

The Editor Speaking

Perhaps headlining the week's events is the appearance of George Kiernan, actor, on the first lyceum course of the second semester, here Saturday evening. The program will begin promptly at 8:15 o'clock. We, of the student body, are well-pleased that we are to have another lyceum number and wonder why it is that we do not have more of them each year. On the whole they are outstanding performances and thoroughly enjoyable.

Getting around to an oft-recurring subject, how about turning in some of that original material which you have in your possession to the Texas Intercollegiate Press Association contest? Reduced to units of the alphabet, this is the TIPA you've heard so much about. As I have said many times before, March 1 is the deadline for these entries and it costs you nothing to try. It is now only a matter of two weeks until the time will be up and the local entries will be judged. The winning entry in each division will be sent to the state contests. A small cash prize is given there for the winner of first place in each division. We need a better representation in the state contests than it now appears will be the case. Any member of the Press Club will take your entry.

As a result of too many failures on the part of W. T. students last semester, Dr. A. M. Meyer has written an editorial which appears on the second page of this issue of The Prairie. It will be worth the time of every student who failed in any subject last semester to read this editorial and it would be far from time wasted for some who did not make failing marks to examine the content. Oklahoma University goes much farther than this. According to a recent ruling by Blizzell, president of the University, failing students are assessed a fine of $3 for each hour lost through failure. They say the plan is working satisfactorily.

The Freshmen came through nicely for a double victory over the Portales Greyhound quint here Friday and Saturday nights. Next year, this year's Freshman team will be the principal threat to varsity teams of the season's schedule.

Speaking of the above Freshman success, recognition is due the same class for the splendid social which they held in the ballroom at Cousins Hall Wednesday evening. They had a good program planned and it was a great success.

A bit of drama is about to be served up to the theatre-goers of Canyon and vicinity. "Moor Born," a five-act play by Dan Tothorn, will be presented March 5, by the Panhandle Players and promises to be easily worth the price charged for seats. That is the play you have been reading about in The Prairie, folks, and is directed by Miss Mary Morgan Brown, head of the Speech department. Miss Brown is known for directing plays that are successes and this one is no exception.

Carl Chaudoin Is Re-elected Quail Superintendent

Carl Chaudoin, Superintendent of Quail Consolidated Schools for the last two years, was unanimously re-elected for an additional two year term at a recent board meeting.

The Quail School was created by a consolidation of seven rural school districts in 1935 and Mr. Chaudoin was called from Mobeetie to take the lead in organizing the school.

The school has a scholastic enrollment of 609 students. They are transported in modern buses to the school. Twenty-one regular teachers and two special teachers are employed.

The school has been classified and maintains 20% affiliated credits. It offers a wide range of subjects including vocational agriculture, vocational home economics, art, music, commercial work, and a well-organized health and physical education program. A modern high school building was completed recently.

Mr. Chaudoin has been connected with schools in the Panhandle for the last ten years. Under his direction, the Mobeetie Schools were classified and fully affiliated in 1932, 1933, and 1934. He was active in the consolidation of the Loco Consolidated School in Childress County several years ago. He is a graduate of W. T.

English Actor To Appear Here Saturday

Enrollment Begins Today With Teacher-Placement Committee

Enrollees Are Asked To Observe Special Hours

The Bureau of Public Service will begin to enroll prospective teachers with the Teacher-Placement Committee this afternoon.

Special hours have been set apart for this purpose. Students may enroll from 11 to 12 o'clock, and from 2:30 to 4 o'clock on all days except Saturday. "Persons who wish to enroll are requested by the Placement-Committee to observe these hours," Mrs. T. V. Reeves, chairman, stated.

$1 Enrollment Fee

An enrollment fee of $1.00 is charged. According to the information sheet which is furnished each student when he enrolls, this fee entitles the prospective teacher to the services of the Committee for 12 months or until a position is secured within the 12 months. Applicants will pay for telephone calls or telegrams used in their behalf.

"Each student will need his brown book when he fills out the information blank which constitutes part of his record in the placement bureau. This information blank should be carefully filled out in ink or on the typewriter, since it will be seen by persons who are seeking teachers," said Mrs. Reeves.

Placement Record High

The Teacher-Placement Committee of the College is composed of Miss Anna I. Hibbert, Dr. Harris M. Cook, S. H. Condon, C. A. Murray, and Mrs. T. V. Reeves, Chairman. All other members of the faculty are called upon to aid the Committee and it is through the co-operation of the entire faculty.

Twelve Members of Local I.R.C. to Attend Conference

Twelve members of the W. T. International Relations Club will attend the West Texas-New Mexico Conference to be held at Texas Technological College at Lubbock, March 5-6.

Student speakers from W. T. will be Clarence Hamilton and Robert Dillard. Claude Farley will act as chairman of one of the round-table discussions. Prof. S. H. Condon, sponsor of the organization here, and Prof. Herschel Coffee, will attend the conference.

Internationally known speakers including Miss Amy Hemingway Jones, Donald Grant of Edinburgh, Scotland, Mrs. Burton W. Musser, state senator from Utah, and an official delegate to the 1936 Pan-American Conference held at Buenos Aires, will speak at the conference.

Four round table discussions on "Democracy vs. Dictatorship," "League of Nations and Current Europe," "Foreign Relations of the United States," and "The New Pan-Americanism" will be held.

By Glyndon Riley
Students of recent Texas history will be interested in a novel collection of bulletins that have recently come into possession of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society. The pamphlets, approximately five thousand in number, were passed to the Museum through the instrumentality of Dr. H. B. Carroll, professor of history in W. T.

The bulletins were published at the University of Texas, Austin, and Texas A. & M. College Station, and are now in the Museum library where they will soon be accessible free of charge to the public.

Documents on geology, mathematics, law, government, languages, history, music, education, science, architecture, and athletics are included. Virtually all of the four-a-month issues since 1908, published by the University of Texas, are included.

One of the typical pamphlets is by C. S. Potts, formerly of the University of Texas School of Law, on "Some Practical Problems of Prison Reform" giving a detailed description of the prison system about 1910. He touches on the

Students who are receiving federal aid under the N. Y. A. here made a total of 201 A's during the first semester. This is 23.6% of the marks given this group of 172 students.

Only 1.99% of the marks were failures. The remainder of the marks were distributed as follows: B's, 37.3%; C's, 28.2%; D's 6.68%; E's, 1.64%; and X's, 44%.

Prof. C. A. Murray, head of the Mathematics department, is chairman of the committee which administers N. Y. A. work on this campus.

Freshman Social Huge Success, Says Scribe

Showing the fruits of some hard labor on the part of the social committee of the Freshman Class, the social that was given in the ballroom of Cousins Hall Wednesday evening was an unequalled success in the history of Freshman socials.

Not even the oldest Senior can remember far enough back to recall just when the Freshman showed their value and industriousness to the extent of throwing one of the best parties of the year.

Monopoly, bridge, big business, dancing to the melodies of Billy McEachern's orchestra, and a program of unusual talent featured entertainment of the evening. Vocal selections by Miss Quixie Bea King, Houston Bright, and accordion music by Miss Mary Helen Jensen drew encores.

Colors of the Class, green and white, were carried out in the ballroom decorations. Punch was served with Miss Doris Bomar presiding at the punch bowl.

All-College Dance Is Scheduled For Monday Evening

A girls' tag all-college dance will be held in the ballroom of Cousins Hall Monday night, Helen Boswell, student dance committee chairman, has announced.

Admission to this dance is 15 cents. Season tickets from last semester may be used.

Tickets to the all-college dances during the remainder of the current semester are $1 according to Miss Boswell. Tickets will be placed on sale the latter part of next week. Members of the student dance committee will be in charge of ticket sales.

W. H. Hopkins, newly-elected teacher at Spring Lake, visited on the campus over the week-end.

Famous Quartet Will Appear Here On February 26

Organization Noted For Collection of Fine Instruments

One of the most outstanding musical organizations of its kind in the United States, the Curtis String Quartet, has been engaged for a lyceum program at the college auditorium Friday evening, Feb. 26, Wallace R. Clark, chairman of the lyceum committee, announced Thursday.

Recently returned from a triumphal two-months tour in England and on the Continent, the noted American quartet has won new laurels in performances before European royalty, including in their tour of England several hour programs over the British Broadcasting System. A year ago they were in Europe as the American contribution towards the Silver Jubilee of the King of England, and their return this year was for repeat engagements for most of the performances given the previous year.

The quartet probably has the finest collection of musical instruments in existence. The viola is perhaps one of the greatest antiquity, having been made by Caspara de Salo in 1570. The violin collection includes one Amati, two Stradivarius, and one Rogeri dating from 1694 to 1715. The violoncello was made by Roberti in 1701.

These instruments, all of rare quality, were given to the members of the Curtis String Quartet upon its organization ten years ago, and came from the famous collection of the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia. They will be used in the recital here next week.

The quartet has become famous during the last seven seasons of its ensemble work for its wealth of tone quality. With instruments that are of the highest standard of artistic production, together with a century or more of time, the tone becomes one of surpassing beauty.

The recital next week will mark the second appearance of the world-famous quartet at the W. T. auditorium. The noted organization played here two years ago on a lyceum bill, and were according an enthusiastic reception.

FIRST CO-ED DANCE SPONSORED BY W. A. A.

With Durward Brown and orchestra swinging the latest dance tunes, and a gym decorated in blue streamers, the co-eds of the college entertained themselves with the first co-ed dance of the semester held Thursday evening from 7:30 until 11 o'clock in the Woman's Gymnasium.

The dance was sponsored by the officers of the W. A. A., and was the first of a series to be given for the entertainment of the Dance Club of the W. A. A. during the semester.

Amarillo College Professor Talks To I.R.C. Group

At the last meeting of the International Relations Club held Monday night, Prof. C. C. Thompson, of the Amarillo Junior College, gave an interesting discussion on "Public Opinion and News."

The following officers were selected for second semester: Clarence Hamilton, Childress, president; Frederick Forrester, Borger, vice-president, and Mrs. Robert Dillard, Clarendon, secretary-treasurer.

The next meeting, February 22, will be devoted to a discussion of the Supreme Court. Hal Collier and Frederick Forrester will present papers on pertinent phases of this topic.

Pictures Selected For Oklahoma Exhibit Saturday

Four pictures from the Palo Duro Art Club exhibit at the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum were selected Saturday afternoon by members of the club to be sponsored by that organization at the Northwestern Art Association of Oklahoma exhibit at Woodward, February 20. Selections were made at a business meeting of the club at the Museum Saturday afternoon.

Selections include an oil painting by Ethel Bourland; a water color painting by Hester Gates; a wood-carved plaque by Miss Laura Mae Slaughter of Amarillo; and a block print by Mrs. T. M. Moore.

An open criticism of each picture included in the exhibit was conducted by Miss Marilyn Miller of the College art department, and Mrs. Darrell Jackson of Amarillo. Miss Hester Gates, president of the club, presided at the meeting Saturday afternoon. Club officers include Miss Gates, president; Mrs. T. M. Moore, vice-president; Mrs. Ira Young, Borger, recording secretary; Mrs. Carl Scott, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Clyde Slaughter, Amarillo, treasurer; Mrs. Irene Beckett, chairman of the year-book committee; and Mrs. Cecil Foster, Sudan, historian.

Enrollment Halts With 866 Students Entered In W. T.

With registration completed last week, final tabulation shows a total enrollment for the spring semester of eight hundred sixty-six students, Registrar D. A. Shirley announced Saturday. Spring enrollment dropped forty-eight lower than the total of 914 enrolled in the college during the fall semester.

Ninety-one new students were enrolled for the second semester, records revealed. Of this number, fourteen are Seniors, sixteen Juniors, eleven Sophomores, and forty are Freshmen. The remaining ten are graduate students.

Jim Kirby, a student here last year, was on the campus Thursday.

George Kiernan To Re-Create Famous Actor In Favorite Role

George Kiernan, famous English actor who will fill a lyceum engagement here Saturday night. He will do a characterization of Joseph Jefferson in the role of "Rip Van Winkle."

Believe Program Chosen Will Appeal To All, Clark Says

George Kiernan, in a unique and faithful performance, will re-create the immortal Joseph Jefferson, America's best loved actor, in "Rip Van Winkle," the role that made him famous, at the W. T. auditorium Saturday evening, Wallace R. Clark, chairman of the lyceum committee, revealed last week. The program will open at 8:15 o'clock.

A noted actor in his own right, Kiernan has won wide acclaim with his unique re-creations of famous actors in the characters for which they were known. In addition to Jefferson's "Rip," his repertoire includes David Warfield's great character role in "The Music Master," and many others.

"We have selected 'Rip Van Winkle,' one of Kiernan's outstanding reproductions, for the presentation here Saturday night, believing that it will have a greater popular appeal than any other for W. T. students," Mr. Clark stated, commenting on the outstanding program selected by the lyceum committee.

Joseph Jefferson, during his remarkable stage career, earned the title of "the best-loved English speaking actor who ever lived." For many years he dominated the American stage, and his most famous performance was in the character of "Rip Van Winkle." Kiernan knew Jefferson personally, and made his studies for these recitals during the great actor's last years on the stage, and with Jefferson's permission.

Critics from many large American colleges and universities where Kiernan has appeared during the last few years, and letters from former members of Jefferson's own company, who have seen the artist in Jefferson's famous characterization, have testified to the success of his portrayal. George Henry Nettleton of Yale University says of him: "Kiernan achieves a remarkable feat in recalling Jefferson's 'Rip'."

Kiernan's recitals are performed without costume or scenery. He offers an unusual experience.

Abroad for a number of years, Kiernan has recently returned from his native London for an extensive American tour. His appearance at the college auditorium Saturday night will be the only one scheduled in this section, and represents a rare opportunity to local theatre lovers.

Admission to students will be by activity ticket. An admission charge of fifty cents will be made to others.

One-Act Comedy Given Wednesday In Dramatic Club

A one-act comedy, "A Christmas Chime," was presented under the direction of Miss Ruby Lee Dutton at the regular meeting of the Dramatic Club Wednesday in the auditorium of the Education Building.

Cast in the roles of the four characters were Jack Taylor as Joe Terrell, Kathleen Hodge as Gladys Terrell (his wife), Billie Ruth King as Dolly, and Weldon Dodson as Ted, Dolly's ex-fiancee.

"Despite a slow start, the players got well into the tempo of the play as it progressed and turned in a really creditable production," was the comment of Miss Mary Morgan Brown, one of the sponsors of the Club.

Wilbur Spaugh, former student, has taken a position with the Douglas Aircraft Corporation at Santa Monica, Calif. He is a graduate of the Agriculture department.

Seen on the campus Saturday: Bill Boedeker, a member of the faculty at Spring Lake.

Novel Collection of 5,000 Bulletins Now In Museum

history of prison administration in Texas.

In the 36th number of the scientific series, published January 1, 1914, Charlie Wilson came out with an authentic article on the "Development and History of the Integument of the Nine-Banded Armadillo." Wilson's article analyzed the structure of this odd biological specimen, the oldest of the archaic mammals still extant.

George Miller Calhoun, instructor of Greek at the University, gives a detailed account of "Athenian Clubs in Politics and Legislation." Calhoun is familiar with the scenes, customs and traditions of old Athens.

J. W. Bledsoe and W. P. Bentley collaborate on "The Geology of Coke County" in the Sept. 5, 1918 bulletin. They sketch the geological formations of the soil in that county, and summarize the possibilities for oil and gas in the region.

"Structure of Texas Vegetation East of the 98th Meridian" furnishes a novel subject for Dr. Benjamin Carroll Tharp, botany professor at Austin. He analyzes the horticulture and agriculture of the South, and then proceeds northward until he has covered the whole of East Texas.

The anthology includes the annual report of the President relative to the financial status of the University of Texas. Included in the reports are the actual assets and expenditures of the University in each department.

Roscoe Martin's "The People's Party in Texas" traces the influence of the Populist movement wielded in the last quarter of the nineteenth century. The work is the fruit of the professor's comprehensive investigation of Texas politics during the turbulent nineties. He elucidates on the forces that brought about the disintegration of the party.

J. E. Pierce, professor of Anthropology at the University of Texas, initiated writing in a comparatively new field of study with his entertaining account of "Tales that Dead Men Tell." Pierce's work is the first volume of the anthropological papers. The ancient aphorism, "Dead men tell no tales," is invoked throughout. Pearce's summary of the discoveries that archaeologists have made is treated so naively, but completely, that the pamphlet is easily readable by the layman. The work is a justification of the labor and services that the paleontologist and comparative anatomist have rendered to clarify the evolutionary stages of humanity. It deals with the primitive white man. Pearce predicts that philosophy cannot approach thoroughness in its field without an examination of the real evidence as indicated by human bones.

Another anthropological paper is written by J. T. Patterson, professor of Zoology at the University. His work is entitled, "The Corner-Tang Flint Artifacts of Texas." Spearheads, the remnants of Indian weapons, are discussed extensively. Patterson's survey deals only with the plates of those relics which he has observed in Central Texas. This study gives convincing proof of the great need of wider sectional studies in Texas.

W. S. Taylor's "The Bobwhite" is an original survey of the most common quail in the United States. Taylor traces the life of the bird as he has observed its characteristics in the East Texas region. A corresponding significant study might be made upon the "Mexican" blue quail of the Great Plains.

Among the choice publications from the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College, are many which contain interesting as well as applicable material about the theory of agriculture. From these, farmers of this region might find information of present day benefit.

The most enlightening of the group is "An Economic Study of Farm Organization in the Piney-Woods Farming Area of Texas," by C. A. Banner, B. H. Thibodeaux and J. F. Oriswell. Oriswell is a member of the United States Department of Agriculture. The study was compiled to provide basic information which might serve as a guide to form operations in making adjustments to farm organizations which give promise of returning maximum profits.

Another article by L. P. Gabbard is "An Agricultural Economic Survey of Rockwall County, Texas." This work is more or less an inventory of the accomplishment being wrought in the East Texas county.

Although the bulk of this material deals with Texas in general, still there is much that is directly concerned with West Texas and the studies and movements through which its history is being shaped.

WHY DO COLLEGE STUDENTS FAIL?

The semester check on college marks reveals the usual number of failures. What are the causes of failure? To this question many answers have been proposed.

Chief among them are the following:

Lack of information, lack of maturity, lack of a desire to learn, lack of adjustment to college life, lack of industry, lack of ability to do the work, lack of physical strength, lack of emotional stability, lack of effective study habits, lack of power of concentration, lack of ability to analyze, lack of proper attitudes, lack of proper reactions to learning exercises, lack of attractive personality traits, lack of zeal and enthusiasm for learning, lack of definite goals, lack of high standards or scholarship, excessive participation in social activities, excessive load of labor or athletic activities, etc.

These causes of failure are usually and rightly laid at the feet of the students themselves. There is probably a good intellectual banquet spread before many of those who fail but they never taste the delights thereof. But what of other causes of failure?

There is another side of the picture dealing with college failures. That side has to do with the instruction they receive. Many students hungry for learning look up to their instructors and are not fed. Or, they ask for bread and are given a stone. The perfect college does not exist; neither has the perfect lesson been taught. Consider some of the common faults of colleges and college teaching that contribute either directly or indirectly to the list of failures each semester:

Poor methods of presenting subject matter, a dogmatic assumption that the courses offered are quite satisfactory, unsatisfactory integration of curriculum content, policy of molding all students into the same groove, swamping young students with heavy and at times uneducative assignments, false idea that the failing of students upholds standards—the attitude of “eliminating” rather than “saving,” unfair and inaccurate methods of marking, competition among the departments in the college, tendency to belittle the intelligence of parents and students, tendency to under rate the work of the secondary schools, tendency of instructors to be arbitrary and dogmatic, failure to relate teaching to real-life situations, unwillingness to give largely of self.

Having accepted the student, is not the college obligated to direct his work in such a matter that he will succeed?

The challenge to both groups described above is to “think of these things” at the opening of the new semester. We must attempt to stop the waste in human resources.

(By Houston Bright)

Given: Three sheets of yellow paper, an antiquated galloping alphabet, and thirty minutes.

Problem: How in the heck can a guy write an exchange column with no exchange papers?

Procedure: Here we are given a weighty problem of much interest to the entire campus, to the schools with whom we supposedly exchange papers, to all of the exes who subscribe to the paper, and above all, to the legislators at Austin to whom this rag is sent complimentary with our love.

We could, of course, begin our process of deductive analysis by cussing out the business manager of The Prairie for not seeing to it that our departmental drawer was full of juicy exchanges this week. We could cuss out the editor of the paper for not seeming to evince the proper interest in this department, but he has been sick for the last few days, and of course, he is our roommate. (Then too, there is the consideration that he is much larger than we.)

But cussing would get us nowhere in great haste, and besides, we don't believe in cussing. It is evident then, that we must consider the problem from some other angle. Now there are several avenues by which we may approach some sort of solution to this problem, among which is use of an old joke book. There are several juicy things in this book, and if we could find no other way out, we might quote it as follows:

A well-read man was Farmer Gray With knowledge by the peck, And yet he cries most every day, “I swan, gosh-ding, by heck,” “Why do you use those silly words?” I asked him with respect. Said he, “We’ve summer boarders now, And they want dialect.”

This, however, is not very satisfactory as a solution to the problem, and besides, it's not very funny, and besides twice, it wouldn't be an exchange column if we did that. Now the second possible solution to this problem would be to quote one of our old exchanges (dated Sept. 20), which we accidentally found behind the door, as follows:

The romance of a science major: “The temperature of a chemical secretion in a gland located near my heart has been increased several degrees; it is functioning with much clatter and clamor and there is a tickling sensation on the membrane that convinces me that you are the primary cause of this irregularity in my living mechanism. Your rosy labellum causes a palpitating in my blood circulating department. May I be permitted to engage in a bit of osculation with you?”

But this is just as bad as the first solution, only more so. And besides it is too antiquated to be very effective. Still a possible third solution would be to quote you some mildly funny stuff which we have in our head, something like this:

There's the beautiful love of a wonderful maid,
And the love of a staunch, true man;
And the love of a baby that's unafraid,
And all have existed since time began.
But the most beautiful love, the love of loves,
Even greater than that of a mother,
Is the passionate, tender, infinite love
Of one good drunk for another.

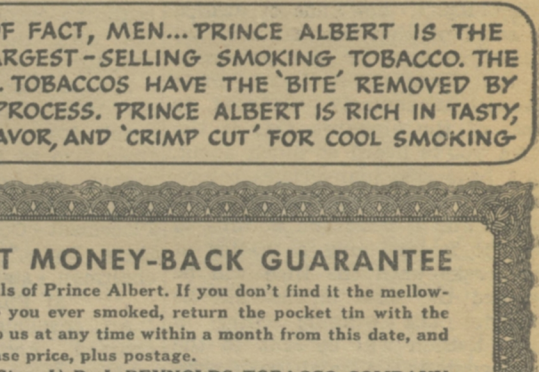

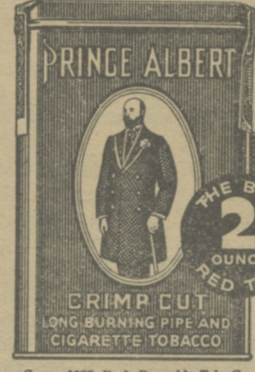

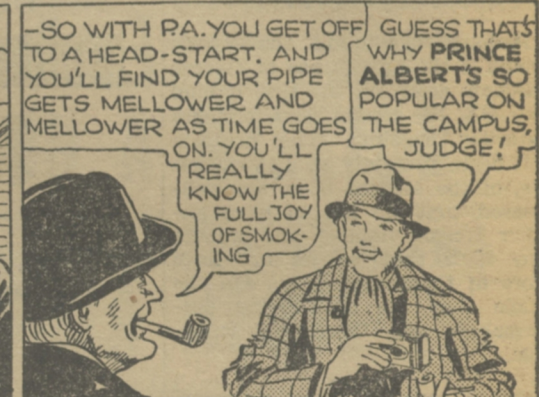

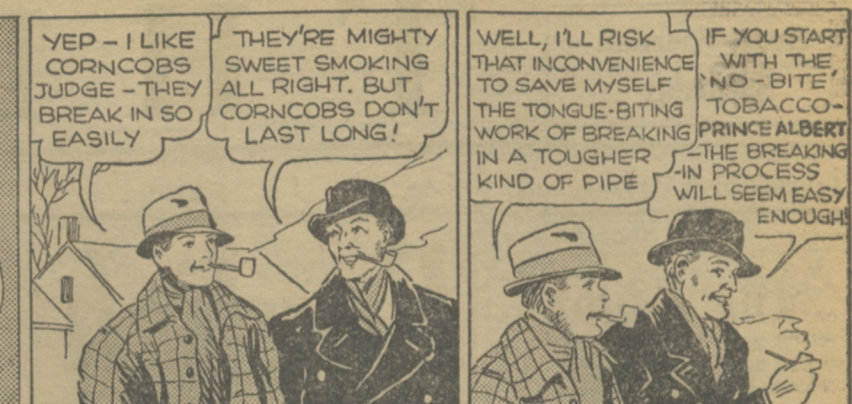

But that's still worse. The only remaining solution to the problem, then, is simply not to write any exchange column at all this week, and we are of the opinion that that is the wisest solution of all.

Conclusion: With your kind permission, there will be no exchange column this week, because of the negligence and over-sight of our esteemed business manager, Q. E. D.

In the Texas Outlook for February appears the picture of Corinne Nash, '25, who is secretary of the Elementary Principals and Supervisors Section of the Texas State Teachers Association. Miss Nash is primary supervisor at Waco.

DOUBLE RING CEREMONY UNITES COUPLE SATURDAY

Miss Evelyn Shanklin and Mr. E. L. Seastrand were united in marriage Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock in a beautiful twilight ceremony at the First Presbyterian Church, with the Rev. Charles L. Dickey, pastor, officiating.

The altar was beautifully decorated with palm branches, pine boughs, and white tapers. As Mrs. Lee Foster, seated at the console of the organ, played "Indian Love Call," Miss Mary Holman and Mr. Lemore Hill lighted the tapers on either side of the altar. Seven friends of the bride made up the choir, who entered and sang Carrie Jacobs Bonds' "I Love You Truly," which was followed by Mr. Harry Taylor of Portales, N. M. singing "At Dawning," by Cadman. Those making up the choir were Mrs. A. W. Hawks, Mrs. Larry Holman, Miss Gwendolyn Black, all of Canyon, Mrs. Harry Sims of Amarillo, Miss Wilma Perkins of Pampa, Miss Rose Mary Booth of Amarillo, and Miss Cornelia Hunter of Portales, N. M. They were dressed in pastel shades of yellow, blue, pink and green silk taffeta, and carried old fashioned nosegays of sweet peas.

To the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, little Miss Marion McReynolds and Bruce Carruth acting as pillow fairies came down the aisles followed respectively by the bride and groom and their attendants. Miss Ruth LaFon of Clarendon acted as the bride's maid, and Mrs. Lemore Hill of Amarillo, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor.

Attendants to the groom were Mr. Harold Shanklin, brother of the bride, as best man, and Mr. William Postma of Pampa.

The bride, dressed in white satin with finger tip veil, which was held in place by a point lace cap, and carrying an old fashioned nosegay of tallsman roses joined the groom at the altar for the beautiful and impressive double ring ceremony. The lace cap was from the wedding dress of the bride's aunt, Mrs. J. A. Hill; and the handkerchief she carried was made from the bride's great grandmother's wedding handkerchief. A brooch belonging to her grandmother Shanklin was worn on the white satin gown. Mac Dowell's "To a Wild Rose" was played during the ceremony, and the Recessional was Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

Mrs. Seastrand, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Shanklin of Houston and formerly of Canyon, graduated from W. T. in 1932. She has been a teacher of Art in the Pampa Schools for several years.

Mr. Seastrand is a graduate of the Greeley, Colorado Teachers College where he taught for several years before coming to Pampa to become band master in the schools there.

Mr. and Mrs. Seastrand left immediately following the ceremony for Raton, N. M. They will return to Pampa this week and resume their school work.

PALO DURO ART CLUB HOLDS BANQUET

Twenty-six members of the Palo Duro Art Club were entertained at a formal banquet, served in the Home Economics Department dining room at the college administration Building, Saturday evening. A formal four-course dinner was served by members of Kappa Omicron Phi, home economics organization.

Miss Hester Gates acted as toastmaster. Miss Isabel Robinson, of the college art department faculty, spoke on "Topics of interest in art circles throughout the United States." Mrs. T. V. Reeves, head of the college Bureau of Public Service, reviewed the advantages of last summer's Art Colony, and discussed the future of the colony.

Miss Marilyn Miller, also of the Art Department, discussed new items of interest from art circles in and around Dallas; and was followed by Mrs. Jay Ream of Pittsburgh, Pa., who told in an interesting recital of her visit to the Art International in Pittsburgh. Miss Irene Beckett entertained the group with cleverly presented comic "Chalk Talks."

Attending the banquet were: Misses Margaret and Ellen Lewis, Mrs. Clyde Slaughter and daughter, Laura Mae Slaughter, Mrs. Tutt, and Mrs. Maxwell, all of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Drake of Kress; Mrs. Ira Young of Borger; and Dr. Hattie M. Anderson, Miss Oscie McCrerey, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Roberts, Miss Oscie Sanders, Mrs. Bert Newlin, Mrs. Carl Scott, Mrs. John Fry, Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Reeves, and Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Moore of Canyon.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS ENTERTAINS FRIDAY

Miss La Nelle Scheihagen, as hostess, introduced the following program: Ruth Richeson, piano solo; Jean Snyder, reading; M. D. Shepherd, saxophone solo; Virginia King, flute solo; T. M. Moore gave interesting excerpts from Lincoln's life; Martha Workman gave a brief history of the Sunday School class. Impromptu talks by the Rev. J. O. Quattlebaum, Mrs. Agnes Smith, Mrs. C. A. Murray, and Mrs. T. M. Moore, special guests for the occasion, completed the program.

HOME EC. CLUB ELECTIONS OFFICERS THURSDAY

The Home Ec. Club rounded out a full week of social activities with a re-election of officers at the regular business meeting Thursday. Mamie Carol Smith, president-elect, will be assisted by the following officers during the spring semester: Elvira Marr, vice-president; Mary Strain, secretary; Gonda Biggers, treasurer; Mrs. Jim May Coy, parliamentarian; Carolyn Dixon, chairman of the program committee; Mrs. Gwen McFarling and Mrs. Adeline Kirk, student loan committee; and Sybil Gidden, Prairie reporter.

Other matters brought up for discussion were the future programs of the club, coming socials, and the purchase of club pins.

Earlier in the week Sybil Gidden, Marguerite Hennigh, Lorna Cone, and Gonda Biggers, first semester officers, were tea-hour hostesses to all the girls of the department in the Home Ec. dining room. From 3 to 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, members and their guests were received at tea time by Euelline Wright, Mary Strain, and Shirley Turk.

Miss Willie Isbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Isbell, of Pampa, became the bride of Bert Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Stevens, Saturday evening, Feb. 6, at the home of her parents.

Rev. John S. Mullen, pastor of the First Christian Church of Pampa, officiated at the ceremony. Miss Helen Gilmore of Wheeler was maid of honor, and Odelle Walker served as best man.

After an informal reception, Mr. and Mrs. Stevens left on a short trip. They will make their home in Pampa.

Mrs. Stevens is a graduate of Pampa High School and attended W. T. Mr. Stevens also attended Pampa High School and was prominent in athletics. He is employed with the Lee and Waggoner Company.

HILL AND EWING HAVE PRIVATE TEA

Miss Margaret Esther Hill and Miss Marjetta Ewing, both of Cousins Hall, entertained a group of their friends with a private tea, the second of a series to be held during the spring, in their room in Cousins Hall last Friday afternoon.

The refreshments carried out the Valentine motif. Guests included: Misses Margaret Deal, Virginia Edmondson, Ann Palmeyer, Mayne Shaver, Maridora Blair, Annette White, Erma Westmoreland, Dorothy Dickinson, Bonnie Whittenburg, Florence Marie Hale, Edith Rumbaugh, Helen Osgood, and the hostesses, Miss Hill and Miss Ewing.

DELTA ZETA CHI DINE AT COUSINS HALL

Delta Zeta Chi added spice to formal dinner at Cousins Hall Wednesday night of this week with a selected program.

The pledges of the sorority were guests of the active members and the Hall. Miss Quixie Bea King sang "Prelude in Blue"; Linnette Cain read "The Nightingale and the Rose"; and Mary Helen Jensen played "The Waltz You Saved For Me" as a piano solo.

Miss Ruby Dutton and Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Sheffy were guests of the hall for formal dinner.

Y. W. C. A. PICKS NEW UNIT OF WORK

"What is Religion?" This vital question, which the girls of the Y. W. C. A. will seek to answer to their own satisfaction during the current semester, was brought up in an open forum discussion by Miss June Day, at the regular meeting of the "Y" group, Thursday afternoon.

The new unit will be under the direction of Miss Fredda Charles Bills.

ELAPHEANS PLEDGE NEW MEMBERS

Six new members were pledged at the regular weekly meeting of the Elapheans Thursday night at the home of Mary Neal Bandy and Margaret Croson. They were: Frances Campbell, Jean Snyder, Helene Oliver, Mary McCaslin, Fern Fry, and Mildred Stuart.

At the close of the business meeting dainty Valentine motif refreshments were served to June Day, Charlotte Tubb, Pat Wederbrook, Betty Unsell, Maxine Hoyle, Maurine Hoyle, Eva Harper, Bobby Jo Cheyne, Evelyn Mayfield, the sponsor, Mrs. Tommie Montfort, and the hostesses.

AMARILLO COLLEGE GIVES DANCE FOR STUDENTS

A large representation of West Texas students were the guests of the Student Council of the Amarillo Junior College Saturday night in a co-operative dance of the two college groups in the ballroom of the Masonic Temple in Amarillo from 9 o'clock until 12 o'clock.

J. F. Mead, president of the College, was master of ceremonies, with the members of the Amarillo Student Council in charge of plans and reception.

Music was furnished by the orchestra from the Amarillo High School.

Earl Browder, Communist presidential candidate: "Mobs in Tampa are working in collusion with the police to deny freedom of speech."

Franklin D. Roosevelt, President: "I believe profoundly in the efficacy of religion and welfare recovery as basic to any permanent program of industrial and social recovery."

Some people believe in hell only because they think there must be some such place for their enemies.

"Luckies make a hit with my throat"

"When talking pictures arrived, my stage experience on Broadway gave me my chance on the screen. Taking care of my throat became serious business with me, so I changed to Luckies—a light smoke. Of course I smoke other cigarettes now and then but sooner or later I come back to Luckies. They make a hit with my throat and also with my taste."

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Miss Stanwyck verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on the throat.

WHERE YOU ALWAYS MEET A FRIEND

Sports-Casts

by Darrell

Coach Herschel Jennings and his squad of amateur pugilists and neophyte ear-twisters are beginning hostilities next week when they clash with the Broncos of N. M. I. at Roswell. Although the Buffalo squad is composed of several inexperienced contenders, it has four lettermen grapplers that assure W. T. victories in their weights against any opposition that may be encountered this year. They are Leo Jackson, George Caviness, Monroe Horton, and Jack Jennings.

There are only two lettermen boxers on the team—Bailey and Slack—but the diligent and careful tutoring of Coach Jennings and Orville Cunningham has produced some beginning aspirants that are adept with their mitts. However, no Dempseys or Joe Louises have developed, but several of them have shown remarkable improvement and they should easily win in their weights.

Intercollegiate boxing and wrestling are taking great strides toward becoming major sports at West Texas. After being dormant for several years, these sports were again started by Coach Baggett when he was selected as head coach of the Buffalo institution, and they have met with enthusiastic approval of the entire student body since then. Fite Nite, which is held each year at the termination of the boxing season, gives all of the novices in the game a chance to participate in the hostilities.

The rise of interest in boxing and wrestling is not only local, but myriad invitation tourneys held over the entire state of Texas have incalculably enhanced the sport. Twelve W. T. amateurs entered the Golden Gloves tourney held at Amarillo earlier in the year, and 5 of them won medals and trips to the Fort Worth boxing tournament. These meets will probably become annual affairs and will give the sports within the roped arena illimitable recognition.

As you probably have already surmised by this compilation, I am predicting a victory for the West Texans on their trip next week.

ENROLLMENT—

ulty that W. T. has maintained a record of placement of more than 90% of its Senior Class during the last two years. W. T. has had a placement record approximately 35% higher than the average for the United States for the last six consecutive years.

Prof. S. H. Condon, who is sponsor of the Senior Class, has advised all seniors to enroll with the placement committee even though they may have positions for the next year. Mr. Condon states that this advice is given because information concerning the student is then assembled while his instructors remember him distinctly and can, therefore, be of more service to him than they can after a year or more has elapsed since the student was in their classes.

Good Pictures Necessary

"The Placement Committee also urges prospective teachers to use the very best photographs that they can obtain to file with their applications. Experience shows that a poor photograph may deprive a person of a desired position," Mrs. Reeves said.

According to members of the Committee, there are three periods in the year when great numbers of teachers are sought. The first period begins about the middle of March and extends to the middle of May. The next begins late in July and extends to about September 10. The third period begins after Christmas and usually ends by the middle of January. This year, however, the Committee has had calls almost every day and there were many more of them than could be filled.

"Indications are that the next 12 months will furnish even more opportunities than the past 12 months have done," Mrs. Reeves concluded.

Canadian birth rate in 1935 was 20.2 births to the thousand. United States had only 16.8 births to the thousand, but then the U. S. wasn't entered in a derby.

BUFFALOES LEAVE TODAY
FOR FRAY WITH SUL ROSSProposed Match With St.
Mary's Cancelled
Thursday

Al Baggett and his herd of the "world's tallest" basketball players leave today for Alpine where they will contend with the Sul Ross State Teachers College in a double-header Wednesday and Thursday. Their principal motive hinges around an attempt to blot out the complex that has gripped them on foreign courts all year.

Burnice Graves, the Lobos' mentor, is an ex-student of W. T. Thus far, Graves' charges have come through with a punch that has carried them to the ranking slot in the Alamo conference.

The Buffaloes' series with the St. Mary's Rattlers was called off Thursday when it was reported that the majority of the San Antonio team members were suffering from an attack of influenza. Activities between the two schools were called off for this year, but plans are being made to renew them next year.

Before their return the Buffs collide with the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys in a two-game series on Friday and Saturday on the Abilene court. Two weeks ago the Punched cracked the traditional record of the Buffs on Burton Gymnasium when they disposed of the locals in two heated contests. The Cowboys are undefeated, and are one of the two Texas teams to boast of that honor. Their victims include three Southwest Conference teams: Baylor, T. C. U., and S. M. U.

Coach Baggett has indicated that he will employ Shackelford, Butler, Walling, Stephenson and Captain Clark as his starting five. Joe Hayes, a sophomore sharpshooter from Allison, will demonstrate his prowess against the Punched if his injured foot improves as expected.

College Mat Team
To Open Season
Against N. M. M. I.

West Texas States' boxing and wrestling team will flare in their initial conflict of the season Monday in a dual meet with the Cadets of N. M. M. I. at Roswell, N. M.

Seven of last year's squad have returned and virtually all of the other aspirants have been selected by Coach Herschel Jennings. Try-outs this week will eliminate several who have not been chosen as yet.

In the boxing division, Bailey, 135 pounds, and Tom Slack, 175 pounds, are the only lettermen. Other contenders are Lwood Dow, heavyweight, Foster Watkins, 165 pounds, John McNeill, 155 pounds, W. B. Stapp, 145 pounds, Buster Hayes, who won a medal in the Amarillo Golden Gloves tourney in the bantamweight division, and Arnold Brown or Max Addison in the flyweight bracket.

In the wrestling division, Coach Jennings has five grapplers from last year's team—Leo Jackson, heavyweight, George Caviness, light heavyweight, Monroe Horton, 165 pounds, Jack Jennings, 155 pounds, and Lee Gordon, 145 pounds. John Sandford and Kenneth Clark are contenders for the 145 pound slot with Gordon.

Durward Knowles, who was handicapped last year by a broken hand, is the 135 pound choice, George Schmitz is the 125 pound selection, and Max Addison, will monopolize the 115 pound slot.

Frosh Hoopsters
Defeat Portales
Greyhounds Here

A determined aggregation of West Texas freshmen cagers made it two in a row when they ran rampant over the Eastern New Mexico Greyhounds from Portales, N. M. Friday and Saturday in Burton Gym.

The frosh triumphed in the first battle 36-23 and returned Saturday night to take an impressive 51-36 conflict.

Ray Morrison, Yearling tip-off man, made his debut as a freshman cager in the series. He turned in stellar performances both nights from the pivot hole position. Gentry, Greyhound forward, illustrated a brilliant offensive in the first fray by scoring a total of 12 points. E. C. Payne paced the Yearling offensive Saturday night with a total of 19 tallies.

A fast breaking Greyhound offensive in the first encounter was stopped by the clever defensive work of George Taylor and Payne, frosh guards. The Yearlings took the lead in the middle of the first division and retained it for the remainder of the game.

Led by Kendrick and Schur, the frosh found little difficulty in the final imbroglio. Henry Hamblen turned in brilliant defensive work when he entered the game during a short time in the last half.

W. T. Boxers In West Texas-New Mexico AAU Meet

Nine W. T. boxers, led by Coach Herschel Jennings, left yesterday afternoon for Clovis, N. M., where they are entered in the West Texas-New Mexico A. A. U. boxing tournament staged by the Lions Club of that city in the Clovis Armory Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday nights.

Entries include Leo Jackson and Lwood Dow, heavyweights; George Caviness and Tom Slack, light-heavyweights; Foster Watkins, middleweight; John McNeill, welterweight; Joe Bailey and Buster Hayes, bantamweights, and Max Addison, featherweight.

Individual trophies are awarded winners in each division, while special trophies for Most Promising Fighter, Quickest Knockout, and Biggest Upset are being offered by leading heavyweight professionals.

Alpha Sigma Xi
Continues to Lead
Intramural Tourney

Only three games were played in the intramural cage tourney last week, and the Alpha Sigma Xi squad continued the lead by trouncing the Farm B, 29-11 in Burton Gym.

Lloyd Johnson, diminutive Alpha

Sigma Xi forward, contributed 9 points to garner individual scoring honors in the first fray.

The Epsilon Beta representatives eked out a victory over the Ex-Eagles 20-18. An extra period of play was necessary to decide the winner as the score was tied 15-15 at the termination of the game.

The Ex-Eagles triumphed over Jennings Co-op 19-11. O. M. Solomon, tip-off artist, led the Ex-Eagles' offensive with a total of 10 tallies.
