Property and Business of Historical Society Among the Many Duties Entrusted to Public Service Bureau

The Public Service Bureau is doing efficient work in the placing of teachers, sponsoring the courses of study for Women's clubs, soliciting information and material for the Panhandle Plains Historical Society, directing publicity work for the College, and arranging for College lyceum numbers in the surrounding territory.

During the last calendar year of the 208 students who enrolled with the teacher-placing division, 191 were placed in teaching positions. An average of sixteen letters are written for each applicant, enrolling, whether he is placed or not. Form letters are to be sent to superintendents in this section of the state urging them to call on the College for teachers trained for specific work. A small number of these are to be sent to other western states. The demand for teachers with specific training in extra-curricular activities, such as: Sunday school work, club work, orchestra, band, musical organization, and community work of all kinds is becoming more urgent. Superintendents are not content with knowing the kind of certificate and amount of experience an applicant has had; they are asking further if he has had specific training in his subject.

The College at present offers 16 different courses that are planned especially for the use of women's clubs. Many of the leaders of these clubs are ex-students. Lecture service is rendered by the College faculty to the Clubs of all the Panhandle. Last spring Mrs. Reeves worked out the program for the annual meeting of the Seventh District of Federated Women's Clubs and is to again this year. The College offers each summer a week of interesting work for the members of the Parent-Teachers Associations.

The Panhandle-Plains Historical Society was organized in 1921, and was the first regional historical society in Texas. This organization was made possible through the efforts of Miss Anderson, Mr. Sheffy, and Mr. T. M. Clark. The Society now has nearly 200 members and a collection of documents, mounted animals and relics worth at least $10,000. The Bureau of Public Service has written annually about 1500 letters for the past three years in the interest of the Society. A field representative was employed for three months last summer. An annual banquet is held every February. During the past 18 months, four people have used material in the collection owned by the society. In writing their Master's theses.

The Bureau sends out news articles twice a week, and often when desirable, to 15 daily newspapers, and twice monthly to 60 county newspapers. This office publishes a bi-monthly folder, concerning various phases of the College which is sent to thousands of people over the state. It is called "The Progressive Campus."

Last year faculty members and students furnished lyceum numbers for about 48 communities. This is done for the smallest amount possible to make expenses.

The Public Service Bureau has charge of all preliminary steps a student takes when enrolling for a correspondence course. Two hundred nineteen courses are offered by correspondence. The Bureau is careful to notice what courses are most in demand and what new ones should be added. The work of the Bureau of Public Service is under the direction of Mrs. T. V. Reeves, under whose influence the work has been developed to its present standard of efficiency.

The parents of Misses Winfred Carr and Mable Christopher visited with them last Thursday night.

Dick Hughes visited in White Deer last week end.

Men's Debate Try Outs Show Promise of Excellent Teams; Nine Men Get In First Rank

Sixteen Men Try For Places on Forensic Squad; Nine Men Selected as Material For Teams Entering Field This Spring

Try-outs were held last week for the debating teams of the College. Sixteen men entered the preliminaries and nine were selected from this group as material for the teams which will debate in the Intercollegiate Debating Association during the Spring term.

Irby Carruth, Maurice Terry, Carl Periman, Darris Cheyne, Willard Vineyard, John Overall, A. D. Cummings, C. W. West, and Ray Daniel were picked by the judges for the first nine places. S. B. Orton, Judge Rector Lester, and W. J. Flesher, professional men of Canyon, acted as judges for the try-outs.

Other men trying for places were Eugene Kistler, Barker, Haigrove, Pinkerton, Everitt Dison, and William Nafzgar.

Prof Earl C. Bryan, debating coach, stated at the conclusion of the try-outs, that the debaters had progressed much further in the analysis of the subject than any previous team at this time of the year.

FRISCO CHAMBER IS NEXT MUSICAL ATTRACTION BILLED

Organization Compares With Flonzaley and London Quartets

The San Francisco Chamber Music Society has been engaged for a lyceum program at the College February 13.

This is one of the most worthwhile musical events ever offered this community, in the opinion of Wallace R. Clark, head of the Department of Music. The San Francisco Chamber Music Society is on a par with the best chamber groups in the world today, being classed favorably with the Flonzaley and London Quartets.

The College is to be congratulated upon being able to secure this group.

Mr. Gordon McCarty was at home a few days this week. He attended the Daniel Baker games.

Panthe in your cogitations of the mistakes of Julius Caesar and the beauties of Cleopatra, gentle student, and reflect upon the lack of unity displayed by front-row members of the faculty at the Chapel period.

Long and violent have been the ravings of the zealots and martyrs of nations: "United we stand, divided we fall."

And yet, members of the faculty, all males, who occupy the front row during a chapel exercise, display a striking lack of drill in the matter of crossing and uncrossing their lower limbs! For instance Doc Pierle crosses his legs to the right, and low and hold me up if Doc Munson don't bungle the deal by crossing his to the left!

Just this morning Messrs. Clark, Barnett, Strain, Lang, Shirley, Shaw, and Jarrett were in perfect accord—their legs all being crossed to the left—the symmetry and line was perfect. But Messrs. Duffot, McCarter, Pierle, and Hill had their pedestals pointing in the opposite direction, while Doc Munson, being eccentric didn't cross his legs at all!

"Beauty is its own excuse for being," some poker player chirped over a full-house, and its just as true in this case as in that. It is striking, the pulse and atmosphere, the bearing and mien of the front-row gentlemen—when their legs are all crossed in the same direction.

When they're not, however, the effect is like a bride's first batch of noodles—"not so good."

"All together now, left!" and after ten minutes in this position, "All together now, right!" Then, you have it, Unity, Coherence, and Emphasis!

"This group of men have put forth more work and effort than ever before in preparation for the try-outs," Mr. Bryan said.

A co-ed team will be selected next week to meet the C. I. A. team at Denton in April.

The World Court topic will be discussed by both the men and the co-ed teams.

With the oncoming try-out next Friday night for the choice of the girls which are to represent W. T. S. T. C. in debate with C. I. A. the passive interest in the forensic field is becoming one of vigorous animation.

The question for debate is: Resolved: that it would be to the best interest of the United States to join the World Court. There are eight girls who are alert at all times for any hint or suggestion on this subject. These girls are Ruth Anderson, Faye Christopher, Hazel Mathis, Mayme Landrum, Thelma Crutchfield, Ruth Irwin, Alva Beach, and Luella Durham.

JOHNNY ASKEY IS SPEAKER AT EPISCOPAL MEETING

Needs of Young People Told by Student at Clarendon

"The Spiritual Needs of the Young People" were discussed at the Protestant Episcopal Convention at Clarendon last week by Miss Johnnie Askey.

"We need daily spiritual leadership and sympathetic direction wherewith to make use of our own energy, our buoyance and the joy bubbling up within us," she said. "We are restless because we seek in the material things the something needed to satisfy our spiritual needs and find them lacking. The material things are the things with which we are surrounded, which are most demanding, hence we very often become thoughtless and do not recognize our spiritual quest when it is presented to us."

Miss Askey's address was marked by her earnestness and sincerity and was received as a basis for a definite plan by which to meet the needs of our young people.

John Tanner, former student, was here for the ball games last week.

Lamar Day Observed By Chapel Ceremony

January 26th of each year has been dedicated to President Lamar by the West Texas State Teachers College and will be known in future years as "Lamar Day."

President Lamar signed the bill introducing our present educational system, January 26, 1889.

Mrs. Andrews, beloved Episcopal worker, a grand-daughter of President Lamar, presented the College with a Texas State flag and asked that it be raised each January 26th. She also asked that the above date be commemorated as "Lamar Day" here.

The address of President Lamar before the Legislature, the day this bill was passed, is considered as one of the greatest educational documents of the world's history.

Sermons and Preaching Subject of Humphreys

Wednesday morning at the chapel period, Professor Humphreys gave an interesting lecture before the student body on the subject of "Sermons." In the discussion of his subject he pointed out the difference between a "sermon" and "preaching," and told why religion and preaching should never be used as subjects for jokes or witticisms.

After discussing the subject of sermons, Mr. Humphreys called the students' attention to the series of worthwhile editorial sermons now being published in the Dallas News. He told why he considered these sermons of special value to the college student, and illustrated by the reading of one of them.

SATTERWHITE SAYS EXPANSION NOW IMPERATIVE

SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE SAYS COLLEGE IS LEADER AMONG KINDRED INSTITUTIONS OF THE STATE

HILL WOULD SOLVE C. I. A. ROW HE SAYS

Conversion of Palo Duro Canyon Into State Park Favored; Panhandle Due Era of Unprecedented Development

Mr. Lee Satterwhite, Speaker of the House of Representatives, addressed the student body Thursday morning. Mr. Satterwhite stressed the need for expansion of the College plant.

Mr. Satterwhite was introduced by President Hill as a "man, who by sheer determination has become one of the best informed men on public questions in the state."

The College stands to-day "at the head of all the other Teachers Colleges of Texas by virtue of accomplishment in its field," said Mr. Satterwhite. The growth of the institution, the speaker continued, has brought it to the point where its need for more room is an absolute necessity. Mr. Satterwhite remarked that the splendid growth of the school was due in a large measure to President Hill.

"The more I think about the C. I. A. situation," the Speaker declared, "I am convinced that President Hill should have the job. It is not a question of Dr. Hill's ability to hold down the place, however, but a question as to whether West Texas people would part with his services. West Texas must keep him in spite of the great need of C. I. A."

Mr. Satterwhite expressed a desire to see the Palo Duro Canyon converted into a state park. "I am not in favor of indiscriminate creation of state parks, but I do favor the selection of three or four sites for such parks. Too many state parks gives the state too heavy a load financially and results in a loss to the educational institutions."

Favor was expressed by Mr. Satterwhite for the creation of local park sites, bought and maintained through local taxation. "If thirty or forty counties could be brought together in one park district in the Panhandle the Palo Duro Canyon could be made one of the most beautiful resorts to be found." Formation of such districts by counties is prohibited at the present time by law.

Mr. Satterwhite is optimistic over the outlook in the Panhandle. He feels certain that the production of oil in the north Panhandle will soon reach such proportions as to materially aid the state funds by increased revenue. "I am glad our section of the state can contribute so much to the wealth of the entire state."

Mr. Satterwhite is a candidate for re-election to the Legislature from this district.

Pay Telephone Booth Installed in Building

Recently another convenience was added to the College by the installation of a telephone pay station near the front entrance of the building. According to Mr. Shaw the station will save much trouble in the business manager's office. The collection for long distance calls has heretofore been left to the business manager. This inconvenience both the business manager and the person making the call. This is now done away with, and a long distance call may be made with no trouble to anyone.

RENEWS CONTRACT

O. G. Eckhardt, Jr., Buffalo football-baseball coach, knocked down Rumor for a three bagger last week when he signed to coach again here during the 1926-1927 seasons. Eckhardt was reported to be negotiating with a business concern, leaving the field of athletics altogether.

Students here are elated over the announcement made by College authorities, that Eckhardt had signed another twelve months contract. "Big Os" is putting his baseball squad through workouts daily and is confident of an excellent team.

FAMOUS PIANIST HERE IN SUMMER

E. W. Grabill Says He Will Give Instruction to a Master Class

E. W. Grabill, eminent pianist and teacher of piano of Los Angeles has definitely agreed to come to West Texas State Teachers College in June to teach a master piano class.

Mr. Grabill will spend six weeks in Canyon, beginning June 8. Besides his teaching of piano, he will give two lecture courses which the musical public may attend upon payment of a nominal fee.

Mr. Grabill was formerly Dean of the College of Music, University of South Dakota, and is well known to many pianists and teachers here. Pauline Brigham and Hazel Allen of the Department of Music have studied under his direction, as have Mrs. Helen Croson Harrell, Dessie Mae Steele, and Carmen Brewer, former members of the department.

Further announcements regarding Mr. Grabill's plans for this work will be made.

Plans are Made for Intersociety Oration Go

Literary Societies are preparing already for the intersociety oratorical contests which will be held the evening of March 7. All societies have issued calls for prospective speakers and are expecting good interest from their members.

Consins and Elphelads won the contests last year. Evetts Haley spoke for the Consins and, Ruth Lowes for the Elphelads.

The oratorical contests are comparatively new additions to the field of intersociety competition, having been added only three years ago. Good interest has been evinced at each contest. Prizes are offered by the College to the winners of these contests.

Tate Fry was in Floydada last week visiting with his mother.

Shirley and Barnett to County Teachers Meets

Prof. D. A. Shirley spoke last Saturday before the Bailey County Consolidated Teachers Association which met at the Y-L school house north of Muleshoe. He spoke on Education as it is Related to the Rights and Duties of Citizens. A large number of ex-students of the institution are members of the association and were present at the meeting. Homer O. Smith is president of the association and J. E. Adams is superintendent and Fred Boone is principal of the school where the meeting was held.

Albert Barnett, professor of rural education, spoke before the Farmer County Teachers Association which met at the Oklahoma Lane consolidated school house, east of Farwell, last Saturday. Mr. Barnett spoke on the Professionalization of the Teaching Profession. He reviewed the status of the rural teacher, both past and present in Texas and outlined many ways by which the profession could be raised and standardized, and how better results could be obtained from the work.

Packed Houses Watch Buff Teamwork Send Billies To Showers With Short End Of Score; Fans Get Thrill In First as Game is Tight

Tough Games Expected
The Buffs meet McMurry Basketball Five in their second series of the T. I. A. A. Championship race Wednesday and Thursday nights at eight o'clock. The McMurry squad has a good record to its credit with the exception of defeats which they received on their recent road trip, and is expected to give the Bisons a tussle for the betterment of their conference average. Tickets for the townfolk will be on sale at the City Pharmacy, Jarrett Drug, and Walker Drug this week, and the central section will be reserved for them.

GIRLS IN DORMS GET HIGH MARKS

One Damsel Makes Seven A's and Works for Her Living

Which makes the better grades, the girl at Consins Hall or Randall Hall?

A study of the grades made by the girls who stay at these dormitories reveals a startlingly high scholarship standing. Four hundred and sixty-eight grades are on record for the girls at Consins Hall. Of these, there was only one "Q", Nine "X's" and three "F's" constitute the remainder of the grades below the passing mark. Three of the failures were in English 101 and the other in Physical Education.

One girl made seven "A's," another made six "A's" and she worked for her board!

At Randall Hall there were 510 grades issued. Ten "X's" and 14 "F's" are the grades made below passing. Four of these "F's" were made by one girl. Six "A's" were made by one of the Randall Hall boys and another damsel missed the mark set up at Consins by earning six "A's" and one "B."

Figures are not to be had with which to make a comparative study of Hall roomers and the girls in private houses, at the present. The majority of the girls in school, however, are housed in the two dormitories, and the grades show that very few of them, less than 1 percent, are making unsatisfactory grades.

Prairie Staff Holding Meetings Each Week

Weekly meetings are now held by the staff of The Prairie, on Friday. Various subjects are discussed at the meetings with the idea of improving the publication.

The technique of writing news stories and their relation to the mechanical work of the paper are being discussed at each meeting in order to develop the true journalistic view among the staff writers.

Miss Mable Christopher has been ill this week.

Miss Cortez Shepherd of Happy was here for the Daniel Baker games.

Montfort Judge in Texline Art Contest

Mrs. Tommy Montfort acted as a judge in the Fine Arts contest at Texline last Thursday. This contest was the preliminary for the Tri-State contest which will be held in Dalhart some time soon.

Mrs. Montfort is very highly pleased with the school system in Texline. The building is good and has been well kept. Mrs. Montfort stated that Supt. Keeth has an excellent organization in his school. She also complimented the conduct of the students of the school: during a three hour program she saw no misbehavior on the part of the pupils. Miss McElreath and Mrs. Hazel Park Sullivan, ex-students of the College, are teaching in the school at Texline.

LOWES IS HIGH MAN AT TECH

HILL BILLIES FALL TWICE; WAYLAND AND TECH ARE VICTIMS IMMEDIATELY AFTERWARDS

BUFFS WIN EASILY ON FOREIGN SOIL

Buff Look Like Champions But the Real Test Is Yet To Come With Denton Eagles; Men In Good Condition

BY HARDIN BOYLES

Displaying championship ability on the basketball court in two of the fastest, hardest, and most thrilling games ever witnessed in the Panhandle country, the Buffaloes topped the Daniel Baker Hill Billies 33 to 24, and 45 to 24 here Wednesday and Thursday nights. The crowd filled all the available space in the new Buffalo gymnasium, and cheered Hale's men during two hard fought victories. Coming from behind in the last half of the first game, the Bisons, outfought, outpassed, and completely outgeneral-ed the Goats for a 33 to 24 win in the most spectacular game of the two.

Three plays, and the "Sure-fire" Crump made the initial score for the first game. The heavy scoring machine of the Buffaloes went into action with the gun and before the Herm would have stopped the best eight points to the bad. The high class guarding put out by Hill and Herm would have stopped the best of machines. Here, there, and everywhere, the Billy Forwards found these All T. I. A. A. Guards in their way. The floor work of Hill and Herm was also outstanding, and proved the undoing of the Billies in the second contest.

Cleatice Crump, Burton's "Big Bertha" scorer, certainly gave the Brownwood defense something to think about besides shooting their own baskets. Cleatice was in there giving all for his team, and his scoring ability, coupled with the clever passing of his mates clinched him a place among the best forwards in the state.

Captain Hale played a game that was hard to beat. Alex plays the game with the distinction of his elder brother, who set the conference on fire for four successive years. Hale's accuracy in shooting is unanny, and showed himself a much better man to the club than last year as to pouring the leather through the basket.

Probably more pleasing to Coach Burton than any other phase of the game was the fact that "Taho" Lowes came through in great style, scoring at opportune times, and proving himself an efficient cog in the Burton machine. Taho played with an injured ankle, and replaced the injured Pearson in his first game of college basketball.

In the first game the Buffs led with an 19 to 12 standing, but the Goats so rushed the goal of their opponents in the second half that they threatened to overcome their lead. Chambers was responsible for the scoring of many of the points garnered by the Goats, ringing them from many different angles and distances. Miller worked well on the court for the visitors, and did the close-up work.

Alex waded in and out of the mixture of players in the last game, scored twelve points, and led his men to the second Conference victory of the season. Lowes recovered from his streak of hard luck, and rang the bell for eleven markers, one less than those gathered by Hale and Crump. Lowes covered the lengthy Patterson in good style, and proved his ability to score to the satisfaction of the students. McVickers and Reeves replaced Hill and Crump in the second half of the final fracas, and got into the play in veteran style.

These two last games were the last of a series of road trip games (Continued on page four)

FLATTERY VERSUS TRUTH

Flattery is the curse of the human race; truth is its greatest blessing. Apply this to your everyday life. Flattery tells us what we want to be told, but truth tells us what we should be told.

If you ask me to tell you what I think of a certain trait that you possess, and I tell you something good about it that I do not believe, I am committing a sin against you. On the other hand it is my duty to tell you my opinions concerning the subject of discussion, not too harshly, however. Why are we so prone to ask for another criticism on our work, expecting a long line of compliments? Why do we become angry if the person criticizes the work justly without praising it? It is simply a streak of human nature.

It would probably be all right if flattery should remain the same under the old circumstances. But that is the greatest objection. I may flatter you to your face, but when another asks the same question concerning you, I would have a different story for him. Without doubt, I would tell him exactly what I thought. In fact, there would be a possibility of going to the other extreme. Simply watch these facts and you will find that such exists.

Thus, the two conflicting terms struggle for existence. Flattery makes many proud, vain souls that are headed in a way unfavorable to their continued happiness. But truth cuts the heart like a knife, even when it robs you of your hand-icap and pushes you on to success.

PUBLIC PROPERTY

The rights of others should always be considered as well as our own. This must be applied to public property. Public property is often damaged and at times destroyed because of carelessness or the lack of thought.

Consider the fact that the property belongs to someone. Also, that your careless acts cause an inconvenience to this someone. A careful analyzing of this subject reveals that the damaging of buildings is merely the uncontrolled thievery spirit.

A movement should be made against all disgraceful tactics. This movement will never be made unless public opinion demands it. Why will the public that is being imposed upon not rise against this outrage? Why do they not declare their rights? They declare them in all other regards.

When public opinion does demand justice in the treatment of their belongings, the guilty ones will realize what they are doing. In many cases a realization of the truth is all that is necessary. Furthermore, the public in general owe it to themselves and their friends to find out the source of all destruction. It should not be dropped there, but carried as far as is necessary to obtain justice.

We are in favor of giving credit to the man to whom it is due, and in the place where it is due, and that's just what we're about to do. As you know, one of our outstanding basketball players was ineligible when this term began because of a condition, and he was especially weak in this subject. One of the boys took this athlete in hand, coached him in his work, induced him to study hard, and was well rewarded in his efforts when the athlete made a high mark in the examination which removed the condition. The man who coached the athlete was one Mason Anderson, and he received no remuneration for this coaching except the satisfaction of seeing the student thrill the immense crowds at the last two basketball contests. This, friends, is true school spirit. Now who beat Daniel Baker?

Modern Sports

The small stadium is packed with a gaily colored group of eighty thousand people, the seats having sold at a ridiculously low price of twenty dollars. The game begins. Grange is thrown for a five thousand dollar loss, but completes a short pass for fifty-five hundred simoleons on the next play. On the next down Grange is tackled from behind and seriously sprains the lock on his purse, but bravely stays in the game. Red Grange is thoroughly angered now, and dashes through his opponents' line for thirty dollars and crosses their goal line. It was a spectacular run, and as Grange made the touchdown, five of his competitors were seen to be hanging doggedly to Red Grange's money belt, viciously trying to drag Red Grange down. Red Grange now graciously bows to the cheering throng, and has his teammates distribute crisp new dollar bills to the howling mob. The game is over, and Red Grange's Chinese valet brings him his ice tongs, for Grange just has time to make the afternoon delivery. Headline in the dailies, "Grange Cuts Wisdom Tooth."

Red Hots or Crimson Warmers

We hear that the Red Hots are going to change the name of their organization. They are doing it because of some objections that have been raised as to the various meanings which the appellation may be construed to have. We believe that ninety-nine per centum of the student body hadn't noticed that there was any meaning which might be attached to this name that would call up anything smutty or suggestive. We don't know who it was, and don't want to know who thinks that the name should be changed, but it's a compliment to the rest of the people of the institution that they haven't remarked upon it.

The Elapheian Literary Society will meet in the auditorium Friday evening, February 5, at seven o'clock.

The program will be as follows: Devotional, Fannie Cash; Violin solo, Hallie Adams; Growing Academic Recognition of Dramatic Production, Dorothy Dillard; Vocal solo, Eula Smalley; Reading, Pauline Stephenson.

Boom, Rah, Red Hots

January 24 was an important day for the Red Hots. Aside from electing officers for the ensuing year, a constitution was submitted by a previously appointed committee, and was approved. Enthusiastic plans were made by this peppy of pep squads for the coming ball games.

It takes money to run my business. My expenses are high. If I continue to work for the public, the people I work for must pay me. The very nature of my business does not admit of my going out to collect my bills. I have arranged with Lester Burk, a student in the college to collect for me. This will enable me to be more nearly at my post of duty at all times.

"An Ideal Woman" was the subject discussed at the Young Woman's Christian Association last Wednesday afternoon. The Nineteenth Psalm was read by Mittie Lee Allen as the devotional. The following characteristics of an ideal woman were pointed out by Madge Day: she must be lovable, charming, attractive, healthful, reliable, and thoughtful of others; she must have moral courage to do the thing that is right; she must be loyal to friends, to self, and to principle. Some of the different characteristics will be discussed more fully at the next meeting.

Bufs Win Two on Short Trip

By Oscar Gamel
Wayland and Tech followed the Hill Billy trail to defeat at the hands of the Buffaloes on Friday and Saturday nights. Scores of 33-15 and 32-17 were registered by the Buffs on the short road trip which immediately followed the two games on the home court with Daniel Baker.

Burton's reserves lightened the strain on the first string men at the Wayland match, playing during the last half. The Rabbits, however, ran up the score on the subs, and forced the original five back into the game.

Jack Woodward's officiating came in for much praise from the fans and the players.

Texas Tech's "Mule Barn" proved to be large enough for the Bisons to stage a make-believe stampede and win from the Matadors by a 32-17 score. The Matador's made only two field goals and a free throw during the first half of the game, giving the Buffs a 14 point lead which they held throughout the game.

"Taho" Lowes came into his own against the Bull Fighters, ringing up a total of 16 points for high honors. Tech, intent on watching Crump and Alex Hale, gave Lowes several "Thank You" shots which helped increase his total. Crump and Hale followed in order in the points scored.

BAND VISITS IN 3 COMMUNITIES

Concerts Played at Friona, Farwell and Oklahoma Lane

Having played concerts at Farwell, Oklahoma Lane, and Friona, the Buffalo band returned to Canyon late Saturday night, after a two day trip.

The organization left Friday at noon, as a part of the Lyceum Extension Department of the College, and played its first concert at Farwell that night. Saturday morning they went to Oklahoma Lane, a consolidated rural school eight miles east of Farwell and played the second concert before the Panhandle County Teachers Association, which was meeting at that place. At Oklahoma the band was invited to an old fashioned community dinner and the boys set a record in eating as well as in playing. Saturday night the third concert was played at Friona under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers Association of that place, in their beautiful consolidated high school building.

The Band was accompanied in its programs by Miss Fannie Cash, an interpretative reader, and Mr. Herschel Coffee, violinist, accompanied by Miss Mae Slack.

Calves Defeat Happy By 29-5 Score

Adding two more victories to their record of an undefeated season thus far, the Calves beat the Happy basketball team 29 to 5, and the Bovina aggregation 25 to 19 here last week. Webb is proving himself a coach worthy to train the College high school lads who promise to be full fledged Bisons in a few seasons.

"Spike" Lowes and Brown are showing consistent good form as well as the remainder of the squad. Much interest is being shown by the students in the record that this plucky little squad and their coach are setting.

Dormitory Dope

The following girls from Cousins Hall spent the week end in Amarillo: Misses Johnnie Landis, Wanda Vincent, Mildred Ferguson, Hazel Barton, Maurine Brooks, Winfred Carr, Ernestine Williams, Twila Washburn, Louise Palmer, Vivian Adams, and Maurine Killough. Other Cousins Hall girls who were away for the week end were Miss Mabel McQueen, who visited in Littlefield; Miss Kathleen McDaniel, who visited at Plainview; and Miss Bessie Cobb was at her home in Claude.

The following from Randall Hall were out of town during the week end: Misses Jessie Burson and Elaine Yancy visited at Silverton; Mary Frances Miller and Jo Anna Tolk were in Amarillo; Miss Bobbie Lee Rhoades visited in Slaton; Miss Erna Ward was at her home in Tulsa; Miss Johnnie Terry visited in Happy; Ethel Rice, Lonnie Witherspoon, Temple Travis, and Georgia Robinson visited in Hereford.

Library Unable To Meet Desires of Women's Clubs

Panhandle Teachers Also Rely on Library for Material

With miserably insufficient equipment, the library of West Texas State Teachers College is attempting to serve a great community need.

Frequent calls for program material are made on the library by teachers of the Panhandle; material for debates and declamations is requested by students in rural schools and high schools entering Interscholastic League contests; women's study clubs ask for reference material. The library is making a gallant effort to serve the Panhandle neighborhood, sending out upon request the few books that are not in constant use by resident students.

This library is the only large one in this region of the state, the nearest being public libraries at Fort Worth and Oklahoma City. The lack of large towns and public libraries in the Panhandle makes more pressing the demands upon the one college library.

Inadequate library facilities handicap the teachers college not only in its chief work—professional training of teachers, but also in its social service to the people of the community. This condition will continue until additional appropriation for a library building and a library budget of maintenance is made.

I hereby earnestly solicit your influence and vote.

Revision of The Point System Asked By Students Council

Suggestions For Revision Given Out By Body

A revision of the point system has been advocated by the Students Council due to the fact that it has become insufficient because of the rise of certain organizations to prominence, and the fall of some former important ones into oblivion. This system originated from the necessity of having something to regulate the student activities of the pupils. The point system prevents those pupils who are naturally industrious and possessed of school spirit from being overworked, and gives the offices to students that have been inactive. The revision advocated follows:

Scene From Romeo and Juliet in Drama Club

Two short scenes were presented to the dramatic club Wednesday afternoon. The first, a scene from Romeo and Juliet was given in connection with "After the Honey-moon" a short one-act play.

The scene from Romeo and Juliet is commonly known as the orchard scene, and the way in which it was presented is a fair example of the work done by the advanced dramatic class in Public Speaking. Miss Betty Smalley's interpretation of Juliet is worthy of much commendation and Mrs. Irby Carruth again showed her unusual ability in character work by the effective way in which she played the part of the old nurse.

Members of this advanced class in Public Speaking are doing some very good interpretative work of scenes from Shakespeare's plays.

Band Loses Game to Friona Team by Score of 20 to 19

Displaying the fighting spirit and aggressiveness that is typical of all Buffaloes a basketball team composed of Buffalo Band members lost a hard fought game to the Friona high team Saturday night by the close score of 20 to 19.

In order to give the Friona team a practice game before they are to play a county championship five, members of the band borrowed suits from the Friona boys and after the concert a real basketball game was played. The entire crowd stayed for the game, and about twenty W. T. students made it sound like a real Buffalo game.

The playing was about as impromptu as the game but at times some real basketball was displayed by both teams. The first half ended in a 10 to 10 deadlock and the second half was a battle royal in which neither team had the advantage. The Friona boys scored the winning marker in the last minute while the band boys missed several beautiful shots in the last few seconds. The game was clean and fast and everybody had a big time out of it.

The Buffalo Band line up was as follows: Forwards, Curtice Brown and Mason Anderson; center, Curley Clark; guards, John Randolph and Joe Wholford.
