EARLY HISTORY OF SCHOOL REVIEWED

College Has Maintained a Steady Growth Despite Numerous Setbacks.

On Tuesday morning in chapel President J. A. Hill gave a resume of the growth of the College from its founding on February 17, 1910 to the present time. First, Mr. Hill gave a brief historical sketch of the institution, beginning with the first bulletin published. The bill providing for the West Texas State Normal College was introduced into the House of Representatives of the 31st legislature by Hon. T. J. Barrett of the 103rd district. Its champion and manager on the floor of the House was Hon. J. R. Bowman of the 106th district. The bill passed the House on February 17, 1909, and was then introduced into the Senate by Hon. W. J. Bryan, who was the real senatorial author of the bill. It received the governor's signature on March 31, 1909.

According to the provisions of the bill, the school was to be located in Texas west of the 98th meridian, by a committee composed of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. The personnel of the locating committee was Lieutenant Governor A. B. Davidson, Hon. John Marshall, and Hon. R. B. Cousins. After listening to advocates of the claims of twenty-nine towns and visiting seventeen sites, the committee on September 2, 1909 selected Canyon City as the place in which the school should be located, the people having shown their great desire for the location of the school by the generous contribution of a campus of 40 acres of land and $100,000.00. The state appropriated only $50,000 for the first year.

On December 4, 1909, Waller, Shaw, and Field, architects, Fort Worth, Texas, were selected to draw plans and specifications, and on February 1, 1910 the contract was awarded to Holder, Oates, and Lee, builders, of Stamford, Texas. The first building cost $89,000. On February 17, 1910, dirt was first broken for the foundation. On May 24, 1910, the corner stone was laid with Masonic ceremonies in the presence of the largest crowd of people ever assembled on the plains of Texas.

The first local board of trustees consisted of Hon. L. T. Lester, president; Hon. L. E. Coytling, vice president, and Hon. R. A. Terrill, secretary.

The first faculty consisted of the following members: R. B. Cousins, president; L. G. Allen, mathematics; J. A. Crawford, secretary-treasurer; F. P. Guenther, modern languages; J. A. Hill, history and civics; Ellsworth Lowry, assistant in education; R. L. Marquis, biology; F. M. Martin, English; T. S. Minter, agriculture; J. W. Reid, physics and chemistry; B. A. Stafford, Latin; Margaret E. Cofer, assistant in history; S. Ida Evans, primary methods; Mary E. Hudspeth, assistant in languages; Emma L. Risor, penmanship and drawing; Jennie C. Ritchie, assistant in English; Nancy A. Fritz, reading, physical culture, and public school music.

The school opened on September 20, 1910, with about 250 students. Since that time the growth of the College has

Large Percent of Graduates Are Found to Remain in School Work

Recently Hon. A. B. Martin of Plainview, Texas, a member of the Board of Regents of the Texas State Teachers Colleges, asked what percentage of the men and women who have received permanent certificates or degrees from the teachers colleges of Texas have afterward taught in the public schools. At the West Texas State Teachers College some interesting facts were disclosed when the information for Mr. Martin was secured.

It was found that from the first session of this college in 1911 to the completion of the long session in 1923,

Students Man Tools to GYM NOW READY

Rush the Construction

By rushing construction to the limit last week the new gym playing floor was ready to be used in the first game with Trinity University last Friday night, when a crowd estimated at 1600 persons filled the building to its present seating capacity.

The accommodation of the crowds present at the High School tournament was made possible by the use of student labor in laying the floor, erecting the goals, and placing the bleachers taken from the football field.

There remains much finishing work to be done, but the gym in its present state of completion accommodate comfortably the student body—something which was not true of the old gym. Completion of all details will depend upon the amount of funds which will be available from the pledges.

Prof. R. A. Terrill has been in charge of the construction work since its beginning. He has supervised the work in addition to teaching classes in the department of manual training.

Denton Teachers to Play Here in First Trip to the Plains

For the first time since W. T. S. T. C. opened athletic relations with North Texas State Teachers College, the Denton Eagles will make their appearance at this school next Friday and Saturday nights. This initial appearance of one of the most formidable rivals of the Buffaloes marks an epoch in the history of W. T. The Denton Eagles have always played the Buffs a good, square game and inasmuch as all have been played at the Eagles' home, the students of this school are anxious to see them in action. These games, which will be played Feb. 27 and 28, will be the last ones for the Buffaloes at home.

Two years ago when the Buffaloes defeated the Eagles on their home court, it marked the first loss that the team had suffered on their own floor for three years. The Eagles, therefore have a grudge to settle and these games will have a decided influence on whether or not the Buffs will continue in the running for T. I. A. A. honors.

Methodists Move to New Church Building On Fourth Avenue

Completion of the new Methodist Church building reached a point last week that allowed the furniture of the old building to be moved on Tuesday. The beautiful auditorium is almost completed. The class-rooms will be finished as rapidly as possible. They will later be provided with the furniture that is now used in the auditorium.

The church building is beautifully finished and its acoustical qualities are very good. A large balcony seats an unusually large number of people.

A complete Sunday School plant and recreation center is provided in the building.

88.2% of the men who had received permanent certificates had taught one or more years in the public schools of Texas and that during the same period of time 78.4% of the women receiving permanent certificates had rendered one year or more of service to the State.

It was not until the session of 1918 that the Teachers Colleges of Texas began to offer a four-year standard college course leading to the degrees of bachelor of arts and bachelor of science. Since that time 29 men and

All Manuscripts in Type High Contests Are Due This Month

February 28 is the last day allowed to students in the preparation of material to be submitted for the T. I. P. A. contest. Mrs. Lang reports a promising representation of student verse, not only for the needs of the present contest but as additions to the slowly growing pamphlet known as "Grains of wheat." Students are urged to stand behind the local press club, Type High, and during the next few days to turn in any available contributions. It is necessary for Type High to enter not fewer than five articles for competitive judgment—this number merely to hold standing in the state organization. W. T. S. T. C. is favorably advertised by such excellent standing as was won by Type High last year, and students and teachers are urged to feel their responsibility in this activity of the institution as in other contests. If any student is inclined to enter an essay, a one-act play, or a short-story, and thus render assistance in this matter, let him bring it to the editors or to some member of the English faculty, who will be glad to help the contributor by information and suggestion regarding the conditions of the contest.

The Week's Weather

Having brought honor to this column last week through very accurate predictions, the forecaster takes pleasure in stating that the elements are favorably arranged for this week.

To-day will be slightly cool, tomorrow will probably be slightly warmer, and Thursday should be fair. A storm area in Timbuctoo is predicted for Friday, hence a number of clouds will be discernible here at that time. Saturday will be mild. Sunday picnickers are warned of the approach of unsettled weather.

The weatherman commends the good work of the gym builders. They have done their best and builded well.

STUDENT WORKERS NOT HANDICAPPED Many Are Leaders in Activities

The student who pays his own way through college does not necessarily forego taking part in the activities of extra-curricular organizations.

Were this not true, forty-eight per cent of the students of West Texas State Teachers College would have no part in such work; when, as a matter of fact, 325 of its 676 young men and women of college rank this year are paying their own expenses either wholly or in part—practically one-half of the student body of a college taking an education instead of having it given to them. Moreover, 281 of the 325 are paying all their expenses.

Further, from this working group come the leaders in college activities, scholastic and social. The president of the Young Women's Christian Association, of the Sesame Literary Society, Antler Literary Society, Methodist Student Federation, Type High Club, the editor-in-chief of the college newspaper, and the editor-in-chief of the annual yearbook—all these students and many others holding high positions of honor are contributing to their self-support.

It is fitting, then, that the efficiency, concentration, and versatility needed by these young people to enable them

GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAM LEFT SUNDAY; TO PLAY THREE GAMES

On Sunday night the girls' basketball team left on its first trip of the season. The squad of nine girls and coach, Miss Elizabeth Dabbs, will play three colleges while on this down-state trip. The first game was to be at Abilene with Simmons College last night. One day's rest will intervene before the next game with East Texas State Teachers College at Commerce. Immediately following the clash with Commerce they will journey to Fort Worth where they are to play Texas Woman's College.

The line-up and subs selected to accompany Miss Dabbs are: Johnetta Anderson, Margaret Melton, Bill Wallace—forwards; Jessie May Scott, Cressie Ragan, Corine McReynolds—center; Lilly Dell Slover, Josie Wiggins and Ora Lee Bray—guards.

Freshmen on the team rank one hundred percent, and the selected nine out of the three hundred and fifty, rank among the fastest girls' basketball teams that have flashed under the Maroon and White. Speed on the court far out-balances size of players of this peppy nine freshmen. Competition was strong and the final crew were not announced until last Tuesday.

Guenther Given Year Leave of Absence; T. M. Clark Takes Work

Prof. F. P. Guenther, head of the Modern Language Department of the College, has been granted a year's leave of absence, and will go to Kingsville, September first, to teach in the new College of which Dr. R. B. Cousins is president. The new institution will open in May for the summer session, but Mr. Guenther will not move until September owing to the usual heat of South Texas.

President J. A. Hill has assigned Prof. T. M. Clark to take the work of this department. Mr. Clark has been absent during the past year on account of his health, but reports that he has fully recovered and is in excellent physical condition.

Mr. Guenther came to the College when it was opened in 1910. He has been a tireless worker for the up-building of the institution, giving freely of his time in many lines of activity. He has been a member of the lyceum committee and has had charge of the campus, which has been made beautiful under his management and skill in handling all kinds of vegetation and flowers. The new Catholic church was made possible by his continued pointing out to the Bishop the needs of the church in Canyon. He has taken a great interest in all civic improvements.

Texas Exes to Have Annual Banquet Here Next March Second

Amarillo and Canyon alumni of the University of Texas will gather at Cousins Hall for their annual banquet on March 2 at seven-thirty o'clock.

On that day ex-students of the University will meet in various parts of the world to revive their school spirit and talk over experiences as students. There are forty thousand alumni, and a large per cent of this number will be in meetings on March 2.

The meeting here will be as informal as it is possible to make it. Songs and yells will be given in the old-time way. A miniature representation of Lake Austin is being planned to restore the old scenes in the minds of the people present.

It is customary for each town to have separate banquets, but owing to a custom started four years ago, Amarillo and Canyon exes will meet together. Last year the local people went to Amarillo. This year the Amarillo alumni accepted an invitation to come here.

Any person who has ever attended the University of Texas may attend this banquet. Tickets, priced at $1.50 each, may be obtained locally from Mrs. Travis Shaw and Miss Ethel Jackson.

Many Amarilloans Come to Hall for Inter-city Meeting

More than one hundred of the progressive business men and women of Amarillo met a large number of Canyon citizens in a luncheon served at Randall Hall last Friday noon. This meeting was the third of a series of get-together meetings sponsored by the Amarillo Globe.

Henry A. Ansley of the Globe presided as toastmaster, and after the welcome address by T. C. Thompson, president of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Ansley introduced Prof. D. A. Shirley and C. W. Warwick of Canyon. Mr. Shirley explained a graph showing the growth of W. T. S. T. C. since its establishment, and Mr. Warwick discussed ways in which Amarillo can help Canyon.

J. D. Gamble of Canyon, W. V. Gatton, Tol Ware, Col. E. O. Thompson, O. V. Vernon, W. E. Goodloe, and Marvin McCullough, all of Amarillo, also made short talks, all of them commenting on the feeling of good will existing between Canyon and Amarillo and stressing the importance of continued co-operation.

President J. A. Hill made the closing address, in which he stressed the material, intellectual, and spiritual service rendered the Panhandle by the College, and pointed out the crying need of the institution for more room in which to care for its rapidly growing student body. He also mentioned the heroic struggles of many of the students to finance themselves through college, and expressed regret that the existing student loan funds are insufficient to enable aid to be given all worthy applicants. When he mentioned the fact that the girls serving the meal were working their way through school, glasses were immediately passed at the various tables and a collec-

FIRST GAMES IN NEW GYMNASIUM

CRUMP IS AGAIN HIGH POINT BUFFALO.

Gymnasium is Packed to Full Capacity in the Opening Game in New Structure.

The Buffaloes' scoring machine proved too much for the basketeers from Trinity University here Friday and Saturday nights, in the Buffs first appearance in the new gymnasium. The first game ended 55 to 14; the second 57 to 17. Although the Tigers were greatly outclassed they fought gamely and played a good clean game. This was the first time Trinity University had ever sent a team here and from the excellent sportsmanship displayed it is evident that future games will be greatly desired. The winning of these two games has boosted the Buffaloes percentage to .875 and they are now confident of finishing in second place of the T. I. A. A.

Crump was again high point man in both games with 27 and 29 points respectively. Hamm was the visitor's high point man in the first game with six counters, while Morris took honors in the second with eight points.

Woodward, of Plainview, refereed the games.

A team of Baltimore Hotel basketeers was defeated by the Calves in the gymnasium Monday night, 23-20.

The other squad of Calves defeated the local National Guard team, winning easily, 31-12.

College Wrestlers Meet Very Strong Competition on Recent Oklahoma Trip

Southwestern Teachers College grapplers of Weatherford, Oklahoma, again demonstrated their superiority over the Buffaloes in a contest at Weatherford last Friday night. The final count gave the Bulldogs three falls and two decisions; Gilbert Hill failed to throw his man as he did the last time they met but won the match by a decision. Herschel Jennings was thrown by Burkett in 9 minutes and 10 seconds of fierce wrestling. Burkett used a reversed headlock to win. The surprise of the contest came when Hastings, who is considered the cream of the Bulldogs, failed to handle Biggs in the allotted 12 minutes and the match went into extra time. Hastings winning by decision. Bryant threw Weaver, who subed for Cowboy Adams, after 4 minutes and 20 seconds with a headlock and bar hold. Umbrough also had a tough job with Forest and this match was decided only after an extra period of wrestling in which Umbrough received the decision. "Big Ches" Napps lost his match via the fall method and the contest was over.

The grapplers made the trip in the College Bus.

AGREEMENTS

Students make too much of their differences and not enough of their agreements. That's why there are so many disagreements. The average student is easily disturbed at slight provocations. He will go a long way toward evening the score with an opponent.

Yet he will accept responsibilities and make promises with reckless abandon, hoping that he may find it convenient to do them justice. If promises were kept with half the diligence that small differences are magnified, a great deal more would be accomplished.

More harm is done in student life by failure to do one's duty than by the mistakes that occur. Students' failings are not in the doing, but in the failures to do. Indeed, the student body of to-day is rather willing to follow an energetic leader, even though he may err often.

When students begin to put the emphasis on accomplishment, the standard of leadership will be raised much higher. It is the stagnant organization which follows the leader who does not make mistakes because he doesn't make anything.

It is better to make a mistake than nothing. Let us be delivered from the evils of easy contentment. A daily "good time" is a poor substitute for action. It is one thing to sit on the bleachers and roar at the fellow in action; it is quite another to put thought into other phases of student life and build up strong group organizations. Mass efficiency depends upon responsiveness to individual tasks. While there is a need for energetic leadership, there is always a strong demand for ideal membership.

BREVITIES

Our old court used to give us the gym-jams.

Now some say the new gym floor looks as big as all outdoors—we think it may be larger.

While we are somewhat superstitious at times, we favor the plan to create 13 twenty-eight day months if this will eliminate Leap Year.

Another reason why grandma, who smokes a pipe, condemns the flapper, who puffs a cigarette is that the cast-off dresses of the latter don't go very far toward piecing a quilt. She ought to admire bell bottoms.

The editor who wants to get out a special edition announcing the end of the world—when that happens—probably would let the "devil" do most of the work.

The fellow who begins at the top seldom finds a soft landing.

Some of our sports writers are embarrassed by the lack of a suitable name for the co-ed athletes. Using the word Buffalo in the generic sense, would the term "Buffalitos" be suitable? Your suggestion is as good as any.

A senior, Mr. Frosh, is a person who doesn't know that Oslo is the new name of the Norwegian capital, either.

It takes more energy to lay a stone than to throw one.

Did you ever notice that the men shown in the clothing ads are always idealized, while the fair ones certainly get a raw deal in the ladies style plates?

HONESTY

Mentioned elsewhere on this page is the striking honesty of the natives on the island of Atka, where a trader has established an ideal "help yourself" supply house.

The instance is indeed unusual. Sometimes we are tempted to believe that honesty thrives best under primitive conditions. We are as young as most of our readers, yet we distinctly recall the similarity of the instance alluded to above and the conditions here on the plains not many years ago.

The ranchman who locked his doors a few years ago was not only considered unduly suspicious, but positively inhospitable. In the days when ranch headquarters were separated by half a day's ride or even more and when the cow camps might not be occupied by the owner or his men more than a few weeks each year, provisions—usually canned goods, crackers, and a pail of syrup—were always kept in the rude shelf or on top of the bunks. If a puncher was compelled to stay at night in one of the out-lying camp houses—or half dug-outs—he confidently expected to find food there, whether the camp belonged to his outfit or not.

Rarely did the ranchmen make any settlement for such visits to camps of the other. All that was asked was ordinary care of the stores. Had a ranchman offered to pay for such a meal later, his money would have been refused with disgust.

Likewise, it was considered good form for travelers to make use of the accommodations of deserted ranch houses. Pay for such use was left in some conspicuous place, where it might lie for months. In that period of simple honesty, abuse of such privileges branded the offender as one more to be despised than the lowly coyote.

REFLECTIONS

This college is evidently an ideal institution. Some two weeks ago the editor announced a new column, Student Opinion, for the purpose of permitting members of the student body to express their likes and dislikes on any matter pertaining to college life, with the exception of administrative problems. To date not a single comment has been published, and so far as the writer knows, none has been received. This lack of interest and initiative on the part of our student body is deplorable. If the students have nothing to complain of, there must certainly remain a number of things to praise.

In a desperate effort to start some such discussion, Reflections proposes this question: "What do you think of The Prairie?"

In other words, this is your paper. If it can be improved, the editor and his staff wish to know in what respects. Does it have too much humor, or not enough? Do you prefer most of the paper to be devoted to college news, or would you like to see more material of a professional and educational nature published in it? Is there too much editorial writing, or too little? What features of the paper are most interesting to you? Can you suggest some additional feature which in your opinion would increase The Prairie's appeal to its readers? These are only a few of the things that The Prairie staff would be glad to know.

In case you have no opinion to express of The Prairie, what do you think of the college spirit of our school? How does it compare with your ideal of what constitutes true college spirit? Do you know any means whereby our students may be made to feel and know the ideals for which W. T. S. T. C. stands? Do you think the students support our athletic teams sufficiently? What do you think?

The only way that a fault may be remedied is for it first to be pointed out. Improvement is only possible when we are aware of our shortcomings. The students of this college, each having different interests, attitudes, and cultural backgrounds, can, if they will, point out many weaknesses in their college life, as well as draw the attention of others to some of its desirable features which might pass unnoticed. Certainly the students have opinions. Student Opinion is the medium for their expression. That is all the writer pretends to do in this column—to express his opinions.

William J. Bryan recently applied for membership in the American Association for the Advancement of Science. Mr. Bryan is a bitter foe of the evolution theory, which is espoused by many scientists. But he has, by applying for membership in a group holding beliefs contrary to his, displayed a wide tolerance and a true spirit of scholarship. If more of our anti-evolutionists learned the views of the scientists first hand, instead of contenting themselves with garbled versions of scientific theory, they would doubtless revise many of their opinions. On the other hand, the evolutionists, by continuing to ignore the principles and motives of the anti-evolutionists, lay themselves open to a charge of bigotry and intolerance. Neither the evolutionist nor the anti-evolutionist has a monopoly on a panacea for the world's ills.

Natives on the island of Atka, one of the Aleutian islands, rival the proverbial Chinese honesty. There is a store on the island owned by a white trader by the name of Goss, who leaves his fully-stocked store wide open while he makes long trips to other neighbor islands. The natives, who know the price of all the staple merchandise, either put the money for their purchases in an open drawer, or write down on a slip what they have taken. Ask some merchant in the United States why he doesn't use this plan.

WORK AND OLD AGE

Would you live to a ripe old age and achieve distinction? Then work hard. Many of the world's greatest statesmen, financiers, scientists and writers passed the allotted three-score years and ten through the formula of unremitting toil. Benjamin Franklin assisted in revising the constitution when past 80. Titian painted until he was nearly 100. Goethe finished the best part of "Faust" after 70 and Gladstone could thrill the House of Commons at 80. William Cullen Bryant died in full vigor in the harness at 84. Hippocrates, the "father of medicine" lived to be 100 and Milton wrote "Paradise Lost" when past the limit Osier set for chloroforming the average man. While many think our presidents die young, statistics show their average is 67.3 years. This does not include Coolidge and Taft, the only two living men who have occupied the White House. The average age of our president at inauguration is 55. Seventy is young for American financiers. Russell Sage was active at 90, Levi P. Morton at 96, Cornelius Vanderbilt at 83, the elder Pierpont Morgan at 76 and Andrew Carnegie at 82. John D. Rockefeller is vigorous at 84, Henry Ford is in his early manhood although past 60.—Ex.

CALVES LOSE TO AMARILLO JUNIOR HI

In a game which was in doubt until the last whistle the Junior High school team Friday afternoon at the Nat defeated the Canyon Calves by a score of 8 to 6.

The youngsters exhibited a fast brand of the game, the junior Sandies doing to the Calves what the senior five was unable to do to the Eagles. Steele, B. Gibson, Brewer, W. Gibson and DeBlair with Fowles and Pierce as substitutes were the local entries. In the scoring Steele was responsible for four baskets and Brewer two.

Thirty candidates for the 1925 Howard Payne Yellow Jacket eleven have finished Howard Payne's first spring football practice, with gratifying results to Coach T. B. What is said to be the largest sum for creating annual fellowships that was ever donated an educational institution in the South has just come to Texas University through the generosity of J. J. Walden and Roy J. Beard of the Southwestern Engraving Company of Fort Worth. In a letter to President W. M. W. Splawn of the University, these two men announce their gift of $2,000 a year to create a fellowship to be available each year for a member of the faculty of the University with the rank of instructor or adjunct professor.

High standing of Rice's department of mathematics was recognized nationally with the recent election of Dr. Griffith C. Evans, professor of pure mathematics to the vice-presidency of the American Mathematical Society. Dr. Evans will represent Rice at the summer meeting of the Society.

Simmons College will become "Simmons University" on June 1, 1925, according to ruling made by the trustees. This change in the name of the institution is in accordance with the plans which have been laid for several years and the recent endowment campaign which raised the endowment of the college to a half million dollars.

Diplomas issued this June to the Seniors going out will have on them "Simmons University" instead of Simmons College. Though Simmons is now chartered as a college, the authorities plan to have this charter changed by that date.

THE FARMER'S CHILD

One of the most interesting revelations of a recent survey conducted by the University of Illinois was the percentage of students whose parents are farmers. More than 11,000 students were included in the survey. Thirty per cent of the students are sons and daughters of farmers and 1,399 parents are skilled or unskilled laborers. There are among the parents of students junk dealers, blacksmiths, policemen, watchmen, plumbers, miners, porters, street car conductors, barbers, and bell-hops. Professional men, scientists and business men constitute the majority of the parents, but the statistics show that intelligence is not a matter of class distinction.

To think that 30 per cent of the students of a great university are farmer's children is a matter commanding of interest. The survey reveals many interesting facts. But the most interesting fact is that the farmer is not content to have his son or daughter among the 4,933,905 illiterates in the nation.

The modern American farmer is daily helping his occupation to become a profession by giving his son and daughter special training. — Daily Lariat.

BAPTIST PARTY IS SUCCESS

Laying their books and grown-up dignity aside, thirty-seven Baptist students had a pleasant time at the Legion Hall February 19 just being normal playful children. The "kid party" apparently was attended only by youngsters of twelve or less, for everyone came dressed as a little boy and little girl dress.

At 7:45 the grand march began, games of "Drop the Handkerchief" and "Go Forth and Face Your Lover" following. The tots began to be hungry right away, so all-day suckers and peanuts were passed out immediately instead of delaying the serving of refreshments until the end of the party. Everyone entered into the games of "Little White House on the Hill," "London Bridge is Falling Down," and "The Prince of Paris Has Lost His Hat." A procession formed and passed in review before three judges, President Hill, Rev. Claybrook, and Miss Anderson, and Bryant Baker and Evelyn Hogan were selected as being dressed most like children.

The little folks were sent home at ten o'clock, tired but happy.

The party was given by the Baptist Student Union. Lucille Overall is chairman of the social committee, and she was assisted in planning the party by Vera Denton, Lena Huber, and Mae Simmons.

Y. W. C. A. PROGRAMS ATTRACTING ATTENTION

Those who attend the Young Women's Christian Association regularly have been enjoying some very helpful programs. The programs have been attracting attention of members of the faculty as well as of the student body, and it is the consensus of opinion that those girls who do not attend the regular meetings every Wednesday afternoon are missing something worthwhile. Those in charge feel that the programs which are being planned for rest of the year will prove even more interesting than those which have been given already. The Y. W. C. A. is planning a social program for the remainder of the year which will prove of interest also. If you are a girl, you should attend the Y. W. C. A.—Report-er.

THIRTEEN NEW MEMBERS RECEIVED BY ELAPHEANS

At the initiation service of the Elaphean Society last Thursday night thirteen members were taken into the Society. After the impressive ceremony, Mrs. Montfort told of the beginning of the Society and its meaning.

The part of the program furnished by the Antlers was greatly appreciated. One of their members, Harry Kelley, sang "The Big Bass Viol" and "Roamin' in the Gloamin'."

Following the program the Antlers and Elapheans enjoyed a social hour during which ice cream and wafers were served.

MISS STANLEY IS GUEST AT DINNER

Sunday, February 15, Miss Hattie M. Anderson had as her dinner guest at Randall Hall, Miss Mary V. Stanley of Plainview, who has been visiting her. Other guests were Misses Mary Adaline Lamb, Helen Burton, Angie Debo, Anna I. Hibbets, Stella Stanfield, and Claire Bryant.

MRS. HUMPHREYS ENTERTAINS

Monday the 16th, Mrs. J. S. Humphreys gave a delightful dinner in honor of Mrs. Reese Tatum of Dalhart who was a guest of Mrs. J. A. Hill. A representative of each of the Federated clubs of Canyon enjoyed the hospitality of the occasion. Mesdames Goodin, Tatum, Green, Daugherty, Farlow, Guenther, Graves, McGee, Word, Jarrett, Hill, Burrow, Humphreys, and Miss Crawford were present.

The problems of the coming District Federation meeting in Canyon were freely discussed.

The following delicious four course dinner was served:

Grape-fruit cocktail
Chicken a la King Cream potatoes
French peas Buttered hot rolls
Olives Sweet peach pickles

Spiced Jello Fruit cake
Mints

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Walden of Amarillo visited the College Saturday afternoon.

PATRIOTIC PROGRAM GIVEN BY EIGHTH GRADE FOLK

A very effective program was given by members of the Eighth grade English Class on February 12. In keeping with the occasion, the room was decorated with flags, and a picture of Lincoln stood on the desk at the front of the room. The bulletin board contained interesting pictures and sketches taken from Lincoln's life.

The bulletin board committee arranged the program, which consisted of the following numbers:

A Sketch of Lincoln's Life—Lonie Beth Weaver.
The Gettysburg Address—Temple Nelson.

O Captain, My Captain—Ona Love Barnett.

The poem, Abraham Lincoln—Lor-line Robbins.

MRS. ALLEN AND MRS. McCARTER ENTERTAIN

Friday afternoon at the McCarter home, Mrs. T. B. McCarter and Mrs. L. G. Allen entertained with a forty-two party. About eighty women of the faculty and town were present, there being five tables in the afternoon and four in the evening.

Refreshments of red-white-and-blue brick ice cream and fruit cake were served and tiny silk United States flags were given as favors.

CO-EDS POSTPONE DEBATE TRY-OUTS TO MARCH FIFTH

At a meeting Saturday of the girls who expect to speak in the debate elimination contest, the try-out was postponed until March 5.

The girls wished for more time for the preparation of speeches. Since March 2 is a school and state holiday, this time will be used for intense training. It was discovered that the sides are evenly matched as to sides of the question, hence the try-out is expected to be interesting.

The selection of judges will be made on march 3rd.

DR. E. Y. YATES ADDRESSES STUDENTS AT CHAPEL PERIOD

Dr. E. Y. Yates, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Amarillo, gave a short but inspiring talk in chapel Friday morning. The theme of his talk was the greatness of the task and a charge to perform that task well. The speaker said, in part, "You are builders of ideals, of civilization. America offers God his last chance to build an enduring civilization upon virgin soil. You, as teachers, are God's helpers in this enormous task."

"It is cruel, unspeakable," continued the speaker, "to think lightly of our tasks. We have a task which archangels might envy us. We must glorify and dignify our tasks."

"Your success or failure," said the speaker in closing, "depends much on your spirit. Go to your task, not with a frown, but with a smile. Then accomplishment is easy."

Gilbert Tyler, a teacher of White Deer, visited the College Saturday.

Ted Reid of Farwell attended the district basketball tournament here Friday and Saturday.

Dolphus Dawson visited his brother Enoch Dawson, Saturday.

Lloyd L. Rose of Bovina attended the tournament here Friday and Saturday.

Joe Lancaster of Amarillo came down to Canyon Saturday.

Teachers Take Part In Meeting of Exes of Peabody College

Celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of Peabody College, a number of ex-students and their friends gathered at a dinner Wednesday evening at the Amarillo Hotel.

In an interesting program the early days of Peabody, its social life, and its professional advancement in teacher training were told by the speakers. President J. A. Hill was to have been one of the speakers from the College, but was unable to attend.

Wednesday was the birthday of Dr. Bruce R. Payne, president of Peabody College and of Dr. Charles McMurray, head of the elementary education department of the same school.

While fifty candles on the big cake burned, messages from Dr. Payne and from Miss Evelyn Wilkes, alumni secretary, were read. A telegram of greetings, bearing the names of all present, was sent to Peabody. At the same hour a re-union was being held at the Nashville institution. Prof. Harris Cook of this college made a talk on the social life in Peabody. Prof. R. P. Jarrett delivered an address on the subject, "Professional Advancement in Teacher Training."

Several other instructors of the College were present. The entire list of those present follows: Mr. and Mrs. Ben Tolly, Miss Lella Cowen, Miss Ethel Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. William A. McIntosh, Dr. P. W. Horn, Miss Flora McGee, Prof. and Mrs. R. P. Jarrett, Miss Laura V. Hamner, Prof. and Mrs. Harris M. Cook, Miss Anna I. Hibbets, Miss Maggie Anent, Miss Elizabeth Nixson, and Miss Darthula Walker.

Orchestra Gives a Pleasing Program in Chapel on Saturday

Students were given a pleasing program, in chapel Saturday by the Junior Orchestra under the direction of Miss Corinne Hamill. A marked improvement in the work of this organization was noticeable.

The Junior Orchestra is generally considered as a "training camp" for future members of the College Orchestra and Band, but the manner in which it performed Saturday undoubtedly places it as a distinct organization and doing commendable work.

The following program was given:
Dance of the Goblins.....Englemann
Les Adieux.....Sarasate
Robin's Farewell.....Arthur
Stony Point.....Laurendeau

Mrs. W. A. Palmer of Amarillo visited the College Saturday.

John R. Powell and John Daugherty were visiting friends here Thursday and Friday. Mr. Daugherty is connected with a bank and Mr. Powell with an abstract company at Dumas.

What is a FAIR PRICE for PRESCRIPTIONS ?

There is no secret here regarding the way we arrive at prices charged for prescriptions. To the cost of ingredients is added the actual time taken for compounding based on the salary of the pharmacist for the labor involved.

Simple enough, isn't it? This explains why we always maintain a fair standard of prices consistent with the unquestionable quality of drugs and chemicals and the integrity and accuracy of those employed to put them up.

Payne Re-elected to Head Public Schools for the Coming Year

At a meeting of the board of trustees of the Canyon Independent School District Friday night, A. D. Payne was re-elected superintendent for the coming year.

Mr. Payne is completing his third year with the Canyon schools, and his work has been most successful. The school has grown very materially during that time, with more than a double increase in attendance. The present year's work is considered to be one of the most successful in the history of the Canyon school.

Mr. Payne has accepted the position for the coming year.

UNIVERSITY STARTS A LIBRARY OF NEWSPAPERS

A newspaper library is just being completed at the University of Iowa school of journalism which will contain an edition of every daily paper published in the United States, some 2,500 in all. Each paper is being fastened to wallboard in a vertical position so that its makeup can be studied easily.

This is believed to be the only library of its kind in existence. Its purpose is to give journalism students an acquaintance with a wide variety of newspaper makeups.

Practically all of the 600 weekly newspapers published in Iowa are represented. Papers from distant points include the Anchorage, Alaska, Daily Times, which sells for ten cents a copy, a paper from Porto Rico and one from the Hawaiian Islands. The list is constantly being increased.

Joe Lancaster of Amarillo was in Canyon Saturday.

BAPTISTS BREAK GROUND FOR NEW $75,000 CHURCH BUILDING

Members of the local Baptist Church broke ground for a new brick meeting house last Friday afternoon. The site is two blocks east of the square on Fourth avenue.

While the building may not be finished by continuous construction, the congregation decided not to delay further the beginning of operations. The state board of the church appropriated some funds for this year, with the promise of more aid next year. Shown above is a cut of the proposed building. The structure when completed is expected to be one of the most beautiful and commodious in this region.

Racial Question to Be Discussed at "Y" Meeting This Week

The topic to be studied at the meeting of the Y. W. C. A. next Wednesday promises to be of as much interest as the study of "The Rural Church and the Community," which was given last week. The subject of the program will be "The Racial Question," and Margaret Maxson will be the leader. All girls in the College are urged to attend and hear the following program:

Old Man: "Son, can you direct me to the bank?"

Kid: "Yessir, for a quarter."

Old Man: "Isn't that mighty high pay?"

Kid: "Not for a bank director."—Frivol.

Tulia Hornets Win High School District Championship

Preliminary Games Are Unusually Fast This Year.

Tulia high school won the district championship and the right to meet Idalon in the bi-district meet by defeating the Canyon Eagles in the final game of the Interscholastic Basketball tournament by a score of 21 to 10. The game came as the climax of the two-day meet staged by the West Texas State Teachers College in which 64 boys and 8 coaches participated. Ford, easily the outstanding center of the tournament, was high point man with 12 counters. B. Brown was high point man for the Eagles with 6 points.

The outstanding feature of the entire tournament was the excellent sportsmanship displayed by both losers and winners and now that Tulia has won, the whole Panhandle are back of them in the bi-district meet and after that—on to Austin.

The preliminaries went off in a scrappy fashion. In the first game Canyon defeated Hereford 38 to 12; in the second Dalhart won over Canadian by a one point margin in the closest games of the contest, 27 to 28; in the third Panhandle was eliminated by Spearman, 20 to 8; in the fourth game, Tulia easily defeated Hedley 39 to 4.

The semi-finals were unusually fast. In the first game Canyon came from behind to beat Dalhart, while in the second Tulia at first had hard sledding with the Spearman gang. The scores were 21 to 14 and 46 to 18 respectively.

The following players participated in the games:

Hereford: Russell F. Posey F. (capt), J. M. Posey C. J. Russell G. Cowart G. Patterson F. Foster F. Thompson G. Humble (coach).

Canadian: R. Hornback (capt) F. W. Hornback F. McCullum C. Yager G. Merry G. Weatherspoon G. Fry F. Boles (coach).

Dalhart: Bonner (capt) F. Welch F. Reynolds C. Graves G. Dawes G. Wolf, sub.

Tulia: Crow F. Cavit (capt) F. Ford C. Ward G. Evans G. subs Cameron, Anderson, Brawley, Sawyer (coach).

Hedley: Shaw (capt) F. Reeves F. Newman C. Mobley G. Johnson G. subs: Gunn, Pierce, Adamson, Alexander, Sanford, Nipper (coach).

Spearman: Cooks (capt) F. Fullbright F. Fuller C. Raney G. Cluck G. subs: Gibner, Sparks, Savage (coach).

Panhandle: Herndon F. L. Armstrong F. Martin C. Carhart G. Slagle (capt) G. subs: F. Armstrong, Orr, Weatherly, Simms, Dinwiddie (coach).

Canyon: B. Brown F. C. Brown F. Lowes (capt) C. Sanders G. Hazelwood G. subs: Jones, Greenfield, Otis, Christian, Atkins, Hale (coach).

College Sends Two Students to Annual Scholarship Meeting

Jim Webb, president of the College Scholarship Society, and Charles R. Wilson, faculty representative and permanent honor member of the Society, left last week for Huntsville, where they were entertained in the annual meeting of Texas Scholarship Societies by Sam Houston State Teachers College.

The local delegates planned before leaving a list of amendments to the state constitution. One of these is intended to clarify the status of those students who win junior or senior honors but who do not become permanent honor members. It was expected by the members of the College organization that the local delegates, with the assistance of the other college representatives, would strengthen materially the honor club by eliminating some of the confusing rules and provisions.

The business session was to have been held on Saturday.

Plans Are Completed For City Celebration At Cousins Wednesday

Arrangements for the Santa Fe railway station celebration and banquet at Cousins Hall have been practically completed. Many out-of-town guests are expected, among whom will be officials of the railroad. The telephone company and the Texas Utilities Co. will be represented.

Porter A. Whaley, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, has written that he will attend the banquet. Hon. A. B. Martin of Plainview, a member of the Board of Regents, accepted the invitation early last week.

The program has not been announced. However, it is known that J. D. Gamble will be toastmaster. Mr. Gamble was mayor of Canyon when the paying program was started.

MARCH SECOND TO BE HOLIDAY IN COLLEGE

March 2nd, Texas Independence Day, is set aside in the College catalog as one of the holidays which will be observed here this year. This holiday, falling as it does on Monday, will very likely be largely used for picnics, trips to the canyons, and other forms of recreation.

Buffalo Schedule Is Strenuous One For Remainder of Season

Whether or not the Buffaloes basketball team has plenty of stamina of championship caliber will certainly be determined by the heavy schedule ahead of the team. The Buffaloes are now in Roswell where they played last night and will play again tonight. Then Friday and Saturday comes the biggest home games of the season when the Denton Eagles will appear for the first time in the Buffalo pasture ground. Immediately following, the team goes to Abilene where it will play six games, two with McMurry, two with A. C. C., and two with Simmons. All three of these teams have strong line-ups and if the Buffaloes succeed in winning a majority of these six games, they will have proved their mettle. On March the 6th the A. C. C. bunch are to dedicate their new gym and a team always puts forth super and unbeatable playing during an exercise of that kind. The way ahead is rough and steep—let's BACK THAT TEAM!

Large Percent of Our Graduates are Teachers

40 women have received degrees from the West Texas State Teachers College. Of this number 23 of the men and 38 of the women have taught one or more years. Of the two women who have not taught, one is still in college making special preparation for her work as teacher of physical education. This means that of the men who have been granted degrees from this institution 79.3% have given back to the State generously for the money which it has spent in preparing them to be teachers and 95% of the women have done the same.

Of the 11.8% of men receiving permanent certificates but not degrees from this college, almost all have become either physicians or lawyers so that they may be legitimately classed as in the public service, although they have passed out of the educational service for which they first had training. Of the 21.6% of women who have rendered no service as teachers, practically all have married and are using the education which they received to help build up the standards of the American home.

Of the six men who have received degrees from the West Texas State Teachers College and who are not teaching, one is editor of a newspaper, two are studying law, and the other three have found their places in the business world.

Anyone making a study of these figures will be impressed immediately by the high percentage of men and women who have stayed in the field of service which they first determined to enter and with the fact that the State is well paid for the expense which is necessary to carry on the work of the teachers colleges in Texas.

COLLEGE TO ENTER LIVESTOCK JUDGING TEAM AT FT. WORTH

Arrangements have been made between representatives of the State Teachers Colleges of Texas and those of the Southwestern Live Stock Exposition and Fat Stock Show for a Teachers College Live Stock Judging Contest to be held at the Live Stock Exposition in Fort Worth the second Monday in March, according to Prof. Frank R. Phillips of the West Texas State Teachers College.

The same classes of animals will be used in the Teachers College Stock Judging Contests as are used by the students of the A. & M. Colleges of Texas and Oklahoma, and it is probable that the same judges will be used also. However, a separate score will be kept for the Teachers Colleges.

Interest in agricultural education has increased considerably in the last few years, especially in West Texas, and stock judging contests among the high schools have become so popular that there is a strong demand for teachers of this work; consequently, the leaders in agricultural education in Texas feel that the state-wide contest for prospective teachers will be worth while.

Working Students Not Greatly Handicapped

But this young man did not stop when he succeeded in finding work and in taking college courses. He developed into a versatile student. At present he is a prominent worker in his literary society, a member of the college newspaper staff, a member of the band and orchestra, and an active Christian worker in young people's organizations of his church. He does not claim to be brilliant, but he does every task conscientiously. He is popular among the students because his disposition is happy and his personality winning. In another year he will have his degree.

A young stenographer of Dallas saw the limitations of her high school education and made up her mind to achieve a college education at all costs. She wrote to every college in Texas to see if she could find work for which she was fitted to defray her expenses, as a student. For three years she has been employed to do part-time office work in the teachers college and has made all her expenses. Her grades in college courses have been above average, and at the same time she has held several offices in her literary society, has acted as Secretary to the Young Women's Christian Association, has been vice-president of her Sunday School class, and was chosen by the girls of her dormitory as chairman of the social committee. How well she is liked by the students may be seen in her recent election as a celebrity in the annual college contest.

Two brothers, farmer boys, have proved themselves successful students and wheat growers as well. During the summer they work on their father's farm and make enough from their wheat crop to keep them in school during the nine month's session. Both take active part in athletics, church work, and projects of their literary society. They are normal, fun-loving boys; and the fact that they are responsible for their own support has not made "grinds" of them.

An ambitious young woman found a way to pay her room and board by waiting on tables in one of the college dormitories. She served faithfully in this capacity for two years, which is as long as such a position may be held by the same girl. But in that time she had established so well a reputation for energy, worth, and charm that she easily found work for herself in a private home. Her interests are diversified, and she works equally well leading a Sunday School class or planning a successful party. She is enthusiastic about physical training and plans to continue her education beyond the regular four-year course in order to prepare herself to teach in that field.

Working in a drug store and tailor shop in spare time has enabled an enterprising boy to keep himself in college. He is a social leader, a student of outstanding scholarship, and a good athlete. He is president of his class.

Surely no student should fear that if he pays his own way through school he must deny himself the social contacts which lead to efficient citizenship.

Three Plays Will be Presented at Center Plains on Thursday

Twelve students in fine arts will journey with Mr. Earl C. Bryan and Miss Mary Morgan Brown to Center Plains to give a lyceum program on Thursday evening. For this program three plays—"All On a Summer's Day," "This Is So Sudden," and "The Proposal" have been selected. The first date of the entertainment was set for Saturday night, but on account of that being the time of the last T. I. A. A. basketball game of the season for the Buffaloes on the home court, the date was moved up to Thursday.

These plays were produced in the Dramatic Art Club, and have since been under special direction of the Public Speaking Department. The cast for "The Proposal" is composed of Jack Bailey, Felicia Wallace, and Jerry Mallin. Five girls, Lucile Overall, Frances Croson, Cora Mae Haley, Dalma Fry, and Imogene Buster, play "This Is So Sudden," while the cast for "All On a Summer's Day" is made up of Dona Hardin, Bettie Jo Smalley, Stella Rusk, and Elizabeth Shaw—the latter featuring in the part of the Dark Messenger of Fate. The members of the casts are students of the Public Speaking Department and are members of the Dramatic Art Club.

This is one of the several lyceum programs produced by college students at nearby schools. The Parent-Teachers Association sponsors these at Center Plains and succeed not only in community entertainment but also in raising money to carry on local work of the Association. The College sends out these attractions for the small cost of expenses.

been steady with but two exceptions. On March 14, 1914, the building burned. To some this seemed the end of their fondest dreams. Others saw beyond the catastrophe into the future of this College. On the day following the fire, regular classes were resumed. These were held in churches, in business houses, in hotels, and other available places. Not one student went home.

Temporary "shacks" were erected soon and school was held in these for more than a year. In April, 1916, the present building was ready for occupancy.

In 1917 the second blow to the growth of the institution came when the United States entered the war. Most of the young men entered the ranks and many were in France when the struggle ended.

To-day there have been enrolled since September, 1924, six hundred eighty-two college students, one hundred seventy-six sub-college students, and one hundred ninety-four grade children. There are two hundred thirty-eight people doing correspondence work, besides many others who are doing work in clubs under the direction of the College. This makes a total of more than fifteen hundred people who are now directly related to the College.
