Duo-Pianists To Play Sunday

Miss Matilda Gaume
Mrs. Ples Harper
Will Present Concert

The Canyon Branch of The American Association of University Women will present Matilda Gaume and Margaret Harper, duo-pianists, Sunday afternoon, March 7, in the Education Building Auditorium at 4 o'clock.

Miss Gaume is a graduate of the University of Wichita. She did advanced work in piano and pedagogy at Northwestern University where she received her master's degree. She attended the Juillard School in New York City where she studied with Olga Samaroff Stowowski. Miss Gaume has made many solo appearances in the Panhandle. Her most recent was as soloist in the Greig Concerto with the Buffalo Concert Band.

Mrs. Harper is a graduate of the University of Arizona. She did her advanced work at Arizona and later at the American Conservatory in Chicago while finishing her master's degree at the University of Chicago. Mrs. Harper has traveled as accompanist and soloist with her father, Rollin Pease. She has also made several appearances in Lima, Peru, while living in South America.

Miss Gaume and Mrs. Harper presented several two-piano recitals last year.

They will present the following program:

"Toccata," Cassado-Berkowitz arrangement, by Frescobaldi; "Sonata in D for Two Pianos," by Mozart; "Liebslieder Waltzes, Sta 1, Opus 52, by Brahms; "Lalderonnette (March) Mother Goose Suite," by Ravel; "Pastorale," by Brittain; and "Sabre Dance," by Khachaturian.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Honorary members were initiated Friday afternoon following the band clinic. Honorary members are Perry I. Keyser, Memphis; Ray Robbins, Phillips; Ed Chenette, Clovis, N. M.; Charles Kiker, Amarillo; J. W. Lummus, Dumas; Don Hayes, Littlefield; Fred W. Carpenter, Borger; Herman Demus, Canyon; Dr. Wallace R. Clark, Canyon; and Glenn A. Truax, Canyon. All honorary members are high school band directors with the exception of Kiker. Dr. Clark and Truax. Kiker is band director at Amarillo College. Dr. Clark is head of the music department here. Truax is assistant professor of music here.

Missouri School Turns to Politics

Lindenwood College for women at St. Charles, Missouri, has announced that it will sponsor two mock political conventions April 1, 2, and 3, working on the same order as the Democratic and Republican conventions to be held in the summer.

Each college invited will send two delegates to each convention and will have a representative number of votes, based on enrollment.

The Republican and Democratic keynote addresses will be delivered by nationally known leaders in their parties, and will be broadcast. Included in the program is the nomination of candidates for Presidency and Vice-Presidency for both parties.

The object of the conventions is to more thoroughly acquaint college students with the working of political parties and will be an opportunity for all delegates to show their interest in current political issues and to gain significant practice in political activities.

SCENES FROM THE CLINIC

These scenes were taken during the band clinic last Friday by students in the photography class. A group of directors talk it over in the top picture, in the middle are scenes from the twirling and snare drum clinics and in the bottom picture is the clinic band, under the direction of Leonard Haug.

Band Clinic Termed Success As Over 700 Musicians Attend

By 29 directors and over 700 high school bandsters from all over the Panhandle and Eastern New Mexico, the West Texas State Band Clinic was acclaimed a success.

About 170 of the total visiting musicians were members of the Clinic Band under the direction of Leonard Haug, director of bands at Oklahoma University.

Two sessions of the clinic band were held, one in the morning and the other in the afternoon in preparation for the radio broadcast which was recorded by Station KAMQ in Amarillo for broadcast Sunday afternoon.

The visiting directors held a luncheon in the Blue Room of the Central Cafeteria during the noon hour.

In the afternoon, esbides the clinic band, instructions were shown in twirling and snare drums. Twirling clinic was under the direction of Mr. Groves and Miss Joy Close of Amarillo College and the snare drum clinic was under the supervision of Glenn Truax and his daughter Arlene. Mr. Truax is assistant professor of music at WT.

Movies about music were shown and a stage show, featuring the Collegians was presented to close the program.

The high school students, however, found other interesting sidelights, including the museum, dormitories and other facilities on the campus.

Dumas, Amarillo, Phillips On First Concert Band Tour

Last week the Buffalo Concert Band made its first tour of the Panhandle, playing before high school and adult groups in Amarillo, Dumas and Phillips.

The band left the campus about 9 o'clock Tuesday morning and played before a capacity crowd at Amarillo High School.

Miss Matilda Gaume, who traveled with the band to Amarillo, played Grieg's Concerto and an encore. The band was received there and served lunch in the school cafeteria.

Dumas was the next stop on the itinerary as the band played there at 2:30.

Band members related that their biggest ovation was received at Phillips High School, where they played before a capacity paying crowd.

A large dinner was served to bandsters before the Phillips concert.

This was the first in a proposed series of trips which will carry the band to all parts of the Texas Panhandle and to Eastern New Mexico.

Many of the band members said they were highly pleased by the ovations they received and were anxious to travel more.

Plans Furthered For Aggie Rodeo

Further plans for the Aggie Club's second annual T-Anchor Rodeo were brought forth in the meeting of Tuesday, Feb. 24. The date now is set for April 24, when two performances will be given.

Students will be given a cut rate of half price per ticket provided they present their activity tickets at the time of the ticket purchase, and also at the gate.

The club has invited the Quay County Sheriff's Posse and the Mounted Patrol to attend with their horses to add color to the celebration.

All members or prospective members are requested to attend the meeting this morning at 11 o'clock in room 223 in the Science Building.

The Aggie Club is open to all agriculture students and all are urged to attend the meeting.

Student Christian Association has just completed a reorganization program, which included writing and approving a new constitution and election of new officers.

The constitution was approved by the group at the meeting Monday night, February 23.

Betty June Euler, junior from Summerfield was elected president of the organization and Jeanne Payne, sophomore from Dalhart, was chosen vice-president.

The club meets every Monday at 6:45 p. m. and is the interdenominational church group. Its purpose is to get together and exchange ideas and to create a union between all members.

Everyone is invited to attend the meetings. Joe Findley is sponsor for SCA.

Extension Class Added in Speech

Crannell Tolliver, head of the speech department, has begun an extension class of speech in Plainview. The class, held on Wednesday evenings, is the first of its kind offered by West Texas State, said Mrs. T. V. Reeves, director of the Bureau of Public Service.

The course introduces speech as related to a teacher's needs from a classroom standpoint, Tolliver explained.

The 25 members of the class include school principals, superintendents, high school teachers and junior high school teachers.

508 Veterans Now Enrolled at WT

There are now 508 veterans enrolled at West Texas State, according to figures from the office of Ted Reid, Co-ordinator of Veteran Affairs.

The figures for this semester show an increase of about 40 over last semester. About 50 per cent of the veterans are married.

Reid said the number of veterans attending Amarillo Center had not yet been tabulated.

An ex-student of this college and a graduate of Texas University, Mr. Wells has a long and distinguished record in the Texas journalistic field. His paper has won numerous awards including a national award in the best special edition contest, a state award for the best all-around weekly and a personal column which was adjudged the best in the state.

Past-president of both the Texas Press Association and the Panhandle Press Association, this veteran of the newspaper world is presently secretary-treasurer of the state press group and also publishes that organizations magazine.

Student delegates from all over the Panhandle attending the journalism conclave will start registering in the hall of the Education Building at 9 o'clock Saturday morning with guidance furnished by representatives of the "Tumbleweed," West Texas High School publication.

Don Lane, association president and senior from Pampa, will preside at the opening session scheduled for 10:20 in the Education Auditorium.

Cornette Speaks

Dr. J. P. Cornette, president-elect of West Texas State, will give the welcome and the response will be returned by George Bob Vick, association vice president and editor of the Amarillo school paper. Immediately following will be the introduction of officers who include, besides the two already listed, Marylou Williams, Plainview, secretary; and Mitchell Jones, Jr., Canyon, treasurer.

The West Texas Variety Show centered around the Collegians swing band will perform for the assembly from 10:30 until 11 at which time the main session will get under way. Guest speaker Wells will deliver his speech to the convention at that hour.

Lunch, under the sponsorship of representatives from Canyon High School, will be held in the college's new cafeteria from 1 until 2. A program of student entertainment has been planned and also time will be given various schools promoting candidates for next year's association officers.

Section Meetings

The first afternoon session, short in duration, will take place once more in the Education Auditorium commencing at 2. From this gathering the delegates will go to the sectional meetings scheduled for various places on the campus. Topics to be discussed in these separate meetings include: "Are You the Editor," "Looking Behind the Shutter," "Remember the Feature," "Taking the Cobwebs Off Sports Writing," and "Don't Forget Your Advertisers."

Later in the afternoon discussions will be held on "Planning Those Editorials," "Be Careful About Your Columns," "Page Make-up—Important as a Girl's Makeup," and "Is Your Annual Showing."

At 3:30 the last session will convene in the auditorium for reports on committee activities, election of new officers and the awards.

In the awards bracket, plaques will be given winners in sports stories, sports columns, news stories, features, general columns, advertising and editorials. A service award will also be presented the school whose newspaper has rendered the most beneficial help to their school and community.

Tea Dance

From 4:30 until 6, delegates will be entertained with a light lunch sponsored by the college and a Tea Dance given by Mu Kappa Delta, honorary journalism fraternity of the college. Both these activities will be in the Ballroom of Cousins Hall.

Lubbock, Pampa, White Deer, Amarillo, Dimmitt, West Texas High, Canyon High, Plainview, Panhandle, Hereford, Lefors, Childress, Perryton, and Happy have already notified officials that they will have delegates here for the convention.

One-Act Play To Be Presented Tonight

Due to conflicting schedules the one act play "Mr. Snoop is Murdered" was not presented Wednesday, Feb. 26 as was previously announced. The play under the direction of Norma Coker, junior speech major, will be presented Wednesday, March 2 in the speech building auditorium at 7 p. m.

Miss Coker has chosen Marvin Bowman, Joan Byars, Catherine Hester, Bob Sweny, Wilma Jean Miller, Charlie Price and Harold Pool as the cast.

The play is the story of the murder of a radio commentator who has made many enemies because of his snoopiness. The mystery is solved by hard-boiled Police Sergeant Marvin Bowman with the help of crafty Joan Byars.

The presentation of this play will be open to the public.

How Good Are Our Senators?

How good are the student senators we have in office now?
How much do they have to say at each meeting?
Does each one of them enter into the discussions of policies and vote according to his own opinion?
Now it will be possible to tell just what kind of senators each class elected to represent it. The Prairie is now to publish the minutes of each Senate meeting along with the roll call of each meeting.

The Student Senate of West Texas State has a lot of work to do at the one meeting a week. And the work they do is important to the welfare of the students here.
But some of those elected to this representative body are not truly doing the job laid before them. They miss meetings and some, even though they attend those meetings, have nothing to add to the discussions held at the meetings.

If you will read the minutes of the last meeting you will find that only about one-third of the total membership of the senate said even one word during the meeting. And only about half of those were involved in the discussions.

President of the Student Senate, Charles Hutchinson, had to practically hold a discussion on one matter by himself. He stalled off a vote on that until someone else would venture out and say something.

The situation is tragic. At the beginning of the school year in September when they were elected to the Senate some of them made promises and have kept them, while the majority were merely elected because no one would run against them.

Now that the minutes are being published in The Prairie the classes can tell if their representatives are doing the job set out for them to do.

It would be an ideal situation if every senator took as much interest in his job as some do.

No Opinions on Anything?

If ya don't have any gripes, maybe you have some orchids to throw.
A few weeks ago The Prairie urged students, faculty members and people in general to express their opinions of the happenings on the campus through a more or less defunct column in the paper, Letters to the Editor.
It seems like no one around here either likes or dislikes anything done. Letters to the Editor was established several years ago to give the students and faculty all an equal chance to express their opinions.

The Prairie is supposedly The Voice of Student Opinion, but so far only staff members have had anything to say about it.

Hasn't anything happened you would like to commend along with those things which occur to your dislike?

If you have anything to tell anyone, write it and send it to The Prairie and if no one will be seriously hurt in doing it the letter will be published.

Rivalry Is Great, But . . .

Excitement ran high on the campus Saturday night for those few who remained.
Someone said Tech was coming up to Canyon to wreck havoc with our buildings by painting them up pretty.
It was a long wait, but Sunday morning it was obvious they had come and gone, and apparently without the knowledge that some valiant defenders of WT were out waiting.
Big Black 'Double T's' adorned many of the buildings.
School spirit and rivalry are fine, but when it goes that far, that is, far enough to be destructive, it takes on another phase.
Destruction is a child's way of showing rivalry.

The Sign Dims

The sign on the edge of the highway which for many years has advertised West Texas State both at night and in the day time seems to have a chronic affliction of misspelling one or more of the words, when lighted at night.
For a time this year it spelled everything correctly, but now it says something like "West Texa tate" on one side and "Wes xas State" on the other.
Maybe that sign is just for decoration or maybe it is for advertisement, but whichever it is, it can hardly serve its purpose by being only half lighted each night.

Freshman, Get in and Swing

Something came up the other night at Senate meeting which may seem relatively unimportant to those who have been here awhile.
It seems, some freshmen have doubts as to whether they are invited to the various campus dances or not.
Any student dance, that is, all college dance, is open to ALL students. Many colleges have dances to which lower classmen are not invited; but here at WT, there is enough room in the ballrooms for all who like to dance.
Maybe those few who feel out of place at a college dance do not know many people and there is hardly any better place to get acquainted than at a dance.
So you fish come on out to the next dance. You may have fun!

IT JUST AIN'T DONE

Old Custom of Two Straws In One Glass Seems Forever Lost

By Joyce Kessinger and Polly Deason
When Pa was courtin' Ma, the horse and buggy was quite the style. Speaking of style (and we are) how about Ma's long, rustlin' skirts, Pa's bow ties and straw hats, the Saturday night square (We mean square dance not square in a social circle), a full moon and drugstore soda! Soda? Yes, one soda and two straws! Well, after all, Pa had to look at the financial standpoint of the refreshments and maybe he was looking at it from a romantic standpoint too. Just think, the two of them sipping soda through a straw in the same glass, gazing into each other's eyes and quoting sweet poetry that went something like this:
"You were my queen in calico
I was your bashful bare-foot beau
You wrote on my slate 'I love you so'
Yes, you are my queen in calico."
With romance like that in the air what more could Pa ask for?
"Set 'em up Joe! Two in-vans."
So Betty Coed sits on her side of the table and sips one vanilla soda and Modern Jack sits on the other side and sips his soda. If he is shy (which he probably is not) the poetry he would quote would go more like this:
"The moon was yellow
The lane was bright
She turned to me in the autumn light
She gave a hint with every glance
That what she craved was real romance,
I stammered, I stuttered
As time went by, the moon was yellow
And so was I."
Suddenly "Too Fat Polka" comes boom'n' out of the juke box! Jump-in' and jivin', what the modern scatterbrains call dancing completes the picture of the typical modern-day drug store scene.
The two scenes being so different, we wonder if the sensation felt through this equals the sensation felt when Pa waltzed with Ma? Is the same touch of romance present over Betty Coed's and Modern Jack's sodas that was prevalent over Ma's and Pa's one sweet soda with two straws?

By T. C. Brown
Edna Lee, in her romantic novel, "The Webs of Days," has created a truly fascinating story intermingled with the familiar but always fascinating incidents of the post Civil War days of the deep south. With Darlene, Georgia, as a setting, the plot is, as a whole, original.
Hester Snow, narrator of the story, is a "yankee schoolmarm" who, in her attempt to escape a bleak Northern setting, has accepted a job as governess with the master of Seven Chimneys, an old Georgia plantation. From the beginning Hester knows intuitively that what awaits her will be radically different from her previous experiences. Her expectations are confirmed immediately upon her arrival at Darien. As she inquires as to the location of Seven Chimneys, the reactions of the people prove to her that conditions at her future home are not natural ones.
She later discovers that the rundown appearance of Seven Chimneys reflects not only the conditions at the old plantation, but the personality of the master as well. The inhabitants of the place include Saint Clair LeGrand, the master; Lorlie, his wife who, tortured by the unnatural conditions at Seven Chimneys, drinks excessively; Madame LeGrand, Saint Clair's mother who is commonly called "the Old Madam"; and Rupert, Saint Clair's young son who is to be taught by Hester.
Seven Chimneys, according to the common gossip at Darien, holds a curse, and the history would almost make an intelligent person believe so. Unaffected by the gossip, Hester remains, and to replenish the deflated financial reserves of the plantation, she invests her earnings to put the rich soil to good use. During this restoration, Lorlie drowns. For the first time, Hester is swayed by town gossip and offers her resignation as governess. In return, Saint Clair asks for her hand in marriage, and she accepts merely as a convenience. The real climax comes during her marriage. She finds that she is really in love with Saint Clair's half brother, Roi, and that her husband is a sadist. Henceforth the plot becomes more complex, presenting enough enticing

Excerpts For Ex-es

Jack Maddox, former star Buffalo basketball and now professional with the Osh Kosh, Wis., team, and his wife are the parents of twins, according to a letter received last week by Dean D. A. Shirley.
The letter also told news of Price Brookfield, All-America cager with the Buffs when they went to Madison Square Garden, who is now with the Chicago Packers, professional team.
Charles Halbert, one of the tallest of the tall Buffs, has been sold by the Chicago Packers to the Philadelphia Warriors.

WHO SAID THIS?

Who said this? . . .
1. I look upon England today as an old gentleman who is traveling with a great deal of baggage.
2. A man is rich in proportion to the number of things he can do without.
3. A man sit as many risks as he runs.
4. The commonest sense is the sense of men asleep, which they express by snoring.
5. Beware of all enterprises that require new clothes and not rather a new wearer of clothes.
Joe Findley, education teacher, sent these down to the Prairie office and said the answers would appear next week.
This little corner is to become a regular feature in The Prairie.

problems to capture the reader's interest throughout.
When I say the plot in "The Web of Days" is original, I mean to say it is originally arranged, for the book contains individual incidents which are not unfamiliar to the average reader. Especially noticed is a similarity between the setting of this book and fragments of Charlotte Bronte's "Jane Eyre."
Mrs. Lee is an accomplished pianist, having trained for a concert career prior to her marriage. She has been active in radio writing, producing and broadcasting, her most popular accomplishments being the serial, "Symphony of Life," and the series called "Southern Heroes." It was during her work on the latter that she obtained the intimate knowledge portrayed in her first novel, "The Web of Days."

Round . . .

and 'Round . . . with Stallings
Boy, the campus was loaded with people last week. The band clinic brought several hundred musicians from all over the Panhandle and the basketball tourney brought a couple of hundred more. For the rest of the school year, more and more people will be finding their way to the WT campus as band concerts, press conferences and other activities fill the spring calendar.

The Museum is also attracting record crowds. With growing interest in new exhibits that are constantly coming in, more people are visiting the Museum than ever before. 1948 should set an all-time attendance record there.

Speaking of people on the campus last week: More people seem to have found four leaf clovers floating around than ever before. And it isn't even spring yet.

No one in his right mind would want to be a weather forecaster in this country. Especially when every possible type of weather can happen in less than a week. Last Tuesday it got cold. Wednesday it snowed and sleeted a little. By Thursday the sleet had turned to rain and Friday was as sunny a day as any could be anywhere. Saturday, except for the breeze, was perfect. If you don't like the weather, just wait a couple of hours and everyone will be satisfied.

And when it was so foggy Wednesday night and when the campus needed all the light it could get, all the street lights forgot to burn. It was almost as dark as Carlsbad Caverns without the lights on.

Interesting comment heard over at the cafeteria (obviously someone at the end of the line on a busy day): "It would be a good idea if someone thought to bring over a box lunch to eat while waiting for the line to shorten."

While up on the second floor last week I came upon some interesting pieces of art work done by students here on the campus. It seems that they have been having races or something to see who can draw something to resemble people in less than five minutes. They were pretty good, too. Some of them even had faces.

But seriously, there is a lot of work on the bulletin boards on the second floor done by art classes. For instance there are some bird pictures which are practically masterpieces to my untrained eye. With spring coming on, a lot more of these colorful pictures should be put on display out there. It really adds color to the hall.

And while on the subject of art one student the other day said some of the band clinic students who were here marvelled at the work done here in the department and one girl said it was the first time this year that anyone has paid them a compliment like that. It was so inspiring that students stood outside the door of the art rooms and called high school students into the room to hear the praises. With morale builders like that, the department should have a whole floor to themselves.

At a dance last week someone, noting a giant dancing with a rather short girl, said they were dancing forehead to cheek instead of the customary cheek-to-cheek. That isn't so unusual in this country of tall men, but try it the other way around with a short man and tall girl.

The Administration Building is in the process of being roofed, or rather re-roofed. The Education Building and Burton Gym underwent the same operation earlier.

Probably one of the toughest men in the world died last week. He was an executioner in Oklahoma. He had killed 75 men himself, 66 of them as executioner and the rest in fights and prison escape attempts. He was tried for murder four times and acquitted four times.

In Mexico and other Latin-American countries streets are often named after dates, such as Independence Day, Christmas and Easter. Wouldn't it be fun to direct a taxi-driver to July the Fourth on December 25th?

Well, I've been here three meals, four cups of coffee and a candy bar, besides two or three packs of cigarettes, so that will have to be all for this week.

Band Invited to Borger Festival

Borger has invited the Buffalo Band to participate in the town's twenty-second birthday celebration Monday, March 8, announced M. J. Newman, band director.
The band will march in the Celebration Parade Monday morning, and will present a street concert in the afternoon, Newman said.
The Collegians, college dance band, will play for the Celebration Dance Monday evening.

Today Texans Celebrate Their Independence

By Bascom Nelson
Texas Independence Day is today, March 2. When the early Texans declared their Independence in 1836 they started one of the greatest and most colorful histories ever boasted of by a state. When she broke with Mexico every Texan's main pursuit became Mexicans from then on. When the Civil War came on her main pursuits became carpetbaggers and long horned cattle, now it is money.
Texas is also a great producer of oil, cotton, wheat, cattle, and background for western picture shows. The war with Mexico gave every Texan a superiority complex which he has not lived down to this day.
When old man La Salle first discovered Texas in 1685 no one had heard about it, but time changes everything. Now every or nearly every Texan is his own chamber of commerce. Bragg about the largest single plot of land in the union, he has made sure everyone has heard of it.
We have a right to be proud. One of the most gallant defenses in any man's history was the defense of the Alamo. The battle of San Jacinto was as good an example of ferocity and fighting spirit as any country has. Why should we not tell the world of our state.
Lately there has been more protest against the things some of us say about Texas but at least anything we may say about this state is no exaggeration and is to be believed. We have the most beautiful women (?) the most manly men (!) and the biggest jackrabbits of any Western state. If you don't believe Texans are men just read a few of Zane Grey's books. However there is only one drawback about the land in which we live, this is that one can see so doggone far and see less than any other place on earth unless he has a powerful imagination. Who likes trees and mountains, anyhow?
Nope, you can't overrate Texas too much. More has been written about this state in the past few years than ever before which indicates our patriotism for Texas is growing. One must look a long way to beat it.

The music organizations of the campus who seemed to be most involved in making the affair a huge success were the Buffalo Band members, the Alpha Psi Chapter of Kappa Kappa Psi Band Fraternity, the Theta Kappa Psi Honorary Band Sorority, the members of the Variety Show No. 1 including the dance band and a group of talented entertainers. I think no other department could boast more cooperation.

Iwond erh owm any musicians on the campus noticed the renewed publication of the CRESCENDO, the Kappa Kappa Psi news of musical activities on our campus. It is an excellent little paper edited by Herschel Allen which includes everything from an editorial to jokes of rare quality. The paper was started by the Omega Tau Band Fraternity before it became Kappa Kappa Psi.

I don't think I was alone last week when I found it necessary to row to my class in the band house. I realize that much has to be done on the campus and that workmen men are being rushed, but school spirit could be increased considerably if some sidewalk plan could be worked out to make the Speech-Arts Building and the Band-Orchestra House more accessible during wet weather. Wouldn't it look funny if all our available musicians had wet feet and gills.

March 8 is the twenty-second birthday of Borger. Again the Buffalo Band has been asked to participate in the celebration and will furnish transportation for the event. The Collegians will play a dance that evening so West Texas will receive all day recognition. The Band's participation in the event seems to be on the verge of creating a tradition. Super will be happy!

Senate Minutes

(ED NOTE: A motion was passed by the Student Senate two weeks ago to print the minutes of each meeting in order that the students might get an idea of how the Senate carries on business and also to show the various classes how active their senators are. The roll call will appear with each printing of the minutes.)
The president, Charles Hutchison, called the meeting to order and the secretary called the roll. The following members were absent from the meeting of Wednesday, February 25: Cloyce Box, Ruth Patman, Carroll Doshier, and Mollie Landrum.
Mack Bush moved the Senate accept new senators, Mary Wilson, graduate; Leon Neal, graduate; and Viola Weis, sophomore. Vaughn Vandergriff seconded and the motion carried.
Vaughn Vandergriff submitted the problem of the expense of inviting high school seniors and how it was going to be taken care of. Dr. S. H. Condon discussed ways of bringing high school students and a Senate discussion followed.
Joyce Stallings moved that the committee, Vaughn Vandergriff, chairman; John Stoneman, Ruth Patman and Mack Bush continue to promote the bringing of the high school students to the campus. John Stoneman second and the motion carried.

Terrill, Aggies, Rangers On Top in Intramural Games

Terrill Hall, the West Texas Rangers, and the Aggies climbed to the top of the list this week in the standings of the annual Intramural Tournament. They have each played six games winning five and losing only one.

Close behind, but having played only five games, is the Burton Bombers who have won four games and lost one.

Tierra Blanca, one of the new teams has come well with three wins and two losses to their credit.

The West Texas Pirates, considered to be one of the better teams in the tournament, has fallen off this week barely managing to stay even with three wins and three losses.

The mystically-named Epers have won only one game while losing four to place seventh in the ranking of the teams.

With one win to their credit, but five losses, the Baptist Student Union team is barely keeping out of the cellar.

Two teams, Conner Hall and Hill Courts, have yet to win their first game. The married men have lost three games after entering late, and Conner has lost all six.

Terrill Hall looks like the team to be beat in this year's tournament. This past week-end they traveled to Vega to play in an independent tournament there. The Terrill Hall boys won first place in the meet and received a trophy.

Three WT Boys Box at Plainview

Three WT boxers attended the boxing meet staged by the Plainview Junior Chamber of Commerce in Plainview Friday night.

The pugilists from West Texas State that attended the meet were Willis Hawkins, Jack London and Clint Williams.

The boxers were from all over the Panhandle and were picked for their boxing ability.

The first to fight from WT was Willis Hawkins. He won the first two rounds very decisively. His opponent, Hinkle, a Wayland College student, came back fighting to make the bout a very close one in the third round. Hawkins won the fight on a decision.

Jack London knocked out Johnson in the third round. London had knocked Johnson down for a count of nine in the second round. Clint Williams was outpointed by Gene James in the final match of the evening.

Hawkins and London were awarded wrist watches for winning their bouts.

A capacity crowd was on hand to witness the twelve matches.

Malone, Kitchens Hurt in Car Wreck

Two basketball players from WT and freshman coach, Borden Price, suffered slight injuries shortly after midnight last Tuesday when the 1947 school Ford in which they were returning from the Tech game at Lubbock overturned on the icy highway three miles south of Canyon.

Price, who was driving the car, received a bruised shoulder, and both Sammy Malone of Stratford and Hubert Kitchens of Childress suffered minor head cuts.

Riding with Price were the five boys of the starting line-up in the Tech tilt. Uninjured were Glynn Braden of Sherman, Bill Allen of Stratford, and Charles Barnard of White Deer.

All of the injured were better, and Sammy and Cuby both were able to play in the game last night.

Garrett Named Most Valuable Grid Player

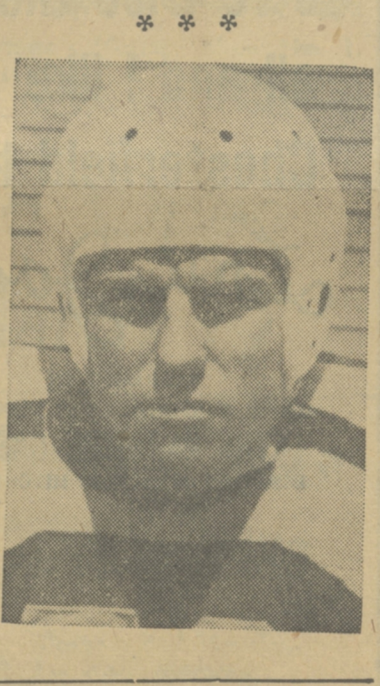

Homer "Buck" Garrett was named by his team mates, the most valuable Buffalo football player of the past season.

Buck is center for the Hustlin' Buffs. He will be given an engraved wrist watch presented by the Amarillo News-Globe. He will be presented the watch at the Amarillo Quarterbacks Club's banquet for West Texas State and Amarillo High School squads, Sunday, March 21.

Garrett is a graduate of Borger High where he played football. He then attended Baylor University for one year before coming to West Texas State. He has played two seasons here.

He is a junior and therefore has one year of eligibility remaining.

Buck was a standout in every game the past season, as the Buffs won 7 and lost 4 games. They finished in third place in the Border Conference, behind Texas Tech and Hardin-Simmons, the only conference foes to defeat them.

Tech Downs Buffs In BC Game 48-36

Texas Tech beat West Texas State, in Lubbock 46 to 38. The Red Raiders took command of the game in the first minutes of play, and the Buffaloes were never able to overcome them.

Several times the Millermen from WT were within one point of overtaking the lead set by Tech, only to have the Raiders drop more points through the hoop.

For once the Buffaloes met a team that had nearly as much height as that of the Buffs. The Red Raiders were led by Don Groves, 6-foot 5-inch player, who was high scorer for the night with 16 points. He was followed by another Tech player, Gibson, scoring 12 points.

Glenn Braden and Charles Barnard were high scorers for the Buffaloes; each one hitting the hoop for six points apiece.

The largest crowd of the season was on hand to watch the game.

Cagers Receive Varsity Jackets

Gus Miller, head basketball coach, announced the following players received varsity jackets for the season of '47 and '48 in basketball.

The players he named are: Bill Allen, Stratford; Charles Barnard, White Deer; Bill Birdwell, Dimmitt; Boyce Box, Fort Worth; Glynn Braden, Sherman; Neil Jackson, Stratford; Hubert Kitchens, Childress; Sammy Malone, Stratford; Bill Miller, Canyon; and Don Woods, Clayton, New Mexico.

Cloyce Box, Fort Worth, was awarded letters in basketball and track because he received a varsity jacket in football.

Coach Miller also stated that Maurice Steen, Floydada, received a jacket for his work in track.

Letters were Lloyd Johnson, Wheeler, and Jim Wilson, Claude, for their work in track.

Joe Louis' 23 defenses of his title figured 17 hours and 15 minutes of fighting. But only two of his opponents went the distance and Louis cut his actual fighting time down to 6 hours, 49 minutes and 40 seconds of fighting.

Dimmitt Wins Class 1-A Region Tourney

The Dimmitt Bobcats won the right to represent the Region 1-A basketball teams in the state tournament, by defeating the Sudan Hornets 28-26 in Burton Gym Saturday night.

The best high school basketball teams in the Panhandle were on hand to play for the right to represent this region. Teams entered in the meet were Dimmitt, Canyon, Perryton, Memphis, Floydada, Ralls, Levelland and Sudan.

By Saturday afternoon only four teams remained undefeated. Dimmitt downed Levelland 43-24 to go into the finals and Sudan beat Perryton 30-24 for the right to play in the Saturday night championship tilt.

Hereford Beats Fish in Semi-Finals

West Texas State's fine freshman basketball team played their way into the semi-finals of the AAU Tournament in Amarillo but lost that game to the Hereford Implement Co., 56-48 Saturday night.

Bill Abbott, Canyon and Bill Cross of Canadian made a valiant effort to keep their team in the ball game by scoring more than half the team total between them. Abbott made 14 points to be high scorer while Cross was peppering the basket for 12 tallies and runner-up honors.

Tuesday night they won the right to be in the semi-finals by beating a good Phillips Gassers team 48-40. Roy Lee Dunn, Borger, came out on top of the scoring parade with 13 points, followed by Abbott, Cross and Charles Richardson with eight each.

Friday night the freshmen take on Frank Phillips Men's Club to see whether they come out in third or fourth place in the tournament.

In the Amarillo City League the fish beat the Magnolia five 70-15 Monday night. Last night they played Amarillo Flying Service.

Cause for American Pride

is thus beautifully offered to our acceptance
That we may fulfil with the greatest exactitude all our engagements to foreign and domestic, to the utmost of our abilities whatsoever, and in whatsoever way they are pledged for a public as in private life. I am persuaded that honesty will be found to be the best policy.

That we may avoid connecting ourselves with the Politics of any Nation, farther than shall be found necessary to regulate our own trade; in order that commerce may be placed upon a stable footing—our merchants know their rights—and the government the ground on which those rights are to be supported. —

That every citizen would take pride in the name of American, and act as if he felt the importance of his own conduct, that we should not only be worthy of our name, but also of the dignity which it implies, and that we should be able to stand up for our rights, and defend our country, and our countrymen, in any and every way that we can.

WASHINGTON'S FAREWELL
ADDRESS

Here, in our First President's own handwriting, is part of the far-sighted speech he delivered to the American people 152 years ago. The spirit of the doctrine still applies. It calls for a firm unity among our people . . . emphasizing, above all, the need for "every citizen to take pride in the name of an American." The original is now aboard the "Freedom Train"—a traveling exhibit of the most significant documents in our history.
