

Senate Will Consider List

Applications for Publication Jobs Are Received

Applications of students who aspire to manage or edit publications of the Students' Association next term were closed Saturday. The Senate is expected to make recommendations to President J. A. Hill within two weeks.

A list of applicants, with their qualifications, will be submitted to the Senate this week by present publications executives and sponsor. Studies of the eligibility of each applicant will be made before the list is approved.

Dual applications were made by several students interested in more than one office. The complete list follows:

For editor, Le Mirage—Charlotte Buchanan, Estelle Burgess, Jack Cross, Ida Martha Pierle, Hud Prichard.

For business manager, Le Mirage—Mabel Back, Joe Crisler, Dorothea Harter, John Sharp, L. Jack Wolford.

For editor, The Prairie—Mabel Back, Charlotte Buchanan, Dan Hemphill (summer only), Delbert McGuire, Hud Prichard, Charles Wilkerson.

For business manager, The Prairie—Mabel Back, Roy Cheatham, John Sharp.

Cheatham is the only incumbent journalist who will be back next term.

Pilot Training Starts With Quota Filled

Preliminary pilot training of the C. A. A. program was started last week. Carl York of the W. T. High School is ground instructor and Otis Williams and Frank Pemberton are flying instructors. The College maintains a flying field near the Amarillo highway.

Those enrolled in the course include: Mildred Cole, Lucy Hedgecock, Lela Louder, Jack Hall, George Irby, Ernest Kelly, Everett Culp, John Puntch, Jack Goudly, Choc Smith, Eldon Davis, Austin Wiggins, Jim Foust, Pat Toombs, Bill Harter, Doyle Hughes, Clay Johnson, Valdee Wyatt, Ernest Scheihagen, Glenn Milner, Harlie Gordon, Carlos Briley, Evans Holand, E. Mathews, James Bradford, Vance Berdine, Leroy Francis, W. T. Townsend, Kenneth Gibson, Roger Barton.

The College quota of 30 was filled.

Y. M. C. A. Honors Draftsmen at Speech Tonight

Prospective selective service men are to be special guests of Y. M. C. A. tonight at 7 o'clock in the auditorium of the Administration Building for a lecture pertinent to their problems.

Dean R. P. Jarrett, chairman of the Randall County Draft Board, will speak on "Some Important Facts Concerning the Selective Service Law" and later answer draftee questions.

"Any of you puzzled young men who want to know the answers about this draft should come," said the Y. M. C. A. president, L. W. Davidson, Jr.

Homemaking In High Schools To Be Observed

Miss Lilla Clark of the home economics department, Mrs. T. V. Reeves of the Bureau of Public Service and several student teachers are visiting various schools throughout the area this week.

Miss Clark will observe the homemaking programs in the high schools so that she may plan her methods courses and supervision of student teachers in accordance with those operating in the high schools. They will visit Amarillo, Hale Center, Abernathy and Littlefield.

Miss Gladys Armstrong, area supervisor of home economics, will teach Miss Clark's classes.

Vaughan Gives Far East Speech

Brynilde Vaughan, senior from Canyon, will speak at the weekly meeting of the International Relations Club meeting on Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Vaughan will speak on the "Far East" which is to be his subject for the South Western International Relations Club meeting to be held at Lubbock on March 14 and 15.

National Champs
Oh Boy!

Education Meeting Theme Is Timely

Dr. Stoddard To Discuss "Function of School In National Preparedness"

Students planning to teach and non-teachers will find a challenge in the timely Northwest Texas Conference for Education program based on the "Education and the World Crisis" theme.

Interest in the annual conference here March 14 and 15 is being accelerated by the significance of the current topic. "The Function of the Schools in National Preparedness" will be a subject of Dr. A. J. Stoddard, superintendent of the Philadelphia schools.

Panhandle's Largest

The Conference is the biggest convention which meets regularly in the Panhandle. It is organized to include the framework and activities of District 9 of the Texas State Teachers Association. Schools in the following counties usually dismiss, almost unanimously, their classes to permit teachers to attend the meeting here:

Armstrong, Briscoe, Carson, Castro, Childress, Collingsworth, Dallam, Deaf Smith, Donley, Gray, Hall, Hansford, Hartley, Hemphill, Hutchinson, Lipscomb, Moore, Ochiltree, Oldham, Parmer, Potter, Randall, Roberts, Sherman, Swisher, and Wheeler.

Conference Officers

Officers of the conference are Mrs. N. N. Whitworth of Amarillo, president; County Supt. W. B. Weathered of Pampa, vice-president; Glen Allison of Hereford, treasurer; and W. C. Perkins of Shamrock, secretary. Supt. E. G. Sanders of Samnorwood is immediate past president. Members of the state executive committee from this district are Supt. C. M. Rogers of Amarillo, Supt. C. A. Cryer of McLean, and Miss Alma Hall of Dalhart.

Mrs. Whitworth has asked that the presidents of all local units of District 9 certify their delegates in advance of the meeting of the district House of Delegates at 3:30 o'clock March 14. The credentials committee will go into session at 2 p. m. on that date to receive late certifications. All business of the Conference, including election of officers, will take place at the delegates' session. Other members of the Conference may attend the meeting but they must sit apart from the delegates.

Registration on Friday

Registration for the big meeting will begin at 8:30 a. m. Friday, March 14. The opening general session will be held at 9:30 a. m. President J. A. Hill will welcome the visitors then the first address will be delivered by Dr. Harl Douglas of the University of Colorado. His address will be on the subject, "The Job of the Schools Today in Producing Good Citizens." After an intermission and entertainment, Dr. Stoddard's address will be given.

Other general sessions on Friday will begin at 1:15 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. The fourth and last general session will start at 9:30 a. m. Saturday morning, March 15. Much of the work of the convention will be accomplished in more than a score of sectional meetings to be held Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Whitworth and her fellow officers have shortened and speeded up this year's program as compared to those of other years.

Former West Texan Likes Army Life

On a two-day leave from the National Guard, a former West Texas student reports that he likes it.

Stationed at Brownwood with the 36th division of the National Guard, Bill Harris, who attended W. T. the first nine weeks of the first semester, is telling old friends here on the campus that "army life is all right."

"As long as a soldier is griping—he will keep marching, the sergeants have said, and some of the fellows ought to make good soldiers," Harris said. "But most of us find something fascinating about the Army."

"Not a chance in a million to have a date, but we have a lot of food, good clothing, hard work, a lot of rest, and our amusements are limited to personal initiative," he reported. Harris is a former business manager of The Prairie and member of Epsilon Beta fraternity.

Capt. W. E. Lockhart, a former instructor, was reported as one of the most respected officers in the 142nd infantry.

Bill Blaine, former student who was graduated by W. T. in 1939, was here Wednesday securing transcripts preparatory to going into service with the P. S. Air Corps. Blaine is now District Game Warden over nine New Mexico counties with Santa Fe as his office headquarters.

W. T. Budget Is Presented

President Hill Asks for Support For College During Two Years

Support of West Texas State College during the next two years is being considered by legislative finance committees this week. President J. A. Hill will present his budget tomorrow.

The biennial recommendations of the Board of Control includes salaries, maintenance, and summer sessions. Dr. Hill also is asking a $260,000 science building, equipped; $25,000 in each of the two years for small buildings, to be built with WPA and NYA labor; $25,000 in the first year to build and equip a president's home; and $10,000 for museum maintenance during the two years. The museum item is a supplement to the main budget.

Dr. Hill is asking, in an emergency measure, a new water well to be completed before summer.

Many Panhandle organizations and citizens are urging the legislature to grant the new science building. If the State embarks on a building program, West Texas is believed to have a good chance to obtain this structure.

The Student Senate is actively soliciting support for the science building.

Dr. Hill expects to return late this week. Yesterday he asked the State Board of Education to correct an inequality in distribution of state schools on a per scholastic basis, under which the College lost more than $10,000 last year.

Buffalo Band To Play In Borger On Saturday

Borger's birthday celebration will attract Buffalo Band to that city on Saturday for the parade and concerts.

Forty-five or more members will leave Saturday morning on the first off-the-campus engagement for the current organization. New uniforms recently arrived to permit complete dress for more than fifty members.

Two new baritone horns have been added to the band equipment recently.

Prof. C. E. Strain, director, will accompany the group to the celebration. The band will return Saturday night.

Illinois Chemist Will Address A. C. S. Members

Dr. D. B. Keyes of the University of Illinois will address members of the Panhandle section of the American Chemical Society at a banquet meeting Friday night at the Capitol Hotel in Amarillo at 7 o'clock.

"A Study of Catalysts for the Vapor Phase Oxidation of Organic Compounds," will be the subject for Friday night. Reservations may be made by Thursday noon with Dr. C. A. Pierle.

Students and members of the College attending the monthly meetings make up the largest unit of the group attending. Dr. Pierle and Dr. Klem Alexander are A. C. S. members.

Ex-students in the Fort Stockton, Texas, school are: Norton Curry, '39; Nan Johnson, '26; Martin Baze, '36; and Eleanor Pierle, '33.

Flowers Love Him

CAMPUS GARDENER HAS PHILOSOPHY

. . . . And Grow For Him

He is a man of tersely straightforward ideas . . . and a magic touch—this gardener who has determined to make good on a promise to make West Texas State's campus a thing of beauty in terms of flowers.

His philosophy admits no hourly schedule, no clock watching, no leaning on hoe handles.

"A man who is worth only what you're paying him ought to be fired."

This statement, uttered at a meeting of yard men, left some aghast and President J. A. Hill looked momentarily startled by the sudden burst of philosophy. Yard men met to listen, not to be heard on such issues.

But A. L. Tarleton, the gardener, quickly became known and understood for his passion for flowers, for gruffly spoken philosophy, and for his Republican leanings. His blue overalls, curved pipe, and jumper have become symbols of the College's war with elements which do not encourage culture of delicate flowers.

"Mr. Tarleton seems to have a magic touch with flowers," Dr. Hill said in observing that some men have it and most do not.

The gardener last year was given a free hand in the development of the east campus. He planted more grass and many more flowers. His biggest single project was development of a lily pond. For twenty years, visitors had asked questions about the curious small "swimming pool" north of the band house. With considerable imagination and no little work, Mr. Tarleton transformed the old cesspool. Still not satisfied, he has begun an arbor which will be covered next summer with morning glories and later with vines.

"A poor plan worked is better than no plan at all," he remarked.

He has plans for most college buildings, but not for Stafford hall.

"Dr. Meyer has plans well under way there," he said. "I'm going to let him alone."

The gardener knows that summer isn't even close, but he has summer plans well made. He has obtained flowers and shrubs from the State Highway Department and is studying places for them.

"I don't believe in landscaping a building to death," he declared as he warned helpers about planting

Tall Texans Will Try for K. C. National Tournament Title

Colorful Outfit To Leave Friday For Basketball Finals

Always a colorful outfit, the "Tall Texans" will outdo themselves in color when they check in at Kansas City for the National Basketball Tournament next week.

Bedecked in ten-gallon hats and cowboy boots, the Star Dusters will take that city by storm when they try for the national cage title. Present plans indicate they will leave at noon Friday, and will drive through in the athletic department's new bus.

A send-off for these local youths who comprise the Tallest Team in the World will be held as they prepare to leave from Burton Gymnasium. Students will be present to send the Buffaloes on the last scheduled road trip of the season.

The schedule has not been released, but the Buffs are sure to meet with stiff competition all the way, as the tournament is national in scope and some of the best teams in the nation will be there.

E. S. Liston, secretary-treasurer of the Kansas City tournament, sent the local lads an invitation for the nation-wide meet. Liston, coach at Baker University in Baldwin, Kansas, should know the strength of the Star Dusters—they beat his team, 59-50, in December.

Coach Al Baggett, a member of the board of directors of the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball—sponsor of the meet—has invited the Stephen F. Austin State College Lumberjacks of Nacogdoches and the Texas Wesleyan Rams of Fort Worth. These two teams are champions in their own right; the Lumberjacks are the current title-holders of the Lone Star Conference, and the Rams won the Texas Conference title. Any meeting of the Texas contenders would be a colorful, clashing affair born of rivalry within the state.

The hats are a present from Ed Bagot, Amarillo business man who is an ardent Buffalo fan. The boots have been regular paraphanelia with the Buffs except Charles Halbert and O. T. "Teeter" Schupbach, and these two cage giants have secured a pair each. Another property that will attract much attention at any meet is the buffalo skull worn by big Teeter. This skull, tied to the shoulders of Schupbach and used to transport towels to his teammates during time-outs, looks more in place than it would on the shoulders of its natural owner.

The team was defeated in last year's tournament by the championship team, Tarkio State of Missouri, in a heart-breaking quarter-final game, 49-50. On a road trip this year, however, the local team defeated this squad, 53-45.

Six Off-Campus Programs Given By Bureau Head

Among the busy W. T. staff members during February was Mrs. T. V. Reeves, head of the Bureau of Public Service.

Mrs. Reeves participated in six off-campus programs, including two book reviews in Canyon, an address at the Delta Kappa Gamma dinner in Borger, a program in Amarillo, a P-T. A. talk in Canyon, and a talk to a student group.

Leads Herd

Coach Al Baggett will take the West Texas Buffalo cagers to Kansas City for the National Tournament this week.

"Hell Cat" Wins Salon Prize

Ernest Dillon Submits Winning Picture—Exhibit Placed in Museum

Ernest Dillon's portrait of a cat won the grand prize in the third annual Panhandle-Plains Salon of Photography. Entitled "Hell Cat," it will be with the complete exhibit in the Panhandle-Plains Museum through March 16.

Mr. Dillon is an advertising salesman for a motion picture production company who moved to Canyon recently. He makes still pictures as a hobby.

"Lone Traveler," a picture of a railroad station at night by Oy Clemmons took second place. J. T. Fountain of Lubbock won third place with "Affection," a picture of a small girl and her dolls. Fourth place was won by O. Dale Smith of Amarillo with "Chloe" a large portrait of a negro woman. Mr. Dillon took fifth with "Penny," an appealing pup. Sixth place went to H. D. Ohm of San Antonio, former member of the South Plains club at Lubbock, for "Desert Symmetry," a picture of a clump of prickly pear.

More than one hundred prints were submitted this year. The jury of judges rejected more than two dozen pictures but commended the general quality of the work of plains pictorialists.

A list of honorable mentions will be announced later, according to Olin E. Hinkle, who is co-sponsor of the salon with Miss Isabel Robinson, head of the College department of art.

Publications In Library Total 35,595, Study Shows

Numerous additions to the subscription list of standard periodicals have increased the number of magazines in the W. T. library to 35,595, according to a study just completed by Miss Tennessee Malone, librarian.

The publications cover a wide range of subjects and interests. The library includes 35,585 books, 104,930 government documents, and 1580 additional volumes in the rental collection. There also are 4,206 books in the children's library in the Educational building.

These figures re-emphasize the timely question: How can the already badly overcrowded library grow any more in its present quarters?

Junior Recital Is Thursday

Elvia Speer, junior from Canyon, will be presented in piano recital by the music department Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the Administration Building auditorium.

Miss Speer will be assisted by Nola Margaret Blue, junior soprano from Hereford who will sing "Love Has Wings," Rogers; and "Last Night I Heard the Nightingale," Salter.

Piano numbers by Miss Speer will be Beethoven Sonata Op. 14, No. 1 (Allegro, Allegretto and Rondo); Nottuno, Grieg; Butterfly, Grieg; Autumn, Chaminade; and The Giddy Girl, Ibert.

A meeting of the Home Economics Club is scheduled for Thursday at 11 o'clock in the home economics dining room.

Joint House Bill Is for Museums

Representatives Little and Halsey Sponsor Plan To Complete Two Units

Representatives Jack Little of Amarillo and Hap Halsey of Lubbock have introduced a bill in the House of Representatives which would provide a $46,380 appropriation for completion of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum building on the campus.

The joint bill included a similar appropriation for completion of the West Texas Museum on the Texas Technological College campus at Lubbock.

Members of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society and a similar organization at Lubbock are working with the two legislators in securing the appropriation.

More than 150,000 brick and more than $6,000 have been contributed by Panhandle citizens and institutions to the local Museum, and several loads of sand along with the brick are on the site.

Dr. L. F. Sheffy, head of the history department and executive secretary of the Society, is working for support of the bill.

The Lubbock museum recently sponsored a similar program and collected more than 60,000 brick. The West Texas Museum unit has only a basement completed.

California Team Will Debate W. T. In April

Arrangements have been completed for a debate between the Stockton Junior College of Stockton, California, and the West Texas debate team during the first week in April.

During the month of March the team will go to Texline, Texas, to present demonstration debates for Glen Davis and Jim McCrey, members of the boys team, will accompany Dr. Freed to San Antonio and San Marcos for debates Saturday.

The men will enter contests with Southwest Texas State College and the University of San Antonio. Dr. Freed will make a talk at the Alamo Teachers conference.

the high school there. On March 30 West Texas will debate with Texas Christian University here.

"Schedules for debates are being sought with Southwestern University of Georgetown, Southwest Texas State at San Marcos, McMurry College of Abilene, and Texas Technological College of Lubbock. Because of difficulty in reviving the club, and a late start, the debate schedule has been difficult to complete, but the fall semester promises a good program," Dr. C. W. Freed, sponsor of the club, said.

School Officials' Luncheon Here Is Announced

Arrangements have been completed by the Bureau of Public Service for a luncheon at the Methodist church March 14 during the Northwest Texas Conference for Education.

This will be for superintendents, principals, school board members, P-T. A. members, and their attaches. One hundred tickets will be sold at 60 cents each at a desk in the first floor hall of the Administration building. Reservations must close by 10:30 a. m.

Faculty Attends Meeting of Exes At Lubbock

Twenty members of the West Texas faculty attended a meeting of exes at the Hilton Hotel in Lubbock last week. This is an annual program which includes a banquet and social meeting.

Dean R. P. Jarrett was a guest speaker. Other faculty members who attended were: Dr. C. W. Freed, Dr. Ima C. Barlow, Dr. Hattie M. Anderson, Dr. Harris M. Cook, Dr. D. A. Shirley, Dr. L. F. Sheffy, Dr. A. Kirk Knott, Dr. A. M. Meyer, Prof. S. H. Condon, Prof. Mitchell Jones, Prof. John A. Gillis, Prof. Herschel Coffee, Prof. W. Holmes Smith, Prof. C. A. Murray, Miss Edna Graham, Miss Darthula Walker, Mrs. Tommie Montfort, and Mr. Virgil Henson.

Hart Palpitations

By Fred Hart

Good morning, ladies and caballeros! We bring you the latest in the world of satire, science, and surrealism from Hart's Suppressed, the news agency seining the bits and tidbits from campus doings.

As stated in our charter, "It is our purpose to intrigue you with our amiable wit and handsome expression, liberally sprinkled with rare idioms and coined liberties. For the freshmen we will carry information of vital necessity, and for the upper classmen we shall be well stocked with choice comments."

SEEN:

Dean R. P. Jarrett, who schedules assembly programs, frowningly looking at his watch in assembly yesterday. . . . You too, Doc? Action illustrative of the democratic spirit of the faculty was seen Friday night when six members and wives at the counter of a popular campus eating resort while students crammed the booths.

PHILOSOPHY (for Men):

Just because W. T. has the reputation of being the Panhandle's leading matrimonial agency, don't tie up with the first "fem" in sight in an effort to make Dad an in-law without proper warning.

But, on the other hand, the Scotch ancestry of Panhandle clouds is no reason for the courting drought that has hit W. T. A fellow who has had his hand in the buzz saw can count the number of steadies without taking off his shoes.

ODDITIES IN LIFE:

The feeling that comes over you at 9:30 o'clock in the morning when you suddenly discover that you have lived half a morning without your glasses . . . the number of freshmen who are finding that the seats of their trousers are not lasting nearly as long in college as at home . . . the college professor who gives a stiff examination, then calmly turns and writes on the blackboard, "Office Hours, 10-12."

SMATTERINGS:

The University of Iowa owns its own "Hot Spot." The faculty apparently realizes the students need educating in sin. . . . Biology teaches that sugar has less fuel value in the human body than fat—accounting for the coolness of a number of the sweeter ones.

Purdue University has a real mascot to out-mascot mascots. Students and alumni contributed money to buy the Boiler-makers a steam locomotive.

Final exams are the collegiate mode of that modern vogue, "Information Please," although A's are the rewards given to the master minds, instead of encyclopedias.

SPRING:

The approach of the college spring picnic reminds us that there is nothing as restful and refreshing as a sugar ant and a green fly mixed thoroughly with well smashed, grit-filled sandwiches. And in spring a young man's fancy lightly turns—but whoever saw a team of mules turn unless both were willing.

ETIQUETTE:

What should a young gentleman do when he makes a date with a young lady, and then forgets all about it until he is on a date with another at the time prearranged with the first? Who answers this in a hurry truly will have his reward—in Heaven.

MUTTERINGS:

The Mikado of Japan has a birthday whenever he needs a good political effect—and so does the 1941 girl-friend. . . . And with East Texas State Teachers College offering a course in appreciation of modern radio music, we can shortly expect a simplified course in Einstein's Theory vs. Darwin's Theory, or maybe applied Bathtub Opera.

BREVITORIAL:

To climax the current drive to abolish walking on grass and outlaw ugly barriers, we present for the damsels of Cousins Hall these simple rules on how to stay off the grass.

First, upon stepping outside in the morning, pause and take three deep breaths. Then gaze contentedly about, feasting the eyes and soul upon the beauties of spring.

Second, step down to the ground level, and take special notice of the carpet of grass.

Third, march six steps east, then veer sharply in a ninety degree left turn. Stop again and admire nature, and incidentally the new hair-do of the girl in Room 204.

Fourth, march twenty-seven steps and turn in another ninety degree arc to the right. Pause again and look at the grass. If you must, it will be permissible to remove shoe and sock and twiddle toes in the grass.

Fifth, sight the door handle on the east entrance and without wavering, proceed to this destination.

IF THIS DOESN'T WORK . . . GET YOUR ROOMFELLOW TO PUT YOU ON A LEASE! THEN YOU'LL STAY OFF THE GRASS IF SHE DOES!

Keep Off The Grass!

"Keep off the Grass." Four words simple enough for any reader to understand, yet they are apparently misinterpreted by seniors and freshmen alike, here on the campus.

When words are meaningless, there must be other ways to protect the grass during winter months when short-cut trails are inviting for a student late for a date or eager to reach a warm building. The "other way" is a barb wire, and wooden fence here.

But 500 students in signing a petition have promised that this method is not needed. They pledged themselves to protection of the campus grass tracts. This petition has been presented to the College administration staff.

There is some thought in the minds of students concerning the impression on campus visitors made by the fence method. And a large number are eager that the ugly barriers be removed before the teachers come here March 14 and 15. Whether or not they are removed will depend upon the faith of the College authorities in the student promise in this petition.

If the fences are removed, the grass will be protected by thinking West Texans—we hope.

Fightin' Irish Spirit Traced To Scrappy W. T. Football Coach

Musings In Meter

(Editor's Note: We present "Musings in Meter," edited jointly by Charlotte Word and Weldon Bright, for the first time. Contributions for the column will be appreciated, and are invited.)

THOUGHT FOR EVENING

I sit in the window
And feel the loveliness of it all.
A cool breeze stirs the ivy
On the old brick wall.
A cricket's chirp breaks the stillness,
And sleepy birds call.

Deepening shadows,
A faint new moon,
A rosy cloud,
The evening star . . .
The smell of blossoms,
A lilting tune,
Rustling leaves . . .
Is there really war?
—C. Word.

HYPOCRISY

They come into the Holy Temple,
And sit in soft, leather seats,
Amid the dusky glow from stained
Windows;

And recount their needs,
And drone the creeds,
Or count their beads,
Glorifying God.

They go back, then, into the turmoil
of living,
And leave it all behind,
Forgetting that soon
They will go again into the Holy temple,
And sit in soft leather seats,
Amid the dusky glow from stained
windows;

And forget their deeds,
While droning the creeds,
Or counting their beads,
Glorifying God.
—W. Bright.

WIN SECOND

The Spring Creek basketball squad including Eleanor Ruth Dent, Helen Collard, Jackie Stewart, Colleen Cross, Melba Jo Bufard, Betty Jo Hamilton, Jacqueline Estes, Donna Lee Covington, and coached by Roy Killingsworth, principal of Spring Lake School, won second in the girls' basketball tournament. They were defeated by Stinnett, a senior high school, after winning 10 games. They visited the College Saturday.

ROAD SIGN IS STOLEN

The new highway sign erected on No. 87 was stolen one night on the past week. It is presumed that a souvenir hunter did the job as the bolts holding the sign were cut.

A heavier sign will be erected so that souvenir fans cannot make off with the loot.

Stay off campus grass!

Athletic prowess at West Texas State College, which is producing championships with much regularity under the present coaching regime, is traceable at least in part to a fighting Irish spirit.

There's scrappy Jack Curtice, imbued with the wit, spirit, and features of his Irish ancestry. He loves to fight and he loves to win. This year, his first as head coach, he gave his team the title of "Hustlin'est Team in the World." He is determined to make it just that.

Curtice is a restless fellow with an agile mind that never for a single day forgets the intricacies of football. He is an authority on systems of defense but on offense he believes in a large amount of determination, speed . . . and hustle.

Athletic Director Al Baggett is English-Irish and he is surrounded by Irish lads who make up the world's tallest team. Price Brookfield, leading scorer; 6 foot 10 inch Charles Halbert, tallest regular in basketball; and Douglas Groom, Dewey Johnson, Jack Maddox, Bob Nippert, Borden Price, Earl Stagner, and Frank and William Stockman are cagers who answer to the name of Irish.

The Buffalo football squad is predominately Irish. The racial mixtures include Scotch-Irish, German-Irish, English-Irish, French-Irish, Swedish-Irish, Dutch-Irish, Indian-Irish, and other combinations. Ben Collins, fourth highest scorer in the nation last year, is Scotch-Irish-Indian. In fact, there are few West Texas State athletes who do not have strong Irish strains, as might be guessed by the large number of names like Kelley, Davis, Sanders, Jones, Cornell, Hill, Winters, Grady, Love, and Flowers.

In the College faculty, too, are many Irish. Among the most typical are Miss Tennessee Malone, librarian; Miss Anna I. Hibbits, professor of primary education; Prof. C. A. Murray, teacher of mathematics; Prof. Mitchell Jones, teacher of Education; Miss Isabel Robinson, head of the department of art; and Tom Langston, secretary to Dr. J. A. Hill.

Trend Toward War Is Seen By Students

There is a growing sentiment among American college students that the United States will not be able to stay out of war.

This trend was observed through the recurring surveys taken by the Student Opinion Survey of America for which this paper has an interviewing staff.

Hand in hand with this opinion that it will be difficult to side step the European fight, there appears in the survey strong opposition to this problem: "Should American war ships be allowed to convoy shipment of war materials going to England?" While congress debates this and other issues, 67 per cent were answering "No" to the above question while the other 33 per cent favored the plan.

Repeated checks of national student opinion point out that since war began nearly three out of every ten students have changed their minds about the ability of this country to avoid the conflict. Even at the end of 1940 there was a substantial majority convinced that America would stay out. But recent events, the expansion of hostilities in the Mediterranean area, the approach of spring and its threatened invasion of England, and the success of the Roosevelt administration with the lend-lease bill, have apparently made the war seem closer. A majority now believes the United States will be involved.

This is a three-survey record taken over a period of fourteen months. Believe we can stay out of war:

December, 1939 68%
December, 1940 63%
—NOW, February, 1941 49%

This survey also shows that peoples of the West Central (including West Texas) and the New England states think there is a better chance to stay out of the war than do the others.

Freshman Team In League Finals

Fifty-four out of the last fifty-five games played by the W. T. freshmen have been victories—a record that will be hard to beat.

Assuring themselves of a position in this week's play-off of the Amarillo Jaycee League to be held in Amarillo, the junior Buffs won their last home game of the season last week by defeating the Amarillo Junior College 59-27.

Starting with the regularity and steadiness that has characterized the Buffalo victories lately, the frosh took the lead at the start and remained on top all the way. Although the Amarillo boys showed talent in handling the ball, and were game scrappers, their shooting was inferior to that of the Curtice team.

Clark Johnson held the scoring honors during the scrap, with 18 points to his credit. Close on his heels was Bigelow of the Amarillo club with 16 tallies.

Last night the junior Star Dusters were scheduled to meet the Coca-Cola team of Amarillo, and the McClendon squad met the Canadian River Gassers, in the league play-off. Friday night the finals will be played to end the league play for this year. The West Texas team is the defending champion.

Hills Move to Their New Home Saturday

Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Hill moved into their new home Saturday. The new home is a block east of the president's home on the campus where they have lived since Dr. Hill became president of W. T. in 1918.

The president's home will be razed during the year and the lumber used in constructing the addition to Randall Hall.

WANTED

It has been suggested by several students that we have class proms. Other colleges do it and it has become a tradition and a high-light of the social season on many campuses. Why not here?

GRIEFITORIAL

Why have chapel twice a week? What is the advantage? Why not just once a week? And when we do have assembly why not have some interesting programs? Must students attend to hear many announcements that concern only a small number? After all, what is the bulletin board for?

"Night of January 16" played eight months on Broadway and there was never a hung jury. . . . First Night of "January 16" at the Pasadena Play House, the jury was unable to reach a verdict, so the judge dismissed the case and asked the audience to come back the next night for a re-trial. The next night the Play House was packed.

St. Mary's Lose Two As Locals Make Bid For National Tourney

Fighting a team that didn't know how to quit, Coach Al Baggett's boys conquered the Oklahoma City University cagers, 65-25 in the Buffaloes' last home game of the season Friday night.

Although the Buffaloes were off and missed a majority of their shots, the West Texans were able to hold a tight defense and to prevent the Goldbugs from getting in to shoot at a close range. From the start it was plain that the herdsman held the edge, but with a real sportsman's fighting spirit the out-of-state team made the tall boys hustle for every point.

Coming through with equal scoring honors were Price Brookfield and Jack Maddox, both scoring 15 tallies to out-distance the other players of the two squads.

St. Mary's Also

In a two-game series that proved to be the closest games played on the home floor, the West Texas Buffs trampled the St. Mary's Rattlers 60-28 and 65-51 on Monday and Tuesday night of last week.

Pampa Coach Resigns Job

A 14-year association will be severed this year when Odus Mitchell, Pampa coach, resigns and goes to Marshall for a one-year contract. Mitchell, whose basketball team won the regional meet in Canyon last week, was an all-round athlete at W. T. and starred in football, basketball, baseball and track.

The Pampa school board had awarded Mitchell another one-year contract when he announced his resignation because of the better opportunities offered at Marshall.

conference opponents four times, the Bison Bulls claimed the Alamo Conference basketball championship, and a try at the Kansas City tournament.

Fans that expected close games were disappointed, in that both games were easy victories for the Panhandle boys all the way. However, "sixth men" got a chance to see football on the basketball floor as two men on each team fouled out the first night and two Buffs and three Rattlers left the floor in the second scrap of the series.

Scoring on beautiful throws, Frank Stockman, the Missouri herdsman, came through to hold honors as high point man with 14 points in the Monday night tussle. Tuesday night Jack Maddox out-did Charles Halbert by three points to reach a 17 point high.

Buffalo Wallow

ROY CHEATHAM

"THERE AIN'T NO FLIES ON ME . . ."

(Editor's Note: Glyn Riley, here for the Regional basketball tournament, was inspired by the Buff-O. C. U. game, and agreed to write impressions before returning to his Kirkland High coaching duties. Riley is an ex-sports editor of The Prairie.)

'Tis a bit surprising to be asked to pound out a few remarks to clutter up this column while the regular pounder takes a back seat to make way for an "ex" whose rusty phrases might be unbearable. . . . But to come back to West Texas State and watch a little of its brand of basketball is something worthwhile.

In the lop-sided win over Oklahoma City University, the Buffaloes showed a style of basketball far superior to that of three or four seasons back. At that time, Shackelford, Butler, Walling, Clements, and Boedeker constituted a fine club in their own right, but the scoring punch that's out there now was missing. All basketball teams have plays (most of them have good plays), but they don't work when game-time gets there. The Buffs have enough speed, timing, accuracy, and drive to make their click.

When Borden Price and Frank Stockman drove down the court from their guard positions they turned on the speed and when they reached scoring territory the ball was waiting there for their "crip shot." And on the inside Coach Baggett has three scoring aces in Maddox, Halbert and Brookfield that Glen Rose at Arkansas U. might like to have. And to brighten the outlook even more the sidelines are flooded with much talent that doesn't seem to subtract from the scoring rate when the Head Man decides to put them into the fracas.

It is especially significant to note the way that the Buffs have improved since that season opener at Childress against S. M. U. In splitting with the Mustangs, the Buffs showed flashes of brilliance but it wasn't consistent. Against O. C. U. the situation clearly showed that Coach Baggett has ironed the kinks out.

In remarking about the comparative strength of Texas Tech-West Texas, a teacher at Lubbock High felt that the locals could stampee over the Red Raiders at a pace something similar to the way that they handcuffed O. C. U. And don't forget that Tech defeated the noted Phillips 66 club.

It is this writer's prediction that the Buffs will be feared as much at the National Intercollegiate Tournament as they were back in 1932. Then such immortals as George

Young Band Plays Concert

Director J. W. Lummus brought the Kellerville Grade School Band to the Saturday assembly of students for a concert.

Walter Shelton, superintendent of the school introduced the band. Both Lummus and Shelton are ex-students.

The program included: "Main Event," Weeks; "Roamer," Weeks; "Test Pilot," Weeks; Chapel Shrine," Chest Leoni; "Our Family Band," Yoder; "Rosemarin," Thomas; "Blind Man's Novie," Alford; "Trombone Antics," Ernest Weber; "Merry Men," Thomas; "Three Trees," McNaughton; and Star Spangled Banner," Key.

Colvin, Joe Fortenberry, Otis Burk, Ed Comer, and Russell Stroud helped Sad Sam Burton gain national fame as a cage mentor. Many critics concede that quintet to be one of the most outstanding college clubs ever produced. But the game has changed a lot since then.

Guess that you've had enough, but let's start in backing those Buffs more than ever and maybe they'll fare well enough in the National Meet that your support will not be in vain. It has been my purpose to point out that those elongated Bisons play that "Thump, Thump" game along with the best just in case you hadn't realized it. One of the best cage units in the country is right out in your own back yard.

Lubbock Westerners Defeated; Quail And Amarillo Fall Early

With a swishing attack that was sprinkled with hoop-hitting shots from all over the court, the Pampa Harvesters defeated the Lubbock Westerners Saturday night 34-22 in the regional finals.

From the starting whistle it was Pampa's game, and the boys, who were "playing this one for coach," couldn't be beat because of their impregnable defense. Lubbock's team fought hard, but the breaks wouldn't come their way, their shots consistently rolled off the hoop, and they couldn't get the rebounds.

The game was exceptionally free of fouling, being the cleanest of the series. The score at the half was 9-2 in Pampa's favor.

Friday night, Pampa advanced to the finals by defeating Quail 26-20 in a hard-fought battle that could have been either team's victory three minutes before the final whistle. Quail brought a small squad of players to the meet, and did not substitute a single man during the contest.

Lubbock defeated Amarillo in a game equally thrilling with the final score resting at 29-26.

After the game Saturday night, the trophy was presented to Heiskel, captain of Pampa's team. The all-regional team as selected by the referee's coaches, and sports writers included Heiskel, Pampa, and McKinnon, Lubbock, forwards; Flanagan, Pampa, center; Madison, Amarillo, and Nabors, Lubbock, guards.

Alamo Trophies Are Presented

Football and Basketball Rewards of Circuit Property of College

Presentation of the Alamo Conference football trophy was scheduled to be made by the T-Club, athletic organization, at the regular student assembly this morning.

President J. A. Hill was to accept the trophy for the College. The full-sized silver football is the reward for the 1940 conference championship. The letter men of the season were to be introduced.

A second trophy was scheduled to be pulled out of the trophy bag—the 1940 basketball trophy of the Alamo Conference. A second cage championship in the conference was won by the Buffaloes last week, and that one will come later.

A large silver cup was to be presented to the Termites, winner of the intramural contest of last season. Following the cage mentor, Al Baggett, was scheduled to introduce the basketball squad members.

During two years a member of the Alamo circuit the Buffs have captured three titles and shared the other one in a co-championship with Texas A. & I. of the 1939 football contest.

Announcement At Coffee In Canyon

To announce the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Miss Martha Jo Newlin, Mrs. Ora Newlin was hostess Sunday morning at a coffee in her home, 1815 Fourth Avenue. Miss Newlin is to become the bride of Jack Walker of Wellington on March 27.

Beautiful arrangements of snapdragons and stock were used as decorations in the reception room and centered the lace-covered coffee table where Mrs. C. C. Thompson, grandmother of the bride-elect, presided at the silver coffee service. White tapers were used on either side of the floral centerpiece and on the buffet. Mrs. J. J. Walker assisting at the table, served jelly rolls, and Mrs. C. L. Thompson, aunt of Miss Newlin, pinned a dainty corsage of sweet peas and pansies on each guest as she served herself to mints and salted nuts. Miss Anna Lee Newlin, sister of the bride-to-be, also assisted with the morning affair.

Announcement of the approaching event was made by means of photographic prints which were presented as favors. On the margin were the words, "Jack and Jo, March 27."

Miss Elvia Speer played two piano selections, "The Shadow Dance" by McDowell and "The Butterfly" by Greig, and Miss Lillian Chambers presented a reading on engagements.

Invited guests included Misses Renna Beth Bellah, Billie Bee and Natalie Flesher, Bettye Ruth Solomon, Sarah Thompson, Ida Martha Pierle, Dorothy Warwick, Margaret Stewart, Martha Sutton, Mary Charlotte Word, Speer, Chambers, and Mrs. Forest Hill, Mrs. J. D. Barker, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Jack Middleton, and Mrs. Eston Breiling.

Women "Fall In" As Military Themes Take Fashion Stand

Military themes have taken a strong stand in the fashion world. For the past season, girls have borrowed from their brothers every garment and gadget adapted to their own use. Now, it is not surprising that they have swung into step beside the boys in blue, khaki, or grey with enthusiasm.

Military capes, jackets and emblems, are not new for they were worn to some extent last year. But it took that wave of patriotism that put a flag on almost every lapel in the country to bring them to their full swing.

If a uniform makes a hero out of every man, an adaptation of that uniform makes no less than a heroine of every woman who wears it. Cadet blue, navy, khaki, and Confederate grey, these are the colors found in suits that follow the martial pattern. Red linings give them dash, gold flashes in the sun from the bright buttons that march with precision down the front.

Nor will the military theme have a short life for it will be just as good when summer comes. Most of the types found in colors now will be repeated in white for later wear. They are even more attractive with the red and gold trimming and so women will probably wear military fashions as long as the boys are in service.

Program For Etiquette Course Made Thursday

Comparatively little pessimism was manifest upon the campuses over the country. Practically all students are proceeding with their preparations for a normal life. But this is not to say that collegians are not aware of the changes going on about them. Other surveys have pointed out that students are keenly interested in the European troubles, and in keeping this nation out of them.

National defense, however, has had its effect. Some 3 per cent of the men say that they want to go into aviation. Projected against enrollment figures, that would mean that colleges today contain some 20,000 air-minded young people.

W. T. High Future Farmers Observe F. F. A. Week

As a part of the program for State F. F. A. week, W. T. High joined 641 other chapters of the Lone Star State in holding Parent and Son banquets on Friday evening, Feb. 21.

Obed Caraway, president of the chapter, acted as toastmaster. Melvin May extended a hearty welcome to the parents and guests; and Herschel Miller responded by giving some of the advantages in the modern school over the old fashioned ones of his day. The invocation was given by W. L. Vaughan.

James Sharman introduced special guests of the evening and each boy in turn introduced his parents. Willis Hawkins, with the help of T. M. Moore, Jr., Elmer Bauer and Harvey Artho explained the yearly program and project program of the F. F. A. Raymond Stuart gave the aims and purposes and James Sharman concluded with a brief talk on Judging Teams.

The principal program was presented by radio hook-up from Washington, D. C. for which Paul V. McNutt, Dr. J. A. Linke and W. A. Ross were speakers. Radio speakers from Dallas were C. G. Scruggs, president Texas Association of F. F. A.; J. B. Rutland, State adviser F. F. A.; and Robert A. Manire, State director Vocational Agriculture.

The W. T. High chapter wishes to thank G. A. Farlow, Mrs. Brasuel, Miss Mary Zimmer and Miss Verna Gale Allen for their help with the banquet.

Collier's Calls Them Galloping Goons—But They're Good

By DELBERT MCGUIRE
West Texas' "Tallest Team in the World"—classified with other tall squads—rate a new name, "Galloping Goons."

In an article in the current issue of the Collier's Magazine, national weekly, George Keogan, Notre Dame coach, is quoted as saying that the tall giants now playing for western teams are ruining the game—because the smaller lads have no chance to shine on the courts.

Keogan wants the rules changed so that his players—evidently small—will have an equal opportunity, even though they can't get the ball off the backboard, or intercept passes as do the tall men. He doesn't like the center-line rule, which states that the offense must bring the ball across the center of the court in ten seconds. This should be changed, according to Keogan, to read that the defense must send two players across the center-line after the ball in ten seconds. This would break up the zone defense used so effectively by ball teams, and popularize the man-to-man system of playing.

For the present, however, the "Galloping Goons" will continue to defeat their smaller eastern brother teams in spite of Keogan, and the West Texas team will be on top of the list.

Read Speaks at Y. W. Meeting

"Creativity in Science" was a topic discussed by Prof. William F. Read of the geology department at a meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association Wednesday.

"Do not let the human failings of some scientists cause you to denounce all science," he said.

"We should attempt to appreciate and to point out to others the harmony between scientific and other types of knowledge," Prof. Read said. This address was the second of the present series on "Creativity."

An annual banquet of University Women was served in the home economics dining room last night.

Members of home economics classes served. Miss Nickson of Amarillo was the principal speaker, discussing the legal status of women.
