Three Members of Faculty Will Retire This Year

RICHARDSON

SMITH

By Miss Ruth Lowes

After thirty-three years of distinguished service as a member of the faculty of West Texas State College, Miss Anna I. Hibbets has offered her resignation, to become effective at the close of the current session. She will make her home at 2103 Tyler Street, Amarillo, with her sister, Miss Mary Hibbets, and her brother, Frank Hibbets.

Miss Hibbets' association with the college has been varied and unique. In 1910 she enrolled as a member of the school's first student body—a distinction for her which she points to with pride. Following her graduation she was invited by President R. B. Cousins to join the Training School faculty as critic teacher in the first grade. For a year during her period of service in this capacity she assumed the duties of acting principal during the absence of the principal.

As the college expanded Miss Hibbets was asked by the Education Department to introduce a few courses in primary methods for teachers who expected to teach in the lower elementary grades. These courses she organized and taught in addition to her work in the Training School.

By 1922 the increasing demands for work in primary education called for the addition of more courses to the curriculum, and Miss Hibbets with some reluctance gave up the work which brought her in direct contact with children to devote all of her time to college instruction. In this work she has continued up to the present, with occasional leaves of absence for study or travel.

Miss Hibbets recalls that five students enrolled for primary education the first year special courses were offered. Records of recent years shows that a peak of two hundred has been reached.

This steady growth in enrollment has not been accidental. It has been due largely to Miss Hibbets' careful organization of her courses around the practical needs of teachers. Her insight into the needs she gained from her own fruitful experience in teaching young children and from her long observation of teachers at work.

Special Contribution to Elementary Science

The course in nature study which she has offered for a number of years is a case in point. She noted that most teachers lacked a knowledge of the common phenomena of nature, and so she organized the course which students call one of the most interesting and beneficial of any they take. Today, few if any colleges offer on the undergraduate level similar work that is comparable in professional and personal enrichment.

Interest in primary education has

By Mrs. Travis Shaw

Miss Mary Moss Richardson, colorful and abounding in startling contrasts, not only is a permanent part of West Texas State College but is a whole institution in herself. No one has ever been able to pigeonhole her because she is not stereotyped and does not stay classified. She is not a type but a distinct individual, as unpredictable as Panhandle weather, except that the surprises she continually showers upon us are always pleasant and refreshing and never of the sand-storm variety. She confesses shyly, "I have used 'damn' three times in my life with remarkably satisfying results." As a matter of fact, nearly everything that she says or does produces remarkable results, satisfying to her and stimulating to her fellow workers and particularly to the students who have attended her classes during the past twenty-three years.

On becoming a member of this faculty in 1921, Miss Richardson resided in the Morelock home, now Mesquite Lodge, and took her meals with the Scotts in the "Block House" that has recently become the Health Center. For five years she was a part of the Scott family, moving with them to the location on Fourth Avenue, where she became a sort of patron saint to the college girls and a lifelong friend of Mrs. Scott. For one year prior to building her own home, she practiced housekeeping in one of the Cochran bungalows. Needless to say, the experiment resulted in complete and unbounded satisfaction with her culinary prowess. One of the startling things about Miss Richardson is that she extols her successes, especially if they surprise her, as frankly as she confesses her sins of omission and commission in the social order.

In the seventeen years that she has presided over Rest Cottage, and has shared its joys and blessings with fifty different college girls, most of whom could not have stayed in school except for the very casual business arrangements, to put it mildly, that existed in the household.

Miss Richardson's religion is best

College Girls Represent W. T. At High Schools

Representing the girls' physical education department of West Texas State in trying to improve the general physical strength and body mechanics of high school girls all over the Panhandle have been Mildred Stark, Nina Iverson, Beulah Mae Garrett, Mary Helen Mickey, Wilma Cupell, Alice Wiley, Alpha-mae Shafer, and Miss Ruth Cross, who have in groups gone to Hereford, Dumas, and Tulsa.

There girls have given demonstrations of correct body mechanics such as walking, sitting, running, climbing stairs, opening windows, lifting heavy objects, and relaxing the body. With the use of a girl dressed in a skeleton, the group has shown that even the simplest everyday activity can be done in such a way that less energy will be needed.

Then to suggest possibilities for development in the summer months especially, the girls showed simple exercises, hobbies, and sports. All of the suggestions were directed toward improving a girl's strength in her abdomen, shoulders, and feet, the weakest spots according to the war health authorities.

Such demonstrations were derived from inspirations received at the physical training meeting held in Austin earlier in the year. This meeting was attended by training experts of the Army, Air Corps, Navy, WACS, WAVES, and the office of Education in Washington, D. C. as well as by teachers from schools in various neighboring states.

At the present, it is doubtful whether any more such trips will be made in this term, but similar programs will probably be resumed next winter.

Knox Kinard, Lawrence Brotherton, and Peggy May, exes of W. T., met while visiting these schools, have given good reports on their value to all the girls who watched them.

Mrs. Smith To Retire at End Of Summer

Mrs. Agnes Collins Smith will end her career with West Texas State August 31, when she will return to her home in Amarillo.

Mrs. Smith came to W. T. first as hostess at Randall Hall, in 1926, where she served for seven years. In 1933 she was transferred to Cousins Hall where she has been head supervisor for eleven years.

She was educated at Oakcliff College for Girls, where she received her B. S. degree at the age of seventeen. Mrs. Smith has lived in almost every large city in Old Mexico. She taught school at Roxton and Amarillo. While at Amarillo, she served as principal.

In commenting on Mrs. Smith's leaving, President Hill said, "She gave herself unreservedly to her work, and loved it very much. She was in many ways responsible for the initial success of the dormitory. There is no way of evaluating the services that she has rendered at that place. I think Mrs. Smith's strong points are her womanly character, and her devotion to the girls, and her loyalty to this institution. Her industry is measured only by her physical ability to withstand. We will miss her a lot, and regret that it is necessary for her to retire. We shall always think of her as a warm friend and ardent champion of West Texas State."

Summer Field School in Mexico

West Texas State Will Offer Unusual Opportunity for Study of Spanish in Mexico

West Texas State College and Southwest Texas State Teachers College are completing arrangements for a Field School at Guadalajara, Mexico for this summer. The group will gather at Laredo and will leave Laredo on June 5 by special pullman to arrive in Guadalajara on the afternoon or night of June 6. Lodging and meals will be furnished by the Gran Hotel, which has just recently been built and which has excellent accommodations.

The return trip will begin on July 11 and will end at Laredo on July 13. Expenses for tuition, instruction, text book rentals, transportation from Laredo to Guadalajara and return to Laredo, and board and lodging during the entire period of June 5 to July 13 will be $150. There will be ample opportunity for interesting and inexpensive side trips from Guadalajara, but such side trips are not covered in the fee of $150.

Three of the most worthwhile excursions will be those of Tlaquepaque, to Lake Chapala and the active volcano, Paracutin, concerning which a great deal has been written recently.

This is an unusual opportunity for intensive study in the fields of Spanish language and Mexican civilization and for a very interesting and broadening experience. Officials and professors of the University of Guadalajara and of the Normal School of the State of Jalisco have promised to cooperate with the two Texas Colleges by furnishing lecturers in the various specialized fields of Mexican civilization.

Reservations from this vicinity should be made by May 13 with Dr. J. A. Hill, President of West Texas State College. Telephone reservations will be made pending arrival of deposit. Because of the necessity of making definite plans in advance, it will be necessary for each member of the group to make a deposit of $25 at the time the reservation is made. Applicants should indicate the phase of work in which they are interested in order that programs may be planned in detail.

Dr. Hill and members of the Spanish Department sincerely hope that many can take advantage of this opportunity and that they will find the experience profitable and pleasant. Directors are determined to see that everyone has ample opportunity for intensive and interesting work and for broadening contacts with the best people of the most Mexican city in Mexico.

Historical Society Met Friday at Cousins Hall

The Panhandle Plains Historical Society had its annual business meeting and dinner in Cousins Hall Friday, May 12.

At the banquet, Judge James D. Hamlin was toastmaster. The invocation was given by Rev. Robert W. Jones. Boyce House, columnist and commentator, was the main speaker of the evening, who talked on "Texas and the Great Southwest."

A sextet, composed of Misses Mary Lee Abbott, Shirley Byars, Frankie Phillips, Beatrice Clark, Sada Ruth Hoskins, and Mary Evelyn Foster, sang "Texas May I Never Wander," and "Since You Went Away." Dr. Wallace R. Clark sang "De Ole Ark's a Movin'" and "Little Picka-ninny Kid."

Mr. and Mrs. Arvo Goddard visited friends in Canyon last week; Mrs. Goddard, the former Betty Guthrie, will soon resume her work in a bank in Lubbock. Arvo is stationed at Camp Roberts, California, where he is a member of the band of the 71st Infantry Division.

Marvin Petty, '42, and J. T. Glass, '30, are among ex-students of W. T. employed at Cactus Ordnance Works. Petty was a chemistry major, Glass a biology major.

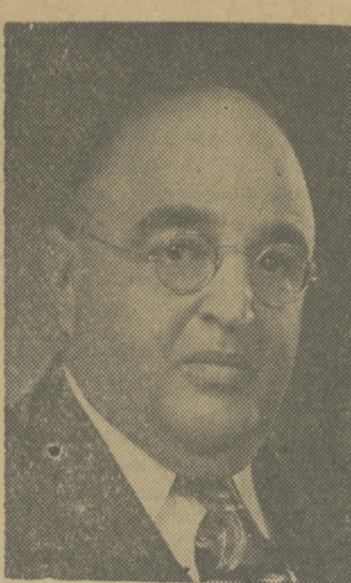

ATTENTION

At a call meeting held immediately after assembly last Thursday, El Circulo Espanol Menandez Pidal, club for Spanish students, elected two officers for the fall semester.

Jean Tarleton, senior, was elected president, and Beth McDonald, sophomore, was elected secretary.

It was decided by the group to leave the election of other officers to be completed in the fall so that it would not be necessary to hold another meeting this year.

Dr. Joekel and Pres. McDonald Will Be Speakers

DR. SAMUEL L. JOEKEL

MR. G. W. McDONALD

Dr. Samuel L. Joekel, of Austin, will be the baccalaureate speaker this year, and Mr. G. W. McDonald, President of Wayland College will deliver the commencement address.

Dr. Joekel is a member of the faculty of the Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary which is affiliated with the University of Texas. His special field is the English Bible. He is known as a stimulating teacher and a delightful speaker.

President McDonald has guided the destinies of Wayland College for many years, and his association with West Texas State College has been a pleasant one. Often the schools have helped each other in many ways. A large number of Upper Division students at W. T. have had their junior college work at Wayland. President McDonald's participation in the commencement will be like a neighborly visit to which all concerned are looking forward with pleasure.

Hereford Girl To Receive Hill Scholarship

Miss Mary Ruth Russell of Hereford, Texas, has been selected to receive the Francis Patterson Hill Scholarship for 1944-1945. This scholarship was established by President J. A. Hill, in honor of his father.

She was also outstanding in music activities, participating in both band and orchestra, and in dramatics, having been a member of the cast of the Senior Class Play. Miss Russell visited the campus in March when she was selected to participate in the All-Star Concert Band Concert given in connection with the Panhandle-Plains Band Clinic.

Sixteen Awards Now Available

Scholarships May Be Used During Summer Term

Scholarships are now being awarded by the Scholarship Committee of the College. One week ago there were nine scholarships available for distribution among the high school graduates; now the committee has sixteen awards to be presented for the 1944-1945 school year. Students receiving the scholarships and desiring to enter the summer term of school may make arrangements to do so.

Awards not listed in last week's Prairie but that are now available are:

Library Scholarship

(Number One)

This award is to be given to some student interested in majoring in Library Science; it was made available by the members of the Library Staff. Upon the request of the staff, it has been granted to Miss Claire Ferguson of Tucumcari, New Mexico.

Library Scholarship

(Number Two)

This award is also available for a student majoring in Library Science. This year's award has been granted to Miss Ruth Bonds, Bovina, Texas.

Luella B. Sale Scholarship

This award of fifty dollars has been presented by Mrs. T. V. Reeves in memory of her mother, for whom the scholarship has been named. The provisions of this award are that the student be from Dallam County, have high scholastic average, have a good record in citizenship, and student achievement must be commendable. The tuition scholarship is to be awarded at the graduation exercises in Dalhart.

Mathematics Scholarship

This scholarship of fifty dollars has been given by Miss Edna Graham as an award to some student desiring further study of mathematics. This is a cash award and may be presented to the first honor graduate. Although the first honor graduate of each high school in the state receives a state scholarship good for the tuition in any state school, this award may be presented to a first honor student if the committee so decrees. The first prerequisite is that the student have high rank in high school mathematics courses.

Virgil Henson Grant

Mr. Virgil Henson, College Business Manager, has established a grant of fifty dollars for a high school student of outstanding record in high school in scholarship, citizenship, and achievement. Extra-curricular activity may be considered, but such activity is not necessary. The award is applicable to the payment of fees and tuition upon enrollment in September.

Floyd-Motley County Scholarship

This scholarship has been established by Dr. B. F. Fronabarger, Jr., Head of the Department of English of West Texas State College. The student may major in any subject he wishes. Scholarship and citizenship are to be considered in making the award. The student must be a graduate of a school in either Floyd or Motley County. The scholarship is for fifty dollars; it may be used during the summer and fall terms or during the two semesters of the long session.

B. F. Fronabarger Scholarship

This second award established by Dr. Fronabarger, is to be granted to some deserving student who has a high standing in school work. Scholarship and achievement are to be considered primarily in making the award. Dr. Fronabarger has not designated any locale as being represented in this award.

R. P. Jarrett Award

Dr. R. P. Jarrett, Dean of West Texas State College, has established a cash award of fifty dollars to be given to an outstanding high school student who elects to come to West Texas State. Scholarship is to be considered in making the award. Since this is a cash grant, any honor student is eligible for it.

John S. Humphreys Scholarships

The John S. Humphreys Scholarship Fund has three scholarships available for students from Randall County. These scholarships are from the fund raised by Mr. Humphreys three years ago, and by the provisions of the fund, they are to be awarded to seniors from Canyon High School or from West Texas Demonstration High School.

John T. Wiley, chemistry major, '38, and W. M. Fields, chemistry major, '42, are both working for the same company at Corpus Christi, and they work in the same laboratory.

Among graduates of W. T. who will be employed by Phillips this summer are Laura and Lydia Drew and Erma Ruth Garrett Penick.

The President Thinks Aloud

At the close of this semester two much-loved instructors will close their work at West Texas State College. Speaking informally, President J. A. Hill said:

"Member of the first student body that this institution ever had, and a member of its first graduating class, Miss Hibbets has been identified directly with the institution ever since that time, although she was loaned one year to the college at Kingsville to set up the primary department there. She loves her work and for that reason she has given it all she has had in the way of physical, intellectual, and spiritual strength. Since I, too, have been associated with the institution since its establishment, Miss Hibbets' resignation arouses in me a mixed feeling of regret and joy; regret that she must leave us, and joy that she has been with us these many fruitful years. She is almost an ideal teacher and woman, and her influence in West Texas State and in this area will endure.

"The coming of Miss M. Moss Richardson to the faculty of West Texas State introduced a unique and invaluable personality to the campus. She has felt all these years the divine call to teach, and I suspect a divine call to teach at West Texas State. Her fellowship in the faculty and student body has been rich and stimulating, and her fine example has exercised a strong, saving, influence among our youth. She leaves our faculty with the blessing of all of her associates."

"In spite of numerous rebuffs, Herkimer still maintains that what this country needs is a good five-cented pun."

"Once, in a dreamy, punsive mood, Herkimer observed: 'A cigarette cough is the hack that precedes the hearse.' That was raleigh a lucky strike; few of his puns are as chesterfieldian as that, and often they just come out pell mell."—H. M. Robinson, "What Makes Herkimer Pun?"

"We have enough facts. What we need are minds who will pay some attention to their import And this, save in the narrowest sense, most men of science are afraid to do. So philosophy, which was once the promise and guide of the scientist, has dried up and left us unrelated facts. And facts, as facts, don't get us anywhere, except into war. Plato, when he decided that things are not really but manifestations, went as far in phenomenology up to Kant; and when Democritus reduced everything to atoms and the void he got about as far in empirical method, plus hypothesis, as anyone up to the nineteenth century.

"Had man developed his real mind instead of mental tricks and gadgets he today might have been as superior to the Greeks under Pericles as they were to the African forest pygmy. But the scientist has sold his real heritage for technique, method, and 'what is the taxpayer going to get out of this?'"—C. Kay-Scott, in "Life Is Too Short."

said you could use any part of them, the roots dried and ground for coffee, the leaves for salad or spinach, the blossoms for wine or just to look at. When I asked him about the seed, he said you could plant them and have more dandelions. In an effort to trap him I asked him about the flower stems. "The crown to which Princess Elizabeth is heiress is the crown of Queen Victoria. But the Princess is more fortunate than her great-grandmother in many ways. She has not to restore an institution discredited by unpopular, or disreputable, occupants. Her grandfather, her father, and, it would be uncandid not to add, her uncle as Prince of Wales, greatly strengthened it. She is especially fortunate in that all her grandparents were British-born. In an age when the main political merit of the monarchy is the opportunity it gives of preserving historical and emotional values in a rapidly changing world, it is fortunate that the heir to the throne is so thoroughly national. It is significant, too, that the Princess has been studying American history and that (I am told) her main foreign language is French, not German."

"Then, too, the very different social structure of the dominions makes it easier to see that the monarch need not be and should not be bound up with 'smart' society. In the past, there have been times when the monarch was not 'smart' enough for the society of the time. But more important, the monarch is or should be above smartness."

"Queen Victoria was far from smart, and her friend, the Empress Eugenie, to whom she was so magnificently loyal, was smartness itself. But at the Opera, the Empress looked to see if her chair had been placed for her; the Queen didn't bother—she knew it would be. And this is a parable."—"Britain's Heir Presumptive," "Vogue," May 1, 1944.

CONGRATULATIONS!

To each and every graduate. It has been a pleasure having the guidance and friendship of such a swell group of fellow students. We who follow in your footsteps hope that we will be able to fill them as well as you have.

DEFENSE NOTE

Gypsy: "I tella your fortune, mister."
Stude: "How much?"
Gypsy: "Twenty-five cents."
Stude: "Right. Howdya guess?"

The stude and the gypsy may be talking about two different things, but the stude knows that he can go to the Defense Table in the main hall of the Administration Building and get a 25c defense Stamp with his money and make his fortune add up. Why not try it yourself?

QUOTING THE FACULTY WIT

The older generation thought nothing of getting up at 5 o'clock in the morning—and the younger generation doesn't think so much of it either.

SPEAKING OF ENUNCIATION . . .

Mr. Watt's telephone rang boisterously, and he was somewhat irritated, and why not?

"Hello!" he yelled into the instrument.

"Who's speaking?" came the answer.

"Watt."

"What's your name?" insisted the voice.

"Watt's my name," answered Mr. Watt.

"Yeah, what's your name?"

"My name is John Watt!"

"John what?"

"Yes."

"Oh, never mind," came the disgusted voice: "I'll be around to see you this afternoon."

"All right," said Mr. Watt; "who are you—Jones?"

"No, I'm Knott."

"Well, will you please tell me who you are, then?"

"Will Knott!" yelled the man.

"Why not?" asked Watt.

"My name is Knott!" shouted the man.

"Not what?"

And both men slammed their receivers down in a rage.

A GOAL FOR SENIORS

Daniel Webster, American statesman says: "If we work upon marble, it will perish; if we work upon brass, time will efface it; if we rear temples, they will crumble to dust. But if we work upon men's immortal minds, if we imbue them with high principles, with the just fear of god and love of their fellow-men, we engrave on those tablets something which no time can efface, and which will brighten to all eternity."

Mark Twain says: "We should be careful to get out of an experience only the wisdom that is in it and stop there; lest we be like the cat that sits down on the hot stove-lid. She will never sit down on a hot stove-lid again—and that is well; but also she will never sit down on a cold one any more."

Spanish Club Organized In October, 1928

The Spanish Club of Menendez Pidal was organized in October, 1928 under the direction of the late Miss Mary E. Hudspeth. The purpose of the club was to practice Spanish and familiarize its members with the customs and literature of the Spanish speaking countries, thus promoting the Good Neighbor policy through understanding the history, life, and culture of the Spanish-American countries.

The colors of the club are scarlet and gold, the carnation is the club flower, and the motto is: "He who does not advance, remains behind." Menendez Pidal, for whom the club is named, is the foremost philologist of the Spanish language.

Membership of the organization is open to those students of Spanish. Present members include Thelma Hefley, Wilma Higgins, Jane Warren, Martha Forte, Eris Norton, Kathryn Ferguson, Mary Ann Tyler, Catherine Conaster, Beth McDonald, Joyce Lamb, Edwina Tooley, Jean Tarleton, Rosemarie Hoare, Evelyn Jeanne McCarty, and Miss Agnes Charlton and Mr. Ardis Patman as sponsors.

Twenty-seven charter members include Gladys Scales, Lucy Erving, Estelle O'Donald, Ples Harper, Mrs. Mitchell Jones, Myrtle Mae Scales, Avis Allen, Myrtle A. Thornton, Anna Totty, Kathylene Atkinson, Lurline Bowman, Edith Ferguson, Emory Smith, Garrison Wallace, Trula Maud Jetton, Gladys Johnson, Fla Slack, Marguerite Wiman, Sam Cleland, Rucy McElvaney, Jessie Bumpass, Mozelle Hill, Jessie Vick, Clifford Henry, Flora Dorris, Bessie Chambers, and Arlene Clink-scales.

Besides its study session the Spanish Club has two or more social meetings each year.

Excerpts from Peggy's diary:
Monday: "Was flattered to be placed at the captain's table."

Tuesday: Spent the morning on the bridge. The captain seems to like me."

Wednesday: "The captain's proposals are unbecoming an officer and a gentleman."

Thursday: "The captain threatens to sink the ship if I do not agree to his proposal."

Friday: "I have saved six hundred lives."

"Nope," the inebriate said, "I can hold the key. You hold the house."

Perhaps one of the most successful event on the campus of West Texas State College this year has been the Saturday night dances. Each week the dance was sponsored by a sorority, or club and the decorations were furnished by the particular society.

Saturday evening, May 13, the Pi Omega sorority will sponsor possibly the last Saturday night dance for this current school year. To each and every student and air student, they extend a cordial invitation to attend this dance.

Kenneth Cofer Accepts Position At Cactus Plant

Many names have been recorded on the pages of history that will never be forgotten. But on the pages telling the discoveries of the great chemists, such names as John Dalton, Descartes, Boyle, Sir Ernest Rutherford, Henry Moseley and Neils Borh are particularly outstanding. Perhaps some day, the name of Kenneth Cofer will also be spoken of as one of the great scientists who aided in solving the mysteries of chemistry.

Today, his fellow students salute Kenneth Cofer. On May 22, Kenneth, along with the rest of the graduating seniors, will receive his degree. This particular degree will be a B. S. in chemistry; however, it will be no different than that of any other chemistry major, except perhaps the fact that it was earned in three years.

Before graduating from Canyon High School, Kenneth was well-known for his musical ability, which he demonstrated in the high school band. However, when he entered college he turned his attention to science.

Since his sophomore year he has been a member of the Phi Beta Gamma, the honor society for science majors. This year Kenneth was selected to be president of the organization. He has been student assistant to Dr. C. A. Pierle during his sophomore, Junior and senior years.

This year he was elected secretary for I. R. C.

On May 23, the day after graduation Kenneth Cofer will begin work for the Shell Corporation at Cactus Ordnance Plant as Junior Chemist. Students and faculty of West Texas State College say, "Congratulations!"

They expect a man who cheerfully ignores his handicaps and uses all his resources to go far.

Martha Ritchie, Primary Education major, 1940, who has been in the WAVES and stationed at the United States Marine Hospital at San Diego for many months is now at Smith College where she is an officer candidate.

Sports
Cast . . .

Rufus Bradford, blocking back on the team of 1942, puts in a full day in a defense plant and then gets the neighborhood kids out in the afternoon so that he can toss them a few passes. He's hoping to be a regular starter in the Buff back-field this fall.

Curtiss Kelley, coach at Petersburg this year, will report for football this fall with practically all of the senior members of his high school squad coming along to try out for the Buffalo eleven. Leather will really pop when those kids get to take a block at their former coach.

Willard Hedges is getting ready for the ball club by driving a milk truck in the morning, working in a tin shop in the afternoon, and playing ball in the evening.

Terry Edwards is making a gamble on getting to play one game this fall. Terry reaches draft age on September 22, W. T. plays Oklahoma A. & M. on September 23. A guy who trains all summer for a chance at one game must really want to play football.

Warm weather is all that we're waiting on to open the outdoor pool. Call up your weatherman if you're getting impatient; the coaches are just as anxious to open the pool as you are.

If Coach Miller keeps up his traveling at the present rate, he ought to meet Eleanor before long.

Latest addition to the football schedule is San Antonio Air Base. One game has been scheduled with Amarillo Air Field, but Coach Miller is holding out for two games on a home and home basis. If he has to settle on one game in Amarillo and none here, then he intends to make the student activity tickets good at the Amarillo game. The W. T. Students would probably like that more since the gang usually drifts that way after the games down here.

Since schools are really competing for athletes these days, coaches are really cautious in releasing names of men they contact. However the roster of boys the coaches are working on for the basketball season includes these heights: six feet ten inches, six feet eight inches, six feet six inches, six feet five inches (three different men), six feet four inches (two men) and fifteen or twenty prospects who stand six feet three. Then there are a good many boys over six feet that the coaches hope will grow a good part of a foot before fall.

If you think that the coaches are depending entirely on seventeen year old boys for the team this fall, present indications point to the possibility of there being ten or fifteen men who have passed the twenty-year mark. Don't sell the Buffaloes short because the coaches are keeping their prospects under cover.

Our hopes for a game with Denver University is gone; it recently abolished sports for the duration. Sorry, that would have been a good trip for the team this fall.

As a student, Coach Gus Miller stayed in Randall Hall (it was a boys dormitory in those days) and at that time he was halfback on the football team.

Coach Winfield Nicklaus was Texas Tech's first fullback and first captain of the Matador eleven. Before that he was a Golden Sandie of considerable renown.

Coach Miller plans to appoint a captain for each game this fall. The last captains to be elected were Buford Emmer, end, and Mack Winter, back. Neither will be here this fall.

Richardson—

expressed in the words of an old hymn, "I love Thy kingdom, Lord, and the house of thine abode." As a member of the Methodist Church, she is an inordinately faithful worker, but she has not the slightest tinge of sectarianism, giving generously of her time and means to other churches and to any good cause that enlists her sympathy. Although absolutely sure of her own salvation, she is remarkably free from even suspecting anyone else's damnation. Among the hundreds of anecdotes with which she enlivens her conversation and class recitations, the one she tells with the greatest enjoyment is about an old lady who, being more conscious of other people's shortcomings than her own, often prayed for her friends thus: "O Lord, keep them hell hung and breeze shaken until they repent of their sins." Knowing the constancy with which Miss Richardson prays for her friends collectively and individually, we are duly grateful that she has never petitioned that we be kept "hell hung and breeze shaken" because all of us have a wholesome respect for the efficacy of Miss Richardson's prayers.

No one could ever think of Miss Richardson apart from flowers, many of which she gives or receives, lends or borrows. There is a vast difference between people who like flowers and those few individuals who really love them. Greater love hath no man than this—that he tag around all over town cutting, collecting, distributing, and exhibiting every frazzling little blossom exposed to view. How can a person "distribute" one frazzling little blossom? Well, don't ask me, but Miss Richardson can.

Now, as she expresses it, the calendar decrees that it is time for her to retire from routine class work. The calendar is always surprising us, and never more than now. Along with her other stimulating qualities, there is a distinct flavor of agelessness. No one can ever think of her as being any different from what she is now. Certainly she will always be a living personality in West Texas State College and in Canyon. Perhaps we can find no better way of expressing our feelings than to say of her in Keats' words, "When old age shall this generation waste Thou shalt remain, in midst of other woe Than ours, a friend to man . . ."

An American was telling his friends about his trip to Mexico. "And one day," he said, "I was in a restaurant in a small village, trying to order steak and mushrooms. I couldn't speak Spanish, the waiter couldn't speak English . . . so I took out a piece of paper and drew a picture of a cow, and over the picture, I sketched three big juicy mushrooms. The waiter said 'Si, senor!' and rushed to the kitchen. In a minute he was back, and what do you suppose he brought me? Three umbrellas and a ticket to the bullfight!"

grown through the years, too, because of the consistently superior quality of Miss Hibbets' teaching. She has often expressed her belief that a school's best advertisement is superior classroom performance. The growth of interest in her own department is a splendid example of her theory at work, although she would be the last to take any credit for the achievement.

While Miss Hibbets' influence in the elementary schools over the Panhandle has been largely through the work of hundreds of teachers she has trained, her direct contacts with the public schools have been numerous. Before joining the Training School faculty she was a successful classroom teacher at Washburn, Panhandle, and other schools in this area. When summer normals and county and regional institutes were active she was in demand for lectures and demonstrations. She has made frequent visits to schools at the requests of superintendents to demonstrate teaching procedures and confer with teachers.

The high professional regard which school administrators have for her is characterized by the many requests coming from them to the teacher placement committee for "teachers whose training Miss Hibbets has supervised."

Prominent in Organization Activities

As a student and later as a member of the teaching staff Miss Hibbets has identified herself with a number of extra-curricular activities. She was a charter member and held various offices in the Sesame Literary Society, and for several years she was active as the organization's sponsor.

Her loyalty to the Ex-students' Association, which she helped organize at the close of the school year in 1911, has been second only to her loyalty to the college. She has held every elective office the organization has to offer and has given aggressive support to most of its major projects. In recent years she has served as chairman of the faculty committee for the Ex-students' Association. Her appointment to this committee by President Hill was made because of her continuous interest in the progress of the organization and her keen understanding of its multiple problems.

Miss Hibbets holds the B. S. and the M. A. degrees from George Peabody College for Teachers. She has studied also at Columbia University, the University of Colorado, and at Audubon Camp in Maine.

She held a teaching fellowship while doing her graduate work at Peabody and was invited by President Payne to become a permanent member of Peabody's Experimental School faculty. At the same time she was offered teaching positions at the University of West Virginia and at the teachers colleges in North Carolina. All of these offers she declined, preferring to return to Texas to a widening field of service which she saw developing.

In 1924-25 at the request of Dr. Cousins, then president of the new South Texas State Teachers College (now Texas A. & I.) at Kingsville, Miss Hibbets was given a leave of absence to go and help organize courses in the Department of Education. She was invited by President Cousins to remain at Kingsville as head of the department which she was instrumental in organizing, but she chose to return to her specialized field of teaching at Canyon.

Miss Hibbets is a member of the Texas State Teachers Association and the National Education Association. She belongs to the Association for Childhood Education and to Delta Kappa Gamma, an organization whose members have achieved distinction in the field of education. She is a charter member of the Canyon branch of the American Association of University Women. The Panhandle-Plains Historical Society lists her as one of its life members. She holds membership in the Texas Nature Federation and has functioned in several official capacities in this organization.

Miss Hibbets' voluntary retirement from active teaching will give her an opportunity to enjoy leisurely many interests which she has cultivated. Her concern with educational problems will continue through her participation in the professional organizations to which she belongs. Numbers of teachers she has trained who are her warm personal friends will counsel with her by correspondence and through visits to her home.

The out-of-doors will continue to be one of her greatest sources of pleasure, and those who are fortunate enough to join her in a walk through her garden or on an excursion to the park or the canyons will always after find new charm in the commonplace.

Miss Hibbets' associates (as well as several publishing companies) hope that she will devote some of her time to the writing of a series of nature stories for juveniles. Her scientific and practical knowledge of nature materials of the Southwest and her understanding of children's reading interests and abilities qualify her to make an eminent contribution to this field of children's literature.

Edwina Tooley To Be Riding Counselor at Camp Audubon

EDWINA TOOLEY

Miss Edwina Tooley, 1944, West Texas State graduate, has the outstanding job of Riding Counselor, at Camp Audubon, Colorado this summer. Miss Tooley, from Happy, has a major in Spanish, but assisted in the Women's Physical Education Department the last two years. A very popular student on the campus, Miss Tooley resides at Cousins Hall. Assisting her as counselor is Mrs. Winifred Ehrlick of Amarillo, formerly of Canyon.

Mrs. Travis Shaw, member of the English faculty of West Texas State College is the Camp Audubon representative for the Panhandle of Texas.

Camp Audubon, held from June 29 to August 24 is located on Brainard Lake, five miles from Ward, Colorado. The entire program at the Camp is planned with health, body-building, and physical, mental, and spiritual development in view.

Paul V. McNutt, Chairman of the War Manpower Commission, says, "We now know that camp life, be it only for a few weeks, gives to the boys and girls a training in self-reliance, utilization of skills, love of nature and the outdoors—that no other institution in American life so adequately provides. They learn to stand on their own, to be physically fit, to do hard things and do them well. They know that accomplishing difficult things makes for strong bodies and stalwart characters. They learn how to sacrifice and to serve. In wartime, camp is a God-send."

He was further commended by General Gerhardt who wrote: "You are commended for superior performance of duty as coach of the football team of the 29th Infantry Blues. "Do you know your wife is telling around that you can't keep her in clothes?"

"That's nothing. I bought her a home and I can't keep her in that either."

"For business reasons," answered Goldberg.

A week later Goldberg, now legally named Clancy, appeared in court again, requesting that his name be changed from Clancy to O'Leary.

Hallie Nell Sligar Becomes Bride of Hal Harrison A. O. M. 2-c at Church

Miss Hallie Nell Sligar, daughter of Mrs. Mary Sligar, became the bride of Hal Harrison, A. O. M. 2/c, son of Mrs. C. N. Harrison, Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the Presbyterian Church. Rev. Robert W. Jones read the impressive double ring ceremony at the altar which was banked with fern, baskets of gladioli, marked with tall candelabra and flanked by the U. S. flag and the Christian flag.

The bride was given in marriage by her mother. Her white wool suit was street length. Her shoulder length veil of illusion was caught to a pink half-hat with rosettes of illusion centered with tiny pink flowers. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink rosebuds, white carnations and stephanotis.

Mrs. Carl Bean of Pampa, sister of the bride, was the bride's only attendant. She wore a light blue wool suit with black patent accessories and her corsage was white carnations. Ensign Jake Harrison, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Lee Foster at the organ accompanied Miss Maude Cuenod, who sang "When the Soft Winds Blow" and "I Love Thee." Mrs. Foster played "The Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin for the entrance of the wedding party, "To a Wild Rose" by MacDowell during the ceremony and "The Wedding March" by Mendelssohn as the recessional.

Mrs. Oscar Eckhart of Yorktown, Texas, sister of the bridegroom, presided at the guest book at the church.

Mrs. Harrison is a graduate of W. T. High School and attended W. T. for a business training. She is employed in the personnel department of the Amarillo Technical Air Base.

A. O. M. Harrison, who has been for months on air-craft carrier duty in the Pacific, is at home on 30-day leave, following which he will be assigned six months shore duty at the Santa Rosa, Calif. Naval Air Base. He is a graduate of Canyon High School.

The couple will be at home with Mrs. C. N. Harrison for the remainder of this month.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mrs. C. N. Harrison for relatives and out-of-town guests.

The bride and groom cut the traditional wedding cake which was served by Mrs. Claude Harrison of Amarillo, sister-in-law to the bridegroom. Punch was poured by Mrs. Jake Harrison, another sister-in-law.

Out of town guests registering at the reception were: Miss Jane Wilkins, Zeb Mitchell, Mrs. Weldon Bright, Mrs. C. O. Keiser, Mrs. Phyllis Stanfield, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Park, Mrs. W. F. Davis, Jr., Mrs. Dorothy Goodwin, Mrs. Austin Wiggins, Mrs. J. R. Damron, Mrs. B. D. Sisson, Mrs. J. W. Sligar, grandmother of the bride from Pampa, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bean of Pampa, Ensign and Mrs. Jake Harrison enroute to Princeton, and Mrs. Oscar Eckhart from Yorktown.

At an informal party Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at Randall Hall, Mrs. Mary Sligar announced the approaching marriage of her daughter, Hallie Nell, to Hal Harrison, son of Mrs. C. N. Harrison.

The announcement was made on slips of paper rolled up in tiny American flags which were placed upon the plates on which a desert course was served to Mr. Ed Baggett, Jr., Mrs. Gladys Purcell, and Mrs. Austin Wiggins, Jr., and Elizabeth Dunn, all of Amarillo; Maribel Hazard, Lora Johnson, Beth McCaslin, Jean Taylor Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Edward C. Brewster, Eloise Pugh, Dorothy Jane Tout, and Sybil Oliver of Canyon.

Kappa Tau Phi Cinderella Ball; Birthday Dinner

On April 15, Cousins Hall ballroom was the scene of the Kappa Tau Phi Cinderella Ball. The stage was set with a white carriage from which the new members of the sorority were presented. As each cinderella alighted from the carriage, she was met by her escort who replaced the missing silver slipper.

New members presented were Sybil Oliver, Mildred Gill, Betty Bell, Mary Evelyn Wood, and Camilla Doherty.

Kappa Tau Phi sorority had its annual birthday dinner April 6 at Mother Madsen's in Amarillo. This was their fifth anniversary. Miss Florence McMurtry has been their sponsor since the club was started.

Many ex-members were present at the dinner, including several charter members.

Miss Jean Pierce and Sgt. Sammons Married Saturday

Miss Jean Pierce, of Amarillo, and Sgt. Paul R. Sammons of Corpus Christi, were married in the First Presbyterian Church of Amarillo, Saturday evening.

Seniors Honored at President's Annual Reception

President and Mrs. J. A. Hill honored the graduating seniors of W. T. at their annual reception at Randall Hall Saturday evening.

Guests were received by President and Mrs. Hill, Regent and Mrs. Newton Harrell, and members of the Administrative Staff of the college.

Dr. Johnson Has Informal Dinner For Council Members

Last night Dr. and Mrs. Roy L. Johnson entertained the Baptist Student Union council members and several guests to an informal dinner in their church apartment.

Mixed with the good food was much fellowship and fun. Then after the main course, Dr. Johnson gave the students some brief inspirational words to carry them through their work during the next year.

SMITH LEAVING COUSINS HONORED WITH TEA-SHOWER

In 1924 a mother of five children, one an infant, entered W. T. S. T. C. Her husband had recently died in Mexico and it became necessary that she return to her former profession—that of teaching. Thus began Mrs. Agnes Smith's connection with W. T. which has lasted twenty years.

She became matron of Randall Hall in 1926 and served for seven years when she was transferred to Cousins Hall where she has been matron for eleven years.

On account of her mother's condition Mrs. Smith has resigned, effective at the close of the summer school.

Tuesday, May 9, a shower tea was given at Cousins Hall honoring Mrs. Smith. A color scheme of yellow and white was carried out in the decorations and refreshments. The girls in the Hall assisted the hostesses in entertaining. Miss Nell Green introduced those on the program which consisted of piano music, a group of appropriate songs by Miss Edna Mae Maudlin and a few remarks by Miss Georgia Nell Browning who is house president of Cousins. Misses Sharline Burch and Marion Littlefield wheeled a yellow and white decorated teacart heaped with gifts into place in front of the honoree.

Tea, cakes, sandwiches, olives, nuts, and yellow pansies were served to approximately a hundred guests among whom were the girls of Cousins Hall, a few older friends, the honoree and the hostesses—the latter being Mrs. Ann Wofford, Mrs. Geraldine Green, Miss Florence McMurtry, Miss Tennessee Malone and Mrs. J. A. Hill.

Weast Twins Are Outstanding Girls In Tournaments

Climaxing a full year of girls' intramural tournaments, the physical education department under the game direction of Mrs. Oma Ford, announces that Opal and Ruby Weast have proved to be the outstanding athletes in this year's tournament field, since they have participated in all four sports—volley ball, basketball, baseball, and tennis. Seven other girls—Laverne Exum, Marthlyn Burnett, Jean Close, Frances Turner, Mildred Stark, Dorothy Jean Wright, and Lorella Finck—have also shown outstanding interest in nearly every match.

In the first semester of school, six teams with representatives from several halls combated in a volley ball controversy. A team from Cousins was proclaimed the victor.

Then in the second semester, the popular basketball rivalry was sponsored and also participated in by six teams. Again a Cousins sextet—Close, Burnett, Exum, Ehrlich, Fleming, Turner, and Prescott—topped the tally. At the close of this tournament, and all-star group composed of Exum, L. Louise Pugh, Opal Weast, Fleming, Ruby Weast, and a tie between Ehrlich, Laubhan, Bishop was selected.

At the present time both tennis and baseball struggles are progressing. The Roadrunners of Cousins head the baseball list, and Norma Jean Franklin in the tennis singles carries the banner.

"As a whole, I can truly say that this has been one of the most successful addition physical education programs that I have ever seen. The sportsmanship has been excellent, the cooperation and interest superb," concluded Mrs. Ford.

Correspondence Student Sends Thanks for Instruction

At Eau Gallie, Florida, W. T. has a correspondent student in the Coast Guard. He knows E. W. Boedeker of the class of 1936. He writes as follows:

"I wish to take this time to thank you for the splendid instructions and consideration that you have given me. It is my ambition to go back to college when this war is over, and you may count on me giving W. T. S. T. C. a thought."

"It may interest you to know that a former student of W. T. S. T. C. is a member of the Coast Guard, and he is a very fine officer. You may know of him, Lt. (j. g.) E. W. Boedeker. He was the Assistant Captain of the Port located here at Eau Gallie, Fla. He has departed this unit for more active duty in the service of his country, and he may be overseas by this time."
