History

The Elapheian Society has grown out of the Barrett Browning Society. Last year there were only two literary societies in school, the Cousins and Sesames. No one cared to carry on the work of the other societies, consequently there was little society spirit in school. Last fall a number of girls got together for the purpose of organizing some kind of society because they realized that no school organization would prosper as much, or have as much life, without competition or rivalry, as with it. And every one was ambitious for the Cousins and Sesames to be live and wide-awake.

At this meeting no one seemed to care to revive the old Barrett Browning Society; it was thought that if a new name were given to the society it would arouse new interest in the work. Then the problem of a suitable name was presented. In the meantime the boys had organized and christened themselves "Antlers". They realized that a family of boys was not an ideal family so they invited this group of girls in search of a name to be their sisters, and the girls, needing the strong arm of a brother, were glad to accept. Of course, this helped to solve the problem of a name. With the help of Mr. Stafford, who has ever lent us his aid and influence, the Greek name Elapheian, meaning female deer, was selected. And now these Elapheians with their strong arm, or Antler, are making a record for themselves. There has never been a society organized that has had quite so many discouraging things to contend with, more things to hinder its growth in the first year of its life, but the girls in this Elapheian group are made of the material which says, "We will work on, we will fight on for that which our motto stands for and in the end we will win out."

For the spring quarter we are going to take up the study of modern drama. We expect to reap much pleasure and benefit from this work, and with the help of two of our most distinguished members, Miss O'Connell and Miss Michel, we expect to finish laying a firm foundation upon which the girls who will be here in the succeeding years will be proud to build.

Canyon vs Tulia

12 Innings—Score 3 to 2
The Normal baseball team scored their first victory in the opening game played on the normal grounds Friday. Tulia was represented by a good team, and the game was a close one from the start. A number of errors were made on both sides. The two scores made by Tulia were due to errors made by the Normal's team.

The old men on the Normal's team, strengthened by the new material which Coach Willey has to work with, insures us a strong team.

Canyon scored two points during the last half of the third inning. The score stood 2 to 0 until the first half of the fifth inning when Tulia made two scores on Canyon's error. The score remained 2 to 2 until the 9th inning. Two innings were added in order to decide the final score of 3 to 2. Glen Akers made a hit over third base and the ball was fumbled by left field.

Akers for Canyon struck out nine while Cockran for Tulia struck out seven. Akers and Roffey for Canyon and Cockran for Tulia made a two base hit each.

Umpires: Black and Shirley.

The following is the baseball schedule for this season:

April 10, Tulia at Tulia;
April 14, Vega "Outlaws" at Canyon;
April 23, Plainview at Canyon;
April 28, Clarendon at Canyon;
May 1, Plainview at Plainview;
May 8, Open date;
May 12, Amarillo at Amarillo;
May 18, Clarendon at Clarendon;
May 21, Amarillo at Canyon.

Girls' Forum

At the chapel period of the West Texas State Normal College on Friday morning, the girls of the Normal College organized a Girls' Forum. The girls of this institution will conduct such a forum at this hour every two weeks. Every girl in school is a member of this forum and every girl entered into the organization with splendid spirit. The girls will discuss all problems that concern girls on this campus, such as campus honesty, boarding house conditions, dress, social etiquette, etc; and they propose to go into wider fields such as the Texas Gubernatorial race, industrial conditions that women face, and other such things.

The following officers were elected: Speaker of the House—Ruth Thompson of Clarendon, Texas; Secretary—Vada Murphy, of Cisco, Texas; Chairman of Program Committee—Ollie Sone of Canyon, Texas.

The Headlights met last week and elected the following officers.
Pres.—Viola Vetesk.
Vice-pres.—Ruth Harrison.
Sec. and Tres.—Rose Stewart,
Chairman of Social Committee—Rose Stewart.
Sergeant-at-arms.—Homer Cowan.

The Maids of Battle

And it came to pass, in the month of April, in the suffragette year of our Lord 1920, that Gladys, the daughter of Millhollen; Eva, the daughter of McKinnon; Lila, the daughter of Sinans; Verle, the daughter of Fletcher; Tip, the daughter of Bradford; Earyle the daughter of Fletcher; Dessie May the daughter of Steele; and all sisters of the Courageousyouths, the Antlers, led by their renowned chief, Penrod, did leave their secluded homes on the broad plains of Panhandle, and journey forth to do battle with the enemy, the designing Sesames, which pitched their camp in the province of Gymnasium, which is surrounded on all sides by a gloomy and forboding dungeon of darkness. The Elapheian maids accompanied by their valiant brothers arrived in the province of Gymnasium and were astounded at the buxomness of the Sesames present, for these maids of the house of Elapheian were very shy and very gentle.

No sooner was the battle waged, than the fickle Cousins, arriving upon the scene, armed with spears and lances, were struck dumb by the gracefulness and agility of their sister's enemies. Never more did they raise shriek or lance against them.

Now these maids of Sesame were so overpowered with jealousy, that they endeavored to entice their faithless brothers back to their ranks and did fight zealously to much avail. While the Elapheian sisters did steel themselves against the smiles and strength of these damsels and did lose the battle gloriously.

Then from the Province of Gymnasium the winning army did travel with much speed to their homes, where they were received with joy and festivity, but in their troubled brains burned the threadbare inscription: "All that glitters is not gold", and even before their restless eyes rose enchanting figures of the golden draped Elapheians, which was to them as a cancerous sore in the heart or as a thorn to the flesh.

The fair Elapheians, woefully were heralded by their sad faced brothers and between all there was much sympathy and understanding. Though outwardly so resigned to their fate, the inscription: "All is not gold that glitters" had for these boys and war-like maids of Elapheians a different meaning.

Special Services

The Canyon Methodist Church, on Easter Morning, is beginning a series of special services. Dr. H. F. Brooks, pastor of Polk St. Methodist Church, Amarillo, speaks at each service. Special preparation has been made for this service, a religious census of the entire community having been taken in the last two weeks.

(Tune: A Dying Mother)

Don't let my boy a Cousins be;
A dying mother said.
Don't let my girl be a Sesame,
I'd rather see her dead.

Society of the Antlers is
The place he ought to be
And rather than a Sesame
Just down her in the sea.

History

The Palo Duro and Guenther Literary Societies were organized in the year 1910. They had done much in improving our young men in public speaking and for all the purposes for which they were organized.

When the war began in 1917 most of our young men joined the army and helped the U. S. overthrow German Autocracy and, as a result there were very few left in school and the Palo Duro and Guenther Literary Societies did not organize. At a joint meeting of the two Societies, Oct. 10, 1919 it was decided to unite them, and thus form one strong Literary Society. The name "Antler" was suggested and unanimously selected as our Society name.

Our Society is 6 months old and we have grown from a nucleus of twelve members to about seventy-five. We do not measure our usefulness and strength by our members alone but we do measure it by our activities in the life of our school.

We have had contests both intellectually and physically, and in every match we have been worthy contestants and in the majority of cases we have triumphed.

We are not old and hence cannot tell you what we have done, but we want to tell you in this issue about the present and future.

Y. W. C. A. CONDUCTS EASTER VESPER SERVICES

A Modern Easter Story

The Y. W. C. A. held its Easter service Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 P. M. The service was begun with a processional "Of Beautiful For Spacious Skies", each singer in the processional carrying a lighted candle. The leader, Eva McKinnon, read an Easter prayer. This was followed by a violin solo by Miss Clark.

A modern Easter story, the story of the death of George Meredith, written by Sir James Barrie, was read by Miss Sadie O'Connell. This story appeared in one of the London papers, at the time of the death of Meredith. Barrie's interpretation of Meredith's death was a shaking off of the vexatious details of life, a shaking off of old age, and ill health, and the finding of strength and life eternal. As the funeral coach rolled on to Dorking, Meredith joined his friends, among whom was that "mere stripling", R. L. S., "slight unspeakably", who waved a glorious welcome to Meredith and shouted, "Here's the fellow I've been telmg you about!" Misses Brigham and Guenther sang "At Even Ere the Sun Was Set". With the singing of this vesper hymn the service closed. The girls stood with their lighted candles—before them the lovely symbol of Easter, the Easter lily—and received the benediction.

Last week the six college classes met and each elected a representative to a nominating committee. It was the duty of this committee to nominate candidates for annual celebrities to be voted upon by the student body.

Those forming the nominating committee were:

5 and 6th year: Mary Ethel Adams.
4th year: Vada Murphy.
3rd year: Eva McKinnon.
2nd year: Gladys Millhollen.
1st year: Lila Simms.

Your Society

What does the society mean to you? Did you join to escape membership committees, or because your friends belonged, or because you were interested in the work? The people who join a society because they hope to derive a benefit from it constitute the backbone of that society.

Some people join a society and come two or three times and then drop out. Are they loyal? Because they do not find the programs interesting and the society full of life they excuse themselves for not attending. How much better it would be and how much more spirit would be shown if these members would go to work and formulate plans for the betterment of the society and give the program committee all the help possible. If a man stays away from the society, is he giving it life, or helping to create interest? If every one should do this, think what the result would be.

In our ordinary regular meetings there are about one third of the membership in attendance. The only way to make this work profitable is to give it our support. This is work that is a help all through life. It is much better to learn by actual experience how we are going to perform when we get up before an audience than it is to wait until necessity calls upon us to do so. Very few of us are born geniuses at making public talks. If you are, practice will improve your talent. The time devoted to society work of any nature is time spent that will repay with interest in the years to come.

Laying aside the serious and practical side of society work, let us consider it from the standpoint of recreation and pleasure. After a hard weeks work, society gives a chance for mental refreshment. It gives a man an opportunity to recover from the stiff and formal classroom routine. He has a chance to speak his ideas without fear of being laughed at and ridiculed by his instructor. And besides this, our sister society often co-operates and a joint meeting is held, which is made a time of feasting and revelry. The games and other amusements participated in help us to forget school drudgeries for a few hours.

If you are an Antler and have been neglecting your duty by not coming to society, come out next regular meeting night and receive a shock. If you don't enjoy the show, the admission price will be refunded. Break loose and be there. If you will only give them a chance, your horns will grow into Antlers.

Signed,

AN ANTLER

Folks

There are many, many kinds of folks in this world. There are funny folks, queer folks, peculiar folks, good folks, bad folks, pretty folks, and all other kinds of un-namable human "animals". That's just it—they're human, no matter what kind of folks they may be; and every fellow must remember that he is one of these folks. He must remember, too, that he may be placed in a dozen different classes, for there are many different classes, and every one one of them is just "folks" too, and no two of them are alike. It is according to the class of folks to which each fellow belongs as to what class he'll put the other fellow in. It is corresponding to one's own peculiarities that every other fellow is classed by him. Wouldn't this be "some" world if all folks were alike? Let's thank the Lord that we're not like some other folks we know, and that no other folks are like us, but that we're all alike in that we are all created in the image of One who is High and Holy.

To the Editors of the "Prairie", Canyon, Texas.

Sirs:
I do not know who it was that was kind enough to put my name on your subscription list, but I wish to send my thanks to my unknown friend. I wish also to express my appreciation of the publication that permits those interested in the Normal to keep in touch with its activities. Deep down in my heart is a very defined feeling of envy. I wish to be one of you, in reality and not merely in sympathy, and here am I, bound hard and fast to a work-a-day world remote from college and college interests. For this reason I am grateful for the remembrance.

Very truly yours,
LAURA V. HAMNER

The Editorial Staff of "The Prairie" appreciates this good letter from Miss Hamner. Miss Hamner is greatly interested in young life and its struggle for higher things. She always identifies herself with all movements for the upbuilding of the best interests of this section of the state.

Mr. Mahan's class in English 22 went on a party last Saturday, the 27, to the home of Viola Vetesk four miles southeast of town. The crowd was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Mahan. The guests, besides the class, were Misses Ruth and Rose Stewart and Elbert Roffey. In spite of the weather, they report a jolly time.

Miss Mattie Jordan spent last weekend with relatives near Tulia.

Last Thursday night the Elapheian basket-ball team lost a game to the Sesames by a score of sixteen to nineteen. The Sesame team was composed largely of the regular normal girls' team. The Elapheian girls came to the front with skill and energy that made the regular players fight like demons to even gain three scores for the Sesames. Every Antler wishes to hereby express his hearty congratulations to every Elapheian on the team for her excellent work.

Even tho in the last few minutes of the game the scales tipped in the Sesames's favor, the Elopheians retained their usual good spirits, and felt that they had lost a very good fight.

It's funny that the question "Who's who" should be asked, isn't it? Well, it is asked just so that it may be answered here and now. I just want to say that we had a mighty good football team here this year and that the two Brown twins, Eliston, Lohn, Sanders, the two Battenfield boys, Key and Miller played on that team. Then I want to tell you that every one of those boys belong to the Antler Society. And, too, three of this year's basketball team were Antlers. The Antler boys are going to lead this spring in baseball circles, too. At least six of our best players are proud of their membership in the Antler Society. Do you wonder why I'm telling you these things? It's because I know you are interested in knowing who is who in this school.
That's the reason I say Antler boys are leading in athletics—they are a good, live, "peppy" bunch. If you will notice, too, the leaders in college activities, class and school work.
Now I've told you "WHO'S WHO",
and if you'll only watch them you will find that they steer the old Ship of Life down the straight and narrow path—the path of Success

Morelock or Mr. DuLot or some other of about half a dozen of the faculty members makes a talk. The rest sit and endure in pained silence. So do we.

The other night Miss Malone had company to and from the show. On returning to her boarding place it seemed that the front gate had a peculiar fascination. After some time the following dialogue ensued:

Mr. Morelock, calling out the side window—"Miss Malone, what are you doing at the gate so long?"

Miss Malone—"I am looking at the beautiful moon."

Mr. Morelock—"Then tell the beautiful moon to go home as is after twelve o'clock."

Practicing What He Preaches?

Dr. Ingham—"Is that you, Horace?"

Mr. Morelock, on entering the office door—"Yep, that's me."

Silly Sallies

Latin Student—"The soldiers-er-er-er", Laughter from the class.

Mr. Stafford—"Dont laugh little dears, to err is human".

Dan Sanders and Golda Murphy were on their way to the Olympic.
Two girls met just in front of them and began to hug and kiss one another rapturously.

Said Golda—"There is another thing I hate".

Asked Dan—"Whats that?"

Replied Golda—"Women doing mens work."

Barber to Mr. Reid's little boy—
"How do you want your hair cut, son."

Boy—"I want it cut with a nice round hole in the top, just like pa-pa's."

Caught!

Mr. Sheffy frowning;
Mary Smith Clark not studying;
Mr. Johnson agreeing with Miss
White;

Kenneth Burns with one McGee; Miss A. Graham with only one announcement;

Thomas Braham acting sensible;
Mr. Clark missing the point;
Easton Allen not talking to Mary Tolleson;

Miss Smith making a speech in chapel;

Geo. Ritchie without his "specks";

Ruth Harrison with out a curl;

Mr. Hill reading a short scripture;

Miss Malone overlooking a fine;

Mr. Shaw announcing song no. on time;

Miss White serious in chapel;

Elna Dyche without a "spit curl";

Mr. Mahan singing in chapel;

Mr. Morelock finishing a sentence.

How to be A Town Sport

To be a successful town sport one must first be averse to work. This isn't very difficult for most boys. Then comes a taste for loud, silk shirts, brilliant hose and ties, a bunch of keys to rattle, and hair combed in a "pomp". Camel cigarettes and, in these dry days, Coco Cola play large parts in the daily menu. One's education must be sufficient to enable him to use all the latest slang in an appropriate manner. But to be really successful in this glorious calling, one must be the possessor of winning ways, a pair of those soulful eyes that seem to gaze into your very heart, and thus read your inner-most thought.

GREER'S ANNUAL WHITE SALE

Ample stock and the most careful preparations combine to make this the most advantageous WHITE SALE we have ever held. Supply and demand are too widely separated for prices to come down, probability is that they will be much higher. Therefore no time should be lost in making your selection. The rapidity with which certain lines will be absorbed makes it wiser to visit this WHITE SALE early. The real importance of this Sale lies in the more staple things, many of which we cannot replace. Women who are planning their spring sewing will benefit largely by attending this Annual White Sale. (The most valuable habit you can acquire is that of comparison.)

Who's Who?

Efton Hunt and Wyatt Hester are the boys who are going to win our inter-normal debate with Denton next Friday night. Denton's debaters are coming here for the contest, and we expect to give them a very hearty welcome, while our boys give them a most glorious defeat. These two young men have, up to this date, been heard very little in public, but much is expected of them. They have received a great deal of training in the Antler Literary Society, of which they are members, and have been working diligently from day to day in preparation for this interesting combat.

(Tune: Uncle Sammy)

If you don't like the Elapheian spirit
Then go back to your home in the sticks,
We're going to win a rep;
Just watch our fire and pep;
The Sesames are in bad fix!

If you don't think the Elapheians in it
Then you'd better get out of the way,
For Antlers and Elapheians will win it,
And they'll take the day.

The Sesames are a puffed up herd,
They think they are just it,
But let them take an Elapheians' word,
Right then they get at hit!

The Sesames are a grateful lot,
Their Motto is: "I thank you,"
But when they see we know they're not,
One sometimes says, "We also owe it to you!"

They come to school and smirk and smile,
Until election day we call,
Then they take a week to whine:
"The steam roller surely now must fall!"

One thing more and this is all,
A Sesame her resignation sent
That she might heed Elapheian's call,
But found herself a Sesame president.

Ladies Desiring A New Spring Suit
