SENIORS READY TO START FINAL ORDEAL MAY 29

Daniel Says Seniors Are Ready For the Exercises

SENIOR DAY IS BEING PLANNED

Grads Will Attend the Annual ExStudent Banquet

Commencement Activities

Saturday, May 29—"The Goose Hangs High," the commencement play.

Sunday, May 30—Breakfast for Methodist members of the class. Baccalaureate sermon by Rev. F. W. O'Malley, pastor of the First Christian Church of Amarillo.

Monday, May 31—Senior Day. Chapel exercises 10 o'clock: Class history by Felix Phillips; piano solo, Fay Lockhart; class day talk, Amy Daniel; violin solo, Rose Stewart; reading, Betty Smalley; toast to Alma Mater, Faye Christopher.

Dedication of senior class's gift to the College: Devotional Dr. David H. Munson; song, "America the Beautiful"; presentation speech, Ray Daniel, president of the class; response, President J. A. Hill; "Alma Mater."

Monday Evening, 8:15—President Hill's annual reception to senior class.

Tuesday, June 1—Conferring of degrees in Auditorium; commencement address by President J. A. Hill, beginning at 10 o'clock.

Tuesday evening, Alumni banquet. Final Examinations.

Arrangements are practically complete for the commencement formalities which start Saturday evening when "The Goose Hangs High" will be presented by the department of Public Speaking.

Seniors have already received their caps and gowns and their invitations were mailed out last week. Ray Daniel, president of the Senior class, reports everything in readiness for the opening formalities.

Rev. F. W. O'Malley, pastor of the First Christian Church of Amarillo will deliver the baccalaureate sermon on May 30, according to an announcement coming from President Hill.

Senior Day comes on Monday, May 31, and the activities of the school will be given over largely to the seniors. Chapel exercises on this day will be in the hands of the graduating class and the president of the class will deliver the farewell address to the student body for his class at that time.

Senior Day activities will culminate with President Hill's annual reception to the senior class.

President Hill will deliver the commencement address on June 1, at 10 o'clock in the morning. The commencement program will end Tuesday evening, June 1, when the seniors attend the annual banquet of the Ex-students Association and are accepted into that organization. Sixty seniors will receive their degrees in the 16th annual commencement.

Speech Arts Students Give Program at Cousins

A number of pupils of the department of Public Speaking were presented in an open recital Monday afternoon, May 17, at Cousins Hall. The following students of the department read: "The Heart of Old Hickory," Felicia Applewhite; "Calling on the Doctor," by Tip Carruth; "The Little God and Dickey," Pauline Stevenson; "The Littlest Rebel," Dalma Fry; "The Mission Box," Bessie Thomas; "How the Whale Got his Throat," Bettie Rose Kerr. The program was heard and enjoyed by an appreciative audience.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Terry have returned to Canyon after a successful year of teaching in Hall County.

Antlers and Sesames Win In First Society Extemporaneous Speaking Contest Saturday Eve

Peppy Crowd Supports Favorites Enthusiastically in Last Literary Society Contest of Year; Critic Judge Plan Used.

Rival literary societies of the College divided honors Saturday evening in the first extemporaneous speaking contest to be held between the four groups. Margaret Good and Ruth Irwin, representing the Sesames, won from the Elapheians, represented by Josephine Duflo and Vida Savage. Ed Gerald and Irby Carruth lead the Antlers to victory over the Consins by defeating James Wilson and C. W. West.

This was the first contest of the sort to be held by the societies, debating having been put aside to allow a trial of the new form of contest. The clash Saturday was the last intersociety meeting for this school year. The Antlers, by virtue of the win Saturday, have made a clean sweep of the three intersociety contests this year, while the Sesames have won two of the three contests from the Elapheians.

Dr. Jackson, head of the department of Government at Texas Tech acted as critic judge. He delivered his decision personally and praised the type of contest. He gave individual criticisms to the contestants privately. The decision was based on the ability of the contestants as a team rather than as individuals.

EXES PLAN TO HELP, JUNE 2

Exes Plan For Large Attendance At Amarillo

Plans are well under way now for the staging of a giant W. T. S. T. C. demonstration at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce meeting in Amarillo on June 23, which has been designated by the program committee as Education Day. Announcements of the prominent part that the College is planning to take in the events of the day are receiving very favorable reception from many ex-student groups, organized and actively functioning all over the Panhandle.

Two thousand students from the summer school and several thousands of exes from the 11,000 numbered on the rolls of the Ex-Students Association, are expected to gather in Amarillo on this occasion. The headquarters of Canyon and the College will be maintained at Green Bros. and Company. This splendid four story structure, offered through the courtesy of the management, will provide ample space for the College exhibit which will be on display throughout the convention dates. On the afternoon of June 23 the College will give a program in the municipal auditorium. The program in detail will be printed later. On the evening of June 21 the executive board of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, together with all senators and representatives from West Texas will be the guests of the College at a banquet and program at Cousins Hall.

Y. W. C. A. Enjoy Round Table Confession Talks

Last week at the regular meeting hour, the members of the Young Women's Christian Association enjoyed a novel program which was in the form of a round table discussion of the question "Why I Came to College." The responses to this question were extremely varied, and revealed many interesting human experiences—humorous, pathetic, and even romantic. Some have drifted carelessly into campus life; some have come with a definite purpose; nearly all have had some struggles in their efforts, but each trial has made a bigger spirit and a finer character. A short time was spent in discussing the meaning of the term Education, and many good definitions were recalled and commented upon. The hour was thoroughly enjoyable because it brought the members into a closer contact with one another and made them firmer friends.

Woman's Chorus Heard In Short Program

The Woman's Chorus gave a short program in chapel Saturday morning consisting of Hahn's "Bird of the Wilderness," Warner's "The Fountain," Guion's "Hopi Indian Cradle Song," Woodforde-Fenden's "How Swiftly Runs the Afternoon," and Warner's "The Ladies of St. James."

The Women's Chorus is under the direction of Miss Pauline Brigham of the department of Music.

BAND TO HAVE BENEFIT SHOW

Picture Show Planned for Sweater Award Finances

The Buffalo Band will give a benefit picture show Tuesday evening May 25, at 8:00 o'clock in the College Auditorium.

"The Sky Pilot," a seven reel dramatic picturization of Ralph Connor's great epic of the West. Against the great odds of prejudice and selfishness, the idealistic young clergyman implants the seed of brotherly love in a wild settlement of the Northwest. Proving to the primitive cow-punchers that he is a man among men, a human being with a body plus a soul, they beseech him to return after riding him out of town. There are wonderful scenes of a country still in its natural glory. The story, in gripping fashion, drives home the message that love and understanding are within us if we only search our hearts and that our better selves can conquer apparently overwhelming obstacles.

Special music will be furnished by a show orchestra prepared especially for the occasion. If you want the band boys to get any reward for their work this year, come out and bring your friends. It will be an evening well spent. Admission 25c.

Miss Annie Mae McClure visited friends here Saturday.

Miss Lillian Atkins has returned to school.

DUFLOT TALKS TO TEXAS TECH STUDES

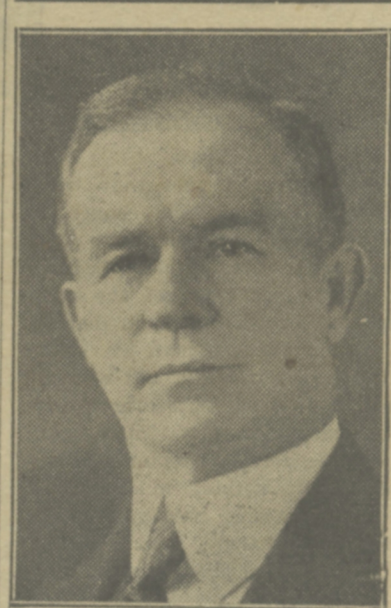

Addresses Sociology Club and Classes at Lubbock School on Wednesday and Thursday

Professor J. L. Duflo, head of the department of Sociology and Economics here, lectured to the students of the department of Sociology at Texas Technological College Wednesday and Thursday. Professor Duflo was invited to the Lubbock school by Professor John C. Grandbury, head of the department of Sociology there.

Wednesday evening Professor Duflo spoke on "The Relation of the Mind to Society." Thursday morning he lectured on "Sociology as a Science of Human Relations." Professor Duflo reports an enjoyable visit during his stay in Lubbock.

Misses Fannie Cash, Madge Day, and Rose Stewart entertained the seniors with a lawn party at the home of Miss Cash on Monday evening. Many games were played and the refreshments of lemonade, ice cream and cake were served. The guests left declaring the young ladies delightful hostesses.

SPEAKS HERE

Lynch Davidson, of Houston, who spoke in the College Auditorium Wednesday evening in the interest of his candidacy for Governor. Mr. Davidson was introduced by C. R. Burrow of the Canyon Lumber Company. Business methods, penitentiary system, and prohibition were issues presented by Mr. Davidson during his talk to a large audience of men and women.

A-E BANQUET PEPPY AFFAIR

Antlers and Elapheians Make Merry at the Annual Feed

Antler and Elapheian pep was at its highest pitch Wednesday evening at the annual society banquet which was held at the Palace Cafe tea room, according to members of the organization. The room was decorated in gold and white with yellow roses adorning the tables. Felix Phillips, president of the Antlers, served as a delightful toastmaster.

An interesting program was mingled with the eats: Song, Marie Stalcup, accompanied by Lorna Stock; Talk, D. A. Shirley; "Nora Understood Men," Dalma Fry; music, Vivian and Hallie Adams; 1926 Plus, by Weldon Thompson; "How the Whale Got His Throat," Bettie Rose Kerr; "A Tribute," an original poem by Thelma Duke. Many impromptu speeches were heard. After the singing of Alma Mater the jolly and happy crowd adjourned.

Class Editions

Class editions of The Prairie have been finished and copies of the papers are in the hands of the members of the Missouri Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, who will judge the editions.

Class editions serve a many sided purpose and the staff of The Prairie extends congratulations to each of the College classes for the high standard they maintained in each edition. Class "mush" was kept out of the editions and news was stressed as the main object. Class staffs and editors were enabled to appreciate more fully the responsibility of the persons in charge of the student newspaper by meeting in a small measure the identical problems that face the regulars each week. They were made to realize that the student newspaper has to keep up its own standards and the standards of the student body it serves. The recognition of such things will bring about a more wholesome co-operation with The Prairie on the part of the student subscribers.

The College newspaper reporter must appreciate the fact that as a trustee of the student body it is his duty to present student news fairly and as truthfully as is humanly possible. The college newspaper exists to keep the students informed of the things going on about them. It has more of the spice of life than the professional daily, for youth deserves more. It has none of the lurid life-pictures painted daily in the professional press, for youth does not care for morbidness in life.

Each class recognized these things and their editions were free from petty material and coarse laughter. The editors of The Prairie have no fault to find with the type of papers edited by the classes.

It was hoped when the class editions were announced that a greater number of students would be attracted to the college newspaper as members of its regular force. In order to serve the student body adequately The Prairie needs a large staff of reporters of many varied types, and the staff hopes that more students will join the newspaper force.

The next year will find West Texas State Teachers College a larger and a better school and the student newspaper is faced with the problem of keeping pace. Only through a staff of writers who love their work and find greatest pleasure in ferreting out news and presenting it in written form can The Prairie hope to accomplish its task. It will meet its new responsibility, however, in the same spirit that has caused it to grow from a small semi-monthly publication to its present size and rank in Texas collegiate press circles. Those people who got their first glimpse of printers ink during the class editions and would like to do more of our sort of work are invited to join us now.

We have enjoyed working with the class staffs and look forward to the next series of class editions with anticipation of even better papers.

Sunsets

"Have you noticed the wonderfully colored sunsets during the last few weeks? Last Thursday evening was blessed with one of exceptional beauty and color.

The Golden Gate affairs we hear so much about in California are undoubtedly beautiful but they could not be more ecstatic than those seen through the atmosphere of Texas' Panhandle.

It can't be described adequately and you'd think it overdone if it could be. Watch for the next one. They fill your soul with more beauty in a short half hour than any other natural phenomenon.

Omar's Blue Boy

Some puzzled fellow slipped the following query into the office the other day:

"What's the use of being good? It isn't really any fun, and no one ever knows it except your own conscience. How many of your friends appreciate your being good where it does not concern them? Is being good one of the essentials of life? There comes a time in ever one's life when they want to be mean, and a great number of people are mean all their lives. Does a bad person get as much joy out of life as a good one? Was life more sweet to W. J. Bryan than it was to Gerald Chapman? These are the questions of a boy with the blues."

Blame it on the blues, boy, blame it on the blues!

A Toast

Here's to the man that won't give another man a chance to "come back." To the man that won't give another man a chance to prove that he's got the right stuff in him. To the man that believes that once a man has strayed from the "straight and narrow" path, he cannot turn over a new leaf and BE a man. To the man that once forms an opinion of another man, nothing in the world can change him, (for only women and fools change their minds). That good behavior, a new attitude toward his purpose in life, a growing concept of what is right and wrong, and gentlemanly conduct in every instance is not a proof that he intends to change his ways from bad to good. Here's to the man that won't give another man a chance to come back; may his bones rot and his teeth fall out. Let's drink to him.

More Toast

We take this means of expressing our appreciation of the people who worked hard on the annual publication this year. They worked, and worked, and worked, and then they worked, and got little out of it except the satisfaction that they had done their duty toward their school, and they gave us a good year book. We are in favor of keeping down expenses, but we'd like to see the cost of this book increased enough to cover the expense of buying each member of the annual staff a copy of Le Mirage. Why don't you, huh?

Fresh—What's that mark over your ear?

Frosh—That's a birth mark.

Fresh—How's that?

Frosh—Looked in the wrong berth.—Simmons Brand.

We're sitting here in Editor Ed's room looking around over the wall, and our eye falls on a placard that says, "There Are No Little Things." It's a lie; look at Marie Stalcup.

Cream Toast

To the Freshman Class we'll say this: you've got more pep, vim, push, dash, snap, and ability than any other slimy crew we ever saw before.

To the Sophomore Class we'll say this: You've got more class strength in the recitation room, in the science laboratory, on the speaking platform, and on the athletic field than we ever saw a second year gang present before.

To the Junior class we'll say this: You've got more natural born leaders, and more intelligent followers than we ever saw an almost-through bunch muster before.

To the Senior Class we'll say this: You're a bunch of good sports, and the more we know you the more we like you—you'll make your mark in the world, though it be only on a blackboard and in the minds of your students, which is your ideal mark, it seems, and a worthy one.

We're for this little paper that the printing department is putting out called the "Buffalo Rider." It lives up to its name, for it rides everybody in and out of school in a friendly manner. Durward Brown is responsible for most of the wise cracks contained therein they tell us, so settle your differences with him if you have any. If you haven't read this sheet, be sure to do so.

This May Get By

Editor Ed's state of mind isn't improving any, it seems. The other day we were up at his house listening to his orthophonic and when he started to change needles he laid the old needle carefully on a table and threw the record out of the window. Judging by his actions he'd make a good college professor!

Travis—How long will I have to wait for a shave?

Barber (eyeing Travis)—Oh, about two years.

Those students whose teachers tell them they have a small chance to pass if they make good on their examinations say they wish that they'd done their flunking early.

Burned Toast

Only a few more days, folks, and our Seniors' education will be complete. Yes, sir, we're going to launch out into life, by gum, (Wrigley's, please). And we'd just like to say in passing (hope we do pass), that you've taught us about as much as our teachers. Don't misunderstand us, for we don't want you to think that we're underrating the competency of our teachers, nor overrating your ability as pedagogs, but "life" is largely people, and so are you. We've tried hard to leave a gob of friends in our old Alma Mater, not because you'll be valuable to us in years to come in a financial or social way, because many of you have proven a decided expense to us, (if you don't believe this, ask Pud or Bill Anderson). We want you to think kindly of us, and realize that we have had many a hard trial to undergo in administering the affairs of our families and this institution. We have been kidded by the Fish, ridiculed by the Sophs, evening. Many games were played had dissension among ourselves at times, and we have brone up under our many tribulations like the red-blooded men and women that we are, by bum. It's almost time to say good bye, and the briny creeps up into our squint-eyes like the coffee boils over on a newlywed.

We've tried to do the right thing by you, and wish you plenty of luck, and thank you.

Edward Gerald and Irby Carruth won out in the tryout for the Antler representatives with Jerry Malin as alternate in the extemporaneous speaking last Thursday afternoon in room 205. The contest was one of the most heated tryouts ever held in the society. Ten speakers tried out and much good talent was displayed. Mr. Bryan acted as judge.

Kistler-Thomas Wedding

The wedding of Miss Ethel V. Kistler and J. D. Thomas took place Friday morning, May 14, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kistler of Muleshoe. Only members of the immediate family and intimate friends witnessed the ceremony.

The bride, having attended the College here for several years, is well known in ex-student circles and to Canyon people in general. The groom is county attorney of Farmer county. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas will be at home to their friends in Farwell after June 1.

Sing-Song at Y. W. C. A. Meeting

Those who missed the Young Women's Christian Association on Wednesday afternoon failed to enjoy a real treat. Those who attended feel that the bonds of friendship, fellowship, and loyalty between them have been more firmly secured. The hour was spent in singing the favorite Y. W. C. A. songs. Variation was afforded by each girl's leading the song which she chose. Out of this atmosphere of friendship and restfulness, the prayers—sincere and heartfelt—brought the group into conscious fellowship of a power higher than themselves and capable of speaking counsel and repose into the confusion of earth.

The following ex-students from Littlefield are planning to attend school here this summer: Misses Hazel Morris, Vivian and Ruth Courtney, and Mrs. Lois Graham Jones.

Miss Louise Magee, a degree graduate of this institution in 1923, will spend the summer in California. After attending the University at Berkeley for six weeks she is planning to make a tour through the Western states and Canada.

Really, we must study our lesson. We thank you.

Foreigners Elect Officers For Summer Term

The Out-of-State club met Monday evening and elected officers for the summer quarter and for 1926-27. The president for the summer term is Thomas Bice, and the vice president Allie Hanna. Nell Halstead is president-elect for 1926-27. Miss Debo was re-elected sponsor.

Artists Hike to Wragge's

Tuesday evening nine members of the Art Club planned to hike to Wragge's Park. The rain changing their minds, they took refuge in the Domestic Science Department, of the College.

As quickly as if by magic, paper sacks, boxes, cans, and glasses were opened covering the tables with good things to eat. Around the table sat: Miss Robinson, Miss Boulware, Miss Foot, Goldia Bromley, Mable McQueen, Miss Scott, Ina Mae Hopkins, and Margaret Gordon-Cummings. All were waiting for the coffee to boil, which had been prepared by Miss Foot.

Silence did not dominate over conversation, but trips were talked of. After the eats had vanished all remained and enjoyed good old time talks and games. After these each went home under a dry sky to enjoy term themes and other interests of similar nature.

College Dairy Herd Showing Improvement

The College barn has been progressing silently during the past year. Many state records have been attained, not to say anything about the minor records of the Aggie department.

The W. T. herd has in it the state record cow, not only in the production of milk alone, but in that of butter fat also. Lady Rosette last year produced 14,883 pounds of milk and 881 pounds of butter fat. This is the best record in Texas for milk and butter. Another member of the herd, Little Agatha, holds record of 603 pounds of butter fat at the age of two and half years. Her particular merit lies in her high percentage of butter fat, her highest testing being nine percent.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jensen of Portland, Oregon, on May 4th. Mrs. Jensen was Miss Gracie Penrod, a graduate of this institution and a former instructor in the Spanish department.

Alma Guenther of Houston Public Schools, coached two girls, who reached semi-finals in the City Girls' Debate.

Ex-Student Banquet to Be Gala Affair

A record crowd will be in attendance at the annual ex-students banquet to be held at Cousins Hall, June 1, at six o'clock, if the many inquiries coming from counties all over the Panhandle are indicative of members. A ready sale of tickets has been going on for more than a week. The announcement that several matters of importance to ex-students in general will be brought up at the business session, has insured an unusually large attendance at that meeting which will be held in room 108 at five o'clock.

The program, which will be interspersed with selections by the string ensemble class under the direction of Miss Mary Clark, will be in charge of Mrs. Tommie Montfort as toastmaster. Fremont Mead will give the address of welcome to the visiting exes, and responses will be made by representatives from the various county organizations. The work of the Randall County association during the past year will be outlined by Miss Elva Fronabarger. F. E. Savage will welcome the new exes into the rank and file of permanent membership, and to this address, Ray Daniel, president of the class of 1926, will respond. One contribution to the program will be made by each degree class represented, and it is understood that this feature will add a unique touch to the evening's entertainment. The ex-student quartette that has gained popularity here this year will sing a group of songs. The quartette is composed of Messrs Fry, Beavers, Mead, and Powell. President Hill, who is always in attendance at this annual function will give the closing address of the evening.

The menu which will receive no little attention from the guests follows:

Grape Fruit Cocktail
Chicken a la Maryland
Buttered Beets Mashed Potatoes
Relish
Waldorf Salad
Ice Cream
Coffee
Mints
Cake

Miss Lucille Putnam will teach in the Plainview Junior High School next year. Miss Putnam will graduate from the University of Texas in June. She is a former student of W. T. S. T. C.

Miss Rita Baldwin was greeting her many W. T. S. T. C. friends in the halls Thursday. Miss Baldwin stopped while enroute to her home in Lipscomb to visit her parents. She is now employed as cashier in the Y. M. C. A. cafeteria at Phoenix, Arizona.

Miss Stella Stanfield, B. A. '25, spent a part of last week visiting friends in Canyon. She taught in the high school at Aztec, New Mexico, last year and expects to spend this summer in study at the University of Mexico.

Miss Leah Amend, county demonstrator in Armstrong county, was a welcome caller at W. T. last week.

J. A. Adams of Muleshoe was shaking hands with friends here Thursday. He was a member of last year's senior class.

Flannigan Smith, former student of W. T. S. T. C. will receive his degree in Law at Texas University, this June. Dorothy Burrow also takes a degree from Texas University.

Margaret Puryine and Arless O'Keefe, now teaching at Cuyler, coached the boy and girl who won third place in the Junior Rural Declamation. This is the third time this school, taught by ex-students of W. T. S. T. C. has won honors.

ex-student Clara Currie, reached semi-finals.

Those ex-students who attended the meet at Austin were: Lucille Putnam, Lois Cone, Mary Ethel Adams, Pat Heard and Ira Allen.

Virginia Laird, student of 1924, recently married J. B. Elliston of Alhambra, California.

Mrs. J. L. Higginbotham of Stratford is visiting relatives and friends in Canyon. She will be remembered as Miss Mary Rice.

The marriage of Miss Olma Burks of Manzanola, Colorado, and Walter Wilson, will take place June 1. Miss Burks received the B. A. degree here in 1924.

Faculty members and students will be happy to hear of Miss Lucy Cox of the Class of 1913. Miss Cox is now Mrs. W. B. Gibson and lives at Sherman, Texas. She speaks of the College as "Our beloved West Texas State Teachers College."

ROOMS FOR 500 IN CANYON DUR- ING C-C MEET

WEST TEXAS C-C PLEDGED
CO-OPERATION

Canyon Will Assist Amarillo in Entertaining 50,000 Visitors—
Green Bros. Headquarters.

Canyon is asked to provide rooms for 500 people during the meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention which will be held in Amarillo June 21, 22, 23. Canyon has accepted this responsibility, and will have available a list of rooms, if the citizens will co-operate with the local Chamber of Commerce and help in the housing problem.

President J. A. Hill, Wallace R. Clark and C. W. Warwick attended a luncheon Tuesday in Amarillo attended by commerce secretaries from various towns of the Panhandle, at which time plans were discussed for the entertainment of the 50,000 visitors to the great convention. The Canyon representatives were asked to make arrangements to care for at least 500 people during the convention. Canyon was furthermore asked to invite all of the convention visitors possible to see the College, and to view the great crops which are now in the making in this county.

Homer D. Wade of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, O. C. Goodwin, manager of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, assistant secretary B. A. Butler and C. H. Amacker, secretary of the Tri-State Fair, were in Canyon Monday afternoon and urged that Canyon make a great thing of the convention meet. Canyon people are asked to write to their friends and invite them to make Canyon their headquarters during the convention. Canyon homes are asked to be opened, as all available room will be needed for the convention.

Green Bros. Company, through manager C. R. McAfee, has offered the facilities of the firm's new four story building as Canyon and College headquarters during the convention. Mr. McAfee stated that all space necessary for a fine College display would be available during the convention, and insisted that Canyon people make themselves at home during their stay in Amarillo. The store is ideally located in Amarillo to be visited by ex-students of the College, as well as students, faculty members and citizens of Canyon. Mr. McAfee and D. A. Park, of this firm, are both former citizens of Canyon.

Every business house in Canyon will be asked to close on Wednesday, June 23, and join in the educational day program of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Owing to the fact that parking space will be almost impossible to find, and no cars will be allowed on Polk street under any conditions, Canyon citizens are urged to leave their cars at home and go to Amarillo on the special train which will return home in the evening. Two thousand students are expected to gather in Amarillo at that time for the monster W. T. S. T. C. demonstration. The College has been honored by being asked to furnish a program of one and one-half hours at the municipal auditorium in the afternoon. Being the largest institution on the Plains, with more than 15,000 ex-students scattered all over West Texas, it is expected that the College will command much attention during the monster convention. The executive board of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, together with all senators and representatives from West Texas will attend a banquet and program on Monday night, June 21, at the College.

PIANO RECITAL TUESDAY

Miss Gwendolyn Black, piano student of Tate Fry, was assisted by Miss O'Neal Porter, reader, in a studio recital Tuesday evening at eight o'clock. The Fry studio was beautifully decorated with yellow roses and orchid iris, giving quite an artistic atmosphere for the little musician. Miss Black's poise and interpretation attracted special attention. A very appreciative audience enjoyed the program.

Governor Ferguson Approves Warrant $4,000 for College

While in Austin last week, President
J. A. Hill was granted a deficient warrant by Governor Ferguson for $4,000 for the purpose of providing fuel, heat, light and power for the College.

Mr. Hill had a very pleasant conference with Governor Ferguson, and Ex-Governor James E. Ferguson, both of whom expressed great interest in the welfare of the College. It was intimated by both that owing to the excellent financial condition of the state, it would be possible to grant a substantial building program for the College at the next session of the legislature.
Governor Ferguson vetoed an appropriation for $175,000 to build a science building at the College, which had been passed by the legislature.

State Health Inspector Here and Praises the City

A representative of the State Health Department was in the city Tuesday and made a complete health survey. He stated to Mayor C. H. Jarrett that he was highly pleased with conditions he found in Canyon.

Typhoid has been found in a number of towns along the Red River. The state health department

ment is making a close examination of all towns along this river, and since Canyon is at the head waters of the River, the inspector started here and will make each town.

The new sewer disposal plant was inspected and approved in every way. So far as is known, no disposal from this city has ever been allowed to get into the creek which would infect the waters of other towns down the line.

An evening paper leader-writer thinks popular government is the only form of control. It would certainly be a good idea if such a government could be found.—
