

Several Speakers Are Chosen For The Education Conference

DR. HILL EXPRESSES DESIRE FOR P. T. A. MEMBERS, WOMEN'S AND CIVIC CLUBS MEMBERS, SCHOOL BOARD OFFICIALS TO ATTEND

The Northwest Texas Educational Conference will be held here March 22 and 23, according to announcement made by Dr. J. A. Hill. "Curriculum Revision" will be the theme this year as it was of the conference last year.

Although the program has not been definitely worked out, a number of speakers, most of them distinguished educators, have been secured. Among them is Dr. Harry Scott of Rice, who is one of the best authorities on physical education in America. Dr. Fred Ayer, of the University of Texas, will also be one of the speakers. Dr. Ayer will be remembered from last year; he is an outstanding authority on curriculum construction. Other speakers will be Superintendent L. A. Woods, Dr. Earl Rugg of Greeley, Colorado, State Teachers College, Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological College, and several others about whom definite announcement cannot now be made. The inspirational speaker of the conference is Dr. Edwin Mims of Vanderbilt University. Dr. Hill has described him as being one of the most charming and stimulating speakers.

There will be several divisions of the meeting; there will be special groups for superintendents and principals, high school teachers, elementary grade teachers, physical and health education instructors, and the probability is that there will be a special group meeting devoted to rural education. Superintendent C. H. Dillehay of Hereford is president of the Conference. "The program will be made to appeal not only to teachers but to citizens who are interested in social reconstruction. We are especially urging P. T. A. members, women's clubs, civic clubs, school boards and people of that type to attend, and we hope that we will have something that will pay them to come," said Dr. J. A. Hill about the conference.

At the same time the Educational Conference is carried on, there will be a District P. T. A. meeting convening here which will overlap the convention. The P. T. A. meet starts two days ahead of the conference and will last through March 22.

Tentative Plans Were Discussed

Election Of The Officers Will Be Held At The Next Meeting

The Randall County Y. D. C. held its first meeting of the year in the main auditorium last Wednesday. Tentative plans for the approaching convention in Amarillo were briefly outlined by two out-of-town representatives of the Y. D. C., John Davidson, an ex-student of W. T., and Finis Mothershead of Tech.

At the next meeting, which will be held on January 26, the election of the 1935 officers will take place. A nominating committee composed of Gerald Brown, James Compton and E. G. Shewhart was appointed.

The local club is soon to receive its charter affiliating it with the state and national organizations according to G. L. Stanley who has been corresponding with National Democratic Chairman James A. Farley, and State Y. D. C. Chairman, O. C. Christy.

The Young Democratic Club of America provides a means for the youth of the land to have a direct voice in the government.

Finis Mothershead and John Davidson were campus visitors and attended the organization of the Young Democrats Society Wednesday.

Condron Spoke At Church Meet

"While we have a lot to say about national plans, we have not found out yet how to plan locally," said Professor S. H. Condron at a banquet last week in Pampa, sponsored by all the churches in the town. "Community Building" was the topic of his discussion upon which he further expounded. "The church has a place to fill in the community; then every person in the community, whether or not he is a member of the church, owes something to that church and toward creating and intensifying the influence of the churches.

"We have been rather indifferent to our various obligations." He appealed to them in the light of this meeting to make it a permanent organization. The meeting was attended by four hundred men and sponsored by all the churches in town. All officials of the city, county, and such district officers as there were in that neighborhood were invited as their special guests. The purpose of the meeting was to demonstrate on the part of the citizenship and all the men from town that they were back of the officials in their two-year program. Both officials and members pledged themselves in a full program that might be begun in the year.

New Field Of Fossils Being Excavated Now

Excavation of a new field of fossils has just begun in Donley County near Clarendon. Will Chamberlain, amateur paleontologist and archaeologist, is supervising the work which is a CWA project. He is being assisted by Professors C. Stuart Johnston, L. F. Sheffy, and by Floyd V. Studer of Amarillo.

Mr. Johnston was over to the field Friday to start the work, and reports that excavations probably will net the museum here a tremendous amount of material. It is believed that a month's work will give at least a truck load of fossils. These will include several varieties of horses, mastodons, rhinoceros, turtles, and other animals. This is an especially fine field because of the excellent condition of the specimens.

The discovery of this material will make possible two things: first it will provide exhibits for the museum. There will be enough duplicates of many of these things so that they can exchange with other museums and a greater variety may be secured. Second, there will be enough material so that students here can have laboratory practice in preparing materials for exhibit.

It is probable that other projects similar to this will be begun soon in several other Panhandle counties.

Dr. Bumpus Was Pleased With the Regional Museum

Dr. Bumpus, who is an inspector of the United States Park Service, spent Wednesday afternoon in the museum. He was formerly curator of the Museum of Natural History in New York City.

Dr. Bumpus said that he thought the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum Building one of the most beautiful that he has seen. As he came up the street and saw the building he realized it gave tone to the entire town. He was even more delighted with the inside. He mentioned that this museum was unusually clean and uncluttered and well kept. He was especially pleased with the murals because he said that besides giving beauty to the building they gave to casual visitors an idea concerning the early history of this region that would not be secured in any other way.

Dr. Bumpus was to go from here to Alpine.

Clark Is Elected Chairman Of The Council Of Music

Wallace R. Clark, Head of the Department of Music of West Texas State Teachers College, was elected Chairman of the newly organized Council of Music Educators of State Supported Institutions of Texas at its first meeting at Lubbock, December 1. On the cover of the January copy of "The Southwestern Musician," a journal of music published at Arlington, is carried a picture of Professor Clark.

An article inside the magazine tells of the music department of this school, its achievement and claims to outstanding work as a teacher-training institution in the field of music.

Bruner Tells 1935 Trends In Education

Many Teachers Of
W. T. S. T. C.
Attend

Amarillo, Jan. 20 (Globe-News)—Teachers, not text-books need revision.

That was the conclusion left by Dr. H. B. Bruner of Columbia University with the Panhandle-Plains Superintendents Association at its meeting yesterday.

A group of teachers from West Texas State Teachers College attended this meeting. Dr. Harris M. Cook spoke on the subject of "The Progress of Curriculum Revision for this District." Other speakers were Dr. A. W. Evans of Texas Technological College, Deputy State Superintendent Bryan Dickson of Childress, Superintendent R. B. Fisher of Pampa, Superintendent C. E. Davis of Plainview.

He took the mystery out of those words, "curriculum revision" which have been a bugaboo in Texas educational circles—and also to the parents and patrons of the public schools.

With concise figures gathered from national statistics and with some clear-cut opinions of present-day economics and sociology, he laid before the 300 listeners his theory that a changing world needs a school system that will adapt its pupils to that world.

"Our present economic conditions demand new philosophy on the part of the teachers. They need to study the raw materials out of which education is made," he said. "We need to do more than revise our technical books. We need to broaden our vision."

"I seriously doubt if the school people have felt this depression, or economic upheaval sufficiently to understand the implications that lie behind it."

"I believe that the American (Continued on page two)

Stunt Night Is Coming Up

It's just around the corner folks. No, not prosperity, but STUNT NIGHT! This event is an every-other-year tradition on our campus, and this year it has 100% backing, just like before we went off the gold standard. A quarter's worth of fun for a dime, and a dollar's worth of laughs are guaranteed.

Stunt Night is sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. of W. T. S. T. C. Seven stunts are selected to be given, six from the student organizations and one from the faculty. The latter, however, does not compete for the prize money. The proceeds from this program are used by the Y. W. C. A. to send a representative from the local organization to the annual Y. W. C. A. encampment at Hollister, Missouri. The rules governing All-College Stunt Night are as follows:

1. All-College Stunt Night will be sponsored by the Young Women's Christian Association on Thursday night, February 21, at 8:00 o'clock in the College Auditorium.

2. The evening's program will consist of seven stunts, six to be given by student organizations and one by members of the faculty.

3. Each stunt will not be more than fifteen minutes in length.

4. The organizations which will present the six stunts will be determined in the following manner: Any organization or group of organizations on the campus (except class organizations) wishing to present a stunt must prepare a brief written description of its stunt and leave it in the Registrar's office not later than 4:00 o'clock, Wednesday, Feb. 13. From these written statements a committee from the Y. W. C. A. will select for presentation on All-College Stunt Night the six stunts which seem most promising. Announcement of the committee's selection will be made Thursday, Feb. 14.

5. On All-College Stunt Night the organizations presenting stunts will draw for places on the program. Each stunt will be presented by number and not by the name of the organization giving it.

6. The prize of five dollars will be awarded the organization presenting the best stunt. (The faculty stunt will not compete for the prize).

7. The judges making the decision will consist of a group of Canyon citizens selected by the Y. W. C. A.

8. Students up to the number of ten taking part in each stunt will be admitted free.

Mattie Devin, who finished the work for her degree at the end of the first split semester this fall, has been elected to teach in the primary grades at Quanah. Her major was primary education, and her previous experience was in the primary grades at Olton.

Mr. Elton Goen spent the weekend with his parents at Floydada, refereeing a basketball tournament.

Prof. Johnston Announces New 3 Hour Courses

Professor C. Stuart Johnson announces the beginning of two courses next nine weeks.

First is Introductory Paleontology. This course deals with fossil life, both plant and animal, beginning with the earliest types of life that appeared on earth and including fossil man.

Second is Archaeology, with emphasis on the Buffalo Culture of the Southwest, and origin and development of Pueblo Culture.

Weekly field trips will be made in both courses. Three semester hours credit is given for each, and they are open to students of all classifications.

5 Day Plan Was Debate Question In Chapel Sat.

Decision Of The Winner
Of W. T.

At the regular meeting of the assembly on January 15th, was debated the question, "Resolved, That West Texas State Teachers College Adopt the Five Day Week Plan," by G. L. Stanley, affirmative, and Garland Martin, negative.

Response of the entire faculty and student body indicated favor of such a plan and it is hoped that action taken on the subject will bear fruit.

Arguments

Some of the arguments advanced in favor of the plan were, first, that it would give the students more time for initiative study and provide them with a much-needed long period of uninterrupted study for major projects; second, that teachers would have more time to prepare lessons and bring the school into closer contact with surrounding communities and thus increase the good will for and support of the school; third, it would aid our science department in as much as it would give its members time for observation tours and experiments which are not made under the present schedule.

A system has been worked out that will coincide with the present system so well that students could slip into it tomorrow and never lose step. It would not require a change of schedule. In view of the fact that it has marked advantages over the present system, as has been proved in a large number of outstanding colleges and universities, and since a plan has been perfected which will not conflict in any way with the present set-up, it is hoped that those who are in control of the schedule will let the almost unanimous majority rule by adopting the five day week for W. T. S. T. C.

Leo Jackson spent Friday and Saturday at his home in Floydada refereeing a basketball tournament.

Annual Banquet C. C. Held Here

Last Tuesday evening in the Education Building at 6:45 o'clock the annual banquet of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce was held with 189 people present.

The program was as follows: invocation by the Rev. Chas. L. Dickey; introduction of honor guests by toastmaster J. H. Cox, Jr.; address of welcome by Clyde W. Warwick, response by John L. McCarty; and announcement of incoming officers for 1935 by C. W. Batchelder.

The auditorium program was a presentation of the two-act tragedy, "The Birthright," by the Panhandle Players of W. T. S. T. C. under the direction of C. W. Batchelder. Characters in the play were Charles Donnell, Ernestine Walker, Seth Lindsey, C. W. Batchelder, and Thomas H. Newell.

The banquet was served by the football boys of W. T. S. T. C. The menu was as follows: tomato juice cocktail, head lettuce salad with Thousand Island dressing, roast turkey, new green beans, escalloped potatoes, cranberry sauce, olives, buttered rolls, mince pie, and coffee.

Ballots Pouring Back in Nation- Wide Peace Poll

Over 300,000 ballots have been mailed to students in more than a hundred leading colleges in America as the nationwide college Peace Poll was launched by The Literary Digest and the Association of College Editors. One Canadian college, Queen's in Ontario, was included as a test case in the poll of American colleges.

The five questions asked on the poll ballot, are:

1. Do you believe that the United States could stay out of another great war?
- (a) If the borders of the United States were invaded, would you bear arms in defense of your country?
- (b) Would you bear arms for the United States in the invasion of the borders of another country?
2. Do you believe that a national policy of an American navy and air force second to none is a sound method of insuring us against being drawn into another great war?
3. Do you advocate government control of armament and munitions industries?
4. In alignment with our historic procedure in drafting manpower in time of war, would you advocate the principle of universal conscription of all resources of capital and labor in order to control all forms of profit in time of war?
5. Should the United States enter the League of Nations?

The Daily Illini, student newspaper of the University of Illinois, explains the purpose of the Peace Poll:

"The survey is not being conducted to secure expert opinion on world affairs. It is being made to determine whether students think and what they do think. The primary purpose of the survey is to stimulate student opinion on a subject of real consideration today."

Local Teachers Attend Spanish Meeting Jan. 12

Miss Agnes Charlton, Miss Mary E. Hudspeth, Mrs. Tommie Montfort, and Miss Jewel Foster attended the meeting of Llano Estacado, local chapter of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish which was held at Plainview, January 12th.

In a round-table discussion led by Miss Cora Russell of Amarillo High School, curriculum revision was the chief subject.

Miss Hudspeth gave a report of her trip to the National meeting of the organization held at Austin during the holidays.

Approximately twenty-five teachers of Spanish from various points over the Panhandle section were present at the meeting.

Announcement has been made of the exchange in the English Department of West Texas State Teachers College of two English teachers with two from the University of Texas. Misses Margaret Wiley and Mattie Swayne will go to the University where they will teach part of the time and work on their Ph. D. degrees. In their places will be Misses Polly Pearl Crawford, who will take Miss Swayne's place, and Fanny Cherry, who will teach in Miss Wiley's place.

Dr. Fronabarger, Head of the English Department here, and Dr. J. B. Wharey, Chairman of the English Department at the University have made the arrangements for the exchange. Both have been cooperative and untiring in their efforts to make the exchange.

This leave of absence is for the rest of this year only, and both of these teachers will be back for the summer term of school.

Miss Swayne secured her Master's degree from Columbia in 1925. Since that time she has done work in the summers at the University of Washington. Her line of specialization is American literature.

Miss Wiley has done a great deal of work toward her Ph. D. degree in the University of Texas, but her last work was in the University of Virginia. She has studied some in Columbia, in Chicago, in Chicago University and has done some research work in England and in the Congressional Library at Washington. Eighteenth Century literature is her major field of work.

Miss Crawford has been teaching classes in the University of Texas and doing work on her Ph. D. in the English department.

Miss Fanny Cherry is of the Extension Department of the University.

Tarkington's Play Thursday Evening

Scenery, Properties and Cast are Well Chosen

Thursday evening at 8:15 the Pollard Players will present "The Intimate Stranger" in the Administration Auditorium.

"The Intimate Stranger" is the sort of play one would like to see a second time. In point of clear dialogue and amusing comedy, it is Booth Tarkington, the master playwright at his best.

The Pollards, Bob and Cleone, will have with them the usual very competent company. The cast will include five people playing six or seven parts as they usually do. The scenery will be effective, properties accurately selected, and a most showmanlike performance given. The personnel of the Pollard Players has always been made up of college people.

Admission will be by student activity ticket.

Meyer Addressed Canyon P. T. A.

"Safeguarding Physical and Moral Welfare of Children" was the topic of the address of Dr. A. M. Meyer before the Canyon P. T. A. Thursday night.

Dr. Meyer stressed more than anything else the fact that the best safeguard to physical and moral well-being of children is for parents to understand the children both from the standpoint of physical needs and his moral needs.

He also stated that "parents and teachers should so conduct themselves that the child would perceive he is interested in the adults and be willing to work with them." He encouraged parents to get their children interested in them.

New Athletic Plant Is Rapidly Materializing With C. W. A. Aid

Boys Here Get All Types Of Training

The Campus of the West Texas State Teachers College is fast resembling a quarry, mine, or construction camp with stacks of natural rock, piles of dirt, men, mules, trucks and cars scattered all over the campus.

An army of workmen are converting the scholarly campus into a scene of busy activity with ten trucks and three teams adding to the atmosphere.

Coach Al Baggett obtained 106 CWA workers to aid him in the completion of his several projects.

Emphasis just at present is being placed on the completion of the bleachers on the west side of the gymnasium, erection of the handball court, and the boxing and wrestling rooms under the bleachers.

One thousand yards of top soil are being hauled and scattered around the Buffalo Courts to enable grass and flowers to be planted to beautify the grounds. Three thousand yards of clay and caliche are being hauled to build a caliche road to the Buffalo Courts.

With the CWA workers and the force of boys already at work, approximately 150 men are speeding the completion of the projects.

Three thousand yards of rock are being hauled and prepared for facing of the field house with the natural rock, the erection of a rock fence in front of the gymnasium.

Preparations are under way for the leveling, filling, and the pouring of concrete on four new tennis courts.

Work has already begun on the sunken garden north of the Buffalo Courts. In this garden there will be flowers, plants, and cacti of all varieties in the Panhandle of Texas.

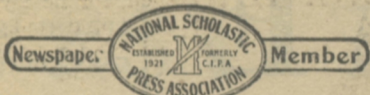

In the center of the sunken garden will be erected a large rock fountain constructed of peculiar formations of petrified wood, formations from Hot Springs, Arkansas, and Carlsbad Cavern, and queerly formed rock obtained from the Rock Quarry. The fountain will be lighted with electric lights, and the reflection from the varied colored rocks and formations will be a beautiful sight to behold.

Because the work has gone so slowly on the five completed units of the Buffalo Courts, Mr. Baggett's hopes seemed to be in the future; but with the securing of the CWA labor, these hopes are materializing in the present, and with the completion of these projects the beauty of the already beautiful W. T. S. T. C. campus will be added to.

The boys working in the Physical Education Department of W. T. S. T. C. will have a great chance of finding their respective places in the world when they graduate from this institution of learning. We have skilled workers in our laundry; dieticians and waiters for our training table; secretaries, timekeepers, and straw bosses for our new project; sports writers, student coaches of basketball, boxing and tumbling; rock masons, truck drivers, mule "skinners," wheelbarrow pushers, carpenters, janitors, concrete workers, blacksmiths, and coaches. All the above teamed with school teaching should find the graduate a position.

EDUCATIONAL TRENDS FOR 1935

Students of West Texas State Teachers College must be preparing to be teachers, else why should they be in an institution of this kind. Some will go out to teach this fall for the first time, and one of their difficult problems will be the choice of a method to use, in order to turn out the most competent students into this highly organized civilization.

There are many methods of teaching, some of them old, others quite new. Due to the rapidly advancing progress of this American nation, there is a greater demand than ever before for well-trained leaders and efficient workers to take over the responsibilities of the nation. The schools are looked to for this personnel. The modern teaching methods of 1935 are three. First, to develop the powers of the student to do independent thinking and research. Second, to seek to build in young men and young women the capacity to work more and more on their own initiative. Third, place emphasis upon (1) inquiry, (2) wide reading, (3) independent investigation and experimentation, and (4) creative expression.

Adapt these goals to the other education of the student, and the nation will have its leaders and workers—Ethel Rowland.

REFERENCE TO "HAMLET"

Perhaps some of us at some time have gone to the library and checked out a book to prepare an assignment only to find that the particular chapter that we wanted to read had been torn out by some thoughtless person for his own selfish use. When we have an experience of this sort, we realize how much trouble and annoyance we can cause, when, for our own selfish reasons, we tear the pages from a book that must be used by others.

There have always been a few among us who mutilated the library books, but this year the librarians are alarmed at the number of books that have been made almost valueless by having whole chapters torn out. There are books in the library that are essential to the students taking some courses. In some cases, there is only one copy of a book that contains valuable material; and if a part of this book is torn out, as parts of some of them have been, that source of information is lost to the student body of this college. Often there are not copies enough of a book for each member of a group that is studying it to have a copy, and the destroying of one copy will work a hardship on those who have to use it.

The library was put here for the use of the entire student body—not for a chosen few to use and abuse as they see fit. We can get the most benefit from the library, only when every individual of the student body respects the rights of others in his use of it. When one of us tears parts from a book, we are depriving our fellow students of something that they should rightfully have. Only the most selfish, thoughtless kind of a person would do a thing of this sort. We believe that it is only thoughtlessness in those who do it. If only they would think of the trouble that they are causing others; if only they would think of the money that their vandalism is costing the state; if only they would think of the books that they destroy that cannot be replaced, we do not believe that they would ever be guilty of such a contemptible practice. It is said that an educated person respects the rights of others. It seems that we, as students of W. T., must be missing something in the process of education, if we persist in disregarding the rights of our fellow students, by destroying the library books that they need.—L. B.

In the "Forum or Against 'Em" column of the Arizona Collegian, the students have been interviewed on the subject of whether, generally speaking, the students are radical or not, concerning economic and political affairs. The general opinion of the four students interviewed seems to be that the students are wont to be radical, partly because of the strain which has been put to them due to the recent financial upheaval most of them have suffered. But, the interviews go on to say, students are radical only in the political affairs, not in personal or those over which the student himself has direct control.

The Houstonian reports "a bit of scandal about our pal, Huey P. Long." It seems, says the Houstonian, that Huey adopted L. S. U. in order to pay off a grudge against Tulane, since Tulane refused to give His Honor, the Kingfish, a law degree. When Long became governor he asked Tulane to confer upon him an honorary law degree which they refused to do. He flared up in high wrath and has been mad ever since. Even tho' he carried everything but the ball for L. S. U. last season, he still has his revenge to satisfy.

"Beautiful But Dumb" is the trend of the co-eds at Northwestern University. Professor John J. B. Morgan, psychologist, said that the girls have been purposely making low grades in order to attract men, because "men liked them dumb." The professor suggested the men make the girls take an intelligence test before dating them.—Yellow Jacket.

Synonym: So dumb he couldn't strike oil in a can of sardines.

Motorists traveling along the Abilene-Coleman highway are seeing things. At a point about five miles from Coleman motorists have reported seeing strange balls of fire. The reports say that the lights seem to come up out of the ground and "play around a while and then disappear." Many of the prominent citizens of the town have investigated and verify the reports. Old timers in Coleman say they have seen the lights before, but not in about thirty years.—The Optimist.

Little Billy's Notebook in the Simmons Brand says that "you can tell a lady worm from a gentleman worm cause the lady worm doesn't signal when she turns."

The Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. of T. C. U. are sponsoring a group of six lectures based on "Marriage, Its Happiness and Its Hazards." The sponsors of these lectures desire that the students attend the lectures in couples rather than singly or otherwise. Many prominent doctors and teachers have been secured to give the talks.—The Skiff.

Funds for establishing a law school have been requested of the Legislature of New Mexico which is now in session. The University of New Mexico is badly in need of a law school for "many young men are attending law schools in various parts of the country and it is of utmost importance for New Mexico to provide for this professional training," says President Zimmerman of the University.

W. T. High Students See Views of National Capital

The girls of the "What I Should Like To Know" Club and their friends were entertained by a "picture show" Friday afternoon, at 3:30, in the auditorium of the Education Building.

The picture, which consisted of views of various points of interest in Washington, was in charge of Mr. Travis Shaw.

Reading Credit in English for Seeing "Count of Monte Cristo"

Credit in outside reading is to be given by the English teachers for seeing "The Count of Monte Cristo" which will be shown at the Olympic Theater Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday of next week. The picture is being sponsored by the Student Council. The proceeds will be used to purchase books for the Demonstration School Library.

Students wishing to sell tickets may obtain them from Mary McCaslin. Every person who sells ten tickets will be given a free pass to the show.

W. T. Hi-Y Club Holds Weekly Meeting

The members of the W. T. Hi-Y Club gathered at the home of A. G. Thornton Thursday evening at seven o'clock for their weekly meeting. Before the club was called to order, all of the boys went in a body to the Santa Fe-Fresh basketball game, returning later for the meeting. The minutes were read by the secretary, and approved. The club agreed on fifteen cents a month for dues. Sky blue and white were chosen for the club colors. The interest locators were checked, and the sponsor found the majority of the boys interested in learning more about etiquette; so for the next few meetings etiquette will be the main topic of discussion. The questionnaires also made known the fact that the boys are interested in all things that will benefit the community and school. The club selected one new member who will be invited to attend the next meeting. The club has obtained permission to hold its meetings in the Education Building hereafter.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served to the following members: Glen Davis, Brynild Vaughan, Velton Sogge, Billy Norman, Egbert Neeley, Mr. A. K. Goodman, and the host, A. G. Thornton.

come on the campus Friday: George Phillips, who came back for a visit to his old stamping ground after two years' absence. George has been living at Austin. After the death of his mother recently, the family returned last week to Canyon to live. The deepest sympathy is extended by the students of W. T. High School to George and his father and sister, in their bereavement.

THE SNOOP

My Dear Frens,

When a reporter interviews you for a "Who's Who," pulleeze, pulleeze, tell him something startling about yourself or your forebearers. Oh, just imagine your father was a Chinaman or something. Nine out of ten W. T.'s celebrities, upon being interviewed, confess after much grilling the following fascinating facts:

"Born in Canyon,
Lived in Canyon,
Died—or dyin'—in Canyon."

Now, how in the world can you expect a fellow to headline you on such an outlay when you are as non-committal as that! You don't tell us more than that.

Thanks too, too much,
Snoopily yours,
Eve Dropper.

Report to Adam.

Our Suggestions

For Good-looking boys: Joe McDonald, Bud McNeill, Thomas Campbell, Meredith Warren, A. G. Thornton, Glenn Davis, Bomar Brown, Earl Whitley.

Cute girls: (Mrs.) June Heald (but already taken), Pat Patterson, Shirley Ann Oliver, Lela Louder, Evangeline Baker, Ruth Campbell.

Dumb—or???

"Am I seeing things?" or "Is that bunch of kids taking public speaking dumb?" are the questions those bewildered W. T. High School students ask—who, looking in the door of Room 318 see the so-called "speech" class making all sorts of funny gestures, but saying not a word.

Well, come close, and we'll let you in on a secret. They are "dumb." But here's one place where it's smart to be "dumb." That's pantomime. See? (Of course you all know that pantomime is action without words.)

Speaking of being "dumb" though—Pat Patterson takes the prize. You should get a picture of the perfectly blank expression on her face when she passed a note to her "sweetie" right under the teacher's nose. (Now don't get Pat wrong. It was all in a special pantomime.)

And by the way, would't some of you boys like to be on the receiving end of that "adoring smile" that Mary McCaslin wasted on an imaginary boy friend?

If anyone has some money he wants to get rid of, we recommend him to Grover Stucky, alias "Poker Face," who really knows his stuff. But don't accuse him of cheating, because he packs two guns.

And, too, we needs must warn the barber to be careful how he cuts John McNeill's ear. Our "Bud" has a habit of walking out without paying, and shaking his fist at the barber when he gets "trimmed."

For a sweet couple you should see Meredith Warren feeding his horse "What's-its-Name." You can't imagine the feeling Meredith (Great Lover) can put into the stroking of a chair—I mean the horse).

Alma Smith has proved that there was truth in the saying "The voice follows the mind." She just couldn't keep from saying "Goody!" right out loud the other day when she received a telegram, in a pantomime. If a make-believe telegram affects her that way, someone should try sending her a real one.

And did you know that Earl

CORRECTION OF ERROR

In last week's Prairie, because of an oversight, four lines of superfluous, unrelated print were left in the library regulations. They were: "Each book may be kept out for only 1½ hours from the time taken—had your book 1½ hours when the bell rings, you may keep it until your— returned by 8:00 a. m. on the following school day. A restricted list—

All reserve books must be returned at 7:30 on Monday."

The members of the Prairie Staff regret that the error was made, and request that everyone who clipped the regulations remove these lines from their copy. This was the only error made in the list.

Special attention is called to the eighth paragraph, entitled, "Fines Must Be Paid." Miss Malone is especially anxious that all people misinformed on this topic correct and clarify their ideas immediately.

Whitley is an expert shoeshine? He does credit business, too. He did an "A" pantomime the other day.

Ruth Baker's "movie menace" act was certainly true to life, but not true to Ruthie. At least we hope she doesn't pop her gum, giggle and throw paper wads when she goes to the show, as she showed herself doing in her last pantomime.

Aw, heck! There goes the bell. See you in public speaking. Gee, you oughta get a load of my act which will be how not to write a feature for the Tumbleweed.

PLAY IN ORCHESTRA

In the Amarillo Symphony Orchestra Concert last week, two faculty members and one student played. Professor Herschel Coffee played in the violin section; C. E. Strain played a French Horn; and Oscar Croson played a violin. The program was of unusual interest because of four features. There was a colorful program of numbers ranging from Beethoven to Victor Herbert; Christian Thaulow, conductor, was violin soloist; Ethel Allen Nelson of Wichita Falls was guest conductor; and the orchestra gave the first rendition of an original composition by Hall Axtell, assistant conductor.

Mrs. Frank Dodson of Lockney spent Sunday with her daughter, Miss Frankie Dodson, who is ill.

BRUNER TELLS EDUCATION TRENDS

(Continued from first page) schools have made possible such political dictatorship as has arisen in Louisiana, that we have not given the children the necessity of thinking a thing through. We need to set up a new program in the schools from kindergarten to adult classes that will eliminate or at least soften the effects of another depression—that will keep us from any sort of internal revolution.

Dr. Bruner in an earlier meeting with the teachers spoke of revision or even revolution in classroom methods. He stressed the need for examining the individual child and recognizing the dull, the average, and the bright mind. His suggestions—and he is known as the leading American authority on curriculum revision—were for replacing vicarious and direct experiences, an integration of the home, the school, and the church in educational system, inclusion of materials to increase the child's understanding of social and economic life, the more liberal use of source materials.

Talked on Current Problems But in his general meeting with the superintendents he talked of the present-day problems of government and economics and their consequent relation to the school.

He named the major cause as an advance in technology without a consequent readjustment of social conditions. Another cause was the maladjustment of purchasing power with eleven and a half million families of the United States having more than $1,500 income while 36,000 families had more than $75,000.

"What can we, as educators do about it? We can definitely set a plan to educate our children so that political demagoguery and class hatreds are forgotten and our democracy can survive in its same form."

Miss Vela Lowe spent Sunday visiting in Hereford.

JUNIORS! ATTENTION.

A class meeting will be held in Room 201 of the Administration Building, Wednesday, 9:30 a. m.

It is of special importance that every member be present in order to help make plans for the Junior Dance and Bridge Party to be held in Cousins Hall on the evening of February 8th. Be on hand for the meeting tomorrow morning.

WRANGLERS PLAN FOR PROSPECTIVE LODGE

The members of the Wranglers Club assembled at 4:30 on Monday, Jan. 14, in Dean Green's office. The first part of the meeting was spent in making plans for a "Round-up" at Wragge's on Wednesday afternoon at 4:30.

Following the discussion of the "round-up" the group of girls was divided into patrols. Each captain then took charge of her group and discussed with them various articles which could be made for use in the prospective lodge. Materials will be brought to the next meeting and the handcraft work will begin. Handcrafts such as leather work, bead work, and wood work were chosen by the different patrols.

At the close of the meeting, Miss June Farnsworth of Amarillo presented the organization with a Girl Scout Calendar from the Leader's Club in Amarillo. This will be placed in the Scout room at present and ultimately in the Girl Scout Lodge.

The Wranglers will meet again next Monday at 4:30 in the Scout Room instead of Mrs. Green's office. Girls interested in becoming members of the Wrangler Club and Girl Scout leaders are invited to come.

FRIENDS GRIEVE AT MRS. TARTER'S ILLNESS

Many friends of Wertha and J. B. Tarter are grieved to know that their mother is very ill at Wellington. Her children have been called home; however, Wertha intends to resume her class work as soon as possible as a senior in the Home Economics Department.

Saturday, January 12
The Saturday morning chapel program was occupied with the presentation of the W. T. Band under the direction of Professor C. E. Strain.

The selections were well chosen and covered a wide range in musical character. As the opening number, the band played the "18th Regiment March," by Panella. The novelty rhumba, "Carloca" by Youmans, was played next and was followed by an overture, "Stradella," by Plotow. The concluding selection was "The American Cadet March," composed by R. B. Hall.

The program was appreciated by the audience.

ELEVEN PI OMEGA PLEDGES WERE INITIATED

It has been said that some weary looking little girls might have appeared after the informal initiation of the Pi Omega pledges last Tuesday evening, but they were all good sports.

The formal initiation was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. A. M. Meyer. The initiated pledges were Misses Virginia Murray, Virginia Hohlaus, Virginia Line, Effie Whitsett, Rosa Cash, Lelia Cooper, Bonnie Gierhart, Mary Louise Mulkey, Marguerite Rose, Royce Park, and Vera Goodwin.

CHI ALPHA OMEGA DISCUSSES INTERESTING TOPIC

"Where One Should Draw the Line Between Foolishness and Seriousness" was the topic of consideration at the Chi Alpha Omega Society Wednesday morning in Room 302. After much discussion, it was decided that a decision depended upon: "The time, the place, the occasion, the company, and the nature of the person himself."

Those who desire club pins are requested to look up Nancy Strain or Woolworth Russell before the coming Wednesday.

The next meeting of the members of the club will be Wednesday morning, January 23, at 9:30 in Room 302. Everyone is requested to be present.

JUST WHAT SHOULD ONE DO?

Did you ever use the wrong fork at a dinner? Or wonder what to do with the ice tea spoon when there was no coaster to lay it on? Have you ever wondered what to do with your hands when you found yourself twisting your handkerchief? We've wondered too, but we found the answers to these questions and more, too, in Mrs. Green's talk, "Poise and Manners" at Y. W. C. A. Wednesday. Did you ever dine in a restaurant and have your purse and gloves slip to the floor, and next your escort was on the floor on all-fours picking them up for you? Problems such as these were just the ones we were told how to cope with. "Poise," said Mrs. Green, "is the ability to meet any situation that comes up, and to extract oneself with ease from embarrassing situations."

Do not forget, girls, next week Miss Hattie M. Anderson is going to talk on the subject of "A Modern Job." Come to Room 205 at 4:30 Wednesday.

THELMA TROLLINGER BECAME BRIDE OF GLENN G. BOBBITT

A wedding of interest is that of Miss Thelma Trollinger and Mr. Glenn G. Bobbitt which was solemnized Saturday night.

The beautiful and impressive ceremony was spoken at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. C. E. Trollinger, 906 Jackson Street, Amarillo, with Dr. Roy C. Snodgrass, pastor of the First Christian Church, officiating.

Only the immediate families of the couple and a few close friends attended.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held.

Mr. Bobbitt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Bobbitt of Panhandle. He attended New Mexico Military Institute, Texas University and received his B. S. degree from West Texas State Teachers College.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobbitt are both employed by the Amarillo Hardware Company. They will be at home to their friends at the Melrose Apartments.

OPEN MEETING OF ELAPHEIANS FRIDAY

A most entertaining program was that of the Elapheian Literary Society in the Education Building Friday evening. With the quaintness, the exaggeration, the moodiness of the Negro it dealt, Professor Wallace R. Clark and Miss Mary Morgan Brown being the interpreters. Miss Frances Usery was the piano accompanist.

"Steal Away," an old favorite, was the first musical selection. Following it were "Swing Low Sweet Chariot," "Hebin, Hebin," "Standin' In the Need O' Prayer," "Old Ark's a Moverin'," "Banjo Song," "Lindy Lou," with explanatory notes between that made the selections more appreciated.

Then Miss Mary Morgan Brown read a group of Negro selections and explained briefly the background of each one. First were two versions of "Po' White Trash," one the consolation of an old Negro mammy and the other an observation of a pickaninny, "Matrimony and Finance" followed this; then came "When the Folks Is Gone," by Riley, "Pomp's Defense," and "Maagie Licience."

MR. AND MRS. PHILLIPS ENTERTAIN

Those present were Misses Mary Jane Williams, Wertha Tarter, Maurita Taylor, Fannie Mae Rees, Grace Wiegman, Frankie Phillips, Bettie Phillips and Mr. and Mrs. Phillips.

DELTA THETA TIPS

ELAPHEIAN DOINGS

The program given by Mr. Clark and Miss Brown was a real treat. I sat down close to the front where I wouldn't miss anything and became so thoroughly interested in the music and readings that I plumb forgot that I was going to stretch my neck and find out who was courting who. LUCILLE and BENNY, ADELLA and JUDGE, and BIB and NOEL sat in front of us and looked very stunning.

Here's a tip on what you should wear if you're built a bit whole-sale: Paul Periot, a famous French designer, was giving a lecture on the color a woman should wear in order to match her hair, eyes, weight, etc. "What color should I wear?" asked a lady of exceedingly large avoirdupois in the back of the room. He said tactfully, "Ze good Lord has clothed ze elephant in gray."

There's a story I like to read when everything goes wrong. It cheers me up to know there are those who get breaks worse than mine. The story goes that Jack was dying laughing. He literally howled with mirth. Here he lacked one term's work to graduate and his father has died and he must go home and go to work. He snickered. While gleefully packing his things, he got a special delivery from his best girl which made her his ex-best girl. He was tickled then, for he loved her with all his heart and soul. When he reached the station, a breathless boy ran out to him with a letter saying that his two brothers had been killed in an automobile wreck getting to their father's bedside. As the train passed through a small burg close to his destination, another message was presented to him. Tittering over the attention he was getting, he read that his mother had killed herself and two sisters. He was really in stitches then. He died—tickled to death. —Author unknown.

TAKE IT AND NAME IT

I am T. M. Most every day you can find me loafing over in the Education Building. I dazzle people with my smile and twinkling eyes. I am the life of the party at Elapheian meetings. If I didn't have so much poise I could pass for a Freshman. I can read negro dialect if you insist long enough. I stole the show "Ten Nights in a Bar Room." Who could I be? (Last week—Louise Ramey.)

Juniors Called To Plan Social

In order to plan a junior party, R. M. Thompson, president, called a meeting Wednesday in Room 209. The party is to be given on February 8th.

Because of the scarcity of members present, nothing definite could be planned. Therefore, it is urgent that every member of the class be present at the next meeting to help finish the plans. The belief is that as large as the junior class is, a greater number than fifteen should represent them on any question, social or what not.

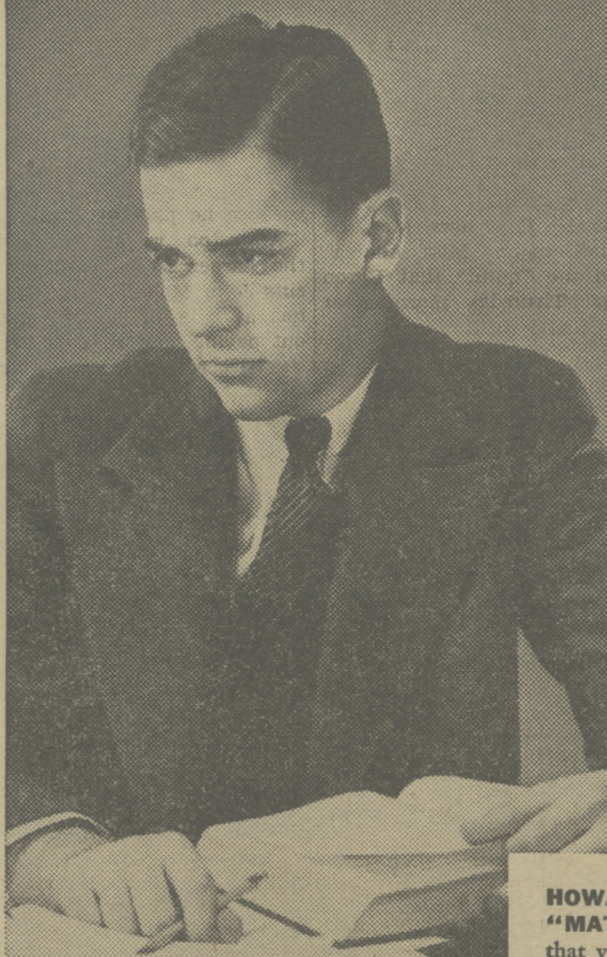

Next Sunday's Chicago Herald and Examiner will contain 3 more pages of astounding crime pictures. Here are photographs that show the horrors that have been perpetrated all over the country.

Hard times are those when we save our money because we are jobless and are jobless because we don't save our money.

What's the use of having our good deeds recounted after we die? We can't hear the praise.

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL IS CREATING INTEREST IN W. T.

TWELVE TEAMS ARE COMPETING IN ROUND-ROBIN TOURNAMENT

Intramural basketball, today as ever, is attracting quite a bit of interest at West Texas State Teachers College.

Twelve teams are competing in the round-robin tournament now being staged by Intramural Director Mitchell Jones. One hundred boys are reached through the intramural basketball activities.

Quite an odd collection of names is found in the lists of the different intramural teams. Such names as Jackson's Jacks, Cousins, Troubadours, Raiders, Farmers, Wildcats, Owls, Mustangs, Major Hoople's boys, Ex-Eagles, Aggies, and Hillbillies show the ingenuity of the team managers in the selection of appellations.

Most of the varsity players have a team which they coach, while other of the coaches play on their team. Any boy in school is eligible to participate in the tournament provided he is not a member of the freshman or varsity squad.

At present the Ex-Eagles, composed of former members of Canyon High School teams of years gone by, are leading the win parade with two victories and no losses for a perfect score.

However, most of the teams have played three games, and five teams are tied for second place with two wins and one defeat.

Jackson's Jacks, Cousins, McMinn's Mustangs, Cagle Teague and his Major Hoople's boys, and the Hillbillies are fighting for the second rung.

The tournament continues thru the month of February with two or three pairs of teams playing each available night and it helps keep something for the boys to keep their minds off the cold winter nights.

BUFFALOES CONTINUE TECH GAME

Bufs Lose To Aggies In The First Encounter

Press time for this paper makes it inconvenient for the reporting of the basketball games of the Buffaloes, since most of the games are played on Monday and Tuesday, while the deadline for the paper is Saturday or early Monday morning.

However, we can keep you fairly conversant with the facts about the games. Last night after this paper went to press the West Texas Buffaloes played their first game of the year on foreign grounds with their traditional rivals, the Texas Tech Matadors in Lubbock.

At this time the result of the game is not known, but when those two teams get together, a colorful battle always ensues.

Tonight the Buffs continue their warfare against the Matadors in another game. Buffalo followers are hoping that Captain McMinn can lead his team mates to a victory over the red-clad men of Coach Ballard.

Last Monday Night Last Monday night the Buffaloes got off to an inauspicious start by dropping their opener to the Panhandle Aggies—the first time in the history of relations between the two schools that the Farmers were able to win a basketball game from the Buffs.

Coach Field had a group of veterans who were playing their third and fourth year together, while the Buffaloes were comparatively inexperienced. The experience proved to be the deciding margin, as the Buffs were nosed out in the closing minutes.

Now that the Buffs have had their baptism of fire, they feel that they will be able to play consistent basketball against their arch-rival, the Matadors.

However, Texas Tech has looked much more impressive this year than have the Buffaloes. They are leading the Border Conference, having played a total of eight games without losing a single game.

Coach Ballard also has four boys who saw lots of service last year while representing the Raiders. Crews and Wester, forwards; Priddy and Gilmore, guards; and Wilkinson, center, make up the probable starting lineup for Tech.

Gilmore and Priddy, the two guards, are co-captains of the Matadors. Both are playing their third and last year for Tech, since they were not eligible their freshman year.

Priddy, although only five feet ten inches tall, is one of the high scorers, and very aggressive. He will be remembered from the gridiron.

Buffalo Line-up With the return of John Walker to the line-up, Coach Baggett has indicated that his starting line-up will probably consist of Walker, center; Boedeker and Clark, guards; and Capt. McMinn and Clement, forwards.

Trouble seldom bothers the person who is not looking for it.

BISON BULL

By Fizz n' Fuzz

This column is dedicated this issue to that bunch of dizzy freshmen who make up the freshman basketball team. They have a real classy team—but don't tell them because a conceited freshman is about the worst thing I can think of.

They have attracted attention over a good part of this country because of their clever handling and passing of the ball, their fast-breaking offense, and their general basketball ability.

They have won five games and lost only one. Their sole defeat was at the hands of the strong Amarillo College Badger quintet in Amarillo after a close battle. By the time you see this you will know the result of their game last Saturday with the Badgers in Burton Gym, in which they were attempting to remove the one blot on a perfect record. Here's wishing them luck.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

Friday and Saturday next the Buffaloes meet another old rival on the basketball floor when the Central Oklahoma Teachers of Edmond visit Burton Gymnasium. Game starts at eight o'clock.

Intercollegiate track competition will be resumed by West Texas State Teachers College this year. Plans are being made to attend the Fat-Stock Show, the Texas Relays, the Lone Star Conference meet, and probably some other meets.

Candidates are requested to report to the Gym tomorrow, Wednesday, at four o'clock. Coach Bob Cox will have charge of the tracksters until basketball season is over.

This past week has been a rather busy one for them. Monday night the Frosh defeated the Portales Junior College in a thriller 31 to 28. Tuesday and Wednesday the charges of Coach Cox scrimmaged the varsity. Thursday they travelled to Allison and defeated a strong high school team in another close one, 22 to 21. Hinger rung a basket to win the game by one point after the Yearlings had been one point behind with twenty-five seconds to go.

Friday night the Fish went to Friona to meet Buff Morris' charges, and in a game in which 28 fouls were called, 17 on the Freshmen, emerged on the long end of a 31 to 22 score.

Saturday night they wound up their week with a mere tussle with the Badgers with we know not what results.

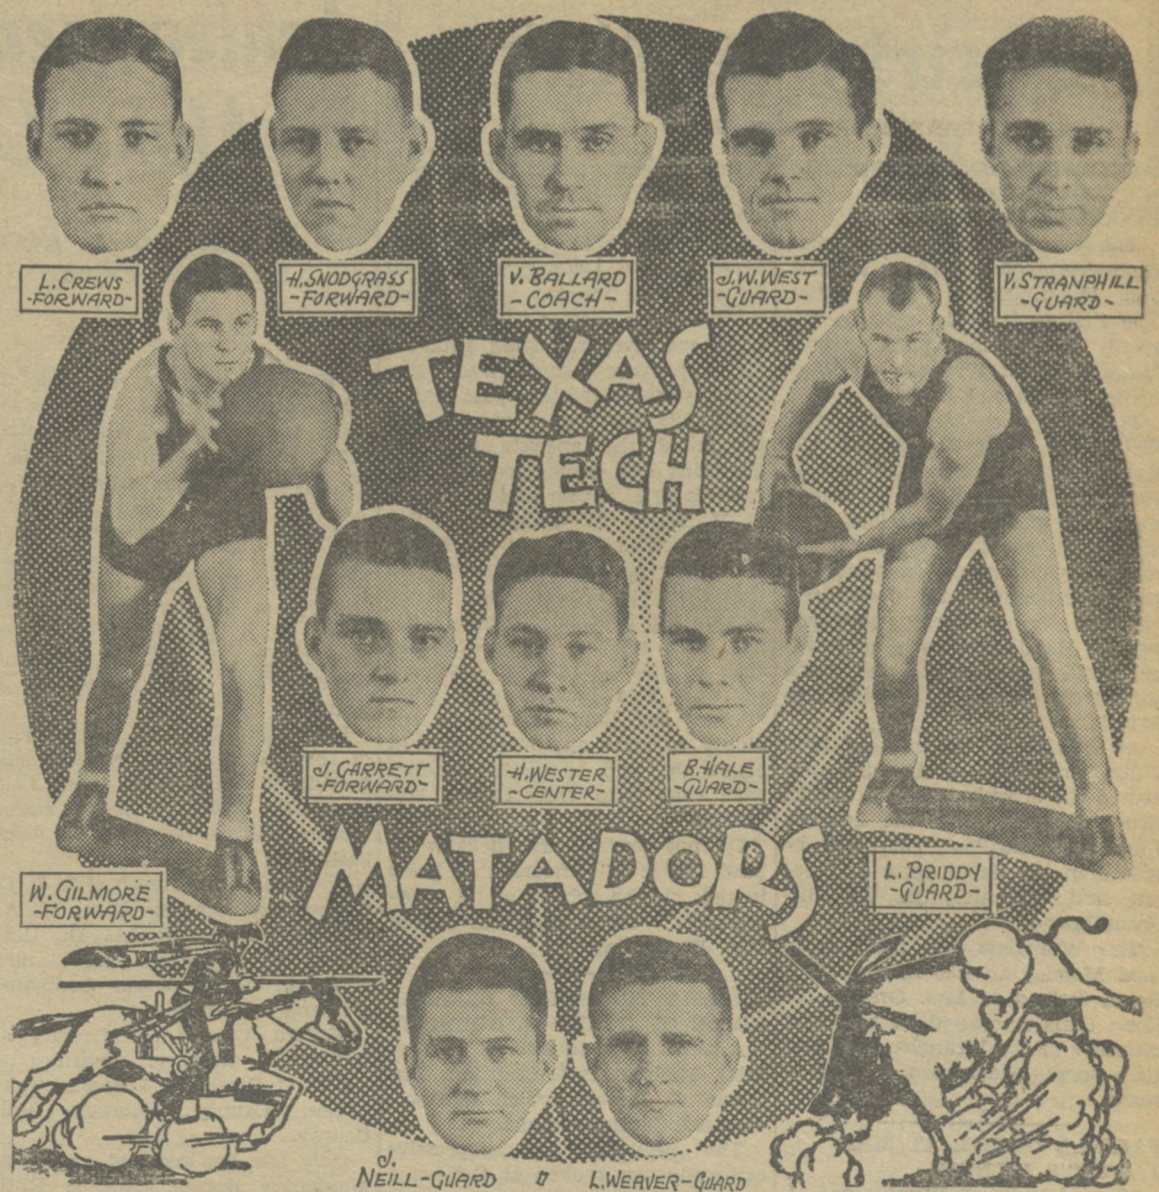

We'll try to introduce some of these enterprising freshmen to you now and get the rest of them later. Don Savage, age 17, is one of the best all-around men on the team. He is a graduate of the training school. Don is an exceptionally fine guard, handles the ball nicely, and has a good eye for the basket.

B. F. Taylor, age 21, and another of those basketballers from Kirkland, is leading the team in scoring with 56 points in six games for an average of over 9 points each game.

Craig Walling, age 21, very prominent because of the shining light on top of his head, comes from Farwell. He jumps center for the Frosh, and while he lacks a little polish yet, is an excellent ball hawk, and can also hit the basket. Watch him.

We'll let you meet the rest of them later.

Just a little space reserved for the varsity: A sophomore is causing a sensation among the varsity followers, Audell Kimmins, age 19, a member of the freshman team last year, is making a strong bid for a starting position. Kimmins is fast, a good passer, and a good shot; and he is making the boys sit up and take notice. You may see his name in the starting lineup. Cleavinger, Kimmins, and Clark are fighting it out for one guard position.

Before closing this pleasant evening... which has been held in the interests of truth and brevity... may I say...

Long speeches have been made about this and that, but when it comes to a good cigarette, you can say it all in just a few words...
