

DIEGO RIVERA PRINTS HANG IN MUSEUM

Noted Artist Is Known As Champion Of Workers

FOUR GROUPS SHOWN

Frescoes Are Examples of Oldest Type Of Painting

Now hanging in the Mary E. Hudspeth Room of Pioneer Hall is a group of nineteen colored prints that every college student will want to see—reproductions of frescoes by the internationally known artist, Diego Rivera, of Mexico.

Rivera, acknowledged to be Mexico's foremost artist, specializes in frescoes, and is best known to Americans, perhaps, through his contract to do a fresco in the famous Rockefeller Center in New York, later losing this engagement, not through fault of his work, but because of the subjects he chose to portray.

Champions Workers

The Mexican artist has used his genius to depict the common people of his own country, and, as a result of his zeal in this crusade, has been known and criticized for his intense class consciousness. His great sympathy for the common people is clearly reflected in the prints, now showing in the Museum, which may be divided roughly into four divisions.

Notable among the first group which shows Mexican-Indian workers are two studies called, "While the Poor Sleep," and "Indians Bathing." These two frescoes appear in the Ministry of Education Building in Mexico City.

Symbolic Work

In the second group which include paintings in the Chapingo Chapel of the Agricultural School are "Forces Under the Earth," and "Virgin Soil." Both are symbolic. A study called, "Emiliano Zapata, the Agrarian Leader," is a copy of the original which is at Cuernavaca in the Palace of Cortez. The fourth group, which is taken from pieces in the National Palace at Mexico City, includes "The Fall of the Empire," and "Juarez and the Reform Laws."

Frescoes, the type of art which Rivera has chosen for his medium of expression, is done by painting. (Continued on last page)

Canyon School Students Give Assembly Act

Tumbling students from the Canyon High School, under the direction of their instructor, Miss Mattie Jordan, gave a program at the assembly hour Saturday morning.

Ranging in age from the lower grades to high school, the students gave a number of unusually good acts, some of them difficult for small children, showing a great amount of training and instruction.

Miss Jordan gave directions by means of musical selections at the piano during the performance.

Youthful Artist Paints Portrait Of "Big Coach"

Elba Murff, 19 year old artist of Brice, Texas, has just completed and has on exhibit at the West Texas State Teachers College an oil portrait of the late Sam D. Burton, nationally known basketball coach, for many years mentor of the West Texas Buffaloes.

The portrait, pronounced an exceptionally good likeness of the "Big Coach," was painted from a photograph. Mr. Murff never having seen Mr. Burton. Local art critics adjudge the picture an unusual piece of work for so young an artist and for one who has had no professional training in oils.

Mr. Murff has been painting for several years, though he has studied under no teachers, preferring to experiment alone in his field of art. He spends the greater part of his time in doing landscapes and work of that nature. The portrait of Mr. Burton, one of the first that the young man has done, shows a fine handling of facial expression and of color.

Harry Hartzog of Clarendon, W. T. student in 1931-32, brought the picture to Canyon for display at the College.

New Art Course Proves Popular

Study Appreciation Of Minor Arts In Class

A new art class, the Appreciation of Minor Arts, offered for the first time at the College, is proving to be popular with student body and townspeople alike, having, at the last report, thirteen students and seven townswomen enrolled and taking active interest.

Study Interior Decoration

The class, taught by Miss Isabel Robinson, head of the Art department, meets each afternoon at 1:30 will take up consecutively the study of art principles, principles of art in relation to interior decoration and decorative arts, elements and psychology of color, period furniture including modern style, the history of design, dying process of textiles, Oriental, American commercial and homemade rugs, and the study of historic, American Indian, and modern American pottery.

Trips Planned

The members are planning to make many interesting trips during the semester, including a trip to Amarillo where they will examine Oriental rugs and hear a lecture about them. Mrs. Darrell Jackson, of Amarillo, an authority on the processes of printing and dying textiles and who now has an exhibit in the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum, will give an explanatory lecture on textiles in the near future. Later, the group will visit Judge Hamlin's country home at Farwell, where he has an excellent collection of period furniture, historic porcelain, pewter, and silver.

So much interest has been aroused in this unusual class that many inquiries have been received by persons who wish to take it by correspondence. Miss Robinson states that it will be less satisfactory to offer such a comprehensive (Continued on last page)

Conference

With the addition of Ernst Uiberall, an Austrian, to the speaking program planned for the Southwest Conference of the International Relations Club which is to convene at W. T. March 9 and 10, the meet will bring two distinguished internationalists here for the first time in this section of the country.

Maynard To Speak

Main speaker for the Conference, as previously announced, is the Honorable David Maynard, an economist of international experience, who will deliver the principal address on the League of Nations. Both speakers have been secured by the Carnegie Foundation for the Promotion of World Peace, sponsor of the International Relations Club.

Mr. Uiberall, a graduate of the University of Vienna, has for some time been studying at Columbia University. Scheduled to appear at the first general meeting of the Conference, he will deliver the main address of the Friday afternoon session. His subject, "The Problem of Austria," will serve as an introduction to a round table discussion on "The Crisis in International Organization."

Banquet at Cousins

High point in the Conference will be Mr. Maynard's address at the banquet to be held at Cousins Hall Friday evening. Since he has served as a member of the Economic Section of the League of Nations and has lived in Geneva at various times during the last ten years, Mr. Maynard is considered an authority on his subject, "The League of Nations—Yesterday and Tomorrow."

Professor Calls Education Board Meeting Saturday

Professor Frank R. Phillips, president of the Panhandle Board of Education Association, has called a meeting of all County Boards of this region for Saturday, February 17, at Amarillo, in connection with the meeting of the Superintendents and Principals Association.

The County Boards will meet in the forenoon in connection with other meetings and all will hear an address by State Superintendent L. A. Woods. In the afternoon each will have a separate meeting.

On February 15, Mr. Phillips will go to Spearman where he has been asked to speak in the high school assembly, and to make a special talk to the seniors and to the boys of the high school in two other meetings. On the same trip he will attend a meeting of the Wheat Growers' Association at Huntton.

Reverend Robert Fling, 22-year old preacher, will conduct a Student Revival at the First Baptist church in Canyon beginning Sunday, February 18, and continuing through the 25th. Rev. Fling, who has received degrees from the East Texas State Teachers College, at Commerce, and Baylor University, at Waco, knows student life and understands student problems, being at present enrolled himself in the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary at Fort Worth. He comes here at the invitation of the Baptist Student Union.

Services at 8 O'clock. Services will be held at the Baptist church each evening at 8 o'clock with Rev. Fling in charge of the preaching and Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Huber, of Canyon, in charge of the music. Mr. and Mrs. Huber, for the past three years in charge of the musical directors of the church, are well known to the student body, having frequently appeared in programs at the College, as well as in the work at the church.

A study course for the members of the Baptist Student council will be taught by Rev. Fling each day, and the Student Prayer groups will also meet each day.

Has Visited Canyon. The young preacher, in addition to his college work, has been president of the Baptist Student Union of Texas for the past three years, visiting Canyon at the annual meeting of the Union last spring. He spoke to the student body last Tuesday at the assembly hour and conducted several services at the church during the past week.

All students of the college are cordially invited to attend these revival services, to meet Rev. Fling and to talk with him.

Wells Hively To Assist

Numbers

Ruth St. Denis, world renowned dancer who will appear on the lyceum platform here on the evening of February 15, has been called the fount of inspiration for dancers the world over. Long regarded in the Occident as the foremost interpreter of the dances of the Orient, Miss St. Denis has furnished inspiration for the thousands of students who have flocked to her for her instruction. In a tour of India she was widely acclaimed by the East Indians for her beautiful interpretation of a native Nautch dance, one of the numbers which will be included in her program here.

Assisted by Pianist

On the occasion of her appearance in Canyon, Miss St. Denis will assume for the first time locally the role of both lecturer and dancer, following a talk on "The Dance as a Cultural Force" with a group of her famous dances. She will be assisted by Wells Hively, concert pianist, who will offer examples of the modern French school by Faure and Ravel. We know Ravel through his "Bolero," embodying the now famous rumba rhythm of Cuba.

In scanning the annals of the dance for the past twenty years, three names are pre-eminently outstanding—Anna Pavlova, Isadora Duncan, and Ruth St. Denis. Unhappily Mme Pavlova and Miss Duncan have made their final bows to an admiring public, but fortunately Ruth St. Denis remains to carry on the tradition of that period of renaissance. Speech Students Present Program Amarillo Tuesday

A small group of students from the speech classes of W. T. presented the potter scene from Romeo and Juliet at an open meeting of the Panhandle Speech Arts Association, which was held in The Playhouse in Amarillo, Tuesday night, February 6.

Those playing were: Fern Landers, as Juliet; Juanita Campbell, as Lady Capulet; and Ernestine Walker, as the nurse.

The scene was a good representation of the work done by the Speech students last term, when they put on many different scenes from Shakespeare's play, Romeo and Juliet.

The program, which was arranged by Mary Miller Beard, of Amarillo, was made up of Shakespearean plays in celebration of Drama Week.

The auditorium was crowded to capacity by an extremely enthusiastic audience.

Hickman Arranges Bus For Cornell Play in Amarillo

Saturday, the 17th of February, Katharine Cornell will appear in "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," in the Municipal Auditorium at Amarillo. As Katharine Cornell is perhaps the outstanding actress in America at the present time, a great number of students expressed a desire to attend this play. Miss Hellen Hickman made inquiries of the bus company and they consented to send a bus to carry the students to the performance and back.

The Lee-Way Bus company is sending the bus and the round trip will be seventy cents (70c). Only those students who engage seats and pay for those seats prior to the arrival of the bus will be permitted to go on the bus. Seats on the bus must be engaged before or by Wednesday the 14th. Those who wish to engage seats may do so through Miss Hickman, phone 53.

The bus will leave Randall Hall at 10 minutes to seven o'clock, and will leave Cousins Hall at seven o'clock. Students must be at one of the halls. The bus will not wait for anyone, so be on time. It is necessary to take these precautions in order that the bus company will know how many accommodations to provide, says Miss Hickman.

Visitors Number 25,000 At Museum

Mrs. J. L. Stutts Is Presented Copy Of
"Review"

In the less than ten months since its opening April 14, 1933, the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum has been visited by twenty-five thousand people. The registration reached this number Friday afternoon, February 9. Mrs. J. L. Stutts, a member of a school group from the Kaffir School between Happy and Tulsa, was the 25,000th visitor and was presented with a copy of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Review.

Many Students Visit

This school, the second to visit the museum this week, is typical of a large portion of the visitors. This is probably due to the fact that officials in charge of the museum have extended special invitation to schools. The majority of the visitors are the people who have built the museum, the cattlemen, the wheat farmers, the people who live in the Panhandle-Plains country, people who are proud of the result of their work, and who are enjoying it.

From Foreign Countries

Not only are the visitors from this section but from other states and other countries. It is not uncommon for people from ten different states to visit the museum in one Sunday afternoon. From China, Argentina, Mexico, France, New Zealand, Albania, and many other countries, have come people to visit the States, who during their stay, have been to see the exhibits in the Historical Museum. Distinguished scientists, interested in archaeology and paleontology, and writers interested in local color or historical traditions of the region have visited the natural, scientific, artistic, or literary exhibits. HONOR ROLL IS HIGH FOR 1ST SEMESTER

ADVANCE REASONS

New Plan Puts Considerable Strain On Time
Budget

With 109 students making the honor roll of the West Texas State Teachers College the first semester of this year, indications are that the recently inaugurated split-semester plan enables students to do better work than was possible under the term plan.

This is one of the largest honor roll lists in the history of the college, says Registrar Shirley, who is undecided whether the students are becoming better students, or whether the new plan affords more time for study. A majority of the students vote for the former reason for it seems that attending three classes every day instead of six classes every other day puts considerable strain on the old time budget.

Following is a complete list of students making the honor roll for the first semester, and the number of grade points received by each student:

24 Grade Points
Constance Wayland, Plainview; Oleson Sweet, Wellington; James Stone, Amarillo; Beryl Hixson, Canyon.

23 Grade Points
George Bishop, Canyon; Dorothy Clark, Pampa; Marie Park, Nara Visa, N. M.; James Divilbiss, Dumas; H. L. Ledrick, Pampa.

22 Grade Points
Margarethe Meyer, Canyon; Het-tie Lou Bagley, Canyon; Dorothy Mae Taylor, Amarillo; Helen Martin, Groom; A. J. Reeves, Jr., Amarillo; Jack Wright, Silverton; Max Nuttall, Borger.

21 Grade Points
Marie Browning, McLean; Mrs. Inez Mullins, Canyon; Lois Molloy, Plaska; Pauline Shelton, Clarendon; Irene Kries, Floydada; Ancel Leonard, Borger.

(By Hal Collier)

One day in dear old Lunnon, about two hundred years before Aimee Semple McPherson Hutton was born, Samuel Johnson put down his teacup, and in an autocratic, whitmanish voice, unburended himself to his pal Boswell as follows: "Sir, a woman's preaching is like a dog's walking on his hinder legs. It is not done well; but you are surprised to find it done at all."

The next day they gave Samuel an LL. D.

What has the above anecdote to do with my story? Nothing whatever, except that it shows what clever fellows writers can be. They are clever and wise because mere mortals expect them to be such. It used to be that a man who could read was looked up to; but a man who could write—!

This awesome feeling has gradually spread to the colleges; so much so that a sonnet sequence or a volume of essays entitles the author to almost as much esteem as would a touchdown in the last minute of play or striking out the third batter with all bases full.

Now, wouldn't you like to be a writer? Every year aspiring young writers try to crash the gates of the Texas Intercollegiate Press Association. There are cash prizes offered for the best in humorous and serious short stories, formal and informal essays, poems, one-act plays, editorials, feature stories, sports stories and straight news articles.

Every student in W. T. who is interested in writing should send in at least one contribution. All contributions must be typewritten on good white bond paper and placed in the hands of some member of the local committee before February 24.

If your contribution is a humorous or serious short story, give it to Bill Pittman in the Prairie office.

If a formal or informal essay, give it to Ruby Lee McMillan.

If a one-act play or a poem, hand it to Pollyanna Pitts.

If an editorial, sports story, straight news article or feature article, hand it to Emil Brewer, or drop it in the basket on the Prairie desk.

The Greeks didn't have a word for it, but the Romans must have. Your best girl may call it genius, but don't be unduly alarmed; it is probably only a bad case of catoches scribendi.

What is catoches scribendi? Webster defines it thus: "A diseased propensity for authorship; an itch for writing."

A diseased propensity! An itch! How mortifying!

New Regulations For Texas Teachers Listed In Full For Benefit Of Prospective Tutors

Standards Raised In Affiliated and State Aid Schools

A copy of the new regulations passed by the State Board of Education concerning teachers in Texas, sent out by W. A. Nelson, College Examiner of the State Department of Education, to Registrar D. A. Shirley has been received.

These rules which will be of particular interest to students who are planning to teach next year, are given in full below:

REQUIREMENTS CONCERNING PRINCIPALS AND SUPERINTENDENTS

They shall hold at least the baccalaureate degree from a reputable standard college or university, and shall have successfully completed at least 18 semester hours in the field of educational administration; provided, however, that the principals and superintendents now in service but who do not hold such a degree or have 18 semester hours in the field of educational administration must make progress towards those two objectives by completing at least 18 semester hours in a standard college or university in every three year period until a degree is obtained.

An explanation is essential with reference to the 18 semester hours in the field of educational administration. In completing these 18 semester hours it is recommended that 12 semester hours be done in courses dealing strictly with administration and supervision, while 6 semester hours must be done in general methods of classroom instruction. All of these courses shall be of the senior college or graduate grade. It is suggested that a course in school finance, one in Child Accounting, one in tests and measurements, and one in student guidance be included in admin-

TEACHERS' CERTIFICATE REQUIREMENTS

Beginning with the session 1934-35, teachers employed in State Aid Schools shall be required to have a minimum of two years of college training or the equivalent thereof and shall be required to hold a Texas State Teacher's Certificate of no lower standing than a six-year elementary or a four-year high school grade, provided that those teachers now in State Aid Schools not measuring up to this standard may continue their work in State Aid Schools, if they attend a standard State Teachers College or other standard college or university each summer until such standard shall have been attained. Insofar as is possible, teachers in State Aid Schools shall secure special preparation in the subjects or grades wherein they are employed to teach.

FRIENDLINESS

This seems to be convention year for the West Texas State Teachers College with seven state and national conventions to bring hundreds of college students to the campus of the College within the next two months. Now is the time to begin preparations for these events, to practice speaking to people we don't know and otherwise exhibiting some of that famous West Texas hospitality we've all heard so much about.

Long has the West been noted for its free-hearted welcoming of visitors, its generosity and, most of all, for its friendliness. We can't let our standards slip—this year of all years. Soon we shall have an opportunity to see if we are really as friendly as the rest of the world believes us to be. The people of this section have learned to expect much of the students of W. T. and they have learned that the students who have lived and grown up on the vast prairies are 100 per cent Americans, hospitable, friendly, glad to entertain and to provide entertainment for their guests.

To those who are coming from other states, we shall have to prove our hospitality. No responsibility is so sacred as that of a host; the obligations are endless. Being a host college is a trust, but it is one that we should accept with gladness for it will give us an opportunity to prove ourselves to ourselves as well as to the rest of the world.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH W. T.?

(An Editorial)

A student from another college asked the usual question that comes to one's mind when he meets a friend from another school, "Well, what do you think of W. T.?" Being a rather intimate acquaintance I didn't dress up my criticism with the usual bit of bally-hoo about the dear old school but answered, "When I came to this school I was agreeably surprised at the quality of work done and the caliber of teachers employed, but there are two criticisms,—no courses are offered in journalism and there is no debate team."

In the past few years there has been a marked increase of interest in these arts. The fields of journalism and public speaking are no longer left to the genius, but are being pursued by a majority of those who seek higher learning.

The great amount of interest shown in the public speaking department is proof that there would be sufficient interest in debate. As a matter of fact, about thirty students got up a petition testifying that they wanted to go out for the debate team. Some of them in commenting said that they had gotten more out of their debate work than they got out of their regular studies.

The mass of volunteer reporters that answered the call of The Prairie bear witness to the fact that the school is working alive with students who are interested in journalism. Some find an outlet for their desires in the Writers' Club and its kid sister, the Scribblers. Others write for the school publications but, alas, the crying need for a more systematic training in the various fields of writing through a concentrated study of journalism is denied them.

Is W. T. going to keep its doors closed to those students ambitious for more training in these fields and to the inter-collegiate activities connected with them or will there be an opportunity given to the students to make a name for themselves and their school?

Let's hope something is done about it by next year.—G. L. S.

REGULATIONS—

Education in August and September, 1933.)

NEW HIGH SCHOOL REGULATIONS

Beginning with the session 1934-35, standard four-year high schools, in addition to meeting fully the requirements heretofore set up for a four-year high school of the first class, shall, in filling vacancies and new positions with beginning teachers, employ only teachers in their entire system of schools—including, elementary schools, junior schools, and senior high schools, who are graduates of universities, colleges, or state teachers colleges, with classroom assignments in their respective fields of preparation. At the same time principals and superintendents of such schools shall hold at least the baccalaureate degree from a reputable standard college or university, and shall have successfully completed at least 18 semester hours in the field of educational administration; provided, however, that principals and superintendents now in service, but who do not hold such a degree or have eighteen semester hours in the field of educational administration, must make progress toward those two objectives by completing at least eighteen semester hours in a standard college or university every three years.

Teachers now or heretofore in service in classified four-year high schools in Texas and not having a standard degree must show progress by completing in a standard college or university at least eighteen semester hours every three years in any manner acceptable to

T-Anchor Cowboys Play at Wildorado To Packed House

The fame of the T-Anchor Cowboys as entertainers continues to spread far and wide if one may judge by their recent appearances and their entertainments booked for the future.

Friday evening, February 2, the company, which is composed of Ted Clark, Kid Young, Bill and Edd Todd, and Howard Weatherby, performed before a packed house at Wildorado. Clark, Young, and the Brothers Todd, gave old-time and popular musical selections, while Weatherby entertained with a number of his trick stunts with a rope.

The troupe has bookings at Vega, Bushland, Conway, Union Hill, and Friona with several other tentative dates they are not sure they will be able to fill. Wherever they perform the name of W. T. goes with them, and their performances arouse considerable interest in the school.

Over At MOORE'S CO-OP

(By Wm. Hawkins)

Never in my life have I seen such studious Freshmen. Hour after hour they bend their heads over their pencils and papers and do they work those balanced rations? Won't these cows have some good meals when these freshmen go home?

It is likely that few people have ever tried it, but it was tried at the Co-op. Here is the procedure: Start making cream gravy from fried sausage grease; when the time comes add the cream, make a mistake and add Bulgarian butter-milk, then taste the residue. How do you like it? For particulars, see George Kneirim.

We all know that Street is an unusual freshman, but little did we know that he was so hard headed. This was proven when Townes let go of a soda pop bottle in the general direction of Street's head. When the bottle struck, it was smashed to bits, and Street merely laughed. Whatta-man!

We wonder if Arlie Elms will be more careful from now on when he gets up every morning to turn on the light, any way we hope so.

Last week Alton Harrell was elected house-master of the Co-op. One thing about Alton, he is not too timid to talk when necessity calls for such.

LE MIRAGE Previews

Dearest Willy, ol' pal:

As usual, there is an unusual amount of progress shown in the completion of Le Mirage. A great many of the little odds and ends that are always bothersome, no matter where they are, are being cleared up with amazing rapidity.

It should be noted though, that due to the complete co-operation of the staff and of the student-body at large, the book will be ready for distribution quite a bit sooner than in previous years.

More clubs will be represented this year than ever before. With one or two exceptions, every organization in the school will have some sort of representation in the book.

The pictures of the little darlings who were chosen beauty queens, have been returned and the likeness' are extraordinary. In fact, it might be said that they were flattering, if such a thing were possible with these beauties. As if such a thing were possible!

But Willy, there is one thing that has got to stop. Several of the students have been using the typewriter in the Publications Office to type their themes and letters and whatnot, on, and this has got to stop. The staff regrets that such a request has to be made, but with the demand for the typewriter becoming greater every day with the progress of the annual, it is imperative that this request be obeyed. There have been several complaints about you writing sweet nothings to your numerous women on the above mentioned typewriter, and it must stop. Yes, sad, but true, it must stop. Let those gals alone and pay attention to your books. What do you come to school for, anyway?

Also, your letters of late are very uninteresting, can't something be done to remedy that unpleasant condition? Take it up with the committee at their very next meeting.

Ever loving,
your little pal.

Scribblers' Club Meet Thursday

The Scribblers' Club met Thursday evening, February 8, 6:30, at Randall Hall for a theatre party. After the show they again assembled at the Hall and discussed the picture.

The only business item of the evening was the election of a new secretary to take the place of Miss Elizabeth Jones who went to Texas Tech at the beginning of the semester. Several new members were admitted since the last meeting. They were: Malcolm Carr, Thomas Newell, Ralph McClure, Kathryn Robinson, George Brewer and John Willoughby.

This social meeting was held in place of the regular literary meeting. The next regular meeting will be held Tuesday evening, February 13, at Randall Hall.

TO ATTEND CONVENTION

President J. A. Hill, of the College, and Superintendent F. E. Savage of the Training School, together with Superintendents R. B. Fisher, of Pampa, and Ferman Sawyer, of Canadian, will leave Friday for Cleveland, Ohio, where they will attend the annual convention of the National Education Association.

They expect to return home about March 1.

Mrs. T. V. Reeves Speaks at CCC Camp Sunday

In a program in charge of Mrs. T. V. Reeves, of the Bureau of Public Service, given Sunday night, February 11, the main feature was a talk given by Mrs. Reeves, who chose as her subject, "Stories of Streams and Towns of Northwest Texas."

The program was given in the following order: Ernestine Walker gave several comedy readings followed by a reading entitled, "The Little Towns of Texas." Mrs. Reeves' talk was given immediately following. During the program, Dorothy Clark played the piano, playing request numbers, and furnishing music for the congregational singing.

Some people lead mighty lonesome lives. They are trying to do right and the crowd won't follow them.

Many persons do not seem to be ashamed to advertise the fact that they have made a failure of marriage.

Now that we have bartenders' colleges, many of the graduates will have the reputation of being good mixers.

How are YOUR nerves?

TRY THIS TEST

With arms hanging straight at your sides—standing in erect position—rise on your toes as high as possible. See how long you can maintain this position without teetering or losing your balance. Average time is one minute.

Irving Jaffee (Camel smoker), famous Olympic skating champion, can maintain the position 10 minutes.

Jangled nerves make you throw away vital energy

Jangled nerves are like a leak in your reserve of energy. And if you could count the units of energy a normally high-strung person wastes each day—the result would astonish you.

So if you find yourself drumming on your desk or table—or indulging in any other nervous habits—start protecting your nerves.

Get enough sleep—fresh air. Make Camels your cigarette.

You can smoke as many Camels as you want. Their costlier tobaccos never jangle your nerves.

WAFFLE SUPPER

COMPLIMENTS BOB FLING

Bob Fling, State secretary of the Baptist Students Union, was the guest of honor at a waffle supper given by Misses Betty Hicks and Ernestine Walker Monday, February 5, at the home of Miss Hicks.

The proximity of Lincoln's Birthday furnished the motif for the unusual decorations. Those present were Misses Royce Park, Vallie Harrell, Juanita Campbell, Osce McCrery, Mattie V. McCuiston, Ada Lee Singleton, Marjorie Tucker, Florence McMurtry, and Messrs. Bob Fling, J. C. Baker, Charles Taylor, Thomas H. Newell, Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Hicks.

Following the service at the Baptist Church, at which Rev. Fling preached on "I Can Do All Things In Him Who Strengtheneth Me," a group of students returned to the home of Miss Hicks. Here they sang and played several delightful games, and ate pop-corn. The very happy evening was ended by singing the B. S. U. song "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," and a word of prayer.

MRS. PAGE SPEAKS AT PAMPA MEETING

Mrs. Elizabeth Fry Page was guest speaker at a colonial tea and special guest at a luncheon given at the Schneider Hotel in Pampa this past week by members of the Episcopal Auxiliary of that city.

Valentines marked places at the luncheon table for Mrs. Page and a large group of members and visitors. Red and white sweet peas decorated the table.

After luncheon, the program and business meeting were conducted at the parish house. Mrs. Page gave an interesting survey of her religious work with college students in Canyon, where she is hostess and student counselor at the Little House of Fellowship.

Mrs. Page's out-of-town engagements the past fortnight have included similar trips to Lubbock and to Plainview.

CHI ALPHA OMEGA IS ORGANIZED

From time to time there will be socials in the form of picnics and parties. This club will meet every Wednesday morning at 9:30 in room 302 in the administration building. Those interested in joining this kind of an organization are urged to be present at the next meeting in which officers will be elected.

"LADY FINGERS" GIVEN IN DRAMATIC CLUB

Last Thursday members of the Dramatic Club were delighted with the short one-act comedy entitled "Lady Fingers." All of you have heard of these women who try to attend to their husband's affairs. This play was about such women, and showed how often they fall in their attempts to make impressions. The characters were: Mrs. Gage, a beautiful aristocratic woman of 55 played by Juanita Campbell; Mrs. Parsons, a widow of 50 played by Elizabeth Jameson; Mrs. Harper, a climber about 30 played by Lois McCaslin; and Mrs. Landon, a charming unaffected woman of 25 played by Adella Beavers. The director was Ruth Cox.

SESAME LITERARY SOCIETY MEETS

Last Thursday evening the Sesame Literary Society met in a short business session. New officers were installed and Mrs. T. V. Reeves was elected sponsor of the group, following the resignation of Miss Hibbets, former sponsor.

The organization is receiving names of new students who wish to become members this semester. The society will not meet this coming Thursday on account of the lyceum number, Ruth St. Denis.

The project of this CCC camp is a road to the National Bandelier Monument.

Frances Usery and Geneva Griffin, W. T. exes, who are teaching at Electric City, and Eva Mae Bullock of Borger, and Jo Pearl Weatherby of Whittenburg, spent the week end in the home of Miss Usery's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan K. Usery.

Senior Rings Come

The W. T. High Seniors are enthusiastic over the class rings chosen at their last class meeting. Two orders are to be made, and everyone is impatient to get his initials and measures into the first order, which is to be sent off in a few days.

The W. T. High School basketball girls are getting excellent practice in their games with girls' teams from the College. They played their first game February 6, the team from the College winning by seven points. In the second game, the College girls were again victorious, by four points. The High School girls are not daunted, however, and are planning to play several teams from neighboring towns soon.

Second Graders Visit Museum

The pupils of the second grade have been studying animal stories. In connection with this unit of work, Thursday morning, Mrs. Saunders took the group on a tour of Pioneer Hall so they might see the mounted specimens of the animals they have been reading about.

Faculty Entertains Sophomores

"What does Valentine Day mean to you?" This question was put before the sophomore class members at a tea in their honor given by the faculty Wednesday afternoon. To many, Valentine meant "just another day," but after hearing Mr. Vaughn's interesting account of the history of this day which dates back to ancient times, February 14 was thought of in a new light. Miss Ritchie, assisted by Mary McCaslin, distributed valentines to each person present. Refreshments of tomato cocktail, cheese wafers, and heart shaped candies were served by Miss Ritchie and Miss Moore.

Home Ec Club to Have Party

At a meeting Wednesday, the Home Ec Club planned a kid party to be held in the gym, February 14. The Valentine motif will be used.

Sophomores Elect Officers

The sophomores met Wednesday and elected new officers. John McNeil was chosen president; Joe D. Whittenburg, vice-president; Meredith Warren, secretary-treasurer; and Mary McCaslin, Prairie reporter.

urer; and Mary McCaslin, Prairie reporter.

The Snop

Nell Green says that when the active boy becomes passive, he becomes a bor.

Wayne McNeil says that La Vada Quarles all the time.

Contributed by a Student Council member: "Who is the guy that likes to write in books so well?"

Nominated: Louise Groom as chief Cradle Robber. She let one of the grade school boys kiss her between the Library and the Demonstration room. Yow-sah.

Fish say Lucile Smith has her eagle-eye trained on the new boy in the freshman class.

Wayne McNeil is in line for a grand rush from the girls, since the fortune teller told him he was going to inherit a fortune.

Yum-um! Did you all see that "man-size" lollypop Lela received from her "big moment"? (She says that "there's plenty more where that came from.")

"Freshman Incorporated" is the name for the new taxi line—it's Fox-y too.

Embarrassing Moments—A True Scenario

Time: Sunday afternoon.

Place: Bell's living room.

Characters: Belle, Andy, Voice.

Scene 1.

(Andy and Belle are seated in the living room at opposite ends of the sofa. Andy is in a mischievous mood. Belle is unresponsive).

Andy: My, what a pretty mouth you have, Belle!

Belle (snappishly): Well, it's as pretty as yours, anyhow!

Voice: Yeah. You'd put it up against anybody's anytime, wouldn't you?

Belle: No, not anybody's, but at least, I'd put it up against Andy's. "Then came the dawn."

P. S. Await developments. Until we found out that she was the only girl in the class, we wondered why Neva was taking manual training.

Sam Burton must like Louise Ashby's looks (He took eight pictures of her when she was visiting here last week—one for every mood?)—and, Boy, that double bicycle ride!

Football training has served our coach more than one purpose. Harland Reeves would agree that he wields a wicked kick.

And speaking of violent ejections Coach Morris finally resorted to putting a "Keep Out" sign on the gym door, after putting Lucius

Penick out eight or ten times for attending the girls' basketball workouts.

Calves Play Two Games

The tall Harvesters from Pampa harvested their second cage victory from the Calves Thursday, February 8, in the Education Building gym by a score of 23-30. Both teams played a smooth game, the Harvesters with their height, and the Calves with their smooth ball-handling. The Harvesters had previously captured a 28-20 victory from the Calves, in Pampa.

Wednesday afternoon, February 7, the Junior Calves ran away with a 39-18 victory over the Happy Juniors, in the Education Building gym. Although the Happy boys played well, they could not overtake the Junior Calves' lead in the second half. Junior Calf subs played most of the second half. In spite of being taken out before the last quarter, Norman and Dobbs, Calf guards, were high point men with 11 and 9 points respectively.

McCollum Directs Assembly Program

The Assembly program Friday was presented by the high school public speaking class, under the direction of Mrs. Alene McCollum, who did the work as a practice-teaching project. The first number was a pantomime, "A Bachelor's Dream," in which Cecil Pike, the bachelor, dreamed through his sweethearts of former days. The first was a shy country lass, Virginia Murray; then came a beautiful clerk, Annie Laura Martin; next, a stately girl met at a dance—madelyn Bull—floated across his vision; then a tennis girl, June Guinn, "won the heart beneath his jacket!" next an athletic girl, Sarah Beth McGehee, jilted him. A tragedy actress, Mrs. Alene McCollum, next trifled with his affections; a golf girl, Inez Miller, next won his interest; and a young matron, Louise Cleland, assisted by two small children, Barbara Allen Tillery and Dick Louder, formed the dream of the old bachelor's future happiness.

Following the pantomime, Neva Robbins and Troy Alexander, each presented a reading.

A play, "The Red Magician," was given by J. T. Sykes, the magician, Virginia Murray, the girl seeking information concerning her lover; and Jake Witherspoon, the magician's valet.

The program was announced by Ellen Lois Cleavinger.

The papers say that Jack Dempsey soon will be a papa. Wonder how the Man Mauler will stack up against a Baby Bawler.

Student Religious Council Elects New Officers

The Student Religious Council met Friday morning, Feb. 9. The following officers were elected: President, Charles Jennings; vice-president, Mildred Bessire; secretary-treasurer, Mabel Mongole; chairman of program committee, Miss Beck; publicity manager, Mr. Glass.

The Council will meet Friday morning, February 16, 9:30, Room 317. All members are urged to be present.

RANDALL HALL

In a house meeting Tuesday night, the Randall Hall girls met and elected the following officers for the new semester: Doris Blair, president; Ann Hunter, vice president; Kathryn Kyker, secretary and treasurer; Bertina Howell, Prairie reporter.

A reception committee was appointed to have charge of open house each Monday evening from 6:30 to 7:30 o'clock.

The following Randall Hall girls were on the honor roll: Eleanor Dobkins, Marjorie Tucker, Elizabeth Jones, Burnalee Beard, Dorothy Parton, Mary E. Williams. From a group as large as we have in the hall, only two F's were made.

Elizabeth Jameson, who comes to W. T. from McMurry and who is staying at Randall Hall, attended a banquet at Plainview Friday night.

President and Mrs. Hill were dinner guests at Randall Hall Sunday. Miss Faye Pruett, an ex-student of W. T. who is now teaching in Altus, Oklahoma, was the guest of Maryetta Thorp and Doris Blair of Randall Hall last week-end. Miss Pruett stayed in Randall Hall last year.

—the a b c of pipe tobacco

The best tobacco for pipes comes from Kentucky... and it's called "White Burley"

WE use White Burley in making Granger Rough Cut. It comes from the Blue Grass region of Kentucky—ripe, mild leaf tobacco that just about tops them all for fragrance and flavor.

From the right place on the stalk we select the kind that's best for pipes. Then we make it into Granger by Wellman's Method and cut it up into big shaggy flakes.

White Burley tobacco—made the way old man Wellman taught us how to make it—that's Granger.

Women's SportsBUFFS TO PLAY LAST GAME
IN GYM AGAINST COWBOYS

Plan to Defeat New Mexico Team In Second Series

Next Friday and Saturday nights the Buffs make their last stand in Burton gym for this season against the New Mexico Normal University Cowboys of Las Vegas.

Coach Clark's team is the only one that the Buffs have taken a series from this year, and Captain Stroud and his team mates are confident that they can repeat the deed. However, Las Vegas has the best team that they have had in years, and they are eager for a chance to revenge those two early season losses to the Buffaloes. The scores of the former games were 32 to 21 and 23 to 25.

Stroud Is Good
In the game last Wednesday Captain Stroud came through as was predicted and led in the barrage of field goals that swamped the prospective Border Conference rival of the Buffaloes. Stroud scored 24 points and played the best all-around game that he has turned in this year. From now on to the end of the season Stroud should be playing in that form that makes one reminiscent of former years.

Big John Walker is another player that is just about due to come through. He has been playing a steady game, but he hasn't as yet shown the type of basketball that he is capable of with a little development. Last Wednesday Big John showed that he is about ready to blossom out. At times Walker has seemed to be afraid to let himself go entirely. It may have been those size thirteen shoes, but it is the opinion of this writer that John should graduate into fast company in the coming two games with Las Vegas.

Dunbar Is Fast
Dunbar is a six-footer for the Cowboys at forward. He is fast, deceptive and a good shot, using either hand. He leads the scorers for his team in both of the Buffalo games.

Hutchinson, the other forward, is captain of the N. M. U. team, and is one of the best floor-men on the team. He handles the ball smoothly and is also a good shot. Shiplet is the bulwark of the Cowboy defense. Clements is the center and Stevens and Burson alternate at the other guard.

The two games with Las Vegas finish the season for the Buffs at home. The next Monday and Tuesday Coach York takes his squad to Lubbock for two return games, and the following week the Buffs make a trip into Oklahoma playing two games at Alva and at Weatherford.

Mrs. Bob Estes, formerly Laurine Alvord, and Prentice Ballengee, were among exes seen on the campus last Saturday.

Fish Trample
Cisco Badgers
In Game Friday

The W. T. Fish showed good form to trample the Randolph Junior College Badgers from Cisco here Friday night by the tune of 48 to 26.

Davis, Greenman forward, was high point man with 16 credits chalked to his list, while Kimmins ran him a close second with 15 points. Preston, speed guard from Cisco, led the Badgers scoring with 10 points. Shelton, diminutive forward, was next with 9.

The Freshmen took the lead and did not relinquish it, finding the Randolph boys too slow and short, with not enough accuracy at the basket.

VISITORS—

The bulk of the people who visit the museum to see special exhibitions, new collections or those lent the museum are W. T. college students and Canyon people. Many people who were guests of different individuals living in Canyon have been to visit the museum at the same time.

The strong interest of people in the museum, shown by this unusually large number of registrations, should satisfy the instigators of the museum, the people who built it, that their work was really worth while.

The discovery in this region of a new field of archaeological material will undoubtedly increase the value of the collections now in the museum.

Ex-Studes
We've often studied Jerry Malin's map on the sports page of the Amarillo News, but we did not meet the original until last week. And say, that picture just don't do him justice, no justice at all. Another ex-stude, Eugene Elo, who is making good on the Amarillo paper, tells us to give 'dear old W. T.' his best regards.

Class Cutters
Isn't it swell to be able to slip in and out of class without being observed by the pedantry, and if you're caught, to be able to feed 'em a line about a conference with the Dean, or going to your grandmother's funeral, or what have you? It's great to put it over the trusting teachers, but there's a judgment day coming. Moral: A cut a day keeps commencement away.

I Thought I Was Listening to a grand sermon one night. The preacher was wonderful. The sermon was elevating, inspiring, dramatic. But when he ended with this: "Your life is valuable. Care for it, for you will only get one helping of life. If you really treasure this most valuable possession, go to your nearest drug store and call for Doan's Kidney Pills!" Did we feel foolish or did we feel foolish?

Tall Tale
A professor, upon leaving his class room, wrote on the board: "The professor will be unable to meet his classes today."

A bright boy saw the notice and erased the c. leaving, "The professor will be unable to meet his lassies today."

The prof., returning, saw the change, and made another leaving, "The professor will be unable to meet his asses today!"

Earth colors are colors made of clay and minerals mixed with water. In applying them to the plaster, only a small section of the wall may be wet at one time, thus making it a comparatively slow and tedious art and one requiring the highest degree of genius and patience.

Cousins 1 Still Lead Field
In Percentage Column

Coaches Duncan and Manning succeeded in upsetting the intramural dope bucket when their S. O. J. I team defeated the Cousins I, present title holders, in a thrilling game with the score of 25 to 31.

Cousins I, however, still leads the field in the percentage column by virtue of having played more games than the Sons of Justice. Farm's first stringers are tied with the Pool House gang after trouncing the Cheyne House quintet, 28 to 19.

Cheyne House, until lately one of the field favorites, seems to be falling behind, dropping two games in the past week, one to the Ex-Eagles, 23-8, and the other to the Farm. Although the Outlaws, "Prophet" Walker's squad, have played only 6 games and lost two, they are chalked as one of the leaders due to their victory of the towering S. O. J.'s.

Moore's Co-op has been mostly idle, though they are still in a strong place. They had to go into an extra period to defeat the Cousins second team.

Three teams are definitely out of the final contest though they will participate in the Consolation tourney to be held along with the Championship tournament. These teams are Antlers, Farm B, and the Muskats. Four teams, Cousins I, S. O. J. I, Moore's Co-op, and Farm A, have a cinched place in the finals.

Bernice Clark, Groom; Nell Proctor, Amarillo; Rosemary Hanover, Goodland; Zua Gae Warner, Amarillo; Woodie Boston, Kress; John Willoughby, Texola, Okla.; William E. Garrett, Amarillo.

Twenty-four grade points is the maximum number that a student is allowed to make, and seventeen is the fewest number which will place him on the honor roll.

T. I. P. A.—

It may be a disease, but there is nothing insidious about it. Your best friends don't have to tell you. It all begins with an Urge. The Urge keeps mounting and mounting. Finally you can't stand it any longer, so you join a writers club. But that only makes it worse.

And the next thing you know you're appealing to the T. I. P. A. If the association can't help you, why you're lost, that's all. You have an advanced case of pernicious cacoths scribendi. You are a writer.

But remember, don't give up too soon. Get a grip on yourself. And don't wait too long to act. Sit down now and send the local committee a specimen of your typewriting.

But above all, don't worry!

NOTED—

revived interest in the classic ballet and restored it to its former high estate, but St. Denis and Duncan sought new forms of dance expression, or rather forms which—while centuries old—were utterly strange to Occidental eyes. More than any others of their nationality they awoke their countrymen to a fresh appreciation of the inherent beauties of the oldest of the arts.

To an extent unparalleled by any other American, Miss St. Denis has carried her rare and beautiful art into the most remote corners of the world. England, France, and Austria were prompt to acclaim her after her American debut and her success in Germany was such that she danced there for two solid years. Even the lands of the Orient—India, China, Japan, Siam, Burma, Java Straits Settlements, and Ceylon—have been forced to admit that as an interpreter of Oriental dances, she far excels their native artists in dances which had their origin in those far away countries.

Has Sense of Humor
"She possesses," says one of the eminent critics of today, "two traits that seem to distinguish American dancers particularly—a sense of character and a sense of humor. Everything that she does is not only a dance, but a portrait of a dancer, a small, clean-bitten etching in which not an essential is missing and not a detail is overstressed."

Miss St. Denis will find ample opportunity for the expression of these two traits in her lecture and in the following group of dances. Her feeling for characterization will have wide scope in the lovely measures of a Brahms waltz, as a ballerina of centuries long past in Angkor-Vat in her "Dance Cambodian," and as an East Indian woman in a native Nautch, danced to an arrangement of original Indian airs made by Alexander Alexay. Mr. Hively will give several solo numbers. The complete program will be as follows:
