

"Night of January 16" Set For Thursday, Friday, and Saturday Nights

Screwy Calendar Is Unraveled

Play Cast Chooses County Courtroom To Give Play Atmosphere of Trial

It is not a screwy calendar which tells that the "Night of January 16th" will be February 27, 28, and March 1. If dates are confusing, the three-act play will be presented Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights.

For real atmosphere the play cast will take the production to the Randall County Court room for a verdict to be determined in the murder trial. An added novelty of the play, a Broadway success, will be the selection of an audience jury—and the verdict will affect the conclusion of the courtroom drama.

Also the verdict will affect Karen Andre, on trial for her life. La Verne Pollard of Vernon plays this part a second time after taking the lead role in the Paris, Texas, Little Theater production of the play.

Larg Number Cast

The "Night of January 16th" will present the largest number of students ever assembled for one play cast. More than 40 persons are to be included.

Prof. James Butler, director, described Andy Anderson in one of the roles as a "find." Several members of the cast return from successes in the first College play of the year—"You Can't Take It With You."

The trial-play will start on all three nights at 8 o'clock.

Parts Doubly Cast

Several of the parts are doubly cast and one of the characters will act one night and the other the second night. The one giving the best performance will return for the Saturday night presentation.

The part of Karen Andre will be played by Mogie Routh and La Vern Pollard. Other members of the cast are: James Speer, Lucille Weast, Mary Jean Hill, Eleanor Daugherty, Uzzelle Bryan, Christine Jarrett, Merrie Lib Dufort, Charles Hutchison, Gene Morris, J. W. Anderson, Carolyn Mayfield, Marjorie Renfro, Eileen McCall, Bernadine Phillips, Bill Webb, Carl Criswell, and Leon Daugherty.

Admission will be twenty-five cents.

Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatics fraternity, is the sponsor.

College Boosted In Radio Program

The College was advertised Sunday afternoon during a sing-song conducted by KGNC at the auditorium of Canyon High School.

Educational and recreational assets of this community were described by Clyde W. Warwick, editor of the Canyon News; Olin E. Hinkle, director of journalism; and Garland Turner, president of the Students' Association.

The Swing Four was featured and Miss Louise Roach sang a solo. Group singing was led by Barney Ogle of KGNC. Bob Watson, Eddie Baumel, and Elmo Taylor of the radio station staff participated in the broadcast.

Publication Job Deadline Nears

The deadline for applications for paid positions on the student publications in the 1941-42 term is Saturday at noon.

Applicants are being asked to submit their names and letters of application to Olin E. Hinkle, director of journalism.

Appointments will be made by April 1 in order that those named may attend the Texas Intercollegiate Press Association convention in El Paso on April 4 and 5.

Conference Dinners To Be Held March 14

Programs Will Be Short Or Non-Existent—Sessions Will Start On Time

Sectional luncheons at the Northwest Texas Conference for Education are being planned by the Bureau of Public Service, and will be held at noon Friday, March 14.

One of the largest will be that of superintendents, principals, school board members, and members of Parent-Teacher Associations at the Methodist church. Supt. Blake Bolton of Dalhart, president of the school executives' organization in the Panhandle, is assisting in plans for this meeting.

A luncheon in the home economics dining room will be for librarians. Preliminary arrangements have been made by Miss Maybelle A. Taylor of Pampa.

Teachers of vocational subjects are to have a large luncheon at Randall Hall. Plates will be 60 cents.

Classroom teachers will have a luncheon at Cousins Hall. This will be another of the largest held. Mrs. T. C. Sparks of Amarillo has made preliminary arrangements.

Most tickets for places will be sold in advance by the chairman and other officers of the sections involved. School executives and others attending the luncheon at the Methodist Church will purchase tickets in the main hall on the day of the meeting.

Programs at luncheons will be short or non-existent this year to permit the afternoon session to start earlier than usual. The main speaker, Dr. A. J. Stoddard, must leave in mid-afternoon for a speaking engagement in Big Spring.

Senior Gives Voice Recital

Ernest Scheihagen, tenor, was presented in a song recital at Cousins Hall Thursday afternoon. His assistant was Miss Mary Helen Lindsey, sophomore from Memphis. Prof. Wallace R. Clark accompanied the vocalist at the piano.

His program included songs by Handel, Franz, Cornelia Ayer Paine, William Stickles, Mary Turner Salter, Kennedy Russell, Miss Lindsey played selections from Brahms and Scott.

Scheihagen, senior from Hereford, is president of Buffalo Band and a member of the College orchestra and the Madrigal Club.

Enthusiastic Students Fill W. T. Auditorium for Graff Ballet

Crowded into the balcony and a filled lower floor Tuesday night for the Graff Ballet was the second largest number to attend a lyceum program this year.

An enthusiastic student audience insisted on seeing more of the "impression of early American ragtime." The performers admitted later that it was always a popular number when given at College programs.

Two numbers which were most descriptive were the "Singing Earth" and "Ode to the Living." Especially expressive was the dance in picturing the Harvest.

Easter Holidays Scheduled For April 11 to 14

Easter holidays at West Texas State will be observed on April 11, 12, 13, 14 instead of April 4, 5, 6, and 7 as reported erroneously in the College catalogue.

This change has resulted in a revision of the dates of the Inter-scholastic League meets here in April. The district meet will be held on April 4 and 5, but the regional meet will be postponed to April 18 and 19.

Federal Aid For Excavation Given

New Diggings Show Evidence of 13th Century Culture

Secrets of a people which established a distinctive Panhandle culture six hundred years ago and mysteriously abandoned this section will continue to be in jeopardy.

An archaeological project of the Works Progress Administration launched three years ago under the sponsorship of West Texas State College has been continued through a federal grant. The government and the sponsor will spend $31,000 on the new work in somewhat more than a year. Floyd V. Studer of Amarillo, curator of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, is sponsor's representative and Ele Baker, a graduate of the University of New Mexico, is the project supervisor.

The project this year will include a museum unit of four or five men which will prepare specimens for study and display and will index the thousands of finds already made. Displays must await furnishing of cases in most instances. About 25 men will excavate a new site about 25 miles northwest of Amarillo north of the Canadian river.

The new site is exciting workmen because it is the first across the river and it promises a change of findings. About thirty rooms have been dimly traced on the surface. Pictographs are found on nearby cliffs. It is expected that artifacts will show differences compared with the Antelope Creek and Alibates sites already worked.

Summer Term To Be Streamlined

Session Will Include Two Five-Week Periods With 12 Hours Credit—Opens June 4

A "streamlined" summer session beginning June 4, which will include two five-week terms, one lasting from June 4 to July 9 and the other from July 10 to August 14, will be offered by the College next summer.

Offering a concentration of work in six days each week instead of five as heretofore, the plan will permit a regular load of six semester hours in each five-week term. And the result will provide the usual amount of academic credit while permitting longer vacations for students. A broad program of graduate and under graduate credit leading to B. A., B. S., B. B. A., and M. A. degrees will be offered. Pre-professional work will be available to students expecting to enter engineering, medical, and law schools later.

Special features will include courses in safety, health, conservation, democracy and Latin-American relations. The Palo Duro School of Art will be held from June 4 to July 9 under the direction of Miss Isabel Robinson, head of the department of art. The artist-in-residence will be Grant Reynard of Leonia, New Jersey, nationally recognized painter and etcher. Dr. Don G. Williams will teach courses in radio and visual education. Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Nutt of the Vander-Cook School of Music, Chicago, will return through popular demand to conduct a recreation camp and band school to be called the Music Recreation Session. The dates of the band school are August 4 to 16 inclusive. A summer nursery school will be conducted by the department of home economics during the first five-week session. The director in charge will be Miss Angie Nail, who will return for her third summer at the college.

The matriculation fee for each five-week session will be $15 and the activity fee $5. Room and board at Cousins Hall will be $35 for each half session and the same price will prevail at Stafford. Room and board at the Randall Cooperative Home for girls will be $33 for each session or $22 with one hour of work a day.

Credit in the Palo Duro School of Art may be as much as six semester hours for which the fee, including tuition and transportation on daily field trips will be $30. Smaller units of credit will cost in proportion, ranging upward from $17 for three semester hours. Auditors will pay $7.50 for one week or $12.50 for two weeks.

Zimmer Wins Pilot Contest

John Zimmer of Stratford, student-pilot in the C. A. A. training school, has been named winner of the Amarillo Globe-News aviation awards of merit. For his excellent work in the flying program, Zimmer will receive a membership in the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association, and a year's subscription of the magazine, Flying and Popular Aviation.

Another winner is a former student, J. C. Forbes, who won the award given to the Amarillo division of the class. He will receive the same award as Zimmer.

West Texas Groups Push Building Plan

Plans Boosted . . . . . Students Can Help Get Building . . . . . In Editorial

There are no better authorities on the need for a new science building for West Texas State than the students who must smell the escaping gases and work with inadequate equipment. Facilities originally planned for a student body of 500 students are painfully inadequate for a group of 1200.

If the legislators of Texas could realize the acute need, West Texas State would be given her first major building in thirteen years. Certainly no other school and no other body of students are more deserving. And the need could not be greater nor the opportunity less for doing anything about it under present conditions.

But legislators are not mind readers. They seek not only facts, but attitudes which help to interpret facts. They will take our word for it but testimony will be effective only if made articulate and massive in the next few weeks.

Here is a chance for students to help themselves and those who follow them by writing Texas senators and representatives at once. Speak now—or don't expect relief from an almost intolerable situation!

Snow Completes Preview of Texas Weather for Puerto Rican Girls

Texas weather has performed adequately for two Puerto Rican students, who arrived on the campus recently. The girls have seen the dust blow, and the sun shine. They have seen fog and sleet, and snow, which they had never seen, appeared on the week-end.

Beatriz Martinez and Gloria Soto are from Rio Piedras, the University city of Puerto Rico. They are both 21, small brunettes, and are residents of Randall Hall. They are enrolled as seniors, having attended the University of Puerto Rico three years. About 5,000 students attend the University where there are a number of students from the United States, Virgin Islands, Venezuela and the Island of St. Croix.

Their courses were similar to those offered in universities and colleges in the United States. They will receive their degrees next January.

Dr. J. J. Powell to Represent W. T.

Dr. J. J. Powell, W. T. graduate now teaching in New York University, will represent this college at the centennial celebration of Fordham University on September 15-17, next.

Dr. Powell while a student here was prominent in musical organizations. He had the tenor lead in the presentation of The Mikado and in several oratorios.

Plaque Missing—Reward Offered for Its Recovery

Missing: The Alpha Chi plaque from the main hall.

The Prairie will pay a reward for information leading to the finding of this missing trophy.

New Freshmen Will Be Given Counsel Service

New freshmen, or freshmen entering the College for the second semester, are to be given counseling services by special advisors as were the freshmen entering in the fall, the counseling committee has reported.

These new students are asked to consult the freshman bulletin board, which is in the main corridor opposite the registrar's office, for assignments. These assignments will be indicated by student numbers.

After these assignments have been posted, freshmen are urged to report to their counselor's office for a conference during the counselor's office hours.

"Please call on any of us at any time and we will be happy to give help," Dr. A. M. Meyer, chairman of the counseling committee, said.

ON HONOR ROLL

The name of Garland Turner should have been included on the honor list in last week's issue of The Prairie. His record shows three A's and two B's.

New Building Or Bust

Chances Good For New Unit

Several Organizations Pledge Support For New College Science Hall

Inspired by indications that West Texas State has the best chance in years to obtain an appropriation for a major building, ex-student groups are organizing to impress upon the current legislature the gravity of the College's need.

Support of scores of Panhandle organizations will be sought. Endorsement already has been given by the Panhandle Geological Society and the Panhandle-Plains section of the American Chemical Society, according to press reports from Amarillo.

The structure sought is a $260,000 science building, well equipped, and designed to train young men and women to take positions in industry. The building has been advocated by the Board of Regents, the State Board of Control, and the State Department of Education. The latter's approval came last week.

Whole Program In Doubt

The two main questions in the situation are: 1. Will the State's finances permit any construction for institutions of higher learning? and 2. If buildings are granted, will West Texas State—often a "forgotten" institution—get one?

Observers doubt that the legislature can overlook the acute needs of Texas' overcrowded colleges. Building cannot be postponed indefinitely. Inadequacy and inefficiency cannot become the accepted thing in the training of much-needed leadership and industrial skill.

West Texas State's priority claim to a building has been widely conceded because this college has not been given a major building in 13 years, during which its enrollment has doubled. Many legislators have stated that "If any school gets a building, West Texas State will get one."

Exes to Lead Campaign

In order that such promises may not be lost in the competition for preferment, Panhandle sentiment will be mustered for the campaign now taking form. Last week a Canyon group and the Amarillo (See BUILDING, page 4)

Baccalaureate Speaker Named

Dr. Earl G. Hamlett, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Amarillo, has been selected by President J. A. Hill to deliver the baccalaureate sermon at 11 o'clock Sunday, June 1. Commencement day will be Monday, June 2.

The commencement address will be delivered by Dr. Henry Neumann, leader of the Brooklyn Society for Ethical Culture, the author of books on education for moral growth. The president's reception to the senior class will be on May 24, and senior class day is scheduled for May 31.

Hart Palpitations

By Fred Hart

Wisdom comes of age, or so said the old boys back a number of years; so, henceforth you, dear reader, can expect to be really entertained with the witty sayings and smart digests easily understandable by the collegiate mind. For, Hart is one year older this week. Last week Hart was still a member of the "teen" set and could readily be excused for sometimes slipping into the lingo and attitudes of a high school freshman. But now Hart has entered the twenties and will naturally attempt to contemplate world events with the astute probing of the mature mind.

Incidentally Mabel Back, our censor of society also was the celebrant of a birthday last week.

And speaking of Mabel, I never see her busily directing the activities of the society staff without remembering her first assignment for The Prairie. It was the faculty reception during her freshman year—freshmen are easily swayed by réceptions without the faculty being present also—and Mabel was really nervous and excited. It was then that Hart, seeing a beauty in distress (somehow, we've always had a weakness for beauty in a dress) came on the scene. We are happy to report that Mabel was able to pound out an acceptable yarn despite the help given.

Now that scientists have discovered the abundance of vitamins in plain grass, we understand the senior agriculture class in range control will make a survey to determine the maximum profitable grazing in spring pasturage for the lawn in front of Cousins Hall.

Don't your feelings really hurt when you walk on the grass, and prevent many many vitamins from developing?

Everyone is glad that the social clubs have finally lured their spring catch into the fold, and the rest of the world can settle back to the monotonous routine of living.

A little girl, who somehow has escaped proper publicity was recalled to mind by our idle wondering as to whose capable shoulders were filling the purple and yellow plaid coat in front of us. A little recollection shows that she was first recorded in our little book of doings last September when she plunged into Buffalo pool with such force that Prof. Hinkle unexpectedly got a bath. This bundle of vivacious personality is SUZY ANDERSON.

Naturally all of you will be out this week-end to see what and where you were on the "Night of January 16th."

For the latest in hair styles, we recommend the "windblown," as exhibited by Betty Whitlock. For years we have tried a similar style, but everyone tells us to comb our hair at least once a month; so, we're naturally interested in the success of Miss Whitlock's venture.

Although we now have seven minutes between classes, the unofficial student union in the west hall causes such a traffic congestion that we are thinking of petitioning the state safety board for a traffic cop.

According to the current issue of "Look," gentlemen wear suspenders only—never belts—but an unofficial survey reveals that only about one in every fourteen campus men wear suspenders.

Deep In A Dream?

Campus life is beautiful here at times, but often it's bewildering and frightening. It is like watching the swirling waters of a whirlpool. They make a lovely surface pattern, covering their depths with foam and spray. Sometimes the waters subside, and you can see deep down into them for an instant before they resume their mad caprices.

My dream is like that. Everyone is caught in an eddying current, spending his youthful exuberance in effervescing bubbles. But there are sudden calms when you can penetrate beyond the surface and see into the depths.

I like to look back to the first scenes of my dream. They are those first college days, when everything was so new and exciting. There was that glorious feeling of adventure. Everyone was strange but friendly. There were parties and dances, music and people. Everything was alive and vibrant.

And there are scenes of classrooms, teachers, and books on the fringes of my dream. They seem to move in and around everything else. Sometimes they break right into another picture, and burst it like a bubble. Usually they don't bother, but they are always there in the background.

The halls are over-run with young people. I like to drift around with them. We talk so gaily, and laugh, and play; and time slips by unnoticed. Sometimes everything is confused. The pictures of the classrooms, and teachers, and books seem to force their way into my attention; but the people with their talk and laughter won't leave. They just fade a little. There is a schedule of examinations that looms larger than anything else. I don't like all the hurry and confusion, but it will leave in a little while and the pictures will behave themselves again.

There are two scenes on my dream stage that I don't see very often. One is a picture of a book. It seems to contain the knowledge of all books. I have to search long for the meaning of a line. When suddenly I find it, a thrill tingles through me. I start to search out another secret, but all my young friends swarm in and cover up the book. I want to look at it again, but my playmates are calling me; so I go away with them.

I see the other scene even less. It is a picture of a person. At first it appears to be just an ordinary person, but there is something magnetic about it. It seems to hold something for me; something I'm starving for. When I have looked at the picture long enough to see through all the clothes and surface gilt, I begin to understand it. Then, like a sudden flash of light, I see the character. I have found its secret, and I am happy.

These two pictures are the most beautiful in my whole dream, but they are the hardest of all to understand. I call them my key pictures, because I know they hold the secrets that will unlock the doors for me when I awake.

Ples Harper To Study In Peru

Ples Harper, '29, who has been teaching Spanish in Tucson, Arizona for several years, has been accepted as a graduate student in the University of San Marcos, Lima, Peru.

He received his A. M. at the University of Washington at Seattle, Washington, and has done more than a year's work toward his Ph. D. at Leland Stanford University. Harper expects to finish his work for his Ph. D. degree at San Marcos, the oldest university on the American continent.

Accompanied by his wife, he will sail for South America March 16th and will remain in Lima until September, 1942.

Spanish Club Plans Programs

El Circulo de Menendez Pital, the Spanish Club, discussed plans for a program to be given in Amarillo in the near future at a regular meeting Thursday.

The club is to give a reception honoring the Puerto Rican and Spanish-American students attending W. T. at the home of Miss Mary E. Hudspeth, Thursday, February 27 from 4:30 to 7. Other groups invited to attend the reception are the International Relations Club, the Y. M.-Y. W. C. A. and members of the faculty.

Penick Starts Basic Flight Training

Lucius G. Penick, former student at W. T., has completed his primary flight training course, and has reported to Amarillo for his basic training at the school maintained there by the West Coast Air Corps Training Center.

Penick has completed ten weeks of training at Santa Maria, where he was enrolled in the Allen Hancock College of Aeronautics. He acquired about 60 hours of flying there, in addition to considerable ground school.

Former Student And Professor Prepare Report

An article on Panhandle paleontology, prepared by the late Prof. C. Stuart Johnston and Wayne G. Christian, West Texas State College graduate who specialized in paleontology and archaeology, has appeared in the January issue of the Journal of Paleontology.

The story is an illustrated, scientific report on the finding of a new member of the dog family in fossil beds near Goldston, Texas. The well preserved specimen named "pliocyon Walkerae" in honor of Mrs. Albert B. Walker, has been preserved, carefully measured and displayed at the Panhandle-Plains museum. The large dog-like animal was found during excavations of the Works Progress Administration in Donley county in the summer of

EX-STUDENT POSTOFFICE

Congratulations are going to Mrs. Lula B. Owen, M. A. '39. She has resigned her position at Hedley to become head of the English department of the Floydada High School. Further congratulations go to Alma Hall, '30, who has resigned her position as head of the mathematics department in Dalhart High School to become head of the department in the Hereford High School. She succeeds Ethel Rice, '26, who resigned to marry Zavler Renzi of New York City.

Mrs. R. L. A. Clark, '34, the former Hettie Lou Bagley, has resigned her position as teacher of English in the High Point school, Childress, to accept a similar position in the Wellington public schools.

Seth Lindsey, '36, who is principal of the high school at Abernathy, is president of the Hale County Unit of the Texas State Teachers Association.

Among the many out-of-town visitors during the Popenoe lecture series were Bessie Chambers Patterson, '30, her husband, Elmer Patterson, and their two daughters.

Bill Britton, '37, recently of the staff of the Amarillo Globe-News and former editor of The Prairie, is now at Ontario, Calif. in the air services of Uncle Sam.

Alma Lynn Been, '37, now Mrs. Rufus McGinty of Plains, has had an interesting trip this year. Mrs. McGinty chaperoned the Texas Ranch Girls who took part in the Madison Square Garden world championship rodeo. Later the same party spent ten days in Boston. While on their trip, they sat in the same theater box with Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and met among many other celebrities, Sonja Henie, Brenda Frazier and Joe Louis. A surprise that greeted them in New York was the fact that the Madison Square Garden programs carried a picture of the entrance of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society museum. Mr. McGinty has general charge of all the Texas performers who take part in the annual show at Madison Square Garden.

Sam Archer, '39, who has been principal of the elementary school at Shallowater, has recently transferred to Seagraves where he teaches math and science.

1938 under the direction of Mr. Christian. The paper just published was completed after the death of the senior author.

Reprints of an article by Mr. Christian and Dr. R. A. Storton of the University of California which appeared in the November 1940 issue of the Journal of Mammalogy have been received here. This paper concerns the finding of the remains of a hyena-like animal in Cita canyon on the Harrell ranch in Randall county. This rich fossil bed was the subject of much work by the late Prof. Johnston, whose efforts constitute a permanent contribution to vertebrate paleontology. No true member of the family Hyaenidae has been reported from America, but the find in the Palo Duro canyon represents a possible continuation of that line in America and it is therefore of much scientific interest.

Former Student's Play Accepted

A former student, Fred Short, Jr., of Amarillo, has written a one-act play, entitled "Destiny's Children," which is scheduled for presentation in the experimental theater of the University of Texas.

Last year at W. T., Short wrote a three-act play, "Monterrey In May," and this comedy-drama was presented by the speech department as the senior class play.

Bufs Sweep Series; Alamo Game Tonight

A. & I. Hogs Lose By Large Score

Tall Boys Win Over Sensational Rivals in Conference Series

As a huge crowd of high school players, coaches, and student fans pleaded for new scoring records, and "Shorty" Halbert brought out roars of admiration as he intercepted opponents' shots at the goal, the West Texas Buffaloes neared the Alamo cage title here Friday and Saturday nights by defeating the Javelinas from Texas A. & I.

The world's tallest team reached a new high in their scoring sprees Friday night when they sent 87

The last home game of the season for the Tall Buffs will be played Friday night, when the Oklahoma City University Goldbugs come to the Panhandle for one game with the W. T. squad.

points through the hoops, while the Hogs made 47. This was a record for the Buffs since Al Baggett took over the reins as coach. Saturday night, however, the Star Dusters soared to another record and dropped 90 tallies in the basket while their opponents were scoring 22.

The games, witnessed by the participants and coaches in the District I high school tournament, thrilled visitors from all over the Panhandle. Every member of the Buffalo squad played in the contest, indicating that Coach Baggett did not try for the high scores that resulted.

Frank Stockman was high point man in both games, scoring a total of 40 points in the two encounters as 21 points sank through the hoops Friday night under his direction, followed Saturday by 19 tallies.

The Buffs were scheduled to play their last conference games of the season last night and tonight on the local floor as St. Mary's Rattlers journeyed to the Panhandle for a return engagement with the bison herd. In the first games between these two teams, played in San Antonio earlier in the season, the Buffs won by slight margins.

West Texas State N. Y. A. Team Wins Cage Meet

Canyon's National Youth Administration team won the Regional basketball tournament here Thursday, and the right to enter the state meet to be held at Ink's Dam on February 28 and March 1.

The team representing Wellington lost in the final match to the locals by a top-heavy score of 59-25. Wellington had advanced to the finals by defeating Lamesa, 31 to 2, while Canyon beat Lubbock, 21-13.

J. T. Woodard, who was chosen as a member of the all-intramural team in the college, was high point man of the tournament, with 36 points in two games. Carroll B. Hudson, project supervisor, coached the Canyon team.

Handball Is Next Local Sport

Handball will be the next sport on the list of intramural activities this season, according to Director Mitchell Jones. It was intended that boxing and wrestling should come next, but the ring could not be set up in the gym until after the basketball season is over.

During this waiting period, handball will be shifted forward, leaving more time later in the spring for tennis and track.

In the meantime, any aspirant to boxing or the "grunt and groan" sport may work out in the tumbling room of Burton Gymnasium. Gloves will be issued by Ralph Davis or Ralph Owens, business managers.

Tennis Players To Meet With Coach

Jack Jouette, new tennis coach at W. T., has requested that all aspirants for the tennis team this year to meet in Room 104 of the Administration Building at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening.

At this meeting, plans will be made for organizing the squad, practice sessions will be arranged, and road trips discussed. Freshman players, as well as varsity members are being urged to be present at this meeting.

Bufs Spill St. Mary's for Title

Stockman Leads W. T. in 60-28 Win—Second Game Tonight In Gymnasium

Converting a "conceded" Alamo Conference title into an official one last night, the West Texas cagers spilled the St. Mary's Rattlers of San Antonio in a 60-28 contest.

The Buffalo hardwoods led all the way with half time score at 32 to 12. Stockman was high scorer with 13 points. Warnke and Neal tied with 6 points in the lead for the visitors. A second game is scheduled for tonight in Burton Gymnasium.

Last week the Buffs sent the Hardin - Simmons Cowboys home with two more defeats on the latter's record.

The third and fourth game of the season played on the local floor with the Abilene team made it 100 per cent for Coach Al Baggett's squad.

The Monday and Tuesday night scores were 74-40 and 67-36.

Four Teams In Regional Meet On Week-End Here

Four high school teams, representing the four districts in this region, will meet in Burton Gym for the regional meet on Feb. 28 and March 1.

On Friday night, at 7 o'clock, Pampa will meet Quail in the first game. This will be followed at 9:30 by the Amarillo versus Lubbock match. At 8:15 on this night the Buffs meet the Oklahoma University team in the last home game of the season. At 8:00 p. m. on March 1, the final game will be played between the winners of the two games played the night before.

All coaches and players will be admitted free to the Buff game Friday night.

"That's not tattooed, doctor. That's where my wife ran into me with the car when I was opening the garage."

West Texas State's Star Dusters have quite a record this season in their scoring. Through 22 games this fall they have amassed a grand total of 1607 points to their opponents 1071. The average per game is 59.33 points—for the eight home games the average is 77.6 points

"THERE AIN'T NO FLIES ON ME . . ."

NEW RECORD
When the Buffaloes tangled with the A. & I. Javelinas here Friday and Saturday nights, they set a new scoring record—and we mean a new record. In the first contest the score was 87-47, and in the second tilt the score was run up to 90-22. An average of 85.5 per game.

THE DISTRICT WINNER
In the District I high school basketball tournament held here last week end is the Amarillo Golden Sandie team who took the championship by defeating the Dalhart Wolves in a tight contest Saturday night. It will be one of the four teams that will compete in the regional meet here Friday and Saturday.

CONGRATULATIONS
To Coach Al Baggett's Hustlin' basketball squad who clinched the Alamo Conference Championship in basketball last night by defeating the St. Mary's University Rattlers from San Antonio. They will meet the Rattlers again tonight to close out the conference schedule and also this series of games. The last home game of the season will be played Friday night against the highly touted Oklahoma City University Goldbugs.

HERE AND THERE

Several New York fight managers are keeping their eyes on Warren Wilson, Clemson's southern conference heavyweight champ. He will be plenty tough though he hasn't had a fight all year. The reason is that every Clemson foe has forfeited to him. . . . Larry (Moon) Mullins of the University of Florida is being pushed for the head coaching position at Boston College. If he happens to get the job he will succeed Frank Leahy who left Boston to become athletic director at Notre Dame. Here's one from Victor Jones of the Boston Evening Globe: "After reading the papers and listening to the anguished wails of the Boston College Alumni—both academic and subway—over the week end, I was very glad to hear that Boston College was still open and doing business at the same old stand."

West Texas State's Star Dusters have quite a record this season in their scoring. Through 22 games this fall they have amassed a grand total of 1607 points to their opponents 1071. The average per game is 59.33 points—for the eight home games the average is 77.6 points

New Guard

Douglas Groom, who lives in Canyon, is playing his first year on the varsity squad. Groom is a substitute guard, but was becoming a menace to the regulars until injured.

and for games played on the opponents' courts, the average is 39.6.

But, this is not the only unusual thing about Coach Al Baggett's rangy crew. There are five men on the squad who weigh more than 200 pounds! And, there are seven men on the squad who have scored over 100 points this season! Take it from me, there's no other team in the country that can boast these features.

The desire to please everything having eyes seems inborn in maidens.—Salomon Gessner.

Chamber of Commerce committee for the College had a dinner at the Amarillo Hotel, with John McCarty as chairman. The group included Dr. Jason Robberson, president of the chamber, and Carl Hinton, secretary. John E. Hill of Amarillo, a member of the College board of regents, told of the overcrowded conditions in the science departments and of how the opportunities of plains students would be enlarged and multi-fied by the proposed building.

A campaign for the building was planned and responsibilities were assigned. The Student Senate was requested to rally the support of students and their parents for the building.

Garland Turner, president of the Students' Association, said:

"An important role in the effort now under way to secure a science building for the College can be played by students. Coming as the students do from a large part of the state, their concerted efforts through contacts in home communities can bear considerable influence. The need for this building is easily recognized by every student.

Plans are now under consideration as to how the Students' Association can best promote the enterprise, and every student will be called on to help."

Excavations

Excavations already made have given up large quantities of pottery which have dated the ruins as being 1250 and 1350 A. D. Evidence of trade with New Mexico and coastal peoples have been found, but the architecture of Panhandle ruins differs sharply from that of the contemporary Pueblos of the time.

Evidently a more northerly tribe of migratory habits took up permanent abode when the Canadian river area was reached. The culture, insofar as is now known, is confined to the Panhandle-Plains portion of the Canadian river valley.

Finds have included excellent skeletons, bone and stone awls, arrows, hide fleshers, corn, knives, stone pipes, weaving tools, pottery, jewelry, and remarkably preserved evidences of how the aboriginals lived. One of the prizes of the project is the skeleton of an 18-year-old girl who was wearing a string of shell beads six feet long and a conch shell pendant.

A replica of one of the ruins, done to scale and faithful in every details, is one of the best museum exhibits.

Clinic Aids 15 With Speaking Impediments

Since the opening of the second semester, Dr. Conrad W. Freed and the speech department staff have instructed and aided fifteen students from the College and Demonstration school in the College-sponsored speech clinic.

To date only the students with very serious impairments have been worked with. Since a great number of students have had speech qualities, they are advised to take speech 101.

A noticeable lack of equipment is one factor handicapping the correction of stuttering, lisping, and other impediments of speech, Dr. Freed said.

Those who are aiding in the clinic receive the basis for their observations from a course, speech pathology and clinical practice. As a student is observed, the assistants report their observations to Dr. Freed. The patients are then recommended to a course in voice science. Further development of the program will be made for the summer session.

"Best Seller" Tells Of First History Man In Series

"Best Seller" is the story of a step in the progress of education, and it is to be dramatized next Thursday evening by members of the West Texas Radio Work Shop.

It is one of a series of "Men Who Made History." It relates the life, the struggles, the well-earned success, and the great contribution made by an humble, and serious chap with a bald head and a kindly face. It is an obscure Ohio school master who exerted the greatest single influence in moulding the thinking, the morals and the conduct of untold millions throughout the 19th century. He was William McGuffey, and his contribution was the once Well-Known McGuffey Eclectic Readers.

Today, these readers are practically unknown. The new instruments of education have taken their place, but in his day, his contribution was a forward step quite as new as our theater and radio.

This is an original radio script by J. Will Ragent and Meredith Page. Its first presentation was by the Ohio School of the Air under the direction of Meredith Page.

This drama will be presented next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock over radio station KGNC, Amarillo, under the direction of Dr. Conrad W. Freed.

Davis Speaks To High School Seniors

Davis, a graduate of the school, contrasted the signs along the highways with the requirements for personal success. He was selected by a class committee for this speech because of his record as head of all four of his College classes.

Dr. L. F. Sheffy spoke at the Lions Club in Clarendon Tuesday, guest of Mayor Tom Connally. Mrs. Sheffy and her father, A. M. Smith, accompanied Dr. Sheffy.
