BUFFALOES TO ENTER IN TEXAS AND RICE RELAYS COWBOY BAND WILL PLAY AT W. T. SUNDAY EVENING

SIMMONS BAND WILL BE HERE FOR FIRST TIME

Is the Official Band of U. C. V. and Abilene
Commercial Body.

HAS PLAYED MUCH
ON TOUR.

Concert Here Will be in College Auditorium
at Eight O'clock.

The Cowboy Band of Simmons University, appearing in the College auditorium Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, will be one of the musical treats of the season. The band has shown unusual musical ability, and the unique organization, and cowboy uniform is not to be duplicated anywhere.

Perhaps no other college organization in the United States has attracted attention throughout the country as has the Cowboy Band. Due to the picturesque uniform of the bandmen and the musical ability of the organization, the Simmons Band has been written up in newspapers from coast to coast, and has appeared in news reels time after time.

During the last four years, the band has been the official band of Abilene at all West Texas Chamber of Commerce Conventions. On all of these trips, the Cowboys received a great deal of notice throughout West Texas. When the band decided to make concert tours they came into note.

Renown came to the band when it made the trip to the United Confederate Veterans Reunion at Dallas in 1925. When the State department of the U. C. V. met in Abilene in the fall of the same year, the band was voted the official band of the U. C. V. of Texas. After numerous invitations from the officials of the Confederates, the band decided to make a trip to Birmingham, Alabama, May 1926, to attend the national reunion of the veterans. While in Birmingham the Cowboys received much comment throughout the South. As a result of a movement initiated in the convention by members of the Texas delegation, the Cowboy Band was elected the official band of the United Confederacy for life.

The music of the bandmen is of high type, and for the concert here will consist largely of classical numbers and religious songs played with the execution and expressiveness that has won fame for the band, and led to national recognition.

No admission charges are to be made, and the public is cordially invited to hear the Cowboy Band on its first appearance here. A large audience of students and townspeople are expected to be present Sunday evening.

Society Contests Will Not be Held

Being hard pressed for time, the Antlers forfeited to the Cousins the annual oratorical contest which was to have been held this week. The contest is an annual affair, being held at the end of the winter quarter. An unusual amount of interest and enthusiasm is displayed in these contests.

In the elimination contest last week J. B. Fowler was selected to represent the Cousins. However, since the Antlers have failed to put forth a contestant Mr. Fowler will get the decision by default.

Books Added to Memorial Shelf

"The Lone Scout of the Sky," by James E. West, has been added to the Robert Manning Osgood Memorial book shelf by Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Osgood.

Mr. West is a boy scout director and has written this book, which is the story of Charles A. Lindbergh, in a fascinating manner for the youth of America.

The memorial shelf now has about twenty-five books on it. All of them are very popular with the children. Some of them will be sent to the bindery in a few days.

Drum-Major

Y. P. KUHN

The Cowboys are coming! And with them comes Y. P. Kuhn, one of the best known drum-majors of the South.

"That snappy little drum-major of the Cowboy Band," is often spoken of as one of the best drum-majors in the South. He pulls stunts for the benefit of the on-lookers unheard of in the realm of drum-majordom. While the band was in Amarillo last year, "Major Kuhn" surprised the thousands of visitors in the city one afternoon by standing on his head on an office building on one of the main streets of the city.

COUSINS WIN SWEATERS IN CAGE TOURNEY

DEFEAT OUT-OF-STATERS BY TWO POINTS.

More Than 100 Men Take Part in 69 Games Played in Big Tournament Here.

Playing good basketball throughout a series that has no rival for excitement, the Cousins Literary Society basketball five won the school championship Saturday night by defeating the Out-of-State team, 28 to 26. In the semi-finals, the Cousins eliminated the Track team, 17 to 16, and the Out-of-State club defeated the Mavericks 17 to 11.

This was the first time in the history of W. T. that an intramural basketball program has been so extensive, and it was highly successful. More than 100 men took part in the sixty nine games played, and the rivalry was intense at all times, many games going to extra periods.

Joe McReynolds and David Lee were the outstanding men on the winning five. Joe's goal shooting was a feature of the Cousins' victory.

The winners will be awarded light-weight sweaters with appropriate monograms.

As a side attraction to the game Saturday night, President Hill and Coach Burton engaged in a friendly free-goal shooting contest. From reports Mr. Hill won from the man who is noted as a basketball authority, though no record was kept of the score.

Batchelder Reads In Chapel Program

C. W. Batchelder, of the department of public speaking, entertained the student body Saturday morning at the chapel hour with an excellent program which was enthusiastically received.

Following are the selections given by Mr. Batchelder: "Cyclopaedia," by Eugene Fields, a representation of an old Vermont; "The Auction of Hearts," a delightful love story; and "A Negro Baptism," a negro sketch.

SCHOLARSHIP SOCIETY

Dr. Nolle, president of the Scholarship Societies of the South, requests that all members of the L. G. A. Chapter wishing shingles report at once to the local sponsor. A meeting of the society is called for Tuesday evening, March 13, from 6:45 to 7:30 in room 104.

Other matters of business will be discussed.

W. T. MEN ARE VICTORS OVER TEXAN SQUAD

ECKHARDT'S NINE SHOW UP TO ADVANTAGE.

Teams Meet Again Wednesday in Texan Park; Tight Game
is Anticipated.

Coach Oscar Eckhardt's Buffalo baseball team out-slugged the Amarillo Texans in a free-slugging contest at Texan Park in Amarillo Saturday afternoon, and won, 9 to 8, both teams using three pitchers. Wells, Elkins, and Strain pitched for the Buffaloes, with Strain showing the most early season stuff. Wells and Elkins were rather wild at times but settled down and pitched good ball after getting over the excitement. The Buffaloes displayed a tendency toward heavy hitting and got next to Freeman, a Western League veteran in the closing innings for several runs.

Wednesday afternoon the Buffaloes meet the Texans again at Amarillo, but they will likely face many more of the regular Texan squad and will find the going much stiffer than it was Saturday.

Student Council Makes Schedule

Sets Time and Place for Organizations Holding Meetings
at College.

Published in this issue of The Prairie will be found a schedule made up by the Students Council for the meetings of the various organizations that hold their sessions in the administration building. The Council has worked on the schedule during the past quarter and has evolved a workable program which it is hoped will eliminate much of the confusion which has existed as to the time and place of the meetings of the various organizations.

The Council, made up of the representatives of the various organizations, hopes to facilitate the holding of club meetings in this manner. The schedule will be published in two consecutive issues of The Prairie.

Open Recital is Given at Randall

Students of Department of Public Speaking Appear in Good Program.

Students of the department of public speaking gave an open recital Thursday evening at Randall Hall. All the numbers given were prepared under the direction of either Miss Brown or Mr. Batchelder. The program follows:

A Little Change for Edward (Mary Stewart Cutting)—Vida Savage.

The Story of Patsey (Kate Douglas Wiggin)—Leone Roffey.

Billy Keeps a Secret (Anonymous)—Gladys Speer.

Poems (Selected)—Nannie Mae Whittenburg.

The Transfiguration of Miss Philura (Florence Kingsley)—Montie Draper.

Group of Child Poems (Selected)—Marie Stalcup.

At the Matinee (Anonymous)—Bessie Thomas.

The Lie (Annie Hamilton Donnell)—Marjorie Walters.

Orchard is Pruned By Aggie Students

The orchard on the T-Ancor ranch has been pruned recently by the members of the class in Agriculture 20-w. The principles of pruning trees were brought into practice, with the result that the orchard now shows a considerable improvement in appearance. This is the second project to be carried out on the T-Ancor ranch by this class.

Pearl Davis, who is teaching at Silverton this year, visited at the college last week. Miss Davis entered a number of pupils in the musical contest which was held at Amarillo last week.

Simmons University Cowboy Band

The famous Cowboy Band of Simmons University which plays here Sunday evening. This band is the official band of the United Confederate veterans for life, and the inauguration band of Governor Moody. In the sacred music concert it presents to Canyon, the band is at its best, and the occasion promises to be one of the musical treats of the season.

Buffalo Cagers End Successful Campaign With a Total of 837 Points Scored in 23 Contests

Bufs Place on All-T.I.A.A. Team

In recognition of the prowess of the Buffalo basketball five, sports editors of the state have selected two of the Buffalo regulars for the first All-T. I. A. A. team and two of the other three for the second team. The fifth man received honorable mention as an outstanding player. Lowes and Gerald were put on as center and guard respectively, while Crump and Hale were put on the second team at guard and forward. Ward received honorable mention.

Lowes was the most popular man with the coaches, receiving seven of the nine votes for the position at center. Gerald won his position by a comfortable margin.

Fraternity Group Gives Program at Amarillo School

Tuesday morning the Fraternity Council had charge of the chapel program in the senior high school auditorium at Amarillo. Gordon Beek gave an introductory talk and Miss Marie Stalcup spoke on the Detroit Convention.

A quartette composed of Miss Stalcup, Mrs. White, Emmitt Smith, and Noel Gollehon, with Miss Lorna Stock as accompanist, sang "O' Jesus, Thou Art Stand-Gilbert, Doris Louder, Bessie Thomas, Dalton Ford, Wayne Eubanks, and Reeves Donnell.

After a dramatic sketch by the director, Miss Bessie Thomas, "The Color Line," the play which was featured at W. T. in chapel February 18, was presented. The play received an enthusiastic reception by the students and faculty. The members of the cast were: Harriet

GRADUATES OF W. T. ASKED TO SEND PICTURES

GROUP PICTURES OF GRADS
BEING MADE.

Classes of '20 and '25 Have Completed Their Groups; Others
Nearing Completion.

Pictures of all W. T. graduates have been requested by President Hill in an effort to compose a group picture of each graduating class which will be framed and hung in the administration building.

Two classes, those of 1920 and 1925, have completed their groups. The class of 1920 had only four members. That of 1919 was the first group to receive degrees from this institution. Both B. A. and B. S. degrees were issued at this time. There were three members of this class, namely: Miss Tennessee Malone, Miss Edith Eakman, and Miss Esther Mayfield. Miss Malone is the chief librarian of West Texas State Teachers College; Miss Eakman is teaching at Cleburne, Texas; and Miss Mayfield at Los Angeles, California. Pictures of Sarah and Ruth Thompson, 1921 graduates, were recently received. Ruth Thompson is now in a seminary at Fort Worth.

This marks the ninth year of the issuance of degrees from the West Texas State Teachers College. 279 degrees have been issued in the eight preceding years. 87 degrees were issued to the class of '27 in comparison to the three degrees issued in 1919.

Other group pictures are nearing completion. The class of '28 is urged to see that all of their pictures are in so that no delay will be caused in composing the group and framing the picture.

C. A. Murray Speaks at Assembly Hour

"Why Study Mathematics?" is Subject Taken by Instructor in Chapel Talk.

"Why Study Mathematics?" was the subject treated by Professor C. A. Murray in chapel last Tuesday morning.

In the discussion Mr. Murray set down ten practical and cultural reasons for studying mathematics and explained them.

The reasons were: 1. Mathematics is an old subject. 2. The status of mathematics is such as to make time spent on it worth while. The civilization of today is of such a nature as to force on the race a knowledge of mathematics. 3. It is a difficult subject. 4. It is a graded study. The work begins simply and advances gradually. 5. It develops certain habits such as neatness, order, concentration, and retention. 6. It necessitates the solution of problems. 7. It opens the door to many other subjects. 8. It forms a basis for success in many vocations. 9. It insures a change from one field to another. 10. It offers the opportunity for one to come in contact with undebatable truths.

Building Being Moved to Ranch

The building formerly used by the Agricultural Department as a dairy house is being moved this week to the T-Ancor ranch. It will be converted into a residence for the keeper. The location of this residence is such that it overlooks a considerable part of the farm, as well as being convenient to the center of operations. When completed this building, measuring twenty-seven by twenty-nine feet, will add considerably to the appearance of the T-Ancor ranch. The moving of the farm equipment makes vacant that part of the college campus formerly used by the department of Agriculture as its farm.

Captain and Mrs. Charles W. Mays of Corsicana are expected in Canyon today or tomorrow. Mrs. Mays was formerly Fay Lockhart.

President J. A. Hill attended a Rotary meeting at Amarillo Thursday afternoon.

BURTON'S SQUAD WILL COMPETE IN BIG EVENTS

Nation's Best Will Take Part in Notable
Texas Meets.

BUFFALOES ARE IN GOOD SHAPE.

W. T. Teams Are to be in the Half Mile, Mile, and Medley.

Soon after the opening of the spring term Coach Burton will leave with eight men for Austin and Houston to participate in the Texas and Rice Relays, to be held in the respective cities on March 23 and 24 respectively. Some twenty men have spent several weeks getting into track shape for the trip and it is expected that the Buffalo tracksters will be able to more than hold their own with the stars assembled at the two meets.

For the benefit of those who know little of the nature of the Relays some idea may be had from the following: The Texas Relays, held this year for the fourth time, is the major track event of the South and one of the greatest of the nation. Stars from the greatest schools of the nation compete in them for track honors, such schools as Notre Dame University, Missouri University, Iowa State, Kansas University, Oklahoma University, Georgetown University, and many others from Texas and other states taking part. Last year the feature of the meet at Texas was the 86-mile marathon run by a group of Mexico Indians, the course being from San Antonio to Austin, and the race lasting all day.

Mr. Burton will enter a team in the half-mile relay in which each man runs 220 yards, the mile relay in which each man runs a quarter mile, and the medley, one man running 440 yards, two men running 220 yards each, and the anchor man running 880 yards. Bagwell, Keith, Porter, Gee, Gamel, Bennett, Guill, and Dixon, along with two or three new men, will constitute the group from which Coach Burton will pick the team to represent West Texas in the relays. Bennett, Keith, Gee, and Dixon will likely make up a half-mile team that will be hard to beat.

Important Speaker to Appear Before Sociology Group

Director of Commission on Inter-Racial Co-operation to Speak
Wednesday Night.

That Miss Jessie Daniel Ames, director of the Texas Commission on Inter-Racial Co-operation, will speak to the local sociological society Wednesday evening at 7:30 is the announcement made by J. L. Duflot, head of the department of sociology.

Miss Ames has made a special study of her subject, and is eminently well-qualified to lecture upon it. She comes from Georgetown, Texas. Her appearance here will be one of a number of lectures she is giving on her tour of the higher educational institutions of West and North Texas.

Miss Ames comes here at the special request of Mr. Duflot. It is expected that a large group of students and faculty members will be out to hear her talk. Membership in the sociological society is not pre-requisite to attendance at the meeting. Everyone is invited. The lecture will be from 7:30 to 8:30.

Mrs. Ethel Gray Shaw, of the faculty of W. T., has been called to Dallas by the illness and death of her father.

Josephine Thurman, who is teaching in Amarillo this year, visited at the college last week end.

Mrs. M. B. Thomas of Plainview, formerly Louise Alvord, spent the week end in Canyon. She attended the Monzingo-Klock wedding in Amarillo Saturday morning.

THE AIM OF A COLLEGE

"The aim of a college is just as definite as that of any professional school. That aim is to develop the student with respect to all his capacities into a mature, symmetrical, well-balanced person, in full possession of all his powers, physical, social, mental, and spiritual, with an intelligent insight into the needs and problems of the present," says the dean of an Eastern college.

This, while from every student, from every campus, comes the cry for time—more time. In the rush and hurry of college life, the student begs to know how he can come into full possession of any power.

He rushes from one class to another. As soon as the door is closed on one class room, he immediately dismisses all thoughts of it, and hurries on to another. An hour and a half or two hours is allotted for each class study, and at no other time must that subject be reflected upon.

At the end of the year the student has a vast accumulation of facts. But he has been so busy accumulating these facts that he has had no time to associate them with his own practical experiences. Despite the psychological law of association, his knowledge in one course bears no relation to his other courses. Each course is a distinct set of facts. He has been so busy learning them that he has had no time to understand them.

The apparent solution, it seems, lies with the student himself. He needs to think. He needs to cease so much doing, and spend more time being. He needs to think out the relation of things, and become confirmed in his own beliefs. He needs "the strength and courage of his own convictions that comes from reflecting and developing one's own personality."

Then the student may hope to have received the full benefit of college—to be developed into a "mature, symmetrical, well-balanced person in full possession of his powers."—The Lass-O.

"BATTLES OF CULTURE"

We read that Yale has challenged Harvard to a "battle of culture." Every once in a while something happens to refute the popular fallacy that college students think of nothing but athletic and social activities. Not long ago, students on this campus packed the men's gym to hear Bertrand Russell speak. Thus, from time to time, there are encouraging flashes of intellectual interest among college students. The plan advanced in the East, however, is unique.

A series of competitive examinations covering each department of study is proposed. The teams representing each school are not to be selected until just prior to their meeting; so that special individual preparation for the examinations will be eliminated. Medals and money prizes are suggested, and a fund has already been donated at Harvard to promote the plan.

Although such a scheme is open to several criticisms, and will no doubt draw many an amused smile from those who are blind and deaf to the value of culture, it is worthy of attention. Perhaps it will prove to be but the germ of later ideas which will stimulate true educational interest. Perhaps it will start other such plans with the result that scholastic competitions will attain a prominent place in the spotlight. Of course, it is difficult to conceive of a time when thousands of spectators will gather in a stadium to cheer for the old alma mater in its annual English literature meet with the rival university. But scholarship is, by the very nature of its appeal, somewhat handicapped by lack of publicity, and contests of the sort proposed between Yale and Harvard may do much to preach the gospel of learning. — Wisconsin Cardinal.

Timidity Unknown in This Class in Public Speaking

C. W. Batchelder, instructor in public speaking, has created a very interesting atmosphere in his classes in public speaking. In one class, in particular, is interest especially well-developed.

As a result of the methods followed, the student's desire to speak without being called upon is so great that he would almost fight to get on the platform. In case of the absence of the instructor, the class proceeds without him, hearing the speeches that the class is working on.

Mr. Batchelder has criticized each person individually in his freshman class, and each person works to overcome his particular problem.

The spirit of fellowship is well-developed. The students have forgotten their timidity by applying some severe criticism along with a good laugh. The self-conscious feeling has been done away with.

Home Ec Students See Demonstration

A clothing class of the training school recently went to the Terry Beauty Shop where Mrs. Terry gave them a demonstration on how to care for the hair and the complexion in order that each girl may look her best. The girls were interested in seeing permanent waving and other demonstrations given to members of the class. Mrs. Terry explained the reasons for certain methods and the use of certain cosmetics.

Then only last week Jennie Osborne, practice teacher in the foods class, eclipsed all previous attempts to be practical when she presented the class with mixing spoons and small cans of baking powder for their "Hope Chests." These were sent her by a baking powder company.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mrs. Jessie Daniel Ames, director of the Texas Commission on Inter-Racial Co-operation, will speak Wednesday evening at 7:30 to the Sociology Club in Room 211.

This is an opportunity for all students interested in the subject of inter-racial relations to hear a person who has made a special study of these matters. Mrs. Ames comes to us from Georgetown, Texas. She is making a tour of colleges and universities in West and North Texas at the special request of Mr. Dufflot. We are fortunate in having her visit this college and we trust that the students will take advantage of this opportunity and hear her Wednesday evening.

TUNING IN With West Texas Exes Everywhere.

W. T. EXES AT AUSTIN HAVE PICNIC

Ex-students of W. T. who are now in attendance at the University of Texas, or who are making their home in Austin, held a picnic recently at Barton Springs, near Austin. Thirty-four Canyon people were present at the affair, and there were sixteen other W. T. exes in the University who were unable to attend. Jeff D. Smith was master of ceremonies.

Those present: Mr. and Mrs. J. Davis Hill, Mrs. Swafford and Allen and Garvice Swafford, Mattie Lee Boyd, N. E. Nelson, B. L. Parker, John B. Overall, Charles N. Tunnell, Robert Dyvel Kirk, Mrs. Charles N. Tunnell, J. T. Buckholtz, Jeff D. Smith, Mrs. Tommie Montfort, Frank Stafford, Hobart Lewis, Cleo Powell, Emma Jean Donald, Jessie Barber, Harold Shanklin, Wallace Hazlewood, Angie Smith, Olive T. Buckholtz, W. L. Vaughn, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Reid and John and Edwin Reid, and J. F. Mead.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Jenkins were visiting in Austin and attended the affair.

W. T. EXES COACH WINNING CLUB WORKERS

Girl club workers who carried on their work under the direction of Viola Jones and Myrtle Miller, W. T. graduates and members of the Lloyd Green Allen Scholarship Society, will represent the home demonstration girls of Texas at the National 4-H Club Encampment next June, when they will make trips to Washington with all expenses paid. This is the recent announcement of Miss Mildred Horton, state home demonstration agent, Extension Service A. & M. College of Texas.

Miss Edith Reneau, of Shamrock, Wheeler County, one of the winners who will make the trip, did her work under Miss Viola Jones, who is home demonstration agent of Wheeler county. Miss Maurine McNatt, who lives near Greenville, in Hunt county, is the other winner. She did her work under the direction of Miss Myrtle Miller, home demonstration agent of that county.

The winners were selected on the basis of their records in home demonstration work. Expenses of their trip to the Washington meeting will be financed by the Texas farm boys and girls sandwich stand to be operated at the Farmers' Short Course at A. & M. this summer.

The records of the girls show large profits made through work started with very small capital. Miss McNatt, for example, brought four years of club work to a close with a profit of $1994.93 from half a dozen projects.

Both Miss Miller and Miss Jones are well known at W. T. and have many friends here who will be interested to know of the success their work is meeting with.

The following letter was recently received at W. T. from an ex-student who is this year attending the Colorado State Teachers College at Greeley:

"I've just finished reading 'The Prairie,' and it made me feel so close to W. T. that I wanted to talk to someone there right away.

This college is very nice in all respects. We have had an ideal winter except for two or three cold spells, during which I almost froze. However, I'm becoming acclimated, I think, for I don't mind the cold very much now.

I like this Teachers College pretty well, but still I should like to be in Canyon, for I don't think any school will ever mean as much to me as W. T. does.

The English department here is wonderful. They require so much more of one's major subject here than in Canyon; I shall have over seventy hours of English when I get through. I took a most interesting course in contemporary history last summer and another in international relations last fall.

I was elected to Kappa Delta Pi not long ago. I was thrilled over it, because that has been my ambition ever since I came here. I have made pretty good grades here; I don't think the standards of scholarship are a bit higher than in W. T.

There are quite a few good things to attend here in the line of plays, concerts, etc. We even have a good speaker at assembly once in a blue moon! And we have a wonderful library. Really, I've done more reading in the past nine months than in the five preceding years.

I was so shocked and grieved to hear of Mrs. Lang's death. It does not seem possible that she is gone. She was such an inspiring teacher. Goodness! these teachers do mean a lot in some people's lives. That is the chief incentive for my aspiring to be one.

The following is an extract from a letter received here recently from J. C. Hays, an ex-student of W. T. who is teaching in Arizona:

Even though I am some distance away, I have not forgotten my friends and Alma Mater of Canyon. Incidentally, I am in a wonderland and a wonderful state. I am teaching history in a high school of three thousand boys and girls. I enjoy my work very much.

If I am not asking too much please mention my name to my teacher friends. I hold in my memory happy recollections of them all.

I am truly your friend,
J. C. Hays.

Hale and Gamel Given Tokens by W. T. Pep Squads

As a symbol of the appreciation of W. T. for their four years of participation in basketball, Alex Hale and Oscar Gamel were recently presented bill folds by members of the college pep squads, the Red Men and the Pi Omegas.

The Red Men presented their gift to Hale between halves of the second game with the Lumberjacks, while the Pi Omegas made the presentation to Gamel in chapel Tuesday.

The men have served the college well on the basketball court, and are eminently deserving of the appreciation given them.

Batchelder Acts as Critic Judge

Mr. C. W. Batchelder recently served as judge in two out-of-town debates.

He was critic judge in a debate which was held at Lubbock between McMurry College and Tech on the question which has been debated by the local team a number of times. McMurry College won the debate. The other debate was in Amarillo High School to determine the winner of the Lions Club Trophy and decide who would enter in the Interscholastic League meet which is to be held here in April.

The W. T. debating teams enter in four more debates this year; three of which will be held at home.

Books Given to Rent Collection

Ford's "The Last Post" and Christopher Morley's "Thunder on the Left," were recently contributed to the rent collection in the library by Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Osgood.

This makes a total of fourteen books in the collection. It is the plan to buy more books for the collection with the rent money which is obtained. "Death Comes to the Archbishop," by Willa Cather, has already been ordered by this means.

MRS. REEVES AND ANN MANSSELL ENTERTAIN

Mrs. T. V. Reeves and Ann Manssell entertained a group of college girls with an informal breakfast Sunday morning at 8:15 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Reeves.

Those who were guests at the affair: Thelma Brummett, Ruth Handley, Elizabeth Cherry, Price Moorman, Mrs. Claudieola Brown, Laura Christopher, Marie Miles, Inez Allen, Alice Payne, Flora Dorris, Fern Bowman, and Lillian Fogarty.

SENIORS TO ENTERTAIN JUNIORS

Plans are being made by the Senior Class for a St. Patrick's Day party to be given to the members of the Junior Class on March 17, at Cousins Hall.

St. Patrick's color scheme will be carried out in the favors, decorations, and refreshments. Bridge and forty-two will be the entertainment of the evening.

Final examinations will be over, and no one need have any worries about themes that they should be at home writing or any other trivial source of annoyance.

This will be the last time this year for the members of the class of '28 to entertain their fellow-students.

All Juniors and Seniors are urged to come out and spend an enjoyable evening together.

THELMA KLOCK IS GIVEN SHOWER

Miss Thelma Klock, whose marriage to Mr. Leslie Monzingo was announced for Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, was the charming honoree when Circle 7 of the First Baptist church of Amarillo met at the home of Mrs. C. E. Blue, 802 Carolina, for their regular business meeting and to pay homage to the first bride within the circle.

On the arrival of Miss Klock, who had been invited to read for the members, Mrs. A. B. Hays in an appropriate reading, announced the approach of Daniel Cupid. Dainty Mary Jean Burkhalter, wearing a large pink bow and carrying a bow and arrow, was the lovely little cupid who drew a sled filled with lovely gifts to the honoree.

A miniature chancel with tiny doll bride and groom approaching an altar, centered the refreshment table and the bridal motifs were carried out in pink and white, the honoree's chosen colors, in all the appointments of the refreshment plates.

Miss Klock gave several readings and Mrs. Van Higgins led the devotional.

Miss Klock is an ex-student of W. T. S. T. C. She was last a student in the college in the summer of '27.—Amarillo Daily News.

Y. W. NOMINATIONS ARE MADE

The virtuous, kind, and helpful woman was the thought of the scripture lesson read by Esther Reeve at Y. W. C. A. last Wednesday afternoon.

A piano solo by Lenore Bruce and a vocal quartette were other features of the meeting. A report of the budget committee was made which was accepted by the members. The nominating committee reported on nominations for officers. These nominees will be voted on March 13. Each girl in college and each faculty member is entitled to one vote.

HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS PLAN COMMENCEMENT

Preparation for the high school commencement week will be made by a committee appointed in a class meeting held Thursday morning. All seniors who have not ordered rings, invitations, and caps and gowns are requested to do so at once, since an extra charge will be made if ordering is longer delayed.

FRIENDSHIP CLASS HAS SOCIAL AFFAIR

The Friendship Class of the Methodist Sunday School held its annual social affair recently at the home of its teacher, Miss Angie Debo.

The freshman color scheme was carried out in all the decorations. Green and white bows and ribbons streamed from the windows and furniture.

Montie Rockwell directed the games. Many games were played among them, "Forced Generosity," and "This is My Nose." Various contests were participated in by the group during the evening.

HIGH SCHOOL JUNIORS GIVEN ENTERTAINMENT

The junior class of the W. T. high school was entertained Monday evening, March 5, with a party given at the home of Miss Ritchie, by Miss Ritchie and Miss Jewell Cowan. The Saint Patrick's Day theme was carried out.

Games were played, and stories told, the feature of the evening's entertainment being the telling of some Irish stories by Miss M. Moss Richardson.

COMES CLUB ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The "comites" of the Comes Club, the high school organization for the students of Latin, met Saturday to choose officers for the spring quarter. Dorothy Harris being elected president. Miss Harris recently won first place in the Latin essay contest held here.

Other officers elected were: Mary Alice Weaver, vice-president; Frances Holman, secretary-treasurer; Frances Usery, social committee chairman; and Verda Lee Bloodworth, Prairie reporter. Miss Greer, sponsor of the organization, was given power to choose members of a program committee before each regular meeting of the club to prepare some entertainment for it.

The officers who served during this quarter were praised for their efficient work. Plans were made for the spring term. Plans for a farewell party for Martha Nell Lang were discussed. The party will be held at the Usery home.

SEMINES DISCUSS FILM INDUSTRY

"The Moving Picture Industry" was the topic of discussion at the regular meeting of the Sesame Literary Society, Thursday evening. Following the reading of the devotional by Clara Brown, Myrtle Mae Scales discussed the development of the moving picture industry in America.

There will be no meeting of the Sesame Literary Society next week. Thursday night, 7:15 o'clock has been set as the time for the regular meetings of the society next quarter. All members are urged to be present at each meeting. Officers for the spring quarter will be elected at the regular meeting of the society March 22.

Student Choir to Present Programs

The Methodist Student Choir is sponsoring two musical programs which will be given at the Methodist Church in the near future. Both programs have in them college students of all denominations represented in Canyon. Miss Matie Mae Swisher is acting as director.

"The Crucifixion" will be very effectively given. Nearly fifty college students will be used in the program. A member of the faculty of the Amarillo College of Music is to sing. The students have been requested to bring the program to Amarillo.

The next attraction will be a colonial tea, with the characters dressed in colonial costumes.

SURVEY MADE OF W. T.'s 1927 STUDENT BODY

323 CONTINUING WORK IN CANYON.

Statistics Show Present Location of Nearly All of Last Year's Student Body.

J. A. Hill, President of the West Texas State Teachers College has recently had completed a study of the students who attended the college during the 1926-27 session, and of the 752 students of full college rank it was possible to find the present location of 716.

Of this number 323 are continuing their college work at Canyon, while 219 are teaching in the schools of Texas. Forty-five are attending school elsewhere, five of these being members of the 1927 class who are doing graduate work. Of these five, three are working in Universities under scholarships, one has been given an important office of the university where he is studying journalism and the fifth is doing graduate work in history.

Freshmen Marry First

In this study it was found that out of the 195 freshmen who could be found, 15 have married. Thirteen sophomores have married, but in the junior and senior classes only four have fallen victims of Cupid.

Forty-five students, thirty-three of them freshmen of last year are staying at home, having either abandoned the idea of going to college, or staying out to earn money to continue their work. One boy from the north Plains reported that he has 350 acres of wheat which is looking fine, and that he will return to Canyon in the fall of 1928.

One freshman boy felt the call of the sea and has joined the navy. Two seniors of '28 are doing home demonstration work. There have been two deaths in the ranks, one a senior and the other a sophomore.

Of the total number 33 per cent are serving the State through the schools.

GORDON LANG AND FAMILY LEAVE FOR CAMDEN, OHIO

Reverend Gordon Lang and children, Martha Nell and Archibald, leave today for Camden, Ohio, where they will make their home. Mr. Lang is taking charge of a pastorate there. Mrs. Watkins, grandmother of the children, is returning to her home.

Mrs. Kingsburg, who was formerly of Texline but comes here from Tulsa, Oklahoma, has leased the home of Mr. Lang and plans to conduct it under the same plan under which it has been operated.

PRAIRIE WILL NOT APPEAR NEXT WEEK

Due to the fact that final examinations come the latter part of this week there will be no issue of The Prairie next Tuesday. This is done in accordance with the usual policy of the student newspaper of releasing the staff members for the final days of the quarter, so that they may round out the term's work in good fashion.

The next appearance of The Prairie will be March 27. In the meantime—may the Fates be kind to you.

High School Home Economics Group to Sponsor Play

"Rose Marie," an extremely popular musical comedy, will be sponsored by the training school home economics club Monday night, March 19. "Rose Marie" has played in such cities as New York and Chicago for several years, and made a definite name for itself early after its appearance. It is the western romance which has given to the world the well-known, beautiful songs, "Indian Love Call" and "Rose Marie." This is only one of a number of things which the club is doing in an effort to raise money to send two members of their class as delegates to the San Antonio meeting in April.

In a recent meeting of the club it was re-christened and now bears the title of "Little Sisters."

High School Teams Clash in Debate

The debating team of the public speaking club in the training school of the college lost a debate to the debating team of Canyon High School last Thursday. Both teams are coached by college men; Carl Periman coaches the training school team and Darris Cheyne the high school team.

The question was: Resolved, that student self-government should be adopted in all Texas high schools. The high school representatives discussed the affirmative with the training school team taking the negative. Mr. Batchelder rendered a critic judge decision.

These two teams will meet again next Tuesday at the high school building. At this time they will take opposite sides to those defended at this debate and discuss the same question. These debates are of a series of debates which will be held between these two teams.

Alice Short, who has been in school here for the past two quarters, has accepted a position to teach at Kress, Texas. She has completed the work for her degree.

Article by Sheffy in 'The Cattleman'

In the March issue of "The Cattleman," there appears a very interesting article by Mr. L. F. Sheffy, head of the Department of History, dealing with the history of pure bred cattle in the Southwest.

In this article Mr. Sheffy shows how pure bred cattle were introduced from England in the early part of the 19th century. He gives a detailed history of the development of the different breeds of cattle.

According to his article, following the Civil War the Great Southwest was cleared of the buffalo, this making possible the establishing of ranches. These ranchmen ran the Spanish cattle. In the 70's and 80's the pure bred Hereford, Shorthorn, and Polled Angus were introduced on these ranches. In the experiments conducted by ranchmen the Hereford cattle proved to be best adapted to range conditions, and they are still considered the best adapted to the ranges of the Southwest.

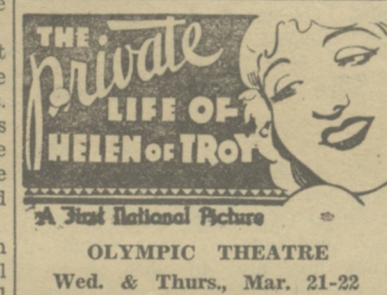

Dramatics Club Sees Play Given

At the regular meeting of the Dramatics Club Wednesday at 3:30, "Christmas Chimes" a comedy by Margaret Cameron was presented.

The play was directed by Zella Mae Walser, and the cast was as follows: Joe Terrill, a business man, played by John Stapleton; Gladys Terrill, his wife, played by Leone Roffey; Ted Owens, Eurith Compton; and Dolly Wakelee, Lulu Mae Irons.

At the meeting of the Club Thursday at 3:30, no play was presented, but some important stage business was worked out by Miss Brown with the assistance of the members of the Junior Club.

Senator J. W. Reid returned Tuesday from a short visit with his family in Austin.

The Familiar Essay

Unlike the formal essay, which may be biographical, moral, critical, philosophical, or informative, and which has a definite objective methodically carried out, the informal, or familiar essay tends to progress in an easy, personal style, and has for its subject matter, the fruits of reflection and observation.

Because of the intimacy that is manifested between the reader and the writer, this form of writing is often called the "familiar essay."
It is also called the "personal essay" because of the personal element the writer reveals and it is in this form of writing that he may chat about himself without feeling that the world resents his extended use of "I." If he can talk without allowing an egotistical element to enter, and if he can honestly reveal himself to the reader—what he is and what he thinks—he has created a piece of artistic writing which people will enjoy reading.

The familiar essay demands the revelation of the writer's personality, which can be detected in his originality of thought and individuality of expression. Thus, the writer must make his essay informal and conversational in tone. There need not be a close adherence to structure, as in the formal essay, but there must be unity of a kind. The writer is allowed to "wander," to make allusions, to cite illustrations, but throughout there must be evidence of a unity. This unity is a mood to which all digressions and excursions must contribute. There must be this central theme, expressed informally, which the writer gives evidence of following.

In conclusion, since the essay is to be read for enjoyment, it should be easy to read, and should concern pleasant and interesting subjects. It must be entertaining and pleasant to remember.

The Great Unknown

Thelma Potect

She always reminded me of a great white star that I often see in the west, when the sky is a very deep blue. I have wondered about her, and in past years I have thought I understood. There was an attraction about her that I could not name; nobody could name it, and it was always just beyond and out of reach. Many times I almost solved the problem. "Her personality," I thought,
"is an adorable mixture of love and faith and strength. She loves and is loved; she trusts and is trusted; and she is very strong,
with a magnetic, appealing strength."

She was my pal. We laughed and loved and cried together, and to me she seemed a part of all that I wanted and all that was denied me of life. "But," I thought, trying vainly to describe her to myself; "there are many girls like that. What sets her apart? Why does she seem to understand everything that puzzles me, and why is there that strange sorrow and infinite pity that I feel but cannot define? I remember the prairie, the white silence of a prairie bathed in moonlight, and that one great star in the west. She reminds me still of something intangible, something inscrutable, as in the evening between sunset and night there is a whisper in the wind that suggests a picture of wide grey eyes and gentle hands. She is a part of the great unknown.

I know that I am forgetting her as other people knew her. I can not see her as the girl who lived so matter-of-factly and who was the center of our town's gay young life. They all loved her; perhaps they never knew why. But she was my pal, and I knew why I loved her after she had slipped away into the vast mystery of eternity. The reason was not her strange sweetness, nor her rare sympathy with all humanity; it was that part of her that I still know. The fringe of a sunset cloud, the bending of brown grass in the wind, the openness and range of the prairie where she lives! It is all vaguely suggestive.
She is a part of the great unknown.

Nature's Contemplation

Ruby Mae Menefee

With one limb caught under a great solid rock, I, like Floyd Collins, lie helpless beneath the weight. My resting place, however, is not a tomb in a sand-cave but a sandy bed beneath the light-house and the star-lit sky.

In my contemplative moments I feel alone, and there is within me a feeling of bitterness toward the Creator for having given me such a lowly bed. Why was I not given a position nearer the heavens like that of the lighthouse? Suddenly my meditation is ended by a large rock which comes crashing down from the cliff overhead. Frightened, yet unable to move, I breathe
a sigh of relief when the rock takes its place about two feet to my right. Then for hours I spend my leisure moments admiring the piece of furniture that God has sent down to me.

With my thought turned from the lighthouse and the sky above to the earth around me, I begin to realize the significance of my abode. For the first time I became aware of the presence of a living Creature, perched in the evergreen near my bed. His whistling, accompanied by the constant drip of the spring in the hillside, furnishes music for me in my lonely hours.

Of times I am surrounded by hunters or picnickers; then I feel prouder of my lowly position.
Lovers occasionally stop near me to renew their vows of love and declare how wonderful it would be to sit there on the boulder beside me forever. After they have passed on, I enter again into my pensive mood. I see the world around me in a different light, and I no longer envy the light-house its position, but I feel a sense of pity for one who has to remain always so far above the world of human beings. So far above the earth that no man can scale its heights; yet so far beneath the sky, the lighthouse must feel an exclusiveness and a lonesomeness that no one else has ever felt. It cannot share the hunters' joy, the lovers' secrets, nor even listen to the music of the bird and the spring. Up there new surroundings cannot be added; instead old ones are taken away and added to my place beneath.

Although I am only a log with one limb caught beneath a great rock in the bottom of the canyons, I am content with my lowly bed. As I look out toward the great lighthouse, which men admire, I shall bear the deepest feeling of pity. Watching its lowly form wear away and come down to abide with me beneath the cliffs and evergreens, I shall thank the Creator for having given me such a wonderful resting place.
