Seven Represent College at Regional Meet

Miss Graham Heads State Committee

MISS EDNA GRAHAM

Attending the regional meeting of Delta Kappa Gamma in Amarillo on Saturday were Dr. Hattie M. Anderson and Miss Edna Graham, past presidents of Pi Chapter, Misses Ada V. Clark, Elva Fronabarger, Tennessee Malone, Darthula Walker and Mrs. T. V. Reeves.

Miss Graham, who is chairman of a State Committee, gave a report on the scholarships which have been established by the organization.

Delta Kappa Gamma is a national honorary fraternity, with membership based on unusual contributions to the profession of teaching, character and scholarship. Pi chapter, to which local women teachers belong, includes members from Potter, Armstrong, Randall and Oldham counties.

Annual Bonfire Revives "Ole School Spirit"

Last Thursday night a stirring pep rally was held in Buffalo stadium, after which Tech was burned. Ed Castleberry, captain of the Buffs, and several members of the team made statements concerning the game. The coaches, W. A. Miller and W. W. Nicklaus, were among those present, and each promised that the team would put up a good fight.

The cheer leaders led the student body in all the traditional yells and revived one of the favorite Buffalo songs. All the yells were answered by a vigorous response.

Intermingled in the rally were the rich sounds of excellent band music. Congratulations are in order for Mr. Chamberlain and the band members who have succeeded in making such a favorable showing.

Most of the proceedings last Thursday were new to the freshmen but quite enjoyable. A single line snake dance was formed and as a body, the group went over to the bonfire. "No. 21, Schlunkman," who is the star player and representative of the Tech team, was burned in effigy in the fire. A huge circle was formed by the student body while the cheer leaders led them in Buffalo chants. Everyone present participated; after this fine display of school spirit, the entire school is sure to turn out for the next rally.

Williamson Leads Discussion at S.C.A. Meeting

S. C. A. met last Monday night in Room 101 of the Administration Building; in order to avoid conflicts with other group meetings, the discussion began at 7 o'clock.

The group formed a circle of chairs in order to make participation less formal. Peggy Williamson, program chairman, guided the trend of the speeches.

Out of town visitors at the meeting included Sgt. W. Reed from New York City, and Sgt. J. Ferguson from Salt Lake City, both stationed at Amarillo Army Air Field.

Members of S. C. A. plan to meet each week on Monday night at 7 o'clock. All college students are welcome to attend the next program and participate in the consideration of another vital topic.

Dr. A. Kirk Knott is the sponsor of the club.

S-Sgt. Billy Black accompanied his sister, Mrs. Betty Jo LaCour back to California Friday. He reported for further assignment after having returned from Italy.

Student Body Elects Sweetheart from Five Nominations

Presenting Miss Marion Littlefield, Buffalo Band Sweetheart for 1944-1945. In an election by the Student body last Wednesday, Miss Littlefield won over four other contestants.

From twenty girls' names, the Band alone selected its five nominees, and presented them to the student body last week. Though the election was sponsored by the Band, every student in school was asked to vote.

Those names submitted for choice were: Hazel Denison, Borger; Phyllis Perkins, Pampa; Jo Graves, Spearman; Betty Gene Shorb, Fritch; and Miss Littlefield from Crosbyton.

Elected as president of the Senior Class, Miss Littlefield will serve until her graduation in the spring. She is an active member of Gamma Phi Sorority. For 350th College Training Detachment Sweetheart last year, Miss Littlefield was one of eight girls nominated for this honor. Both last year and this year, she was selected as a member of Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities. She is a brunette, small, and with a smile for everyone.

She will wear a different uniform, but will go with and be with the Band on every occasion. She appeared with the Band at the WT-Tech football game Friday night.

In the near future the Buffalo Band hopes to sponsor a dance and honor their new Sweetheart. On November 24, when the Gay Ninety Pollies is presented, Marion Littlefield will be formally introduced, and officially proclaimed the Buffalo Band Sweetheart.

Houston Attorney Sends Donation to Museum

President J. A. Hill received a check for $100.00 for the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society from Mr. George Butler, who is known in Houston as an attorney, and throughout Texas as the past chairman of the state Democratic Convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Butler recently visited the museum. Mr. Butler stated in his letter to Dr. Hill that the "museum is doing a great deal for the history and science of West Texas."

Many people have paid their membership dues the last few weeks. According to Mr. Boone McClure, manager of the museum, it appears that renewed interest is being shown in the West Texas historical show place. There are 12 life members and approximately 400 annual members contributing to the museum's support.

Douglas Directs Student Forum Stressing Speech

West Texas State's Department of Speech has undertaken the sponsorship of a Student Forum under the direction of Mr. J. E. Douglas, Professor of Speech.

The purposes of the forum, according to Mr. Douglas, are to give the students public speaking practice, to spread information about and develop interest in vital public questions, and to stress techniques of discussion.

Mr. Douglas went on to say that the responsibility for public participation in the formation of public opinion was a fundamental of democracy. In his opening discussion, he quoted Voltaire's principle: "I wholly disagree with what you say, and will defend to the death your right to say it."

The Student Forum is to be an all-student activity; student speakers will be supplemented occasionally, however, by outside speakers.

All students who are interested in listening to or participating in an open discussion of the approaching Presidential Election have been invited to join the group on Monday, November 6, at 8:00 p. m. in Room 202 of the Education Building. A student chairman will be chosen for each meeting.

The Student Forum will meet on the first and third Mondays of every month; an invitation to participate has been extended to all students. Present at the first meeting were Mary Carter, Winona Herring, Gladys Romero, Juanita Simpson, Imogene Wilmoth, Wayne Thomas, Lawrence Kendall, W. C. Osborn, and Clarence A. Moore.

Dr. A. K. Knott who teaches a class at the Cactus Ordnance Plant beyond Dumas reports that he and the other instructors see antelopes as they go to their class almost every week. He says also that there are no words to describe the beauty of the Canadian River breaks at this season of the year.

Loan Funds Enable Many Students to Finish Work

Each year a great number of students are enabled to finish their work through assistance of various student loan funds. In most instances the loans do not become due until the student has left the campus.

Among ex-students who have recently discharged their obligations to the institution's loan funds are Jesse F. Blair who is employed in the United States Soil Conservation at Stanton, Texas, Sarah Clark Nikkel who now lives at Colony, Oklahoma, Royal Terrell, who now lives at Borger, Alfred Duncan, who is now coach at the Wellington high school, Lillie May Morris Beal who now lives at Ovid, Colorado.

A great number of loan fund obligations have been paid off during the past nine months and it is reported that many others will be paid within the next three months.

Mrs. McCaslin Is Enthusiastic About Freshmen

Mrs. Nancy McCaslin, hostess at Randall Hall, is enthusiastic about this year's freshmen. Said Mrs. McCaslin, "I believe we have at Randall Hall fifty of the finest freshmen girls that anybody has ever seen." Mrs. McCaslin stated that the work at Randall has started off this year with everyone showing an unusually fine cooperative spirit, and pride in the hall.

Incidentally it was mentioned that a large number of new window shades have been installed. Shades have been difficult to get.

WT High Holds Carnival Today

Students and faculty members are invited to the Demonstration School carnival this afternoon from 2 to 4:30. Proceeds of the carnival will be used for Demonstration School Student Activity Fund.

Grace Overton Will Return to Campus Soon

Mrs. Grace Sloan Overton who has visited the campus of West Texas State College twice will return in November.

Mrs. Overton will be on the campus Sunday, Monday, and part of Tuesday, November 12, 13, 14.

Mrs. Overton is a specialist in the field of human relations and her lectures will be on subjects of tremendous importance to college students. Her warm friendliness and her successful presentation of her subjects recommend her as much as her knowledge.

Lyceum Program Is Scheduled for November 16

John Temple Graves, second member of the editorial staff of the Birmingham Age-Herald will be the next attraction on the Lyceum program of West Texas State College.

He is scheduled to be in Canyon on November 16, and Dr. Wallace R. Clark, chairman of the Lyceum committee, states that every effort will be made to have him on the campus long enough so that students can have conferences with him.

Several Exes Are Meeting in Connecticut

Bettie Jones Wilson, music major, and her husband, Rev. Charles Wilson, are now living in Connecticut. Rev. Wilson will complete his work at Yale Divinity School in December.

The letter giving this news came from Charlotte Tubb Lembke who is living at New London, Connecticut, where her husband is receiving specialized training at the Coast Guard Academy. She writes, "His school will end about the middle of December so we will probably be moving on then."

We are only two-and a half hours from New York City and find it hard to keep away from it on week-ends. There are so many things of interest there, and we are fortunate in having friends there who know the important things and can show us around."

W. T. has at least three music majors, and double that number of other graduates who are now in the same region of Connecticut.

Hallowe'en Carnival Tonight

The annual Hallowe'en carnival of the Canyon Public School will be held tonight beginning at seven. College students and faculty are invited to have supper at the carnival and enjoy its features. The American Legion will serve hamburgers. The carnival is sponsored by the P. T. A., and proceeds go to the lunchroom project.

Have you bought your War Bonds?

Mythical Holiday Is Beginning Today

Sadie Hawkins Week Continues Until November 5th

In most eastern colleges Sadie Hawkins Week is being observed, and the Pi Omega Sorority is giving the males of West Texas State a break by bringing Sadie to our campus this week. Sadie Hawkins Day is a mythical holiday which had its origin in a comic strip "Li'l Abner" and is now on its way to becoming a minor national holiday.

Sadie will be represented this week from October 31 at noon until midnight November 4, by each Co-Ed as she scrambles around filling her date book. The age-old phrase "It's always the man who pays" will be reversed this week for the feminine students on the campus will give the males' wallet a vacation and pay all bills themselves.

Already Tom Knighton and Bob Clark are alarmed for fear business will take a slide downward. Girls! surely you can take it for one week—come on! Be good sports and see that business at the Buff and Bob's hits a new high. After all it is a chance of a life time, get a date with the Li'l Abner you have been admiring all winter. If you do not catch him this week it will be your own fault. At the close of assembly this Thursday a Sadie Hawkins Tag will be given to each girl, and she is to pin this tag to the lapel of her Abner, just as soon as she can catch him. This tag will mean that he is taken and other girls must not intrude until the week is over.

Sadie Hawkins Week will close Saturday evening with a girls' tag dance at Cousins Hall. Admission will be twenty-five cents and again the girls pay.

Mrs. McWilliams Directs Y.M.C.A. In Corpus Christi

MRS. GAYNELLE MCWILLIAMS

Gaynelle Douglas McWilliams, speech major, 1940 has one of the most unusual positions of any graduate of West Texas State College. She is director of the Young Men's Christian Association in Corpus Christi.

According to a Corpus Christi newspaper, Mrs. McWilliams' duties will involve the major portion of the young people's program direction. Of her work she writes, "At last, I am really doing 'Y' work. I always did want to do much, but never dreamed it would be in the Y. M. C. A. I am replacing Mr. Cummings, the Youth Program Secretary, in the Corpus Christi Y. M. C. A. I have under my supervision two Hi-Y Boys Clubs, two Senior Girls Tri-Hi-Y Clubs, two Junior Hi-Y Clubs and five Gray-Y Clubs. Then I help to correlate the program plans here at the Y building for the Boys' Division. Under that group, I have Preps (Boys, 9-11), Juniors (Boys 12-14), and Seniors (Boys, 14-16).

"It really is most challenging, and certainly there's never a dull moment. Later, as I become adjusted, I am to take over Ki-Y Hut, which is a small community center in the poorer section of the city built by the Kiwanis Club. There is a great need for supervision there. I only hope I am big enough to do the job.

"My husband is now stationed somewhere in the East Dutch Indies, and will probably be able to tell us a great deal when he returns. He will have been across eighteen months at the end of November. There is a slight possibility that he could come home at the end of that time for a thirty days furlough, but if not, he will likely not be home for another year or more. One can only work and pray for Victory, but more that that, that we will be able to keep the peace after we have attained it. My, what a test for America!"

Mrs. McWilliams was president of the young women's Christian Association when she was in college. She was also prominent in dramatics and was a member of Alpha Psi Omega. She was also listed in Who's Who in American Colleges. She found time to do some work in church organizations and was a member of the student council and

Miss Richardson Presents Talk at Assembly

Rev. Armstrong Is Guest Preacher

Dr. D. A. Shirley, registrar, was in charge of assembly program Thursday. Dr. Wallace R. Clark led the faculty and students in singing and was accompanied at the piano by Miss Mary Dell Johnson. Rev. C. C. Armstrong of the First Methodist Church gave the invocation.

Miss M. Moss Richardson, a friend of West Texas State and who is now retired, was guest speaker for the morning. She presented a talk that might well be used for a New Year's address, and her subject was "Doors."

"Doors open to so many possibilities that even the definition found in the dictionary is not broad enough to justify the word," commented Miss Richardson. "Janice, the God of Doors, was called two-faced because he looked at the past and at the future."

Oliver Wendell Holmes once wrote a poem based on side doors, on the doors to the human soul, mind and body. Some doors lead to the arms of opportunity. Shakespeare tells of closed doors. Yet if the subject were interpreted justly it might be summarized in four small headings.

Health of the individual is one of the doors. Over eating, bad manners and dress are common in every day life, because the human does not apply the open and shut method to the doors of temptation.

Knowledge is the second entrance. Small children fling open the doors of knowledge and learning when they ask so many questions on so many subjects. But this, like the first door, is important.

The door to character needs no defining, but it needs much practice and much control.

The final door, that can be opened only from within, is the door to the soul and the heart. No key fits the lock and only those who are willing have their hearts open.

These four points Miss Richardson emphasized. For twenty-three years Miss M. Moss Richardson was a member of the faculty of WTSC; last spring she retired. "The finest thing in a young life is a vacation. I have cast no backward glance at teaching, because I loved it sincerely, but vacationing is lots of fun," she said.

Following the address, Waldeen Doris and Mr. Virgil Henson made announcements concerning the forth-coming football game and the Saturday night Hallowe'en Dance, sponsored by Kappa Tau Phi.

Mary Henslee and the four pep leaders led the student body in a yell for the Buffaloes, and the assembly was dismissed.

President Hill Explains Mix-up in Bus Services

More than a week prior to the game I appointed a committee from the faculty and the town to work out transportation for the students. The committee met promptly and, through several telephone conversations with the Panhandle Trailways at Amarillo, made the arrangements for bus service at a cost of $1.00 per student. Accordingly we sold tickets on the basis of the student paying 50c and the college assuming 50c.

We depended upon this arrangement until the day of the game. At 3:30 p. m. that afternoon we were informed by the president of the Trailways Bus Company in Amarillo that they could not furnish transportation without the consent of O. D. T. I phoned the O. D. T. office in Amarillo and was referred to the Lubbock office. The Lubbock office told me that such service was not legal.

Accordingly, there seemed to be nothing to do but to get all the cars we could and let each student make his own arrangement. This was a great disappointment to me but was the best we could do.

J. A. Hill, President.

of a sorority.

Last year Mrs. McWilliams taught at Silverton which is her home town.

Miss Anita Cleland, who is teaching in Canadian, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Cleland.

Lt. Roland Black left Friday for Camp Hood, Texas, where he reported for duty after five days spent at home.

Only in the U. S.

Friday an announcement was made over a national radio hookup that military authorities. If a family has lost two or more sons, and only one henceforth family losses through war would receive attention of the son remains, he will either be discharged or he will be placed on duty out of the danger zone.

We are proud to be citizens of a country, which in the midst of a terrible war, takes note of such things as family welfare, and family heartaches and the possible perpetuation of extinction of family lines. No more will fathers and mothers be bereaved by the loss of their last son, if they have already lost one or more in the service of their country.

Associating With Others Counts

Tennyson puts into the mouth of the aged Ulysses the significant words—
"I am a part of all that I have met." So are you a part of all that you have met.

Physically you are a part: your maternal grandfather gave you his piercing eyes; your grandmother on your father's side bequeathed curly hair; from your mother you received small bones, and from your father a tendency to plumpness. Your coloring goes back up the line to Chaucer's time, when surnames became fixed and so your last name is Black, Brown, White; or a peculiarity of some ancestor gave you such a name as Shoulders, Biggs, Frost or Hand.

Mentally too you are a part. You like mathematics and dislike history because your heredity and environment have favored the one and discriminated against the other. Your work in class room and laboratory is slurred because some ancestor has printed meticulousness or carelessness on his line. You write exactly like your teacher who took the pains to teach you writing; you speak the English of your classmates and home. If they pronounce the writer of a book and the King of the Round Table exactly alike, you will have a difficult time not to call both of them "Arthur." You may pursue this line of thought indefinitely and find it most entertaining.

Morally you are indebted to all the forces that have printed themselves upon you—a democrat you are because your father and his father and on back and back were all "Jeffersonian Democrats"; a Baptist, Methodist, or Presbyterian because you have been that for generations. You have a catty tongue, a malevolent sneer, a heavenly smile, plenty of "it" because you are a part of all you have met, and you have met these things. Deanna Durbin, Shirley Temple, Mary Pickford, Clark Gable, Walter Hampden, Charley Chaplin—all of these have influence; all of them you have met and been influenced by either to behave or not behave in some given way.

If physically, mentally, and morally you are a part of all you have met, where does your own responsibility come in? Can you not escape blame because your father could not spell or your mother tell the straight truth? By no means, for that is where the mosaic come in.

In the wonderful Vatican mosaics the picture is the thing. All the colored bits lose their individuality in the picture. One does not even realize that the portrait or building or landscape that gives him so much pleasure is a mosaic. The bits under the hand of the master is a blend—not of the component elements but of a consistent whole.

In all the rolling ages there have never been anyone like you. Even twins, further than that, even identical twins, are strikingly different from each other. You are responsible for the kind of a picture you make, responsible for what you do with the riches that have been poured into your lap. Ulysses continues,

"Yet all experience is an arch where thro
Gleams that untraveled world whose margin fades
Forever and forever as I move."

In "My Sister Eileen" Ruth McKenney writes of her first experience at theater-going—

"We were big girls, Aunt Molly said, already thirteen and fourteen years old, and it was about time we got some culture in our lives. She organized a sort of combine among the Farrel aunts. Every Saturday afternoon a different aunt bought us fifty-cent matinee tickets for the Ohio Theater, and every Saturday afternoon we got dressed in our best hunted up our gloves and our handkerchiefs and trotted off, accompanied by a somewhat bored Farrel aunt to see Robert Mantell bang around the stage in 'Macbeth,' or Walter Hampden recite, 'Love, I love beyond breath, beyond reason,' etc.

"It was our first season at the theatre and we had a wonderful time. We admired Mr. Mantell extravagantly and were very indignant when Aunt Kate said, during the intermission, that she didn't know if she could sit through another act, he was better forty years before.

"Then came the great Saturday when Aunt Molly had a cold and we went by ourselves to see Ethel Barrymore in 'The Second Mrs. Tanqueray.' Miss Barrymore was, we thought, simply wonderful and the play was so wonderfully sad, especially where she killed herself, and we ate three chocolate bars in the intermission and altogether it was a wonderful Saturday afternoon.

The rest of the aunts immediately developed permanent Saturday afternoon colds and soon we got accustomed to trotting off to the matinees unchaperoned. Aunt Molly just went down to the box office at the Ohio Theater and ordered two fifty-cent matinee tickets for the rest of the season. . . . All that glorious winter Eileen and I throbbed to the drama with real people in it, which we much preferred even to Lon Chaney movies."

A skunk stood on a stump. The stump thunk the skunk thunk, but the skunk thunk the stump thunk. —"The Reader's Digest," November, 1944.

"Khaki and discipline and angry imperatives are apt to overawe and frighten—yes, frighten—the recruit. But it isn't so godalmighty, really. One of the corporals saw me reading a book of poetry the other day. He said, 'Do you like poetry?' I flushed and looked at him for a moment to see what he was playing at. Then I said, 'Yes. Why?' 'Oh, nothing,' he said. Then he looked at me like a little boy confessing a longing for apples. 'I like it, too,' he said. 'I like writing it, at least. I never read any. I write a lot, though. Every letter I write to my girl I put a poem in it. Of course some of them are pretty soft, but now and again they're really good. . . . She copies them in a notebook. In INK. Tell me, can you have verses longer than four lines? Or have they got to be four lines?' —Alun Lewis, "The Last Inspection."

"In the past there was an age of Shakespears, of Voltaire, of Dickens. Ours is the age not of any poet or thinker or novelist but of the Document. Our Representative Man is the traveling newspaper correspondent who dashes off a best seller between two assignments. 'Facts speak for themselves!' Illusion! Facts are ventriloquist's dummies. Sitting on a wise man's knee they may be made to utter words of wisdom; elsewhere they say nothing or talk nonsense or indulge in sheer diabolism."—Aldous Huxley, "Time Must Have a Stop."

Recently killed near Aachen was David Lardner, son of Ring Lardner and member of the "New Yorker" staff. Lardner had joined the First Army press corps only a few days before his death and was on his first war assignment.

Mae West has been appearing recently in a play, "Catherine Was Great," which has been well panned by the critics. "Time" quotes her as saying, when she was asked by a "Yank" reporter how she felt about the reviews:

"I never read 'em. I'm a constructive kinda person. Don't believe in readin' destructive kinda trash. The way I figger is those

College Extends Good Neighbor Policy to Schools

Miss Ruth Lowes, assistant professor of education and specialist in the field of primary education has recently sent a letter to approximately fifty superintendents whose schools are within the radius of 100 miles of Canyon offering to them any assistance which she can give them.

The letter says in part, "I am sure that the continued shortage of trained teachers is making your administrative problems increasingly difficult. More than likely some of your teachers have had no recent training, and no doubt a number interrupted their college work (perhaps with us) in order to do their bit during the emergency."

The letter goes on to say that teachers are invited to write concerning their problems of methods and material, and that such letters will be answered in as much detail as possible. Teachers are also invited to visit the staff and when such visits are scheduled time will be set aside for conferences. The letter states further that so far as time will permit, Miss Lowes will visit schools where her help is desired.

It has been the policy of West Texas State College to help schools and teachers through visitations, conferences on the campus, and letters. It is believed that such assistance will be doubly valuable and appreciated during the present emergency.

Students Taking Correspondence Offer Praises

Among those who have recently completed correspondence courses given by West Texas State is Mrs.

critics came up against a paly that was so fine, so sincere, so puhfick they knew there wasn't anything they could write in praise would add to it. So they went off and panned it. See what I mean?"

The distinguished critic, Joseph Wood Krutch, in writing his review of "Catherine Was Great," which he entitled "Furtherest West," said—

"I am very much afraid that we highbrows are going to have to give up the attempt to find something really significant in Mae. One of us—it may even have been I—once said that she was a vamp to end all vamps and that the evolution of Theda Bara into 'Diamond Lil' showed how we were growing up. Miss West did not, I now fear, mean to end all vamps. She merely wanted to be a newer and more outspoken kind. But it is just possible that 'Catherine Was Great' actually is 'a Mae West Show' even though here again that was certainly not part of the author's intention.

"Perhaps I should add that 'Catherine Was Great' is not, as one would naturally assume, a musical show. . . . For once, the things too silly to be said on the stage are said anyhow."

Stampeding Eleven Will Meet Tough Lubbock Air Field Squad

Roster for Buffaloes Is All-Texan

Friday evening the Buffaloes of West Texas State will meet the Lubbock Army Air Field eleven in Buffalo Stadium at 8 o'clock. Members of the squad come from 18 different Plains towns and cities. Only two players on the Buff team list their homes as out-of-state and both of them attended high schools in Texas. So that makes the Buffaloes 100 per cent Texans.

Listed as out-of-staters are Metz LaFollette whose parents now reside in San Diego. LaFollette, however, attended school at McKinney. The other non-Texan is Bill Thompson who lists Denver, Colorado, as his home; however, Thompson attended school at Memphis and Childress. Other players on the team come from Seymour, Vernon, Wichita Falls, Canyon, Clarendon, Lockney, Canadian, Wellington, Shamrock, Ozona, Olton, Floydada, McLean, Claude, Childress, and Memphis.

The squad is small in number but mighty in fight and determination. Although the squad on a whole lacks experience but it makes up for that by going out and playing the kind of football that makes fans sit up and take notice.

Lubbock Air Field has a team that will be hard to compete with. Experienced and professional players have a great advantage over the WT team. Thomas Loyd Devin, who graduated from West Texas State, will play against his Alma Mater this week end.

The going will be tough this Friday night, but the stampeding Bufs know not when to quit.

Games Are Going Full Speed Ahead With Eight Teams

The annual Intramural Volleyball Tournament is now in full swing with eight teams, consisting of fifty-five girls, taking part in the games. The teams participating in the tournament are The Outsiders, Buzzin Cuzzins, West Wing Wolverines, East Wing Sunbeams, Cactus Courting Cadets, Mesquite Ramblers, and McGowan.

From Cousins Hall—the Buzzin Cuzzins—with Opal West, Norma Jean Franklin, Winone Francis, Wanda Price, Marie Durrett, Ruby West, Ann Beverly, Opal Calliham and Edwina Pugh. Also from Cousins Hall come Billie O'Neal, Leta Shook, La Verne Ekum, Martha Hanna, Marthlyn Burnett, and Marguerite Morton playing on the Cousins team.

Two teams from Randall Hall are one, The West Wing Wolverines, with Zada Mears, Gerie Mae Bass, Grace Aaron, Martha Gibson, Jacqueline Pounds, Lucille Britten, and Billie Bural as players on the team. East Wing Sunbeams from Randall have on their team Mary Marcum, Pat Elmore, Sylvia Giesecke, LoRhae McWhorter, Ona Grace Francis, and Bonita Rector.

The Outsiders team is made up of girls who live in Canyon. They are Mary Shoulders, Margie Bauer, Mildred Tietz, Jo Graves, Mary Carter, Mary Helen Mickey, June Mul-linax, and Wilma Cupell.

From Cactus comes the Cactus Courting Cadets team. Playing on this team are Marie Payne, Myra Briggs, Dorothy Dixon, Madge Crabb, Mary Held, and Dorothy Scott.

The Mesquite Ramblers are Vera Faye Frazier, Gertrude Golladay, Nelda Ruth Stinnett, Ruth Bond, and June Brown; but not least are Ethlyn Elliott, Mary Bracken, Betty Pugh, Marguerite Hudnall, Peggy Harding, Mary K. Stephens, and Jean Boyd, players of the McGowan team.

High point girls for the games are: Opal West and Marguerite Morton from Cousins Hall; LoRhae McWhorter from one of the teams from Randall; Mary Held from Cactus Lodge; Mary Shoulders from the Outsiders; Veta Faye Frazier from Mesquite Lodge; and Mary K. Stephens from McGowan.

High point girls for all the teams cannot be given until the close of the tournament, as all teams have not played the same number of games. The schedule for next week is:

On October 31, McGowan plays E. W. S. from Randall; and W. W. W. from Randall plays Cousins; on November 1 Outsiders play E. W. S. from Randall; and McGowan plays Mesquite; November 2, Buzzin Cuzzin play W. W. W. from Randall.

These games have created quite a bit of interest; the games to be played in the future will be the best as the girls are showing improvement in volleying, setting up, and spiking the ball. Come out and see the games, played in the gymnasium of the Administration Building.

Delegates Declare Aviation Meet Enlightening

October 25 through 27, the Southwestern Aviation Conference was held in Amarillo and was sponsored by the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. R. P. Jarrett and President J. A. Hill attended this conference the first day representing West Texas State, and Dr. Jarrett attended the other two days as sole representative.

"This Nation's Progress Depends upon Transportation" was the theme of the convention. Aviation enthusiasts expressed opinions during the meeting that proved most enlightening to those planning small town air ports in the future. The conference boasted many experts, and was one of the most successful, delegates declared, in that it has given insight on problems to face in the building and operation of smaller sized air ports.

Dr. Jarrett and other faculty members are studying questions for the future concerning the West Texas Air Port, and by attending this conference many ideas and suggestions were offered that can apply directly to the improvement of the college port. Dr. Jarrett has been one of WT's most enthusiastic backers in line of the aviation courses.

Judge Pierce Is Home After Long Service England

Pfc. Judge W. Pierce, who has spent the past 23 months in a Base Hospital Somewhere in England, is at home on a 20-day furlough.

Mrs. Pierce, who is teaching school at Turkey, took a 20-day leave of absence to be at home while her husband was here.

Pvt. Pierce has been in the service more than 2 1/4 years. Probably he realizes more than any other boy who has returned just what sacrifices are being paid.

Mrs. Pierce received her Master's Degree from West Texas State College in 1944.

Robert Stuart Condon, son of Stuart and Bobby, visited the campus with his mother Friday afternoon. He received much attention which made him yawn, but it is hoped he will enter W. T. as a freshman about sixteen years from now.

Fullback Marion Goodson Plays Outstanding Football at Game

A. D. Shaver Recovers Immediately From Injuries Received

Red Raiders of Texas Tech struck through the air lanes and on the ground to gain their first victory of the season in a 35 to 6 Border Conference decision over the Buffaloes last Friday night.

Two overhead attacks and one on the ground netted three touchdowns in the first half for a 21 to 0 lead. Two more lightning thrusts running from T-formations gave Coach Dell Morgan's visitors two more six-pointers after intermission.

A. D. Shaver set up the Buffs score by intercepting a pass and returning to Tech's 16. He was hurt on the play and removed from the game. Shaver, star center for the Buffs, was reported "raring to go" Saturday morning, and will be in the line up when the Buffs meet the Lubbock Air Base Friday night.

Eddie Castleberry zipped a pass to Hoss Bledsoe for the six points, and Kenneth Glasgow missed the try for extra point.

One of the big reasons for Tech's high rating is Walt Schlunkman of Dumas, who is a powerful fullback. During the game with Tech the Buffs found Schlunkman almost unstoppable on his bull-like charges.

He was ordered out of the game by the officials in the third quarter.

Marion Goodson was one of the defensive standouts for the Buffs much to the sorrow and regret of the Tech coaches.

"We surely made a mistake on Goodson," Polk Robinson, Tech line coach sadly related after the game. "He is better than most of the tackles we have."

Coaches Gus Miller and Windy Nicklaus depend on their eleven iron men to carry the brunt of the attack against the opponent teams. In the game with Tech, Coach Morgan was able to throw four different teams into the game. Beside's Tech's advantage in numbers and experience—they had 10 lettermen against the Buffs' three—and they had a four-pound per man weight advantage in the starting lineup and an even greater weight advantage with the second team in action.

Football fans from many parts of the Panhandle attend all games possible that are staged with the Buffs, because the West Texas eleven have made themselves a name this year for their fire and determination and clean play.

Bands from both colleges performed at the half.

Ex-Student Is Married in Phoenix

Miss Margaret Jane Jones of Dalhart, and Lt. John Orville Colquit, Jr., of Dalhart were married October 18 in Phoenix, Arizona. Dean Edwin Lane, of the Episcopal Church, read the double ring ceremony in the presence of relatives and friends.

The bride is a graduate of North Phoenix High School and Colorado Women's College in Denver. For the past year, she has been employed as a secretary at Thunderbird Field.

Lieutenant Colquit was transferred from the Infantry to the Air Corps, and took his training as a student officer at Luke Field, Ariz. He attended Wentworth Military Academy, West Texas State College, and the University of Texas.

The couple will be at home at Warrensburg, Mo.

Bishop-Gilbreth Vows Are Said In Indianapolis

In a single-ring ceremony October 19, in Indianapolis, Indiana, Miss Mary Lee Bishop became the bride of Captain Joseph W. Gilbreth. Rev. Stanley Mahan of the Methodist Church performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a white wool street-length dress, white gloves, dark brown accessories, and an orchid corsage. For something old, she wore a bracelet worn by her mother.

Mrs. Gilbreth, formerly of Quail, Texas, was a junior at West Texas State at the time of her marriage. She was a member of the Home Economics Club, the Chorus, Methodist Fellowship Council and Delta Zeta Chi Sorority.

Capt. Gilbreth, also of Quail, has been in the Air Corps for five years, fourteen months of which were spent in combat duty in Sicily, Italy, and England.

The couple plans to make their home in Indianapolis, where Capt. Gilbreth is stationed at Stout Field.

More people die of loneliness than starvation.

Kappa Tau Phi Sponsors Colorful Hallowe'en Dance

College students, Canyon residents, and service men from local Army Air Fields at Amarillo, Dalhart, and Clovis attended the Hallowe'en dance held last Saturday night in Cousins Hall.

The ballroom was decorated with the appropriate orange and black streamers of the season; favors were distributed at the door, and included caps, horns and similar Hallowe'en symbols. Decorations were planned and organized by members of Kappa Tau Phi.

The dance was sponsored by Mrs. Geraldine Green, Dean of Women. During the dance, coffee and cookies were served in the Red Room by Kappa Tau Phi pledges.

Mrs. Green has extended an invitation to the college at large and local service men to attend the regular Saturday night dances held at Cousins Hall. Dancing begins at 8 o'clock; coffee and cookies are served throughout the evening.

Large Crowds Gather to Dance at Open House

Open House at Cousins Hall, last Tuesday from 8 until 9 o'clock, drew one of the liveliest crowds of the current season. Included in the group were coeds, townspeople, and service men from nearby Army Air Corps bases. Popular records were played for the dancers by Mrs. Geraldine Green, Dean of Women.

Following the dance, Miss Theda Elmore, senior from Borger, assisted by LaNelle Ekelund, freshman from Amarillo, conducted dancing lessons until 9:30 p. m. Miss Elmore stated that dancing instructions would be continued as long as there was a demand for them.

Admission to Open House is ten cents per person in order to replace records and purchase new ones as they become in demand.

Sophomore Trio Sings at Kiwanis Club in Tulia

To sing at the Kiwanis Club of Tulia is the honor of the Sophomore Trio today. Boone McClure transported Misses Mary Evelyn Foster, Mary Lee Abbott, and Winnie Fred Ramage to sing before that organization. Anita Davis, their accompanist, played two piano solos.

Tonight, Mr. Milton Morris will take the girls to Happy to appear before a Ladies Night meeting of the Happy Rotary Club.

Known last year, as the Freshman Trio, this organization was one of the most popular on the campus. Besides appearing before numerous civic club meetings and assembly programs, they were a member of the West Texas Troup that toured high schools and army camps over the Panhandle. Miss Abbott is from McLean, Miss Foster and Miss Ramage from Borger, and Miss Davis from Canyon.

Three Lads Come to West Texas from New Mexico

New Mexico's loss has been West Texas State's gain in the persons of three handsome members of the Freshman Class.

Theodore R. Allen, Jr., better known as "Ted," is from Springer, New Mexico. He has auburn hair and underneath his hair is a very active brain. Ted is one of the few students who knows several languages.

Dick Loyd is also from Springer. Richard Porter, the third of the trio, once lived in Amarillo, and is thus more familiar with the Panhandle than the other two fellows. Lester Newton hails from Abbott, New Mexico. All three boys stay at the T-Anchor Ranch and find life out there exciting as well as interesting.

Ted and Dick work in the dairy; Lester feeds the livestock as his share in farm duties. Three mornings a week the students staying at T-Anchor have no scheduled classes, and spend that time doing actual farm work.

Mr. James Blane, an Agriculture Major from West Texas State recommended his Alma Mater to Ted and Dick; they declare that it is everything he claimed and more!

Campus coeds have eyed the boys, and are marking time until the fateful week of Sadie Hawkins.

In the line of sports, she likes swimming best of all. Rating highest among her several hobbies is collecting post cards from different places. She is on the committee for the Teen Canteen and represents the Junior Class in the Student Council.

Turn About Is Fair Play

"Turn about is fair play," we have been told since childhood. High school boys and girls have joined in with the war band of West Texas State to help make it a stronger band. Canyon High and W. T. High would like to have a band play at some of their games too. Can't something be worked out so that everyone can share in the enjoyment of the band? How about it Mr. Chamberlain and College band players?

Part of the High School band got the honor of going to Amarillo with the college band to play at the football game Friday night. They marched up Polk street and then piled in cars and finally found one car that knew the way and followed it. By this time they were feeling hungry but soon filled up on hot dogs, pop corn, peanuts, and pop. Everyone reports a swell time except for the fact of the final score.

Carnival Today

The Hallowe'en Carnival scheduled for Friday, the 27, was postponed until today because of the football game between the Calves and Hale Center Friday afternoon. The voting on the Carnival Queen began Friday morning and lasted until Tuesday noon at 1:05. The main events will be the crowning of the Queen and the Auction sale. Everything from eggs to candy will be sold by the auctioneers, who are Mr. Morris and Mr. Savage.

You may have three wishes! You might have more, but this is the usual amount prescribed by story books. Your first wish will probably be for wealth, your second for friends, and your third for health. Of course, Solomon asked for wisdom, and Elizabeth Browning wished for love. If we could have these things, we would be supremely happy.

If you could have only one of these wishes, you would be wise to choose friends. If you had money alone, you might find it a barrier to true friendship.

Many recipes have been written for winning friends and achieving popularity. You will find many of the same questions asked in all of the tests published on social acceptability, popularity, poise and friendliness. Those emphasized most often are:

- Can you be depended upon to do what you say you will do?
- Do you refrain from showing off?
- Are you careful not to make fun of others?
- Are you careful not to commit social error?
- Do you resist the temptation to exaggerate and boast?
- Do you keep your appointments promptly?
- Are you truthful?
- Do you pay back when you borrow?
- Do you refrain from bossing other people?
- Do you generally control your temper?
- Are you careful not to embarrass people or make them uncomfortable when in your presence?
- Do you greet others cordially?
- Are you careful not to gossip?
- Do you keep out of arguments that do not concern you?
- Do you watch yourself to be sure you are not doing all of the talking?
- Do you keep your clothes neat?
- Do you refrain from trying to reform others?
- Do you keep your personal troubles to yourself?
- Do you keep free from bad habits and mannerisms?
- Have you social poise?
