

Tech-W.T. Girls Plan Recreational Day

Approximately fifteen members of the Women's Athletic Association of Texas Technological College, Lubbock, will be on the campus Saturday to participate in a Play Day with the W. T. Physical Education Majors Club.

This activity is recreational and its purpose is to give the girls in both schools a chance to enlarge their horizon in so far as sportsmanship and plans for physical activity curricula are concerned.

Features of the day's program are: Morning Program:
10—Tour of campus; Welcome by President Hill.

11—Square Dancing.
12:15—Luncheon at Cousins Hall.
Afternoon Program:
1:30—Film on Field Hockey.
2:30—Stick work, coached by Tech girls.

3:30—Swimming; Volley Ball; Table Tennis.
4—Coffee in Cousins Hall Red Room.

Mrs. Johnnye Langford and Mrs. Zella Huffman, physical education instructors, are expected to accompany the girls from Lubbock.

Lucy Hedgecock, senior physical education major and president of the majors club, has been instrumental in planning the schedule of the day.

Study Lying As Behavior Form

Prof. J. L. Duflet Tells Students "The Truth About Liars" In Assembly

Pointing to a need for a psychological study of lying as a form of behavior, Prof. J. L. Duflet of the sociology department outlined four major groups of liars at a Tuesday student assembly.

Using as a topic, "The Truth About Lies," he defined rationalization as "the name given to that type of thinking in which the individual gives socially acceptable reasons for behavior" that has been called in question," and said most liars or alibiers fall into this class.

"In reasoning we attempt to foresee the future so that we may act intelligently in the present, but the mind of the rationalizers works just the opposite from that of the reasoner; he acts and then thinks," he said. "When we fail, we simply abstract one unimportant element from the whole of a situation and read into it a meaning that will give the whole act the greatest personal or social approval."

He described all liars as falling into one or more of the following classes: the conscious or willful, pathological, the rationalizer, and the artistic liar. He typified three classes of artistic liars; namely: a person pretends to manifest an interest in something on which he is already well informed; a person feigns indifference to a subject under discussion in which he wishes to conceal a very vital interest; a person pretends a knowledge about something of which he is absolutely ignorant.

"If one never failed, if one could always make adequate adjustments, he would never have any occasion to defend himself by any gesture of self-deception. A truthful man is one who employs a minimum of deception to get along in the world," Prof. Duflet said.

Speech Group Gives Program

Members of the speech department, accompanied by James Butler, speech professor, and Mrs. Butler, presented a variety program at Canadian and Pampa high schools Friday.

The program consisted of a one-act play, "Three's a Crowd," numbers by the Swing Four and Louise Roach of Pauls Valley, Okla., vocalist, and the Pampa Trio. The play cast included Elouise Tout, Hereford; Mickey Ledrick, Mary Jean Hill, Jack Hessey, Pampa; and Eugene Brandon, Crane. Members of the Swing Four, campus orchestra, are Weldon Bright, Raymond Woods, Ernest Schelhaugen, and Earl Wilbur. Jeanne Lively, Meribelle Hazard, and Anna Belle Lard make up the Pampa Trio.

This was one of the first of this type of programs to be sent out by the College this term. Similar trips will be made to other cities soon.

Four special numbers will feature bandmen as well as music by the entire group.

Low Life of a Social Club Pledge Justified in New Friendships

A stern faced girl stood in the hall watching a meek looking person come down the corridor.

"Pledge," said the stern faced individual.

"Yes'um," very meekly—She swallowed a lump which got caught in her throat.

"Be at my room at 3:30 and don't forget or be late." The meek one went on down the hall.

Pledges are back on the campus for the second time this year. Pledge pins, ties, and ribbons can be seen on a selected few. The pledges are always wrong, but most of them like it, and believe they will get at least double pay for what they are doing.

Suzy Anderson, a pledge of Gamma Phi said, "I think it's wonderful. It is a lot of hard work but it is worth what you get in return." Carol Ely, a Pi Omega pledge, said, "Pledging and getting in, if I do, means a lot to me." Most of the forty-seven pledges to the sororities and fraternities think almost the same thing.

"If you see a stern faced individual lashing a meek person with his tongue, you are not witnessing the reincarnation of a roman emperor, but a club member doing his duty by his pledge."

The above is a borrowed but apt description of a member and his poor lowly pledge.

The duties of these unfortunates are many and varied. They have to shine all types of things from shoes to automobiles. They iron clothes and clean rooms (pledges have a special dread of dust storms) and wash the windows. Just any little task that is distasteful to a member is a privilege for the pledge. Of course, the pledges don't mind, or if they do they are afraid to say anything about it. They smile and go ahead.

There are pledges who have to roll their own cigarettes; others who cannot speak to the opposite sex. They must have the members permission for everything. They can breath without a permit—if they don't inhale too deeply.

All pledges are good sports, because if they are not, they do not last long. They take their low life as it comes, hoping that some day they will have a pledge of their own. They think their big sisters, or brothers, are wonderful, and by the time the pledging is over they are extremely fond of their fellow pledges.

Valuable knowledge is derived from the few weeks of pledgship. The victims learn to get along with people, subordinate themselves, and have close friends among choice groups on the campus.

It's hard, but it's worth it—maybe.

Donnell To Be Crowned Queen

Senate and Delta Zeta Chi Plan Ceremony and Dance for Saturday

Kate Donnell, senior member of Delta Zeta Chi, will receive the title and crown of Personality Queen of West Texas State College Saturday evening in a ceremony beginning at 7:30 o'clock in the College auditorium. Her attendants will be the candidates for college beauty honors.

The Student Senate will sponsor the coronation and the Coronation Ball which will follow at 9 o'clock at Cousins Hall. This dance, according to Garland Turner, student body president, will be the only formal all-college dance this year. It will close at midnight.

In charge of arrangements will be Delta Zeta Chi sorority. It is the custom for the club from which the candidate is selected to plan the program. The College Swing Four will play for dancing. Admission will be 35 cents stag or couple.

Miss Donnell, a brown-haired and brown-eyed member of the June graduating class, is a student from Canyon. She was elected in November by a student vote. Kate, with her friendly smile and hearty "Hello," enjoys sports as a participant and spectator. She plays the piano and guitar.

Dr. Fred Oberst Will Speak in Assembly April 1

A featured assembly speaker for a Pi Beta Gamma program April 1 will be Dr. Fred W. Oberst from Lexington, Kentucky.

Dr. Oberst is an ex-student having received his degree here in 1927 and obtained his M. S. and Ph. D. degrees in Chemistry at the University of Iowa.

In 1935 he accepted a position with the U. S. Public Health Service after having served as Research associate in Bio-Chemistry for the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, University of Iowa, from 1930 to 1935.

Exclusive treatment and study of drug addiction, is the purpose of the Lexington, Kentucky, Health Service Hospital in which Dr. Fred Oberst has conducted bio-chemical and physiological research on the nature of drug addiction.

Dr. Oberst, whose parents live southeast of Canyon, is a member of the American Society of Biological Chemists, Society of Sigma Xi, Phi Lambda Upsilon, American Men of Science, and America's Young Men. He is now Councilor of the Lexington Society of the American Chemical Society in which he has held recently the offices of Secretary-Treasurer and Chairman. Panhandle-Plains Section of the American Chemical Society will hear an address by Dr. Fred W. Oberst April 2, in Amarillo. His subject there will be "Some Bio-chemical Aspects of Drug Addiction."

Seniors Enroll Before April 1

"All seniors who wish to secure teaching positions and want assistance from the College are urged to enroll with the placement Committee before April 1," Mrs. T. V. Reeves, director of the Bureau of Public Service, has announced.

Guild Presents Art In Museum

An exhibit of pictures by members of the Printmakers Guild, an organization of women, is being displayed in the art room of the Panhandle-Plains museum here and will remain through March 31.

Most of the artists live in Dallas. The work displayed is for sale and is reasonably priced, according to Miss Isabel Robinson, head of the college art department. Most of the pictures are lithographs, but there are several linoleum prints, mezzotints, and a roulette.

The subject matter is wide in variety, including such subjects as scenes, Mexican scenes, mountain scenes, cowboy life, plants, animals, textures, and character studies.

Student Publications Heads Appointments Delayed Indefinitely

Dr. Meiklejohn Lectures Here

Wisconsin University Professor Describes Plan of Experimental Colleges

The Nation's outstanding authority on experimental college programs, Dr. Alexander Meiklejohn, arrived on the campus yesterday a month early.

His appearance was previously scheduled by the lyceum committee for April 24. Following a lecture last night he will go to St. John's College at Annapolis, Md., which is widely known as an experimental college, to direct the research program there for one month.

Describing his work in experimental colleges of the nation as inadequate but suggestive of the work to be done, Dr. Meiklejohn pointed to an intellectually integrated faculty as a result of the program.

"Following the notion that the European culture of today has grown out of the roots found in Plato and Euclid, one may see the intellectual structure of current civilization," he said yesterday morning in describing a basis for the experimental work.

The courses for a student will start with mathematics 5 times a week for four years, and the same for language and experimental science. He studies the earliest philosophies concerning these subjects and comes to modern theories in the fourth year.

"It is based on a notion that there is a body of European culture back of modern education," he said. "It regards the culture as a growing thing and is studied for the interrelationships."

This implies that the intellectual task of the individual is to understand the modern world, and we have a scheme based on notion that one follows a plan of doing this in 70 years—not four."

Hi-Y. Boys Return From Plainview

Prof. A. K. Goodman took seven boys from West Texas High School to the older boys' Hi-Y Conference at Plainview Friday. They returned Sunday.

Speakers at Plainview included Dr. A. M. Meyer of West Texas State College. Dr. Meyer's address concerned the "Vocational Horizons of Today" and their relation to the current occupational situation.

According to Mr. Goodman, there was a large number of boys from Northwest Texas and parts of New Mexico, totaling about four hundred.

Boys from West Texas High School were: Coleman Archer, Cass Archer, Sam Johnson, Scott Vaughan, Willis Criswell, Willis Hawkins, and Tony Brack.

Stockman Gives Many Oldtime Cattlemen's Pictures To Museum

Twenty-five pictures of oldtime cattlemen collected by the late W. J. Tod, Kansas stockman, have been given to the Panhandle-Plains museum.

The gift came through the interest of Col. Edward N. Wentworth, director of Armour's Livestock Bureau of Chicago, who obtained the pictures from James Tod of Phoenix, son of the man who collected them.

The old pictures, all framed, have been hung on the west wall of the museum on the first floor. Many of them could not be replaced, according to Dr. L. F. Sheffy, executive secretary of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society.

Collecting of the likenesses of early cattlemen has been a project of the museum staff for several years.

Among the pictures of the Tod collection are the following:

Murdo Mackenzie, manager of the Matador ranch; J. C. Johnson, manager of the Prairie Land & Cattle Company; Ford F. Harvey, son of Fred Harvey of railroad restaurant fame; J. P. Campbell, of Campbell Brothers, who had ranches in the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles and in Western Kansas; John Gosling, an Englishman who for many years was with the Swan

Who's Farm Was That One Which Went By Yesterday?

Reasons for "cutting classes" exhaust and ingenuity of college students and test severely the credulity of professors.

Prof. Frank R. Phillips, head of the department of agriculture at West Texas State College, was puzzled some—but not much—when he found this note from a student on his desk recently:

"Dad says farm blowing away and to come at once. I'm going home."

The student returned several days later and made this terse report:

"We stopped her."

Prof. Phillips accepted the explanation.

Ag Department Host to Cowmen

Livestock Improvement Program's Main Theme For One-Day Sessions

Prof. Frank R. Phillips, head of the agriculture department, is host today to visiting cattle raisers from all over the Panhandle. The school is stressing way to improve plains cattle, including Herefords.

One of the principal speakers for the one-day school is E. W. Eudaley of College Station. Mr. Eudaley is recognized as a leading authority on problems confronting livestock feeders.

The school is presenting talks, questions and answers, demonstrations, and new ideas on improved methods of livestock care, feeding, and breeding.

This largest and most profitable of all plains industries demands better methods in caring and breeding and the College answered this growing need by arranging to hold a one-day school.

President J. A. Hill of West Texas State was to welcome the cattlemen at 10 a. m., and from that hour until late this afternoon the visitors will be listening to outstanding speakers, who will include Mr. Eudaley; Rex B. Baxter, Amarillo; Jake Tartar, Wheeler county; D. T. Simons, Fort Worth; Dr. F. G. Harbaugh, Texas Technological College, Lubbock; Jess Coleman, Childress county; Winfield Fowler, Dallam county; J. E. Rigler, Plainview; and John Adams, Tulia.

Meeting of College Faculty This Afternoon

A meeting of College faculty is scheduled for 4:30 o'clock this afternoon in the Education Building, Tom Langston, secretary to the president, has announced.

Turner Vetoes Hud Prichard

President Hill Awaits Agreement of Senate And Association Officers

Appointments of publications executives for next year have not been made.

Reversing a recommendation of an earlier vote in which Charles Wilkerson of Houston was named to be recommended as editor of The Prairie, the Student Senate Friday placed the following names on the recommendation to the president of the College: Editor of The Prairie, Hud Prichard; Editor of Le Mirage, Charlotte Buchanan; business manager of The Prairie, Roy Cheatham; business manager of Le Mirage, Dorothea Harter.

Garland Turner, president of the Students' Association, vetoed the name submitted by the Senate for editorship of The Prairie.

Turner issued this statement yesterday:

"Feeling that the Senate had acted hastily in not waiting for the decision of the Interpretation Committee on rules of order and because the candidate in question did not receive a majority vote large enough to signify unity of action in the Senate, and after as close an investigation of the matter as possible, I vetoed the candidate for editor of The Prairie who was selected by a 7-5 vote in the Senate.

"I feel that the Senate action did not represent the current opinion on the campus and would appreciate a cross section of student opinion."

The form which indicated the actions of the Senate and of the Association president was placed on President J. A. Hill's desk Saturday for his action.

"It is a situation for which there is no precedent," Dr. Hill said yesterday. He indicated that a decision had not been made, but he said:

"I do not wish to take sides, but to approve or to not approve an act on which the Senate and the Association president are in agreement."

Former Student To Receive High Aviation Award

Dr. John E. Younger, a graduate of West Texas State College in 1912, will receive the "Spirit of St. Louis Gold Medal" in June for outstanding achievements in aeronautical engineering. He is chairman of the department of mechanical engineering at the University of Maryland.

The trophy will be awarded at the semi-annual meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers in Kansas City on June 16-18. Each three years a board of honors and awards selects an outstanding American to receive the coveted honor in aviation engineering. Dr. Younger will become the fifth American engineer to be so honored. Other recipients were Daniel Guggenheim, Paul Litchfield, Will Rogers, and James H. Doolittle.

Dr. Younger's most notable of many achievements was work on metal monocoque construction, which gave rise to the vogue of all-metal airplanes. He was adviser in the building of the first sub-stratosphere airplane at Wright field in 1938. He has written four technical books on aviation and two score research bulletins on aeronautics.

After leaving West Texas State, Dr. Younger attended the University of Texas and the University of California. He worked with the U. S. Army Air Corps as a senior engineer on leave from the University of California, where he taught until 1938. He was an A. E. F. flier in France during the world war. He has been consulting engineer to several aircraft companies. Honors have come to him from many sources.

He is a nephew of Mrs. L. G. Conner of Canyon and his wife, the former Brunette Francis, is a niece of Miss Tennessee Malone, WTSC librarian.

CLUB WILL MEET

There will be a meeting of the Home Economics Club Thursday at 11 o'clock. Miss Margaret Barrett, sponsor, will talk on "Siam as the Native Sees It."

Hart Palpitations

By Fred Hart

Gazing blankly at an untarnished sheet, and receiving no inspiration from the mechanical typewriter, we depend solely upon the flow of animation from the moving fingers to fill the column. Of course, we could think of catty, little demeaning thing to write about individuals; or, we could literally steal enough material from the brain work of some former great or near great; but neither course offers an attractive or attentive means of filling space.

There are several things to consider when performing the little act of "writing a column." First, one must be careful of the little hidden meanings put into words. It is not well to have half the school sore just to amuse the other half. Second, one should never go out of the way to fabricate a little bit of harmless amusement into malicious intent. And, third, one should have as a primary purpose the distributing of harmless, but needful information. This is the life of the real columnist.

The Tri Tau Presentation-Banquet Saturday evening sets the proper spring social stage. Now in rapid order we will have a number of other prominent social events.

Saturday night has become a dull time for the average student. Many are now taking advantage of the period to go home, thus making the time that much duller.

Really, something should be done to entertain the "average" student on week-ends. At that time the local movie has just an average picture, usually, and, the social clubs have their formal, leaving the rest of us just nothing to do.

Personally I can only bemoan the wrong—I can offer no suggestion of remedy. But something should be done. How about the Student Senate patching up their quarrel and tackling this truly important event?

MUCH TO DO ABOUT GRASS:
And now, because a number of us signed a pledge to stay off the grass, the ugly fences on the east part of the campus were removed. However, it grieves us to report that a number of unthinking students are once more troding the carpet of green.

And the sad part about the whole green matter is that the parties most benefitted, namely the residents of Cousins Hall are the worst offenders. Naturally we know that the majority of the girls are "good citizens" and walk on the concrete thoroughfares, but a small minority are taking advantage of our campaign and skooting across right where the fences were. And now unless something is done with these few—BACK THE FENCES GO.

And we know who many of the careless girls are, and we honestly think they should be taken to task for this offense.

Little facts in the passing parade: . . . J. W. Foust is now joining Roy Cheatham at Randall. . . . George Baker and Dorothy McNeill a regular twosome. . . . Nell Stevenson's new Yankee boy friend. . . . Overton Donnell and Louise Roach a steady duo again.

Greek Benefit To Be Staged March 29

Motion pictures throughout the nation will be shown during the coming week for the benefit of the suffering people of Greece.

A special midnight show will be given at the Olympic Theatre on Saturday night, March 29. The motion picture exchanges are giving pictures for these shows; the transportation companies are delivering the films; all of the shows are giving their time, and the government tax is likewise donated to the Greek Relief Fund.

A good program has been selected for the midnight show Saturday night at 11:30. The feature will be "Tugboat Annie Sails Again" featuring Marjorie Rambeau and Alan Hale, also added shorts are a community sing and Carl Hoff and orchestra.

This is the first effort made in Canyon to aid the Greeks. Donations will be accepted from those not wishing to attend the show.

About That Application!

"An application is a short biography and can be made interesting." This expression should be helpful to any student in applying for a job by mail.

Pointing out that many an applicant "has lost an opportunity through wrong spelling or slovenly penmanship," an article in the March issue of the Journal of the National Education Association indicates that the success of an applicant for a teaching position depends on the ability of the person to give the needed information.

Next to sound character and worthy example, superintendents and principals desire most of all teachers who have an enthusiastic interest in individual students and an aptitude for community leadership. They know that those who show initiative, originality, good taste, and leadership in college activities will exhibit those qualities in the community.

Success in writing an application depends on your ability to put yourself in the place of the other person and to give him the information he needs to make a wise choice. It should contain essential facts about your age, family, life, educational experience, certificate, and salary expected, and should refer the reader to two or more persons able to give an estimate of your character and qualifications.

Many an applicant has lost an opportunity because his application was far from perfect in composition, spelling, and form. Better still, is a personal application made in addition to the written form. Prepare for such an application by rehearsing in your mind or with a roommate the informal conversation that is likely to take place. Become well acquainted with the conditions of the locality in which you are interested and with the personalities of the people with whom you will be trying to sell yourself.

Each year tens of thousands of teachers enter the educational service for the first time. When you become one of these this spring, make your application one that will put your best self forward.—H. P.

New in the Curriculum

A college degree held in calloused hands is something new and promising and that's the kind of degrees students are getting at Black Mountain College, N. C.

At Black Mountain College, the students, boys and girls together, are erecting their new 75-room main building. It is entirely an amateur line-up, with the exception of a supervising contractor and a couple of pro hod-carriers, and it's part of the college curriculum.

They do all the work of the college, barring cooking and dish-washing, and now that they need some new buildings they are building them. This being secondary to the fact that they keep up their academic standards and get advanced standing with such colleges as Columbia and Harvard. Just now, the big colleges are sitting around counting their millions and are looking forward to the next big football season.

At Black Mountain College, the accounting is easy. Its athletics' budget for last year was just $4. But they did get their back into the job of putting up the big first unit of their four new buildings.

Their lease ran out on their old plant, so they got a tract on the Swannonoa River, manned the concrete mixer, with a tough line and backfield, partly co-ed, and here comes a new college, without benefit of the Harkness or Rockefeller Foundation.

It is a test-tube experiment in working democracy which, if they bring it through, will contribute something of great value to modern education for democratic living. Co-operative work is a basis of the project. Each student and faculty member contributes nine hours work a week to the college. Faculty wives work with the others on the new building project as well as the routine campus work.

Willing hands and broad backs have to be supplemented by raw materials, and the college needs $40,000 for more cement and bricks for those new buildings. That's about the price of a couple of gargoyles on the new Harkness library. Here's hoping the boys and girls get their $40,000.

West Texan Given Commission As Pilot

Escar Watts, former West Texas student, recently was graduated at Kelly Field, San Antonio as a second lieutenant in the United States flying corps.

Watts finished his CAA flying here and then completed an advanced course in CAA flying at Fort Worth last summer. He was one of three from the advanced flying class to receive an appointment to Randolph Field at San Antonio. After graduation at Randolph he was admitted to Brooks Field at San Antonio.

Pruett, K. E. Livingston, Charlotte Alice Tubbs, Inez Parker, Mrs. Pauline Scott, Selma Bledsoe, Vida Bledsoe, Mrs. Harold Shanklin, Lonie Hunt, Mrs. Radie Boone, Ray Crowder, Reba Hill, Alpha Lewis, Iris Thornton, Grace Perriman, and Inez Neal.

Miss Potter was on the program for a demonstration lesson in reading. Mr. Pruett served on the general planning committee for the conference. Mr. Crowder served as pianist for several groups of pupils who presented dances on the program.

Miss Florence McMurtry spoke Monday in Amarillo before the Esther McCrory chapter of D. A. R. She told of her trip to Alaska last summer.

Education Not Over-Emphasized Students Say

Last year the National Education Association had Dr. George Gallup conduct a survey that revealed only 17 per cent of the adults in this country feel too much importance is being placed on education these days.

What about college training? It is the advisability of higher education that often causes debate—"The colleges are over-crowded . . . we are grinding out bachelors of art as if by machinery . . . look at men like Ford and Knudson who never went to college." Student Opinion Surveys of America has taken the question directly to that group of nearly a million and a half young Americans now going through the process of higher education.

Do they feel that the idea of going to college is being emphasized too much, about right, or too little? Every fourth student that the interviewers contacted answered "yes, there is too much emphasis."

A slight majority of 51 per cent declared "just about right," and the rest said "too little."

Although three-fourths of the students believe higher education is not being pushed too much in this country—which already has in its colleges and universities a greater proportion of its youth than any other nation—a surprising set of answers was obtained from this question:

"Without mentioning names, do you know any students personally who would be better off at work than in college?"

YES, said 88 per cent.

NO, said 12 per cent.

Of course, any response to that question is necessarily based on personal opinion. Barring prejudice and some duplication, the survey nevertheless provides an indication of the extent to which many colleges may be wasting their energies on campus misfits. Some even answered, "Yes, look at me."

Do not be troubled because you do not have great virtues, Only have enough of little virtues and common fidelities, and you need not mourn. Because you are neither a hero nor a saint.

When Dr. Pierle asked a girl in a freshman chemistry class what a kiss looked like, she said, "I don't know, I always close my eyes."

"He kissed me—and I know 'twas wrong, For he was neither kity or kin. Need one do penance very long For such a tiny little sin?"

"But, after all, I'm not to blame, He took the kiss! I do think men are quite without a sense of shame! I wonder when he'll come again."—Anon.

(Above was handed us by a friend's grandmother. "These are two verses from a favorite poem of my girlhood," says she. "It always reminds me of my first kiss. Of course, in those days a kiss by the garden gate meant something.")

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL

Heard of a man who has bought his first new car in ten years. If everybody kept their cars ten years the auto business wouldn't be so hot.

How many times in this New Year have you written 1940 instead of 1941?

If you cry at a sad scene in a film, it shows you have imagination. And if you have imagination you have intelligence.

A New Jersey judge gave a landlord ninety days in jail for not turning on enough heat in an apartment house during a cold spell.

For the closest resemblance (not looks) to the immortal caricature of one of Disney's Seven Dwarfs, Gal Sal nominates Virginia Giles.

THE YANKS ARE COMING

The presence of several Yankees on the campus has been revealed. Some that we noted were: Emilio Caballero of South Orange, N. J.; Vance Berdine who hails from Jamestown, N. Y.; and Eugene Mielcarek of Buffalo, N. Y.

WHY NOT?

Do you like a bit of tradition? Did you read about CLASS PROMS before you came to college? But did you find them when you came to W. T.? Other colleges have them and they are traditions. Why not have them at W. T. and make them a tradition? What about this class officials?

It sometimes seems women who have a talent for being well dressed are in the minority. Quite often you see females who recall Dean Swift's description of a woman of Dublin: "She looked as if her clothes had been thrown on her with a pitchfork."

College To Purchase Equipment For Combined Tennis Teams

Freshman And Varsity Squads Combined As Practice Begins

A deal for equipment to be used by the W. T. tennis team and to be purchased by the College is now under consideration. Coach Jack Jouette stated this week, and as soon as this has been settled, practice sessions in preparation for the spring contests will begin.

Freshman players will be shifted to the varsity in the tennis line-up this year, because of a lack of varsity material, according to Coach Jouette.

With only two players returning with previous experience, it was deemed advisable to combine the two squads, thereby giving the frosh players some valuable experience and assuring a good varsity team next year, and also making the team large enough to justify matched games with other squads.

Several of the first-year players show great promise, and will be a credit to the team here, according to Mr. Jouette. Among these are Bobby Skeen, who won the New Mexico State Interscholastic championship, and Charles and Clark Johnson, brothers from Turkey who have played extensively on the Interscholastic courts also. Varsity players who will play this season are Glen Milner and Frank Kelly.

Bufs Pictured In Texas News

West Texas State's Buffaloes were generously pictured last week in the West Texas Sporting News, a new magazine published each week in Abilene.

Appearing in the magazine are a report of the Buffs' success in the national tournament at Kansas City and two large pictures—one showing the "Star Dusters" scaling the wall of the field house, and the other picturing Coach Al Baggett and his tall cagers in their new basketball warm-up suits.

Records of Buffs Team Favorable

Books Show First-Rate Season Climaxed By Kansas City Victories

Reluctantly, the books have been closed on this season's play by the World's Tallest Basketball Team. These books reveal a new high in honors and awards brought to West Texas State by the Star Dusters.

This season's record reveals that the Buffaloes won 29 games and lost six, while last year's tallies show 26 wins and eight losses.

The Alamo Conference championship was won without a loss by these Tall Texans.

A National championship team from San Diego State found difficulty in eliminating the Buffs, winning by only three points. The Baggett boys succeeded in taking third place honors at this meet, out of a field of 32 teams representing the nation's best.

They set a high scoring record at Kansas City with 77 points against Dubuque College, who scored only 39 points.

With a per-game average of 59½ points, they were the highest scoring team in the South and Southwest.

They were rated the number 1 team in Texas, number 2 in the Southwest, second only to Arkansas. Dunkel's rating service also placed them as one of the five best teams in the entire nation.

Price Brookfield, junior forward from Friona, was the top Buffalo scorer for this season. Hitting the bucket for 492 points, his average per game was 14 points. "Brooky" set a new scoring record at the national tournament in Kansas City, with 76 tallies for the meet. He was rated on the All American cage team, and unanimously chosen as captain of that mythical squad. Then his team mates voted him their most valuable player and elected him as captain of next year's team.

Charles Halbert, center, was the tallest regular in college basketball at 6 feet 10 inches. He scored 366 points during the season for second place honors on his team.

A traffic-stopping attraction wherever they go, the entire Buff squad averages 6 feet 3 inches in height, with a possible starting line-up of 6 feet 6½ inches. Not the smallest of the group is Al Baggett, 6 foot 4 inch coach who weighs 235 pounds, but who looks small in comparison to some of his players.

'Mural Sports Delayed

Boxing and Wrestling Events Give Way To League Meet

Boxing and wrestling events will not be scheduled in the intramural set-up until the latter part of April, because of conflicts on the campus, Director Mitchell Jones stated this week.

Interscholastic League events are slated for the week-end of April 4, and the Easter holidays will occupy April 11—so the closest date will be April 19.

Scheduled to start at the same time is a round-robin play-off in softball. Because of weather conditions in the Panhandle during the spring months, it is impossible to play an extensive schedule in outdoor sports. The round-robin will probably be played for sport, and a single elimination tournament will be used to determine the champion.

Rules concerning the boxing and wrestling events are: No varsity lettermen or Golden Gloves entries may participate; a squad must consist of six men before it can enter as a team; free-lance boxers and wrestlers, however, are welcome to enter; the rounds in boxing are of one minute in length, with three rounds the limit; if the judges are unable to reach a decision, one more round may be fought; if a fighter is definitely out-matched the fight will be stopped before injuries result.

All torture holds are barred in the grunt-and-groan sport, and it evolves into a sport of skill, agility, and brawn. The chances for injury are almost none, and this sport should attract many entries.

One of the last events of the intramural season is track—perhaps the most popular sport among the participants of all. Yet, according to Mr. Jones, it is the most dangerous, and were it not for its popularity it would be dropped altogether. A short race is apt to injure a man who is not in shape, and when there is competition on the field, a runner is prone to over-exert himself, said Prof. Jones.

"Last year, the races were limited to the quarter-mile, and this year this limit will be lowered to the 220-yard dash, with short relay races. Yet the persons showing the most interest and enthusiasm in this sport are middle-distance runners," said Mr. Jones.

The Firecrackers are leading at present in points, with 15½ to their credit, the Bachelors are in second place, with 13½, and the F. F. A.

W. T. Coaches In New York

Baggett and Curtice At Metropolis Meeting To Advance Buffaloes

Coaches Al Baggett and Jack Curtice left Wednesday to attend a meeting of the National Association of Coaches of Basketball in New York City.

While there, Coach Baggett will attempt to match a game for the World's Tallest cage team with some eastern opponent to be played in Madison Square Garden. A formidable opponent for the Buffs would be Long Island University, a team that always ranks high in Eastern competition. A game for next season has already been matched with a university in Baltimore, Maryland. It is probable that the trip to Madison Square Garden will be scheduled so as to be played on this trip.

Student Artists' Pictures On Exhibit In Amarillo

Two hundred illustrations of Palo Duro Canyon were submitted by artists of the Panhandle for menu illustrations on exhibition at the Capitol Hotel in Amarillo.

Sponsors of the competition were: the Amarillo Artists Group and the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce.

Seven outstanding illustrations were selected by the judges—two of which were the work of W. T. students in Miss Isabel Robinson's etching class. Melva Jo Speer and Martha Miller, both of Canyon, were the students whose work was selected. The work of Miss Lillian Davis of Skellytown who is an ex-student of W. T. was in the group which the judges selected.

and T-Anchor are in third and fourth places, with 11½ and 11½, respectively.

Dust We Have, But Not Track

Bugaboo Is Not Lack of Coach for Track Team But Old Man Weather

The big bugaboo of all aspiring hopes for a third sport on the West Texas schedule is Old Man Weather, and his unruly son, Dust Storm.

If any person can solve the problem of scheduling a track meet on a day that is not spotted with gusty winds and raging sand, a formidable track squad here would be an easy task.

There is no lack of a coach to train the cinder-men for Athletic Director Al Baggett is famous for his record as a track coach. For several years he took a team to the National Meet in Chicago, and had some first-place winners there. This sport was once very popular here, but it was crowded out along with another very popular game—baseball—by the raging dust.

The last year that W. T. had a baseball team, all the games but seven were scheduled down-state with other teams. These seven games were played at the close of the season, yet every one was ruined by the dusts, and scarcely enough was collected at the gate to pay for the umpire.

Bill Hunter's Grandfather Dies

Funeral services for Joseph Alexander Smith, 80, of Canyon, were held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Methodist Church. Mr. Smith was the grandfather of Billy Jo Hunter, a freshman student.

Loss of Cornell Dampens Hopes As Spring Training Begins

Practice Sessions To Start April 1 With Coach's Return From East

A possible serious loss in football personnel next season at W. T. was indicated this week when Jesse Cornell, passing ace and backfield star, dropped out of school because of illness in his family. Cornell, who excelled at passing, kicking and running, may attend summer school and regain his eligibility to play next season.

A. C. Miller, freshman star who was expected to claim a place on the varsity next term because of his speed and adept-ability at broken-field running, also dropped from the student roster to accept a job in Pampa.

Coach Curtice, who is in New York with basketball coach Al Baggett to attend the National Association of Basketball Coaches, will return before April 1, the date spring training on the gridiron is expected to start.

Seniors, English majors or minors, who may wish a recommendation to teach English are asked to confer this week with B. F. Fronabarger, head of the English department.

JOTTED THOUGHTS

Here I sit,
Wondering why,
Wondering what it's all about.
Am I not like you?
Do you not sit by
Wondering why?

Summer . . . two hearts . . . one false, one true.
Bleak winter is here . . . ice comes . . .
Someone spoke?
'Twas only a heart that broke.

God watches;
He knows all:
What each does
Short or tall.
Which are you?
Doesn't matter;
Still, God Watches;
He knows all.

Death—
Pierce, daunted by none.

Death, sweet death:
Answer to all.

A seed is dropped . . . Rain, soothing rain.
Sunshine . . . a green blade . . .
God lives!

To be able to breathe,
To live to love,
My soul is quiet;
I pray.

The letter came . . . plain, unassuming:
I was glad.
Reading the letter . . . joyously,
without restraint,
I cried.

—Marian Miller.
