Campus Clubs Give Seniors Honor Awards

Two outstanding members of the West Texas State College senior class, selected by faculty committees, will have their names engraved on plaques provided by campus social clubs.

Outstanding man of the class is Glen Davis of Shamrock, whose name will be engraved on the Epsilon Beta trophy. Elmo Walling of Silverton, president of the fraternity made this announcement in assembly Tuesday. Davis is president of the senior class, a past president of the Students Association, and active in campus, church, club, social, and speech activities. He is listed in "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities." He has been head of his class in each of his four years at West Texas State.

The Pi Omega award for being the outstanding senior girl went to Mary Byerly of Erick, Okla. She has been especially active in church programs and has served as president of the YWCA. She has been a leader in the freshman fellowship club, Alpha Chi—the scholarship society, and many other campus organizations. She also is listed in the college "Who's Who," and Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities." This award was announced by Ruth Hill of Moody, president of the sorority.

The Pi Omegas also presented a check of $25 to Mrs. Geraldine Green, dean of women, as an addition to their loan fund, which has reached a total of $150. Mogie Routh of Amarillo, vice-president of the sorority, presented the check.

First place winner of the bathing beauty contest at the W. T. spring picnic in Ceta canyon is Clay Jernigan. Clay is blonde and brown eyed. She is five feet two inches tall and weighs 106 pounds. This first place figure has 32 inch bust, 23-inch waist, 35-inch hips and a size four shoe. She is a freshman from Farwell and is majoring in English. Her favorite sport is dancing and her hobby is reading. She's a member of Kappa Tau Phi.

Five-Week Term Is Inaugurated

Popular Summer Features Are Retained; New Faculty Members Added

West Texas State College will open June 4 what some observers have called a streamlined summer session.

The session will consist of two five week terms, the first closing July 9 and the second August 14. By having classes six days a week instead of five, West Texas State has shortened the summer session by two weeks without lowering the regular amount of credits which may be earned. Classes will be approximately 1½ hours in length. The change has been widely acclaimed because it will provide longer vacations for school teachers attending.

Starting simultaneously and scheduled for five weeks is the Palo Duro School of Art which will be directed again by Miss Isabel Robinson. This school features Grant Reynard of Leonia, New Jersey, one of the leading artists and teachers in the nation. Mr. Reynard has representation in the nation's leading art galleries and has won many competitive awards. His coming makes it unnecessary for plains students to leave this area to obtain first class art instruction. Miss Robinson, head of the department of art, will teach several subjects and Derald T. Swineford, artist and craftsman of the department, will give instruction in metal work and jewelry, modeling, and carving. Mr. Reynard will teach landscape, figure, and portrait painting and will have a course in drawing and painting for beginners.

The art colony will be housed in Buffalo Courts on the campus but students will make daily trips to nearby canyons, lakes, streams, and ranches. The courts afford access to a beautiful recreational hall and patio and an outdoor swimming pool is nearby.

Dr. Don G. Williams will come from Stanford University to teach a course in methods and materials in the use of audio-visual aids in teaching. The college for several years has been a recognized leader in this subject.

Miss Ruth Cross will direct a health and safety course in which first aid, community safety, and traffic safety will be taught. Dr. R. A. Neblett of Canyon will open the course with 15 lectures on first aid. State agencies will assist in the latter part of the course.

Miss Angie Nall of Greenville, Miss. will return to direct a summer nursery school affiliated with the department of home economics.

The conservation of natural resources will furnish the subject matter of a course to be directed by Prof. F. E. Savage. Federal conservation authorities will be among the lecturers.

Among the special courses will be one of comparable economic systems by Prof. S. H. Condon. The summer schedule will include nearly 150 courses. Most of the regular faculty members will remain for one or both terms of the summer session.

The annual summer band school will bring Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Nutt of Chicago to the campus on August 4 to 16, inclusive. The Buffalo band, directed by Prof. C. E. Strain, will participate in the school, which will be managed by Oscar Wise of Amarillo.

Prof. Wallace R. Clark is completing a summer lyceum program which will include plays, lectures, demonstrations, and concerts. Recreation will be stressed to an unusual degree. Downstate teachers are not overlooking that the plains will be unusually green and cool during the summer months.

S. C. A. Installs Seven Officers

The wheels of the new Student Christian Association were set in motion last Wednesday with the installation of seven recently elected officers.

Mildred Merchant, president; Melvin Kiker, vice-president; Mary Jane Turrentine, secretary; Nola Margaret Blue and Cecil King, co-treasurers; Kathryn Phillips and Alvin Lee, co-program chairmen took their charges of office from those holding corresponding offices in the YWCA and YMCA.

Participants in the impressive candlelight service were robed in white and carried lighted candles. The candles of the new officers were lighted as each accepted his office.

Following the installation ceremony, Mary Byerly, retiring president of the YWCA and L. W. Davidson, retiring president of the YMCA, spoke in recognition of the services of their cabinets. The old cabinet members then repeated in unison their charge of the elected SCA cabinet.

FACULTY MEETING TODAY President J. A. Hill has called a meeting of the faculty to be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

School Joins In Class Day

Seniors Give Caps to Junior Brothers in Impressive Ritual

By CAROLLEE PAYNE

Seniors presented a grand finale of fun and frolic in the annual senior class day program this morning in assembly.

Superman Glen Davis, that little man with the big personality and four year president of the class was the dynamic master of ceremonies. Super colossal impersonator Norman Whisenand, as professor led the senior music and drama classes and made every student realize the meaning of culture. Mogie Routh, outstanding dramatist, gave a reading, and the Swing Four gave out with music for young and old. "Drab Dramas" were enacted and a skit, "Pokey Huntus," was presented by the masterful "Senior Players."

One hundred thirty-four senior voices rang out in recommendations which would fit the current trend in student thought, after which each senior presented his cap to a junior friend. Singing of Alma Mater concluded the program.

Choruses Give Commencement Concert Sunday

The College Orchestra and Chorus will present "Elijah," a well known oratorio, Sunday afternoon. The title role will be sung by Houston Bright. Miss Ada V. Clark, soprano, and Mrs. Ethel Scheihagen, contralto, will carry solo parts.

The program will be in the main auditorium of the Administration building and will begin at three o'clock.

Professor Wallace R. Clark will direct the group of one hundred and fifty voices in the greatest musical production of the year. The "Elijah" has been presented here previously, the last time being in the spring of 1936.

Pan-Americanism Is High School Exercise Theme

Pan-Americanism is the theme of the W. T. high school commencement program tomorrow evening in the Education building auditorium. The socialized exercises was written by the class members themselves.

The program is divided into two phases—first, study of the problems connected with an understanding between the two hemispheres; and, second, plans for hemisphere defense. Wilma Wright, president of the class, is chairman.

Baccalaureate services were held Sunday evening at the First Baptist Church for the thirty-seven graduates. The Rev. Roy Snodgrass, pastor of the First Christian Church in Amarillo, delivered the message. The baccalaureate was held in connection with Canyon high school.

Letters in Praise of Madrigal Club

Receipt of a copy of the recent program of the Madrigal Club has brought an interesting letter of commendation from Ralph Bradford, manager of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Bradford is a former classmate of Prof. Wallace R. Clark, to whom the letter was addressed. The Washington, D. C. man is a former student of Bayview College of Portland, where he did Madrigal singing. Bayview College, was destroyed by a hurricane in 1916, was operated as a private boarding school by Thomas R. Clark, father of Prof. Clark. Several of the madrigals sung here recently were familiar to Mr. Bradford.

Another letter came from Clyde Garrett, editor of the Southwest Musician at Arlington. Mr. Garrett was pleased to know that the Madrigal Club was adhering to the traditional manner of madrigal singing.

Hart Palpitations
By Fred Hart

This is the end of college life. One week from yesterday, President Hill will stand on the platform and give about 134 of us our walking papers. Then we will be exes of this institution.

This writer has had a wonderful experience at West Texas State. We are a changed person from the shy, timid, skinny freshman who so confidently entered W. T. No longer do we look with awe upon the wonders of the wonderful upperclassmen; we know that they are nearly human also.

There is no doubt that I might have accomplished more in college. Instead, I chose to work on the publications, and there has not been a yearbook issued since I came here that has not had a little bit of my effort. Probably they would have been better books if I had stayed at home, but someone has to be the goat.

Then there is the wonderful sheet, The Prairie. My first week of school I walked into the publications office and in a scared voice asked Bill Britton if freshmen could work on The Prairie. After completing a probationary period, I saw my name on the masthead. It hasn't been removed since.

The most interesting thing I have learned at W. T. is people. Just people. But, here I have fallen far short. When I walk down the hall, people turn their heads (or maybe they don't even go to that trouble) and think, "there goes that crackpot Hart." And I in turn think "there goes so and so; definitely a stick in the mud," or "that is a lovely girl, but the fellow she goes with—ouch!"

And all the while, if we only really knew one another, I might have some same moments, and the stick in the mud might show some real amusing talents and interests; while, the boy friend mentioned may be a good guy.

We ought to really get acquainted with our fellow students. What do they really think? What do they desire to do? Who are they? That is what our casual acquaintance fails to answer.

Admittedly, this is late in the year to give this sermon, but the truths of this have only dawned upon the conscious of this terrible know-nothing.

Some are running around bemoaning the lack of book knowledge they have acquired, but I most wish that I knew more about my fellow students. If I knew a little about each, just think of the wisdom I would have.

When I traipse across the stage, I'll be the second generation of Hart to be thrown out of W. T. the correct way. Eighteen years ago to a day, my dad got his sheepskin from W. T. However, he was more of an accomplishment than I. He first came to Canyon in 1910 to work on the first college building, and returned in 1913 to enroll in its classes. Then for ten years he alternated between West Texas State and school teaching. Somewhere between runs he picked me up, and he's been slowed down ever since.

There are several who get degrees Monday who are second generations. I have intended, ever since I was a freshman, to write a story about each of the second generation, but, Hart-like, I never got around to it, and now I don't know all their names.

In case you can't tell, this is the Senior Class Edition of The Prairie. This is just another one of the features of Senior Class Day. Class Day is a tradition, and we hope you like it.

Elsie Thompson of Canadian, who received her degree from W. T. in January, was seen on the campus last week. She was a B. B. A. major.

"Com-pa-nee atten-shun," bawled the drill sergeant to the awkward squad. "Com-pa-nee, lift your left leg and hold it straight in front of you."

By mistake one member held up his right leg, which brought it out side by side with his neighbor's left leg.

"And who is the galoot over there holding up both legs?" shouted the hard-boiled sergeant.

Prairie Ads get results.

The Seniors Speak — 134 Voices
(Editor's Note: The following are excerpts from the Senior Class Day address by Glen Davis. The Senior Class unanimously approved all points contained herein. They are printed here for future reference of all who remain at W. T.)

Even as we are happy and sorrowful in our achievement of graduation, we realize that alone we could have but failed. It is, therefore fitting that we Seniors pay tribute to our parents for their sacrifices during the past years which made our dream a reality. It is fitting that we pay tribute to the citizens of Texas for their support. It is fitting that we pay tribute to the faculty for their guidance during these years of preparation. To all of these people we are grateful. It is our hope that we can repay this debt of gratitude by our loyalty to the worthwhile principles, to the well-founded morals, and to the noble ideals of our parents and faculty.

Today I express the voice of 134 Seniors—unanimous in their condemnation of certain practices in the college, unanimous in their belief that W. T. can be improved; unanimous in their approval of these recommendations. You may think now that you need not heed the voice of these 134 since we Seniors will be gone tomorrow. But just as surely as you turn a deaf ear on our proposals now, so shall we turn a deaf ear on your pleas in the future. In a few days, it is true, these Seniors will leave; but where will they go? They will go into the communities of the Panhandle. They will go into the trade territory of W. T. They will go to till the soil, to begin in business, to instruct the young. They will go to become the leaders of the Panhandle. They will go to become Ambassadors of Good Will or the Ambassadors of Ill Will for W. T. And then in 15 or 20 years from now these same 134 will have young children knocking on the doors of America's Educational institutions. These same 134 will then be controlling a potential student body of West Texas State. Upon your actions now will depend our actions in the future.

First, not as a part of our recommendation but as a part of some general information that might be useful, the seniors of '41 wish to state publicly here and now that we are leaving no obligations whatever to the Senior Class of next year. You may buy your rings from whatever company you choose—you may buy your invitations from whatever company you choose.

The Seniors of '41 believe and recommend that a new schedule for the Tennis Courts be made, since students unless in the P. E. classes or on the varsity, cannot use the courts now until after 5:30.

We believe and recommend that more hours be made available for students to call at the Health Center. At present visiting hours are only from eight until ten and one until three o'clock—periods when most students have classes.

The Seniors of '41 believe and recommend that all graduating Seniors having a C average should be exempted from final examinations. True, this is a purely selfish reason, but nothing whatever is gained from the tests this late, and the Seniors are busy enough anyway.

We also believe and recommend that consideration be given to improvement of the W. T. band, that the sidewalks leading north to the Education building be paved to the street pavement, that 10 minutes be had between classes, and that a floating bridge be installed between the Administration Building and the Education Building.

We believe in a democracy that upholds majority rule and student unity. We have just been engaged in the greatest political campaign ever conducted at W. T. A campaign where many interests were in conflict. Now the majority has spoken, although a very close majority, but now we should be willing to lay aside our prejudices and work as one toward a common goal. There is no place in our student body for one small group to hinder the efficiency of our government because of personal prejudices or selfish interests. But we are concerned not so much with the past as with the present and the future; we are interested not so much in criticism as in construction; we are affected not so much with student unity as with student disunity. The building of student body power must go on. Our greatest task is yet before us. That task is the fusing of the different elements of clubs and students into a compact, harmonious, and distinctive student body with a single devotion . . . the devotion of W. T., a single will, the will to make W. T. prosperous, intellectual, and beneficial; a single hope, the hope that W. T. shall achieve her rightful place as an Educational Institution. Our task is one of creating an esprit de corps, a school spirit, a unity of student action. We as a student body cannot plan, we cannot work, we cannot act effectively, if we are hindered by vacillation, indifference, internal dissension or disloyalty. Other things being equal, our capacity for getting things done as a student body, varies directly with our unity. If we as a student body are to accomplish anything, we as a student body must work together.

The Seniors of '41 believe in a democracy—a democracy that upholds democratic methods. We believe in a democracy that believes that if it effects the student body, the students should have a choice. The Commencement speakers affect the student body. Why should not the students have a voice in their selection?

We believe in a democracy that encourages fairness—a democracy that practices fairness. Fairness to the extent that when students read in the College catalogue that the fees are a certain amount, that they will be that amount. Fairness to the extent that when we pay our fees in the Business Manager's Office for admission to classes that those fees will be all.

The Seniors of '41 believe in a democracy that lets the students have a part. If it affects the student body, let the students have a voice. For the past four years the Seniors of '41 have advocated that a student be made a member of the Lyceum Committee. The Lyceum programs are financed only by our fees, and the committee is composed only of faculty members.

We believe in a Democracy that holds enlightenment to be one of its key virtues. I hold in my hand a souvenir of the Business Manager's Office. It is an Activity Ticket for this nine or really eight weeks. Ten tickets were available for use at the first of this eight weeks; ten tickets are available for use at the end of this eight weeks. This has happened in a comparable way during each of our four years in college, and as far as we can find out for the last seven years. Why aren't there any activities for us the last nine weeks?

Now should we, the students, be granted membership on every committee that affects us, what would be the result? It would merely give the students a voice in government. It would merely let the students have a vote on matters that affect them.

Perhaps you think that our criticisms have been rather severe, but you must remember that Love is the Coldest of critics. We criticize W. T. because we love it. We have made our recommendations in a friendly spirit with the hope that we can improve our Alma Mater. You may heed our proposals or not, but remember that we shall become the Ambassadors of Good Will or Ambassadors of Ill Will for W. T. in accordance with your attitude now.

Again speaking for the entire class; we know that our experience at W. T. will be long remembered, for W. T. is not sending us away empty-handed. We go freighted and laden with happy memories inexhaustible and unending—of W. T. its warm-hearted faculty and students, and their measureless kindness. May W. T., our Alma Mater, grow and expand and become a valuable educational institution. We have made our recommendations in a friendly spirit with the hope of W. T.'s becoming a democratic institution.

Music Groups Are Acclaimed

The halls were empty and quiet except for a few students returning early from lunch. All the office doors were closed and each noisy sound in the halls echoed and re-echoed. The Administration Building of West Texas State during the noon hour was peaceful.

Two girls entered the building and wandered down the long corridor on a main floor. Suddenly they became conscious of music in the distance. It sounded as though it came from some hidden recess and had the qualities of a Monks' chorus singing in a monastery at twilight.

One of the girls remarked softly, "Doesn't that sound beautiful—like a choir in a cathedral?"

The Women's Chorus was practicing in the main auditorium. Directed by Wallace R. Clark, head of the music department, it was making preparations for its appearance in assembly, which is made once each semester.

Open to any student in the College who feels musically inclined, the Women's Chorus, and the Men's, directed by Houston Bright, give each student an opportunity to add an extra hour to his course.

The mixed chorus, a combination of voices from both choruses also is directed by Prof. Clark and open to all students.

The Women's Chorus at West Texas now is made up of 150 voices, the mixed chorus of 185 voices and approximately 39 in the Men's Chorus.

The mixed chorus and the College Orchestra will appear together in a commencement concert during commencement week. Mendelssohn's oratorio, "Elijah" will be presented this year. Similar to an opera with the exception there are no costumes or action, the story of the Hebrew prophet will be told in song. Elijah's part will be sung by Prof. Houston Bright.

The Madrigal Club, another organization under the supervision of Prof. Clark, is the oldest musical aggregation connected with the college. Made up of 32 selected voices, the A Cappella chorus serves the Baccalaureate choir each

Firecrackers Win Intramural Title

Winners of the seasonal intramural race at West Texas State for the past term is a new-comer to the ranks of champions—the Firecrackers. Led by Billy Walker and Elver Brown, the Powder Boys scored the highest number of points in the events participated in during the year.

Second in the race are the single boys from Bachelors Hall. Crowding the Firecrackers for the championship, the Bachelors stood a chance of winning this honor had the final sport of softball been completed on the roster.

The Firecrackers won first place in the touch football contest, the first sport played in the fall. In the intramural basketball, the Bachelors won a thriller over the T-Anchor Aggies. The Firecrackers won the volleyball contest over the Single Boys, and then went on to take the handball tournament. The Bachelors stayed in the running by winning places in these contests.

The wet weather that has predominated for the past few weeks has created more damage than merely rusting the wheat in this area; it has stalled the round robin of softball in the intramural set-up.

With games being postponed, called off, and ignored because of a lack of rubber boots, the schedule has been dropped entirely. There has not been enough games played to qualify a winner, so this sport is not counted on the season's standing.

It owns a great library—a gift from the late D. A. Clippinger, director of the Chicago Madrigal Club.

The music department has nine teachers, seven of whom are doing full and applied work.

"This year," said Mr. Clark, "The department has enrolled the largest number in applied work in the history of the school."

Three of the nine teachers are full-time piano instructors and two are teaching full-time in voice. Students who sign up for applied work are required to have two recitals during their two years of work.

Among the students in West Texas there are approximately 50 who are majoring in music.

Guests at the banquet included Jerry Malin, sports editor of the Amarillo Globe-News and an ex-student, D. N. Bartlett of the Globe-News, Wes Kleinschmidt of Canyon, Clarence Thompson of Canyon, and Dr. R. P. Jarrett, Jr., team physician.

Faculty Forum Aired Again

West Texas State's radio forum once again has presented its weekly thirty-minute program on the air over KGNC, Amarillo. The subject last week was "Propaganda." The participants were Dr. William F. Read of the geology department; Dr. C. W. Freed of the speech department, Prof. James E. Butler of the speech department, and Prof. Olin E. Hinkle, director of Journalism.

This Is Price Brookfield

Arms laden and pockets filled with trophies, the smiling young man above is Price Brookfield of West Texas State, one of the greatest basketball players ever produced at this center of the court game.

Brookfield's list of accomplishments this year includes:

High point man at the national intercollegiate tournament at Kansas City. He made 76 points.

All-American honor at the Kansas City meet.

Captain of the Kansas City mythical team.

Most valuable player on his own team.

Captain of the Buffaloes for 1941-42.

High percentage of free throws on his team last season.

Brookfield led the Al Baggett-coached team to third place in the national tournament. The Buffs set an all-time scoring record for a single game at Kansas City, with 77 points in a victory over Dubuque University.

Brookfield scored 492 points during the season for an average of 14 points a game. He is a 6 foot 4 1/2 inch cowboy from Friona, Texas. His latest honor is a listing on Chuck Taylor's All-American quintet.

Next season the Buffaloes will play a few games in the East, including a tussle with Long Island University in Madison Square Garden. Champions of the Alamo Conference, they will have tougher competition next year in the Border Intercollegiate Athletic Conference to which they have been admitted.

The locals campaign as the "World's Tallest Basketball Team"—a claim which has not been challenged in four seasons.

Returning lettermen will be Brookfield, Halbert, Maddox, Schupbach, and F. Stockman. Several classy freshmen will round out a powerful quintet.

Tiny Teeter Schupbach Is T Club Head

Kuehler, Lockhart, Brock and Halbert Fill Other Offices for Next Year

Mountainous "Teeter" Schupbach is the new president of the Buffalo T Club. He and the other new officers for the coming year were elected in the weekly Thursday afternoon meeting.

Cletus Kuehler is again vice-president. He was the only officer elected to succeed himself. The title of secretary-treasurer is now being worn by Warren Lockhart. Charles "Shorty" Halbert will endeavor to maintain peace and order at the T Club meetings during the next year as sergeant-at-arms. Ira Brock will represent the club on The Prairie staff.

Already there are plans under way for the T Club to produce a "Varsity Show." The show will be similar to the famous Winter Carnival and other annual all-boy shows put on in the East.

Flight Course Nears Conclusion

Despite a long siege of bad weather which has seriously hindered flying operations, twenty-eight student pilots of the West Texas State CPT Program will soon have completed the flight course, the ground school and will receive their private licenses. Each pilot will then be faced with the problem, what shall I do with my flight training?

Perhaps a few will choose to try the Army or Navy Air Corps. Some may drop their flying except for an occasional flight. But for those pilots who wish to continue training under the CPT Program there are several valuable courses being offered by the Amarillo Air Service, flight contractors of the West Texas State program.

After primary flight training comes the Secondary Course. To take this course the student must pass a prescribed physical examination and must have completed 60 college hours. The Secondary is a 40-hour course taken in an airplane of the 2S class, usually a Ryan, a Waco, or a plane of that type. The Ryan is a low wing monoplane powered with a 125 h. p.

In "Men of Boys Town"

Bringing together again Spencer Tracy and Mickel Rooney, "Men of Boys Town" is a sequel to the memorable "Boys Town". This great story of humanitarian fight for homeless boys is at the Olympic Sunday and Monday.

Menasco engine. The Waco is a biplane with a 200 h. p. Continental engine.

The course consists of precision flying and advanced acrobatics. This teaches the student abnormal attitudes of flight and how to recover from them. Three hours of dual and three hours of solo cross country flying is included in the course. A rigid ground school for the Secondary is required for which the student receives five hours college credit.

Upon completion of the Secondary the student may enroll for the Apprentice Instructor Course. This is a smoothing out course given in a light plane. The training is 25 hours of dual flying with emphasis on methods of instruction and student error correction. In this course the student has the time and opportunity to learn a lot of the fine points of flying and instruction. It gives a great deal of practical experience and practice in instructing students. Five hours of solo cross country flying is included in the course.

Next comes the Cross Country Course. This is given in a Stinson Reliant, a five place cabin monoplane powered with a 265 h. p. Lycoming engine. The plane is equipped with a controllable pitch propeller, two way radio, directional-gyro compass, radio loop direction finder and other navigation instruments such as turn and bank indicator, rate of climb indicator and sensitive altimeter.

This course teaches the fine points of cross country flying by radio and instrument navigation, and allows the student to log 40 solo hours of heavy ship time. Each student also rides and observes for 80 more flying hours, making a total of 120 hours spent in the air in this course.

The CPT Program also offers a Commercial Refresher Course and an Instructor Refresher Course. These are as the name implies, courses to refresh the pilot on maneuvers to place him in position to pass a commercial and instructor flight test for a commercial license and an instructor's rating.

All these courses are available to the student who has completed primary training and 60 hours college work. The cost is simply the cost of the necessary physical examinations and insurance fees.

No further flight training than the Primary Course is provided at present for girl student pilots.

College Seniors Honored In Social Season's Final Fete of School Term

Stafford Hall Is Scene of Reception

Honoring the 134 members of the Senior Class, President and Mrs. J. A. Hill were hosts at their annual reception for the college seniors and faculty members Saturday night at Stafford Hall from 8:30 until 10 o'clock.

Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Meyer, hosts at Stafford hall, and Mrs. Frank R. Phillips, wife of the senior sponsor, met the arrivals. Dr. B. F. Fronbarger introduced the guests to Glen Davis, president of the senior class, who in turn presented them to Dr. Hill. In the receiving line were Dr. and Mrs. Hill, Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Shirley, Dr. and Mrs. Harris M. Cook, and Mrs. Geraldine Green.

Moving into the "mingling" room, the guests were presented boutonnières of pansies by Miss Florence McMurtry. Mrs. C. A. Murray presided at the crystal punch bowl.

A record attendance filled the rooms, and seniors and faculty members, freed of four years of worry, appreciated the occasion to join in the general feeling of friendly fellowship.

Usery-Bright Announcement Made Sunday

Senior Models Three-way Play Suit

STAFF PHOTO

Spring, sports, skirts, and shorts, is the cry of every gay, young college girl. The cameras clicked on the versatile success of this practical and charming play-time suit in a three-way plane of action. Whether it's bicycling, tennis, or just looking-on—this play suit is equal to the occasion. This three-in-one combination is a genuine 'Texas Special' direct from the land o' cotton—furnished through the courtesy of Gordon Style Shop of Amarillo and modeled by that popular W. T. Senior, Dorothy McNeill.

The coming of spring means the packing away (in moth balls) of any possible color inhibitions because yours is a sports wardrobe which will bloom into brilliant arrays of color—such as the broad candy striped skirt of this comfortable masterpiece of casual design. The natural colored shorts are made of soft smooth fitting jersey. The colorful corded belt adds a gay little note, and, too,—notice the clever little tennis racket buttons adorning the shirt-waist top.

No matter what your favorite sport, you'll look best and feel best in one of those smart little play time suits with that fleet, ready-for-fun look and a general air of zip and go.

Panhandle Is "All Wet" As Trees Collapse Again.

Add Panhandle weather vagaries: Campus trees at West Texas State College bowed and broke last winter under a heavy coating of ice.

This week they bowed and broke again—but for a reason strange to this section. The weight now is that of luxuriant clusters of the winged seeds of the ash tree. The limbs could not support the weight of these clusters, added to rain soaked leaves.

Not the least puzzled were Gloria Soto and Beatriz Martinez, Puerto Rican students.

"You told me this was a dry country," Gloria said accusingly. "Instead, it rains almost as much as it does in Puerto Rico."

Members of the Briscoe High School graduating class heard Dr. Harris M. Cook Thursday night in a commencement address.

Two students, Lois Meek and La Verna Evans, accompanied Dr. Cook to Briscoe.

Mrs. Alfred Bellah, Reba Pool of Groom, and Mrs. A. W. Sternenberg.

Ghost Clashes With Exams for Attention

Final Meetings Foretell Plans

Sororities and fraternities are holding their last meetings of the 1940-41 term. Election of officers, plans for summer events, best wishes in the year books, and final good-byes to senior members constitute the programs.

Alpha Psi Omega's newly elected officers include Jim McCray, director (president); Lucille Weast, stage manager (vice-president); Fred Simpson, business manager, Prairie and LeMirage representative. Former president Marjorie Kirk had charge of the business meeting held last week. Other retiring officers are Nell Stevenson, vice-president; and Doris Kirksey, secretary.

August 2 is the day designated for the Epsilon Beta fraternity this summer. Elmo Walling, president, conducted the meeting of the club last Wednesday evening at which plans for the annual celebration were discussed. The group will meet in Amarillo and then proceed to Buffalo Lake.

Davis Thompson was elected 1941-42 president of the Alpha Sigma Xi fraternity Thursday evening at the last meeting of the year. Other officers elected and installed were: Jack Herring, vice-president; James Burrus, secretary-treasurer; Lawrence Hohlaus, pledge captain; B. A. Davis, LeMirage and Prairie representative.

Retiring officers are: President, Ed Line; vice-president, Earl Wilbur; secretary-treasurer, Lathan Jackson. Sponsors are Dr. C. W. Freed and Prof. R. J. Hibbets.

Vaughn Accepts Position As Typist in Washington, D. C.

Brynild Vaughan of Canyon government major and a spring graduate has gone to Washington, D. C. to accept a Civil Service appointment as a senior typist. His assignment to duties will be made by the personnel office in Washington.

His address will be 1536 Sixteenth Street N. W., and his phone number Potomac 0977.

An unannounced visitor has made his appearance near the campus recently. No calling card is issued, but none was desired by those who have met him. "He" is a ghost.

Students, faculty members, and even the matrons at one of the campus dormitories have made a special trip to a well known "parking" place north of town to see this phenomena. First discovered Saturday night, he has made an appearance every night since. Discovered Saturday night by one carload of rather dubious "Ghost Breakers," it was viewed Thursday night by a crowd consisting of fifty cars.

Prominent people on the campus who have viewed this... spirit... are Delbert Cummings and date, Ballard Graves, Red Weatherly, Guy Hazlett, Virgil Kelley, Ben Collins, and "Putt" Brandon. Another couple that has been gifted with the privilege of seeing this apparition is Raymon Wood and Jean Whittaker.

Descriptions of this ghost vary greatly. Saturday night he was five feet tall, about a foot wide and wore a white face with a sheet to match. By Thursday night, however, he had grown to seven feet in height, 28 inches wide and could run 50 miles an hour. His complexion was decidedly black and his hair was long and shaggy.

Actually, the ghost made only two bonafide appearances in person. On Saturday and Sunday nights, a visitor from Amarillo hid in the trunk of a practical joker's car and entertained the unknown ones with a little show.

No other appearances have been made, and the boy decidedly could not run fifty miles an hour. It is reported that one of the students who saw this ghost has had a heart

'There'll Be Some Changes Made,' Says W. T.'s Spring Cupid

Hill-Hohlaus

The approaching marriage of Miss Margaret Esther Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hill of Amarillo, to Lt. Kenneth H. Hohlaus, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hohlaus of Higgins, was announced Saturday afternoon at a tea given by the bride-elect's mother.

The marriage will take place June 1, in the First Christian Church in Amarillo.

Mogie Routh and Ruth Hill, sorority sisters of the bride-elect, entertained the 125 guests that called during the afternoon. Mrs. Agnes Collins Smith presided at the tea table. Dorothy Dickenson was a member of the house party. Others who attended from Canyon were Mrs. J. A. Hill and Mrs. A. M. Meyer.

Miss Hill is a graduate of Amarillo High School and West Texas State where she was a member of Pi Omega sorority. Lieutenant Hohlaus is now stationed with the 25th Bomb Group of the U. S. Army Air Corps at Borinquen Field, Puerto Rico. He is a graduate of Lockney High School and West Texas State where he was a member of Alpha Sigma Xi.

Troutman-Hopkins

Jo Troutman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Troutman of Floydada, and Josh Hopkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hopkins of Canadian, have announced the coming of their marriage to take place in December.

Miss Troutman, a sophomore at W. T., has been president of the Delta Zeta Chi sorority this year, and sophomore representative to the Student Senate.

Mr. Hopkins attended W. T. two years where he was a member of the Epsilon Beta fraternity. He is now employed at the Stearns Air Craft in Wichita, Kansas. After their marriage the couple will make their home in Wichita.

Runyan-Wineinger

Mrs. G. W. Runyan of Canyon is announcing the marriage of her daughter, Charman, to Ramond Wineinger of Amarillo. The couple were married May 15 at the Baptist parsonage in Mountainair, N. M. The only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Walt Kennison of Mountainair. Mrs. Kennison is a sister of the bride.

Mrs. Wineinger wore black and white with matching accessories. She will receive her degree from West Texas State College on June 2. She has recently been employed by the W. T. Registrar's Office and the Randall County Abstract Company.

The bridegroom is a son of Mrs. Lottie Wineinger of Amarillo. He is a graduate of Amarillo High School and attended West Texas State College. He is now employed by the Santa Fe at Canadian where the young couple will be at home.

Farnsworth-Browning

Miss Naveta Farnsworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Farnsworth of Canadian, and Harold Browning, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Browning of St. Jo, were married May 13, in Canyon.

Mrs. Browning is a graduate of Canadian High School and West Texas State College. Mr. Browning is also a graduate of Canadian High School and West Texas State; he is a farmer in the Heiselman community at the present time.

attack and eats aspirins constantly. It is believed that students in a State College and its faculty members should be older than to believe these fantasies.

If the "ghost" could have been penned, a sizable fortune could have been made by charging for the people in this higher institution of learning to view him.

Just then the ex-ed remembered an incident with a certain filter and croaked, "Yes, and you can make lovely pictures of Lynn Edwards when you remember to remove that landscape filter. If I was a pretty girl like she is, and a goop like you took pictures of me with a cloud filter, I'd just murder you, instead of letting you try again."

Then a real argument started about pictures. Estelle's back and Doris Kirksey in the ballet costume were prominent mentions. Louise Schulze's back at the swimming pool received the award for the first
