

JUNIOR CLASS EDITION THE PRAIRIE

VOLUME XVI.

CANYON, TEXAS, TUESDAY, APRIL 9, 1935

NUMBER 27

SO, WHAT! by THE INQUISITOR

Something about everything and nothing about anything. A lovely beginning. But we find that several things need a raking over, so-o-o-o what!

We might start on the college dances. They are put on for the benefit of the whole student body and as far as it can be found, everyone who attends them has never gone away saying he or she didn't have a good time. But—good hands such as have been secured for the last two "rubs" cannot be secured without the complete co-operation of the whole dancing body. Let's try to help ourselves by attending en masse. And by the way—THERE IS TO BE ANOTHER DANCE APRIL 27th. THE GIRLS' GYM. 75c and $1.00 AS USUAL.

And another sore spot in the side is the chapel-programs. Recently a checkup was made and it was found that 25 percent of the student body were consistently cutting chapel. Why? Because the programs were no different from the usual lecture in the classroom! Were the programs to be lived up to a bit; participation in them by the students as a whole—perhaps there would be a difference. The half-hour should be one to afford a bit of relaxation between classes, where a student could be entertained and not detained.

Sometime ago there was a movement on foot to put the programs under the control of the student council but as usual it was derailed somewhere along the line. Could this be revived or an adequate substitute introduced? A student will always be interested in other students' endeavors, whether good or bad, whereas an outsider's effort, unless it is outstanding in its entertainment, is of little or no interest.

Word has been passed around by members of both the Junior and Senior class as to whether there should be a Junior-Senior Prom. There really should be. In every school of any size or any importance whatsoever, one of the most important social functions of the year is the Junior-Senior Prom. This event is looked forward to by all participants far ahead of date of its occasion. We are at somewhat a disadvantage here in Canyon in that one must go to Amarillo for an orchestra of any degree of accuracy in its ability to entertain; the expense also, of bringing in a band from Amarillo or somewhere is almost prohibitive. There are several places in Amarillo where such an occasion or celebration may be held with the greatest comfort and enjoyment—even though Cousins Hall and the other scenes of our regular dances are very fine for the scene of such a party. But the expense of the occasion must be considered and to tax each member of either class for enough to adequately present the type of evening's entertainment desired would be a little too strong. Why not arrange to have such a party given at the best location, finances, convenience, and music considered?

How many students in this school realize that when they register and become certified students they are automatically members of a class? From the attendance noted at the various class meetings, one would think that word had been circulated that each meeting was merely a gathering of a select group! Each class holds meetings for the benefit of the whole class. Its entertainments are presented for the entertainment of the whole class.

PERSONALITIES WHO PILOT JUNIORS THROUGH 1934-35

Activities Show Wide Range Of Interests

WILLIE BOEDEKER

Willie Boedeker graduated from Lockney High School in 1932. He entered W. T. as a freshman in 1932 where he has been very active in athletics. As a freshman, he was a valuable member of the freshman basketball team from whence he graduated to the varsity squad in his sophomore year. His work on the varsity is one of excellence, as he is one of the most consistent high scorers of the club and a very valuable man to

Enrollment Not Complete For Last Quarter

Many Teachers Are Returning To School

Although enrollment for the last quarter of the 1934-35 school year is not complete as yet, the figures of the number who have completed different stages of enrollment were available yesterday.

In the registrar's office no definite number could be accounted for, for at the time of the investigation people were still filling out programs. The number of students who had enrolled last quarter was 812.

Fees paid in the business manager's office totaled 725, and the number who had applied for their books in the Book Store was 694. So far these statistics reveal that there has been about a ten percent decrease in enrollment for this nine weeks.

Although a number of the regular students are dropping out, a great many teachers are returning to school the last nine weeks, some because their schools have closed because of insufficient funds, others in order to receive their degrees at the first of June or at the end of the summer session.

Men's Chorus To Participate In State Contest

North Texas State Aggies To Be Hosts On May 3-4

A comparatively little-known, but in nowise an unimportant organization in school, is the Men's Chorus. This aggregation is one of the steadiest, hardest working units in the institution. By persistently working, much has been accomplished that goes un-sung (no pun intended) to the majority of the student body.

Last spring this chorus trekked to Fort Worth to attend a state-wide contest of men's choruses among which were the glee club from the University of Oklahoma, the men's chorus of T. C. U. and many others of comparatively equal rank. The West Texas Chorus out-sung all but one—the University of Oklahoma group, which was a glee club while ours was a chorus. The difference is that a chorus is all who desire to belong and a glee club is a carefully picked group. Placing second to the Oklahoma club, our own chorus also placed second in the whole meet and first in Texas. The prize was a check for seventy-five dollars and many times that amount in advertising for the school.

This year, May 3-4, the chorus again will journey to a state-wide meet, which will be held in Arlington.

Annual Historical Banquet to be Held This Friday Night

The annual banquet and business meeting of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society has been set for April 12. James C. Swift of the Swift and Henry Livestock Commission company, Kansas City, will be the principal speaker on the banquet program.

According to T. D. Hobart of Pampa, Mr. Swift has been identified for many years with cattle and other interests in the southwest, and is especially well known among the cattle men of the Panhandle. "He is a splendid and fluent speaker," says Mr. Hobart. Judge R. W. Hall, chief justice of the court of civil appeals in Amarillo, will be toast master on the banquet.

The business meeting will be held at the Education building in the afternoon, while the banquet will be held at Cousins Hall at 7:30 p. m.

Mrs. John Josey, violinist, will play a solo, and the Beacon Quartet will furnish other entertainment.

L. F. Sheffy, secretary of the Society, states that it will be necessary to make advance reservations with W. L. Vaughan on account of the limited number who may be seated at the banquet.

Dr. J. A. Hill Presents Items To Legislature

Dr. J. A. Hill was in Austin last week working on the appropriation bill for W. T. which will be acted upon at an early date by the legislature.

The summer school bill for this year is now in the conference committee and is expected to be agreed upon before the end of this week. The House passed this bill for the same amount as was allowed last year. The Senate passed the bill so that salaries for the summer might be maintained at the same rate as allowed for the regular session.

The appropriation bill for the two coming years was passed out of both the House and Senate committees in a lump sum, the House allowing a little increase for W. T. over the Senate bill. However, a resolution was passed by the House recommending the bill to the committee and demanding that the bill be itemized as has been the case in past years. Texas is one of only three states in the union which passes its appropriation bills itemized.

Dr. Hill was authorized by the House committee to take the total amount given by the committee and itemize the appropriation as he would direct the money be spent during the coming two years.

The legislature is hoping to adjourn May 7th, and both houses hope to pass all appropriation bills before the end of April.

Juniors Active In I. R. C. Club Here This Year

There's Seth Lindsey, the president. This is Seth's third year to work with this club, and his second year to hold office, as he was secretary and treasurer last year. He's one of our up-and-going workers in this organization.

Willie Boedeker, the secretary and treasurer, is another interested junior. While this is his first year to hold office in the club, it is not the first in which he has taken an interest in this work.

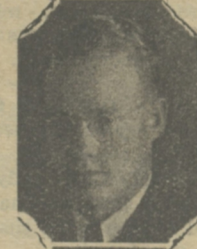

The regional secretaryship of the Texas-New Mexico district was held this past term by Frances Rogers, another junior. If you think keeping up with all the clubs at the meetings and throughout the year is fun, just try it for a while. Mable Hare is reporter for The Prairie. It's due to her writeups that the work done by the local club reaches the press.

Then there's a junior on the program committee, Virginia Roby. This is her second year to work in this place. The last three named were among those who were delegates to the annual meeting of the Texas-New Mexico district held recently at Alpine.

These are just the officers of the club. Active juniors, besides these are Ray Vinyard, Hal Collier, Hester Gates and Betty Hix.

Officials of the Junior Class

Ruth Stapleton is secretary and Miles McGehee is Student Council representative; however their pictures were not available.

FERA's Maintain Higher Average Than Non-FERA's Committee Expresses Appreciation Of Work

After compiling the grades of the entire student body for the first half of the school year, it was found that the grades of FERA students average considerably higher than those of other students. Due to the fact that several FERA workers have resigned, and many have been put on for half time work, the grades of approximately 150 students rather than the original quota of ninety-one were averaged.

Passing grades in credit subjects are as follows: FERA students, 90 A's, 251 B's, 156 C's, 26 D's; non-FERA students, 418 A's, 1282 B's, 1372 C's, 400 D's. On the basis of percentages, 17.2% of the passing grades of FERA students were A's, 48% B's, 29.82% C's, and 4.49% D's. Corresponding percentages of non-FERA students were 12% A's, 36.92% B's, 39.51% C's, and 11.52% D's.

Grades of FERA students for the nine weeks ending March 30 are as follows: 56 A's, 113 B's, 80 C's, 2 D's. This shows a percentage of 21.4% A's, 44% B's, 31.1% C's, and 31% D's.

"For the FERA Committee and for the entire school," states Mr. C. A. Murray, Chairman of the FERA Committee, "I want to express to you FERA students our appreciation and high admiration for your excellent record as good students and conscientious workers. You are making W. T. a better school by the high standards you are maintaining in scholarship, and by the honest service you are giving in your various jobs. Almost every FERA job involves good training in its faithful performance, in addition to giving you an opportunity to earn a part of your school expenses. I am sure this is as the Government would have it. Details of the FERA work here are being reported to Austin and Washington regularly and favorable comments have been received from both places."

Johnston Writes Of His Findings In Oklahoma Section

Professor C. Stuart Johnston of the archaeology department of W. T., has recently had two articles published in professional magazines.

In the American Midland Naturalist, appeared "An Extension in the Range of Fossil Peccaries." The other article, "Two Fossil Grizzly Bears From the Pleistocene of Oklahoma," appeared in the February-March number of the Journal of Geology. This article was written with Professor J. Willis Stovall.

Among other things the last article brought out that during the Pleistocene epoch the climate of Oklahoma was at times considerably colder than at present, and animals of the arctic type were sometimes found.

Library Text Book Display Room Was Of Much Value

During the second Northwest Educational Conference, Miss Tennessee Malone, head of the department of Library Science, directed the displaying of books lent by leading book companies who have books on the state list of approved books.

The display proved of much value to the teachers who visited here who hold positions in regions in which book stores carrying these books are not located.

During the two days of the convention the exhibit was viewed by 700 to 1,000 active teachers and was open to perusal by students and prospective teachers enrolled in the college.

The following is an observation of a teacher of this institution concerning the value of the display:

"The primary teachers hovered around the exhibit like flies around a honey-pot. Here one would be taking down actual items to be incorporated into the library of some yet unmaterialized school as a gift of some beneficent parent-teachers association. There another, with glowing eyes and a bright illustrated child's book, would be saying: 'Oh, look! Did you ever see anything so cunning?' The exhibit, like bread cast on the waters, will return many fold to the book companies who so courteously loaned their books."

Students Train For Life Saving Test To Be Soon

The swimming pool of the college is again the scene of varied activities as the college boys and girls who aspire to be life savers go through the various required activities.

Two college girls, Phyllis Holgate and Helen Gill are reviewing the life saving course under the direction of Walter Hausknecht. They passed the tests last year, but are required to review each year before continuing the work. Jimmie Holston, Wayne Miles, and Ashley Little are college boys who have passed the course and are reviewing, also. Theodore Martin, Shamrock, who is not in school, will be over to review with this group during the next month. Fifteen other boys are up for examination.

The groups are working on endurance, technique, and ease, and will continue this work until the middle of next week when heavy work will begin.

A new spring board has been installed.

Next Lyceum Is Joint Recital To Be Tonight

Admission Is By Activity Ticket

A joint recital of Horace Jones, violinist, and Mark Wessel, composer-pianist, will be in the Administration Building Auditorium tonight at 8:15 o'clock. The two artists are brought here as the regular nine-weeks lyceum feature, and admission will be by student activity ticket.

Both artists have received high honors in America and abroad. Horace Jones has received the highest medal awards of the Royal Academy of Music in London. These were the silver and the bronze medals. Endowed with an unusual talent, Horace Jones has had the advantage of study with some of the most distinguished masters of Europe and America. He has made numerous concert appearances in Europe and America, and for three years held the position of Professor of Violin at the Texas State College for Women, second largest college for women in America, where he demonstrated his talent not only as a performer but also as a teacher with a sincere interest in his art.

Mark Wessel belongs to the most pleasing of the younger pianists, said the Dresden Neuste Nachrichten. He does not make a display of his highly developed ability, does not place himself in the foreground, but will only be a herald of creative genius. Behind the clever and finished virtuoso, those who hear him recognize at once the highly talented musician intent on the inner meaning of the old, and the rich contents of his own music. A feature of Wessel's playing is its strong masculine character.

Kathryn Brown spent last week at her home in Tyler.

LE MIRAGE TO BE IN HANDS OF STUDENTS ABOUT MAY 1st

Deadline For Fees Is Set For April 15

By Bill Pitman

It won't be long now, as the monkey said to the flea. The annual, Le Mirage, will be in your hands to do with as you will in approximately one month. This should be very interesting news to each and every one since by a new method of finances, each student is entitled to receive his or her copy of the said book. For every nine-weeks term one has attended school, they paid an extra dollar with their fees which took

$10,000 BILL PASSED WORK ON CAMPUS

$7,500 FOR COURTS

Governor Yet To Act Upon Bill for the Money

An emergency appropriation for W. T. in the sum of $10,000 was passed by the legislature Tuesday and is now in the hands of the Governor. This money was voted for the purpose of completing Buffalo Courts, completing work on Burton Gymnasium, building the rock wall around the athletic field and completing the repair work in the swimming pool in the Administration Building.

In the bill $7,500 was allowed for the athletic field program, and $2,500 for the swimming pool.

The request for the money was taken to Austin a month ago by Travis Shaw, business manager of W. T. He took pictures of the work now under way at Buffalo Courts, and the need of repairing the swimming pool. The fact that relief work was being used, and would be available for several weeks to come was emphasized in asking this amount for materials on these projects. Senator Clint Small passed the bill through the Senate last week, and Representative H. K. Stanfield sponsored the bill when it came before the House this week.

According to Coach Al Baggett the $7,500 for materials will be sufficient to guarantee the completion of most of the work now underway on the campus, if there is no hitch in the allotment of $10,000 set up for relief labor. The appropriation will buy a sufficient amount of cement and lumber to complete these jobs.

Work on the Recreation Hall, Buffalo Courts, and the rock fences has been underway for some time with relief labor, the materials being furnished from various sources.

It will take about $400 worth of lumber to build the bleachers in Burton Gymnasium over the new hand ball courts which have been under construction since last fall.

President J. A. Hill telephoned Tuesday from Austin expressing great satisfaction that the money would be available when approved by Governor Allred for the completion of the projects. Dr. Hill has been greatly interested in the expansion of the physical education program of W. T. so that it would include all students rather than a select few as is usually the case. The enlarged program, especially the building of a recreational center for the men, was undertaken by Coach Baggett under this plan to enlarge the physical education scope of activity.

Governor Allred was shown the work under way while on his recent visit to the campus, and it is felt sure that he will gladly sign the appropriation bill when it reaches his desk.

care of the annual. If any of the nine-weeks were missed, an annual will still be available by paying one dollar for each term missed to G. L. Stanley, business manager of Le Mirage.

Description

This is just a little description of the yearbook for this year. There will be 200 pages, which consist of 24 pages of snapshots of vital interest to each and every student, page after page of class pictures, clubs, organization pictures, and athletics, and last, but most certainly not least, the Grind Section, 20 pages of cartoons, jokes and what not, for which the editor assumes no (Continued on page two)

SCHOLARSHIP

Our word scholar as defined by Webster means: (1) one who attends school, one who studies under a teacher, or a student; (2) in English Universities an undergraduate belonging to a foundation of a college or one who receives support in part from its revenues, one who holds a scholarship; (3) a learned person, one versed in any branch or in many branches of knowledge, a person of thorough literary or scientific attainments, a savant. The first two attempts at definition are general, loose meanings; the third is the one applied to our use of the word in this discussion. In other words, the scholar is a person who is versed in any branch or in many branches of knowledge, or a person of thorough literary and scientific attainments.

Now scholarship is defined as follows: (1) the character or qualities of a scholar, attainments in science or literature, learning; (2) education, instruction (obsolete); (3) maintenance for a scholar. The first definition, which says that scholarship refers to attainments in science or literature, is the one that we shall use in this discourse. This definition applies to our use of the word in the name of the society—The Scholarship Society—a society of students and teachers associated together to encourage and sponsor high attainment in all fields of learning.

Let us turn from definition to a consideration of some practical purposes of scholarship or of becoming a person of thorough literary or scientific attainments. A great Greek philosopher once gave this as the slogan of education: "Know thyself." How can we know our abilities unless we exert ourselves to the fullest extent? The athlete must do his utmost in order to discover his possible attainments of a physical nature. To do this he must have will power. Phases of his activity will be boring and extremely uninteresting, but he must have vision enough not to demand that each exercise be interesting and thrilling.

But after all, the main activity of a college is not physical or social, though both of these have a prominent place and should have. There is a pleasing modesty associated with the intellectual phase of college life—may I say a desirable dignity. The world still expects the core of the college to be made up of intellectual pursuits and takes it for granted that "studies" are still the larger part of college life, although the band and cheer leaders do not announce the fact.

My plea is that we be honest, that we strive for an excellence, a thoroughness, if you please, in the main project of a college—intellectuality. This does not mean bookishness, for bookishness is never thorough knowledge. Knowledge is not a result of memory alone, but of reflected thought and experience. Let me not seem to disdain books. My love and respect for books will not permit me to run the chance of seeming to disregard their value. The invention of printing and the making of books has stupendously enlarged the mind of modern man. We think from what we see and experience, from what we hear, and from what we read. Man thinking, according to Emerson, is a scholar.

The scholar welcomes the challenge given by studies, not merely the interesting ones, but most of all the uninteresting. The reward of accepting such a challenge is, as a rule, that he discovers no subject is dull when the student is not. Widening of interests is one of the results of scholarly attitudes. I abhor what I dare to call the soft pedagogy of putting upon a teacher the whole responsibility of interest-students. "You may lead a mule to water but you can't make him drink!" you may lead a student to amusement but you can't make him think. If I were a dry goods merchant, I would fire a clerk who could not interest himself in selling each article I had for sale, unless I had special salesmen for each article. You are somewhat responsible for developing your interests, my friends; do not wait for teachers and studies to interest you. Let the teacher's energy be spent in helping you to learn, not in trying to get you interested enough to study.

You will never know yourself intellectually until you exert yourself to the utmost in the use of your mind. The intellectual situation is like the physical in that attainment results from exercise, from drill, sometimes dull drill. Do not take me to say that mind is similar to muscle. I beg you to consider intellectual activity with the same common sense that you use in regard to physical activity. Do not be a physical giant and an intellectual midget—the combination is repulsive; on the other hand, do not be an intellectual power and a physical scarecrow. The physical scarecrows among the scholars have done much harm to scholarship among the youth of America.

I conclude by saying in summary, emulate the worthwhile athlete's attitude toward physical attainment. In other words, exert yourself intellectually to the point where you enjoy "being good" even though you have had to pay for the attainment by much hard and uninteresting work. Welcome difficult studies as the athlete welcomes hard opponents. Find out what you can do with your mind. Be ashamed to strut around with a "T" while "D" is your average in intellectual attainment.

Finally, let us all, students and teachers, while we continue to have a wholesome interest in athletic and social activities, take a serious attitude toward the main project of a college—which is, I repeat, intellectual attainment.—B. F. Fronabarger.

WHITMAN FISH

We find this week that the Co-eds at Northwestern University have formed a Cloister Club. This club is composed of girls whose boy friends are not on the campus. Insignia is a little yellow ribbon pinned on the dress. This protection minimizes embarrassment, it is claimed.

South Plains Love Song
My love, it's only Monday—but how about next Sunday?
May I come over—say half-past two—and spend the sandstorm just with you?

In an informal "bull session" a group of students worked out a singular plan for education. The five points were outlined as follows: 1. Class attendance will not be compulsory. 2. Only one final test will be given. 3. No grading system; either pass or fail. 4. A 25-hour week, five-hour day, and five-day week. 5. One subject will consume all of a student's time until it is completed.—Minnesota Daily.

The first three suggestions are not unusual, as they have been argued many times, but the last two are new and interesting. The last suggestion especially seems better motivated, just at the present time. When the press of finals necessitates a frenzied packing or three or more subjects into one brain, one has a feeling of trying to select a balanced lunch in a cafeteria in five seconds and finally getting hash; which at that may be better than starving, but reason suggests the inexpediency of everlasting compromise.

MISS MOORE HOSTESS TO SENIOR CLASS

Tuesday evening the W. T. High School seniors began their commencement social program with a party at the home of Miss Helen White Moore.

The first part of the evening was spent in playing table games. Inez Miller and Leo Duflot were awarded prizes for making the highest score, while consolation prizes went to Annie Laurie Ewing and Delbert Jones.

The remainder of the evening was spent playing fruit basket turned over, spinning the pand, spelling match, cross questions and crooked answers.

At ten o'clock a dainty refreshment plate was served to each one present. Peggy Roebuck, Ted Clark, Dorothy Richeson, and Ozie Loftis, assisted with the entertaining.

The group left Canyon at seven o'clock, Saturday morning, and spent the entire day in Plainview.

Since Lois Persons is out of school, will Fern be able to take up all of George Wright's time?

Is Winfred Lewis slipping or just losing interest in women. He doesn't seem to be getting around much.

Wayne Greir, the boy from Lockney, seems to be the talk of the town. Wonder where he will light? Could he focus on Stapleton, from the old home town?

Is Hosea big and strong enough to wear that well known pair of big pants that are being prepared for him to don when Joe Boy gets back from his adventures?

Do you think Betty West will have as many chances to get to the next dance as she did the last one? Was it four or five? Gad, whatta woman!

Lucile Cole and Myles McGehee seem to be just drifting along. Not much interest on either side. But Ann told us she really liked Toby—go big, now dearie, cause he's big enough for any gal.

Virginia Line lives much too far away from the campus. It's such a long walk out there.

Wonder if Nell McNeely has added any new names to her list lately?

And Vallie Harrold and Clinton Meek have rekindled the old fire. Where there's smoke there's fire.

If Frances Alice and Bill would only fight or something so there would be something to write about then.

Maurine Spradley, the pride of Hereford, is at last to be commended. She has brought Poe out of his corner. Lots of girls have tried and failed, but look what she's got! Power to you, "Toots"!

LE MIRAGE TO BE YOURS ABOUT MAY 1

responsibility whatsoever, for the persons to waylay on the storm and dark night are Zua Warner, Carroll Killebrew, James Compton, and Myles McGehee. If you have done anything out-of-the-way this year, one of these has surely heard about it; so woe is you!

Lou Ella McDade has had charge of the snapshot section and has done a remarkable piece of work in arranging the pictures taken by Lewis Shirley with his ever-faithful camera and about three dozen rolls of film. Judge Williams, as art editor, has, as usual, waited until the last minute, but has at present, everything in order and has prepared in drawings a complete picture of the history of the school from its beginning to the present time.

The theme for this year's book is to be carried out in silver since this year is the 25th anniversary of the school, thus the silver anniversary. All of the art work, decorations, and such will be in silver. The cover design is to be very elaborate, as it will be deluxe stuffed leatherette. Very nifty!

Fee Deadline

But along with all these nice things there must be a word about the dead-line for payment of space fees. A student will not receive his or her annual until all fees are paid, whether it is class or club and this matter should be attended to immediately as all fees no matter what nature are due now and the dead-line is April 15, which is about one week away. This must be attended to because the final order for the books must be sent in and cannot be sent in without knowing exactly how many annuals to order. Please attend to this matter.

SO WHAT!

joyment of the class as a whole and not a picked few. During the school year, many functions are presented for the enjoyment of the class itself, and the work that is done and the time that is spent in preparation is not spent with the idea of only a few enjoying it. Then too, the business of the class is not, and is not desired to be, conducted by a small group. One of the things that is supposed to be taught in schools is how to conduct oneself in business meetings and how to co-operate with the group in putting across an idea. Such is not the case, it appears, taking the class meeting attendance record as an example. Aren't students interested? Perhaps not. Perhaps one only comes to school to attend a few classes. No association with one's fellow classmates is desired? Well, if that is satisfactory to the majority so be it—but it surely looks disgustingly inadequate.

Now that some of the pet issues confronting a few of us have been presented from one viewpoint, it is your privilege to shout "so what," so shout it. Or do something to improve the conditions mentioned above if they seem to you to be suggestions of improvement.

PERSONALITIES WHO PILOT JUNIORS

a varsity membership until he unfortunately broke his shoulder which put him out of action for the remainder of the season. In the fall of 1934, he was elected president of the Junior class by a unanimous vote of the class. This year also, he was a participant in football, making a letter on the varsity. R. M. is a biology major and at the present time is a student assistant in Biology. A very valuable member both of the class and of the institution.

RUTH STAPLETON

Ruth Stapleton, secretary of the Junior class is from Lockney. She is a graduate of Lockney High School, graduating in 1928. All her college work has been done in West Texas, since her entrance in the fall term of 1928. She entered in 1928 as a freshman and attended school for one year. She did not return until the mid-term of the 1933-34 session and from that time, she has attended W. T.

Miss Stapleton has been very active in student and college activity, as she is an active member of the Dramatic Club, Panhandle Players and the Pi Omega. Her major is speech. Her interest in Junior class activities and work as secretary are deserving of great commendation.

Seth Lindsey became a W. T. S. T. C. freshman in the fall of 1932, having graduated from Wellington high school that spring. As a sophomore, he was a member of Panhandle Players Club and Dramatic Club. As a junior he is affiliated with the Dramatic Club, Panhandle Players, International Relations Club, is secretary-treasurer and honor member of Epsilon Beta and vice president of the Junior class of '34-35.

All those who know Seth admire him for his pronounced ability in everything he attempts. His dependable nature, steadiness of purpose and depth of character, coupled with an unassuming friendship for those with whom he comes in contact, mark Seth Lindsey as one of the best liked men on the campus. His unselfish expenditure of time and talent for any worthy cause renders him invaluable to those organizations of which he is a member. West Texas State Teachers College needs men like him.

MRS. J. A. HILL ENTERTAINS COLLEGE DAMES FRIDAY

Members of the College Dames Club were entertained at the home of Mrs. J. A. Hill Friday afternoon. The program was dedicated to Joe Hill, Jr., son of the hostess, who is returning soon with the Byrd Expedition from the Antarctica. The program was made up of songs, readings and a very interesting talk by Mrs. Hill.

Refreshments of punch, cakes and mints were served to Mrs. Ida Barlow, Mrs. Jack Carr, Mrs. C. E. Collins, Mrs. R. A. Cook, Mrs. W. M. Davis, Mrs. A. E. Douglas, Mrs. I. F. SoRelle, Mrs. E. Dutton, Mrs. H. A. Finch, Mrs. Ada Orton, Mrs. H. J. Kine, Mrs. R. W. Scales, Mrs. F. M. Munson, Mrs. J. W. Gordon, Mrs. W. C. Murphy, Mrs. A. B. Reese, Mrs. T. S. Stephenson, Mrs. C. Shuman, Mrs. C. Hodges, Mrs. Agnes Smith, Miss Florence McMurry, Miss M. Moss Richardson and the hostess, Mrs. Hill.

SHELTON-BARNHILL WED IN PRETTY HOME SERVICE

An impressive home service on March 23, at noon united in marriage Miss Margaret Shelton and Frank Barnhill, both of Plainview. The ring ceremony was read by Rev. J. Pat Horton, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

The groom attended West Texas State Teachers College as a Freshman in 1932-33, and since then has attended Texas Tech at Lubbock.

The young couple will make their home at 700 West Eleventh Street, Plainview, where he is associated with the Barnhill Construction Company.

Miss Allyne McIntosh spent the week-end with Miss Margaret Beck at her home in Pampa.

DOROTHY MCKENZIE AND H. W. DAY WED

Miss Dorothy McKenzie, who during her attendance at W. T. was a leader in various student clubs, became the bride of H. W. Day, Thursday evening, March 21, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. McKenzie, of Miami. The ceremony was read by Rev. Joe E. Boyd, pastor of the Methodist Church of which the bride is a member.

Mrs. Day was graduated from Miami High School in 1932 and has been active in social and civic affairs of the town. At W. T. she was a member of the Elapheians, Alpha Chi Scholarship Society, and president of Y. W. C. A. last year. She is now teaching in a rural school near Panhandle.

Mr. Day is from Tucson, Arizona, and is employed with the Colto Gasoline Corporation at LeFors where the young couple will make their home.

COUSINS HALL CENTER OF DINNER PARTY

Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Meyer had as their guests Wednesday evening at Cousins Hall, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Sheffy, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Humphreys, Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Cundiff, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gillis.

Mrs. Laura Ward and Miss Frances Rogers had as their guests Miss Barlow and her mother and Miss Elliott.

The program was unusually enjoyable and consisted of a vocal trio by Miss Ruth Wells, Thirza Bourland, Freda Charles Bills, accompanied by Miss Wilhelmnia Cleek at the piano.

The remainder of the program was filled by all groups singing familiar songs.

ATHLETES SERVE BANQUET TO DAIRYMEN

In addition to building rock fences, dormitories, recreation halls, playing football, basketball, track, or what have you, the West Texas State Teachers College Physical Education Department found time somewhere to go into the banquet business, and Friday night served the Randall County Dairymen's Association Seventh Annual Banquet in the College Cafeteria which is now in charge of the Physical Education Department as a training table.

Two hundred and fifty dairymen were served by the football boys, and they were almost unanimous in their opinions that it was one of the best banquets they had ever attended.

On the menu was found a tomato juice cocktail, head lettuce with 1000 island dressing, baked hen with dressing, olives, cranberry, new green beans, scalloped potatoes, buttered rolls, ice cream and cake, chocolate milk, and coffee.

The dairymen brought an extra five gallons of ice cream and chocolate milk, and after the banquet the football boys succeeded, with some difficulty, in doing away with it.

So, if anyone wants any kind of banquet served to any number of people at any time, they might see some one at the Physical Education Department.

BRYANT-HENDERSON RITES ANNOUNCED

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Ezra Jo Bryant of Wheeler and Mr. Ernest Henderson of Shamrock which took place March 23 at Sayre, Oklahoma. Rev. Spencer Austin performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bryant of Wheeler. She graduated from the local high school in 1931 and attended college at McMurry at Abilene, and W. T. S. T. C. at Canyon. For the past two years she has taught school at Center, a rural school southeast of Wheeler.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Henderson of the Center community.

STUDENTS ANNOUNCE MARRIAGE

Coming as a surprise to their many friends was the announcement of the marriage of Miss Allo Sparkman, Panhandle, to Mr. Glenn Reeve, Friona. The ceremony was read in Clovis, N. M., on February 7 by Rev. Campbell of the Methodist church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Sparkman of Panhandle, and is at present a member of the Freshman class of W. T. Mr. Reeve is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Reeve of Friona, and will receive his degree from W. T. this spring.

The young couple will be at home to their friends at 1705 Second Ave.

Misses Elizabeth Spivey and Clyde Wiggins have gone home, but will return for the summer term.

Miss Rosa Wood has returned after a nine weeks rest.

H. E. CLUB SETS DATE FOR SPRING PICNIC

The Home Economics Club met Thursday morning at its usual hour in the dining room of the Home Economics Department.

The meeting was called to order by President Cleo Heath. Various points of business were discussed. A very interesting report was given by Sibyl Gidden on, "A Review of Spring Vegetables."

Brief plans were made for a picnic to be given in the near future.

Next club meeting will be April 18th.

I. R. C. MEETING HELD MONDAY EVENING

The International Relations Club held its bi-monthly meeting Monday night, March 25, in Room 17. Reports were given on the conference held March 22nd and 23rd at Alpine.

Members present who attended the Alpine Conference, and who related their experiences were Virginia Ann Roby, Mable Hare, Frances Rogers, and Glenn Reeve.

A. A. U. W. MEETS WITH MISS EDNA GRAHAM

Local members of the A. A. U. W. found the home of Miss Edna Graham at 502 Twentieth Street a pleasant setting for their regular meeting, Monday evening, April 1. Early garden blossoms suggested spring cheer. At the end of the study period, the hostess, with Miss Barlow and Mesdames Plerle and Murray assisting, served refreshments of small cakes and punch.

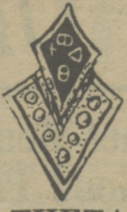

During the business session Mrs. Thomas B. McCarter, on behalf of Miss Elizabeth Cox, reported more than four hundred magazines ready for distribution to rural schools. Members voted unanimously to hold the annual spring tea honoring girls who graduate from Canyon high schools.

Mrs. Geraldine Green, president of the group, invited the members to hold their last meeting of the club year at her home at 2711 Third Avenue, Monday evening, May 6th.

EXES RE-ELECTED TO POSITIONS AT WHEELER

A news report from Wheeler tells that J. L. Gilmore, '28, and C. R. Witt, have been re-elected Superintendent and principal of the school there. The entire faculty was re-elected.

If you could describe your ideal girl how would this combination appeal to you? VIRGINIA LEIGH'S perfectly kept hair; FRANKIE DODSON'S eyes; JUNE DAYS' striking handsomeness; LOUISE SHIRLEY'S complexion and vitality; LA TRICE'S hands and talents; MARY ALICE'S feet; DOROTHY BENNETT'S voice; LELIA COOPER'S figure and PAT WEDERBROOK'S stateliness; MARY LOUISE APPEL'S personality; BIBS JAMESON'S sense of humor and pep; THELMA CALLIHAM'S poise and intellect; MRS. MONTFORT'S grace; and HESTER GATES' ability, ideals and disposition. If we could add R. E. GENTRY'S cute smile to this assortment nobody else would have a chance—so I guess it's just as well that things were scattered out a little.

Name It and Take It

V. L. B. is my name. My golden locks are quite notorious—the kind poets write about. I don't like to hear people brag, but I will say that I always look as if I'd just stepped out of the tailor shop and if I'd washed my face three times. One time I went to a b. b. game with U. B., and we sat on the front seat. I have a cute nickname, too.

RANDOLPH INSTRUCTING MATHEMATICS AT CORNELL UNIVERSITY

John F. Randolph, '26, is now instructor in mathematics at Cornell University, Ithaca, New York. He recently read a paper before the American Mathematical Society which met in New York City. Randolph did his first teaching in Canyon high school. Since that time he has attended Syracuse University and has also taught there. He has also been a student at the University of Michigan and received his Doctor's degree from Cornell University.

PLANS MADE FOR SR. CLASS GIFT

At their class meeting Thursday, April 4, the Seniors disposed of several matters of business. They selected the invitations after much thought and discretion. Then the class gift was discussed, and they will continue their discussion of what they will leave to the school at a later class meeting. Also the date for the Senior play, "Ladies of the Jury," was set for April 23. More about the play will be given later. The last item, however (it's not the least) was the planning of a party, which will be on Saturday April 13. Other things of less importance were discussed and will be taken up more fully at the next class meeting. All you Seniors remember these dates and announcements.

Industrial Arts Club Organizes

Last Friday evening, April 6, the Industrial Arts Club, sponsored by R. A. Terrill, head of the Manual Training Department of W. T., was organized.

This club is organized to further the knowledge of the national industries and utilities of the business world. The officers elected were: Rex Roby, president; Ed Dutton, vice president; Ashley Little, secretary. At the first meeting last week the club was addressed by Mr. Pierson, manager of the Texas Utilities. They plan, on their next gathering, to visit the Texas Utilities plant to get first hand knowledge of this type of industry.

Thelma Duke Jennings, Charles Donnell and Betty Sternberg are judging at Panhandle tonight.

Miss Louise Gibson was the week-end guest of her cousin, Mr. James Gouldy, at Wildorado.

ENERGY! An editor gives his experience: "The enjoyable way of easing strain is smoking Camels," says Ray Baker. "Camels bring back my 'pep,' and I can tackle the next big story with renewed energy!"

SO MILD! Miss Margaret Nichols, expert woman reporter, says: "Camels are a smoother smoke. They have a mild flavor—delicate and pleasing—entirely different from any other cigarette. Camels taste better!"

FLAVOR! "Camels have a great taste—rich and pleasing," says Herman J. Lamkin, linotype operator. "I've smoked them for many years. I can smoke as steadily as I want to, and Camels don't ever affect my nerves."

HEALTHY NERVES! Pat Robinson, sports writer, says: "I've been smoking Camels ever since they were put on the market. I smoke at least two packs of Camels a day. They never interfere with my nerves."

VALUE! "Camels are made from costlier tobaccos. They're the real 'extra value' cigarette," says E. E. C. Pickwood, ace news-photographer, who often uses fast airplanes to get "front page pictures" for a great New York newspaper. "I'm loyal to Camels," Pickwood continues. "They taste so much richer and smoother—never frazzle your nerves. I have smoked Camels for years and I, too, would 'walk a mile for a Camel.'"

SPRING TRAINING GETS UNDER WAY ON GRIDIRON

MUCH STRONG COMPETITION FOR PLACES

3 LETTERMEN

Backfield Situation For 1935 Buffs Is Well In Hand

Four back fields are making Coaches Al Baggett and Bob Cox wonder which is first string and which is second at West Texas State Teachers College spring football training field.

Three lettermen and one freshman have composed the starting back field in the scrimmages, but no one has clinched his position as yet, and from the competition in evidence, it may be a long time before anyone has assured himself of a starting position.

Frank Van Noy, quarter, Vernon Johnson, right halfback, Ezell Champion as the blocking back, and Lwood Dow at full have started out behind the first string line in the early scrimmages.

Van Noy, 155 pounds, from Amarillo, is the speed merchant of the backfield, and very shifty in the open field. He also does some of the passing.

Johnson is from Childress and weighs 195 pounds. He lettered last year, playing both end and half back. He is just now getting a full grasp of the backfield position, and is showing lots of power on his blocking and ball carrying.

Champion alternates at the blocking position and fullback. He weighs 172 pounds, and comes from Memphis. Champion is a deadly blocker, and a good passer and kicker. He will carry most of the triple-threat burden in the backfield next year, and back up the line.

Van Noy, Johnson, and Champion are lettermen and have the edge in experience on the other boys, but the fourth member of the backfield, Dow, is a big, burly freshman who may prove hard for the opposing lines to get along with.

Dow, who calls Littlefield his home, weighs 185 pounds. He is very fast and powerful, and with a little experience should develop into a real asset.

In the second backfield is more speed but slightly less weight than the first with Ed Miller and Floyd Murry at the halves, Tom Slack as fullback, all freshmen, and Lawrence Clark, a squadman, as the blocking back.

Miller from Vernon and Murry from Floydada are both track men and very fast. Both weigh 155 pounds, and next year should see some sensational runs from each of them. Both also pass the ball with considerable accuracy.

Tom Slack is the only Canyon boy on the squad, and is one of the most promising freshman backs seen in several years. He weighs 165 pounds, and is very powerful, especially on defense. He can also throw the pig-skin.

Clark is a squadman from last year who is fighting for a regular position as a blocking back. He is from Turkey, weighs 165 pounds and is showing lots of improvement in practice.

Ray Cox of Vernon, H. D. Stewart of LeFors, Conway Butler from Turkey, and Lewis Gibson of Crowell are four freshmen who have been running in the third group of backs, but all have ability, are offering lots of competition for first string jobs, and will see lots of service. Cox is a steady, dependable blocker, while Butler, Stewart, and Gibson are exceptionally fast men, but they all need experience.

Jack Jennings of Tulsa, Burnie Davis of Childress, Woodrow Yarbrough of Turkey, and R. M. Thompson of Dalhart give Coach Baggett still another backfield. Thompson is a letterman who is bothered with an old injury, but he should be ready next year.

Jennings is a very promising back. He is a good passer and knows how to carry the ball.

With sixteen men working earnestly for backfield positions, the backfield situation for the 1935 edition of the West Texas State Teachers College Buffaloes seems to be well in hand.

LIBRARY DISPLAY ROOM HELPFUL

Books from the following companies were on display in the library on both days of the convention: The Macmillan Company; Newson and Co.; Chas. E. Merrill; Practical Drawing Co.; Row, Peterson and Co.; and the University Publishing Company.

Misses Margaret Fent and Mary Elizabeth Courage have moved from Cousins Hall to an apartment out in town.

Misses Elizabeth Deal and Elizabeth McFarling have moved out of Cousins Hall.

Billy McIntosh of Dalhart, visited his sister, Carrie Lee, in Canyon, Monday, April 1.

No Concessions To Anyone On W. T. Fite Nite

Polished Performers In Exhibition Games

If you don't think that wrestling and boxing is climbing its way to a major sport at W. T. you should have been to Fight Night. On that night the many arts reached their climax with grunts and groans, as 40 odd boys threw their "fiddle strings" in everybody's face but the referee's, and uncorked rights and lefts that shook ADepad'A le8hnlh-Ioansy malatto boys in Timbuctoo.

Jack Dempsey and Jumping Joe Savoldi have enjoyed more fame and notice than the local jaw busters and ear twisters, but they have never shown any greater desire to win than was demonstrated the other night. It is a settled fact that everytime two boys go into a ring that one of them is due to take the count, but the fact remains that no one conceded anything. There were thrills abundant as time after time the contestants stood in the middle of the ring, and swung with everything they had from their heels to their head. Some came out of the battle looking like Napoleon after the battle of Waterloo, while some were as proud of themselves as Aristotle was of Plato.

Yes, sir, the type of boxing and

Racquet Men Are Good Prospects

"One of the best prospective teams that I have ever had" were the words Coach W. E. Lockhart used when answering inquiries about the 1935 racquet swingers of W. T.

Coach Lockhart will build his tennis team around a couple of dandy players, namely: Clarence Wooten and Charles Donnell, and with the addition of several newcomers, the prospects for a bright season grows brighter and brighter every day. Four freshmen boys, Buster Smalley, Marion Heald, Riley, and Coleman, will make their bid along with the varsity men, and, according to information received, this quartet is the best first year squad that "ye loving fans" have had the privilege to gaze upon in many a blue moon.

It is certain that these boys are no Tildens, Vineses, or Allison, but there was a time when the above mentioned players were nothing to write the folks back home about, and Coach Lockhart only asks that you give credit where credit is due, because he believes that these Buffalo racquetters will be "plenty ready" to represent W. T. in almost any kind of a tennis fracas.

The teams will see action in the Great Plains Meet which will be held here this spring. The Red Riders of Tech will get a crack at the locals, as will N. M. M. I. and Panhandle Aggies.

wrestling demonstrated reveals that Coach Jennings has his hands full, but the rewards of polished performers were full compensation for his efforts, and you can write your uncle Oscar back in Buffalo Gap that there was a fight at W. T.

Two All-American Basketball Stars Are W. T. Exes

George Ray Colvin, former Buffalo basketball star, was selected to be on the second string of the All-American Team after the close of the National Basketball Tournament in Denver.

Colvin came to W. T. from Turkey high school in 1931 and lost no time in carving his name deep on the list of West Texas basketball heroes. He was a keen student of the game, a hustler in every sense of the word, and above all was one of the best liked boys that ever donned the maroon and white. He played last year with the Ogden Boosters and this year with the Reno Hutchinsons.

The sporting public of the Texas Panhandle may well feel proud.

Joe, "College" Fortenberry, former W. T. athlete and native of Happy, Texas, climbed the rocky ladder of basketball achievement to have himself crowned All-American center at the close of the National Basketball Tournament in Denver. Fortenberry has been outstanding in basketball for several seasons. He came to W. T. in the fall of 1930 and his first year as a Buffalo made All-T. I. A. A. center. In 1931 he gained more recognition, and in 1932 was given All-American mention at the National Tournament in Kansas City. Last year he was member of the Ogden Boosters, a team of former All-American stars, that appeared here in the Panhandle on an exhibition tour.

Fortenberry was a member of the Globe Oilers of McPherson, Kansas, who lost to the Southern State Liners of Kansas City, winners of the National Tournament this year.

District Field Meet To Be Held Here This Week

Track and field athletes from the twelve counties in District one converge at West Texas State Teachers College Saturday as West Texas resumes the role of host to the district meet as well as the regional.

For the past two years the district meet has been held at Amarillo, but due to lack of proper facilities at Amarillo, coaches urged the return to the Buffalo track.

Golf, tennis, and literary events will be held in Amarillo. Armstrong, Dallam, Deaf Smith, Oldham, Randall, Potter, Parmer, Castro, Hartley, Sherman, and Moore are the counties who will be represented in the meet Saturday.

Coach Nicholas of Amarillo College has charge of the meet, and athletes from Amarillo Junior College, and West Texas State Teachers College will aid Coach Nicholas in his running off of the meet.

Preliminaries will begin at 9:30 Saturday morning, with finals scheduled to begin at 2:00 that afternoon. Winners in the district meet will be eligible to compete in the regional meet held here next week, and winners in the regional will be eligible for the State contests.

MEN'S CHORUS TO PARTICIPATE IN CONTEST

ton, where an equally difficult contest will be held. The boys plan to be gone two school days and return Sunday, May 5th. May it be stated that these trips are far from just a pleasure jaunt. As one who went states it: "It was a

Golden Sandies Lead in Triangle Meet Here Friday

At a triangle track and field meet here Saturday afternoon the Amarillo Golden Sandies amassed 59 points to 48 for Hereford and 15 for Canyon.

Amarillo and Hereford both had six first places, with Amarillo gaining her advantage in seconds and thirds.

Glen Bufkin of Amarillo was individual high point man of the meet with 16 1-4 points gained by first places in the low and high hurdles, a tie for first in the discus, and 1 1-4 points from the mile relay.

Smith of Hereford was second with 10 1-4 points garnered with first places in the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

Continuous rehearsal from the moment we arrived until the whole show was over." And the whole show, incidentally, consisted of a rehearsal the night of arrival, the contests the next morning, rehearsal for the massed concert that afternoon which was doubly difficult, due to the intense heat that Fort Worth experienced at that time, and the massed concert, conducted by Noble Cain, director of music for the National Broadcasting Company in Chicago, the judge of the contests, which was composed of approximately seven hundred men and boys' voices. A truly wonderful concert as well as exceptionally fine experience for the boys.

The same type of program is planned for this year's meet and every member of the chorus is looking forward to the event with the greatest of anticipation.

— so far as we know tobacco was first used about 400 years ago

— throughout the years what one thing has given so much pleasure..so much satisfaction

It was a matter of pride with a host in Colonial days that his guests should smoke tobacco grown on his own plantation.

Today the Governor of North Carolina says to the Governor of South Carolina—
“Have a cigarette”

TODAY people all over the world use tobacco in one form or another. They chew it, they smoke it in pipes, they smoke cigars and cigarettes, and here is what an eminent physician said about cigarettes:

“I have been something of a student of cigarettes, and it is my belief that they offer the mildest and purest form in which tobacco is used.”

Yes, nowadays the cigarette is the most popular form in which tobacco is used. A good cigarette certainly gives men and women a lot of pleasure.

Have a Chesterfield—

For one thing—they're milder.

For another thing—they taste better.
