

Epsilon Beta Will
Give Annual Award

Prof. Clark Given
Recognition for
Work in Music

To Prof. Wallace R. Clark, head of the departemnt of music, has come an honor granted in recognition of outstanding work in his field here.

Prof. Clark has been made a member of the Chicago Council of Teachers of Singing, which has a program national in scope in several particulars. Membership in the group is by invitation only, and is given only to those who contribute substantially to the advancement of the art. The president of the organization is D. A. Clippinger of Chicago, internationally famous teacher of singing, who was for more than 25 years director of the Chicago Madrigal Club. He is the author of numerous books and articles.

Clark Praised

When the Chicago master decided to retire as conductor of the Madrigal club a few years ago he made it possible for his former pupil and friend, Prof. Clark, and West Texas State to obtain the club's madrigal library—the finest in the country. This library has brought international fame to the college among musicians. It is used every year by the Madrigal club conducted by Prof. Clark. Several seasons ago Prof. Clippinger came to Canyon and conducted a madrigal program by the group. He stated at that time that he placed the library at Canyon because the West Texas State department head not only appreciated madrigal music to an unusual extent but knew more about madrigals than any other person in the country.

Will Receive Minutes

To this remark Prof. Clark replied that Mr. Clippinger is the foremost American authority on the subject. As usually organized, the madrigal club is a group of 32 voices, singing without accompaniment. For them much outstanding music has been written.

By virtue of his membership in the Chicago Council of Teachers of Singing, Prof. Clark will receive each month a copy of the minutes of the previous meeting, as well as club brochures on vocal topics. To the latter he will be invited to contribute ideas and articles. The club also holds an annual song competition open to American composers. The next contest will start shortly.

Madrigal Club Popular

Membership in the Madrigal Club here is regarded by students as so desirable that the group has a waiting list. Currently it is preparing a program of short madrigals which have been requested by persons who have been hearing concerts by the organization since it was formed in 1919.

The major concert of the Madrigal club will be given in the spring.

Sponsorship of an annual honor award to be presented in the spring semester has been announced by Epsilon Beta, campus social club for men.

Though final plans for the award have not been completed, a faculty committee will be asked to select the honor student on a basis of scholarship, friendliness, participation in extra-curricula activities, and popularity among the students and members of the faculty.

The purpose of the award is to give recognition to one student each year for having made noteworthy contributions to the progress of the school, Joe Collins, Epsilon Beta president said.

The award will be in the form of a plaque which will be placed in the main corridor of the Administration building. The name of the honor student and the year of his graduation will be inscribed on a bronze plate and attached to the plaque.

Any member of the student body is eligible for the honor except members of Epsilon Beta.

The plaque will be placed in the hall early next semester, and the honor student will be selected near the end of the school term.

Librarians Urged To Attend Texas State Teachers Meeting

Librarians of Panhandle schools and colleges are being urged to attend the Texas State Teachers Association's library section which will hold sessions in Houston, November 26.

Miss Margaret Sheers, librarian for Panhandle High School, will speak on "Library Instruction in the School" at the first program starting at 9 a. m. Other speakers will be Miss Mattie Ruth Moore, librarian for the Sam Houston Elementary School at Dallas, and Dr. Louis Shores, director of the Library School at George Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn. Round-table discussions will be conducted by sub-section chairmen.

Mrs. Elnora Edgar Buchanan, president of the Texas Library Association, will preside at a luncheon in the Rice Hotel. Reservations, priced at one dollar, may be sent to Harold Wigren, Albert Sidney Johnston High School, Houston, by Nov. 24.

Speakers at the luncheon will include Dr. Shores and Merrill Bishop, director of the Junior high schools at San Antonio. Mr. Bishop will discuss "Hitlerism in Library Procedure."

MARY ANGELINE RUSSELL WILL GIVE ORGAN PROGRAM

Y. W. C. A. will present Miss Mary Angeline Russell, Plainview organist, in a Thanksgiving worship service Sunday evening at 8 o'clock at the Methodist Church.

The program will last aout 45 minutes and the public is invited.

Arthur P. Bralley, '34, who has been assistant county agricultural agent in soil conservation work in Moore county has been transferred to Hunt county. He and Mrs. Bralley also an ex of W. T., are living at Greenville.

First W. T. Annual
Was Called "Cap
Rock Echoes"

By going to the very bottom of the Le Mirage files, it is discovered that the first annual was called "Cap Rock Echoes."

Miss Anna I. Hibbets, professor of education, was assistant editor, and present faculty members listed were J. A. Hill, history; Miss Jennie C. Ritchie, English; Miss Mary E. Hudspeth, mathematics; and, Miss Tennessee Malone, librarian. The edition was 6 x 10 inches containing 100 pages covered by a red paper cover.

In its second year of existence, the yearbook was changed to its present title. This was in 1912 when R. A. Stuart, now president of the board of regents, was business manager. R. A. Terrill had been added to the faculty in his present position.

The Y. W. C. A. was the only organization in the first edition that is still in existence here.

Pep Squad Performs
In Full Uniform
At Game Saturday

The W. T. pep squad performed in complete uniform for the first time at the half in the Buff-Broncho game Saturday afternoon.

The cheering organization marched on the field in four columns, one from each corner of the field. A color guard with the U. S. flag, advanced from the east side of the field to the center, and the four columns formed a pin-wheel around the flag.

Members of the pep squad carried streamers of red and white, the colors of the Roswell team. Buffalo Band also paraded and furnished music for the pep organization.

All pep squad sweaters, which were bought a few weeks ago, were returned to the campus last week with large W. T. letters on the front. The sweaters are maroon, and had been worn since Homecoming when they were sent back to have the letters sewn on.

Men's Chorus Gives
Song Service

The Men's Chorus of W. T., directed by W. R. Clark, head of the music department, gave a vesper song service Sunday night at the First Methodist Church.

The Chorus, which consists of thirty members, sang the following selections: "Ride Out on Wings of Song," Berwald; "Invocation," Rogers; "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," Old English; "Stars Brightly Shining," Bronte; "Death Rides High," James; "The Bell-Man," Forsythe; and "Thanks Be to God," Dickson-Talter.

Following a brief talk by Reverend J. O. Quattlebaum, Jr., O. T. Craig sang a tenor solo, "The Nun of Nidaros," by Dudley Buck.

ALUMNUS WINS AWARD

Willie Cole, '33, who is living at Sweetwater, received a trip to Mexico City during the last summer as a prize for having done outstanding work for the insurance company which he represents.

Imperial Singers
To Give Lyceum
Program Dec. 9

First of the series of numbers of the College lyceum program this term will be a program Dec. 9 by the Imperial Singers, a group that is well known by reason of its stage and radio work.

The Imperial Singers will present favorite songs, such as the Prison Scene from "Il Trovatore" and pleasing melodies from the light operas of Gilbert & Sullivan and Friml.

Members of the troupe include Margaret Truman, soprano, of Warren, Ohio; Vera Hatch, piano and alto, of Cleveland; George Vaughn, tenor, of Cleveland; H. Tom Little, tenor, of Oklahoma City; Lloyd King, manager and baritone, of Cleveland; and George Scott, bass, accompanist, and reader, of Olean, N. Y.

Each of these is an experienced artist and each has a voice which has been heard in hundreds of public programs. While most are soloists, each has done much choral work and is equipped to give the excerpts from the operas in the best professional style, according to Prof. Wallace R. Clark, head of the College department of music.

Freshman Fellowship
Club To Have Group
Meetings Tonight

Group meetings of the Freshman Fellowship Club, at which the topic of discussion will be "Leisure Time and Extra-curricular Activities," will be held tonight at 7:30.

Rosa Cash and Helene Oliver will lead a discussion at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Hill; Lorene Bessire and Helen Mangum at the home of Miss Ruth Lowes; Elizabeth Wood and Edythe Shearer at the home of Miss Mary Moss Richardson; Patricia Wederbrook and Eula Frazier at the Kerr House; Jack Veazey and Bill Cone at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Harris M. Cook; Forrest Fry and Shely Cook at the home of Ima C. Barlow; and David Coats and Kenneth Walters at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Savage.

All boys who have not been placed in a discussion group will meet at Stafford Hall where the Rev. Charles Wilson and Lawrence McBee will direct the discussion. All girls who are not in a specific group are asked to meet at the Little House of Fellowship. The club was divided into small groups in order that the members could give more individual expression to their ideas.

Plans are being made to have an outstanding speaker here on Nov. 30 to speak to the club as a whole. Preparations are also underway for a club party on December 14.

The last meeting of the club will be on January 18.

PRE-MED EXAMINATIONS
TO BE GIVEN

Apitude examinations for pre-med students in West Texas State will be given December 3, at 2 o'clock. This examination is a prerequisite to the entrance of any student into a class A medical school, and is issued from Washington, D. C.

The examination is open to all students, but it is expected that most of those taking it will be of either junior or senior standing. More than 10,500 took this test all over the United States last year, said Dr. Pierle, professor of chemistry, who will be in charge of conducting this examination. He has sent for ten copies of the test.

Dr. Pierle said that although this test was one of the first requirements for entering any medical school, it does not assure admission to all of them.

ALLEEN McCANTS MAKES
HIGHEST GRADE ON TEST

Alleen McCants, '37, has the distinction of having passed the final examination in a correspondence course in Children's Literature with the highest grade ever made by a correspondence student. This course is one of the most popular given by the college through correspondence.

Miss McCants is teaching at Giles, Texas.

TO TEACH ENGLISH

Hazel Kirbie, '37, has been elected to teach English in the high school at Estelline, for the remainder of the year.

SENIOR CLASS TO MEET THURSDAY

A senior class meeting will be held Thursday morning at 11 o'clock in Room 211, Joe McNeil, senior president, has announced.

Training School
Will Have Open
House Saturday

Patrons and friends of the Demonstration School are invited to a special open house Saturday, which will last throughout the day.

In previous years the school has sponsored an autumn festival, but it was decided that an open house would be more beneficial to both students and patrons.

College instructors are invited to ring classes to observe methods used in the school.

Morning classes will be conducted as usual with special added features in each class. In the afternoon, the music and speech departments will present a program entitled "America's Heritage of Song." Both boys and girls choruses will participate in this program. Refreshments will be served during the open house.

Sunday School Class
Gives Ten Books to
Bible Department

Ten new books have been given to the Bible Department by Wl-Mo-Da-Sis, Sunday school class of the First Methodist church of Plainview.

While these books were bought for use of students in the Bible department, they are available to all students, Miss Oscie A. Sanders, head of the department said.

These volumes are of recent publication and cover a wide range of interests. Three deal with Biblical literature, three with religious thought, two cover the problems of modern missions, and two discuss problems in religious education.

The number of books in this department is being gradually increased through the generosity of the women of the North West Texas Women's Missionary Conference. Mrs. C. M. Randal of Seymour is president of the organization.

Freshmen Are Given
Psychological Test

Psychological tests prepared by the American Council on Education were given to freshmen yesterday afternoon. The English tests, which are a part of the cooperative series, will be given later.

Freshmen in each of the Texas teachers colleges are given these tests. The purpose of the tests is to distinguish between students' mental abilities and their high school training and industry, and will aid in distinguishing students' weak points.

Co-Ed Uncovers New Fact
About Boys Race With Time

An inquisitive co-ed who recently discovered that girls spend an average of two hours a day before their mirrors, thinks it is incredible that the "eds" at Stafford hall, the dormitory for boys, need only 2½ hours per week before their "looking glasses."

She appointed a few observers and learned that the boys of the hall spend only 5 minutes in front of a mirror before dashing to an 8 o'clock class, 2 minutes getting ready for the noon and evening meals, and about 15 minutes preparing for an evening date. The 15 minutes include one for brushing the

Violent scoring thrusts in the last half presented a freak brand of football as the West Texas State Buffaloes stormed to a 41-20 victory over the New Mexico Military Institute Bronchos, Saturday.

Midway in the third quarter with the score deadlocked at 14-14, Craig Walling, Buff left end, blocked Cadet MacGillivray's punt, Donald Kendrick grabbed the loose ball and rumbled to the 30. The scoring pass play, Watkins to Dow, sent the Buffs into the lead.

Murry Scores

From this point, both clubs unveiled lusty offensive thrusts that swept the small crowd off their feet. Immediately afterwards, Floyd Murry scooted for a score from the 14 behind fine blocking.

The next counter was a result of Watkin's pass to lanky Lother Stephenson in the right flat zone from the 31. Gains by Murry, Dow, and Butler placed the ball in scoring position.

Bufs Let Down

With a 20-point lead, the Buffs let down long enough for Cadet Lusk to reel off the longest jaunt of the veritable slap-bang game. Gathering L. Williams' long kickoff on his two yard line he squeezed through an opening in the Buff line and ran straight up the field without being herded off. The attempt for extra point was messed up.

Schur Tallies on Pass

A determined Buffalo crew scaled the heights again before handing in their uniforms for the year. Their relentless drive began on their own 10. Marching to the 35, Quarterback Watkins became alrinded when he stepped back on the Cadet 45 and picked out fleet Ernest Schur, substitute for Walling, and tossed a wad that contained six points when Schur deftly caught it as he fell into the end zone. Slack converted from placement for the final score of the 1937 season. Score 41-20.

Heavily outweighed by their opponents, the Cadets played valourously and presented a crafty machine in the open field with their assortment of laterals. Near the end of the first chapter MacGillivray flipped to Gray who wheeled and lateraled to Fullback Holloman who caught on the dead run for the first counter.

The Buffalo band and pep squad entertained with exhibitions during the half.

Mrs. Geraldine Green, dean of women, has returned from the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs meeting in Austin. Appeals were made to the women of Texas to join in a movement for peace in an address given by Judge Grace Elmore Gibson. Other outstanding speakers lectured at the convention.

While in Austin, Mrs. Green investigated Texas University's "matinee mixers" held each Wednesday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock. She recommends the idea to the college students here.

VISITS TO SCHOOLS
ARE DISCONTINUED

Because so many schools are dismissed for cotton picking, faculty tours to public schools ended last week with visits by Hershel Jennings of the business administration department and Miss Edna Graham of the mathematics department. Mr. Jennings and Miss Graham visited in Channing, Hartley, Dalhart, Texline, Stratford, and Dumas.

DR. JARRETT TO SPEAK TO SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club will meet at 7:30 p. m. Friday in room 202E. R. P. Jarrett, M. D., will speak and will give camera studies on the gastric-intestinal tract and on fertilization.

Deadline For Le
Mirage Pictures
Extended

Deadline for making appointments for photograph sittings at either of the two local studios has been extended to December 1. If pictures are made by this date, the photographers will have ample time for retouching before shipment of pictures to Stafford Engraving Company at Fort Worth.

Studio managers have indicated that prints from last year's negative may be obtained at 25 cents each. For those desiring new pictures, two poses, with one retouched, will be made for one dollar. The annual print will be given free with an order.

The space fee for sophomores is 60 cents, 75 cents for juniors, and a dollar for seniors and graduate students.

The 1938 Le Mirage will be divided into six sections—introduction, faculty and classes, personality, athletic organizations, and campus snap shots. The annual staff voted to eliminate the grind section, comic feature included in past annuals.

A new feature planned by Editor Virginia Hohlaus is a graduate section which will include those students holding degree working toward their Master of Arts.

Wranglers Sponsor
Courses In Girl
Scout Leadership

An extensive training course for Girl Scout leaders will be sponsored this year by the Wranglers under the direction of Mrs. Leon Lassers, troop captain. This course will be open to all senior girls interested in the work, and will continue throughout the school year.

Included in the course will be the history and philosophy of girl scouting, the psychology of girl scouting, the system of troop government, passing the tenderfoot test, registration with national headquarters, the general set-up and purpose of the national organization, fundamentals of nature study, program-planning, signalling, hiking, games, songs, special troop activities and their direction, and the essentials of good leadership.

Work on the course will start Tuesday at 7:30 p. m., and the group will meet the second and fourth Tuesday night of each month at that time. Meetings will be held in Room 118 of the Administration building.

Mid-semester examinations and possibly other factors brought coffee sales up approximately 20%, at one campus drug store. Students who need stimulants to help them through a long night of cramming, are usually the type who spend more time in drug stores than in the library. This observation was made by proxy of course.

Students who sit in the back of the auditorium in assembly have begun to complain that the pantomime programs are getting old. Use of the amplifier for talks and announcements should be revived to enable students in the back to hear.

Leonard Krancis Kowalski and Leonard Francis Kowalski are freshmen enrolled at Loyola, University Education News reports. Both are pre-med students and all their classes are together but one. They should be able to use the same diploma, and it seems a waste of money for both to be enrolled.

The Buffaloes and Bronchos made up for the scoring they didn't do last year in the game Saturday. Travis Shaw, college business manager, couldn't have picked a better game to take a motion picture of. The film should prove a real thriller.

Gossiping Trumpeteer Reveals Back Seat
Driver's Version of Band Trip-Censored

By Gonda Biggers

I believe in miracles. Yes sir, I'm convinced that there are powers that be (other than the Administration of Mrs. Smith.) I am popular, at least I WAS until the band, composed of thirty boys, four girls and me, got back to Canyon where girls are as plentiful as Buff bills. It was wonderful. There were boys to the left of me—boys to the right of me—boys in front of me—boys behind me, and every one of them was asleep. I forgot to mention Mr. Strain and Mrs. Dougal who also went along.

Thursday morning when the cracking of dawn woke us, our noses twitched with enthusiasm as we inhaled the night air patriotically. My roommate brushed my teeth; the girl from down the hall threw coffee at my face, and I put on somebody's clothes. We sardined ourselves into the new bus. Percy, the hack herder, yawned into the mirror at us, patted his engine trustily, called signals and shifted—Alas we were off (on the trip—not mentally—you dope).

The first five minutes was quiet enough, then some wearer of the maroon and white discovered that he had vocal organs. The peaceo was broken. The first selection resembled a Sunday school picnic-sans tunes.

Time and Percy marched on. Our first stop was Lubbock. While we were strolling through the hotel lobby, a burly gentleman halted J. T. Carrol with these words: "Boy, put my bags in the car waiting outside." In some places we were mistaken for musicians. I don't know which is worse.

When we started through Lamesa, a signal light turned red with "Stop," so we did. After playing a concert, we went exploring. Imagine our chagrin to learn that the pretty building we were inside was the jail. The keeper was reasonable enough and let us out after receiving due compensation. Some of the boys say they drew blanks, I didn't know any of them were artists—maybe they meant something else.

Dawned the day of the big game. We trucked down to Pecos in time for director Jack Veazey to take a movie of one of the girls reading a sign with serious intentions all over her face. The movie will be shown at Stafford Hall come this month's allowance so Jack can get the films developed.

The name of the broadcasting station was KIUN—probably meaning Kum In U Nuts—so we did. We got to the studio a little early for the broadcast, so we listened attentively to the "kiddie birthday party." When we discovered that the announcer was giving away cakes, we aged like cider with the plug out.

One little member of the band, commonly known as Buxom Bertha, was called in for an interview After telling the more respectable facts about her past, he asked her how old she was. "I four," she said. He asked her to play a clarinet solo, she beckoned to her ghost, (as in theme writing) to play. He did and the listeners were none the wiser. Raymond Raillard, much as he may look alive is a ghost, my friends. Words fall me when referring to the game. All I can say is that all we said was "Oh, but I'm happy," a la Kenneth Hohlaus.

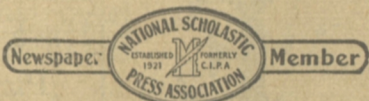

Sunday happened as usual, so we spent the day playing sacred concerts. The folks said that we "shored sounded purty" . . . we still wanted to play "Tiger Rag."

I forgot to mention that Weldon Bright played all night for a nickel. Don't know if he was playing the piano or not. Wish you could have been there.

P. S. We won the game.

WORTHY OF OUR EFFORT

"Join the Red Cross."

Once more this organization with a United States roll of more than two million active members is making its annual campaign. Chartered in 1905 by Congress the Red Cross has 8,948 chapter branches in the United States, and has as its purpose, to give voluntary aid to the wounded in war and to offer aid to the distressed during peace. Its peace time service was demonstrated during the flood last spring. All wars show the efficiency of the Red Cross in dealing with international disturbances.

Surely an organization headed by President Roosevelt and Admiral Carey T. Grayson should be considered worthy of our support.

Let us then wholeheartedly join this movement and cooperate with the local campaign.

"Join the Red Cross," and help an organization that is world-wide in scope and always prepared to lend a helping hand anywhere it is needed.

AN APPEAL TO STUDENTS AND EXES

During the Thanksgiving holidays, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week, members of the State Teachers Association will meet in Houston for their annual convention. Every section of the state, with the exception of the Texas Panhandle, will be represented by delegations from the respective State Teachers Colleges.

Plans are being rushed as rapidly as possible to send the 35-piece Buffalo Band, under the direction of Prof. C. E. Strain to the Houston convention as ambassadors of good will from W. T. and the Texas Panhandle.

The band has just returned from a highly successful tour of the southwestern part of the state. Its value in advertising the school and section cannot be over-estimated.

Friends of the Buffalo Band have guaranteed to make arrangements for concerts and broadcasts at Houston, as well as for reduced transportation rates to and from Houston. A three-day trip is proposed.

Such a trip will require money. President Hill has pledged one hundred dollars from the college if a quota of four hundred dollars in addition can be raised from some other source, to make up the estimated expense of five-hundred dollars for the trip.

Are there four-hundred W. T. Students and Exes in the Panhandle who are willing to contribute one dollar each toward this trip? Are there four-hundred students and former students of this college who have that much pride and ambition for their Alma Mater? We believe there are!

This must be the first and last appeal. Time is limited. Will YOU help?

Mail your contributions to The Prairie, in care of the editor of business manager. Include your name and address. If the quota cannot be raised, the money will be returned.

Members of the band are willing to sacrifice their holiday to make a long and tiresome trip. Are you, as a W. T. student or Ex, willing to contribute a small amount to make the trip possible? Then please do it at once.—B. E.

BROKEN WINGS

"When the moon is ripe for corn planting
He will come back, Uganda. Make your prayers

With the raven's feather and the chant of the medicine-man;
Drown your tears in the stagnant lake of sorrow;"

She watched the moon in its cycle,
Watched it turn purple from luscious silver,

And she waited always in the gray, moist vells

Of the drooping forest shadows.

Then—deep in the trail of darkness,
Far back in the gray-mist facades,
Sudden and wild and furtive,
Flared the tremulous flame of torches.

Quick came the frenzied beat of tom-tom
And the weird, music-twisted body of nude dancer,
And Uganda watched rigid in the firelight
Flashes of brown nakedness, raw-legged, in the hot grasses.

Lean copper youth led the file of warriors,
Lean copper youth with shoulders metal-smooth;
Uganda's heart took breathless wings;
And a bronze, fire-waked eagle rose soaring.

Eager and joyous she met him—
Her heart beat as the pagan memory of thunder,
And sweet, savage lilt of laughter
Churned low in her hard bare throat.

"It's been so long—these many days—" he whispered,
And, stooping, kissed her.
Then stricken, sick, and fighting,
She crawled screaming to the tangled bushes.

"Liar, Liar!" she cried.
"Your lips are frozen skin of lizards,
And your empty eyes remember only
The kiss of newer loves on the red-sand shore!"

The eagle,
With fire-blind eyes,
Beat its wings on the crags of darkness,
And fell—bleeding, anguished, and broken.

—Dids Meek.

ROSE LEAVES

The shattered petals of the summer's latest rose
I held within my calloused hand, and felt

A strange vibration when the trembling leaves
Curled on my heart-line. Rose leaves
On a heart-line, and the visions of a garden

Where two lovers stood in spring. Rose leaves
And a fragrance like the dying breath of summer

When the winds have frozen fountains.
Shattered rose leaves crumbled on a shattered heart-line,
And the memories I wish I could forget.

B. Meisse.

HILLS

I have seen hills streaked with red clay,
And thick with dark trees,
And while I have watched from afar,

I have seen mighty armies
Covering the hills.
And I have seen blood spilled there . . . . .

Red blood streaming down every hill
As the dim soldiers murdered each other,
Butchering, still,
As the sun set.

B. Meisse.

THE FATHER-IN-LAW SPEAKS

Whence all this sublime despair,
Little Fool?

Have you not velvet and silk,
And soft little sandals?
Have you not a garden,
Birds,
Perfumes, and incense?
So, cradled safe as a white dove amid cherry blooms,
Why do you sigh, Little Fool?

I sigh for my love—for my love
He is gone with the war,
And no more his dark eyes come,
Glowing and tender—
Safe! But oh, so cold!

So cold.
Take all my velvet and silk—take my sandals
And—yes, and my birds and my garden—
Give me my love again.

Fool! Little Fool!
(Poor Little Fool.)

—H. B.

AGE

The trees
Are drinking
In
The sunshine
And turning
Burnished gold;

They're making
One last
Try
For youth—
Because
They're growing
Old.

—B. R. K.

A FRESHMAN'S PLEA

Just as I am, without one plea,
The champion sinner; that is me.
Blamed for every thing I do;
Nobody knows that I am new.

In my studies I go plunk—
Trying my damndest not to flunk,
O Lord on high, I appeal to you:
Forget me not that I am new.

Beat and whipped on every turn,
Always by my true love spurned,
No wonder, Lord, that I am blue;
But please remember, I am new.

Oh, glorious night; oh, wondrous grave—
I welcome thee 'til I behave.

—B. Longbine.

FAILURE

I have failed. The struggle is over.
My soul sinks and is still.
There is a vast relief settling over me.

Good to fight?
Ah, yes. But better to rest.
When one falls lower than despair,
He finds peace.

A peace without sound or motion.
There is a sweetness in the bitterness of failure

That is worth the falling a thousand times to know.
While one strives, his eyes see only
The ugly thing before him,
But when he falls, vanquished,
His head thrown back, in utter lassitude,
He sees again the stars.

FALL O' THE YEAR

Fall o' the year. It's here again.
The soft gray skies, the slanting rain,
The wind with its restless, sad refrain,
And the thin leaves tumbling down the lane.

Fall o' the year. The golden stare
Of the harvest moon, the flaw and flare
Of bonfire smoke in the chill night air,
And the milling crowds and the country fair.

Fall o' the year. And the first damp snow,
Cranberries, pumpkins and turkeys that grow
To a fabulous size, and row on row
The cakes and pies and jellies go.

Fall o' the year. The unearthly blue
Of the autumn skies, the mist and dew
That rise from the creek that wanders through
The grove—all these things speak of you.

Where are you? Where are you?
I wish I knew!

—H. B.

FALLING STARS

Stars,
Shooting across
Midnight skies—
It's beautiful to see;

But stars
Falling
From young eyes—
It's agony.

—B. R. K.

WHERE TO GO AND WHAT TO DO

BY GAD

Looking over the calendar for the current week, I find ample fun available to entertainment seekers.

Cousins Hall will give part of the male population a break Thursday night when they entertain with a theatre party and a dance later as an added attraction. From the data available now, your reporter believes that this will be one of the most enjoyable events of the week.

The Jones family will appear in a screen presentation as they depict family life in "Hot Water," which is showing at the Olympic tonight. This show might prove of some value to sociologists since the Jones family experiences some of the domestic difficulties typical of the homestead. The production is good for several laughs.

Seniors are hereby advised to don their best duds Saturday night, and be on hand for a brilliant senior social affair. Joe McNeill, senior prexy, tipped me off that this is to be one of the swankiest senior socials of the year. No particulars are available now, but if I were to become an ex-student in June, no affairs of this nature would be passed up.

"Thin Ice," is my pick of this week's films. This production, starring those two sensational newcomers, Tyrone Power and Sonja Henie, is showing at the Olympic Wednesday and Thursday. Power and Miss Henie score a tremendous success as their love-making and thrilling skiing turn the hearts of the most severe critics. Power has the role of a prince who tires of his regal

What's Your Opinion On--

The Student Council's proposal to have an all-college dance every Monday evening from 7:30 until 9:30 o'clock and eliminating the open house dances given by each of the dormitories weekly.

Following are the opinions of several students taken at random on this question:

"George Davis: 'This proposed plan would make for better times at dances, and would cause less interference with study.'

Glyndon Riley: 'This proposal is very good, for if passed, the open-houses will not conflict with other campus activities.'

Mary Collins: 'The principal idea in this is to eliminate open-houses almost every night, thereby leaving more time for other things.'

George Wright: 'The idea of having all our open-houses and our club meetings the same night, I think, is an excellent idea. In this way only one night out of seven would be used.'

Dids Meek: 'One open-house a week instead of four different ones would certainly solve the problem of economy of time. Snatches of dancing in hour interludes thoroughly interrupt the evenings' program four nights each week.'

Bob Orton: 'I think it is a good idea—if it will work out—but it will mean a lot of headaches.'

Marvin Callham: 'I like the proposed plan.'

Virginia Murray: 'I think a good dance each week will be lots better than four smaller ones.'

Irene Thompson: 'The idea strikes me as being a good one.'

Lawrence McBe: 'I like the idea very much. I think that everyone will be glad to get all to open house on one night.'

duties and assumes the life of a commoner.

Little Jack Benny will drop anchor at the Olympic Saturday's review, and Sunday, and Monday, to appear in the hilarious production "Artists and Models." Benny puts on his artist's smock, and rolls the paid admissions in the proverbial aisles with his inimitable style of drawing laughter. Ben Blue and Judy Canova lend an incomparable atmosphere that is nothing short of side-splitting. For an evening of sheer enjoyment and laughs see Benny at his best.

Here is an item for you dance fanatics. Open house will be held at Stafford Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock, and a cordial invitation has been extended to all species of the feminine variety (unwed ones preferably.)

George: Do you play an instrument of any kind, John?
John (sadly): Only second fiddle at home.

Howdy folks!

What is so rare as a half-holiday when we need a whole one? In this day of rugged individualism, my hat goes off to DIDS MEEK. She, being the thinker she is, thought that our holiday allowance wasn't enough—she took two days.

In the absence of EMILY POST, CHARLES WILSON has compiled the following rules of etiquette:

1. Don't tuck your napkin in your collar, your tie is enough.

2. One elbow on the table is sufficient, two makes it look like you were too tired to eat.

3. When eating soup, take a little spoonful first, it may be hotter 'n —.

4. Don't make gestures with the silverware (?), especially to the next table.

5. Don't tip bowl for that last drop—it's terribly overrated.

Randall Party Is Held Hollywood Premiere Fashion

Staged as a Hollywood premiere, with campus personages as the Hollywood celebrities, Randall Hall's first semester party was held Saturday night.

In keeping with the party motif, the reception room was decorated with movie posters. Autumn flowers completed the decoration scheme. Rex Galloup announced the presence of W. T. counterparts of the Hollywood stars. He shared the mike with sports announcer Glyndon Riley, whose comments on W. T. athletics were particularly fitting to the victorious finish of the Buffalo home season.

Both dancing and table games were provided for the two groups at the party at which fifty couples and forty stags were present. Tap dancing and vocal numbers were on the floor show presented by Dixie Dice and a group of Amarillo entertainers. The program was completed by Tiny Craig, who sang two popular numbers, "Remember Me," and "That Old Feeling."

Faculty guests were Mr. and Mrs. Leon Lassers and Miss Florence McMurtry.

MISS MARY MORGAN BROWN ENTERTAINS IN ASSEMBLY

Miss Mary Morgan Brown, head of the speech department, entertained in assembly Saturday morning with three readings. Two Shakespearean selections, the "Wooling Scene from Henry V" and a scene from "The Merchant of Venice," and an Armistice Day selection, "Anthem for Doomed Youth," were given on the program.

STAFFORD HAS GUESTS FOR FORMAL DINNER

Guests at Stafford Hall for formal dinner Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hill, John Hill Jr. and Margaret Esther Hill, and Edward Foster, Amarillo; Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Hill, Miss Helen Lyles, and Helen Mangum, Canyon.

TALKS TO KIWANIANS

Virginia Murray And Margaret E. Hill Entertain Pi Omega

Virginia Murray and Margaret Esther Hill entertained active Pi Omega members and their guests with a steak fry at the Canyon Country Club Sunday night.

After singing around the campfire, the group danced at the club house. Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Meyers, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Murray, and Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hill of Amarillo acted as chaperones.

Those attending were: Rosa Cash, John Hill, Lelia Cooper, Harley Goettsche, Dorothy Dickenson, Chick Neilson, Bonnie Gierhart, Oscar Hinger, Virginia Hohlaus, George Wright, Mary May Harrison, Gerald Brown, Margaret E. Hill, Kenneth Hohlaus, Betty Jones, Tiny Craig, Virginia Line, Clifford Whitehurst, Virginia Murray, Marvin Callham, Irene Thompson, Bill Robertson, Annette White, Burton Thompson, and the chaperones.

Cousins Hall Girls To Give Theatre Party And Dance

Cousins Hall will have its semester party Thursday night when girls of the hall and their guests will attend the movie, "Thin Ice," and later return to the hall for a dance. Dids Meek, social chairman, is in charge of the arrangements for the party, and working under her as committee heads are Doris Billingsley, invitations; Vione Randle, decorations; and Edith Ashley, refreshments.

Future plans for a Mardi Gras in the spring are also being made. The hall voted the Mardi Gras an annual Cousins Hall affair.

Janey: Mother, I don't believe I can go to school today.
Mother (perplexed): Why, dear?
Janey: 'Cause I don't feel well.
Mother (sympathetically): Where don't you feel well?
Janey: In school.

With cold weather coming on, this three-piece leather suit would make a welcome as well as attractive addition to a lady's wardrobe. It's of grain sheepskin with skirt and jacket styled with button-like clasps that afford ease in getting in and out of the garment. A wool dress is worn underneath the suit.

Alpha Sigma Xi Presents Pledges At Dance

Alpha Sigma Xi climaxed its fall social season with a semi-formal presentation dance Friday night in the ballroom of Cousins Hall.

Guests danced from 8 until 11 o'clock on a dance floor beautifully decorated with red and blue lights, with the club initials suspended on red and white streamers in the center of the stage.

A program, consisting of members of the club, was given at intervals during the dancing. Kenneth Hohlaus gave a violin solo, and Arthur Chase, pianist, played several popular selections. During the intermission a quartet sang a toast to the organization.

Bob Orton, president of the club, presented the pledges with their dates in the receiving line as follows: Lowell La Fon, Harley Goettsche, Kenneth Hohlaus, Hasty Sisson, Bill Robertson, John Hill, Burton Thompson, and Arthur Chase.

Members and guests who attended were: Marvin Callham, Virginia Murray, Lowell LaFon, Dickie Ricks, Harley Goettsche, Ruth Campbell, Kenneth Hohlaus, Margaret E. Hill, Hasty Sisson, Ann Nell McDaniel, Tiny Craig, Virginia Line, Bill Robertson, Kaki Westmoreland, Ralph O'Keefe, Melba Williams, George Davis, Ruth Haney, John Hill, Virginia Hohlaus, Trent Davis, Odessa Winkler, Bob Orton, Roberta Turner, Clifford Whitehurst, Dorothy Dickinson, Burton Thompson, Annette White, Arthur Chase, Kathryn Daniels, Cato Merchant, Rachel Kidd, Louis Cole, Leona Lewis, Joe McNeil, Maridora Blair, Houston Bright, Quixie Bea King, J. C. Bellah, Reba Pool, Jack Taylor, Helen Gilmore, Charles Hoover, Betty Blythe, Meredith Warren, Billie Ruth King, Weldon Bright, Carolyn Mayfield, Joe Collins, and Ann Millen.

Sponsors for the occasion were Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Meyer, and Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Condron.

Mikhail: I wonder why a woman always tells everything she's told?
Harefoot: You mean she can't keep a secret.
Mikhail: Sure.
Harefoot: Say, that's an easy one. A woman has but two views of a secret—either it's too good to keep or it isn't worth keeping.

Skeleton Saber-tooth Tiger Is Presented to Panhandle Museum

A perfect skeleton of the saber-tooth tiger, complete in every detail, has been presented West Texas State College and the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society museum by the University of California at Berkeley.

The specimen, so rare that it is found in few museums of this size, and larger, was sent by Prof. R. A. Sturton, of the department of vertebrate paleontology, in recognition of the privileges extended him by the museum, school, and citizens of the Panhandle. He has done considerable collecting on the plains, especially in Donley county. Dr. Chas. L. Camp, director of the University of California Museum of Vertebrate Paleontology, has shown much interest in the local museum and the work of C. Stuart Johnston, assistant professor of paleontology in West Texas State.

The saber-tooth tiger (Smilodon Californicus) gets his name from the razor-like pair of teeth which extended six inches or more from his mouth. With these serrated weapons he was capable of killing even the gigantic imperial elephant. He was the fiercest of carnivorous animals, living or extinct, and was larger and stronger than the Bengal tiger. The skeleton was taken from the famous Rancho La Brea tar pits of California, where the bones have been perfectly preserved.

The skeleton will be assembled and mounted for exhibition soon

Marriage of Nina Clement Announced

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Nina C. Clement, a student here last year, to Leslie A. Ledbetter. The Rev. J. P. Neal of Wellington officiated.

The nuptial vows were spoken before a background of chrysanthemums, ferns and autumn leaves. Miss Ammazell Clement and Buddy Armstrong of Cody, Wyo. were the only attendants.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Clement of Wellington. She was graduated from Wellington High School and attended school here.

The bridegroom, also a graduate of Wellington High School, attended business college in Amarillo. He is associated with the DeShong truck lines in Amarillo.

After Christmas. The museum here now has for display the best collection in the country of specimens on the upper Pliocene and lower Pleistocene epochs of the Panhandle.

While the museum is exchanging specimens to complete its collections, the saber-tooth tiger comes as an outright gift from the University of California. The donation, said Prof. Johnston, should be appreciated by all Panhandle citizens, both for its scientific value and interest and by reason of the spirit in which it was given.

There were saber-tooth tigers in the Panhandle, for instance, and specimens have been taken from the Palo Duro canyons. There were dog-like animals bigger even than the lobo wolf. Evidence of these facts may be seen in the display cases of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum.

It was one of the boys at the hobo convention who remarked that money didn't hurt him—it was the lack of it that hurt.

Eva Mae Watson Becomes Bride of Ray Wicker

Miss Eva Mae Watson and Ray Wicker were married Nov. 2 in the Baptist parsonage here with the Rev. J. R. Hicks performing the ceremony.

The bride, attractively attired in British tan with matching accessories, carried a bouquet of tall-tan roses. Miss Sara Frazier of McKinney and Fayden Watson of Amarillo were the only attendants.

Mrs. Wicker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Watson of Amarillo. She is a graduate of Amarillo High School and attended Amarillo Junior College and West Texas State.

Mr. Wicker is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Wicker of Clovis, New Mexico, and is employed by the Dr. Pepper Bottling Co. in Amarillo. They are at home at 414½ West 10th in Amarillo.

A "stop" for a "shot" and a speeding "go" afterwards aren't found in traffic codes.

Tubby: Why he got jealous of me. People thought I was the foreman.

"WHEN I'M at the table Camels are right there with me too. Yes sir! I'll hand it to Camels for keeping digestion in trim," says BILL MALLORY, class of '39.

"I SMOKE Camels and my nerves stay unruffled. I don't want irritating nervous habits," says display expert, POLLY PETTIT.

"CAMEL is the cigarette. When I'm tired, I light a Camel and back to work I go with a 'lift' in energy," says FRANK MULLADY, auto mechanic.

The pleasure you get out of a cigarette depends on the quality of the tobaccos put in it. And in the case of Camels that means finer, costlier tobaccos!

THERE'S only one way to get the best tobaccos. That's to pay more for them.

It has been a well-known fact for years that Camel pays millions more for finer tobaccos. It's the natural way to put more enjoyment into smoking.

People have confidence in the mildness and goodness of the finer tobaccos in Camels. More and more smokers turn to Camels. They find that Camels are naturally milder. If you are not smoking Camels, try them now. And see if you, too, don't find that Camels mean unflinching pleasure!

"I'VE BEEN a sports reporter for twenty-five years," says JAMES GOULD. "And for twenty-three of these years—right from the time Camels were first brought out—I've been a steady Camel smoker. Camels don't tire my taste."

"FOR YEARS I'VE chosen Camels. Even after I've smoked steadily, I notice Camels leave no after-taste," remarks MAXINE HOLLEN, salesgirl.

COSTLIER TOBACCOS IN

Camels are a matchless blend of finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic. The skillful blending of leaf with leaf brings out the full, delicate flavor and mildness of these choice tobaccos.

Basketball Squad Starts Practice As 18 Report

Equipment was issued to eighteen candidates Sunday for the West Texas State basketball team.

There will be a series of light workouts this week. Emphasis will be placed on the fundamentals of handling the ball, passing, shooting and dribbling. Coaches Al Baggett and Tony Dougal will be in charge of the thin-clads.

Pacing this group of selected players is Captain Conway Butler, six feet two inch forward from Turkey. For the last two years, Butler has garnered runner-up honors in the scoring lane. His accurate overhead push-shot has been a puzzle to all opposition in this period. His coolness under fire has made him a valuable cog in the last two seasons of play.

Following Butler in the list are Raymond Shackelford, six feet eight inch center, Lother Stephenson, six feet six inches, Craig Walling, six feet three inches, and squadman Joe Hayes, midget forward. Other squadmen reporting are Foster Watkins, Melvin Cullender, Chick Neilson, Buck Amburn, and Odell Washington.

The lone transfer of the group is Big J. E. Pletch of Amarillo. Pletch will be remembered as the ball-handler de-luxe for the Amarillo Junior College Badgers of a few years back when that crew slapped the West Texas Yearlings in straight games. His one-handed push-shot fashions him as a deadly scorer.

Up from the freshman ranks are Donald Kendrick, Ernest Schur, George Taylor, Jack Edmondson, Carl Matney, and Dewey Johnson.

Volleyball Schedule Is Announced

Games have been scheduled for the round robin intramural volleyball tournament for girls. The teams entered include Cousins Hall, Randall Hall, Mesquite Lodge, Cactus Lodge, the Paul House, and Out-in-Town Girls. Prizes will be awarded for first, second, and third places.

Schedule of Games

November 16: Randall Hall vs. Paul House; Mesquite Lodge vs. Out-in-Town.

November 18: Cousins Hall vs. Cactus Lodge; Randall Hall vs. Mesquite Lodge.

November 23: Cactus Lodge vs. Out-in-Town; Paul House vs. Cousins Hall.

November 30: Randall Hall vs. Out-in-Town; Mesquite Lodge vs. Paul House.

December 2: Cousins Hall vs. Out-in-Town; Cactus Lodge vs. Randall Hall.

December 7: Paul House vs. Out-in-Town; Mesquite Lodge vs. Cactus Lodge.

December 9: Paul House vs. Cactus Lodge; Mesquite Lodge vs. Cousins Hall.

December 14: Cousins Hall vs. Randall Hall.

Each team is scheduled to play every other team. The team winning the most games will win the tournament. In case of a tie, captains of the teams which tied will decide the method of choosing the winner.

DIRECTS DECLAMATION

Frances Rogers, '36, who is teaching at Wallis, near Houston, has been appointed director of declamations by the Texas Interscholastic League organization of her county. She reports that she will be at the State Teachers Association meeting at Houston and is looking forward to seeing friends from W. T.

Neighbor Groot: Have your hens stopped laying?

Farmer Goober: Well, three of them have stopped in the last few days.

Neighbor Groo: What was the cause?

Farmer Goober: Too many summer boarders.

Little Willie (at dinner with a guest present): Say, Dad, this is roast beef, isn't it?

Dad: Of course, son; what of it?

Little Willie: Oh, nothin' special, only this morning I heard you tell Mom you were going to bring an old muttonhead home for dinner.

Just what kind of an athlete are you? Here's a recipe planned by a national honorary athletic fraternity, Sigma Delta Psi, that should offer you an opportunity to secure your rating:

100 yard dash—11.6.
120 yard low hurdles—16.
High Jump—5 feet.
Broad Jump—17 feet.
16-lb. shot put—30 feet.
Javelin Throw—30 feet.
Baseball throw—250 feet.
Mile run—6 min.
100-yard swim—1:45.
Football punt—40 yards.
Handstand—10 seconds.
Fence vault—chin high.
Front handspring.

Rope climb (20 feet)—12 sec.
If you can fulfill the foregoing requirements, then I advise that you get in touch with some member of the athletic council, preferably intramural director, Mitchell Jones, and become a member of this athletic fraternity. If you comply, then you'll do something that only one other West Texas athlete has ever done. That was Faucette Rudolph, a Buff backfield man, in 1932.

Oh yes, there is a requirement that a scholarship average of "C" be maintained. This last clause has done wonders in restricting the membership of the club.

Things looked a little gloomy in midfield of the football season—especially after that Simmons thrashing. Chances for winning over the Miners and Rams were promising, and then like the melody, they were "Gone With the Wind." And then down came that St. Benedict's club, and the Buffalo placard scaled unprecedented heights. Six victories out of nine trials and 169 points against the opponents' 98 is not to be scoffed at. Certainly we can look at the whole setup with "no regrets."

Incidentally, the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys are the only undefeated football team in the Southwest, since Baylor stumbled over a couple of barriers.

Hats off to Mrs. Tony Dougal. For the first time in recent years, a college pep squad, attired in full uniform, put on a demonstration at the half.

Dots and Dashes: The West Texas State tennis team had a "date" with the N. M. M. I. Cadets, and the militarymen "stood them up." . . . Coach Tony Dougal is an ex-major league baseball pitcher. . . . Arrangements for the college Ping-pong tourney are being made to hold it right after the Thanksgiving holidays, so get out your paddles and start your practicing. . . . Just saw a grand sight in Burton Gymnasium—as bright new casabas went sailing through the mesh. Things are going to start popping in the cage world when the "World's Tallest Basketball Team" gets their offense oiled.

Wow! that football season is over, but there's always room for a little shouting, and generally a little heckling from the press box. In the light of the latter statement, let's turn our attention on some of the year's celebrities.

The bid for the most outstanding player goes to Lwood Dow, fullback from Littlefield.

Craig Walling gets the vote for the best defensive player, seconded by Monroe Horton.

Foster Watkins and F. A. Thomas are logical choices for the most valuable spokes on the offense.

Lother Stephenson might be listed as the most improved player of the lot, seconded by Carl Matney.

The most remarkable play of the year was tabulated by Tom Slack when he intercepted a weak St. Benedict's pass and raced 90 yards for a counter.

The most amazing performance of the entire crew was chalked up against the St. Benedict's Ravens, a 20-0 win.

Marion Griffin spent the week-end in Pampa visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown.

Yearlings Down Trinidad 14-0 Armistice Day

Playing before an enthusiastic homecoming crowd at Miner Stadium on Armistice Day, the West Texas State Yearlings plastered a 14-0 defeat on the aggressive Trinidad Junior Trojans.

Plunge was matched against plunge as the two teams battled on even terms through two periods of scoreless football. Two quick scoring spurges early in the third period provided the margin of victory for the Yearlings. Earl Stagner, Yearling right end, opened the scoring when he gathered in a wayward aerial heave of Trojan halfback Sam Saraceno's on his own 40 and behind the expert blocking of his mates ran untouched down the sidelines for a touchdown. Jim Foust converted from placement.

Before the amazed Trojans had time to regain their breath, the Yearlings had marked again. Velton Sogee faded back and flipped a 35 yard pass to Dewey Johnson, Yearling right end, who raced to the one foot line before he was brought down from the side by Sam Saraceno, Trojan safety. On the next play, O. D. McLellan, transferred from center to carry the ball over for the Yearling's second counter.

Eldon Davis, Yearling halfback, continually ripped off long gains, and was likely the offensive star of the game. Dalbert Barron and O. D. McLellan were defensive standouts for the Yearlings.

INSTALLATION SERVICES FOR PRESBYTERIAN MINISTER

On Tuesday morning of this week the General Council of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., met in Amarillo for the purpose of setting the date and appointing the committee for the installation of the Rev. Alfred M. Dorsett, who has recently accepted the call to become the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Canyon. Under the order of the Presbytery, the installation was held last Sunday evening at the evening worship hour, 7:30 p. m. The committee appointed by the Presbytery to have charge of the installation service included: Dr. Rasmus Thomsen, pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church of Amarillo, who preached the sermon for the evening; the Rev. Gordon McInnes, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of White Deer who delivered the charge to the minister, and the Rev. John Thorns, Jr., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Hereford who delivered the charge to the congregation. The Rev. John R. Sharp of Canyon presided and represented the Presbytery in asking the constitutional questions which are required by the church. Dr. Frank T. Charlton of Canyon offered the installation prayer.

The newly elected pastor comes to Canyon from the City Temple Presbyterian Church of Dallas.

Dow Leads Buff Scoring With Seven Touchdowns

STATISTICS AND COMPILATIONS

A check-up on scoring for the Buffs' nine game season just completed, reveals that Lwood Dow, fullback and graduating three year letterman, heads the list with seven touchdowns and seven points from placement. Foster Watkins contributed the same number of extra points, supplied a field goal in the Sul Ross game and tabulated four touchdowns.

The list follows:

Player	td	ep	fg	total
Lwood Dow, fb	7	7	0	49
Foster Watkins, qb	4	7	1	34
Tom Slack, hb	3	2	0	20
F. A. Thomas, hb	3	0	0	18
Conway Butler, fb	2	0	0	12
Floyd Murry, qb	2	0	0	12
Lother Stephenson, t	1	0	0	6
Ernest Schur, e	1	0	0	6
Joe Hayes, hb	1	0	0	6
Carl Matney, hb	1	0	0	6
	25	16	1	169

where he has served for the past two years as Associate Pastor. He is a graduate of Trinity University and Princeton Theological Seminary. At the morning worship hour at 11 o'clock, the Rev. Mr. Dorsett preached on the subject, "What Doest Thou Here?"

TEST

He ignored a red signal, threatened the traffic policeman's knees, missed the street island by a hair, and grazed a bus, all in one dash.

The policeman hailed him, and then strolled over to the taxi, pulling a big handkerchief from his pocket en route.

"Listen, cowboy!" he growled. "On the way back I'll drop this and see if you can pick it up with yer teeth."—Montreal Daily Star.

The college cheer-leader called for the wrong yell when he asked for "Hold that line!" The line held, all right, and was penalized 15 yards.

Yearlings To Battle Tech Picadors In Season's Last Game

Coach Bob Cox's Yearlings will trek to Lubbock Friday to engage the Texas Tech Picadors in their final game this season.

Aware that this is their hardest assignment, drills this week have placed emphasis on stopping a potent Tech offense that has throttled to a walk every team they have faced this season.

The Yearlings came out of the Armistice Day fray in a fine frame of mind and with no injuries. Eldon Davis, who seemed to find his stride in the Trinidad fray; Jim Foust with his deceptive running; and Velton Sogee, Yearling passer, should prove the main factors in giving the Tech Frosh a miserable afternoon.

The starting lineup for the Yearlings will likely be the same as in the Trinidad Junior College game.

Rastus (boasting): Boy, when ah hits a man he know it.

Marcellus: Dat's nothin', Big Boy. When ah hits a man he don't know it until a week later.

Artist Chuzz (in front of dental display window): I think I'll get myself a new set of teeth like those over there.

Mrs. Chuzz: Hush, don't you know it's impolite to pick your teeth in public.
