BUFFALOES LOSE TO SIMMONS
COWBOYS IN ANNUAL TILT;
A MUD BATTLE TO THE ENDBURTON'S MEN DISPLAY RARE
FORM FOR EARLY SEASON.

Playing what has been termed the annual grudge battle in a sea of mud and water, the West Texas Buffaloes lost to the Cowboys of Simmons University, Abilene, in the first game of the current season at Buffalo park by a narrow margin of 6-0, Friday night, Sept. 23rd.

The game was slowed somewhat by the steady drizzle of rain that continued throughout the evening.

The two teams were about evenly matched, although the Simmons crew was just a little lighter than the heavy Bison. The weight and strength of the Buffs was offset by the Cowboys through the work of a fast and tricky backfield.

Simmons kicked off, the Buffaloes taking the ball where most of the first quarter of the game was played in the center of the gridiron. As the game progressed and the ball and players became wetter and muddier, the contest developed into a punters duel between Phillips, W. T. halfback, and Pee, Simmons fullback. Both men placed most of their kicks between forty and sixty yards. One of the highlights of the game was Phillips' punt for sixty yards which rolled out of bounds on the two yard line.

The lone score of the game came in the early part of the second quarter when, after a series of fake and trick plays started in the first quarter, Pee, Simmons fullback plunged over the goal line. Try for extra point was blocked.

Only once during the game did the Buffaloes start an offensive drive that looked as if they would score. The drive was halted on the twenty yard line when a bad pass from center, and a wet ball, caused a fumble that resulted in the ball going to the Cowboys who punted to safer territory.

Williams, Buffalo fullback, and Pee, Cowboy fullback were by far (Continued on last page)

Dr. Hill Heads
Banquet Program,
Amarillo Kiwanis

President and Mrs. J. A. Hill last week attended the "Good Will Banquet" given annually by the Amarillo Kiwanis Club at the opening of the Tri-State Fair. Dr. Hill was the main speaker of the occasion. He addressed the group on the importance of the Tri-State Fair as a cultivator of good will and community cooperation.

The banquet was attended by all the demonstration agents of the county in this area and the officials of the fair.

Institute Held
Here For Profs
September 1, 2, 3

Fifteen counties in the Panhandle were represented at the West Texas Teachers Institute and Association held here under the direction of F. E. Savage on September 1st, 2nd, and 3rd. The total registration of the Institute was over two hundred. The attendance, however, totaled something over five hundred as there were many who did not officially register.

Important speakers on the program of the Institute included Josh Lee, University of Oklahoma; Dr. W. A. Evans, Texas Technological College; Dr. J. R. Grant, President of Ouchita College, Arkadelphia, Arkansas; Ima L. Kuykendall, Fort Worth Public Schools; Congressman Marvin Jones, Amarillo; and Mrs. J. E. Griggs, Amarillo.

Many superintendents from over the Panhandle took part on the program. Those giving addresses on the last day of the institute were: I. H. Turney of Claude; C. H. Dillehay of Hereford; G. C. Boswell of McLean; I. B. Carruth of Canyon; and W. H. Younger of Tulsa.

Mr. Savage states that despite the competition of hard times, this year's Institute was one of the most successful ever held at W. T. S. T. C.

L. N. George is teaching at W. T. S. T. C. this year.

Museum Building
Work Slowed
Up By Rains

Although slowed up considerably by continued rains, the work on the new Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum building is now well under way with the foundation completed and forms for the basement walls ready to receive concrete.

The building contract for the museum is held by the Frank Lytle Construction Company of Amarillo. Actual construction work is under the supervision of Mr. Dovie Coffey, a former resident of Canyon.

Considerable delay was undergone during the first week of the excavation of the basement when a peculiar soil formation was unexpectedly dug into. At one end of the excavation suitable sub-soil was found at the required depth for the safe construction of a foundation, while at the other end at the same depth was found a stratum of "blowy" sand. This made it necessary for the contractors to have the excavation made deeper and the foundation pillars sunk several feet in order to find a uniform clay foundation soil.

It is expected that the construction of the building will be so well underway by the time cold weather arrives, workmen can carry on inside work without hindrance from external climatic conditions.

Mr. Coffey announces that the museum should be completed by the latter part of January, barring unexpected delays.

Twenty-Five Boys
Find Employment
On College Farm

Twenty-five boys, all attending W. T., are employed this year by the College Farm, located on the site of the old T-Anchor Ranch. These young men, under the supervision of Professor T. M. Moore, of the department of agriculture, do all the work on the farm. The farm, purchased a few years ago by the College, is maintained as a laboratory for the department.

A second story is being added to the dairy house which will provide living quarters for six of the boys. The other boys live in the three houses the farm affords.

College Nurse
Announces Open
Hours at Infirmary

Miss Helen Hickman, college nurse replacing Mrs. Henrietta Scott, has asked that students be informed concerning the hours during which she will be available at the College Infirmary. Miss Hickman is anxious to become acquainted with the student body as quickly as possible.

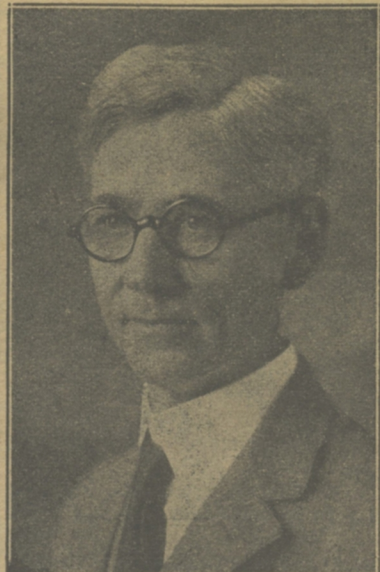

The Infirmary will be open in the forenoon from 8:30 until 11:00 and afternoons from 1:00 until 3:00. Miss Hickman also stresses the importance of students reporting for medical treatment at first indications of illness.

Ducoe (Duke) Owens, a former student of W. T., is now manager of El Tovar Hotel at Grand Canyon Arizona.

Newton Crane, teacher of Plemmons, was on the campus Friday.

All students interested in work on The Prairie for the year 1932-33 are requested to meet at the Publications office, Room 114, Thursday, Sept. 29, at 11 a. m. Staff members are especially urged to be present.

Various Changes
In Faculty; Many
Back From Leave

With the beginning of the winter's school work W. T. finds in its halls many faculty members totally unknown to the student body and many who are unknown to some of the students because of leave of absence during the last term.

Among the new professors special mention should be made of Dr. Ford Fronabarger, new head of the English department, who takes the place of Dr. F. M. Darnall, now at N. T. S. T. C., at Denton. Dr. Fronabarger comes from the teachers college at Denton where he was head of the English department. He is in fact returning to W. T., since he was head of the Education and English departments respectively at W. T. in 1922.

The English department has another new member, Professor C. H. Thurman, who is taking Miss Wiley's place while she is away on leave of absence. Mr. Thurman is a graduate of N. T. S. T. C. at Denton and has an M. A. degree from Southern Methodist University. He was formerly Superintendent of Schools at Trinidad, Texas, and teacher of English at Denton.

Miss Gladys Williams comes from Denton to take the place of Miss Elva Fronabarger in the primary department of the Training School. Miss Williams has a B. A. degree from the University of Chicago and her M. A. degree from the Teachers College, Columbia University. Miss Williams has taught in the schools of Joplin and Springfield, Missouri.

Rosalie Leslie Wins
Favor With Studes
As Assistant Dean

W. T. is fortunate this fall in having on its administrative staff a visiting faculty member, Miss Rosalie Leslie of Eastland, who will act in the capacity of Assistant Dean of Women.

Miss Leslie is a graduate of the University of Texas and has her Master's degree from Columbia University, New York. She has majored in history and has selected her elective subjects in order to prepare herself for the duties of a dean.

Coming to W. T. to gain experience necessary in her type of work, Miss Leslie has been made assistant to Mrs. Green. She chose W. T. after considering several colleges in Texas.

Living at Randall Hall, she pays board and room exactly as any other occupant, and participates in the activities of the college girls. Later in the year she expects to live at Cousins Hall. The girls will profit from her companionship very much for she is an experienced camp counselor and is said to have the faculty of meeting college students as one of them, giving freely of her experience.

Mike Hunt, M. A., '32, is teaching at Mt. Dora, New Mexico. Erma Campbell, '32, is also teaching in New Mexico, having been elected Sept. 5 to a place in the Aztec schools. Travis Shaw, '29, is also teaching there.

Cleveland Jones, '29, is teaching this year in the Canyon public schools. Jones taught last year in Dana College, Nebraska.

TO NEW STUDENTS AND OLD:

We stand today at the opening of the twenty-third year in the life of the West Texas State Teachers College. The institution of which each of us is now a part and from which each should this year receive a larger life was conceived in the doctrine that education, in its truest and best sense, is the greatest liberator of man and the most dependable safeguard to the state. It has been born of the belief that a good teacher is the nation's greatest servant and that schools go forward in the proportion that their teachers are skillful and worthy of emulation. It has been nurtured through these twenty-two years by singular devotion to its inheritance and to the best ideals of personal example and public service.

Sons and daughters of Texas and the nation to the number of fifteen thousand or more have tarried here to sip her life-giving waters. Most of them are out yonder on the field of action giving their strength to the cause of education and the cause of righteousness. As soldiers in the crusade for better citizenship through education they look back to our campus as a strategic and competent recruiting station. To them the grounds we tread today have been made sacred by their own triumphs over their own worst selves. Having won here a new freedom through the conquest of knowledge and the investment of their best selves they pray for our triumphs too. The eyes of fifteen thousand Exes are upon us.

The first step toward victory consists in an easy and complete assimilation of the institution's spirit. You are invited to work hard, be honest with yourself and others, master your weaknesses whatever they are, and enter wholeheartedly into student activities. It will pay you to know well the individual members of the faculty and to use liberally the library and laboratories of the institution. Remember that others are making possible every privilege that you enjoy and that you owe it to them to invest wisely every resource that you possess. There is neither time nor place for horribling or cultivating littleness of spirit, or selfish design. We welcome you to wonderful opportunities for the larger life. In their proper use we shall all be happy together.

Duflet Addresses
Floydada Teachers
On Tax Reductions

Speaking before the Teachers Institute last week at Floydada, Mr. J. L. Duflet, of the sociology department very pointedly laid bare the false doctrines of tax reductions that are being preached throughout the state.

Mr. Duflet, who was acting in the place of Dr. Hill on the program attempted to show to the teachers at the Floyd County Institute that citizens get more value received for tax money than any other investment that can be made. Consequently the drastic reductions that are being proposed by certain legislators would be malefactorial to the tax-payer himself.

Mr. Duflet deplored the fact that people have allowed the apostles of tax reduction to become their idols, and are jumping to conclusions concerning governmental politics without sufficient evidence. Especially did he criticize the growing sentiment in regard to limiting the efficiency of the public schools.

"The goose that lays the golden egg of prosperity," said Mr. Duflet, "is not the industrial, banking or commercial systems but the educational systems; and when that is impaired or destroyed we are headed for another dark age."

Civic Music Ass'n.
Amarillo, Invites Canyon To Join

Those people of Canyon and students in the College who have manifested an interest in music were last week invited to identify themselves with the Civic Music Association of Amarillo, a membership group newly organized in that city.

The Civic Music Association has been in existence for eleven years, having as its place of birth and present stronghold the Great Lakes area. During the last few years it has expanded and is now supplying the outlying districts over America with the best artists obtainable.

Dr. R. L. Rogers is president of the Amarillo association. Other Amarillo citizens actively supporting the move to bring good music to Amarillo includes Mrs. Mae Peterson Thompson, Judge James Otis Trulove, Dr. R. Thompson, Mrs. Henry Gooch, Mrs. S. E. Fish, Mrs. Margaret K. Woodruff, Mrs. J. O. Trulove, H. E. Fuqua, and H. A. Shaw. A membership of one thousand was hoped for.

Bill Anderson, Tulsa coach, spent the week end in Canyon.

W. T. Faculty Men
Judge Tri-State
Fair Activities

During the Tri-State Fair, held last week in Amarillo, W. T.'s agriculture department had charge of the poultry and livestock contests.

Mr. Frank R. Phillips, head of the agriculture department, was superintendent of the live-stock judging contest which was participated in by high school boys taking vocational agriculture.

Mr. T. M. Moore, also of the agriculture department, for the third consecutive year was superintendent of the poultry judging contests. In this contest Mr. Moore awarded first prize, a fifty dollar loving cup, to McLean High School.

The intensive work that the agriculture department has done in encouraging agricultural and 4-H club work in the Panhandle is rewarded by such demonstrations as were given this year at the Tri-State Fair.

Dean of Women
Returns From Trip
Of Interest East

After completing a trip of nearly five thousand miles in length, which included a visit to the old home place in West Virginia, Mrs. Geraldine Green returned to Canyon last week to assume her regular duties as Dean of Women. Mrs. Green took advantage of the time between terms to visit her mother, Mrs. Eva G. Robinson, who lives in West Virginia.

Nell Green, who spent the summer with her grandmother, returned with Mrs. Green to take up work as a pupil in the Training School.

On the return trip from the east, Dean Green stopped in Cincinnati, Ohio, and visited in the home of Rev. Gordon Lang. Rev. Lang, until recently, was a resident of Canyon; Mrs. Lang at the time of her death in 1927 was head of the English Department.

From Cincinnati the Greens were accompanied by Martha Nell Lang, who will be in school in W. T. this fall.

Cyril Lane, as driver for Mrs. Green, shared in the pleasures of the trip. Lane, who is a W. T. student, has accompanied Mrs. Green on several trips in the east.

Winston Savage, ex-student of W. T., visited his home last week-end. Savage is teaching this year in the Woodrow Wilson ward school at Pampa.

Odus Mitchell, W. T. ex, at present coach at Pampa High School, visited on the campus last week.

ENROLLMENT PROMISES TO SHOW SLIGHT INCREASE
OVER THAT OF LAST YEARP. P. H. S. Gets Collection From
Mrs. J. H. Cator

A valuable addition was added to the collection of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society last week, the material coming from Mrs. James H. Cator of Hansford County, Texas. Mrs. Cator sent for deposit in the museum a number of valuable relics and papers belonging to her illustrious husband, the late Jim Cator, who was one of the first settlers in the north plains country.

The collection consists of two guns, a big "40" buffalo gun and a saddle carbine, cartridge belt, bullet molds, powder cans, cap boxes, and a chest of valuable private letters and records. Jim Cator came to America and the Panhandle of Texas from England in 1871. For many years he was a buffalo hunter on the north plains, having among his personal acquaintances such men as Buffalo Bill, Billy Dixon, and other famous frontier characters. From about 1885 until his death in 1927, Jim Cator was a cattleman near Spearman in Hansford County.

Mrs. Cator, who still lives in the old ranch house, is also a native of England, and it is through her generosity that the museum receives this valuable loan of materials.

The buffalo gun which is in the Cator collection is said to be responsible for the killing of over 16,000 buffaloes.

W. T. Instructor
Speaks on Mexico
To Amarillo Group

On September 9, Miss Agnes Charlton, instructor of Spanish in the college, spoke to the Travel Club in Amarillo. This was the first meeting of the year for the club.

The subject of Miss Charlton's talk was "Mexico"; which was based on her trips there. In her talk, she spoke of the most interesting places she visited.

She began her talk by telling of the idea one gets of Mexico when one first enters it. She described the country, the houses, and the people. In Mexico City, she visited the most interesting places of the city, such as the churches, monasteries, market places, the president's palace at Chapultepec, and the floating gardens of Xochimilco. She also visited the international summer school and Cuernavaca where Hernando Cortez made his residence and lived on the grant of land he received after he became a nobleman.

One of the most unique places of the trip was the pyramids of San Juan Teotihuacan. The pyramids of Mexico are comparable to those of Egypt, she said. The largest one, known as the Sun, is not built entirely of stone, but of a mixture of both stone and stucco. Unlike those pyramids of Egypt, these are not used for burial places. In former times a temple was erected on the pinnacle.

In addition to her talk, Miss Charlton showed pictures, post card views, and stereoscopic views of the scenes in and around Mexico City visited during her trip.

Leola Hayes began teaching in the high school at Farwell on September 5. Guy Tabor, '29, is superintendent there, and Wanda Cain, Bob Clark, and Mrs. Tabor are the other W. T. Exes in the system.

Elizabeth Ford was elected September 5 to a position in the Fritch public school. E. B. Dulaney, a former W. T. student, is superintendent there.

NOTICE

Registrar D. A. Shirley requests all students who expect to graduate either at completion of the Spring quarter or Summer term to file their application for degree in the office of the Registrar on Thursday, Friday, or Saturday of this week.

The West Texas State Teachers College, for the twenty-third time since its opening in 1910, opened its doors to the youth of the Texas Panhandle and the great southwest, September 21, with Wednesday and Thursday given over to Freshmen registration. Upper-classmen were enrolled Friday and Saturday, enrollment extending over until Monday.

Enrollment has been delayed by consistent rainy weather making roads difficult and in some instances impassible. It is probable that students thus detained will arrive daily during the first part of this week.

According to Dr. J. A. Hill, president of the institution, the coming year promises to be one of the most successful, from the standpoint of achievement, in the history of the College. "Everyone here," said President Hill, "means business. Those people attending college this year have a purpose in mind. They are not present for the pleasures of idleness but for lasting benefits to be obtained. I am indeed pleased with the prospects."

The latest figures available at the Registrar's office show that 680 students have turned in information cards for entrance to the College. 140 have done likewise in the College training school. Definite figures on entrances at the Secretary's office have not yet been compiled. A conservative estimate places the number slightly ahead of the enrollment of last year.

German Student
Gives Recital at Methodist Church

Lary Fischer, German student in the U. S., appeared in recital at the Methodist church Sunday night, giving several numbers on the organ and a fifteen minute lecture on economic and social conditions in Germany and Russia.

Mr. Fischer is now on tour of the western states where he hopes to gain much information about this country. His only compensation for his public appearances consists of a free-of-charge. In this manner his expenses are paid.

A student at Washington University, St. Louis, Mo., Fischer came to this country as one of five German exchange students from the University of Leipzig. He has been in the U. S. since February.

His program included a large variety of organ numbers. Several W. T. students appeared in vocal and piano renditions. The church was decorated especially for the occasion by Miss Mattie Mae Swisher assisted in the the arrangements by Mr. Fischer.

Conference Is Planned By Wesley
Foundation

At a recent committee meeting called by Dr. J. M. Culbreth at Lubbock, a regular Wesley Student Association Conference for the Northwest Texas section was planned, according to an announcement by Miss Mattie Mae Swisher, student secretary of the Methodist Students Union. The conference will be held October 21 to 23 inclusive, with the Texas Technological College chapter of the Wesley foundation as hosts.

Dr. Culbreth, who comes from Nashville, is a director of the Wesley Foundation of the Methodist church, that board of education which has to do with work in the schools and colleges. At the meeting in Lubbock Miss Swisher was elected a member of the Council of State Officers.

The W. T. delegation to the conference will be composed of forty students. The registration fee will be $1 and the students will be entertained by the Tech chapter for room and breakfast, and will provide two lunches for themselves.

Prof. S. H. Condron of Lubbock has been chosen to lead the open forums which will be a votional.

OBJECTIVES GIVEN FOR GUIDANCE OF PRAIRIE READERS

All enterprises,—both individual and collective—when setting forth upon a career have found it advantageous to determine certain ends or goals toward which its activities must be bent. It is quite conspicuously the intelligent thing to do, bearing in mind, however, that "the grasp must ever exceed the reach, else what's a Heaven for."

Thus it is that The Prairie, a student enterprise, finds itself face to face with the task of defining its purpose, or stating its objectives, or, after the manner of good politicians, simply making promises for the scholastic year, 1932-33. Have it as you wish. More important to The Prairie's budding journalists is the day of judgment, the day when the students and faculty of W. T. decide the degree of our success or failure.

So for two reasons the objectives of YOUR publication are to be put down in black and white: you will know what to expect of its earnest helmsmen, hence eliminating alibis as nearly as possible; and to serve as a persistent reminder to the editor and staff that they are not merely dabbling in words but editing an organ of student life that must be both influential and beneficial.

It will be the policy of The Prairie to promote the interests of W. T. S. T. C. by utmost cooperation with the administration and officials of that institution, favoring at all times group welfare in preference to individual.

The Prairie will attempt to place sports upon the same level of prestige, in comparison to other activities, that they enjoy in similar institutions throughout America.

The Prairie will accentuate the importance of sense-perception in the fine arts and will devote more time and space to treating such in an interesting, skillful, and understandable manner.

The Prairie will, to such extent as is offensive to neither good taste or common sense, encourage the growth and development of individuals in originality and in the choice of a style of writing suitable to the personality and the intellect. It will also strive to provide experience of practical value to its reporters and staff, believing that a journalistic career-in-mind is the stimulant first inspiring participation in the publishing of the college paper.

Last, but by no means the most obscure, The Prairie intends to be a livid, wide awake organism, interesting in as many phases as is humanly possible to as many as is humanly probable. Criticism is invited. Suggestions are welcomed. It is your voice. The editor and staff automatically become your servants upon acceptance of their post. If they speak the words of a rank outsider or a Simple Simon it is not only your privilege, but your duty to offer a remedy!

SIDE ISSUES

It is as yet too early to tell how active the various Campus organizations and activities are going to be. But, even at this time, we predict a lively interest—providing their cost is kept at a minimum amounting to no more than a thin dime per quarter. Without a doubt they will prove popular if they find a means of providing both intellectual stimuli and amusement for the students at practically no outlay of precious funds.

If any arrangements have been made for pep organizations, they exist unbeknownst to us. The Pi Omegas will probably function in their customary faithful manner, adding no little attraction to the bizarre affects given out by an early football audience. The girls strive not only for pep but for beauty, a Zeigfeldian effort which we proclaim as being admirable. And it should be cheering to the rugged Goliaths of the Arena. Just show me a man who doesn't exert himself in showing off before a pretty girl and we'll show you a man who is blind and also without ambition or spirit!

The Red Men, the most temperamental group on the Campus, is indeed an extraordinary study in the funny game of "To be . . . or not to be." We wager, however, that it'll be found in the annual, dead or alive.

Reminding us of rumors afloat that the annual for the forthcoming year is a doubtful quality. That is, there is discussion pro and con as to whether or not a year book is advisable. This department would like to suggest that the student-body be urged to express itself fully on the subject before definite action is taken.

A GIRL SPEAKING

Paris started this thing of vying for beauty many years ago. And since then—as Paris goes, so goes the women, and the Parisiennes have made of the habit an international tradition. The acquisition of beauty has become an obsession. However, I believe that the woman of today possesses more intellectual power than the Goddess Venus—you see, she did little to hide what blemishes she might have had and we spend a good portion of our time, and all our money, to accomplish this. Who was it that said "clothes to the women were feathers for the peacock"?

With the ushering in of autumn we again regain an interest in our PEACOCK FEATHERS, relief from the monotony of summer styles.

Colors will be warm this winter. Luscious reds, lucid blues, and of course, the sophisticated-black again dominates the field. If you are one of the chosen few upon whom the Gods have smiled, and have curls of gold, and eyes of trustin' blue, you might try wearing the soft wine-red. However, my dear, please beware of a more brilliant and flaring shade that announces your presence before you are in sight—it takes the attraction from you to your clothes.

You see, now, to be properly dressed, one should strive to enhance the personality. If you have that particular shade of hair (it has always frightened me and made me quite dubious of the person) that goes under the name of red, please, oh! please, do not wear a shade that will clash. In the first place it causes an uneasiness in persons around you; and in the second place, how can anyone have harmony with a personality when such a battle is waging without?

For the last type—a brunette—the field is open! You will look as lovely in a pastel pink as you do in a vivid red.

By-the-by, have you noticed these chic suits shown for this winter? How anyone can resist at least one of their wardrobe is more than I can comprehend. Short-coats, long-coats, wrap-around, and in any style to suit your particular type. And think how perfectly charming they will look with these new vagabond hats! To look stylishly-slouchy is an art that few individuals have acquired.

We have said farewell (for a while) to the flounces, ruffles, and frills of evening wear. In fact evening dresses must be flowing, and of a severe cut—of course, to be softened by the lines of the body (if any). So if you are planning a new formal dress please use taste . . . brains . . . in selecting it.

Another thing that irks my unusually sweet disposition is a frizzy permanent. The sooner people learn that a permanent is for beauty, and not to disguise an individual as a native of the South Sea Isles, the better off society will be. The hair should be sculptured to the head, and not combed so as to produce a most uncivilized effect. If you are to have a permanent soon, try a loose one . . . just enough to hold the hair in set.

Chic is not a matter altogether of clever dressing . . . it also implies the art of clever conversation . . . to be both well-groomed inside as well as outside. How terrible it would be to ask a ravishing brunette, dressed in the height of fashion, her opinions concerning Oscar Wilde and have her reply that she had never had the pleasure of meeting the gentleman! In the words of Plato: "Education is gymnastics for the mind, and music for the soul."

And that opens the field for another topic—Music. An expression of disregard for classical music, saying that it is boring, strikes me as being a heinous confession.

Of course no moron can understand or appreciate good music since appreciation is based on understanding. But you are not morons!

To admit that one has nothing in common with the great characters of opera and literature merely proclaims that one is either mentally deficient, or that the emotions have been shamefully repressed. . . In great literature and music we see the gamut of human tragedies and joys displayed before our eyes.

It is time that we as individuals educated our souls to the finer sensibilities of life. It is the one thing that distinguishes us from the category of animal life.

WRANGLERS ISSUE ROUND-UP CALL

Yoo-hoo, Co-eds! How would you like to have a rip-roaring good time and learn something interesting and useful all at the same time? Well, here's how!

The Wranglers are now ready to resume wrangling operations. The purpose of this organization is to offer an opportunity for training in scout leadership to girl scouts who wish to continue their work in this line. Also, it affords a chance for scout training for those who have never been scouts but who are interested in becoming scout leaders.

Miss Thelma Brummett, who had charge of the troop last year, will again be the Chief Wrangler. During the past summer, Miss Brummett attended Camp Macey, a national training camp for scout leaders, and served as a councilor at the Girls' Life Camp of Connecticut. Miss Rosalie Leslie, who was Councilor of Archery, Indian Craft and Indian Lore in the Austin District Girl Scout Camp, has offered her assistance in the scout work. Also several members of the faculty have volunteered to help to make this new training course a success.

With everyone working together, the Wranglers should go far. However, "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," so it has been decreed that the Wranglers must also play. And when those Wranglers play, they really play. There will be swimming, archery, overnight hikes, sunrise breakfasts, and general round-ups.

MAXINE MCKINNEY WEDS GORDON McCARTY

Of interest to citizens of the entire Panhandle was the marriage of Maxine McKinney of Pampa to Mr. Gordon McCarty of Canyon which was solemnized at 8:30 o'clock in the First Methodist Church of the city, with the Rev. C. E. James, pastor, officiating. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Will McCarty. Only relatives and intimate friends were witnesses.

The bride chose as her wedding dress a becoming light wool suit of dark brown with accessories to harmonize. She carried a bouquet of sunburst roses.

Mrs. McCarty is the daughter of Mrs. Birdie McKinney of Pampa, one of the pioneer residents of the Panhandle who is well known in this part of the state. She is a graduate of Pampa High School and did her freshman work in college at the College of Industrial Arts, Denton. For the past two years she has been a student in the West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon, working toward a degree in Art.

Mr. McCarty is the son of Mrs. Annie V. McCarty who has been a resident of Canyon since 1920. He has a bachelor of arts degree from the West Texas State Teachers College and a master's degree from the University of Montana. He has also done work at the University of Texas. While in school here he was a member of the Redman society and the Intercollegiate Debate team. Since 1930 he has been in the dry goods business with his brother here.

The couple left immediately following the ceremony for a honeymoon trip to southern Texas. They will be at home after October 31 in Canyon.

Mrs. E. F. Page Receives Honors

Mrs. Elizabeth Fry Page, the charming hostess at the Little House of Fellowship, 408 Seventeenth Street, returned Thursday from a vacation trip to Tennessee covered with honors which were the result of her years devoted to literary work in the art circles of Nashville.

Mrs. Page was signally honored when she was unanimously elected honorary president for life of the Nashville Woman's Press and Authors' club at the first fall meeting of that organization held Tuesday afternoon, September 13, at the Y. W. C. A. tearoom in Nashville.

Mrs. Page was organizer of the Press Club twenty-six years ago and served as president for nineteen years, a record which is unusually brilliant and which gives her an enviable place in the clubs of the state. She was also one of the three organizers of the Tennessee Woman's Press and Authors' club and served as its president for some years.

Mrs. Page has been hostess at the Little House, a student center, which is maintained by the Episcopal church but which is non-denominational in nature, for the past three and one-half years. During that time she has entertained more than 5,000 callers and has opened the Little House to all clubs that wish to use it as a meeting place.

Besides carrying on her activities in the interest of the students, Mrs. Page has managed to continue her writing and is the author of a number of poems which have recently been set to music by the talented Mrs. Charlotte Ingham Word.

Bufs to Meet Oklahoma Aggies Friday Night

Next Friday night, September 30th, at eight p. m., the Panhandle Aggies of Goodwell, Oklahoma, will engage the Buffaloes in a football game at Buffalo Stadium.

The Buffaloes are expected to be in good shape for this tussle with the Aggies crew. The Oklahoma boys lost a hard fought game early in the season to the Badgers of Amarillo Junior College, but are expected to give the Bison a tough battle this week end. Coach Fields of the Aggies has had considerable time to work his team into fine shape for the game.

"The Oklahoma boys are figured a setup, but I'm not taking any chances," said Coach Burton. "One loss is enough for the Buffaloes this season. They will be in there fighting and they will beyond a doubt meet a different team from that which met the Amarillo College squad last week. The Aggies are preparing for us with vengeance."

With the weather man promising excellent football climatic conditions, the game has all the indications of a big drawing card.

There are about twenty men ready for Freshman Football training. Training started the twentieth of September and only two practices were made on account of the weather.

The Freshman team will be organized and ready for games soon. They already have two games matched and will probably have three more this season.

Watch for the schedule later.

GOLFING

By Jimmie Gamewell
College Golf Pro.

This is the first of a series of articles on improving your golf game.

There is nothing darkly mysterious about golf—no sacred secrets which the crack amateurs and professionals know but refuse to divulge to ordinary mortals.

Any person reasonably sound of limb and body and who really desires to learn to play well and is willing to apply himself diligently and patiently to learning the game may be assured of reasonable success. But, do not expect too much in the beginning.

Some persons have more of an athletic aptitude than others and learn more quickly. However, in any event, a game which has endured for more than 400 years, and which has now some three million or more players in the United States must have a lasting and definite appeal.

The keynote of good golf is relaxation; and the very beginning is none too soon to emphasize this fact. The player is asked to bear this always in mind no matter what type of stroke is to be played. The golf stroke is basically a swing or sweep and not a hit. This does not mean that hitting force does not enter; for it does. But, as a basis underlying the hitting there must be the movement of a smooth, rhythmic swing.

Relaxation means cultivating a lazy feeling which removes mental tension. See that the club is not gripped too tightly; otherwise the muscles of the arms and shoulders are not free. Avoid rigidity and cultivate a feeling of comfort.

Call Made to Students of College For Chorus Work

A special call to the men of the college is being made by Wallace R. Clark to enter the men's chorus. Mr. Clark is head of the music department and director of the college orchestra and chorus.

This year special attention is to be given to the organization of a male chorus. Hitherto the chorus has included both men and women. Now it is the plan to have the choruses separate for a part of the time; and during this quarter the choruses will be mainly of segregated voices.

Miss Pauline Brigham is to have charge of the women's chorus. She is anxious to have all the women who are interested in this organization to report at once for work.

Jim Crowder, formerly of W. T., now teaching in Happy, was a spectator at the grid performance here last Friday night.

Ruby Kendrick Cherry, '32, is teaching English in the Junior High School at Clarendon.

the outstanding players of the melee. It seems that these two lads carried the brunt of the the offensive attack for their respective teams.

Joe Fortenberry, tall Bison end, proved to be the outstanding defensive player on the field. Time after time his long arms would reach out and grasp an opponent just as he was about to get loose. Fortenberry also showed ability at breaking up the passes of the opponents. Other players showing up well were Boyd, substitute at left end for the Bufs in the last two quarters, who was adept at stopping plays around his end, and Byron, Simmons quarterback, who showed ability as a signal caller and ball-toter.

One of the attractions of the contest that caused the fourteen hundred fans to stand in the rain for two hours was the snappy method of shifting used by the Abilene lads.

Coach Cranfill's Cowhands led in number of first downs by the count of 5-2. Simmons failed to complete a pass, while West Texas was successful in completing two short passes.

Officials of the game: Kimbrough, Simmons; Honey, T. C. U., and May, Centenary.

Buffaloes End Training Camp With Enrollment

On September 10th, about thirty fighting Buffaloes reported to Coaches Burton and Crump to begin the long grind which must take place before a first-class grid team will represent W. T.

The lettermen reporting, led by Captain Bill McClendon, center, from Clovis, N. M., were George Manning, tackle, from Ralls; Joe Fortenberry, end, from Happy; L. A. Stowe, end, from Lockney; "Cow" Williams, fullback, Canyon; Jack Spence, halfback, Lockney; Otis Burk, quarterback, Ralls; Lawrence Brotherton, halfback, Lockney; and "Al" Duncan, halfback, Pampa. The reserves reporting for the training camp were Winfred Fowler, end, Lockney; Leonard Britt, halfback, Canyon; "Sunshine" Harris, guard, Hereford; Rudolph, halfback, Mobeetie.

Last year's Freshman team produced the following gridsters, who will show the lettermen plenty of competition: Teague, Childress; Lovelace, Farwell; Biffle, Silverton; Boyd, Childress; Stroud, Eldorado, Okla.; Walker, Spearman; Higgins, Hereford; Hazlewood, Canyon; A. Morgan, Comanche, Okla.; F. Morgan, Happy; Phillips, Big Spring; Colvin, Turkey, and Davis, Childress.

Other eligible men reporting were Melton Knowles, a former Buffalo, and Kendrick, a Wayland College graduate.

Practice sessions were held twice daily. The boys dined until enrollment started, at Cousins Hall, where the proper food for athletes was properly and bounteously served.

Miss Thelma Brummett, secretary to the President, has spent an interesting summer visiting and working in a number of girls' camps in the eastern and New England states. Most of her time was spent in New York and Connecticut in Girl Scout Camps. Miss Brummett has been active in Scouting activities in Canyon. Her work this summer was carried on by Ruby Kendrick Cherry, substitute secretary.

Buffalo Gym Gets Overhauling; To Increase Capacity

Improvement work of an extensive nature is nearing completion on Buffalo Gym. The eastern tier of seats have been raised. Showers and dressing rooms have been built beneath.

The latter accommodations will be used by physical education classes and intramural athletes. Insufficient room was heretofore provided, both classes and athletic teams being forced to divide the space. Old showers in the north end of the building will hereafter be used by squadmen only.

Cost of improvements will amount to nearly two thousand dollars.

The seating capacity of the gym will be increased by several hundred. Seats will also be made more comfortable and improved in appearance. The Frany Lytle Construction Co., of Amarillo has the contract.

VISITING NOTABLES

Among the visiting notables attending the Buffalo-Simmons University football game Friday night were Pete Cawthon, Head Coach at Texas Technological College, Lubbock, and his son Pete Jr., who is the Matador mascot; Al Baggett, of Amarillo College; Max Saxor and his assistant from the Texas School of Mines at El Paso; Mr. DeFord of Lowe and Campbell Co. representative from Dallas; and Jerry Mallin, Sport Editor of the Amarillo Daily News.

Supt. E. G. Sanders of LeFors reported during Institute that the LeFors high school has received affiliation in both third and fourth year English during the past two years. He gives much of the credit to Ila Mae Hastings, '30, who is head of the English department. Mr. Sanders, a former student of W. T., says that the LeFors high school can hardly be called more than three years old. Its record is an exceptional one.
