

H-S. Cowboys Hand Buffaloes 39-0 Drubbing

Revenge, a commodity for which the Buffaloes bid in vain, was put in cold storage for another year at Abilene Saturday night when the abler Hardin-Simmons Cowboys came within a point of equaling the 40-0 score they ran up here last year.

The score by periods:

COWBOYS 0 13 6 20—39

Swarms of fleet H-S U. players were rushed into the game, each seemingly eager to hit harder and run faster than the man replaced. Tricky ground plays, including the famed "bootleg" sneak, passes, and pass-laterals gave the defenders touchdowns in sudden surges to entertain a crowd which also wanted to see "Flippin' Foster Watkins in action.

"Equal to Weenie Bynum"

Watkins, who was declared by fans, scouts, and coaches to be the equal of Centenary's Weenie Bynum as a chucker, threw 38 passes and 14 of them were completed. Only one was intercepted. Once these carried the Buffaloes to the Cowboys' 17-yard line, but alert members of the Cowboy secondary knocked down many of the longer heaves or the speeding leather bounced off the fingers of Buff receivers.

Big Lotter Stephenson, honored with special attention by two or three Cowboys on every play, barely figured in the statistics and also was blocked out badly on defense. Regulars at the other end had little more luck and it was stringer Dewey Johnson, the lanky sophomore end from Abernathy, who turned in one of the finest performances of the evening.

Johnson rushed into the game with a flaming spirit which most nearly matched the pace of the fiery Cowboys. He pulled in seemingly impossible passes and battled effectively on defense. Once a blocker hurled him to the ground, but Johnson bounced up and nailed his man.

Captains Battle Hard

Co-Captains Blake Lyde and Henry Fields led their team manfully and it was a severe blow to the fading locals when Fields turned his injured ankle on a sideline trench and left the game early in the fourth quarter. Tiger Lee McLaury vindicated judgment of the coaches in letting him back the line. Without his valiant tackling, the score would have gone so high that the Buffs would now be contemplating murder next year, instead of vengeance. Pug Horton was a durable power in the line, but

W. T. Delegation Will Attend BSU Meet in Memphis

Ollie Brown, president of the West Texas State Baptist Union, said last week that he expected this campus to be represented by twelve Baptist students at the Fourth Quadrennial All-Southern Baptist Student Conference at Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 27-30.

Dr. T. G. Dunning of London, England, will be the featured speaker. Texans on the program will include Dr. George W. Truett, Dr. L. R. Scarborough, Mrs. J. M. Dawson, Dr. T. B. Maston, Dr. J. M. Price, and all the student secretaries and council presidents.

The Texas State BSU Convention did not meet this fall because of the south-wide meeting and the Texas officers will be elected by Texans at Memphis, it was said.

Mr. Brown said all W. T. students interested in attending the conference should confer with him soon.

Y. W. DISCUSSES PLANS FOR YEAR'S WORK

Tentative plans for the year were discussed at Y. W. C. A. meeting in Room 202, Education Building Friday.

Frances Campbell, program chairman, was in charge, and she gave the purpose of the Y and objectives of the year along with the discussion of the future of the club.

PHYSICAL EXAM SCHEDULE IS ON BULLETIN BOARD

Students are requested to watch the main bulletin board for the schedule of their physical examination appointments. Miss Hickman, college nurse, asks that all students who have forgotten the time of their appointments call at the Health Center in person for this information.

Most W. T. Students Favor Wasserman Test for College

That most West Texas State students want a Wasserman test included in their physical examination and that they are willing to pay $3 extra to get it, was indicated by a poll taken Saturday in which 150 students were interviewed.

One hundred and thirty-five students answered affirmatively the question, "Do you think West Texas State should have the Wasserman test included in the entrance physical examination?" Four students were opposed, and eleven others were undecided.

To the question, "Would you take the Wasserman test if it were available," four answered in the negative. One hundred and fourteen expressed their willingness to take the test, and the remainder were undecided.

Answering affirmatively the question of a $3 raise in the health fee in order to include the Wassermann Test, were seventy-five students. Thirty-eight were opposed to such a raise, the remainder were undecided.

An equal number of men and women were interviewed and a proportional number from each class were questioned.

Senior Frolic to Favor Non-Dancers

A senior entertainment, which is scheduled from 8 o'clock to 12 m. on the evening of Oct. 25, is for the enjoyment of all seniors and not just those who wish to dance. Robert Orton, senior president, stressed in an announcement made Saturday for the benefit of seniors who did not attend class meeting Thursday. A committee has been appointed from the class to provide entertainment for students who do not dance, and a banquet is the opening feature of the evening's program. The Nat Dine and Dance Palace of Amarillo is to be the scene of the occasion. The entire right wing of the second floor with an additional room for games will be set aside for the senior affair.

Admission will be $1 which will be taken from each senior's class dues, and those who wish to bring guests from outside the class may do so by paying an additional 50 cents.

Exhibit of Summer Art Work Is on Walls in Museum

Pictures displaying work done last summer by students of the Palo Duro School of Art and members of the Palo Duro Art Club are now being exhibited in the museum. The work was done at Palo Duro canyon under the direction of Miss Isabel Robinson, head of the art department.

According to judges the collection has a more finished appearance than previous exhibits. The work consists of etchings, drypoint, pencil, brush-drawing, oil painting, and water color.

This is the first time etching and drypoint have been exhibited by this group.

The following are participants in the exhibit: Lynwood Hallum, Hereford, pencil and brush drawing; Hester Gates, Amarillo, oil painting, etching and drypoint; Oneida Rimmer, Wichita Falls, etching and drypoint; Nell Raburn, Abernathy, oil painting; Irene J. Beckett, Memphis, etching; Mrs. T. M. Moore, Canyon, etching, drypoint, and water color; Laura Mae Slaughter, Amarillo, oil painting; Mrs. Cecile Foster, Sudan, oil painting, and water color; Mrs. Clyde Slaughter, Amarillo, oil painting and water color; Lenore Gills, Pampa, oil painting; Jo Wiggins, Canyon, water color; Mrs. Adaline Adams, Way-side, water color; Mrs. Mildred Boyd, Pampa, water color; Margaret Esther Hill, Amarillo, oil painting; Verdie Denton, Kress, water color; Kate Warren, Cee Vee, water color; and Mrs. Levira Mote, Sharon, Okla., water color.

LONGBINE RETURNED TO CAMPUS SUNDAY

Bill Longbine, sophomore student from Claude and last year's Freshman Fellowship Club president, who was injured in an automobile accident near Amarillo October 8, was brought back to his residence at El Pueblo Sunday night.

He is improving rapidly from deep gashes in the neck and three broken ribs, but is not yet able to attend classes.

Students of Texas A. & I. College have a term for the equivalent of "go in to the Buff." It is known as Te-Jacking there.

Students Will Lay Foundation For New Constitution Thursday

West Texas State students will lay the foundation for a new system of student participation in school government Thursday morning when they elect temporary officers who will be responsible for drawing up a new constitution. A brief address by President P. A. Hill will precede the election of temporary officers, and he will serve as chairman until one is elected from the student body.

Officers to be elected will likely include a chairman, vice-chairman, and secretary. They will be authorized to either draft a constitution themselves or to appoint a committee to aid them. Their term of service will close when a permanent organization is effected.

W. T. was left without a system of student government early in the spring semester last year when all but one member of the Student Council resigned because they believed that the old constitution failed to give them the authority to accomplish anything. The old constitution was adopted in 1919.

To the Student Body:

As you are aware we are without any form of institution-wide student organization. It is the expressed desire of many students to have such organization and the college administration heartily approves of the idea. Accordingly I am hereby calling a mass meeting of students for Thursday, Oct. 20, at 11 a. m., in the auditorium of the main building to take preliminary steps toward setting up a constructive and forward-looking organization in which all students will be members. Please be present if possible.

J. A. Hill.

A committee composed of students and members of the faculty worked during most of the spring semester last term in an effort to complete a constitution and put into operation before the end of the term. It was voted down at a meeting of the student body late in the spring, but since opposition was voiced to only two or three features of the document, it is thought likely that much work done by the committee last spring can be used in the new student constitution. Members of the last year's committee included: J. B. Dotson, Quixie Bea King, Lawrence McBee, Dorothy Dickenson, Clifford Whitehurst, Dids Meek, Brynildre Vaughan, and Margaret Garner.

Book by Mrs. Hill And Joe Hill, Jr., Adopted as Reader

"In Little America With Byrd," a book written last year by Mrs. J. A. Hill and Joe Hill, Jr., her son, has been adopted as a supplementary seventh grade reader for the Texas public schools.

The book is based on the experiences of Joe, Jr., who was a member of the Admiral's second Antarctic expedition. The foreword, a tribute to the younger son of Dr. and Mrs. Hill, was penned by Byrd. Illustrations, which are numerous are from photographs made by various members of the expedition. Mrs. Hill does more painting than writing, but was moved to write this book after listening to her son's interesting accounts of his experiences.

Young Hill will receive his degree in mechanical engineering at the University of Texas next June, then will take up studies at aeronautical engineering. At the University he is the local vice-president of a national honorary engineering fraternity and is president of another.

From Austin he expects to go to the University of Michigan.

A fourth grade reader written by Miss Annie McDonald of Amarillo, "First Families of America," was adopted as a fourth grade text in Texas public schools, over a six-year period. Miss McDonald, assistant superintendent of the Amarillo schools, took her A. B. and M. A. degrees at West Texas State College.

Officers of W. T. High School Future Farmers Announced

Milton Morris, graduate of the College and vocational agriculture instructor in both W. T. High School and Canyon High School, has announced officers of the W. T. High Future Farmers of America. They are: President, David Sherman; vice-president, Cass Archer; secretary, Francis Waller; treasurer, Willis Criswell; reporter, Oatus Waller; parliamentarian, Hamil Wilson; and farm watch dog, James Linderman.

Breeding and characteristics of livestock and poultry along with related farm problems are now being studied by the vocational agriculture class. Students have already selected their projects and estimated their incomes.

Three college agriculture majors, Ollie Brown, Vernon Bullard, and Milton Crow, are doing their practice teaching in vocational agriculture in this class.

Co-ops Operate Within Budgets During First Two Weeks

College cooperatives operated within budget estimates during the first two weeks of this term, it is shown in reports to Mrs. Geraldine Green, dean of women.

Mesquite, Cactus, and Top o' Texas, which ranked in this order, were somewhat below the estimated $15 expected for the month, when the proportional amount expended was figured. Randall Hall and the Paul house were averaging $7.50 for the period, or $15 for a full month.

Some changes were being made in furnishings and personnel to provide smooth operation.

The new Top o' Texas Lodge is filled with boys from Pampa, and about half of the girls in Mesquite lodge are from the same city.

'Peter Pan' Will Be Given Oct. 24

Leslie Gorall, who will play the role of Peter when the Clare Tree Major Children's Theatre of New York presents Barrie's play "Peter Pan" at West Texas State College on Oct. 24, at 8:15 p. m., has the unique distinction of being the first boy to play a part made famous by some of the most distinguished actresses of our generation.

When Barrie wrote the story of "Peter Pan," later made into a play, he had in mind an actual little boy, Peter Llewellyn Davies. But when "Peter Pan" was presented on the stage, first in England and then in America, it was a woman who portrayed Peter. The first "Peter" was Nina Boucicault, daughter of the Dion Boucicault whose melodramas "The Colleen Bawn" and "The Shaughraun" were vastly popular some years ago.

When "Peter Pan" first arrived on American shores, he was played by Maude Adams, then a mere girl who had made a huge stage success in another Barrie play—"The Little Minister." Miss Adams had just the wistful, boyish quality which suited her for "Peter" and her charm made an enduring stage tradition out of her playing of the Lost Boy from the Never-Never Land.

Eva LeGallienne, Cissie Loftus, Betty Bronson, Jean Forbes-Robertson and Anna Neagle have been other famous actresses who have played the part. But never, until Leslie Gorall was selected by Clare Tree Major, had a boy been seen as "Peter."

Who is the youth who has been given the opportunity of reversing stage tradition?

Leslie Gorall is the first of his family to go on the stage. "I come from a long line of New Haven furniture salesmen," he says laughingly. "I was the first to break away. When I was six years old I knew I wanted to be an actor and though my family thought I was a problem child because of it, I went my way blithely, getting all

Freshmen To Hear Condron Discuss Hobbies Tonight

Members of the Freshman Fellowship Club, largest organization on the campus, will hear Prof. S. H. Condron discuss hobbies when the club meets at 7:30 p. m. tonight in the auditorium of the Education Building.

Several freshmen have been selected to demonstrate their hobbies before the group.

Marjory Merchant of Canyon and Bill Roberson of Abilene, student directors, will be in charge of the program.

Officers will be elected at the meeting, and the group will be divided into sections to meet in smaller groups at the next meeting.

McMurtry Tells of European Tour

"I can thank God for my country," was the statement made by Miss Florence McMurtry of the education department Wednesday night before the International Relations Club as she gave an account of her tour of Europe this summer. Speaking of the long lines of refugees who were waiting to secure passports to leave Austria and the oppression of dictatorship, she said that it made one's heart feel good to know that he was an American.

Turning to the brighter side, however, she said, "human nature is pretty much the same the world over."

Human Smile Universal

"The human smile is universal," she commented. "Whenever I tried to talk to anyone who couldn't understand our language, I could always smile and then they would too. They understood that," she said.

Summarizing her trip through France, she spoke of the people as being very much like ours. Traveling south from Paris, she saw women at work in the fields and oxen being used as beasts of burden. She was impressed by the fact that they seemed to show the scars of the tragedies that they had suffered. She mentioned wine-making as a highly prized art in Southern France, but nowhere in Europe was she able to secure ice water.

Visits Monte Carlo

She visited Cannes while in France where she saw the residence of the Duke of Windsor, and she also visited Monte Carlo. She reported it as sad to watch the people who frequent this notorious gambling arena.

Crossing into Italy, she told of having to give up her reservations on the train to some of Mussolini's soldiers whom he was transferring. "All means of transportation are

W. T. Training School Pupils Write Fan Letters to Playmate

Pupils in Miss Jennie C. Ritchie's eighth grade English class have been writing "fan letters" to Albert E. Terry as their unit in letter writing.

Albert, a former Demonstration School pupil, is working for Republic Studios in North Hollywood. Besides his recent picture, "Man From Music Mountain," he stars in bi-weekly radio programs over a Los Angeles station. Among the thirty-six "fan letters" from the eighth grade are letters written by his friends and former playmates.

Homecoming Will Be Red Letter Day of Term

Homecoming, Nov. 5, will be one of the busiest, most colorful days of the present long session of the College, with the administration, ex-students, and student organizations contributing features to the program.

Registration will begin in the main hall of the Administration building at 9 a. m. Names of visiting exes will be typed on cards which will be clipped to a "clothes line" so that they may easily be read. Some registrants will receive awards.

County Queen Candidates

From each county will come the nominees of ex-student groups for the coveted honor of queen of the Homecoming. These candidates will be guests at a coffee given for them at Cousins Hall by the Pi Omegas and the coronation committee. The coffee will begin at 9:30 a. m. The first public program, an ex-student assembly in the main auditorium, will begin at 10:30 a. m. Presiding will be Carl Clifft of Amarillo, head of the exes. Children of ex-students will be featured on this program. Candidates for queen will be presented and given special seats. Prominent visitors will be introduced.

There will be no noon barbecue this year, but hamburgers, coffee, and light refreshments will be available on the campus. Students and ex-student groups will have reunion "spots" on the grass. The Buffalo Band and any visiting bands which have arrived at that time will play. Band Concert at 1:30 p. m.

At 1:30 p. m. visiting bands and the College band will open the afternoon program with a concert at Buffalo field. Before game time a football queen will be crowned, and the Homecoming queen candidates will be escorted to special seats in the stadium. The football game of the day, between the Buffaloes and the Sul Ross State Lobos, will start at 2:30 p. m. Events between halves will include a parade of Buffalo T. Club members, pep squad demonstration, Prexy's welcome to ex-students and visitors, and giving of awards to the ex-student parent who has sent the most children to the college, and also to the biggest and smallest ex-student present.

What has been named the "W. T. Family Picnic" will be held on the campus in front of the Administration Building at 5:30 p. m. Ex-students will be encouraged to take their basket lunches or to buy light lunches at the stands nearby. There will be band music and free coffee.

The coronation program will begin in the main auditorium at 7:30 p. m. The queen will be crowned at 8 p. m. in a ceremony directed by the Pi Omegas. The queen and her beauty court then will go to Cousins hall to open the Homecoming night club at 8:30 p. m.

The night club will include Coconut Grove, with a floor show and refreshments; Monterey, with games and dancing to Raillard's 8-piece swing orchestra; Old Tascosa Bar, with oldtime dancing to a string orchestra; Oriental Terrace, with tea, chop suey, and cricket fights; Gypsy Camp, with fortune telling, music, and dancing; and Peacock Alley, the promenade.

Campus organizations will add to this official program.

Pi Omega to Direct Queen Coronation

A committee of the Interclub Council proposed last week that Pi Omega, social club for women, should be permitted to handle the crowning of the Ex-Student queen alone, since that organization had already been placed in charge of the coronation by a committee in charge of homecoming arrangements.

Members of the Interclub Council committee which met last week include: Trula Mae Phegley, Ed Spann, E. G. Schuhart, Adele Hays, Virginia Edmondson and George Wright.

Artist Exes, W. T. Is Calling You

All Ex-Students who draw, paint, or design, are invited to send one or two of their original works to be hung in an exhibition on the campus of West Texas State during Homecoming. All works must be delivered by mail, express, or in person to Miss Isabel Robinson, of the art department not later than Wednesday night, Nov. 2.

"Let's have the biggest, and best show we have ever had, Exes," Miss Robinson said.

"Only the mentally muscle bound think that muscle is the measure of a man. Mental ability and spiritual force directed in constructive, helpful channels is a yardstick approved in every age."—John Edwin Price.

Importance of New Set-up for W. T. Student Government

The president has called a general assembly for Thursday morning at 11 o'clock for the purpose of effecting a temporary organization to provide the W. T. student body with a plan for student participation in the governing of the school. This might well be another step in the development and expansion of W. T. toward which great effort is being made at the present time. Every student should make it a point to be present at the meeting on Thursday.

There is no doubt that benefits are to be derived from an adequate and functioning student government. Of great importance in education is the training of students to live in cooperation with others for the best interest of all. In a democracy, it is necessary as well as desirable, and how better can this be accomplished than in the colleges and universities of the nation. Students will make many mistakes, of course. They are young and inexperienced, but in so doing, they gain a better insight into those relations which work for the general welfare. Student government is in operation in many of our colleges today and is successfully advancing this cause. W. T. now has the same opportunity. We may no longer wait until we have finished our period of training before coming in contact with and actually participating in the formation of policies and rules of conduct that affect our immediate lives.

Last year a profound effort was made to provide the student body with a constitution and plan of government which was disapproved. It was felt to be objectional in that, to all appearances, it was being "pushed off" on the students without giving them due consideration. Despite this fact, objection was voiced only to a few features of the document. Then too, the document was somewhat strongly worded in places. Its inadequacy was primarily due to the fact that it allowed for the shifting of responsibility. The constitution might not have been what the students wanted, but it was a beginning and something on which to build. There is every reason to believe that by profiting from the past, a constitution acceptable to all might be drawn up. A modification of the old document would be entirely adequate. It should be kept in mind, however, that a plan for student government should be a product of the students, for that thing to which a person has made a contribution is considered to be of great concern to him and he is more willing to undertake the responsibilities thereof.

Student government would be a good selling point for W. T. With a plan of mutual cooperation in force, with the development of a competitive spirit, and with the interest of all in problems that arise and participation in their solution, a more appreciant attitude on the part of the students will be gained together with the greater respect and admiration of those on the outside. Now is the chance. Let it not slide by.

TO FROLICKING FRESHMEN

Assigned reading have a disgusting habit of piling up like off-tackle thrusts against W. T. And so, help us, twenty pages today are easier to read than two hundred tomorrow.

Furthermore, a professor will give you very little examination credit for tit-tat-toe, dots, hangman, doodling, fancy printing, caricatures of friend professor, or surrealist drawing, no matter how vehemently you argue that that's what you have in your notebook.

You're not forced to recite on each day's assignment, and you won't get a gold paper star for neat notes, but don't be deceived:

Another week, another column—ho, hum. The editor thought it would be nice to have a name or two in his paper, but we found to our consternation that nobody has anything on anybody else in particular. he had to face half a dozen big fellows who out-weighted him. Thomas punted well, as usual, and caught several passes, but as was the case with all W. T. runners, he rarely got to the scrimmage line. Bratton suffered a finger fracture.

Despite the one-sided score, the always dangerous passes hurled by Watkins kept the big crowd interested, alert, and expectant. For one quarter, it looked like a ball game. There was uncertainty even at the half, for though the score was 13-0, the Buffs had made 8 first downs to 9, and Watkins had completed ten passes for 103 yards, with 9 incomplete. It was obvious, however, that the only Buffalo gun which was loaded was the forward pass.

The touchdowns started on the first play of the second quarter when L. B. Russell was rushed into the game to chunk a screen pass.

The Cowboys scored four times on passes, two of them to Co-Captain Bud Reeves, and the final counter from Luke Raley to Rodeo Parker.

Hinrichs Scores
Longest run for the free-wheeling Cowboys was turned in by Jack Hinrichs, senior back. Hinrichs took the ball in midfield and went over the left side for 48 yards on the "bootleg" play to score the second touchdown shortly before the halftime. He kicked the extra point.

Hardin - Simmons received the kickoff in the third quarter and marched 80 yards for the third tally. Moon Mullins picked up 25 yards through the middle on the first play from scrimmage. Goodnight plowed through the center of the line for another first on the Buffs' 41, then Kirk McKinnon and Mullins contributed another first down on the 30 with power plays directed to the left side.

Goodnight ripped off another hunk of yardage to move the ball to the 19. Then from the 17-yard line Mullins received the snapback, lateraled wide to Goodnight. The tailback faded deep and hurled a pass to Reeves, who was standing in the coffin corner. He stepped over the line for the touchdown. Headstream's try for point was not good.

At the outset of the fourth period the Ranchers took the ball to mid-field and marched uninterruptedly to the pay zone. The drive was featured by a 25-yard sprint by McKinnon around left end for a first down. Goodnight shot a clothes-line pass to Reeves, who took the ball on the run at the 5-yard line and dashed across. Headstream's kick for extra point was good, bringing the score to 26-0.

Fumbles Kickoff
Dewey Johnson juggled the next kickoff, a short boot, and M. H. Raiborn rushed in fast to cover the ball on the 35-yard line.

Headstream moved the ball up to the 30 on a power drive. Reeves, on an end-around dashed 26 yards to the far right corner of the field where he was bounced out of bounds on the 4. L. B. Russell plunged over right tackle for the counter. Hinrichs converted.

The final score was set up by Ed die Bigelow's interception of a pass thrown by Watkins. Bigelow took the ball on the Buffs' 35 and returned to the 19. After a running play fizzled, Raley snapped a pass to Parker in the end zone for the touchdown. It was good for 17 they were fond of King George.

From England she sailed for Canada and then crossed by land into the United States.

"One has to get out and come back though," she said, "to know how good this country is."

In conclusion she praised the work of the club in studying international relations as a means of promoting better understanding among the nations of the world.

The next meeting will be one of student participation. Under the general head of "An Active American Peace Policy," Harold Miller will speak on "Storm Warnings of Conflict." Ulane Zeek will speak on "America in a War Minded World," and Brynild Vaughan will speak on "Planned Neutrality."

New Habitat Case of Early Period Is Placed in Museum

What marine life was like in the Southwest during the Devonian era about 400,000,000 years ago is shown in a new habitat case completed under the direction of Prof. C. Stuart Johnston.

The case, located at the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum, shows models of the earliest known vertebrates. The fish-like animals were the ancestors of modern backboned animals. Also shown are starfish, snails, sponges, and some plants, all in natural size. There were no birds in those days, and no land animals excepting a few like centipedes and scorpions. In the latter part of the period depicted began the development of land plants and four-footed amphibians.

Prof. Johnston made the models. Much of the work on the case, however, was done by C. F. Sundstrom of San Antonio. Some of the painting of the background is by Mrs. J. A. Hill. Another similar case completed some time ago shows animals and plants of the comparatively recent Middle Pliocene epoch—about 5,000,000 years ago. In it are seen dog-like animals, saber-tooth tigers, and huge elephants.

Thirteen other cases must be constructed to show the development of plants and animals from their earliest known existence to

'Top Kick' Hohlaus Makes Band Appear Military Unit

Hun, two, three, four—hun, two, three, four sounded the cadences Friday noon when Buffalo Band began marching.

They weren't going anywhere, but someone remembered the performance on the Pecos field when the Buffs played Sul Ross last year, and so practice has begun.

Several different formations and turns were outlined by Kenneth Hohlaus, drill master, and the group filed through its own lines in right, left, and reverse turns.

The first practice indicated that all of the group have had experience in marching, but slow decisions as to right and left directions caused several ludicrous mixups.

Additional uniforms of the same maroon and white patterns have been ordered, and uniforms will be available to more than the forty who reported for the first march practice when the band performs during Homecoming.

W. T. Freshmen Stage Fine Comeback to Win 21-19

Locals Use Passes To Break Through Altus Defense

Spotting an already favored Altus Junior College 19 points in the first quarter, a great band of West Texan Frosh footballers made a sensational comeback to whip Windy Nicklaus' Oklahomans, on the Buffaloes' own stamping grounds, Saturday night, 21-19.

Altus had things to their liking in the first quarter, marching to a touchdown every time the ball came into their possession. Taking advantage of a big break Altus early in the first frame, marched for a touchdown using a fake pass play to put the ball over. The Frosh on receiving the ball promptly fumbled and Altus using only four plays quickly scored from the 20. The Oklahomans added still another before the quarter ended using a pass interference for most of their gained yardage. Kirkland star Sooner back, plunged it over from the three as the quarter ended.

Frosh Shift Into High

The second quarter was a complete reversal of the first. Using straight power football the lighter Frosh marched straight down the field from their own 17 to score on an end-around play Kirkpatrick to Ricketts. Shores lateraled to Hill for the extra point. The freshmen capitalized on a break a few plays later on the recovery of a fumble. On the next play Richardson whizzed a long pass to Ricketts who gathered it in on the dead run and outdistanced two Sooners in the dash for the goal. Hill skirted left end for the extra point.

Two passes, Cornell to Ricketts and Cornell to Jones, again put the Frosh in scoring position in the third quarter, and Ricketts scored again on a 23-yard pass from Cornell. Horlander kicked goal.

This ended the scoring for both teams, but Altus in the last frame desperately threw pass after pass in an endeavor to overcome the freshmen lead. The game ended with the ball in Altus' possession and with Kirkland 38 yards from a first down having been heaved for two losses first by Ricketts and then by Cornell on attempted passes.

Superior in Every Department

The Frosh were superior in all departments of the game scoring 13 first downs to 9 for Altus and gaining 250 yards by rushing to 101 for the Oklahomans.

The starting lineup:

West Texas	Altus
Ricketts	1e	Kelley
Clay	1t	Adams
Mangold	1g	Chaddiek
Thomas	c	McMillen
Horlander	rg	Lees
Gillis	rt	Mason

Shores	qb	Hargroves
Hill	hb	Price
Kirkpatrick	hb	Kirkland
Brock	fb	Johnson

Stinnett Rattlers Smother W. T. Calves 34-7

Broken field running proved the margin of victory as the Stinnett Rattlers led by Harry ("Red") Petite ran roughshod over the lighter West Texas Calves 34-7.

The Calves made their touchdown in the third quarter when Jack Glenn scooted 31 yards to the Rattler's 3. He crashed over from there on the next play and then proceeded to add the extra point on a spinner reverse.

Score at the halftime stood 7-0, but the Calves were unable to cope with the dashes of the Rattler backs in the second half.

Friday the Calves will journey to Vega to tackle the Class B Vega Longhorns.

Victory-Hungry Goldbugs to Play Buffaloes Friday Night

Hungry for victory after three defeats the trodden Oklahoma City University Goldbugs will come to Canyon Friday night for a game with the determined but recently frustrated West Texas Buffaloes.

The ambitious Goldbugs wandered beyond their depth in the last two games dropping decisions to Texas Tech and Marshall College of Huntington, W. Va., and will be more at home in the Buff fields for the Baggettmen fared not so well themselves in distant pastures.

Large and Husky Squad

Coach Oz Doenge, the Sooner coach, will bring an exceptionally large and husky squad which he has assembled in his drive to regain the gridiron heights once occupied by his school. In Willard "Speedy" Anderson, Coach Doenge has a devastating ball carrier that can go places with a little blocking.

Flippin' Foster Watkins whipped up a gale on Parramore field for the Buffs, completing 14 of 38 heaves, but his receivers found it difficult to hold his bullet passes. The Cowboys had even more trouble, holding but one for an interception. Watkins, hailed as the equal of any chunker in this territory, will resume his pitching Friday night.

Johnson Will Start

Certain to start on one of the end positions is Dewey Johnson, reserve, who Saturday night tore into the Cowboy ground plays with such fury that they finally resorted to other tactics.

Johnson also caught passes sensationally, but was never able to reach pay dirt.

Frosh Gridmen Will Use Goldbug Plays Against Buffaloes

Continuing the present schedule of work, the Frosh football squad under the direction of Coach Jack Curtice will act as Goldbugs and demonstrate the offensive plays and potent running attack of Oklahoma City University to the Buffalo varsity this week. At the same time they will shape themselves for their next foe, the Wayland College Jackrabbits, whom they play here Saturday night in Buffalo Stadium.

Advance reports have not been forthcoming from the Baptist College as to the strength of their teams but if past teams are any measure the Jackrabbits will furnish a night full of opposition for the youthful freshmen.

The Frosh came out of their game against the Altus Junior College minus a serious injury and plus a happy frame of mind that cannot be dimmed even by their big brothers' loss to the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys. It was hard to pick a star in the fracas. They all deserve a lot of credit for their scrappy comeback which puts them in the ambitious undefeated column.

the women's physical education department.

The indoor swimming pool is open to all college girls who can swim on Monday night from 8 o'clock until 9. The weekly meeting of the W. T. Ducklings, swimming club, is held at the same time.

Captivity, the newest activity sponsored by the department, meets Tuesday night in Room 101 of the Education Building. Mrs. Laura Saunders is sponsor. At present the group is working in handicraft under the supervision of Miss Isabel Robinson, head of the art department. Next Tuesday the group will go to Ceta Canyon for a hike and an outdoor supper.

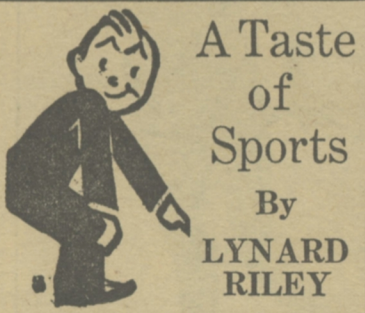

The fencing group can give membership to ten more girls. Howard Saunders of Amarillo instructs the group. Sam D. Burton, Carolyn Greenway, and Ivey Terry assist in the instruction.

PEP UNIT ORGANIZED IN W. T. HIGH SCHOOL

Girls in W. T. High School have organized a pep unit to support the Calves in their grid campaign. Helen Whittenburg, Laura Lou Ferguson, and Ann Ordway have been chosen leaders.

The organization now includes thirty girls who wear blue and red uniforms. The art department is cooperating with them in making drums for a drum corps.

President White of Cornell University forbade a proposed football game between Cornell and Michigan in 1873 saying: "I will not permit thirty men to travel 400 miles merely to agitate a bag of wind."

DID YOU KNOW . . . that JERRY MALIN gets more enthusiastic about the BUFFS than anybody when they are going right? COLORFUL JERRY almost tears the press box down when he starts egging the Buffs ON TO THE GOAL LINE . . . that only 12 FRESHMEN FOOTBALL "MEN" came to school this season . . . that SAN QUENTIN TEAMS have no eligibility rules . . . that JOHN "ONE-PLAY" O'BRIEN, former Notre Dame athlete, who set a WORLD'S HIGH HURDLE RECORD, never had on a track shoe BEFORE entering the Catholic institution . . . that JACK CURTICE was proclaimed "THE GREATEST PLAYER THAT EVER DONNED A FOOTBALL UNIFORM" by the Lexington Herald . . . that FIVE Buffalo football players belong in the ranks of the Benedictines. ## Lockhart Announces Changes in Lineup For Cadet Tilts Coach W. E. Lockhart has announced a change in his lineup when the Buffalo netters take the field against the strong Mexico Military Institute Broncos Saturday at Roswell.

Lynam Riley has been moved up from the number 2 doubles slot into the number 1 position, supplanting Bill Ferrell. Riley will team with Frank Kelly to compose the ranking team. The remainder of the squad will probably play in the same positions as they did in their first encounter when they lost a close 4-3 decision to the Texas Tech Matadors.

The Buffalo mentor is also considering moving Bobby Childers, former Harvester ace, up a notch or two in the rating if Childers continues his present style of play.

Robert T. Shapley, '17, visited in the agriculture department last week. He is now in the Soil Conservation employment at Muskogee, Okla.

W. T. High Crew Will Play Vega Team Friday

The W. T. Calves will journey to Vega Friday afternoon to play the Longhorn crew. It will be the fourth start of the year for the victory - hungry Calves and they are determined to break into the win column.

After dropping successive games to Dumas, Price Memorial College, and Stinnett, Coach Maurice Houston believes his charges are due for a win. The Calves average only about 140 pounds and the boys are for the most part inexperienced, but steady improvement has resulted from hard training. Starting with a squad so small that Coach Houston was obliged to scrimmage the right side of the line against the left, he now has a roster of twenty-three men.

Likely starters include: Ends, Gideon and McCuiston; tackles, Marshall and Behrens; guards, Smith and Robertson; center, Ferguson; quarterback, Campbell; halfbacks, Claunch and Sharmon; and fullback, Glenn.
