

Debate Team To Enter Tourney

First Intercollegiate Contest For W. T. In 13 Years—Plans To Meet T. C. U.

On Saturday the College Debate Club will enter four speakers in a debate tournament at Oklahoma A. & M., Goodwell. Teams from several colleges will enter the tournament.

Debating the question, "Resolved that the Nations of the Western Hemisphere Should Form a Permanent Alliance," the women from W. T. will be Helen Conrad and Luzelle Bryan, the men Jim McCray and Glen Davis.

In the interval between the two afternoon debates and the two night debates, a dinner will be given for the speakers. This is the first debate in which West Texas students have participated for more than thirteen years.

Although the details have not been completed, a debate here with Texas Christian University is scheduled for the afternoon of March 30 in the Education Building Auditorium.

President Hill Named Boy Scout Commissioner

Dr. J. A. Hill has been elected a Boy Scout national commissioner in the Llano Estacado council. He is a former president of the council and a recipient of the silver beaver award, the highest honor given to volunteer workers in the movement.

Prof. T. M. Moore was elected to the executive board. Clarence Thompson, Canyon business man former student, was made a vice-president. The Rev. Sam Thomas is another member of the executive board.

Officers of the council reported substantial progress during the last year. There are 1,016 Scouts and 480 Cubs in the area, in addition to 376 Scouters, or adult leaders.

West Texas State offers a class in Scouting taught by Prof. Milton Morris. The annual Boy Scout Day at the College is a major event for the boys.

New Courses To Be Offered Next Semester

There will be four new speech courses, four new agricultural courses, and one new English course offered next semester.

Prof. James A. Butler will teach Advanced Dramatics 411, which will cover an analysis of play construction and theories of acting. He will enlarge the Stagecraft course to include a study of puppetry and its use as a teaching device in elementary school. Art and education majors will be allowed to enroll in this course.

Dr. C. W. Freed will teach advanced speech students, Speech 402, which is a study in preparation and presentation of long speeches and a thorough insight into audience psychology. He will also offer Methods of Teaching Speech in Secondary Schools, classroom management, and conduction of school contests in debates, dramatic presentations, and extemporaneous speech.

Prof. T. M. Moore will teach Range—402, Soil Management—231, and Forage and Fiber Crops—432. Prof. F. R. Phillips will offer Animal Nutrition—421.

In the Business Administration Department, Business English 321 will be offered. English majors will receive credit for the course. Dr. A. Kirk Knott will teach the course, which he has just completed in Amarillo.

Advanced Costume designing, problems in styling such as color scheming, the importance of details, decoration, textures, draperies, personal grooming, and budgeting, will be taught by Miss Isabel Robinson.

Travel Title Has New Defender

President J. A. Hill is competing with W. T. athletic groups for the title of "most traveled" on the campus.

The athletic teams travel from California to Missouri and from the Gulf to Idaho, but Dr. Hill will equal this with trips to Austin and Washington in the next two weeks. The state college presidents of Texas opened a meeting in Austin yesterday. Dr. Hill is president. On February 6, President Hill will go to the nation's capital for a national meeting of school officials, which is being called by high government officers in connection with the defense program.

To Speak Here

Dr. Cora M. Martin, teacher of elementary education at the University of Texas, will be a featured speaker at the Northwest Texas Conference for Education here March 14 and 15. She has been in demand as a speaker throughout the Southwest and has made a reputation as an authority on childhood education. She has written readers, workbooks, and charts.

Summer Session Copy Ready Soon

Many Special Courses To Be Featured During New 10-Week Term

Copy for the West Texas State College summer catalog likely will be sent to the state printer this week by Dean R. P. Jarrett.

Much applause for the shortened summer session is being received. It will be a 10-week session, made up of two five-week terms. The normal credit load will be six semester hours for each five weeks. This work, to be completed in ten weeks instead of twelve, will be achieved by having classes on six days a week instead of five, as formerly. Summer students will be saved both time and expense. Their vacations will be lengthened.

The first half-session will begin June 4 and close July 9. The second half will begin July 10 and close August 14. Standard academic work leading to the B. A., B. S., B. B. A., and M. A. degrees will be offered. Matriculation fees will be $15 for each half-session and activity fees $5 for each half-session. Board and room at Cousins and Stafford halls will be $35 for each term, and at Randall will be $33 for the 5 weeks. Girls who work one hour each day at Randall will pay $22 for the half-session.

Special features will include the Palo Duro School of Art and the audio-visual education course, during the first five weeks; the Music Recreation Session from August 4 to 16; and courses in such subjects as health, safety, conservation, Latin-American-Relations, and democracy. Grant Reynard of New Jersey will return for the art school and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Nutt of Chicago for the Music Recreation Session. Don G. Williams, who was here two years ago, will return to teach the use of audio-visual aids.

College To Give Physical Exam

Preliminary physical examinations are to be furnished by the College this week to students who plan to enroll for the Civil Aeronautics Authority—College sponsored pilots' training program opening Feb. 1.

"This will save the $6 entry examination fee for students who would not be able to pass the examination," Dr. R. P. Jarrett, dean of the College, said.

Dr. Jarrett also indicated that all students have until Feb. 1 to make the age qualification of 19 years. Twenty-nine students attended the most recent meeting held Saturday morning. Seven of those were girls. "There are several students interested who were unable to attend, we believe," Dr. Jarrett said.

O'KEEFE HONORED

Georgia O'Keefe, former head of the art department, has recently been selected as one among ten of the most outstanding women in America.

FORMER STUDENTS VISIT

Former students on the campus recently include Leona Bowlin, '38, and Mary Lou Robinson, '40. Both are art instructors at Lubbock Junior High School, and are planning to attend the summer Palo Duro Art school.

Library To Make Book Exhibit

Bibliography Of Materials By Dr. Paul Popenoe On Marriage To Be Furnished

An exhibit of books by Dr. Paul Popenoe and a bibliography of materials on marriage will be provided by the library in connection with this speaker's short course here February 12-17.

The conference on marriage and family relations will touch many groups, including Scouts, high school students, student journalists of the Panhandle High School Press Association, club women, Future Farmers of America, members of Parent-Teacher Associations, and church workers. Dr. Popenoe, a former editor of the Journal of Heredity, is a leading writer in the field of family relations. He has conducted hundreds of conferences in churches and schools. He is a former university instructor. Members of the local Lions club will hear him on the subject of eugenics and national defense.

Dr. Popenoe is director of the Institute of Family Relations in Los Angeles, Calif. He is secretary of the Human Betterment Foundation. During the first world war he was a captain in the sanitary corps with the duty of improving moral conditions at army camps. For a time after the war he was executive secretary of the American Social Hygiene Association in New York. In recent years he has given most of his time to writing and lecturing and to raising dates on his California ranch.

Student Talent Presented By Campus Sorority

Gamma Phi Sorority presented a variety show of student talent in assembly last week.

Lynn Edwards, president of the sorority, was mistress of ceremonies. The program included several musical selections by the Swing Four, Earl Wilbur, Ernest Scheihagen, and Weldon Bright. (Raymond Wood was ill); songs by the "One-Hit, One-Miss and One-Run Trio," which included Weldon Bright, John Houser, and Louise Roach; and saxophone solos by Helen Frances Streu accompanied by Virginia Vaughan.

Virginia Giles gave a humorous reading, "Mary Had a Little Lamb." Norman Whisenand went into action to show the assembly what head coach Al Baggett would do and say when he decided that it was time to let the Hustlin' Buffs play with a football.

President's Home Completed Soon

In less than a month, Dr. J. A. Hill, president of the College, will be ready to move into his new home at 2705 Fourth Avenue.

The six-room white frame house was begun in the first week of December by M. O. Carder of Amarillo, architect, and W. H. Boney of Tulla, contractor. It is expected that it will be completed by February 15.

Dr. Hill's present residence later will be razed and the material used in the Randall Hall annex.

A new member in the business office is J. L. "Red" Hardin. Mr. Hardin, who was graduated by W. T. in the summer of 1938, replaces Don Bowie, who resigned recently to accept a position with a firm in Amarillo.

Counseling Committee Will Serve As Guides In College Careers

A college career at West Texas State is no aimless adventure.

Twenty-three faculty members are giving part of their time to guiding more than four hundred freshmen in their classroom and campus activities. Under the direction of Dr. A. M. Meyer, chairman of the counseling committee, these teachers are making intensive studies of student problems and ways to meet them. This knowledge also is useful in assisting upper-classmen.

Problems of students touch most of the phases of human relations. The committee has asked the following cooperation from instructors:

1. That faculty members report to the counselors of the students all matters of difficulty that they discover in connection with students. These difficulties may be in the field of learning subject matter, social relationships, economic affairs, physical difficulties, emotional instability, attitudes, etc.
2. That faculty members report

Mrs. N. N. Whitworth of Amarillo is completing the program for the Northwest Conference for Education, which will convene here March 14 and 15. The president for the annual session is an Amarillo teacher.

Glamour Course For Technique—Girls Only

Personalities are being improved and personal problems solved for girls in a course offered this year for the first time in W. T.

This course includes the factors which develop personality and the problems of today and the future for the average college girl. The girls are taught correct ways to dress, how to fix their hair, and how to care for their health. Correct etiquette for all occasions has been considered and instructions in selecting friends are being given.

The name of the course is Personal Problems, or home economics 121. It is taught by Miss Margaret Barrett, head of the department.

Private Barney Davidson, former student now with Company F, 142nd Infantry at Camp Bowie, Brownwood, is continuing the drawing which made him popular here.

He has been making drawings of soldiers' girl friends and has made pictures for a number of officers. He hopes to be transferred to a mapping division of the Army.

Next Broadway Hit Scheduled

Butler Reports Different Type Drama Will Be As Good As "Can't Take It"

Another Broadway hit, "Night of January 16," will be presented by West Texas students Feb. 27, 28, and March 1 in the County Court House.

"We believe it will be as well accepted by both students and townspeople as was the play 'You Can't Take It With You,' even though it is an entirely different type of drama," Prof. James H. Butler, director, said.

At the time of the suicide of Ivan Krueger, Swedish Match King and financial juggler, revealing the failure of his complicated international financial interests, it was rumored that he had only faked his death and had in reality departed to South America to live incognito and in luxury on the fortune that he had established there. Ryn Rand has taken this myth for the basis of one of the most exciting murder dramas ever written.

"Night of January 16" had a long Broadway run and has toured the United States. Some of the most famous citizens who have served on its jury during professional runs are: Jack Dempsey, James Roosevelt, Ricardo Cortez, Babe Ruth and Hellen Keller. The jury is usually picked from the audience present at the time of the play. They are instructed to render a verdict of "guilty" or "not guilty" and the play ends according to verdict given.

"Nasty Soot To Many"—Carbon Chemist Reports

"Carbon black to most persons is merely a nasty form of soot," G. L. Heller, head of the research department of the General Atlas Carbon Company of Pampa, said before members of the Science club Thursday night.

Chemical reactions in the gas flame as indicated by a laboratory analysis of the flame were explained. Charts of the sections of the flame, which results in the production of carbon black, were interpreted.

"Carbon pigment is used in chocolate candy and soils, but it finds its greatest market in the rubber industry," the Pampa chemist said. "Because the finely-divided carbon absorbs heat rapidly, it is spread on snows and rivers in the north to cause early melting," he added.

He explained that the insoluble carbon pigment was made up of more than 150 different materials because of the many different reactions which take place in the flame. He exhibited various samples of substance formed at the different regions of the flame.

Students Find Fun In Square Dances

Long, long ago when our country was very, very new, folks used to gather together for the fun of square dancing.

Now the women's physical education department is providing similar fun for the students of the college and people in Canyon who are interested in this form of amusement, in a dance group which meets on Tuesday evenings at 6:45 o'clock.

Walter Palmer who calls the dances, comes from a line of callers . . . clear back to the time of Daniel Boone . . . and the music is furnished by the recreational group of the W. P. A. in Amarillo.

There is no charge for admission.

Cook Named To State Committee

Dr. Harris M. Cook, dean of men and professor of education, has been appointed a member of the legislative committee of the Texas State Teachers Association.

The appointment was made by the Association president, Dr. W. B. Irvin, superintendent of schools at Lubbock.

(Editor's Note: This discussion of the Lend-Lease Bill and the Present Crisis was written by Prof. J. L. Duflet of the sociology department at the same time when members of the College faculty were signing an approval of the pending bill.)

What is the Lend-Lease bill which is creating such an uproar in Congress between Administration forces and the non-interventionists and of what value is it to the U. S. in this crisis?

Briefly, it will give the President power to help any nations which he regards as vital to our defense by giving, lending, or selling ships, machinery, tools, supplies, and even plans for secret devices. If loaned or leased, the materials may be repaid in kind or in goods of equal value. The bill also gives the President power to grant British ships and air planes the right to make use of any of our bases for refueling or repairing purposes. Under the terms of the bill the President may release to England all ships in our ports owned by the European Axis powers and their conquered states.

But the bill does not give him power to ship supplies to war zones in American vessels, nor to convoy ships to England, nor to send soldiers to the battle front.

The objectives raised by the opponents of the measure are that no time limit is given for the exercise of these extraordinary powers, and that the president's authority to dispose of war equipments should be held in check by Army and Navy officials. Judging from the present trend of the controversy, the administration forces are not going to object to any modifications of the bill to meet these two objections.

It is not the purpose of this brief article to go into the pros and cons of the issues but there are some members of the faculty who favor the bill and who are becoming impatient with the dilatory tactics of the opposition in Congress. While we feel that some of the opposition to the bill is sincere, yet there are (See DUFLOT, page 3)

Sale By "Billy The Kid" Shown In Museum Paper

Billy the kid will never ride again. He sold his horse.

In one of the glass cases of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum is a scrap of old paper written in faded blue ink.

Dated, Tascosa, Texas, Thursday, Oct. 26th, 1878, the paper's text is as follows: "Know all persons by these presents that I do hereby sell and deliver to Henry F. Hoyt one sorrel horse, branded BB on left hip and indistinctly branded on shoulders, for the sum of seventy-five dollars, in hand received." The note is signed by William H. Bonney, who was better known as "Billy the Kid."

Fine Textiles In Museum Exhibit

Hand-printed and hand-woven textiles from all over the world were included in an exhibit in the Panhandle-Plains Museum. The exhibit, sponsored by the art department, sold part of the collection.

Included were block prints, screen prints, Scotch weaving, embroidery from India, handweaving from Guatemala, English prints, and Javanese batik. Other textiles were from Germany, Finland, Austria, British South Africa, and Sweden. Well known designers represented were Roal Dufy, Paul Pourret (French), and Ruth Reeves (American).

Seniors Requested To Wait For Fall Credit

Seniors who expect to teach and who are to complete the requirements for the Bachelor's degree at the end of the second semester or at any time during the summer are being requested by the Bureau of Public Service not to enroll with the Placement Service until after the fifteenth of February.

This procedure will give the student who is a prospective teacher the benefits that come from having completed the fall semester's work and having made final selection of his courses for the spring semester.

Forrest Faulkner, '39, is teaching his second year at Matador.

Defense Braced By Dead Week

Increased Stock of Coffee And Other Stimulants Is Only Activity Clue

The "Battle for hours" will end one way or another this week.

"All-out aid" is needed for students fighting against an examination bloc opening tomorrow.

The arsenal of the collegian's reputation must have help short of a revelation of the test questions, the despondent student is walling. All this is following a period of library occupation during a dead week.

Blue books and the instructors make up a united front on the offensive Wednesday at 8 o'clock. The first student counter attack will be in memorized units. If the first advance is withstood, a little propaganda may help the student over the pass. The objective of the two-hour period will be to regain a lost average. It looks like a total flop.

Student defense has been given the week's attention. "Proceeding satisfactorily" has been the only comment reaching this office. One student volunteered "Not a black-out in sight." Preparations late yesterday for many included only notes for the M. W. F. 8 o'clock which comes at that time in the morning.

Counted as espionage were any term themes or projects assigned to come in this week. The defense-minded students were muttering words yesterday about Prof. Sabateur.

Included in the student warehouse are large supplies of coffee and tea. The teachers are worried for fear the drive may send the grades out of the curve with too many A's. Unofficial but unusually reliable sources report that the instructors may shoot the curve to the students in advance. And they are on the look out for camouflaged notes.

To tell the student's exact location, the following is copied from the official report from the Registrar's office:

8 o'clock MWF—8-10, Wednesday.
8 o'clock TTS—10-12, Wednesday
9 o'clock MWF—1-3, Wednesday.

2:30 o'clock MWF—10-12, Friday.

Enrollment for the spring semester is scheduled for Monday, February 3.

Summer Band School Given New Name

West Texas State's summer band school will be called the Music Recreation Session when it is held on August 4 to 16. Recreation will be stressed under the direction of a man and a woman who will be chosen to plan a play program.

All the recreation facilities of the College, including two swimming pools, tennis courts, playgrounds, and golf course, will be available to band students and teachers.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Nutt of the VanderCook School of Music, Chicago, will return to direct the music training. Oscar Wise, well known Amarillo band teacher, will be manager of the Music Recreation Session. Prof. C. E. Strain and the Buffalo Band will contribute to the school and Prof. Wallace R. Clark will direct vocal ensembles.

Advance registration will be asked this year in order that the Music Recreation Session may expand its facilities in accordance with attendance. Payment of one dollar toward the enrollment fees will be accepted until July 15. After this date the fees will be increased by 50 cents. Students will pay $5 and band teachers $10. Room and board in dormitories will be $14 for the 14-day session.

Band, orchestra, and choral work will be taught in all phases, with special ensembles and conferences for both students and teachers. Mrs. Nutt will teach twirling, flag swinging, and student directing.

Plans for the Music Recreation Session have been made on recommendations of band teachers in the Plains area.

Some professor may forget an exam—but don't depend on it!

Hart Palpitations

By Fred Hart

(Ed. Note: After a vacation for a week, Hart has returned with water on the brain.)
"Water, water everywhere
And all the boards do shrink;
Water, water everywhere
And not a drop to drink."

How many times have the students of W. T. laughingly recalled the remarks of the Ancient Mariner, never thinking that, all too true, the water saying would flow home on parched throats. For the last six months, those attempting to live on the east half of main floor of the Ad building have had to carry their liquid nourishment in flasks; but the zenith of Panhandle-Plains drouths was reached last week when the fountain on the west end went "ka-flooye" at the same moment when the precious liquid was refusing to flow on the third floor.

It may be termed irony that the city who's commerce chamber boasts of the purest water supply in Texas cannot see that the suffering students of W. T. have one drop to place on their exam-worried brows.

The dictionary says, "Water is the liquid that descends from the clouds to form lakes and rivers."

The chemist writes, "Pure water is composed of 11.188 per cent hydrogen and 88.812 per cent oxygen by weight."

And the notebook of a physics major has, "Water is at its maximum density at 4 degrees Centigrade."

And, in Dr. Alexander's biology course, we learn that water is essential to the well-being of plants and animals.

"Yes, we have no water."

Water is a major factor of civilization. Battles and politics have not played as important a part in the ultimate rise and fall of nations as the by-products of the simple chemistry of two parts hydrogen and one part oxygen. Ask Mussolini for proof.

Sometimes, nations have been decayed by too much water, while many have had to depend upon a substitute . . . and then some countries have just simply dried up.

Some men have made fabulous fortunes selling water, and Proctor and Gamble have made money by making people use water more than every Saturday night.

Many farmers have solved the water problem by drilling irrigation wells.

Most men consider hot water a necessity in shaving.

Water boiled with the leaves of the tea plant make a famous drink.

In fact, water is very important. But, we have no water on the first floor.

Reeves, director of the Bureau of Public Service was in Amarillo last week to assist in making up the program for the annual convention of the seventh district of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. An Effective Campaign

An effective "Keep Off the Grass" campaign has been launched on the east side of the College square.

The trails over the Cousins Hall lawn were well formed, and lasting damage was being done. The new barbed wire fence will protect the grass—it needs protection.

Already many have become accustomed to the unattractive fence, and the only inconvenience is the longer distance to be traveled to school. But visitors may have a different impression.

This problem involves more than a misrepresentation of a "keep off the grass" sign or the haste of a Cousins Hall resident on the way to an 8 o'clock class. Apparently College students respond to barb wire and nothing more.

Nevertheless, the College will not want its everyday visitors, and by all means not its large delegations, to see the only "language" which college students understand. Besides, it looks awful!

The Man Behind The Club

Usually the success of an organization reflects the unselfish activity of some individual or group of individuals.

Few organizations have scored success as quickly and as completely as the Amarillo Knife and Fork Club. And the personality behind it—the man to whom its success can be chiefly ascribed—is John E. Hill, its president for two years.

There are others, of course, who have worked and helped. In fact, the officers of the club have demonstrated a fine job of cooperative effort. But it was John Hill who kept contact with the national organization, who met and entertained the speakers, who arranged the programs, and who attended to a thousand and one other necessary details. It took time and thought and energy, more than the average businessman is willing to give an organization of the kind.

But John Hill believed in the Knife and Fork Club. He believed enthusiastically that the Panhandle needed such an organization. He believed that the mental stimulus provided by a pride of capable speakers would have a wholesome effect on the community. He believed that a monthly meeting of people who are students of national and world affairs would be a needed stimulant of civic thought.

So he worked at his job. Not a detail was permitted to slip. That's why the Knife and Fork Club has become one of the most successful in the entire national organization.

As Mr. Hill bows out after two years of splendid service, another conscientious and inspired leader takes the helm—C. Don Hughes, the geologist. Mr. Hughes is being aided by other enthusiastic officers, and a brilliant season for Knife and Fork members is under way. The club is something that Amarillo needs, and it is gratifying that the organization is under the direction of capable men.—Amarillo Globe-News.

Fooling the Press

At a time when "fooling the press" is termed the method of censorship prevailing in this country a tabulation of the most famous newspaper denials issued during 1940 has been made by the Washington-Merry-Go-Round.

June 6—Revelation that Roosevelt had been in private communication with Benito Mussolini to try to dissuade him from entering the war on the side of Germany was officially denied at the White House and derided as fantastic by Under Secretary of State Sumner Welles.

June 10—Roosevelt, speaking at Charlottesville, Va., in his famous "stab-in-the-back" speech, told in detail how he had communicated with Mussolini.

June 8—Disclosure that Dan Tobin, head of the teamsters union, and James Forrestal, head of Dillon, Read and Company, would be named to White House secretariat denied by White House.

June 22-27—Tobin and Forrestal appointed to White House secretariat.

August 16—Revelation that United States was negotiating with Great Britain to trade destroyers for island bases was officially denied by the White House.

September 3—The trade of destroyers for island bases was announced officially.

Note—Prize denial of recent years was in November, 1936, when Sumner Welles denied categorically that Roosevelt would sail on a good will mission to Buenos Aires. Next day the Argentine government announced that the President was coming.

Freshmen Win Three Games

Week's Victories Add To Consecutive Total—Wayland Downed 80 to 24

Undefeated in the 1940-41 season, the freshman basketball team stretched its record of consecutive victories to 45 wins this week by taking three games. This record covers the past two seasons of play for the first-year men.

In the first of these games, the freshman smothered the Wayland Junior College quintet by a score of 80-24. In this game the home team started on a scoring spree from the moment the starting whistle blew. The scoring of 80 points in one game constitutes a record in itself. Johnson was outstanding for the victorious freshman.

On Tuesday night the junior starters came from behind in the last four minutes of play to register a 42-32 victory over the highly touted Canadian River Gas team of Amarillo. This game, scheduled in the Amarillo Jaycee League, was played on the Amarillo College court.

In the final game of a rather busy week, the freshmen plowed through the Vega five to the tune of a 44-20 win. The scoring in this game was evenly divided among the W. T. players, with Johnson scoring 10, A. C. Miller 9, and Doyle hitting the hoop for 8.

In the six games played this season, the freshmen have scored 334 points to their opponents' 167. This is an average of 56 points per game for the West Texas apprentices.

Duflot

evidences a plenty that politics is being played by many ranking Republicans and irreconcilable anti-New Deal Democrats to prevent the President from securing sufficient powers to give speedy all out aid to England. This opposition does not have its attention directed to the critical situation in Europe. It seems to be more concerned with the political affairs in the U. S. and with ham stringing the President in as many ways as possible.

Judging from the speeches being made, the opposition simply does not have confidence in the President's ability to handle the crisis, nor to assume such extraordinary authority, fearing that he will make himself a dictator.

We do not share these fears. We believe in our President. The majority of the people of the U. S. believe him. We recognize the impossibility of imposing a dictatorship upon a people whose customs, traditions, mores, prejudices, sentiments, attitudes, and habits are inextricably interwoven with these three basic principles in American life, namely, individualism, democracy, and humanitarianism. It is the very essence of democracy to yield dictatorial authority to our President in periods of great crises to preserve this precious heritage.

Democracy has a capacity for quick action when once it is aroused. What is true for a democratic tradition is also true for an autocratic one, for you can no more impose a dictatorship upon a democratic tradition than you can impose a democracy upon an autocratic tradition. Witness the fall of democracy in Germany under Stressmann and Bruner.

W. T. Professor Has Article Printed In Methodist Publication

Free discussion of modern issues in the Church Sunday School is a need, Prof. S. H. Condron contends in a recent article entitled "A Study Program for Adults."

In the current issue of The Adult Student, publication of the Board of Education of the Methodist Church, Prof. Condron proposes a plan by which the church may bring its resources to bear upon the problems of the community and play a vital role in helping to mold the moral and religious life of the nation.

The head of the government department is a director to the Northwest Texas Conference of Adult Education of the Methodist Church.

Mr. Condron contends that a church school that opens its classes to the free discussion and study of modern issues relating to the sale and use of beverage alcohol, the causes of crime, poverty, the American home, marriage and divorce, child welfare, labor problems, and presents these issues in the light of Christ's teachings, will qualify people to be better church members, parents, neighbors and citizens. Surveys of curricula show that such studies are not being promoted in many church schools, the article indicates. Failing to do so, these churches are thereby abdicating the high mission for which they are intended and strategically situated.

Mr. Condron concludes that "adult education properly directed in Christian churches will support the sagging arches of true democracy."

Set For Girls Cage Tourney

A preliminary meeting to organize the girls intramural basketball tournament will be held Wednesday night, February 5, at 7:30 in the women's gymnasium.

"All girls who are interested in participating in the tournament are urged to attend this meeting," Miss Hazel Evans, director of girls' intramurals, said. The tournament will be conducted in the same period as the volleyball tournament, and a large trophy bearing a group picture of the team and the name of each member will be awarded the winning group.

A new set of rules adopted by the High School Basketball League of 1940 will be followed. These rules involve six fundamental changes concerning rights of players, mode of play, and substitution. A limit of two games a week for each team is the outstanding new rule.

sent to Senators Morris Sheppard and Tom Connally and Congressman Gene Worley to assure them of our moral support of the basic principles of the Lend-Lease bill.

We, members of the West Texas State College faculty believe that the security of our democratic form of government demands that Congress confer upon the President the powers in the pending Lease-Lend bill without modifying its primary objectives. The present crisis calls for quick action in our aid to England and in marshalling our resources for national defense. Temporizing with too many congressional hearings is playing with time and disaster.

Collins Came To West Texas With Good High School Record

Ben Collins is going to get publicity next year when the football season opens, but he hasn't had enough for his work on the 1940 West Texas squad.

His most recent honor came when he was selected most valuable man for 1940. For this he received a gold watch and an attractive trophy. He is a sophomore.

Collins led his team to undisputed claim of a conference title—that of the Alamo conference.

He began playing football back in grade school and by the time he was ready for high school he had acquired a knowledge of and affection for the gridiron sport. Wichita Falls was a bit skeptical about the small fellow at first, but soon changed when he was seen in action. During his junior year, Wichita Falls entered the state play-off and was defeated by Longview, 19 to 12. Collins was picked on several all-state teams and received statewide recognition. In 1938, Ben gave a good account of himself in long runs and effective passes.

After graduation, the Wichita Mite was besieged with offers from colleges large and small. Rice Institute and Centenary were interested but Ben accepted an invitation and came to West Texas.

Ben is not the type of football player so much in evidence a few years ago. He is the modern athlete, a serious trainer with a love for books and movies. His favorite movie personalities are Joan Bennett and Gary Cooper. One of his most prized possessions is a gold football given in high school to the best all-round man on the football field.

Fourth high among the nations' scorers, he has two more years of eligibility left and should go strong in the two coming seasons. Sturdy and strong as an oak tree, Ben never gets injured and always smiles when he is hit hard by a tackler.

“THERE AIN'T NO FLIES ON ME . . .”

The Freshman cagers are stoutly upholding the traditions of their big brothers by trouncing every team they meet in the Amarillo Jaycee league. Also they are undefeated up to the present time and have run the string of victories carried over from last year into the forties. Charlie Johnson of the Frosh is the leading scorer on the team and should be able to make it hot for the varsity next fall.

Big Tom Stidham, head coach of Oklahoma University since Major Biff Jones resigned, has resigned to take a job as head coach of Marquette University. Stidham's contract doesn't expire until two more years but he is receiving a three year contract and practically the same salary at Marquette. Dewey "Shorty" Luster, backfield coach of the New York Giants, is reported to have the inside track on the Oklahoma job. Dutch Meyer of T. C. U. has also been mentioned for the position.

Alamo Basketball Encounters To Start

Curtice Speaks At Perryton Banquet

Coach Jack C. Curtice was main speaker at the annual football banquet in Perryton last Friday evening. He was accompanied by Dean R. P. Jarrett, who spoke briefly.

Judge Jack Allen was toastmaster. Coach Boyd Payne made the introductions and Supt. C. Wedgeworth presented awards.

Coach Curtice was introduced by O. E. Burk, a former student and athlete.

St. Mary's To Be Buff Opponent

Guided by a new coach, Sam Harshany, a veteran St. Mary's University basketball team will attempt to halt the Buffaloes February 3 and 4 in San Antonio.

This is the first of a series of Alamo Conference games. West Texas State will tangle with the Texas A. & I. squad on February 6 and 7 at Kingsville.

The Rattlers will present one of their best teams in years with an array of veterans and newcomers. Kenneth "Arky" Crosswell, high scoring Rattler of the past two seasons, will jump center. Captain "Rosy" Varpahl begins his last year at guard paired with giant recruit Don Warnke, tallest man on the squad scaling 6 feet, 9 inches. He will give Charlie Halbert, giant center of the Baggettmens, a race for height. Halbert stands 6 feet, 10 inches. The Rattler attack will probably be paced by "Chico" Cubriel, veteran forward and oldest man on the squad in point of service. His running mate will probably be Garrett Middlebrook, who is the usual starter at the other

Football: '40-'41

An unusual number of trophies and football captains were in evidence at the recent annual football banquet. The Alamo Conference football trophy was the prized possession of the 1940 captains, "Tiger" Lee McLaury and Dewey Johnson, and Coach Jack C. Curtice

No less proud was Ben Collins in accepting the Kleinschmidt Trophy, which goes annually to the Most Valuable Player. Wes Kleinschmidt presents the award.

With a smile and a plan for the 1941 season, Coach Curtice introduces the captains for the next year's squad. They are Cletus Kuehler and Fairy Hill.

Aggies, F. F. A., and Bachelors Hall Gain "Finals" Standing

Fast Guard

In the final round of play in which four teams played in a double elimination tournament, intramural basketball broke into the quiet of dead week Wednesday and Thursday nights.

After the showers had been turned off, and the gym had suffered a blackout, the team standings were as follows: The F. F. A. and T-Anchor Aggies were tied for first and second place with six games won and one game lost. The single boys from Bachelors Hall were in undisputed third place with five victories and two losses. Tied for fourth place were the Firecrackers and N. Y. A. Terrapins with four wins and three losses each. The Gravediggers had won one and one-half games out of a possible 7. The Wildcats had won one followed by the Termites with one-half game.

On Wednesday night the Future Farmers defeated the N. Y. A. Turtles 17-16 to stay in the top brackets of the race. Woodard of the N. Y. A. squad was high with 10 points. In the second tilt of the night, T-Anchor beat the Wildcats 22-11. Alvin Lee of the farm boys was high with six points.

On Thursday night the Bachelors smothered the Firecrackers in a fast, well-played game 38-20. The team losing this game was out of the top bracket so it was closely contested all the way. Hooker of the single boys was high point man of the game, as well as for any game of the season, with 23 tallies. In the second scheduled game, both teams forfeited, and consequently the Gravediggers and Termites received one-half game won and one-half game lost.

The high point scorers for the season are: Woodard, N. Y. A., 85; Hooker, Bachelors, 58; Brown, Crackers, 49; Shuttlesworth, Crackers, 47; Marler, Termites, 42.

Another tall center on the Star D-ster squad is 6 feet, 6½ inch Willburn Patten, transfer from Oklahoma. Although Patten has not broken into the starting line-up, he is a durable reserve.

Social Life Reaches Climax As Dead Week Brings Thoughts Of Approaching Examinations

Socialites participated in their last campus events as Wednesday nightfall brought the beginning of Dead Week. A Cousins Hall formal dinner for senior residents climaxed W. T.'s fall semester social activities, preceded by informal parties of Type High, Science and Campitivity Club members.

Club business has been pushed aside until next semester, when a much anticipated event in the life of many eds and co-eds will begin. This big semi-annual occasion is Rush Week.

But now students are delving into spotless books covered, in some instances, with the semester's dust.

Hearts will mend and mate to the music of the St. Valentine's All-College Dance at the beginning of the new term on Friday evening, Feb. 14. Kappa Tau Phi will sponsor the dance at Cousins Hall.

Visitors Register From More Than Dozen Countries

Record attendance was set for the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum on April 14, 1933, opening day, when visitors numbered 1343. Williams Hawkins of Hereford was the first to register.

Since that opening, 251,000 persons have registered. This makes an average of about 90 visitors per day. A record day since the opening was the Golden Jubilee Celebration held in Canyon in July, 1939, when 950 people registered. Approaching the record of the opening day was the 1200 attendance of November 16, 1940—Boy Scout Day.

Every state in the union has had a representative in the museum. There are names of residents from England, Belgium, Costa Rica, Australia, Guatemala, France, South Africa, Venezuela, China, Alaska, Canada, and India on the register.

Count Byron de Prorok, archaeologist, was a recent visitor, registering as an English citizen and Fellow of the Royal Society.
