Panhandle Press Will Be Banquet Guests Friday

More than 100 Panhandle newspaper workers will be guests of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce and the College Friday night at a banquet in Cousins Hall. The annual meeting of the Panhandle Press Association will be held in Amarillo Friday and Saturday.

A special program for the occasion has been arranged by Prof. Olin E. Hinkle, journalism teacher and director of college publications. President J. A. Hill will speak at the banquet as well as several newspaper men. Musical selections will be provided by a college girls' sextet composed of Quixie Bea King, Freddie Charles Bills, Wren Loftin, Betty Jones, Virginia Hohlhaus, and Nell McNeely. O. T. Craig will also sing.

A special feature of the program will be a novelty dance presented by the women's physical education department.

Arrangements are being made to give the visiting newsmen an opportunity to inspect the college plant. Members of college publications staffs may attend the banquet by making reservations with Mr. Hinkle. Tickets are 75 cents if reservations are made in advance.

Cross Demonstrates Dance Lecture at Alpha Chi Meeting

Dancing has been a native tendency toward expression, beginning with a primitive shuffle and heel-toe beat in rhythm to the sound of savage drums and advancing down to the modern "natural" style, according to Miss Ruth Cross, head of the department of physical education for women. Miss Cross spoke at the Alpha Chi meeting Tuesday night.

She demonstrated the general forms of the dance, giving examples of Indian, north European folk dances, the formalized minuet, ballet, and ended with an illustration of the present tendency of dancers like Ted Shawn, who insists that all body movements in the dance shall be natural movements. She was assisted by Naomi Slay at the piano.

With amateur assistance from Alpha Chi the speaker emphasized the recurrence of the beat of tomtoms as a basic rhythm in most dancing. She brought out the fact that dancing was originally a natural emotional outlet which was believed by savage peoples to be pleasing to their gods. Dancing became an "art" only after civilization was well developed.

Alpha Chi met with Mrs. Lee Johnson at her home at 2403 7th ave. After Miss Cross' program, a business meeting was held and tentative plans made for representation of the local chapter at the regional meeting at Conway, Ark.

The report of the nominating committee, which chose Carolyn Dixon as Alpha Chi president for next year, was accepted. Other officers will not be elected until the fall term. Miss Dixon also is president of Omicron Phi, honorary home economics society.

Mrs. Knighton Will Teach Languages

Mrs. Tom K. Knighton has been appointed assistant professor of Spanish to replace Miss Agnes Charleton, who is on leave of absence until the fall semester. Miss Charleton was granted leave of absence because of illness.

Miss Fannie Malone temporarily taught some of Miss Charleton's classes until a full-time instructor could be secured. She will continue to teach French.

AFFILIATION ASKED FOR NEW COURSES IN W. T. HIGH

Deputy State Superintendent J. B. Speer has recently recommended to the State Board of Education that W. T. High School be granted six extra affiliated credits.

New subjects being offered in W. T. High and recommended by Mr. Speer for affiliation included band, orchestra, piano, chorus, violin, and voice.

Miss Ada V. Clark is head of the music department in W. T. High, and Robert Axell is instructor in instruments.

At a meeting of the student-faculty constitution committee yesterday afternoon, a skeleton plan of the proposed constitution was submitted by the student group, and was accepted without alteration by faculty representatives.

Members of the student committee went into session immediately following the joint committee meeting to enlarge on the plan already advanced, and prepared a second and more complete draft for approval by the group next week.

No information was released regarding the nature of the proposed plan. It was understood, however, from unofficial sources, that the new plan provides for organization of the student body, and election of a student president.

Members of the joint faculty-student committee are working in harmony at regular weekly meetings, and plan to have the new constitution completed and ready to be put into effect before the end of the present term of school.

Present at the meeting Monday afternoon were Dean R. P. Jarrett, Dean Geraldine Green, and Miss Ruth Cross, of the faculty committee; Quixie Bea King, Margaret Garner, Dorothy Dickinson, Brynild Vaughan, Lawrence McBee, and Dids Meek, students.

W. T. Delegation To TIPA Meeting Leaves April 20

A delegation representing W. T. publications at the annual meeting of the Texas Intercollegiate Press Association at Kingsville April 22 and 23 will leave here April 20.

Members of the staff of The Prairie or Le Mirage who wish to attend the convention have been invited to apply to Prof. Olin E. Hinkle, director of journalism. Students who make the trip will pay part of their expenses, and their records must be satisfactory with the dean. Contest entries from W. T. were mailed more than a month ago. Winners will be announced at the convention.

Highlight of the two-day program arranged by the staff of the South Texan include a newspaper discussion led by Ed Sayers, editor of the Daily Texan at the University of Texas, talks by prominent Texas newspaper men, and a banquet and dance on the evening of April 23.

George Ray Colvin Will Return to School in Summer

George Ray ("Ramblin'") Colvin, last year an all-American basketball choice, and former West Texas State player in 1935-36, visited in Canyon Sunday and Monday.

Colvin plans to complete his academic work for a bachelor's degree here this summer. Since the basketball crew that he played with this year, Denver Safeways, will not sponsor a team next year, Colvin may give up semi-professional basketball permanently. It is likely that he will turn to coaching.

He played his high school basketball at Turkey, and was on the wonder Buffalo team of 1932. He played two years in amateur ball, and returned to West Texas State in 1936 to continue his formal education. In 1937 he was a unanimous choice for All-American guard at the National A. A. U. Tournament at Denver.

HOLDS MOCK ELECTION

The social science class of W. T. High School held a mock election in class Friday morning at eleven o'clock.

Claude Farley, a college government major and a practice teacher in the class, was in charge of the election. George Mayfield served as student election judge.

The purpose of the election was to instruct students in the correct method of casting a ballot. All of the instruments used in official elections were employed.

Miss Jennie C. Ritchie is the class instructor.

MISS BROWN IMPROVING

Miss Mary Morgan Brown, head of the speech department, has been reported convalescing quite satisfactorily in the Nebbett Hospital here. She was taken to the hospital with a broken hip a few weeks ago.

A poem by Hope Bussey, "I Love a Street," was read over Station KPDN at Pampa April 3. Miss Bussey directs the poetry section of The Prairie.

Noted Speaker

DR. FRANK C. WHITMORE

Chemical Society Banquet Is Open To W. T. Students

Faculty members, students, and citizens interested in the next monthly session of the Panhandle-Plains section of the American Chemical Society may attend by making reservations at once, it was announced yesterday by Dr. C. A. Pierle.

Dr. Pierle is president of the Panhandle-Plains section. The coming meeting is of unusual interest because the main speaker is to be President Frank C. Whitmore of the American Chemical Society. His subject will be "Hydrocarbons."

It will be a banquet session, held in the Blue Room of the Amarillo hotel at 7:30 p. m. Friday. Tickets are $1. Reservations may be sent to the secretary of the section, W. A. Clark, Jr., Box 1605, Amarillo.

"Only rarely are sections privileged to hear the president of the American Chemical Society," Dr. Pierle said. "We are very fortunate in being able to have President Whitmore as our speaker this week."

Late Permissions at Girls' Dormitories Are Suspended

Late permission, recently granted girls living in college-regulated residences, has been suspended until April 29.

Mrs. Geraldine Green, dean of women, announced the suspension and said the plan was temporary and results were being checked.

The concession, which was first accorded March 23 and was effective for three weeks, gave dormitory girls special 11 o'clock permission on Saturday and Sunday nights and 12 o'clock permission on Friday night.

Teachers Give Contrasting Opinions On Recent Storm

By Gonda Biggers

"Did you ever see a storm as bad as this?"

Responses to this question during the blizzard Friday were varied and in contrast so far as those members of the College faculty, who have been here fairly large fractions of a century are concerned.

"Well," said Prof. W. E. Lockhart in answer to the question, "I have been in this country about twenty years, and this isn't near as bad as one we had back in 1923. That one lasted three days and nights. So much dirt blew in Room 202 that every typewriter had to be taken apart and every part washed in gasoline then put back together before it would work. I'll tell you tomorrow which is worse. In 1923, it was absolutely dry, and the dust was heavier."

Prof. J. L. Duflot, who came here in 1918, said, "I've never seen anything like it. We did have one this bad in the spring of 1919. It lasted two or three days; the wind wasn't as strong though."

Prof. W. E. Savage cleared his throat, inserted a Southern drawl and spoke thusly, "Wal, I been in this country since the eighth day of August thirty years ago. It's the 'rust' I've seen at this time of year. It is, without a doubt, the most disagreeable and most damaging I have ever seen. I've seen worse blizzards in winter time," he added hastily to prove the theory of the survival of the caloused.

Mrs. T. V. Reeves, director of the Bureau of Public Service and a long time resident of thirty years, assured the reading public that this is the worst she has seen or hopes to see.

Prof. L. S. Baker, chose to write his own statement. Here it is, "D—."

Date for P. P. H. S. Banquet Changed To April 22nd

Inclement weather forced postponement of the annual Panhandle-Plains Historical Banquet to April 22. It was scheduled for Friday night. No changes in the program have been announced.

Judge James D. Hamlin of Farwell will be toastmaster for the occasion, and Col. R. P. Smythe, president of the Society, will preside at a business session held in the afternoon of April 22.

Dr. E. E. Dale, head of the history department of the University of Oklahoma, will be the guest speaker. He will speak on "The Romantic Cow Country." Dr. Dale is a former cowboy, home steader deputy sheriff and itinerant preacher of the Plains.

Music for the occasion will include a vocal solo by Mrs. Guy Carlander of Amarillo, accompanied by John Josey of Amarillo, and a violin solo by Mrs. John Josey, accompanied by Mr. Josey.

Amarillo High Wins In Annual One-Act Play Competition

"The Trysting Place," a one-act play by Booth Tarkington, was given first place in the District 1 tournament here Saturday, putting the Amarillo players who presented it into the regional meet here April 23.

The successful play was directed by Miss Orelia Jane Cornelius. It concerns the romantic affairs of a mother, daughter, and son, particularly the latter's affections for a young widow. Members of the cast were Martin Walker, Roberta Newell, Jack Gouldy, Betty Hughes, Dickey Dye, Etta Lou Propst, and Ned Wellis. Elizabeth Morris was in charge of make-up. The decision of the judges was unanimous.

Kress high school went into the finals with Amarillo, presenting "Jealousy Plays a Part," directed by Miss Helen Yeats. Members of the cast were Verla Mae Wimberly, Betty Jo Foster, Virginia Drake, Betty Elliott, Mauverne Gaffard, Herbert Gains, and Jesse Richardson.

Other competing schools were Dumas, Adrian, Dimmitt, and Friona. Several teams, because of the severe storm, did not arrive. The judges heard all of the plays, then selected the two finalists. Different judges picked the district representative. Prof. Leon Lassers of the speech department directed the tournament.

Annual League Contests Are Next Friday and Saturday

Delegates From All Clubs Are Asked to Meet with Council

Every club in W. T. regardless of its nature is asked to have a representative at a special meeting of the Interclub Council Thursday morning in Room 211, Robert Orton has announced.

Plans for a student enrollment campaign will be mapped at the meeting. President J. A. Hill has agreed to give a short address on the College expansion program.

Class presidents are also urged to attend or send representatives.

Ray Cox Accepts Appointment to Randolph Field

Ray Cox, junior from Vernon, has accepted an appointment to Randolph Field in San Antonio. He will leave for San Antonio July 1. The first month of work will consist chiefly of military instruction, after which preliminary training and examination, he will begin the actual flying. After completing three years in Randolph field, he will be eligible for a lieutenant or commercial service.

Mr. Cox has been active in athletic activities during his three years in W. T. He played freshman and varsity football, and won the Golden Gloves lightweight championship in Amarillo this winter.

Informal Exercises Held for Buffalo T Club Initiates

Nine pledges were initiated into Buffalo T Club, organization for men having lettered in some varsity sport, Thursday night in Burton Gymnasium. The informal exercise was supervised by Oscar Hinger, president of the organization.

New members of the club include: Jack Edmondson, Carl Matney, Doyle Bunch, Edwin Williams, Leon Williams, Floyd Murry, Donald Kendrick, Ernest Schur, and R. V. Wood.

Plans for the annual spring banquet and dance for the formal opening of Buffalo Courts were considered. This event was started last year, and the club plans to continue it.

I. R. C. Members Report Conference

Reports on the International Relations Club Conference at Roswell were heard at a meeting of the local organization Wednesday night. Members who attended the Roswell meeting March 18-19 talked on the program there.

About fifteen heard the talks by Brynild Vaughan, T. S. Stevenson, Nancy Bridges, Betty Lou O'Brien, Alma Miller, and Prof. Paul Benbrook. Speakers reviewed addresses given at the Roswell meeting. They discussed the economy of world peace, foreign relations at the present, and the general benefits gained from the conference.

Here Are Workable Assembly Excuses Pick Your Favorite!

Illness is the most often repeated reason filed by W. T. students for not attending assembly, according to Registrar D. A. Shirley.

A large number of students report "a cold," "sick with a cold," "sick in bed," and a few merely report "in bed," which may not always be a relevant excuse.

It might be unfair to brand "went home," "sprained ankle," "had to cook lunch," "nose bleeds" as ingenuitous reasons; however, a report that "I sat in the wrong seat" does seem more definite and logical.

Though it is difficult to secure figures on the subject, many persons believe that there is a definite correlation between the number of students who find it necessary to miss assembly and the type assembly program scheduled.

Mr. Shirley reports that attendance in assembly goes in a very definite cycle. Attendance is low during periods when colds prevail; where as, during favorable health periods attendance is almost 100%.

Annual Interscholastic League contests of District 1 will bring contestants from twelve counties to the campus Saturday to determine entries in the regional eliminations held here April 23. Afternoon classes Friday and Saturday will be dismissed, but those in the morning will be held as usual.

Preliminaries in track and field events will open at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at Buffalo Field. Amarillo, last year's winner, is again among those favored to win, though Claude and Tulla promise stiff competition.

Literary Events Friday

Literary events will begin at 1 p. m. Friday and will be concluded that day with the exception of debates, according to Prof. W. E. Savage, director of the meet.

Tennis eliminations directed by Prof. W. E. Lockhart will start at 9 a. m. Friday on the College courts. Golf competition will take place at the Canyon Country Club course under the direction of Clyde Posey, manager of the College golf course.

Season tickets good for all events will cost 50 cents. Admission to sections of the meet will range from 10 to 25 cents. All funds received will be rebated to contestants on a mileage basis after expenses of the meet have been paid.

CLIFFORD WHITEHURST RECOVERING FROM OPERATION

Clifford Whitehurst, sophomore and a resident of Stafford Hall, has been removed to his home in Fort Worth following a major operation at the Nebbett Hospital here. Word received from his family indicates that he is recovering satisfactorily and that he hopes to return here for the summer session.

San Jacinto Day Program Planned For April 21

A special program will be held here April 21, the date which marks the 102nd anniversary of the Battle of San Jacinto which gave Texas her independence from Mexico. It also marks the passage of the bill which provided for the Texas teachers colleges.

A San Jacinto Day pageant will be presented by students of the W. T. Training School and other features of the program will commemorate the birthday of the teachers colleges. A well-known speaker will be invited to speak at the program, though the speaker has not yet been selected. Dr. J. A. Hill said yesterday.

No plans for a Mothers and Dads Day program on the same day have been released, though such a day was planned last year.

Arrangements for the program have not been completed, though Dr. Hill with other members of the faculty are working on plans for the celebration.

Dean Green and Dr. Wiley Attend Meet University Women

Mrs. Geraldine Green, dean of women, and Dr. Margaret Lee Wiley, associate professor of English, attended the seventh biennial conference of the American Association of University Women at San Antonio Thursday and Friday.

The meeting, which was held at the Plaza Hotel, mainly was devoted to discussions dealing with the raising of standards of education and facilities for women students in American colleges. Deans of women or representatives of their offices from every teachers' college in Texas were present.

Dr. Wiley presided at one of the sectional meetings, at which "Plans for Social Studies" was the theme.

Mrs. Green and Dr. Wiley left Wednesday for the conference and returned Monday.

Total Enrollment for Current Session Has Reached 1,017

W. T.'s enrollment has reached 1,017 for the current long session.

Total enrollment for the last previous session was 1,010. Present enrollment includes 41 students from ten states other than Texas. Oklahoma leads the out-of-state groups with 15, followed by New Mexico with 13. Far-off Pennsylvania has three native sons in W. T. Eighty-one counties of Texas are represented.

Correspondence students, those doing extension work, and pupils of the Demonstration school account for more than a thousand other enrollees. The summer session likely will add considerably more than a thousand students to the year's totals.

four bits by bill

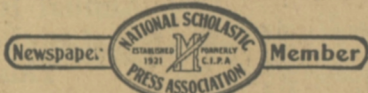

After the duster Friday, oldsters who once boasted of having attended school in a building with a dirt floor should stand by and listen to W. T. students tell of attending school in a building where everything was dirt.

The large per cent of students who say they would go to war under no circumstances, gives us reason to wonder how many members of the A. E. F. said and thought that before the World War.

Looking over the college exchanges for last week, it is difficult to find a single regular columnist who stayed on the job. Members of class edition staffs took over the typewriters for a week. All of which reminds us that classes here wishing to publish special editions should make arrangements immediately.

Clubs wishing to be of service to the school should make a special effort to have representatives at the meeting of the Inter Club Council Thursday morning at 11 o'clock in Room 211.

BRING YOUR OWN FRESHMAN

Make "West Texas State College for West Texas Students" your own personal slogan. W. T. is growing. The major improvements and radical changes that are taking place with the shift to the general college plan are making this institution a real college of West Texas more so than it has ever been before. Pledge your own support, as a student, to help make W. T. a real institution.

Every student is going to be given the opportunity to do his part in the new plan of expansion. A movement has been started, and is being carried out with the co-operation of all campus clubs and organizations, to bring about an immediate increase in the enrollment and growth of the college.

The plan is this: Every member of every campus organization, every student on the W. T. campus, will be asked to pledge his support, and to use his influence in trying to bring at least one new student to West Texas State next fall. The plan was originated by a student organization, and is being carried out through student initiative. With spirit such as that, any college can become great.

RAIN REMINISCENCE

I've seen rain in China come down
soft and slow
Amid the whining music and magic lantern glow;
I've seen rain in Singapore come drenching fine
And sharp across the window where
I used to dine;
I've seen rain in Tucuman come drifting down
The Andes—heavy, soft—to melt into the town;
I've seen rain in Texas, violent and filled
With wind, come suddenly—and be as quickly stilled.

I've seen rain blood-red, yellow,
black, and white
With sleet—I've seen it all, and with a strange delight;
Clean fish-smell, the bedding sunlight's yellow glance,
The peace that follows rain—a pure,
ecstatic trance,
Dripping leaves a-tremble yet, and
jeweled blooms,
The stuffy, brackish air of newly-opened rooms—
After cold and wind and dust, the sound of rain
Is like a half-forgotten old song sung again.

SOFTLY FLOW THE MIDNIGHT HOURS

Softly flow the midnight hours
Into the sea of morning,
And far above, the moonlit clouds
The heavens are adorning;
While of his presence in the trees
The hooting owl gives warning.

Gently glow the misty stars
From heaven's inky spaces;
The dew falls heavy from the sky
Upon green velvet laces,
Almost as if a thousand eyes
Wept from angelic faces.

Sadly do I tread this spot
With shoulders bowed in mourning,
Where long ago my love from me
Was taken without warning,
While softly flowed the midnight
hours
Into the sea of mourning.
—Houston Bright.

SONG OF THE NEGLECTED CO-ED

Nobody loves me;
Nobody hates me;
Nobody snubs me;
Nobody dates me;
No one ignores me;
And no one stares;
Nobody Loves me;
Nobody cares.

TO DO
By Fred Hart

Beginning this week (both of my loyal Readers) you will find—after close scrutiny—four names scattered through this column. The names are selected without any prejudice. We run a pencil down a column of names in the student directory and the lucky name it stops on will be the proud owner of a free pass which entitles him or her to attend a movie of their choice on any day of the current week. Merely drop in at the publications office in the Administration Building and the ticket will be given to you. Here are the movies you may choose from:

Tonight only, two of you may see "Over The Goal," with June Travis, Johnnie Davis, and Mabel Todd. Yes that's right, the show is a little out of season. But Johnnie Davis can make a movie look good just about anywhere anytime. And Mabel Todd is not just about the craziest thing that ever walked, she is. The two just mentioned make the cinema play worth seeing; without them it would be a flop.

It is rumored that W. C. Fields does not do his best work in the "Big Broadcast of 1938," but this little reporter begs to contradict this rumor with a capital C. W. C. looks mighty fitting from where I am sitting, and I feel sure you will say the same after you have seen him either Wednesday or Thursday at the Olympic.

His nose stands out like a California cherry on a grapevine, and I think his performance in this movie does too. Ben Blue adds his bit also. He is my pet comedian, with his distinctive gyrations of his hands. Shep Fields and his rippling rhythm appear on the screen for the first time. Martha Raye opens her mouth even larger this time, emanating gusts that surprise even her most devout followers. Anna Kathryn Overton. For a swell time do not fail to see this one.

The best show that has been offered to you students on Friday for the current month is "She's Got Everything" highlighting Gene Raymond and Ann Southern in the stellar roles. For a dime you can hardly afford to miss this one. Miss Southern does some creditable acting and combining her and handsome Raymond, things move along so nicely you don't find time to be critical of the show itself. June Weast, "She's Got Everything," will be keen fun for everyone.

Imagine Kathryn Hepburn playing in a comedy part would be like picturing Babe Ruth indulging in a marble tournament. But she did. J. D. Rainer. And it is plenty keen. The transition from tragedy to comedy has increased her admirers no end. June Cope. With her in "Bringing Up Baby," is Cary Grant, who helps the cast. The main idea is "man chased women until she catches him" and is carried out to its fullest extent. Miss Hepburn used distinctly new and different methods in bagging the one she wants to pour coffee for her in the mornings. She does though. Scheduled for Saturday midnight, Sunday and Monday.

"Hitting A New High," starring Lily Pons and Jack Oakie is shown for Saturday night only. Millard Nobles. Even if it were played on bargain nights it would not have been a bargain at half price. Miss Pons has a role that could be played by a canary bird much better. Oakie is inexcusable. Not suggested. Definitely!

W. T. High School Senior Play 'Goes On' Despite Storm

Despite inclement weather, the old adage of the stage, "The show must go on," burned so strongly in the minds of the twelve members of the cast, "American, Very Early," that the twentieth century drama was presented by the Senior Class in the auditorium of the Demonstration School Thursday night as scheduled.

The production will be presented again tomorrow night at 8 o'clock, it has been announced.

All action of the play was in the "Old Caddo place" in Botville. Leading feminine players were Cleo Bourland and Kaki Westmoreland, with Duane Legge and Edward Lane in the leading masculine roles.

The drama was a satire on an art-dealers racket complicated by local hillbillies. The supporting cast of billies included: A. G. Thornton, Clarabel Russell, Luther Archer, Branch Archer, Anna Dell Sligar, Douglas Groom, Ida Martha Pierle, Mary Gidden, Don Olson, Coystall Tabor, Bessie Lane, Jean Byars, Evangeline Baker, Billie Cass Harter, and Mrs. Laura Lou Miller.

Eula Frazier, college speech major, was director. She was assisted by Mary Elizabeth Courage, also a college speech major, and Miss Helen White Moore, the class sponsor.

The knowledge of music some of the college students possess startles even the students at times. Last week at the senior play, RAY COX and ANNETTE WHITE were trying to decide which number the orchestra was playing. Says RAY, "Must be 'Over the Waves.'" Replied MISS WHITE, "No, it's 'The Waltz You Saved for Me.'" (It was the famous "Blue Danube.") It's been rumored that the above couple dance more than the ordinary person—yet you can't tell me that music makes a difference. Music is only something to think about while you are dancing.)

Most embarrassing moment for CONWAY BUTLER when DIDS MEEK went to Government class with both eyes still shut with sleep, and shouted so the whole class could hear, "Now, I want to sit by CONWAY." Mr. Butler still practices the maidenly art of blushing.

ANN MILLAN believes in working on the run. Saturday she developed a bad case of runitis in the left stocking. At about the same time, the Buff malady took hold of her active self, so—MISS MILLEN left the needle and thread in her stocking, and mended the run (two stitches at a time) every place she stopped.

THE OLD APPLE TREE

Oh, the old apple tree in the orchard,
Lives in my memory,
'Cause it reminds me of my pappy
He was handsome, young and happy
When he planted the old apple tree.

Oh, one day pappy took Widder Norton
Out on a jamboree
And when he brought her in at sun-
up,
Brother Norton raised his gun up
And chased Pappy up in the tree.

Oh, the neighbors came for my Pappy
Up in the tree was he,
And then they took a rope and strung him
By the neck and then they hung him
To a branch of the old apple tree.

Oh, poor Pappy lies in the orchard
Out of his misery
They put the apples in a basket
Cut the tree down for a casket
And now Pappy's gone with the tree.

Say goodbye, say goodbye,
Say goodbye to the old apple tree.
If my Pappy had 'a knowed it
He never would have growed it
'Cause he died on the old apple tree.

BECOMES FOREST RANGER

Delbert Jones, who was graduated from W. T. High School in 1935, has recently taken a position as forest ranger with the Arizona Forest Service.

Jones is stationed at the "Turkey Butte" Lookout Station near Phoenix, Ariz.

To be a forest ranger was a childhood ambition of the W. T. ex, and his brother, Norvel, a student in W. T. High, reports that he is well pleased with the position except that it "gets a little lonesome at times."

W. T. Hitch-Hiker Lands Job Despite Blizzard and Snow

Patricia Wederbrook, senior, had to be in Groom by 2 o'clock. She saw the bus at the corner, and dashed, without hat, to catch it. She rode to Amarillo on the bus and discovered that there was no bus to Groom because of snow. What do? Patricia, ever resourceful, went to the court house, into the highway patrol office, and asked an officer if the road was open to Groom.

She was told that the line was clear, but no trains were running. Pat told him that she had to be in Groom by 2 o'clock and asked how she could get there.

"Where's your party?"
"I'm alone," said Pat.
"Do you have any baggage?" asked the Chief.

"No," was her answer.
"Are you ready?"
"As soon as I get my glasses on," Pat told him.

Two patrol men took her to Groom in a special highway patrol car. When she finished her business, Patricia discovered that she was stranded again.

Miss Wederbrook inquired at a filling station about a ride back to Amarillo, and found that Mr. Ira Unsell wanted his car driven back to Canyon. Mr. Unsell serviced the car, and Pat returned alone.

ALLEN & BLACK

Joe DiMaggio

has something to say about how different cigarettes can be!

"How about it, Joe, do you find that Camels are different from other cigarettes?"

"Any all-cigarettes-are-alike talk doesn't jibe with my experience. There's a big difference. I've smoked Camels steadily for 5 years, and found that Camel is the cigarette that agrees with me, in a lot of ways. Good taste. Mildness. Easy on the throat. And Camels don't give me jumpy nerves. Like a lot of people I know, I'd walk a mile for a Camel!"

BILL GRAHAM, seeing Joe DiMaggio pull out Camels, asked his opinion on smoking. Joe answered: "There's a big difference between Camels and others." You, too, will find in Camels a matchless blend of finer, more expensive tobaccos—Turkish and Domestic.

"TOBACCO GROWERS FAVOR CAMELS FOR THEIR SMOKING!"

— is the majority opinion in a survey of successful, well-known tobacco planters

"When Camel says 'costlier tobaccos' I know it's right," says Mr. Edward Estes, capable young planter, who knows tobacco from the ground up because he grows it. "Take my last crop, for instance. Camel bought all the best parts—paid me the most I've ever gotten. The men who grow tobacco know what to smoke—Camels!"

"Last year I had the dandiest crop ever," says Mr. Roy Jones, another experienced planter who prefers Camels. "I smoke Camels because I know they bid higher and pay more at the auctions for the choice lots of leaf tobacco. They paid the highest price I ever got from anybody. Considering that Camel uses finer, costlier tobaccos, it's not surprising that Camel is the leading cigarette with us planters."

Mr. Harold Craig, too, bases his preference for Camels on what he knows about the kinds of tobaccos that go into the various cigarettes. "I get the check—so I know that Camels use more expensive tobaccos. Camel got the best of my last crop. That holds true with most planters I know, too. You bet I smoke Camels."

Popular Fite-Nite Excites Large Crowd

Barron Topples Watkins In Prize Boxing Test

By Lyndard Riley

Speed and muscle had their heyday Tuesday night in Burton Gym as twenty-eight young gladiators left their table manners at home and threw leather at each other.

History repeated itself as the fifth annual Fite Nite got away before an enthusiastic blood-thirsty crowd. The program started at 8 o'clock and lasted until 10:30 o'clock with not a walk-out being registered against the eager and anxious leather-slingers and hair-pullers.

Watkins and Barron Take Honors
Individual honors for the night went to Royce Barron and Foster Watkins, middleweights. They slugged it out from the opening gong, and the crowd loved it. Barron went through the ropes in the first round when Watkins caught him neatly on the chin with a hard right. He bounced right back in without a count. In the second both boys came out with a rush, put their heads together and throwing caution to the winds, machine-gunned leather at each other. In the third, Barron warmed up to the business at hand, sending Watkins to the canvas with a windmill swing. Watkins was hurt, but came up at the count of two. The final round found both boys tired but both kept boring in shooting rights and lefts. Barron was awarded the close decision.

Wilbur Wofford, featherweight, won by decision from Lawrence Hodges. Wofford, while defensive piled up points on his opponent's errors. Hodges was a willing fighter and tried hard to connect with his right hand but could not pierce Wofford's defense.

Joe Bailey, popular lightweight, won his weight for the third consecutive year by punching out a decisive win over Allen Plummer. Bailey used a murderous "one-two"—sweeping Plummer's guard away with his left hand, then bringing in a straight right flush to the face. He had Plummer clawing for the ropes in the first and third rounds.

Kendrick Battles Pietzsch
J. E. Pietzsch, powerfully built heavyweight, and the Southwestern A. A. U. champion, put up a calm fight in decisioning Donald Kendrick. Neither fighter was ever in danger of a knockout and Kendrick was given an ovation by the fans in staying with the ever-dangerous A. A. U. champ for the full limit.

In the 148 pound division Ray Cox, employing a tricky, shift style of boxing, got a clean cut win over Michael Petrucci of East Rutherford, N. J. Petrucci, a human windmill, was outclassed by the veteran Cox, a Panhandle Golden Glove champion. He started out at a fast gait but Cox met every charge with a counter of his own, getting inside Petrucci's roundhouse swings and forcing him into the corners where his close-in fighting had Petrucci on the floor, in the fourth, for the count of six.

"Scoop" Elliston and Joe Hayes threw everything but the water bucket at each other in another brisk scrap in the middleweight division. Fighting hard all the way and piling up points on aggressiveness, Elliston won the judges' nod. Though neither fighter was ever on the floor, Elliston early in the fight had Hayes in trouble, opening a cut over Hayes' eye.

The night's boxing action came to a close with Jim Foust and Tom Slack mixing in the lightweight division. Slack, a southpaw, put up a game fight against the Panhandle Golden Glove sensation, but could not cope with the trip-hammer force of Foust's flicking lefts and rights. Slack set Foust on the floor for the count of six in the fourth, but was himself downed seconds later.

Bill French and Fred Allen opened the wrestling festivities in the 138 pound class. French pinned his man in 5.05 with a combination crotch and half-Nelson. Floyd Murray had to rely on the judges for a decision over Lee Gordon. Murry was completely the aggressor but could not pin Gordon's shoulders in the allotted time.

Jennings Repeats as Winner
Jack Jennings, veteran wrestler put on the flashiest exhibition of the night in pinning speedy Ernie Schur for the 155 pound medal. Jennings caught Schur in a half-Nelson then flipped him on the back to take the fall in the time of 3:15. Monroe Horton, Buffalo wrestling team captain and Southwestern Intercollegiate champion, gave an exhibition of cool, scientific wrestling in pinning Scott Neal in 1 minute and 25 seconds. He used a half-Nelson and body-smother to bring about the fall.

Wrestling judges gave the decision to Blake Lyde over Herbert Mason in the light-heavy division. Leon Williams outclassed Doyle Bunch, who was subbing for the sick Reese Nowlin, in the unlimited wrestling weight. He pinned

Grid Fever Hits Buff Candidates As Training Opens

Football fever will rise to a high temperature this week, when strenuous spring training gets underway today on Buffalo Field under the tutelage of Coaches Al Baggett, Tony Dougal and Bob Cox.

A host of grid aspirants, sixty-three in number, have indicated a hankering for the season's tryouts. Eighteen of this number are lettermen and five are squadmen. The remainder are fresh from the Yearling corps. Lost by graduation are such standouts as Captain Si Marchbanks, Oscar Hinger, William Harp, Craig Walling, Thomas Slack, Lwood Dow and Conway Butler. Absent from the lineup, too, is Edwin Williams, plucky center from Greenville, who suffered a severe neck injury last fall.

Five Vie at Fullback
Of the vacant spots, the hardest to fill will be at fullback. The four waging a heated scrap for the position are Raymond Evans, Happy; Jim Foust, Littlefield; John Buckuniewicz, Shenandoah, Pa.; Bill Strain, Canyon. Foust is given the inside track by virtue of his sterling line plunging on last fall's aggressive Yearling squad. Bill Strain is the mystery of the group, but mentors brand him as a fine prospect.

Buckuniewicz obtained his experience on northern turfs, and should not weaken the strength of the club.

Center is Question-mark
Another question mark focuses about the tip-off slot vacated by Marchbanks and Williams. Aspiring are lettermen Melvyn Cullen, Jack Edmondson, Carl Matney, tennis player is about the tops, but Skeen laments the fact that the best of the weaker sex cannot stand up to the wicked slashes of the mediocre masculine player. In mixed doubles play, it is the side that has the stronger woman player that wins, almost invariably.

Two local aspirants, Norton Curry and Glyndon Riley, challenged the professionals to doubles play, and fell 6-3. It is your correspondent's candid opinion, however, that the two Pacific Coasters had perfect control over the situation, and could have chopped the performance a bit more rapidly if they had taken the notion.

This Panhandle wind perturbed the netters considerably Sunday morning while performing at Amarillo. Skeen commented at mid-time that "The wind has died down a lot hasn't it?"

Faunce's retort was, "Yeah, it's down to a hurricane now."

EASTER IS THE DAY OF HAPPINESS

Your thoughtfulness is going to be measured by the gift you send to your beloved. Make good with a remembrance that will please her.

REMEMBER—WOMEN NEVER FORGET . . .

Chocolates on every occasion . . . It's the world's best flatterer. For your beloved you want the best of course! That's why we know that she prefers Pangburn's Better Candies.
