

Summer Session Begins June 10

Final plans for the 1947 Summer Session, which begins Tuesday, June 10, were announced Saturday by President J. A. Hill. His statement listed special courses which will be offered and named visiting summer school instructors.

Dr. Ples Harper, head of the department of modern languages, will offer a special course for elementary school Spanish teachers, and Dr. Noble Armstrong will teach a course in audio-visual education. Details of these new courses will be announced later.

Visiting instructors on the summer school faculty which will consist of 61 professors, will include:

Miss Lenora Giles, Hot Springs, N. Mex., who will teach in the art department. Miss Giles received her Master's degree from WT.

Bennie P. Simons, biology instructor, has spent the last year studying towards his doctor's degree at George Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville, Tenn.

William W. White, graduate student at the University of Texas, will serve as instructor in the history department.

Miss Jane Williams of Amarillo Senior High School will join the physical education staff for the summer. W. B. Musgraves, dean of San Antonio Junior College, will teach education.

Miss Lois Holland, an instructor in the Dallas Public Schools, is scheduled to teach home economics classes.

Three additional summer school teachers, one each for the English department, art in Amarillo Center and the nursery school, have not yet been named.

Regular faculty members leaving the campus for further study this summer are: Frank R. Phillips, Miss Matilda Guame, Miss Isabel Robinson, M. J. Newman, L. S. Baker, Dr. D. B. Gragg, Miss Margaret Barrett, and Dr. L. F. Sheffy.

Senate Will Delay Voting Until Fall

Perhaps autumn breezes will bring fresh wind of a revitalized school spirit.

At least, that is the hope upon which Senators have based their decision to postpone all elections until next September, at the first of the new term.

All petitions of nomination, including eight that did not reach Student Association President LeRoy Reeves before the 11:30 deadline last Monday, will be carried over to the fall election.

In addition to two candidates listed in last week's edition of The Prairie, the following submitted their petitions to Dean Geraldine Green:

Bob Harder, sophomore senate post no. two; Earlene Eustace, sophomore senate post no. three; Rocky Knox, junior senate post no. two; Phyllis Perkins, senior senate post.

Jonnie Dunn, senior senate post; Charles Owens, president of the Senior class; Bill (Super) Miller, secretary-treasurer of the Senior class; Charles McLeroy, president of the Student Association.

Of course, the Senate had little choice in determining what to do about lack of interest in voting. Whether they chose to postpone the election or to go ahead with it this year, the action would be unconstitutional.

To be legal, the polling would have to be completed 28 days before commencement.

Set Activities For Graduation

Dr. Flowers and Wright To Deliver Addresses For 61 Seniors

Commencement activities between May 26 and June 5 for the 94 graduates of West Texas State will include the annual President's Reception, a commencement drama by the speech department, the baccalaureate sermon June 1, and the commencement exercises June 5 at 11 o'clock.

Dr. John G. Flowers, president of Southwest Texas State College, San Marcos, will deliver the commencement address to the graduates, among whom are nine receiving graduate degrees. The Rev. William E. Wright, pastor of the First Christian Church at Borger, will give the baccalaureate sermon at 11:00 Sunday, June 1.

Beginning the activities for the graduating class, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Hill will be hosts at the President's Reception in Cousins Hall lounge on the evening of Monday, May 26.

For its part in the culmination of the school year, the speech department chose "Joan of Lorraine," current Broadway hit, directed by W. A. Moore, to be presented Friday, May 30.

Following is a list of the 1947 graduates:

Master of Arts:

Joseph Presley Crisler, Pampa; Ray S. Daniel, Amarillo; Grace Estep, Amarillo; Jewell Ernestine Gibbs, Amarillo; Mrs. Linnie K. Harter, Canyon; J. Irvin Kimmins, Phillips; Alice Irene McCune, Amarillo; Charles David Murphy, Amarillo.

Dyer, Hereford; Peggy Jean Edgar, Turkey; Melva Rea Fortenberry.

Committee Outlines Plan of Business For New Cafeteria

Method of operating the new cafeteria was the subject debated at a round-table discussion conducted Wednesday afternoon in Dean Geraldine Green's office.

Comprising the committee considering the question were hosts and hostesses of the dormitories, faculty members and three students from each hall. Pres. J. A. Hill officiated during the meeting.

Still under construction, the cafeteria is to be run on a basis for best service to students. Also to be considered, however, is the problem of the most rapid liquidation of the loan floated to build the eating establishment.

Combination of the regular and commercial plan was agreed upon by members of the group, and probably will be put into effect for an experimental length of time.

Students who buy a regular ticket will be given a wide variety of selection, but additional foods, those outside the menu for the day, must be purchased.

Another item of discussion was whether the college should return to a sale system for text books rather than remain on the rental system now being utilized. Student opinion was divided on the matter.

Pres. Hill announced that both questions will be topics of business for the meeting of the Board of Regents this month.

Historians Here For Meet Friday

Society To Finish Conferences With Banquet at Cousins

Climax to the 26th annual meeting of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society will come Friday night, May 9, when the yearly banquet will be held in Cousins Hall, at 7 o'clock.

Speaker at the banquet will be J. Evetts Haley, WT Ex and writer of Texana and the Southwest, who will address the group on the subject "The Texas Tradition."

Award Essayists

Announcement of the winners of the cash awards in the Vandale Historical Essay Contest will be made at the meeting. Music for the affair will be provided by Mrs. Ples Harper and Miss Matilda Guame, of the college piano department, and the A Cappella Choir, directed by Glenn Truax.

Opening session of the day's program will be for the Board of Directors at 2 o'clock in Cousins Hall. The annual business meeting will follow at 4 o'clock, with members and their friends reconvening for the banquet at 7 o'clock.

All May Attend

The public is invited to the afternoon and evening meetings. Reservations for the banquet should be made with Dr. L. F. Sheffy, curator of the Museum, accompanying the order with $1.50, the price of the plates.

Members of the executive council, chosen from among the approximately seventy directors, are: H. Y. Overstreet, Farwell, president; H. C. Pipkin, Amarillo; O. H. Finch, Dalhart; J. Evetts Haley, Canyon; S. B. Whittenburg, Amarillo; Newton Harrell, Claude; H. D. Bugbee, Clarendon; Earl Vandale, Amarillo; and Dr. Sheffy, secretary.

Principal attention on the agenda for the year will be focused on financing and completing the new wing of the Museum structure, now nearing final stages of building.

Harter Will Assist Moore in Directing "Joan of Lorraine"

Mrs. Charles Harter, instructor of English in the Demonstration School and an experienced dramatist, will be assistant director of "Joan of Lorraine," commencement play to be presented Friday, May 30.

Cranell Tolliver, head of the speech department, has announced that since "Joan of Lorraine" will have such an able assistant director that William A. Moore, director of dramatics, will portray Masters, the director of "Joan of Lorraine."

Maxwell Anderson, author of the play has written a play within a play. The action opens with a rehearsal on a bare stage. The action shifts back and forth from rehearsal to play. Actors appear in half-completed costumes or street clothes on an upset stage where the story of Joan is shortly and simply told.

Because the roles take such expert acting ability, the play has not been cast yet. Readings are continuing and everyone is welcome to try out. Mr. Moore is in his office every day at 11 o'clock to hear readings.

Reynolds Wins Prize As Top Rodeo Hand

Proving their worth as real "honest-to-gosh" cowpokes, two WT students, Roy Reynolds and Jack Walker, tamed every "critter" in sight to take first and second prizes respectively as the best all-around cowboys at the first annual T-Anchor held in Buffalo stadium last Saturday.

Reynolds was awarded $50 in prize money and a hand-tooled leather belt for being top "waddy" and Walker received a pair of spurs for placing second.

Over 2,500 spectators attended the afternoon and night performances and in the words of Red Weatherly, president of the Aggie Club which sponsored the event, "Our first T-Anchor round-up was a huge success, and we think it merits inclusion as a spring tradition at West Texas State."

"In particular, we want to thank the Range Riders of Amarillo, the Tucumcari Sheriff's Posse and the Amarillo Trampoline Club," Weatherly concluded.

These are the top contestants in each division:

Bareback Bronc: Afternoon, 1. Jack Walker, 2. Lynn Glasscock, WT, Canyon; night, Jimmie Miller, Dupre, S. D., Trinidad, Jr. College, 2.

Donal Weast, WT, Silverton.

Bull-riding: Afternoon, Lynn Glasscock, night, 1. Don Weast, 2. J. W. Caldwell, WT, Miami, 3. Glenn Phillips, Texas Tech.

Saddle Bronc Riding: Afternoon, 1. Roy Reynolds, 2. O. D. Buchanan, WT, Canyon; 3. Charles McDonald, WT, Canyon; night, 1. Roy Reynolds, 2. Herschel Lowe, WT, Canyon; 3. Bates Witt, Texas Tech.

Ribbon-roping: Afternoon, Roy Reynolds, 25-8 seconds; night, 1. B. J. Pierce, Eastern New Mexico State College, 16 seconds; 2. J. W. Kemp, WT, Silverton, 20 seconds; 3. Lee Reynolds, WT, Canyon, 34 seconds.

Calf-roping: Afternoon, 1. Roy Reynolds, 2. Jack Walker, 3. J. W. Kemp; night, 1. B. J. Pierce, 2. J. W. Kemp, 3. George Long.

Girls' sponsor contest: 1. Ann Beverly, 2. Connie LaMond, 3. LaWanda Moore (all West Texas).

Spectator Prefers His Own Interpretation of Procedure

By Jess Herbert Pipkin

I know the paper is full of stuff about the rodeo, but I don't dare talk about anything else for fear of being called an individualist.

However, I was up in the stands and got a little different view of the whole thing.

First, they had (according to the announcer) the grand entrance. A group of jokers on horseback came galloping out with flags. I figured out what they all stood for except one. It was a red, white and blue one, with a white star in the center. I guess it represented a Red Cross worker who had a son in the Army.

So That's Why!

It seemed that the boys who rode the Brahmas had the most trouble. I got it straight from the corral that Mahatma Gandhi had given the sacred bulls a little pep talk about being ridden by the Untouchables. You can't do a thing with these fanatics.

The funniest part of the entire rodeo however, was the way the roping championship was won. It seems that when the calf came out of the chute, the Buffalo band was playing, Rah-rah-team-rah. The calf (who by the way was a WT graduate, playing full-back in 1938) stopped to listen and was caught in the process. (I mean around the neck).

Some drunk behind me kept me from enjoying the show like I should. One of the riders' mounts fell down and the announcer made it known that he would get a re-ride.

Catastrophe Looms

"FLEA-RIDE!" the drunk yelled. "Who in the h— ever heard of anybody riding a flea?"

Then he launched into a description of why you couldn't ride a flea. The only ones who didn't threaten to beat his head in were, several biology students who took notes and made an A on the test about insects.

All in all, everybody had a big time. (Except the cattle.) They've got a remedy for the whole thing, however. If cowboys don't start treating them a little better, they're going to join John L. Lewis's union.

Wholesalers To Locate Candy Machines Here

Three candy machines, two in the Administration Building and one in the Science Building, will be installed soon by Gallarneau Brothers of Amarillo, candy wholesalers.

Commission from the enterprise, averaging probably 10 or 15 dollars a month, will go into the treasury of the Student Senate.

Soc Students To See Wichita Falls Hospital

Approximately 40 members of J. L. Dufflo's class in Sociology 412 will journey to Wichita Falls tomorrow to visit the State Eleemosynary Institution there.

The class will get to see at close hand some of the patients and will study them.

Pianists To Offer Unusual Concert

Solos, Duos, Four-Piano Numbers on Program For Monday Recital

Special enjoyment for music-lovers will be forthcoming Monday evening at 8:15 o'clock when the Music-Arts Club of Canyon will present a program of solos, two-piano numbers and four-piano selections, in the college auditorium.

Miss Pauline Brigham, associate professor of music, will be the soloist and will conduct the four-piano team comprised of Mrs. Newton Harrell, Mrs. Glenn Dowlen, Mrs. Glenn Truax and Mrs. Herschel Coffee.

The two-piano duo is Mrs. Ples Harper and Miss Matilda Guame, who recently gave a recital and who will be part of the program for the banquet of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Friday night.

The program will open with Miss Brigham in three numbers: Allegretto, Op. 31, No. 3, Beethoven; Love Dream, No. 2, Liszt; and Capriccio, Brahms.

The duo will offer the next group, with Mrs. Harper and Miss Guame interpreting Sheep May Safely Graze, J. S. Bach; Valse, Op. 15, No. 2, Arensky; and Humoresque Negre, Homer Grunn.

Four selections by the four-piano orchestra will conclude the evening's entertainment: Fugue G Minor, J. S. Bach; Spanish Dance, No. 1, De Falla; The Harmonica Player, David Guion; and Rojo y Negro, Kay Kellogg.

No admission will be charged and the public is invited.

Somebody Slipped— Anyway, Picnic Date Is May 24 (Official)

O. K., so we lay the blame on whom you will were a little mixed up on the date of the all-college picnic day. The all-day outing will not be May 10 but May 24, according to Dick Craig, picnic chairman. Ceta Glen is the place and students should be ready to leave from the campus at 9:30 o'clock in the morning.

President J. A. Hill has agreed that the college will furnish one-half of the entrance fee. The Senate will pay the rest from the Association fund.

Lunches for students living in the halls will be prepared by the hall kitchen staffs under the direction of Mrs. Sue Donald, college dietitian.

Dick is asking that all students who can furnish transportation for others should see him so that everyone may be provided a way.

Social Schedule

Tuesday, May 6—

Friday, May 9—

Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Banquet, Cousins Hall. Junior and Senior High School Prom, Cousins Hall, 8-10 o'clock.

Horse-Tamin' Brings Thrills, Chills, Spills and Hospital Bills

Lasso 'em, tie 'em, bulldog 'em, and just plain ride—chosen best all-round cowboy, pictured left, is Roy Reynolds. He does 'em all! To the right are shots of night and day performances of the first T-Anchor Rodeo. Those brones were plenty salty and afforded the 2,200 spectators plenty of thrills.

REGARDING THE STATUS QUO

Ho-hum.

As the classic expression goes—Things Are All Fouled Up.

Seemingly, though, no one cares. When The Prairie commented last week—"Lethargy Grips College Political Scene," it more appropriately could have dropped the last two words. Then, too, perhaps one curious soul was right as he looked at the word "Lethargy" and mused, "Hmm, isn't that the disease that you have to live on an isolated island to cure?"

The election situation was mangled rather badly, primarily through negligence and lack of sufficient preparation on the part of students who showed a faint interest in running for office.

Not all the fault was theirs, however. If strict rules had been adhered to, 10 people, the huge magnificent sum of 10 people instead of 2, would have been running for office. That they turned their petitions in to the wrong office is strictly a matter of misunderstanding.

So now, if we ever have an election, there are at least eight more people running for office.

Voting postponed until next fall—because of lack of anyone to vote on.

Perhaps by then, a new crop of freshmen will inject enthusiasm or an adrenalin shot into the student body, (and we use the word loosely).

At the moment, it (the body) seems to have already been injected—with knockout drops.

WE SUGGEST A REMEDY

Through a series of mild but persistent rumors, we somehow got the idea that West Texas State will have a new student constitution soon.

Well, fine. And if the authorities in authority will listen to a radical suggestion or three, we have at least one to proffer.

Since it is impossible to publish a newspaper with thirty front pages, we recommend that each interest on the campus be granted the material and money to print his own news-sheet. Possibly, the most practical solution to that chronic search for top billing would be a quantity of newspapers of the roller-towel type. See? No back page. Also no pages two or three.

In addition, think how lovely it would be to have all headlines on all stories set up in three-inch type. And no one to blame for omissions, proof errors or mis-spelled names.

Altogether, we believe the plan to be the most feasible, one with unlimited possibilities. After all, we want everyone to be happy—

NO ORCHIDS—BUT THANKS

To ward off any unkind aspersions about apple-polishing, let us swear before-hand that no one on the staff is a speech major.

That's clear. But we do want, in all sincerity, to congratulate that department on a magnificent job completed during the school year. Both Mr. Tolliver and Mr. Moore deserve thanks for the work they have done in building up interest in speech in the college.

As examples we cite several well-directed plays, which have very successfully contributed to entertainment as well as appreciation for better theater habits, and, more recently, the speech festival, which attracted to the campus over 150 high school students.

All in all, the two men have turned in a good performance by making the speech group a live-wire among the school's getters-of-things-done. Again, we say—Thanks.

Dear Editor:

Dear Editor:

We, the student senators of West Texas State College, do hereby wish to put a resolution before the student body.

We resolve that the campus dance band should lower the rates that they have heretofore charged for playing at campus social functions. This resolution has the complete backing of a faculty committee which is ready to take action to organize an independent band which will charge campus groups fees that they are more nearly able to pay.

We duly recognize that the present band is a valuable asset to the college and we are proud to call it "Ours," but ye do not feel that it is qualified to ask for pay equivalent to that of many professional musicians. We realize that this band is able to secure outside dates which make playing for campus affairs non-compulsory but we also feel that this group should be more willing to aid campus groups than for personal gains.

When social clubs and other organizations stage their dances, few feel able to give over one-half the proceeds to a band when their year's activities depend on this money.

Will the band give the ideas put forth here some thought and remember that they are considered one of West Texas' greatest assets by the Senate? So please give the campus groups a break!

Too, let's all us students pick up our spirits and make the rest of the term one of "a good time had by all." Don't douse Senate plans by non-enthusiasm but be ready to help carry on plans made for more school spirit.

Let's make West Texas a better place to be, not to be from.

The Student Senate
Margaret Lair, Secretary.

Spring fever is finished for another year—journalistically speaking, anyway. Next on the list is the coming of summer.

Summer—that's when all the hot air released down at the Legislature begins to drift up through the Panhandle, trembling the cottonwoods and caressing the ears of horned toads with echoes of "Communist . . . s."

Two-thirds of the students will leave the campus and do something foolish for three months—something like going to work or playing tennis, or getting married (the latter sometimes takes longer than three months). The third who stay behind will continue to study, to go to dances, and (some) to get drunk in Amarillo.

In other words, summer is just like the rest of the year, only you can go about legally and comfortably undressed.

There is evidence that the Russians have developed a new policy in Iran. Pressure is being taken off the Government. Some Russian consulates have been closed. Diplomatic guesses are that Russia has decided upon a "good neighbor" policy toward the country in the hope of hurrying Iran's parliamentary approval of the long-pending Russian oil concession.

Political disturbances at home are partly responsible for the sudden trip to Norway by Trygve Lie, Secretary-General of the United Nations. Norway's wartime Government-in-Exile, of which Lie was a member, has been under considerable criticism for some of its activities in London while the homeland was occupied by the Nazis.

A great deal of credit and thanks should be given the West Texas Aggie club for the fine entertainment they offered students in their rodeo Saturday.

They started something which probably will and should become a tradition here each spring. Much more work and time went into this program than most people realize but every Ag pitched in and did his share of the work.

Hats off to you Aggies and may the Second Annual T-Anchor Rodeo be an even bigger success!

Ken Simpson probably felt rather out of place last Friday night during the Buff-Exes basketball game. It seems that Ken found himself on the floor with four players who forgot to wear their toupees to the game or else someone must have scalped them. Any-way—his curly locks were the prettiest on the court!

Overheard from one of the aspiring cagers—"So that is Joe Fortenberry—All-American six times! Well, I hate to better his record but I figure on making that honor at least seven years!"

Reports have it that the 1947 football schedule's release has been delayed a little bit and that it will make its appearance next week. However, advance information reveals that 11 games are on the playing schedule next year and that the opener will be against Tulsa University at Tulsa next September 20.

Construction should start soon on the new part of the stadium which will be erected on the east side of the playing field. The west side will be sold out in season reserve tickets and general admission tickets and activity tickets will be honored only on the east side next year.

Coach Frank Kimbrough was in Austin over the week-end to attend the State Interscholastic Track events. He reports that the outstanding performance was turned in by the young Mexican from El Paso who set a new state mile record by clipping off the event in 4:25.

Unusual is the word for the office of track coach Clark Jarnagin. Although no visible walls surround his desk he makes people enter his office with the same respect and procedure as if it were a fine office in the Empire State building.

The correct manner for entrance is to make an appointment with his secretary who isn't there, knock on the door which isn't there, wait for the non-existing door to be opened, take a seat which isn't there and then you may converse with Mr. Jarnagin. (Who usually isn't there either). Anyway, it is probably the most unique athletic office any school has.

The Japanese Diet has been forced to a standstill by absenteeism among members who are out campaigning for this year's election. Important legislation on the budget, tax law changes and bills implementing the new Constitution are stalled. The absence of legislators has become so general that legislative officers have threatened members with "drastic action" unless they return to their jobs.

Canada has lifted certain price controls, seeing the day coming when many items will be as cheap as talk.

NOTICE!

Time is still left for any interested tennis player to enter the Intramural Netter Tournament which is being organized. All prospective players are urged to contact Milton Morris or J. W. Malone immediately and turn in your name and your entrance fee which is 25 cents.

Any person wishing to enter a team in the newly organized softball league should see Gus Miller at once.

Future Buff Cagers Drop Exes In Spring Basketball Match

Despite the array of former All-American and professional players opposing them last Friday night, the 1947-48 Maroon basketball team decisively downed West Texas Exes 73-38.

The game was the first of a series of spring clashes planned for Coach Miller's hopefuls and the next game is slated with another team of exes Friday, May 16.

The exes fought a nip and tuck battle with the older members of the Buff team in the first quarter, but the entrance of last year's sensational freshman club launched the present Buffs on their victory march.

The score was 12-14 in favor of the graduates when the youngsters went in the fray. By intermission they had pulled ahead 28-22.

Little Sammie Malone led the Buff attack with 15 points, followed closely by husky Boyce Box with 14. Sparking the exes in the scoring department was Price Brookfield, the two-time All-American with 10 tallies.

After being the middle man in two triangular track meets last week, the West Texas State thin-clads will leave the campus Thursday afternoon for Albuquerque and participation in the Border Conference Track and Field Championships scheduled for Friday and Saturday.

Collegiate Billiard Program Expands

Highly gratified with the recent intercollegiate billiard tournaments, Charles C. Peterson, president of the Billiard Association of America, announced today that the college billiard program will be expanded for the 1947-1948 season. Peterson said the expanded program has the endorsement of the National Association of College Unions, which group sponsors the cue events with the Billiard association.

The 1947 college billiard activity reached its climax on April 25 and 26 at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind., where ten university men reported to shoot for the championship in straight-rail, pocket and three-cushion billiards.

Lef Mable, 21-year-old law student of the University of Florida, proved the star of the college tournaments, winning titles in pocket billiards and three-cushions. Mable shot his way through both tournaments without defeat. The straight-rail title was won by Thomas Hines, 19-year-old entrant from the University of Wisconsin.

Most G. I.'s would be satisfied with their lot if they could get a home built on it.

Apparently the dark-horse in the field of nine league teams, Coach Jarnagin will take 13 squadmen with him for the New Mexico clash. Expected to be the strong teams in the meet are Arizona University (defending champs), New Mexico University, Arizona State of Tempe and Texas Tech.

Pledges Make Social Bow at Nat

By Margaret Lair

Mid orchids, sequins, frilly bows and gardenias, the Presentation Ball of West Texas State held last Tuesday night at the Nat entertained an unprecedented large gathering for a college social activity.

Introduced by Del Belflower, the new members of clubs walked into the spotlight of campus social life. After being presented, these honored guests were further applauded by a special dance, "Stardust."

To the roving eye, few campus faces were missed in the party.

Among pledges' families seen were Bill Hutchinson's mother and father, Wilma Jean Miller's family, Maxine Campbell's mother and dad, Martha Kelly's family and Sybil Ann Gillis' mother and father. Of course, many more were there to see their sons and daughters make their social debut.

Also spending an evening of visiting and greeting ex-students was the faculty which was joined by Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Meyer of Amarillo College.

Following age-old tradition, all Pi

Omega presentees wore white gowns while Gamma Phi's new members were attired in pastels. Other girls presented wore colors of the rainbow in hoop skirts, chic dinner gowns and billowy net dancing frocks.

Center of the presentation was a flower-bedecked arch leading directly onto the dance floor. As each pledge and his or her escort stepped into the arch, they were introduced and spotlighted as they proceeded across the floor.

Hugo Lowenstern, Jr., and his orchestra played for the presentation and dancing.

Miss Crawford will play a varied program which will be highlighted with "Sonata, Op. 49, No. 1" by Beethoven; "Solfeggietto," Bach, and "Dell'urto," by Respighi.

Six Seek Jobs On Publications

No Applicants Yet For Editorship Of Summer Prairie

For four positions in the publications department, Miss Dorinda Bond, director of journalism, received last week six applications, which she will submit to the Student Senate tomorrow night so that they may choose next year's editors and business managers.

Position of editor and business manager of The Prairie for the summer session is still unapplied for. Those interested should see Miss Bond today, if possible.

As successor to Norman Ely in the top job of the editorial division of Le Mirage, two aspirants have announced their candidacy.

Margaret Lair, who will be a senior next fall, and Ray T. Nickelson, who will be a junior, applied for editorship of the annual.

Qualifications of Two

Secretary of the Student Association, Margaret has worked on The Prairie staff during the last two years and is a member of Type High. Ray, trumpet player in the Buffalo Band, cites as qualifications his experience with photography and art lay-outs.

Present business manager for The Prairie, Frances Harp, prospective junior, has advanced her petition for business manager of the 1947-1948 yearbook. While a freshman, she was a reporter for the paper and joined Type High.

To succeed Frances, Jess Herbert, Pipkin, who next year will be a sophomore, has asked consideration for his application for business manager-ship of The Prairie. An honor student and feature writer for the paper, he is a Type High pledge.

Wants Either Place

Gladys Romero of Pampa has written her application for the position of business manager of either The Prairie or Le Mirage. She will obtain leave of absence from her present job next year to complete work on her degree. When she was here before, she assisted in the offices of Dr. D. A. Shirley and Dr. R. P. Jarrett, former dean. She was a member of Mary E. Hudspeth Honor Society, IRC and the Spanish Club.

Re-appointment to editorship of The Prairie for 1947-1948 was the bid made by Johnnie Fay Cresens,

Neblett Cites Superiority Of Jap Medical Service

American medical units were far superior to the Japanese facilities during the war, declared Dr. R. A. Neblett in his address to the International Relations Club last Thursday evening in room 211. He pointed out the importance of sulfa and blood plasma to the doctors in his talk on Medical Service in the Pacific during the war.

Dr. Neblett was in charge of the advanced units that moved forward to set up hospitals.

Custodians Switch Cleaning Duties

Several changes and additions have been made to the janitors department of WT. H. Cook, who has worked here before, has been hired to clean the basement as E. C. Hawes was transferred to the third floor of the Administration Building.

who will be a junior next fall. During her freshman year she served as associate editor of the paper. She belongs to Mary E. Hudspeth Honor Society and IRC and has served as president of Type High this year.

Condron Addresses Club At Banquet in Memphis

Dr. S. H. Condron spoke on "Vital Issues Confronting America Today" at the annual Delphian Club dinner in Memphis last Tuesday evening. He also made a report on the loan fund of $2,500 given to the college by the Delphians.

The fund given by the club has been used by about 75 people since it was established in 1939.

Ex-Student Will Marry Didier in California

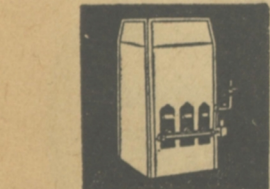

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kleinschmidt of Canyon announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jean Marie, to Frank Donald Didier of Los Angeles, Calif. The wedding is scheduled for June 12 in the First Presbyterian Church of Hollywood.

Miss Kleinschmidt was graduated last spring from the University of California. For two years, she attended West Texas, where she was active in the music department and belonged to Pi Omega sorority.

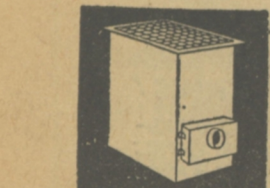

Some North American businessmen in Argentina are worried that President Juan D. Peron's Five-Year Plan is so lavish it will attract promoters and fly-by-night engineers from the U. S., with resultant bungling that may harm U. S. business prospects there for years to come.

Adequate Gas Equipment Adds to Salability of Homes

THE TIME WILL COME when the homes now being planned and built and remodeled will not be as easy to sell as they are now. Then the plus features, the salable features, will be important. Then modern gas equipment will be especially important.

Central Furnace

Floor Furnace

In this area natural gas is the preferred fuel. So, if you are building or planning a new home, look ahead to the time when you may wish or need to sell it. Equip it with the very best gas heating equipment you can possibly afford. If you want the best, install a forced-air central furnace. Another good type of heating equipment is the floor furnace.

A good gas heating plant will add more to the salability and the livability of a home than any other feature of similar original cost.
