A new and unusual opportunity for combining school work with travel this summer is offered by the college in the educational tour to several western states now being arranged by Professor Frank R. Phillips. This tour will last thru-out most of the second six-weeks' term.

The trip will be made strictly low-cost throughout, notwithstanding the excellent provisions that are being made for transportation, sleeping, and dining facilities. The total cost for these items, and including fees for college courses studied on the tour, is estimated not to exceed a hundred dollars for each student, which will place the opportunities of the tour within reach of many students who might not otherwise be able to take advantage of them.

Regular instruction in standard college courses will be given en-route by regularly employed members of the English and Education Departments, and Professor Frank R. Phillips, who will make the trip with thirty to thirty-five students.

To Last From July 17 to Aug. 18

Those going on the tour will leave Canyon July 17 in a big motor bus chartered for the trip. After vis- (Continued on last page)

ALICE ARNOLD RECEIVES B.B.A. TEXAS UNIV.

First Woman Is Honored
By Membership In Business Frat.

Receiving her degree of Bachelor of Business Administration this June from the University of Texas, Alice Arnold leaves behind her a record of which her W. T. friends are justly proud. She became very much a part of the Registrar's Office at the West Texas State Teachers College before transferring her credits to the university at the end of her sophomore year.

For the past two years she has been assisting in her department and continuing work toward her degree simultaneously. Miss Arnold was accorded the unusual honor of being elected to an honorary business fraternity into which no woman had previously been admitted during its ten years of existence on the Texas University campus.

Mrs. Felix Cochran, formerly Grace Milam, is living at 900 S. E. 31st St., Oklahoma City. She and her four-year-old daughter visited in Canyon week before last.

Eunice Thompson, now Mrs. D. Coder, and Ione Word, now Mrs. McGill, are living in Seminole.

Dr. Sandefer Of Simmons Is Recognized

Special recognition was given on June 1 to Dr. J. D. Sandefer, President of Hardin and Simmons University at Abilene, who has just completed twenty-five years of service in that institution. At the program given in his honor, the West Texas State Teachers College was represented by President J. A. Hill, who received, some time ago, an honorary doctor's degree from Simmons University.

Upon his return, Dr. Hill expressed his appreciation of his co-worker, saying that it was both a distinct privilege and honor to be for so many years the guiding hand of a great educational organization, and especially to have discharged one's duties as efficiently as has Dr. Sandefer.

EVETTS HALEY DIRECTOR OF HIST. SURVEY

250 Persons are Employed
Collecting Variety of Materials

Under the direction of J. Evetts Haley, ex-student of W. T. and director of the State Historical Survey sponsored by the University of Texas, a wealth of historical data pertaining to the early days of Texas has been made available for general use. The survey has investigated the historical resources of fifteen Texas towns and cities representing as many regional divisions of the state. Employment was furnished to more than 250 persons in the various local projects, with supervision being given gratis by accomplished students in the field of history and social science.

"We feel that the results are a worthwhile permanent contribution to the life, literature and history of the state," Mr. Haley said.

Perhaps the largest division of the historical research survey was that of the indexing of historical references in a large number of early Texas newspapers. Transcriptions of a large quantity of historical material of which only one copy is available were made. In all cases results of the investigations have been kept in the local libraries and duplicate sets of indexes and carbon copies of transcriptions have been placed in the University of Texas library.

People of the Panhandle feel especially indebted to Mr. Haley for this and a great deal of other work he has done in this field.

W. T. High Commencement Program Has Unique Feature

From all indications the Education Building was to be the scene of momentous happenings on the night of May 30. More than the usual atmosphere of suppressed excitement and expectancy became evident as the families and friends of the W. T. High School graduating class began to fill the auditorium.

In another part of the building behind closed doors the members of the class watched the perspiration trickling leisurely down each other's noses from beneath moist, wool caps—tried valiantly to consider the glamorous side of having an irritating silk tassel getting in painful proximity to one's eyeball at every move of the head—and nervously watched the second-hand of an unsympathetic clock for encouragement. Most of them were beginning to wonder, at the eleventh hour, why they had let themselves be hoodwinked into a so-called "socialized" exercise in which they had to do the performing, instead of comfortably and sensibly, like other classes, placing the burden of their commencement upon some willing speaker. But,

OVER FLOW IN PHYSICAL ED. CREDIT WORK

138 Students Are Enrolled
In One Class—Meets
In Gymnasium

Enrollment in Women's Physical Education classes for the first six weeks of the summer session shows an unprecedented number. Such a large enrollment is partly due to the fact that Physical Education is required of those who expect to receive certificates and partly due to the variation in the type of courses offered.

About 45 women have enrolled for the swimming classes to be held at the College Farm from 6 to 7 in the evening. This class is open only to those who know how to swim and can find transportation to and from the pool. The class in life saving will be held from 6 to 7 also, at which time students will put into practice instructions received in that course. A large dressing tent has been put up at the farm and the pool has been equipped with a pier and diving board.

The two credit courses in dancing (Physical Ed. 101) are full, having an enrollment of 138 in one and 54 in the other. They are being coached by Miss Beth Pitts, a former W. T. student who has been teaching in Clayton, New Mexico.

Fourteen people have enrolled for the class in horseback riding which has been divided into two groups of 7. Two days a week these groups will go in cars to Palo Duro where they will ride on the rim and later down in the Canyon. After the first week all enrolled in these classes will saddle their own horses. There is a five dollar fee for this course, and each person brings his lunch and eats supper in the Canyon.

There is a class in basketball of special interest to those who desire training in Physical Education from the standpoint of the coach, and a class in archery, bowling, etc., for those who care for the less strenuous sports.

PAMPA DIRECTOR

Mr. T. H. McDonald has been selected to direct the summer school at Pampa which will probably last until late in July. Afterward he plans to attend the annual National Guard Camp.

Mr. Guinn Casey, '33, was recently married to Miss Mildred Carsons. They will make their home in Tokio, Texas, where Mr. Casey has just closed a successful term of school and has been re-elected for another year.

Ex-Student Elected To Wyoming U.

J. T. GLASS

J. T. Glass, graduate of 1930, has recently been elected to a professorship of biology in the University of Wyoming, where he has been working for the past three summers toward a Master of Science degree. During the past six years he has been in charge of the science department of Panhandle High School, through which capacity he has become highly thought of in that city.

Mr. Glass is spending this summer in Laramie, Wyoming, studying a biology course in the forests of the territory and doing the final work on his thesis.

Two of his nieces graduated this spring from the W. T. S. T. C. Demonstration High School.

STUDES AND FACULTY DO WOOD WORK

Beautiful Pieces are Made
By Both Men and Women

Making things which require a high degree of skill gives lasting satisfaction to a large number of students and faculty members of the West Texas State Teachers College who do their work in the Manual Arts shop of the college, according to Professor John A. Gillis, an instructor in the department.

Recently an exhibit of credit and avocational work which has been done during the spring months showed highly utilitarian articles such as ironing boards, decorative objects such as tile-inlaid coffee tables.

Another group in the exhibit was made up of models made by prospective primary teachers who have made doll beds, tiny rocking chairs, sleds, jumping figures, tables and similar objects which can be completed by small children in their crafts work. Mrs. Opal Thomas of Happy and Miss Alma Montgomery of Floydada exhibited these.

Men are usually thought of as the makers of furniture, but Annie Jewell Fawver, a sophomore student of Floydada made a combination end table and magazine rack which was considered one of the best in the exhibit, considering the short time she had worked with woods. Osce McCrerey, an art major of Canyon has made two large, comfortable lawn chairs which will appear on the McCrerey lawn.

1934 Prairie Won First
Place in T. I. P. A.
Contest

Miss Emil Brewer, former student and editor-in-chief of The Prairie, is attending the School of Journalism of the University of Missouri at Columbia, Missouri, where she plans to remain this summer and all of next year. Miss Brewer is an English major and has completed her third year's work in W. T.

The Prairie, under Miss Brewer's editorship, won first place in the T. I. P. A. contest for Class B newspapers in 1934. As a result of her fine work on The Prairie, she is now secretary to Dean Frank L. Martin, Dean of the School of Journalism of the University of Missouri. She was recommended for the position by Edward Gerald, former editor of The Prairie and graduate of W. T. S. T. C. who is now a member of the journalism faculty of the same institution.

Miss Brewer was an active member of the Writer's Club and she won first place in the T. I. P. A. contest with one of her poems.

As editor of The Miami Chief, she has done some outstanding work. Likewise, she has worked on The Canyon News, and on the Memphis Democrat, besides having many poems published in the Kaleidograph Magazine.

Reception For Students Friday Evening

On Friday evening, June 15, a reception will be given by the faculty for the summer students in the main corridor of the Administration Building. As part of the entertainment, the college band is to play a concert on the front steps in conjunction with the reception proper. All students are invited and urged to attend; so that a moderate acquaintance may be established between students and faculty as a starting point for the summer's work. Watch for announcements concerning the time.

Males Seem More or Less Scarce On W. T. Campus

Most college men like figures—in fact they frequently lose their heads over them. But the most positively breath-taking ones on the campus this summer are to be found in the ratio of men and women students. Of course it probably isn't true—why bother about that anyway?—but we've heard a subdued rumor going the rounds that there are NINE skirts to every pair of suspenders, and on the surface the ratio SEEMS to be even more disproportionate, since the lordly male is wisely keeping himself more or less in the offing.

IF, however, you see an individual sneaking down the hall, and IF this individual is wearing a hunted expression, you may safely conclude that IT is a male. IF a peculiar, suspicious-looking person is slumped down in a chair valiantly struggling for its composure amidst a bevy of the gentle sex—IF the latter are all peering at it as though it were "Exhibit A"—then again it is undoubtedly a male. And you can rely upon this: in all cases its predicament is curious, if not pathetic, and its mental outlook is similar to that

Lockhart, Brown Graduate From Medical School

Among the seniors graduating from the College of Medicine of the University of Texas at Galveston this spring were Bill Lockhart and Jed Brown, former students of W. T. S. T. C.

Mr. Lockhart attended college here from 1927 to 1929 before going to Galveston. He will serve as interne next year at the City Hospital in Cleveland, Ohio.

Mr. Brown, who graduated from W. T. in the class of '28, acted here as student assistant in the Department of Biology. His next year's internship will be at Fort Worth.

Book Review Planned For Summer Term

Gained Much Popularity
With Students In 1933 Session

Next Friday morning at 9 o'clock in the auditorium of the Administration building, Dr. Angie Debo, of the History Department, will review "The Great Plains," a new book by Walter Prescott Webb. The book review will be sponsored by the English Department, and Dr. Fronabarger urges that all teachers of history, as well as teachers of other school subjects make acquaintance with this book. It is a book that would prove valuable to any Texas teacher.

Each Friday morning at the chapel period, a new book will be reviewed by people from the different departments of the college. The books will cover a variety of subjects, including fiction, history, science, politics, economics, and other topics of general interest, and will be selected for their value as standard works. Acquainting people with what is being written and encouraging the reading of new books are the objects of these weekly book chats.

Great interest was taken in a similar program of book reviews sponsored by the English Department last summer, and it is believed that they will be equally popular this year.

Mrs. Floyd Ledbetter, formerly Irene Pippin, has completed another successful year as second grade teacher in the Brownfield school. She is attending A. C. C. this summer.

Student Directory Being Edited By Kendricks

Kenneth Kendrick, who has been placed in charge of the Student Directories for the summer session, reports that they are being completed as rapidly as possible and will probably be out within eight or ten days. According to present plans, they will be distributed from the Publications Office as soon as they are off the press.

Ruth Barton, Doll Birdwell and Elizabeth Slaton are teaching in the Seminole schools.

Number Does Not Include Demonstration School Students

Enrollment at the West Texas State Teachers College has passed the figure for the entire summer session of 1933, having already reached the total of 1052.

Many more students have already sent their transcripts and made arrangements to enroll for the second term which opens July 16; so President J. A. Hill is now certain that the summer attendance will pass that of all recent years.

Many Counties Represented

When 949 students had registered, a check was made of their geographical distribution. It was found that they came from 117 counties of Texas, ranging from Dallam and Sherman on the north to Karnes and Houston on the south and from El Paso on the west to San Augustine on the east.

Outside of Randall county, the largest single representation is from Potter county with 72 students, while Willbarger and Wichita counties, nearly 200 miles away have 13 students each. Many of the students who have come from Johnson, Sherman, Floyd, Hall, Hamilton, Comanche, Bell, Bosque, and other down-state counties were attracted to Canyon by the cool nights and other favorable climatic conditions which prevail in the summer months. One student stated "I have attended summer school at three other colleges in Texas and one in Colorado and have found the climate more comfortable at Canyon than anywhere I have been."

Six states other than Texas were represented in the first three days' enrollment; they were Nevada, 1; Oklahoma, 7; New Mexico, 22; Missouri, 2; Kansas, 3; and Colorado, 2.

Many Classes Crowded

An early check of classes showed that students are demanding work in health and physical education; in school administration, and in the arts, as well as in the traditional fields. Additions have been made to the faculty to take care of the large enrollment in some departments.

Faculty Members Absent on Leave

Vacancies Are Filled
Temporarily

Many changes have been made in the personnel of the faculty for the summer already, and more are in order for the second six weeks term. Mr. L. F. Sheffy, head of the History Department, is spending the summer traveling for the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, interviewing old-timers, gathering material, and obtaining memberships. Though he is not conducting any of the regular classes, he is still in the employ of the college. L. N. George, class of '34, is accompanying him and doing work for the extension department.

Miss Hattie M. Anderson, also of the History Department, has been granted leave of absence for the summer to study in Missouri University. She is attempting to complete work on her Ph. D. degree which she hopes to receive next spring.

On leave of absence also is Miss Isabel Robinson, head of the Art Department, who is visiting her home in Missouri. Miss Miltia Hill is acting head in her place.

In the Demonstration School, Mae Simmons is temporarily replacing Mrs. Saunders in the second and third grades; Mr. Mater will be gone the first six weeks with Mr. R. D. Underwood substituting; in the math department, Mr. Carl York is being replaced by Mr. Bill Anderson of Tulla.

Several additional members have been added to the faculty also to help take care of the heavy summer enrollment.

W. P. Bright, 1911-'12, lives in Decaturville, Tennessee, and is well remembered by the old-timers here.

YOU CAN LEAD A HORSE TO WATER!

We see that as usual the inconsistencies of human nature are very much in evidence on the campus this summer. It's amazing that a student body composed principally of administrators and teachers can display such a slight degree of cooperative spirit. And yet Prexy spent five minutes of a short chapel period urging people not to park cars in the drives—and we're still adorning the ends of the building with a double row of them!

The same thing is true of chapel seating. It appears that no amount of pleading is ever going to persuade reluctant pedagogs to venture down to the front where everybody can see them. But you can't tell them that no one will notice them—that would be terrible psychology! So there you are. And very probably at the end of the summer a visitor peeping in late will see the first third of the auditorium unoccupied and students lining the walls at the back. Funny that people should go to so much trouble to make themselves appear ridiculous!

Well, it's just something to think about. Surely we can neither fairly demand nor reasonably expect to receive cooperation from our next year's grade or high school pupils when we apparently don't know the first principles ourselves. And we haven't even the excuse of being at an irresponsible age!

POLITICS VERSUS EDUCATION

One of the most sinister results of the depression has been the tendency of America to sacrifice the education of its youth in order to maintain useless and worthless politicians on the payroll.

The depression plight to which public education has been reduced was vividly depicted in a survey recently completed by the federal office of education.

This survey shows that "there never was such a demand for educational opportunity as there is today." It shows also that "because of more children and less money it has never been so difficult to satisfy that demand."

Because the spoilsmen of politics are squandering taxes wrong from the people to pay the wages and the waste of hundreds and thousands of unnecessary county and local officeholders, public education is in jeopardy in state after state.

More than two million two hundred and eighty thousand children of school age have been deprived of any schooling during the year now drawing to a close.

We must not let other nations deprive America of that leadership in public education that has long been the pride of the American people and the envy of other peoples.

Furthermore, our nation is a republic. Our government is popular government.

The fate of our country depends upon the capacity of our citizens for self-government.

And the capacity of our citizens for self-government depends upon the training and the preparation for citizenship that only education can provide.

Education is a primary necessity of good citizenship.

Good citizenship is not merely the wish to govern well, it is also the ability to govern well, the knowledge which enables a people to govern well.

"Knowledge will forever govern ignorance," said James Madison, "and a people who mean to be their own governors must arm themselves with the power which knowledge gives."

We do not want to sacrifice or surrender our democracy.

We do not want to depend on the superior ability and superior selfishness of any one man.

We would not know when we might have a dictator who would not be wise, or one who would not be conscientious or unselfish.

We have developed and grown to greatness as a nation under democratic forms of government.

The only certain course for our future development is to continue under tried and proven democratic institutions.

But to make democracy successful, the people must be educated to self-government.

They must be trained in knowledge, in patriotism, in devotion to the public welfare.

This is the great end and aim of the American system of public education.

Our schools are the very foundation of our democracy.

Upon this foundation the whole structure of government, the entire edifice of our republican institutions, rests.

The more schools we have, the fewer politicians we need.

The way to get more schools is to get rid of useless politicians.

And the way to get rid of useless politicians is to begin by modernizing our obsolete system of county and local government.

It has come down to us from the days of the ox cart. In the days of the automobile it is a public nuisance.

By reducing our three thousand counties to three hundred, and by eliminating thousands of useless units of local government, we shall be able to provide for the support of more and better schools and we shall profit by getting rid of thousands of useless and expensive politicians.

Give us fewer politicians and more and better schools.—Chicago Herald and Examiner.

IS YOUR NOSE IN A BOOK?

What kind of a taste will your summer's work here at W. T. leave in your mouth, when you have finished your exams in August? That is a question students might ask themselves now. The routine of classes has begun, and each one, by the amounts of time he gives each day to the different things he does, is forming habits which will determine whether his summer's stay here will be profitable or unprofitable, pleasant or unpleasant.

Nearly every student here was either attending school last winter, or out holding down a job. Nearly every student is here in school now, not because some fond parent or uncle wants his young hopeful to have a year in college, but because the student himself wants the credits or information or experience that he can find here. As a matter of fact, summer school students have been known to pride themselves on being in school "for business," and not for frivolity.

But because one wants to get everything possible out of a summer spent in school hardly means that he will do nothing but study for education classes, or English classes, or biology classes. Rather the opposite is true. What shall it profit a man if he gain twelve semester hours and lose the joy of three months' living?

There are fields and highways and streams and hills waiting for the one who has an hour to give them. There is tennis and golf and swimming and horseback riding. There are cool evenings with moonlight and summer breezes. Papers must be written and books must be read, but the one who can take time off—a little time off—every day, to do things that don't have to be done, can find added fun in the things that have to be done. He might even find it easier to sit through an hour-and-a-half class. He would very probably find that he could study harder when he did sit down to study.

There are extra-curricular activities, too, all through the school: musical organizations, dramatics, intramural sports. Here is a real variety of interests to pursue, entirely separate from the round of classes and libraries and laboratories. If you have a hobby that fits in with one of these activities, don't let it languish this summer. Join in the crowd and keep yourself out of a rut.

Sometimes there is more than just pleasure in these activities. Teachers out looking for jobs are being asked more and more by superintendents: "What extra-curricular activities have you had experience in?" The teacher-summer-student can add interest to his college work and then go out and actually cash in on it.

A wise Frenchman once said: "Life is composed of two things, serious things and frivolous things. Find the right balance between these two, and you will find perfect happiness." At the end of this summer many students will close their books and say: "I came here for credits and book-knowledge, and I got them; but am I glad the summer is finished!" Then there will be others. "I got my credits and learned something," they will say, "but best of all I lived. I'm sorry it's over so soon."

1:00-5:30 P. M.	1:00-5:30 P. M.

Open Mondays, 8:00-12:00 A. M.

All reserve books must be returned at 7:30 on Monday.

RESERVED BOOK ROOM

Reserve Books will be found in Room 212.

Students may go to the reserved shelves and select the desired books. To locate what you want, consult the directory at the end of each shelf just under the sign RESERVED BOOKS. Students are asked to leave the books on the shelves in the order in which they find them.

There is a list of books for each reserve in the Kardex file on the desk in Reserve Book Room. When your teacher makes an assignment, for example in Education 101 look over this list to see what books she has put on reserve. This will help you locate your reading material. Later if you wish additional material use the card catalogue in the main reading room.

Each student will be permitted to take only one book at a time and will sign for it at the desk as they pass out. Neither texts nor large notebooks are permitted in the reserve room.

Reserve books must be returned through the chute in the hall and not to the shelves.

Each book may be kept out for only 1½ hours from the time taken, except when permission is granted for a longer time. If you have not had your book 1½ hours when the bell rings, you may keep it until your hour has expired if you care to do so. This applies to all hours except from 3:30 to 4:25. ALL BOOKS TAKEN FROM THE RESERVED BOOK ROOM MUST BE RETURNED TO THE RESERVED BOOK ROOM AT 4:25 ON THAT DAY OR BE ASSESSED A FINE OF 25 CENTS. It is necessary that the books be in at this time in order that they may be rechecked for over-night use.

Books will be checked for over-night use at 4:45 P. M. and must be returned by 7:30 A. M. on the following school day. All over due books draw a fine of 15 cents for the first hour, and 5 cents for each succeeding hour. Students who owe fines will not be permitted to check out books until their record is clear.

Fines Must Be Paid

One week of grace is granted in which to pay fines without extra charge. This does not mean, however, that you can draw books during the week. AFTER ONE WEEK AN ADDITIONAL CHARGE OF TEN CENTS PER DAY IS ASSESSED UNTIL THE FINE IS PAID.

LOAN LIBRARY

All books from the Loan Library, Room 210, may be kept for three days, and are due at 5:00 on the third day. If books are not returned when due they draw a fine of 5c per day.

When drawing books from the Loan Library a yellow slip must be correctly filled out; if you do not know the call number of a book consult the Card Catalogue—call number will be found in RED in the upper left-hand corner of the catalogue card. Yellow slips may be obtained at the Loan Desk and at the Card Catalogue.

If the Library is open, return all books to the desk from which you checked them. If the Library is closed, return all books through this chute, Room 212 regardless of where they were checked.

MAIN READING ROOM

Room 217 is the Main Reading Room.

Bound magazines, reference books, and the card index are located here. The current periodicals are found in an adjacent room. No material in these rooms is to be taken out, except books from the Rental Shelf, but all material is available to students at all times during regular library hours.

RENTAL COLLECTION

For the pleasure of the students, the Library maintains a Rental Collection. This collection is in the Main Reading Room and the books will be found immediately back of the Desk. The books may be checked for four cents per day, payable when the books are returned. Your record must be clear before you may use the collection. The rental fund is used for the purpose of placing more books on the shelf. We invite you to investigate this collection.

GOVERNMENT DOCUMENT ROOM

Government Documents may be found in room 216. Students of government, history, geography, and agriculture will find the material in this room of special value in their courses. This material is not to be checked out, but is to be used in the Government Document room only. Documents are available at all times during regular library hours.

Monument Honoring Fronabarger Raised By Former Students

An impressive ceremony was held at Springtown Saturday when a monument was unveiled honoring Rev. B. F. Fronabarger and other educators who had conducted colleges in that town in pioneer days. None of the members of the Fronabarger family were able to attend the ceremony. Mrs. Fronabarger had been called by the death of her sister only two weeks previously.

Governor William H. Murray of Oklahoma made the principal address. He was a student in one of the colleges in Springtown during his boyhood. In his characteristic manner, Governor Murray declared: "There is too much baseball and highballs in the school today. The human brain is filled with so many discovered facts that it no longer has room to manufacture."

Rev. Fronabarger died in Canyon April 27th. His former students had hoped he would live to attend the unveiling of the monument erected to his memory.

Dr. Arlin Turner Of English Dept. Is Ex-Student

Dr. Arlin Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Turner formerly of Canyon, arrived here Tuesday to begin his work as a member of the college English department.

For several years Dr. Turner has been a student of the University of Texas, having begun his work there soon after receiving his degree from the local college in 1927. For the past three years he has been identified with the University English department while completing the work for his doctor's degree which was conferred upon him at the spring commencement.

His high school work was completed in the Demonstration school in 1924 at which time Dr. Turner was awarded the scholarship as the highest ranking boy in his class.

President J. A. Hill and Dr. B. F. Fronabarger are much pleased to have him teaching English classes this summer.

Campus Spotlight

The spotlight occupies a threatening position atop the flag pole—and it never misses anything worth seeing! If you're not proud of what you're doing and being, it would be the course of wisdom to keep a billboard—or something equally substantial—between you and it. If, on the other hand, you are fond of notoriety, why dress yourself up like a Belgian holiday and you're sure to be noticed.

For those poor unfortunates who just can't fight off fame no matter how they try, we offer condolences but not advice.

The student from just about the farthest away appears to be VIRGINIA SIMMONS of Houston. If she came up here to get cool, we hope she's bearing up bravely under the pangs of disappointment.

R. M. THOMPSON seemed to cut quite a figure on the campus during the long session, but he's suddenly been reduced to romper status by the theory of relativity.

One member of the student body, Mrs. Alva Austin, has been in school at intervals for more than ten years. This perseverance is great stuff!—that, incidentally, some of us could use more of.

The brilliance of the spotlight itself is finding competition in one very blond head on the campus. On being informed that its owner called herself JEAN we stopped up our ears. One's credulity could hardly stand the shock of hearing Harlowe added to it.

And speaking of hair—there's been a sort of strawberry, purplish, maroon tint getting mixed up with the bright lights, but we haven't the lowdown on it yet.

F. E. KING, now part of the W. T. student personnel, was at one time Superintendent of Schools in Canyon.

A caller at the president's office the other day was told by RUBY KENDRICK CHERRY HUNT, secretary, "He's busy swatting flies. For heaven's sake, don't bother him if he's doin' any good at it!"

One of the most interesting students, MARVIN DARRELL WEBB, in spite of being totally blind, comes from Amarillo and Wichita Falls Junior Colleges with an outstanding scholastic record.

Marion Hill, known as "prexy's daughter" to her enemies, enrolled late on account of tonsils and copied the honor of being student 1,000. Looks as if she's one of those that can't help being famous!

Well, this leaves just 1030 students to find out about yet. Pretty encouraging considering the two months left to do it in!

CHAMBERS-CRAWFORD WEDDING

Especially interesting to students of West Texas State Teachers College is the marriage of Miss Olga Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Crawford of Channing, to Mr. Harry E. Chambers of Lyman, Oklahoma. The ceremony was read on May 30, at the First Christian Church in Amarillo with the Reverend C. E. Jameson of Shamrock officiating.

An unusual point of interest connected with the wedding is the fact that the bride and her attendants, Miss Mary Martin of Rockwell, Miss Ethel Ruth Collins of Canyon, Miss Ellen Jameson of Shamrock, and Mrs. C. W. Foote Jr., of Pampa, met and became such close friends at W. T. that a "Round Robin" was formed or established to perpetuate their friendship.

The Reverend C. E. Jameson and his son, Alfred, who assisted with the pre-nuptial music, were formerly of Canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Duflo, Miss Mary Moss Richardson, and Miss Ruth Lowe, all of Canyon, attended the wedding.

Mrs. Chambers, after graduating from the Channing high school, attended Washington University at St. Louis, Missouri, and received her degree from West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon in 1932, after which she became the principal of schools at Skellytown.

The groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Chambers of Salt Lake City, Utah, attended school at Westminster College, Salt Lake City, and received his degree from Ohio State University.

The couple will make their home at Lyman, Oklahoma, where Mr. Chambers is connected with the Skelly Oil Company.

EX-STUDENTS

The bride graduated from W. T. S. T. C. in 1932 and is now secretary to President Hill.

Mr. Hunt, a graduate of W. T. in 1931, is manager of the Canyon Grocery.

Those attending the wedding from Canyon were: Miss Gene Smalley, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Foster, and Miss Florence Throckmorton.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunt are at home in Canyon.

SWISHER-GORE HONORED

On Sunday morning, May 27, about sixty-five seniors, friends, students, and members of the faculty attended the eighth annual Senior Breakfast at the Methodist Church. Miss Ruth Lowe and her committee in charge of decorations arranged for each table interesting scenes from various campus activities in which the seniors had taken part during the year.

Miss Dorothy Gore, who was voted by the Wesley Foundation group to be the most outstanding Senior in religious life and church activities during the four years, was honored by having her picture unveiled and hung in the social hall of the church.

The Senior Class with Miss Swisher presented the church with a beautiful silver baptismal bowl which was graciously received by the pastor, Rev. J. O. Quattlebaum.

After many kind words of appreciation for the services rendered by Miss Swisher, who has served the students as religious director for nine years, the body unanimously voted to honor her by placing her portrait in the hall of the church.

COX-CABE WEDDING ANNOUNCED RECENTLY

An announcement was made Sunday of the marriage of Miss Viva Bell Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Cox, and James Cabe, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Cabe. The wedding took place in Panhandle in February, with Miss Ruth Sullenger of Amarillo witnessing the ceremony.

GRADUATING IN BEAUTY

My congratulations to the graduates of 1934—and to those who step up to a higher grade of studies! I hope that future years will be as industrious and pleasant. And now—let me give you a hint that will help make this wish come true: If you continue to keep up your beauty studies, you will graduate—into a lovely, charming person!

No doubt the years ahead seem long—but I assure you, they go very fast! Before you know it, your skin will be changing—it will become a little drier perhaps, it may become a little less light in skin tone. Whatever the change is, you can be sure that there are special beauty aids that will restore your skin to the youthful and healthy loveliness it has now. But you must watch your skin needs!

If, for example, your beauty care now consists simply of a granular wash, a pasteurized face cream and perhaps a skin toning lotion you will find you need a second cream—a youthifying tissue cream. At first you will need it only around your eyes to prevent fine lines from forming there. Later on, you will want to use it over your entire face, for the skin becomes drier each year!

Meantime, you will be graduating in the use of cosmetics. You should begin now to apply a youthifying foundation cream so that your skin will be smooth and even in tone, so that your powder will cling all day long. You'll be taking a post-graduate course probably in the use of glamorous eye cosmetics—iridescent eyeshadows, eyelash grower and darkener; eyebrow crayons and persian mascara. You'll learn how to play up your best points, how to minimize your beauty flaws, so that, only a few years away from this happy June, you emerge as a personality—an attractive well-groomed woman. And when that time comes, your diploma will be your beauty—a diploma that is accepted at "face-value" wherever you go!

If you have a personal beauty problem on which you need advice write Woman's Interest Syndicate, 522 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

W. T. Exes Seeking 1,000 Members For the 25th Anniversary

The Ex-Students Association of W. T. expects to have an active membership of one thousand by October 19. The outgoing president, T. H. McDonald of Pampa, and the new president, Superintendent J. B. Speer of Morse, have completed plans for bringing the association to a new high level of effectiveness through enlisting the services of ex-students throughout the entire state.

The campaign for members will be carried on during the summer months.

Other officers of the association are Herschel Coffee, Canyon, first vice president; Carl Perriman, Memphis, second vice president; Lee Johnson, secretary-treasurer. The Board of Directors consists of T. H. McDonald, Pampa; Herschel Jennings, Canyon; Lee Gilmore, Wheeler, Irby Carruth, Canyon; Betty Smalley Vaughter, Byars; Wayne Eubanks, Friona; Thelma Brummett, Canyon.

Urshul Sanderson, now Mrs. Tom Bright, has been living in Nashville, Tennessee for the past few years. Her husband, Tom Bright, ex-student of 1912-13, died this March in Riverside, California. She and her three children were on the campus last week preparing to attend school again.

Crowder Wharton drives a school bus, and his brother, Orval Wharton carries mail at Seminole.

Nancy Sanderson, now Mrs. Owen Meal, is Post Mistress at Valdez, Alaska.

Local Citizens Appointed Texas Centennial Group

Will H. Mayes of Austin has announced the appointment of four Randall county citizens as members of the Texas Centennial Advisory Board. Dr. J. A. Hill, Clyde W. Warwick, Mrs. C. R. Fleisher and Senator J. W. Reid were notified Monday of their appointment.

Plans are rapidly being developed for the Centennial Celebration in Texas in 1936.

W. T. Graduates Second Largest Number in State

The West Texas State Teachers College had the second largest June graduating class of any of the seven teachers colleges in the state system, according to a statement made Wednesday by President J. A. Hill. There were 87 men and women in the class here. Denton's number was larger, there being 123 in the class. Commerce followed with 76. The number of graduates at Huntsville, Alpine, and San Marcus were fewer than any of the colleges named above.

Women are studying crime detection at Ohio State University, says a news item. This'll make it harder for husbands to explain away that blond hair, sick friend, and out-of-town business trip.

Conlen Lassie Captain In W. T.

Of exceptional interest in the summer student personnel of the college is the presence of Miss Embell Knight, former captain of the famous Conlen Lassies, whom she has led repeatedly to brilliant victory on the basketball court in the few years preceding her graduation from the Conlen High School this spring.

M. D. Blankenship, who has been her only coach through all her years of basketball training, and Mrs. Blankenship, loyal attendant of the team on all its trips, are also enrolled for the summer session in W. T. Report has been received that another member of the basketballers is expected to enter school as soon as she recovers from a temporary illness.

Miss Knight, besides earning for herself seven gold medals and one silver in athletic achievement, proved her scholastic ability by making between 92 and 98 on six out of nine subjects in a state examination last year.

Banquet Features Number Ex-Studes

On the program for the annual banquet of the Abernathy Chamber of Commerce June 5, names of ex-students of the West Texas State Teachers College were particularly prominent. John Lawton McCarty, editor of Dalhart Daily Texan, was guest speaker. The position of toastmaster was occupied by Frank Andrews, superintendent of public schools at Abernathy, and George Ragland, now postmaster in the same town, introduced the speaker.

It is becoming a more and more significant fact that hardly a gathering of any kind is held in the Panhandle that is not attended by a remarkable percentage of W. T. ex-students.

Mrs. Bill Wanson, formerly Besse Day, is living in Tokio.

WARWICK PRINTING CO.

... Prexy Says: ...

Greetings to more than a thousand teachers representing one hundred seventeen Texas counties and six states besides Texas! Ours is probably the most widely distributed student body among the Teachers College of the state, representing, as it does, every section of our commonwealth—the gulf ports to the southeast, the Rio Grande Valley, the piney woods of East Texas, the Black Land Belt of Central Texas, the hill country of Southwest Texas, the cross-timbers, the El Paso country, and every county but five west of Dallas and north of the T. & P. railroad.

It is our very great desire that each of you shall find here that which will most help you in the work you are doing for the children of Texas. As teachers we are called upon to give a new interpretation to education—to find new values in it—values that will further guarantee the orderly development of our people and safeguard the ideals of liberty, equality, and fraternity that have come down to us from our fathers. Ours is the responsibility of releasing and perfecting the intellectual and spiritual resources of childhood—a challenge great enough for the best minds and hearts of our day, and it comes ringing with increasing volume from every nook and corner of our nation. In this connection I like to think of what Ruskin had to say:

"Education does not mean teaching people what they do not know. It means teaching them to behave as they do not behave. It is not teaching the youth the shapes of letters and the tricks of numbers, and then leaving them to turn their arithmetic to roguery, and their literature to lust. It means, on the contrary, training them into the perfect exercise and kingly continence of their bodies and souls. It is a painful, continual, and difficult work to be done by kindness, by watching, by warning, by precept, and by praise, but, above all,—by example."

We must cease talking about the financial rewards of education, great as these have been. Money making goals most often develop metallic hearts; and metallic hearts are essentially anti-social—out of harmony with the fundamental principles of democratic government. We cannot go on holding before youth the monetary advantages of an education without laying a sure foundation for autocratic government. Republics are essentially intellectual and spiritual by nature, and can survive on no other foundation than enlightenment and morality. Money is the measure of things, and, while valuable as an instrument or a means, is damaging as an objective. As a motivating force in life it is contrary to every principle of the American system.

Education, then, must save our country by saving the minds and hearts of our children. Teachers must lead children into new paths of enjoyment. They must teach our youth to find "sermons in stones, books in the running brooks, and good in everything." Without such values schools become training grounds for a peasant social order. Without such values education at public expense is not justifiable, for it degenerates into a propaganda machine for selfish interests. Such systems now operate in many parts of the Old World and they have left a trail of poverty, and suffering, and blood throughout the history of their existence.

Fellow Teachers, let us learn so to live and to learn and to teach as to avoid such disasters in this country. Let us use our class-rooms to propagate the intellectual and spiritual freedom of our nation, so that we may not only guarantee to ourselves the continued enjoyment of the right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, but that our country, under God, may continue to lead the ignorant and oppressed peoples of the earth toward that day when men shall dwell together in brotherhood and share equally the rights of life's best values. In the name of these sacred purposes, we welcome you to our campus.

J. A. HILL, President.

WOODWORK—

Miss Elizabeth Cox, had some pieces of black walnut from trees which were cut on her father's farm nearly half a century ago. From these pieces, Brewer Neal, a senior student built her a beautiful chest of drawers. Neal used his knowledge to help earn his way through college, and Miss Cox now has a useful piece of furniture which has a sentimental value as well.

Connie Roberson, a sophomore student of Tulsa constructed an end table with book troughs, and book-ends. Dena Fay Jameson of Amarillo made a laminated red gum card table, with inlays of holly and mahogany rails. C. D.

Coffee, Jr., of Amarillo, had a black walnut bed, on the four poster order, which will be finished in two-tone stain.

Faculty men find recreation in shop work, according to Mr. Gillis. Dr. A. M. Meyer of the education department has made several pieces of furniture for his home. Prof. Carl York, coach and mathematics teacher has spent many hours on a telephone table and chair of Philippine mahogany.

Both Professor R. A. Terrill, head of the Manual Arts Department and Mr. Gillis point out that training in the manual arts opens up a pleasant and valuable leisure time occupation. Both men and women who can use ordinary tools can save much expense in running their homes and can find through tools an outlet for their creative energies which will make them happier people.

Intramural Sports To Be Extensive

Playground ball, boxing, tennis, and golf will be featured in Intramural Sports on the W. T. campus this summer. There will be four teams in playground ball managed by Messrs. Naylor, Harper, Bralley, and Kendrick. Every man who expects to play on these teams will meet this Tuesday afternoon.

A class in boxing will meet every day in preparation for Fight Night, which is to be held later in the summer. Those who take the course will not be compelled to participate in Fight Night.

Tennis meets daily at 3:30 to train for a tournament to be held later in the summer which will determine the W. T. championship in tennis, doubles and singles, and golf. Numbers of students have already enrolled in these classes, taking advantage of the opportunity offered them to take part in recreational sports.

TOUR—

iting western Oklahoma the party will go up into Colorado, where the first week-end will be spent at Colorado Springs. Members of the party will have full opportunity to spend time sightseeing among the points of interest here and at all other stops along the route. From Colorado Springs the trip will continue through Colorado, stopping at the Royal Gorge.

The second week-end will find the group at Estes Park, and the third week they will be at Yellowstone National Park, with time to take in the many points of scenic interest there. The fourth week of the projected itinerary includes the Great Salt Lake and Salt Lake City, and the fifth week back to Colorado, stopping at the West Verde National Park. The return will be through New Mexico, arriving back at Canyon August 13, six days before the close of the summer session.

Regular College Courses Offered

Students taking the trip will have the opportunity of taking regular college courses under the members of the faculty who will make part of the group. Dean Green will conduct courses in history and English, Dean Jarrett or Dr. Meyer, courses in education, and Professor Phillips courses in agriculture and marketing. Courses offered will be at the 200 level or above. The particular courses to be offered will depend on the needs of the students who sign up for the trip. Classes will meet in the morning after each night's stop, an hour and a half each day, six days a week, providing a full forty-five class hours work during the course of the five weeks planned for the trip. Quizzes will be given from time to time, and a final examination will be given in each class, at the college, after the party has returned to Canyon. Thus students will receive full college credit for their work, transferable to other colleges, or usable toward a degree at W. T. S. T. C., with the complete approval of the Registrar and the Dean of the College. Students must sign up in the regular manner through the Dean's office for the courses which they wish to take, before starting on the trip.

Comfort Assured on Tour

Most comfortable living accommodations are being arranged for the members of the party. Beds with mattresses and tents accommodating from four to eight persons each are planned. Each one must furnish his own sheets and blankets. When the passenger bus arrives at the place for the evening stop, those aboard will find tents set up and camp made, and the evening meal waiting. The meals are to be provided by a cafeteria truck which will make the entire trip, and will be no hand-outs or "camp grub," but really substantial and tasty food. After the evening meal the evening will be free for sightseeing or study. The morning hours after breakfast will be devoted to classes from 7:30 to 10:30, after which the group will resume its travel, or have the day visiting points of interest.

Prof. Phillips and the others arranging for the trip are making every effort to keep the cost at the lowest possible level. In any event, the final figure for each person will not be above $100. This hundred dollars will include transportation, regular college fees for courses taken, sleeping accommodations, and two meals each day, morning and evening. The cost of the noon meal and of entrance to sightseeing places where admission is charged is not included in this figure. Efforts are being made, however, to have the party admitted free to many places along the way where admission is usually charged.

To Visit Educational Institutions Many educational institutions along the way and many central offices of interest to teachers and students of education will be visited during the tour. Some of the more important of these institutions are: Western Oklahoma A. and M. at Goodwell, the municipal college and state department of education at Denver, the University of Colorado at Boulder, the University of Wyoming at Laramie, the University of Utah, and the state department of education at Salt Lake City.

All who take part in the unusual opportunity afforded to W. T. students by this trip are sure to spend five weeks packed full of new and interesting experiences, while at the same time having the possibility of earning a full six semester hours college credit.

Meeting Wednesday Morning Preliminary organization for this tour will be made at a meeting to be held Wednesday morning, June 13, at the chapel period in room 211. At this meeting a survey of interested students will be made with the view of determining what courses will be offered in connection with the tour. Everyone who is interested should be sure and attend this meeting, especially as the number of students making the trip will be limited to thirty-five.

Clara Kelly is secretary to the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Plainview, Texas.

First Regular Chapel Made Introductions

With the exception of a few front row seats, the college auditorium was filled for the first regular chapel exercises of the summer term. The faculty, seated upon the platform for the special occasion, presented to the eye of curious students an impressive body. President J. A. Hill presided during the program.

The ministers of the town, Rev. Hicks of the Baptist Church, Rev. Quattlebaum, Methodist, Rev. Newby, Christian, and Rev. Dickey, Presbyterian, vied with each other for honors in witicism, and extended their respective invitations from the churches to students and faculty.

After a variety of announcements, President Hill introduced the entire faculty, classifying each according to his or her department. New names and faces among those presented were: Dr. Greer, history; Mr. Brown, geography; Mr. Wedgeworth, education; Dr. Arlin Turner, English; Miss Rogers, art; Miss Nelson, home economics; Miss McDonald, primary education; Miss Beth Pitts, physical education; and Mrs. Acker, matron at Randall Hall.

Chapel will be held on Tuesdays and Saturdays at 9:00 a. m. during the entire summer session.

W T Commencement Closes Regular Session Work Thursday

With Ex-Senator R. A. Stuart of Fort Worth delivering the address, 87 seniors of the West Texas State Teachers College received their degrees Thursday. Mr. Stuart, a graduate of the institution with the class of 1912, took for his subject "Where Do We Go From Here?" He declared that, despite the fact that more progress has been made in the last 30 years than in all time before, 1933-34 will be looked upon as the darkest period of American History. He said that inventions have been made so much more rapidly than they could be made use of that the welfare of the people had constantly been retarded in order to save property which ought to be junked for the good of all.

Developing his theme, he said, "The disappointing thing about the brain trust which President Roosevelt has gathered around him is that the men who compose it have purely academic knowledge and little acquaintance with practical affairs and that no real new deal is possible in the United States until we have qualified office holders to put it into effect."

"Our present society is now infested with two boll weevils," said Mr. Stuart. They are war and greed. War will be eliminated when everybody and everything is commandeered for the service of the Nation. Greed can only be eliminated through Christianity, "for you cannot legislate the Golden Rule," said he. He added that Christianity is at its lowest ebb in America today and a great revival is needed if our nation is to be saved. To the graduates of Colleges throughout the world he threw the challenge of creating a new social order out of chaos of the present.

Degrees and Awards

Following the commencement address degrees were conferred by Dr. J. A. Hill, President of the West Texas State Teachers College.

Awards were made to William Britton, freshman student of Olton, Texas for the best service on The Prairie, the student newspaper. This award is made annually by Olin E. Hinkle of the Pampa Daily News. To Miss Isabelle Price of Quitaque was awarded the Mary E. Hudspeth scholarship of $100 given annually to the student showing greatest promise in the field of Spanish.

Ex-Student Meeting

Immediately following the commencement exercises, exstudents gathered at Cousins Hall for their annual luncheon and business meeting, with the class of 1932 in charge of the social program and T. H. McDonald of Pampa, president of the Ex-Student Association, presiding, at the business session.

A new constitution was adopted and the Association's objective for the coming six months was named as 1,000 members by the Silver Jubilee set for October 19-20.

Superintendent J. B. Spear of Morse was elected president with Herschel Coffee, Canyon, vice-president and Lee Johnson, Canyon, secretary-treasurer. Wayne Eubanks of Friona and Thelma Brummett of Canyon were given places on the board of directors.

Degrees were conferred upon 25 Canyon students in the 1934 class.

Senior of W. T. High Died May 21

Ellen Lois Cleavinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Cleavinger of Canyon, died May 21 in the Scott and White Hospital at Temple, Texas, after an illness of some weeks. She had been taken there by her mother for treatment ending in an operation which, because of her weakened condition, resulted in her death two weeks later on her sixteenth birthday. The body was returned to Canyon and funeral services held in the Presbyterian Church on Thursday, May 24, at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon. Rev. Charles Dickey of that church and Rev. Charlton, former pastor, presided.

Ellen Lois has been a member of W. T. Training School for the last six years and was, at the time of her death, preparing for graduation from high school the following week. She took active part in all school functions, acting for the past year as president of the Student Council. The Girls' Glee Club of which she was a member attended the funeral services in a body.

She loved her home and her church, which she joined at the age of 10, and is remembered as having lived a consistent Christian life. She was an active worker in both Christian Endeavor and choir.

Surviving her, besides a host of friends, are her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Cleavinger of Canyon, five brothers and one sister, Norman Cleavinger of Spring Lake, Texas, Jesse Cleavinger of Alhambra, Calif., Eugene Cleavinger of Nodwalk, Calif., Elmer Cleavinger of White Deer, Texas, M. E. Cleavinger and Mrs. W. E. Miller of Canyon.

Burial services were held in Dreamland Cemetery under the direction of Thompson and Griggs Funeral Directors.
