

HILL CONFERS WITH OFFICIALS IN WASHINGTON

Two New Members Elected To Board Of Regents

COMMITTEE NAMED

Accorded Respectful Ear
Of Appropriations Committee

Returning March 1st from Washington, D. C., where he attended the annual meeting of the American Association of Teachers Colleges, a meeting of the National Education Association, and conferences with Senator Tom Connally, Senator Morris Sheppard, and several other national officials concerning PWA applications, President J. A. Hill left for Austin, March 2, to attend a meeting of the Teachers College Presidents and the Board of Regents.

Paulus Board President

Two new members, J. D. Jackson, Alpine and R. A. Stewart, Fort Worth, were elected to the Board of Regents. Henry Paulus of Yokum, was elected president of the Board following the retirement from that office of A. B. Mayhew, of Uvalde.

A committee was appointed, by the Board, to meet in President Hill's office March 12th for the purpose of opening bids for the new dormitory to be constructed here for boys.

The committee is composed of John E. Hill, Amarillo; J. D. Jackson, Alpine; and R. A. Stuart, Fort Worth.

Hill Hopeful

Following this meeting, President Hill appeared before the House Appropriations Committee in the interest of the budget for the college during the next biennial which will begin September 1st, and in interest of appropriations for carrying on the usual school session this summer. He also asked for a $10,000 emergency appropriation to carry on the various projects under way now on the campus. He was given a respectful hearing, he said, by the committee and feels that we shall receive better treatment at its hands than was the case two years ago.

Senior Play Now Well Under Way

"Only a few rehearsals have been held, but it started off well and we expect to get fully underway in our work on it next week," stated Miss Mary Morgan Brown, head of the Speech Department and Director of the Senior play, "Ladies of the Jury."

"Ladies of the Jury" has a cast of twenty-two people with many character parts. Hilarious comedy is furnished by the incongruous mixture of types on the jury and by their difficulty in arriving at an agreement as to the verdict.

The play was written by Fred Ballard, a brilliant dramatist and former pupil of the late George Pierce Baker. Mr. Ballard has written a number of Broadway successes.

Although the play was written for Mrs. Miske, and the principal role was played by her, honors are more equally divided than is usually the case in a star production.

Catalogues On Summer School Now Available

West Texas State Teachers College has every prospect of having the most outstanding summer session ever held here.

School opens on June 4, and the first six weeks term closes on July 13. Registration for the second term begins on July 15 and second term instruction begins July 16.
The Summer Session closes on August 24.

The curricula of the regular long session will be given during the summer term. Work leading to all certificates granted by Texas State Teachers Colleges will be offered during the summer. The demonstration school will be available to students for observation and practice teaching.

Supt. R. D. Hankins of Lazbuddy says Jack Spence, '34, and Bernard Keese, '32, are doing fine work in his school. Spence includes coaching in his duties.

IN THE MIDST OF LEGISLATION . . .

House Bill 627 designed to raise tuition fees in state institutions of higher learning from $50 to $150 per year has been introduced by Representative Howard Davidson of Rotan, Fisher County.
Davidson has made the statement that the introduction of the bill was requested by the tax payers of Abilene. According to the Abilene Morning Reporter-News for Sunday, February 24, leadership in the campaign to boost the tuition charges has been taken by an Abilenian, R. L. Young, Sr.

The challenge has been made to all students of West Texas State Teachers College, and to those who attend other state schools. A survey here has revealed that, at a minimum estimation, 60 per cent of the students would be unable to attend school unless given further financial aid if this bill goes through. Including the book fee and the blanket tax, under the proposed bill, the sum paid by each student for each nine weeks would be $42.50. This would put college education out of reach of most of us.

Quoting from the University of Texas petition, we wish to approve and give our support to their plea as follows: "As students whose sole interest is the education they seek, we explicitly disclaim any interest in the side issues which may be involved in this bill. The rivalry between state and private schools which is rumored behind the scenes has no interest for us. We affect to clothe with sanctity no corps of professors; and we utterly reject sentimentality about any specific pile of stone or institutional name, time-hallowed or otherwise."

"The sum and substance of our plea is, 'keep a college education within our reach.'"

Believing that these things are true, i. e., that "such an increase is contrary to public welfare in that it would, in effect, discourage further enlightenment of our people; that it is impossible for industry to absorb our high school graduates," the Student Council met Saturday to plan a procedure to help defeat the bill. Because this problem is one of vital interest to each student in this college, it is imperative that all exert themselves to the utmost in co-operating with the Council. Announcement of plans will be made tomorrow.

Appeal will be made to students through several mediums. Your part as an individual is to comply willingly with every request which the Council makes of you. Communicate with your district representative. Sign the petition circulated on the campus.

Just remember that the passage of this bill will curtail your chances of securing a college education; will throw heavier burdens on the already over-loaded shoulders of your parents, and will make Texas a place where financial privilege rather than merit determines opportunity.

Terrill Sends Wood To Be Used In Centennial Table

H. H. Wright, of the Manual Arts Department of Reagan Senior High School at Houston, recently wrote to R. A. Terrill, head of the Manual Arts Department here requesting pieces of wood from the old T-Anchor Ranch, the Goodnight Camp, MacKenzie battlefield, and the old Drift Line Fence.

He is working on a project for the Texas Centennial which is to be a Texas Centennial table. The table will be constructed by the boys in Mr. Wright's woodworking class and is to have an inlaid top showing each county of Texas. It is the plan for the wood used in representing the county on the table to be taken from some historic object or building in the county.

In the center of the table will be a map of the State of Texas and also an explanatory key telling the history of wood used to represent each county.

Mr. Terrill is sending wood from the places as requested by Mr.
Wright and along with it a brief history concerning them.

Recently, Mr. Wright and his class completed an inlaid table containing 22,168 separate pieces of wood which came from every civilized country in the world and many that are not civilized.

BORGER YOUTH KILLED IN FALL IN PALO DURO

Saturday, March 9, Mrs. Grace Martin and Miss Mannette Leake sponsored an educational tour of Borger public school children to Canyon where they visited the college, the museum and the Palo Duro Canyons. Bob Mills, fifteen year old boy of Borger, was killed in an accidental fall from a 78-foot sandstone precipice.

There were about 130 students who registered in the Museum.

Cook, Finch Speak To Channing Group

Dr. Harris M. Cook, accompanied by H. A. Finch, curriculum expert for this district, went to Channing Wednesday, March 6th.
They addressed an audience of teachers and the Board of Trustees of the Channing schools. The subject of Finch's talk was "Social and Economic Background of Curriculum Revision." Dr. Cook spoke on "Some Needed Changes in Curriculum."

While there, they saw several ex-students who are teaching at Channing this year. Among them were: Royce Banks, Superintendent of Channing schools; Elmer Wooten, Principal; Mrs. Royce Banks, and M. W. Graves.

Pueblo Indian Pottery Colored Plates On Exhibit In Museum

Fifty reproductions of Pueblo Indian Pottery, a part of the famous collection of the Indian Art Fund of Santa Fe, New Mexico, now hanging in the Mary E. Hudspeth Room of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum.
Each plate of the pottery, which consists of water jars, storage jars, bowls, and plate designs, is a splendid reproduction of the original which is now a part of the collection in Santa Fe.

This pottery, with its beautiful and typical Indian designs which make it a work of art that will last through the ages, has been in Western America for centuries, but it was not considered especially great until a foreign master in fine, arts, C. Szewdzitcki, Nice, Statistics Reveal There Are No John Doe Sophomores

John Doe is not the unidentified man in the morgue. He is the average senior, junior or freshman student at W. T. struggling for recognition. The struggle comes because of the unparalleled su-premaccy of the sophomore class, to-wit: they are the most numerous class in W. T., with the exception of Freshmen, who, fortunately, are held in subjection by all other campus organizations.
Ten of the members on the Editorial, Business and Reportorial staffs of The Prairie have reached the coveted rung of ye old college ladder, twelve of this year's football club were sophs, seven sophs shone out for spectacular work in this year's basketball club, the college band boasts of nine sophomores, and the Dramatic Club rarely raises a curtain except over a stage full of sophs.

The only reason there are more freshmen on the FERA rolls is that the upperclassmen are spared for two hours each day from forty-four undesirable interferences. The 22 sophomores, of course, secured FERA work on merit.

Many more organizations, for example: Pi Omega, Antler-Elap-heans, Cousins - Sesames, and Ruff-Nex can give positive proof that there is but one real class on the campus: Ladies and Gentlemen (and freshmen), the Sophomore Class.

VISITS WORK HERE

Takes Time From Busy
Day Spent Tuesday
In Amarillo

Making the seventh speech of one day, Governor James V. Allred highly pleased a large gathering of Canyon citizens and students of W. T. Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in a short talk. The crowd had waited for an hour while the Governor and his party had been detained by the strenuous program outlined for him in Amarillo. The capacity gathering in the auditorium felt repaid for having waited.

"Better days are ahead for Texas and the nation," stated the Governor. However, the drought of the Panhandle had revealed to him a need of immediate action on the part of the state and federal governments. The Governor wired Washington that this section needing special attention, and he will insist that relief measures be started in Austin to care for this section.

The wonderful spirit of the Panhandle was praised, as the people faced the sand storms to celebrate the mothers-in-law celebration, and to carry on all business activities.

Governor Allred recalled his first visit to Canyon when he arrived in the city broke to accept a job on Judge C. T. Word's ranch, and had to sleep in the postoffice. He tried to get a job when the first build-

Governor Visits Here

GOVERNOR J. V. ALLRED

Governor Allred made an official visit to Canyon Tuesday afternoon, speaking to a capacity crowd at the College Auditorium. He visited the improvement projects on the campus, and the Palo Duro State Park.

H. S. Seniors Present Play

A few loose horse hairs in a sack of meal start the Bevins and Gaddis feud and form the basis of the plot of "Moonshine and Honeysuckle," the W. T. High School play which is to be presented in the auditorium of the Education Building Friday evening, March 15th.

Rich home-spun philosophy, comedy, and romance fill the story of Clem Betts (Irving Willoughby) who strives to bring harmony into the hostile valley below Lonesome Mountain. Although in love with Annie Bevins, who is played by Ruth Baker, when he learns that she cares more for Buck Gaddis, (Joe McDonald), he immediately lends his aid to the Romeo-and-Juliet romance of the backwoods.
Clem's heart, which he insists is dead and which he mournfully buries several times, takes a new lease on life when Cracker Gaddis (Pat Patterson) pops in from "over yonder," to exercise her trigger-finger. Taming this little shrew occupies Clem's time when he isn't playing Cupid for Annie and Buck.
The feud is finally ended but not until after the trial of Peg-leg Gaddis, Lucius Pennick of course, who is charged by Malcolm-Jest-Call-Mc-Judge-Bull, with disturbing public worship when he rode a mule into church and "shot up" the wedding of his son.

Other characters in the play are Piney Hyatt, Mary McCaslin, who is determined to get married; Leo Dufrot, the Peddler, who proves to be the answer to Piney's prayers; Helene Oliver, alias Gypsy Carter, who bootlegs moonshine to Tom Bevins (Alton Paul in real life); Pink Freeze, Raymond Cheves, who has marital troubles; and Maw and Paw Betts, Mary Harman and Bomar Brown who are parents of the leading man.

Practically every element appealing to mankind is found in the three-act play—romance, humor and even actual gun-fighting.

The play will begin promptly at 8 p. m. and admission prices are only 25 cents. Tickets are available from any of the high school seniors, and will be sold in the hall of the Administration Building Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week. Don't miss "Moonshine and Honeysuckle."

Deer, was on the campus Saturday.

PRESIDENT J. A. HILL CALLS SPECIAL STUDENT COUNCIL MEETING SATURDAY P. M.

COUNCIL SEEKS TO WELD STUDENT BODY IN SOLID MASS AGAINST TUITION BILL

Clark Presents Juvenile Singers In Chapel Sat.

Miss Ada V. Clark presented the children of the elementary grades in a program Saturday morning.

During the past month, the pupils in the first seven grades of the Demonstration School have learned the contest songs which are being used in the Tri-State Musical Festival this year. The first and second grades learned one group of songs, the third and fourth another, the fifth and sixth another, and the seventh still another.

Miss Lowes, Mrs. Sligar and Mrs.
Saunders taught the songs in their respective grades. Miss Clark was assisted by three student teachers, La Trice Quattlebaum, Frances Alice Clark, and Pauline Thompson.

The songs were taught to the entire grade. Then two girls and two boys were selected to represent each grade in the final contest.

Wednesday afternoon, these pupils sang their songs for Mr. Clark and a group of his voice pupils, who acted as judges.

The pupils getting second place and those in the first four grades who ranked high for the Demonstration School Assembly program Thursday. The first and second grade chorus and the third and fourth grade choruses also sang.

On Saturday those pupils getting first place sang solos. Those ranking high in the fifth, sixth, and seventh grades sang in groups.

Students winning first place were the Boys' Chorus, Mary Elizabeth Hodges, James Isabel, Clavelle Boling, H. R. Fulton, Florence Clark, the girls in the fifth and sixth grades, Stuart Condon, the boys in the fifth and sixth grades, Edrie Alona McNeal, the girls in the seventh grade, Dick Smith, the boys of the seventh grade, and the Girls' Chorus.

Thomas, Neal Jennings, Dixie Jones, Elizabeth McCaslin, Jester Voss, Virginia Vaughan, and Berry McCart.

HIBBETS, COOK TO LECTURE AT PLAINVIEW

Miss Anna I. Hibbets of the Education Department will be the principal speaker on the program of the meeting of the District Parent-Teachers Associations next Friday, March 15, at Plainview.
Miss Hibbets will talk on "The Child and His School," and will discuss the responsibility of the school in connection with the development of the individual, including physical, mental, social, and moral development.

Dr. Harris M. Cook will also speak on the "Problems of Curriculum Revision" before the district meeting Saturday, March 16.

The general theme of the meeting is the training of the child for good citizenship. The meeting will be attended by delegates from the Parent Teachers Associations in all the towns represented by the district.

Home Ec. Majors To Cook For Western Tour

Fannie Mae Rees, Home Economics major who will graduate here this year, has been selected from a lengthy list of applicants for the position as one of the cooks for the Educational Tour being sponsored by Frank R. Phillips, head of the Agriculture Department.

A large house-trailer is being bought by Mr. Phillips to serve as a cafeteria for the party making the tour. Miss Rees will be assisted in her culinary duties by Miss Hilda Miller, an ex-student who accompanied the party last year in the same capacity.

BROWN VISITS WIFE SUNDAY Mr. Pete Brown of Channing visited his wife and his sister, Miss Annabel Brown, who are staying in Randall Hall, Sunday.

Some men are known by their deeds, others by their mortgages.

In order to help defeat House Bill 627, introduced into the legislature by Representative Fischer of Abilene, President Hill called a special meeting of the Student Council Saturday afternoon to consider a course of action to be taken in this direction. The bill proposes to raise tuition in all state institutions of higher learning in Texas from $50 to $150 per student.

It was estimated by the Student Council that if the bill were passed, it would cut out sixty to sixty-five per cent of the students now attending West Texas State Teachers College. The Council decided to present the question to the student body immediately in the form of a petition which will be sent to the committee working on the bill at Austin.

A special assembly is being called Wednesday morning at 9:30 by President Hill. The Student Council will have charge and will do everything possible to create sentiment against the bill among the members of the student body. The whole-hearted co-operation of every student is of vital importance.

Members of the Student Council unanimously voiced the opinion that if the bill were passed, the results would be "education for class instead of mass." Passage of this bill would mean a cost of $42.50 per student at the beginning of each nine weeks' term.

W. T. Aggies To Judge Stock In Fort Worth

Having spent two days last week, Monday and Tuesday, in Amarillo practicing livestock judging at the Amarillo Fat Stock Show, the judging team composed of Edward Devlin, Tulsa, and George Smith and Dean Story, Hereford, will leave Thursday for the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show where they will represent the Agriculture Department of West Texas State Teachers College.

The team will be thrown in competition with teams from other teachers colleges and from junior A. & M. colleges.

The boys are leaving a few days early in order to do practice judging at various points en route to Fort Worth. In the contest at the Fat Stock Show, they will judge meat and dairy types of cattle, as well as sheep and hogs.

In accordance with the rules for judging livestock, contestants must first place the animals judged in the order in which they think they should be ranked. Then, each contestant must appear before the judges of the contest and in the space of two minutes, give his reasons for placing the animals in the order that he did.

In recent years, a team representing this college not only won the contest at Ft. Worth, but one of the boys on the team succeeded in winning a third of the prize-money himself.

Gillis Will Build New Type Cases

J. A. Gillis, of the Woodworking Department, is beginning work this week on two new cases for the museum.

One of the cases is to be used to display elephant fossils such as jaws, teeth, and leg-bones. It will be on a different plan from most of the cases already in the museum as it is to have three sides enclosed by glass, while the back will be covered with a painting showing the elephants as they were in the days when they inhabited this country.

The other case will contain basketry and is to be upright, two feet wide, ten feet long, and seven and one-half feet high. Mr. Gillis hopes to have this case finished when the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society meets in April.

WHAT IS THE AIM OF AN EDUCATION?

The Student says Books.
The Scholar says Knowledge.
The Preacher says Character.
The Minister says Service.
The Philosopher says Truth.
The Artist says Beauty.
The Epicurean says Happiness.
The Stoic says Self-control.
The Christian says Self-denial.
The Democrat says Self-government.
The Statesman says Co-operation.
The Patriot says Patriotism.
The Judge says Justice.
The Aged Man says Wisdom.
The Soldier says Courage.

As I read the various answers to the question, I felt that the most important point of all had been omitted.

I think that the aim of an education is to teach us how to use the finest of tools—our minds. It should teach us the essentials of working together with our hearts and minds, thus leading us to a higher standing in the world, and who doesn't want to have a high standing?

Quite often one hears a student remark: "Why must I study such and such a thing? What good will it do me? These questions can be answered in a few words: to develop your imagination. There are certain parts in a school education, which, by showing things of the past, gets the student to exercise his or her imagination. In studying these parts, the student is helped to visualize the future. There are other subjects, such as geometry and foreign languages, which teach the pupils how to use his head, how to think clearly, and logically.

Imagination has provided for us the comforts which we now enjoy for without imagination, or an active mind, Edison would never have invented the radio, Franklin would never have discovered electricity, Duryea and Haynes would never have invented the automobile and would never have known the comforts of countless other conveniences.

Thus "Imagination is the window of the mind, and the long arm of inner energy that reaches out beyond today to lay tomorrow's foundation."—Dalhart Texan.

Very objective evidence of the real spirit of Chief Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes is in his will which leaves the greater part of his fortune to the United States Government. It was an expression on the part of the deceased Chief Justice of his gratitude to the government, not for the privilege of serving it for more than three score years, but for what the government was to him.

WHITMAN FISH

The "rah-rah boy" of yesterday's collegiate life is rapidly becoming a thing of the past and is being replaced by the hard-working serious-minded person. This statement is the result of the findings of the Carnegie Foundation of Teaching. They go on to say that the student of today has a completely different attitude toward scholarship, research, athletics, and student activities.—Baylor-Bells.

And then there was the boy who said, "Let me kiss you under the mistletoe," and who received the reply of, "Big boy, I wouldn't let you kiss me under an anaesthetic." Woe and more woe was him, no doubt.

Word comes via the T. C. U. Skiff that many universities are reducing the length of the popular fraternity "Hell-Week" term to three days. Rather than have the strife last for a week and be comparatively light, it is now very concentrated and lasts only two or three days. One boy at Rutgers, who is carrying around 112 eggs, says he's standing it "just for the fun of it" since "it only comes once in a life time." Some fun!

FLASH: MOUSE TURNS TABLES, EATS BOA CONSTRUCTOR. A boa constrictor which arrived at the University of Vermont via a banana stalk a few days ago, has deceased, after surviving the rigors of freezing weather and forced feeding. The mouse, which was put in the snake's cage to serve as nourishment for Mr. Snake, turned tables and ate off the end of the Boa's tail—which proved too much of a loss, so it was curtains for Sir Boa.—The Collegian.

A little late but effective:
To Huey Long—
A Valentine greeting to you I send,
O Kingfish, Emperor Huey!
Though kind to some, my worthy friend, to me me you're just plain Hooey!
—Frances Parker, in the Daniel Baker Coll.

But more yet. One of the worthy professors in this institute has volunteered this dainty missile: "Egypt had her series of scourges, locusts, and frogs; France had her reign of terror, et cetera; but just what has Louisiana done to have Huey Long?"

Says Andrews in the Houstonian, "College students are natural mimics. They imitate the faculty no matter what efforts are made to teach them good manners."

And we must extend our most heartfelt sympathy and bushels of pity to the charming miss who borrowed the dressing case, packed it with the "glad rags," and while walking to a house in town to dress for the evening of good, clean, fun lost the key to the dressing case. Woe was her! She is such a conscientious young thing that she didn't have the heart to kick it open (the usual method, we're told), so perhaps she sang "My Whole Day Is Spoiled?"

Did anyone notice the sizeable amount of girls who were so anxious to go home for the night this last week, especially during the first part? And also those who suddenly developed a bosom companionship with someone in Amarillo. We refer to the attraction of attractions. The Cavortings of the Cattlemen which took place in Amarillo last week. The Herring is an awfully home-like place, isn't it, girls?

Three birds for the up-and-coming young man—Hosea (Astaire) Foster, the "nearly" man. (See Webster's Dictionary for definition of nearly.)

And the cute little Lambda Chi pin that adorns the innocent bosom of little Jennie Sue is strictly due to one Bickford Slack, late of Oklahoma University. Love, honor, and Oh, Baby!

Clinton Meek makes hay in the sun and in cars, just anywhere—could you have seen him in one of the parked cars just south of the Ad Building about two o'clock Friday afternoon, you would say in chorus, Yea, Man!

W. T. EXES RE-ELECTED IN GROOM IS REPORT

Superintendent Rual Ford of Groom reports that all the high school teachers there have been re-elected for 1935-36 with a ten percent increase in salaries. Among the W. T. graduates there are Dorothy Egerton, Percy Ryon, and Kenneth Kendrick, all of the class of '34, Superintendent Rual Ford and Principal Dalton Ford. Caliche walks and tennis courts with well constructed back stops are recent improvements on the Groom school grounds.

Finch Addresses Rotary Club, Mar. 8

H. A. Finch, who formerly was Superintendent at Dalhart, spoke before the Dalhart Rotary Club, March 8th.

His week-end engagements included a meeting of Moore county teachers at Dumas Friday night and a tri-county meeting at Dalhart Saturday which was attended by teachers of Sherman, Dalhart, and Hartley counties. Last week-end Mr. Finch addressed meetings at Alanreed, Dimmitt, and Tulla, and on March 7th he spoke to the Canyon and Randall county teachers.

MRS. GREEN AND DAUGHTER RETURN FROM TRIP EAST

Mrs. Geraldine Green and her daughter, Nell, returned Tuesday to Canyon from an extended trip in the East. Mrs. Green attended the Twenty-Second Regular National Association of Deans of Women in Atlantic City from February 20-23. On the programs in Atlantic City the talks which Dean Green found most interesting were those of Harriett M. Allyn, of Mount Holyoke College, and Adah Peirce of Hiram College.

From Atlantic City Mrs. Green and her daughter went to New York where they were the guests of Miss Thelma Brummett and Dr. Mildred Van Riper. Miss Brummett and Mrs. Green attended the closing night of Katharine Cornell's presentation of "Romeo and Juliet." After the play, Mrs. Green and Miss Brummett were received by Miss Cornell in her dressing room.

They also saw the Moscow Art Players in their first Chekhov evening. Mrs. Green noted especially the difference between the old evenings of smart, sophistication characteristic of the Moscow Art Players' presentations then and the rustic, peasant entertainment which is the characteristic note of their entertainments now.

Mrs. Green stated that both she and Nell thoroughly enjoyed their trip.

W. T. Band Aids In Celebration

Thirty members of the West Texas State Teachers College band journeyed to Amarillo last Tuesday to take part, with fourteen other leading bands of Texas, in the colossal parade that celebrated the occasion of Mothers-in-Law Day.

Attired in close-fitting maroon coats, white trousers, white Sam Browne belts, and military caps, the band was one of the best of the parade. It was led in the giant procession from the Amarillo Hotel to the Municipal Auditorium by Bandmaster C. E. Strain and Drum Major James Compton.

During the noon hour, band members were treated to a feast of barbecue. Immediately following the parade, the band returned to the college here and played several numbers in the main auditorium before Governor James V. Allred made an address.

The next appearance of the band is scheduled for Friday morning, March 22, when the organization will play here for the Northwest Texas Educational Conference, Mr. Strain said.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Graham and their six months' old son now reside in Pampa. Mrs. Graham will be remembered as Zolena Bishop. The Grahams lived in South America from their marriage until about one year ago.

Inez Blankinship and Mrs. Katie Zachry of White Deer were campus callers Saturday. Both expect to complete the work for their degrees this summer.

The Tumbleweed

On the invitation of Miss Ada V. Clark, the second grade went to the music room on March 7, and listened in on a program of Indian songs, instrumental music, and stories. The program came in clearly over the radio, and the children enjoyed it immensely.

Mary Elizabeth Hodges, a pupil in the second grade, won first place in her division in the Music Contest last Wednesday.

School Visitor: So you like your geography, do you?

Boy: Yes, it's the only book that's big enough to hide a detective story in.—Scholastic.

Two little boys were talking. One said to the other, "Aren't ants the funniest things? They work and work and never play."

SUNDRY STUDIES

Home Ec

How to prop a sick person in bed comfortably, how to change the sheets with the patient in bed, and what to do when Brother Johnny comes home from college with measles, are some of the problems being studied this term by the home economic girls, in the home nursing unit they are taking up.

Public Speaking

"My Hobby" is the subject the public speaking class has been riding. Drop in some day and Kathleen King will tell you the why's and wherefores of arrow-head collecting; or perhaps Frances Armstrong will read a poem for you—she has collected books full of them. Any time you plan to build a home, consult Marjory Merchant, specialist. Eating proved to be a topic of common interest when Grover Stucky played Sampson (he brought down the house) at explaining why eating is his hobby.

Social Science

The hundreds of people, who had been waiting for hours, held their breath as the jury filed back into the packed courtroom. No, we didn't exaggerate—much; you know the social science class has been holding court instead of reciting for the past few days. And speaking of court matters, Miss Jennie C. Ritchie, teacher of the social science course, had an interview with Mr. Hamlin, the Amarillo man awaiting his trial for uxoricide.

English

The members of Miss Ritchie's eighth grade English class are preparing a dramatization of scenes from "The Lady of the Lake," which they plan to present in assembly in the near future.

Spanish

Sixteen members of the Junior Spanish Club drove up to Amarillo Thursday morning to sing a number of Spanish hymns at a program on Mexican Baptist Missions in Texas, presented by the M. W. U. of the First Baptist Church. Mrs. T. H. McDonald was in charge of the program.

The students, who were accompanied by Mrs. Campbell, of Happy; Loveta Ludlum, their accompanist; and Mrs. Montfort, their sponsor, returned in time for their one-thirty classes.

Bids Opened On Dormitory Today

Bids will be opened today on the new dormitory to be constructed here for college men.

A meeting was held in President Hill's office today by a committee appointed by the Board of Regents in Austin recently. Serving on the committee are John E. Hill, Amarillo; J. D. Jackson, Alpine; and R. A. Stuart, Fort Worth. Architects and contractors attended this meeting for the purpose of bidding for the construction of the new building.

HELL WEEK CONCLUDED FOR RUFF-NEX PLEDGES

"Help! Police! They're murdering someone," screamed the most diminutive member of the Spratt family, as he dashed from the Administration Building.

As his screams died away, the agonizing moans of the tortured, mingled with the diabolical laughs of the fiendish torturers, were heard. The Ruff-Nex were initiating their pledges.

In the few hours of the morning, a group of haggard ex-pledges emerged from behind closed doors which closed again on the secrets of another Ruff-Nex initiation, never to be divulged and never to be forgotten. The survivors of this "Hell of Hells" were as follows: Stanley Williams, Buster Leslie, Schuman Cherry, "Filbert" Schu-hart, Floyd Murray, Oscar Hinger, R. M. Thompson, Edward Burk-halter, Raymond Debenport, Craig Walling and Noel Woodley.

ENERGY! "Camel's energizing effect" is a great thing for one who is active," says Paul Thompson, of the world-champion Chicago Black Hawks hockey team. "When tired, there's one thing I want—a Camel!"

FLAVOR! Jack Shea, Olympic Speed Skater: "Camels taste so good that with me Camels get the nod every time. When people mention my being a cigarette smoker, I correct them and say, 'I'm a Camel smoker.'"

HEALTHY NERVES! Says Ray Stevens, North American Bob-Sled Champion: "When the last heat has been run, I light a Camel and enjoy it to the full, knowing that Camels never bother my nerves!"

MILDNESS! Betty Chase, expert skater, says: "Camels are so mild and appealing! And smoking Camels steadily never tells on my nerves. To me, it's a very important fact that Camels use finer tobaccos."

VALUE! "I'm just an interested winter sports fan," says Edward Kent. "But I'm with Jack Shea and Ray Stevens when it comes to smoking Camels! I get a lift with a Camel when I'm low and need cheering up, or when I'm tired. And the fact that tobaccos of a choicer quality are used in Camels goes far to explain why Camels are so mild and pleasing, and never jangle my nerves. It means a lot to me that millions more are spent for the tobaccos used in Camels."

Hardin-Simmons Series Begin Here Tomorrow

COWBOYS ARE BUFFS BEST COMPETITION

W. T. S. T. C. Cagers Are Anxious For Fray

Tomorrow night and Thursday night in Burton Gym, the West Texas Buffaloes meet the Hardin-Simmons University basketball team in a series that promises to be one of the most entertaining of the season.

Coach Leslie Cranfill is bringing a colorful quintet into Canyon; one that appears to be the strongest that the Buffaloes have met this year.

Working with sophomores Coach Cranfill has gained his sixth consecutive Texas Conference title without a single defeat. Benson, sharpshooting Cowboy sophomore forward, won individual scoring honors in the Texas Conference with 161 points in twelve games.

Glover, at guard, is six feet seven inches tall. McCollom, at center, is six feet five; Benson is six feet three, while the other two regulars are six feet one. The next two substitutes are six feet two and one-half inches tall, and six feet one.

All in all Wednesday and Thursday nights should see quite an aerial game.

Both teams are planning on entering the National Tournament in

Buff Basketeers Dinner Guests Of Cliff Jarrett

Tuesday night, the 1935 basketball team of the West Texas State Teachers College were guests of Cliff Jarrett at a hunter's supper at the Jarrett home.

Mr. Jarrett is president of the Canyon Athletic Club and one of the most enthusiastic citizens of Canyon in support of the Buffaloes.

He wished to give the hunters' supper of a variety of wild fowls to Buffaloes as a personal expression of his appreciation of the success of the Buffaloes on the gym floor this year, and especially their double defeat of Texas Tech. Those attending were: Coaches Al Baggett and Bob Cox, Edd McMinn, Leonard Britt, John Walker, Willie Boedeker, Lawrence Clark, Audell Kimmins, Curtis Clement, Ray Vineyard, Frank Von Noy, Vernon Johnson, Jack Davis, M. E. Cleavinger, and Gerald Brown.

Denver this year, and this adds a new angle of interest. Simmons is on the way to Denver, making traveling expenses with contests along the road.

After a week of inactivity because weather conditions necessitated the cancellation of the Goodwell game, the West Texas Buffaloes are eager for the fray. Britt is fully recovered from the flu, and every man will be available for the contest.

Probable starting lineup for Coach Baggett is: Captain McMinn and Britt, forwards; Walker, center; and Boedeker and Clark, guards.

Hill-Billies Win Intramural Fray Over Ex-Eagles

One of the most heated contests ever seen on the campus in intramural sports was brought to a close last Monday and Tuesday nights when the Hill Billies, coached by D. V. Biggers, nosed the Ex-Eagles, coached by M. E. Cleavinger, out of the polished medals to crown themselves champions of W. T.'s revised intramural basketball program. The scores for the two nights were 16 to 11, and 26 to 19.

The game was a "fever" from the first whistle until the last, with both teams battling their hearts out, and neither team having a decided advantage. In the last few minutes of both games the Hill Billies "mustered" up for the final spurt, and threw the gates open to overcome the former Canyon High School boys.

The Ex-Eagles displayed good basketball in both games, and every minute was a threat to the Hill Billies, who were odds-on favorites to cop the crown. The former Eagles displayed good sportsmanship, and are a "battling crew." We hope they have better luck next year.

The winners of this series demonstrated in every respect the objective that West Texas is striving for, and that is—clean, fast intramural activities, something that everyone can take part in, and in so doing, demonstrate sportsmanship and all that is required to make a well-rounded man.

As a special inducement this year, Coach Baggett offered as a reward to the winner, a beautiful loving cup, with the names of the players engraved on it. He is also giving individual medals to the players on the winning team. The boys who will receive these medals are as follows: Coy Palmer, junior; Edgar Frazier, freshman; D. V. Riggers, senior; Lloyd Harris, junior; Max Simmons, junior; Robert Bates, sophomore; Roger Harvey, sophomore, and Virgil Elms, freshman.

ing on the W. T. campus was under construction. Governor Allred expressed great appreciation of the work being done at W. T., and the need for better financial support for the college. He believed that the reductions of two years ago were too drastic; that no further cuts should be made, and that some restorations should be made. He expressed great pride in the work of the college, and hoped to see it continue to grow and prosper.

BUFFS WALLOP MATADORS IN RETURN MAT MEET HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

LOCAL BOYS STRONGER IN BOXING; BROWN SAVES MEET; TURNS DEFEAT INTO VICTORY

Friday night in Burton Gym the boxing and wrestling teams of West Texas State Teachers College gained some measure of revenge by defeating the mat and glove artists of Texas Tech with a point advantage of 21 to 19.

In a former meet in Lubbock the Matadors nosed out the Buffaloes. Friday night the Buffaloes gained the advantage by taking five boxing matches to three for Tech. The wrestling was even with both teams taking four matches, two each by decisions and two by falls.

Wendell Cain started the meet off right for West Texas by gaining a technical knockout over Brasher of Tech in the third round of the 118-pound division.

Small Decisions All-Star
Ray Small, meeting a former high school all-state champion for two years in Oklahoma in Eugene Palmer of Tech, won a decision in an extra period by some clever wrestling.

In the third event, Gerald Brown, 128-pound boxer of West Texas, won a technical knockout over Paul Gibbs of Tech in the second round.

John Morris, representing West Texas in the 138-pound class, met one of Tech's best men in Watkins, and had to exhibit a lot of skill to escape from being pinned. Watkins won the decision.

Red Holston of West Texas made a good showing in the first round against Nichols of Tech in 138-pound boxing, but appeared exhausted in the last two rounds to drop the decision.

Wooten Pins White
Clarence Wooten, 145-pound Buff grappler, put on a scientific exhibition of wrestling to pin White of Tech.

Brady McCoy fought Odis Cannon of Tech three furious rounds in the 145-pound division to drop the decision by a narrow margin.

John Blaine, Buff ear-twister, was pinned by Holcomb, Matador wild man, in the 155-pound class.

Tech forfeited the 155-pound boxing to McCarty of West Texas. George Caviness met Jake May, Tech wrestling coach, in a strong match, but after putting up a strong resistance was pinned in the last part of the match.

Cain K. O.'s McElroy Stina Cain, Buff fighter, knocked out McElroy of Tech in the first round of the 165-pound weight.

In the 175-pound class, West Texas forfeited the boxing to Mitchell of Tech. In the wrestling Ezell Champion pinned Gamble of Tech.

Clinton Meek had Williams of Tech groggy in the heavyweight fight, but was unable to finish him. Meek won the decision.

Sanderson Outweighed
Gardner Sanderson, normally 175-pound regular matman for West Texas, entered the heavyweight division because Leo Jackson, Buff heavyweight, was out with an injured back. Sanderson found the 220 pounds of Browning of Tech too much of a handicap and lost a decision.

At this juncture, the standing for the meet was 19 points for Tech and 18 for West Texas. With the outcome of the meet depending on their wrestling match, Gerald Brown for the Buffaloes and Jack Fann of the Raiders wrestled six fast minutes. Neither was able to gain a fall. Brown of the Buffs had sufficient time advantage to win the match, giving the meet to West Texas by a count of 21 to 19.

BASKETEERS GO TO DENVER

Next Saturday morning the West Texas State Teachers College Buffaloes will leave for Denver to participate in the National Basketball Tournament.

There has been much said for a long time about the possibility of the Buffaloes entering the tournament, but financial problems made it uncertain for a time, if the budget would stand the expense.

But this is the official announcement that the Buffs will compete at Denver. The record of the Buffaloes establishes them as one of the outstanding college teams in the entire country.

At Denver the college teams will be competing with the other amateur teams. It is planned at a later date to divide the tournament. Sul Ross, Panhandle A. & M., New Mexico Normal and many others are entered.

The greatest advantage that will come to the Buffaloes will be the experience and more modern ideas that will come from participating in any witnessing the play of the greatest men in the game.

Every man on the Buffalo team except John Walker and Leonard Britt will be eligible next year, and should be greatly improved because of the Denver tournament.

Buff Overcome All Obstacles To Win Fame

Buffalo Basketeers, we offer you congratulations. Paul Revere took to his horse to reach his destination, but the W. T. Cagers took to diligent training, with a goal in view to reach theirs. After getting off to a shaky start by dropping the inaugural game of the season to the Panhandle Aggies, Baggett, McMinn and Co., began working in earnest. The Buffs first appearance in foreign fields was when they opened a two game series with the Texas Tech Matadors at Lubbock. According to the dopesters the Teachers weren't even given a fighting chance to beat Tech, but a smooth working offense and a dogged defense left the Matadors staggering to the tune of a bitter defeat.

The next night was nightmare for the Buffaloes. For some unknown reason the Buffs' offense failed to click properly, and in a rough and tumble game the Bull Fighters emerged victorious.

Returning home the Buffs took on the Broncs of Central Teachers of Edmond, Okla., and split games with them. In this series the Canyonites gave evidence that they would be "bating" up among the leaders when the season closed.

The following week Sul Ross made a trip to Canyon to open a two game series. It was in this series that the Buffaloes really hit their stride.

They took Sul Ross in both games like Grant took Richmond, and left no doubt but what they were on their way to greater basketball glory. When the Buffaloes returned the two-game series with Sul Ross, it was a different story. The boys from the Big Bend country opened up with some classy basketball and beat the Buffs one point, in somewhat of an upset. The next night was another thriller, and it took a story book finish by Britt to win it. The Buff forward sunk a long shot in the closing seconds of the game to salt it away.

At last the time had come! The Matadors were invading the W. T. Campus to open the most spectacular series of the entire season.

It was generally conceded that the Buffs' only had a slight chance for victory, but I'll tell you for sure that the home town boys rose to the stormy heights, kicked the dope can all over the country, and took the Red Raiders like Sherman marched to the sea. There was never a doubt as to who were the greatest team. Tech did everything they could to overcome the smooth work of the Buffs. Time and time again Tech kicked their offense into high gear, with Gilmore and Weaver pulling the throttle, and demonstrated some of the classiest breaking, and clearest passing ever seen in these parts, but they could not compare shots with the Buffs—and after all a team has to make a few baskets before they can win ball games. The records show that both games went to the Buffs, and winning this series the Teachers dribbled, shot, and passed their way to stardom in the hearts of W. T. students.

... when anything satisfies it's got to be right... no "ifs" or "buts" about it.

Chesterfields satisfy because, first of all, they're made of the right kinds of mild ripe tobaccos. These tobaccos are thoroughly aged and then blended and cross-blended.

It takes time and it takes money, but whatever it costs in time or money we do it in order to give you a cigarette that's milder, a cigarette that tastes better.
