The Editor Speaking

Aha! I knew that sooner or later we would start getting our quota of Vitamin "K" again. I really did not expect that it would wait as long as it has about coming back to us. Of course, you understand that in terms of all of this obnoxious dust Vitamin "K" I am merely paraphrasing one (other) distinguished columnist, Old Tack of the Amarillo News-Globe. Far be it from me to try to claim credit for something that I did not originate myself.

Tomorrow will witness a general exodus from the campus as the students leave for home and Thanksgiving dinner. Thanksgiving dinner! Magical phrase, isn't it? And there's the added attraction (for most of us) of a holiday and no classes for three days of this week. I am heartily in favor of the move made by the early pilgrims when they set aside one day of the year on which to express their thanks. It must have been great then and it still is. Personally, I think that it's better now than it was then. At least, I find it so. You know how Time dims memories, though, of even the best of us.

The football season for W. T. was officially ended Saturday in the Buffalo-Raven battle at Atchison. Looking backward, the season just closed was indeed a successful one. Only one defeat in the whole season! Of course, we were on the other end of a scoreless tie a couple of times, but that doesn't count. We were undefeated right up until the last game, and that's just a whole lot more than we can say of any other season for several years in W. T. football history. About the only thing that we have to be sorry for in the game Saturday was that Toby Waggoner was cheated out of playing the last game of the season which would also have been his last game for the Maroon and White. As it is, he played his last game on the Roswell gridiron.

That was a good idea letting the government department supervise the election of the queen yesterday. The election was thus conducted in an orderly manner and students received valuable training in voting. This idea was really introduced last year and was continued this year, but it's still a worthwhile procedure in carrying out the election. Formerly the election of the queen was held on the basis of one penny per vote. This was not satisfactory as it was undemocratic and frequently resulted in general dissatisfaction. As we grow as an institution, we continue to show signs of progress, slow as it may be.

Due to the commendation of all, the Autumn Festival of the Demonstration School, came to a close Saturday afternoon. The exhibits were especially good and showed evidence of a great deal of careful planning and work by the pupils under the supervision of their teachers. The exhibits were correlated with the subjects being studied at the time and were the culminations of these units. This Festival was the third annual fair held in the Demonstration School.

For other things of interest in this issue of The Prairie, read anywhere else throughout the paper. I am glad that you have read this far. Most people don't.

Miss Edna Graham was speaker at the Canyon P. T. A. last night. Her subject was "Efficiency."

Highbrows Mingle With Herd Under Big Top Friday

Under the "big top" of the Demonstration School Building the highbrows and the sweatbrows mingled amid the color and popping of balloons, the aroma of popcorn and candy, and the cry of midway barkers at the third annual Autumn Festival last Friday and Saturday.

Probably at no other time in the history of festivals did the midway have such rivalry from the exhibits. The exhibits led by the "Spanish Serenaders" and the "Balcony Style Show" gave the midway keen competition; but the midway held forth with the animals again the favorites. "Animal Land," and "Happy Land Zoo," where a huge sign warned customers, "Do Not Feed Animals," were the haunts of the beasts.

The Carnival guard had to mind his "P's and Q's" to keep small

Banquet Tickets Will Be Available Until Next Friday

Hill Holds Conference With President Morelock

Tickets for the big banquet of ex-students and friends of the Teachers Colleges of Texas will be available until two o'clock Friday Nov. 27 and no longer, according to a letter received Monday by acting secretary, Mrs. Lee Johnson of the W. T. Association. This letter came from J. H. Vordenbaum, executive secretary of the Federated Ex-students.

Tickets will be on sale in Fort Worth at the Exhibit Building and at three hotels. Miss Fannie Sue Brasuel will help with the ticket sales, but tickets can be had at any desk where a Teachers College representative is stationed.

Pres. J. A. Hill had a conference with Pres. H. W. Morelock Friday regarding the banquet. Everything indicated that it will be one of the biggest affairs ever held at the State Teachers Association. It will be a great social occasion and one at which the seven colleges can realize, as never before, their common interests and problems.

Exes of W. T. who wish to reserve their tickets before going to Fort Worth may notify Mrs. Lee Johnson, Canyon. Tickets so reserved will be held until two o'clock the day of the banquet.

Father of Miss Goodman Dies at San Marcos Fri.

Miss Novella Goodman, member of the faculty of the W. T. Demonstration School, left Friday for San Marcos to attend funeral services for her father, Prof. H. H. Goodman.

Mr. Goodman died suddenly at his home in San Marcos Friday morning. Miss Goodman, accompanied by Miss Jean Moore, left Canyon Friday at noon to attend the funeral services.

Mr. Goodman had been, for a number of years, a member of the faculty of the Southwest Texas State Teachers College at San Marcos and was a member of the executive council of the Texas State Teachers Association, which will meet in Ft. Worth this week. He is survived by his widow, one son, and three daughters.

Miss Goodman has been a member of the faculty in the Demonstration School here for several years, teaching reading and language in the intermediate grades.

NOTICE

The Wranglers will meet tonight at 7 o'clock in the Home Economics Dining Room. S. B. Orton will discuss "Photography."

Hill and Jarrett Attend Board of Education Meet

Pres. J. A. Hill and Dean R. P. Jarrett returned Sunday from Austin where they met with the State Board of Education, which has commendatory powers to the Governor and legislature regarding the curricula of state colleges, and representatives of other teachers colleges to consider the question of whether or not these colleges should offer graduate work. Dr. Hill and Dean Jarrett left before the board had passed on this problem, but Dr. Hill expressed the hope that the action would be favorable.

Pres. Hill returned from Austin by way of Waco where he was one of the professional at the exercises at Baylor conferring the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws upon Vice-president John Nance Garner and his wife, Etta Rheiner Garner. Dean Jarrett unofficially represented W. T. at the funeral of H. H. Goodman, father of Novella Goodman, teacher in the Demonstration School, in San Marcos.

Band Will Leave Tomorrow on Trip To Dallas Fair

Will Present Concerts At Several Points Enroute

The Buffalo Band leaves tomorrow morning for the Texas Centennial at Dallas, and is scheduled to give concerts at Memphis, Childress and Wichita Falls on the way to Dallas.

The band will play several concerts in Dallas and will go to Fort Worth Saturday morning to fill an engagement. They will also play concerts at Baird and Sweetwater on the return trip Sunday.

Members of the band making the trip include: Leo Duflo, Canyon; L. E. Thomas, Canyon; Raymond Raillard, Dalhart; Virginia King, Perryton; Dwayne Leonard, Bronte; Meredith Warren, Canyon; Lorenzo Wirt, Canyon; Lorraine Hand, Plainview; Howard Williamson, Hereford; Lawrence McBee, Pampa.

Jack Veazey, Dumas; Ione Potter, White Deer; Don Gross, Groom; La Nelle Scheiham, Hereford; Fae Wheeler, Amarillo; M. D. Shepherd, Albany; Elwyn Dysart, Mobeetie; Rubel Mills, Goodlett; Donald Butler, McLean; Herbert Boardman, Hereford; Dean Story, Hereford; Hugh Harman, Hereford; Fred Balderson, Canadian; Frederick Forrester, Borger; Don Savage, Canyon; J. T. Carroll, Canyon; Wayne Christian, Memphis; Robert Orton, Canyon; and Lewis Barnett, Friona.

Marion Higdon, former student and band member will go in place of Joe McNeil who is unable to make the trip.

Former Mission Worker Talks To Groups on Campus

Miss Ann Hasseltine Stallworth, state Young People's Leader for Baptist Churches, spoke Thursday afternoon to the Y. W. C. A. at their regular meeting and to the Y. W. A. last Thursday night at a tea at the Baptist Church.

In her talk to the Y. W. A., Miss Stallworth told of the life of Ann Hasseltine Judson who went to Burma as a young bride to be a missionary with her husband. Miss Stallworth chose as her subject: "Being Glad You're a Girl."

Miss Stallworth spent Wednesday and Thursday in Canyon. Wednesday she spent at the college contacting groups of young people; Thursday she spoke to the Workers' Conference held at the Baptist Church.

Since March, Miss Stallworth has been travelling over Texas promoting young people's work. From Canyon, she went directly to Lubbock.

Landscape Artist Completes Project Here Last Week

Concrete And Gravel Walks, Trees And Shrubs Used

An extensive landscaping and beautification project on the grounds at Stafford and Cousins Halls and El Pueblo Cottages was completed last week by J. C. Tucker, Lubbock landscape artist.

The project, completed under the auspices of the college, represented an expenditure of approximately $750. Improvements included the construction of concrete and gravel walks and planting of trees and shrubs on the grounds surrounding the dormitories and cottages.

Ninety-two trees were supplied from the College Farm Nursery, this number including 51 Chinese elms, 14 cottonwoods, 18 honey locusts, and 9 catalpas.

Lombardy poplars and red cedar were also included among the variety of plants used in the landscaping project.

Trees supplied from the College Farm came from the nursery maintained there by the State Highway Department. More than 1,000 trees are still available to the College from that source.

Concrete walks around Stafford Hall, new men's dormitory, together with the shrubs and trees set out as a part of the landscaping projects, have added greatly to the appearance of the buildings and grounds.

Similar landscaping work was carried on around Cousins Hall, while, in addition to the trees and shrubs planted on the grounds at El Pueblo, curving gravel walks bordered with native stone were laid out.

First All-College Dance To Be Held Tonight at Cousins

The first all-college dance of the year will be held tonight in the Cousins Hall ballroom from 8 o'clock until 11 o'clock.

Tickets have been on sale by members of the Student Dance Committee for several days under the new system inaugurated early in the year. Season tickets may be bought for fifty cents. These will last through four dances or one semester. If season tickets are not purchased, tickets may be bought at the door tonight.

The Melody Mads, an orchestra from Amarillo, will furnish music for the dance tonight.

Reporter Puts Recent Recital Into Phrases

Songs without words—the singing notes of a violin—now sobbing—now laughing—now pensive—now gay. Crashing crescendos, mourning adagios, racing accelerandos, grandiose maestosos.

Melodies from the masters float on the morning air from the vibrant strings of an old violin glistening in the sunlight streaming through the windows. The muffled sobbing of the G-string fills every corner of the room, telling us that centuries ago hearts broke just as they do today. The lilting melody of the E-string tells us that centuries ago man was forever chasing after elusive pleasure just as he does today. The mournful sorrowing of the D-string tells us that centuries ago men grew old and fell at the sweep of the Grim Reaper's blade just as they do today, while the pensive A-string tells us that young men loved and lost and worried and failed just as they do today.

Melodies from the masters—songs from another century long past—a little of the frivolity of von Weber—the rollicking gaiety of the modern Canabake—the memory of an old melody from Kreisler—the touch of our own Herschel Coffee on the bow—the harsh jangling of the noon bell—and before we realize it the chapel period is over.

"Squirrelly" Dies; Foul Play Feared

Poor little old "squirrelly" is dead. The little rascal that flew across the ground from one tree to another is now still and cold in the dust in which he has so many times played. His scampering and chattering are lost to the students of W. T. forever. No more will he scold at the strolling boy and girl who are walking hand in hand underneath his leafy home. No more will he peek shyly out from behind one of the large limbs and shrilly speak as you walk by.

Some heartless miscreant terminated his influential life. A rock hied at his head found its mark, and forever obliterated the cheery presence of "squirrelly." The trees dropping their leaves in grief mourn his demise. They stand like gaunt sentinels over his grave. All is grief on the campus back of the Ad Building. Squirrelly is lost to us forever. May his scampering and chattering win its way into the hearts of those in squirrel heaven as it did here.

Junior CCC Co. Is Transferred From Bonham

Taylor Plans To Increase Attractiveness of Park

The company of CCC juniors, No. 894, arrived in Canyon Monday at 11 o'clock, and are now located at the Palo Duro State Park. The company was transferred here from Bonham where it has been doing efficient work during the past months.

Captain Carl Edmonds of Fort Worth is commander of the company. Lieut. Noble J. White and Lieut. Oscar Scofield are the other two officers.

The barracks at the Palo Duro have been completely remodeled during the past month since the negro company was disbanded and was shipped to other CCC organizations. The army has spent about $6,000 in this repair work. The barracks are said to be the most complete of any CCC camp in the state.

The company is composed of youths, 18 to 25 years of age. It is the third type of CCC company located at the Palo Duro. Work was started by white veterans, who were succeeded by the colored workers.

Work will be rushed during the winter, completing the entrance of the Park and the two double cabins which were recently started by the colored workers. The first job for the young company will be to raze all of the old barracks at the camp which are not in use. The lumber will be used in the various projects on the park area, states Supt. W. M. Anderson.

Barksdale Chosen Sponsor at Recent Meeting of Betas

L. T. Barksdale was recently elected sponsor of Epsilon Beta and was officially inaugurated into that office Monday night, Nov. 16.

Mr. Barksdale, faculty member of the W. T. Training School, was graduated from Baylor in 1929 with a major and minor in Spanish and Mathematics, respectively. He has previously taught school at Denton, Floydada, Canyon, Littlefield, and Wayland College, Plainview.

Mr. Barksdale has occupied his present position here since the second semester of 1935-36. At present he teaches math 8 and 9 and science 9, and coaches football, basketball and boys' tennis in the training school of W. T.

Mr. Barksdale has done two summers of graduate work toward his master's degree, and is regarded by educators in this part of the country as a man of big thoughts and lofty educational ideals.

Music Students Are Presented In Regular Recital

Students of the music department were presented in the regular monthly student recital Friday at 4:30 o'clock in the main auditorium.

These recitals are held once a month by the music department and are participated in by students of piano, voice, and violin. Although all music students do not participate in every recital, they are required to attend each recital.

Last week's program was composed of the following numbers: "Song from the East," Cyril Scott, piano, Dorothy Harmon; "Autumn Wind," Branscombe, vocal, Marion Neff; "The Eagle," McDowell, piano, Cleo Bourland; "Dance of the Dewdrops," Paul Ducele, violin, Elizabeth Maxwell; "Tango Moderno" and "Fireflies," Rovenger, piano, Shirley Harrell.

"Song of Indian Summer," Dwight, vocal, Mrs. Glenn Dowlen; "Minuet and Trio in B Minor," Schubert, piano, Leo Duflo; "Intermezzo," Garganoff, piano, La Nelle Scheiham; "Air and Variations No. 1," Dancila, violin, Jean Tarlton; "The Mill of San Souci," Hecke, piano, Mary Elizabeth Duflo; "Chaconne," Henri Roubier, piano, Bobby Jo Cheyne; "The Bell Buoy," Guion, vocal, Etelle Sirman; "Cascade of the Chandon," Bendel, piano, Royce Park.

Bishop Seaman Pictures Ministers at Work Tuesday

Bishop E. C. Seaman of Amarillo pictured the kaleidoscopic activities of a minister by describing brief incidents in his own life in an assembly talk Tuesday.

He pointed out that ministers must appear to take an interest in the interests of others, and vividly described his once continuing up a street after the horse, which he was riding to please a horse enthusiast, had decided to take a bride path. He told of adventures with "roughnecks" while going into their section of the city to officiate at a wedding and a funeral. He concluded with a discussion of some of his personal interviews with people which is also a part of a minister's work.

Brynild Vaughan presided while a group from the Demonstration School of W. T. entertained with enticing excerpts from the Autumn Festival which was held Friday and Saturday.

J. W. Dillard, W. T. ex-student and superintendent of the Alamed school, has been elected director-general of the Interscholastic League of Gray County. The majority of the officers in the county are W. T. exes.

Heavy Suspense Shown In Pulchritudinous Struggle

The air is electrified with nervous expectation, the microphone fails to function, the heavy velvet curtain hangs placidly concealing four beautiful specimens of female pulchritude.

The curtain parts; the signs "Vote for Hohlaus," "McMillan for Queen," "Gilmore is Our Choice," and "No Kiddin'—We Want Kidd" are lowered to allow these pulse-quickeners to be seen by all. Disappointment is written plainly on the faces of W. T. colleagues as "Hop" Hopkins appears.

Mr. Hopkins introduces Robert Dillard, campaign manager of Ruby Lee McMillan, who waxes poetical about the charms of this petite, blue-eyed blonde. The curtain parts again bringing Ralph McClure and Woolworth Russell who perform a tap dance. Contrary to William Shakespeare's version of "Romeo and Juliet" Romeos by the dozens are in the balcony. They burst forth in a parody of "Side Walks of New York." Miss McMillan in her alic-blue gown, made famous by Will Rogers, smiles politically at the open-mouthed audience. Her Majesty curtsies gracefully and retreats in step to the well-known bugle call.

Mr. Hopkins regains control of the microphone and introduces

Gilmore Draws Second Place; Hohlaus Is Third

Government Department Sponsors Annual Election

Miss Ruby Lee McMillan was elected Queen of the College yesterday in the annual election for this position sponsored by Le Mir-age.

Returns of the election: McMillan received 144 votes as first choice, 114 second choice, and 110 third choice; Miss Helen Gilmore, second favorite of the college received 133 votes for first choice, 129 second choice, and 102 third choice; Miss Virginia Hohlaus, winner of third place in the poll, received 133 votes of first choice, 108 second choice, and 98 third choice; Miss Rachel Kidd, last in the race, received 47 first choice votes, 93 second choice, and 112 third choice.

Miss McMillan will be crowned at a later date. Members of each class will select attendants to wait upon Miss McMillan in the coronation ceremony.

A total of 469 votes were cast which marks a considerable increase over the total number cast last year in this election.

The government department was in charge of the election and government students served as clerks and judges at the polls. The polls closed yesterday afternoon at 4:45 o'clock.

Graduating Class May Now Order Caps and Gowns

The College Bookstore is ready to receive orders for caps and gowns. Mrs. Lee Johnson, manager, has announced.

It is unnecessary to make a deposit now, but the bookstore wishes to get the names and measurements of candidates for Bachelor Degrees in order to make an estimate on the number needed. Seniors who order now, and find later that they will be unable to graduate, will be able to cancel their orders, Mrs. Johnson stated.

Caps and gowns for women will be $2.65 for the Commencement, and men's will be $2.50.

EFFECTS OF CRITICISM

Criticism is a deadly thing. It eats its way into the morale of a group or an institution much the same as a worm eats its way through the white, juicy cells of a luscious apple, leaving behind a trail of withered rottenness that corrupts the whole of the fruit.

Criticism has no more place in a college institution than a worm has in an apple. It is as out of place in modern society as wholesale gun-toting and many times as dangerous. The more civilized a society becomes, the more we should expect to find a more co-operative spirit and a more tolerant attitude concerning individual opinions and weaknesses.

If you do not like the way individuals in positions of authority are running things, if you do not like the way in which certain social groups are conducting their business affairs, and if you do not like the way in which certain individual students are going about their private and personal affairs, just remember the philosophy of the Man of Calvary when he said, "He that is without sin, let him cast the first stone."

WE'VE CHANGED IT A BIT

Away back in the time of the Pilgrim Fathers there was inaugurated a custom of celebrating in a thankful manner, all of the fortunate escapades that had been the lot of the people during that time. Father Pilgrim put his gun on his manly shoulder and after dodging many Indians, water moccasins, and comely Indian maids, he finally found a turkey meditating on a limb or on a creek bank, and with much noise and smoke proceeded to purchase the Thanksgiving dinner. Slinging the bird over his shoulder, and with the gun in readiness to defend his prize, he made his way back to home and loved ones. Pumpkin pies, cranberry sauce, and all the fixin's were in order, and after much prayer and thanksgiving, they were demolished, and the family spent the rest of the day in reverent prayer and true thankfulness.

But things have changed since then. Nowadays father (who pays) shoulders his debts at the first of the month, spends the day groaning about how much he should not have eaten, and in the afternoon goes out to the stadium to witness his Alma Mater lose another game. He ends the revelry about two or three the next morning, and spends the rest of the week drinking some sort of seltzer to get rid of the head that he acquired during the holidays.

Has everyone lost the true meaning of the Thanksgiving Day? Is the day one of dissipation only? Have you nothing to be thankful for? Think, and see if you can't give thanks for something, and give them in a true spirit of reverence.

(By Houston Bright)

"Thank heaven, Thanksgiving will soon be here; so maybe we'll get another square meal this year. The first one happened on our birthday. You know, every one of us has something to be thankful for. Sure, you do too."

It says here somewhere that four hundred students were aboard the Tarleton special train to the Weatherford game. Heh, heh; we had a special once.

This week's literary gem: There once was a co-ed quite shy, Who said to a student named Cy, "If you kiss me, of course, You will have to use force, But, thank heaven, you're stronger than I."

A couple of officers, it is told, were walking across the Tarleton campus one day. They met several privates, and every time one of the officers saluted he would mutter under his breath, "Same to you!" Finally the other officer asked, "Why do you say that?" To which the first officer replied, "I was once a private myself, and I know what they're thinking."

Personally, we can't fathom the "kiss and make up" philosophy. What's so thrilling about the procedure? Especially when you're remembering 'way back in your head how silly she acted, even if she was mad, and you know that she's thinking the same thing about you. Besides, the boy always gets a raw deal because the girl gets the kiss and the boy gets the make-up.

"The reason," points out the Trinitonian, "that there are fewer train wrecks than there are automobile crashes, is due to the fact that the engineer seldom, if ever, tries to kiss the fireman." Well, I'd hate to be an engineer, anyway—they all have one-track minds, if you follow me.

Because of a new tax system at Syracuse University, the tradition of segregating the men and the women at football games has been forsaken. Co-eds may now sit with their escorts providing escorts pay a ten per cent amusement tax.

Amusement tax? Amusement indeed!

Listen, honey, if you want to impress your boy friend with your sophisticated cynicism relative to his sex in general and him in particular, this'll stop him:

He doesn't brag
Of the women he's known,
Bore me with tales
Of the seeds he's sown,
Polish his wit
On the size of my shoes,
My speaking French
Or the bonnets I choose,
Doesn't advise
How to smoke, sneeze, or walk,
But he, of course, will
When he learns how to talk.

A University of Oregon professor of public speaking has invented a "sit-down" light with which he signals speakers to stop talking. This is preferable, of course, to the sounding of the gong, which would awaken the other students.

Adam: "It's a great life of you don't weaken."
Plutarch: "I'm sorry that I have no more lives to give to my country."
Samson: "I'm strong for you kid."
Jonah: "You can't keep a good man down."
Cleopatra: "You're an easy Mark Antony."

David: "The bigger they are the harder they fall."
Helen of Troy: "So this is Paris."
Columbus: "I don't know where I'm going but I'm on my way."
Nero: "Keep the home fires burning."
Solomon: "I love the ladies."
Noah: "It floats."
Methuselah: "The first hundred years are the hardest."

Queen Elizabeth to Sir Walter Raleigh: "Keep your shirt on."

I'm sleepy and so are you. Then let us to bed, huh?

Mrs. Ruby Kendrick Hunt, Mrs. Robert Foster, and Miss Gene Smalley will make a trip to Del Rio during the Thanksgiving holidays where they will visit in the home of Mrs. W. C. Cotton, formerly Miss Florence Throckmorton, an ex-student of W. T.

Dr. R. Thomsen, pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church in Amarillo, delivered an illustrated lecture in assembly this morning concerning his trip to the Holy Land and Egypt.

Wisecracks and . . . Otherwise

Edited by Durward Knowles

My! Ann Nell, don't you think fourteen is too many per car? Maybe it was the Gamma Phi special.

Joe Collins has been seen here, yonder, thereabouts, and in the Buff, but it looks natural. How was California, Joe?

"Some fun!" Houston Bright says, "Singing to about sixty dimes."

We all really miss the football boys when they're gone—I guess they must be a fine bunch of boys. They really turned in a football game at St. Benedict's.

Here's a bit of philosophy to take or leave. He who hesitates, gathers no moss. Isn't it just two sweet for words. Sorta like an epitaph on a tombstone or something. Nevertheless it has a moral.

We noticed an upper class prexy and a fellow classmate snoopin' around the Delta Zeta Chi tea—How were the sandwiches, boys?

We nominate Ann Miller for the playfulest gal on the campus. Aye, Aye!

I've kinda promised not to jump on Cousins Hall anymore but just one thing else. The boys who attended open house there the other night want to express their appreciation to the girls who were responsible for the salt and pepper on the floor. Was it envy for the Randall Girls, or just plain foolishness?

I see that Merle Crow has taken up the song "Tormented" since her confinement to Randall—and for a whole week too! The girls over at Cousins call it being "campused."

Rave on Don, rave on! Do you know Ruth Capps, pretty brunette from Amarillo? Well, then you are missing something. She's another girl who needs more attention.

Ask Alton Paul, G. W. Lee, Garland Brown, and George Taylor, where they were last Friday night, and why they ran so fast to get away—not even slowing down for barb-wire fences.

Listen my people and you will hear, all about the big event of the year. Don't miss the All-College dance tonight. The swing orchestra promises music that will put you in a whirl. Come one, come all!

To you my fine fan—May the Thanksgiving holidays be a real treat to you, and . . . I'll be seen' you.

"Anna" To Stay Permanently At W. T.

"Anna has" come to our house (W. T.) to stay.

"Anna" doesn't "sweep the hearth" or "brush the crumbs away." She is a colotype process print of a charcoal drawing by Rico Lebrun, an Italian artist who now lives in the United States. "Anna" was the favorite of the majority of those who saw the first Living American Art Exhibit which has just been removed from the Museum. She will stay in the gallery except when other exhibits are hung.

In commenting on the selection Miss Robinson said, "The more you look at Anna, the more you appreciate her. The drawing is exquisite, the lines perfect."

The next exhibit will be hung about Dec. 16.

BUFFONEERS ENTERTAIN WITH PARTY-DANCE

One of the most attractive pre-Thanksgiving social events on the campus occurred at Stafford Hall on Saturday evening, Nov. 21, when the Stafford Buffoneers entertained with a dance and party.

A program dance of sixteen numbers was enjoyed by the dancers and monopoly was played by those who did not care to dance. The ballroom and living room were appropriately decorated with fall colors, and the lights were softened with amber shades.

Guests were received in the lounge of the Hall and were presented with wrist corsages and boutonnieres made of sweet peas and baby astors in pastel shades. The dance programs were unique in that they consisted of a block print of Stafford Hall printed on orange paper.

At the intermission punch and cakes were served to the revellers by Mrs. Travis Shaw and Mrs. D. A. Shirley, two of the sponsors. The punch bowl was arranged on a table with a Thanksgiving cover and was surrounded with autumn leaves and lighted by tall yellow tapers in crystal holders.

Buffoneers and their guests were: Brady McCoy, Dickie Ricks, Woolworth Russell, Maridora Blair, Jack Liston, Virginia Wade, E. C. Carver, Genelle Ketchum, Jimmy Murphy, Lella Hickox, Wilbur Wofford, Dorothy Dickinson, Trent Davis, Margaret E. Hill, Lawrence McBe, Charlotte Tubb, Tom King, Annette White, Edward Burkhalter, Royce Park, Ardis Uatman, Mary Frances Powell, James Badgett, Helen Boswell, Bob Baird, Billie Roberts, Otis Harman, Doris Bomar, Thomas Newell, Ruby Lee McMillan, Carl Goettsche, Ruth Campbell, M. L. Hutcheson, Virginia Line, Arnold Brown, Juanita Goettsche, Olin Huff, Ruby Lee Baker, George Davis, Jane Guleke, Millard Nobles, Louise Makeig, Ralph O'Keefe, Edith Rumbaugh, Clyde Gregory, Virginia Edmondson, George Wright, Rachel Kidd.

The sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Travis Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Shirley, Miss Edna Graham, and Dr. A. M. Meyer. Mrs. Meyer, hostess of the Hall, who is ill in an Amarillo hospital was greatly missed by the group.

GAMMA PHI GIVES TEA DANCE TUESDAY

The Gamma Phi Club entertained with a tea dance Tuesday at Cousins Hall. The guests were ushered into the Red Lounge where they were introduced by the receiving line which was made up of the club officers, Margaret Deal, president; Edith Rumbaugh, vice-president; Ann Palmeyer, secretary-reporter; Gay Nelle Douglas, treasurer; Miss Anne Wofford, sponsor, and Mrs. Agnes Smith.

With Maridora Blair and Helen Osgood acting as hostesses, tea was served to the guests from an attractively decorated table of blue and white, the club colors.

Dancing was enjoyed throughout the afternoon by the guests. The charter members, Margaret Deal, Edith Rumbaugh, Ann Palmeyer, Gay Nelle Douglas, Anis Fowler, Mary Myles Hall, Marjetta Ewing, Maridora Blair, Virginia Edmondson, Helen Osgood, Ann Nell McDaniel, and June Power, were distinguished by blue and white wrist corsages.

FRESHMAN FELLOWSHIP CLUB HOLDS MEETING

With Miss Ruth Lowe, Leo Duffot, and Herschel Coffee as special guests, the Freshman Fellowship Club met last Tuesday night in Cousins Hall for a program on "Music Appreciation."

Miss Lowe gave several piano selections; Leo Duffot did a clarinet solo, and Mr. Coffee played a group of violin selections. Mr. Coffee concluded the program with a short talk on appreciation. He especially stressed the difference between classical and popular music.

Following the program, a social hour was held. Miss Mary Moss Richardson concluded the meeting with a short fiction story.

MR. AND MRS. LOGUE ENTERTAIN WITH COFFEE

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Logue honored a small group of college students with a coffee at their home Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. An impromptu program of songs, piano selections, and group singing was given by those present.

Guests of the afternoon were Jacqueline Tabor, Marjetta Ewing, Quixie Bea King, Hope Bussey, W. H. Hopkins, Jr., Bill Britton, Houston Bright, an Mr. Beckman.

LOVELY PARTIES GIVEN LAST WEEK

At the spacious home of Mrs. W. A. Warren, 1814 Third Avenue, two beautifully appointed parties were given last Thursday and Friday evenings with Mrs. C. R. Flesher and Mrs. Warren acting as hostesses.

The house decorations for both of the lovely affairs were gorgeous arrangements of marigolds. The orange color note was carried out in the refreshment course of pumpkin pie with whipped cream, cheese sandwiches, salted nuts and coffee, served after games of bridge.

The guest list Thursday evening included Misses Pauline Brigham, Ruth Lowe, Hattie M. Anderson, Isabel Robinson, Ada V. Clark, Grace Clark, Agnes Charlton, Margaret Wiley, Mary E. ## CENTENNIAL REVIEW

By Leslie Stitt

"THE CROWD"

Before we go any further with our viewing the sights of the Centennial Exposition, let's get on one of the many busses that are making the rounds of the interesting points, and look at all of the people that are attending the exposition.

As the bus leaves from the main gate, we see people everywhere taking in the sights. To the right over there is the General Motors building. Ben Bernie and all the lads are the guest stars there this week. At the time for his appearance there will be an enormous crowd waiting to hear him.

The guide on the bus points out all of the buildings and places of interest as the bus makes its way around the grounds. The music that is heard at all times is coming from those loud speakers concealed in those attractive columns. The Gulf Studios on the grounds are broadcasting at all times from several of the large radio stations in Dallas. The crowd gathered over there on the left now, are waiting to witness, as well as hear, the broadcast of the next feature. There seem to be thousands of people milling up and down the streets of the Exposition.

There is the Federal building, wherein are housed all of the exhibitions from the various phases of government enterprise. The two large buildings over there are the agricultural exhibition buildings, and inside of them is shown all of the types and products of the agriculture that is typical of Texas production.

Going still further around the grounds, the bus passes in rapid order the enormous bowl that is the scene of the Calvacade exhibitions each afternoon and evening, the amusement centers of the exposition, where many forms of diversion are to be found. On the return trip the bus passes the National Cash Register building, the largest cash register in the world, counting the people who enter the grounds every half hour. As we complete the trip around the grounds, we end up in front of the Transportation Building. Let's go in there next.

Bufs Defeated For First Time In 1936 Season 19-0

Ravens Break In Third Quarter When Bufs Get Penalty

Capitalizing on a dynamic last quarter punch, the St. Benedict's Ravens knocked the West Texas Buffaloes from the select rank of the nation's undefeated teams by a 19-0 count in Atchison, Kansas, Saturday.

For three quarters the Buffaloes able manner that Toby has performed when suffering uncomplainingly excruciating pain distinctly marks him as the greatest wingman to wear a Maroon and White jersey. Best offensive player—Foster Watkins; 2 Lwood Dow. Best defensive player—Toby Waggoner; 2 Leo Jackson. Headliest player—Ezell Champion; 2 Leo Jackson. Hardest running back—Conway Butler; 2 Lwood Dow. Most rugged—Vernon Johnson; 2 Craig Walling. Best blocker—Oscar Hinger; 2 Tom Slack. Most improved player—William Harp; 2 Conway Butler.

Best performance of year—Victory over T. W. C. Most disappointing performance—Sul Ross game. Most sensational play—85 yard run by Watkins in the last 30 seconds of play against New Mexico U.

There they are—I sincerely hope that they meet your solemn approval.

With the coming of spring, a young man's heart gently turns to thoughts of love. With the coming of biting weather an athlete's heart gently turns to thoughts of basketball. Our attention now focuses on this winter sport.

had pitched gallantly to withstand the Raven punches. Repeatedly, the defensive work of Captain Jackson, Walling, Hinger and Johnson stopped the heralded Raven ball-toters.

The break came in the third quarter when the Bufs were assessed a 15-yard penalty. On the next play, Fullback Neff slithered into the open field for a 38-yard pickup. He was halted from behind by Craig Walling, Buff tackle, on the 10-yard line. On the second play of the fourth quarter, Neff made the tally and then converted.

The first Buffalo scoring chance came in the second quarter when Johnson took Watkins' pass, and chugged to the 21-yard line. Three incomplete passes and a line play ended the threat.

The other invasion presented itself in the third period when Quarterback Champion kicked 80 yards out of bounds on the one yard line. Weiffenbach's return kick was killed on the 22. Dow captured Watkins' short pass and ran to the 14. Three plays fizzled and Watkins stepped back for a field goal. Officials ruled that the kick was wide by inches.

It was the brilliant mechanical running of fullback Neff and the leadership of Captain Leo Deutsch that threw the huge Homecoming crowd into a frenzy in the last canto. The fans were disappointed to hear that gigantic Toby Waggoner would be unable to participate as they longed to compare him with their All-American bid, Leo Deutsch.

Weiffenbach counted the second tally in record time when he capped a series of short gains to cross the last chalk mark on a jaunt from the 11-yard line. He was also responsible for the last score when he flipped a 30-yard pass to Leo Deutsch. Danaher followed with a 11-yard pickup, and then Weiffenbach circled end for the score.

JUNIORS ARE—

Corporation, has returned from an extensive trip to visit the various national and state parks of the Southwest for the purpose of gathering information regarding the management of the various parks.

Mr. Taylor states that a number of improvements will be made immediately at the Palo Duro in order to give the visitors maximum service. During the past month he has interviewed practically all of the National Park Service officials for the purpose of assembling all of the information necessary in conducting the concessions at the Palo Duro.

After visiting the various parks, Mr. Taylor is more pleased with the possibilities of development at the Palo Duro than ever before. From the standpoint of comparison, Mr. Taylor is convinced that few people in the Panhandle realize what a wonderful work of nature exists in the Palo Duro. To make all of these points of beauty accessible and enjoyable for the visitors will be the aim of his company during the coming years.

Latest reports from St. Mary's hospital in Roswell indicate that Toby Waggoner, star left end of the Buffalo football squad, is recovering from an operation satisfactorily. Waggoner was rushed to the hospital following the game between the Buffaloes and the N. M. M. I. Cadets.

Calves Conclude 1936 Grid Season In Game Saturday

The W. T. Calves' 1936 football season was concluded last Thursday afternoon, when Co-Captain James Butler's charges galloped to a 12-0 victory over Co-Captain Velton Sargee's team in an intra-squad game.

This game marked the end of the first complete Training School football season in nine years. Three other games remained on the Calves 1936 schedule but were cancelled because of conflicting conference games.

The tightly-contested melee's initial score was chalked up early in the second half when James Butler passed over the goal line to Patterson. With one minute to go, "Bloody Bill" Curry plunged over from the five-yard stripe for the "Butlerites" last tally.

Captain Sargee and Pete Whitman turned in good performances for the losers, while Butler, Curry, and Mayfield were outstanding cogs in the winning machine.

Tabulated Football Statistics

A tabulation of the season's scoring finds three backs tied for the honor, Dow, Butler and Slack.

The season's scoring follows:
	td	fg	ep	Ttl.
Lwood Dow	4	0	12	36
Conway Butler	6	0	0	36
Tom Slack	6	0	0	36
Watkins	5	0	5	35
Waggoner	2	0	0	12
Marchbanks	2	0	0	12
Lyde	1	0	0	6
Walling	0	1	2	5
	26	1	19	177

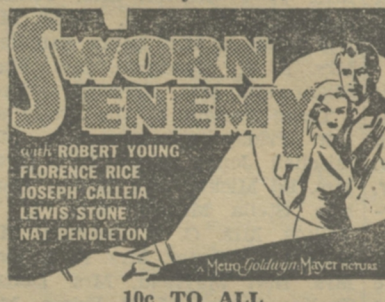

Mrs. A. M. Meyer, hostess at Stafford Hall, is improving rapidly, according to reports from St. Anthony's Hospital where she was taken for an appendicitis operation last week.
