Workshop Held First Semester

Dr. D. B. Harmon Will Direct Workshop In Child
Development

Dean R. P. Jarrett announced this week that Dr. D. B. Harmon, associate director of the division of Maternal and Child Health of the Texas State Board of Health, will be in charge of a Workshop in Child Development here this summer. This will be a feature of the first term of the summer session. The work shop will begin June 5 and continue through June 24.

Persons who wish to come to the campus for this course only may do so. The workshop will require three or four hours each day, and will carry three semester hours credit.

Dr. Harmon's workshop is important for several reasons. It presents to teachers materials which have been too little recognized in years past, and it shows how the new trend toward cooperation of various social agencies works to the advantage of society. In this case the State Department of Education, and the State Board of Health work together.

Most educators believe that the biggest step in education in the next few years will be the result of all the social agencies of communities working together for the education and general welfare of the whole community.

Dr. Harmon conducted a course similar at Amarillo Center last summer. No work which has been done by West Texas State College has ever received more favorable comment. One student came from Chicago to take the course, and declared that it was well worth the expense involved. A course like it has recently been offered in Austin.

Officials Visit High Schools

President J. A. Hill, Coach Gus Miller and Mr. Boone McClure spent Tuesday in Wellington, Childress and Shamrock.

President Hill addressed the Wellington Rotary Club in which exes Hubert Thomson, Deskins Wells, Ben W. Beard, and Al Duncan are members.

In the afternoon he was speaker before 600 Wellington high school pupils and at night he talked to the Collingsworth County Teachers Association. Mr. Beard is county superintendent.

Mr. Miller and Mr. McClure interviewed prospective students.

Darvine Dobbs a former pupil in W. T. High School is now a mechanic in the Army Air Corps. Before he entered the service he played professional baseball with the West Texas-New Mexico league.

Arthur C. Haley, Jr. Is Promoted

LT. ARTHUR C. HALEY, JR.

Ensign Arthur C. Haley, Jr., received his promotion last week to Lieutenant (Junior Grade). He is stationed at San Diego, being Flight Officer in the Navy.

Mrs. Haley, the former Dorothy Warwick, has been with her husband in California since January. Both received their degrees from W. T. in 1942.

Berry McCarter Graduate Student at Westinghouse

Pittsburgh, Pa., Apr. 15—Gilbert Berry McCarter of Canyon, Texas, a recent graduate of the University of Texas has joined the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company as a member of the Company's graduate student course.

One of more than 250 young men selected from colleges and universities throughout the country, Mr. McCarter is receiving engineering and classroom instruction designed to fit him for active participation in the Company's war production program and for future leadership in the electrical industry.

The course was originated by Westinghouse over 50 years ago to help college graduates bridge the gap between academic preparation and actual production work.

Born in Amarillo, Texas, Mr. McCarter was graduated from the University of Texas with a Bachelor of Science degree in electrical engineering.

While in college he was president, secretary and Initiation Master of the Eta Kappa Nu fraternity and also a member of the Silver Spur, an honorary service organization.

Mr. McCarter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. McCarter, Canyon, Texas, and is an ex-student of W. T.

Plays Begin Next Monday

Penthouse Style
Will Be Used
Four Plays Given

Next Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday nights (April 24, 25, 26, and 27) at 8:15 o'clock, the Speech Department features four one-act plays at the Lions' Club annual show. The price for admission is 35c for students, and 50c for faculty and townspeople, and the place is Cousins Hall Ballroom.

The plays are to be done in the penthouse style, which originated in the University of Washington, and has spread rapidly over the United States. This style gives the audience a more intimate feeling toward the actors and the action.

On the list for production are "Mrs. Harper's Bazaar," by Babette Hughes, "Joint Owners in Spain," by Alice Brown, "Suppressed Desires" by Susan Glaspell, and "So Wonderful! (In White)," by Richard Nisbaum.

Mrs. Harper's Bazaar

This is an engaging light comedy for an all-girls' cast. The story reveals the exciting amusement incident to a charity bazaar presided over by Mrs. Harper (played by Mary Jo Priddy), who has enough troubles this one evening to keep the audience laughing for a long time. Most of the action centers around Honey Walters, a movie actress, played by Eloise West, who is to make a personal appearance at the bazaar, and who goes on a strike when she discovers that she is expected to unveil the statue of a mule—symbol of the charitable activity of these clubwomen, who raise money to provide mules on which the poor children of Kentucky may ride to school. There is also the matter of Mrs. Cunliffe's fox fur, which gets included by mistake with the prizes, and has to be bought back by the committee before Mrs. Cunliffe discovers the error. Mrs. Cunliffe is played by Nedra Evans. Other members of the cast are Norma Jeanne Frankline, Ala Gene Pritchett, Sue Goddard, Jeanne Shaver, and Mary Ellen Henslee.

Joint Owners in Spain

This is a story of how Miss Dyer and Mrs. Blair, sharers of a room, settle their difficulties. It is the revelation of the characters of the two old women who are thrown together.

When Miss Dyer's new roommate, Mrs. Blair, takes possession, trouble threatens at once. One woman is selfish, and complaining, the other is domineering. They divide the room by means of a chalk mark on the floor. Before long their grouching vanishes, when the director of the Home comes to take them for an outing, and the outlook for the future is bright. What they needed was sunshine and recreation.

Members of the cast are: Gwyn Johnson, Theda Elmore, Dottie Dell Quickel, and Vivian Earl Davidson.

Suppressed Desires

Henrietta, who is played by Billye Roark, is obsessed by current fads among the intellectuals—psychoanalysis, the sub-conscious self, double personality, and complexes. Freud's theory that one's suppressed desires are expressed in dreams produces wonderful comedy situations when Henrietta, assisted by Dr. Russell, the distinguished psychoanalyst, tries to make converts of Stephen (Robert Conner) her unsympathetic husband, and Mabel (Mona Burleson), her more susceptible visiting sister.

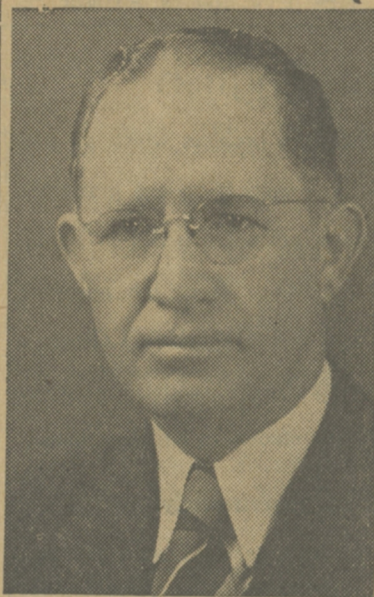

So Wonderful! (In White)

Margaret Shipman (Jeanne Shaver), a nurse in training in a metropolitan hospital, has brought to her calling bright hope and idealism. But her idealism is star-tost, faltering and untried. The test of this idealism comes when Shipman is confronted with the heartbreaks of her profession. The necessity of sacrifice a personal love, Charles; injustice as typified by the formalized rigidity and mercilessness of Miss Cresson (Theda Elmore), her superintendent; hypocrisy and meanness as exemplified by Eleanor DeWitt (Billye Roark); and tragedy in the suicide of Janey Held (Eloise West), a lonely narcotic addict. In the last moments of the play when cause has piled up effect, and her idealism appears entirely in cloud and shadow, there emerges a new clarity, a maturer hope. Shipman remains to take on the more difficult and more glorious responsibilities of her last year as an undergraduate nurse.

Other members of the cast include Mona Burleson, Vivian Earl Davidson and Lola Sue Williamson.

Mr. James H. Butler, head of the Speech Department is directing the plays, and Lola Sue Williamson is business manager.

COACH GUS MILLER

Pres. Hill Guest At Mexico

Texas College Presidents
Will Meet in Saltillo
On April 26, 27, 28

President J. A. Hill has received an invitation to be the guest of the Mexican Republic and the State of Coahuila when they celebrate the 50th anniversary of the beginning of teacher-training in Mexico. The meeting to which the local president and the presidents of the other similar colleges of Texas have been invited is to be held at Saltillo on April 26, 27, 28.

The invitation shows an appreciation of the common interests which the state of Texas and Mexico have in the field of education, and the meeting will foster understanding and goodwill.

In connection with the celebration at Saltillo, the Board of Regents of the teachers colleges of Texas, will hold its spring meeting there; this will probably be the first time a board of regents from any Texas institution has met on foreign soil to transact business.

President and Mrs. Hill will leave Canyon with Regent and Mrs. Newton Harrell of Claude on April 23, and will join the party of thirty persons at Laredo. They will go by car.

While in Mexico, Dr. Hill will investigate the possibilities of having a summer school in that country.

W. T. Will Enter In College Capers; See Mr. Newman

West Texas State College will take part in College Capers. This announcement is made by M. J. Newman who has received an outline of the plan from Charles J. Freeman, who is managing the events for Interstate Theaters, the sponsors.

Any student who is interested in trying out on a radio audition in any act or form of entertainment which is suitable for use on radio is invited to see Mr. Newman and make arrangements to appear when the visitor from Interstate comes to the campus the last of this month or early in May.

The two acts from W. T. which are selected will be given on Showtime, at Dallas. From the programs given there, the winners will be chosen and will be given at least a four-week contract for additional appearances. Each act which goes to Dallas will be reimbursed $50.00 per act and the acts which reach the finals will be paid $100.00 per act. In addition any act which appears on the program will receive full expense to and from the city in which it appears.

Mr. Newman, in making the announcement for students of W. T., emphasize that this is a contest open to all students, not just those working in the fields of music and speech. He said also that it is a fine opportunity for young people to get experience in something which may become a major interest. He will be glad to talk with all college students who wish to know more about the program.

ATTENTION, MUSIC STUDENTS!

All men and women who are taking music in any class, all those taking private lessons, and all members of music organizations are invited to a reception following the College Orchestra Program tomorrow night. Members of the Amarillo Philharmonic Orchestra who are assisting in the program will be guests of honor. The place is the home economics dining room on the third floor.

R. F. Newman, former W. T. football player, is now personnel manager for Phillips Petroleum Company at Phillips.

Football Is Resumed

First Game Is Scheduled Oct. 28
With Texas Tech

Football is back. Once again West Texas State will proudly exhibit those "Hustlin' Buffs" of the gridiron, and once again the students will sing. In the most enthusiastically received announcement of the year, President Hill briefly announced in assembly Thursday morning that the Athletic Committee had voted to return the sport to the campus this fall. All sports were abolished a year ago when the College Training Detachment of the Army Air Corps took over the complete physical plant and coaching staff of the Athletic Department.

When the Army Air Corps notified Dr. Hill last month that the Detachment would be moved from the campus on June 30, rumors flooded the campus and the Panhandle to the effect that West Texas State would resume athletics. Nor were these rumors without basis, for Coach Miller has been visiting all the high schools in this region in search of football and basketball material. However the official announcement was released Thursday morning after the committee approved Coach Miller's program for 1944-1945. The committee is composed of Dr. D. A. Shirley, Chairman, Dr. Lee L. Johnson, Dr. L. F. Sheffy, Mr. T. B. McCarter, Mr. W. Mitchell Jones, Mr. F. E. Savage, Coach W. A. Miller, and Coach W. W. Nicklaus.

Coach Miller is enthusiastic over the prospects of the football season. He stated "We'll have as good a team as the rest of the colleges around here. We're out after the boys, and we intend to get them. We can house eighty in Buffalo Courts, and our athletic dormitory is unequalled anywhere in the Southwest. Our athletic program is more attractive to the boys than that offered by any other college. We have available jobs for every boy on the squad so that each boy may carry a full academic load, participate in football or basketball or both, and get in enough work to earn all of his tuition, his board and room, his laundry, his books, and a little spending money on the side. No other school in this region offers every boy on the squad that much help. As for our schedule, the Coach continued, "We'll have one, don't forget that. In fact, we've got the makings of one right now. We have a game with Texas Tech in Lubbock on October 28. We've got a game or maybe two games, with New Mexico University of Albuquerque, but the date and site of the game or games has not been determined. I've written to Oklahoma A. and M. for a game with them, and I'm also trying to schedule a game with Denver University. Amarillo Air Base and Lubbock Air Base both plan to have a team, and we'll schedule a game with them if the dates can be arranged. I'd like to have at least two games with Southwest Conference teams, but the lateness of our entry may prevent that. If any of them have an open date that we can fill, we'll be glad to take them on. The schools that have a Navy program will have the advantage if the Navy permits their reserves to participate; otherwise we're about all equal.

"As for my material and my system, that depends on several things. I like the T formation, having used it in the past, and I think I'll use it a good deal this fall. I didn't use it two years ago because the boys were familiar with the Box and they had been winning with it. Now that I have a new group of boys, or hope to have by fall, I think I can use both the Box and T formation. My material depends on time and the war. Some mighty popular Buffs of days gone by have been released from service because of physical handicaps, but in some instances these handicaps won't prevent their playing some good football.

"Curtis Kelley is out of the army, and he plans to return to the campus to get his degree. Kelley is a big, hard driving fullback who tips the scales at 185 when in condition and stands about six feet three. Kelley can hit the line, and he's fast enough to run the ends. Kelley played fine football as a freshman and lettered on the varsity as a sophomore in spite of appendicitis. He'll be important out there this fall.

Another man who plans to be back this fall is Rufus Bradford of Borger. As a freshman quarterback, Bradford was the sparkplug of the entire squad. He now weighs about 175 pounds, and he's plenty fast. He's a fine blocker, and he'll probably do the signal calling this fall. He called them okeh as a

Teachers College Goes English

One teachers college in Texas is attacking a problem which all progressive colleges must face if the public is to respect college graduates. The war has revealed our college graduates are not efficient in fundamental functions in written and spoken English. When the following procedure goes into effect in North Texas State Teachers College, a wise student will not seek to pass freshman English under the easiest teacher and by begging or hiring some efficient student to write his themes.

The following was printed in the NTSTC paper recently.

"In a step designed to maintain high English standards among upper-classmen, the faculty this week adopted a recommendation providing for a checking system and repeat courses for students deficient in English skills.

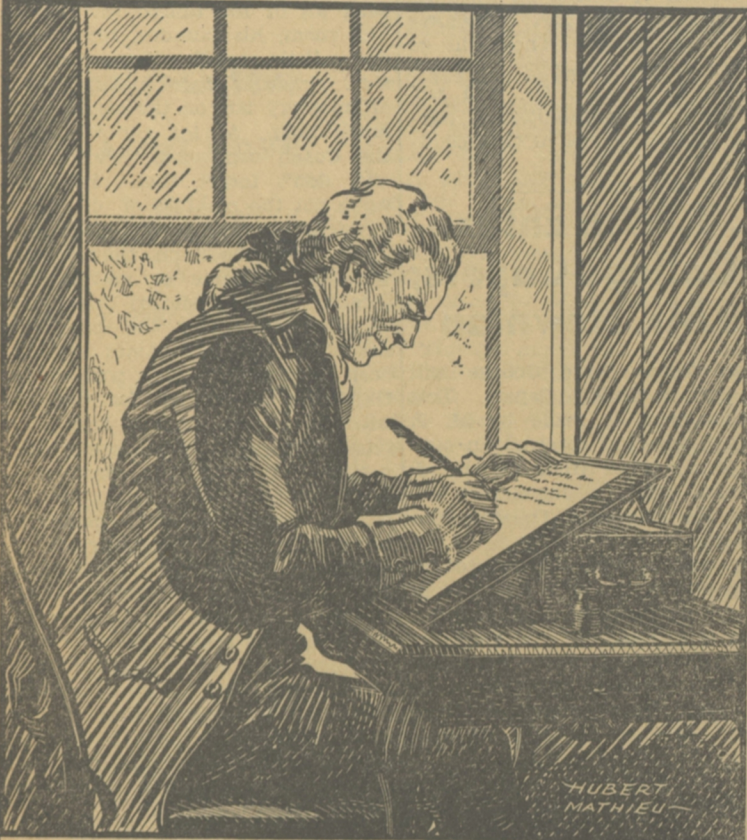

The new ruling states that the Faculty Committee on Student Use of English must certify each student before graduation. This committee will be composed of six or seven members appointed by the administration, the chairman and two other members of the English faculty.

The group will check the academic record of each student at the beginning of his junior year and in the process of checking, may ask the student's instructors for samples of his written work. At this time, or at any subsequent time, if a student is found to be deficient, he will be required to remove this deficiency before being permitted to file application for the bachelor's degree. The deficient student may be asked to repeat English 131 or to do other such additional work as the committee may prescribe.

The method of checking prescribed by the newly passed resolution calls for the English record of each junior and senior to be kept on file. All C or D students taking English at the time of the survey would be checked by conference with the English teacher concerned, and C or D students not taking English would be called up for examination or their teachers might be asked for samples of their written work.

In addition, any student reported as deficient by a teacher at any time would come under the special consideration of the committee."

The Secret Heart
Across the years he could recall
His father one way best of all.

In the stillest hour of night
The boy awakened to a light.

Half in dreams, he saw his sire
With his great hands full of fire.

The man had struck a match to see
If his son slept peacefully.

He held his palms each side the spark
His love had kindled in the dark

His two hands were curved apart
In the semblance of a heart.

He wore, it seemed to his small son,
A bare heart on his hidden one.

A heart that gave out such a glow
No son awake could bear to know.

It showed a look upon a face
Too tender for the day to trace

One instant, it lit all about,
And then the secret heart went out.

But it shone long enough for one
To know that hands held up the sun.

The Stool Pigeon

Well, well, The Stool Pigeon heard that three lovely, young Cousins Hall damsels, Edwina Pugh, Juanita Davis, and Jean Shaver, are mourning for three air students who left Saturday, April 8th. Cheer up girls, eighty new ones came in!

Clothes play a big part on dates. It seems that Ruby Dell Robards was certainly worrying about what she should wear for "that" certain young man. Guess he is worth it, isn't he "Dello?"

THE END

Paul Revere Gave Warning 169 Years Ago

"Listen, my children, and you shall hear,
Of the midnight ride of Paul Revere,
On the eighteenth of April, in Seventy-five;
Hardly a man is now alive
Who remembers that famous day and year."

"He said to his friend, 'If the British march
By land or sea from the town tonight,
Hang a lantern aloft in the belfry arch
Of the North Church tower as a signal light—
One if by land, and two if by sea;
And I on the opposite shore will be,
Ready to ride and spread the alarm
Through every Middlesex village and farm,
For the country folk to be up and to arm.'"

Yes, it was 169 years ago this very day, April 18, that a certain brave lad by the name of Paul Revere mounted his steed and rode far into the night to warn his fellow countrymen that "The British were coming." Just 169 years ago, the American people were to fight a battle so that they might become the citizens of a free nation.

Paul Revere was a soldier, who wanted to do his share. Now, one, century, six decades, and nine years hence, the "Land of the free" is again at war to help win freedom for the world. No brave soldier mounts his steed to spread warning, but in less time than it took Revere to get to one town, a warning may be flashed to an entire world.

The Battle of Lexington and Concord made history, but the Battle of Casablanca has made the first battle seem insignificant. The first battle cost thousands of dollars, but the latter cost billions—so BUY MORE WAR BONDS AND STAMPS, so that some poet may some day be able to write a poem:

"We Won the War
In 1944."

Co-eds Visualize Ideal Professor

What is the present-day collegian's version of an "ideal professor?" To answer this question the Holcad, student newspaper at Westminster college (Pa.) conducted a survey among college men and women.

Co-eds prefer a man, not necessarily young and good-looking (although that does ease the strain of an otherwise dull lecture) but one who understands "why I can't comprehend the intricate workings of a motor," the newspaper learned.

Expecting to find a unanimous appeal among the men for glamorous young graduates of universities, surveyors were surprised to learn that boys would rather have middle-aged women standing before them in the classroom. "Less distraction from the books," one male explained.

Other requisits for the ideal prof are punctuality and accuracy, an enthusiastic interest in his subject, and use of humorous incidents to brighten up dry textbook material.

To add a bit of humanism, students appreciate the touch of "absent-mindedness" so traditionally associated with college professors. For example, forgetting that quiz he intended to spring as a surprise, or failing to call for that list of physics problems.

ECONOMIC CONCLUSION

Two Georgia darkeys were discussing the financial condition of the country. They didn't agree.

"You're all wrong," one vociferated. "Ah asked mah banker is he out o' money and he tuk me in de vault an' showed me piles and piles o' money. And ah says could you let me have a little. And he says he sho' could, has ah any collat'ul?"

Ah hasn't. Now, dat's what's de matuh wid dis country. Day's plenty of money, but we's jest runnin' sho't on collat'ul."

The largest north-to-south stretch of land in the world is made up of North and South America, extending from the Artic to the Antarctic Oceans.

The word "tip," is said to have been derived from the first letters of words in the phrase, "to insure promptness."

By keeping both political parties, we can always tell how prosperous and how poor we are at the same time.

Prado Predicts Hopeless Future For Language

There is no hope for a language common to the whole world, such as Esperanto, in the near future. That was the conclusion of Dr. Francisco Villagran Prado, director of the baccalaureate school of the National University of Mexico, in an address at the University of New Mexico before a conference of Mexican-American intellectual relations.

The practical solution of language differences between the two countries, he said, must therefore be to spread Spanish in the United States and English in Mexico.

This is the responsibility, he declared of the cultivated people of both nations.

Speaking under joint auspices of the University of Texas and the University of New Mexico, Prof. Villagran traced the teaching of English in Mexico, and said that graduates of the baccalaureate college usually have a knowledge of the language permitting them to translate "with some difficulty" texts of reference books. These results, he said, are not enough, and he blamed lack of co-ordination in the teaching of English in Mexico and want of opportunity for practice.

Villagran traced the new American emphasis on Spanish since the war began, commenting on the trend toward Spanish instead of French and German, and pointing out there are several kinds of Spanish and that the Spanish of Spain is not the Spanish of Mexico. That is why, he said, the National university has set up courses for instruction of Americans in Mexican Spanish and how to teach it.

Most girls would rather be pretty than brainy because they know that a man sees better than he thinks.

Texas has more counties than any other state in the Union, a total of 254. The state with the next largest number of counties is Georgia, with 159.

Football—

freshman two years ago, so he'll get a chance at it this fall.

"Another man I hope to have back is Willard Hedges, one of the Olton twins. Hedges played wing-back two years ago, and he's one of the fastest men in the state. Hedges runs the hundred in 9.8, and he can do it in 9.9 in uniform. He weighs about 190 pounds, and he tries hard every minute of every practice. Hedges runs hard, and the fans like that. He'll certainly help us out a lot this fall.

"Then there may be some other men back from the army by fall, and I know they'll be back on the campus if they are sent home. The boys know that that degree is mighty important these days, and they deserve a chance to get it. The army may pay them to go to school through their rehabilitation program, but regardless of that any boy that can make the squad will get his education without cost.

"I'd also like to point out that the rules concerning transfers has been set aside by the Border Conference for the duration. Any boy who has graduated from high school and has not graduated from college is eligible at West Texas State. I think that will attract some boys who have their previous football in schools that are not playing the sport this fall. I think every student on the campus can do our team a big favor by notifying me concerning any prospect for the team in their home towns, be he a graduate, a man dismissed from the service, or a man who was for some reason unable to enter any branch of the service.

"I understand that it is possible that West Texas State will offer Flying Instruction and Ground Courses to the civilian students this fall. That will help a lot, because a great many of these sixteen and seventeen year old boys will welcome the chance to learn flying before entering the combat forces.

"As for our staff for this fall there is some speculation. Mr. Nicklaus and I will have the varsity of football, and I plan to start basketball early in the fall. Mr. Gibson and Mr. Murry are here on the campus and are excellent men, but their 1-A classifications have to be considered. I'd hate to lose them, but then Uncle Sam needs good men too. I guess he's better at recruiting men than I am; he gets a lot of boys I'd like to have, and he gets them without competition and permanently. I'd sure like to have his system."

At last a way to end all wars—let the whole world agree not to have another one until this one is paid for.

Summer Camp for Athletes

Basketball and Football Camps

Workouts Twice Daily; Trips to Palo Duro And Buffalo Lake

Head Coach W. A. (Gus) Miller doesn't intend to get there too late with too little so far as West Texas State's athletics is concerned. Thursday the Athletic Committee announced that football would be resumed this fall. Thursday night Coach Miller appeared on Stuart Condron's Sportscast over KGNC at 10:30, and announced his plans for the coming season. Friday Coach Miller announced his plans for summer camps in both football and basketball.

Summer Camp for Basketball will be held the week of May 29 to June 3. During this week all basketball aspirants for the 1944-1945 season will be guests of the athletic department as they go through a week of drills and getting acquainted with the other boys, the coaches, and the school.

Coach Miller stressed in his announcement that the boy who attends the camp will be given every opportunity to familiarize himself with the school and its program. All expenses of all the boys while they are here will be paid for by the Canyon Athletic Club. The boys will have workouts twice daily, and will have entertainment provided during the day and each evening. Trips to Palo Duro Canyon and Buffalo Lake will be a part of this entertainment. The outdoor swimming pool and all other college recreational facilities will be open to the boys.

Summer Training Camp for Football will begin on July 17. This camp will replace the usual Spring Training Camp, war conditions making the later date more practical.

Coach Miller said that he couldn't have Spring Training because he didn't have access to the physical plant of the athletic department. Other schools are using the later dates in the summer for training camps since the draft status of their men makes a spring camp of doubtful benefit. During the summer camp, Coaches Miller and Nicklaus will have an opportunity to size up their material and to teach some of the fundamentals of the game. The dates were selected so as to avoid the harvest season and the Texas State Coaching School that is sponsored each year by the Coaches of Texas. All expenses of this camp will be cared for by the Canyon Athletic Association and the College Athletic Department, so that the boys will be out of no expense in attending.

Coach Miller urges every boy who wishes to attend either of these camps to contact him as soon as possible, but no boy need stay away if he fails to contact Coach Miller in advance.

Swimming Pool Will Be Open Wednesday Eve

Miss Ruth Cross, Head of the Department of Physical Education for Women, has announced that the indoor college pool would be open for mixed bathing on Wednesday evening from 8:00 to 9:00. The indoor pool will be used until weather permits the use of the outdoor pool.

Following two experimental periods of evening recreational swimming, Miss Cross announced that the students asked that the pool be kept open during the evening for recreational purposes. Miss Cross stated that this period would not replace the regular periods of Physical Education in which the students are enrolled, nor would the class serve as a make up period. All civilian students of the college are invited to take advantage of this evening activity.

Due to the size of the pool, it is dangerous for more than thirty students to use the pool at one time, so the evening groups will be limited to the first thirty who register with her for the swim. Miss Cross said that she will place a register in her office so that students can sign up for a reservation in the group. Students may sign at any hour during the day, and the first thirty on the list will be admitted. If sufficient interest is shown, the swimming will continue until warm weather. If enough interest is shown, the program will operate next fall and winter.

Lawrence Brotherton, principal of the high school at Dumas, was a campus visitor on Saturday, along with Superintendent O. B. Ginn of Friona, Willie Ana Garmon of Friona and many others who came in for the Class A District meet.

Dean R. P. Jarrett Talked to Lions Luncheon Tuesday

Dr. R. P. Jarrett, Dean of the College, spoke to the Lions Club Tuesday on "The Importance of Little Things." He used several illustrations from the thinking of men in service and one from the term paper of a college student. He stressed the fact that it is the little things that are of most importance in the lives of most Americans.

Lion Bob Black sponsored E. P. Faulkner, new manager of the M. E. Moses store as a new member of the club.

This qualified Lion Black as a key member of Lions International.

Lion Yeoman Tom Langston, U. S. N. was a guest of Mitchell Jones. Lion Langston is stationed at New Orleans.

Fall Training Scheduled for September 5

Fall training camp for football will begin in earnest at West Texas State College on September 5, 1944. The summer camp that will begin on July 17 will be a get-acquainted session, but when September rolls around the boys will be putting out everything they have for a position on the team. The boys will be playing for keeps then, and the starting positions will be at stake. Coach Miller doesn't have his schedule completed as yet, but he plans to have his first game on the night of September 23. This will give the men about 18 days in which to learn the plays and the system.

In the fall training camp the boys will have two workouts daily until classes begin; then one workout a day will be the order for the Miller hopes to have a full ten game schedule, and he has offered to play his contestants twice on a home and home basis if possible. This would give the students five home games and assure the team a full season. Texas Tech has open only one date, October 28, so W. T. students will probably be thumbing their way to Lubbock when that Saturday roll around.

Buffalo Courts, where all West Texas athletes are housed, will accommodate eighty men, and Coach Miller says that he'll crowd them in so that any boy who wishes a trial can have housing and an equal chance at the squad. Although Miller is in the field much of the time now in search of material, he stresses the fact that all boys who have graduated from high school or will graduate this summer and are not in the service by fall, and all boys who have been dismissed from the service or rejected who have not graduated from college are invited to come to the training camp for a tryout.

Conference rules have been liberalized, and those men who wish to transfer from some other college to West Texas State should contact Coach Miller as soon as possible.

Interest In Wartime Education Shown By Graduate Student

Miss Lucy Hedgecocke from Stinson sets an example of wartime education interest. Having received her BS degree in physical education in 1941, she has taught one year in Anton and has been connected with various phases of war work until she returned to W. T. this semester in order to study pre-medicine.

She is looking forward to attending medical school and centering her career around that profession.

Miss Hedgecocke is a quiet, unassuming person and is generally seen diligently engrossed in her work and studies. She is the sister of Bob Hedgecocke, who also attended W. T. in 1941. Prior to entering W. T., she attended Wayland Junior College.

Condron spent three days of last week in Borger where they were members of an evaluating committee appointed to inspect the school for the Southern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges of which it is a member. Recreation Center Is Greatest Need For the Community

W. W. Nicklaus spoke at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday urging that a recreational center be built for the boys and girls of the community. "It is a shame that there is no baseball ground in the whole of Randall county," stated the speaker.

Health and Physical Education was the subject discussed by Coach Nicklaus. Child delinquency has increased as much as 10% in most of the industrial centers of the nation.

High tribute to football and other sports was paid by the coach as he pointed to the development of men in the armed forces. A large per cent of the athletes of Texas schools are now commissioned because they are physically fit, alert and are leaders of men.

Athletics has excluded too large a per cent of the students. A complete physical training program is now being introduced in order to take care of all students.

Coach Nicklaus illustrated the health-building exercises which are given the cadets in the College Training Detachment.

Physical training must start in the grades. Physical defects which are discovered in the children should be corrected rather than allowed to continue.

Men who are returning from the armed forces will expect and demand more of the community. "Canyon offers less to youngsters than any town I know of," stated the coach.

In citizen building, the Church must not be overlooked, stated Mr. Nicklaus.

Visitors were: E. Kancher and Horace Griggs, both of Amarillo.

Cooperation Excellent

Miss Hellen Hickman, supervisor of college health activity, announced last week that the co-operation of students, always excellent, has been "even more marked during the past semester." Miss Hickman expressed perfect satisfaction at the attitude of the students.

Although there have been many minor illnesses and a few mild epidemics of sore throats and colds within the last few weeks, Miss Hickman added that the general health throughout the college has been excellent.

Improvements within the health center have made the new college health plant efficient and pleasant, according to Miss Hickman and her staff. Trees, gardens, and hedges have been planted to make the infirmary even more attractive.

Miss Hickman also works with authorities at the Army Dispensary.

RUTH LUTRICK
AT ELIDA

Ruth Lutrick, '44, who is teaching home economics at Elida, New Mexico, writes that she is sponsor of the 9th grade, which as she wrote was preparing for a party, and that the following week her pupils were to prepare and serve the Junior Class banquet, and the following week her department would be represented at a district home economics meeting. She likes her busy life and has found pleasant friends there.

Lt. Lee Roy Jones
Has Air Medal

Lt. Lee Roy Jones (Pinky) is still in England. He has recently written Miss Graham as follows: "Did I tell you that I now have the Air Medal with three oak leaf clusters? These things represent a lot of hard work."

Lt. Jones was a physical education major of the class of '41. Later he returned to W. T. to take additional work in mathematics. He is a member of a Bomber Squadron.

While a student in West Texas State College, majoring in Business Administration, Clarence M. Burger, became interested in government, decided the best way to become a good administrator is to learn from the bottom up. So he took a Civil Service examination to see what it was like, passed, went to the War Department as assistant messenger. Next he took a typing test, and because of his grade of 96.17 the Treasury requested him, and he was transferred there as junior clerk. He is now assistant clerk, Returns Division, Bureau of Narcotics, and has been given an award for meritorious service to the department.

Never one to choose the easiest way, Mr. Burger has received most of his education while holding down an eight-hour job. This was true while he was in high school, and by the time he was in college he had a wife and two baby daughters to care for also. He has bought a home in Washington and had definitely decided upon government as a career, but in a few days he will be on his way to Army's basic training.

Mrs. Burgess is a daughter of Mrs. O. B. Vaughan, Canyon.

Letter of Appreciation

From Marjorie Wilkinson Reeve, Music major, who is now living in New Haven, Conn., comes a letter telling her appreciation of the study of music which she had under Dr. Clark, Miss Brigham and others of the department here. She states that her delight in the many musical experiences she has had in New Haven and Boston and New York has been possible because of her training at W. T.

Her letter ends on the note found in so many letters from men and women away from home at this time, "How we miss our home and our friends and families in Texas! Our every effort is bent toward the day when we can return home to our loved ones and start building anew our lives together.

"Until that day, may your work continue to guide many students as you so competently guided me, into the fields of music."

Her letter was to Dr. W. R. Clark, head of the music department.
