

The Editor Speaking

With this issue of The Prairie begins an entirely new column. To all of you who feel depressed at the sight of another of those "columns," let me say that we sympathize deeply with you, but that we must discharge our duty. Then, too, there is no assurance that this attempt will not result in failure as so many columns have which were much better to begin with than this one will ever be.

Amarillo and the Panhandle, as well as the rest of Texas suffered a severe blow last week in the untimely death of Wilbur C. Hawk. Although it was not my privilege to know Mr. Hawk personally, I can understand the loss which his adopted city feels so keenly. Almost every civic movement in Amarillo in the last few years was launched by this model citizen. It was a journalist that Wilbur Hawk, as a name, meant most to us who aspire to be journalists ourselves. More men like Mr. Hawk could be used to a remarkably good advantage in America today.

Stafford Hall had its first chance to play the host Friday afternoon and evening when a reception for the public was given. Besides most of the students of W. T., many of the citizens of Canyon were visitors at some time during the reception.

Proposals have been made to the effect that Stafford Hall have "open house" on one night each week similar to the plan in practice at Cousins and Randall Halls. Of course, the girls would do the "tagging." This has all the earmarks of being a worthwhile affair.

Just to introduce pleasant thought into the minds of you who have read this far, I might remark that the dust storm which we endured last Friday was not lacking in any way the characteristics of those memorable dusts of last spring.

If they continue throughout the spring to be as perfect in detail as the one last week, it is safe to predict that men's and women's wear for the rest of the year will be something other in color than black, blue, or oxford gray.

Concerning the subject upon which Dr. Hill spoke in assembly Saturday, viz., smoking in the buildings, it is my opinion that all that was said was not enough. It is disagreeable to stand outside in the cold wind while smoking, but it is also disagreeable to many people to be forced to pass through veritable clouds of smoke in order to reach the door and fresh air. Consider the other fellow's rights, too.

A word to those of you who anticipate two days of visiting the home folks during the Educational Conference here March 6 and 7: That is going to be a "mighty good time" to become acquainted with school superintendents from all over this part of Texas. And some of them are going to need new teachers next fall, too.

LOWES TEACHES IN M. E. CHURCH SCHOOL

Miss Ruth Lowes is teaching in the Christian Workers Training School which is being held at the Methodist Church. This is a study of middle childhood designed to help teachers of primary children. Rev. J. O. Haynes of Amarillo and Rev. W. E. Hamilton of Lubbock, former pastor of the local Methodist Church are also teaching in the school.

That excitable New York labor leader who bought nine autos at his first auction had at least nine reasons for not going home to dinner that night.

Many Expected To Attend Education Meet

$25,000 Will Be Spent For Pioneer Hall Improvement

Board of Directors Acts on Distribution of Money

In a meeting here Monday, the Directors of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum decided to spend $18,000 of the $25,000 recently allotted to the Museum by the Texas Centennial Committee, for the enlargement of the present building. The remainder of the allotment will be used to purchase new equipment.

The State Board of Control and the Board of Regents of the Texas State Teachers Colleges will supervise the expenditure. J. E. Hill, member of the Board of Regents, of Amarillo, will be the regional representative in connection with the building problems.

Many display cases will be added to Pioneer Hall. A committee composed of Horace M. Russell, Floyd V. Studer, Olin E. Hinkle, Dr. J. A. Hill, and Prof. L. F. Sherry will decide on the types of cases. They will visit museums in Santa Fe and Denver to study cases and their arrangement.

Those present at the meeting were: W. H. Patrick, president, of Clarendon; R. P. Smyth, of Plainville; J. D. Hamlin, of Farwell; Olin E. Hinkle, of Pampa; Horace M. Russell, and Floyd V. Studer, of Amarillo; Dr. J. A. Hill and Prof. L. F. Sherry, of Canyon.

It was disclosed during the meeting that major oil companies have marked the Museum on their maps and that AAA has listed the Museum on its travel information.

Mr. Patrick said another meeting will probably be held within the next month and would take up the details of the building program.

Matmen Defeat N. M. M. I. Cadets By 25-13 Score

In a dual meet at Roswell, N. M., Saturday, the matmen of Coach Herschel Jennings opened the 1936 wrestling and boxing campaign with an impressive victory of 25-13 over the Cadets of New Mexico Military Institute of Roswell.

Owing to a scarcity of material, Coach Jennings was forced to default three boxing matches and one wrestling bout to the Cadets—a total handicap of eight points. But in the light of this inequality, the Buffs displayed their superiority by limiting the cadets to a scant five points.

The feature of the boxing division was Stina Cain's knockout victory over the highly touted Cadet Malcolm in one minute and 10 seconds. Waggoner also vanquished Bruggeman in less than a minute via the knockout route.

In the wrestling division, the Buff matmen dropped but two matches—one by default; the other by decision. Horton and Caviness won over their men by falls, securing five points each; while Calloway, Murry, Jennings, and Jackson won by decision to contribute three points each.

The results of the match follow: 115 lbs. W. Cain won by decision over Cadet Roberts.

125 lbs. Default to N. M. M. I. 135 lbs. Purcell lost to Cadet Dunningham by decision.

145 lbs. Ray Cox lost to Cadet Haney by decision.

155 lbs. Default to N. M. M. I. 165 lbs. S. Cain won by knockout over Cadet Malcolm.

175 lbs. Default to N. M. M. I. Heavy, Waggoner won by knockout over Cadet Bruggeman.

Wrestling

115 lbs. Default to N. M. M. I. 125 lbs. Calloway won over Cadet Hatcher by decision, 2 min. 40 seconds.

135 lbs. Gordon lost to Cadet Murray by decision, 3 min. 8 sec.

145 lbs. Murry won over Cadet Jenkins by decision, 4 min. 27 sec.

155 lbs. Jennings won over Cadet Alexander by decision, 4 min. 13 seconds.

165 lbs. Horton won over Cadet Hawes by fall, 4 min. 55 sec.

175 lbs. Caviness won over Cadet Hennessey by fall, 5 min. 3 sec.

Heavy, Jackson won over Cadet Honocheck by decision, 5 min. 32 seconds.

P. C. Bennett, in charge of the Vega Project of Soil Erosion, will talk to various agriculture classes here today.

Yearlings Defeat AJC Badgers For Seventh Victory

Eclating over their win from the Badgers of Amarillo Junior College, the undefeated Yearlings of Coach Bob Cox travel to Plainville today to tangle with the Wayland Jackrabbits.

The game with Wayland last week was postponed because of some confusion that was created when Coach Barksdale was appointed to succeed Carl York as mentor of the W. T. H. S. Calves. Owing to their opening victory over the Jackrabbits, the Freshmen are slated to take the encounter, but the Baptist crackshooters gave evidence that they are fully capable of reversing the tables.

Marvin Calliham, business manager of Le Mirage during the first semester, withdrew from school last week to accept a position with General Motors Corporation in Amarillo. Bill Hopkins is serving in the capacity of business manager for Le Mirage.

Frank White of Clarendon was a campus visitor Tuesday. Mr. White is now buying and selling grain. He received his degree here last summer.

Miss Helen White Moore entertained with bridge at her home on Fifth Avenue. Guests were: Miss Pauline Brigham, Mrs. R. H. Hunt, and Mrs. R. W. Foster.

Comments On Dress of Eds and Co-eds

By Gad

While we are on the subject of teachers, can we leave out the women teachers on our campus who look as though they have just stepped from a fashion plate? Their clothes tend to be more tailored and sporty for the classroom while clothes outside on the campus fit their individual tastes somewhat more differently.

Miss Frances Usery, who is usually seen around the campus in dashing sport clothes is most practical in her selection of conservative materials and colors. Her ensembles are of the latest cuts and colors and her accessories of oxfords, tams or small sport hats, gloves, and bags, add to her "well-chosen" appearance.

Miss Darthula Walker wears becoming clothes of fashionable lines and colors that do not become tiresome to students. Her frocks and accessories show careful selection as to color, harmony, quality, and conservative taste.

Miss Isabel Robinson, Miss Ima Barlow, Miss Oscie Sanders, and Mrs. Hunt, Prexy's secretary, add dainty tailored feminine touches to the classroom and campus.

Admiral Byrd To Give Lecture In Amarillo Thursday

Admiral Richard E. Byrd of Antarctic fame will give a lecture in the Municipal Auditorium in Amarillo Thursday. Accompanying the lecture will be the showing of 9,000 feet of film taken at the bottom of the world. None of the film has ever been shown in Amarillo before. Tickets are on sale now at the City Drug No. 1 in Amarillo.

Admiral Byrd's thrilling story of his second expedition, from which he barely escaped with his life, is attracting capacity crowds all over Texas.

The Amarillo appearances of the great explorer were arranged by the Tri-State Fair.

WPA Officials On Inspection Tour Praise WT Work

WPA officials from the state office at San Antonio and from the district office at Amarillo were here Saturday inspecting the work on W. T. campus. High praises were given for the type of construction that was underway, and the efficiency with which the jobs are being handled. These projects were called the best and most useful of any in this section.

Work on Buffalo Courts is progressing rapidly.

The stone wall on the east side of the athletic field is complete, and the men are working on the south and west fences. The new entrance to the stadium is progressing rapidly.

Caliche will be hauled to the street in front of Buffalo Courts during the coming few days. The topping of this street, and the new entrance in front of the administration building will be run after the weather moderates.

WPA officials state that other projects on the campus will be considered as soon as the present ones are completed, since they believe in the future usefulness of these projects.

Ex-Student Dies In Dallas Hospital

J. A. Hood, ex-student, '13, died in Baylor Hospital in Dallas, Jan. 28.

Hood was graduated from W. T. in 1913, and later received his M. S. degree from the University of Texas. After that time he taught in the Wichita Falls public schools and served as County School Superintendent for the past two terms.

Funeral rites were held in Abilene with Dr. J. D. Sandefer, president of Hardin-Simmons University, reading the obituary.

Miss Carrie Lee McIntosh, a student here, is a niece of the late Mr. Hood.

Emmett Hazlewood, 1928, has been added to the faculty of the New Mexico Junior College at Portales. Mr. Hazlewood has been a student of Cornell University recently, and was a member of the W. T. faculty during the summer session of 1935.

Raymond Jarrell, freshman from Wellington, is reported to be seriously ill with pneumonia.

Dean R. P. Jarrett is still absent from his duties because of illness.

College Nurse Recounts Some Adventures Of Missionary Life

She smiled as she took off her uniform. "Let's go back and forget for a little while that I am a nurse."

"Bom-dia. Como esta?" Spanish? No. don't fool yourself; that is Portuguese.

Miss Helen Hickman, college nurse, spent four years teaching in a Methodist school in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

"When I first arrived in Brazil, I could not speak the language at all," said Miss Hickman; "so for the first three months I had a Portuguese teacher who could speak English; then afterwards engaged one who did not speak English at all."

A tinge of red colored her cheeks as she related an embarrassing experience.

"You see, a lot of the words are very similar in their pronunciation, and I frequently made mistakes. One day, entering a market, I asked the clerk for a 'beijo.' I meant cheese, which is 'queijo.'

Freshmen To Play Wayland College Jackrabbits Tonite

Coming back with a furious attack in the second period, the tall Freshmen rallied sharply to defeat the Amarillo College Badgers last Thursday night in the Badger gymnasium, 34 to 27, for their seventh win of the season against no defeats. This was the Yearling's third victory over the Badgers.

The victims were leading at the half time, 14 to 10. The game was a rough battle from the start, consisting of all manner of blocks and falls, supplemented by twenty-four personal fouls.

The Yearlings' lanky center, Shackelford, led the scoring with nine points. Hayes followed with seven, and the diminutive Lloyd Johnson scored six before being taken out with a broken nose at the beginning of the last half. Pitts and Geary led for the Badgers with seven and five points respectively.

Coach Bob Cox used thirteen players in the tussle. Four new players: Washington, Watkins, Faulkner, and Auburn, made their initial appearance in the freshman line-up. Ben Arthur and Watkins were sent from the court by the referee for roughness.

The Freshmen are scheduled against the Eastern New Mexico Junior College at Portales March 2 and 3.

Mrs. Laura Saunders and Miss Novella Goodman motored to Amarillo Wednesday.

Miss Ruth Cross, Miss Ima Barlow and Miss Jennie Mae Elliott, attended the Paramount Theater in Amarillo last week.

Dee Blythe, former editor of The Prairie, is now working on the Clovis Evening News-Journal, Clovis, N. M.

Wilbur C. Hawk Died Wednesday

WILBUR C. HAWK

Wilbur C. Hawk, general manager of the Amarillo News-Globe, died Wednesday morning at his home in Amarillo.

Mr. Hawk had been ill for several weeks but was thought to be well on the way to recovery. He was at his office Tuesday and planned to return again Wednesday.

In addition to his duties with his newspapers, Mr. Hawk was devoted to the service of his city and the entire Panhandle. He has served in many capacities for the development of the entire Panhandle. No man in this section was blessed with so great a capacity of clear and quick thinking, of being a capable judge of men and measures, and with so abundant driving powers to work for the things in which he believed.

His hand set to the task, Wilbur Hawk never looked back.

The Panhandle has sustained a loss which will never be recovered.

Educators Will Hold Conference Here March 6-7

Schools Are Urged To Dismiss First Day For Meet

The Northwest Texas Conference for Education which will hold its third annual convention here on March 6 and 7 will be attended by people representing every occupation in this section.

Originally planned by Pres. J. A. Hill, the first meeting of the Conference was held here in the spring of 1934. More than a thousand persons attended the initial meeting. The attendance was increased almost one-half in the meeting held last spring, and a still larger number is expected for the coming convention.

J. D. Wilson, Deputy State Superintendent of District One, is calling meetings of school trustees over twenty-six counties of the Panhandle and recommending that schools be dismissed on March 6 to permit faculty members to attend the two-day convention.

Dr. J. A. Hill announced last week that he will be greatly disappointed if a great number of people who have no official connection with the schools fail to attend the meeting. He also expressed a hope that the organization will continue as a layman's meeting as well as an inspirational and informational meeting for teachers and school trustees.

Concerning Books

"The Bachelor Prince" by Frazier Hunt tells the truth (if it is the truth) in an informal biography of the recent Prince of Wales, now King Edward VIII of England.

Frazier Hunt, a Canadian, who with this book switches from biographies of Russia to biographies of Princes, writes intimately of his friend as his neighboring "wrenchman" in Canada.

Mrs. T. V. Reeves, head of the Bureau of Public Service, summarizes the characterization, "The book has the tone of a paid biography (although I realize it isn't) because it is so over laudatory. It puts emphasis upon the everyday human interests of the Prince and tries to make very attractive his very unconventional behavior. The most valuable thing is the account of his rigorous education looking toward becoming King of England."

Mr. Hunt hints that lack of able, elected Presidents comes about because they have not been trained from babyhood for their job—as has Edward VIII.

It is predicted that Edward will be the Serious King and the Socialist King and maybe the last King.

Also, he is apparently determined to be a Bachelor King, as he has been the Bachelor Prince. Co-eds may ask, "Then, why should we know anything about him?" Well, it's like bowing when Satan's name is mentioned—you never can tell!

The book is on the rent collection in the main library.

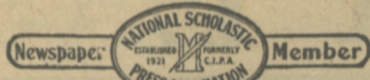

Incidentally, the Prince never fell off a horse in his life—this proves it.

Ada Marie Harbert spent the week-end at her home in Dumas.

Mary Pat Kimmins spent the week-end at her home in Lark.

TEACHERS VS. STUDENTS

The title of this editorial may well be this because in some classes, the attitude seems to be no less than this.

Students enter the classrooms praying to some unseen, unfelt, deity from on high to descend upon them like a meek and gentle dove, lighting upon them and gently pouring out upon them the magic which will make them polished and brilliant—an education.

They sit and smilingly—or intently gaze straight ahead, or sleepy, through day after day of explanation and expect at the end to be handed out an acceptable grade with a pat on the back and a "John, my boy, you have learned your lessons well."

Or the situation may be reversed, teachers cram century after century of time and activity into one lecture; bones, nerves, and blood stream into one hour's hasty sketching; wars, changes of boundary lines, peace pacts, and constitutions into a short term with a "here it is" attitude.

Students upon sensing that the professor has done his duty by parroting off the things on his notes, will eventually have a feeling of being "swamped" by so much recounting of facts accompanied by no explanation or interest.

No education is transferred between two individuals by the effort of only one or neither.

Students, if you can't give to the teacher some inspiration by a desire and ability to comprehend and absorb, don't stay in his class, dampening his enthusiasm with your stupidity. "Look for a farm or a husband."—Professor Lockhart.

Teachers, make students realize it means a fulfillment of your contract with yourself as well as with the administration if you convey your subject matter to the students in a comprehensive manner.

SPECIALIZATION OR BROAD EDUCATION?

In this machine age of specialization, students are confronted with the choice of a broad educational background or specialized training. Slang, radicalism, and loose thinking have become so common that conservative individuals are searching for the best road to follow, the most secure path, and the most upright line of endeavor. College students are torn between a group that says only business counts and those who show the value of a broad education.

Capacity for many fields of work is lying undeveloped within many individuals, because of failure on the part of some students to recognize opportunities. For those, the trade would be a wide field to train the mind for concentration on a particular subject.

The more courageous and more visionary students may seek a broad educational background as a steady foundation for a fruitful life. The student should choose the type of education that best suits his personality.

WHAT IS YOUR OPINION?

Do the students who work their way through college make better grades and amount to more in life than those students who are sent to college?

Generally, the student who has to work his way through college has a more definite plan in life and a greater determination to succeed. He has the intestinal fortitude to meet and overcome adversity, in that he wants something bad enough to fight for it.

The boys who are sent to college often do not amount to much, because they have not a definite aim to work for. Of course, this does not imply that the working student is more intelligent than the student who does not have to work to attend college, but the difference lies in the fact, the student being sent to college, and the student going to college.

Have you a definite purpose in going to college?

STUDENT CENTER NEEDED

College students need some place besides the library and the halls to spend their leisure time.

A student union building was built recently on the campus of Texas University, Austin. Not all colleges are fortunate enough to be able to give an entire building to student activities, but most of them could donate a few rooms.

One room might be used as a lounging room. Here students could visit, chat, and enjoy themselves without disturbing anyone.

What could be better than a game room with a place for ping-pong, checkers, bowling, and similar activities?

Every college should provide some place for students to spend their leisure time.

A NEED FOR CONFIDENCE

Do you have confidence in yourself?

When you undertake to do some hard task do you have the feeling that you are equal to meet the issue, or do you fear that you will be unable to handle the situation before you try?

Many fights in life have been lost purely because the individual lacked confidence in himself. He was whipped before he began.

It is the thrill that comes once in a life-time when man comes to himself and realizes his power and strength, and that he can overcome obstacles in life.

Until man fights and overcomes some problem and gains confidence in himself, his chances to succeed in life to any great extent are relatively small.

HOW DO YOU REGARD YOURSELF?

Do you have a feeling of inferiority and insignificance when you are among your fellow-men?

Do you look upon your associates as being superior to you, or do you place yourself on an equal with them, with a feeling that you can equally excel in other things?

It is as harmful to go to one extreme as it is to the other. Man in building up within himself the feeling that he is incapable of doing things and that he is inferior to his comrades, becomes a slave to it and is always depending upon someone to do his thinking for him. On the other hand, the person that obtains the impression that he is superior to everyone else, and that no one can do anything as well as he, has reached a standstill in intelligence. His mind has been closed and he is of no service to mankind.

Many favorable comments have been heard this week concerning the Leap Year Dance, but sad to say, most of them have come from the gentlemen of the institution. Can't you take it, girls?

Power to Ethel Rowland, but should a certain man from New Mexico shove her from the seat they shared after she had been so nice as to take him to the dance?

Everyone knows that Hon. W. R. Terry has left our campus. We are at a loss trying to find a papa for all the girls, now that he has gone.

That reminds us, we heard numerous co-eds raving over a Mr. Strode that works at the Highway Service Station.

From the Tech paper, "The Tor-eador," we find that Dr. Paul Weaver spoke there Sunday, Feb. 9. The Houstonian also states that he spoke at the Sam Houston State Teachers College, Thursday, Feb. 13. "The Skiff," from Texas Christian University brings word that he spoke there Feb. 14.

W. T. In Step With The March of Time

The first dormitory for girls to be built on a Texas State Teachers College campus, was built by West Texas State Teachers College in 1918-19.

The dormitory was named Cousins Hall in honor of R. B. Cousins the first president of W. T.

In 1935, a large addition was built to the west end and many rooms were added, besides a large ballroom for dances and banquets. The hall is modernly equipped in every respect and will accommodate approximately 125 girls.

This marks another forefront achievement, and W. T. MARCHES ON!

Charles Stratton was in Amarillo the other day—wonder what he was doing. (We'll bet it wasn't anything to gossip about.)

Several people have been wondering where Loyd Miller went Monday night to get the freckles all over his face.

COLLEGE LIFE is a strain on the physique, with its endless demands on mind and body. Often, as a result, digestion suffers. Smoking Camels eases the strain of the busy whirl—promotes good digestion.

the diners. William says of Camels: "Camels and good food go together. Our patrons naturally prefer quality tobaccos, judging by the popularity that Camels enjoy here. So we try to keep well stocked with Camels."

IN BRITISH GUIANA—the LaVarres ford a river. "Camels make any meal digest easier," says William LaVarre. Mrs. LaVarre adds: "Camels help my digestion, in the jungle or dining at home."

GEORGE LOTT, tennis champion, knows how over-exertion strikes at digestion. He says: "I smoke a lot. Camels have a beneficial effect on digestion. They help me to enjoy what I eat and get more good out of it."

We suppose we must best apologize for the asinine sentence at the opening of our last week's column. It didn't even make sense. (Not that this thing ever does, but . . .). It happens that the omission of a word (in this particular column) was the cause of our woe.

We are glad to learn to spell Divilbiss. We have a tendency to get the first "i" and "e" interchanged. By the way, congratulations are in order, Jimmy, on your recent ascension to the presidency of the Senior Class.

Have you noticed how down-hearted Martella Graves has been looking the past week. Could it be because Francis Gilbreath has quit school?

Our idea of a good-looking sweet girl; Virginia Hohlaus. Craig Walling gets this week's bouquet for being a delightful dancer.

Burkhalter, it is good to see you back again. Girls, Edward is excellent leap-year material.

Flash! Many hearts made happy on the campus of W. T. with the coming of Valentine's Day. Many silent loves also sought expression, we hear.

Say, if you want to know how it feels to be treated like visiting royalty just be a guest of Stafford Hall. Those guys—(pardon me, I mean gentlemen) really know how things are done, and do it.

It appears as if an old Romance in springing anew, now that Warren Good is back with us.

We'll hand it to Myles McGehee for good sportsmanship.

While we're speaking of keen guys, we might introduce Curtis Clement, a regular feller.

Studes, we could use more material turned in by you. Don'tcha know nothin' 'bout nobody?

They say Goofy Jeffers will likely win the amateur contest by reciting "The Barefoot Boy With Shoes On." Reckon.

Randall Hall must be having fun since they get all the open house patronage, while Cousins is being reconstructed.

We are sorry to report the illness of one of our "biggest gossipers"—Pete Cowart. Room-mate Johnnie Pool, says Pete will soon be up and about.

"The more I see of men, the better I like dogs," says a disillusioned co-ed.

Just why should Ruth Stapleton's face become so red when a certain well-known gentleman of the campus sat down beside her at the ball game. Looked as though he might have been framed.

Winfred Lewis was seen on the campus Monday night, driving a a number of piano solos.

Those present were: Miss M. Moss Richardson, Miss Florence McMurtry, Mrs. F. M. Munson, Mrs. M. W. Gordy, Mrs. R. A. Hodges, Mrs. C. P. Hastings, Mrs. W. M. Davis, Mrs. J. D. Archer, Mrs. J. F. SoRelle, Mrs. P. L. Walters, and the hostesses.

The club will meet March 6 with Mrs. C. F. Hastings, 2522 Sixth Avenue.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH HOLDS VALENTINE PARTY

The young people of the Christian Church met Thursday evening, Feb. 13, at 7:30 o'clock and enjoyed an hour of pleasant entertainment.

The evening was spent in "track-meet" games, such as, throwing the discus, tossing cupid's dart, and crossing the Delaware. After the games, the young people enjoyed a two-act play, especially arranged for the occasion.

Mr. Martin, we suggest you drink a coca-cola before History Class. Sometimes they keep people awake when all else fails.

In conclusion: Here's to the dust storms, may they continue in frequency and intensity. (We ate dirt when an infant. It is also rumored that we were dropped on our head.) The poet who loves the "feel of the soil" should move to West Texas.

Each puff less acid—Luckies are A LIGHT SMOKE OF RICH, RIPE-BODIED TOBACCO

For twenty-five years the research staff of The American Tobacco Company has worked steadily to produce a measurably finer cigarette—namely, a cigarette having a minimum of volatile components, with an improved richness of taste—"A LIGHT SMOKE."

We believe that Lucky Strike Cigarettes embody a number of genuinely basic improvements, and that all these improvements combine to produce a superior cigarette—a modern cigarette, a cigarette made of rich, ripe-bodied tobaccos—A Light Smoke.

Luckies are less acid

Recent chemical tests show* that other popular brands have an excess of acidity over Lucky Strike of from 53% to 100%.

PRINCE ALBERT THE NATIONAL JOY SMOKE

Sports-Casts

by

Your humble correspondent makes his debut this week as a columnist for The Prairie succeeding Joe Smith who has secured employment in the oil fields at Skelleytown. Smith's proficiency in this capacity has been echoed over the campus and the staff regrets his leaving. (I'm sure that you will too, by the time you have finished this column.)

Following a disastrous invasion into the Abilene district the Buffaloes have opened a long home-stand by collecting six straight victories. This brings the season's total to 17 victories against 8 defeats—an average of .680. Especially noticeable in this current home stand is the severe drubbing they dished out to the Goldbugs of O. C. U.—conquerors of the California Bears. It appears that the Buffs are headed for the most successful season since the towering team of '33.

Play Simmons Here

Next Monday and Tuesday in Burton Gym, the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys will be guests. I recall that the Cowboys took our measure on the Abilene court in two games both by a scant four-point margin. And these defeats coupled with the age-old rivalry of the two clubs is sufficient indication that the Bison herd will be primed for the tilts.

The Punchers' scoring punch hinges about their two war-horses, Sam McCollum and Carol Benson. The name of McCollum is not foreign to many W. T. fans as he is the fourth of this lineage to travel the paths of Simmons athletic circles. Benson stands six feet five inches and is the leading scorer of the quintet. They concede him to be one of the best in Texas collegiate basketball.

Another element of interest is the friendly rivalry of the two mentors. Both coaches Al Baggett and Frank Kimbrough formerly guided the athletic destinies of Amarillo Junior College, and both have made advancements in the coaching world.

Mark my word, this will be a real tussle, and though I'm no authoritative prophet I predict that Colvin, Boedeker and Co. will make it eight straight.

Handball and Ping Pong Standings

Owing to his accurate placement game, Woodrow "Cy" Marchbanks vanquished Frank Van Noy to seize first place in the handball tourney. The feature of the week's play was Horton's win over Brotherton to climb out of the cellar. Here is the ladder for the week:

1. Marchbanks
2. Van Noy
3. Dow
4. Fields
5. Brooks
6. Jackson
7. Hinger
8. Bill Blaine
9. Floyd Murry
10. Gordon Murray
11. McLauri
12. Johnson
13. Wheelock
14. Jennings
15. Joe Blaine
16. Cain

18. Champion
19. Gibson
20. Thomas
21. Horton

PING-PONG

Glyn Riley managed to top the ping-pong ladder for the third straight week, and Bruce Howard pulled up into the runner-up position. Here is the ladder:

1. Riley
2. Howard
3. Merchant
4. Cox
5. Curry
6. King.

BUFFS STAMPEDE TO WIN TWO-GAME SERIES FROM RAMS

Last Game of Series Is Judged the Most Spectacular

Lacking the polish which generally characterizes their play, but working grimly and doggedly without some degree of brilliance, Baggett's Buffalo Basketeers managed to shear the charging Rams of Texas Wesleyan College of Fort Worth and eke out a pair of triumphs Monday and Tuesday nights by decisive counts of 43-22 and 36-29 respectively.

Before an estimated crowd of five hundred the crack Buff offense clicked slowly and smoothly in the first game, and piled up a comfortable margin to breeze thru for an easy victory. But in the closing tilt, their fire of the first night was missing, but through the superb dependability of George Ray Colvin, they managed to squeeze out a seven-point win.

At the outset in the first game both teams appeared listless, and the scoring lagged. At the intermission the Buffs commanded a 17-11 lead. But Colvin took matters into his own hands in the final canto, and the Rams left the game echoing their approval of his All-American caliber. Besides his spectacular guarding, he was personally responsible for 15 of the counters to lead the scoring. He was seconded by Carter, tricky Ram goalscorer who accounted for 11.

From the spectators standpoint the last of the series was packed with more thrills as the invading Rams whittled the Buffs lead to 17-14 at mid-time. But Curtis Clement seemed to have profited by Colvin's stellar feat on Monday night, and banged the hoop for 12 points to capture the laurels for the offensive. Colvin and Captain Boedeker followed with 10 and nine points respectively. Butler's elusive ball handling and Clark's never ceasing hustle were dominant factors in the twin bill.

The Buffalo starting line-up found Butler and Clement at forward, Colvin center, and Clark and Boedeker at guard. Davis and Walling also saw service in both games.

Pioneer Hall Notes

Of historical interest is the Indian Collection of the late E. Dowden of Plainview. This is to be found on the east wall of the main room of Pioneer Hall. In this collection are a bow and arrow made by Geronimo, the Apache leader, while he and forty-two of his followers were held at Fort Sill as prisoners of war; he was at least seventy-five years old when he made and decorated this bow. The arrow is wooden pointed and poisoned with rattlesnake venom; however, there are two steel-pointed ones from Quanah Parker's tribe.

Of special attraction is an Indian headdress which belonged to Chief Postokem, a lieutenant of Quanah Parker. This headdress contains sixty-five eagle feathers, each tipped with horsehair. This was worn by Postokem upon one occasion when the chiefs were invited to Washington. Mr. Dowden said he could always trade with this Indian because of his weakness for firewater.

Also of interest is a beaded Comanche quilt; a medicine bean, worn around the neck of a child to ward off scarlet fever; a necklace made of a beaded eagle's talon and steel beads and was worn by Quanah Parker; he took it from his neck and tied it around Mr. Dowden's; it is among the most prized relics of this collection.

Illustrating the weaving of the famous Navajo blankets are two Navajo looms; these were collected on the Navajo reservation in Arizona.

There is also a papoose cradle which was secured from one of Quanah Parker's wives, Toonicey. Mr. Dowden said that he took one of Parker's babies from the cradle at the time it was traded for, and he cut a lock of its hair off and tied it to the cradle where it may be seen. The baby taken from this cradle went to Carlisle, but she came back and donned the blanket again. Quanah sent her back to school again; and after the opening of the Kiowa and Comanche reservation, she came back and became a stenographer at one of the banks in that section.

In this collection are also baskets, blankets, rings, a hammer, a canoe paddle, a peace pipe which the Secretary of Interior smoked with twenty or twenty-five chiefs at a council of the Five Civilized Tribes, beads, pictures, a saddle, pistol and numerous other things. These articles are only a few of the interesting, beautiful and historical contributions that are on display at Pioneer Hall.
