

Appropriations For W. T. Are Increased

Bill Passed Legislature Saturday Before Closing

During the closing hours of the legislature, the appropriation bill for educational institutions was passed Saturday by the legislature. A slight increase was made in all appropriations, but the heavy cut made two years ago was not restored for any of the state institutions and departments.

The money allowed for W. T. was $150,487 for each of the coming two years. In addition to this the summer school for next year will receive $14,798, the same amount allowed for the session this summer. No appropriation was passed for the summer session, 1935, in view of the fact that the regular session of the legislature will be held before the opening of the summer session that year.

The appropriation allowed during the past two years amounted to $135,717, making an increase of $14,770 allowed in the bill which has just been passed.

Governor Allred has 20 days in which to act upon the appropriation bills. He has not had time to study the bills to determine whether or not he will veto any of the items allowed by the legislature.

Approximately 500 H.D. Club Women Meet Here Thurs.

Horton From A. & M. Is Chief Speaker At Sessions

"Home demonstration work is in the pioneer stage and farm women are blazing the trail," said Miss Mildred Horton, Home Demonstration Agent of College Station in her address on "Women as Pioneers" before approximately five hundred women who met here Thursday for the annual Home Demonstration Short Course.

Miss Horton told in her address of the contributions of Mrs. Dickinson at the Alamo, of Mary Austin Holley during Texas colonization period, and compared the work done by home demonstration women today with the contributions of the aforementioned pioneer women. Although home demonstration work is in the pioneer stage, it is being done by Professor Stuart Johnston of W. T. Dr. Stirtion stated that the fossil beds of the Palo Duro Canyon are especially valuable because they represent an upper plicene formation and are bringing to light fossils which show the development of a horse. Dr. Stirtion says that the beds in the Palo Duro show life as it was approximately five million years ago. He was surprised and much pleased at the program of work in the field of paleontology which the college and museum have planned. He declared that soon Canyon would have a college which would bring scientists from every part of the nation to see it.

California Prof. Visits Fossils Bed in Palo Duro

Dr. R. A. Stirtion, professor of Vertebrate paleontology in the University of California, visited the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum this week.

Dr. Stirtion, who is in Texas to supervise some excavations, was much interested in the work which is being done by Professor Stuart Johnston of W. T. Dr. Stirtion stated that the fossil beds of the Palo Duro Canyon are especially valuable because they represent an upper plicene formation and are bringing to light fossils which show the development of a horse. Dr. Stirtion says that the beds in the Palo Duro show life as it was approximately five million years ago. He was surprised and much pleased at the program of work in the field of paleontology which the college and museum have planned. He declared that soon Canyon would have a college which would bring scientists from every part of the nation to see it.

While in the Panhandle, Dr. Stirtion was guest of Floyd V. Stunder in Amarillo and of Stuart Johnston in Canyon.

Ben Guill and Winston Savage, both ex-students, have been selected to aid with the vacation activities of the children of Pampa. Savage is to direct band activities and Guill is to have charge of other phases of the vacation program.

Leo Wright, '19, is now living in the Red Hill school district in Swisher county, where he is serving on the school board.

Ruby Keeling, '30, is now Mrs. James M. Montgomery. She also lives in the Red Hill community.

T-Anchor Farm Completes Very Successful Year

Six Men For Next Year's Positions Are Selected

"A successful year for the T-Anchor Farm," announces T. M. Moore, professor of Agriculture, in his survey at the close of the year. Professor Moore is in charge of the farm which is operated entirely by student labor, having its young men carefully selected by Mr. Moore each year from the applications of hundreds of high school graduates over the Panhandle. Aside from helping forty boys defray the necessary college expenses, the farm serves as a partial laboratory for the College Agricultural Department, and supplies Grade A milk to the college dormitories and cafeteria.

Foremost among this year's achievements has been the construction of a five-room rock house to be occupied on June 1 by six boys. This building, constructed of native rock and by student labor, was built with slightly less than $400. It consists of three bedrooms, a kitchen, and a common study room. The house is attractively situated near the Canyon-Amarillo highway on a hill overlooking the farm, the Palo Duro Creek, and the city of Canyon.

An irrigation project conducted on the farm this winter has turned out fruitfully. A fourteen-acre plot of ground situated beneath the artificial farm lake was irrigated through pipes from the lake and made to yield enough pasture to materially reduce feed costs for the dairy herd. The lake is fed by a large spring.

The lake is being converted into a scenic spot to provide a college recreation ground. Two hundred trees, most of which are willows and cottonwoods, are now being planted around the lake.

Next year the farm will co-operate with the Dalhart Soil Erosion authorities in an experiment to control wind erosion on T-Anchor. Efforts in this direction may reveal methods of erosion control for this particular region.

Six of the forty positions for young men on the farm have been filled for next year. They are: Fred Thompson, honor graduate of Samnorwood; Roy Marshall, Cee Vee (Cottle Co.); Marvin Porter, Conlen; Howard E. Boatman, high point judging champion of Tulsa; Claude Miller, Friona; and James Blaine, Claude. Many boys of the present personnel will continue at the farm. George S. Gandy of Tulsa and John W. Blaine of Claude will graduate and leave the farm this spring. Gandy has worked at the farm through all four years of his college career. Applications for places on the college farm are being received by Mr. Moore.

Texas History to Be Stressed During Summer Term

Summer students of W. T. will have splendid opportunity to acquaint themselves with Texas history in preparation for their work during the centennial year.

The summer session is divided into two six-week terms and during the first term Professor L. F. Sheffy will give a course called "History of the Great Plains." Persons who enroll for this course will find that northwest Texas has a history of interesting and heroic as that of the older sections of the state.

During the second six weeks term, which begins July 15, Professor Sheffy will teach Texas history covering the period from 1836 to 1936.

The college has planned also to have available many program outlines for use during the centennial year and lists of books will be available to persons who want to familiarize themselves with Texas history and development.

Emmett Smith, an ex-student of W. T. and who for the last four years has been employed in the Pampa Junior high school, was elected principal of the Brownfield high school.

Taken By Death

MRS. PHEBE K. WARNER

LITTLE BROWN WREN SUCCUMBS TO PNEUMONIA

CHAMPIONED CAUSE OF FARM WOMEN DURING LIFETIME

Mrs. Phebe K. Warner, the "Little Brown Wren of the Panhandle," died of pneumonia at her home in Claude at 7:25 o'clock Tuesday night.

Mrs. Warner, one of the most beloved characters in West Texas, is best known by her accomplishments which were aimed to lighten the burden of the farm woman.

To West Texas State Teachers College Mrs. Warner made her last trip about a month ago when she came to this college for a visit. During the 25th Anniversary Celebration, Mrs. Warner made an address in which she pointed out the value of this institution to West Texas.

Mrs. Warner was the widow of the late Dr. William A. Warner, pioneer Armstrong County physician, who died at Claude, July 31, 1934.

Practice Teachers Get Training In Directing Activities

Many of the seniors who will go out from W. T. this year to teach will have had first-hand experience in directing student activities, in addition to their formal work in the classroom. The practice teachers and observers in the departments of science, English, music and public speaking have been particularly active in learning the workings and problems of organizing and directing the extra-curricular activities now so much in demand by progressive group activities in their respective schools will appear less formidable to these students for having served an apprenticeship beforehand.

During the fall term one of the English classes presented a dramatization from "The Lady of the Lake" at assembly, under the direction of Mildred Windsor. The same class prepared a newspaper on "The Tempest," under the guidance of Ross Buckner, Bobbie Woodring, and Miss Brown.

The assembly programs for the year were planned, in the fall by Martina Anderson, and in the second term, by Elizabeth Jameson, both public speaking majors.

The science students enjoyed the activities of the Science Club which was organized by Elmo Scott and directed by him, with the assistance of Frances Holman. A science project on textile dyes and cleaning was conducted under the direction of Lois Kirby.

The Spanish Club was directed by Lucy Blair during the first term, and by Mrs. Rucker during the second. Miss Helen Yeats, Spanish major, assisted with the Spanish-Latin banquet held recently.

The class program presented by forty sophomores, and the National Honor Society assembly program was in charge of La Trice Quattlebaum of the Music Department, and Martina Anderson of the Speech Department. The Christmas sing-song, in which carols sung in English, Latin, and Spanish, was conducted by Frances Alice Clark and Louise Jacobsen, music majors. The Christmas program of the Spanish Club was under the direction of Myrtle Mae (Continued on page two)

Browsing Thru Le Mirage With A Reporter

"Hey! John Doe! Wait up and write in my annual or autograph one of these shots of your beaming pan." And as usual the seniors led the hubbub by getting their annuals before anyone else. If you haven't been stopped yet, you will soon for these dignified, conceited, egotistical—well, after all, they earned it—seniors got their copies of Le Mirage yesterday. In the mad scramble today, you may be lucky enough to grab yours; so rush right down to the Publications Office and make the crowd grow. And I'll bet that if you didn't hand over the remaining amount of the "You-Owe-Me" bill which you were reminded of you're plenty sorry that you didn't.

Boy, oh boy, what a fawncy cover! Editor Pitman and Business Manager Stanley are entitled to strut about this. And there's my shining countenance. Gosh, what a photographer. I know I don't look like that! Now for a peak at the grind.

Wow! Killebrew giving some gal a bath in snow. Think you're mighty smart, doncha mister. I'll get even. What's this little joke on the profs? Mmmmm. And the chained gang in the "Literary." Wal, I have a little consolation.

Sorry, folks. If you'll just pardon me, I have to see the remainder of this book and can't be bothered just now.

I. A. Club Visits Printing Shops In Amarillo Saturday

The Industrial Arts Club spent last Saturday afternoon in Amarillo observing and learning more about printing in two of the largest shops in this part of the state. They first visited Russell Stationery Company where they were shown through the various departments by an interesting guide. Here they learned a great deal about how printing and especially book binding is done. The actual printing of the college annual, which was expected to be finished within a few days, was seen.

From Russell's they went to the News-Globe office where they saw the printing of the Sunday morning paper. The various processes of putting out the paper were explained in detail. The morning paper was being printed at the speed of 27,000 copies an hour. This was the most interesting thing observed in the News-Globe shop. They saw news being transmitted over the wire from Dallas.

Those who visited the shops were: Professor R. A. Terrill, T. H. Walker, Daniel Lahman, John Poole, Alvie Redden, James Gates, Edwin Dutton, Ross Paine, and Leonard Britt.

Bishop Seaman Chapel Speaker Tuesday Morning

Taking as his text the closing thought of the Lord's Prayer, "... and His is the kingdom, the power, and the glory forever, Amen." Bishop E. C. Seaman of Amarillo addressed the student body of W. T. Tuesday morning at the chapel hour.

Bishop Seaman has always been a favorite speaker with our students, and on this occasion, as previously, he brought a sincere, interesting, and worthwhile message.

EX-STUDENT PROMOTED

Miss Mary Meador, an ex of W. T. S. T. C., has recently been elevated from the teaching ranks to the principalship of George M. Hunt school in Lubbock. The Lubbock Avalanche reflected the satisfaction of the Lubbock public with the work which has been done by Miss Meador. "For a decade Miss Meador has been a successful teacher and her promotion has been earned 'on the firing line,' as it were. Already she has proven to the satisfaction of all concerned, her ability to teach and the talents she possesses in the field of education," says the Avalanche.

NOTICE

The Y. W. C. A. wishes to announce that it is now time for all those who wish to give donations to this organization for the purpose of helping defray the expenses of the group that is to be sent to the National Y. W. C. A. training school at Hollister, Missouri, to do so. This school is to be held during the first part of June, and any contributions will be duly appreciated.

W. T. EX-STUDES SEND BALLOTS TO ABSENT MEMBERS

CLASS OF 1933 HAS CHARGE OF PLANS FOR ANNUAL BANQUET

The Ex-student Association of the College has been conducting their annual election. Official ballots have been mailed out to all the paid-up members who are absent. No count has been made of the 175 ballots which have been returned. The committee will meet May 28 to make an official count of the returns. Those in the race are: President: George A. Heath and Mattie Swayne; 1st vice president: Howard Brosier and Lee Gilmore; 2nd vice president: F. M. Sawyer and Thelma Brummett; board of directors, one-year term: Amos M. Walker and Felix Phillips; one year term: Wayne Eubanks and L. N. George; two year term: W. M. Graves and Ozella Hunt; two-year term: Olin E. Hinkle and John L. McCarty.

Although plans for the annual ex-students' luncheon have not been announced, Mr. Lee Johnson feels that they will be forthcoming soon and that it will be a "swell banquet for the two in previous years have been." The Class of 1933 is in charge of the plans this year. Officers are Frank Monroe, president; Keith Guthrie, vice president; and Ruth Greenfield, secretary-treasurer.

Innovation In Math Department For Next Year

At the opening of school in September the Mathematics Department will try out a new course, designed for students who feel the need of further study in mathematics, not of the traditional type, but of the type popularly spoken of in recent times as "practical" mathematics. The college catalogue, for 1935-36, ready soon for distribution, carries the following announcement relative to the new plan of the Department: "Two types of mathematics courses are now offered to meet two diverse needs of our students. Mathematics 101 and 112 offer foundation materials for further study of mathematics, and should be taken by students preparing to teach mathematics, also by those considering engineering or other specialized fields."

"Mathematics 121 and 122, the two semesters constituting the new course, offer a year of practical mathematics for those students who prefer not to go further into the traditional type of mathematics, but who do desire facility in the mathematics demanded of all educated men and women, regardless of vocation."

Mathematics 121, Mathematics of Business and Current Affairs, will present appropriate topics from advanced arithmetic, mensural geometry, statistics, finance, insurance, and other such topics as are of interest and value to every intelligent citizen. The mathematical basis for this study will be developed almost wholly in the course, the only assumption being the completion of high school mathematics through the ninth grade.

Mathematics 122 continues the study. "In recent years," say Mr. C. A. Murray, Head of the Mathematics Department, "there has been a growing demand throughout the country for courses in mathematics which are less theoretical and more practical and applicable to the mathematical situations which arise in the actual business affairs of the average educated man and (Continued on last page)

Advanced Art Is Exhibited In M. E. Hudspeth Gallery

Use of Many Different Mediums Is Shown

The advanced art class, under the direction of Miss Isabel Robinson, is now showing in the Mary E. Hudspeth Room of the local museum, one of the finest amateur exhibits ever to be displayed by students of West Texas State Teachers College.

The collection consists of portraits, local buildings, landscapes, and various other scenes done in brush work, pen and ink sketches, wood cuts, and line etchings, dry points, or aquatints. The class has done remarkable work for beginners in the field of etching. Their work as a whole shows real talent and ability.

Betty Zelle, Zua Warner, Kathleen Wade, Don Fish and Stanley Williams, all of Amarillo, have contributed greatly in making this exhibit the splendid one it is. Carroll Killebrew, cartoonist for 1935 Le Mirage, displays unusual talent in his etchings, especially in portrait of Betty Zelle. Hester Gates' etching of a negro has been adjudged her best work in the exhibit, although she has other good portraits, wash drypoints, and sketches, also. Claudia Neeley has displayed a marked ability in her brush work, "Apples" and in a water color still life of a group of bowls. Both Charles Donnell and Josie Wiggins are showing brush and ink landscapes that are very interesting. Dallas Mitchell's etchings show a very rich tone that is rarely seen in amateur etchings. A pen and ink landscape, "Ridgecrest," shows the talent of a local college girl, Betty Hicks. "Polk Street, in Amarillo," a tinted pen sketch by Betty Zelle; "Cousins Hall," a water color by Stanley Williams; "Street Bazaar," an outstanding etching by Don Fish; "Seascape," an etching in aquatint, by Zua Warner; and "A Child" an etching by Kathleen Wade, are some of the best things that have been done by these students during the past year. Miss Wade shows in a water color, "Red Barn," a fine feeling for color and subordination. There are many other things in the exhibit which are both entertaining and interesting.

Miss Robinson says of the class and their exhibit, "This has been the largest and I believe the best etching class I have ever instructed. The class has done a large quantity and a splendid quality of work. In the class there have been several students who had been out of school a few years, and who were, when they took their prerequisite work, my best students. "I think a few of the pictures in the exhibit have quite a professional appearance, especially the portraits done by Hester Gates and line etchings by Betty Zelle, who have a decided talent for etching. The entire class has maintained a very high standard in their work and I am truly glad to be able to show this splendid work."

Many Who Went On Tours Last Year Go Again In 1935

Seventeen of the thirty students who went on the Western Education Tour from this college last year have enrolled to go on one of the tours again this year, according to Frank R. Phillips, who is sponsoring the tours to the West Coast and to Mexico. The Western Tour which is limited to sixty people, is over half full at this time.

One cause why so many people desire to go on the tour this year is the Exposition at San Diego, California. The tour will halt at Balboa Park, August 14-15 for the California Pacific International Exposition.

Will Tell Of Experience With Byrd At South Pole

At last come the words that thousands of friends in the Panhandle have been waiting for. "Joe Boy is coming home." Thursday night Joe Hill, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Hill and former student of West Texas State Teachers College, will give a lecture in the college auditorium on his experiences with Admiral Byrd and the expedition to the South Pole.

Outstanding Joe Hill has become famous the world over because of his youth and the part which he played in the expedition. He has kept a personal diary of the entire trip and will bring back to his friends his personal story of a scientific expedition into unexplored regions.

He will tell how men worked and how they obtained their recreation in the Antarctic a thousand miles from anywhere; of exciting adventures in blinding snow storms where "the wind was so strong it pressed the breath out, temperatures so low the breath froze and cracked, and barometer pressures as low as 27-85"; also how a man's feelings (Continued on last page)

Hobart Dies Of Pneumonia In Pampa Sun.

Welcomed First Visitors To View Pioneer Hall

T. D. Hobart, who was for seven years president of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society and who directed its affairs during the years when funds were being secured to erect the beautiful museum of the Society, died in Pampa, Sunday.

When on April 14, 1933 the doors of the Museum were first opened, it was T. D. Hobart who welcomed the first thousands of visitors who came to view Pioneer Hall, the Mary E. Hudspeth Art Gallery, and the Library, every foot of which was dear to the man whose untiring co-operation and energy has made its building possible.

T. D. Hobart's connection with Canyon and the West Texas State Teachers College reached beyond the Historical Society. He was always ready to assist Dr. J. A. (Continued on last page)

Speech Recital Wednesday Was Well Balanced

By Anna Mae Flesher

Mable Mims, Martina Anderson and June Bieler, assisted by Coy Palmer, baritone, and Lilla Beth Burroughs, were presented in a student speech recital Thursday afternoon at 3:30 in the Education Building Auditorium. The program was as follows:

"Chalk Marks on the Gate," Hal-laway, by Mable Mims; "What Mr. Grey Said," Montague, by Martina Anderson; "Marchita," Chertchen-berg, by Coy Palmer; "The Night-ingle and the Rose," Wilde, by Mable Mims; "A Lover's Quarrel," Dodson, by June Bieler; "Punishments of Robert," Nesbit, by Martina Anderson.

The recital took place at the regular class hour of the Dramatic Club and was attended by the members of the club and many outsiders, a few of whom were from out of town.

The program as a whole was very well balanced, having all the elements of humor, romance and pathos. Miss Anderson's humorous selection was the high spot of the program, while Mable Mims did an excellent piece of work with her selection "The Nightingale and the Rose." Miss Anderson wrung the hearts of her audience with the pathetic selection "Ma'amoi-ele." Miss Bieler's interpretations were less convincing than the others. However, her work was very good, and those who paid the strictest attention were very appreciative of her interpretations as well as the others. (Continued on last page)

Such groups as the Young Democrats, the I. R. C. and other government or political and social science clubs in colleges and among youth reveal the growing interest of young people in governmental affairs which every day are affecting their lives.

The students of this college who were recently organized into the Young Democratic Society are forging ahead in their work, especially in an effort to affiliate the local club with the state organization.

Not only here, but all over the nation is this same interest of youth felt. The following editorial reflects the recent activities along this line:

Prepare to Vote

At a recent meeting of the National Youth Congress in Washington, D. C., former Senator Brookhart, Iowa advocated a constitutional amendment allowing young people of 18 and over to vote. Other proposals that the age limit for voting be lowered have been made from time to time. Main objection has been that young people have too little interest in political affairs. If this objection is justified, it is becoming less so every year.

In high schools, as well as colleges, there is a growing interest in both the study and application of political science. During recent political campaigns, several schools sponsored polls at which students voted for candidates for local, state, and national offices and for proposed legislative measures. This voting followed a period of study of platforms, situations in government, and the like. Reports are that students were seriously enthusiastic about such projects.

The new emphasis in education is on training for living; training for intelligent, useful citizenship. "Why then," the student is likely to ask, "are we required to study government, yet wait years before making use of what we learn?"

Commenting on this question, a student editor writes: "Our modern requirements were born out of necessity in a different age now dead and forgotten. Youth of today is living in an entirely new era, one in which every change, problem, and improvement affects him in one way or another. It is, therefore, not a matter of American youth being ready to vote, but a problem of providing means whereby youth can express its feelings in national affairs to which it is so vitally attached."

As a result of increased interest in the study of government on the part of both educators and students it is not unreasonable to predict that soon the average youth in the late 'teens will be able to make better use of the ballot than the average American voter of today. But, regardless of whether the proposed amendment is ever made, understanding of government is and will always be a vital part of a practical, thorough education.—Vitalized School Journalism.

Co-editors, Bill Cone and Hampton Lisle, of the Eagle's Tale, Canyon Public School paper, are to be complimented on their excellent twelve-page edition last week. It is an exceptionally well written and edited paper for any high school and is especially appreciated by the Prairie staff.

A. A. U. W. ENTERTAINS SENIOR GIRLS WITH TEA

The Canyon branch of the American Association of University Women entertained the senior girls of the Demonstration School and Canyon High with a program tea Monday evening, at Cousins Hall. The guests were received by President Geraldine Green, assisted by the other officers of the association.

The address of the evening was given by Mrs. T. V. Reeves, who talked to the girls concerning the problems they will meet as freshmen in college, in business, or in other walks of life.

Other features of the program were two readings in Scottish dialect done by Miss Mabel Mims, two piano numbers by Miss Frances Usery, and two songs sung by Miss Ada V. Clark. The program was announced by Miss Agnes Charlton, vice president of the organization.

Miss Helen White Moore, sponsor of the W. T. H. S. seniors, presided at the punch bowl.

JUNIOR-SENIOR "LAST ROUND-UP"

The juniors and seniors, top-hands of the W. T. Brand, had their "Last Round-Up" at a banquet given May 3, at the Methodist Church. The cowboy spirit predominated in the decorations, menu, and program.

Bomar Brown, noble foreman, acted as toastmaster. John McNeill opened the meeting with a speech, "First Brandings." Thomas Ziegler and Bomar Brown sang

"Old Faithful." Marjory Merchant and Pearl Mayben, in cowboy and cowgirl costumes, gave two tap dances. Odell Reynolds (cowboy and notorious liar) foretold the future of the juniors and seniors in "Headin' for the Last Round-Up." Mr. W. L. Vaughan acted as an advisor for the future in "Get Along, Little Dogies." "The Mule," dedicated to no junior class in particular, was sung by a double quartet; and when all the chuck was eaten, the group concluded the program by singing "The Last Round-Up."

OUR SENIORS

Helen Wilder—Falls for blondes. Inez Miller—Pleasingly plump. Osce Lou Hamblen—Already "took."

Maebon Howard—Cute, but timid. Glenn Vetsak—Dignified. Delbert Jones—Good-natured. Cecil Jones—Dependable. Orval Pierce—Little, but loud. Lucius Penick—First one and then the other.

Dorothy Decker—Steady. Ruby Harris—Blondie. Lois Harris—Friendly. Annie Laura Ewing—Prefers College Farm boys.

Kathleen King—Full of pep. Tommie Lair—Tall, dark, and handsome. Lorene Smith—Razberry (lipstick).

Ola Mae Johnson—A trim figure. Loveta Hawkins—Poised. Grover Stuke—Active member of the class (Senior Sneak Day).

CHAPEL

The high school and grade school students were entertained in chapel last Thursday, May 17, by Mr. W. R. Clark and his chorus of men, accompanied by Frances Alice Clark. The college men's chorus won second place last year and first place this year in the state contest.

"Bells of St. Mary's" was their first number followed by "Home on the Range." Their next songs,

"After Many a Dusty Mile," and "The Lamp in the West" were the contest songs for last year and this, respectively. Two songs that proved to be especially popular with the group were "Shadow March," the selected song at the contest last year, and "Boots and Saddle," the selected song this year.

The Student Council, wishing to express their appreciation of the program, sent Mr. Clark and his chorus a note of thanks.

PLAY CAST GOES TO TULIA

The cast of the W. T. High Senior play went to Tulia Monday night to see "Moonshine and Honeysuckle," which was presented by the Tulia High School seniors, under the direction of Hatcher Brown, former W. T. H. student.

Bomar Brown, who played the part of Paw Betts when the play was given here, helped his brother by singing between acts of the play. The group was chaperoned by Miss Helen White Moore and Miss Ernestine Walker.

LATIN SPANISH BANQUET

Forty-five members of the Spanish and Latin Clubs and their guests attended the banquet Monday evening, at the American Legion Hall.

A delicious plate was served by the members of Dr. Cook's Sunday School class of the Baptist Church. Between courses a delightful program was given, including a tribute to Horace, by Miss M. Moss Richardson, and a Spanish Tango danced by Miss Frances Usery and George Brewer.

Guests of the club members included Miss M. Moss Richardson, Mrs. Elizabeth Fry Page, Mrs. Geraldine Green, Miss Jennie O. Ritchie, Mrs. Agnes Smith, Jack Oldham, and Reba Poole, of Groom.

Following the banquet, an hour was spent in dancing.

SENIORS SNEAK SATURDAY

The Buffalo and Sunny Hill busses, the Jones car, and Miss Moore's Dodge, all laden with W. T. High Seniors drove to the Baptist Campground ground Saturday morning, about nine o'clock, for their annual "Sneak Day." Miss Helen White Moore and Mr. W. D. Mater chaperoned the group.

Arriving at the canyon, the seniors threw dignity to the winds and rode horseback, played baseball, and explored until time for lunch. After being refreshed by a big lunch, they went exploring again.

About three o'clock the group came back to Canyon and attended the matinee.

THE SNOOP

And it seems that even a Campbell doesn't always get what it wants. But does it get him down? No! "If a senior turns me down, a sophomore is sweet solace," says our Thomas.

A swivel-hipped pair: Pearl Mayben and Irving Willoughby—and do they like to dance together!

Cato Merchant didn't seem to be "sittin' so easy" at the Latin-Spanish banquet. Do you suppose it was because he was next to Helene Oliver?

Ask Lois Blackwell where Jake Witherspoon got that snorty red-and-white-dotted hanky.

What does Penick know about flat tires? And whom was Alton Paul with on the night of May 13?

"Oh, if I were a few years younger," vainly sighed Orin Mathis when she saw Glen Davis with Nell Stevenson the other day. Incidentally, she wasn't the only green-eyed maiden present.

Lela Louderer seems to have hooked the pride of the sophomore class. Guess Who? Bryndle Vaughan, of course.

Meredith Warren is getting to be a smooth little dancer. (What do I get for this, Meredith?)

That horse really spoiled the looks of Mary's and Pat's white slacks. But you should have seen the horse.

WHITMAN FISH

Our little opening observation today is to the effect that worry is undirected energy, and besides, no woman is worth it.

The chain of dimes, quarters, dollars and such is about to peter out, so it seems. From the publication of every school comes word that the storm of sending a dime letters has had its day and just about gone. It was no doubt a good racket while it lasted, but as good rackets go, it went. For those who profited, you were lucky, and for all the rest, it's just like Barnum said, "there's one born every minute."

A current story making the rounds through collegiate exchanges concerns a scathing cross-fire between the psychology and philosophy departments of Harvard University. It seems that an "intelligence test" was prepared by a psychologist in which one of the questions read: "What would you do if you found yourself lost in the woods?"

"You might," commented a philosopher, "sit down on a stump and chew your fingernails, but it probably would be smarter to look for the moss on the North Side of the Ph. D. who wrote this examination."

The Journalism students of T. C. U. will put out the Breckenridge American next Sunday and the Mineral Wells Index next Thursday. The students, working under the direction of Prof. J. Willard Ridings, head of the T. C. U. Journalism department, will make the trip to Mineral Wells and to Breckenridge as part of their advanced training in the Journalism school of T. C. U. One of the "Omibus of Boners," a composition of all the boners made by students for a number of years and compiled from thousands of examination papers from all parts of the country. A few excerpts from this book are presented.

For Bible or religious students, we have the following:

Question: Who was sorry when the Prodigal Son returned? Answer. The fatted calf.

And we find that Cornelius was the first Gentile Virgin. The Tower of Babel was the place where Solomon kept his wives. Also, Esau was a man who wrote fables and sold his copyright for a mess of potash.

And for the geography student, we present:

The sun never sets on the British Empire because the British Empire is in the east and the sun sets in the west.

The people of India are divided into castes and outcasts. For the students of science and mathematics we find that Science is material. Religion is immaterial. Charles Darwin was a naturalist who wrote the Organ of the Spices. A litre is a nest of young puppies. A magnet is a thing you find in a bad apple.

For the student of History, we find that Martin Luther died a horrible death, as he was excommunicated by a bull. Louis XVI was gassed during the French Revolution. Magna Charta said that the King was not to order taxis without the consent of Parliament.

But for the English students:

We find a metaphor is a thing you shoot through; while letters in sloping type are in hysterics. Figurative language is when you mean a rooster and say chandelier.

Practice Teachers—

Scales, Lucy Blair, Virginia Vaughan, and Floy Rowe, Spanish majors, and Frances Alice Clark, practice teacher in Music.

Senior Play

During the second semester the senior play was directed by Ernestine Walker, speech major. The Senior Class party was in charge of Ted Clark, Ozle Loftis, Dorothy Richeson, and Margaret Roebuck, all English majors; and the Junior-Senior banquet was managed by Hosea Foster, Yvonne Thomas, Mable Mims and Joyce Sheats, also practice teachers in English.

The National Honor Society initiation to be held Thursday morning is supervised by Lucy Blair, Spanish major.

Speech Recitals

The annual recital of the high school students is to be presented by Thelma Callahan, Velma Padgett, Martina Anderson, Elizabeth Jameson, and Bill Hawkins, speech majors; and an open production of a one-act play "Sauce for the Gossings" is to be presented Saturday, May 25, at 4 o'clock, is being directed by Bill Hawkins as a public speaking project.

The presentation program Saturday of this week at 9:30, at which the Seniors present their parting gift to the school is being directed by Elizabeth Jameson, speech major, assisted by Thelma Callahan and Martina Anderson.

The socialized commencement program for 1935 was prepared by Mrs. Hershel Jennings and Velma Padgett, public speaking majors, and J. C. Line and Pollyanna Pitts, practice teachers in English.

But "no" is the adverb of negotiations.

A student who was in the habit of arriving at his early morning class way ahead of the hour was questioned by the professor who happened to arrive early also one morning. It was found that the thrifty student came early to use the "chalk dust" from the blackboard to polish his white shoes. "Chalk up one for the early bird!"

"No Nudes is good Nudes" declares the dean at Utah University.

Two girls seeking publicity wrote the Dean of Women at the University of Utah protesting the rule that all women students should wear suits while bathing in the university pool. The two girls, Virginia Highman and Gerry Holliday, penned the protest and asked the women students to arise and assert their rights and obtain their just privileges as the men had done. And at Guelph, Ontario, a nudism scare broke out on the campus of the Ontario Agricultural College. Four girls were reported seen one night garbed in shoe polish and a coating of cod liver oil.

The following and collegiate definitions recently compiled:

Germinate—To germinate is to become a naturalized German.

Epistle—An epistle is the wife of an apostle.

A mayor is a she horse.

A refugee keeps order at football games.

S. O. S. is a musical term meaning the same, only softer.

In Christianity a man has only one wife—this is called Monotony.

The tired out student is temporarily insane, declares Prof. Floyd C. Dockeray of Ohio State University. "After a day of classes, the student is nervous and jumpy and all the symptoms are identical to those experienced by the insane."

This is in all probability the real reason for the low grades that have been unfortunately made by some. They just had to work too hard.

So, as they say in Louisiana, So Long!

FERA NOTICE

To those students who must have FERA work in order to continue in school next year, the Committee wishes to say that the Government has not yet notified us of the plan to be followed after the close of the present school year. However, we expect the FERA program to be continued, and with a larger quota than we now have, but we must have official instructions before making appointments.

It is suggested that students who desire to be considered for FERA jobs next year leave their names and home addresses with any member of the Committee before the close of school. Blanks for formal application can then be mailed when we have instructions to proceed. We assume that conditions of appointment, as to need and scholarship, will be in line with present requirements.

FACULTY MEMBERS TO GIVE COMMENCEMENT TALKS

Various members of the faculty have been invited to deliver commencement addresses at high schools and grade schools over the Panhandle. On May 15, Dr. Cook went to Channing to give their commencement address. Mr. Condrion filled the same capacity for the seventh grade in Amarillo.

May 16, Registrar Shirley went to Miami, Superintendent Savage goes to Plemmons, Professor Condrion spoke at Lelia Lake, and Dr. Cook will speak at Alnured.

On May 17, Mrs. Green made the commencement address at Dimmitt, Mr. Shirley went to Sudan, Miss Richardson spoke at Paducah, Dr. Fronabarger goes to Farwell, and Mr. Condrion made the address at Spring Lake.

May 18, Professor Coffee made the commencement address at Perryton.

On the 24 of May Professor Condrion will speak at Clarendon and Professor Sheffy will deliver the commencement address at Vega.

Education Department, under the direction of Mrs. Wallace O'Keefe. The money received went into a fund which is being created to build a recreation hall for West Texas State Teachers College.

The pageant reviewed the evolution of the dance from early forms of the waltz to the version most commonly used today. Dances showing the Spanish influence were also included.

Displaying the best talent in school, the dancers performed with such finesse, such skill, that the pageant was thoroughly enjoyed by all those who were present.

Y. W. C. A. ANNUAL BREAK-FAST HELD SUNDAY

A sleepy yawn, a brisk walk in the cool morning air, and we were at the Episcopal Church for the Y. W. C. A. Sunrise service and breakfast. We weren't sleepy then, and each girl entered fully into the spirit of the service. Miss Hester Gates was leader on this occasion. First there was a song, then the devotional by Miss Le Nette Cook. This selection was taken from the currently popular book, "Living Creatively." This was followed with a chalk talk by Miss Gates. As she drew, Miss Pauline Thompson played softly at the organ. Then there was a song by Miss Ruth Wells, and a closing poem by Miss Margaret Perry.

After the service, the group divided, half going to the Little House of Fellowship, and half to Rest Cottage for breakfast. It was a common sight to see girls standing around, sniffing hungrily. Don't ask how many waffles they ate. Miss Lowes said she could eat six, but everyone was so busy doing justice to theirs they didn't count hers.

Mrs. Page, it is believed, gets as much pleasure from giving this treat as the girls do from eating it, for she always has everything done before anyone has a chance to help her. The organization wishes to express their sincere thanks to her for making this possible.

The sunrise waffle breakfast is an annual affair of the Y. W. C. A. and is always well attended. This year about thirty girls were present.

HOME EC. DINING ROOM SCENE OF TEA FOR GUESTS

Throughout the morning last Thursday the home economics dining room was the scene of a lovely tea given in honor of the guests for the short course.

In the receiving line were Misses Normington, Cox, Dennis, Horton, Mashburn, Cooper, Mrs. T. V. Reeves, and Mrs. Geraldine Green. Assisting hostesses were Misses Wertha Tarter, Fannie Mae Rees, Mary Jane Williams, and Mable Jones. At the tea table pouring tea were Misses Maurita Taylor and Betty McFarling.

The room was perfumed with the aroma from the baskets of cut flowers placed in the room. On the lace covered center table was a lovely bouquet of cut roses.

A number of guests called during the tea.

MISS GRAHAM ENTERTAINS ALPHA CHI

Twenty-five members of Alpha Chi attended a dinner at the home of Miss Edna Graham last Tuesday evening, May 14. An attractive plate lunch, accompanied by Miss Graham's delicious hot rolls and topped off with strawberry short cake, was served.

Later in the evening several new members were initiated into the society, namely, J. C. Line, Max Nuttall, Virginia Robey, Mrs. Hershel Jennings, Mr. Lee Johnson, and Mr. L. F. Sheffy. Mr. Johnson and Mr. Sheffy are honorary members. These new members displayed unusual abilities in answering questions put to them by Mr. Shirley.

COUSINS-SESAME CLOSES YEAR'S ACTIVITIES

Cousins Hall was the scene of the closing social of the Cousins-Sesame Literary Society held last Thursday evening. Forty-five members together with sponsors Mr. and Mrs. Sheffy, enjoyed playing bridge, forty-two, and dancing to the music of Durward Brown, Coy Palmer, and Glenn Brown.

Delicious fruit punch was served to everyone throughout the evening.

AMARILLO SORORITY HONORS ELAPHEANS WITH TEA

Kappa Delta Chi Sorority of Amarillo College entertained the Elaphean Society of W. T., with a charmingly appointed tea at the home of Miss Vi Jo Gerard, 1718 Jackson Street, Thursday afternoon.

Misses Gerard, Alma Jean Rogers, Aileen Herndon and Josephine Martini were hostesses. The entertaining rooms were beautifully decorated with yellow and blue flags and other flowers in the same colors.

Miss Margaret Hanley, Kappa Delta Chi president, presided over the program. Those taking part on the enjoyable program were: Mrs. Alta Potts Turk, Miss Betty Mason, Miss Ann Lee, Bryon Ogle, Roy Prentice and the Balladette Sextet, composed of Misses Melen Galloup, Marjorie Davis, Ruth Butler, Betty Mason, Alma Jean Rogers and Dorothy Jean St. Clair.

A flat centerpiece of yellow and blue flowers adorned the lace covered table. Blue and yellow ice cream, molded to represent fruit, was served with cakes bearing the sorority emblem.

Those attending from Canyon were: Misses Ilene Coke, Margaret Harvey, Marjorie Tucker, Hazel Kirbie, Juana Douglas, Mildred Holly, Linette Cain, Carrie Maxine Douglas, Louise Shirley, Frances Armitage, Kathleen Wade, May Kiser, June Day, Louise Ramey, Elizabeth Jameson, Adella Beavers, Dorothy Lucile Davault, Virginia Leigh Bull, Fern Mills, Ann Millen; Mesdames Tommie Montfort and Geraldine Green.

APPROACHING MARRIAGE OF STUDENTS ANNOUNCED

Last Saturday afternoon the engagement and approaching marriage on June 2, of Miss Betty Sternberg to Leonard Britt, was announced at a party given by Miss Sternberg's mother at her home. The rooms were attractively decorated in pink and white, using roses as the flower. Punch was served during the afternoon from a lace covered table.

Bridge was the diversion of the afternoon. The tallies had on them figures of a bride and groom, and the names Betty and Leonard were written on each tally.

Refreshments of brick ice cream, pink and white, with angel food cake were served at the closing of the afternoon. The ice cream was in the shape of a bell, and on each plate was a pink rose.

COUSINS HALL GIRLS ENJOY PICNIC

Last Tuesday evening the group of non-dancing girls of Cousins Hall enjoyed a picnic in the Palo Duro Canyon. There were twenty-one girls, and Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Collins, Miss Crawford, Miss Babston, and Mr. and Mrs. Shaw, also were members of the party.

After driving through the canyon, visiting the lodge and cabins that are being built, the party stopped at one of the picnic units to do justice to the delicious supper that had been prepared by Miss Crawford.

It started raining on the picnickers as they entered Canyon; so they drove around the city square, singing as they went to celebrate the occasion. If they were responsible for bringing the rain, they must give another sometime.

INTERMEDIATE MAJORS PICNIC AT T-ANCHOR

The Junior and Sophomore intermediate education majors were hostesses to the Senior intermediate education majors at a picnic held at the T-Anchor Ranch last Wednesday evening.

Various games were played and then a talk was given by Mr. A. K. Goodman. Diplomas were presented by Miss McMurtry, these were on white parchment with a Buffalo and a message to the person, thereon.

A delightful menu of roasted wieners, buns, pickles, potato chips and punch was served Josie Baird, Margaret Harvey, Mrs. Elsie Mae Hood, Mabel Mongole, Dorothy Parton, Lorraine Penick, Leona Bullington, Esther Boulware, Edith Brookfield, Edna Orton, Alice Reese, Marjorie Tucker, Leona Vettesh, Kathryn Brown, Miss McMurtry and Mr. A. K. Goodman.

FLOWER GARDEN SCENE OF COUSINS HALL DANCE

A group of boys in W. T. were entertained by Cousins Hall girls last Tuesday evening, at a dance. In keeping with the spring season, the decorations were in pastel colors and arranged to carry out the idea of a flower garden. Balloons were used throughout the room, as gay spots of color.

The girls were dressed in crisp organdie in pastel colors, and other materials in keeping with the spring season.

Music was furnished by Durward Brown, Glenn Brown, Jim Bandy and Whitman Fish.

La Nette Cook has been elected primary teacher in the Highland Park School, Potter County.

A. A. U. W. GIVES TEA FOR GRADUATES

Cousins Hall with its decorations of various colored garden flowers was the beautiful setting for a tea given Wednesday evening by the Canyon branch of the American Association of University Women. Guests were all Canyon girls currently graduating from high school. In the receiving line were officers of the organization and the guest of honor, Mrs. Agnes Collins Smith, matron of Cousins Hall.

Refreshments of punch, wafers, and candies were served. Rosebuds were given as favors. An effective program embracing two piano solos, two readings, two vocal solos was given by Miss Frances Usery, Miss Mabel Mims, and Miss Ada V. Clark, respectively.

In a talk both practical and challenging, Mrs. T. V. Reeves set forth some of the problems of a college freshman. Encouraging girls to use their time wisely, she said, "Time is one thing with which you are all equally endowed."

PRIMARY ED. MAJORS PICNIC IN CANYONS

Last Monday afternoon the primary education majors under the sponsorship of Miss Anna I. Hibbets, enjoyed a picnic at her cabin in the canyons. Hikes were enjoyed and many types of birds were observed.

A picnic lunch was enjoyed by Misses Nancy Strain, Arlene Ogden, Mable Wimberly, Ina Merle Cooper, Dallas Mitchell, Kathleen Bragg, Roberta Addison, Mildred Bessire, Mayme Plaster, Gladys Seales, Beulah Watson, Mrs. Tillery and Mrs. Sanders, and Miss Hibbets.

Y. W. C. A. CLOSES YEAR'S WORK; MARSH SPEAKS

The Y. W. C. A. closed its year's work Wednesday afternoon with Rev. Marsh as speaker. He stressed the significance of the words: aspiration, inspiration, and success. That must aspire to the highest was the theme of his talk. In closing, he stressed the value of Christ in college. "That is a hard thing to achieve," he said, "for so many things come between the student and religious activities."

This organization has just closed one of its most successful years of work. We wish to express our thanks and appreciation to all those who have helped us make it a success.

B. S. U. GROUP ENJOY OUTING

About seventy Baptist students enjoyed the outing to the Baptist Encampment in the Palo Duro last Thursday evening. A very delightful picnic menu was served during the outing.

PROFESSORS OF WEST TEXAS GIVE ADDRESSES

"The Fine Art of Living" was the topic of the address given by Miss Hattie M. Anderson at the Fine Arts program given by the Hale County Federation of Women's Clubs which met in an all-day session Saturday at the Hale Center Methodist Church.

Miss Miltia Hill of the art department gave an illustrated lecture on "Paintings of Three Great Masters."

Miss Hellen Hickman also made an address on the program.

MARRIAGE OF EX-STUDENTS ANNOUNCED

Announcement has been made of the marriage of two ex-students of W. T. Miss Doris Sorrenson and Julius S. Hansen, both of Swisher County, were married on May 12 at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Sorrenson. Miss Sorrenson attended W. T. S. T. C.

Miss Mary Wofford of Lockney, an ex, was married to Cecil O. Waggoner of Claude on April 27. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude R. Wofford of Lockney.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB MEETS THURSDAY

The Home Economics Club will meet Thursday morning at 9:30 in the home economics dining room. This will be the last meeting of the year, and all members are urged to attend.

Miss Miltia Hill is on the program to give a talk in the field of art, which is an important element for home economics students.

RANDALL HALL ENTERTAINS SHORT COURSE GUESTS

Miss Mildred Horton and Miss Ruby Mashburn of A. & M. together with Mrs. Frank R. Phillips, Miss Orpa Dennis, and Miss Elizabeth Cox were dinner guests at Randall Hall last Wednesday evening.

MISS RUBY MASHBURN COMPLIMENTED

In the Palo Duro Canyon last Thursday evening the T-Anchor Cowboys entertained with a cowboy supper honoring Miss Ruby Mashburn of A. & M., one of the guests at W. T. for the Home Demonstration Short Course.

So mild, athletes smoke as many as they please—and that's real mildness!

Of course you want mildness in a cigarette. And the athletes—to whom "wind," healthy nerves, "condition" are vitally important—insist on mildness.

Lou Gehrig, baseball's "Iron Man," says: "Camels are so mild they never get my 'wind.'" George Barker, intercollegiate cross-country champion, says: "Camels are so mild, they don't cut my 'wind' in any way." Bobby Walthour, Jr., star of the six-day bike grinds, says: "I've got to have 'wind' in bike racing. For my cigarette I long ago chose Camels."

Tommy Armour, speaking for the golf stars, Bruce Barnes for tennis, and Betty Bailey for the aquatic sports—all agree: "Camels don't get your 'wind.'"

What this mildness means to you! ... It means you can smoke as many Camels as you please. Athletes say Camel's costlier tobaccos never disturb your nerves—never tire your taste—never get your "wind."

Plans Complete For Durant Game Vernon Sept. 28

Will Be Home Going For Many On The Team

Coach Al Baggett returned Saturday from Vernon where he completed all arrangements for a football game in Vernon, September 28 between the West Texas State Teachers College Buffaloes and the Southeastern Oklahoma Teachers College of Durant.

When the Buffaloes and Durant Savages meet in Vernon, the occasion will be a homecoming for several of the parties concerned.

Coach Baggett started out on his coaching career in Vernon in 1924. He coached there from 1924 to 1928. This contest will mark Coach Baggett's first return to Vernon in his capacity as a coach since 1928.

Coach Bob Cox will also be coming home for the first time as a coach. He played at Vernon high school under Coach Baggett, also under Baggett at Wichita Falls Junior College and Amarillo College before going to Duke University.

He graduated in 1933 from Duke and will be in his second year as a coach when he returns to Vernon. Enthusiasm has been manifested in Vernon in the return of one of their most admired coaches and the local boy who has made good in a big way.

Three of the Buffaloes, themselves, will make it a gala affair

Spring Cagers Compete For First Places

At the close of the first week of spring basketball at W. T. under Coaches Al Baggett and Bob Cox, it was already evident that there would be some competition for positions before the starting quintet opened the season next year.

Five lettermen were among the reporting candidates. Captain-elect Willie Boedeker of Lockney, Audell Kimmins of Canyon, Jack Davis of Memphis, Lawrence Clark of Turkey, and Curtis Clement of Wellington are the lettermen and every one of them played regular on the Buffs at some time last season.

This year the freshman team won nineteen out of twenty-two games from some very stiff competition and are contributing some players that are sure to be of real value to the Buffs of 1936.

Marvin Myers of Munday, Ray Vineyard of Claude, and Vernon Johnson of Childress are squadmen from last year's squad who are showing improvement.

Conway Butler and Jewel Meacham of Turkey are two new men who are showing real basketball ability. From the "fighting freshmen of '35" come Ray Cox of Vernon, Ed Miller of Vernon, Craig Walling of Farwell, Don Savage of Canyon, B. F. Taylor of Kirkland, Oscar Hinger of Endee, New Mexico, Grover Dennis of Olton, James Davis of Baileyboro, and James Baggett of Floydada.

The spring practice will run one more week and will close Friday night with a game between the players eligible for next year and the graduating members of this year's team.

Captain Edd McMinn of Kirkland, John Walker of Spearman, Leonard Britt of Canyon, and M. E. Clearinger of Canyon are the seniors from the '35 team. They will round out their quintet with one ex-letterman. There is a possibility that the other member of the seniors team will be Joe "College" Fortenberry, former W. T. star who was named on the All-American team at the National Tournament in Denver this year.

The game will commence at 8:15 Friday night in Burton Gymnasium. There will be a charge of 10c and 25c general admission and all money collected will be used for the construction of Buffalo Courts.

when they return to former stamping grounds. Toby Waggoner, sensational end for the Buffs, played at Vernon High School for Baggett and is expected to thrill his old home-town fans with a demonstration of his ability.

Ed Miller and Ray Cox, former backfield stars at Vernon High School after Coach Baggett left there, were on the freshman team at W. T. this year, and will be on the varsity squad which will make the trip to Vernon.

Another member of the get-together party is Marshall May. May started his coaching career at Vernon with Coach Baggett. After an interval of several years Coach May is returning to Vernon in the capacity of line coach at the high school.

All indications are that the contest will be one worthy of the homecoming celebration. The Buffaloes have already shown in their spring practices that the 1935 team will be one of the best balanced squads ever to represent the school. Coach Ramsey always has strong teams at Durant, and when the two teams meet, Vernon fans should be treated to an exhibition of the highest type of college football.

The complete schedule is as follows:

- *Sept. 20, Panhandle A. & M., Canyon.
- *Sept. 28, Southeastern State Teachers of Durant, Okla., at Vernon, Texas.
- *Oct. 5, Texas Wesleyan College, Canyon.
- *Oct. 11, McMurry College, Canyon.
- *Oct. 18, New Mexico Normal U., Canyon.
- Oct. 16, Texas School of Mines, El Paso.
- Nov. 2, St. Benedict's (Homecoming) Canyon.
- Nov. 9, N. M. M. I., Canyon.
- Nov. 16, Central Okla. Teachers, Canyon.
- Nov. 23, Sul Ross State Teachers, Alpine.
- * Indicates night games.

New and Sensational Aerial Efforts Mark Game

(Editorial Note: After this write-up was submitted a checkup was made to determine whether or not the reporter still retained his mental equilibrium; he seemed to be okeh although a bit weakened by his exertion.)

"Cow" Killebrew and his ten disciples upset the traditional dope can Wednesday afternoon and administered a sound drubbing to the refrain of 6-0 to their opponents, "Ox" Higgins and his burly crew of Eligible Bachelors on the Buffalo practice field.

On this game rested the decision of the intramural football championship of the school. Realizing this fact, all through the struggle the opposing players battled it out with neither side giving nor gaining any appreciable advantage until late in the third quarter, when Burkhalter broke loose to chalk up one for the Rough Necks.

Staging a futile rally, Higgins and his henchmen again and again attempted to plow through the impregnable defense of the Rough Neck line to even the score. At the sound of the final whistle, the touted, pre-game favorites were still held scoreless.

The game was marked by smashing line plunges, sensational aerial efforts, and incessant chatter from the excited fans. Ashley Little was heard on the day following the game boasting of the berth he received on a famous, though nameless, professional team as a result of the unusual playing he did in the Rough Neck-Beta game. Scouts from most of the larger universities were on the ground appraising players with a critical eye. After the game, Coach Baggett was heard to remark that he never saw a football game like it throughout his entire acquaintance with the sport.

It was the opinion of the officers of the Society that Mr. Hobart could not be spared from a part in the direction of the affairs of the organization, though he insisted upon retiring two years ago from the presidency.

Playing for the winners were Ray Cox, Carroll Killebrew, Craig Walling, Floyd Murry, Oscar Hinger, Melvin Alexander, Marvin Callihan, John Hood, Winfred Lewis, Buster Leslie, Schuman Cherry, J. C. Line, James Compton, Ashley Little, Burkhalter, Dale Bowman, and Gene Whitman.

For the Eligible Bachelors were Joe Collins, Ogden Stroud, George Bishop, Joe Smith, Roger George, John Morris, G. T. tion work in Texas is only twenty years old, there are 50,000 women in Texas home demonstration clubs today, according to Miss Horton. With the coming celebration of the Texas Centennial, Miss Horton admonished the women at the meeting to communicate with the remaining pioneer women in their communities and to "write down what they say, give them the opportunity to enjoy the telling of those experiences. Nothing will make them happier. They will have contributed to the Centennial."

Miss Hamner Speaks
At the forenoon session Miss Laura V. Hamner of Amarillo gave the principal address, centering her remarks around the women who were early settlers of the Panhandle-Plains area. She cited as typical pioneer women Mrs. Charles Goodnight, Mrs. Cape Willingham, Mrs. T. S. Bugbee, Mrs. Carter of Dimmitt, Mrs. W. W. Wetzel of Amarillo, Mrs. Jim Pottinger and Mrs. Luttrell of Claude. In closing, Miss Hamner said, "The Texas Panhandle is a hard country on women's beauty. The old women of this region do not have lovely skin and dainty hands; they have faces which are lined and brown, but in which are shown strength of character, courage in the midst of hardship, and the traces of much laughter. These women were working for their husbands and children; they suffered, but they were so busy that they had no time to realize it."

Tribute To Mrs. Warner
In the afternoon Mrs. T. V. Reeves paid an especially beautiful tribute to the memory of Mrs. Phebe K. Warner who was buried Thursday. Mrs. Warner is well remembered by the women of this region as a leading representative of the farm and pioneer women and as a prominent club woman.

Entertainment Varied
Special entertaining was the community singing led by Mrs. J. R. Hogge of Potter County, cowboy songs by Ed Todd, Ted Clark, and George Gandy of the T-Anchor Ranch, and a chalk talk on cattle brands by Miss Betty Hicks and Wendel Cain.

After the luncheon, which was served by the Buffalo men in the college cafeteria, an inspection tour was made in the museum and in Buffalo Courts.

In the afternoon pioneer dances which were directed by Mrs. Wallace O'Keefe were presented.

Misses Ruby Mashburn and Lida Cooper presided over the two meetings which had as their central theme "Pioneers of West Texas" and which were planned by Miss Marion Normington, Elizabeth Cox, and Orpa Dennis of the Home Economics Department.

Joe Hill—

ings and philosophy of life are changed by two years in the land of perpetual ice and snow.

All the adventurous spirit of modern youth is typified in Joe Hill. He passed his twenty-first birthday while at the South Pole.

When Admiral R. E. Byrd announced that he would command a second expedition, Joe applied for a position in the exploring party, without the knowledge of his parents. Almost a year later he received a letter from Admiral Byrd, telling him to report in Boston for examination.

He served as personal orderly to Admiral Byrd and as mechanic on the ice tractors. He became a warm personal friend of the Admiral.

E. A. Demas, one of Joe's associates in the expedition, wrote that he had watched Joe pass through his boyhood to manhood. Demas also said that "he has conducted himself admirably well through everything he came up against. He has the respect and admiration of the camp. He has proved a willing and a hard worker and he has shown a great deal of in-initiative and ingenuity in all that he did."

In one letter written to his parents from Little America he said: "One cannot imagine the beauty of these surroundings, shades of blue, black, brown, red, and every other tint known. The gigantic loneliness inspired by the stillness makes one feel as though some unknown guide were guiding his footsteps. Beauty, loveliness, and quiet are the things which make a man return time after time to suffer hardships of nature's merciless hand. Only God could produce such unbearable conditions combined with such bliss. . . . We work in twelve hour shifts with only forty-five minutes to eat, then the rest is sleep. After the ship leaves, camp is to be set up, and then the long winter night starts. It has been daylight for almost a month now."

The expedition broke up Friday in Boston and Joe will reach Canyon Tuesday. He will make a series of lectures at the different colleges in Texas.

The lecture Thursday night will be under the auspices of the Canyon Athletic Club and their part of the proceeds will go to the construction of Buffalo Courts.

There will be admission charges of 25c and 40c and the lecture will begin at 8:15 p. m.
