FRIENDLINESS IS PARAMOUNT AT SENIOR BANQUET

RAY DANIEL, CLASS PREXY, ACTS AS TOASTMASTER AT FORMAL BANQUET OF CLASS OF '26

COLLEGE OFFICERS ARE ENTERTAINED

Delightful Five Course Dinner is Served to Group of Students and Faculty Officers in Home Ee. Dining Room

Friendliness and loyalty formed the keynote of the annual Senior banquet held at Cousins Hall, Tuesday evening, March 30. The dining room attractively carried out the class and college colors of maroon and white. Unique favors, in the form of diplomas, certified the presence, the completion of the courses of the delightful five-course dinner, and the perfect conduct of each guest.

The following administrative officers of the College and their wives were guests of the class: President J. A. Hill, Mr. R. P. Jarrett, and Mr. L. F. Sheffy. Miss Jennie C. Ritchie was also an honored administrative guest. Ray Daniel, president of the class, acted as toastmaster during the following program:

Invocation—President J. A. Hill. The Occasion—Ray Daniel. To the Faculty—Betty Smalley. Response—Mr. R. P. Jarrett. Research Material—Raymond Thompson. Toast to Sponsor—Amy Daniel. Crystal Gazing—Mr. L. F. Sheffy.

One of the most enjoyable features of the banquet was the splendid music furnished by Mr. C. E. Strain, Herschel Coffee, Preston Wohlford, and Miss Mae Slack.

Illness prevented the attendance of Mr. D. A. Shirley, sponsor of the class. President Hill, in speaking of our years in college, said that he expected the members of the class to carry out the motto of the college—service. The banquet closed with the singing of the Alma Mater.

Fire Finishes Job on "High-Way" House

Fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed the old Highway rooming house last Thursday night. At exactly nine o'clock the large structure containing twenty rooms was discovered in flames. The house was vacant, having been unoccupied since last December when it was partly destroyed by fire, but was previously used many years as a boys' boarding house.

The building and lot were owned by a non-resident whose name is unknown. There was no insurance. A brisk northeast wind was blowing but the water supply was abundant, and nearby structures were at no time in very great danger.

W. E. Lockhart, Jr., a volunteer fireman, was slightly injured when he became entangled with the fire hose and a fire plug.

ATTENDS REGISTRAR SCHOOL

Esther Shoults left Friday night for Lexington, Kentucky, to attend the Institute for Registrars which is being held at the University of Kentucky. It began April 1 and will last through April 9. Because of Mr. Shirley's illness she was unable to leave Monday night and be present the first week.

Dona Hardin was visiting friends last Saturday and Sunday. Dona is teaching in Melrose, New Mex.

THE WEATHER

The heavy snow Monday and Tuesday afforded great fun for students last week. Snowballing went on with vim and vigor, aim constantly improving. When the snow melted, the streets were so full of water that sometimes it was necessary to go a block out of the way to avoid wading in deep icy water. The weather even fooled the geese, several flocks flying south Friday.

Diamond Crew Running in Hard Luck at Abilene; Simmons and A.C.C. Take Two Games Each

Muddy Field and Poor Hitting Leaves Buffaloes in Lurch at Abilene; Only One Game Out Of Six Won By Locals

Special to The Prairie:

Losing five games and winning one is the record turned in by the Buffalo base ball team that has spent the week in Abilene. McMurry was the only team that they were able to slug under for a victory and this came Saturday in winding up their stay in Abilene.

Simmons on Monday and Tuesday won over the Buffaloes by the scores of 4-0, and 6-1. Wednesday and Thursday, Abilene Christian College defeated the Buffs by the scores of 8-4, and 9-2. McMurry had a slight edge in a pitchers duel on Friday and won 3-2 and on Saturday, with Buck Johnson working in the box, the fortune of the Buffs changed and they put over their first victory, 9-5, on McMurry.

Harrell, Fonkin, Elkins, and Johnson have been pitching good ball for the Buffaloes, but poor hitting on the part of Eckhart's lads is the biggest jinx on the team. The games have been played in mud most every day and they have been very slow and uneven.

On their return trip they met Tech yesterday in Lubbock and will play them again today. Wayland College will be met tomorrow at Plainview, and the team will return home probably Wednesday night.

NEW MEMBERS JOIN SOCIETY

Ten Chosen For Senior Membership and Nine For Junior

The Lloyd Green Allen Chapter of the Texas Scholarship Society met March 28 to elect ten additional members to senior membership and nine additional members to junior membership.

As 410 sophomores and 199 juniors were enrolled during the four quarters of 1924-25, the Society was entitled to elect twenty to senior membership and forty-one to junior membership. During the year 1925-26 twenty have been elected to senior membership and twenty-seven to junior membership.

Election to graduate membership in the State Scholarship Society for the senior class of 1926 will be in October.

The recently elected members are as follows:

Elected to senior membership: Louise Walker, Cleburne, Texas. Reece Moore, Akron, Ohio. Sadie Rigler, Plainview. Lorraine Bruce, Amarillo. Kathleen McDaniel, Plainview. Mrs. Corrah Lee Brandt, Canyon.

Mrs. Vara Davis Shinn, Taylor. Miss Edith Ellis, Amarillo. Clarice Swink, Canyon. Elsie Simpson, Plainview.

Elected to junior membership: Fremont Mead, Canyon. Lillie McKinney, Hartley. Mrs. Queen Gray, Gorman.

Hallene Hudgins, Abernathy. Luanna Hall. Reece Moore, Akron, Ohio. Rudolph Fuchs, Abernathy. Imogene McIntire, Canyon. Thelma Jean Swanson, Zychach.

Hattie M. Anderson Will Attend University Meet

Miss Hattie M. Anderson will represent the Amarillo chapter of the American Association of University Women at the meeting of the national organization which will take place April 22 to 24 at Hot Springs, Arkansas.

Miss Anderson will also represent the college, as we have made application for admission into this organization. The American Association of University Women was organized for the purpose of furthering the interests of women professionally and to encourage young girls to attend college. Membership in it is a great honor, as rigid standards of scholarship and many other regulations must be met.

Other women of this college who belong to the organization are Misses Falba Foote, Edna Graham, Cleo Holmes, M. Moss Richardson, and Mesdames Travis Shaw, T. B. McCarter, and L. A. Osgood.

Credit Course Offered Scout-master Training

A college credit course in training of scout-masters will be offered here next summer. W. E. Lockhart, Executive Council man of the Panhandle Boy Scout District, will be instructor.

The course will extend throughout the twelve weeks and will carry a credit of three term hours. It will consist of lectures, reading, and observation of scout work and will include a visit to Scout Camp William Warner in the Palo Duro Canyons. Thomas Nelson, Panhandle Scout Executive, will deliver a number of lectures.

The course is intended to be an experiment; and if it proves valuable, it will be offered during the regular session. It is hoped that many of the young men will enroll for the course, as training in scout work is such an invaluable asset to the man teacher.

Similar course will be offered at Panhandle A & M. College at Goodwell, Oklahoma, and at the Scout Headquarters at Amarillo.

ORCHESTRA AT AMARILLO

Wednesday afternoon, April 7, the College Orchestra under the direction of Wallace R. Clark will give a program at a number of the Panhandle Plains Music Festival at the City Auditorium in Amarillo.

Student Recital Is Given 4:30 Thursday

A number of pupils in the Expression department were presented in recital Thursday afternoon at 4:30. The following were in the program: "The Little Rebel," Dalma Fry; "The Mourning Veil," Pauline Stevenson; "How Much Land Does a Man Require," Willie McCarty; "Op O' Me Thumb," Fannie Cash.

Gordon Fuller: I helped win the debate by staying away from Cousins Hall for two months.

Margaret Boulware Snowbound 2 days Between Canyon-Amarillo

Snowbound at a ranch half way between Amarillo and Canyon, Miss Margaret Boulware, secretary to the president, was delayed two days and nights on her return trip to Canyon.

Miss Boulware left her home in Amarillo at about eleven o'clock Monday morning, while the roads running north and south were yet clear. Half-way to Canyon, on the west turn of the road, her car ran into a snow-filled ditch. Her attempts to spade away the snow around it resulted in getting the car still deeper into the ditch.

The Herman Vaughn home was only a few yards away, luckily, and she was welcomed there by Mrs. Vaughn and Pauline Clevenger, both former students of the college. Mrs. Vaughn will be remembered as Miss Mary Jones.

A searching party left Amarillo Monday night to look for Miss Boulware, as nothing had been heard from her to indicate that she had reached Canyon safely. The party came within half a mile of the Vaughn home and could go no farther. They did not suspect that the object of the search was nearby, warm and

TRACK MEN IN RELAY EVENTS

Fast Competition Met by Relay Team at Austin

Four members of the track team returned early last Monday from Austin, where they had entered the University of Texas relay races that were held the previous Friday.

The team made a very respectable showing in the meet, where there were 700 of the best athletes in the United States. Fast time was recorded in many of the races, and according to members of the team, several world records were but narrowly missed.

The most outstanding showing that the team made was in the medley relay race, which consisted of two 220-yard dashes, a quarter mile, and a half mile. The time the team set was faster than that made at the Texas relays last year, but even at that it was not fast enough to place this year.

Coach Burton states that training will begin earlier next year and that preparations will be made to carry a large team of finished athletes to the Texas relays and possibly to other relays of the mid-western universities if the boys will be able to get into shape. A meet coming in the latter part of March does not give the teams of this school a fair chance to get into condition, on account of weather conditions and lack of facilities for indoor practice.

The following boys made the trip to Austin with Coach Burton: Davis Hill, Flins Vaughn, Glen Ragan, and Oscar Gamel.

Freshman Day Hits Randall Hall Heavily

Last Thursday after chapel the upper classmen of Randall returned to their rooms to find chaos reigning there. A whirlwind of Freshman had swept through, leaving everything in utter disorder. As a whole, everything was rather quiet until five o'clock when a group of Freshmen attempted to place a green flag on top of Randall Hall. This led to a scramble between the two groups of classmen which lasted for several minutes. Mrs. Shinn finally acted as arbitrator, and she flag went into her possession. The entire day was one of one group wishing to show his superiority over the other.

SMUDGE-POT IS NOT AN ORACLE

Slimes Fail To Justify Egotistic Position Assumed

The freshmen smudge-pot which had it that the "fish" class was the last thing in class power and organization in W. T. S. T. C. received a terrible shakeup Monday morning, March 29, when freshmen ordered that upper classmen leave the back of the hall in which the "fish" were attempting to hold a meeting. The kind invitation, which was extended to the upper classmen at the end of a six-foot pole, was accepted and the pole was hurled into the face of the giver, causing some "fish" enthusiast to yell, "Throw 'em out!"

Immediately the freshmen throng answered the call, the girls climbing onto the seats and by the boys' clambering to the back of the hall to show the handful of upper classmen the way out. This little disturbance brought assistance to the upper classmen from many unthought of regions, and the following scene was one which might well be likened to the clash of "Gingham Dog" and the "Calico Cat." The scene gradually shifted from the back of the hall to the very front, and each "fish" president of the year, with many of their species, were tumbled about by those who were to have been out. Soon after the class gong sounded, President Hill appeared and reminded the group that it was class time, which caused many "fish" to draw a sigh of relief and slump away like so many whipped puppies.

During the next period many green bits of cloth were unwillingly distributed by a freshman for upper classmen to put in their memory books as reminders of the time in '26 when the "fish" smudge-pot received a jar which was second only to the great shake-up which came to Napoleon when he realized that his illustrious army was not strong enough to conquer and rule the world. It is supposed that this little affair is partly responsible for the remarkably quiet "fish" conduct on All Fool's Day.

Following the out-break of class spirit in the auditorium Monday morning the classes prepared for their annual class rush that was to have taken place on April the first. Preparations were made by the upper classmen to prevent the raising of a green flag on Wednesday night.

The Freshman did not raise their flag, but presented to President Hill in chapel, Thursday, Mr. Hill had asked that classes limit their rivalry and not endanger life or property. Girls' boarding houses took up the cause of the Freshmen and raised green flags Thursday afternoon. Several severe encounters took place between classmen of the boarding houses and by night fall no green was to be seen.

Tennis Matches With Clarendon Postponed

Owing to the bad weather for the past week the tennis tournament that was to have been played last Saturday between local stars and the team from Clarendon College at Clarendon has been postponed. If nothing else happens the match will be played this coming Saturday, April 10.

This will be the first test for the local Tildens and will be an introduction to a heavy schedule for this spring, which will terminate in the T. I. A. A. meet in the first week of May.

Earl Lewis and Edmund Dyche will play singles, while Willie McCarty and Merle Jenkins will play doubles.

SUBJECT IS WELL COVERED BY GIRLS

Critics Analysis of Subject Pleases Audience and Gives Insight Into Basal Issues

Faye Christopher and Ruth Anderson, of the West Texas State Teachers College, defeated Lillian Sheppard and Justice Graham, of the College of Industrial Arts, in a formal debate held in the College auditorium here Saturday night. The question, "Resolved: that the United States should enter the World Court," was discussed. Professor Sheffy, of the department of History acted as chairman and Professor J. Keen Horner of the University of Oklahoma acted as critic judge.

This type of judging is rapidly gaining favor over the country and it is believed by many to be much more satisfactory than the older form. A critic judge is trained in the rules of debate and must criticize the debaters as individuals and as teams and tell why he has given the decision to one team and why he did not give it to the other. In the debate Saturday evening Professor Horner gave the decision to the negative because the C. I. A. girls failed to show why the present status of the United States in regard to international affairs was unsatisfactory. He maintained that even though the World Court is ever so perfect and successful, that fact alone is not sufficient reason for us to join it. He said that just because everything in a grocery store was edible was not sufficient reason for one trying to eat it all. Therefore since the affirmative failed to show defects in the present condition and since the negative did show some defects in the proposed condition the decision went to the negative.

Miss Lillian Sheppard was picked as the best individual debater and the C. I. A. team was declared to be much the best on delivery while the W. T. S. T. C. team was cited as having the best argument and organization.

Stock Judging Is Postponed One Week

Unfavorable conditions growing out of the heavy snow storm were sufficient to cause the contest for students of vocational agriculture to be postponed one week. This contest will be held on Saturday, April 10. This date allows one week between the Canyon contest and the state contest at College Station.

There are four separate divisions of this contest, namely, Stock Judging, Plant Production, Poultry Judging, and Farm Shop Work. Approximately 150 students from about fifteen high schools in this section are expected to participate and this promises to be the best contest of this nature ever held at Canyon. Some of the most competent judges to be secured have promised to assist in the contest, and final arrangements are being perfected to be ready to begin the contest by 8:30 Saturday morning, April 10th.

Individual Pantomimes Seen in Dramatic Club

A number of individual pantomimes were given at the Dramatics Club this week by Mrs. Jewel Rhodes, Betty Smalley, Mrs. Tip Carruth and Hazel Mathis. These pantomimes were so realistic that the audience lived in their action. There was also a tableaux by a number of students of a gypsy scene, telling a white girl's fortune. The costuming made the tableaux very colorful and pretty.

Velma Bourland has been elected to teach English and-coach girls Athletics in Clovis High School for the coming year.

PLACING THE ANNUAL ON THE BLANKET TAX

The financial part is one of the many phases to be considered when building a yearbook. The quality and quantity of the book are controlled by the finances because every cut made and every page adds to the cost of publishing an annual. The question then that faces the business manager directly and the editor indirectly is what is the best way to finance the yearbook in order that the best one possible may be published and in order that it may best serve the purpose intended.

In the last year there has been a movement, started by the editor of the Sam Houston State Teachers College annual to place the yearbooks of the Teachers Colleges of Texas on the blanket tax. This would necessitate increasing the blanket tax price enough to cover the cost of the annual.

There are three points of view to be considered: that of the business manager and editor; that of the student body; and that of the institution in which the annual is published. The business manager and editor would be relieved of the worries of finances, besides they would know the first of the year the amount that could be spent on engravings and printing. The student would be saved almost one third the present price of the annual. This is based on the present enrollment in West Texas State Teachers College. This financial scheme would be an advertisement for the institution which was published because it would reach more people in various localities.

This scheme of course has technicalities and problems that would have to be worked out and eliminated. These problems are mostly from the standpoint of the student. But the placing of the annual on the blanket tax has been tried and proved successful in other institutions; so there is no reason why it could not be placed on a basis satisfactory to every one concerned in the Teachers Colleges of Texas.

CLASS RUSHES

An idea has been prevalent in our land that college life is a series of class fights and forbidden feasts in dormitories long after the lights are out. Such pranks as these make up the conversation of many graduates when telling of the "good old school days," hence the idea that college is a place for fun and frolic.

The freshman, when he enters school, feels as if he must do all he can to worry and exasperate the upper classman, and the upper classman in turn holds the freshman in contempt. Can such feelings exist, and a man be truly educated after four years in an environment like this?

This realization comes to the senior when it is almost too late to prevent such clashes and help the freshman understand that his anxiety for battle is unbecoming to a son of the Alma Mater.

The very fact that students enroll in a college is an expression on their part that they desire to live the abundant life and render better service than they would otherwise be capable of doing. In order to accomplish this every obstacle must be removed, and every day spent in worthwhile preparation. Friendly rivalry and wholesome comradeship should be fostered while the physical, mental, and moral faculties are being trained. When this has been accomplished the "good old school days" will have a far greater significance.

Choice Gleanings of Corridor Gossip

A faculty member objects to having The Prairie print a notice of his being out of town a certain date, not because he is bashful, but because he hates for his students to know it in advance.

Mr. Bryan was christened Earl Charles, but it is alleged that Mrs. Bryan calls him "Bill" in all confidential conversations. There's a reason, but that's for her to tell.

Senior: How did you like the way the preacher designated you fish in chapel the other day?
Frosh: Whatta ya mean? I didn't hear him say anything about our class.

Senior: Don't you remember his admonishment to be like a tree planted by the rivers of water and how he emphasized the "evergreen" tree?

A certain young lady of Cousins Hall, it is rumored, is so hard up that she has to write home for soap. With Guest Ivory at five cents a bar, it would appear that her credit isn't so good.

This is one on Prexy: Mrs. Hill wouldn't marry him until he finished college. Capable as she is, she probably didn't trust herself to educate him "ab initio." She let the University knock off the greatest roughness and put on the high polish herself.

Have you heard this one. There was a young lady of Siam Who said to her lover named Kiam "If you kiss me, of course, You'll have to use force; But the Lord knows you're stronger than I am."

They say that Miss Boulware wasn't the only wayfarer marooned at the Vaughn home during the snow storm. There are hints that a handsome gentleman found himself in that predicament, but no one seems to know any of the details of the case.

Joe Boy Hill is spending anxious hours over his incubator. He has already estimated the price he will receive for the sixty chickens he hopes will hatch. He persuaded his father to buy the eggs and to promise to buy the chickens, and we suppose he will charge the chicken-feed to the same party. Joe Boy has business acumen that would do credit to even a college senior.

Otello Herm, seeing the freshman flag presented to Mr. Hill, remarked: "Mamma, take my candy before that big boy gets it."

April fool jokes have their uses: Pud Thompson's landlady got him up at the early hour of eight by telling him a gentleman was waiting down stairs. Wonder if he couldn't have made it by 7:45 if she'd told him a flapper was ABILENE, April 2.—You know they have traffic signal lights here in Abilene and a bell rings when the lights change. Well, Fonken heard this bell ringing every few minutes one morning, and couldn't sleep because of it. He complained to our hotel proprietor that the fellow in the next room had his alarm clock set on "repeat" and wouldn't tend to it. Country boys come to town; that's us.

Freshie!
Gus Harrell gave voice to these immortal lines upon viewing the sea of green caps upon the heads of the Simmons Slimes.
"I stood upon a mountain,
And looked upon a plain,
I saw a lot of green stuff
That looked like growing grain.
I took another look at it,—
I thought it might be grass;
But goodness! to my horror,
It was the freshman class."

Pretty Fair
We haven't any excuses. We have a pretty fair ball team, but these other schools have better ones. We do have one of the smartest baseball coaches in the state in Eckhardt, but he's handicapped in having few smart players. He can't make silk purses out of sows' ears, as the saying goes.

Well, wish us luck; we may need it. Tra la la. We thank you.

Dormitory Dope

April 1, left our hall scarred in more ways than one; screens are missing from the windows, Gold Dust boxes are empty, bells have lost their ringing quality, arms are bruised, and one girl has a large knot on her head. Don't let us forget that we are indebted to Mr. Wooten for a good picture show, and to Mrs. Witt for her patience and forbearance. "A box of candy can save the situation."

Miss Lillian Shepherd of Denton and Miss Justice Graham of Divine, the C. I. A. Debating team, were guests in Cousins Hall over the week end.

FRESHMAN WEEK
In the old days it was supposed that every freshman had an inherent propensity to be fresh, and that to prevent this calamity he must be sat upon, shown his place, by the community generally and by sophomores in particular. A better way has apparently been found. The old idea was to make the freshmen seem small; the new way is to make other things seem big. Under the new system a freshman can enjoy a considerable amount of self-respect, and yet, in the presence of the great and good things unfolded to him, possess the grace of humility. The new freshman at the end of this first (freshman) week may feel overwhelmed by the attentions he receives,—but he does not feel fresh.

The new method of dealing with freshmen is not merely a contrivance of his elders, imposed upon him from above; it is the only method which is suitable to the new kind of freshman. For the new freshman, like his fellow students of other classes, and like modern youth generally, has a mind of his own, and insists upon having the fact recognized.

Campus Society And Club Activities

Sponsor Entertains Cousins

Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock 31 Cousins gathered at the home of Mr. L. F. Sheffy for a "Will Rogers" stag party, "42" was played. Then everyone gathered in the reception room where "Wohlforde's Special Orchestra" entertained with some lively numbers.

After the music the jokes were begun by Mr. Sheffy. Each man told one joke, except the "stars" like Sheffy and Strain, who were hailed a second time.

Herschel Coffee, violinist, assisted by Tate Fry, pianist, furnished delightful music while the refreshments of cheese sandwiches and lemonade were being served.

Sesame Program Has Easter Tone

The Sesame Literary Society's program Friday was in keeping with the Easter spirit. The entire assembly sang "Recessional" and "In the Cross of Christ I Glory." The devotional was led by Mary Frances Miller and was the reading of "The Resurrection of Christ."

Professor Jarrett delivered a very beautiful Easter talk, in which he told the significance of Easter and what it should mean to every individual.

After the program a short business meeting was held in which Mrs. James Wilson and Mrs. R. H. Elliott, Misses Gladys Buchanan, Vyneta Little, Della Pearl Wyson, and Blanche Scott were sworn into the society.

A lyceum group of singers from the College Chorus assisted in the Masonic Easter Service, at Hereford, Sunday. Those making the trip were Eula Smalley, Marie Stalcup, Lily Clark, Vivian Adams, Tate Fry, Dennis Smith, Milton Beavers, Fremont Mead and Alice Dawes.

Grover C. Shaw Spends Week-end Here

Mr. and Mrs. Grover C. Shaw of Denton spent the week end in the Earl C. Bryan home. Mr. Shaw coached the girl debaters from C. I. A. He and Mr. Bryan knew each other at Emerson College in Boston when both were students there.

Red Hots Treat Sponsors

The renowned Red Hots of W. T. S. T. C. entertained themselves and their sponsors, Mesdames Shaw, Jackson, and Knighton, quite royally at a high tea followed by a theater party March 31st.

A lavender and pink color scheme was carried out beautifully in the Home Economics dining room, which was dimly lighted by candles.

After the tea the Red Hots adjourned in cars to the theater, where every one enjoyed a hilarious time. Needless to say, the snow, slush, and ooze put no damper on the warm spirits of the pep squad.

Misses Bernice Watkins, Mary Arnold Nelson, Laura Belle Smith, and Elva McCleary of Randall Hall spent Friday in Amarillo, shopping.

Mr. Carter E. Thompson of Post, spent Sunday with Jettie Mae Wells of Randall Hall.

Miss Maude Burson, who is teaching at Wildorado, visited her sister, Jessie, over the week end.

CORRECTION

Due to an error in last week's Prairie, the names of Lucille Gilbreath and Sadie Summers were mixed in the list of Honor Roll students. The staff is glad to have this opportunity to correct the mistake and to offer sincere apologies to the two young ladies.

W. D. Biggers, Superintendent of the Lockney High Schools, was visiting in W. T. S. T. C. and in Canyon last Saturday.

Class Fights are Antlers' Subject

The Antler Literary Society met in regular meeting last Friday night in room 104. Class fights as an asset to the Colleges of Texas was the general topic of discussion in a lengthy debate. Several impromptu speeches also added spice to the program, along with two duets sung by Durward Brown and "Shiek" Kelly with "Rudy" at the piano.

The debaters from C. I. A. were shown the canyons Saturday afternoon before the debate. They were accompanied by Mae Slack, Tate Fry, Raymond Thompson, and Milton Beavers.

Dr. C. A. Pierle is attending the national meeting of the American Chemical Society at Tulsa, Oklahoma, having left Canyon Saturday.

Y. W. C. A. Officers are Chosen

Officers of the Young Women's Christian Association were elected Wednesday. These young women will take office during the spring quarter and will serve until next spring. Louise Walker was made president, Lois Lyon vice-president, Lillie McKinney secretary, and Mary Estes, treasurer.

Mrs. Robert Donald Entertains

Thursday evening Mrs. Robert Donald entertained with an informal bridge party at her home. Her guests were Mesdames Earl C. Bryan, Tom Knighton, R. A. Terrill, C. H. Jarrett, T. M. Moore, J. S. Humphreys, and Miss Margaret Boulware.

Mrs. Moore won high score and received an appropriate token of Easter, and Mrs. Jarrett received consolation prize of an Easter egg.

Refreshments of maple nut ice cream and angel food cake were served.

Y. W. C. A. Program

The Y. W. C. A. program next Wednesday will be a discussion of the life of Christ from the Resurrection of the Ascension.

Will Get Degree

Miss Mary McLean will receive her master's degree at Teachers' College, Columbia University, this spring. She will return in the fall to be dean of women. She has been making the study of the work of dean of women a specialty this year.

SENIOR PRIVILEGES

A group of twelve girls went hiking Friday afternoon with two Senior Girls as chaperones. Are the Seniors not a privileged class?

Personnel of Senior Class Is Prominent In School Activity

Club Presidents, Athletes, Student Assistants and Other Talent Found in Ranks of the Present Senior Class

The character of a whole is that of its individual members. The senior class is rarely seen as a body except when it assembles in chapel arrayed in official dress; but its various members help make up the fabric of almost every student activity of the college.

Ray Daniel, class president, has culminated his deeds of achievement by being elected "the most valuable man of the college." Besides keeping up with the senior privileges, he finds time to preside over the Scholarship Society and function as Mr. Shaw's right-hand man in the Secretary's office.

Fannie Cash, who became a part of the class in its sub-college stage, is now the "sagest senior," a noted reader and member of the Panhandle Players, and a member of the faculty of the high school department.

Four of the college debaters are seniors: Faye Christopher, Ruth Anderson, Amy Daniel, and A. D. Cummings. Musical talent of the class is represented by John Randolph, Rose Stewart, Raymond and Weldon Thompson, and Agnes Bier. Mamie Landrum and Vera Denton supply the artistic element.

Club Presidents

The presidents of both the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A., Madge Day and Ed Pierce, respectively, hail from the senior class. Sadie Miller, Sadie Rigler and Vera Denton fill places on the Y. W. cabinet. Miss Pep herself is Betty Smalley, who also directs the high school dramatic club and is a member of the Panhandle Players.

Esther Shoultz is assistant to the registrar. Fay Lockhart, "most valuable girl to the college," is student assistant in the commercial department and managing editor of The Prairie.

Three of the inter-society orators were seniors: Amy Daniel, A. D. Cummings, and Bettie Rose Kerr.

Raymond Thompson, Fay Lockhart, Weldon Thompson, Felix Phillips, Lorraine Bruce, Faye Christopher, Helen Van Deventer and Esther Shoultz help make The Prairie.

Ethel Rice is an outstanding scholar. Indeed, the Scholarship Society claims the following seniors: Sadie Rigler, Fannie Cash, Amy Daniel, Ray Daniel, Fay Lockhart, Ruth Anderson, Mrs. Corrah Lee Brandt, Enoch Dawson, Gordon Fuller, Margie Lyon, Dewey Reed, Clarice Swink, Ethel Rice, Florence Barrier, Bettie Rose Kerr, L. H. Rhodes, Lorraine Bruce, and Mrs. Shinn.

Dean L. G. Allen knew where to go for a good secretary when he selected Ann Mansell. Besides this position, she has been president of the Sesame Literary Society for two quarters of the current year.

The editor-in-chief of Le Mirage, Amy Daniel, is a senior, as is James Wilson, chief of the Red Men. Mrs. Corrah Lee Brandt is the playwright of the class, having successfully produced and presented in Dramatics Club "The Blunder," a one-act play. Margie Lyon, John Randolph, and Fay Lockhart are student assistants in various departments of the College.

Class Contributes Athletes

At the close of the present school year there shall pass out as graduates a number of students who have given invaluable service in athletic activities of the college. Otello "Tubby" Herm, football captain of last season of having been named the best T. I. A. A. Guard and has an enviable record in tennis and track besides.

Weldon "Pud" Thompson has won athletic honor in football for consecutive years. Ray Bivins, "Babe" has starred in football, basketball, baseball and track.

Though not making the tennis squad last year, Oscar Thomas and John Randolph made the winners fight. Raymond Thompson lettered in football in '23. Byron Durham received a football letter in '17 and '20.

"Squint" Phillips and Enoch Dawson made their mark in baseball.

Ed Pierce is in his second year of track work. Bill Anderson was a big factor in administering defeat to Simmons in the football game Home-Coming Day, 1924.

Earl Lewis has lettered in his first year's playing of tennis. He is expected to win in the season's tournament.

Inexhaustible Talent

The talent of the senior class has not been exhausted by a great deal—in fact, it seems to be inexhaustible. It seems that "Q. E. D." can well be placed at the end of this article proving that the senior class is really "the class that does things."

Canyon Hi Employs Many of Ex-Students

Many students of W. T. S. T. C. will be on the faculty of the Canyon Schools next year. Mr. Jim Webb, Class of '25 will be Superintendent. Mr. Guy Tabor, who is principal of the High School, has accepted the position for another year. Misses Gertrude Conner, Mary Kate Campbell, and Ruth Hood will retain their present positions in the High School. Coach Mitchell Jones has not definitely decided as to whether or not he will remain with Canyon High School another year.

Supt. Webb stated it was probable that several members of the present Senior class would be on his faculty. Miss Rose Stewart has accepted a position in the primary work, Miss Betty Smalley in the public speaking department.

Teachers who have accepted positions in the grades are: Misses Ruth Stewart, Marie Fronabarger, and Lillie Dell Slover. Mrs. C. E. Strain and Mrs. Guy Tabor will be in the intermediate work.

Yearlings Beat the Canyon High Eagles

Playing in weather more suitable for football than for baseball the Yearlings defeated the Canyon Eagles in a practice tilt, Thursday 13 to 6. The three Eagle pitchers allowed the Yearlings 14 hits. Sadler, pitching for the Yearlings, allowed but 5 hits. Tate starred for the Yearlings, having a perfect day at bat, getting a triple and four singles in five times at bat, and stole five bases.

Miss Marion Witt will receive her Doctor's degree at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wisconsin, this spring. She will teach in W. T. S. T. C. the second half of the summer term.

The Ox Woman

On an East Indian farm, where the crop is tea, a wooden plow turns up the rich black soil. A woman drives, another woman pulls—and a black ox pulls beside her.

Six hours under a tropical sun, a bowl of cold rice—and six hours more. Then the woman goes to her bed of rushes, and the beast to his mud stall. Tomorrow will be the same.

The American home has many conveniences. But many American women often work as hard as their Oriental sisters. They toil at the washtub, they carry water, they churn by hand—all tasks which electricity can do for them at small cost, in half the time.

The labor-saving possibilities of electricity are constantly becoming more widely recognized. And the social significance of the release of the American woman from physical drudgery, through the increasing use of electricity in and about the home, will appeal instantly to every college man and woman.

The electric light, the electric iron, the vacuum cleaner—the use of electricity on the farm for pumping water, for milking, and for the cream separator—are helping to make life happier. General Electric research and engineering have aided in making these conveniences possible.

A new series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for booklet GEK-18.

WORK VARIES IN ART CLASS

Great Contrast Between Stages of Student Work

A stroll about the Art Department reveals intensely interesting information about the work done there, for there always seems to be an attraction in watching people try to create pretty things with their hands.

A laboratory period in art is very much like a period in the kindergarten when the children are allowed to do as they wish. Students are allowed to work on any problem in art that they desire to finish, so there is usually a great variety of work going on. Some may be sketching a live model in charcoal; some may be painting flowers in water color; others may be making fantastic cut paper posters of castles in fairy land. Here is seen a girl making a dainty Easter card while another girl draws a still-life study of fruit with crayolas.

That sophomore girl is making a clay cast in which to mould a plaster plaque. She made the painted the one hanging there on the wall. A boy is working on basket-weaving and has shown natural talent for his work. That black-haired girl in the green smock, the one who works on an easel, is painting some peach blossoms in oils. She daubs the paint on quite thickly. She is in the senior painting class.

There is a sickening odor coming from the storeroom where several students are doing dye work. They are dyeing silks in many different colors and designs, and the melting paraffin used in the process is not as fragrant as roses.

Other work is going on in the big work-room. Some of the students are doing stencil work with oil paints on lamp shades, scarfs, towels, and similar articles. Some are welding T-squares and triangles. These are making interior sketches and are drawing plans for houses.

Such is the activity and atmosphere of our Art department, a place which really affords pleasant and instructive periods of study.

Dyche Wins In Baseball Contest

Edmund Dyche's essay on Roger Hornsby won out in the Boy Favorite Baseball Player contest, a nation-wide affair conducted through newspapers by the N. E. A. service.

Dyche will represent the Panhandle at St. Louis April 13, where he will attend the opening games.

Dyche's essay was published in the Amarillo News of Friday, April 2.

Ruby Cook Opens Realty Office at Pampa, Texas

Miss Ruby Cook, a resident of McLean and a prominent member of the Panhandle Pen Women's organization, has recently established a general real estate office at Pampa, Texas. Miss Cook was a student here in the summer of 1916.

Tuning In With West Texas Exes Everywhere

Miss Hibbets Tells of Spring In South Texas

Miss Anna I. Hibbets, an ex-student and a member of the department of Education who is teaching this year in the South Texas State Teachers College at Kingsville, tells in an interesting letter to friends of the beauties of south Texas at this season of the year.

"I wish you could see the beauty of this section just now. Last Sunday we were invited to the Santa Rosa ranch for dinner. The ranch is about thirty miles from here and contains 70,000 acres. I thought I had seen wild flowers during the past two months but I decided that day that I hadn't known the meaning of wild flowers previously. Think of acres and acres of pink primroses, the Hartmani; great fields of the yellow coreopsis; other fields covered with phlox; fields and hills a solid blue with bluebonnets; other acres a blazing mass of Indian blankets and Indian paint brush; road sides lined for miles with magnificent white thistles—six feet high and blossoms large in proportion and with gorgeous red, lavender, pink and blue thistles, all of these so thick that the ground was completely covered with them; and spots of other flowers in less abundance with clumps of trees everywhere as a background and the country dotted with lakes.

"We saw flocks of ducks and geese feeding in flight. The white geese with black tipped wings were especially lovely. There were at least one hundred in one flock. Sand hill cranes engaged in a dance really and truly. Two different groups, bowing and scraping and gracefully jumping about, filled us with delight. Redbirds and robins, mocking birds and warblers, etc. were everywhere. Wild turkeys were abundant and finally deer dashing through the woods made the day a perfect one for us.

Clarence Hope Coaches Girls Track Team

Clarence Hope, head of the Spanish department in the Breckenridge High School coached the eighth grade girls of that school in their preparation for girls' track events in the Interscholastic League Contests. In the eight entries this group won five first places and three second places. Mr. Hope received the A. B. degree from this institution last year.

Miss Otho Hanscom, who was a teacher of Education here in 1919-20 and in the summer of 1920, who is now a member of the North Texas State Teachers College faculty, will teach in the summer school at Colorado State Teachers College at Greeley, this summer.

FROSH PRIMER IS ASTONISHING

Propaganda Spread In Beginner's Text for Freshmen

I see a boy.
Do you see a boy?
Yes, I see a boy and his dog.
What is he doing?
He is crying for his mother.
Who is this boy and where is he going?

He is a freshman going to W. T. S. T. C.

See! Now he is talking to a girl.

She is a freshman too and is crying to go home.

What has she in her hands?

In one she has an all-day sucker and in the other a flower for her favorite teacher.

Hark! He is laughing now, but she is scolding him.

She is angry that he did not take her to grand opera last night.

You are right, for I heard him say to her: "If I had known that you would have went, I shore woulda snuck in and tuck you."

Does this couple like to study?

No, no! They would rather play. His highest grades are in English, and hers are in sewing.

Mercy! Who are all those pretty, high-heeled, richly-dressed, well-groomed, short skirted, bobbed-haired flappers with their beaux?

Oh, they are freshman. I'd call them Red-Faces.

There are others that have such a knowing look—such a cocksure attitude, ready to explain anything to anybody at any time.

Who are they?

To be sure, they are freshman. And are those peppy, laughing, rollicking, noisy girls who are chasing up and down the halls with that come-hither look, that "get-away-closer" glance in their eyes—are they freshman, too?

Yes, yes, yes! They are the life of the school. You know we have 400 freshmen, born yesterday.

Will they ever become strong dependable teachers?

They will when they are seniors. Now their backbone is all wish-bone, but they will learn it in this college.

Do the freshmen like the seniors?

Why, of course. They love them very, very dearly, really more than anybody else. They are most thoughtful and considerate of them. They even anticipate their wishes. They demonstrated this strong affection April 1 in person.

Why do the freshmen use so much green and wear little green caps?

Well, they like green best, and it becomes them so well. Freshmen have even been known to try to fly green flags.

This year they wisely concluded that the best way to eradicate war from the world is to begin in the back-yard and on the school grounds, and they surrendered the "green rag of animosity" to President Hill.

Who is that group of older subdued Pale-Faces, such stooped, hollow-eyed, worn-out, hungry looking creatures with run-down heels and holes at the elbows?

Those with the white sweaters are seniors. They have been saving their money. They much prefer having holes at the elbows than an "upper story to let" in their heads.

Do they know as much as the freshmen?

No indeed! They are on the first lap of the chase for knowledge and they have just discovered that they do not know anything.

I always see them walking. Why is that?

They prefer walking to riding, even in a Pierce Arrow car.

Will they ever fix themselves up even a little bit?

Surely! Next year they will come back from their schools as real pedagogues to visit the Alma Mater, dressed like peacocks and driving their own new Fords.

A prominent St. Paul attorney, sentenced for contempt, transferred his law offices to the jail and received his clients in his cell.

In Japan the Japanese cobbler is a carpenter who nails high stilts on to wooden sandals for wet weather and low stilts for dry days.

Beads were first imported into this country 400 years ago for the Indians. Civilized Americans now import more than $10,000,000 worth annually.

The chance of escaping punishment for murder or manslaughter in Kansas City are eight to one; robbery, twenty-eight to one; burglary, fifty to one, according to the Missouri Association for Criminal Justice.
