

Gaynelle Douglas Crowned Queen

Capacity Crowd Sees
Brilliant Spectacle in Auditorium Friday Nite

With all the fanfare and pageantry of a Hollywood premier, Gaynelle Douglas, attractive titian-haired co-ed, was crowned 1939 personality queen of West Texas State Friday night before a crowd which filled the main auditorium of the Administration Building.

College beauties preceded the queen in the stately procession down the aisle to the platform as Marjorie Wilkinson played the processional. The approach of the queen and her court was heralded by Roberta Turner and Ernestine Ballard. Leading the procession was Trula Mae Phegley, beauty queen, escorted by Bill Robertson. The queen of the West Texas State gridiron, Ann Palmeyer, followed with her escort Foster Watkins. Following the attendants came the very young Miss Sue Sharp, flower girl, and Master Chandler Foster, crown bearer.

Close behind the attendants came the queen whose white and gold satin train was carried by Virginia and Mary McGowan, twins from Anton.

Prof. F. E. Savage placed the crown on the queen as she mounted the raised platform to the throne.

Lawrence McBee, speech student from Pampa, was master of ceremonies at a program presented for the queen. The program included a vocal solo by LaNelle Scheihagen of Hereford followed by a toe dance by Agnes Rose Latson of Amarillo. Miss Frances Uesery, of the music department, gave a piano solo. Weldon Bright led the audience in singing Alma Mater.

Spectators remained standing as the queen and her court departed, while Miss Wilkinson played the recessional.

A dance given in honor of the queen followed in the ball room of Cousins Hall.

The coronation was sponsored by the Inter-Club Council with Gamma Phi sorority in charge of decorations and the program.

Conservation Course To Bring Experts From Many Fields

Many federal, state, and college experts are scheduled to speak during the 6-week course in conservation of natural resources here beginning June 7.

Conservation of human resources will be studied during the first part of the course. The State Health Department will send speakers. Extension Service agents will follow with lectures on wildlife conservation, joined by representatives of the State Game, Fish and Oyster Commission. Conservation of water resources will be discussed by John W. Pritchett of the State Board of Water Engineers. Col. Ernest O. Thompson of the Texas Railroad Commission will talk on "An Administrator's View on Proration and Conservation of Oil and Gas."

Dr. John W. Finch of the U. S. Bureau of Mines will lecture on "Minerals and Civilization." H. H. Fennell, regional conservator in Region 6 at Amarillo, will introduce the subject of soil and water conservation on June 24. Several experts on his staff will discuss conservation.

Dr. H. N. Wheeler, chief lecturer of the U. S. Forest Service, will open the subject of forest conservation, and will be followed by other federal and state experts.

Flood control and water conservation will be discussed in several lectures prior to the close of the course July 15.

All lectures will be open to the public. Representatives of many groups in this territory are being invited to coordinate the course with their own programs. College credit will be given those eligible to receive it. Dean R. P. Jarrett is in general charge of the course.

Miss Lois Waggoner, '36, is home management supervisor of the PSA at Memphis.

SENIOR CLASS WILL MEET THURSDAY

The meeting of the Senior Class, scheduled for last Thursday, will be held Thursday in Room 211. Robert Orton, senior president, will give a travel talk and show slides dealing with his travels throughout the United States.

Plans for the annual "Sneak Day" will be discussed and other important announcements will be made at the meeting.

Goes to Olney

Supt. A. D. Cummings of Floydada, above, well-known W. T. graduate, has been chosen to head the Olney public schools. He will succeed Joe Humphreys, another W. T. ex-student, who will become superintendent at Temple.

Riley Wins TIPA Award for Column

Lyndard Riley, Prairie sports editor, won first place in Texas Intercollegiate Press Association competition with his sports column, "Thunder from The Herd," it was announced at a banquet which climaxed the annual convention of TIPA Saturday night at Texas Wesleyan College in Fort Worth.

Eleven members of West Texas State publication staffs attended the two-day convention with Prof. Olin E. Hinkle, director of journalism.

Billie Ruth King, attractive Prairie business manager, was honored in the TIPA sweetheart revue in which representatives from all member schools participated. She wore an ensemble of gold net and carried a corsage of red roses. She was escorted by Dan Hemphill, editor-elect of The Prairie.

The West Texas State delegation left here early Thursday morning and returned Sunday afternoon. It was the largest delegation ever to represent W. T. at the convention and was one of the largest at this year's meeting.

Members of the W. T. delegation were Bill Cone, Sam D. Burton, Billie Ruth King, Margaret Esther Hill, Jacqueline Tabor, Nell Stevenson, Joe Crisler, Bill Anthony, Bill Longbine, Dan Hemphill, and Fred Hart.

Hill Will Meet With Board of Regents

Dr. J. A. Hill will leave Sunday for Alpine to attend the annual business meeting of the board of regents.

It is likely that he will go to Austin prior to that time on official business. His presence there will depend upon action of the legislature on the college appropriation for the coming biennium.

A bill pending in Congress would continue the PWA and presumably make possible building of a library structure on the W. T. campus.

DEMONSTRATION SCHOOL TO GIVE MUSICAL PROGRAM

The W. T. Demonstration School Ensemble and Chorus will present a varied musical program in the Education Auditorium Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The public is invited.

Mrs. B. B. Holland and Miss Ada V. Clark have charge of the program.

Prof. S. H. Condon, head of the government department, left this morning for Kansas City where he will participate in a Uniting Conference of All Methodist Churches.

Forty members of the organization with Prof. C. E. Strain were scheduled to play in Floydada, Post, Jayton, Rule, Haskell, Vernon, Quanah, Childress, Memphis, and Clarendon. They will return here tonight.

New Publication Heads Appointed

Dan Hemphill Is New
Prairie Editor; Bill
Harris Business Mgr.

Appointment of Dan Hemphill to the editorship of The Prairie for next year, and Bill Harris as business manager, was announced Tuesday afternoon by President J. A. Hill. Sam D. Burton and Margaret Esther Hill, incumbent executives of the college yearbook, were reappointed editor and business manager respectively.

President Hill announced the appointments after approving recommendations of the Student Senate.

Hemphill has been managing editor of The Prairie during the current term and was a member of the staff last year. He is president of Type High, college press club, a member of Tri Tau fraternity, and a member of Buffalo Band. He served as vice-president of the sophomore class during last semester.

Hemphill, who will take office at the opening of the summer term, has announced plans to introduce a more vigorous editorial policy, print more pictures, and to organize a larger staff.

Bill Harris, who will begin his work as Prairie business manager at the opening of the next fall term, has served on the business staff during the current semester. He has studied advertising in the journalism department here, and received advertising experience on the Claude News and The Amarillo Times. He was formerly a member of The Prairie sports staff and is campus correspondent for the Amarillo Times.

Annual Heads Re-Appointed

The re-appointment of Burton and Miss Hill to the Le Mirage editorship and business managership was unanimously recommended by the Student Senate. During the last term they have operated within their budget and have succeeded in creating a volume which is declared by the printers to be the best ever produced in West Texas State.

Yearbook engravings and copy have been in the hands of the printers and binders, Russell's Stationary Co. of Amarillo, for more than two weeks. May 15 is the date set for distribution of the annuals.

The newly elected editor of The Prairie succeeds Bill Cone who will receive his degree in June after serving two calendar years as editor of the college news publication.

Harris will succeed Billie Ruth King of Lamesa who was not an applicant for the position for next term.

Volume by Rollo Brown Has Interest For West Texans

Rollo Walter Brown, author and lecturer who was heard by enthusiastic West Texas State College audiences twice last year, has written a new book which he calls "I Travel by Train."

There is added interest in the fact that the book is illustrated by Grant Reynard, who will be artist-in-residence at the Palo Duro School of Art, sponsored by the College, next summer. Mr. Reynard also was here last summer.

Mr. Brown gave up a teaching career a dozen years ago to give his time to writing. A number of his books are in the College library. He also fills some lecture engagements each year. It was while traveling by train to various points that he gathered the information, philosophy, and impressions which make up his new book.

In the volume he mentions all parts of the country, including the Texas Panhandle. One chapter is on "Dust." The publisher is the D. Appleton-Century Company.

OUT-DOOR SPORTS RETURNING

Out-door sports are coming into the open again at Buffalo Courts. The shuffle-board courts are now under construction in front of the recreation hall and two more near Burton Gym.

The painting and setting-up is being done by the boys, and Henry Fields is making the cues and discs in the manual training department. The courts are expected to be completed and ready for use in the next day or two.

Address by Erskine Set For Thursday After Two Changes

Talk by Famous Author
And Critic Expected to Highlight Lyceum

Two changes in the scheduled engagement of Dr. John Erskine, famous and brilliant American man of letters, have been made recently to permit him to come to West Texas State.

He was scheduled for Monday, then Wednesday. The last and final change makes the date Thursday evening. He will speak at 8:15 p. m.

Dr. Erskine, internationally acclaimed author and critic, has been sought by the College Lyceum Committee for several years, but this will be his first visit to the campus.

His appearance here Thursday night is termed by Prof. Wallace R. Clark as "the outstanding single attraction of the term."

Dr. Erskine, professor emeritus of Columbia University, has written much, edited many volumes of poetry, prepared a number of opera librettos, and turned out many books. He was educational director of the AEF during the World War.

His books which are deliberately written in a lighter vein, include "The Private Life of Helen of Troy," "Gallahad," "Enchanted Garden," "Adam and Eve," "Penelope's Man," "Daughter of Cinderella," and "My Son."

Admission will be 75 and 40 cents, and students will be admitted on the activity ticket.

All College Women Will Vote on Y. W. Officers Today

All women of the college will be permitted to vote in the annual election of Y. W. C. A. officers today between 9 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. Balloting will be in the main hall of the Administration building.

All women are being permitted to help choose next year's officers because the organization is open to all women students of the college and because the Y. W. program is campus-wide in scope, officials of the organization announced.

Four officers are to be elected from a group nominated by the Y. W. C. A. cabinet.

Candidates for president include: La Nelle Scheihagen, president of the Epworth League and active in music activities of the "Y," and Anita Cleland, a program leader during this term.

Candidates for vice-president are: Mattie Velma Brown and Margaret Dixon.

Seeking the office of financial chairman are Frances Campbell, this year's vice-president; and Ailayne Gates, social chairman during this term.

Nominees for the office of secretary are Edythe Wise, a program leader this year, and Elizabeth Wood, worship chairman.

Plans for a week-end retreat at Ceta Canyon for training new officers are under discussion. The date will likely be May 6-7.

Paint Project of Two Chemistry Students Declared Successful

A project for adjusting paint to climatic conditions, carried on by Robert Orton and Bryan Morgan of the chemistry department, Saturday was declared successful by Dr. J. W. Iliff of the Du Pont laboratories in Philadelphia.

Orton, Canyon, and Morgan of Shamrock are said to be among the most promising chemists in the department, and it was only through long hours of laboratory work that they were able to obtain successful results.

Morgan next year will succeed Mr. Orton as chemist in charge of the Du Pont paint experiment project here.

Fannie Mae Rees is head of the home economics department at Floydada high school. Floydada was one of the eight schools of the state to exchange classes between the agriculture and homemaking teachers.

The program, under the direction of Robert Orton, senior president, was to deal with the composition, cost of manufacture, and affect on health.

Scheduled to speak were Louis Cole and Lawrence McBee, both of Pampa.

West Texas State To Have Exhibit In Fort Worth

West Texas State College will be represented in the Works Progress Administration exhibit at Fort Worth by specimen fossils excavated and prepared by WPA workers here, under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Johnston. Also to be shown by W. T. are archaeological specimens, a representation of Panhandle Indian culture and a small replica of the Antelope Creek ruins.

This archaeological and paleontological exhibit, housed in Fort Worth's Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum, will last about a month.

Wayne G. Christian, a senior from Vega, took the specimens to Fort Worth.

VALUABLE BIBLE LOST

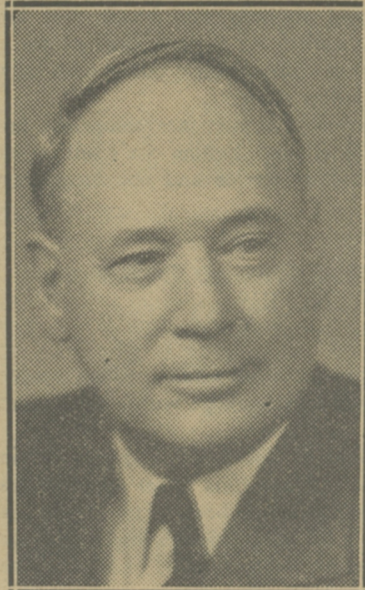

A valuable Bible has been lost by Mrs. Catherine Collins, mother of Mrs. Agnes Smith, matron of Cousins hall. Mrs. Collins believes that she felt the Bible at assembly last Tuesday. It is a book of medium size, with very thin paper. Anyone knowing about the lost Bible is asked to telephone Mrs. Smith at Cousins hall.

I. R. C. TO HEAR HINKLE

Olin E. Hinkle, professor of journalism and sponsor of student publications, will speak to the International Relations Club Wednesday night on "The Press and Foreign Relations."

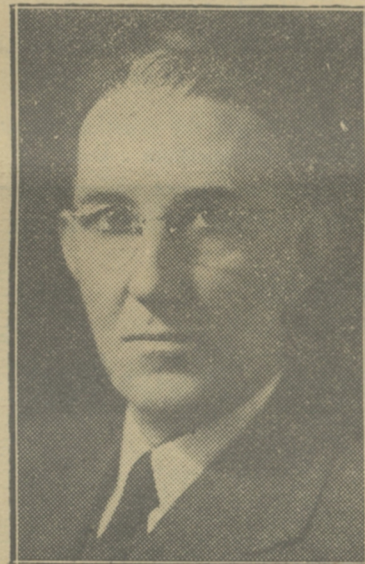

The meeting will be held at 7:30 o'clock in Room 202 of the Education Building.

W. N. Stokes Gives San Jacinto Speech

W. N. STOKES

"The successful parent is the one who produces successful children," said W. N. Stokes of Amarillo, associate justice of the court of civil appeals, in his address before the Mothers and Fathers Day audience Friday.

Citing examples of historical Texans in keeping with San Jacinto Day, the speaker paid tribute to such men as Stephen F. Austin, Moses Austin, and Sam Houston. Dr. Rufus C. Burleson, second president of Baylor University at Waco and prominent educational leader, was also praised by Justine Stokes.

"We do not send our children to college so that they will not have to work, but in order that they might be prepared to work," said the speaker.

Mothers and Fathers Day will be an annual feature of the West Texas State College program. Prior to this year only the mothers of the students were honored.

Alpha Sigma Xi fraternity sponsored the assembly program, with Kenneth Hohaus, president, presiding. Robert Orton gave the welcome address, with Prof. F. E. Savage responded. O. T. Craig of Shamrock, a former student, sang "Mother Machree" accompanied by Miss Frances Uesery of the music department.

FORMER CAGE CAPTAIN VISITING ON CAMPUS

Conway Butler, '38 Buffalo cage captain, who is now playing semi-professional basketball in Hollywood, Calif., returned to the campus Sunday night for a week's visit. Butler is remembered for his hard running on the gridiron and his over-head push shots on the basketball floor.

The last game that the ex-captain played in Burton Gymnasium he teamed with Craig Walling to win over Hardin-Simmons University in the last thirty seconds of the game.

Mrs. D. C. Arthur, '34, of Plainview, will be a member of the teaching staff at Kress next year.

Fermanetta Sawyer, '39, of Canadian, will teach fourth grade in the Miami public schools next year.

All Quiet on W. T. Political Front

No Petitions Have Been Filed Despite
Nearness of Election

The West Texas State political pot had not even begun to simmer early this week despite the fact that it is little more than a week until election day—May 4.

The Students' Party and the Progressive Party, both active in last fall's lively campaign, are still dormant so far as outward appearances are concerned.

Only a few petitions were being circulated yesterday. Present officers for the most part, say that they will not themselves initiate petitions for re-election, however, they are willing to accept nomination.

The Prairie will sponsor a political meeting May 2 at which all candidates are invited to speak. Persons who wish to speak should submit their names to Bill Cone, Prairie editor, not later than 11 a. m. May 2. The place for the meeting has not yet been announced.

The election May 2 will be the first spring election under the new constitution of the Students' Association which provides for the election of class officers as well as members of the Student Senate and Students' Association.

To guide students in preparing petitions the following information is provided:

1. The election date is Thursday May 4, from 8 a. m. until 5 p. m.

2. The president, vice-president, and secretary of the Students' Association of W. T. will be elected as well as the president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer of the 1940 sophomore, junior, and senior classes. Each class will also elect two representatives to the Student Senate. Any other class officials will be selected by the classes at their individual meetings after organization next fall.

3. Candidates for offices in the Students' Association must file a petition with twenty-five signed names of bona fide members of the Students' Association. Class petitions must have the signature of ten members of the class.

4. No candidate's petition will be accepted without the consent of the candidate himself.

5. Deadline for the filing of petitions is Monday morning of May 1 at 11:30 a. m. All petitions must be in the office of the college president by that time.

"They that can give up essential liberty to obtain a little temporary safety deserve neither liberty nor safety."—Benjamin Franklin.

Seeking a Student Office Is An Offer of Service

With the deadline for petitions only a week in the future, no petitions for offices in the Students' Association had been filed yesterday. It is difficult to account for this reluctance to seek nomination for a student office. Perhaps it is partly due to the tendency of students to put things off until the last possible moment. Then it might be partly due to lack of interest on the part of students.

The real reason, however, seems to be a feeling that seeking an office will brand a person as a publicity-seeker. This gives rise to the question: "Is seeking a Students' Association office an offer of service or a means of promoting individual interests and gaining personal acclaim?"

It is certainly true that the present Association officers will agree that their jobs have brought a great deal of work with a minimum of publicity and acclaim. They have received some publicity and honor, but for the most part, holding their offices has called for a great deal of work with few personal rewards. They have discharged their duties with only the idea of serving the school and their fellow students.

For this reason alone, students who feel that they are competent for an office should not hesitate to seek nominations. Setting one's self up as a candidate for office is merely an offer of service and not necessarily an effort to gain attention.

MANY COLLEGE STUDENTS BELIEVE MODERN WORLD OFFER FEW OPPORTUNITIES

By Student Opinion Surveys of America

Austin, Texas, April 24.—There are some six million young people who within six weeks to several years will leave college with a pessimistic outlook on their own futures.

Almost one-half of the men and women in colleges and universities in this country believe they are facing a world that offers fewer opportunities for success than it did before the time they were born. These are the results of a poll just conducted nationally by the Student Opinion Surveys of America, the weekly sounding board of college youth, of which The Prairie is a member.

A scientifically-defined cross-section of students was asked, "Do you think the opportunities for most young men and women to get ahead today are as good as they may have been thirty years ago?" The economic problem of youth is no myth to 48 per cent of the collegians, while the rest of them, 52 per cent, have an optimistic view of the world into which they are going.

Although very few college students today have a personal knowledge of conditions three decades ago, their answers appear to be based on what they can see now and what they have learned about the past. A slight majority is convinced that opportunities have been increasing, like the Pennsylvania student who points to the greater number of occupations which now exist. On the other hand, another student in the same state, in Temple University, answers negatively, stating that the number of youth has increased, thus reducing the number of available jobs. A Cornell senior believes that success is there for those with initiative, regardless of conditions.

The growth of the use of machinery, the demand for more education, and government regulation of industry and employment are given as reasons for a decrease in opportunities to get ahead.

The survey also shows that students in the southern and west central states are the most optimistic, while less than 50 per cent of those elsewhere believe their chances are better.

The poll, of course, makes no attempt to analyze the situation, but it does definitely show the attitude of students on the questions asked.

COLLEGIATE CHATTER

By Buzzy Stapleton

With less than a week in which to gather enough courage to vote at the polls for every officer for next year except the freshman officials, the students of West Texas State are showing very little interest. In the old days an election was certainly the berries, and every man carried a six-shooter and every woman carried a butcher knife. Not uncommonly a shooting occurred. With beer drinking Germans and hay seed farmers constituting the major part of the voting element, the election was usually finished with a miniature World War. Every man, ranging from the cultured county judge to the grizzled farmer, his wife and two-headed kids and hound dog, attended. Even the minister was there.

Such should be the spirit of W. T. Every man should be ready to back his party to the limit, and every woman should carry her make-up kit, which is even more dangerous in present day times than the old-fashioned butcher knife. A motion should be passed allowing the Germans to have beer on election day. In no time at all we would have traced our heritage back to "Der Vaterland," and develop a German accent. Even today the shooting is carried on by long winded politicians who actively engage in shooting the bull at least fifty feet away from the polls.

With a song in our hearts and pasteboard in our shoes let us attend in goodly numbers the election May 4.

Some little girls are wailing very loudly about the Buffalo Courts boys not trading at home. This has been particularly true since the athletes have been going to Amarillo so much lately.

When "Pop" Savage insisted on knowing what was said on courting and necking parties here, he was informed that they said nothing because students are too tired to talk after heavy courting.

I hear that a certain little girl (I would tell you it was if I knew) has offered to give Austin Wiggins a razor blade if he will shave. It seems that it must tickle her.

There was certainly an embarrassed group of girls when Chester Hunkapillar sold his shirt down at the Coffee Shop last week and walked out without one.

I don't know what went on while The Prairie staff was gone, but they all gave me to understand that anything that I put into this column had to be approved.

Since I am talking about what the girls are all complaining about, I might as well add that they are very out of humor about some boys not having any sense of obligation. The Eds don't seem to return all of these nice invites to dances and parties which the girls have been giving them.

Reports come to me that more care should be taken to see that our football players are not skinned up so much in spring training. It is beginning to appear that they have been out with the wrong girl.

Walls are going up all over the campus for more all-college nights like we had last week. Congrats to YWCA for the most enjoyable all-college night of the whole year.

These notes were found on a certain Spanish teacher's desk: "Vicious circle—My gash—women and money, the roots of all evil—lousy apparatus—correct—merely mixture—why can't you kick?—some people!—who me?"

Lyn Edwards amused an audience all her own as she swept the Coffee Shop thoroughly Thursday night at 11 o'clock.

Dick Kilgore's method of getting a date with Frances Hopkins runs something like this—"If you have a dime we'll go to the show."

Well, here comes another presentation dance, the Gamma Phi Spring Prom, which looks like it is going to be the very best of the whole year.

Wisdom We Leave For You

Conducted by Senior Class

Our interest, for the present, lies in a bill which is to be introduced into the Student Senate this week. The bill, sponsored by the Senior Class, would limit the number of compulsory assemblies to an average of one per week, beginning next year. Please watch this column to follow the progress of the bill. We are interested in who votes for and against this proposal.

It comes to us that one professor has been teaching from a high school text book (second floor, west end) . . . Word puzzle: What professor teaches a course in — (six letters, beginning with "m," class room in basement). This course is not catalogued. . . . The Interclub Council members complain that the Senate pushes all the hard work off on them. Why complain, that has been true for YEARS. . . . Thanks to the Council for a beautiful coronation, also to Dr. Hill for the fifty bucks.

Two Texas Teachers colleges spend about $400 each this year for college dances. Note: Re-read, IT CAN'T HAPPEN HERE. . . . Several Texas Teachers colleges spend around $250 each year for debating. It is the opinion of one Senior who has had several years of debating, that this field offers more real value to a students than any four courses listed in the catalog. No subject trains a student in the correct use of the English language, quick thinking, impromptu speaking, and the use of convincing argument as does debating. There is the belief that students would gain ten times from a debate club as they would from either Alpha Chi or a social club.

A recent survey shows that teachers are larger suckers for all types of faulty insurance than is any other group. Some industries refuse to hire former teachers because they are too "set" in in their ways. Many men teachers PLAN to teach only a few years, but find that after a few years, other fields will not take them. Women may marry "out" of the profession.

If there is a substitute for good, honest, hard work, we've failed to find it.

THERE MUST BE A REASON WHY Electric Cookery IS SO POPULAR

Since electric cookery is designed for women who do their own cooking and cannot afford extra help in the kitchen, electric cookery has to be economical—not only to buy, but to operate. It gives them many hours of leisure while meals cook themselves. Positive baking becomes a pleasure—in spite of the outside temperature. Actually your kitchen is just as cool, clean, and comfortable as your living room.

The popularity of electric cookery is highlighted by many other advantages, too. See the gleaming new ranges on display—and you'll learn why electric cookery is better.

This $23.95 set of Aluminum Ware is offered for your old range on the purchase of a new electric range. See this set and the new range today. This offer definitely expires April 29.

TALLEST TEAM ON EARTH IS "BEST PUBLICIZED"

According to Paul O. Ridings, graduate student at the University of Missouri who is writing a masters thesis on sports publicity, the Buffalo basketball team is "the best publicized outfit in America." Ridings made this announcement after comparing press releases and clippings of scores of colleges.

Nothing is denied to well-directed labor.—Joshua Reynolds.

Buffalo Coaches Are Well Trained and Also Well Known

Head coach Al Baggett, athletic director at West Texas State, is the guiding hand behind the building of the famous rock-walled Buffalo Courts. Graduate of Ouachita College, he starred under Morley Jenkins, present Baylor mentor. His first coaching task was at Vernon high school, where his star immediately began to soar. From 1924-28 his teams won 35 of 41 games and his track teams set state, national, and world records.

Next he went to Wichita Falls Junior College, then to Amarillo Junior College, where he piloted state championship teams in football and track. Coming to West Texas State more than five years ago, he continued his success in football and set records in basketball with his "world's tallest teams." Last year he was honored by being named on the board of managers of the National Intercollegiate Basketball Association.

Anthony (Tony) Dougal, assistant coach, is a graduate of Temple University, where he was a star football lineman for three years. He had five years of coaching experience and a career as a professional football and baseball player before coming to West Texas. He excels in all sports, and is a firm believer in physical education and body-building. He instructs in boxing wrestling, and gymnastics, among other things. He takes his work seriously.

Jack Curtice, freshman coach, was athletic director at Owensboro, Ky., for six years before coming to W. T. this year. He is a graduate of Transylvania University of Lexington, Ky. He was All-Kentucky athlete in several sports. In eight years of coaching has seen his teams win 80 per cent of their games. He was selected as much for his ability to instruct in health and physical education as for coaching skill. He is ranked in the upper five of entire country in his specialties, by his teachers at Columbia. He enjoyed a perfect season with his freshman squads here this term, his football and basketball teams being undefeated.

W. E. Lockhart, tennis and golf coach, has a fifteen-year record behind him in these sports. He takes pride in his tennis and golf plants, which he did much to build, and which he now supervises. Mr. Lockhart played tennis at Baylor University. Not infrequently he trims some of his own varsity men even today. His job is directing the big department of Business Administration.

Mitchell Jones, intramural coach, kas known as "Bulldog" Jones when he starred as a linesman at W. T. He was freshmen coach for a time, but now is an Education professor. He is much interested in swimming and the promotion of intramural sports.

Water Supply In Canyon Is Noted For Its Purity

Students who plan to enter college and place some emphasis on health will find Canyon at the head of the state list in sanitation.

In connection with water and sewage systems, Canyon is listed among the towns at the top of the list. At present Canyon holds second place in sewage system and has more sewage connections per capita than any other town in Texas. Canyon's sewage facilities will be more adequately fitted to the need of the town and the college when the 3,000 feet of lines, now being laid, are completed. In a recent chemical analysis Canyon's water was found to be 99 per cent pure, and to make sure that its water keeps this high rating, Mayor C. H. Jarrett stated, the city water tanks are regularly scrubbed and treated.

Food and milk ordinances are strictly obeyed. Inspections of places handling food are made at regular intervals. Dairies must undergo stiff examinations to keep their grade "A" rating. Peddlers of fruit and vegetables must have permits issued by the city.

Mrs. Fred B. Hegi (Madeline Cox) of Tahoka is editor of the Distaff, organ of the national council of Kappa Omicron Phi.

Rental Collection Here Is Growing—History Is Noted

The rental collection of the College library is steadily increasing. Ten new books were added during the last week.

The history of the rental shelf is an interesting one. When it was first begun in the spring of 1928, only 29 books had been contributed. The original list, donated by Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Osgood, Hattie M. Anderson, Jewel Cowan, Mrs. Ber-alaine Green, Mary Hill, Boone McClure, Mary Moss Richardson, Miss D. Walker, Mrs. Witt, and Mrs. B. A. Stafford, was valued at the estimated price of $61.50.

In 1931, another inventory was taken and 400 books were valued at $412.42.

The last dated estimate in September, 1938, shows that there are 1,286 books on the rental shelf with an average price of $2 per book, making the total value $2,572.

The new arrivals included the following books: The Parrot by Pearl S. Buck; Translation of Canterbury Tales by Nicolson; Silas Marner by George Eliott; Blue Bonnets and Blood by Hunt; The Saga of American Society by Dixon Wester; The Gardner's Travel Book by Edward I. Farrington; Art Education in the City of New York by Florence N. Levy; New Designs in Old Mexico by Henry Albert Phillips; Disputed Passage by Lloyd C. Douglas; and Between the Sun and the Sod by Willie Newberry Lewis.

Buffalo Netmen Drop to Tech

West Texans Split Six Matches But Lose on Points

West Texas State's varsity racquet men split six matches with the Texas Tech Red Raiders but lost the lengthy duel on points Saturday afternoon on the Buffalo courts.

Fresh from triumphs over Texas A. & M. and the S. M. U. Mustangs, the Raiders exhibited slightly better form but no more fight than the West Texans who had to depend on their number-one doubles match to pull out the final winning points.

Wilson Chapman of Tech won over plugging Norton Curry 6-1, 5-7, 12-10 in the feature match of the day. Starting slow, Curry made a fine comeback to stretch the elongated Border Conference champion all over the court and at one time Curry had set and match point but couldn't light the necessary spark to sack the match.

Wee Sidney More provided the other Tech singles victory by outstroking Frank Kelly 6-2, 6-8, 6-4. Lynard Riley, handed the Buffaloes 3 points, defeating Claude Bateman 6-3, 6-4. Glen Milner of West Texas beat Blackmeyer 6-4, 6-4 to pull the matches to two apiece.

Chapman and More teamed up in the number-one doubles slot for Tech to trounce Curry and Kelly 6-1, 6-4. Riley and Milner added the other West Texas victory defeating Bateman and Beckmeyer in an indifferent exhibition 6-3, 6-8, 6-3.

West Texas journeys to Lubbock next Saturday to return the match with the Raiders.

BOY SCOUT WORK BOOSTED BY FACULTY

Faculty men of W. T. take a keen interest in community affairs, including the Boy Scouts. Prof. T. M. Moore is chairman of the district committee. Prof. S. H. Condron, Olin E. Hinkle, and other faculty members hold district offices. President J. A. Hill is vice-president of the Amarillo council.

Miss Mable J. Jones, who received her masters degree in institutional management from Kansas State College in 1938, is teaching at Pennsylvania State College.

NYA Youths Study Metal Work, Mechanics and Electricity

Forty-six young men from various Panhandle communities are studying auto mechanics, general metal work, electricity, and woodwork in the NYA project recently opened on the campus.

Harley Henson of Commerce has been employed by the National Youth Administration to teach auto mechanics and metal work. He is experienced in these fields and has had training at East Texas State. He is a brother of Virbil Henson, College bookkeeper. Prof. R. A. Terrill, head of the department of manual arts, and Lorenzo Wirt, college electrician, are the other instructors. Prof. Terrill is in general charge of instruction and also is supervising rebuilding of the CCC barracks brought here from Hereford. Olie Brown is project director.

Each of the young men receives three hours of instruction each day. He also works part of each day on the barracks. Temporary housing has been arranged in one of the barracks.

Subjects for study likely will be increased in number after July 1, when a new project period begins. Instruction is for vocational guidance rather than thorough training. Some members of the group will drop out from time to time as they find employment. Their length of residence here will depend upon their progress.

Gray County Club Largest on Campus

Reed Clarke of Pampa, a senior, has been elected president of the Gray County Club. Louis Cole of Hoover was chosen vice-president, and Mary Alice Patterson of McLean is secretary-treasurer. The election was necessary because of the resignation of Lawrence McBee, former president, to take a seat in the Student Senate. Edythe Shearer, who was elected vice-president last spring for the current school term, has moved away.

The officers will serve through the 1938-39 session of the College. Olin E. Hinkle, director of journalism, who for nine years was editor of the Pampa Daily News, is sponsor of the club.

Among the outstanding Americans on the campus this term for visits or engagements were Senator Tom Connally of Texas, Senator Robert M. LaFollette of Wisconsin, and Stanley High, noted journalist.
