

Ballerina Appears In Lyceum Here Monday Night

Ruth Page, well known premiere ballerina of the Chicago Grand Opera, who will bring a company of twenty persons to West Texas State Teachers College Monday is said to use better music than anyone else in her profession.

She builds the pattern of her dances from the music. Her offerings here will include "Love Song." The music is that of Schubert but the choreography is hers. She welds the art of music and the dance, sometimes in the old ballet form and often with her own innovations.

Began With Pavlova

Ruth Page began her dancing career with Pavlova when she was only 15 years old, spending more than six months on tour of South and Central America. Her career was made. She was in constant demand in this and other countries. During 1926-27 and the following season she was guest solo dancer of the Metropolitan Opera House. Then she toured the Orient for eight months, appearing several times before the Emperor. In 1930 she sailed for Russia, where she gave a series of "American Dances."

Plans World Tour

Since then Miss Page's company has been the official ballet of the Chicago Grand Opera. Out of the opera season, she tours this country. At present she is planning to make another world tour. Her program here is expected to be one of the most brilliant ever brought to the plains.

W. T. High Casts Senior Play

Eighteen students were chosen to compose the cast for "American, Very Early," W. T. High School senior play, following try-outs in the Education Building Auditorium last Tuesday afternoon at 3:30.

Miss Mary Morgan Brown, head of the college speech department, served as judge for the try-outs.

Seniors given roles in the play included Edward Line, Kaki Westmoreland, Duane Legge, Cleo Bourland, Luther Archer, Clarabelle Russell, Anna Dell Sligar, Branch Archer, A. G. Thornton, Howard Boling, Mary Giddon, Ida Martha Pierle, Coystal Tabor, Bessie Lane, Jean Byars, Laura Lou Campbell, Billy Cass Harter, and Evangeline Baker.

"American, Very Early," is a three act comedy depicting the ups and downs of two New Yorkers who open an antique shop in the hills of Connecticut.

Miss Eula Frazier, a college speech student, is directing the production.

The play will be presented about the last of March.

Hibbets Addresses Amarillo Teachers

Miss Anna I. Hibbets, professor of education, spoke to the American Association of Childhood Education Tuesday afternoon at Sanborn School auditorium in Amarillo on "The Place of Nature Study in the Education of Children in the Public Schools."

More than sixty-five primary grade teachers of the public schools of Amarillo were in attendance at the meeting, held under the sponsorship of the Amarillo A. C. E. Club.

Officials and teachers of the Amarillo schools were praised by Miss Hibbets on their introduction of nature study into the curriculum this school year, the first year in which Texas has furnished a textbook for use in public school classes in this subject.

"Children should not study about nature," said Miss Hibbets, "but they should study nature. The test of a good textbook on the study of nature is whether it sends the child out-of-doors for further information and joy in the miracles of nature."

The advantages of the child that accrue from the study of nature were briefly outlined by the speaker, and a resume was given of a course recently taken by her on Hog Island, Maine, under the direction of the Audubon Society.

Guests at the meeting of the club included Superintendent of Schools C. M. Rogers, and Misses Annie L. McDonald and Gertrude Elliker, supervisors of the elementary grades.

Eighty-five New Students Enroll For This Semester

The second semester of W. T. opened Tuesday with a considerable increase in attendance. Registrar D. A. Shirley reports that eighty-five new students are enrolled.

Thirteen candidates for the Buffalo football team are among those who are enrolled, and who will be eligible this fall. Five of the boys are from the east and are of Italian, Polish and Lithuanian descent. These boys bring a cosmopolitan atmosphere to the campus. They are: Michael Angelo Petrucelli, Julius Buckunuerick, Ray Metruilis, Philip DeGregory and John Mac-kulsky. These boys heard of the wonderful athletic plant of W. T. and decided to cast their lot with the Buffaloes.

Other Junior College athletes who transferred here and will be eligible this fall are: Albert Willis, Matador; Francis Elliston, Canyon; Archie Hogden, Clovis; W. Bradley and Jack Parker, Olustee, Okla.; Ray Clark, Tishomingo, Okla.; Wayne Walker, Greenville; Willard Childress, Canyon.

High School Press To Meet Here

West Texas State was voted the permanent headquarters of the Panhandle High School Press Association at its annual meeting in Borger Saturday. Prof. Olin E. Hinkle, head of the journalism department and college news service, was named advisor for the organization.

The amendment to the constitution moving the headquarters here was proposed by Miss Lois Goodrich, former student and sponsor of the Canyon High School Eagle's Tale. Students of the journalism department and the staff of W. T. high school Tumbleweed will be hosts to the association. A service bureau for high school newspapers will be operated by Mr. Hinkle and students in the journalism department. Periodical letters will be sent out to members of the Association, and questions regarding high school publications will be answered through the bureau.

Officers Elected

Rena Beth Bellah, Canyon High School junior, was elected secretary for the organization and will assist the bureau in carrying on correspondence. Other officers elected were Dorothy Jane Day of Pampa, president, and Charlotte Buchanan of White Deer, vice-president. The convention of Panhandle high school journalists brings nearly two hundred students to the convention center each year. The organization was founded here in 1934 by the staff of the Eagle's Tale and has met in different Panhandle towns during the last four years.

Council Resigns--Committee Will Work Out New Plan

Brown Will Make Two Addresses Here Thursday

W. T. students will be given an opportunity to hear one of the best known and best liked author-lecturers in the United States when Dr. Rollo Walter Brown of Cambridge, Mass., fills a lyceum engagement here next Thursday in two public appearances.

"The Romance of Being a Student," a lecture which has thrilled students of two continents, will be the theme of Dr. Brown's assembly lecture Thursday morning at 11 o'clock.

"Do We Want a Creative Spirit In America" will be the evening subject of this great educator who is considered a pioneer in behalf of the creative spirit in American education and American life. This lecture will be in the auditorium at 8:15 o'clock.

Dr. Brown's careful study of the French educational system and his volume on literary tradition in French education have made him one of the leading authorities in the field of French Literature.

Several of Dr. Brown's books are on the college library shelves, and he is well known to several members of the faculty.

Students will be admitted to the evening's lecture on activity tickets. Admission to others will be 50 cents.

Clay Thornton Is Elected President of Potter Exes

Clay Thornton was elected president of the Potter County Ex-students at a meeting last week in the Herring Hotel at Amarillo. Other officers elected were Bob Crudginton, first vice-president; Mrs. Walter Word, second vice-president; Felix Phillips, third vice-president; Ray Daniel, secretary; Miss Annie McDonald, treasurer; and Bill Britton, publicity chairman.

Dr. R. P. Jarrett, spoke to the exes on "Why Students From Amarillo Should Go to West Texas State College."

"We are going to have a football team to compare with Texas A. and M., and Texas Tech. I was slow getting sold on football but we are going to have it," said Dr. J. A. Hill, president of the college. "Amarillo and the Panhandle wants a real football team and we are going to give it to them."

"We expect an increase in enrollment of from one to two hundred students next year. The new program which the board of regents has authorized is a challenge both to the college and to the people of the territory. We are not going to weaken our teacher-training program in order to broaden the curriculum. We need an increase in enrollment since the legislature bases its appropriation on the enrollment of the college. The proportional cost of operation is less on a large enrollment."

Nine members of the Student Council submitted their resignations to President J. A. Hill Wednesday afternoon, and a new plan for student participation in school administration is to be formulated by a committee composed of students appointed by class presidents and a faculty group selected by Dr. Hill.

Plans for working out a new system of student government were formulated at a meeting of class presidents with college deans and Dr. Hill, Friday. The meeting was called by the president and attended by the following: Dr. R. P. Jarrett, dean of the College; Dr. Harris M. Cook, dean of men; Mrs. Geraldine Green, dean of women; Joe McNeill, president of the senior class; George Wright, junior president; Meredith Warren, sophomore president; and Glen Davis, president of the freshmen.

Will Choose Representatives

According to the plan, unanimously approved by the group, each class president will choose two representatives to work with faculty members in gathering material on the subject of student government and finally drafting a plan for the consideration of the president and the student body. Both the president and the students will be at liberty to reject the plan or certain parts, when it is completed. Members of the committee have not been chosen but will be selected at an early date.

The student - faculty committee will have a free hand to go into the problem from all angles and to draft the best plan of which it is capable, Dr. Hill said. Meanwhile, the Student Council has ceased to exist and the committee is under no obligation to reinstate it, he added.

Nine members of the Council turned in their resignations Wednesday afternoon and declined to withdraw them in a lengthy conference.

Dotson Makes Statement

In a statement to The Prairie Friday, J. B. Dotson, said: "We sincerely hope that this action on the part of members of the Student Council will awaken the student body and faculty from their lethargy and inertia to immediate action toward constitutionalization of the rights of students in written form. In our opinion the initiative should come from the respective classes."

Members who submitted their resignations are: J. B. Dotson of Amarillo, president; Quixie Bea King of Lamesa, vice-president; Gonda Biggers of Hereford, secretary-treasurer; Helen Gilmore, Wheeler; Robert Orton, Canyon; Rex Galloup, Amarillo; Dids Meek, Lamesa; Ed Spann, Amarillo; and Virginia Lee Hussey, Hereford. Billy Norman, freshman representative from Canyon, did not resign.

Plans Lack Consideration

Student Council members, in resigning, said that they had been unable to obtain effective consideration for measures proposed by them this term, and that they felt their action was needed to bring the matter forcefully before the school.

Among the recommendations made by the Council were: A resolution for the construction of a band dormitory; student recreational dances on Monday nights, late permission for dormitory residents on Saturday nights, regulation of meeting nights for social organizations, exchange of representatives between the welfare committee and student council, and a plan for sponsorship of assembly programs by various campus organizations.

Favored Most Proposals

Dr. Hill said Friday that he favored most of the Council's proposals and felt that he would have been able to effect them in time. He said that he believed the Council's misunderstanding could have been averted had business not kept him off the campus a great deal and

Further Plans For Band Clinic Here Feb. 18-19 Made

Rehearsals, conferences, and sessions are being outlined to make the Band Clinic of February 18-19 an event which will show much accomplishment.

While the clinic is scheduled for Friday and Saturday of next week, the directors and selected high school band members are expected to arrive by noon of Thursday—the preceding day. This will permit rehearsals to be held in preparation for the clinic. The conductor of the event, Victor Grabel of Chicago, requested the practices.

Clinic sessions will be held all day Friday, and there will be a banquet for directors in the evening. A program will be given at College assembly Saturday at 11 a. m. On Saturday evening a public band concert will be given.

According to C. E. Strain band instructor and director at West Texas State, two huge bands will be assembled during the clinic. These may reach 90 pieces each. Sectional chairmen, who will be experienced band men, will assist Mr. Grabel in managing these bands.

The conductor is one of the nation's most famous band masters. He also is a composer.

Held at the College on the same days will be the district basketball tournament. Some of these games will be seen by the visiting musicians.

Johnston Presents Library Compilations of His Work

C. Stuart Johnston, head of the department of archaeology, presented the library with five compilations of his own last week.

Miss Linnie Babston, assistant librarian, commented that this series of pre-historic writings will be of intense interest to students of archaeology and paleontology.

Included in this series are: "Notes on the Craniometry of Equus Scotti Oidley," Tracks from the Pliocene of West Texas," Osteology of Bismochelys Canyonensis—a New Turtle from the Pliocene of Texas," "A Skull of Teloceras Fossiger Cope from the Clarendon Beds of Donley County, Texas," and "The Skull of Mylodon Harlan from the Lower Pleistocene of West Texas."

Mrs. T. V. Reeves, head of the Bureau of Public Service, also contributed a book, "The Addresses and Proceedings of the National Education Association" for the years 1927-1935, inclusive.

1,745 Students Are Enrolled in Various Divisions of College

West Texas State has about 1,745 individuals enrolled for instruction in its various divisions for the current long term.

Enrollment in the senior college division is at the thousand mark, with indications that registration for the spring semester will boost the total beyond 1,010, which was the total last year. Nearly one hundred new students will enter W. T. for the second semester. Most of these are here.

Extension classes and correspondence work account for 436 additional students, and there are more than 300 pupils in the Demonstration School.

Continued dry weather undoubtedly caused many prospective students to cancel plans to enter for the spring semester.

Track Is Added As Major Sport By Coach Baggett

A third major sport will be added to the athletic program of W. T. according to Coach Al Baggett.

"We will have some track this year," says Coach Baggett. "The extent of our participation will depend upon the material and interest."

He continued by saying that track would make for a more balanced athletic program, as it would encourage year-around athletes instead of seasonal athletes.

Although a call will be issued for all athletes interested in track, all gridsters will participate in some track. Intramural track is also encouraged and several intramural meets are being scheduled.

Coach Baggett, who has coached several state and national champions, says that he hopes to see the cinder path take a major part in the W. T. athletic program in the near future.

Personality Queen Coronation Set For Saturday

Quixie Bea King, Lamesa, will be crowned Miss Personality of 1938 Saturday night in the coronation ceremonies to be held at eight o'clock in the auditorium of the Administration building.

Attending Miss King will be the four beauties selected by McClelland Barclay, famous New York illustrator. Those chosen by Barclay, according to the rank given by him, are: Maridora Blair, Hartley; Irma Jeanette Karnes, Dalhart; Dids Meek, Lamesa, and Mary Collins, Canyon.

Miss King will be escorted by Joe McNeill, Miss Blair by Jack Edmondson, Miss Collins by Conway Butler, Miss Meek by Charles Hoover, and Miss Karnes has not selected her escort.

The coronation program will consist of vocal solos by Mogle Routh and Houston Bright, accompanied by Weldon Bright; piano solo by Marjetta Ewing; and a tap dance by Vera and Inez Story. Hope Bussey will play the processional and recessional.

Joe McNeill, president of the senior class, will be master of ceremonies, and D. A. Shirley will crown Miss King.

Trainbearers are Roberta Turner and Ernestine Ballard, and heralds for the court are Ann Fallmeyer and Mary May Harrison.

In charge of the general arrangements for the coronation is Rosa Cash, with the following as committee heads: decorations, Marjetta Ewing and Laura Ferne Brian; program, Mary Helen Jensen; publicity, Joe Collins, Kenneth Black, and Bill Cone; and dance, Mary May Harrison, Marvin Calliham, and J. B. Dotson.

Following the coronation and beginning at 9:30 o'clock a dance, sponsored by the six social organizations, will be given in the ball room of Cousins Hall. Admission will be fifty cents for both stages and couples. Pick Harman and his orchestra will furnish the music.

Miss King, a senior, is a member of Delta Zeta Chi. She is vice-president of the senior class, president of Cousins Hall, secretary-treasurer of the Spanish club, a member of Madrigal Club and the women's chorus, and was vice-president of the former Student Council.

Members of Faculty Visit Schools

Mrs. Tommie Montfort, assistant professor of Latin and English, and Dr. Margaret Lee Wiley, associate professor of English, will spend Feb. 7-11 visiting schools in Collingsworth county.

Their program will be arranged through the courtesy of Supt. G. L. Farrar of Wellington, Supt. Carl Chaudoin of Quail, Supt. E. G. Sanders of Samnorwood, and Supt. W. E. Useton of Dodson.

Friday of the visitation period has been left open to permit freedom of movement to schools of the county.

The professors will study school equipment and methods in order to familiarize themselves with the conditions under which teachers work after graduation.

Dean R. P. Jarrett will visit schools in Wheeler county from February 14 to 18.

four bits by bill

It may be true that the Student Council's resignation Wednesday will reflect unfavorably upon the school, but it should also attract attention to the fact that it is the first real difficulty in the seventeen years of the organization's existence. This is quite some record in our opinion.

From another angle, the affair should provide some favorable publicity. Prospective students usually wish to attend a school where students are "doing something." W. T. has seldom provided excitement of a political nature.

Le Mirage photographers say they will take no more basketball action shots until the Hardin-Simmons game. Likely they wish to save flash bulbs since the lensmen can take time exposures of the Cowhands in action.

Phone 226 gets my nomination for the most popular number in the Canyon directory. Naturally, Randall would rank second. Try reaching some Cousins Hall girl by phone on Saturday afternoon and you'll agree.

Tottery Brainsters Battle Big Business February 23

Close Competition Expected; Two Callers Signed

Excitement, taut as a country telephone wire, will envelop the campus as the college brain trusters, ordinarily known as the faculty, test the theory that "the brain is mightier than brawn" in their cage blowed against the Amarillo industrialists on the time worn oaken floors of Burton Gym Wednesday night, February 23.

Coach D. A. Shirley hasn't announced the date for his fellow "Brain-twisters" to report for a warm-up struggle. The definite starting lineup hasn't been published, but there seems to be an excess of gum chewing by the executives in deciding which combination will start the fray.

The industrialists have chosen Doc R. E. Parcells, noted caller of the game of tackle and run, as their coach. Due to the superior physical condition, the visitors are given huge odds to overthrow the age-old theory. Practice is expected to be conducted several times before the battle royal.

Leading members of the Brain Trusters include Jumpin' Joe Duflot, slight forward with plenty of golf experience, Steady C. A. Murray, atomic guard, also a golfer, Ford Fronbarger, dapper forward, and a planter of trees, Lanky Leon Lassers, probable starting forward and a worthy foe with his tongue, Mitch Jones, former buff footballer and an authority on boy raising.

Flashin' Olin Hinkle, an exponent of the shoot and run system, Amoe-bic L. S. Baker, microscopic looper Sailor Moran Jennings, long range sharp-shooter with the mathematical mind; Farmer T. M. Moore, slight guard; Midget Howard Golden, veteran of many battles and one of Coach Shirley's leading guards; Rangy Arthur Goodman, potential center; Young F. E. Savage, playing his first game but a probable future star; Tiny L. T. Barksdale, also a new comer who will receive plenty of action; and Carl York, the probable leading scorer.

Lead by the powerful Dutch Mantell, he of the enlarged front, Coach Parcells charges will include, Silent Cal Farley, Timid John McCarty, Jerry (the McLemore) Malin, Polish Pash Bairam Bey, imported from Turkey for the occasion, Wee Ross Rogers, and Giant Bert Levy.

Wives and friends of the foes will form a pep squad led by "Judge" S. H. Condon and Doc Pierle. Due to the seriousness of the fray, two referees will be on hand to call all misplays. Both oldsters have plenty of experience. Prexy Hill will blow the whistle the first half, retiring in favor of Kernel E. Rasmus Tack during the intermission. Miss Florence McMurtry will umpire. Travis Shaw will be scorer for the Brainsters, and D. N. Bartlett will mark 'em up for the visitors. Nurse Hickman will watch the time-piece.

Despairing to acquaint the public with full facts, the Pep Squad, sponsors of the grudge battle, has secured the noted lecturer Dean G. Green as commentator. Rex Galloup of dramatic fame will control the public address system.

Admission prices are thirty-five cents for the public and twenty-five cents for students.

A NEW PLAN FOR STUDENT GOVERNMENT

W. T. for the first time in more than fifteen years, is without any form of student government. The student council plan has been tried and has failed. Resignation of the members of the student council last week served merely to bring to the fore the true situation.

Whatever the causes of this development, which seems to have risen from a general misunderstanding on the part of all parties involved, the result has been good. A new plan for student representation in administrative policy is being drafted . . . one which, it is hoped, will correct the mistakes made in the old. We learn through experience.

Both President Hill and the members of the council have recognized the futility of continuing to operate under the old plan. In resigning, J. B. Dotson, President of the council, acting as spokesman for the group, stated: "We sincerely hope that this action on the part of the student council will waken the student body and faculty . . . to immediate action. . . . In our opinion the initiative should come from the respective classes."

Two representatives from each class, working with a faculty committee appointed by Dr. Hill, will attempt to meet on a common ground to work out a new and effective plan for student representation. A careful study of plans now in operation in other colleges will be made. Such a measure is going to require a great deal of co-operation and understanding between the student and faculty groups involved.

"The student-faculty committee will have a free hand to go into the problem from all angles," Dr. Hill stated. A great deal will depend on the careful selection of this group . . . both from the faculty and student body. Immediate and careful action is necessary in order that similar occurrences in the future may be unnecessary."

The Student Council, in resigning, has accomplished what it could not accomplish in its former position. The fault lay in the system, not in the individuals concerned. In drafting a new student constitution, this fault must be ironed out. Lack of co-ordination between the council, the President, and the Welfare committee appears to have been the cause of the failure. In working out a new plan, the student-faculty committee should give careful attention to this factor, carefully defining the powers and duties of each group.—B. E.

WHO IS TO BLAME?

Dean R. P. Jarrett's address in assembly Tuesday morning gave rise to numerous comments among students the most common of which was: "If we must attend assembly, why shouldn't we at least have interesting programs?"

A penalty from unexcused absences from assembly was made necessary by too many students cutting assembly. It was students themselves who made the penalty necessary.

Admittedly, all assembly programs this year have not been beneficial or entertaining. Who is to blame for this fact? Most students will immediately answer that it is the dean's fault, and it is true that the dean is responsible for seeing that there is a program for each assembly period. It is not his duty, however, to prepare all of the programs himself. Students are not only welcome to make suggestions for programs, they are also urged to assist in preparing programs and to take part in them.

The difficulty lies in the fact that most students would much prefer to sit through a poor program than to have any part in one themselves. One person can hardly be expected to plan an entertaining assembly program every week during the school term. Pi Omega is preparing an interesting and educational program for a special assembly program on Feb. 17. It will be a founders day program and will outline the history of the College. Other clubs could easily find subjects for programs which would prove fully as entertaining.

Remember that it is partly your fault if the programs are poor, and that it is unfair to condemn the dean because he can not work out an entertaining program each week.

GOOD ADVERTISING

Last week Miss Jennie C. Ritchie, Dean of the W. T. High School, received a letter from W. T. Hanes, superintendent of the Hermleigh Public Schools, which should make every W. T. student and faculty member proud. The letter was written regarding a recent basketball trip made to Hermleigh by the W. T. Calves and their coach, L. T. Barksdale.

The letter, in part, read: "I am taking the liberty of writing you about the recent week-end trip your basketball boys made to our school with their coach, Mr. Barksdale.

"The boys stayed out in the homes of our school patrons for the two nights they were here. Our patrons, without a single exception, have come to me and have said that they were the finest boys that have ever visited us. They also conducted themselves in a gentlemanly and sporting manner while on the basketball court.

"Some one is certainly doing a fine piece of work in the Demonstration School at Canyon. The boys did a jam-up fine job of advertising Canyon's College. By the way, it was the kind of advertising all of us want too. We certainly did enjoy having them."

This is the type of advertising that West Texas State needs, and it cannot be purchased with money. Its value to the school is immeasurable.—B. N.

TO DO
BY GAD

A delightful presentation dance, an interesting lyceum number and three movies which will take their places as magnificent productions, combine to make up this week's round of entertainment. Thus, without any of the mystifying arm twisting which seems to be a very effective physical mistreatment in order to induce a friend to accompany you some place for fun purposes exclusively, when you both should be on those "old books"—you should be able to find educational and other diversion.

Having pledged a group of new members for this semester, Tri-Tau fraternity will present them at a dance Friday evening beginning at 8 o'clock. As always, these dances are snazzy get-togethers. Satiny tuxedos and appealing evening gowns will be displayed. As one country boy to another I would suggest that you postpone all previous engagements and borrow a stiff front shirt with a bat wing collar and throw your hat in the ring, signifying your intentions of being present when the first gun is fired. It will be worth it.

A lyceum number obtained by the college for Monday is one of the best in the ballet field. The Ruth Page ballet will be given in the Administration Auditorium, and admittance may be had through your blanket tax. If possible be sure and arrange your weekly program so you may see this spectacle. My informant, M. C., whispers that it will certainly be interesting.

LESLIE HOWARD makes his debut in the comedy field of acting, after having portrayed numerous successful character roles, in IT'S LOVE I'M AFTER, tonight only. Given the same size billing with HOWARD is BETTE DAVIS and OLIVIA DEHAVILLAND, both of whom are full-fledged stars. This show is one that may be fully enjoyed by everyone. Les does right well in comedy parts, but I think he belongs to the more serious type.

Another well produced comedy comes to the Olympic Wednesday and Thursday. GLADYS GEORGE and FRANCHOT TONE cop the starring roles and play exceedingly well in this performance. TONE plays the part of a Broadway columnist—comparable to WINCHELL—while Miss GEORGE takes on the fictitious role of a famous actress. Swell entertainment.

Well, as Gonda Biggers would say, here is the heel of the week: EXPENSIVE HUSBANDS which opens for an evening and afternoon showing Friday. PATRIC KNOWLES is the masculine lead with BEVERLY ROBERTS holding down the femininity department. These two kids are no actors and EXPENSIVE HUSBANDS is no picture. The moral is, add two and two together and what do you get? Minus zero will be the final result. Don't forget to put this one on your "not see list." Even if you did bribe the ticket agent, you would be disappointed.

Saturday night only ANNA MAY WONG, the Chinese actress, will be featured in the main show. The title is DAUGHTER OF SHANGHAI. This movie has merits that few shows can boast. A strictly oriental production. Miss WONG increases her prestige in the American cinema world by her portrayal in this performance. She turns in some very commendable acting.

PICK OF THE WEEK:

GRETA GARBO and CHARLES BOYER in CONQUEST. The most expensive production ever turned out, costing above one million to make. GARBO will thrill you by her simplicity and BOYER will be admired for his romantic endeavors and failures. Proving that love is supreme over everything else. CONQUEST strikes another four bell note in the hearts of the people. Please reserve this night for seeing this show for delightfully acted parts by the two famous dramatists. On your "must see" list above all others this year.

WHAT THEY THINK

What they think when Little Oswald starts to school for the first time.

His mother: "Just think, my little darling is almost grown up."

His father: "I hope he makes a fullback."

His older sister: "That means I've got to walk to school with him and can't go with the kids."

His teacher: "I hope he's smarter than he looks."

His neighbors: "Thank heaven! Now we can have peace for a few hours a day."

WHAT A PARTY

A teacher was correcting a boy who had said: "I ain't going there." "That's no way to talk. Listen: I am not going there; you are not going there; he is not going there; we are not going there; they are not going there. Do you get the idea?" "Yes ma'am. They ain't nobody going."

LITERA SCRIPTA MANET

(BY HOPE BUSSEY)

REGENERATION

The tense hours of the dark night
Pulled themselves across the low horizon.
The pressing silence slowly lifted
When the wind of dawn came from the yellow east,
The blood from that pierced heart
No longer flowed
When morning stepped upon the muddy threshold.

The hands of morning took the gnawed worn fingers,
And bade their keeper rise and weep no more.
The lips of dawn touched on the furrowed forehead,
And bade the marks of anguish leave for aye.
The breath of dew-kissed wind fell on the aching heart,
And bade it throb no more. The night was long,
But with the morning came a light of hope,
And with the dawning came a transformation
Of a fallen soul into a man again.
—Beth Miesse.

QUIRY

At midday, you and I,
Lolling on the sands,
Drunk with love
And blueness of the sea and sky,
"What is a human life?" you ask.
(Not such a strange request.)
I toss a pebble in the sea. . . .
It makes a feeble splash. . . .
And then it rests.

Ariana Burton.

TO A FIDDLE

Fiddle,
Giver of the mellowest of melodies,
Sweet as sweetest chants
That rise from angel's throats,
Thy mingled cries of joy and sadness

Release from human hearts
Hot soothing tears;
Thy weeping, laughing tones
Are fleeting sights of life,
Exciting thing of strife and bitterness

And stark white beauty.

Ariana Burton.

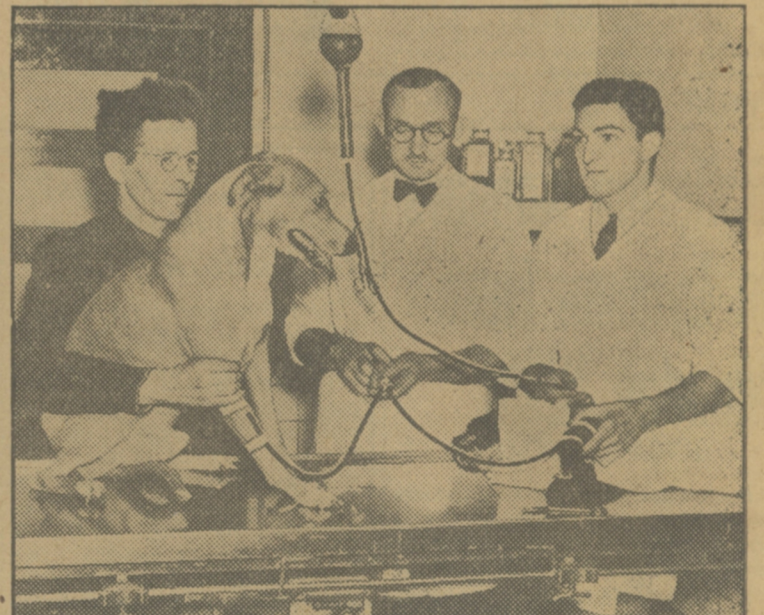

SOFTLY FLOW THE MIDNIGHT HOURS

Softly flow the midnight hours
Into the sea of morning,
And far above, the moonlit clouds
The heavens are adorning;
While of his presence in the trees
The hooting owl gives warning.

Gently glow the misty stars
From heaven's inky spaces;
The dew falls heavy from the sky
Upon green velvet laces,
Almost as if a thousand eyes

MISS MATTIE SWAYNE LEAVES FOR UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS

Miss Mattie Swayne, associate professor of English, left Tuesday for Austin, where she plans to complete her Doctor's Dissertation and do part-time teaching in the University of Texas.

The recent death of Dr. Killis Campbell, under whose direction she was writing her thesis, forces her to make acquaintance with his successor, who will direct her in completion of her work.

Mrs. Travis Shaw, who is teaching three freshman English classes, will take over the two others which were formerly taught by Miss Swayne.

COUNCIL—

President Hill founded the Student Council in the 1920-21 term as a student advisory group to the administration. The original constitution which was amended several times, and re-written once or twice, was lost last year.

BAPTISTS ENTERTAIN WITH POLITICAL CONVENTION

A political convention party was held by the Baptist Student Union Friday night in the recreational hall at the First Baptist Church.

The 110 persons who attended represented the states of depression, coma, matrimony, disability, and misery.

Olle Brown, social chairman of the B. S. U., was in charge of the general arrangements. Bill Norman, Bill Longbine, Fred Hart, Lyman Davenport, and Stephen Miller were chairmen of the states.

Each state had a candidate in the presidential race, but the run-off was a tie. A dark horse appeared when Marjio Brown, B. S. U. president, was elected with no dissenting votes.

Punch and cookies were served as a reward for time and energy spent in the campaign.

Gals Dance To End "Steno Hips" Says Page

Young business girls who wish to avoid "stenographer's hips" often turn to the dance.

Ruth Page, famous premiere ballerina of the Chicago Grand Opera, estimates that Americans spend $60,000,000 a year for dancing instruction. Most of it is spent by parents who are increasingly eager to train little Mary or Johnnie in some of the dance forms.

Young business women, desiring to have a form of winter exercise, are filling the Y. W. C. A. gymnasiums, where the popularity of mass dancing lessons after business hours is steadily increasing.

In attaining bodily grace and strength, dancing is far more acceptable than calisthenics, Miss Page notes. Swimming, diving, archery, and other sports are enjoying a similar favor.

Miss Page, who will bring a company of twenty persons to West Texas State on the evening of February 14 for a public program, is encouraging young women to arrange their own dance patterns and attempt solo work for sheer enjoyment.

A. A. U. W. TO MEET AT KERR HOUSE

AND THEN

A very delicate and important operation was about to be performed and all budding young medics were requested to attend, look, and learn.

The observer's gallery was packed like the balcony in the local cinema palace in pre-boycott days. An awesome stillness descended upon the place as the deft hands of the surgeon began the unusual incision. The students watched breathlessly until he at length indicated that the work was done. Then to show their appreciation of his amazing dexterity, the entire house burst into tumultuous applause. The surgeon raised his hand for silence, bowed, and as an encore removed the patient's appendix.

Mrs. Duff: Some things go without saying.

Duff: Yes, my dear, but your tongue isn't one of them.

EVADING WORK

An Irish soldier in France during the Great War received a letter from his wife saying there wasn't an able-bodied man left, and she was going to dig the garden herself. Dan wrote at the beginning of his next letter: "Bridget for heaven's sake, don't dig the garden; that's where the guns are."

The letter was duly censored, and in a short time a lorry load of men in khaki arrived at Dan's home and proceeded to dig the garden from end to end. Bridget wrote in desperation, saying that she didn't know what to do as the soldiers had dug up her garden.

Dan's reply was short and to the point—"Put in the spuds."

1,000 Tobacco Farmers Bank on His Judgment

IN THE warehouses Mr. Pinnix has managed in Georgia, North Carolina, and South Carolina, 46,000,000 pounds of tobacco have been sold. Farmers travel many miles to bring their crops to Mr. Pinnix's warehouse for sale. Reason is that they respect his tobacco experience and business integrity. So surely Mr. Pinnix's views are worth your respect, too.

"At every market I've ever attended," says Mr. Pinnix, "Lucky Strike has bought the ripest, mellowest tobacco offered. That's why I've smoked Luckies ever since I first became a warehouseman 20 years ago."

Mr. Pinnix's statement is borne out by sworn records which show that, among independent tobacco experts —auctioneers, buyers, and warehousemen—Luckies have over twice as many exclusive smokers as have all the other cigarettes combined.

THE PRICE OF GLORY

Yearlings Romp To One-Sided Wins To Take San Jon Meet

Rolling over every opponent by top heavy scores the West Texas Freshmen copped the independent basketball tournament held Friday and Saturday, at San Jon, N. M.

The Frosh swished the net for 219 points in four games while their opponents combined to get 85 points. Until the last game the Frosh had defeated every team by at least 30 points.

Ringleader Dewey Johnson led his pack of score-thirsty Freshmen in points scored with 59. He was closely followed by Nippert, willow center, with 57. Nippert went on a spree in the Tucumcari game to bag 24 points while five of the Tucumcari boys were busy combining their efforts to get 10 field goals.

The Logan, N. M. Independent club was the first to feel the brunt of the Frosh attack. The outcome was evident from the start as the West Texas cohorts chalked up points from all parts of the floor and holding the Independents to six field goals. The final score was 57-13.

McAllister, N. M., the next foe, fared little better. They were defeated 58-21.

The next game the Frosh featuring the inspired play of Nippert, ran roughshod over the Tucumcari cats 61-22. They then went into the finals with the Borger Gulf Oilers, emerging with a 43-28 victory.

Houlette, Nippert, and Johnson were placed on the first all tournament team at guard, center, and forward respectively. Barron, Price, and Stagner were placed on the second all tournament team. Captain Johnson was also given a medal for being the most valuable man of the tournament.

Hardin-Simmons went on a "sit-down" strike again, but this time it didn't work. Frank Kimbrough, Cowboy cage magician who stresses this stalling brand of ball, saw his playhouse go tumbling down last week. Since Kimbrough went to Abilene three years ago his basketball team had never been defeated on their home grounds. Incidentally, they have been hosts to some of the Southwest's outstanding.

Picked this little skit from the Abilene Reporter on Hal Sayles' write-up of the Buff-Cowboy tilt last Monday in Abilene:

"Although the Cowboys were not successful in thwarting the lofty Buffaloes, they at least prolonged the agony of defeat with stalling tactics that had the audience yawning long before halftime."

A novelty in the sports line is being cooked up that should furnish plenty of stumbles, fumbles and falls. It's the coming basketball scramble between the Faculty of West Texas State and Businessmen of Amarillo, sponsored by the Pep Squad.

The faculty's age-old mentor, D. A. Shirley, hasn't called for his tottering cohorts to don the thin-clads for the initial workout struggle. Coach Shirley isn't ready to serve any press notice as to his club's strength. It is expected that he will build his cage finesse about Dean Harris Cook, stalwart guard, and Jumpin' Joe Duflot, sharp-shooting forward. Larrupin' Leon Lassers will doubtless get the nod for the tip-off post.

On the other side of the fence, such personages as Bert Levy, John McCarty, Jerry Malin and Dutch Mantell will represent the Amarillo banner.

No definite date for this imbroglio has been set. Plans have been formulated to the effect of holding it on George Washington's birthday. Why shouldn't such a sparkling (?) affair become an institution?

The West Texas Yearlings toted

Bisons Bowl Over Hardin-Simmons 26-21 For Series

Duplicating their first night's performance in almost every respect, the West Texas Buffaloes defeated the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys in Abilene Tuesday 26-21 to make a clean sweep of their two game series.

The winners had to come from behind to win the game in the last period. Simmons struck up an 8-2 lead in the first few minutes, but Stephenson and Shackelford tabulated from the field to pull into a 10-10 deadlock by the rest period.

The Cowboys came back with stalling tactics in the second half, but the Bison came to life and slipped ahead nearing the finish. With three minutes to play the Buffs led 24-20, and Raymond Shackelford gathered in a pass and scored under the basket to store the game away.

Bud Reeves, Cowboy high scorer of the first night, was held to six points. Raymond Shackelford took everything away except the gymnasium in the San Jon independent tournament this past week end. Included in their array of collections are eight miniature gold basketballs, six medals for placing men on the two all-tournament teams and another medal by Captain Dewey Johnson as the "most valuable man" in the meet.

Mules and "T" Club Retain Leadership In Intramural Fight

The Buffalo "T" Club and Jennings "Mules" retain unblemished records as the intramural tournament enters its third week of play. Epsilon Beta, hitherto undefeated were knocked from their perch by the Mules, 20-11.

A new favorite appeared last week when the Phillips "Polecats" took the court with a revamped lineup to swamp a hapless Tri-Tau crew 47-15 and set a scoring record for the tournament to date.

Moore's Co-op established themselves as the "fightenest" team by virtue of their holding the league individual honors with 16 markers.

leading Mules to a 23-22 score. The scoring was nip and tuck throughout the game, the lead changing hands many times before the final whistle sounded.

The worst bankrupt in the world is the man who has lost his enthusiasm.

Buffaloes Win

A large crowd left Burton Gymnasium last night in a surprising mood when the Buffaloes routed the Goldbugs by a 56-49 score.

From the outset, the visiting Goldbugs from the Sooner capital indicated the power that sent them into the finals of the consolation division of the Daily Oklahoman tournament.

The game marked the first appearance of the Goldbugs in Burton Gymnasium since the season of 1936 when the Buffs trampled them in a two game series. Last year, the Sooners stepped on the locals for two wins by capitalizing on their accuracy from the free throw line.
