Regular Activities Cleared from Week's Calendar to Make Way For Religious Emphasis Week

Personality Theme Of Women's Forum

Mrs. Dorothy Hall Pitman, charm instructor of Amarillo, and Dr. A. M. Meyer, of the College talked before the College Women's Forum Wednesday night in the Education auditorium.

"I can give you the keys to the door of personality but only you can unlock the door," Mrs. Pitman, first speaker of the evening, told the members of the Forum.

Mrs. Pitman gave the following keys: Correct body carriage, a modulated voice, well regulated eyes, natural grace, interest in other people, and graciousness.

"First it takes learning to gain a beautiful personality," Dr. Meyer began his speech on "Building a Personality."

Some of the principles for building a personality mentioned by Dr. Meyer were plenty of rest and sleep, diet, and play, making the best of what is, entering into activities that your whole being desires and which uphold your standards. Do not set your standards too high, he said. Choose to do those things you do well—all obstacles can be overcome, at least to a degree of success. Don't be a bore by feeling sorry for yourself, make allowances, and be able to face problems by yourself.

"A person's judgment of other people tells more about one's personality than any other one thing," Dr. Meyer asserted.

Dresses of formal, dressy, and sports types were modeled by Carolyn Mayfield, representing the Dixie Shop of Amarillo. Mrs. Flo Stovall, proprietor of the shop, pointed out the best styles for college girls and explained how students could dress correctly but inexpensively.

Miss Frances Usery of the College music department played several piano selections.

The College Women's Forum for next week has been postponed.

Third Broadcast Given Monday.

Monday night at 8:15 W. T. presented the third in a series of fifteen-minute student broadcasts over KGNC, Amarillo. A forum of "Five Answers to the Peace Problem" was presented by Glen Davis, Bomber Brown, Alton Paul, Nell Stevenson, and Elizabeth Woods. Student announcers were Dolores Little and Helen Mangum.

Next Monday night an original play will be presented by Dr. Margaret Wiley's English classes, entitled "Upon the Wearing of the Green," written by Jenna V. Stephenson. The cast has not been selected.

Mrs. Smith Will Visit Familiar Scenes in Mexico

By Jenna V. Stephenson

Mrs. Agnes Smith, supervisor of Cousins Hall, will leave Dec. 7 for an extensive visit to familiar scenes of her husband who was a well-known railroad contractor in Mexico. She will accompany Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Brymer of Amarillo, childhood friends of hers.

They will spend the first night in Brownwood visiting friends and completing business transactions, and thence to Monterrey, in the State of Nueva Leon. In Monterrey she will visit the widow of her late husband's business partner, Mrs. Thomas Williams. For twenty years, Mrs. Smith's husband and Thomas Williams were business associates and friends.

Mrs. Smith will spend several days in Mexico City and vicinity before returning home via San Antonio. "Mexico is a place of culture and refinement," reminisces Mrs. Smith. "I loved it there. I met my husband in Mexico City while I was a young teacher visiting there, and my honeymoon was spent in the Grande Tubete Hotel there. I hope the hotel is still standing, for I wish

All regular campus activities have been swept from the W. T. calendar for this week to make way for a full schedule of Religious Emphasis Week events which started this morning in assembly.

The Rev. G. C. Brewer, pastor of the Broadway Church of Christ at Lubbock, will make the principal address at assembly programs Thursday and Saturday. The Y. W. C. A. will arrange special assembly music for the programs Thursday and Saturday.

West Texas State is one of the growing list of state-supported colleges in the nation to have a week of this kind. It is sponsored by the College and the churches and ministers of the community.

In stating the purpose of the week in the official program, President J. A. Hill said: "The program of Religious Emphasis Week is the result of a conviction, gradually maturing over a period of years, that most of the troubles with which this and other countries find themselves beset today are mainly attributable to superficial thinking about fundamental values; and, that the way out is through honest, intelligent, courageous, and sustained thinking on the part of each citizen about those invisible forces that lie at the base of all civilizations."

Each day during the week, excepting Saturday, there will be round table discussions from 4 to 4:30 p. m. in Room 211 of the Administration Building. Students will be invited to submit questions, orally or in writing, on the theme: "How May Religion Function in the Solution of Campus Problems?" Daily vesper services will be held at the Methodist church from 5 to 5:30 o'clock each afternoon.

Pastors of Canyon churches will be available to students for personal conferences from 3 to 4 o'clock each afternoon. Offices of the pastors are listed with the program on Page 3.

Fellowship Club Makes Plans for Christmas Party

Members of the Freshman Fellowship Club made plans for a Christmas party Dec. 20 to climax this semester's activities at their meeting Tuesday night.

At the meeting Tuesday, members were divided into groups of six and etiquette was discussed by the group leaders.

Members voted to have a section in Le Mirage. Each member will pay 10 cents for the space, and this sum may be paid to Mary Elizabeth Hughes of Canadian.

The next meeting will be Dec. 13, and the subject for discussion will be "Fine Arts."

The University of New Hampshire has the only state college remote control studio in New England, with daily programs broadcast from the campus.

to revisit all the scenes of my married days."

She told of living in all the important cities of Mexico as her husband moved with his contract work, the Thomas Williams' usually sharing apartments with them. "We lived on the slopes of the Sierra Madre Range," said Mrs. Smith, "and then moved across the Plateau to Tuxtepec in the State of Jalisco each year or so. For a number of years, I lived in the provincial state of Coelema which has the combined culture of the Spanish and German intermarriages. It is considered the highest established culture of the Mexican people. I lived at the foot of the only active volcano in North America, and while I was not there when it finally erupted, I have awakened many mornings to see it covered with a blanket of snow and the smoke boiling up from the middle of it against the sunrise."

Mr. Smith died while constructing a tunnel to connect the eastern and western slopes of Mexico and is buried in an Indian village on the eastern slopes of the Sierra Madre Range.

W. T.'s chorus of college men will leave Thursday on a downstate trip during which it will give concerts at Lamesa, Big Spring, and Tahoka.

The Lamesa appearance will be in the early afternoon, Dec. 8. They will be welcomed by F. T. McCollum, principal of the Lamesa schools and will be given luncheon by the home economics department.

In the evening, the group will appear at Big Spring high school and will spend the night in that city. Next day they will turn north, stopping at Tahoka for a concert at 11 a. m.

The itinerary was arranged by the Bureau of Public Service.

Lofland Speaks in Assembly Saturday

W. T. Lofland, deputy state superintendent, discussed principles which should be recognized by teachers, outlining several needs in the teaching field at the regular student assembly Saturday.

Although this school is not completely a training college, we are all teachers in one way or another, he indicated.

"Success depends 15% upon knowledge and 85% upon social adaptability," he said. "Schools give much time on report cards to pupils attitudes, but what really should be developed is the teacher's attitude."

Mr. Lofland quizzed the students offering ten questions which were to determine good potential teachers. The questions included: Do you like to be with people? Do you like to read and study? Are you interested in finding the answer to questions? Do you like to talk? Did you make good grades in school? Do you get along well with people? Can you take a joke? Are you interested in helping others? Are you willing to spend most of the money you make for several years in your personal development? Do you believe in the power of education in helping to solve personal and social problems?

Seventy per cent accuracy indicated a good teacher prospect.

Buffaloes Lose 46-45

The Buffaloes lost by one point to the Southwestern Bulldogs of Weatherford, Okla., last night. Shackelford was high point man with 21 points.

Miss Ruth Lowes, W. T. faculty member who is studying at the University of Iowa, will spend the Christmas holidays here.

Dean Floyd Golden Will Address IRC At Annual Banquet

The annual banquet of the International Relations Club, high point of the year's calendar for the local organization, is scheduled for Dec. 14 in the social hall of the First Christian Church here.

Dean Floyd Golden of Eastern New Mexico Junior College at Portales will be speaker on some phase of current international affairs in the principal address of the evening.

Dr. Golden is a graduate of the College, and was for a number of years superintendent of the Portales public schools. Two representatives of the Eastern New Mexico Junior College will accompany Dean Golden and will be guests at the banquet.

A program of music has been arranged to precede the address of Mr. Golden.

The local organization was founded nine years ago by Prof. S. H. Condon, sponsor of the club, and Miss Jennie C. Ritchie, dean of the Demonstration High School. The annual banquet has been a feature of the club's program for several years. Units of the organization are found in virtually every college and university in the United States and in many foreign countries. The organization is sponsored by the Carnegie Foundation. Current literature on international affairs is provided each club in the Foundation.

Tickets for the banquet are on sale this week for 75 cents. They may be purchased at the College Book Store or from the following students: Hollis Bledsoe, Betty Lou O'Brien, Ulane Zeek, Leona Headlee, Alma Miller, Clay Cooper, Stephen Milner, Kenneth Walters, E. G. Schuhart, Mildred Cole, Harold Miller, and Jerry Manzer.

"Shall We Arm?" Is Subject of IRC Discussion

"Shall We Arm?" was the subject of discussion at a meeting of the International Relations Club Wednesday night.

Gerald Manzer, sophomore from Wellington, defended the armament program of the United States. "Our first line of defense is not from Maine to California. It is all over the world. I would say that we must be strong enough to defend ourselves. We must strengthen our defense until the day comes when the lion will lie down with the lamb in perfect peace."

Manzer's discussion was followed by a round-table debate led by T. S. Stephenson, president of the club.

The club picture for Le Mirage, college yearbook, was made, and arrangements for the International Relations Club banquet were completed. The banquet is scheduled for Dec. 14 at 7:30 p. m. in the dining room of the First Christian Church here. Floyd Golden, dean of Eastern New Mexico Junior College and a former student of W. T. will be the principal speaker for the occasion.

President J. A. Hill made a speech at a Father and Son banquet in Clarendon Tuesday night.

Do You Have A Cold?--Then Get One And Try These Remedies

By Dorothy McCormack

Do you have a cold? Everyone has a remedy for colds except Mr. Savage, who has a cold. Everyone is willing, even eager to reveal his treatment. And here's what the faculty says is the way to treat that unhappy illness:

Says Coach Jack Curtice: "If you have a cold, take some orange juice, lemon juice, calomel, salts, linseed oil, castor oil, and a pint of whiskey. Then mix together the orange juice, lemon juice, castor oil, calomel, salts and linseed oil and heat it on the stove."

His hands gestured all the while, pouring and stirring this proposed remedy. The reporter had a quick vision of a suffering freshman football player's being forced to swallow this gooey-sounding mess.

"Then," continued Curtice, "you take it off the stove, walk to the window, toss it out, and drink the pint of whiskey."

Senator La Follette Will Speak Here Saturday Night

The only Progressive senator in America, Senator Robert M. (Bob) La Follette of Wisconsin, will address W. T. students and Panhandle residents Saturday night at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the Administration Building.

ROBERT M. LA FOLLETTE

Collegiate Comedy Is Dec. 15-16

Heralded as one of the gayest comedies of the stage, Philip Barry's "Spring Dance," will be presented by popular W. T. actors in the Education Auditorium on the nights of December 15 and 16, at 8:15.

This youthful comedy with its collegiate background has drawn enthusiastic audiences all over America. Sophisticated New Yorkers, little-theatre goers, and students everywhere have found it equally amusing.

The story concerns a number of New England college girls in general and one, Alexandra—called Alex—Benson in particular. Alex sets her heart on Sam Thatcher, a Yale man who has turned against college and regimentation to set off for Russia with a free-thinking, rebellious, camera-fiend companion, bubbled "The Lippincott." Alex can't seem to get very far with the courtship herself, and her girl friends conspire to open Sam's eyes to something else besides Russia, Communism, and candid cameras.

The story of Alex's experiences is to be presented by a competent cast of actors including "Gaynelle" Dougless as Alex, Wayne Christian as Sam Thatcher, and Lawrence McBee as "The Lippincott." An excellent supporting cast includes Nell Stevenson, Paul Snyder, Dorothy Yearwood, Jack Walker, Glenn Davis, Weldon Dodson, Mogie Routh, Dolores Little, Billie Ruth King, and Ruth Kleins—all important name in dramatic news of West Texas State. Direction of the production is being handled by co-directors Prof. Baxter M. Geeting and Miss Helen Anglin of the speech department.

Do You Have A Cold?--Then Get One And Try These Remedies

By Dorothy McCormack

And I stopped feeling sorry for football players. Mr. Curtice, with his keen perceptive powers, sensed my relief, or envy, and became suspicious. "Have you been talking to some of my boys?"

"Take shots," advised Dean Jarrett. "When did you get a cold?"

I hadn't, but I immediately improvised one, caught during the Thanksgiving holidays.

"Go to bed," he ordered. "Wrap up warm, take a hot lemonade and cold shots."

"I have a remedy," and Dr. Ford Fronabarger stopped, his face rueful and hesitant. "But it wouldn't be a nice one for a young lady." I murmured a word, thinking of Coach Curtice's cure, and he nodded. "In hot lemonade."

Mr. Baker was at first more mystified by a stranger coming in to demand, "What's good for a cold?" than interested in revealing his remedy. "What do you do?" Mr.

Senator La Follette will speak at Tyler Friday night and will come by train arriving in Amarillo at 6:40 p. m. Saturday. Amarillo plans to welcome him and a group will accompany the senator to Canyon.

Elected to fill the unexpired term of his father, "Old Bob," Senator La Follette with his brother, Governor Phil La Follette are recognized as the leaders of the Progressive party and the La Follette political dynasty. "Young Bob" is the editor of the Progressive, the successor to his father's The Editor.

He is vice-chairman of the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation, and a member of the Joint Committee on Government organization. His term as senator expires in 1941.

His appearance here Saturday will be the only stop made in Northwest Texas and only four other Texas cities will be visited by him.

Wallace R. Clark, chairman of the lyceum committee said late yesterday afternoon that Senator La Follette would discuss "present economic problems but not partisan politics—more national than international."

The address will be a third lyceum program for this term and tickets will be one dollar for adults. Student activity tickets will admit students.

First General Election Set For Dec. 16

Balloting Saturday placed West Texas State under a new student constitution. In the election, which was conducted in the exact manner of state and local elections, 215 students voiced their approval of the new document and only fifteen were opposed to its adoption.

Temporary student body officers set the first general election for Dec. 16.

Eight Officers
Eight officers are to be elected including president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer of the Student's Association and five representatives to the Student Senate.

The senior and junior classes have already elected Senate representatives, however, Dorothy Dickinson, senior representative from Silverton, indicated yesterday that she would resign her Senate post. Miss Dickinson is president of Pi Omega, girls' social club, and the constitution provides that members of the Senate may not hold the office of president in any campus organization.

Class Representatives
Lawrence McBee, senior representative, said that he would resign as president of Alpha Psi Omega and the Gray County Club in order to retain his place in the Senate. Both junior representatives, Margaret Esther Hill and Taft Tolloway, indicated that they would resign as club presidents in order to remain in the Senate.

Class officers, which have already been elected by all classes, will remain in office, however, they will be elected by ballot in the general election after this year.

Nominations by Petitions
Nominations under the new constitution are made by a petition with the names of twenty-five students. Petitions should be filed with Glen Davis, temporary president of the student body. Petitions should be filed immediately. None had been turned in late yesterday.

Nominees for the student Senate should file as candidates for class Senate representative, Place No. I or Place No. II. The two Senate positions from each class will be known as Place No. I and Place No. II.

The election Saturday was fashioned after state and local elections, and all student body elections under the new constitution will be conducted in the same manner. Prof. S. H. Condon, head of the government department, was in charge of the election procedure, and George Davis of Amarillo served as judge. Others assisting included: Billie Bee Flesher of Canyon, Winnie Dee Hicks of Canyon, Ernest Kerr of Hereford, Bill Longbine of Claude, Bill Cone of Canyon, Gerald Manzer of Wellington and Royce Jones of Higgins.

Fr. Charles Jansen Describes European Situation Tuesday

Twenty students were present at the first meeting of Father Charles Jansen's study club in Room 103 of the Education Building Tuesday evening.

Father Jansen told of conditions in Europe today and compared them with conditions at the outbreak of the World War in 1914. Germany, he said, has the strongest defense of any country in the world, but is suppressing any publicizing the fact. France, he believes, made a grave mistake in boasting of her defense, for in 1914 Belgium did the same thing, and Germany broke it in two hours. When Father Jansen was five years old, he watched this take place from his home in Holland near the border of Belgium.

None of the people, Germans or otherwise, want war, he said. Hitler realizes, he pointed out, that his people are not fully behind him, and that is a cause of a great part of the heavy propaganda surging in Germany. Father Jansen recently received a letter from his mother in Holland, in which she said they were living in constant fear of another war.

The study club will meet again Thursday evening, December 15. All students are invited to join the group.

A record correspondence enrollment of 676 is reported by the University of Texas.

THE PRAIRIE

Beginning this week, W. T. students are under a new student constitution. Though there are yet few visible results, adoption of the new constitution Saturday is a significant event in the history of W. T. It is the first set-up for real student participation in school government, since the old constitution provided for a student council which was only advisory.

Officers for the new Students' Association will be elected within the next two weeks. The new plan provides for election identical with regular state and local elections. This will give students an opportunity to determine the quality of each candidate before the election. Under the old system, all class and student body officers were elected from the floor at class and student body meetings. This system offered no opportunity for the candidate to make public a platform since he did not become a candidate until a few minutes before the election.

Students should take full advantage of the time between nomination and election under the new system. It is now possible to weigh carefully the qualifications of each candidate for each office.

Modesty which prohibits a student from becoming a candidate for a student office on his own initiative must be eliminated under the new system. Students who offer their services to the student body or to their class by becoming candidates merit the respect of all students.

The problems confronting the first set of officers make their positions doubly important, and for this reason every student should vote in the first election after carefully considering each candidate.

To Aristotle it seemed very plain that from the dead and inanimate is made the living, and everything that has lived is eventually turned back to death. He believed that nothing was wasted and that everything was used over again.

But Aristotle was blind to much. Then too, he never dreamed of life coming from life. "Now man can peer down through the microscope and up at the revealed stars," a writer tells us, "and behold the lens has only multiplied the facts and deepened the mystery."

This world is filled with mysteries, and in a nation of such rapid advance in science and so many adjacent fields, why should there be such a feeling of despair among students as to the terrible conditions of our present generation? There is always something new under the sun, as has been proved in these hard times by those who have found it necessary to make and do something new. So many facts and mysteries and things to do are yet to be sought out.

The treasure-box of discovery hasn't even been opened yet, and so far, we have only been focusing a little light on the new things which will come out if delved into by a progressive and interested people engaged in the pursuit of new fields.—W. B. D. in Los Angeles Junior Collegian.

After a recess during the Thanksgiving holidays, members of Tony's Club got together last Monday night for more fun and exercise. Coach Tony Douglas, assisted by Jack Cur-tice, has been putting the men thru some limbering-up exercises before turning theme loose to play volleyball, hand ball, basketball, or other games.

More business men ought to be coming out to enjoy the fun and to receive the benefits of a little guided exercise. All college professors are also invited to take a part in these meetings.

Beginning tonight the meetings will be held in the gymnasium of the Education Building at 7:30 p. m.

EDUCATION IN POLITICS

OVERHEARD (by V. M.)

For many years the political plan in the United States has been for the voters to elect the man who gave the best show. Modern education is bringing about a change for the better in this system. Instead of people running for office with personalities as the main issues, authorities in various fields are entering politics. This is a good sign for the future of the American political institution. Government will profit as a result.

Men who have had long years of public service and understand people who have elected them can serve best. Educators and business men who understand the problems which affect the public most can solve those problems more quickly and with more successful results. A person who has studied and understands economics, history and people themselves would make a much better office holder than a person who has studied politics and the art of getting votes. The former has a background for his study in office, the latter only his ambitions for higher and more important government positions.

There are many requirements for a person to be a candidate for an office, but no one seems to have thought of including a high intelligence rating as one of them. The merit system would fit in perfectly in this plan and would answer the questions of how education could improve politics.

Examinations could be given aspirants to all political offices. And a candidate would have to make a certain average before he would be allowed to place his name on the ballot. Political candidates would then be educated for the office and the American people would benefit from the efficiency of a government by politicians who knew their business and could make a success of it!

Prize Novel Included In Last Shipment Received by Library

Included in the shipment of twenty new books received by the library for its first collection is the new $10,000 first novel prize winner, "Young Doctor Galahad," by Eliza-beth Seifert. It is an exciting nar-rative of a young doctor, his career, his girl, and his ideals.

It is a dramatic revelation in fic-tion form of the questions which the medical profession is facing to-day—on the one hand quackery and low-grade doctors, on the other hand the sheer physical impossi-bility of making good medical service available to the masses in need of it. Elizabeth Seifert has chosen a big subject for her novel. That she tells it with ease and with a quick variety of situations is deceptive until the reader realizes that this small town might be any small town and that its medical problems have a significance that is nation-wide.

The author spent several years in a large hospital and has since kept in close touch with the medical situation in her neighborhood. She brings to this story not only a technical knowledge of the medical world, but also a keen human un-derstanding of the wants and needs of the people about her.

The complete list of books receiv-ed included: London, "Sailor on Horseback"; Cappell, "In the Name of Common Sense"; Jessup, "Edith Root," "Journey to Manaos"; Leech and Carroll, "Armour and His Times"; Mantle, "Best Plays for '37-'38"; Spring "My Son, My Son!"; Van Doren, "Benjamin Franklin"; Seifert, "Young Doctor Galahad"; Socherl, "The Fun of Photogra-phy"; Leeming, "The Costume Book"; Erskine, "The Start of the Road"; Coffin, "Maine Ballads"; Mackenzie, "The Windsor Tapes-try"; Buchholtz, "The Saga of Frank Dover"; John, "Crippled Splendor"; Poore, "Gova"; Maurier, "Rebecca"; Woodward, "Tom Watson"; Barrett, "Woman on Horseback."

F.A. Thomas Leads Scoring March With 54 Points

A check-up on scoring for the Buffs' ten game season just completed reveals that Big F. A. Thomas, sensational fullback and graduating member of the Buffalo varsity, heads the list with 9 touchdowns for a total of 54 points. Foster Watkins, quarterback and West Texas' nomination for little All-America honors ranks second with five touchdowns and twenty-two kicks from placement for a total of 52 points.

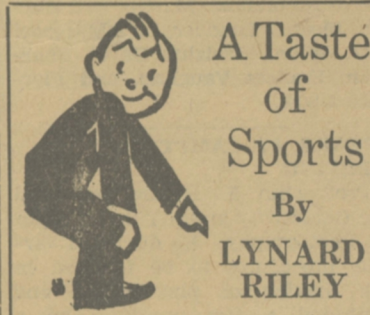

The list follows:

Player	touch downs	extra points	field goals	totals
F. A. Thomas	9	0	0	54
Foster Watkins	5	22	0	52
Lother Stephenson	6	0	0	36
Floyd Murry	5	0	0	30
Odell Washington	3	1	0	19
Blake Lyde	2	0	0	12
Joe Hayes	2	0	0	12
Dewey Johnson	1	0	0	6
	33	23	0	221

Carl Matney, blocking back from Vernon, Texas, and Donald Kendrick, end from Groom, Texas, both Juniors were elected to lead the '39 Buffaloes by the returning squad members at a special "T" Club meeting last week.

Matney and Kendrick, both, by their fire and chatter on the field, coupled with their unassuming manner off the playing field, have made themselves favorites with fans and teammates alike. Kendrick is a two-year letterman at his post and a regular starter the past season. Matney, though not a consistent starter, got into most of the games and proved a tartar at his line backing position.

A Taste of Sports
By LYNARD RILEY

Football has become history and the campus is agog with feverish basketball chatter. And little wonder for basketball has done more to publicize West Texas and West Texas athletics more than any other one thing. Good basketball has been the tradition at W. T. where great basketball teams are turned out consistently each year.

The coaches are jubilant about the basketball set-up for this year. Coach Baggett can't control the pleased grin when he mentions his bunch of giraffes. Freshman Coach Jack Curtice says of his team, "I've got some sweet boys here" and even the intramural coaches are catching the fever as they loudly boast that his team is 'gonna have easy pickins'.

As for the varsity, Coach Baggett will doubtless miss Conway Butler with his easy methodical style of play and the much-copied overhead push shot, and Craig Walling to come through when the going gets tight. But to offset this he has three of his last year's regular starters back in harness with their accumulated experience and a great bunch of sophomores that toted away everything down their line last year.

Boxing and wrestling are definitely in the air. Coach Tony Dougal issued a call for boxers and wrestlers yesterday, but a great number of aspiring gladiators have been working out for several weeks. Some of the oldtimers at the game who have done much to help revive this ancient sport at West Texas include J. E. Pietsch, winner of the Dallas A. A. U. last year and who had his chance to go to the Nationals; Jim Foust, Golden Gloves winner last year; and Pug Horton, Northwestern Conference champion in the wrestling division.

Some promising newcomers are sure to be uncorked. Dewey Vaughn, who lost to J. E. Pietsch in the finals at Dallas last year is liable to give Pietsch a few headaches in the heavyweight division.

COLDS

is I didn't see how a teaspoon of soda, dry or wet, could go into it with consciousness of the soda flavor. But Mr. Baker assured me again of the success of this method, so you have it.

After heating around the mulberry bush for a while and hiding behind the books on his desk, Mr. Baker finally came out and admitted that he thinks a hot toddy is good for a cold. When the kids get a cold, Mrs. Baker covers them with Vicks, varnishes their throats with some substance with a complicated name, gives them a purgative, and puts them to bed.

Frances Campbell, carrying a bone, wandered nonchalantly into the office and voiced a question in the labored voice that denotes a cold.

"What are you doing for your cold?" Mr. Baker slyly asked her. He was getting into the spirit of the thing.

"I've taken two aspirins, two cold tablets, salts. No, not all at once. And watched my diet and not eaten too heavily."

Miss Black, over in the corner, looked up from her book and contributed, "We have been discussing colds in home nursing and one is advised to go to bed, drink lots of water, and stay on a liquid diet."

There ensued a mild argument as to how much water is lots of water. Miss Black said six to eight glasses, but Mr. Baker insisted on a glass every hour. Mr. Baker won the argument by quoting triumphantly from an old doctor, "What you can't kill with medicine, you can drown."

"Go to bed for three to five days," is the prescription of Mr. Hinkle.

Mr. Hinkle's rest cure originated in treatment in the hospital of the university he attended. A student reporting to the hospital with a cold was put to bed on a screened porch, often in freezing temperatures, with no magazines, no books, nothing to do but lie out there for three days. He was given only light food and no medicines.

By the time I stopped Dr. C. A. Pierle in the hall I was beginning to feel like a creature of deceit and admitted recklessly that I did have a cold. Dr. Pierle questioned me as to the specific cause of my cold. When did I get it? During the holidays. How did I eat—fully, gorgeously, or mournfully? For a cold caused by overeating, Dr. Pierle prescribes a purgative taken for quick action, followed by an alkaline. For a cold caused by chill, as at a football game, Dr. Pierle says the alkaline is unnecessary.

There you have the remedies. Cure your cold and tell us your method.

INSTRUMENTAL TRIO FORMED

An instrumental trio, composed of piano, violin, and cello, has been organized in the music department of the college. Students playing in the trio are, Marjorie Wilkinson, piano, Kenneth Hohaus, violin, and Nell Stevenson, cello.

The trio plays for the Knife and Fork Club in Amarillo at each of their monthly meetings, and also for different activities of the college.

New trio music has just been received, and the trio has begun work on it.

First Round In Volley Call Play Nearing Completion

Play in the first round of the women's all-college volleyball tournament neared a climax in last week's play with Cousins Hall still leading with 1,000 per cent. They have played only two games, however, and have still to meet some of the best teams entered.

The standings follow:

Team	played	won	pct.
Cousins	2	2	1.000
Out-in-Town	5	4	.800
Mesquite	4	3	.750
McGehee	5	3	.600
Cactus	5	2	.400
Third Avenue	5	2	.400
Paul House	4	1	.250
Randall	4	0	.000

McGehee and Third Avenue took honors in games played Nov. 28. McGehee defeated Cactus 15-6, 15-8, and Third Street won over Randall 15-5, 12-15, 15-12. Thursday night McGehee House won over Randall 15-10, 15-10. On the same night, Cousins Hall won over the Paul House 15-13, 15-6.

No games are scheduled for this week, but play will be resumed next week. Monday night, the undefeated Cousins Hall sextette will clash with the girls of Mesquite Lodge, and the Paul House will play Cactus Lodge. These four teams are evenly matched past performances indicate.

Dec. 15, Cousins Hall and Out-in-Town girls, the two top teams in the tourney, will tangle. On the same date Randall Hall plays Mesquite Lodge.

Roy Stallings, freshman student from Perryton, was called home Thursday after the death of his grandmother.

Horton and Watkins Placed on Raven All-Opponent Team

The Raven of St. Benedict's college in picking their all-opponents' team have named two Buffaloes on the eleven.

The Buffs chosen for the honor are Foster Watkins, quarterback, and Pug Horton, guard. Watkins was declared to be the best passer ever to toss a ball into the Raven backfield many times during the afternoon.

Pug Horton, guard, and Floyd Murry, quarterback, rated the distinction twice.

The list follows:

F. A. Thomas—East Texas game.
Blake Lyde—Southeastern Oklahoma State.

Freshman Gridsters Select Harold Ricketts 'Most Valuable Player'

Harold Ricketts of Amarillo has been voted the most valuable player on the freshman football squad in the season just closed. The squad made the selection by secret ballot.

Ricketts, former Amarillo Sandstorm star and brilliant end for the frosh this season, will receive the J. W. Kleinschmidt trophy. Mr. Kleinschmidt is a local business man who annually gives this award and one of the most valuable members of the Buffalo squad. The latter award will not be announced until the annual gridiron banquet later this month.

Ricketts played on an undefeated freshman squad and one so powerful that Freshman Coach Jack C. Curtice could not find opponents for the latter part of the season. The 165 pound Amarillo speedster had his greatest success in the thrilling 21-19 victory over Altus Junior College, the Oklahoma champions. He caught two passes for touchdowns and made the other score on an end-around play.

Ricketts and his mates were joined at mid-season by Elwin Ricketts, his 205-pound brother. Elwin is a center and sensational linebacker who is expected to bring many a smile to the face of Head Coach Al Baggett next year.

Seven freshmen received votes for the "most valuable" award—an indication of the large amount of talent which will move up to varsity competition in 1939.

Buff Cagers Speed Training With Daily Three-Hour Drills

Three hour practices were served to the Buffalo varsity basketball players every day last week as Coach Baggett guided his fourteen-man squad through preliminary drills in an effort to erase a few of the early season faults before the first game.

But a week isn't long enough to get a firm foothold on basketball after tossing a football around for three months. Amburn, Cullender, Hayes, Johnson, Kendrick, Price, Stephenson, Taylor and Wiggins have been playing football. It will be an uncertain outfit that takes the floor Monday night against the rated Bulldogs of Southwestern, and Coach Baggett is a bit hesitant regarding his chances in this early season tussle. However, of his men Baggett said, "They combine speed with height and I'm looking forward to as great a season as last year," and it is well remembered that the '38 crop of stars won 23 out of their 24 scheduled games.

Two seniors, Joe Hayes and Raymond Shackelford, two juniors, Ernest Schur and Captain Lother Stephenson, and a sophomore, Borden Price, are expected to get the starting nods. Hayes and Schur, speedsters and both midgets in the field of giants, swiped the limelight in the week's scrimmages and Shackelford is tipping them in with mid-season accuracy. But the question mark hinges around Borden Price, probably the fastest man on the squad, but unseasoned, and Captain Lother Stephenson, who at this early stage of the game is likely to take a teammate pass and stiff arm his way down the court.
