

DISTRICT LEAGUE MEET DECLARED MOST SUCCESSFUL IN HISTORY OF MANY HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETICS

Exciting Finals Go to Powerful Pampa Harvesters Team After Severe Battle With Amarillo Sandies and Others.

The most successful meet in the history of high school athletics was the unanimous decision of all participants and spectators in the District One meet which was held here Friday and Saturday in which over two hundred athletes were entered in the preliminary field and track events.

The powerful Pampa Harvester track crew won the meet after a thrilling battle with the Amarillo Sandies interspersed with various other individual battles that kept the crowded stands on their feet most of the time during the finals. Martindale, lanky star from Pampa was the individual high-point man with 16 points to his credit, winning the low hurdles, second in the high hurdles, second in the high jump and the broad jump, and third in the 100-yard dash. Windom, Spearman's greatest star, was second high-point man with 15 points, winning first in all three of the field events which he entered, the pole vault, broad jump and the high jump.

Amarillo's star, Bufkin, was disqualified in the 440 by misjudging the distance between him and Lard, the Pampa flash, and fouled in cutting in front of him on the turn. Caldwell of Farwell, former one-man team from Oklahoma Lane, showed himself to be the best quarter miler in the district.

The finals were run off in record time, the only delay being occasioned by a shower just at the finish of the meet which delayed the meet some three quarters of an hour. Below is given the final results in the athletic events with the exception of the tennis meet:

Commencement Is Main Interest In Canyon Schools

Commencement activities are beginning to absorb the interest of high school boys and girls in Canyon at this time. The Canyon high school graduation class has chosen Dr. F. W. O'Malley, pastor of the First Christian church of Pampa, to deliver their baccalaureate sermon and Bishop E. C. Seaman of Amarillo has been selected for a similar service for the high school department of the West Texas State Teachers College.

Dr. R. P. Jarrett, dean of the West Texas State Teachers College, has been selected to deliver the commencement address to the Canyon high school class May 15th. There are 43 graduates.

President J. A. Hill will deliver the commencement address for the high school seniors of the college. His son, Joe Hill, Jr., is a member of the class.

Twenty-five Enroll for Six-Weeks' Course

Twenty-five new students have enrolled in the ten courses offered for the spring quarter six-weeks' term which began April 20. Many of these students plan to remain throughout the summer term also.

Teachers whose schools closed at the end of eight months make up the majority of those who have entered the six-weeks' courses. Work in these ten subjects, agriculture, art, education, English, geography, history, Spanish, sociology, textiles, and government is being offered. Students interested in other courses than these should see Dean R. P. Jarrett about their organization. Extra periods may be arranged by consultation with the teacher in charge of the division of work desired.

Big Square

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Wallace, Miss Helen Estes and Miss Ida Barber have been re-elected at Big Square.

PROGRAM FOR CLUB WOMEN HERE APRIL 28

ONE DAY EVENT SPONSORED BY H. E. DEPARTMENT

Home Demonstration Club Ladies From All Over Panhandle Are Here Today.

Home demonstration agents and members of home demonstration clubs working under them will be in Canyon today for a one-day short course conducted by the Home Economics Department of the West Texas State Teachers College and the A. and M. College of Texas. This is the second annual event for the home demonstration club women.

Women and girls from all parts of Districts No. 1 and 2, which include counties from the north line of Texas as far south as Wilbarger and Scurry counties are here. Last year approximately 400 came.

A packed program has been arranged for the few hours the visitors will be in Canyon. Registration and inspection of the College plant began at nine and will continue until eleven, when President J. A. Hill will address the visitors and friends at the college auditorium.

The college cafeteria will be available to out-of-town people at the noon hour.

The afternoon program begins with an address by Professor Wallace R. Clark, his subject being "Appreciation of Music in the Home."

Mrs. Maggie W. Barry of College Station will follow with an address especially directed to the members of girls' and women's home demonstration clubs. The last feature will be a one-act play presented by the Panhandle Players and honoring the visitors.

All of these meetings are open to the public.

Ruth Wiseman Will Represent W. T. At C. of C. Convention

Under the direction of the Students' Council, Ruth Wiseman was elected from the student body Thursday to represent W. T. at the Thirtieth Annual Convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to be held at Lubbock on May 14, 15 and 16.

Each of the twenty-seven colleges located in the area of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce have been asked to select a young lady to represent it in the pageant to be given at the convention Friday evening, May 15, on the athletic field of the Texas Technological College. A general practice will be held on Thursday evening, May 14, at 7:00 o'clock, on this field, and it is hoped by the officials there that all of the colleges will be represented by that time.

The pageant to be presented will deal with the development of West Texas and is called "The Spirit of Progress." The young ladies who will participate will wear the baccalaureate cap and gown, and will form the Court of Education.

Miss Wiseman will leave W. T. in time to be present at the rehearsal Thursday.

Fred Oberst Reads Chemistry Paper Before Society

Dr. Fred Oberst, who graduated from W. T. in 1927, and who is now engaged in medical research problems in the medical college of the State University of Iowa, recently reported a paper before the annual meeting of the American Society of Biological Chemists, held at Montreal, Canada.

The paper read by Dr. Oberst consisted of a study of the variations of calcium, inorganic phosphorus and proteins in various stages of gestation and non-gestation.

Dr. Oberst and Dr. E. P. Plass, head of the department of obstetrics and gynecology at Iowa City University, are investigating in their laboratory several problems dealing with biochemical aspects of the human body.

A week before attending the meeting at Montreal, Dr. Oberst also attended the meeting of the American Chemical Society held at Indianapolis, Ind.

We've heard of being "kicked out." But now we hear that there is to be something called "KICK-IN." Wait and see what it is.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis Hill and little daughter of Amarillo spent the week-end in the parental J. A. Hill home, here.

PREXY HILL GETS GIFT OF FLOWERS

Radio artists and movie idols are not the only persons who receive gifts from fans. Yesterday President J. A. Hill of the West Texas State Teachers College received his annual gift of blue bonnets from the children of the primary grade of the school which he attended many years ago when he was seven.

The man now in charge of that school was Joe Hill's seat-mate when their educational careers began, and each spring brings the box of Texas flowers to Canyon, where blue bonnets are seldom seen. No gift which President Hill receives is more appreciated.

Mrs. Saunders Hurt In Car Accident Here Friday Eve

When the automobile in which she was riding was struck broadside by a car driven by two young men when turning at the northeast corner of the college campus near the Kerr House and the president's home, Mrs. Laura Saunders, second and third grade teacher in the W. T. demonstration school, was severely injured Friday night.

Hattie M. Anderson, Ima Barlow, and Marion Normington, all of whom were also in the car with Mrs. Saunders, escaped with slight injuries. All are W. T. faculty members.

Mrs. Saunders was removed at once to a hospital in Amarillo, suffering from shock and a broken collar bone.

Play Production Class Gives First Program of Team

Two plays, "Mansions," and "The Trysting Place" were presented in open production by members of the play production class in the auditorium of the Education building Wednesday evening beginning at 8:15 o'clock.

These are the first plays to be given by this class, which was organized at the opening of the spring quarter under the direction of C. W. Batchelder of the public speaking department faculty.

The production class built its own scenery for their plays Wednesday night, the first time that this has ever been done. According to members of the class, the scenery will remain in the department as new equipment.

"Mansions," the first on the program Wednesday evening, is a well-known one-act tragedy, by Hildegarde Planner. It was directed for this production by Dorris Lynn Louder, who also played one of the three roles. Others who appeared in the same play were Leon Landon and Lorine Robbins.

In striking contrast to "Mansions" was the other play presented, "The Trysting Place," a one-act comedy by Booth Tarkington. In this the Tarkington adolescent lover, called Lancelot Briggs, this time, was played by Charles Donnell. Those supporting him in the act were Ione Ball, Helen Woods, Frances Lester, Willie D. Williams, Howard Batchelder, and Robert Hunt. Esther Root was director of the production.

"Mansions," the first play, is not entirely new to W. T. audiences, having been presented here in a high school play contest in 1929 by students of the Tulia High School. It won first place here, and the cast was sent to Austin. At the time it was directed by Dolphia Carmack, an ex-student of W. T. Two of the girls who took part in it as a contest play, Marjorie Wimberley and Grace Stevenson, later attended at W. T.

Other students in the play production class who did not appear in the plays but who helped build the scenery were Wilmoth Gamble, Katy Cornwell, Velma Padgett, Frances Trammel, Greta Mae Cayton, Mrs. D. Ola Gillespie, and Gordon Beck.

Glee Club Program to Be Given Saturday

The Girls' Glee Club, under direction of Miss Ada V. Clark, will be in charge of the chapel period next Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. It will render a program of songs and piano numbers at that time.

The Glee Club will be in Panhandle and Pampa in the afternoon and evening, respectively, of Tuesday, May 5, to present in open program a cantata entitled "Pan on a Summer's Day," together with other songs.

Joe Hill, Jr. spent the week-end visiting in the Kerr home in Hereford.

GREAT PLAINS TRACK PLANS ARE COMPLETE

TO BE HELD UNDER FLOOD LIGHTS OF STADIUM

Many Colleges to Enter Teams in Events; High School Division Cut Out

Coach Sam Burton, director of college athletics yesterday afternoon declared that the plans for holding the annual Great Plains Track and Field Meet here on May 2 were practically complete and that everything would be in readiness to greet the visitors next week end. To date three teams have entered the meet with three others who have signified their intentions of attending. Central Teachers College, Oklahoma, and Abilene Christian College have entered both the field and track events and the tennis matches while Randolph College at Cisco has entered the tennis matches and one man in the track events. Roswell will be here with their track team as will Texas Tech and Amarillo College.

Beneath the powerful flood lights of Buffalo field, the cream of the college track teams of western Texas, western Oklahoma and eastern New Mexico will vie for honors on the field and track.

Two outstanding events promise to be seen in the mile relay and the 100-yard dash. McComis, of the New Mexico Military Institute has held the 100-yard dash record for several years but strong competition will be offered in contestants from Edmonds' Oklahoma Teachers and Amarillo Junior College.

The Abilene Christians stepped away with the honors in the mile relay at the Kansas meet last Saturday but will be offered plenty of speed in the race with the Ed-

C. W. West, W. T. Ex, Is Happy In Work at Strawn

A letter from C. W. West, '30, who is now principal of the high school at Strawn, Texas, says:

"I teach English, coach debate, one-act plays, extemporaneous speaking, and tennis, and sponsor a school paper. I enjoy my teaching immensely. My Interscholastic League events won first in the county in everything except boy's extemporaneous speaking, in which we won second place. My paper is holding up fine and getting better. We have the district contest at Ranger next week, and although there are some good schools to be there, I intend to get my share of the first places.

"I am busy but happy. It is needless to say that I am scoutmaster. I was re-elected with a substantial raise in salary."

When at W. T., West was a member of the Prairie staff and of the dramatic club, and a scoutmaster. Along with many other ex-students, he is now assisting the Placement Committee in learning of desirable openings for students of W. T. who are prospective teachers.

Many Ex-Students Brought Back To Campus by Meet

One of the most noticeable features of the District One Interscholastic League meet which was held here at the college Friday and Saturday was the fact that it brought back to the old campus so many ex-students who have been out in the teaching field surrounding W. T.

It was possible to obtain only a partial list of those who were seen here during that time. This list including the present address of each one, is given below:

Kathryn Shearer, Booker; - Pat Gerald, Hardin Boyles, Ben Guill, Law Sone, and T. J. Glass, Panhandle; Otis Rawlins, Phillips Camp; Odus Mitchell, Pampa; Felix Phillips, Amarillo; C. R. E. Weaver, Silverton; Wayne Eubanks, Lazbuddy; Newton Crain, Morton; C. R. de Armand, White Deer; J. B. Speer, Morse; Clifford Kayler, Kress; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Rose, Tulia; Arless O'Keefe, Pampa; Seth Rollins, Oklahoma Lane; Frank Barnes, Pollett; Thelma Ray, Claude; Jessie Mae Scott, White Deer.

Reverend Frank W. Creighton, D. D., executive secretary of the Episcopal Church National Department of Domestic Missions will be present at the chapel exercises here on Tuesday, May 12.

COLORFUL PAGEANT SPONSORED BY DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION WILL BE MAY 18

Dance Program Will Furnish Great Variety of Entertainment; Pageant is Called "A Bit o' This and a Bit o' That."

Play Will Be Given For Visitors By Dramatics Club

Satirizing the too-meticulous housewife and the trouble she causes, "Hose Beautiful," a one-act comedy, was presented by members of the Dramatic Club Thursday at 3:30 p. m., in the Education building auditorium, with Lorine Robbins as director.

The cast of the play was smaller than is that of most of the club plays, only three characters, the wife, the husband, and the husband's friend making up the entire group. These roles were played by Wilmoth Gamble, as the wife; Guilford Miller, the husband, and Tom Henderson, the friend.

This play is to be given this afternoon before a visiting audience composed of women who are here for the home economics short course being given here.

Mrs. Hill Speaks At State Meeting Of P.T.A. Thursday

With "A World Challenge to Parents and Teachers" as its theme, the state convention of the Parent-Teacher Association held at Perryton, Wednesday and Thursday, was pronounced the most successful in several years. Mrs. J. A. Hill of Canyon appeared on the program of the meeting Thursday evening with an address on "Lelsure and Living."

Several other noted speakers contributed to the worth-whileness of the program, among them Dr. P. W. Horn, president of the Texas Technological College at Lubbock, who spoke Wednesday evening on "Keeping up With Our Children." J. Fremont Mead, dean of Amarillo College, and a W. T. ex-student, spoke Thursday evening on "The Schools of Tomorrow." Mrs. Griggs of Amarillo, who is one of the state chairmen of the association, also addressed the assembly Wednesday evening.

Each evening before the opening of the speech-program the 217 delegates and guests of the convention were favored with a half-hour of music, which has been reported as being unusually fine.

Many of the teachers and parents who attended the meeting from over the Panhandle and adjacent territory were ex-students of W. T.

T.I.P.A. Delegates To Leave Tomorrow

Going to represent the Type-High Press Club and the staffs of the two W. T. publications at the annual convention of the Texas Interscholastic Press Association to be held at Nacogdoches Friday and Saturday, May 1 and 2, John Gillham, Lonie Beth Weaver, Sally Mary Campbell, and a number of the LeMirage staff leave here tomorrow morning.

The trip to Nacogdoches is being made in Gillham's car, at the expense of the college. Mrs. Gillham, mother of John Gillham, is making the trip with the group.

In the absence of the three members of the Prairie staff named above, the issue for next week will be in charge of the remaining staff reporters, and members named special editors for the occasion. Reporters are urged to give these editors a maximum amount of cooperation this week, by being prompt and thorough in their reports.

The results of the annual literary, newspaper, and yearbook contests will be announced at the convention banquet Saturday night.

Randall Co. Rural Schools are Growing

There are twenty-five more scholastics in the rural schools in Randall county than there were this time in 1930. The total for rural schools is now 534.

Five of the rural schools of this county closed last week. The other seventeen schools will have a full nine months term.

Watch for Count Luckner. Coming May 6th.

Mary Alice Weaver spent the week end in Hereford.

The May Pageant presented annually by the physical education department is to be on May 18 this year, and is a pageant entitled "A Bit o' This and a Bit o' That." It is under the direction of Miss Ruth Cross and Mrs. Wallace O'Keefe, who report that preparations are progressing at a rapid pace.

The program is to be divided into five parts, and contains a variety of amusements. As is always the case in the May Pageant, vivacity and color, both in costume and dance, will be the outstanding features of the entertainment.

The first scene opens in the ballroom of an old mansion. The couples, dressed in colonial costumes, are gracefully dancing the polka and waltz steps so popular in grandmother's day.

The next scene portrays the interior of a sculptor's studio. Here one finds an exhibit of various models, such as Pierre and Pierrot, the Dancing Doll, the Wooden Soldiers, and Crazy Cat, along with a whole football team composed of beautiful co-eds who can "hold that line" and carry the ball for a touchdown!

In scene three, the audience will be carried back to the days of fairies. Wood fairies and nymphs dance under the shades of green trees.

The next is a novelty scene consisting of several numbers, two of which are the Broadway Chorus Beauties, and the brilliant Aviation Chorus. But these are nothing to compare with the Western Cowgirls, who make the scene complete with an exhibition of their knowledge of real western life.

In scene five wash day in Mammy's backyard "way down in the South" is discovered. Mammy is scrubbing diligently over the wash tub, while Pappy is content to smoke his corn-cob pipe. With much scuffling, laughing, and merry shouting, the "chillun" come home from school, each full of peppy nonsense. These happy-go-lucky folk are joined by the dudes of the town, and the whole group stage a "surplus energy" dance which will undoubtedly keep the audience tapping. While the dance is in progress, some "white folks" enter, and Pappy suggests that they join in the chorus.

The program will last about an hour and a half. Further announcements will be made in The Prairie.

San Jacinto Day Program Given At College Tuesday

Among the programs celebrating San Jacinto day in Canyon was that at the College when Prof. L. F. Sheffy opened the discussion with a short address, "The Meaning of San Jacinto." Prof. Sheffy after developing the thought of the basic ideals on which Texas was established said, "The challenge of San Jacinto to Texas today is to use her uncounted wealth to the end that justice and liberty may come to be realities in Texas. Until such a time the battle of San Jacinto will not have borne its full fruit."

Two students appeared on the program. Miss Edna Lawlis spoke on "The Girl as a Citizen of the College." She discussed with skill the elements of adequate college citizenship. J. D. Hazelwood closed the program with a short discussion of the meaning of citizenship.

Band Plans Second Trip of Season

Arrangements are being planned to send the West Texas State Teachers College band to Morse, Texas on May 14 to join with them in their celebration of the coming of the Santa Fe railroad. A speaker will probably accompany the band. It is expected that there will be several thousand people from the north Plains and from Oklahoma present at this meeting. The Canyon Chamber of Commerce is helping to send the band.

Superintendent C. Wedgeworth, of Snyder, will teach in the education department of W. T. for the first half of the summer term beginning June 3.

COUNT LUCKNER, THE GERMAN SEA-DEVIL, will be here May 6th.

PANHANDLE PLAYERS kick out with "KICK-IN" during commencement week. Watch for it.

THE EMPTY GRANDSTAND

In casting up accounts at the end of the basketball season, it has been found that practically all the funds set aside by the college for athletic purposes had been used in football and basketball with the result that there has been nothing left for the just as important but much less interesting (from the fans viewpoint) field and track season. This is indeed a deplorable condition, for which the student body is to blame and no one else. It would be well to remark at this particular point that there is of late a lack of interest in athletics on the part of the student body here in W. T. Every means known to the gate crasher is used to evade the payment of admission to the various events. We are well aware of the fact that times are seemingly hard, but it is a well-known fact that the way to make times better is to get money into circulation. It is also a matter of common knowledge that the admissions to events here at W. T. are remarkably low in comparison to the class of events put out here.

What we are driving at is this: Last Friday and Saturday was a fair sample of the way in which the student body and townspeople of Canyon attend the games staged here. A safe estimate of the crowd at the meet would be ninety per cent out-of-town students and supporters and ten per cent W. T. students and Canyon people. We should realize that the college makes the town what it is and is a valuable adjunct to any community. Athletics are vitally necessary for the keeping up of interest in the college as well as to keep the individual who goes out for athletics in proper trim. We should remember, too, that college attendance here is drawn from the schools who participated in last week's meet and a lack of interest in the present student body would tend to discourage those who might desire to come to W. T. We should not stress athletics above everything else, but it is a fact that cannot be evaded that these boys and girls who enter these meets and come to W. T. as the guests of the college, put a lot of importance in athletics. We are a part of the college and it should be our whole-hearted intentions to play the part of cordial hosts to these future students and not leave the whole job up to the few who are at the helm.—C. B. S.

POLONIUS OR LAERTES?

Someone most unceremoniously overturned our neat little package of granted facts and staid convictions when he calmly remarked that "when one is angry, he is always in the wrong." Of course, because we could not conceive of anything's being wrong considering that contradicted our firmly established views, even on so relatively unimportant a subject as this, we discarded the sayer, and his tiny contribution to philosophy, as "another nut."

Later, when we found our temperature rising because of a supposed wrong that has been done us, some needle-point of conscience caused us, against our will, to recall this piece of advice. Being a member of the younger generation which considers narrow-mindedness or intolerance one of the greatest crimes against humanity, we resolved to give even this seemingly impossible statement due consideration. Strange as it seems, we found, as anyone who honestly tries it will find, one more valuable piece of knowledge, which at passing glance, seemed ridiculous. It now heads the list of our most priceless axioms. This idea that to become angry means to admit that one is in the wrong, has a peculiar value all its own. It enables us to see less of the injustice done to us and more of our injustice to others. Through it we are aided in impartially analyzing situations, and our own misdemeanors are usually found to gain startling proportions. If we follow its guidance, we have much less time, opportunity, even desire, to indulge in that delightfully deceiving state of mind which we call "righteous indignation."

It seems to be a common human weakness to travel through life, dragging our feelings behind us, in the hope that someone will accidentally tread on them, or harboring the illusion that we are being woefully mistreated by the world at large. Those of us who are especially burdened with such an unfortunate viewpoint would be doing the world an immense favor by either trying to dispense with it, or by taking a good-sized dose of strychnine. We have heard the saying that the world is necessarily based on "give and take" principles. The trouble with most of us is that we try to take more than our share of the good, and create for others an over-sized portion of the bad.

However, if we paste this new idea in our hats and refer to it whenever we feel inclined to take a shotgun to some offender, we will find it really simple to see the other's point of view, shake hands on it, and leave everybody happy. One of the college student's favorite sayings is "I'll try anything once," and it would prove a worthy ambition if applied here toward the cause of insuring goodwill between belligerent mortals.

If you want to have a banquet, party, dance, pink tea, or most anything, the place to have it is at El Taos or Tarry Tavern. Yes, oh yes! We must do this; the cream of society does, and we must keep pace with the social leaders. Its' more up-town if it's in Amarillo—more COSMOPOLITAN if you know what that means. Last week's Prairie carried an article dealing with the visit of a pedagogical expert to the Zundelwitz Junior High School in Wichita Falls, of which a W. T. ex-student, H. A. Glass, is principal, in connection with the Survey of Secondary Education in U. S. Today we are printing below extracts from the newspaper account given the investigation by the Wichita Falls paper:

After spending a day and a half studying Zundelwitz Junior High school, Dr. F. T. Spaulding, chief specialist in school organization for the United States government's three-year survey of secondary education, made a statement Wednesday that "I have been convinced that the conclusions drawn from the check list were fully justified."

The check list referred to by Dr. Spaulding is a questionnaire which was sent to secondary schools throughout the country recently. Zundelwitz was chosen for its answer to this questionnaire—the only school thus honored in the entire state of Texas, and one of 25 chosen over the entire United States.

affair dealing with admission and promotion, organization of instruction, program of studies, relations with other schools affecting subject-matter and methods of teaching, the teaching staff, extra-curriculum program, guidance, supervision, housing and equipment and supplementary data, was filled out several weeks ago and sent in by H. A. Glass, principal, Dr. Spaulding's visit is the result.

Although inclined to withhold any official statement as to the ranking of the local school in comparison with others, Dr. Spaulding indicated that his personal viewpoint gave it an "especially favorable" grading. "From a personal standpoint, I am particularly interested in the attack made here on the problem of carrying on a direct and systematic improvement in the methods of teaching, and through improvement in teaching, improvement in what is being being taught." The Morrisonian unit-mastery method, put into effect here by Mr. Glass, was also commended. It is a step away from the old text-book and toward the use of library facilities.

The Zundelwitz school, in addition to being the only Texas school visited by Dr. Spaulding, is the only two-year school chosen thus far, most of the junior highs being three-year institutions.

Dr. Spaulding is a member of the faculty of the Harvard graduate school, but is not engaged in this survey work for the United States government.

Ex-Student Notes

BY L. N. GEORGE

Lewis Hill, superintendent, and Frank Barnes brought a group of high school pupils from Follett to the District League Meet. They report that every teacher in the Follett Public School has been re-elected. This means that the following W. T. exes have made good and will likely remain at Follett next year: Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hill, Mr. Frank Barnes and Miss Twila Bartley. Follett will have nine teachers in her school system in 1931-32.

Seth Rollins from Oklahoma Lane was in to the Meet. He reports that he and Miss Frances Paul, both W. T. exes, are re-elected.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hood of Corn Valley, Wheeler county, are back in school and plan to remain thru the summer.

Lark

Mr. L. R. Atkinson is re-elected as principal of the Lark school. Miss Thelma Humphries of Summerfield is elected primary teacher. Mr. Atkinson reports that they will have a nine months school this year. He says that with his twenty-four pupils he won twenty-three medals, ten first, seven seconds and six third places in the Carson County interscholastic meet. He challenges the world for a better record.

Lark has playground equipment that would cost $300.00 at the market price. But by using a discarded old header and other worthless material Mr. Atkinson was able to make it all at a cost of only $8.60. (Trustees are looking for this kind of teachers.)

Wayside

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Hartwick and Miss Noveta Douglas have been re-elected at Wayside, according to reports.

Summerfield

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Harmon and Miss Thelma Humphries have all been offered their present positions for another year.

Mr. J. Obed Baker reports that Higgins has re-elected her full force of teachers for another year.

Ferman Sawyer says that Canadian has practically her same teaching force for another year.

Mr. W. H. Scoggins reports that Groom has re-elected her same force of teachers for another year.

Mrs. Polly Smith Merchant of the Martensons Potter County school was in to the Meet.

Morse

J. B. Speer, Mrs. J. B. Speer, and Lonie Hunt have been re-elected at Morse. Morse has just finished a $50,000 very modern school plant, and has give degree teachers on her force. We are glad to know that Mr. Speer has been elected for two years at an increase of salary. There will be seven teachers on this faculty another year. Girls from Morse won in two semi-finals in declamation at the Meet.

Will you correspondents in each county please write us and give the names of all W. T. Exes that have been re-elected in your county?

If there are any members of the W. T. Ex-Student Association who, for any reason, are thinking of making a change in position, write us your plans. If you wish them kept confidential, they shall be so kept.

We are four hundred twenty-five strong now, and we might be able to assist you. At least, we are anxious to do what we can.

Mr. W. T. Ex, whoever and wherever you are, when you read this, go to your calendar and put a ring around the date Wednesday, May 27th. This is W. T.'s round-up day. Let's make it a real round-up.

Evetts Haley, a W. T. Ex., will deliver the commencement address who is the first W. T. Ex to do such a thing. Meet your old classmates here that day, for they will be here. Let's show Mr. Haley that we appreciate him, and what he has done for our Alma Mater.

Don't forget that at this W. T. Round-up we lay plans for the biggest State Teachers Association yet convened. At the Thanksgiving meeting of the State Teachers Association to be held in Amarillo, we are going to show Texas that there is a Northwest Texas.

Our W. T. Ex-Students Association will be the nucleus from which to develop a monster school parade, a better school campaign, banners and car stickers for every teacher, a trip to Palo Duro, a

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

J. EVETTS HALEY

Haley to Speak At Commencement Exercises of W.T.

For the first time in its history, the commencement speaker at the West Texas State Teachers College will be a graduate of the institution. J. Evetts Haley, class of '25, and at present a member of the department of history at the University of Texas has been chosen for this occasion.

The invitation was issued by President J. A. Hill, at the request of the senior class. Haley is author of "The XIT Ranch," and many magazine articles. He has also served as field secretary for the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society. A native of the Plains country, Haley is well known over the Panhandle and is listed among the favorite speakers of the college students.

visit to our college and museum, and other treats that you will think of.

Watch this column of the Prairie. There are other reasons why you should be at this W. T. Round-up that will be published later.

Do you realize the power for good that the W. T. Ex-Students Association now has? Do you realize that by pooling our influence we can do that which seems impossible now?

We have a college band, a ladies' Glee Club, a chorus, a male quartet, an orchestra, and many good speakers. Suppose our W. T. Ex-Students Association were strong enough to utilize these to their full capacity, and have them contract High School Seniors over this part of the State. This campus would not hold the students that would come here, and they would be the kind in which we would be proud. Homes, cars, and even dollars seem to be tangible, but after all they are not compared to friendship, loyalty and fellowship. The dollar and what it can buy are here today, but gone tomorrow. The friendship that we build remains, and neither time, distance, nor death can destroy it. We enjoy the friendship that our parents established years after they have passed on.

What I am trying to say is that the friendship or fellowship that we build in college is permanent, that coming back to the old campus is renewing and rebuilding this allegiance to each other, and to the college.

The W. T. Round-up banquet will be at 6 o'clock P. M., according to T. H. McDonald. He reports that tickets can be had now at the College Book Store. Why not make your reservation immediately, and start the ball to rolling? The tickets are one dollar each.

Anything that is based on the sound plan of the greatest good for the greatest number is bound to succeed.

A Prophet in Our Own Country

Teachers, beware! A few days ago an item by the columnist of the Pampa Morning Post, who is none other than Olin E. Hinkle, ex-student of W. T. and former editor of the Prairie, came to our notice. It deserves quoting intact:

"There is one more tomb in the Spanish sepulchre. It has long been said that Alfonso would fill it and that a republic would be declared to end the necessity for additional burial places for monarchs. Miss Mary Hudspeth, professor of Spanish at Canyon, several years ago predicted to her classes that Alfonso would abdicate either voluntarily or through necessity. Her prediction was based upon her travels in Spain and studies in the Universities of Madrid."

Miss Hudspeth does not recall the occasion of the prophecy, and she is at a loss to understand just how Olin came to hear it. Apparently he heard it after her sojourn in Spain in 1926 and '27, but he graduated with the class of '25.

During her stay in Spain, where she attended the University of Madrid for ten months, Miss Hudspeth became an interested but impartial observer of the trend of political affairs, especially the rise of the republican spirit. She became convinced that only personal love for the king, whom she saw a number of times, kept the Spanish people from establishing a government to their liking. She heard it said when she visited the Escorial, the West Minister Abbey of Spain, which was built by Philip II, that there was room to bury "only one more king," another way of saying that Alfonso would be the last monarch of Spain. Besides their convictions as to the best kind of government, the people objected to the monarchy because it was too expensive. Moreover, they hated their English queen.

The rise of Republicanism coincided with the rise of education, the Feminist movement, and the reduction of illiteracy. Miss Hudspeth believes that the universities are almost entirely responsible for the present revolution.

But back to Mr. Hinkle's article. It is truly remarkable that he should remember such a prophecy over such a long period and still more remarkable that he should remember just which one of his teachers made it. This may be interpreted as a compliment to both Mr. Hinkle and Miss Hudspeth and is a striking example of the impressions that a school can exert on a student and, in Olin's case, at least, on the thousands of people who read his paper. These impressions should, of course, always be for the best, so we repeat: Teachers, Beware!

Add Another Scholarship To Agri. Department

A scholarship, to be awarded to a student doing outstanding work in the feeding of dairy cattle, or the feeding of beef cattle, has just been presented to the Agriculture department of the West Texas State Teachers College by the Hardeman-King Milling Company of Amarillo.

The scholarship has a value of $100. The person to hold it will be nominated by the Agricultural Council of the College, subject to the approval of the college scholarship committee.

According to Professor Frank R. Phillips this is one of several scholarships which will be available to students who are primarily interested in learning and developing the agricultural resources of the Panhandle region.

Great Plains—

mond Teachers.
Owing to the lack of interest on the part of the high schools, their division of the Great Plains track and field meet has been dropped for this year. The date of the Great Plains meet is probably the reason for the lack of interest, it coming the week end following the District meet and the week preceding the state meet at Austin.

However at the district meet here last Saturday, Pampa, Amarillo and Memphis decided to hold a triangular meet in Buffalo Stadium on Saturday afternoon at which time any other team may take part in the high school division of this meet.

It is expected that those in charge at West Texas will make an effort next year to hold a separate meet for the high schools at a time when it will enable all the high schools to attend and this will probably be separate and apart from the Great Plains Track and Field Meet.

Who's Who in W. T. High
A most interesting and capable person in our high school is Marion Hill, a sophomore. She was born in Berkeley where her father was a graduate student in the University of California. She rode all the way from California to Texas in a basket—when she was six weeks old—and she has lived here ever since.

Marion has made the honor roll every quarter that she has been in high school. She was president of the sophomore class for two quarters, and she has been Tumbleweed reporter for her class and for the Latin club, of which she is now president. She is also a member of the High School Girls' Chorus, and is talented in languages and dramatics. Marion intends to major in primary work.

Latin Club Banquet

The Inter Nos Latin Club held one of its most successful annual banquets Monday evening, April 20, in the Home Economics dining room, celebrating Rome's birthday, (April 21.) There was a record number of forty guests present. The menu, prepared by the Home Economics department, was printed in Latin, and the candles and flowers used for decoration carried out the Roman color scheme of purple and gold.

Marion Hill, president of the club, acted as toastmaster, invoking the good will of Jove, according to Roman custom, and telling a number of appropriate jokes on persons present. J. C. Baker gave an invocation to the spirits of Romulus and Remus, when, to the surprise of all, the twins themselves appeared, in typical Roman costume, and recalled in a lively dialogue, their experiences on earth, including the famous quarrel. The realistic appearance of Romulus and Remus was due to the good acting of Linette Cain and Hazel Kirbie. The dialogue was followed by a fuller account of the founding of Rome, told by Lucy Jo Loudder.

A short two-act play, "The Power of the Gods Then and Now" was presented. The first act, during the heyday of Troy, showed Jupiter, king of the gods, asking the other dieties if they had lost their power on earth. They all convinced him with their replies to the contrary; but the second act of the play, laid in 1931, found him asking the same question again. This time, the gods and goddesses, quoting as proof the trade marks of products named after them, indignantly replied that they had lost none of their influence of old. The characters of the play were: Jupiter, George Phillips; Venus, Marion Hill; Apollo, Joe Collins; Hercules, Don Savage; Vulcan, Lowell Windsor; Mercury, Dan Aynesworth; Iris, Esther Lou Bandy; Diana, Mattie Pearl Whittenburg.

The Club quartet, composed of J. C. Baker, Don Savage, Charles Stratton, and George Phillips, who sang four specially arranged songs, brought forth a prolonged applause from the guests.

An excellent talk on modern parallels in Caesar and Cicero, given by Louise Shirley, revealed the fact that there are many situations in life today similar to incidents and customs described by the Latin writers. Edna Irene Bandy told a number of interesting customs found in Vergil's Aeneid. Pollyanna Pitts, dressed in Greek slave-girl costume, gave an artistic dance similar to those given around the Roman banquet tables; it was sharply contrasted in a clever modern tap dance by Frances Alice Clark. They were accompanied on the piano by Miss Jessie Loudder.

Besides the club members, the following guests were present: Misses Ritchie, Richardson, Jessie Loudder, Frances Holman and Helen Johnson; Mesdames J. A. Hill, F. E. Savage, and Quattlebaum, and Messrs. J. A. Hill, F. E. Savage, J. S. Humphreys, Winston Savage, Joe Hill and George Bishop.

Much of the credit for the success of the banquet was due to the efficient work done by Frances Alice Clark and Lucy Jo Doudder, who prepared the program, and Edna Irene Bandy and Pollyanna Pitts, who were in charge of the decorations. Attractive hand-printed tickets made by S. B. Whittenburg and Jennie Lee Nobles were used in the sale of plates.

Freshman English Notes

That the Eighth-Grade English students are endeavoring to develop their powers of perception and to record them in vivid imagery is evident from the two following paragraphs, which were written in response to an assignment for a vivid description of sounds:

Sounds at Evening

We had camped that night near the bank of a small river, which was surrounded by tall cottonwood trees and waving water grasses. After eating supper, we went for a walk in the late evening, along the river bank, to "list" to nature's teachings." Numerous birds in the branches of the trees above us chattered merrily in the final preparations for the night, and the place re-echoed with the incessant croaking of hundreds of frogs in the river. Occasionally we could hear the loud splashing of a fish as he dived playfully in the water. Suddenly a cricket began his loud chirping song, only to end it abruptly as he had begun. We could hear distinctly the roar of the river, mingled with the rippling of the water over the rocks in the falls just below us. Sometimes we were startled by the splash of a dislodged rock, as it fell from an overhanging ledge into the river beside us. From a distance came monotonous hoot of a lonely owl; and down the canyons could be heard the plaintive howl of a wolf, making his night raid for food. The hum of various insects in the air, however, attracted our attention to the surroundings nearer by. Swarms of buzzing mosquitoes swept by; and occasionally we heard the fanning flutter of a disturbed butterfly, contrasting with the thick whir of the wings of bats that came scuffling by overhead. Once the call of a shepherd's horn pierced the air. Other more indistinct voices came to our ears as we made our way down the river. The gentle rustling of the leaves of the trees, and the swish of the tall grass were most pleasing, and made us want to stroll for a longer time, but darkness drove us back to our camp, where we sat far into the night, listening to the crackling of the campfire, and musing over how many and varied are the sounds of nature.—Hazel Kirbie.

Voices of the Night

The falls on the creek and the rapids on the river jarred on my nerves for awhile; but presently I heard the croaking of frogs and the hooting of owls—and even the shuffling stir of the horses tied to the wagon nearby—all of which had a more soothing effect upon my nerves. Softer grew the sounds of the spring night, and sleep soon stole upon me; but I was suddenly awakened, and sat up quickly, my heart thumping, and a prickly feeling along my spine. Some cry had disturbed me. I peered into the blackness, for the moon had gone down. I listened, scarcely breathing, and suddenly I heard again the cry which had awakened me. It rose above the roaring of the waters—a long, wild, blood-curdling scream; then the echoes caught it and tossed it back and forth among the hills, until it died away into silence.—Allene McIntosh.

Every Package now a Humidor

CARRIZOZO, N. M., now gets Camels in as prime condition as Winston-Salem, the cigarette capital of the world. Camels that leave our factory are now wrapped in moisture-proof, airtight Cellophane which acts as a humidor and keeps the natural moisture in.

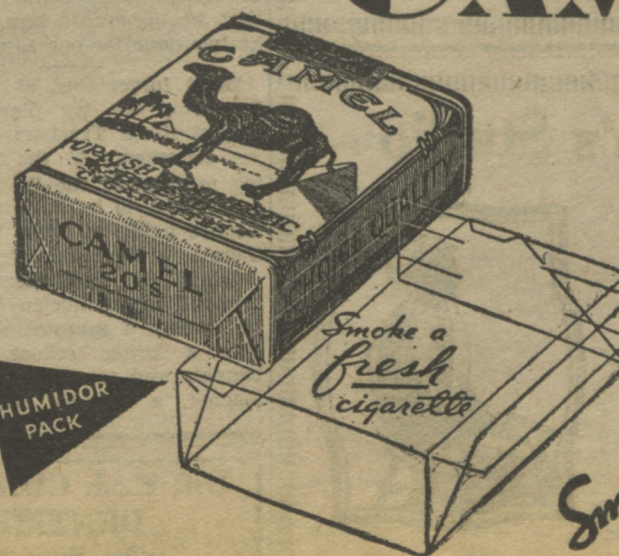

Peppery tobacco dust and harsh moisture-robbd tobacco are what sting the tongue and burn the throat. Thanks to our patented vacuum cleaning apparatus and the new Humidor Pack everybody, everywhere, can enjoy the Camel blend of fine Turkish and mellow Domestic tobaccos in prime, fresh condition.

Switch to Camels today then leave them tomorrow, if you can.
