MUMBLES

BY THE MUMBLER

To me last week was filled with ripples of happiness. Things happened that especially appeal to my sentimental, sometimes soggy nature. An Armistice Day parade, the flag that never fails to arouse headlong and impulsive emotions when coupled with the rhythmic beating of drums—both contributed. And then there was music—plaintive, boisterous, melancholy; music that made the head swim and maddened the pulse. There were nights when the moon shone with tropic vigor, lighting the Campus with an unearthly glow making great chasms of blackness beneath the trees and around edifices. Too, there were nights when mist and fog crept down upon the Campus to make of lamp post lights balls of yellow fire hanging unsupported in mid-air; casting yellow and reddish gleams into the maelstrom of already fathomless autumnal coloring; and adding to the mystery of a darkness that has always entranced me. Then there was the Junior affair with the Spanish setting of El Taos adding sinister romance to the chatter of beautiful maidens, and, as a grand climax—the Buffaloes won the most decisive victory to come to W. T. in years.

For once, without resorting to white untruthfulness, we can speak favorably of a college dance. The Armistice Day Campus event-of-events was smooth; the esprit-de-corps improved as the evening progressed, reaching its nearest approach to perfection as the sounding of taps tolled the knell of a fleeting festival.

Our friend, L. T. Davault, is distressed and perplexed. There are no mirrors in classrooms and he is forced to spend three hours a day amidst such an unsympathetic environment! Dear me, dear me.

Saturday afternoon's rush of the Maroon tide across the windswept gridiron of West Texas, uncovered our own little Albie Booth in the person of Bob Clark who dodged, plunged, and outsmarted the Lumberjacks throughout the four quarters of the season's most lopsided game in the T. I. A. A. As Albie Booth's name graces the Yale hall of fame so will Bob Clark's grace the Buffalo.

But Bob was not alone in the limelight. Sharing honors with him were Rusty O'Donald and Bill McClendon, both of whom functioned beautifully along with the ever heady Sissy Powell. The whole team clicked like a machine in perfect condition and each man deserved to be carried from the field midst the cheers of his fellows.

The girls in shorts and goose pimples gave a good exhibition of training and endurance between halves. Too bad the Red Men missed such a delightful day for their back-to-nature stunt.

What was it that worked the hardy little group of students into such a frenzy of loyalty and patriotism during the last half of the game? Victory? Uncle Charley's Band? The intense cold? Whatever it was it gave birth to what is called "the old spirit" and a goodly sight it was!

Those responsible for the success of the Junior fete-de-etat are due the praise of the entire student-body, for it not improbably marks the advent of a new era in the social activities of the college. Its being given at the rather exclusive El Taos adds something of metropolitanism, cosmopolitanism, and the big-time institutions.

We instructed our correspondent to take notes on the party and here's what he got: Prominent member of class knocks at portals of El Taos much as if it were a speak-easy. Evelyn Higginbotham handles spaghetti with superb ease. Impressed by piece of art that on closer inspection turned out to be no more than the framed frontispiece of a Santa Fe calendar.

Amused by Jake Harrison's story about the Jew boy with a bicycle complex—good for a laugh at anybody's stag. Exclamations of disgust around punch bowl—a very mild punch so I find. Etc., all indicative of no journalistic finesse. (Continued on last page)

R. P. JARRETT NOMINATED BY ALUMNI CLUB

LOCAL PEABODY ALUMNI HOPE TO MAKE W. T. DEAN TRUSTEE.

The local Peabody Alumni Club of W. T., composed of alumni of the Peabody College at Nashville, Tennessee, has nominated Dr. R. P. Jarrett, dean of this college, for Alumni Trustee of Peabody.

Every year alumni of Peabody elect a member to the board of trustees to serve two years. This year three candidates have been nominated: Dr. McClure of the University of Missouri; Dr. Hillman, of the State Department of Education of North Carolina; and Dr. R. P. Jarrett, of W. T. Many feel that Dr. Jarrett is essentially worthy and well qualified for this honor. He first entered Peabody in 1902. He is a connecting link between the old college and the new college, as he has been a student in both. He has been three times graduated from Peabody, receiving his B. S. degree in 1917, his M. A. in 1917 (summer), and his Ph. D. in 1927.

Dr. Jarrett has had educational experience as a rural school teacher, high school principal, superintendent of schools, head of a college department, and dean of W. T. He has made an enviable record in school work in Texas and is considered one of its leaders in education.

"People of W. T. and Canyon are greatly interested in Dr. Jarrett's nomination, and hope for his election, not only because of the honor it will bring to him, but to this institution as well," stated Dr. Harris M. Cook, dean of men of W. T.

Open Production To be Given Soon By Dramatic Club

Next Tuesday evening, November 25, at 8 o'clock, in the Education building auditorium the speech arts department of the college is staging an open production, under the direction of Miss Mary Morgan Brown, head of the department, and Lorine Robbins, assistant student director. This program is made up of two plays, "Cash $2000," and "The Pros and Cons."

In "Cash $2000" Naomi Malone, Frances Lester, Howard Batchelder, and Gordon Beck take star parts; while in "The Pros and Cons" Wilmouth Gamble, Gerta Mae Cayton, Dorris Lynn Louder, and Robert Hunt play the leading roles.

"Cash $2000" is a one-act play of serious content and a happy ending. It requires strong acting on the part of its characters to put it over. "The Pros and Cons" is a brilliant English farce-comedy, and the two plays together make up a delightful entertainment.

Miss Brown states that one of these plays will probably be entered in the one-act play tournament of West Texas Colleges, which will be held at Texas Tech this year. They will both be presented again in December for the benefit of the Panhandle Speech Arts Association.

Agriculture Group Organizes Club To Meet Monthly

Agricultural council members met for organization Thursday. The following officers were elected: Willie Bennett, president; John Gillham, vice president; Clarence Ashby, secretary; Jodie Boston, annual representative; C. W. Croslin, Prairie reporter.

Frank R. Phillips and T. M. Moore were chosen as faculty sponsors of the council.

Three-thirty (3:30) on the first Thursday of each month was set as the date of meetings.

HILL GIVES ARMISTICE SPEECH AT HEREFORD

As speaker for the regular Armistice Day celebration sponsored by the American Legion of that town, President J. A. Hill addressed a large audience on the subject of "Heroes of Peace" in Hereford last Tuesday.

The celebration was well attended by people of the surrounding territory.

Mrs. E. B. Caskey, of Quanah, a former schoolmate of both Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hill, was here Friday visiting in the Hill home, and at the college.

PLAY NIGHT

"Oh come all ye students—Boys and girls together—"

Everybody in school is invited to College Play night, (tonight) at 7:15 in the Buffalo Gym. The Buffalo Band is to be there in all its glory; it will play for all the features of the evening, including the swing games.

Oh, yes, are you interested in hunting? Well, everyone in college is out on a big hunt in this wild woolly west, and everyone is going to take part in shooting the Buffalo, the big game of the hunt.

Races, did you say? Besides a spoon race and a pillow race for the crowd, Prexy Hill and Coach Burton are going to run a peanut race!

So no matter who you are, or what you do; no matter who you want to see, COME, because everybody else is going to be there. You will have three things, fun, more fun, and still more fun.

Girls, please don't wear spike heels. Wear tennis shoes or flat heeled golf shoes if possible, at least wear nothing higher than military heels.

WALKER LEAVES LAST WEEK ON FAMOUS TRIP

TO VISIT IN NASHVILLE BEFORE GOING TO NEW YORK TO SAIL.

Having accepted a position in the geography department of the Fifth Around-the-World Cruise of the Floating University for the period beginning the first of December and ending the last of June, Miss Darthula Walker, head of the geography department here, left Canyon early Saturday.

Miss Walker will stop in Nashville, Tennessee, where she will spend a week visiting friends and relatives before going on to New York City, where she will sail Nov. 29, as a member of the Floating School faculty.

With the end of the Cruise and the opening of W. T. summer school in June, 1931, Miss Walker will return to her work here.

LYCEUM COURSE EXTENDED BY TWO NUMBERS

COUNT LUCKER, "GERMAN SEA DEVIL," AND ELLENOR COOK ADDED.

To the joy of those students who own student activity tickets, Wallace R. Clark, chairman of the lyceum committee, announced last week that there have been added to the list of programs for this year two more very fine numbers: Ellenor Cook in "The Paganry of Folk Lore," and Count Felix Von Luckner, the famous "sea devil" himself, in a thrilling tale of absorbing adventure.

The program by Luckner will be the first of the two additions to appear, coming sometime near the twentieth of January. Ellenor Cook's number will be here near the first of March.

Count Luckner, the erstwhile German "Sea Devil" of World War fame, has captivated America with his books and his lectures. He is one of the most dynamic and fascinating personalities that ever lived. For nearly two years he has buccannered through the South Seas, sank fourteen Allied ships, and did not take a single human life. Not since the days of Elizabethan free booters has there been a sailor like him. For its amazing adventure, its gallant heroism, and its wild humor, his story is without parallel in this or any other time.

The Count has filled nearly five hundred engagements in America.

In his second appearances, Count Luckner will tell the complete story of the months of raiding from Iceland to P.I. No illustrations will be used.

The other number added, "The Paganry of Folk Lore," is the first lyceum ever given in W. T. directly associated to the Women's Physical Education department. It is of peculiar note and interest in W. T., especially in this department.

Miss Cook is well known as the leading American exponent of the folk-lore, songs, and dances of Central and Eastern Europe. Her performances has that indefinable quality which lifts it above mere entertainment and makes it art of a rare standard.

Miss Cook is assisted in her programs by Camilla Edwards, also in costume, whose enthusiasm completes an entertainment which (Continued on last page)

FOUR FACULTY MEMBERS WILL ACT IN PLAY

"TREASURE OF CARCASSONNE" IS DRAMATIZATION OF LEGEND.

Four faculty members will take part in the Children's Theater production to be given Thursday afternoon at the regular hour in the Education building auditorium. The name of the play is "Treasure of Carcassonne" and is a dramatization by Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Batchelder of a French novel of the same title, based on a historical legend dealing with a great well in the village of Carcassonne in France.

In the story as it is to be given Thursday, a secret passage-way enables a spy in the village of Carcassonne to open the city gates to enemies. A French peasant, Antoine Cassagnol, catches the spy and saves the city. A great part of the narrative is centered around a supposedly hidden treasure.

Such is a short synopsis of the production in which C. W. Batchelder, Carl York, John Gillis, and W. D. Mateer will play leading roles. They will portray Antoine, the inkeeper, the spy, and the governor, respectively.

One of the most important characters in the entire play, having an especial appeal to the children, is the donkey belonging to Antoine Cassagnol. The patient animal plays a very significant part in the production.

The student directors of "Treasure of Carcassonne" are Mrs. D. Oia Gillespie, and Janet Ellen Holmes. C. W. Batchelder, as general director of the Children's Theater Company, will be in charge.

Writers to Induct New Scribblers Tomorrow Night

Selections were made last week for membership in the Scribblers' Club, the freshmen organization corresponding to the Writers' Club for upperclassmen, and invitations to the induction services to be held for them by the Writers' Club tomorrow night extended by Daisy Windsor, secretary of the latter organization.

Eighteen freshmen were chosen for membership in this club, the plan being used for their selection as was used last year, i. e.: Each teacher having a freshman English section choosing a boy and a girl from that section whom they consider worthy of membership in a writers' group.

The following people were chosen, and will take part in the services to be held for them by the Writers' tomorrow night: Kathleen Kronin, Thomas Henderson, Bess Kirven, Bruce Cleeland, Jewell McCasland, Rob Rowan, Gwendolyn Black, Alice Arnold, Hettie Lou Bagley, Oleta Gladney, Marvin Boyd, Gwinn Casey, Guilford Miller, Estill Allen, Willo Sparkman, Hazel Cooper, Gus J. Winberg, Claud Tucker.

Mrs. Travis Shaw is sponsor of the freshman group, and will be in charge of all meetings following this first one.

Calves Win Over Miami Chieftains With 20-0 Score

Coach York took his crew of Calves to Miami Friday and took a one sided game from the Chieftains by a score of 20-0. These future Buffs have played but one or two games but they are going good and York is priming them as material for the Buff squad of the future.

SEND MOVING PICTURES TO WOMEN'S CONVENTION

Moving pictures of the Palo Duro Canyons were sent to Houston to be shown to delegates at the Texas Federated Club Women's convention in session there, Travis Shaw states. The colored pictures made in the canyons by Mr. Shaw were sent to San Antonio several days ago to be forwarded to Houston for showing at the convention.

Other black and white pictures belonging to the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce were also sent to Houston.

There are two hundred sixty-two members in the Ex-students Association.

Mrs. Earl Brownrigg, formerly Lavada Edwards, is teaching this year near Big Spring.

We believe that the teaching profession is the most dignified profession on earth.

V. L. GRANVILLE'S "DRAMATIC INTERLUDES" WELL RECEIVED BY LYCEUM AUDIENCE LAST NIGHT

First Lyceum of Year is Given by To-day's Most Famous Dramatist; Program Has Been Given in Many Countries.

Le Mirage Chapel Program Given at Saturday Period

Chapel attendants received a surprise Saturday morning when the Le Mirage staff, headed by the editor, Margaret Sheers, presented a very unique and interesting program, the purpose of which was to put the yearbook plans before the student body.

The stage was set to represent the publications office, and as Miss Sheers reviewed the sections of Le Mirage, which represent the development of the Panhandle, suitably dressed characters appeared from behind the Le Mirage door, as illustrations.

Coronado, the first man to cross the plains, and who led an expedition across in 1541, was represented by Kay Bryan. Coronado and his expedition was followed by the coming of the Indians to the Panhandle, portrayed by Hugh Umphres, and following the Indians were the Mexican hunters and traders represented by Joe Patterson in Mexican costume.

The Texas cowboy, so well known to every Texan, was portrayed by Frank Monroe in full cowboy regalia; the cowboy was followed by the nester, represented by Winston Wofford. This character stood for the first civilizing influence felt in the Panhandle, and followed in order by Industry, Bob Jarrett, and Culture, Inez Allen.

Following the pictorial history of the Panhandle, the annual staff with his separate duties to perform, appeared and demonstrated the work that goes on in the publications office.

Features of the program were the broadcasting of the Buffalo-Lumberjack game, and pep music furnished by Durward Brown and His Orchestra.

At the close of the program the annual staff passed out blanks to be signed by the students, giving over their trust funds as part payment on their annual purchase.

W. T. Teachers Will Be On Program At State Convention

Several of the teachers of the West Texas State Teachers College will take part on the programs at the sectional meetings of the Texas State Teachers Association convention, which will be held at Houston on November 27, 28 and 29.

Miss Edna Graham is to be chairman of the meeting of the mathematics section. Miss Anford N. Hibbets will speak on "Manuscript Writing of the Primary Grades" at the meeting of the penmanship section. Mrs. Geraldine Green will give the report of the National Association. Miss Hattie M. Anderson is to speak on "The Social Sciences and Southwestern Culture" in the meeting listed "State Teachers Colleges." Miss Darthula Walker will give an illustrated lecture on "The Canyons of the High Plains of Texas" in the geography section.

Appearing on the same and similar programs are Dr. Chas. H. Judd, of Chicago, Dr. Lois E. Lord, and other distinguished people from colleges of all parts of the United States.

Dr. B. E. Masters of Amarillo will also appear on the program speaking on "The Teachers Load in the Public Junior Colleges of Texas."

YOUNGEST FRESHMAN

Harold Lair, who is fifteen years old is the youngest member of the freshman class this year. Both his father and mother are ex-students of this college, his father, Tom Lair, being here last in 1910, his mother, Gladys Avent, in 1913.

Students! If it is two weeks until Dec. 1—the final date to turn in your pictures. If you have your picture made next week, this will allow the photographer plenty of time to finish them by Dec. 1. Please cooperate with the staff and make the class sections of the annual 100 percent. IT IS YOUR ANNUAL!—M. Sheers, Editor, Le Mirage.

Appearing in W. T. as the first lyceum number of this year's course, V. L. Granville's "Dramatic Interludes," presented last night in the college auditorium was well received by students and people of the town.

V. L. Granville, famous English actor and impersonator, giving the most famous of his many famous programs "Dramatic Interludes" was at his best last night, when he gave it before a record lyceum audience. Mr. Granville has appeared in this program in countries all over the world, and has been proclaimed by outstanding critics to be the leading actor of the time.

"Dramatic Interludes" is easily the most unique and entertaining dramatic program ever given in W. T.

Mr. Granville carries with him his own stage manager, who was also in charge of the many costumes which the great actor used throughout his production. Two W. T. students connected with the college dramatic department, Gordon Beck and Eurith Compton, operated the spot lights from either side of the stage.

"Dramatic Interludes" as presented last night included the following groups, covering a wide range of dramatic literature. The first group of impersonations covered the period from the Greeks to Shakespeare, and included the following numbers.

1. Oedipus, from "Oedipus Rex"—Sophocles.
2. Ergasilus, from "The Captives"—Plautus.
3. Faustus, from "The Tragic History of Dr. Faustus"—Marlowe.
4. Duke of Gloucester, afterwards "Richard III"—Shakespeare.
5. Following this group a ten minute intermission was allowed the actor after which the second group, from Moliere to the present day, was given. The group included:
6. Harpagon "The Miser"—Moliere.
7. Mrs. Malaprop, from "The Rivals"—Sheridan.
8. Fedya, from "The Living Corpse"—Tolstoy.
9. Francois Villon, the great French poet—selected.
10. Cyrano de Bergerac—Rostand.
11. Svengali, from "Trilby"—George du Maurier.

Agriculturists of W. T. on Program

Yesterday evening at the invitation of the F. F. A. Club of Dalhart, Frank R. Phillips, head of the agriculture department of the college, appeared as the main speaker at a banquet given by the club to the members' fathers. Mr. Phillips' talk dealt with the general subject of the Future Farmers of America Club.

Tomorrow evening at 7:30, at a meeting of the Agricultural Council to be held at the Summerfield schoolhouse, T. M. Moore, also of our agriculture department will read a paper on "The Value of Wheat as a Feed for Livestock." This will be followed by a round-table discussion of that subject.

J. A. Hill Speaks in McLean Today

In answer to an invitation from the Lions' Club of that city, President J. A. Hill is in McLean today to talk to the club at noon, and to speak at the high school building to an open house tonight.

G. C. Boswell, superintendent of the McLean Public Schools, added to the club's invitation, an invitation to Dr. Hill to appear before the students of the high school some time this afternoon.

Odus Mitchell, an ex-Buffalo, now coach of the Pampa High School Harvesters, was in Canyon for the Buffalo-Lumberjack game Saturday.

Skeet Miles attended the game Saturday spending the week-end in Canyon before returning to Tulsa.

Charles T. Allen, an ex-student of W. T., recently resigned a position at Bovina to take up Civil Service work in Washington, D. C.

HORN THE COWBOYS

From the way the Thundering Herd smothered the Stephen F.
Austin Lumberjacks in Saturday's game, it looks as though they are all primed for the Cowboys' next Saturday. It has been circulated that this Simmons crowd, away back in 1924 after the Buffaloes had hammered out a 12-7 victory sent up burnt offerings, and signed a pact in blood never to let the herd of Buffaloes trample their good record in the dust again. To date the Cowboys have always managed to ride the Buffaloes, by pulling leather and choking the saddle horn. Now is the time for the Buffaloes to bust a cinch and throw the Cowhands from Abilene, saddle, bridle and blanket; next week every Buffalo fan should go to the big' rodeo at Butler Field in Amarillo.

The taste of much well earned victory has given the Buffaloes an added courage to go out for a big time, and nobody will be disappointed unless they stay at home next Saturday. The Buff line showed that it was able to stop anything and the back field clicked beautifully against the Lumberjacks. Simmons lost to Southwestern in Friday's game and will be more determined than ever to beat the Herd, but this year's Cowboy eleven is not too good,

"FIRST THINGS FIRST"

Lately on the editorial page of the Christian Science Monitor, there appeared an article entitled "Putting First Things First in Education." Dealing as it does with a definite problem in modern education, it deserves the consideration of people who are today training to be educators, as are we of W. T. It is worthy the attention of any person who believes that education is the greatest aid to the solution of the problems of the day. It is of especial interest to those connected with W. T., since its having been given recently the authority to offer graduate work.

The occasion for the writing of the editorial mentioned is the appropriation of $5,000,000 dollars for the building of a school for advanced study, soon to be established somewhere in or near New Jersey.

According to the writer, Dr. Abraham Flexner, the director of the new college, announces that one of the first things the trustees decided was to have well-paid teachers and inexpensive buildings. Parts of the article are quoted below:

"This school, then, is setting out to prove that education can be obtained through able teachers plus adequate-but-not-luxurious quarters better than through wonderful buildings plus poor or even average teachers. . . Too often in the United States during the last few years the handsome building has been erected and the teachers' meager wage overlooked.

"In this new graduate school in New Jersey there is to be a course in mathematics only if there is a first-rate teacher of mathematics to be found, and he is to be paid a salary somewhere near commen-surate with his worth. . . These schools stress scholarship. Teachers who are the world's foremost scholars are being attracted to their professorships.

"The majority of colleges and universities have learned that a graduate school in their midst brings an air of scholarly prestige.
And all such schools are tending more and more to count a superior faculty more essential than material facilities. . . While some may question whether it is wise to give as much time as do these schools to the business of research, their insistence upon placing teachers above brick and mortar is certain to have a wholesome effect upon the whole field of education."

Ever since the moment it was known that W. T. was to offer graduate work, our officials have proclaimed their intention of making such courses thoroughly worthwhile, and to give an M. A. degree that "will mean something in the field of professional training." Such a decision on the part of W.
T. and other of the Texas colleges indicates that graduate schools to be established in New Jersey (or any other state or section) are not the only ones that know the value of "putting first things first in education."

JUST BEFORE THE BATTLE

From time immemorial it has been the custom among savage tribes to show, just before their sacificial rites, all the honors and courtesies within their power to the victims to be offered up to their gods. Most notable among these were the Mexicans or Aztecs who gave the greatest honors to those for the sacrifice. Even today, criminals about to be led to the chair, are given certain liberties at their last meal on their last day on earth, the idea being to satisfy human repugnance against anything frankly brutal.

In a more pleasant way there has evolved among modern colleges a custom of feting their visiting rivals in order that the bitter gall of defeat may be somewhat sweetened. An extract from an editorial in the Shreveport Times has this to say about Texas A. & M. College:

"It's hard deliberately to run over an opponent with power plays when he's waiting with a smile, as though to say, 'Don't get hurt.' It's hard to knock him down when you know 'he's going to get up and help you to your feet.'"

This little paragraph can be very aptly applied to the members of W. T.'s squads of athletics, for

Signed:
EDNA GRAHAM,

they have a notable record for cleanliness on the field of play; but there is a sad, sad lack of this spirit of good sportsmanship in the student body of this college.
To make a plain story more plain, this college is not living up to the traditions of the west when it is so negligent in extending the glad hand to visiting teams and their contingents of supporters. It is not deliberate by any means, but is, nevertheless, very noticeable.
Why don't we emulate the customs of our forebears and, when the enemy comes into our camp, welcome him with a glad hand, feast him and groom him properly for the slaughter? If he should happen to go home with a Buffalo hide in his dunnage bag, he won't have so much to brag about. He might even say that we were too courteous to let a stranger come into our camp and go away dissatisfied. We should always try to remember that passage from the Book of books: "And he was a stranger and I took him in." In "taking him in," let's get his scalp if possible, but do not with the utmost kindness and graciousness. He will go away most properly humbled and with a contrite spirit.—C. B. S.

MUSICAL PROGRAM

At assembly Saturday morning, the students were entertained with a program from the Music Department, assisted by children from the first grade. The program consisted of violin solos by Miss Margaret Justice, accompanied by Miss Alice Dawes; and piano numbers, played by Mr. Robert Berryhill, and pan-tomimically interpreted by Eleanor Loudder, Dick Loudder, Betty Jane Wheat and Elsie Maxine Shenefelt. The pantomime was directed by Miss Elva Fronabarger.

RANCH PARTY

Sunday afternoon Oscar Croson was host to fourteen Juniors and Seniors, who drove out to the Harrell Ranch, about forty miles northeast of town, and took kodak pictures for the snapshot section of Le Petit Mirage. The party was composed of Edna Irene Bandy, Pollyanna Pitts, Frances Holman, Helen Johnson, Maurice Warren, Alma Lynn Been, Opal Smith, Oscar Croson, John McIntosh, Charlie Archer, S. B. Whittenburg, Joe Ream, Lowell Windsor, Quentin
Ward and Mrs. Tommie Montfort.
After the pictures were taken, much fun and interest were provided by visits to the most interesting places on the ranch. Mr. and Mrs. Harrell even furnished the more adventurous of the guests with bucking broncos, which proved easy enough for the potential cowboys to handle. After their delightful visit, the party agreed that they had seen at least one ideal ranch outside a book and a movie.

CLUB MEETING POSTPONED

On account of the ball game Saturday afternoon, the Spanish Club meeting was postponed until today, at 3:30; and the Latin Club meeting until tomorrow afternoon at 3:30.

NEWS BASKET

A valuable acquisition made its appearance at Tumble-Week headquarters last week, in the form of a double-decked wire basket to receive news contributions, the upper deck to be used for raw material, the lower, for copy ready to be turned in.

CUCKOO

For several days the people in the Education Building were mystified, at recess and other inter-missions, by the plaintive notes of a cuckoo echoing through the halls on every hand. Various speculations were made as to the source and manner of the calls, before it was discovered that numerous grade and primary pupils had taken on a fad of manipulating a concealed cuckoo whistle under their sweaters or coats. The new cuckoo clocks recently installed in the Kindergarten and Primary Departments no doubt inspired the fad.

INTER NOS

The Inter Nos Club had its last meeting, October 31, in room 318.
The program carried out the Hallowe'en idea. "The Origin of Hallowe'en" was told by Lucy Jo Loud-der, and "Pomona" was discussed by Frances Alice Clark. A griesome Hallowe'en story "Ubi Est Meum Caput," told by Miss M.
Moss Richardson, was enjoyed very much. George Phillips gave a talk on oracles, and Fern Love told the History of Cumaeen Sibyl. Fortunes were handed out by Marian Hill, representing the Sibyl. The phonograph records that were made in Amarillo last year by the club were played for the members. After the refreshments were served the meeting adjourned.

Miss Fowler, state inspector for the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, visited the Demonstration School Saturday.

G. A. A. ORGANIZE.

Twelve girls met Wednesday at seven o'clock in the Education building to organize the Girl's Athletic Association. After a game of volley ball, the following officers were elected: Roberta Montgomery, president; Louise Shirley, vice-president; Elaine Myers, secretary; Mattie Pearl Whittenburg, treasurer; Pansy Myers, annual representative; Helen Johnson, Prairie reporter.

Our Gang Club Meets.

Our Gang Club met Thursday evening, Nov. 13 at the new home of Lucy Jo Loudder on 2nd Ave., at seven o'clock. After a delightful evening of bridge, refreshments were served to the following members: Irene Hoghland, Tommie Lea Hoghland, Helen Johnson, Frances Alice Clark, Frances Holman, Elizabeth Jameson, Katye B.
Lowe, and the hostess, Lucy Jo Loudder.

REPRESENTATIVES AT HOUSTON WILL BREAKFAST

Those former students and former and present faculty members of W. T. who will be attending the meeting of the Texas State Teachers Association at Houston will meet at the Texas State Hotel for breakfast at 7:30 Friday morning, Nov. 28.

Mrs. Ira Jenkins, a W. T. Ex. of 1926, is in charge of arrangements at Houston, while a committee composed of Mrs. T. V. Reeves, Miss Anna I. Hibbets, and L. N. George is arranging the program.

Among those who will appear on the program are Pres. R. L. Marquis of the North Texas State Teachers College, Denton, and Pres. H. W. Morelock of Sul Ross State Teachers College, Alpine, both of whom are former members of the W. T. faculty. Miss Ruth Lowes has selected a number of pep songs to be sung. About fifty exes and faculty members are expected to attend.

McCOLLEYS SERVE SUNDAY NIGHT TURKEY SUPPER

Several friends of Dr. and Mrs. Grant McColley were entertained at the McColley home on Sixth avenue with a two course turkey supper Sunday evening.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Savage, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Reeds, and Bob Reeds, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Reeds and Clarence Jr., Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Osgood, and Mrs. G. F. Woods.

ENGLE ENTERTAINS WITH LUNCHEON FOR WALKER

Miss Bessie C. Engle entertained Nov. 12 at the college cafeteria with a luncheon honoring Miss Darthula Walker.

Luncheon was served Misses Darthula Walker, Isobel Robinson, aMtie Swayne, Anna I. Hibbets, Mary E. Hudspeth, Elva Fronbarger, Novella Goodman, Edna Graham, Hattie M. Anderson, Marion Northington, Tennessee Malone, Mary A. Lamb, Ruth Cross, Mrs. Laura Saunders, and the hostess, Miss Bessie C. Engle.

PROF. L. A. OSGOOD TO ADDRESS P. E. O.

Mr. L. A. Osgood of the English department will deliver an interesting address before the gathering of P. E. O. members this afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. J. Wagner, 2416 Hayden Street, Amarillo.

The chapter meets at 2:30 o'clock and the address will be given after the business session. Professor Osgood will talk on "A Literary Pilgrimage Through England," having spent last summer in the British Isles.

JUNIOR CLASS ENTERTAINS WITH PARTY AT EL TAOS

El Taos' Spanish background was the scene of a most delightful occasion Thursday evening, Nov. 13, when fifty-nine members of the Junior class and their friends enjoyed a bridge-dance there from 7:15 to 11:00 o'clock.

Besides dancing and bridge, Margaret Gamble entertained with several popular numbers on the piano. A melodrama, directed by Dorothy Staley, vice president of the class, was given.

A Spanish motif was carried out in the refreshments of Spanish spaghetti and coffee, and in all decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Sheffy and Mr. and Mrs. Travis Shaw were special guests.

The guest list included Misses Beth Pitts, Dorothy Staley, Audrey Cayton, Bertha Paltenghe, Ione Ball, Lonie Beth Weaver, Goldie Gill, Ruth Brigance, Margaret Gamble, Allie Elliston, Lillian Duncan, Mary Louise Anderson, Mary Berryman, Evelyn Higginbotham, Margaret Sheers, Ruby K. Cherry, Barbara Badgett, Leona Bell Aynesworth, Pauline Rogers, Elizabeth Anderson, Lela Bates, Mildred Gregory, Naomi Malone; Wilmouth Gamble, Mrs. B. M. Kennedy, Messrs. Bob Jarrett, John Gillham, Bob Clark, Gene Elo, Herman Troutman, Lee Dodson, Weldon Rogers, David Lee, J. D. Hazlewood, Gordon McCarty, L. T. Davault, Boone McClure, Roy Cheatham, Bob Hunt, J. H. Harrison, Elmer Wooten, Rufus Dodgen, Jim Crowder, Noel Gollehon, Hugh Humphres, Eulith Compton, J. L. Brubaker, Ludwig Watson, Malcolm Hunt.

GRAHAM ENTERTAINS FOR FACULTY MEMBERS TUESDAY

Tuesday evening, Nov. 11, Miss Edna Graham entertained a group of the new faculty members with a bridge party. Decorations, tally cards, and refreshments carried out the idea of the Armistice holiday.

Those present were Misses Ima C. Barlow, Corrella Nuzum, Miltia Hill, Hazel Allen, Alice Dawes, Helen White Moore, Thelma Thorpe, Zonelle McMurray, Mary Morgan Brown, Laura Christopher; Messdames W. W. Lee, Grant McColley, J. S. Humphreys, Henrietta Scott, Claude Reeds, Sue Donald; and Messrs. W. W. Lee, Grant McColley, and J. S. Humphreys.

MISSSES WALKER AND MALONE ENTER DELTA KAPPA GAMMA

Miss Darthula Walker and Miss Tennessee Malone of the college faculty and Mrs. C. E. Strain and Miss Grace Clark of the public school faculty were among the initiates of the Phi chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma society which held its annual banquet and initiation in the Capitol Hotel in Amarillo Friday evening.

The purpose of this organization is to improve the teaching profession among women teachers. Miss Hattie M. Anderson, Miss Anna I. Hibbets, and Miss Edna Graham are charter members of the Phi chapter.

Part 2
Greetings from the branch representatives—Pampa, Plainview, Lubbock and Amarillo.
Introduction of the guest of honor—Mrs. T. B. McCarter.
Address—Mrs. Earl C. Wyatt.
Tea was served to the guests at 4 o'clock in the home economics dining room.

PRESBYTERIAN STUDENTS ENTERTAIN WITH TEA

One of the lovely social functions of the past week was a tea given in honor of the Presbyterian students by Mrs. Charles Burrow and Mrs. S. L. Ingham, Thursday, Nov. 13, at the home of Mrs. Burrow.

A shower of pink chrysanthemums and four pink tapers in silver holders formed the attractive centerpiece of the dining table which was covered with a cloth of lace.

Mrs. Joe Gamble and Mrs. E. D. Harrell served tea, sandwiches, cookies, mints and salted nuts to the guests during the hour.

KERR HOUSE LADIES GIVE TEA HONORING MISS WALKER

Naming Miss Darthula Walker, who left Friday to join the faculty of the Floating University as honoree, Misses Anna I. Hibbets, Hattie M. Anderson, Marion Northington, Ruth Cross and Mrs. Laura Saunders, entertained Wednesday with a tea at the Kerr House.

A profusion of roses, and ships, and dolls dressed in costumes of foreign countries, decorated the entertaining rooms.

Misses Mary E. Hudspeth, Edna Graham, Isabel Robinson, Tennessee Malone, and Mesdames Wallace O'Keefe, and L. F. Sheffy poured tea to approximately one hundred and fifty guests. Misses Mattie Swayne, Novella Goodman, Jean Moore, and Mrs. A. B. Brown of Channing assisted the hostesses.

PEARL WIMBERLY MARRIES R. E. WITTY AT MIDLAND

Of especial interest to many W. T. people is the news of the wedding of Miss Pearl Wimberly, who attended school here last year, to Mr. R. E. Witty, which took place last Sunday at Midland, Texas.

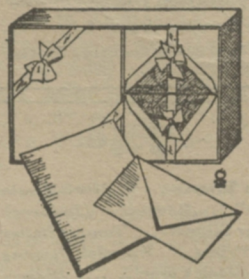

Mrs. Witty is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Wimberly of Midland. While in W. T. she was classified as a junior. She has been at home in Midland since the end of school last June, being employed as society editor of the Midland Star-Telegram.

While in Canyon, Mrs. Witty was a popular member of several campus organizations. She has many friends in the college and town.

THE SPOTLIGHT

BY COL. GOWDY

Well, here we are again on the air after a few weeks vacation trying once more to dope out the why and wherefore of athletics. This has been one of the queerest football seasons the Col. has ever witnessed. Strong teams have fallen before the weak, and the weak have been conquered by the strong, and even we were beaten.

One of the shake-ups was the Roswell affair. From all reports it was the same old passing system that licked us. We seem to have an inferiority complex whenever passes are concerned.

The Buff basketeers are working like mad before the opening of the training camp proper in order to grab a lead over those fellows who are out for football. Britt, Monroe, Fitzgerald, Troutman, Rudolph and Hargrave are looking like regular stuff, and there are several other lads who look fair this early in the season.

If the studees have been waiting for a peppy game and a big score, their wait is over now. The Buffs certainly opened up their bag of tricks Saturday and beat the life out of the lumber-men. It was one of those push overs that you often read about. The Lumberjacks threatened once during the game, by running the ball to the one yard line, in the last minute of the game, but the gun stopped them there.

The Stephen F. Austin lads were greatly handicapped by the cold weather and change of climate. They were chilled from head to foot by the norther that had been threatening all day and finally broke about two o'clock into a full-fledged blizzard.

Bob Clark was the flash of Saturday's contest.

Leo Cooper did not break in to the line-up Saturday due to a flock of cracked ribs, and a bad cold. Layne played in Cooper's position, and what I mean he filled it.

The funny part of the game occurred when Bob Clark and Bill McClendon were taken from the game in the last few minutes of play. A group of students (male) had assembled on the east side of the field to carry the players to the clubhouse. As Bob and Bill came trotting to the sideline the fellows began "Some one get Bob! Help me get Bill!" Probably Bob and Bill thought they were dealing with a mob, for they broke into a high run for the clubhouse. Such people, such people.

Simmons is the next victim on the Buff card. The Cowboys are always plenty tough, but Buff ball teams have beat them in the past and can in the future—near future, at that. Poor officiating cost the Buffs a victory in Amarillo last year. See what happens in 1930!

Here's the way Doc Haley and the Col. have doped out the football situation: (and if you don't think that the Buffs have a strong club just roll your eyes over this): Sam Houston lost to Rice by 1 point; Texas beat S. M. U. 20 points; Notre Dame beat S. M. U. 6 points; W. T. beat A. C. C. 9 points; Denton beat A. C. C. 6 points. If Denton ties Sam Houston, we will have beat Notre Dame 22 points. Notre Dame beat Pennsylvania State 73 to 0. Therefore we would have beat Pennsylvania 95 to 0. Some club, eh, what?

MRS. W. R. STEVENS HONORED WITH TEA AT RITCHIE HOME

Complimenting her aunt, Mrs. W. R. Stevens of Wichita Falls, Miss Jean Day entertained from 3:30 to 7:30 with an informal tea at the home of Miss Jennie C. Ritchie.

Mrs. Stevens was formerly Midge Day and is an ex-student of W. T., having received her degree here in 1926.

SECOND COLLEGE DANCE IS WELL ATTENDED NOV. 11

The Women's Gymnasium was the scene Nov. 11 of the third college dance of the quarter. The affair was well attended.

Decorations carrying out the Armistice holiday theme were used. Music for the dance was furnished by Durward Brown and his orchestra.

Apprentices

So, intimate and sympathetic, keen, Clear-eyed and honor-clean, Sensing events before They happen, understanding evermore

With an uncanny insight to the core

Of things transpiring, they Are more intent upon their work

BY L. N. GEORGE

Hall County

Ex-students in Hall county, suppose we set an example by having every Ex. in Hall county at our banquet? We are bringing the College Quartette. Mr. Hill will explain graduate work for next year. School legislation will be discussed briefly. Some local talent will be used. Place a ring around December the first and close that date now. See or write Lee Gilmore, Turkey, and make your reservations. You will be notified the exact hour and place.

Childress County

There are forty-two W. T. exes teaching in Childress county. I estimate there are twenty-five in business. Will you who are teaching see those who are in business and urge them to attend the banquet? Yes, our College Quartette will be right there. Mr. Hill will be on the program and local talent as your committee sees fit. Get in touch with Ross Buckner immediately and make your reservations.
Remember that date December the second.

Briscoe County

W. T. Has twenty-two exes teaching in Briscoe County. Suppose we have all those in business out to the banquet and count them? Mr.
Hill will again explain the graduate work for next summer and local talent will be used according to the wishes of the committee.
Make your reservations through C.
R. E. Weaver, Silverton.

There are three hundred ex-students now in the association and we are doing things. I find hundreds of Bachelors that are coming back to W. T. for their Masters. Also there are many from other schools coming here for their Masters. The time is here when teachers must step or it will be "just too bad" they must step out.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. (Sid) Woodruff are loyal W. T. Exes. They teach practical agriculture and Home Ec. by demonstration. Mr.
Woodruff plans more work in W.
T. Miss Bessie Mae Kilgore another W. T. Ex. is teaching with Mr. Woodruff. They are in the Gilpin School four miles east of Newlin.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Miller and Miss Floy Kesler are W. T. exes in the Arlie School. This school has Home Ec. and Agriculture. It has a nice H. E. room and Shop for the boys. A storm house is located on the school grounds. The children are put through regular storm drills.

Loco is a promising little town with lights and gas located ten miles from Wellington and twenty-eight from Childress. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Chaudoin, Miss Ima Gentry and Miss Naoma Hunt are teachers in the Loco school. Mr.
Chaudoin has built the school from a three teacher to a six teacher and will have a large graduating class this year. The school has outgrown the old building but the town bids to do some rapid improvements, hence Mr. Chaudoin wants to erect a school building that will meet the requirements for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Copeland write in from Texico that they want The Prairie. Their general school exhibit won first place at the Clovis Fair. Their school also won eleven special prizes. They note they are enjoying their work and are proud of their pupils.

Mr. A. K. Bishop has recently become a member of the teaching staff of the McKinley school in Amarillo.

The six W. T. ex-students in the McKinley school are all members of the Ex-student Association.

The McKinley building is one of the prettiest school buildings in Texas. One thing that makes it so, is the fact that every brick seems to be utilized.

The Art Department under the direction of Mr. Bishop, decorated all the rooms for the recent ded-

Mumbles

From a psychological standpoint the Bufts ought to beat Simmons next Saturday by a score of between six and a hundred and two to nothing. We doped it all out.
Now the lads got knocked off the roost at Roswell—therefore they won't be laboring under the handicap of thinking themselves invincible. They made the Lumberjacks look like a prep school squad and covered themselves with glory last Saturday—therefore they are conscious of great potential power.
Mixing the results of the two games gives a combination of intestinal stamina and native ability that should win the game by the above named score. Watch it!

ECHOES

This group of extracts from our exchange papers is published here in an attempt to let W. T. students see what our sister colleges are doing along many lines, and to try to interest them in reading the many appers which come regularly to the publications of office. The newspapers of practically every college in Texas, of several out-of-the-state colleges, and of a very large number of high schools are received by us every week.)

Students are taking advantage of the opportunity to use the library at night, according to the librarian, Mrs. Pearl C. McCracken.
The reading rooms are filled to capacity each evening, and the students who come are those who are really desirous to learn.—The Campus Chat.

The Twentieth Annual homecoming program of the University of New Mexico was celebrated Friday. Over a thousand graduates of the University were present, and the schedule of the day consisted of teas, parades, inspection tours, a football game and a banquet.—New Mexico Lobo.

Sir Philip Ben Greet and his English company will present Hamlet on November 22 in the Amarillo auditorium. It is sponsored by the Amarillo Junior College and all the schools and colleges of the Panhandle will be interested in this play for it will be the only opportunity in a decade to see the old-time Shakespearean play, especially with such outstanding actors as Ben Greet.—The Ranger, Amarillo.

With H. V. Benedict, president of the University of Texas speaking on "The Services of Dr. Sutton to the University," the Education Building will be formally renamed Wednesday afternoon, Nov.
26, in honor of the late Dr. William Seneca Sutton, dean emeritus of the School of Education—The Houstonian.

The University of New Mexico has introduced an entirely new course in "Indian Art of Indians." This course will preserve the art of the early American in the Southwest and to discourage a rather second class art that has a tendency to displace the old original Indian art.—New Mexico Lobo.

Company F 142nd
Infantry Ends
Rifle Practice

Sunday afternoon, Company F, 142nd Infantry completed their fall rifle practice on the range located three miles north of the city. Thirty-five men participated in the last practice of the fall season, using both the automatic rifle and the service rifle.

This local unit of the national defense program as set up in 1922 is somewhat unique, never having been a R. O. T. C. unit. Some fifteen members of the company are students in West Texas State Teachers College. The entire commissioned personnel are either students, ex-students or teachers in the college. Captain Lockhart, commanding officer of the unit, is head of the commercial department of W. T.; First Lieutenant T. H. McDonald, is principal of the Canyon High School and graduate of the class of '29; Second Lieutenant C. B. Shepard is a student in W. T. All three officers are veterans of the World War.

Company F 142nd Infantry, thirty-sixth division has a very honorable history in the annals of the war department in Washington.
Though it was located in Canyon in 1902 and federalized under the National Defense Act of 1921-22, this company counted among its members many Canyon men who served in the World War, some of them who did not return from Europe. After the close of the war, the 142nd regiment of which Co. F is a part, received citations from the United States War Department and was also cited by the French Government and was presented the Croix de Guerre for brilliant service on the Western front in 1918.

Lyceum Additions

is flawless in quality and perfect in rhythm.

Miss Cook has been invited to present her work at the American Women's Club in Paris and in the lands of its origin, at Zagreb, Prague, and Warsaw, a unique honor and high compliment to this brilliant young American.

The addition of these programs to the lyceum of W. T. was made possible by the fact that the student-activity ticket sale went over this year somewhere around ninety per cent.
