J. Edd McLaughlin of Ralls, who was a student in 1911-12, was elected president of the South Plains Bankers Association at its recent meeting in Brownfield.

Four members of the McLaughlin family have attended school here. They are: Frank, J. Edd, Marvin and Clara.

Senior Play Given
Fri. Well Attended

All Parts Well Done By Naturals Of Class

By Iris Gillis

Both the main floor and balcony of the Administration Auditorium were filled Friday evening when W. T.'s Senior class of '35, presented "Ladies of the Jury."

The first act with its dramatic court room scenes introduced the complex of emotions in the jury room when the composed Mrs. Crane (Eula Lee McKnight), the prying, gossiping stiff-necked Lily Pratt (Elizabeth Jameson), the saucy flapper, Mayme Mixer (Pollyanna Pitts), the sweet timid soul, Cynthia Tate (Velma Padgett), the clinging vine, Mrs. Dace (Marjorie Tucker), and the robust Irishwoman, Mrs. Maguire, (Martina Anderson) together with their masculine counterparts, Spencer Dazey, the typical gentleman (Hosea Foster), Jay J. Presley, the stubborn egotistical jury foreman (George Bishop) Tony Theodolphus, the candy store slinging dandy (James Compton), Alonzo Beal, the poet, who hid behind a woman's skirt when violence threatened (John Hood), Andrew McKaig, the typical Scotchman with a weakness for flattery (Stanley Williams), and Steve Bromm, the he-man who "had served on juries before" and knew exactly what every body ought to do—these people met to decide the fate of the naive Mrs. Gordon.

Each person was naturally suited to his role with the exception of Marjorie Tucker, who nevertheless stopped her longing for Henry, home, and the cat quite effectively. Then, there were those people who wondered why Mrs. Livingston Baldwin Crane spoke French so rapidly and distinctly while in answer the only coherent words of the French girl were "Oui, Madame." However, the performance was decidedly not amateurish, and it left with the audience that "enjoyable evening had by all" feeling.

Between acts Houston Bright entertained with three vocal solos. He was accompanied by Miss Lila Beth Burroughs.

Carroll Killebrew made the block print of the senior with diploma and uplifted torch which ornamented the front of each program. Senior girls served as ushers.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS VISITED
PRINT SHOP

Last Thursday evening the members of the Industrial Arts Club made a pleasing expedition into the Warwick Printing Shop. Several of the boys had never visited a shop of this sort, and of course the trip was well worth their time and was of much benefit to them as well as to the other members. Edwin Dutton may have been in a printing shop before, but Thursday evening the kid reached the height of his ambitions when Mr. Warwick consented to his typing his own name on the large linotype machine. When the metal plate shot out of the machine bearing the name, the guy who had caused it all was somewhat startled.

Mr. Warwick described thoroughly just how the newspaper was printed and prepared for the mail by explaining the process from the typing on to the folding of the printed paper. He even printed a number of copies of the Canyon News in order that the boys might see the machine in action.

Members of the club who visited the shop were: Mr. R. A. Terrill, sponsor, Rex Roby, Clarence Anderson, John Poole, Alvie Redden, Edwin Dutton, F. B. Mitchell, and Daniel Lahmay.

Press Representatives Experience
Multiple Woes and Fun Enroute
To Huntsville and Return Trip

(By Bill Britton)

An enthusiastic group of delegates to the Texas Intercollegiate Press Association at Sam Houston State Teachers College at Huntsville departed on an easterly course in the early hours of the morning last Thursday. Packed tightly in Mrs. Green's car with Lou Ella McDade, Kathryn Brown, Bill Pitman, Bill Britton, and Ashley Little.

At the first stop en route, Lou Ella procured a cross-word puzzle and fatigued the brains of the party (including those of Mrs. Green) by constantly entreating help in her venture. The sympathy of the entire group was bestowed on poor Bill Pitman. The unfortunate fellow wasn't able to sleep a wink all the way there and back.

Here is one that no one here will believe but it is true, never the less. About seventy miles short of Huntsville, the rain (yes, rain) fell so heavily that the motor of the car was drowned out and the party was delayed for a space of approximately two hours.

Ex-Studes Plan
Annual Luncheon

Other Objectives Of The Organization Are Outlined

Ex-students are making plans for the annual luncheon which will be held immediately after the Commencement Exercises on May 30. Members of the 1935 class will be ushered into the Association of Ex-students at that time.

The Ex-students Association of W. T. has shown remarkable growth this year with around 480 paid-up members and many who are participating in the activities of the organization without being active members.

Among the plans which the Association hopes to carry out are those of employing a part-time executive secretary; reaching a membership of 1,000 members in the school year of 1935-36; maintaining an ex-student office at the college; establishing county ex-students associations in every county of Northwest Texas; securing endowment funds for the college.

This year ex-students who belong to county organizations have been working to get the best type of students from Northwest Texas high schools to come to Canyon for their college work.

Ex-students also are working to develop sentiment in their counties which will result in the employing of better trained teachers and the purchasing of the best equipment that can be afforded in every school with which they are identified.

Another objective of the ex-students of W. T. is that of securing a large Northwest Texas membership for the State Teachers Association. The Texas State Teachers Association is one of the largest in the United States and through it standards have raised.

Senior classes of the counties in which ex-student associations are being maintained, have told of the advantages of W. T.

Mr. T. H. McDonald of the Amarillo High School is chairman of the Ex-student Association Planning Committee and Mr. Lee Johnson of the College Book Store is the Executive Secretary who keeps ex-student affairs moving toward a realization of their plans.

Mr. J. B. Speer, superintendent of schools at Morse and president of the Ex-students Association, has expressed the hope that every member of the 1935 class will be (Continued on last page)

Normington Aids
In Home Making
Contests In Corpus

Miss Marion Normington returned Sunday evening from Corpus Christi where she judged in the annual Home Making Rally and attended the meeting of the Home Economics Association of which she is treasurer. The two groups of contests in which she judged were that of equipment selection and selection of household linens.

More than eight hundred high school teachers and pupils were in attendance at the meeting, and relatives from all state colleges assisted in judging the contests. A new feature in this year's meeting was the conducting of contests for boys. Also one-act plays demonstrating the need for home economics were given.

The grand prize was won by the Austin schools.

Special Three Weeks' Course
To Begin June 5

A special three weeks short course for teachers of home economics for teachers at Texas State Teachers College on June 5. Miss Hazel McKibben of the Home Economics Department of the Iowa State College, of Ames, Iowa, will conduct this course which has been especially designed for teachers in the field who wish to become more efficient in the problem method of teaching home economics.

This course may be taken in connection with regularly scheduled summer session work or it may be taken independently. Tuition for the course alone will be $7.50, but if it is taken with the regular summer session offerings, no extra charge will be made. The class will meet twice daily for three weeks, and two semester hours credit will be given for the course.

Miss McKibben has done outstanding work as an educator in home economics work, and Northwest Texas is fortunate in securing her services. All home economics teachers, homemakers, and future teachers are invited to become members of this class.

At the same time Captain Ed McMinn of Kirkland, who has one more year of eligibility, but who graduated this summer in order to take the coaching job in his home town, was elected by unanimous vote of his team mates and coaches as the most valuable man to the club the past season on the basis of ability, leadership, attitude, scholarship, and hard work.

Lettermen for the past season were announced by Coach Baggett as follows: Willie Boedeker, Leonard Britt, Lawrence Clark, Curtis Clement, Jack Davis, Audell Kimmins, Edd McMinn, John Walker, and Gerald Brown, student manager.

Freshmen who were awarded the freshman numeral for their work were James Badgett, Ray Cox, Grover Dennis, Oscar Hinger, Don Savage, B. F. Taylor, Craig Walling, and Ed Miller.

An honor guest at the banquet was W. H. Blaine, who coached the first basketball team West Texas ever had back in 1912. His reminiscences were very interesting. D. A. Shirley, chairman of the athletic committee, was toastmaster at the banquet. R. A. Terrill, T. B. McCarter, W. E. Lockhart, Travis Shaw, and F. E. Savage were other members of the committee.

Other guests were C. H. Jarrett, R. P. Jarrett, and Clyde Warwick. The coaching staff, Al Baggett, Bob Cox and Mitchell Jones, and Chief Buffalo Herder, J. A. Hill, helped to honor the basketball teams.

EDITORIAL THAT WON BIG CUP

The following editorial, written by a student of Happy High School, won first place in the Panhandle High School Press Association contests held at Pampa last week. The loving cup was given by Clyde W. Warwick, Editor of The Canyon News.

"How To Develop Your Ability To Do"

One of the biggest problems in life today is that we don't think how and why we are doing things.

The world judges you and pays you for what you do but not for what you intend or decide to do. Your dreams do not count anything unless you really make something out of them. Knowledge is power only when it is set to work. The old saying, "We learn to do by doing," is only half-truth. Good eyes, keen ears, and capable hands are our tools for getting knowledge. God gave these to us and we are supposed to use them. Opportunities come to everyone sometimes during life, and when your opportunity comes to you, take advantage of it and make something out of it.

"Do the duty that lies nearest to you."

It's the boy or girl who works hard at home for anything who makes the best records when away from home. Doing small things well at the present prepares you for doing greater things in the future. You will make some wrong choices because everyone does this. Fit yourselves to life; don't try to make life fit you. Don't expect something for nothing. Work for what you want. No amount of tolerance or influence will carry you very far unless you work.

Profit by the criticism that comes to you. If you do nothing, this causes criticism. Don't let criticism hurt you; study it, try to see if it is true. Consider others while you are working. Your affairs are tied up with the affairs of others. The bigger your work in life, the more people you will have to know and work with. You cannot do very much alone.

Above all things, be a finisher. Lots of people begin success where others end in failure.—The Round-Up, Happy High School.

POETRY SECRET VICE

What is the place of poetry in the lives of real he-men? According to Louis Untermeyer, distinguished American poet and critic, who is himself a former manufacturer, it occupies a much more important place than most persons believe.

"Everyone," he says in the current Rotarian Magazine, "pretends to scorn it—and everyone writes it, acts it, lives it. Say 'poetry' to the average man and he will, publicly at least—either groan or guffaw. The man-in-the-street considers the proverbial poet almost as much a comic-weekly figure as the caricatured and lampooned mother-in-law."

However, Mr. Untermeyer relates a recent incident which shows that at heart men are different. In addressing a large group of business and professional men in Pennsylvania City, he had occasion to challenge the audience to deny its instinctive fondness for poetry.

"There isn't a man among you," he said to them, "who hasn't, at one time or another, written a poem or a piece of verse, an expression of something that had to be said and which could be uttered in no other form. I'm sure if I were to ransack the desks of every individual here, somewhere I'd find—probably in the bottom drawer buried beneath cancelled checks or unanswered letters—a rimed tribute, or a tender memory, or, at least, an early unpublished valentine."

They agreed. After the lecture, they told him, some sheepishly, some challengingly, that they had always held poetry in high esteem—privately.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

WHAT I SHOULD LIKE TO KNOW CLUB

A delightful tea held in the Demonstration room climaxed the activities of the year for the What I Should Like To Know Club, Friday afternoon, at 3:30.

The What I Should Like To Know Club, which was organized by Miss Jennie C. Ritchie, has for its purpose the cultivation of beauty and self expression and the development of their personalities in the girls of W. T. High School.

Since its beginning in the fall, the club has provided a number of interesting programs each Friday afternoon. At the first meeting of the club, which took the form of a program tea in the Home Economics dining room, Mrs. W. A. Warren gave the girls an enlightening demonstration talk on styles.

At the next meeting Miss Hellen Hickman led the group in a discussion of table manners.

Among other speakers presented at the club during the year were Dr. R. A. Neblett, who gave the girls useful pointers on the care of their health; Dean Geraldine Green, who discussed poise, and the handling of delicate situations; Miss M. Moss Richardson, who amused the group with an hour of humorous stories; Mr. W. E. Lockhart, who outlined the requirements for a girl's success in the modern business world; Miss Millicia Hill, who discussed commercial art; and Miss Edna Graham, who gave an interesting account of her trip through the Holy Land.

LATIN CLUB IS ENTERTAINED

The home of Ruth Richeson was the scene of a delightful informal party Wednesday evening, when the members of Inter Nos gathered for an evening of games and sociability. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the hostess with the assistance of her mother.

SPEECH STUDENTS TURN DRAMATISTS

Three one-act plays written by members of the public speaking class under the direction of their practice teacher, Miss Martina Anderson, were presented to a guest audience of Training School students Wednesday afternoon in the Education Auditorium. Each play was directed by a practice teacher as an outside project.

The first, a dramatization of O. Henry's "The Third Ingredient," written by Jean Graham, was directed by Miss Elizabeth Jameson. The part of Hettie, the practical-minded young woman of slender means, was done by Mary McCaslin. Cecelia, the discouraged artist who attempted suicide, was portrayed by Louise Groom; and John McNeill played the part of the rich young man who saves the day.

"A Service of Love," which was dramatized by Kathleen King, was played by Marjorie Merchant and Meredith Warren, and was directed by Miss Thelma Callahan.

Another O. Henry story was presented in Ruth Baker's dramatization of "By Courier," in which Ruth Baker pouted through the part of Jane, at outs with her lover, a young doctor (Grover Stukely), until the two were reconciled through the artlessness of the courier, J. D. Roberts.

Although all the plays showed some good characterizations, and all were smoothly managed, the production of "By Courier" received the vote of the best of the three.

Ruth Baker is said to have done the best piece of acting among the girls, and J. D. Roberts, the best among the boys.

W. T. HI-Y BOYS SPEAK AT ROTARY LUNCHEON

Members of the Hi-Y Club were guests of several local business men at the Rotary Luncheon last Tuesday. Following the luncheon, the Hi-Y boys brought a message of the work of the local club; its aims, the need of leadership among the business men of this community, and what other business men over the state have done for the welfare of the youth of Texas. Advantages of a local Y. M. C. A. building were also stressed.

Boys appearing on the program included A. G. Thornton, Lyman McGehee, Brynild Vaughan, Glen Davis, Billy Norman, Egbert Neelley, and Mr. Goodman.

THE SNOOP

It seems that plenty of trifling took place on the Tumbleweed picnic.

Eavesdropping: "Well, my banquet dress . . . I've turned down two dates . . . If you must know, I rolled down a hill . . . Yes, she's pretty, but . . . Oh, he thinks he's God's gift to the women. . . ."

It seems that Lois Blackwell is "that way" about a certain senior Romeo (?)

Listen, did you know there's a certain girl in W. T. High who is: "Sweet sixteen, mother's pet, Never been kissed by a boy yet." But she isn't mother's pet, and she's usually considered a real sport. You know, "every girl can be kissed, but not every girl can keep from being kissed." You'd be surprised who she is, too!

Are those new sweaters a knock-out or are they? Yeah, man!

Oh—such two-timing! Y'know, I saw Harold Byars and Pearl Mayben riding up one street and down the other visibly loving each other. Oh, now Alice, don't take it thata way.

Honesty is the Best Policy

Miss Ritchie: Tommy, if you had some land that belonged to somebody else and you wanted to return it; what would you do?

Tommy Lair: Why, haul it back, I guess.

We wonder why Meredith Warren never wears that beautiful blue striped shirt of his any more. Perhaps Cato Merchant could enlighten us.

It seems that Louise Groom is worried that she's second choice. C'mon, Louise, you know Penick wouldn't ask you after he had someone else? "How'm I doin'?"

I'll wager that some of these boys have been "robbing the cradle."

Mary Frances Douglas fell off her "little twicycle" the other day and has been exhibiting a skinned knee ever since.

EYES DO 30% MORE WORK THAN THEY DID A GENERATION AGO

Scientists tell us that we use our eyes on an average of 30 per cent more than we did a generation ago. Evenings of reading, bridge and other diversions have added almost a third to the day's work which our eyes were formerly called upon to do.

Scientists have also found that a large portion of the energy of the average person is consumed in SEEING.

Put these two facts together and you will realize the importance of GOOD LIGHTING.

PROFESSOR DUFLOT ADDRESSES LOCAL I. R. C.

The International Relations Club in its last meeting had as the speaker Mr. Duflot, who gave a report of the meeting of the Social Science Association in Oklahoma City, recently. Dean Pond, Dean of the American School of Law, the principal speaker, discussed present conditions with the major countries of the world. Future prospects for a world society were given. "If another world war comes," it was said, "there will be nothing left of civilization." Mr. Duflot spoke favorably of the bull sessions, composed of groups interested in the same subjects, which met in the evening following the main program for the discussion of pertinent questions. In these each present has an opportunity to present his suggestions or problems in connection with his subject.

The thought so much stressed today was again emphasized, if we wish to progress, there must be world co-operation. "The isolationists must be the happiest people of the world today. They seem to have the world where they want it."

MISS LOIS GOODRICH SPEAKS TO Y. W. C. A.

Are you interested in scout work or club organization? Apparently a large number of girls on the campus are, according to the interest taken last week in the talk by Miss Lois Goodrich at Y. W. C. A. Miss Goodrich stressed especially the organization of this work, how to go about it, how to keep interest, and how to build membership. In working with a group of young girls, one is surprised what part songs play in keeping their interest. The Girl Scouts each year learn a number of songs, some humorous, some folk, some foreign, and others suitable to be given at programs. "Hikes, too," said Miss Goodrich, "add to the interest, and bring the girls closer together, especially in the evening around the camp fire." Every girl present expressed a keener interest in work of this sort after the talk.

Conning the Campi

Los Angeles, (CNS)—Miss Amelia Englebrecht, 19 "obeyed that impulse" once too often.

It wasn't so bad when she gleefully sent a C. O. D. ice cream truck to the Phi Psi Sigma Nu sorority house, all in fun.

But it was too much when the bewildered sorority girls watched successively a hearse, an ambulance, two fire trucks, police cars and a C. O. D. flower messenger wheel up and stop at their front door.

But Miss Englebrecht still thought it a swell joke even after a city judge sentenced her to thirty days in jail.

So many students in the universities of Vienna were committing suicide because they had to take their course grade reports home to their folks, the department of education organized a group of professional "bad news breakers"; the body distributes the grade reports to the irate parents and smooths the way for the prodigal's homecoming.—L. No Spring Football As Schedule

Against Rules of Texas Conf. Board

Spirited Competition For Positions on Buff Team

Coach Al Baggett of West Texas State Teachers College has announced that the spring football game which had been tentatively scheduled for the Buffaloes with Abilene Christian College had been necessarily called off because of a ruling of the Texas Conference Ruling Board.

Texas Conference teams have not followed the custom of playing spring games and when Baggett contacted Coach Morris of A. C. C. about a spring game, Morris scheduled the game tentatively but was not sure what the conference ruling would be.

However, conference officials ruled that a spring game would constitute a year of eligibility, and the game had to be called off.

Since the A. C. C. game fell through Coaches Baggett and Cox have decided to have a series of three inter-squad games.

There has been such spirited competition for every position on the Buffalo team that the coaches have had a hard time picking out a first team, and decided that some inter-squad games would give them more of a line on the ability of the various boys.

Captain John Rankin of Miami and Ezell Champion of Memphis will captain the opposing elevens. Rankin will have Leo Jackson and B. F. Cain as centers; himself, George Caviness and Frank Greer as guards; John Lee, Ernest Patton, as tackles; Stina Cain, Jack Davis, and Craig Walling as ends; and Frank Van Noy, Ray Cox, Ed Miller, Tom Slack, H. D. Stewart, Vernon Johnson and Lawrence Clark as backs.

Champion will have Toby Waggoner, James Baggett, and Jewel Mechem on his team as ends; Clinton Meek, Wyatt Batson, and R. D. Wheelock as tackles; Oscar Hinger, George Wright, and Joe Cribbling as guards; Cy Marchbank and Grover Dennis as centers; and himself, Floyd Murray, Lwood Dow, Lewis Gibson, Jack Jennings, Conway Butler, and Bernie Davis in the back field.

W. T. Raquetteers Trounce N.M.M.I. In Dual Meet

Played Previous To Great Plains Tourney

Friday afternoon in a dual meet just previous to the Great Plains tourney, the West Texas State Teachers College raquetteers of Coach W. E. Lockhart trounced the tennis team of New Mexico Military Institute by winning three of the four singles matches and both doubles matches.

Sullivan of the Institute upset Wooten of the Buffs 7-9, 6-2. Coleman of West Texas defeated Guy of Roswell 6-4, 6-3. Smalley of Canyon won a three set match from Barker of the Institute 6-3, 3-6, 6-1; and Riley won another hard contest from McKay of Roswell, 7-5, 6-8, 6-3.

In the first doubles match Wooten and Smalley of West Texas beat Sullivan and Barker 6-0, 6-3; and in the second match Riley and Coleman defeated Guy and McKay 6-1, 6-4.

The Chapel Hour

The school band from Groom furnished the program for chapel Tuesday morning, April 23rd. The band, under the direction of Mr. Bob Newton, is composed of students of both the grade school and the high school of the community. The program was as follows.

"Western Spirit," March—W. D. McCaughey.
"The Joy Rider," W. L. King.
"Lakes of Ocala," Waltz—W. D. McCaughey.
"Merry Minstrels," March—W. D. McCaughey.
"The Conqueror Overture"—K. L. King.

Raymonds Woods, junior student of Groom High School, sang two songs, "Old Faithful," and "Mother, Queen of My Heart," accompanying himself with a guitar.

Mr. Newton, the director of this organization, is a 1934 graduate of W. T. He has re-organized the band this year and done commendable work.

Saturday, April 27

Winston Savage, director, and his Woodrow Wilson Grade School Band of Pampa, rendered the following program for the entertainment of the W. T. students in chapel last Saturday morning. The program was opened with a March, then a novelty arrangement of "The Man on the Flying Trapeze," with Miss Jean Lively soloing on the accordion. A unique toe tap dance was given by Miss Frankie Lou Keehn. The whole band then played an overture "Spirit of Duty," followed by a comic dialogue of "What That Dog There?" by Doyle Lane and J. D. Williams. One of the favorites of the band "Wagon Wheels," was followed by a solo, "Little Colonel," sung by Miss Betty Creey, and the closing number was "Chaser March."

Mrs. Tom Riley, formerly Miss Josephine Helton, was on the campus last Friday visiting her sister, Miss Helen Helton, and friends. Mrs. Riley was a very popular student in W. T. last year and this. She is now living in Spearman.

Central Teachers Capture Great Plains Honors

West Texas Won Junior College Frosh Division

In the revival of the Great Plains Meet Saturday on the Buffalo track the Central Oklahoma Teachers, coached by Claude Reeds, ran away with the college division, scoring 76 points for a wide margin over their nearest opponent.

West Texas State Teachers College freshmen won the junior college-freshmen division by garnering 79½ points to 34½ for their nearest opponent, Amarillo College.

Dumas High School won the high school division with 47½ points to gain some measure of revenge over Pampa High School who nosed Dumas out for the Regional title.

Four new records were set in the meet which was revived after a lapse of four years. M. Cowan of Texas Tech cleared the bar at 12 feet, 6 inches to set a new mark in the pole vault. Delbert Lowes of Canyon held the old record on 12 feet, 4 inches, set in 1928.

Connel of A. C. C. topped the high jumpers in 14.8 seconds to lower the mark of 15 seconds in the high hurdles set by Naylor of Clarendon in 1928.

Dark, of Central Teachers, jumped 23 feet, 3½ inches, bettering the old mark of 23 feet, 1 inch, of Lee of Texas Tech since 1928. Nethery of Central Teachers ran the two mile race in 10:34.4 against the old record of Hodgson of Central Teachers of 10:24.7.

Jacobson of Central Teachers was high point man in the college division with 11 1-4 points; Reavis of Clarendon Junior College was high in the junior college division; and Kirkland of Dumas won scoring honors among the high schools with 15½ points.

In the tennis, Pryor and Long of Central Teachers, won the doubles with 6-2, 6-1 victory over Symes and Spuhler of Texas Tech in the finals. Pryor and Long both entered the finals in singles to give the Central Teachers a clean sweep of the meet.

All coaches were pleased with the revival of the meet, and Coach Baggett announced that it would be an annual event hereafter.

COLLEGIANS TAKE NEW INTEREST IN NATIONAL AFFAIRS

A subtle but strong change of the American student's mind from trivial to national matters was seen this week on many university camp.

While hundreds of students are appearing before state legislatures to voice their opinion on definite governmental matters, others are debating, arguing and advocating this and that national reform.

Last week at Princeton University delegates from a number of eastern colleges joined in a campus conference of government and business, with prominent representatives of both as discussion leaders.

Six regional conferences of the National Student Federation, body of student heads, to be held from Los Angeles to Indiana in the next few weeks, will take up identical questions of national policy, ranging from "Is there a need of a third progressive party with a student nucleus?" to "Is the influence of such men as Huey Long, Coughlin and Hearst a dangerous threat to the practice of democracy?"

The motive force behind the new political unions and revived debating clubs at Yale, Princeton and elsewhere has usually been the cleavage of opinion over the New Deal.

Down at the University of North Carolina a student observer sums up the situation. "Campus sessions today," she says, "are concerned with national figures—Roosevelt and Huey Long feature—but world problems are skimmed."—College News Service.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan O'Rear were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Reeve last week-end, attending the senior play last Thursday evening. Mrs. O'Rear will be remembered as Miss Esther Reeve, sister of Glenn Reeve.

Dorothy Lofflin of Friona is a Kirby House guest this week.

Miss Ermine Ida Thomas was a campus visitor last week-end.

MAVERICK CLUB

NUMBER TWO Canyon, Texas

By Pat Noser

Well, Dut Wanser had good intentions, I guess about what he mistook for braggadocio. If you can do something, and tell about it, that's not bragging. Its just when you claim that you can do something and can't that you are boasting.

And just to settle the issue, we took the Amarillo Maverick club into camp for the second consecutive time last Tuesday at our weekly affair at the CCC camp.

We don't like to rub it in (much) and after we had won a few matches, we let up enough to keep the No. 1 Mavericks just behind us.

We had our postponed election last Wednesday. At the final political meeting just preceding the election, everyone was presented with a Baby Ruth just to prevent any friction.

Some of the campaign managers were absent from the final meeting. Foul play is suspected. Certainly all of them had well prepared speeches.

The candidates themselves made extemporaneous speeches, and modestly admitted that they had all the necessary qualifications to make good officers.

The balloting proved a landslide for the Independent party. The Citizens party was unable to come a member of the ex-students association and thus help himself and all the other hundreds of graduates of the college.

It has been suggested that seniors talk with Mr. Johnson about the advantages of membership in the ex-students association before they leave the campus.

MEN'S CHORUS—

M. Riley, Texas College of Arts and Industries, Kingsville; H. Grady Harlan, Southwestern State Teachers College, San Marcos.

Members of the Men's Chorus who will make the trip are: First Tenors: Broughton Hardin, Horace Hickox, Holland McMurray, Ralph O'Keefe, Sid Thomas, Edward White, and Carl York.

Second Tenors: Lex Alexander, Lewis Barnett, Walter Cummings, Reavis Kerr, Ray McIntyre, Charles Stratton, Glynn Taylor, and Johnnie Hood.

First Basses: J. C. Baker, Jr., Bill Blaine, Houston Bright, Winfred Lewis, Charles Reeve, Woolworth Russell, Martin Baze, John Tate, J. H. Wright, and E. C. Penick, Jr.

Second Basses: M. E. Cleavinger, E. T. Evans, Whitman Fish, G. T. Higgins, Kenneth Hohlaus, M. A. Morgan, Bill Nelson, Bill Pitman, and Rex Roby.

Estelline Harris, '33, is director of the Sam Houston School Choral Club at Pampa. The Club sang at the Pampa Methodist Church, Sunday night.

elect a single candidate. The depression must have had something to do with the one-sided voting. I hope there's a new deal coming.

On the winning Independent ticket were Wilbert Johnson for president; Earle Whitley for vice-president; J. D. Roberts for secretary; Johnnie McBroom for treasurer; and Robert Matlock for chief of police.

STUDENT OPINION

Let's interview two prominent, independent and straight-thinking students. James Compton, president of the senior class, expressed his belief in this manner. "I think a time should be set aside for the whole student body to swim, and I think that every student should be required to take swimming before his graduation. It is a requirement the same as taking English every where else, and it would be profitable as well as enjoyable. There might be some time when it is really essential to be able to swim, or else drown. It would be very profitable to the students as individuals to know how to swim and how to rescue a drowning person, as no one ever knows when he might have to be able to swim. And I think they ought to do away with the old-fashioned idea about mixed swimming. Everywhere, north, south, east, and west of us they are allowing the whole student body to enjoy the swimming pool and I think we should do it too."

Stanley Williams, when asked what he thought of the plan for a swimming pool for the student body at large, made some statements to this effect. "I think it would be a good thing. However, if it is to be in the outside pool that Coach Al Baggett is going to have built, I think a small charge should be made. It would be very profitable in either the indoor pool or in the outdoor pool that is to be built."

"Where You Always Meet a Friend"

8,271 men and women visited the Chesterfield factories during the past year . . .

A man who visited a Chesterfield factory recently, said: "Now that I have seen Chesterfields made, I understand better than ever why people say Chesterfields are milder and have a better taste."

If you too could visit our factories you could see the clean, airy surroundings; the employees in their spotless uniforms, and the modern cigarette making machinery.

You could notice how carefully each Chesterfield cigarette is inspected and see also how Chesterfields are practically untouched by human hands.

Whenever you happen to be in Richmond, Va., Durham, N. C., or San Francisco, California, we invite you to stop at the Liggett & Myers plants and see how Chesterfields are made.
