning mystery Hidden there Within the dark-lashed eyes Of midnight.

And know you too the beauty in a gnarled oak An aged and sullen Sentinel atop yon hill? Framed in sunrise, sunset, dawn Or dusk—a lonely sord, forgetting not Its sacredness To strength To self, to earth,

To cosmic sight.

Oh, beauty, maid of mystery and might Have need of thee And of thy witchery. Come dwell in quiet in our inmost being And change for us This sordid life. Come open up our eyes To see thee right.

—D. B.

UN-BLESSED EVENT

"Honey, I hardly know how to tell you," said the young wife, "but soon there will be a third in our little home."

"You don't tell me!" exclaimed the husband. "But are you sure, dear?"

"Positive. I just received a letter from mother saying she will arrive tonight."

Lambert Whittles Half-Mile Record In Regional Meet

A Regional One record fell Saturday when Woodrow Lambert ran the 880-yards in 2:04, which was 1.3 seconds below the old record set by Farmer, Childress, timber-topper, took both hurdle honors. Another who took two first places was Charles Florence, Draw, who led the field events by winning both the shot put and discus throw.

Glen Smith, Tell high-jumper, failed to meet his brother's mark set in 1935, and fell down to fourth place. Young Smith exhibited the same form as his brother did when he set the record. Ray Caplinger took the event at 5 feet 10 1/2 inches; other runners-up were Junior Blanchard, Amherst, and Richard Crume, Farwell.

High school coaches from over the region praised officiating of the meet quite freely. Each event was run off as was scheduled under the general direction of Coach Al Baggett.

Although the half-mile record was the only one to be beaten, others were approached. Leslie Curb, Happy High School pitman, broad jumped 21 feet; the record is 21 feet, 2 inches. Lubbock's relay team of Kennedy Lyons, Jarvis Wright, John Moxley, and Melvin Cooksey came near reaching the record of 3:36 when they stepped the distance in 3:38.

Lubbock took team honors with 27 1/2 points, over White Deer's 15. Other high teams were Childress, Muleshoe, Draw, Pampa, Happy, and Amherst.

Grady Tyler, district one speed demon, did not compete in the finals, even though he qualified in the preliminaries in several events. Tyler had been ill with cold since his record breaking performance in the district meet.

Virgil Moore, district two dash winner, took the spotlight in both the short dashes; whereas, James Graham of Ralls in 1936. Lambert carried the colors of Muleshoe High School.

THIRD GRADE PUPILS PRESENT PROGRAM

Third grade pupils of the Demonstration School, under the direction of Miss Laura Saunders, presented a program on birds Tuesday morning in assembly.

A puppet show, "The Lazy Robin," was given by several members of the class after the story was read from the reader used in recitation periods. The stage, curtains, and name sign were made and installed by the children.

Buffaloes Battle In Intrasquad Tilt

Gridiron fans of this locale had the opportunity to see the 1938 Buffalo gridmen in action Thursday when the squad was divided into two teams, Whites and Maroons, in a game featuring most of the let-termin against new candidates. The regulars, led by Foster Watkins, won to the tune of 21 to 0.

The Whites kicked off to start the game with a bang; co-captain Henry Fields, playing with the new candidates did the kicking. It was late in the first quarter when Foster Watkins' Maroons circled right end for a touchdown and then kicked the extra point.

The second quarter was full of fight and pep; Murry, White's attempted a pass but it was incomplete. Again Murry attempted a pass but it was intercepted. It was late in the second quarter when Watkins, running behind perfect interference furnished by Strain and Thomas, carried the ball through the line for the second touchdown. Foster kicked the goal.

Many substitutions were made throughout the game. All the gridmen played. In the third quarter, Washington, playing for the Maroons, intercepted two passes attempted by Murry. De Gregory made some nice runs around the ends, but failed to score.

In the last quarter, Coach Al Baggett sent in four of the graduating regulars of last season for the Whites with no noticeable difference in the game.

During the last minutes of play, Washington carried the ball over for the third touchdown for the Maroons; Thomas kicked the extra point. The game ended 21 to 0 in favor of the Maroons.

Harris M. Cook Has Started Building New Home

Work was started this week on a new home for Dr. and Mrs. Harris M. Cook at 1907 Sixth Avenue. The location is just east of the home recently completed by John A. Gillis.

The new home will be 32x42 feet, with five rooms, and finished with stucco.

Barron Is Chosen Best All-Around Frosh Athlete

Dalbert Barron, Borger, has been chosen the best all-around athlete in the Freshman Class. The selection was made by a committee of coaches and varsity men appointed by the editorial staff of the Freshman Prairie.

Dalbert was chosen, not only for his all-around ability, but also for "his attitude towards athletics" as expressed by one of the committee.

Although Dalbert stepped into the first string of the freshman football team last fall, he had had no previous experience on the gridiron. Chiefly because he was too small to compete, Barron did not take interest in high school athletics. At present, however, he stands 6 feet, 2 inches, and tips the scales at 185 pounds.

Besides being a star end on the freshman football team last fall, Dalbert played excellent basketball. He also packs a powerful punch in his right, and can take care of himself with the best pugilists.

Jim Foust, Littlefield, received honorable mentions, as well as Dewey Johnson, Abernathy, and Earl Stagner, Dimmitt.

Jim Foust specializes in the ring, where as, Dewey led the winning freshman basketball team last season. Stagner also shines best on the cage floor.

The Freshman Class, as well as the remaining fandom of West Texas, expect to see each of the freshman standouts take a regular position on the varsity squad.

Foreman: But you look rather small. Do you think you are fit for really hard work?

Applicant: Well, sir, some of the best judges in the country have said so.

Women Athletes Will Be Honored at Sports Banquet

W. T.'s women athletes will be honored at an all-college sports banquet in the home economics dining room at 8 o'clock tomorrow night. All students in the women's physical education department and participants in intramural sports for girls are invited.

Awards will be presented outstanding members of the volleyball, basketball, softball, swimming, tumbling, fencing, golf, and tennis clubs.

Those who will receive awards in the volleyball division are Mayme Shaver, Flossie Sisk, Ivy Howard, and Francis Tidwell. Mary Lena Huff, Helen Mangum, and Mayme Shaver have been selected to receive basketball awards. Students to receive other awards have not been announced.

Miss Helen Hickman, college nurse, and Marie Riley will have places on the evening's program along with other speakers.

All participants in intramural contests or athletic clubs will be admitted for 25 cents. Admission for others is 50 cents.

Frosh Ace Former High School Champ

Frank Kelly of Panhandle won his laurels in tennis before coming to W. T. While a student of Panhandle High School, he was tennis champion of District II for two years. He was regional one champion last year.

Frank is number two man on the squad and plays with Norton Curry on the W. T. doubles team. He has a strong service, and his chop stroke is good; he alternates this with his drives. Although he lacks experience in match play, he is always willing to battle to the finish.

Catching the Bull of the Herd with Jack

Those Buffaloes mean business this year. Only last Tuesday afternoon Foster Watkins, captain of one of the scrimmage teams gave his team a pep talk that would have done your heart good to hear. Just before the game was to start Foster called a huddle. The boys gathered around:

Little Foster began: "Now boys you all know we have a hard scrimmage ahead of us, and I know that every man of you will fight until he drops, so let's get together on this. Have you heard the latest one on May West?"

Some of the boys had not, so Captain Watkins and some of his more informed teammates proceeded to enlighten those who had neglected to keep informed.

After holding up the game for fifteen minutes, Coach Baggett inquired politely two or three times in that typical Baggett soprano voice as to what was causing the delay. The boys cleared up one or two more technical points and jumped to their feet ready to do or die and swearing to follow their conscientious little captain to the last down.

At the request of Coach Tony Douglas last Tuesday afternoon, the Buffalo squad stopped football practice and gathered round while Lother Stephenson displayed a patent on which he has been working for some time. Silence prevailed as Steve stalked into the circle formed by his admiring teammates. When he gained his position in the exact center of the group you could have heard a pin drop. Then with no visible effort, Steve performed a superhuman feat that held his comrades spellbound. He spat between his front teeth. Amid the lofty cheers of his teammates Steve, blushing modestly, quickly returned to his place in the ranks.

Bovine: That new farm hand is terribly dumb.

Equine: How's that?

Bovine: He found some milk bottles in the grass and insisted he had found a cow's nest.

Boogy: I hear you made money out of the stock market.

Woogy: You bet. Been out of it all my life.
