

AMERICAN EDUCATION WEEK TO BE OBSERVED BY WHOLE NATION ON NOVEMBER 5-11

EDUCATING FOR TOMORROW IS THE THEME OF 1934 CELEBRATION; FOURTEENTH ANNUAL OBSERVANCE TO TAKE PLACE IN SCHOOLS, CHURCHES, CIVIC AND PROFESSIONAL ORGANIZATIONS AND HOMES.

November 5-11, 1934, has been set aside for the observance of the fourteenth annual American Education Week. The occasion is celebrated each year during the week that includes Armistice Day, beginning Monday in the schools and closing Sunday with appropriate exercises in the churches. Educating for Tomorrow is the general theme.

Sponsors Extend Invitations
Sponsors of American Education Week are the National Education Association, the American Legion, and the United States Office of Education. Invitations to cooperate are extended by the three sponsoring organizations to other groups interested in the welfare of boys and girls and the preservation of a democratic form of government based upon the ability of the people to govern themselves.

The National Congress of Parents and Teachers, with a million and a half members, emphasizes the American Education Week observance in its own program. Hundreds of newspapers take part in this event, and radio broadcasts take American Education Week programs into millions of homes. There are a million teachers to take the lead and thirty million young people to arouse the interest of fathers and mothers and other citizens.

The purpose of American Education Week is to give the public an opportunity to participate in selecting education objectives and appraise the work of the schools. Last year it was estimated that about eight million adult citizens visited the schools of the nation for this purpose.

Educating for Tomorrow is the theme which will be featured in the programs of the week. Special topics have been selected for discussion each day.

Recent critical developments in national life make participation in the observance of American Education Week for 1934 a paramount duty of good citizenship. The observance will include a study of the social and economic goals toward which our nation is moving.

In line with this aim, November 5 will be devoted to the topic Planning for Tomorrow.

Programs of Tuesday, November 6, will be devoted to the adjustment of educational opportunity to present-day needs.

Topics for discussion during the rest of the week include rural education, school finance, education for good citizenship, the new kinds of occupations and services for which the schools must prepare tomorrow's citizens, and the enrichment of character thru education.

School observance of Armistice Day will be held Friday, November 9.

Plains Museum Was Visited By W. T. Ex-Studes

The Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum was a center of interest and was one of the attractions offered to ex-students and friends of the institution during the two-day celebration of our Silver Jubilee Home-Coming. Many of the visitors availed themselves of the opportunity and made inspection of the collection. The number of visitors is surprisingly large when we realize that the celebration had so many other items of interest.

Many Localities Represented
Many towns and cities of Texas and those of many other states are found to be represented on the register at the museum. Visitors from Florida, New York, Kansas, Colorado, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Texas evidenced their interest in the museum by their presence there. The principal speakers on

Committee Asks Appropriation For Memorial

West Texas State Teachers College was honored by the selection of L. F. Sheffy, as a member of a committee of three who presented a petition, asking for a $50,000 for a Goodnight Memorial, to a subcommittee of the Senate which met in Austin last week. Sheffy with two other men, Sam Braswell of Clarendon and T. E. Johnson of Amarillo, who were chosen to act for the Panhandle communities, conferred with Walter D. Cline, Executive Committeeman of the Texas Centennial Commission, at Austin last Wednesday.

The appropriation for which this Panhandle committee asked will be used to rebuild the old Fort Elliott at Mobeetie, to mark historic spots in this district such as Old Tascosa, Adobe Walls, and old Clarendon.

Amphitheater Memorial
A lasting memorial proposed to be in the form of an amphitheater to seat 30,000 people, to be dedicated to Colonel Goodnight and other pioneers of the plains country, is to be erected at Palo Duro State Park.

Wheeler Co. Petition Approved
The people in the county of Wheeler have already asked for $20,000 to restore Fort Elliott. The committee from the Panhandle placed its approval upon that.

A pageant will be staged in the canyons if the appropriation is secured, and the celebration in this plains country will be only one of many which will radiate from the center of celebrations of the Texas Centennial in Dallas. Others probably will be East and South Texas, and in West Texas in the region of El Paso.

Local Club Of I. R. C. Has Educ. Purpose

The Year's Program Is Of Unusual
Interest

The International Relations Club was organized for educational purposes. This club is the largest intercollegiate institution in the world. There are more than twenty-five chapters of the organization in Texas, and more than six hundred in the world.

Local Chapter Has Fifty Members
The local chapter is composed of more than fifty members who meet on the second and fourth Mondays of each month and are entertained by programs dealing with international affairs. The club receives fortnightly a review of all international affairs from the Carnegie Foundation of New York, and a review of this by members is made a part of each program. Each month it is planned that there shall be a world-traveller to visit the club and to take a part on the program. Also, once each month, there shall be a book review of one of the books included in the collection of books, which have been donated to the club by the Carnegie Foundation. This collection has become a fairly large library in the course of the five years during which there has been a chapter here. It is now valued at more than five hundred dollars, and each year there is added to this collection a number of books, valued at from fifty to seventy-five dollars.

Convention Here Last Year
Last year the Southwest International Relations Club Convention met here in Canyon. This year it will be held in Alpine in the latter part of the month of March. It is planned that twelve delegates shall go from here to represent the local Schools desiring to take part in this project are instructed to encourage all students to write on the topic, and from the manuscripts of the entire school, to select the three best ones for the national project. The best articles submitted will be published in the Journal of the National Education Association and in Vitalized School Journalism.

Whistling Wind of an October Evening Starts Reminiscence

(Editorial Note. This autobiographical sketch was written at the beginning of this student's first college year. He is one of a group of 350 freshmen).

On this October evening, as I sit in my room, listening to the wind whistling outside, my mind wanders back to days gone by. The wind always puts me into a reminiscent mood, and tonight as I think of my life I wonder what I have really accomplished thus far. My life, for the most part, has been uneventful, spent after the manner of most farm boys.

Again I am a little boy sitting around the fire on a cold winter evening, listening to the talk of the elders, or scampering around playing with my little brothers; once more I lie awake on Christmas Eve night wondering if Santa

Roughnecks Support Buffs In Edmond

Rah! Rah! Rah! And all that sort of thing. A bus loaded to the gills with jolly pepsters from the Alpha Sigma Xi commonly known about the campus as Roughnecks, was off for a speedy start for Edmond, Oklahoma, where the Buffaloes and Broncos met. A series of snappy yells in every town along the way served as an advertising campaign as well as a tuning up for the game. Believe me, they were really getting the job done, according to the football boys.

Oklahoma City is some place to spend the night. Most of the boys went to—cut—Oh, skip it! Well anyway G. L. Stanley says that it was worth it even if they were all so sleepy they couldn't sign their names when they left.

Only One Casualty
The game was a howling success for the Roughnecks and a darn good game at that. The only criticism of the game was that Thurman Tyner fell for the College Queen and is now the proud possessor of her picture. In case you want to know what she got out of it I might suggest a couple of sore toes and an everlasting hatred for dancing.

The organization was truly the guest of the school. Their badges passed them to every activity including a dance—whatta dance—a football game, a reception and a dozen other things. But above all, the badge served as a key to every maiden's heart in spite of the protests of the Dean of Women. They were even introduced over the radio, and one of the boys was asked to speak.

"Batch" Good Sponsor
C. Wesley Batchelder is a swell fellow, and all of the boys enjoyed his, as well as Gene Whitman's, company on the trip. "Batch" is the sponsor of the Roughnecks, you know.

The boys who went were: Sam Kleith, Dean Fletcher, G. L. Stanley, C. R. Cross, Toby Purcells, B. F. Taylor, Dale Bowman, J. C. Line, Carroll Killebrew, James Compton, Melvin Alexander, Thurman Tyner, Arlen Hartzog, Ashley Little, and Urnon Burum.

Miss Pauline Presley, who is teaching at Higgins, was home last Friday and Saturday.

Perhaps a gun should be taken along on that flight to the stratosphere. You can never tell where you'll come across that fellow Dillinger.

Hall County Club Is Organized

Hall county students of W. T. met in the Administration Building Wednesday morning, October 24th, at 9:30 and organized a Hall County Club to be active for the entire long session.

Officers elected are as follows. Edwin Todd, president; Fannie Mae Rees, first vice president; Mildred Lindsey, second vice president; Ernestine Walker, third vice president; Jack Davis, secretary, and Jack Sittion, reporter. Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Moore were named sponsors of the organization.

The club is to hold meetings twice each month, with alternate meetings in the form of socials. The next meeting of the club will be on November 6, at Randall Hall, and will be in the form of a party. Randall Hall girls will act as joint hostesses.

Twenty-four students are members of the organization.

Students To Make Cartoon Showing Events and Ideas In Education

AIDS APPRECIATION

Best Selections To Be Used In N E A Program of Interpretation

No craftsman portrays current life more tellingly than the cartoonist. Many a famous issue has been won or lost by a cartoon. As a part of the nationwide program of the National Education Association planned to strengthen public appreciation of the schools, the National Association of Student Editors announces the sixth annual cartoon project.

This project is carried out in connection with the Association's program of interpreting the schools to the public. Appreciation of the schools on the part of the students builds a foundation for strong support by tomorrow's voting citizens.

Cartoon drawing is a popular medium that can be used to focus the attention of pupils upon the significance of education to society and to themselves, and at the same time encourage the growth of talent. Students in art classes are asked to draw cartoons picturing some ideal or event in education of enough importance to attract nationwide attention. These cartoons may be used in local school publications as well as submitted for the project.

On page three of The Prairie is an enrollment blank for schools which desire to take part in this project to fill out and send to the National Association of Student Editors. All schools returning this blank will be sent complete information for taking part in the project.

The best cartoons submitted in this project are used in various publications. — Vitalized School Journalism.

Grant Has Made Possible a New Men's Dormitory

A loan of $47,000 has been approved by the Federal Government for the purpose of constructing a men's dormitory for the West Texas State Teachers College, according to a report received from Washington by President J. A. Hill a few days ago.

$13,320 Is Federal Grant
$13,320 of the total amount comes to the college as a direct grant from the federal government under the Federal Public Works Administration and the remainder of the sum is to be paid by the college in yearly installments with the last payment falling due in 1961.

Contractors
Rittenberry and Carder, contractors, of Amarillo, hold the contract for construction of this project. Wyatt Hedrick of Fort Worth, who is the consulting architect for the construction of the building, conferred with Dr. Hill, Friday morning, October 26, concerning plans for the commencing of the work. W. T. Gamewell has been employed as the local attorney to handle legal matters involved for the government.

The project, when completed, will accommodate forty young men. The structure will be 40 by 108 feet, and of modern two-story, fire proof construction. It will contain a dining room, kitchen, reception and guest rooms on the first floor and sixteen rooms on the second floor.

According to present plan, work will begin in the near future and if weather conditions permit, will be completed within five months. Approximately thirty men will be given employment during the period of construction.

Located on Highway
Unless a change is made in present plans as to location, the dormitory will be situated facing the highway on a lot which is part of the campus property west of Buffalo Stadium.

Local Women Attend A.A.U.W Convention

Mrs. Geraldine Green Was
Parliamentarian at Session

Dean Geraldine Green, president of the local branch of the A. A. U. W., attended the biennial convention of the Texas Division of that organization which met at Wichita Falls Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Green, who represented both the college and the local A. A. U. W. acted as parliamentarian at all business sessions. A. A. U. W. members who accompanied Mrs. Green are: Mrs. T. V. Reeves, member of the local legislative committee, Mrs. T. B. McCarter, state historian, and Miss Jean Moore, chairman of the local social committee.

There were approximately 250 delegates present, representing 29 state chapters.

Among the interesting features of the convention were addresses given by Dr. Evelyn Newman, Professor of Literature, Rollins College, Winter Park, Florida, and Mrs. Earl G. Wyatt of Amarillo, former state president.

At a final business session Saturday, Dr. Evelyn Carrington of Huntsville was chosen president of the Texas division.

Activities of the convention were concluded Saturday when delegates were guests at a delightful luncheon at the Women's Forum Clubhouse, an afternoon tea at the home of Mrs. J. J. Perkins in the Country Club estates, and a formal dinner at the Wichita Club.

Friendship costs least in money and makes most in profits.

A number of the faculty members left the campus of West Texas State Teachers College last week-end, some to arrange extension classes, others to make addresses to various educational groups in this region, and still others for different purposes.

Dr. and Mrs. Hill to Austin
Leading the group was President J. A. Hill, who left Canyon Friday afternoon for Austin where he will attend a regular meeting of the State Board of Education this week. Preceding this meeting, Dr. Hill will attend a conference of the presidents of the Texas State Teachers Colleges. Mrs. Hill, who accompanied her husband, intends to visit their daughter, Marion, who is attending State University.

Dean Jarrett Leaves Saturday
Dean R. P. Jarrett left Saturday night for Austin in order to be there Monday and Tuesday to go before the Board of Education with President Hill.

Canyon Group Hears Bruner
Monday night of last week, F. E. Savage, Superintendent of the Demonstration School, Dr. Harris M. Cook, Dean of Men, John Pope, Principal of the Canyon High School, and Irby Carruth, Superintendent of the Canyon Schools, went to Lubbock to hear Dr. H. B. Bruner of the Teachers College of Columbia and consultant of the Fort Worth schools' curriculum revision movement. Dr. Bruner had as his subject, "Modern Trends in Education and Curriculum Problems."

Cook Speaks in Childress
From Dr. Bruner's talk Dr. Cook says he gathered many new ideas and important facts about the curriculum which he brought out in his lecture at Childress before the teachers and board advisers of Childress county during the week-end.

Dean Cook has returned from Childress where he has delivered the lecture on curriculum construction. He has offered the services of this institution in advancing the study of the curriculum and expressed his desire to help the teachers of Childress County.

Plans are being made to arrange, from this college, extension courses on the curriculum at Childress for the benefit of Childress County teachers.

Shirley at Registrar's Meet
Registrar D. A. Shirley left Canyon Thursday for the meeting of the Texas Branch of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars in San Antonio, October 26th and 27th.

Mr. Shirley has prepared a paper for the meeting, his subject being, "The Testing Program for Texas Colleges." The guest speaker of the occasion was J. R. Robinson, who is Registrar of George Peabody College for Teachers.

Savage Organizes Dalhart Class
Superintendent F. E. Savage went to Dalhart October 25th to complete the organization of a class of approximately twenty-eight people who will study curriculum problems of the schools today.

Besides these professors, many others leave Canyon regularly to conduct extension classes at various places radiating from this college.

Friends of Library Sell Outline For Book Reviews

Friends of the library are endeavoring to pay the cost of their delegates' trip to Tennessee by selling an outline planned for book reviews, known as "Criteria for Books on Specific Subjects."

These outlines are thorough, all inclusive and should be of much help to the bewildered student who has been assigned a "book review."

Six cents is the price of each of these sheets, and they may be procured at the desk in the reading room.

Nearly 2,000 rural schools in 24 states failed to open last autumn because of lack of funds. In many communities free public schools became, of necessity, tuition schools, admitting only children whose parents could pay the rate asked.

A THREAT TOWARD THE WELFARE OF THE STATE

"Facts are stubborn things, but very helpful guides toward progress and safety. We call your attention to the following, coming from several sources:

"1. Substance of the Tax Amendment. An amendment to be voted upon at the general election, November, 1934, is embodied in 'Senate Joint Resolution No. 13.' This proposes to amend Section 3, Article 8, of the State Constitution to provide that the State may collect from all taxes, licenses, permits, and fees (except fees paid by students to state educational institutions, and except rentals, bonuses, and royalties obtained from public lands and other public property) and expend only $22.50 per capita per biennium, or only $11.25 per capita per year.

"2. No precedent. This method of restricting tax revenue on a statewide basis is without parallel in the tax machinery of any state.

"3. Wealth the Measure of Ability to Pay Taxes. It is generally recognized that the ability to bear taxes is represented by the amount of wealth in a state, rather than by the size of its population. The population of Texas increased 90 per cent between 1900 and 1930, the computed wealth of the state increased 450 per cent, or five times as much.

"5. Amendment Increases Local Taxes. This amendment, if adopted, must inevitably increase local tax burdens. When normal times return, the State will be forced to use all of its revenue-producing power to support its own agencies.

"This bad consequence of the amendment's operation in turn involves another. To the extent that the tax burden is thus shifted from the state to local communities, the burden is also shifted from the large to the small taxpayer."

Other things to be considered if and when the tax amendment is adopted are: Bread Bonds, cost of Texas Centennial, Federal funds for highways, and the reduced value of the dollar.

"Conclusion. All of these facts, without exception, indicate that the amendment should not be adopted. We can find no reason for believing that the functions of government in this state should be so terribly handicapped as must be the case if this amendment shall be approved by the voters in the November election."

R. T. Ellis, Texas Outlook.

EDUCATING FOR TOMORROW

Education means so much to present day civilization that we may reasonably say that education IS civilization. Educating for Tomorrow is the theme of the fourteenth annual American Education Week to be observed thruout the nation November 5-11.

Education can not stand still. It must grow to cope with increasing demands for effectiveness in meeting the needs of children and adults.

It is necessary then, since the public constitutes the only source of support for education, that the people understand the needs, problems, and aims of the public school system. The support necessary for a progressive system of education can only be realized when there is proper understanding between the schools and the public. To achieve this is the aim of American Education Week.

The boys and girls of America have a two-fold part to play in the observance of American Education Week: (1) To see that parents have a share in the observance, (2) To prepare themselves to understand the history of the schools, their organization and needs in order that they who will soon assume responsibility as adult citizens and taxpayers will be better prepared for that responsibility.—Vitalized School Journalism.

We men stick together in our struggle for existence.

The students at T. C. U. have coined many new phrases in their definition of words, which all goes to show what an education can do. For example, we learn that "tap-stry" is fancy cooking, and "bibliography" is a story of the Bible, "gargoyle" is a throat rinse. A breakfast at which women who have loved the Y. W. C. A. of W. T. throughout the twenty-five years of its existence met together, was one of the most delightful of the small affairs which occurred during the silver Anniversary celebration of the college.

Seventy-two women and girls, representing almost every college year since 1910 attended the breakfast. The chairman of the usher committee reported that his committee showed people through the building during Home-Coming. The annual chairman reported that the high school section of the annual was progressing slowly, due to the fact that the college students were having their pictures taken now.

A round-table discussion was held, on the subject of making money for buying books to place in the library. Several methods were discussed but none of them definitely accepted. The Council adjourned at one-thirty.

Pirates! Pirates!!

The Pirate Crew who are running the Canyon Steam Laundry are like the pirates of old in quest of treasure.

The treasure they seek, however, is not spelled "g-o-l-d," but "e-d-u-c-a-t-i-o-n."

They drop the hint that going may be rough at times and clouds get pretty dark, but their motto is "Never give up."

The Pirates are from Hall and Donley counties where the membership is large and the organization very successful as a club whose sole aim is to promote clean athletics, good fellowship, co-operation, and higher learning among students.

Their laws:

Clean habits.

Good fellowship.

Honesty.

Loyalty.

Good behavior.

And their aim is to make as near as possible college graduates and worthy citizens of each and every Pirate who sails the sea of life.

BUFFS FALL TO CENTRAL TEACHERS

SCORE IS 9-0 FOR SOONERS

Bronchos Dedicate New Grid Plant With Victory

A great defensive team from Central State Okla. Teachers College met a great defensive team from the West Texas State Teachers College and capitalized on breaks to emerge victorious, 9 to 0, before a large homecoming crowd in Edmond, Saturday.

Punting into strong wind that almost blew the ball back in their faces, the Buffaloes were backed up to their 17-yard line in the middle of the first quarter. Haight passed to Frost for a first down on the Buff 7. Three tries at the line proved futile, and on the last down, Haight passed the ball, lying nearly on the ground as a horde of crimson-shirted Buffaloes charged him, into the waiting hands of Wade for the first score.

Safety on Fumble
Although the Buff line broke through to block the try for extra point, an offside penalty gave the Bronchos a second try and Haight converted.

Once more backed up on the goal line by an unfavorable wind, Cagle Teague, Buff fullback, fumbled a pass from center as he attempted to punt from behind his goal line, and Barnard, Central right end, fell on Teague for the safety.

The safety occurred on the first play in the second quarter just as the Buffs were getting the wind behind them. However, soon after the change of direction of the teams, the strong wind died down. The game was featured by the defense of both teams. After the two scores, neither team made a real threat to score. Two large, heavy lines, both averaging close to 190 pounds, battled for two quarters with neither side able to produce a score. Capt. John Walker, 210 pound tackle for the Buffaloes, was the outstanding man of the game as he broke through time after time into the Broncho backfield.

W. T. Frosh Upset Wayland Eleven In 18-0 Victory

Last Friday night the West Texas Frosh upset the strong Wayland College eleven from Plainview in winning from them 18 to 0.

Taking the ball early in the first quarter the Frosh drove from their own 45 yard line with Murry doing most of the toting to score with Murry making the last jaunt of nearly 10 yards. Dow failed to kick the extra point.

In the third quarter the Fish again started a drive which ended in a score. Miller threw a 15 yard pass to Baggett who was downed on the three yard line. Dow plunged over for the score. Dow again failed to convert.

A pass led to the third score in the last quarter as Baggett took another 15-yard pass from Miller to cross the goal line standing up. Slack missed the extra point.

Outstanding for the Frosh in the line were Kennedy, guard, Cain, center, and Baggett, end. In the backfield Miller, Slack, and Dow all shared the burden with Murry.

Next Friday morning the Yearlings leave for Portales to play the Eastern New Mexico Junior College that afternoon. While little hope is available on the Portales team, they have several outstanding high school stars on the team, and appear to be one of the strongest junior colleges in New Mexico.

There is no obligation upon members of the club, and there is a great deal to be learned by simply attending meetings.

Last Game At Home On Friday

Las Vegas Cowboys To Meet Buffaloes Here

West Texas students and Buffalo grid fans will have their last opportunity of the season to see Capt. Walker and company perform on their home gridiron next Friday night when they meet the New Mexico Normal Cowboys of Las Vegas.

This season has been a season of ups and downs for the Buffaloes. They started off the season with great prospects of having a winning ball club. Then in their first game they looked like they were lost on the football field.

However, in their next game the Buffaloes met the Oklahoma Champions, and on a gamble, after playing some great ball, were beaten 9 to 0. On the next week end the Buffs met a very strong Texas School of Mines team from El Paso, and met their stride to send the Miners home with a 20 to 6 defeat.

At Roswell for their first trip of the season the Buffaloes played their best ball of the season to that point, and with Buff blockers mowing down opposition with machine-like precision took the Cadets for a 47 to 0 ride.

Six days after they had played a sensational football game, displaying real power, the Buffs met McMurry in the Silver Anniversary Home-Coming game. As the saying goes the Buffaloes "looked like Ned in the first reader" and lost 17 to 7 to the Redskins. Captain Walker saw very little service in the McMurry game because he was sick, but the following week he led a team minus five regulars to Edmond and it was only after the bitterest of fights and a few breaks that the Bronchos of Coach Claude Reeds were able to paste a 9 to 0 defeat on the Buffaloes.

In losing to the Bronchos, the Buffaloes found themselves after all the "trials and tribulations," and next Friday night the Cow-

BISON BULL

By Fizz n' Fuzz

Now it is never the policy of this column to make excuses or apologies for anything, and what we say now is offered in that respect. However we do say that only the breaks beat a revamped Buff team at Edmond last Saturday.

We would never have said this but there were a bunch of Rough-necks there to bear us out in this case. The Buffaloes, led by Captain John Walker, blocked three punts, intercepted passes, and did everything but produce a score. When a team blocks three punts and gains no advantage that is a break for somebody.

Breaks are part of the game, and the Buffs are not making alibis. Haight for Central was laying nearly on the ground when he threw the ball into the air which was good for the score. It was just part of that good old game of football. That's what makes it interesting, but it also is responsible for some gray hairs.

Central had a truly great defensive team. A big line with several men that would tip the scales over 200 pounds, successfully bottled up the Buff offense most of the time. However, they met their match in the Buffalo line averaging 189 pounds.

We take our hats off to the men boys are very liable to find the going "just a little tough."

From Las Vegas the Cowboys are crying about the one point margin last year when they were defeated 7 to 6, and are coming to Canyon wanting revenge.

Win or lose now is the time to show a bunch of spirited boys that would fight their hearts out for West Texas, that through ups and downs, the school is behind them. Game time is eight o'clock. Be there and help the Buffaloes initiate a successful winding up this topsy-turvy season.

who formed that line. John Lee, Clinton Meek, John Rankin, R. D. Wheelock, Bill Allen, Capt. Walker, and Stina Cain. They all played a bang-up ball game with Capt. Walker turning in his best game of the season. Leo Jackson who went in for Wheelock for center, also played some spectacular defensive football.

Of course the backs, Jimmie Holston, Cagle Teague, Frank Van Noy, Ezell Champion, R. M. Thompson, and Laurence Clark, were among those present, and all played good games; but the backfield men get enough public mention and in this game it was a hard-charging line that was outstanding.

STUDENTS OF PRIMARY EDU. STUDY TREES

During the past week, student of Primary Education have been making plats of the section of the campus in which the Administration Building is located, showing the position and identification of each tree.

Upon investigation for this project, they found that on the center section of the campus here are 125 trees of five varieties: ash, sycamore, maple, American elm, and walnut.

They have made similar plats of every section of the campus, finding three additional varieties: Chinese elm, locust and tree of heaven. Some of the plats were done pictorially, others by manuscript.

The object of this study is to acquaint students of education with the trees on the campus, and to enable them to assist children with nature work. Since nature study is now an essential part of the primary curriculum, this project will no doubt prove invaluable to those who plan to teach.

Primary Folk To Have Circus

Circus day will be here soon for the youngsters in the first grade. Elephants, giraffes, trained dogs, clowns and cowboys will be at large on this gala occasion.

Using the circus as a unit of study, these small pupils under the direction of Miss Ruth Lowes have studied art, language, music, and reading. Elephants, giraffes, and other animals have been drawn and cut free hand by these children. Original dances with costumes made by the children will be a popular feature. No circus would be complete without a band to liven the audience; the rhythm band of the first grade will perform this duty. Cowboys and cowgirls will demonstrate some "tricks of the trade." Trained seals and dogs could not be left out of any real circus the children think; so these animals will be in their circus in full sway.

The climax of this unit of study will be reached when the boys and girls will put on a circus of their own, modeling it after that of the Tri-State Fair held in Amarillo in September. The circus will continue for two days.

all occasions at Home-Coming and many more or less distinguished, recognized and unrecognized guests thought it proper to make the visit a part of their program. During the two days of home-coming more than 1275 visitors signed the register, and many others saw the museum and left without signing due to the crowded conditions in the museum. The museum was held open during the football game by popular demand of more than 200 guests.

New Pictures for Gallery
Several new contributions have been made to the museum within the last few days. Several pictures have been received for the Art Gallery, but have not been displayed because of lack of space in which to put them.

Let's find out why Turkish tobacco is so important to a good cigarette

On the sunny slopes of Smyrna . . . in the fertile fields of Macedonia . . . along the shores of the Black Sea . . . grows a kind of tobacco that is different from any other tobacco in the world.

THESE Turkish tobaccos are the only tobaccos of foreign cultivation that are used to any great extent in making American cigarettes.

Turkish tobaccos are famous for their spicy aroma, and a blend of the right kinds of Turkish tobacco with our own home-grown tobaccos is better than any one kind used alone.

In Chesterfield we balance mild, ripe tobaccos grown in this country with just the right amounts of the right kinds of Turkish.

It is by blending and cross-blending these different tobaccos that we make Chesterfield the cigarette that's milder, the cigarette that tastes better.
