STUDENTS COMING TO COLLEGE FROM MANY SOUTH TEXAS COUNTIES; MORE CREDIT STUDENTS THAN EVER BEFORE

President Hill stated Tuesday that a large number of South Texas counties were represented in the attendance, one student coming from Hidalgo county, in the extreme southern point of the state, one from Nueces county, one from Matagorda county and one from Brazoria county.

Figures have not been compiled as to the home of the remainder of the counties represented in the summer attendance but Mr. Hill will have this done as soon as the enrollment is complete. Mr. Hill has a map of the state showing the counties represented in the last regular session, which is an interesting study.

Any decrease in the summer session may be ascribed to two things: First, a shortage of men; second, a shortage in the those attending the summer normal. Good crop conditions are keeping many men out of school this summer. There are probably fewer men this summer than for several years. There is reported to be a big demand for farm labor all over the country.

There is a large increase in the number of credit students in the summer session. This highly pleases the faculty of the College, as it shows the teaching standards of the state are on the inclined plane.

President Evans of the San Marcos Teachers College recently made a study of the attendance in the Texas Colleges which showed that the West Texas State Teachers College had a larger distributed attendance than any of these institutions.

President Hill states that he will not select a head for the English Department for one year to succeed H. W. Morelock, who goes to Alpine as the president of the Teachers College at that place.

A number of the regular faculty will be away on leave of absence to study during the coming year, but Mr. Hill is unable to make any selections of teachers until the legislature passes the appropriations bill.

The work of the summer session is progressing well. Those wishing to take summer normal work have until July to enroll.

Teachers Hold Membership In Sigma Xi Society

Prof. Leland Standford Baker, head of the Biology Department has recently received a letter from Stanford University of California, which states that he has been elected to the Stanford Chapter of the Society of the Sigma Xi. The nomination comes from the Department of Biology, in recognition of research work which led to his Masters degree.

This is a national honorary scientific fraternity and only those are tendered membership who show signs of becoming an original investigator of research work. Its object is to encourage original investigation in pure and applied science.

Two other members of the faculty, Dr. C. A. Pierle, head of the Chemistry Department, and Miss Helen B. Burton, head of the Department of Home Economics, both hold membership in this society.

High School Debate Subject is Announced by League Officials

Selection of the subject for debate next year by the students of Texas High Schools has been made by the State Executive Committee of the Interscholastic League. The subject is, "Resolved, that the United States should join the League of Nations."

A special debate bulletin is being prepared by the Austin authorities, and both sides of the question will be presented in brief form.

The debates on this subject are expected to be of much popular interest. Over one thousand pupils participated in the debating contests this year, and the number is expected to be even greater the coming year.

Besides developing the speaking ability of the participants, the yearly debates are intended to educate the public to the general needs of the country, and to awaken more interest in the vital public issues.

Frank Hill Engaged in Newspaper Work

Frank Hill, the editor of "The Prairie" during the regular term, is actively engaged in newspaper work. He is with the Snyder Signal, a local weekly newspaper of Snyder, Texas. Mr. Hill has for several years been engaged in newspaper work. Before coming to Canyon, he was for some two or three years engaged from time to time in newspaper work at Sweetwater, Texas. His efficiency inside and outside the newspaper office is of the sort worth mentioning. His success with "The Prairie," he attributes to previous endeavor in newspaper work. From the quality of work produced on "The Prairie" staff, and from the kind of enthusiasm shown in Press Club work, we can conclude that Frank is making good his reputation as an efficient newspaper man.

Lockhart Will Go to Officers Training School for 2 Weeks

W. E. Lockhart, first lieutenant in the army during the world war, has accepted an invitation from the government to attend a school at Fort Sam Houston starting June 21st, at which time army officers will discuss with the ex-officers the problems that were confronted by our army during the war, and other problems and plans of the government for the army.

The school will continue for two weeks.

Former Students Attend Adobe Walls Celebration

The following former students of this institution were in attendance at the celebration held at Adobe Walls the 14th and 15th of June: Hazel Mathes, Verle Fletcher, Josie and Nellie Hart, Foy Terry, Mrs. R. E. Sanders (formerly Ora Sires), Grace King, Mrs. Emmett Coble (formerly Dora Dixon), Clara Forrester, Gordon Fuller, Mrs. Bryan (formerly Ona McCormick), Tom Groves, Mrs. Pike (formerly Ida Parks), Allen King and wife, Paul Groves, Faye Kirk, Tom Archer, Mrs. Dayton Potter (formerly Leah Pitts). Many of these students expect to return to the College at some time and all of them remembered their college days and college friends with much pleasure.

Newspaper Woman From Panhandle Has Moved to Canyon

Panhandle Herald: Mrs. Ida M. Lowes, for several months past society editor of the Herald, moved this week with her family to Canyon, where she goes to make her home, in conformity with the desires of her daughter, Miss Ruth, who is an instructor in the West Texas State Teachers College at that place. Mrs. Lowes has been connected with the Herald for several years, in various capacities, from reporter to active editor and manager of the Herald, and we are frank to say, that no one who has ever been connected with this paper during its 35 years of existence has ever been so familiar and persevering with the work of the Herald.

During the time while Hon. Lee Satterwhite owned the Herald, Mrs. Lowes assisted in its publication, and while he was at his official duties in Austin, edited and managed the paper. What the Herald is today is due largely to this good woman's persistent efforts and faithful work. We hate to lose her and know that it will be impossible to find one who can fill her place.

Panhandle's loss is Canyon's gain, and we can truthfully say that Canyon has acquired not only two noble Christian women in Mrs. Lowes and her daughter, Miss Ruth, but two fine young men in Delbert and Dean. The Herald joins their many, many friends here in wishing them life's richest blessings.

Mrs. Olive K. Dixon Leader at the Adobe Walls Celebration

At Adobe Walls on June 14th and 15th occurred the first celebration under the auspices of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, and a red letter event in the annals of that society.

Here were assembled for two days about fifteen hundred people, who came together to get under way a movement to mark with a suitable monument the site of one of the most famous Indian fights that ever took place in the Panhandle of Texas. The event took place under the efficient leadership of Mrs. Olive K. Dixon, second vice-president of the Historical Society, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Coble, of Amarillo and the Turkey Ranch, and Mayor Reid, of the city of Pampa.

Mr. and Mrs. Coble deeded at this time, to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, five acres of ground, this being the site of the Adobe Walls Battle, in which the famous scout, "Billy" Dixon, and many other early buffalo hunters took part. This tract of land is the first real estate to be owned by the Historical Society, and Mr. and Mrs. Coble have been made life-members of the organization as a mark of appreciation of this gift.

The meeting took place in the lovely grove which surrounds the Turkey Ranch headquarters, and Mr. and Mrs. Coble furnished seven barbecued beefs and an abundant supply of other good things to eat for the great group of people who were their guests. The beefs were barbecued by Miles Bivens of Amarillo, who is an expert at this task.

Programs had been carefully prepared for both days; prominent Panhandle people who appeared on the program were Judge T. F. Turner of Amarillo, president of the Historical Society; Mrs. Olive K. Dixon, Mr. Edwards of the State Highway Department, Mr. John Sneed of the Dallas News, Mayor Reid of Pampa, Judge Grigsby of Ochiltree County, and others.

Among the old settlers of this section of the country who attended this meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Caton, who have been residents of the upper plains country for over forty years, M. F. Drumm, who was a Turkey Ranch hand forty two years ago, Dave Lard, who first became a cow puncher in this section of the country in 1881, Edward Whippo who resided in Ochiltree county forty-one years, Tom Berry of Canadian, Mr. Dick Bussell of Canadian, and many others.

In addition to forwarding the Adobe Walls Battleground monument movement, this meeting put into action machinery which it is thought will result in the building of a much needed bridge across the Canadian somewhere near this place. As a social meeting the gathering was a wonderful success. The Historical Society came into possession of much valuable material, both in relics and in information about the older residents of this country. It is planned to hold another meeting at the same place next year on the 50th anniversary of the Adobe Walls fight, at which time it is hoped there can be unveiled a suitable monument marking the battle ground site.

North Texas State Teachers College Students Organize

Students from the North Texas State Teachers College who are now attending school here, met in chapel Friday morning for the purpose of perfecting a permanent organization of students here who have formerly attended the sister college at Denton, Texas. Some fifty individuals met at the initial meeting. Others are in school and are considered members of this club. The following officers were elected: President—T. A. Fritts, Secretary—Annie Wood, Prairie Rep.—Berta May Looney.

Miss Hudspeth Goes to Mexico City for Summer

Miss Mary E. Hudspeth will leave Monday, June 25 for Mexico City where she will spend the summer studying Spanish in the National University of that place. She will be joined at Laredo by her brother and his wife who will spend a part of the summer in company with Miss Hudspeth in Mexico.

R. B. Cousins Former President Visits College

R. B. Cousins, superintendent of the Public Schools of Houston and former President of the West Texas State Teachers College, arrived in Canyon last evening, June 25, for a few days visit with the students of the College and his host of old friends. The students feel his coming a great honor and cherish the time they may have Mr. Cousins among them. The Prairie wishes to extend to this great friend of the institution the warmest of welcomes and sincerely hope that his visit may be a happy one.

Mr. Cousins will speak in chapel Tuesday morning and all the students who haven't had the pleasure of hearing him may fully enjoy this period.

Miss Walker of College Faculty Will Assist in Writing a Geography

Miss Darthula Walker, professor of Geography at the West Texas State Teachers College, joined a party Monday morning which has a car chartered for a trip to California. This party was planned some time ago, and will stop at the most interesting places enroute. Miss Walker will study at the University of California this summer.

A large publishing house recently closed a contract for a Geography of Texas, of which Miss Walker is a joint author. The Geography teachers of Texas Colleges have felt keenly the need of a new, up-to-date textbook, and the new Geography is intended to meet this demand.

The Faculty Gives Reception to Students

On Saturday evening, June 16, the faculty entertained the summer students with a reception in the auditorium and corridors of the administration building.

The hosts and guests met first in the auditorium where Professor Guenther, chairman of the Social Committee, presented a short, interesting program. President Hill opened this program with an address of welcome, in which he stressed the value of personal friendship between faculty members and students. As for the next number, a string quartette, directed by Miss Mary Clark, played several selections which pleased the audience. Miss Muriel Phillips of the Department of Public Speaking concluded the program by reading one of Rupert Hughes' delightful stories of the Middle West. She graciously responded with a short encore.

Headed by President and Mrs. Hill, the faculty formed a receiving line in the corridor to greet personally each student. The orchestra entertained those in the auditorium until all had passed down the line.

Light refreshments of fruit punch and wafers were served in the Home Economics Dining Room.

Improvement Made On Athletic Field

Considerable work is being done on the athletic field this summer. The baseball diamond, and other parts of the field where the native grass has been killed is being soddied with Bermuda. This will give an excellent grass infield for baseball. It is believed that this will be the only grass infield in this part of the State. The track is being levelled and more cinders will probably be added. The entire set of tennis courts, (twelve in all), are being worked over, and it is the intention of those in charge to have the entire athletic field and grounds in tip top shape before the opening of the fall quarter in September.

Home Ec. Girls Entertain New Teachers With Tea

The new teachers of the College for the summer term were given a tea in the Home Ec. dining room Thursday evening, June 21. The guests were served a refreshing tea by the home economics girls. After the tea, a social hour was engaged in by all present.

PAVING APPROPRIATION IN THE BILL, AND IS THE ONLY PERMANENT IMPROVEMENT THAT WAS ALLOWED.

Duflot Gives Lectures To Federated Clubs

The different Woman's Federated Clubs in different Panhandle communities have centralized their study upon two vital social problems, "The Woman Program" and "Child Welfare." The "Mystic Club" at Plainview, a woman's club at Floydada, and The Home Economics Club at Plainview are studying "The Woman Problem." A club at Hale Center and one at Wheeler are studying the problem of "Child Welfare." Mr. Duflot, head of the Sociology Department, is giving to these clubs from time to time, lectures on these subjects. Both of these problems are studied in detail in the Sociology Department. Mr. Duflot says that these clubs are taking vital interest in this work.

Methodist Student Federation Organized Here Sunday

Organization of the Texas Student Federation for local work took place at the Methodist Church Sunday afternoon. All the officers elected were students, according to the requirements of the State Constitution of the organization, but a local board of the Church, composed of representatives of the Sunday School Classes and the Board of Stewards, the Pastor, and the Student Secretary was present at the meeting.

Plans were started to send delegates to the first of the regular encampments, which will be held at Lake Worth on September 11-18.

The general activities of the Methodist students here are under the direction of Miss Jessie Green, who was secured by the women of the Northwest Texas Conference of the Methodist church. Miss Green is a former student of the West Texas State Teachers College, and taught the past year in Memphis High School.

The officers of the Methodist Student Federation are:

Frank B. Hill, President.
H. Z. Williams, First Vice President.
Lela Swain, Second Vice President.
Kittie Lee McCasland, Third Vice President.
Lora Williams, Fourth Vice Pres.

Home Economics Girls Have Food Sale

One of Miss Burton's cooking classes is putting on sale from day to day quantities of food prepared in the laboratory work. The sale is not made for profit but given for the girls to have a chance to dispose of large quantities of food which they have to prepare in this particular course. In this way the girls are trained in the preparation of large quantities of food.

Addition Made To "Dixon" Collection

Mrs. Olive Dixon recently added to the "Dixon Collection" a stake pin and a portion of a stove both of which were in use at Adobe Walls at the time of the battle in 1874. Mrs. Dixon has included in her first collection many articles of much interest and value to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society. This collection, with others, is on display in the corridor on the second floor of the administration building.

The appropriation bill as passed by the Texas legislature last Thursday provided an appropriation for the West Texas State Teachers College of $420,000.00 for the coming two years.

The appropriation bill as passed by both houses is a compromise on the bill recently vetoed by Governor Neff. It makes a considerable reduction in the various items as provided by the first bill for all educational institutions in the state.

The College will receive $220,000 for the year beginning Sept. 1, 1923 and $200,000 for the year beginning Sept. 1, 1924.

The only permanent improvement allowed by the bill is for paying, the sum of $20,000 being provided for in an emergency bill calling for $9000 to pay the state's part of the paving on the south side of the campus, and for $15,000 to pay for the paving on the campus. As now planned the paving will make a loop around the main building, ending the campus at the southwest entrance, going to the west door, around to the power house, back to the east door and out at the southeast entrance by the president's home. W. D. Howren has been employed as engineer on the college paving, and is now making the plans.

Unless the Governor should veto the paving appropriation, work will start as soon as Evelyn street to the high school building is completed.

The following items were passed by the legislature:

Salaries, first year $171,170; second year $176,100.00.

Departmental maintenance, first year $15,130; second year $11,000.

Miscellaneous items, first year $8,700; second year $8,580.

Repairs, improvements and equipment, including the upkeep of building and grounds, to purchase 50-horse power engine and equipment and the housing for same, pumps, electrical equipment, steel filing cases, paving state's share of streets on and adjacent to campus, office supplies and equipment, library and paintings, first year $20,000; second year $4,250. Total for first year $220,000; second year $200,000.

R. A. Terrill represented all the Teachers Colleges before the legislature.

Preparation Being Made For Better Football Next Year

Coach Burton reports that he is receiving letters of inquiry almost daily from men interested in the athletics of the West Texas State Teachers College, and who hope to enter school here this fall. Some of these men are high school stars, of more or less magnitude, others are men who have won considerable distinction as members of the Junior College Teams of the State.

With the football season approaching and the Buffaloes facing the most difficult schedule the College has ever attempted, it behooves each of us to use our influence with all prospective football men with whom we may come in contact. To the end that they may come here.

We made a great step forward when we gained admission into the Texas Intercollegiate Athletic Association. We played some of them mighty hard games in football, made all of Texas look our way in basketball, and made a good showing in baseball and track. Now! Let's all get together and put out a winning football team this fall. Not all of the old men will be back, of course, but there will be a sufficient number, to form the nucleus around which a winning team may be developed.

There seems to be a spirit of optimism among the letter men and last year's yearlings. Every one seems to predict a good year for the Buffaloes, and if a sufficient number of new men can be induced to come our way West Texas fans will see some real football this fall without leaving the Plains country.

Miss Hazel Groves will be back in school this fall.

NOTICE STUDENTS

Fellow Students! read this and think about it. There is a group of business men in Canyon who believe in, and support the students' paper, "The Prairie." They support this paper by their advertisements, thus enabling its publication. "The Prairie" is your paper and my paper and we ought to support the people that support and back us in our endeavor in publishing a college paper. Do you think that we ought to trade with a man that does not appreciate our trade enough to patronize our paper? If they want our trade let them advertise with our paper. There are many ways of showing your loyalty to your school; and one of the best ways you have of showing your appreciation for your school and your community is to patronize those who patronize us—by this mutual aid, all will be better off. A list of firms are given below of the people who advertise in "The Prairie;" read them over before you go shopping—give them the first chance at your trade while attending the summer school.

THE WAY TO SUCCESS

Success, the goal to which all the worthy are striving, the goal which is too near, yet seems so hard to reach, is reached by few. Those who realize this great accomplishment, for accomplishment is success, do so because they possess power. Yes, power!

Once power was physical might. Then the strongest man of the land was self proclaimed King and ruled the people according to his own desires. That was back during the barbarous stages of civilization. Since physical might has gradually lost its prestige, until the whole system of autocracy which was based on physical power and actual force was crushed in the World War.

What is the power that crushed this great and unjust system and saved civilization? It is a power within the domain of man. This is very obvious; for all the pages in history and all of the evidences of the senses which we are endowed with, point to the mind as the source of greatest power. All powers fade before ideas which no other force can crush and which form the main spring for the constructive movements of the world.

When God endowed man with a brain he gave him a priceless possession which lifted him up and above the rest of creation. He gave him this brain with the power of thought that he may combat all the evil powers of the world and achieve great and honorable things for the benefit of humanity. He created in the brain a Super and Divine power which is the soul. This power is our guiding spirit. It is the searchlight which illuminates our path and shows us the way to success.

I believe, in order to be successful, one must have a life career motive.

The youngster must know, or think he knows, what he wants to do before he can accomplish much. Later events may completely change his plans, but the time and effort spent working toward a definite end will not have been lost. In so far as he has a definite ideal that is sufficiently comprehensive every effort he makes will be a step toward its ultimate realization. An individual is satisfied only as he throws himself into his life career.

A person must have courage and dare a great deal to accomplish something of lasting worth. The world stands out of the way of a man who knows where he is going. A man can do any kind of work and be respected by his fellows. Manual labor is not a disgrace. Many doctors, lawyers, and preachers would be better off as carpenters, blacksmiths and ditchers. Society would be much better for the change. Manual labor is as much needed as professional labor. Both are intellectual works. The ideal combination is a trained hand backed by a trained mind. Believe this and practice and teach your belief and the mark of the slave will give way to the glory of the Master.

No easy occupation is worth while. To be worth while an occupation must profoundly educate the worker. This is the only way to become a cultured and civilized man. Little dabs of English, language, art, music, and such are valuable by the thing that counts developmentally and ultimately in that particular field of knowledge we have made our own. One acquires length, breadth, and depth by going deeply. It is never the result of a superficial process. The jack of all trades is a mistake in life. The condition for success in every avenue of life is to go far above the level; to beat the average. Master the job. Become a superman.

A MODERN BEOWULF

Beowulf, the Ancient, was a hero, brave, bold, daring, and adventure-some; always ready to fight any dragon or monster that threatened the life or comfort of either himself or his people.

Wonderfully thrilling are the exploits of Beowulf; but battles with dragons and crude monsters are only mythical tales of days long gone. Of what use can the study of such exploits be to any one living in this day of modern materialism? Worldly and materially it would be of little use, and likewise, we could, perhaps, get along quite nicely without such an extensive study of history. History repeats itself; the same may be said of literature, for, do we not read daily in our modern publications of "dragons" and "Beowulfs"? We do, if we but knew it! and they are still in conflict just as truly as they have been in all ages.

The modern "dragons" are so plentiful that I shall not try to name them all, but only mention a few of those which are brought most closely to my attention:

Think of the diseases, both new and old, the germs of which doctors and scientists are devoting their lives to isolate and find a means of destroying; and the terrible "dragon," intoxicating liquors, that has recently been killed. Has our modern Beowulf been at work? He has! and to great effect.

But the "dragon" in which I am very personally interested is the dragon that is holding Texas back in the line of education. For, perhaps, many good reasons Texas' laws have been lax in requiring the qualification that should be exacted of any person before he may be permitted to teach in the public schools of our state. Our rural schools, especially, have suffered because of this laxity of Texas' school law; but it will not always be so, for where there is a "dragon" there is also a "Beowulf" and Beowulf has never failed in a conflict for right against evil and he will not fail us now. Therefore, I hope and feel certain that the time is not far distant when every teacher in the public schools of Texas will be a College graduate or, at least, have a College standing. When that time comes, Beowulf, the great minds behind our nation, will have conquered a real, modern dragon and will be ready to be classed as a hero with the great hero of early Anglo-Saxon literature.

A STUDENT'S MOTTO

I have to live with myself and so, I want to be fit for myself to know. I don't want to stand with the setting sun, And hate myself for the things I have done. I want to live, as the days go by, So that I can always look myself straight in the eye. I don't want to keep, on my closet shelf, A lot of things about myself, And try to fool myself as I come and go. Into thinking that no one else will know. I don't want to dress myself in sham, So folks won't know the kind of person I really am. For I have to live with myself and so, I want to be fit for myself to know.

TEXAS TEACHERS COLLEGES

Standard colleges for teachers are now in Texas. Because of that fact many people in the state do not yet know of their existence.

It was one time a fact that Texas school authorities had to look to the universities for teachers and administrators, efficiently trained to fill the more responsible school positions. What was once actually true becomes traditionally true, and the traditional practice clings to us because we do not, as a rule, take the trouble to investigate things.

Here is a fact or two, however, which should give tradition a general shake-up and arouse those who are looking for teachers out of their lethargy and stimulate them into making an inventory of what the state has in the way of "class A" colleges for teachers. Texas has five standard colleges for teachers. These five colleges are turning out something like a hundred degree teachers each year with a substantial increase every year.

Graduates can go to the best universities in the country and their degrees are accepted as fulfilling all undergraduate requirements.

Besides a substantial academic college education these colleges offer in addition thereto special training pertaining to the professional side of teaching which is now recognized as not only an essential but as an absolute requirement for the profession of teaching.

The teachers colleges are not crowded to the extent that students will not get the maximum good from the well equipped plants and the close contact with the personality of the faculties.

We believe that the profession of teaching requires a specialization as well as the other professions such as medicine or law; therefore we extend to you who are looking toward the teaching profession an invitation to avail yourselves of the opportunities offered you in the teachers colleges of Texas.

Miss Emma Cearley, who received her degree in '22, taught at Muleshoe last winter. Miss Cearley and Miss Johnson were responsible for the very decided success of the bazaar which was held in their community by ex-students of this institution. The proceeds from the bazaar were given to the Mary E. Hudspeth Hall fund. Ex-student loyalty again!

Jim Webb, principal of the Canyon Public School last year, has been re-elected to that position for another year. Mr. Webb has also had charge of the high school athletics, and that work has made very good progress under his coaching.

Miss Rose Stewart is spending the summer in Canyon. She taught in the Lockney Public Schools last year.

Miss Mary Cooper, whose home is in Lubbock, attended the commencement exercises. Miss Cooper has been teaching in Carlyle, Texas.

Bill McClellan will teach at Clemenceau next year.

James E. Dockery and wife of Tolbert, Texas, in company with his brother Elihu, and his sister Mary, motored over Friday for a short business trip in Canyon. All of these young people are former students of the W. T. S. T. C. James E. Dockery is remembered as a strong debater and forceful declaimer.

A letter and check exhibiting interest in the work of the alumni and ex-students has just been received from Mrs. A. J. Mangelsdorf, who was in the old days Celeste Ellis, a very popular student. With her husband and son, John Ellis, she is living in Boston, where her husband is taking work in Harvard toward his M. S. degree.

Mrs. Mary Mienecke, who has taught at Sonora, Texas the past year, is attending school in Boulder, Colorado, during the summer.

Miss Int Jordan is now Mrs. W. M. Hale of Memphis, Texas. Even though there is a son to demand her attention, she finds time to send in her membership fee and to keep up with the Alma Mater.

Mrs. Hester B. Stall, who has been teaching History in Hot Springs, Arkansas, is working in Columbia University this summer on her master's degree. She took her A. B. from Baylor College in 1921.

Mr. Flanigan of the Denver City schools was a guest of Mr. J. J. Powell this week.

Miss Elizabeth Reck, who received her degree in the spring of 1922, has been elected to teach French in the College.

Mr. Frank Day, who has had an operation for appendicitis, is reported to be improving rapidly.

Mrs. Herman Glass, who has been visiting her mother, joined her husband here this week.

Art Exhibits Were Cause of Very Much Favorable Comment

True art has many means of expression. Those who availed themselves of the opportunity of seeing the exhibits on Thursday, May the thirty-first, were indeed pleased with the artistic displays in the Art Department, in the Domestic Art room, and in the Manual Training rooms.

Under Miss Fricke's able teaching the pupils have made pottery almost equal to the Van; also baskets, trays, lunch sets, table runners, book ends, original designs for correct costumes and for home beautifying, water color sketches of still life and of Canyon landscapes and faces illustrating the various types among the student body. Much talent was shown in the various phases of the Art Beautiful.

Then the visitor found the way to the dining room where the charming seventh grade misses of the training school dispensed iced punch to the thirsty. These young girls, most of them not over fourteen years of age, have learned to prepare and serve model breakfasts, lunches, and dinners. Miss Looney has trained them to do it in a most artistic manner, too.

Under Miss Burton's leadership, the older girls had on display in the kitchen model meals for men of different occupations. They had also worked out balanced meals for children of different ages beginning with babies less than one year old.

Across the hall Miss Hooker had an exhibit of hats, dresses, and other garments made by her pupils. Some of the hats had a really "French" air, while the dresses were beautifully designed and made. Misses Burton, Looney, and Hooker have been with the college only one year; but they have made enviable records as instructors.

Mr. Donald did not pretend to have an exhibit in the Manual Training Department, but it was entirely worth while to visit his rooms. The boys and a few girls do some really remarkable work down there. Library tables, study tables, desks, cedar chests, fern boxes, tool boxes, rockers, porch furniture, kitchen cabinets, game tables, etc. are made with great neatness and accuracy.

If you did not visit the various exhibits this year be sure to do so the next time you have an opportunity. Your presence will encourage both teachers and pupils and you will be surprised at the most excellent work done in the various departments.

M. A. DEGREE FROM CARNEGIE

Miss Cathrine Ada Terrill received her M. A. degree Friday from the Carnegie Institute of Technology at Pittsburgh. Miss Ada graduated with the M. A. degree in Retail Training. She is visiting in New York before returning to her home in Canyon.

Miss Terrill is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Terrill of this city. She graduated from the College before degree work was offered, took her B. A. degree from the State University. She has been offered several very prominent positions, but so far has not accepted a position for next year.

GIVEN OLD PAPERS

The Panhandle-Plains Historical Society has been given three old papers of much interest by Mr. J. M. Reeves.

They are: New York Herald of July 7, 1863, telling of battles of Vicksburg and Gettysburg; Union Volunteer of April 1865, giving an account of the surrender of Lee and one of the assassination of Lincoln; Wallace County News, Wallace, Kansas, dated 1886, containing accounts of the political campaign of that year in which the prohibition question was one of the main issues in Kansas.

THE HOME-COMING

When the end of the year is waning
And lessons are almost done,
Alma Mater throws wide her portals
And says to her children, "Come Home."

Come home to the scene of your school days
With teachers and friends you have known,

Come home, where the darts of Dan Cupid
At random among you have flown.

Come home from the paths you have chosen
With laurels and fame you have won,

Come, you who have prospered less freely,
Come home, former students, come home,
And they come from the fields and the court-room
From the clinic, the school and the home—

They return, with a bond strong, united,
When their own Alma Mater says "Come."

—Staff Poet.

Bailey County Ex-Students in Action

On the evening of March 9, a small group of Bailey County teachers and ex-students of W. T. S. T. C. were entertained by Miss Welthea Johnson of Hurley, Texas, and Miss Emma Cearley of Canyon, both teachers in Muleshoe. The evening was spent in recalling past experiences at the Alma Mater and in playing forty-two, after which punch was served.

Copies of the "Old" Alma Mater, written by Fremont Meade, were passed, and everybody joined in singing. Then Miss Cearley told of the Mary E. Hudspeth Home project and of how much it needed the support of all the Ex-Students. A very interesting discussion followed of plans by which the desired material support might be realized. It was finally decided that a bazaar should be given; and a committee, composed of Mrs. Connie Gupton (nee Miss Gladys West), Mrs. Vote Winn, (nee Neva Hicks), Miss Emma Cearley, and Miss Welthea Johnson, was appointed to arrange for and to advertise the undertaking. Following this everyone present sang the "new" Alma Mater, and left feeling thrilled anew with the inspiration of their mother school. Those who had met on this occasion were:

Mr. and Mrs. Connie Gupton, Mr. and Mrs. Vote Winn, Misses Ione De Oliveira, Dorris Gwynn, Margaret Trent, Violet West, Dorothy Johnson, Emma Cearley, and Welthea Johnson, and Messrs. Jesse West, Clint Coventry, and Norman Cleavenger.

On May 19, the bazaar materialized. It was held in Muleshoe in an office donated for the purpose by Mr. Faulkner, Mr. Brown and Mr. Haefason, real estate dealers and progressive citizens of Muleshoe. The neat little sum of thirty-one dollars was cleared from the sales, and sent to Mr. J. J. Powell, treasurer of the Mary E. Hudspeth Hall Fund.

(The work described above is a very splendid and logical method of beginning a county organization of Ex-Students. It also shows what a natural interest exists between people who have attended the same school. It is our opinion that many other counties could succeed in organizing in this same way. The members would be able to spend very pleasant times together and would enjoy renewing the ties of loyalty to the Alma Mater as well as being of service to her).—Ed.

THIS LAND OF MINE

"Oh, none can see," I said, "like me The beauty of a treeless plain, The splendor of its morning suns, Its wrath of storm and rain."

"And none can feel its sailing wind Come o'er its miles of level land; None feel as I the tender sky, The surging of its heated sands."

I said, "None has the artist's soul To love the false and cool mirage; The green and brown of field and town To others mean a place to lodge."

I stopped within this fruitful land, I took the gifts it had to give, I builded here in solitude, And now the world comes here to live. —J. M. Rankin.

IN AN AUTO

I murmured passionate nothings in your fairy ear,
And demanded sweet evidence of your love for me;

Your dear, warm lips,
Uncooled by the wildly rushing wind—
Seemed to burn mine, and reach
With heavenly searing flame
To my very heart . . .

My senses reeled . . . but you,
Skeptical child of a million Eves,
Whispered of faithlessness . . .
And sighed a fear that I would act
thus with another girl had I but the chance . . .

. . . You're doggone right I would!
