

Students Favor Wassermann Test

97 Out of 100 Think Should Be Included In Physical Exam

Ninety-seven out of a cross-section of 100 W. T. students interviewed in a survey, conducted on the campus last week by Bill Longbine, were in favor of including the Wassermann test for syphilis in the physical examination given each year. Ninety-one of the 100, according to the survey, were willing to pay a fee not exceeding $2 to cover the cost of the test, and 96 said they would take the Wassermann test if it were available. Only one person declined to answer the questions asked in the interview.

More women than men were opposed to the introduction of the test on the campus. Among the men the ratios were as follows: 49 to 1 for inclusion of the test in the physical examination, 47 to 3 for payment of a fee to make it possible, and 49 to 1 for taking the test if it were available. The ratio among the women was slightly less one-sided: 48 to 2 for inclusion of the test, 44 to 6 for payment of a fee, and 47 to 3 for taking the test.

The students interviewed included nine seniors, thirty-two juniors, twenty-nine sophomores, and twenty-nine freshmen. Eleven religious denominations were represented in the poll: Thirty-eight Methodists, thirty-one Baptists, eight Presbyterians, five members of the Church of Christ, two Episcopalians, two Catholics, one Christian Scientist, one Nazarene, one member of the Church of the Open Bible, and one United Brother; five stated no religion.

Fifty-six per cent were majors in arts and science courses, 23 per cent in business administration, 12 per cent in education, and 4 per cent in agriculture; five stated no major.

Two Classes Visit State Hospital at Wichita Falls

Forty members of Prof. J. L. Dufflot's classes in Abnormal Psychology and Personal Adjustment visited the State Hospital at Wichita Falls Friday.

The classes spent six hours at the hospital where they were shown cases illustrating different types of mental disorders. They visited several buildings on the hospital grounds including the chapel, psychopathic ward, work shops, the administration building, the hospital for physical disorders, and some of the wards where patients live.

Their tour of the plant was preceded by a lecture by a member of the hospital staff who illustrated his talk with patients of the hospital.

"Insanity is a legal term," he said, adding that the medical term is "mental disorder" or psychosis. "There are three hospital beds for mental cases to one for physical illness," the physician pointed out.

The classes witnessed one type of treatment for mental cases, and visited Ward K where patients unlikely to recover are kept.

First Bootleggers of West Texas Described By Ex to Scientists

William S. Strain, graduate of the College, created wide interest in Pueblo Indian ruins near El Paso recently when he told a meeting of scientists that "West Texas" first bootleggers were Pueblo Indians, who 500 years ago made whiskey, and mescal from fermented corn.

Mr. Strain is curator of the Texas College of Mines Museum. He spoke at the meeting of the Southwestern Division of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

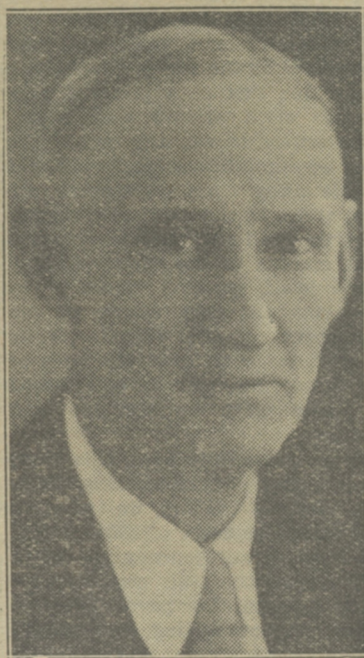

A. L. Patrick, '33, has resigned as principal of the Sam Houston School in Pampa to go into business in the same town.

Regents Adopt Ten Year Plan

The Board of Regents for Teachers Colleges adopted a ten year plan Tuesday at Alpine which calls for ten buildings for W. T. This program would amount to $2,000,000. The regents will ask the legislature for part of these improvements, and hopes to secure the balance from PWA, which has already approved several buildings if funds are made available by Congress.

All Music Lovers Invited to Hear Madrigal Program

The W. T. Madrigal club's spring concert May 19 is open to all music lovers of the Panhandle.

No admission will be charged, and the curtain will rise at 8:15 p. m. in the Education building.

Prof. Wallace E. Clark, director, has divided the program into two parts, with Prof. Herschel Coffee playing a violin solo between the parts. Mr. Coffee is professor of violin.

In the first half of the program, the Madrigal club will sing favorite old madrigals, some of them written hundreds of years ago. In the second half it will do negro spirituals, Russian madrigals, and some of the more modern songs. All of these numbers come from the great library given West Texas State several years ago by the late D. A. Clippinger of Chicago, who for more than a quarter of a century directed the Chicago Madrigal Club.

The College Madrigal Club of this session is described by Prof. Clark as one of the best he has ever directed. It is made up of 32 carefully selected voices, which include students, faculty members, and Canyon citizens.

Pi Omega To Give Annual Award

Name of Outstanding Senior Girl Will Be Engraved on Plaque

Arrangements with the executive committee of the college have been made by Pi Omega sorority to establish an honor award to the most outstanding senior girl every year. Epsilon Beta last year instigated a similar award for senior men.

Each girl's name will be engraved on a plaque which will be placed to the right of the Alpha Chi plaque in the main hall.

The award will be granted on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and character. Pi Omegas will not be eligible for this honor.

A faculty committee will be chosen by the sorority to select the outstanding girl. Selection of the girl for the first award will be made sometime before the end of this semester.

W. T. Delegation Largest at Meet

Ten members of the Lloyd Green Allen chapter of Alpha Chi, accompanied by Mrs. Geraldine Green, dean of women, and Prof. Olin E. Hinkle, director of journalism, attended the state Council of Scholarship Societies held last week-end at Texas College of Arts and Industries in Kingsville.

There were 135 delegates present at the convention from 25 chapters. The local chapter sent the largest delegation represented.

The theme of the meeting was "Education and Democracy."

The local group left Canyon Thursday morning and spent Thursday night in San Antonio. They left Kingsville Saturday night, spending a few hours in Corpus Christi, and remaining in Austin for the night. Sunday morning they attended the weekly broadcast of W. Lee O'Daniel from the Governor's mansion. Part of the delegation returned home by way of Abilene where they visited the campuses of Hardin-Simmons and A. C. C.

Members of Alpha Chi who went on the trip included: Wayne G. Christian, Claryce Whitten, Lucille Morris, Leota Lightfoot, Clarice McCall, Ulane Zecek, Mary Nell Jennings, Jo Mae Smith, La Nelle Schel-hagen, and Majorie Wilkinson.

Entertainment will be given in the main auditorium of the Administration building. About 800 home demonstration agents and club women from 22 counties are expected to attend.

At present the program includes talks on posture activity to be given by the physical education department; a style show by members of the home economics department; selections by the Men's Chorus; and a one-act play featuring home economics and agriculture majors.

An inspection tour of the College campus will follow the program.

Milner and Hill Win Only Contested Offices in Election

New President Combines Cool Business Head With Warm Personality

Combining a cool business head and a warm personality, Ulane Zecek, junior from Lamesa, next year will climax a college career of varied activities with her administration as president of the Students' Association.

During the three years that Miss Zecek has been a student at W. T., she has been prominently identified with such organizations as the International Relations Club, the BSU Council, the Spanish Club, the Freshman Fellowship Council, and the Women's Chorus. This year she was admitted to Alpha Chi, national scholarship society, and, in the spirited political election of last fall, was elected secretary-treasurer of the Students' Association. Miss Zecek, in addition to these activities, has been employed the full time she has been in college, and this year has served as secretary to Prof. F. E. Savage, superintendent of the Demonstration School.

A tall Nordic blonde, Miss Zecek is a history major and plans to get her master's degree in history at the University of Texas under Dr. Walter Prescott Webb, noted Texas author. Her principal ambition is to do research work and write fiction on the history and folk-lore of the Southwest.

She is particularly fond of music and reading, her tastes leaning toward the modern in both fields. She enjoys the rhythms of Irving Berlin, and the folk songs of Stephen Collins Foster, and John Galsworthy and Hervey Allen stand at the top of her preferred list of authors.

Miss Zecek is an accomplished horse-woman and lists horseback riding as her favorite recreation. She does not claim to be a connoisseur of foods but admits that anything containing chocolate or fresh pineapple strikes her fancy. Paul Muni is her favorite actor and Norma Shearer her favorite actress. Miss Zecek lives at Randall Hall.

Ulane Zecek was elected president without opposition. Miss Zecek, a junior from Lamesa, is secretary of the Association this year.

Milner defeated Cole with a close vote of 124 to 113. In the race between Miss Hill and Miss Miller, a vote of 47 to 35 was recorded. Mr. Milner has served as a sophomore representative to the Senate this year and Miss Hill as a junior representative. Miss Hill is also business manager of Le Mirage. Class Officers Unfilled

Other officers for next term were elected without opposition. There were no petitions filed for the presidency of next year's senior class, and no junior class officers were nominated. The positions of vice-president and secretary-treasurer of next year's sophomore class are also unfilled.

Virginia Lee Hussey, sophomore from Hereford, will be secretary-treasurer of the Students' Association. Miss Hussey is employed in the Registrar's office.

Jack Edmondson and Ann Pailmeyer, both of Memphis, will serve as vice-president and secretary-treasurer, respectively, of next year's senior class. Mr. Edmondson, a center on the Buffalo football squad, was recently chosen to fill the unexpired term of Taft Holloway as junior representative. Miss Pailmeyer is secretary-treasurer of the junior class this year.

Gridman Is Senate Representative

Donald Kendrick, Buffalo squadman from Groom, will be senior representative to the Student Senate, Place 2. Junior representatives chosen were James Swafford, agriculture major from Rice, Place 1, and Hollis Bledsoe of Westbrook, Place 2.

Russell McKinley of Amarillo was unopposed as president of the sophomore class. Arvo Goddard of Pampa and Marvin Miller of Claude will be sophomore representatives, Places 1 and 2, respectively.

The spring election was characterized by a marked lack of interest, in contrast to the spirited campaign of last fall. Few petitions were turned in, a minimum of electioneering was carried on, and a light vote was recorded.

West Texans on Federated Club Program Monday

Several faculty members and students were active in the Seventh District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs Convention, which was held in Pampa last Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

Miss Edna Graham, of the mathematics department, and Miss Mattie Swayne, of the English department, were among the principal speakers at the program. On Tuesday afternoon Miss Graham addressed the convention on "South America and Her Neighbors," using as the background of her talk her trip to Latin America last summer.

On the same afternoon Miss Swayne gave a talk on "The Function of the Book Review."

At 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, the W. T. Men's Chorus under the direction of Prof. Wallace R. Clark, gave a short concert.

Largely responsible for the interesting program was Mrs. T. V. Reeves, director of W. T.'s Bureau of Public Service and district program chairman.

McGinnis to Show Film Thursday

History Professor Is Carried Away by Indian Warriors

By Jenna V. Stephenson

It seems that the days of Indian episodes are not over yet. Prof. L. F. Sheffy, head of the history department, failed to meet one of his classes last week, and investigation revealed that he had been carried away by Indians. In fact, he was so carried away that he was gone most of the day.

A visit to the Panhandle from the only surviving members of the Indian war party, which fought at the Battle of Adobe Walls, is the explanation. Mr. Sheffy was informed by John McCarty, editor of the Amarillo News, that Tim-bow and Yellow Fish, survivors of the famous battle, and two younger Indian interpreters, Atocknie and Awakana, were visiting in Amarillo. The Indians wished to re-visit the site of the famous battle, and Prof. Sheffy was included in the group of citizens which accompanied them.

After eating breakfast in Amarillo, the party set out. The Indians drove a Chevrolet sedan and wore American clothes. One of the younger Indians wore his hair in braids, but the others had regular hair-cuts, Mr. Sheffy said. The two interpreters did not smoke, but the older men smoked pipes.

A group of persons, including the widow of Billy Dixon, famed Indian fighter and buffalo hunter, joined them at Borger.

In Borger the two interpreters went in to visit the Borger Chamber of Commerce, and the task of

Experience--Not a Good Teacher Where Auto Accidents Concerned

Is experience the best teacher?

Where automobile accidents are concerned, experience is the best teacher only when it is somebody else's experience, according to a new booklet entitled "Lest We Forget" just issued by The Travelers Insurance Company. The booklet presents a comprehensive analysis, based on official reports from the 48 states, of the facts about accidents in which 32,000 persons were killed and more than a million were injured last year.

"The Experience of losing life is wasted on the driver or pedestrian killed in an automobile accident," the foreword states. "The experience of months in a hospital cot or weeks in a law court is costly tuition for one's education in safety. If we wish to avoid these dire costs, we must apply the experience of others to ourselves."

The experience of the thousands who had to learn their lesson "the hard way" in 1938 brings to light many interesting facts such as the following:

Exceeding the speed limit was responsible for 39.6 per cent of the deaths and 25 per cent of the injuries. Despite a decrease in fatalities in 1938 compared with 1937, the percentage caused by speed went up.

Almost 94 per cent of the drivers involved in fatal accidents were male and only six per cent female.

More than 84 per cent of the fatal accidents occurred in clear weather, and 77 per cent happened when the road surface was dry.

More persons were killed on Sunday than any other day of the week, while the heaviest injury toll came on Saturday. More persons were killed between seven and eight p. m. than at any other hour.

Almost 43 per cent of all victims of fatal traffic accidents were pedestrians. Almost half of all pedestrians killed were either crossing between intersections, or walking on rural highways.—The Optimist.

STUDENTS FAVOR McNUTT FOR PRESIDENT IN 1940

By Student Opinion Surveys of America.

AUSTIN, Texas, May 8—American college youth have picked a new number one presidential possibility in their own poll, the Student Opinion Surveys of America. He is Democrat Paul V. McNutt, 48-year-old high commissioner to the Philippines and former college professor, whose White House boom has been one of the first to get under way.

Running a close second in the favor the nearly one and a half million college students was the even more youthful Thomas E. Dewey, the 37-year-old Republican district attorney of New York.

A striking peculiarity of college youth's political habits discovered in this Survey is the fact that not only do Republican students often favor Democratic candidates and vice versa, but nearly a third claim no allegiance whatever to either of the major parties. Of that third only very few declared themselves preferring any party.

Using the question, "If Roosevelt is not a candidate in 1940, whom would you like to see elected President?" interviewers for the Survey queried a cross-section of the nation's collegiate population which included students of all age, sex, study, geographical, and political groupings.

Making no separation of Republican, Democratic, or independent students, the Survey lists the following as leading choices for the 1940 elections:

1. Paul V. McNutt (D)	17.7%
2. Thomas E. Dewey (R)	15.6%
3. John N. Garner (D)	9.7%
4. Cordell Hull (D)	8.3%
5. Fiorello La Guardia (R)	4.5%
6. Arthur H. Vandenberg (R)	3.8%
7. Robert Taft (R)	2.2%
8. William Borah (R)	2.1%
9. Harry L. Hopkins (D)	1.3%
10. Phil La Follette (Prog)	1.1%
All others and undecided	33.7%

Communist Earl Browder was mentioned by only 0.28 per cent, and Socialist Norman Thomas but by 0.39 per cent.

Others who received enough votes to be tabulated were James Farley, Henry Cabot Lodge, Champ Clark, Bennett Clark, Henry Wallace, Felix Frankfurter, Herbert Hoover, Alfred Landon, J. H. Bankhead, numerous state governors, and even Major Bowes, who received one vote. In the Illinois territory and several other schools President Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago was mentioned frequently.

Breaking down the potential student voters—and there will be nearly a million of them of voting age by 1940—into Republicans, Democrats, and independents, the positions of the candidate possibilities shifted somewhat. However, McNutt's strength was evident in all groups.

Republican students gave Dewey 25.7 per cent, McNutt (a Democrat) 16.2 per cent, Vandenberg (R) 8.5, Hull (D) 7.9, Garner (D) 4.4, and Taft (R) 4.2. Democratic students gave Garner his only leading position with 15.6, McNutt 14.2, Hull 12.1, Dewey (R) 9.1, and La Guardia (R) 3.8.

Independents gave McNutt 21.2, Dewey 14.1, Garner 8.2, La Guardia 6.2, and Hull 5.4. Other polls taken of the entire voting population have also shown Dewey as the leading Republican choice and Garner ahead in the Democratic field. However, in all such polls McNutt ranked no better than fourth or fifth in Democratic ratings alone, although he has been gaining consistently.

The popularity of the former Indiana governor with American college students may be attributed to several factors, (1) his supporters have started a boom calling him a "conservative liberal," which happens to be in keeping with the collegiate sentiment that has been shown in other Surveys, (2) McNutt forces have been among the first actively to bid for support, and (3) he has been affiliated with education as a professor and dean of the Indiana University law school.

Wisdom We Leave For You

Conducted by Senior Class

One of the divisions of this school that is least heard of and known about is the department of geography with Miss Darthula Walker as its only professor and head. If you should take one of her courses, you will likely find the work interesting, and also that it will be very hard to bust the course. You should be careful to attend class, however, since she depends very little on the text. It is also profitable to have after-class chats. Miss Walker has done much traveling and seems to get around over the globe very well, yet does not trouble to get around over the school. We wish that we could be allowed to become better acquainted with her and her work.

A man known very well, especially by Business Ad. students, is Dr. Howard Golden. One of the reasons for the popularity of this department is its readily passable courses, though many of these are required, and Dr. Golden contributes a lion's share to this aspect. The type of courses he teaches is naturally uninteresting, but he allows the class enough freedom to make them enjoyable. Dr. Golden is a relatively new teacher but works hard and his congeniality will compensate for lack of technique in putting the work over.

A very interesting fact learned by those who made the trip to the Wichita Falls State Hospital is that for every bed filled by a physical patient, there are three filled by mental patients. Of course, the rate of turnover in physical hospitals is much faster; but nevertheless, this situation is alarming. The sad part of it is that we dwell so much on developing natural science and making technical progress in order to make society more complex, thus increasing the chances for mental disorder, we cannot make our knowledge of the social sciences and human nature keep pace. We are so lacking in this respect that even college graduates are afflicted with mental unbalance; and bringing it right down home, several of this college's ex-students have been inmates of Psychopathic hospitals—some are at Wichita Falls at the present time.

This brings to our attention the fact that we like to expound to the world that our exes are finding good employment and many have reached positions of the very highest type, yet we never mention of those, at least a half dozen, who have become completely disorganized and must spend the remainder of their lives as wards of the state. This is no reflection on this school, however. One case observed at Wichita Falls was a Vanderbilt graduate and a student of France's largest university when he broke down.

We sometimes wonder about the ethics involved in our, generally, trying to advertise our school and forcing its attention upon the populace. It may be materially profitable, but it would seem reasonable that the only genuine advertising would lie in its accomplishments and the merit of the work done. The matter will almost universally find a way of making itself manifest. At least, we should avoid making exaggerated statements and presenting only the favorable side. We are greatly concerned over the effects of foreign propaganda in this country, yet will not hesitate to employ it for our own needs.

We notice that the Board of Regents has approved a $2,000,000 expansion program for this institution. This is the second big program of like character and approval. We have a problem, however—no money seems to be forthcoming. Maybe we are not good enough politicians up in this country.

COLLEGIATE CHATTER

By Buzzy Stapleton

Prof. Olin E. Hinkle is becoming W. T.'s star convention attendee. While at the Alpha Chi convention at Kingsville last week, the students were being entertained with a tea. Mr. Hinkle, not knowing the exact place of the tea, nonchalantly entered the student union building where he found about a dozen women sitting around having tea. Upon being offered tea, cake and sandwiches he graciously accepted. When seeing one man among the group he naturally went over to talk to him. After consuming his food and seeing no students had arrived, he inquired of his whereabouts, and found that he had just attended the monthly tea for faculty women! Orchids to you, Mr. Hinkle!

Al Hicks, sports writer for the Howard Payne Yellow Jacket, has been made president of the International Goldfish Defense League. We appreciate the humane and sympathetic attitude of Al and his associates toward the goldfish, but what about the poor college student. With the goldfish population adequately protected against perverted collegiate appetites, many a poor fellow will be obliged to pay out $1 a pint in order to get the same mud-in-the-mouth effect for the morning after.

An approved necking party on the Temple University campus admitted co-eds to the program at one cent per inch on the neck measurement.

Letters to The Editor—

Editor, The Prairie:

We are writing to you to commend your editorial, "Student Senate Jurisdiction," and to question the authenticity of the so-called WISDOM of Kenneth Hohlaus and Robert Orton (and others) in the weekly column "Wisdom We Leave for You" both of which appeared in the May 2 edition of The Prairie.

We think that the editorial on "Student Senate Jurisdiction" was on the whole a careful analysis of the real issues involved in the matter of student power, but we have a different opinion concerning the second paragraph in Mr. Hohlaus' column of "UNBIASED WISDOM." It seems that he has cast the journalistic code of ethics in the waste basket in writing this particular paragraph by failing to present the facts as they really are in the "One Assembly a Week Bill," thus giving many readers of The Prairie a false conception of how some people stand on the issue involved.

The following facts were misrepresented in the paragraph:

1. Those who tried to railroad the bill through the Senate on April 25, admitted that it was merely a recommendation, but because of their desire to raise possible political issues they refused to stay within the jurisdiction of the Senate and make such compromises as would have brought full support of the group without changing the alleged purpose of the bill.

2. The primary purpose of the bill was not to relieve the student body of one assembly a week as Mr. Hohlaus would have his readers believe, but to test out the student power in the field of college administration. The assembly question was only a blind.

3. No vote of opposition to the bill was ever called for as the article would have the readers believe.

4. Dick Smith, Freshman Senator, who was listed as favoring the bill, was NOT even present at the Senate meeting on May 25. At least one other member of the Senate not present at the meeting has expressed the opinion that he would not have supported the bill on the grounds of the "enacting clause."

For several years now, a certain group on the W. T. campus have been trying to see how far they can go in over-lording the college administration under the guise of "student's rights." These periodic uprisings have never brought any material benefits to the student body as a whole.

To these "washed-out" campus politicians who as a last resort have chosen to use the column of a student publication to attack persons who choose to cooperate with the college administration in questionable issues instead of fighting it, we refer you to the official record

SUWANNEE RIVER . . . by Cecile Hulst Matsch . . . 281 pp . . . New York and Toronto . . . Farrar & Rinehart, Inc. . . 1938.

Suwannee River—a stream filled with the tales of ages past, whose waters are bordered by numerous plants, animals, and birds which are extinct in most parts of the world.

This is the setting for the story of the New York Plant Woman who decided to withdraw from the crowded metropolis and visit a mysterious land within the boundaries of her own country which remains as it did in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. The Suwannee River rises in Georgia, deep in the Okefenokee Swamp, and winds its way through Florida.

As we travel with the Plant Woman through this vast forest region underlaid by deadly poisons snakes, large plants, and numerous herbs and flowers, we shall meet many people who remind us of the stories of past days when Elizabeth was on her throne and when De Soto and Ponce de Leon were exploring, possibly near this place. Many of the customs are the same now as in those days. Quilting parties, alligator hunts, spinning of cloth, numerous superstitious practices—all live today among those hardy people who know little about skyscrapers, automobiles, washing machines, and electricity and believe in them as myths. One marvels at the old Snake Woman who dearly loves to tell young people of her love potions and charms which never fail. One of them reads:

"White moss from the skull of a murdered man, picked in the graveyard at the full of the moon. Wear this tied to a piece of blue cotton cloth around your neck. Guaranteed to win any man."

As we climb into a small boat and paddle away from Okefenokee, we soon arrive at the plantation region. Here we shall study the most beautiful orchids of the world—dainty, pale-colored, graceful plants growing about the dark figures of the inhabitants of this region. While we rest, we shall hear the tales of Old Uncle Jim and be entertained in many ways by Ker'sine and Gasline.

As we regretfully leave this place filled with the hard-working, half-clad tillers of the soil, we travel on and reach the coast of Florida. The last days of our journey are spent here among the Gulf people where many nationalities have come together. A new setting, new people, different superstitions, and different customs are here.

As we are sitting one evening on the cool beach searching intently for the Uura Lou, the phantom ship of which Pompano has been telling us, we realize that our journey is completed. We are again at home after one of the most exciting adventures of our life.

Graduation Party, May 19, Will Feature Amusement to Please Every Senior

Every type of entertainment which has been popular to campuses this year will be crammed into one big fun-making splurge May 19 when members of the Senior Class are entertained at Cousins Hall with a graduation party.

Robert Orton, president of the class, has announced entertainment features to please every possible taste. The lower floor of Cousins Hall, with decorations carrying out the carnival motif, will be the scene of every type of amusement from bowling to floor shows.

Twenty of West Texas State's loveliest bathing beauties will parade before the guests, and Miss W. T. will be selected and crowned.

With miles of streamers, confetti, and toy horns creating a gay atmosphere, guests will be able to punctuate floor shows with dancing to the melodies of Raymond Railroad and his Majors in Swing. For those who prefer dancing in the manner of yesteryear, there will be a special barn dance with a strong orchestra to play.

There will be an art gallery "for men only" and a post office. Fortune telling will also add to the carnival spirit.

The affair is to be formal, and admission will be by bid only. It will be the first graduation party for a W. T. Senior Class in several years,

Y. W. Has Profitable Week-End at Ceta Canyon Retreat

With the aid of a beautiful setting Y. W. C. A. girls spent a profitable week-end at Ceta Canyon. Time was spent in worship and evaluating the work of the Y. W. C. A. this past year.

After morning worship under the leadership of Miss Helen Lyles Sunday morning, who discussed "Appreciation rather than depreciation," an evaluation of the past year's work was had, resulting in tentative plans made by new cabinet members with the help of the old officers and faculty advisers.

At the eleven o'clock hour, Miss Oscie Sanders gave excerpts from the "Sermon on the Mount" bringing out the basis of "human relations."

After lunch, the Retreat closed with Commitment service under the guidance of Miss Mary M. Richardson. Frances Campbell was responsible for the program and Allene Gates was chairman of committee to prepare food. About twenty-three Y. W. members and faculty members attended the meeting.

Grid Scrimmages Stress Defense

Four New Plays Are Being Added for Each Day's Practice

Daily hour-length scrimmages this week are being used to stress defensive tactics in spring football training at West Texas State College.

Defenders are wearing blocking aprons to permit the opposition to charge full tilt in all formations. Four new plays are being added each day, with a review of those already in the books. Coaches Al Baggett and Jack C. Curtice are seeking finesse in the few remaining weeks of rehearsals.

Injury Hampers Watkins

Flippin' Foster Watkins, best known of the lettermen, is favoring a bruised left shoulder by giving most of his time to punting and place-kicking. He is not seriously hurt. Tiger Lee McLaury, out with a fracture in a leg bone, will be returned to tackle when he recovers, Coach Baggett said. He was being worked as a blocking half-back, where his aggressiveness is needed.

Earl Stagner of Dimmitt has been moved from guard to end, where he is looking good. Roy Lee Jones of Pampa, a husky lad of speed and much power, has been taken out of the line to become a blocking back. The coaches expect him to become a valuable man at his new post. Wee Clinton Kirkpatrick, a talented youngster from Altus, Okla., is being used at quarterback and as a blocking back. The 37 men now in spring training are rapidly being catalogued and given intensive work at positions they are likely to assume next fall.

Will Teach at Columbia

Coaches Baggett and Curtice will be in Columbia University of New York during most of the summer. Baggett will teach football there and will study some. Curtice, who has an assistantship, will complete work for his masters degree. Coach Anthony Dougal, who is assisting in spring training, will attend Columbia then, in the fall, will assume his new duties at the University of New Hampshire.

The spring training roster includes:

Orville Bratton, Royce City, guard; I. W. Brock, Owensboro, Ky., fullback; Willard Childers, Canyon tackle; Jesse Cornell, Clarendon, halfback; Eldon Davis, Amherst, guard; Phillip DeGregory, Carlstadt, N. J., halfback; Jack Edmondson, Memphis, center; Jim Foust, Littlefield, fullback; Bob Gillin, Owensboro, Ky., end; W. J. Gillis, Pampa, tackle; Joe Hayes, Allison, halfback; Fairy Hill, Canyon, halfback; Bob Horlander, Owensboro, Ky., guard; Dewey Johnson, Abernathy, end; Roy Lee Jones, Pampa, halfback; Ernest Kelly, Petersburg, tackle.

Co-Capt. Donald Kendrick, Groom, end; Clinton Kirkpatrick, Altus, Okla., halfback; Cletus Kuehler, Groom, tackle; Warren Lockhart, Big Spring, guard; Otto Mangold, Clinton, Okla., guard; Co-Capt. Carl Matney, Vernon, halfback; J. P. Meek, Gageby, tackle; Pete Meneghin, Clifton, N. J., halfback; George Overhuls, Amarillo, guard; Borden Price, Springlake, fullback;

NMMI Easily Wins Swimming Meet

Wins Decisively Over West Texas And New Mexico Miners

The Cadets of NMMI easily defeated the swimming teams of West Texas State and New Mexico School of Mines Saturday in Roswell. The score: NMMI 72, W. T. 47, School of Mines 17.

Although the cadets' victory was decisive, Coach Mitchell Jones took one of the best teams to Roswell since the first of the annual meetings between the schools. Two Institute records were broken Saturday, both by New Mexico cadets.

A second place in diving taken by George Overhuls was the most prominent win by a West Texas entry. Arvo Goddard was outstanding in an attempt to defeat the fast NMMI breast stroke, he defeated the Socorro entry placing third.

Charles Halbert outclassed Dick Kilgore on the hundred yard dash to take third place.

The freshmen members of the squad were the stronghold of the team, and that makes real competition for the cadets seem likely when the two teams test their mettle again next year.

West Texas' entries included: Massey, Goddard, Overhuls, Halbert, Kilgore, Cole, Carver, Medlin, Steele, Sitter, D. Hemphill, G. Hemphill, Prior.

Buffalo Lake Is Name Officially Adopted Tuesday

According to information received here Tuesday, the Department of Agriculture has officially adopted the name of Buffalo Lake for the new recreational project built on the Tierra Blanca. Up until this time the dam and lake have been called the Tierra Blanca on all government reports.

The name Buffalo was suggested by President J. A. Hill when local citizens first started to promote the project. The name has always been applied by local citizens, and was gradually adopted by Amarillo citizens and others in the Panhandle.

Riley And Kelly Mutually Forfeit After 63 Games

Childress' independent tennis team, composed of former College and University net stars, trounced the West Texas State College Buffaloes 4-1, Sunday afternoon, on the College courts.

Glyndon Riley, former Buff ace, stroking number two for the Childress team and Frank Kelly, West Texas, displayed the prime tennis of the afternoon before mutually forfeiting in the 63rd game of their match. The scores were (Riley named first) 21-10, 1-6, 9-9.

Other results: Singles, Woodrow Carter, Childress, defeated Norton Curry, West Texas, 6-5, 5-7, 10-8; Lynard Riley, West Texas won from Marshall Stanmer, Childress, 4-6, 6-4, 7-5; Fletched Carter, Childress, defeated Glen Milner, West Texas, 6-3, 6-0.

Doubles: Carter and Carter defeated L. Riley and Curry 6-8, 7-5, 8-6. Glyn Riley and Stanmer, Childress, won over L. Riley and Milner 5-7, 6-4, 6-2.

College Library Serves Entire Panhandle

With a collection of 32,000 books and 6,049 bound periodicals on its shelves, the library of West Texas State College serves the entire Panhandle. Book clubs, teachers, and correspondence students often borrow books, book reviews, clippings, and pictures.

The library contains the largest collection of books in this section of the state. It is composed of five units, the reserve, the loan, the reference, the rental, and the government document room. Current periodicals which are received regularly number 394.

Many Government Bulletins

The document section of the library contains 6,303 bound volumes, and 54,500 unbound documents. Government bulletins treat such subjects as forestry, agriculture, irrigation, astronomy, home economics, preventative medicine, trade manufacturing, and education. Surveys made by the government are also summarized in some of the documents. The document section includes maps, magazines, monographs, handbooks, and yearbooks published by the government.

Current best sellers, new fiction, biographies, and other books are features of the rental unit. The nominal charge made for the rent of these volumes is used to buy the new books, and several of these are received almost every week.

Special collections include a shelf established by Prof. and Mrs. L. A. Osgood in 1927 to the memory of their son, and another by the widow and children of the late W. H. Younger, former student of the College. The late Prof. B. A. Stafford, former head of the Latin department here, also donated a number of books for use by students of classical languages. The Stafford and Younger collections include 1,453 volumes.

Many Children's Books

The Demonstration School library contains many children's books which were transferred there from the College library.

Weekly and daily newspapers from almost every town and city in the Panhandle are also available in the library.

Students of sophomore standing are offered the library science course, taught by the College librarian. This course is designed to meet the demand of high schools for trained library workers. All divisions of the library and their functions are taught to these students.

The reference room of the library has a seating capacity of 132 persons. The entire library is open 61½ hours each week.
