Dedication Fete To Follow Home Making Theme

Homemaking will be the theme of the program Friday afternoon, at the dedication of the new Phebe K. Warner Home Management House.

The $16,500 structure was named for Mrs. Warner because of her substantial contributions to better home-making on the plains. The program will begin at 3 p. m. in the College auditorium, but students of the home economics department and honorary hostesses will keep the building open all day.

Orchestra To Play

Music for the program will be contributed by the College orchestra, directed by Prof. Wallace R. Clark, the Women's chorus, also directed by him, and by Mrs. Robert Wilson of Amarillo.

Brief talks will be made by a number of persons who are especially interested in better homes. These include:

Speakers Listed

"The Home Maker as an Inspirational Force," by Mrs. J. W. Walker, Plainview, president of the Seventh District Texas Federation of Women's clubs.

"Youth Prepares for Home Making," Miss Ruth Dill, senior Home Economics student, West Texas State College.

"Looking Toward a Citizenry of Educated Homemakers," Miss Gladys Armstrong, State Department of Education.

"Ideals for the American Home as Expressed in Phebe K. Warner's Writing," Mrs. H. A. Grimes, Claude.

"Ideals for the American Home as Expressed in Phebe K. Warner's Club Work," Miss Laura Hamner, Amarillo.

"Ideals for the American Home as Expressed in Phebe K. Warner's Religion," Wayne Eubanks, Amarillo.

Reeves to Speak

"Phebe K. Warner: Cultural Frontierswoman," by Mrs. T. V. Reeves, West Texas State College. This will be the major tribute to Mrs. Warner.

Miss Orpa Dennis, head of the Home Economics department, will accept the Home Management House, where a faculty member lives with senior home economics students in the study of practical homemaking.

Hill Chairman

Dr. J. A. Hill, president, will be chairman of the program. At the top of the printed program will appear this quotation: "The strength of the State depends upon the ability of its women to nurture children, to inspire men, and to provide progressive ideals."

A huge crowd is expected to be here to honor the memory of Mrs. Warner and to show their interest in better homes. The Woman's Development club and the Junior Development club will attend as groups, as also will other organizations if present plans are carried out.

Collegiate hearts leaped Wednesday night when members of the W. T. faculty appeared on the basketball floor. The same hearts sank in despair Thursday morning when all the pro's were back in class despite the strenuous night before.

With a holiday March 9, students should not forget to appreciate their mother-in-laws if and when they get one.

Discontinuing social club members who fell below a "C" average last semester should serve to raise the standards of the school. This move on the part of the Student Welfare Committee could well be followed by other committees directing school activities.

FREE! A vote in coming elections to all students who reach twenty-one between Jan. 1, 1937 and July 23, 1938. Exemption slips should be secured now by students who are eligible.

Feb. 28-March 5 Is New Date for Life Saving Course

A change in the previously announced dates for a Life Saving Examiner's Training Course has brought Roger C. Plaisted, field representative of the American National Red Cross, to West Texas State College from February 28 through March 5.

Mr. Plaisted was to have been here March 7-12.

Three hours will be given during each of the five days to the teaching of swimming, life saving, water safety, and the handling of small boats. The course will be open to adults who are reasonably good swimmers, but the examiner will grant certificates only to those who pass the test.

The course also will be open to persons living in other cities, according to Miss Ruth Cross, chairman of life saving for the local Red Cross chapter. It is hoped that enrollees will come from a number of communities.

Development of water safety leadership is being sought by the Red Cross. Building of a dam and broadening of opportunities for swimming and boating make this program timely.

Six students from W. T. High School will be enrolled in the Red Cross Life Saving classes to be conducted here by Roger Plaisted, field representative for the National Red Cross, next month.

These students will not be allowed to take the examiners test to be given at the close of the five day course because of the twenty-one year age requirement.

Students who have been approved for the course are: Billy Cass Harter, Tommy Tomlinson, David Sharman, David Brickley, Mary Elizabeth Hughes and Margaret Hughes.

NYA Students Show High Grade Average For Last Semester

W. T. students doing NYA work here made a grade point average of 2.94 last semester despite the fact that they work an average of thirty-six hours each month.

Only 10 per cent of the students enrolled in the College are doing NYA work, and eighteen of these were on the honor roll for the last semester which was recently released from the Registrar's office. This represents one third of the students employed here by the NYA. Many of these students are enrolled in six courses in addition to their work.

The apportionment for helping needy students here is almost exhausted and with the month beginning May 9, NYA work may be partly stopped, C. A. Murray, chairman of the local committee, has announced.

MISS MARGARET LEE WILEY ATTENDS LABOR MEETING

Dr. Margaret Lee Wiley, in the English department, attended the Southern Regional Conference on Labor Legislation at the invitation of Labor Secretary, Frances Perkins.

Labor, Industry, and Independents attended the meeting. Dr. Wiley attended as an independent. She is the chairman of Social Studies of Texas in American Association of University Women. On the evening of Feb. 15, a dinner was served honoring Miss Perkins.

Have you noticed the increased number of students who are using the library? Could it be that they are preparing for the rush of the last nine weeks?

Holiday Scheduled For Mother-in-Law Day In Amarillo

Classes will be dismissed March 9 when W. T. will take part in the mother-in-law celebration held in Amarillo. W. T. will be represented in the parade, which will be reviewed by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, by Buffalo Band, the world's tallest basketball team, and campus clubs.

Company F, local National Guard unit which includes a large number of college students, will also march in the parade.

W. T. floats will be led by a life model representing Alma Mater, according to Dr. A. M. Meyer, chairman of the local committee. Arrangements for the float depicting Alma Mater are in charge of Delta Zeta Chi. Members of the committee are Hope Bussey, chairman, Reba Pool, and Billie Ruth King.

The person representing Alma Mater, who will be dressed in white, will sit against a maroon background. She will hold in her hand colored streamers which will reach to representatives of social clubs and Alpha Chi who will be arranged in a semi-circle around the float. Quixote Bea King, the first lady of W. T., who will be seated at the feet of Alma Mater, will present the arm bouquet of red roses which she carries, to the First Lady of the Land, Mrs. Roosevelt.

The Plains Chevrolet Corporation of Amarillo will furnish the truck for the float.

Dr. L. F. Sheffy, member of the committee, has made arrangements for Charles C. Goodnight, the Buffalo mascot, to accompany the Buffalo basketball team.

The Buffalo Band, led by C. E. Strain, will parade behind the other W. T. floats, and Canyon High School will be represented by its band and drum corps, led by Anna Ruth Eastus.

Complete plans for the parade will not be made until specific directions are received from Mason King, Amarillo, general director of the Mother-in-law Day.

Spring Activities For Senior Class Planned Thursday

Senior plans for the spring semester were made at class meeting Thursday morning.

A resolution to be presented to the administration of the college was adopted. The resolution to ask for an assembly presentation of the facts leading to the recent resignation of the student council was adopted. Both the administration and the former council members are to be presented in the program.

The nights of March 11 and April 29 were designated as senior nights, and plans for the spring senior party were announced.

A list of eight possible gifts to the school was submitted and a short discussion on the merits of each was given. The list included a Student Union Building fund to be added to by the succeeding classes until sufficient to cover cost of the building, a smoker, statuary, a spot light, revolving door for the west entrance, campus landscaping, and the placing of an Indian ceremonial on the campus as a center of a recreation ground for college students. Further action will be taken in choosing the gift.

To Observe World Day of Prayer

Community observance of the World Day of Prayer will be held Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Presbyterian Church.

The program follows: History of World Day of Prayer and call to prayer—Miss Helen Lyles.

Prayer—The Rev. Sam A. Thomas. Hymn: "Sweet Hour of Prayer"—The Mother Singers.

Scripture Reading—The Rev. Charles Wilson.

Special Music—The Mother Singers.

Address: "The Church a World Fellowship"—Prof. S. H. Condon.

Special Music—Dr. and Mrs. S. L. Ingham.

Closing Prayer—The Rev. J. R. Hicks.

Have you seen the new spring dresses at Allen & Black's? They are priced $2.98 to $3.98.

Students Who Are Eligible May Still Secure Exemptions

Poll Tax exemption slips may still be secured by persons who are eligible, according to the state law governing elections.

Many students failed to secure exemptions because they thought the deadline for securing exemptions was Jan. 31, the last day for paying poll taxes.

Persons who reached the age of 21 between Jan. 1, 1937 and July 23, 1938 are eligible for exemption. Students who have been in this county six months or longer may secure exemptions at the tax collector's office here, and vote in their home counties.

Educational Film Authority Added To Summer Staff

In recognizing the increasing use of educational motion pictures, film slides, and lantern slides in the schools on the plains, West Texas State next summer will bring to the campus one of the nation's leading authorities on the subject.

He is Earl E. Sechrist, principal of Ensley high school at Birmingham, Ala., who has been a leader in the visual education movement in the southeast for many years. He has taught the subject in Birmingham-Southern College, Louisiana State University and, last summer, in the University of Pittsburgh. He received most of his training in Columbia University.

Prof. Sechrist will teach a six-week course beginning June 6. It will be of graduate rank, open to both graduates and under-graduates. It will be a class in audio-visual education, stressing the psychology of visual and sensory aids to learning and the administration of visual aids; field trips and excursions; and contact with equipment and materials. He will bring with him the latest equipment and materials, having a value of more than $4,000.

Audio-visual education is being stressed by many states, some of which, like Pennsylvania, require training in the subject as prerequisite to the permanent teaching certificate. Many city and county school superintendents have expressed a desire for the course and made known their intention to send one or more teachers to the summer session to take the work.

Prof. Sechrist is a licensed sound engineer.

Former Governor Pat Neff Speaks Here Saturday

Former-governor Pat M. Neff, president of Baylor University, spoke in assembly Saturday on "Our Million Dollar Heritage," or the reason the Legislature set aside the week of March 2 as Texas Independence day.

"It's worth a million dollars to be living in the Panhandle instead of Central Europe. It's worth a million dollars to be young instead of old. It is an asset to have an opportunity worth many times that of a millionaire," said the speaker after giving an oral examination proving the students deficiency of knowledge of the state motto, tree, flower, and bird.

Stating that the writers and signers of the Texas Declaration of Independence should be honored as much as those connected with the national document, Mr. Neff emphasized the fact that Texas is the only state to have a history all its own.

In the fifty days following March 2, a new nation was established and started, ten years later to bring one-third of the present area of the United States into the Union. Texas was first in many things governmental. Foremost of these was the setting aside of 52 millions of acres of land for free public education. Second in importance was the homestead law, proclaiming that no man can be imprisoned for debt.

The speaker closed by saying, "Unless we know and respect the glories of the past, we can have no glorious future."

Dr. Hill had Pres. Neff and several faculty members as his guests at Stafford for luncheon.

Missionary From China Speaks in Assembly Tuesday

Dr. Frank Garrett, missionary, who recently returned from China, spoke in assembly Tuesday morning discussing the current situation in China.

"We are wondering what caused it all and its cure," the speaker said regarding Japan's invasion of China. We haven't enough facts, and it is difficult to get the facts in China, he said.

Dr. Garrett reviewed briefly the United States' relation with Japan and pointed out that we have mistreated Japan in "many ways." We haven't treated China very well either, the speaker, who spent thirty-six years in China, said.

Americans in China live under the laws of their native states, he explained. He cited an example of a member of the U. S. consular service who was found guilty of smuggling arms and selling them to Chinese bandits. "These is no law in Nebraska prohibiting the sale of arms to Chinese bandits, so the American was permitted to go free," he related.

The recent entry of the Japanese troops into Nanking was horrible beyond description, according to Dr. Garrett, who was in the city at the time.

"I feel fairly sure that the Chinese will win," he said regarding the current conflict, "but the Japanese will not lose at once."

In conclusion he quoted a statement from a Chinese teacher: "The Chinese will emerge a great nation for they are already a great people."

Hills Invited to Attend Dinner Honoring Byrd

President and Mrs. J. A. Hill and Joe Hill, Jr. have received invitations to attend a testimonial dinner honoring Admiral Richard E. Byrd in the Ambassador Hotel in Atlantic City March 3. They will be unable to attend.

The dinner is being arranged by the American Association of School Administrators and cultural, professional, scientific, and publishing groups. "The Admiral has told me many fine things about you," James Mooney said in a letter to Joe Hill, Jr., inviting him to attend the occasion.

Mrs. Hill and Joe have published a book, "In Little America," which deals with the experiences of Joe on Byrd's second expedition.

Cousins Loses In Women's Intramural

The women's physical education majors started off the all-college women's basketball tournament Thursday night by defeating the Cousins Hall girls 30-8.

Lineups for the teams were as follows: For the Majors, Mangum, Garrett, and Howard, forwards, and Greenway, Alford, and E. Williams, guards. For Cousins Hall, Meek, Biggers, and Lisle, forwards, and Riley, Shaver, and Wilson, guards.

Next game of the series will be tomorrow night at 7 o'clock when the majors tangle with the out-in-town girls. The latter will be paced by Billie Merle Hester, all-state forward in 1935, who is captain of the team. Spectators are invited.

Famous Woman Orator Returns Here Friday

Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of the "silver tongued orator," William Jennings Bryan, and a prominent personage in her own right as former Congresswoman and, until her marriage to Count Von Haugwitz-Rentvelow, as the first woman to become United States Minister to a foreign country, will speak in a lyceum program at the college auditorium Friday evening.

Persons living as far away as Big Spring are coming to hear Ruth Bryan Owen in her address here Friday.

Many, remembering her dynamic message given at a homecoming occasion several years ago, are eager to hear her and to give her another ovation. Her address will begin at 8 o'clock. Admission will be 75 cents for adults and 40 cents for children.

The former Congresswoman and former minister to Denmark has had many unique experiences and has made a record of exceptional achievement. Her oratorical ability has brought her into contact with millions in this and other countries. Her colorful sentences make clear the peoples and customs of Egypt, England, Denmark, Greenland, and other countries.

Few speakers can better discuss the opportunities of citizenship under the American flag. By many she is regarded as the No. 1 commentator on public affairs. However, her skill with the spoken word is said by her friends to be no hereditary gift from her statesman-father. Rather, it is worked out slowly and painstakingly. She tested many of her theories of speech at the University of Miami, where she taught. She is preparing a textbook on the psychology of public speech.

Freshness, vigor, ripened judgment, enthusiasm, without platitudes—these are the main attributes of Mrs. Owen, whose real name in her home life is Rhode.

Mrs. Owen will be heard by many persons who will come to the campus on the same day for the dedication of the Phebe K. Warner Home Management House, at 3 p. m.

I. R. C. To Send Eight Delegates to Roswell Conference

Six students and two faculty delegates will attend the I. R. C. District Annual Conference which will be held at Roswell on March 18-19.

Those who will attend the Conference will be E. T. Evans, Jr., James Haynes, Nancy Bridges, Mary O'Brian, Brynildie Vaughan, Claude Farley, Paul Benbrook, economics instructor, and S. H. Condon, head of government department.

Outstanding speakers at the meet will be Jose Encinar, Peru; Grover Clark, lecturer and author of New York City; and Dr. A. Hemingway Jones, who is in charge of the Carnegie Endowment of International Peace.

I. R. C. Club will meet March 2, at 7:30 in Room 202 in the Education Building. The program will consist of a round table discussion of the present situation in Europe.

Bufs Victor

Hardin-Simmons' famed "stall-game" hit the skids last night in Burton Gymnasium before the season's largest turnout when the Bufs victored 38-19.

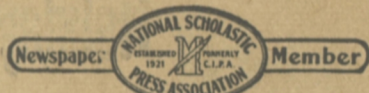

The scoring in the opening half was checked by the slow and deliberate play of the Cowboys and the game was six minutes old before Bud Reeves, Cowboy forward, looped a one handed push shot to count first. Stephenson tabulated first for the Bisons on a tip-in with the game 12 minutes gone.

The Bufs led at halftime, 13-6. Ray Shackelford took scoring honors with 10 points. Butler and Stephenson scored six apiece.

The same teams tangle tonight in the final of the series. Game time is at eight o'clock.

A Brooklyn seaman, spending four days in a German jail, had to pay board and room. He should console himself with having obtained an "inside" view of Germany.

AVERAGE SCHOLASTIC RATING FOR ALL CLUBS

Social clubs last week were instructed by the Student Welfare Committee to suspend all members who fell below a "C" average last semester. This is indeed a commendable regulation, but it should be extended to all campus activities in which college credit is not given.

Students who are unable or unwilling to do average work scholastically do not deserve and should not be allowed the benefits of outside activities which are secondary to regular school work. It is unfair, however, to require an average scholastic ranking of members of social clubs while either a lower or no rating is required of other clubs and organizations. Social clubs require no more time than most other activities and in most cases the benefits are fully as great.

It is not the intention of the Student Welfare Committee to be discriminating in this matter. Charters of the social clubs provide that a "C" average must be maintained, and it is altogether proper that this regulation should be enforced. But the same rule should govern all other extra-curricular activities as well. The Welfare Committee does not have control of several outside activities and naturally cannot set up standards for them.

No scholastic rating is required of students who work on The Prairie and Le Mirage. Though no requirement is stated in the college catalog for participation in college sports, only a passing grade in three subjects is required to receive a letter.

A general rule to govern all outside activities would serve to raise the standards of the institution and at the same time would encourage more effort on the part of poor students.

TOO MANY STUDENTS?

A new England college president recently expressed the opinion that too many students are attending college.

Statistics show that the number of students entering German colleges and universities since 1930 has been reduced by half. Hitler's plan is to educate only the most brilliant.

College attendance in the United States has increased by more than 200 per cent.

The criticism is made that liberal-arts training is not desirable for all. The colleges of the future, then, must broaden their curriculum to include other types of education.

The colleges are built for students . . . we should not make the mistake of trying to remodel students to fit the colleges, or deprive them of college training because the colleges are not cut to their measure.—B. E.

WAS THERE A DEPRESSION?

"College recruiting has become a problem of very considerable concern in the last few years, due largely to an oversupply of colleges and the general results of the depression" . . . says an article in The Educational Record.

West Texas State has been so fortunate in this respect that Panhandle newspapermen have labeled it "the College of the Depression Built." Enrollment in W. T. increased, slowly but steadily, all during the depression years, while building and improvement on the campus reached a new high mark.

Now, President Hill launches a new ten-year plan of expansion that promises to establish a college which will more adequately serve all of the great Panhandle-Plains area which it represents. W. T. has a record, and a future, of which any college might be proud.—B. E.

A graduate of a large Eastern University once said: "In the case of a large institution, more boys go through the college; while in a small college, more college goes through the boys."

West Texas State is not and never has been a degree mill. While we strive for expansion and growth, we must also strive to maintain the personal factor that has made this small college great.—B. E.

Moe and Molly Are Anticipating

This happy couple expects a blessed event about March 1, and if all turns out right Washington Zoological Park, in the nation's capital, will be the home of the first penguin ever to be hatched in an American zoo. WHERE TO GO AND WHAT TO DO

By Jack Taylor

Beginning the first day of March and continuing throughout the month, the Olympic has booked some very notable films. While each week they will have a picture or two that does not merit much consideration.

SCANDAL STREET with LEW AYRES playing the leading role will be shown tonight. LEW is not one of the best actors in the business and he does not turn in the characterization that might be expected from one of the better actors, but he is nice looking, and that goes a long way in drawing admiration from fans, more especially the ladies. EDGAR KENNEDY adds his comedy to the otherwise dead plot, and helps it tremendously.

DASHING FREDRIC MARCH rises to new triumphant heights by recreating the romantic pirate king, JEAN LAFITTE, the man whose devotion to the United States helped win the war of 1812. In the historical epic THE BUCCANEER, MARCH plays opposite FRANCISKA GAAL, new star discovery, whose innocence is astoundingly straight-from-the-heart. She tames the heart that bullets could not. The story is gripping throughout the entire play, holding the audience in tense silence during emotional scenes. One of the pick of the month productions. If your sweetheart is fickle, go to the show by yourself, because she will fall for this devil-may-care pirate. Wednesday and Thursday.

PETER LORRE plays another one of his inimitable "Moto roles" Friday and Saturday matinee. LORRE acts as he always does, suave, a little mysterious, but interestingly different. But to this reporter he is fast becoming monotonous in his old style. This is a dime show. They should give all who attend a free bag of popcorn for sitting through half of it, and those who endure the drudge to the end should be entitled to free lunches for a week.

Producers in the movie colony have taken advantage of the Sino-Japanese war, and based a whole picture plot around it. INTERNATIONAL SETTLEMENT with DOLORES DEL RIO depicts American refugees in China. The presentation is not expensively produced and most of the scenes are suggestive of each other, but on the whole the movie has a fair plot and some excellent acting in places. Incidentally Miss DEL RIO is finding the road to come-back fame a little rocky going. Saturday night only.

If dizzy carryings on are any criterion then NOTHING SACRED with FREDRIC MARCH and CAROLE LOMBARD should win the Pulitzer prize for the goofiest comedy produced in many a moon. Scheduled for the Olympic Saturday midnight, Sunday and Monday. A full house will inevitably follow this madcap production, after a few have seen it. When I saw said movie I went into uncontrollable hysterics. I laughed so much that my date pushed me out of the seat and thrust her foot into my mouth.

OPTIONAL READING: Lew Ayres was discovered in a Los Angeles cabaret, playing in an orchestra; he became an immediate hit in pictures. . . Dolores Del Rio's most treasured possession is a solid gold medallion, which she has never been without. . . Franciska Gaal is the thirteenth child in an aristocratic old Hungarian family. She has played in nine different countries, and has been training for one year in Paramount Studios. . . Fredric March has been a definite star after performing in "Barretts of Wimpole Street," as the romantic Robert Browning as you remember so well.

GOATS RIDE AGAIN

CHARLIE BILLS and MICKEY BARTON were facing the wintry blast as they went home from the show. Two handsome men stopped and asked them if they'd like to ride. Leaving their scruples out in the cold, they entered the car and rode to Cousins.

"We've saved you some time haven't we," asked the Samaritans. "Yes," answered the maidens. "Then I'd like to take a little of your time. Now, here I have a bargain. Three magazines for half price—"

Unfortunately the girls were in the back seat, and the car was a coach.

DON'T EVER TAKE A CHANCE.

FIRST THOUGHT OF THE DAY Nothing's so beautiful as break of day.

Be it December or merry May. Leave me in a bed that will roll about—

I'm happiest when bedridden with gout.

As I say—at the break of dawn My rest is shattered—peace is gone. It's daily when I leave my bed That I wish needn't earn my bread.

"Twas a wise man who said 'birds of a feather.' For instance: 'There's a Cross-eyed Cowboy on a Cross-eyed Horse.'"

HEEL OF THE WEEK: Me (There's no reason—that I'll admit—but since I carry the ax—off comes the head of the wood cutter.)

A small boy was leading a donkey by an army camp. Some of the soldiers wanted to have some fun with the lad.

"What are you holding onto your brother so tight for, sonny?" asked one of them.

"So he won't join the army," the youngster replied without blinking an eye.

DISCOURAGED

They were talking about a young man who had just passed them in the street.

"Yes," said one, "he fell in love with a girl at a glove shop. He bought gloves every day for a week, so to discourage his attentions she became a manicurist."

"Then he had his nails manicured every day, I suppose?" remarked the other.

"Just so. But I don't think he will worry her any more."

"Why?"

"She's found employment with a dentist."

NEVER THOUGHT OF THAT "Oh, doctor," cried a wild-eyed man, "I'm dreadfully afflicted. The ghosts of my departed relatives come and perch on the tops of the fence posts all around my garden when dusk is falling. I can look out any evening and see a couple of dozen spooks sitting on the fence, waiting, waiting, waiting. What shall I do?"

"Sharpen the tops of the posts."

SELECT COMPANY

"All those who would like to go to heaven," said the Sunday School teacher, "please raise their hands."

All did except one.

"Why, Johnny," exclaimed the teacher, "wouldn't you like to go to heaven?"

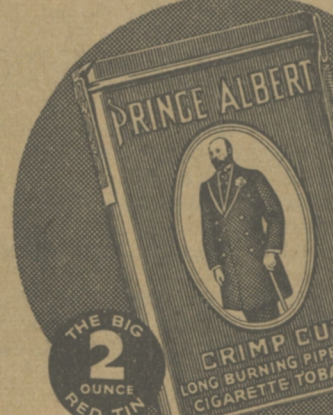

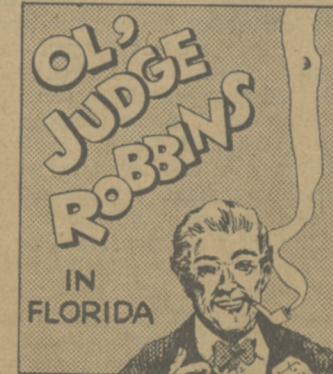

"Naw," said Johnny, "not if that bunch is goin'."

THOUGHTS ARE AUTUMN LEAVES

Thoughts are autumn leaves,
Golden leaves, ruby leaves
That drift from off the thoughtboughs of the tree of knowledge.
Thoughts are autumn leaves,
Both orange and brown
That form a heavy crazy-quilt
to cover half the town.
So soon, they wither and then die.
But dying, they enrich
The ground on which they lie.
Who knows, mayhap from this
Fertile land aspire
New thought-leaves to set the world afire.
—Ida Martha Pierle.

LESSON

From my window
The snow is soft as down:
Distance from it gnaws
'Til I must erase the distance—
I must touch it,
And feel its soothing adhesive
coolness;
I must free myself from
The tyranny of convention.

The sun shines from behind clouds
Momentarily—
Only long enough to reflect
The glitter and crust of the snow.
I touch it—it is hard—inhuman—
cold.
I was made blind that I might
See clearly—in that one moment.

Why, God, did you let my love
Flourish in the semi-darkness of youth?
One beam of experience would have Shown his little frozen heart—
The cell that held my being Captive for painfully delightful
eons—
—G. B.

ON FEELING ONCE MORE

"THAT OLD FEELING"
There is no hurt like an old, old hurt
When your heart is twisted and dry
To wake the echoes long died down
And the memories long gone by.

There is no song like an old, old song
That you sang when you were young
To make you recall what you can forget
When the hard new songs are sung.

There is no love like an old, old love
That you thought you would love always
To open the flood-gates of memory
On your aching yesterdays.
—H. B.

AH! WOULD I LOVED AGAIN

So many times the memories,
So many times the tears;
The drifting sand dunes,
The changing moons;
The roses fair to bloom
And fade as if the spring

Would never come again—
So many loves—
Like sheltered doves—
And yet—
This freedom from the pain
Is more than I can bear—
Ah! would I loved again.
—B. R. K.

PRIZE

Well, now that it is all over,
And the prize is won,
I wonder why I ever wanted it.
Oh, it is beautiful—
But not so beautiful
As the beauty that fled me while I sought
For this.
—Beth Miesse.

WINTER

Winter is a wierd old woman:
Today it seemed
As if spring
Was advancing—
Winter with her heavy blue
Shawl across
Her shoulders
Could just be seen
In the distant—retreating.
But she was fooling, because,
Though she had turned
Her back on the
Gay spring-like light,
She was backing up
To fight at night!
Ah, Winter is a wiley old woman.

Home Management House Residents Entertain With Party Friday Night

Residents of the Phebe K. Warner Home Management House were entertained with a Texas Independence party Friday night. Progressive bridge was played during the entertainment hour.

The hostesses and their guests included Effie Nell Farmer, Juanita Barrett, Mrs. Mildred Middleton, Blanche Spear, Opal Kittrell, Shirley Turk, Mary Unsell, Dorothy Mays, Minnie Bergner, Edith Berry, Mrs. Jim May Coy, Marjo Brown, Ruth Dill, Dolores Little, Miss Margaret Barrett, and Dr. Hattie M. Anderson.

Freshman To Entertain With Informal Party

Members of the freshman class will entertain with an informal party Thursday night beginning at 8 o'clock in the ballroom of Cousins Hall.

Dancing will form the evening's entertainment. Crawford Hoover will act as master of ceremonies for the floor show, which will consist of the Big Apple and other more modern dances.

Those to attend will be members of the freshman class and their guests.

Randall Hall Seniors Have Dinner Guests

Randall Hall seniors had as their dinner guests Wednesday night, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Hill; Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Sheffy, sponsors of the senior class; Joe McNeill, president of the class; and Quixie Bea King, vice-president.

On the program were Betty Jones, who sang, and Ione Potter who gave a Scotch dialect reading.

MISS HICKMAN GIVES FIRST AID LECTURE

Miss Helen Hickman lectured to the Wranglers on First Aid last Tuesday evening and demonstrated methods of applying bandages to minor burns, cuts and sores.

Miss Hickman gave the members of the organization a list of supplies to be included in a first aid kit for Girl Scout camps and hikes. She emphasized the fact that the scout leader should never take too much responsibility in her own hands in case of accidents. All seriously injured children should be placed under the care of a physician immediately. First aid is only temporary care for an injury until there is opportunity for a doctor to take charge.

The next meeting of the Wranglers will be on March 8 in room 103 of the Education Building at 7 p. m.

TO BE STOCK SHOW CHAIRMAN

Frank R. Phillips, head of the agriculture department, will be chairman of the educational department of the Amarillo Fat Stock Show, which will be held in Amarillo, March 7, 8, 9, and 10.

Mr. Phillips will speak also on the program at the Irrigation Congress which is at Plainview March 10.

NIGHT FIELD MEET IS PLANNED BY BAGGETT

Plans are being made to stage a night track and field meet in Buffalo Stadium as an intramural sports classic, according to Coach Al Baggett.

"Such a meet would give an added impetus to track and field in West Texas," said Coach Baggett.

Netmen and Golfers To Play Sul Ross

Two tennis players and two golfers will go to Sul Ross State Teachers College in Alpine March 12 to open the West Texas State spring seasons in both sports.

Coach W. E. Lockhart has tentatively announced that Norton Curry, Plainview, and Frank Kelly, Panhandle, will meet the Sul Ross netmen, and that Clyde Posey of Hereford and Forrest Faulkner of Canyon will compete with the pick of the Sul Ross golfers.

Inclement weather has prevented practice in both sports, but regular work-outs will open as soon as playing conditions will permit.

Famous last words: "Nobody's tried to roll me in the snow—must be my dignity."

Here's to a club that has enough pep and energy to pledge new members this semester. Gamma Phi is on its toes when it comes to this pledging business, and right here and now I want to tell you pledges that you're in for a lot of hard work and strenuous exercise. But it's bound to be a lot of fun. These five pledges to Gamma Phi go by the following names: Melba Williams, Fern Stevenson, Marie Riley, Frances Emory and Edna Brillhart.

What we need is a social once in a while on this campus other than a dance. What would dancers think if we never had a dance? About once a semester some club shocks the school by having a bridge party or a theater party. I've forgotten what a picnic is and what happens on such occasions. It seems that I have heard of such things as skating parties, but then again maybe I haven't. Such socials as dinner parties and buffet suppers are almost unheard of on this campus. We do have an occasional tea or reception, but dancing always turns out to be the main entertainment on the program. Of course there is the matter of money, but as far as social clubs are concerned they can't use that comeback—not after they virtually mortgaged their last possession to out-do another club on their presentation dance.

High School Music and Speech Students Will Give Operetta

"Who Discovered America," a two-act operetta will be presented by members of the W. T. high school speech and music students in the auditorium of the Education Building, March 8 at 8:15 o'clock.

College practice teachers who are working in the Demonstration High School are assisting with the production.

Members of the cast will include David Sharman, Duane Legge, Berry McCarter, Branch Archer, Annadell Sligar, Bernard Warren, Howard Boling, Cleo Bourland, Dick Smith, Edward Line, Bessie Lane, and A. G. Thornton.

Chorus of College Presidents: H. F. Robinson, Jackie Cooper, D. M. Gillham, Billy Cass Harter, Douglas Groom, A. G. Thornton, Ernest Sykes, Johnnie B. Caraway, Charles Marshall, Leon Smith, Virgil Ebeling, and Luther Archer.

Snow In Air Draws Shoes From Athletes

A sudden, unexplainable urge—or anyway they didn't want to talk about the matter. Reference is to two Randall inmates who took a sprint around the hall at seven Thursday morning, which, if you remember, was a very snowy morning indeed. Early morning runs might be explained on the grounds of training for spring track, but going barefoot puts a different face on the matter—to mix a few metaphors, or whatever it is.

"The snow just did something to us," explained one of the ambitious athletes. "We thought about our wasted lives and all the experiences we've missed, and off came the shoes." Which is perhaps a little foggy reasoning. Oh maybe it's the weather we've been having.

Friends are earnestly considering the possibilities of the team of Hardin-Somerville for the next Olympic games; that is, of course, if they would consider anything so easy.

Polecats Claw Betas To Clinch Final Place in Intramurals

Epsilon Betas bowed to Phillips Polecats 24-21 for its second defeat in nine games to tumble out of first place division. The game was closely played from start to finish but the Polecats were capable of that last minute spurt that spells victory in any game.

The scared Betas showed they were not bowled over for keeps, however, by spitefully lacing the Buffalo Courts on the succeeding night 50-15.

Phillips Polecats have only one defeat to mar their record. And in view of their win over the strong Beta club are now knocking at the titular door. Buffalo T Club and Jennings Mules are casting the same covetous glances at the intramural title. Buffalo T Club pin their hopes on an exceptionally strong defense and the fact that they are beginning to look natural out in front. Jennings and Phillips, while bemoaning their defenses, break out with fast offenses.

Director Mitchell Jones announces that there are fifteen more games to be played. The definite schedule for these games will be posted this week. Games will be resumed Wednesday night, March 2, with the schedule for that night as follows: 7 o'clock Moore's Co-op vs. Epsilon Beta; 7:45 o'clock Dribbling Dromedaries vs. Phillips Polecats; 8:30 o'clock Buffalo Courts vs. T Anchor Cowboys; 9:15 o'clock Jennings Mules vs. Currycombs.

Conservative faculty members will like Roosevelt's New Deal less than ever since the recent and ever-present Student Government question. Whoever heard of such going ons in W. T. back in the days of Hoover and the Republicans?

Since so many candidates have announced for positions in the city government the First Voters League has hinted a possible ticket on the theory that the split in city citizen vote will give them a plurality. "ARE CAMELS REALLY DIFFERENT FROM OTHER CIGARETTES?"...a question of interest to every smoker

"I've never been very fussy about cigarettes myself. Do you think that Camels are really as different as some people say, Bill?"

"You bet they are different, John! A fellow in any work as hard as selling has to figure a lot of angles on his smoking, such as how it agrees with him. And just notice how many salesmen smoke Camels. I changed to Camels—smoked 'em steadily—and I found a distinct difference in the way I enjoyed all-day smoking and in the way I felt. Camels agree with me!"

"YES!" says H. W. DALY, rayon salesman, and millions of other steadysmokers too. And that explains why Camels are the largest-selling cigarette in America!

MARITA'S PLANNING a grand feed. "We enjoy entertaining," Marita says. "I like to have plenty of Camels at the table. Camels cheer up one's digestion."

ON WEEK-ENDS, Bill goes in for photography. On week days he "pounds the streets." "I get tired," he says, "but when my energy fails I get a 'lift' with a Camel."

A KISS FROM MARITA (Mrs. Daly) and Bill is off to his work in the city. The Dalys agree about most things. Among them, Camels. Mrs. Daly smoked them first, noticed a difference. "Now we find Camels agree better with both of us," she says.

A FRIEND DROPS IN (above) to see Bill's model sloop. Daly passes the Camels and answers a natural question. "That all-cigarettes-are-alike talk doesn't square with my experience. Believe me, steady smoking is the test that shows Camels in a class by themselves. They don't make my nerves edgy."

Yearlings Humble Tech Picadors 28-21 at Lubbock

In a rough and tumble basketball game the West Texas frosh cagers grappled the undefeated Texas Tech Picadors to a 28-21, Tuesday night in Lubbock.

The game was only a few seconds old when Earl Stagner, West Texas guard, looped a goal from the field in the only clean play of the fray. The Picadors swarmed over the frosh throughout the remainder of the game, using every hold known to cope with the superior height of the West Texans. That this type of play ultimately had its result was evidenced when the Frosh were able to make but two field goals in the last half. They were especially ineffective under their own basket as tip-ins, usually their strong suit, went awry. Fouling was frequent and numerous substitutions poured in the game for both teams.

Wiggins, Johnson, and Nippert, all of West Texas, tied for high point honors with seven points each.

Tonight the frosh gird themselves for another engagement with the same club. The game is scheduled to start immediately following the Buffalo-Hardin-Simmons game.

Buffaloes Add Two Wins Against St. Mary's Rattlers

Victory bells chimed again as the West Texas State Buffaloes routed the St. Mary's Rattlers 38-33 and 59-27 in San Antonio Tuesday and Wednesday. These wins marked the fourteenth and fifteenth straight victories for the locals.

In the opener, Captain Conway Butler went on a scoring spree to chalk up 13 points to win scoring honors for the Buffs. Raymond Shackelford, center, was limited to three points by the plucky Rattlers. Gonzales, St. Mary's ace forward, grabbed first honors with 17 points.

On the closing night, the Baggettmen threw the shutter wide-open to count from all parts of the floor. Wee Ernest Schur stood out with 15 points as he raced through the rugged Rattler defense for numerous crimps. Butler's close guarding of Gonzales was a strong factor in the Buffaloes' showing.

Wrestlers and Boxers Are Defeated In Opener at Roswell

In opening their season in Roswell, N. M., Friday night, the West Texas State wrestling and boxing teams were defeated by N. M. M. I. 21-11 and 5-3 respectively.

The highlight of the meet was Dalbert Barron's win over Cadet Koury in the heavyweight boxing division.

Ray Cox and Jim Foust, Amarillo Golden Gloves winners two weeks ago, lost by decision. Chick Neilson won in the 165 pound boxing class, and Royce Barron victored in the 155 pound division.

Carey Wins Region 1 Basketball Tourney

Carey's Chirping Cardinals, defending state high school champions, depended on a third quarter scoring spree to annex a 39-33 win over the Pampa Harvesters in the finals of the Region One Basketball race here Saturday night.

The Cardinals' win gave them their third Region One title in as many years. They will participate in the State Tournament at Austin next week.

Trailing 17-16 at half-time, Forward Conner and Center Middleton

Dickson, 125; and James Hill, 135.

West Texas winners in wrestling were Floyd Murry, 145, Monroe Horton 165, and Blake Lyde 175. Leon Williams was defeated by Cadet Allison in the unlimited division. Glenn Allen, 124, Bill French, 135, and Jack Jennings, 155, lost by decision.

The next meet for the matmen will be at the Southwestern Boxing and Wrestling Tournament in Roswell March 11-12.

of Carey supplied the scoring punch that gave the victors a 33-28 lead at the end of the third quarter. Pampa forwards, Claude Heiskell and Andis, took matters over at the outset of the last chapter. With five minutes to play, they had closed the gap to 35-33. From this point the dexterous ball-handling of the defending champions came through in the pinch.

An all-regional team selected by an appointed committee placed Middleton and Anderson of Carey at forwards; Cox, Pampa, at center; Dunaway, Pampa, and Thompson, Abernathy at guards. Captain Middleton of the Carey crew was voted the most valuable man in the meet.

Abernathy's Antelopes were the first to leave the tourney on losses to Pampa, 25-23, and Carey 45-33. Canyon captured their opener from Carey 31-25, but lost to Pampa, 35-28, and Carey 46-42.

Referees for the tournament were Davis Hill, White Deer, and Frank Van Noy, Plemmons.

Thunder from the Herd

By Glyn Riley

Hellen Hickman, official scorekeeper, chanted '16-11 favoring Amarillo' as one score and ten exhausted hoopsters called it "quits" in the much heralded W. T. Faculty-Amarillo Business men cage fracas, Wednesday.

Apparently, the Brainsters expected the worst from the brawny visitors. (Just look at Mason King, Cal Farley, and Dave Chapman) for they brought along their club physician, Dr. Hinkle, and his two nurses. In a confidential interview with him, he seemed to think: "There haven't been enough casualties. Business is Poor." (There was only one serious mishap—that person accidentally swallowed one of Dr. Hinkle's Pills.)

At random, these statements were picked up:

Dr. Cook: "I don't ever touch liquor." (At least, he didn't when he was offered the jug).

Dr. Hill, referee par excellence: "This game is to be played strictly according to the rules governing the game of BASKETBALL." (The players must have thought he said FOOTBALL).

Hellen Hickman, cherubic recorder: "Mr. Referee, those Amarillo business men are failing to report to me. I'm just marking down foul after foul against them." (I think she wore out three pencils marking down the fouls that our cohorts failed to get).

Word pictures of some of the Scramble's standouts.

Mitchell Jones—smoothest.

Ford Fronabarger—grandstandiest.

Howard Golden—daintiest.

Leon Lassers—shyest.

Dutch Mantell—cutest.

Hats off to Mrs. Tony Dougal, pep squad sponsor, who conceived and directed the plans for this novel bit of entertainment. The pep squad should strive to make such a meeting an annual get-together.

High School Cagers To Receive Awards

Eight W. T. High School Calves are eligible for letters in basketball, according to an announcement made last Wednesday by Coach L. T. Barksdale.

Boys seeing enough action during the last season to receive service numerals include Captain Douglas Groom, two years; A. G. Thornton, two years; Leon Smith, two years; Ballard Graves, one year; Glen Milner, one year; Tommy Tomlinson, one year; Walton Jones, one year; and Norvil Jones, one year.

Groom, Thornton, N. Jones, and W. Jones hung up their red and blue basketball togs for the last time this week, while the other four lettermen will be back next season.

The W. T. High School cagers were victorious in five out of their eight games played this season for an average of 62.5. They piled up 234 points to their opponents' 184.

Prof. F. E. Savage, director of the Demonstration school of West Texas State, visited the schools of Quanah and Hardeman county last week.

Visit Allen & Blacks to look for new spring styles. It is no trouble to show you.
