Chamness Spends Time in Schools Of Panhandle

Deputy State Superintendent E. E. Chamness, whose office is in the Administration Building of W. T. S., has recently been visiting rural schools in various counties of the Texas Panhandle. Counties in which Supt. Chamness has visited are: Ochiltree, Swisher, Parmer, Deaf Smith, Randall, and Briscoe. He intends to visit in Oldham and Armstrong counties soon.

The object of these visits is to investigate the needs and requirements of the rural schools requesting State aid. According to Supt. Chamness, the counties of Swisher, Castro, and Parmer have a greater need of State aid than do any of the others he has visited. It will require about a month and a half for him to finish the work of administering state aid to these rural schools.

There are a number of rural high schools seeking classification and several affiliated schools must be visited by Supt. Chamness after he finishes his work with the rural high schools.

Elapheians Announce Dance-Supper Frolic

Apron and Overalls Must Be worn By Participants

Put on your old gray bonnet With the blue ribbon on it And come out to make hay!

So says the Elapheian Literary Society in issuing a blanket invitation to the All-College Barn Dance and Box Supper which is to be held in Burton gymnasium on the evening of Thursday, January 18, beginning at 7:30.

One of the biggest social affairs sponsored by the society this year, the Dance-Supper promises to be one of the most informal fun-promoting get-togethers ever held on the campus. Just as for the activities of Hobo Day, the students are requested to dress the part and only costumes which include aprons and overalls, bonnets and straw hats, will be recognized as legitimate for an appearance on the floor.

For admittance, each girl is re-

All-College Hop On January 20

On Saturday evening, January 20, the last All-College Dance for the first semester will be given, according to Bob Newman, dance chairman. The dance will be held at Cousins Hall beginning at 8 o'clock and music will be furnished by the "Rhythm Boys" of Amarillo.

"There have been numerous requests," says Bob, "for a return engagement of this orchestra which played here early in the year and put out 'plenty of good music.' The Dance Committee expects this to be one of the best dances of the year." Admission is 50 cents per couple and 75 cents per stag.

Amarillo Classes Get Under Way

College Seeks To Serve Teachers Who Need Courses

More than forty students are already enrolled in the extension classes now being taught in Amarillo and it is expected that more will enroll in the next few days, according to announcements from the Bureau of Public Service.

Dr. R. P. Jarrett is teaching a course in Education, "The History of Education in Texas," which meets each Thursday afternoon at four o'clock.

Professor L. F. Sheffy has a class in "The History of the Far East," which convenes each Tuesday afternoon at 4:30.

"American Constitutional Law," is the name of the course being taught each Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock by Professor S. H. Condon.

Serve Teachers
By means of extension classes the College is making every effort to serve teachers who must conform to the recently passed regulations for teachers in Texas. If there is sufficient demand, there will be campus classes organized to meet on Saturday afternoons.

These new regulations, as mentioned in the January "Texas Outlook," require that teachers in first class high schools and grade schools have standard bachelor's degrees or work toward them, that teachers must teach in the field of their preparation, that principals must have a minimum of 18 hours in Educational Administration.

Dr. Meyer Speaks At C C C Camp

Dr. A. M. Meyer was principal speaker at the Sunday evening services at the CCC camp. The subject of his address was "The Three Cylinder Engine."

Evonne Hubbard and Dorothy Clark furnished special music for the occasion.

Band Works Hard On New Numbers

Is Playing Popular Numbers During Ball Season

One of the most hard working of our important campus organizations, the Buffalo Band, which is under the capable direction of Professor C. E. Strain.

At present the band is hard at work perfecting the program that is to be given at the CCC Camp on Sunday, February 4.

Work Up Repertoire
A great deal of time is being spent in working up a repertoire of standard band music, suitable for almost any occasion. In order that the organization may be prepared for any program they might be called on to render. Several concerts are being planned for the spring and new numbers have been ordered especially for these programs.

The band has stepped out of the so-called groove, and among some of the new numbers received especially for presentation during the basketball season are the current popular hits, "Lazybones," "Valley of the Moon," and "That Little Boy of Mine." It is hoped that with the help of these new numbers and a complete attendance of the band at the games, more school spirit and enthusiasm may be engendered.

IS TRANSFERRED
Word has been received here that Miss Beulah Hubbard, an ex-student of the college, who has been working in the Methodist missionary schools at Monterrey, Mexico, has been transferred to Mantoza, Cuba, where she is teaching Spanish in a social center.

Music Solves Money Problems

(By Bill Britton)
Those T-Anchor Cowboy Musicians, whom you have heard so much about, are solving their own problems in regard to the raising of sufficient funds for paying their school expenses by furnishing good music and entertainment wherever they appear in their official capacity.

Here are the names of the members of the organization and a brief sketch of the part each one plays: Howard Weatherly, fancy rope spinning, tricks with the rope, plays the mandolin; Ted Clark, plays violin, guitar, and mandolin; Kid Young, plays guitar and sings; Edd Todd, sings and picks guitar; Bill Todd sings and frequently, with Edd, sings duets.

Vary Music
The boys vary their types of music so as to try to offer selections that will please everybody. They play old-time cowboy music and ballads, semi-popular songs, and some of the later cowboy songs. They also use music composed by Edd Todd.

The young musicians have appeared at several places in this section. Among the programs they have offered are the two given at the CCC camp east of Canyon, one at the Chamber of Commerce banquet, and one which was given at Silverton. They plan to put on several more programs in the vicinity in the not-too-far-distant future.

EDUCATIONAL RALLY TO BE HELD AT W. T.

Outstanding Educators to Appear On Program Of Meet

MAY BE PERMANENT

Miss Graham, Dr. Hill Are To Serve On Committees

A giant educational rally will be held in Canyon during March with representatives from schools, county and city boards of education, Parent Teacher organizations and women's clubs from at least thirty-two counties in attendance.

The preliminary plans for the meeting were made Saturday when Superintendent Ferman Sawyer of Canadian, president of the Northwest Texas Educational Conference, was in Canyon to confer with Dr. J. A. Hill concerning the meet.

Many To Speak
Outstanding educators, including Dr. Doak S. Campbell of Peabody College, Nashville, State Superintendent L. A. Woods of Austin, Dr. Fred Ayer of the University of Texas and Dr. W. B. Bizzell of Norman, Oklahoma, have indicated their willingness to appear on the two-day program.

It is expected that the Northwest Texas Conference may become a permanent organization, and Superintendent Irby Carruth has been asked to head the committee on nominations and elections.

Miss Edna Graham of the mathematics department of the college has been requested to serve on the Committee on Legislation and Dr. J. A. Hill will represent teacher-training on the executive committee of the organization.

At an informal five o'clock tea in the home economics dining room Miss Peek was given an opportunity to talk with the juniors and seniors in the department and to hold a conference with senior majors.

She and Dean Geraldine Green were guests of Randall Hall at the dinner hour, after which Miss Peek visited through the co-operative home in which she was greatly interested.

From Canyon she went to Lubbock where she will visit the departments of vocational home economics at Tech and in the public schools.

There is some complaint of men growing more effeminate. However, after seeing a good football game, you'll feel differently about it.

AWAKEN MEMORIES

Entertainment Will Show Relations Of Songs To History

A capacity crowd is expected to fill the auditorium of the Administration building on the evening of Monday, January 22, when the Y. W. C. A. presents as its annual stunt night program one of the most unusual performances in the history of the organization.

Following the theme, "Forty Years of Popular Songs," some fifty popular songs that have swept America since the "gay nineties" will be featured with pantomimes and dances characteristic of each number.

Old Favorites

Opening at 8:15 with a clever presentation of an old favorite, "After the Ball," the program will close appropriately with "Big Bad Wolf," a la extravaganza. Such hits as "Daisies Won't Tell," "Old Mill Stream," "Barney Google," "Missouri Waltz," and others will be neatly sandwiched in between.

A double quartet composed of Elizabeth Faulkner, Florene Bowman, Dorothy Clark, Laura Virginia Bills, and Broughton Hardin, Lex Alexander, Malcolm Carr and Prentice Windsor will sing many of the numbers while the pantomimes, dramatic skits, and dances

Wesley League To Give Unusual Program Soon

Members of the Wesley League are planning an unusual program to be given on January 21. It will take the form of a Missionary Broadcast, relayed from local points to the entertainment hall. Members on the program will include a number of well known W. T. exes who are now employed in foreign fields.

Miss Ruth Anderson will send a message from Brazil, while Miss Marie Crone will send greetings to her friends here from her station in the Eliza Bowman school at Cienfuegos, Cuba. Miss Crone was in school here last year.

Miss Beulah Hubbard, now teaching in a social center at Mantoza, Cuba, will be one of the principal 'speakers' as will Miss Mary Flora Forman, now at Minga Mission, Congo Belge, where she is doing medical missionary work. There will be a special message from Mrs. A. F. Reifsnnyder, another W. T. ex, who appeared in a series of lectures here last summer about her work in South America.

Maroon and White Win Contest From Rangers

Bufs Play Good Game To Break in Win Column

Breaking into the win column for the first time this season, the West Texas Teachers outplayed and out generated the Northwestern Oklahoma Teachers to gallop to a 32 to 25 victory in the second game of the series played Friday and Saturday on the floor of Burton Gym.

In the first game the Bufs failed to get together, and their individual work was not good enough to topple the scoring of the dead eye shots from Murrayland. Smith, Ranger captain and an All State man last year, lopped in 7 field shots and two gratis throws to chalk up 16 points for high score. The Ranger center was second in scoring by virtue of his ability to dribble in and hit crisp shots. He scored 12 points, all on field shots. Stroud was high point man for the Herd, sinking nine points. The final score was 36 to 23.

The Yorkmen woke up in the second game and played a real brand of basketball. In spite of the fact that the Rangers made the floor look mighty rough, and gave the crowd quite a few laughs, the Bufs were never behind, letting the Simmons men come only within five points of them. On the first play "Big John" Walker tapped the ball to McMinn who passed straight to Richards, who, culminating a perfect play, dribbled under the basket and made the first tally, giving the Maroon and White a lead which they never relinquished.

The second game was played rough, especially in the second half. The Rangers fouled frequently in their fast but futile efforts to take the lead, while the Buffaloes were guarding a little to close in their anxiety to prevent the previous night's scoring orgy. An exhibition of some fine guarding by Ted Phillips, however, failed to prevent Smith from again being high point man, chalking up 11 points. Phillips retaliated (Continued on last page)

PERSONALITIES

What is personality? Who are you, and why are you YOU?

To condense into one or two short sentences a definition of personality that would satisfy the majority of the people would be an accomplishment not far short of a miracle. For centuries this word has defied an adequate definition. Webster tells us that personality is "That which constitutes distinction of person." If that be true, then every person that we contact here in college has something to do with the shaping of our personalities. Generally speaking, most everyone will admit that our associates have something to do with making us what we are. Then, those persons or things which have contributed dominating influences to our lives have had a great deal to do with our personalities. Maybe in your case it's your parents, a real friend, your relation to God, or maybe it is attributable to a few books you have read. Benjamin Franklin said that the reading of certain books changed the entire course of his life. What do you read? Do you contact thinking people? What relations do you have with the church? YOUR personality, where is it?

Someone else has said that personality is "that which one leaves with another." Essentially, the two definitions are the same. You go to school and meet dozens of young men and young women. Nearly every one of them leaves something with you; one makes you feel better, another gives you the blues, another makes you wonder if college life pays, and still another gives you a vision, makes you think and have a desire to go forward, to apply yourself. Each of these little contacts is adding a little to your personality, or perhaps taking something away. You discuss your classmates with your roommate and there are some that you like because you think they have outstanding personalities. Yet, if asked to point to some definite thing or things that make up that personality, usually you can't do it.

Personalities are so hard to reach out and grasp, yet so easy to recognize. Honestly, have you ever stopped to think, to wonder what your classmates think about you, or what you "leave with them," if anything? In your contacts with the students here on the campus are you pleasant, courteous? Can you mix with people without being offensive? Is it part of your education to remember your classmates' names? Does your smile work on the outside regardless of how blue the inside is? Do you know when to talk and when not to talk (rather a large assignment)? Do you have certain fundamental convictions about truth, honesty, religion, fair play and virtue that are unshakable? and in whatever you do are you enthusiastic, doing everything you do with lots of PEP and ENTHUSIASM? We are convinced that every one of these things has something to do with our personalities. Personalities, it seems, are not born, they are made. Whether you want to or not, every day that you live you are adding something—be it good or bad—to your personality.

Say, friend, just why are you YOU? And, if you are not the YOU you are capable of being, then why don't you do something about it? —K. K.

No good work is ever lost—Max Muller.

THE CALL TO ARMS!

Robert R. Moton, president of the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute, a school for the training of colored young men and women, sends out a letter of statistics concerning lynchings for the year 1933 that should make every young person, white or black, in the United States wake up and take notice.

As the first astounding statement set forth in his letter, Mr. Moton says that, according to the records compiled in the Department of Records and Research of the Tuskegee Institute, there were twenty-eight persons lynched in 1933, against eight in the year 1932, thirteen in 1931, and twenty-one in 1930. According to these figures, we have made rapid progress in the last twelve months!

Especially is this a problem close to the heart of the Tuskegee Institute and its brother institutions, since of the twenty-eight persons lynched in 1933, four were white and twenty-four were Negro.

The eloquent statistics, as sent out, are as follows:

"Fourteen of the persons lynched were in the hands of the law; nine were taken from jails and five from officers of the law outside of jails; the bodies of two of the victims were burned.

"There were thirty-seven instances in which officers of the law prevented lynchings. Six of these were in northern and western states and thirty-one in southern states. In twenty-four of the instances the prisoners were removed or the guards augmented or other precaution taken. In the thirteen other instances, armed force was used to repel the would-be lynchers. A total of forty-eight persons, eleven white and thirty-seven Negro, were thus saved from death at the hands of the mobs.

"Of the twenty-eight persons lynched, four were white and twenty-four were Negro. The offenses charged were: murder, eight; rape, three; attempted rape, three; wounding persons, three; altercation, one; no offense reported, three; striking man, one; slapping youth, one; kidnapping, two; stealing liquor, one; insulting women, one; threatening men, one.

"The states in which lynching occurred and the number in each state are as follows: Alabama, three; California, two; Georgia, four; Louisiana, four; Maryland, one; Mississippi, three; Missouri, one; North Carolina, one; South Carolina, four; Tennessee, three; and Texas two.

There are men who could neither be distressed nor won into sacrifice of their duty; but this stern virtue is the growth of few soils, and in the main it will be found that a power over a man's support is a power over his will.—Hamilton, "The Federalist."

Seniors Select Class Play

"Aunt Betty of Butte," a play by Colin C. Clements, was chosen last week by the Seniors as their class production. The cast, which has not yet been completed, will be directed by Melva Gamewell, a college senior who is doing the work for practice teaching.

At the Assembly program Friday, January 5, Miss Richardson told a dog story which captivated her youthful audience.

Jewell Alma Glass was absent from school a short time last week because of illness.

Girls Begin Basketball Practice

The girls interested in basketball met in the gym Wednesday to begin their practice under Coach Milton Morris, who also coaches the Calves. Mr. Morris announced Friday that two match games have already been scheduled for the girls' team.

Pep Squad Organizes

W. T. High School girls met Wednesday afternoon to organize a pep squad. Officers elected were: Virginia Murray, president; Mary McCaslin, secretary; Miss Ritchie, sponsor; Agnes Smith and Sarah Frances Smith, pep leaders. Corduroy skirts and jackets in the school colors, orange and green, were chosen as the uniforms.

Freshmen Give Assembly Program

The Freshmen presented a lively program at the Assembly period Friday. The feature of the presentation was a clever portrayal of Miss Ritchie's freshman English class. Wilbert Johnson, wearing a blue dress and a wig, acted the part of Miss Ritchie, and Viola Boyce was Miss Proctor, the practice teacher.

The other parts of the program consisted of two songs by Lela Louder and Pearl Mayben, "The Volga Boat Song" and "Lil' Liza Jane"; a reading by Marjory Merchant; and a humorous playlet "When Winter Comes to the Potters" directed by Lela Louder. The characters were Ma Potter, Pearl Mayben; Pa Potter, Thomas Fox; and Sis Potter, Viola Boyce. Bonnie Rhea Whittenburg directed and announced the program.

Gebo Clark says he's smart "in a way." What say? Fess up, Gebo!

Did anybody notice whether Miss Ritchie had that "fit" she was going down town to have?

Helene Oliver got "slapped" yesterday. She was talking about one of Louise Groom's boy friends when it happened.

Coach Morris seemed rather flustered at the bevy of beautiful girls that turned out for basketball recently.

Moving Picture Show

The first, second, and third grade children saw a moving picture show in the basement of the Education building Thursday morning at ten o'clock.

H. R. Fulton received a picture machine and five reels of films for a Christmas gift. The pictures are "The Backyard Champs," "Mickie and Minnie," "Mickey Mouse and Hot Feet," "Dancing Dwarfs," "Charlie Chaplin" and "Dumb Egg."

An Appreciation

Of The Upperclassmen
Of Our College

(By Peggy Thompson)

A lonely little country girl, leaving her home and her friends for the first time in her life, going to a new school and a new environment among absolute strangers, undoubtedly appreciates a friendly and a cheerful smile. A college freshman might come into your thoughts as he has come into mine. How lonely, homesick and forlorn I was the first few weeks of this college life! Do you remember that strange sick feeling around your heart? I do! Then you feel as if your life has been saved by the friendliness of an upperclassman. He is truly a "comrade in distress!" he tries to help you get the "hang" of this "bum-fuzzling" life in which he himself has previously lived; he is sympathetic in sharing my loneliness; he is helpful in showing me around. By cheerfully conversing of the future and carefully leaving out thoughts which might lead to home and other treasured memories, he relieves my mind and my feelings. He is a priceless comfort, and I, as one of these college "fish," sincerely appreciate his thoughtfulness and kindness.

Flying Into Antarctica!

ON BOARD THE BYRD FLAGSHIP, JACOB RUPPERT:

(By Mackay Radio) Whew! That was some crossing of the Pacific, wasn't it? From Norfolk, Va., to Wellington, N. Z., and then smack into the ice pack bordering on the great Antarctic continent (if it is a continent)—all in a week. Well, anyhow, here we are right in the middle of a most amazing world of icebergs, ice cakes, seals, whales and silly looking penguins! The sudden change from America and New Zealand is more than my mind can take in at all once.

In last week's story we were just leaving Norfolk. I have sent to the club editors by mail and radio twelve stories of our adventures on the long trip. You will probably never see those stories. Too much is happening with us and we've got to come up to Harold June date with this series right now.

Two great events occurred here on December 20 and 22. Admiral Byrd made a magnificent four-hour flight of discovery over the ice of Ross Sea in the big Condor plane. And Klondyke had a calf! Some excitement!

First, I'll tell you about the Admiral's great flight on the 22nd.

He had been dreaming this flight for years. Already our great steel ship had gone further south into the ice than any ship in history. Commodore Gjertsen advised retreating to open water. Admiral Byrd had seen a big open bay in the closely packed ice and we circled around to its entrance. Then he notified Harold June, chief pilot, William Bowlin, relief pilot, J. A. Pelter, mapper, and Carl O. Petersen, radio man, to get ready. In the most beautiful and fantastic scene ever dreamed of, the huge 6-ton Curtiss-Wright Condor plane was hoisted out on the big boom and dropped gently into the calm water and then the 46-foot Matthews motor boat cruiser was put over and took the plane in tow.

Under Commander Noville, executive officer, great red drums of Tydol gasoline were rolled up on deck and 400 gallons put into the plane by hand. Then the cruiser towed the plane out into the ice-lined bay and cast off. This was 10:30 a. m. Up and down the bay June ran the flying ship, warming the engines. Then, like a magnificent sea bird, she took the air and circled for almost an hour over the Ruppert, while compasses, radio and other equipment were checked and tested. At 11:40, the Admiral signalled "We are heading south," and off they went, at 1500 feet. It took only fifteen minutes for the Condor to disappear in the distance.

At 2:55 she was over the ship again after one of the most important exploration flights ever made—from 66.31 South 149.5 West along the 150th Meridian to 70 South—350 miles further south than the record made by Captain Cook on the same meridian in 1773. Mark this on your map when you get it in the near future.

The Admiral saw no land, but he saw miles of open water behind an ice pack not nearly as big or tough as it was supposed to be. So with new flights for guidance, it may be that we shall get our big steel ship further south safely than was dreamed possible. It is now December 26 and we have drifted around for days in a thick fog.

And maybe this whole ship load wasn't excited about Klondyke last week (on the 20th). We had suddenly plunged into an ocean of icebergs. The first I had ever seen. Never will I forget it. We passed more than a thousand in sixteen hours—like huge ships or glistening apartment buildings. In the water between there were thousands of shiny white broken pieces of bergs. Admiral Byrd and Commodore Gjertsen told me they had never seen so many at one time in all their trips. The Admiral said, "Only an undulating and extensive barrier coast could produce bergs in such large numbers. Somewhere hereabouts is a barrier which may be considerably larger than the great Ross ice barrier fronting on the Ross Sea. If that's the case and we're lucky enough to find it, the eastward search for the coast of the Antarctic continent may be ended."

But at ten o'clock in the morning our thoughts were taken violently off of icebergs and everything else except Klondyke. At that hour she increased the population of the Byrd Expedition to the extent of one full-blooded Guernsey bull-calf.

It was a hectic time on the Jacob Ruppert and it was a huge event for Messrs. Cox and Clark, two of our ex-Navy men. For weeks they had been consulting charts, calendars, the ship's log book and Captain Verleger, because they had promised the donor of our three cows that the first calf would be born within the Antarctic circle. This would have happened except for a couple of days of fog and the terrific gate that slowed us down last Sunday, and they missed it by 247 miles!

The happy event took place in the cow shed on deck next to the studio of David Paige, our artist. An able seaman, Fred Dustin, was first to know of it. We were all watching a berg four miles long when he yelled "Oh boy, oh boy, oh boy!" and went racing for the Messrs. Cox and Clark and Dr. Shirley, our medic. Commander George Noville tells me he is very fond of veal chops.

I understand the maps we are going to send without cost to every member of the Little America Aviation and Exploration Club will be ready by January 10th. Those already members will receive them automatically. Non-members should become members right away, at no cost, by sending me a self-addressed stamped envelope at the Club's American headquarters, Hotel Lexington, 48th Street and Lexington Avenue, New York, N. Y., so they can mark this flight on the map.

by a small margin; however, the opposing team was the champs last season. By a few outside additions Coach McMinn has charge of a squad that is going to show something before long.

Some of the boys have utmost delight in talking in their sleep about the disasters, or the accomplishments of the preceding day. Mr. Street and Mr. Harrell are at the present our best after midnight orators.

Primo Kneirim, who is assistant cook and sometimes chief cook, is doing a good job of supplying the gang with "Bullets," "Goolash," "Cots," and "Aqua Pura." Primo tells about the CCC now and then, but to the next generation he will relate some incidents that happened in the Co-op!

SEND CATALOGUES

Several hundred catalogues went out this week to prospective students of W. T. S. T. C. The list of names was compiled last nine weeks through co-operation of members of the student body and faculty who were anxious to have their friends come here to school.

Winged Victory Takes Flight

(By Marian O'Brian)

It is gone, that beautiful and impressive statue, a gift of the class of 1916, which has enhanced the first floor of the Administration building for eighteen years.

This copy of the Winged Victory, one of the few pieces of art which made this building look more like an educational building and less like a factory, was accidentally knocked from its pedestal, swept up, and is now consigned to the ash heap. The original Winged Victory, Nike of Samothrace, which was found in a multitude of fragments, head and arms gone, on the Island of Melos in 1863, could not surpass the ruin of our Winged Victory. Sad, sad, the bitter wall of the college students and faculty when they saw the last remains of our statue in a heap on the floor Thursday morning.

Has not that imposing figure, the abstract expression of the very essence of victory, caused many a young student involuntarily to straighten his shoulders, to look forward to a higher goal? Inspire him to finer ambitions and greater heights? Who knows?

Is it gone forever? Can it be replaced?

We need more of the finer works of art on which to rest our eyes after seeing so much of the crude and awkward. Is it not heart-breaking that fate had decreed that one of the finest works of Greek art should pass from our midst? "Winged Victory, we miss thee!"

Byrd Expedition
Now Farther South
Than Any Vessel

Word received over the Byrd Broadcast Saturday evening announced that Admiral Richard E. Byrd and his Antarctic expedition were at that time 700 miles from Little America and were 300 miles farther south than any vessel had ever before penetrated.

A 1,000 mile ice front lay before them, and the announcer compared their vessel to a battle ship, constantly on the watch for an opening in the ice sheet so that they might go onward.

A humorous twist was afforded when they announced that a newspaper, "Snowshovel," had been started up aboard. "That's one thing," someone observed, "that will have complete circulation in Little America."

ELAPHEANS DISCUSS POETRY THURSDAY

The Elaphean Literary Society met on Thursday, January 11, in regular meeting with a large number present.

Virginia Leigh Bull was in charge of the program which was planned around the central theme, "Poets and Poetry."

Edna Irene Bandy gave a brief discussion of "The Art of Reading Poetry Aloud," assisted in her talk by the voice of noted speakers on victrola records. Thelma Holly discussed the life and works of one of the favorite poets of today, Edna St. Vincent Millay. Mildred Fern McMillen gave an interesting talk on the life and works of Sara Teasdale.

A business meeting was held with Earnestine Walker, president, in charge and plans were discussed for the society's most important social event of the year, the Barn Dance-Box Supper to be given Thursday evening in Burton Gymnasium.

COUSINS HALL ACTIVITIES

Open House was held Monday night from 6:30 to 7:30. A large crowd attended and everyone had a good time. Music was furnished by Yvonne Thomas.

The girls had a pajama dance last Wednesday night from 10:30 to 11:00. Everyone had a most enjoyable time dancing to radio music.

Gene Smalley, president of the Hall, has moved to Randall Hall. Last week Constance Wayland was elected to take her place, and Mildred Caldwell was elected social chairman.

Last night the girls were hostesses to an open house which was quite different from the usual one.

ARE GUESTS IN HEREFORD

Dean Geraldine Green and daughter Nell, and Miss Mattie Mae Swisher were dinner guests in the G. A. F. Parker home in Hereford Friday, January 5.

Other guests were Miss Anne Fitzhugh Parker, of Boston, Mrs. T. Thompson, and Mr. and Mrs. George Parker, of Hereford.

HENRY-SAVAGE RITES PRONOUNCED

At a beautiful quiet and impressive ceremony, Miss Vella Mae Savage became the bride of Mr. Clifford C. Henry of Hot Springs, New Mexico, yesterday at high noon, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Savage, 304 North Michigan avenue.

Promptly at 12 o'clock on this beautiful Christmas day, Mrs. Charles H. Bland, a cousin of the bride, sang, "Because," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. A. E. Elmore, an aunt of Miss Savage, who also played the strains of the stately Mendelssohn's Wedding march as a processional when the bride and groom entered, unattended.

The service was solemnized before an improvised altar of palms, ferns, potted plants, and baskets of carnations and sweet peas, softly lighted by tall cathedral candles, with Rev. A. E. Elmore, an uncle of the bride, officiating, reading the ring ceremony.

Miss Savage wore a becoming afternoon gown of Crepe Romaine fashioned on long graceful lines in the Ashes of Roses shade, and carried an arm bouquet of half-brown tea roses and baby breath, with a delicate shower of lillies of the valley.

Immediately following the ceremony a Christmas dinner was served with the twenty-three relatives who attended the wedding as guests. An elaborate turkey menu was served from a candle lighted table, centered with an arrangement of cut flowers and fern, and laid with a lovely lace cloth.

At 3 o'clock the young couple left for a week's honeymoon trip to the western part of the state after which they expect to return to Roswell to spend New Years with Mr. and Mrs. Savage before going to Hot Springs to make their home. The bride's going-away costume was of brown wool with all accessories to match.

Miss Savage is one of Roswell's most charming and talented girls. She has been a teacher in the North Hill school for the past few years and has always taken an active part in church and musical affairs. She is a member of the Elizabeth Garrett Sextette which is widely known through this section of the state.

The groom is athletic director in the Hot Springs high school and first made acquaintance of Miss Savage when they were teachers in the same school four years ago.

Those present for the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Morris F. Snow, and daughter, Nelda, of Clovis; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Elmore and Waldine, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Bland of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Elmore and children, J. C., Wilford and Wayne of Chaves; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Savage, and baby, Norma Jane, Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Elmore of Roswell and Mr. and Mrs. Savage and Sue Jane.—Hot Springs News.

KEYSTONE UNION HAS PROGRAM ON "PRAYER"

Sunday evening the Keystone Union, a division of the Senior B. T. S., presented an inspirational program on that most divine and most needed subject, "Prayer."

Some of the points emphasized were: to pray for our own soul's salvation, to be deeply concerned with it, to pray for others as well as ourselves. The points of the program were illustrated by the Lord's Prayer and examples were given of the prayers that people of the Bible had prayed.

Curtis Clements had charge of the program. Others taking part were Thelma Thorp, Wilber Spaulgh, George Caviness, Holland McMurry, and a musical duet, "Sweet Hour of Prayer," was played by Ted Clark and Curtis Clements.

COUSINS-SESAME GIVES SOCIAL

Members and guests of the Cousins-Sesame Literary Society were given an enjoyable evening of dancing and bridge at a social in the Educational gymnasium last Thursday evening.

Many enjoyed playing bridge and forty-two while others danced to the piano music furnished by Ragnvald Fowler and Ray Crowder. A change was made in the music when Ray left the piano and took up his violin and played some lively tunes.

At the close of the evening fruit punch and cookies were served to ninety members and guests.

Club "Travels" To Other Lands

Several interesting projects are being developed this year by the Travel Club, that organization which is sponsored by Miss Darthula Walker of the Geography Department, and is composed of some 25 young college students who likes to go traveling by proxy.

Through moving pictures, books, talks, and photographs the group becomes familiar with the geography and also the places of historic interest in foreign lands. Now engrossed in a study of India, upon which country they have spent several half-hour club sessions, the members plan to go next to China and Japan where they will study both country and people.

Miss Walker, who spent considerable time as an instructor with the Floating University a short while ago, can tell things of interest about many foreign countries. Richard Halliburton and his travels books have been used as guides in several instances.

Dr. Debo Speaks To Open Forum

Dr. Angie Debo, curator of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum, was principle speaker at a recent meeting of the Open Forum Club in Amarillo, choosing as her subject for discussion, "Preservation of Panhandle History."

Dr. Debo spoke of the new phase of Panhandle history which is being developed by the archeologists in excavating ruins of Indian villages of a prehistoric period across the Panhandle, the buffalo hunters, Indian fighters, ranchmen and then, modern industries.

ARE PLANNING PROGRAM

The Wesley Choir, announces Miss Mattie Mae Swisher, is making preparations for a program to be given at the CCC camp on Sunday afternoon, January 28.

Plans are being made for a complete service, including music, pictures, and special talks.

CAMPUS TRY?

"That little cold snap," observes El Toro in the College Star, "really turned out fur collars and red noses. The sad part seemed to be the ruthless manner in which it broke up the romantic meetings or gatherings. Some people call it campus try, others spring fever, and still others call it lack of something better to do."

Theta Delta Club To Hear Talks

Prize For Name Goes To Claude Tucker, Jr. In Contest

At the meeting of the Theta Delta Club Wednesday morning at 9:30 in Room 104, a talk on "Mathematical Fallacies and Curiosities" will be given by R. M. Parham, while Professor C. A. Murray will discuss "The Straight-Line Machine."

Problem for this week: A, B and C share equally a picnic lunch consisting of 10 sandwiches. A furnishes 4 of the sandwiches, B furnishes the other 6, and C pays 20 cents as his share. How should A and B divide the 20 cents? The answer will be given here next week, also the names of those turning in the correct solution. Solutions should be turned in to the Math office by 3:30 Friday afternoon.

Select Name

At the last meeting before the Christmas holidays, a name for the club was chosen. The first choice was the Theta Delta Math Club, the name proposed by Claude Tucker, Jr., who received the $2.00 prize. The second choice was the Four-Square Math Club, by Charles Townes, prize 50 cents. The Pythagorean Club, by A. J. Reeves, was third choice, 25 cents.

The club wishes to thank Miss Graham, Mr. McCarter, Mr. Allen Mr. Shirley and Dr. Pierle for acting as judges in this contest.

The club will now be interested in a design for an emblem to be used in the form of a pin. It is suggested that such a design may embody the greek letters in the club name. Students may begin working on this as the design will be called for soon.

The club invites and urges all students and faculty members who may be interested in any of the programs to attend the meetings at any time they desire. The club is not a closed organization, and all who would like to devote this short time to mathematical interests will be welcome at the meetings.

Your thinnest dime will admit you to the Musical Memories program Monday night in the main auditorium at 8:15.

A Prairie Reporter Sees Red

(By Annie Nonomous)

Folks, There ain't no justice! Take it from someone who knows—and I should know if anybody does. . . . This world is just one trial after another. I have worked my fingers to the bone, and do I get any credit for it? I do not.

Wednesday afternoon I start on my assignments for the week—so many articles must be written. But first they must be investigated. Well, on Wednesday I go over to the Museum. There's supposed to be someone working in there, so I very politely knock on the doors. I wait; then I knock again. I wait, hear no sound; so I knock again. Still no sound; so I knock again. Fearing that for some peculiar reason I am not being heard, I seize the door-handle and proceed to shake it. Still no sound—so I shake again. Still no sound, and in desperation, I kick it. Expecting to have the door opened immediately in my face and receive a severe blow from the inmates, whoever they may be, I take a chance and kick again. I never knew a museum could interest folks to the point of deafness.

So, disgusted, I forgot the paper work, for the moment, and went home—in a very bad humor—to study more Shakespeare. The next day, Thursday, I felt better, and thought I would try my luck again not along the same line though, no use of ruining another day. So that day I went over to Randall Hall to find out if anything other than the regular staying-out-to-late or caught-cussing fuses had taken place. As usual "nothing you can use." Somewhat discouraged, I went home—and studied more Shakespeare. The next day started off wrong, for although I stayed home the night before and studied, I flunked my Shakespeare test. Feeling in a slightly gayer mood later in the afternoon, I resolved to beard the lions in their dens, and went in to interview Deans of Women, of Men, of College. None of them knew anything—that I could print.

Saturday, of course is the last day to get the stuff in; so to keep myself in good with the editor, I try all over again. Every body in college that might know anything, the museum, even students. No luck. Then came the most terrible moment of all. I had to face the editor, and tell it—just confess what a "punk" reporter I turned out to be. And she's cheerful about it! Cheerful! The one thing she should not be to a poor unsuccessful reporter!

Fellow students, read my lament, and weep! My life is made up of just such cares as these. My head is bent, my back is bent; my heart is bent. And those students who read the college paper when it comes out on Tuesday think it's simple, easy, even fun. Ladies, and Gentlemen, all I ask is that you try it sometime.

President Hill will attend the annual meeting of the Association at Cleveland, Ohio, during the latter part of February, in connection with the winter N. E. A. meeting.

Start Off Season With A BangTwelve Teams Organized
With 155 Boys
Reporting

Intramural basketball season is starting off with a bang. Twelve teams have been organized along with the Varsity and Fish squads. A total of 155 of the college boys are reporting for work on the intramural, Varsity and Fish squads.

The Cousins I squad has been champion five years out of the last six years played. The 1933 squad under Coach Milton Morris made an especially attractive appearance in their 22 matched games with various high schools and junior colleges.

The 1934 S. O. J. squads under Coaches Manning and Duncan are showing up well in the practice games, as are also the Moore's Co-op under Coach McMinn, and the famous Cheyne House under Coach A. C. Brown.

The squads are as follows:
Farm Boys A: George Gandy, coach, Woodrow Toone, John Rankin, Lowell Fuller, J. Calloway, Ervin Welch, Walter Cummings, J. D. Hibbs, Robert West.

Farm Boys B: Russell Stroud, coach, Robert Draper, Harry Holt, George Caviness, Ernest Corbin, Loran Denton, Henry Young, Russell Blanton, Ralph McClure.

Sons of Justice, I and II: Al Duncan and George Manning, coaches; Alvin Morgan, Carol Boyd, Loyd Moore, Estrall McElroy, Edward Burkholder, G. T. Higgins, Melvin Alexander, Bill Stamfil, John Pool, R. M. (ace forward) Thompson, Gene Lovelace, Miles McGeehe and Lawrence Brotherton.

Moore's Co-op: Ed McMinn, Coach; Jody Boston, Arlie Elms, Fred Tidwell, Max Brown, Joe Smith, George Kneirim and Orville Cowart.

Famous Cheyne House: Alton Brown, coach; Charles Wisdom, Mack Dennis, Bruce Howard, Rubel Mills, Roger Harvey, Tommy Service and Bill Britton.

Cousins II: M. E. Clevenger, coach; Clayton Devin, Charles Reeve, Bill Moore, Lex Alexander, Foster Harmon, Gardner Sander-son, and D. Vaughn.

Ex-Eagles: Neal Brewer, coach; Clarence Wooten, Bobby Campbell, Broughton Hardin, Warren Whaley, Tyson Cox, Slack Middleton, are being featured. The T-Anchor Boys will sing one group of songs.

The Canyon Novelty Orchestra, popular musical organization of the community, will furnish the music for the intermission and for a time before the performance. Miss Lilla Beth Burroughs will be the accompanist.

Miss Ruth Cross and Mrs. Wallace O'Keefe are directing the dances throughout the program.

"Thrilling Revival"
This year's revue promises to be one of the biggest and best that has yet been given and which will please young and old alike, say those in charge. "We plan to make the evening a thrilling revival of musical memories," says Dorothy McKenzie, president of the Y. W. C. A. and general chairman of the program.

The numbers presented, harking back to the time "When mother was a girl—" or "I remember the time when—" will run the gamut of our nation's song life beginning with the late nineteenth century, on through the birth of the twentieth, into the midst of one of the most devastating wars the world has ever known, through the slow period of recuperation, taking notice of the years when the nation stepped nonchalantly into one of her most prosperous periods, the depression, and at last, her rebuke of that depression. The program will be more than an entertainment, it promises to be a living history of the past.

"Come and see for yourself," say the directors and sponsors, "how these various periods have influenced the songs of the times." A ten cent investment is all the Y. W. C. A. is asking for this year's fun night.

The Bison Herd showed good ability on the floor and will give any team which they have yet to play a run for their money if they play together as they did over the Rangers in the second game.

Some people would have to work overtime if they practiced what they preach.

Some people seem to get a good deal out of life by not expecting too much.

Stiff Booking
For W. T. Calves
This Week-End

Booked for three stiff games this week the Calves, boys' basketball team of the Demonstration school, are expecting to see plenty of action on the Burton court, says Milton Morris, coach.

Tuesday night the Calves meet the touted Happy team in Burton gymnasium at 7:30 o'clock.

Friday night they tangle with the Canyon High School team and on Saturday night they meet Vega.

All games are in the Burton gymnasium and start at 7:30.

A tougher bunch of palookas than these W. T. fighters who are reporting for wrestling and boxing haven't been seen since Dutch Mantel made his debut in 1492.

The bunch of athletes plan to participate in the Dual Meet which is to be held at Texas Tech on February 12, and a return meet will be held here on March 9.

Invited To Meet
An invitation has been received to attend the Southwest Boxing and Wrestling Tournament which will be held at Lubbock on March 2 and 3.

Coach Herschel Jennings urges all boys who are contemplating reporting for either boxing or wrestling to come out for work at once. All would-be Carners and Baers must report immediately.

BUFFALOES WILL JOURNEY TO
LAS VEGAS TO MEET N. M. N. U.Plenty of Action
For W. T. CalvesOutplay Hartley and Borger
In Recent Games

A high quality of basketball is being shown this year by Coach Milton Morris' Calves, boys' squad from the Demonstration school.

Friday night, January 12, the Calves played Hartley in Burton gymnasium, defeating the Hartley boys for the second time this season, by a score of 27-14. Carl Neighbors and Don Savage tied for high point honors, with nine points each.

Friday evening the Junior Calves played the Friona Juniors in the Education building gym. The score was 5-5 at the half, but the Junior Calves opened up in the second period to defeat the Frionians 19 to 11. Frank Monroe, who coaches the Friona team, is an ex-student of W. T. High and of the College, having graduated with the class of 1933.

Defeats Borger
On Monday night, January 8, the Calves played the Borger Bulldogs in a return game in the Burton gym, defeating the Bulldogs by the wide margin of 32-11. Coach Morris used all his players, letting his substitutes play practically all the last quarter. Co-Captain Don Savage was high point man of the game with 14 points to his credit.

Thursday evening, January 11, the second team of the Calves and the freshmen had two mixed practice scrimmages with teams from the Amarillo Central High School. The freshmen outplayed their first opponents, while the Calf subs had their hands full with the big Central boys. In their second scrimmage, the freshmen were handicapped by the height of the Central boys, but held them to very few baskets.

Little Dope Available On Boys Of Sunshine
State

Beginning their season's traveling, the Buffaloes will journey to Las Vegas this week end to joust with the New Mexico Normal University quintet.

Little is known here about the boys from the Sunshine state, but it is understood that they will give the Herd a good run for their money. Another thing that will stand in the favor of the New Mexico Teachers will be that the Buffs probably will not leave here until Friday morning or late Thursday, giving them little time to become acquainted with the conditions in Las Vegas.

The Bison squad will be in fair shape for the trip, and are expected to keep in the win column they entered Saturday by defeating the Northwestern Oklahoma Rangers.

dancing classes plan to interpret certain folk dances peculiar to various nations of the world.

On Saturday the chapel program will consist of the introduction of guests and delegates and a short address by the conference speaker. A business session at which officers and the next convention city are selected will follow at ten o'clock.

Luncheon In Amarillo

Closing the conference, a luncheon is planned to be given at the Herring Hotel in Amarillo. A number of civic organizations there, led by the Business and Professional Women's Club, are arranging for this feature as another opportunity to hear the European speaker.

Professor Herschel Coffee is in charge of the program. Other committee heads prominent in the arrangements are Seth Lindsey and Miss Jennie Mae Elliott.

An Ocean in the Sky

They look like lashing, storm-tossed waves pounding on a shore, but they're really billowing clouds which all but conceal the Alpine peaks shown in the background. In the foreground of this picturesque scene, a solitary watcher is shown atop Grossglockner, situated in the Tyrols and known as the highest point in Austria.

T-Anchor
Farm News

(By Howard Weatherby)

"Train, train, train and go trouncing through." That seems to be the slogan of the T-Anchor basketballers. They have opened their season with a flash and a gym full of hot spots.

Some one named Bill Todd has the taffy. We know it because we saw him Wednesday night with it in his hand, on his face, in his mouth, on his coat and on his boots. Why, the swifter even came home, light hearted, humming a ditty, and with his pockets full of taffy. He was heard to say in his dreams, "Wot a girl. Wot a girl."

Since the skating rink has opened down town the subject of conversation is beginning to change from the arts of a feminine heart to the arts of trick and fancy roller skating. Some of the boys are trying to define skating. One says "Skating is 2 per cent on your feet, 23 per cent getting up and the remainder sitting down hard." Another says, "Skating is always keeping your best foot forward and a soft place for landing." Another defines skating as "A rhythmic series of scoots ending abruptly in a downfall."

Some people get all the popularity. Some people are just born for it. They have it in bunches to toss at the beetles, or anything. Take Clyde Andrews, for instance.

When he goes down to get the "girl friend," and she cannot go, the word is soon out and all the other girls in the house rush upon him pleading to be taken instead. "Shotgun" Welch is serving his apprenticeship as a plumber. He is also acquiring the ability to judge "crooners."

Coach George Gandy wishes that a law would be passed forbidding people hi-waying by themselves.

Now That the National and American Leagues Plan to Use the Same Ball,
It'll Be Easier to Make Odious Comparisons

BY PHILIP MARTIN

JUST clearing up a few things: The National and American Leagues will be playing with the same ball next season.

Agitation for a uniform ball in the majors finally produced results, and a new pill, a happy medium between the dead sphere of the National League and the 20 per cent livelier ball of the American, will be used.

This forever will quell the argument that American League hitters are better than the old loop clouters because of the livelier ball, and that the National League hurriers can heave that apple better than the younger circuit heavies, due to the deader ball they use.

It also will have an influence on the minors. With the major leagues using a uniform ball, it is likely that the minors will follow suit. Then, and only then, will the majors get a true line on rookies coming up.

Heretofore, highly heralded rookies who have been hanging away at a .400 clip in the bushes have slumped terribly in major league debuts, due to the change in spheres. With uniform horse-hides, however, this evil will be no more.

THE U. S. golf team will win the Walker Cup this year chiefly because of the new blood transfused by the selecting committee.

Of the four newcomers who will meet the British team at St. Andrews May 11 and 12, three are youngsters. And what youngsters! Johnny Goodman, the National Open winner of 1933, heads the list, with Johnny Fischer of Cincinnati and W. Lawson Little, Jr., of San Francisco right behind him.

The fourth member of the newcomers is El Chandler Egan of Del Monte, Calif. This veteran, who won the National Amateur in 1904-05, is figured to be the steadying influence to the team. Francis Ouimet, Boston oldest, again will captain the squad.

THE list of player-managers in the big leagues will number three newcomers in 1934. The 1933 list included Bill Terry, Giants; Joe Cronin, Senators; Charley Grimm, Cubs; Lew Fonseca, White Sox, and Marty McManus, Red Sox. The 1934 roster adds Frankie Frisch, Cards; Mickey Cochrane, Tigers; Jimmy Wilson, Phils; Rogers Hornsby, too, Bob O'Farrell, Cards' catcher, being considered for the job.
