

Five Colleges Will Send 'Y' Delegates

Luther Tucker To Make Two Addresses Before Conference

Representatives of five colleges will come to the campus for the annual West Texas area conference of the Young Women's-Young Men's Christian associations Saturday and Sunday.

Luther Tucker, who recently returned from a visit in China and Japan, will talk to the group Saturday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock. The subject of his lecture, to be given in the auditorium of the Education building, will be "Understanding of the Kingdom of God."

Students from Amarillo Junior college, Hardin Junior college, Texas Tech, Eastern New Mexico college of Portales, and Panhandle A. & M. college of Goodwell, Okla., plan to attend the conference. Registration for members of the local organizations as well as the visitors will begin Saturday afternoon in the Education building.

A second talk by Mr. Tucker will be made at the colorful recreational hall of Buffalo Courts at 7:30 o'clock. Refreshments and games will follow the lecture.

The annual Y retreat to Palo Duro canyons will be made Sunday morning—where the group will convene at Coronado Lodge.

College students may join the party upon payment of the necessary fee, 75 cents, said La Nelle Scheihagen, president of the YWCA.

Dr. Hill Returns From Visits In California, Austin

Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Hill have returned from a trip to California where Dr. and Mrs. Hill visited their son, Joe, who is employed by the Douglas Aircraft Company in Santa Monica. Miss Louise Holgate accompanied the President and visited her brother in the northern part of the state.

Immediately after returning to Canyon, Dr. Hill took a plane to Austin to appear before the legislature. He will make another trip to Austin later this month.

Dr. Hill's calendar is unusually full for the spring term—meeting with the committees at Austin, addressing high school graduating classes and many other regular duties.

County Club To Be Host To Seniors

High school seniors of Armstrong and Donley counties and sophomores of Clarendon Junior College will be entertained here April 27 by the strong Armstrong-Donley County club of West Texas State College students.

Webb Garland of Clarendon, president of the College group, said about 125 seniors were to be guests of the Armstrong-Donley club, which will give a picnic at Buffalo lake from 12:30 to 2:30 p. m. High school teachers of the two counties will be entertained on the campus.

The visitors will be taken on tours of the campus during the afternoon.

Magician Will Be Here Wednesday

Mondro, well-known magician, will present a two-hour performance in the auditorium of the Administration building tomorrow night. The program is sponsored by Epsilon Beta fraternity.

Beginning at 8 p. m., the artists will present an array of modern and oriental magic. Four acts are included.

The attraction will bring a truck load of equipment for the one night performance.

Vendor Could Get Under Bed And Watch From There

James Harrison, Stafford hall resident, has established a 24-hour candy business in his room. Harrison is using the honor system in his business. Whenever a resident or visitor of Stafford wants a piece of candy, the selection may be made and the money can be left on the counter. Even the box in which the money is deposited is left open that the correct change may be made.

Addresses Students

District Contests To Open Friday

Twelve Counties Send Entries; Savage Is Director General

Contestants from twelve counties will come here Friday and Saturday for the District I Interscholastic League annual eliminations.

Counties included in District I are Randall, Potter, Swisher, Armstrong, Castro, Parmer, Deaf Smith, Oldham, Hartley, Moore, Sherman, and Dallam. Contestants in all events, including the athletic meet, will pay an entry fee of 25 cents each.

Registration for literary events will begin at 9 a. m. Friday. Three new contests will be in music memory, girls' volley ball and golf. Ribbons will be available for individual winners, and a team trophy will be presented the winning volley ball team.

President J. A. Hill announced yesterday that classes will meet Friday morning and Saturday. Most of the College faculty will be busy as judges Friday afternoon, and classes will be excused.

Prof. F. E. Savage is director general of the meet, and Coach Jack C. Curtice is director of athletics. The Region I meeting is scheduled to meet here April 20 with winners from Lubbock, Childress, Pampa, and Canyon districts entering.

Twenty-Six Pass First Aid Course

Twenty-six certificates for students who passed the Red Cross first aid course have arrived and will be presented by Guy Harp, chairman of the local chapter.

Carolyn Greenway of Hamlin made the highest rating of the course taught by Dr. R. P. Jarrett, Jr. The short course was required of students enrolled in the scout course.

Women who passed the examination are Roberta Wales, May Belle Tomlin, Lucy Hedgecock, Erma F. Robinson, Helen Cherry, Ida Martha Pierle, Mary E. Davis, Phyllis Holgate, and Mary Orton.

Others not in the Scout class or in the physical education major group are Marjorie Kirk, Bob Patterson, John Zimmer, Alvin Smith, Olie Brown, and W. Miller.

BUFF PHOTOS IN DEMAND

More than one hundred photographs of the squad and members of the "World's Tallest Team" have been mailed by the college news service to magazines, press services and individuals who have requested them. One set of pictures went to Paris, France, and another to Porto Rico. The demands grew out of pictures and articles in Life magazine, national columns and feature services, and news stories on the tournaments entered by the Buffs.

MUSEUM IS FEATURED

Noted Speakers on Banquet Program

P.PHS Meeting Will Be May 10; Holden, Anderson To Talk

In developing a Coronado celebration theme at the annual sessions of the Panhandle-Plains Historical society here May 10, the program committee will present Dr. W. C. Holden of Texas Technological College at Lubbock and Clinton P. Anderson of Albuquerque, N. M. as speakers. Dr. Holden, chairman of the historical anthropological, and social science research at Lubbock, will speak at the afternoon session, which will begin at 3 o'clock. Dr. Holden has written many books on Southwestern history and is connected with the West Texas Museum at Lubbock.

Dr. Anderson, secretary of the Federal Coronado commission, will be the main speaker at the banquet that evening. He is directing the Coronado Celebration in the Southwest. His hobby is collecting histories of the Southwest and he has one of the largest collections of books of this sort. He is a past-president of Rotary International. His ability as a speaker is widely known.

Tickets to the banquet at Cousins Hall will be $1. Advance reservations may be made with Prof. W. L. Vaughan, treasurer of the Society. The toastmaster will be Judge James D. Hamlin of Farwell, president of the Society. The banquet will start at 7 p. m. following a visiting hour beginning at 6.

The program will include Spanish music by Jose and Maria of the Mexican Inn in Amarillo, and a skit by the Spanish students of W. T. Prof. L. F. Sheffy is secretary of the society.

Social Calendar Filled With Spring Senior Activities

Highlighting the social interest at W. T. this spring will be a series of dramatic, musical, and recreational activities for the seniors.

Discussion of important commencement activities in the last class meeting evidenced enthusiasm among the graduates for the forthcoming socials.

Plans for the Senior Sneak are being kept in complete secrecy, and the class picnic has been called off in favor of an all-college picnic which will be held at Buffalo Lake in the near future.

The cast for the senior play has not been selected yet, but its date has been designated as May 22-23.

Senior class day will be May 25, and the President's reception will be at 8:30 on the evening of the same day.

The high point of the season will be commencement services on May 30, featuring the Honorable R. B. Anderson of Vernon as main speaker. The Baccalaureate sermon will be made by the Rev. Robert Boshen, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Pampa; on May 26 at the First Methodist Church.

Fifty-two seniors had placed orders for invitations, twenty-three for cards, and ninety-six had made arrangements for caps and gowns Friday morning. Deadlines for these orders have already been made, and any senior wishing to place in another order for invitations, cards, or caps will be charged extra, the college bookstore manager said.

Local Judging Teams Win In Contest

The vocational agriculture teams from Canyon high school and the college demonstration school entered the Area I vocational agriculture contest at Lubbock April 6.

Both schools entered the dairy cattle judging, live stock judging, and crop judging contests. The teams won third in beef cattle judging, first in horse judging, and fifth in the entire live stock contest. There were a total of 55 teams from all over this section of the country entered in the contest.

Charles Gerald from Canyon high school won first in the entire live stock contest and was also high in the horse judging contest.

In the crop judging contest, Virgil Walton was high. In this group of judging, the team won seventh. The dairy cattle team, the live stock team, and the soil conservation team, qualified for the state contest to be held at Texas A. & M. College on April 27th.

STUDENTS IN HOSPITAL

Girls are still in the majority at the Neblett hospital. Those receiving hospitalization last week were: Connally Lockhart, Edna Graham, Mary F. King, Loramack Hawkins, Ima Jean Culwell.

College Will Be Host To Fathers And Mothers San Jacinto Day

To Receive Honor

D. A. SHIRLEY

D. A. Shirley Will Receive LL. D.

Honorary Degree To Be Given By TCU To Registrar June 3

Announcement has been made in Fort Worth that D. A. Shirley, registrar and associate dean of West Texas State College, will be given an honorary LL. D. degree by Texas Christian University June 3.

Mr. Shirley is an alumnus of T. C. U., class of 1904.

"Allow me to say that this is an honor which I think you richly deserve, and both the Board and faculty are in hearty accord," wrote President E. M. Waite of T. C. U. to Mr. Shirley.

Mr. Shirley was assistant business manager-treasurer of T. C. U. for five years following graduation. He spent two years in the Hereford public schools and two years in Hereford College, one as president of the latter, before coming to West Texas State in 1913 as head of the department of physics.

In 1923 he became registrar. He has been associate dean since 1918.

Exes' New Program Will Parallel Ten-Year Plan

This week will bring the launching of a new program of the Ex-Student association as planned by the board of directors and President W. B. Weathered of Pampa.

Two of the most effective of the steps adopted will be the employment of a field secretary and the organization of county units for every county.

A program coordinated with the 10-year plan drawn by the board of regents for the college is being completed, and some phases have already been adopted. Objectives of the ex-student plan are steps to hasten the following improvements: More industrial shops and equipment, supplementing the NYA shop and aviation mechanics projects. More dormitories and cooperative boarding places.

Library, science, and student union buildings, regarded as the most pressing needs of the college at this time.

Part-time field secretary for Ex-Students association immediately and full-time secretary ultimately. Ex-Student organizations in every county, molding the body of more than 20,000 former students into an effective unit of influence.

Cooperation with the Students' association in both campus and off-campus activities.

Ex-Student association memberships and contributions will be sought at once to finance this program. Considerable progress already is reported by Lee L. Johnson, secretary of the group.

Directors conferring with Mr. Weathered—Gray county school superintendent—here Saturday were Supt. G. H. Jones of Happy, Supt. J. C. Baker of Adrian, and Prof. Johnson. Others present included Dr. J. A. Hill, Mrs. T. V. Reeves, Olin E. Hinkle, and Virgil Henson.

Action Begins For Election April 26

Miracle Party Will Have Candidates; To Announce Platform

Activity in the student election of April 26 seemed to be getting underway early this week, when one of the major parties began circulating petitions for officers.

Bill Longbine, junior from Claude, indicated that the Miracle party is making candidate selections and that a full report would be made next week.

"Although the Miracle's action in the 1939 election was more for publicity than to win the election, the group will place prominent students in each post this year," Longbine said. He insisted that the party organization is clever and the policies the most desirable in the history of local party activity.

The petition for Glenn Davis of Shamrock, as president of the senior class was the first received in the office of the president of the Students' association. The name of Hollis Bledsoe of Westbrook has been petitioned for president of the Students' association.

College Women To Elect New Officers For YWCA Today

College women will select officers for the Young Women's Christian association for the 1940-41 school term at a special election today. Polls opened at 8 o'clock this morning and will remain open until 5 p. m. on the first floor hall of the Administration building.

Selection will be made between Mary Byerly, junior from Wink, and Sarah Thompson, sophomore of Canyon, for president of the organization.

Other nominees are: Vice-president, Mary Stringfellow, Nara Visa, N. M., and Elizabeth Hudspeth, Dallas; secretary, Aylene Gates, O'Donnell, and Evelyn Milam, Sudan; finance chairman, La Nell Sims, Post, and Marjorie Renfro, Dallas.

All college women are eligible to vote, although they may not be affiliated with the organization during the current term, said La Nelle Scheihagen, president.

New Instructor

FREDERICK SCHMUTZ

Summer Session Is Taking Form

Hollywood Actor Will Be Acting Head of Speech Department

Fredrick H. Schmutz of Hollywood, Calif., whose stage and movie name is Clay Mercer, is the most recent addition to the faculty for the summer term opening June 4. He will be acting head of the speech department.

Schmutz had a speaking part in "Gone With the Wind," but his best known for having had the juvenile lead in the Ann Harding production of "Candida." He reads script for the Samuel Goldwyn Studios. He has an M. A. degree from the University of California, where he taught in the speech improvement clinic. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa. His teaching experience also includes work at Black Foxe Military Institute and George Pepperdine College. Instructors and associates call him a superior teacher.

Schmutz will teach classes in public speaking, speech correction, and seminar in speech, and will take the lead in the major stage production of the summer. Stage work will be stressed as a recreational project.

Another summer instructor in speech will be Howard Graham of Amarillo Junior College, who has had two years as an actor on Broadway. He has an M. A. degree from Northwestern University.

Dr. Baxter M. Geeting, head of the College department, will teach at the Pasadena Playhouse, which is affiliated with the University of Southern California, during the summer, and Dr. Helen Ogg of the department will teach at the University of California. Dr. Geeting will remain here until June 15 and will deliver a few lectures to summer students before going to California to teach play directing.

To a long list of picked faculty members from the resident group, Dr. J. A. Hill is adding other special instructors.

Dr. Ernest A. Hedberg of Baylor University will teach mathematics. Nels L. Nelson of Virginia, Minn., will teach audio-visual education. Grant Reynard of Leonia, N. J., internationally known painter and etcher, will return as artist-in-residence at the Palo Duro School of Art. Derald T. Swineford of Norman, Okla., will teach crafts and sculpturing in the same school. Miss Angie Nail of Greenville, Miss., will be in charge of the nursery school sponsored by the department of home economics. Felix Phillips, principal of the Sanborn school in Amarillo, will be an instructor in Education.

Returning to direct the summer Band School August 5-15 will be Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Nutt of the VanderCook School of Music, Chicago.

Other special instructors will be announced prior to the opening of the session.

"Y" TO HEAR CONDRON

Prof. S. H. Condron will address the Y. W. C. A. this afternoon on "Developing Attitudes Toward Contemporary Problems." His talk will initiate the series of Contemporary Problems, a unit talk led by Frances Phillips. All women of the college and any visitors are invited to hear Prof. Condron in room 205 at 4:30 o'clock, La Nelle Scheihagen, president said.

CHORUS TO APPEAR

The woman's chorus will give an assembly program of songs of the Southwest, April 20, for San Jacinto day and Parent's day. They will appear on a similar program for a college radio broadcast April 22.

Chapel Program To Honor Parents

Women's Chorus Will Sing—Four Texas History Plays Ready

April 21 will be a busy day at West Texas. It has been designated Fathers' and Mothers' Day, an addition to the annual San Jacinto day celebration.

President J. A. Hill is sending invitations to the fathers and mothers of students to be guests of the college and to spend the day on the campus. They will be special guests at the assembly program at 11 a. m.

A special San Jacinto program has been arranged to include three numbers by the Women's chorus under the direction of Prof. Wallace R. Clark. The chorus will sing "Will You Come To My Bow?", "Texas May I Never Wander," by David Guion, and "La Cucaracha," folk song.

An address by Bishop E. C. Seaman of Amarillo will be made following four monodramas of Texas history entitled Stephen F. Austin, Sam Houston, Cattlemen and sheepmen, and Texas industry. Alma Mater will close the program over which Dean R. P. Jarrett will preside.

"Dads and mothers will be shown every courtesy while on the campus," Dr. Hill said yesterday. He explained that parents will be able to contact the instructors with whom their boys and girls work.

More Than Half Of Students Favor Teaching Profession

Fifty-two per cent of W. T. students favor the teaching profession to all others. However, only 16 per cent plan to make teaching a lifetime vocation. Results compiled from a recent survey conducted by The Prairie show that only 8.1 per cent of the women and 27.3 per cent of the men plan to make teaching a life-time vocation.

In answer to the question "Did you plan to teach before you came to college?" 64 per cent said no.

The largest percentage of men who at the present time have decided to teach are sophomores and the largest among women are seniors. The smallest number are among junior and senior men and junior women, with sophomore women running a close second.

The survey showed that of those questioned, more freshmen of both sexes and junior men and senior women are taking education than of all other classes surveyed.

Of the 50 per cent of women who plan to teach, only 25.8 per cent intend to get a degree higher than a bachelors, while 82 per cent of the men, of the 54 per cent who plan to teach, have decided to get masters and doctors degrees.

Delphian Club Adds $100 To Loan Fund

An addition of nearly $100 to its student loan fund here has been made by the Delphian Club of Memphis.

The gift, announced by Prof. S. H. Condron for the Gregg Cousins Memorial Loan Fund committee which administers the Delphian Club loans also, increased the total provided by the Memphis clubwomen to more than $2,000.

The Delphian Club loan fund was established in December of 1938, when $1700 was deposited with the college. Hall county students have first claim to the fund, but students of other counties also are beneficiaries. Upperclassmen are favored.

Many students are able to complete work for their degrees only because of loans from the Delphian fund.

ADDRESS CLASSES

Governmental problems will be discussed by public officials each week in a public administration (402) class taught by Prof. S. H. Condron.

First of these speakers was Sheriff M. E. Cantrell, who talked on duties of his office Monday.

FACULTY MEETING OF THIS WEEK DELAYED

The regular monthly faculty meeting scheduled for today will not be held, but instead will convene Thursday at 4:30 p. m., it was announced today.

The foundation of the state is the education of its youth—Dionysins.

April—Cancer Control Month

April has been dedicated as cancer control month following a proclamation by President Roosevelt. An ambitious program points to control through education. Medical authorities insist that the defeatist attitude toward cancer which is prevalent contributes to the increase of cancer in this country. The belief that cancer is incurable even though detected in early stages prevails. It is on this point that much of the instruction concerning cancer in the past has been concentrated.

Other important phases of the control program will be discounting false beliefs in the causes of cancer, and making known its symptoms. The aim will be to discredit certain false ideas concerning its causes and to make widespread the ways in which the average person can detect the disease; that is, its symptoms. It is a fight to change the record that one in every person who reaches the age of 40 can expect to be a victim of a cancer death.

If recognition given to first-voters can reveal to the new citizens the responsibilities of a citizen in a democratic-governed society, then the sponsors will believe more in the future of a democratic government.

It is believed that every person contacting the campus will respect the college as a state institution consciously with the American flag displayed daily.

Publicity on the instruments used by the Curtis String Quartet is more widespread than that of the players' ability. We suggest that skeptic Rosenfield of the Dallas News, who branded the strads as "alleged originals" refer to a recent issue of News-week for a report on the authenticity of the instruments.

Wells, and then there are those diplomats of the U. S. Government who talk too much, such as Bullitt and Cromwell.

Selecting a group of men who consistently dress more attractively than their fellow students has brought about a statement of motive for such a contest. If one thinks on the subject, it may be realized that many of the local men have the clothes necessary to dress well if it were not for personal carelessness. And there are others who need to give a little thought to their appearance. An objective is that the decision will be more difficult for the judges at the next election.

In chasing quotations for the epitaph which usually heads this column we have come across any number of other remarks by various writers which seemed particularly interesting. Today we'll present some of these:

THE BLACK REAPER

Not exactly an epitaph but on a kindred subject, Samuel Butler in The Way of All Flesh furnishes an exceptional conception of death: "What we call death is only a shock great enough to destroy our power to recognize a past and a present as something resembling one another."

In the same novel he speaks of a man who, when his wife died, "buried his face in his handkerchief to conceal his want of emotion."

Charles Lamb furnishes an interesting remark on the passing of an acquaintance: "Ralph Bigod, Esq., who departed this life on Wednesday evening; dying as he had lived, without much trouble."

BEAU BRUMMEL

Although Thomas Hardy wrote The Return of the Native nearly a century ago, we still may observe some whom this description would fit. "He was one in whom no man would have seen anything to admire, and in whom no woman would have seen anything to dislike."

A somewhat similar character is depicted in Butler's story, quoted above: "He was not actually a blackguard; he belonged to a debatable class between the subreputable and the upper disreputable."

His feminine counterpart is described by George Eliot's The Mill on the Floss: "She was a woman who adjusted her waist and patted her curls with a preoccupied air when she inquired after your welfare."

PHILOSOPHIZINGS

"A virtue to be serviceable must, like gold, be alloyed with some commoner, more durable metal," says Butler. And again he compounds this practicalism: "Having, then, once introduced an element of inconsistency into his system, he was far too consistent not to be inconsistent consistently."

FACULTY FANCIES

The problem of transportation for the Twenty-First Century has already been partly solved by one W. T. professor. He suggests that anyone desiring to travel from Canyon to New York need proceed to the nearest telegraph office. There his body will be broken down electrically and ionized so that it may be sent over a wire to its destination.

There another instrument will reverse the process and he can go on about his business, having travelled 2,000 miles in twenty minutes or less.

It's a great idea but we can't help wondering what would happen if the wires were disrupted in a thunderstorm or if a short-circuit occurred. Imagine, too, the plight of a staid and upright citizen who happened to be travelling on a wire that got crossed with that of a blonde private secretary.

DITTO

Another faculty member is brushing together the details of mass-psychology for the radio program of the future. This little item would represent a carefully planned psychological attack upon each listener which would compel him to do as directed, like it or not.

Of course the scheme envisages the immediate promulgation of world peace, but our "wonderer" just couldn't help getting to work and thinking of the rush that might be impending for Carter's Little Liver Pills.

SPRING NOTE: The latest spring colors in movies have recently been shown in Canyon, namely, "Northwest Passage" and "The Blue Bird." Not only has the Olympic brought color to her screen, but beautiful and comfortable, blue-green, cushioned seats have replaced old ones. The Olympic is to be congratulated on her progressiveness.

OIL!

The construction crew of "Boom Town," starring Gable, Tracy, Colbert, and Lamarr, could well turn oil experts. They have to build a complete oil town as well as a man-controlled gusher hurling 15,000 gallons a minute 300 feet into the air. Gable, who plays the part of a driller in this story of the early oil industry in Texas fields, was once an oil driller in Oklahoma.

SCHOOL TEACHER

Northwest Texas State Teacher's College has invited alumna Ann Sheridan to conduct a series of lectures on motion pictures. Ann's decision rests with Warner Bros. who control her program.

Bob Hope installed a swank electric gate in his home. The other night in a rush for his N. B. C. program, Bob hopped in his car, raced down the drive and punched the button that would open the gate. Nothing happened. He punched again. Finally he got out and gave the gate a kick, then took a taxi to his broadcast. Jerry Colonna greeted him with "Hello, Gate," which was to the point that time.

Students who submitted winning answers in the contest conducted through this column were Dorothy Terry and Frank Driver. Look for another quiz soon.

TRAINING CAMP OPEN

Randall county is being given a quota of two boys to be enlisted in the Citizens Military Training Camp which is located in Fort Logan, Colo., July 9 to August 7, inclusive.

Youths between the ages of 17 and 29 who are interested should see Captain W. E. Lockhart for application blanks. Those wishing to get the training should see Mr. Lockhart immediately in order to be assured of a place in the camp.

MONDRO, "the man with the X-Ray eyes" who will present a two-hour performance of magic, thrills, mirth and mystery tomorrow night in the auditorium of the Administration building. The curtain goes up at 8 o'clock and admission is 25c for students.

Hart Palpitations

By Fred Hart

To those of you, my erstwhile amigos, who have noted my disposition of late, I wish to offer an explanation. It is not natural for me to go around with my head so low that I can look backward between my legs, but this I have been doing, not to escape the honor of addressing anyone, nor because I have committed some act or omission or commission; but, rather I have had thrust upon me a serious and difficult problem that needs some thinking over... an unusual occupation for one usually so quick witted.

The fact remains that a recent survey conducted by the Student Opinion Survey, reveals that only 72 per cent of the sophomores read and like these attempts at witticism. Thus 28 per cent of the second year students either do not read, or do dislike the garrulous lexicals herein transmitted. So I lose two pounds worrying, for if the 28 per cent of those suzerians do not savour Hart, how can common mortals do otherwise?

Flash... the funniest sight of recent weeks was Dean Jarrett looking at his watch in assembly, and frowning impatiently. Now we are safe... the dean is on our side.

A little investigation by campus sleuths found the fire-escapes on girls' dorms at Kansas State college were inaccessible from the inside because the windows were nailed down... a strict violation of fire laws.

Our style barometer, Dopey Kincaid has been seen wearing a new spring attire. Looks indicate probable source as a misfit stolen from darkies' masquerade ball.

And then the freshman agriculture students set Prof. Frank Phillips' alarm clock to ring at the end of each hour so the student assistant would not sleep more than one period.

Old Stuff... There is a conflicting report that Roberta Wales was seen showing Amarillo night life to Elizabeth Miller and Madge Sirman.

TIMELY TOPICS:

Getting up late has its own disrepute, according to Bernice Kelley who caught the Amarillo bus by the pull of a zipper, and had to adjourn to Cousins for a readjustment upon arrival at our prudent campus.

Question of the week... Why doesn't Bugental hand out a simplified method of decoding his column?

Date Notes... John Young and Nell Green were out together Sunday night.

We could announce the Scheihagen-Vinson affair but everyone knows it; so, we will say that rumor has Roberson-Kinard ditto.

L. F. Cleek Is Student of Week

Student of the week honors were bestowed on L. F. Cleek of Panhandle this week. L. F. is vice-president of the senior class and was chosen because of his leadership in both social and scholastic functions of the college.

Last semester the residents of Stafford Hall chose this senior as vice-president of the hall. He plays a baritone in the Buffalo band and is vice-president of Tri Tau, social club for men.

Cleek will graduate this summer and plans to enter the teaching profession but also plans to continue his education toward a doctor's degree.

Dr. R. P. Jarrett, Dean of the College, is in Atlanta, Georgia this week where he is attending a convention of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Visitor (to little girl): "And was your grandpa covered with insurance when he died?"

Little Girl: "No'm, just a night shirt."

TOO MUCH COLLEGE, by Stephen Leacock, Dodd, Mead and Co., New York, 1940.

Education is eating up life according to Stephen Leacock. In TOO MUCH COLLEGE, recently acquired by the W. T. rental library, Mr. Leacock proceeds to set forth his reasons for this belief.

Not only is the time period of education longer, but the embellishments are so many that they overshadow the three "R's" of education.

Leacock prefers a middle course in education, not one so blunt that it resembles this statement of a professor to his student: "Divide the beauty of poetry into six elements and say them over to me, and I'll give you a degree as a horse-doctor." Nor does he favor the overly-garnished type of education in which attempted psychological methods are used on a student when good common sense is all that's necessary.

In a character called "Rah! Rah! College," Leacock compares modern students to the diamond mine workers in South Africa. A great fenced compound surrounds the entrance to the mines, and whenever the negro workers come out that entrance, a jazz band type of entertainment is provided in order to keep them willing to remain. Thus the vaudeville extra-curricular activities keep unwilling students at home on the campus.

Leacock quotes from Herbert Spencer's "The Education of a Gentleman": "Men dress their children's minds as they do their bodies—in the prevailing fashion. As the Orinoco Indian puts on his paint before he leaves his hut—so a boy's drilling in Latin and Greek is insisted on, not because of their intrinsic value, but that he may not be disgraced by being found ignorant of them—that he may have the education of a gentleman."

clever anecdotes are woven throughout the book. One of these relates the story of a little boy who tells an old man what he is studying in school. He says he is learning reading, writing, and Gazinta. At first glance this Gazinta appears to be a new subject. It is clarified a bit with the explanation that "2 gazinta 4 and 5 gazinta 10."

Leacock says that students today favor courses with romantic names, such as Rheumatics, Peritonitis, and Spondulics.

The closing chapter discloses Leacock's view of the subject. He states as follows: "With the right men and a few elm trees and some books, one could have at a generation's notice, the most distinguished college in the world. Not a plan for cheaper, shorter education in the mean sense, but for education that does not end with college and for learning that never dies. Rah! Rah! College!"

The latter portion of the volume is devoted to "Kindred Essays in Education and Humour," a collection of funny stories.

Leacock goes Waltonian in the Epilogue, "Bass Fishing on Lake Simcoe with Jake Gaudaur" (pronounced "good-oar").

"Too Much College" brings many points home to the reader, in addition is as enjoyable as most of Leacock's humorous writings.

DR. HELEN OGG, speech instructor in W. T., will be director of all speech contests of the Interscholastic League contests of District 1 here this week end. She has also been selected to teach speech at the University of California during the summer.

Bledsoe Favors An Increase In Student Senate Membership

Introduced in the Student Senate at a regular meeting Thursday was a proposal by Hollis Bledsoe to enlarge the senate membership by adding four representatives.

"There would be a distinct advantage in increasing the senate, considering the large amount of work which is done by the group," Bledsoe said. A discussion followed the proposal but a vote was not reached.

Two methods of electing the new representatives—at large, or by adding a third post to each class, were talked. Bledsoe pointed out that adding post No. 3 to each class would be desirable.

The discussion is scheduled to continue at the next meeting, Thursday, and a vote by the senate is likely. If the members decide to increase the body, a special election will probably be held for student approval or disapproval before the spring election April 26.

West Texas State Will Test Texas Tech Tennis Team Saturday On Local Courts In Season Opener

Red Raiders Boast Victories On Tour; Buffs Lack Practice

Texas Tech's Red Raider tennis team will come here Saturday to play the Buffaloes in the latter's spring season opener.

Sydney Moore, the veteran Tech netter, will pace the visitors' attack. The Techsters boast several wins in a trip downstate in which they met teams of the University of Texas, Southern Methodist, Texas Christian, Hardin-Simmons, Howard Payne and others. With Moore will be Meyer, Houston, Brunson, and Shanks. The Raiders are favorites by virtue of their long season of practice.

For the Buffs will be a team selected from Kelly, Riley, G. Milner, Burt, S. Milner, Carter, Coleman, and possibly others.

Other tentative games on the Buffs' schedule are New Mexico University of Albuquerque, New Mexico A. & M. at Las Cruces, and the Alamo conference teams in San Antonio.

Fighters Are Ready For "Fight Night" In Burton Gym

"Fight Night" at West Texas will be held Wednesday and Thursday nights in Burton gymnasium to determine the champions in all divisions for the college.

In the 118-pound weight, Stephenson will fight Finley for the title. In the 128-pound weight, Goshell will meet Leslie Hines, and Long will tangle with Brown. The winners will meet in the finals to determine the championship. Ballard Graves vs. J. E. White, and Howard vs. Johnson are the feature attractions in the 138 pound class. Currin will fight Hughes in the 158 pound weight for the title.

For the 168 pound title, Kenneth Dowlin will scrap Jim Dukes, and Dick Kilgore will tangle with Glass. For the championship in the 178 pound weight, Frazier will meet Butler and the present plans for the heavyweight scraps are Crisswell vs. Morgan, and Ellison vs. Wright.

In addition to these boxing matches, there will be a formidable grunt-and-groan card on the program, which will feature five matches.

A regular brawl of the old school was observed by a large crowd of students in Burton Gym Thursday evening as two preliminary fights were fought.

In the first fight, Cecil Davidson and Truett Pritchett, 145 pound weights, fought three rounds to a decision. Pritchett won the bout by the decision of the judges.

In the second event, which was a 158 pound affair, Hugh Dalton beat Rex Sanders in three fast and furious rounds. Dalton fought under the colors of the Bachelors Hall and Sanders under the colors of Firecrackers.

Buffaloes Improve In Spring Drills

W. T. Coaches Smile As Gridsters Develop In Daily Workouts

West Texas State tackles will be exceptionally strong next season with so many prospects, but this tends to make the weaknesses of the ends show up all the more in spring practice.

Extra time has been spent in developing ends by Coaches Jack Cur-tice and Leslie Van Meter, but one end has shown out above all in spring practice, and he is Earl Stagner, former Dimmitt high school star. Although Stagner has not been a regular and has done a considerable amount of bench warming the past two seasons, he is the No. 1 hopeful for next year.

The Buffalo backfield was strengthened greatly by "Blazing Bill" Thompson, former Amarillo high school quarter-back. Thompson was placed on the All-District One football team two years and one season was placed on the mythical All-State eleven, chosen by leading sport writers and coaches from all over Texas.

One other problem for the coaches is at the center position. Although inexperienced at center, Pat Toombs, former Amarillo high school end, Cletus Kuehler of Groom, and Ernest Kelley of Peters-burg, former linesman, and John Thomas of Canadian, have been showing up fine in spring training.

If the center position and ends positions problem can be solved by next fall, West Texas State's powerful eleven is headed for the best year in the history of the school.

Speaks To Chemists

Dr. Klem Alexander, a member of the science faculty, left Saturday for Cincinnati, Ohio, to deliver a paper at a meeting of the American Chemical Society. His subject, based on research done under the direction of Dr. L. Charles Ralford of the University of Iowa, was "Migration of the Substituted Carbonyl Radical in Ortho-amino-phenol Derivatives."

Buffalo Wallow

"THERE AIN'T NO FLIES ON ME..."

West Texas State's high flying cagers are definitely getting into big time basketball for Head Coach Al Baggett has been receiving bids to play some of the best teams in the nation next fall.

Recently returning from Kansas City where he contacted several big time coaches and promoters Coach Baggett said, "The impression that the Buffaloes have made on the coaches and fans back East is indeed favorable. While in Kansas City I easily arranged a 10-game trip which will take place sometime before the Christmas holidays next fall.

Coach Baggett also added, "I also talked to Ned Irish, basketball promoter for Madison Square Garden in New York City and he talked as if it would be possible for the Buffs to play there next year. Also a possible opponent may be the world famed Long Island Blackbirds from New York City.

The tentatively arranged road trip for next season is:

Dec. 9—Baker University at Baldwin, Kansas.

Dec. 10—St. Benedict's College at Atchison, Kansas.

Dec. 12—South Dakota University at Vermillion.

Dec. 13-14—Omaha University at Omaha.

Dec. 16-17—Drake University at Des Moines.

Dec. 18—Simpson College at Indianola, Iowa.

Dec. 19—Tarkio College (National Intercollegiate champions) at Tarkio, Missouri.

It is also possible that the Buffs will meet the powerful Nebraska State College quintet and the South Dakota A. & M. team on this road trip.

The Buffaloes will open their home season December 2 and 3 against the Daniel Baker Hillbillies from Abilene. They will enter the Oklahoma City invitation tournament during the Christmas holidays.

Buffalo Band On Dress Parade For Cameraman

Buffalo Band members with Director C. E. Strain have donned their maroon and white uniforms to parade for the cameraman. The organization boasts one of the largest bands in the history of the school. A schedule of concerts is being arranged for the band soon.

Life Magazine Has Picture From W. T.

West Texas State has "made" Life twice in the past month. The latest was last week when a picture was printed showing the cottages which were built with WPA funds. A group of pictures were shown on two pages in the magazine from every section of the United States, showing the various types of construction under WPA.

Time Is Gone When Men Could Span the Fair Ladies' Waists

Time was when big handsome brutes could span the waists of their lady loves.

Both man and girl, 'tis said, were proud of the feat.

But the average college man at West Texas State cannot span the waist of the average co-ed—not by several inches. A statistical study made by pledges of a social club for men showed the average girl was 24.6 inches at the waistline.

But the hand-span of the average man was under 20 inches.

The investigators concluded that the modern girl is a heavier, sturdier type and that the men haven't done enough plowing and rail splitting. Male pride was saved, however, when it was noted that a few ham-like hands found on athletes and farm lads could span the waist of the smallest sorority girl—at 19 inches.

Of the nation's 10 largest educational institutions, five are members of the Big Ten.

The University of Kentucky archaeological museum contains 2,100 Indian skeletons.

The fiftieth anniversary of the founding will be celebrated by the University of Chicago in 1941.

Slower-Burning Camels Give the Extras

EXTRA MILDNESS EXTRA COOLNESS EXTRA FLAVOR EXTRA SMOKING

SPEED'S MY DISH IN A RACING CAR — BUT I WANT MY CIGARETTE SLOW-BURNING. CAMEL CIGARETTES BURN ON THE SLOW SIDE — GIVE THE 'EXTRAS' IN SMOKING PLEASURE

CAMEL

In recent laboratory tests, Camels burned 25% slower than the average of the 15 other of the largest-selling brands tested — slower than any of them. That means, on the average, a smoking plus equal to 5 EXTRA SMOKES PER PACK!

MORE PLEASURE PER PUFF...MORE PUFFS PER PACK!

CAMELS — the cigarette of costlier tobaccos

WITH BOB SWANSON, it's always a slow-burning Camel. "That slower burning makes a big difference," says Bob. "Camels are milder—easier on my throat. They don't bother my nerves. And they never tire my taste. They give an extra amount of smoking, too." Yes, speed is fine in the right place, but millions have learned that in cigarettes the coveted extras of coolness, mildness, and full, rich flavor go with slow-burning Camels.

Epsilon Beta Presents Five New Members

With a setting of blue and white, five new members of Epsilon Beta fraternity were presented at the club's spring formal, at Cousins Hall last Saturday night.

The ballroom was decorated with all blue lights. A small lighted shield was hung at the top of the stage, and two smaller spangled shields hung on the curtain behind the orchestra. The ceiling resembled a canopy, with two large curtains, one blue and one white, which were let down to form a background for the presentation. The ex-members were presented before a "Welcome" sign, while the pledges stood in front of "Congratulations."

The five new members and their dates were: Ballard Graves, Wynifred Hodge; Todd Cone, Lodena Tooley; William Beggs, Merle Crow; Dick Kilgore, Frances Hoskins; and Ed Bagot, Mary Collins.

YWCA and YMCA Give Formal Folk Dance

An invitation formal folk dance was given by the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. members in the Cousins Hall ballroom Friday evening, April 5.

The ballroom was decorated with large clusters of pastel-colored balloons hanging from the ceiling. Music for the folk games and dance was furnished by Mary Helen Lindsey.

Prints Popular In School Togs As Flowers Bloom

By WILMA TERRY

As spring swoops down upon we co-eds, it is time to think about the school wardrobe. With Easter past, "Sunday" dresses are bought and it is time we took notice of our "prints" and school togs. Stylish in prints, as we gather from LIFE, is the print material made with trade marks of famous products. Such as the Indian head advertising Pontiac cars, or a slim greyhound advertising the Greyhound Buses. However, the prints are in the limelight now, for spring is here and it's too hot to be bothered with woollens (unless there is the usual cold spell that April brings).

Always popular is the shirtwaist print that has its dainty gathers here and there on the bodice adding a fullness to the waist. Then, of course, is the prim pearl buttons which accompany the cotton print. The skirt is full around the bottom and tight fitting top.

The bolero dress has hit the top again in either prints or silks. The boleros may have a special dip or curve at the bottom to add to the slimming waist which is brought about by the all-around pleated skirt. This two-piece suit is worn with a light dainty waist, that is feminine in its gathers around the long sleeve cuffs. It is buttoned with glass buttons. The material of the suit is blue with harmonizing yellow printed marks.

Ideal for the class, picnic, or school outing is the seer-sucker three-piece suit. The background is of navy with bright print, splashes of red, yellow, green, white, and orange. The waist is on the beer-jacket style (doesn't tuck in) with a parka cap underlined with white seer-sucker. It has white buttons with hand-stitched buttonholes. The skirt is the regular full-flared skirt with a buttoning front.

Then there is the one-piece short suit with a bandana-style waist and pleated shorts all of the same material. This suit would look nice with a sweater of a matching color. Polish the ensemble up by adding these new house-slipper looking shoes so-called play-shoes. No hose are necessary.

Art Exhibit Shown By WT High School

An opportunity for art education is afforded in the exhibit of pictures on display in room 113 of the Education building this week.

More than one hundred and fifty reproductions of famous paintings by both old and modern masters are in the collection. Among the artists represented are Gainsborough, Titian, Murillo, Innes, Amick, Symons, and Wiegand.

The price of admission is ten cents, and the proceeds will be used to buy pictures for the school.

W. L. Vaughan and Misses Novella Goodman and Ruth Lowes, assisted by students of the Demonstration School, are in charge of the exhibit.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Jenkins of Houston have announced the birth of a son, April 3. He is called Bob. Mrs. Jenkins was Louise Shanklin, '27.

F. F. A. Chapter Will Have Barn Dance

The local Chapter of the Future Farmers of America will sponsor a barn dance Saturday night from 8 to 12 o'clock. The dance will be in the hay loft of the College Farm barn and music will be furnished by Dalton Teague and his "Swing in String" band. There will be a hay ride out to the farm and back for transportation. The admission will be 35c stag or drag.

Buffalo Band on Radio Broadcast

Buffalo Band took to the air lanes last night as the feature of the weekly West Texas State College broadcast over radio station KGNC.

Another feature of the program was a skit written and directed by Jim Bugental. Title of the skit was "Youth Asks for Advice."

Commentary was given by Glen Davis. Jack Walker was the voice of the news, and Carolyn Mayfield offered a commentary on women's fashions.

Brynild Vaughan interviewed the student of the week, L. F. Cleek, senior from Panhandle.

Hollis Bledsoe was master of ceremonies.

Rollins College recently sponsored an economic conference for the leaders of the citrus industry.

Dr. Barlow Is New AAUW President

Dr. Ima Barlow was elected president of the American Association of University Women for the next biennium at the regular meeting of the organization Monday evening. The meeting was held at the home of Dr. Mattie Swayne, Miss Jean Moore, and Miss Novella Goodman.

Dr. Barlow succeeds Miss Grace Clark who has served as president of the local branch for the past two years.

Other officers elected were: Miss Margaret Barrett, first vice president; Mrs. Baxter M. Geeting, second vice president; Mrs. John Davis, secretary; and Miss Elizabeth Cox, treasurer.

Continuing its policy of contributing to the book funds of the libraries at the public school and the demonstration school, the organization voted a gift of approximately fifteen dollars to the two schools.

Preceding the business meeting, three study groups convened to hear reports on selected topics.

Inter-American Solidarity was the subject discussed by Miss Elizabeth Cox and Mrs. Lawrence Brotherton before the international relations group.

The current literature group heard Miss M. Moss Richardson review "A Country Lawyer" by Belamy Partridge.

The probable influence of advertising was discussed by the group interested in problems of the consumer. Miss Novella Goodman led the discussion.
