

NEW FEATURES ADDED TO 1932 HOMECOMING; FREE BANQUET AND MANY GUEST PRIVILEGES

JOHN SNYDER PREPARES FEED

Canyon Citizens to Welcome Ex-Students in Homes Saturday Night

Desiring to make this year's Homecoming unique in the history of the institution as well as memorable to ex-students who make the annual pilgrimage home, two new features—a free barbecue at noon and free lodging Saturday night—have been added to the round of festivities planned for November 5th by local ex-student and faculty committees.

The barbecue seems especially fitting at this time in view of the fact that homecomers on this day will share guest honors with the Panhandle's old settlers who come to take part in the ceremony connected with laying the corner stone of the museum.

Barbecue Tickets, Room 110

The "big feed" will take place in Buffalo Park at 12:30, immediately following the ceremony at Pioneer Hall. Guests who will be given free tickets to the barbecue will include ex-students and their families, members of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society and their families, and donors to the museum building fund and their families. The tickets will be issued at Ex-student Headquarters in Room 110 during the morning of Homecoming Day. In the same room ex-students who wish to spend Saturday night in Canyon will be assigned to homes.

John Snyder, Barbecue Artist

The barbecue, with appropriate trimmings of red beans, pickles, bread and coffee, is the courtesy which the college athletic committee, Canyon business firms, and private individuals are extending to this year's Homecoming guests. The advance announcement that John Snyder of Amarillo will prepare and serve the beefs on this occasion assures the visitors of a barbecue that will be second to none in quality.

Mr. Snyder has a nation-wide reputation as a barbecuer without an equal.

General arrangements for the feast are in the hands of T. M. Moore of the college faculty and a special committee appointed to work with him.

Guests of Citizens

Providing a night's lodging and two meals—the evening meal Saturday and breakfast Sunday—is an innovation in the customary program which should prove popular to many exes who live some distance away and who do not care to start home until Sunday. Faculty members and townspeople have expressed a desire to extend this courtesy, and it will be in their homes that ex-students will be entertained. Dean Green and Dean Cook are serving as co-chairmen of housing arrangements.

HALL FUND HAD ORIGIN IN 1921-1922

EX-STUDENT ASSOCIATION MADE GIFT AT CRUCIAL MOMENT.

When the directors of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society file for future reference the names of individuals and organizations contributing to the museum fund much or little, as money or its equivalent goes, the Ex-students' Association will appear on the list with a total cash donation of $6,481.62 to its credit.

According to the records of L. F. Sheffy, the Society's field secretary, this amount is exclusive of a large number of contributions made by individual exes in their own names. By a vote of the ex-students at their annual business meeting in the spring, the bulk of the sum mentioned was transferred to the museum fund from the Mary E. Hudspeth Hall Fund by Dan

To The Ex-Students

One of the greatest joys of achievement is that it is always done by the united efforts of a group or groups interested in a particular enterprise. The chief aspiration of the Ex-Students Association has always been the up-building and development of their Alma Mater. Any enterprise contributing to that end will have its proportionate value in the growth and development of the West Texas State Teachers College.

Perhaps the greatest factor in recent years in the progress of the school has been the contribution made by the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society and its kindred project, the museum building. Many faculty members and a large number of the students and ex-students of the college have manifested a genuine interest in the whole program of the Society ever since it was organized and have contributed much toward the success of its work. Then when we came to face the greatest crisis in the history of the Society, it was the ex-students organization that came to our rescue and made the museum building possible by contributing $6,481.62 to that cause.

The officers and directors of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society want the ex-students to know that they have always appreciated your interest and your help in promoting this organization and its work. They are especially grateful to you for your timely aid in making this contribution to the museum building fund and wish to take this method of expressing their gratitude to you.

Every effort possible will be made to see to it that the original purposes for which this money was raised shall be carried out as fully as it is possible to do so through the museum building.

Again thanking you in behalf of the Society, I am,

Very sincerely,

L. F. SHEFFY,
Field Secretary.

HOMECOMING FEATURED BY SUL ROSS TILT

S. ROSS UNDEFEATED

ALUMNI TO WITNESS HARDEST SCHEDULED CONFERENCE TILT.

VICTORY PROMISED

Alumni, making the annual trek to scenes familiar to their college days, will be given an opportunity to watch the Buffaloes match forces against the season's outstanding opponents for T. I. A. A. honors, the Sul Ross Lobos, Homecoming Day, November 5.

The Lobos, like the Buffaloes, are at present undefeated in a conference game with the probability that they will meet a week from Saturday with the same standing, except for another victim to the credit of each. Sul Ross is said to have an advantage of considerable weight and brawn but it is dubious whether this will offset the Bison's prize offering, the fleet-footed Brotherton who grows mightier and more sinister with each succeeding game.

A disappointment to the worldly ones claiming W. T. for Alma Mater is unlikely.

Burton's proteges will be at their peak. Flushed with past victories, however, held in leash by the pessimistic coach to prevent overconfidence, they will function in regular showmanship fashion for the exes.

And that's not merely a promise! It's a statement!

PROGRAM IS ANNOUNCED

WEST TEXAS STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, HOMECOMING DAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1932

Are you planning to attend the big celebration that is to be held at your Alma Mater on November 5? We want a thousand Ex-students to "come home" on that date. This day is ours. The "fatted calf" will be killed and everything possible done to make the Exes feel at home.

The latching is out and all we have to do is to pull it.

Fellow Ex-students, we need a revival within our ranks; a revival of interest, of loyalty, and of enthusiasm. We will all gain much from such a revival. The College needs us and we need the help and prestige of our Alma Mater. To those of us who are in the educational work, these are trying times and times that call for closer unity on the part of school people. Such a meeting as we have planned for homecoming will give us a chance to get together and revive interest in the Ex-students' Association. If this can be done, it will make possible part of a greater program that will continue through the year. The faculty and President of W. T. are putting forth every effort to help make this occasion the greatest of its kind ever held in the history of the institution. Let us show our appreciation by attending as nearly one hundred per cent as possible.

A champion football team! We have one this year. The game on November fifth will decide the championship of the last year of the T. I. A. A. What a game it will be! Who will want to miss it?

Depression? This is the way to kill it. A John Snider barbecue, corner stone laying of the Museum, reports from old timers, and a great "get-together" after the ball game—these are the events that we will not want to miss on November fifth.

Irby B. Carruth.

COUNCIL MADE COMPLETE WITH ELECTION SAT.

FORTENBERRY AND REEVES ELECTED TO AUGUST BODY BY STUDENTS.

During last Saturday's chapel hour, under the direction of Frank Monroe, senior class president, the students elected two representatives from the student-body-at-large as members of the student council. Only three girls and boys were allowed nominated.

The following six were the students' choice: Joe Fortenberry, Faucette Rudolph, and Hadley Reeves for the men; Constance Wayland, Irene Houghland, and Mary Alice Weaver for the women. Votes were collected during the hour and immediately afterward were counted.

Results showed Fortenberry and Reeves elected by a bare majority.

At the next meeting of the council there will be an election of yell leaders for this school year. The game with A. C. C. on the home field next Friday night will be their first opportunity to get into action.

W. T. ALUMNI TO BE EXTENDED HEARTY WELCOME HOMECOMING DAY, NOV. 5

ACTIVITIES TO BEGIN AT 10:30 A. M. WITH ASSEMBLY HELD IN MAIN BUILDING

According to Dr. Albert Barnett, chairman of a joint faculty and ex-student committee appointed by President Hill to plan the 1932 Homecoming Day program, arrangements are practically complete for the staging of a mammoth celebration Saturday, November 5th.

Members of the committee have acted upon the suggestion of Irby B. Carruth, president of the Ex-students' Association, that a special effort be made this year to give the day's program the hospitable flavor of a real welcoming party, and they have attempted to plan a series of events which will leave no doubt in the minds of visiting exes that this is their day on the campus. The ceremony planned in connection with the laying of the corner stone of the museum, together with the festivities of an annual Homecoming, should make the program for the day doubly interesting to ex-students.

Assembly Program Opens
Beginning at 10:30 in the auditorium of the Administration Building, the formal series of activities will be launched with a general assembly of ex-students, members and friends of the Panhandle Plains Historical Society, faculty, students, and townspeople. Mr. Carruth will preside at this hour. Musical numbers, an inspirational talk by President Hill, a response from a visiting ex-student, and the introduction of prominent guests in the audience will be features of the program.

Promptly at 11:30 it is planned that the group will leave the auditorium and reassemble in front of the museum building which is under construction. The Masonic Lodge of Clarendon, the Panhandle's oldest organization of the order, will direct the laying of the cornerstone.

Barbecue Prepared
At the conclusion of the ceremony the gates of Buffalo Park will be thrown open, and guests will find T. M. Moore and his committee ready to serve them with the best barbecued meat and trimmings that John Snider, famous for his barbecues, knows how to prepare. Admission to the Park will be by ticket only.

At 3 o'clock the Buffaloes meet the Sul Ross Lobos in front of Buffalo stadium. The game will be a significant one in local athletic history since it will mark the final appearance of a Buffalo team in a T. I. A. A. contest. The T. I. A. A. is disbanding the first of the year.

In addition to the game, which promises to be a thriller, a unique demonstration between periods, dramatizing some of the high points in the history of Texas' oldest athletic association, will add an effective touch to the afternoon's entertainment.

Variety Program Ends Day
Beginning at 7:45 in the auditorium of the Education Building a variety program is to be given under the direction of C. W. Batchelder, Miss Ruth Cross, and C. E. Strain. The first part of the program will consist of music and dancing numbers; the last part will feature the presentation of a one act play, "The Pipe of Peace," with Miss Farris Sears and Leon Landon, speech majors, taking the roles in the production.

Immediately after the entertainment, members of the P. P. H. S. and ex-students and their friends will enjoy a social hour in the gymnasium of the Education Building where Mrs. Tommie Montfort and her committee will provide diversions which should suit any and all moods.

ELECTION TO SCHOLARSHIP SOCIETY SOON

LLOYD GREEN ALLEN CHAPTER OPENS PORTALS TO THOSE QUALIFYING.

The first election of the Lloyd Green Allen Chapter of the Scholarship Societies of the South will take place during the first week of November. All students who anticipate election into that organization are requested to make note of the following instructions.

The Council of the Scholarship Societies of the South is recommending that only two elections be held each year, one in the fall quarter and one in the summer quarter. The election machinery is as follows:

The student makes application to the Registrar of the college; the council members average the grades made by him during all previous years in college; the ranking ten per cent of the junior class and the ranking ten per cent of the senior class are recommended by the faculty for membership, and the applicant is notified thru The Prairie to appear at a specified time and place for initiation. A fee of $1.50 is paid at the initiation.

EX-STUDENT RECALLS FIRST YEAR OF W. T.'S EXISTENCE, YEAR 1910, A. D.

Many memories cluster about the first year of W. T.'s life, memories of joys and sorrows, of work and of play, of struggles and of achievements, of classmates, of teachers. The central figure of all these memories is the man of vision who directed the destiny of the infant institution planted out where the West is—President R. B. Cousins.

Into this institution was admitted as stated in its first bulletin, "Any white person of good moral character, free from contagious diseases over sixteen years of age, and who has a fair knowledge of the ordinary common school branches."

"The completion of a good ninth grade taught by good teachers, would be fair preparation" was a further statement in regard to entrance qualifications.

Requirement for Entrance
Students asking for admission into the freshman class were examined in Arithmetic, English

Grammar, Texas History, U. S. History, Geography, Spelling, and Reading. Applicants for entrance who were graduates of "good high schools" or who held teachers' certificates were admitted without examination and placed in accordance with the bulletin promise "where they can accomplish the best results for themselves."

Three years' work was offered. Completion of the work of the first or Freshman year led to a second grade certificate, completion of the work of the second or Junior year led to a first grade certificate, and completion of the work of the third or Senior year led to a permanent certificate.

In all about thirty courses were offered, twenty-three of these being required for graduation. The faculty was made up of the President and eighteen members. In President Cousins' expressive phraseology, these eighteen faculty mem-

CORNERSTONE CEREMONY BE HELD NOV. 5 MUSEUM BUILDING

P. P. H. S. BOARD OF DIRECTORS MAY BE AMONG THOSE PRESENT.

$25,000 RAISED

Visitors to the college campus on Homecoming Day, November 5, will have the opportunity of participating in a ceremony of great import to the West Texas State Teachers College and to Northwest Texas in general. A fortunate coincidence of events combines the laying of the corner stone for the new museum building with the homecoming festivities.

And the mingling of old timers of West Texas with the younger "old timers" of the college will add sparkle to the day for all visitors.

The program at the Historical Building will mark the culmination of the morning's entertainment, coming from 11:30 to 12:30 a. m., and following immediately after the assembly hour. Dr. J. A. Hill, president of the college, will open the ceremony with a tribute of appreciation to those who have supported the great project. J. O. Guleke of Amarillo, a member of the State Board of Education, will speak on behalf of the state of Texas, which is coming into the possession of a valuable building and a more valuable institution of cultural traditions.

The corner stone will be laid under the auspices of the Masonic Lodge at Clarendon, Texas, the mother lodge of the Panhandle. A pioneer banker and citizen of Clarendon, W. H. Patrick, is a member both of this oldest lodge and of the Board of Directors for the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society. He will participate in the program of the day. For the direction of the ceremony, Alva Bryan, the grand Master of the Masonic Lodge of Texas, has been invited to be present, or, in case this is impossible, to appoint a representative of the grand Lodge.

For the erection of this fifty thousand dollar building, half of the money was appropriated by the Legislature of Texas through the earnest efforts of our Representative, C. W. Warwick and our Senator, C. C. Small. The other half of the money has been raised by private subscription from citizens all over the Panhandle and the Southwest. Indeed, the area from which donations have come extends as far east as Selma, Alabama, as far west as California, as far north as Pleasant Valley, Iowa, and as far south as the Gulf of Mexico. However, most of the contributors belong to the Panhandle proper.

The museum building, a long low structure, is to be built of Texas stone, in a beautiful unadorned architecture indigenous to the plains country. It is located on the southwest corner of the campus facing south. The large central room, called Pioneer Hall, opens at one end into the library of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, at the other end into the semi-circular art gallery to be named the Mary E. Hudspeth room. The latter is the gift of the Ex-students Association, and is to be adorned with a portrait of Miss Hudspeth. The basement will have two divisions, one for the preparation of materials for display, and one for the exhibitions of paleontological and archeological materials. The department for the latter branches is under the direction of Floyd V. Studer.

All in all, the building is admirably arranged to care for and display paleontological remains, Indian artifacts, and all historical materials dealing with stages of development of the great plains country.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION IS THE PULSE DENOTING THE VITALITY OF ALMA MATER

Modern society is remarkably disorganized in many respects despite its multiplicity of organizations—groups which fill the calendars of every community and make many of us wonder if we really have time to live.

Despite this fact, there is room for an Ex-Students Association in every college circle. Such an association is usually unobtrusive, affording a measure of cohesion with a minimum of meetings, projects, and speeches. One big project is all that alumni associations care to tackle at any given time.

Out of virtually every experience grows an organization. From the world war experiences there came into being the American Legion, Forty and Eight, Disabled Veterans of the World, and other groups. Similarly, we have ex-student organizations born of a desire to perpetuate old friendships, memories, and enthusiasms, and to make possible a permanent contact with alma mater.

Ex-student associations are expected of all good colleges. Some colleges have no football teams, but in a popular sense they are insignificant. A college without an alumni association would likewise be without an expected institution. There are times when every college needs the enthusiasm, the protective interest, the publicity which organized ex-students can give. Students in college often need the alumni viewpoint and certainly the public is not impressed by ex-students who display no interest in the fortunes and misfortunes of their alma mater.

Opportunities for ex-student achievements do not arise every year. Moreover, it does not behoove an alumni association to become a chamber of commerce. The interest of an alumnus is not measured by the amount of money he gives to a student loan fund or for a memorial statue. Nor is annual attendance at a commencement a criterion of loyalty. There are thousands of ex-students of West Texas State Teachers College who thrill at the victories of the Buffaloes as recorded by newspapers. There are busy business men who have a warm interest kindled by contact with ex-students who are active members of the association or who return to alma mater periodically.

The point of this discussion is that the intangible effect of ex-student activities is more real and more vital than is generally believed by those who are about the college halls often and who come to measure ex-student zeal in material terms. The public, moreover, is quick to note any quickening of ex-student interest, just as it takes a livelier interest in any college which is able to "dramatize" itself through public contact and public service.

The high school pupils of this section are not unaware of the attitude of ex-students toward their alma mater. Certainly, if their teachers are indifferent the pupils may be expected to be likewise. The Ex-Student association of W. T. S. T. C. has done fine tangible things, but no less valuable, in the opinion of this writer, is the heart-warming influence of contacts between ex-students, individually with their alma mater.

Actually, W. T. S. T. C. is infinitely more than a collection of bricks held together—or apart, as you will—by mortar and dedicated to a curriculum. The spiritual values, the ideals, the friendships, the happy and sad experiences, the budding of latent abilities, the congress of kindred souls—all of these things go to make up colleges and college life, and of these the Ex-students association is a symbol that we can not afford to be without.

O. E. H.

P. P. H. S. MUSEUM ADDS MUCH PRESTIGE TO W. T. S. T. C.

A few weeks ago workmen were busy around a yawning excavation at a location on the W. T. S. T. C. campus that some eight, ten, or twelve years ago had been marked as the spot for a museum for the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society. Taking a glimpse recalls the early days of the Historical Society and something of the efforts of a small group to keep the organization alive and functioning. Everyone is happy these labors will bear fruit and a museum will actually preserve the historical and archaeological record of the Panhandle.

One corner of the museum might well be preserved for a memorial of those who made it possible. As time goes, the museum and the historical society will be recording current history and the lives of contemporary Panhandle citizens and leaders. In that connection each of us has a keen personal interest in the building and in the organization.

We are truly pioneers in this great section of the Southwest. We are in the process of expressing ourselves through our own artists. We will hear and see more and more about ourselves through these artists and writers as our own Plains culture develops. Our Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum is but one expression of our keen interest in our own section and its history. Other monuments to our modern pioneer and the pioneering instinct in each of us will follow, such as a Panhandle Art gallery, a strictly Panhandle novel, and the full development of a definite regional culture which now exists to a marked degree.

The museum adds further prestige to West Texas State Teachers College and makes every ex-student a bit more proud of his college and the strong personalities guiding it. The museum will be an attraction to ex-students and public alike that will result in more and greater contact with the college, its faculty and students. It will make of the college a greater public servant and it will serve to emphasize other aspects of the broad public service rendered by the institution.

There is scarcely an ex-student who has not had some small connection with the development of the historical society or the museum. It will be a tribute to the work and interest everyone has taken in our own Panhandle and its history and a prophecy of a new awakening to broader aspects of our immediate day and time.

Election

In ranking grades made by applicants, grades made in institutions other than W. T. are not included. Only three hour courses are counted in this ranking, and the student is required to have forty-five eligible hours to his credit.

This is the last call for applications for the year 1932-33. Students desiring membership are instructed to leave applications in the Registrar's office some time this week.

Ex-Student Notes

Paul Johnson, B. S., '24, is working with the Texas Electric Company in Fort Worth. He studied at Texas A. & M. after leaving W. T. Mrs. Johnson, who will be remembered as Hazel McQueen, class of '25, is a teacher in the Fort Worth schools.

Miss Nell Galloway, a member of the class of 1927, received the M. A. degree from the University of Missouri this summer. Miss Galloway teaches history in the Borger schools.

J. A. McDonald, B. S., '25, has had varied and interesting experiences since leaving Canyon. He taught school one year at Hester, Oklahoma, and spent the following two years and a half as principal of the County Line School in Wichita county. Since that time he has been serving as juvenile probation judge in Wichita Falls. During his first two years in office a total of five hundred juvenile cases passed through his hands. Mr. McDonald admits that he finds his work intensely interesting, but that dealing altogether with youthful offenders presents some very disheartening problems.

Friends of Miss Mabel Rogers will be glad to learn that she has completely recovered from an illness which forced her to give up her teaching position in the University of Arkansas three years ago. She is now at her home in Plainview. Miss Rogers is not only a former student of W. T. S. T. C. but is also a former member of the Training School faculty. She taught here last in 1921-22.

Mrs. Luther G. Roberts (Anna Throckmorton) writes the following from Stephenville, Texas, where her husband is serving as minister of the Church of Christ: "Luther and I are out of the W. T. territory down here, and we do so enjoy every contact with our Alma Mater. We read everything in the Prairie with a great deal of enthusiasm. We are both taking a course each in the college here (John Tarleton) this year. We enjoy the association with college folk both in our classes and in the church." Mrs. Roberts is a former Prairie editor. She and Mr. Roberts took their degrees here in 1930.

Mrs. M. M. Barnard, formerly Louise Magee, '25, is now a resident of Fort Worth. Last year she taught in the commercial department of the Fort Worth Public Night School.

The address of Miss Beulah Hubbard, who recently began her work as a missionary in Mexico, is I. Garza Y. E. Carranza, Monterrey, Mexico. Miss Hubbard was active in religious work during her student days here. She went from W. T. to Scarritt College, Nashville, where she graduated last spring.

Mrs. J. E. Whicker and daughter, Jane, of Littlefield and Miss Margaret Teel of Amarillo are now touring the eastern part of the country. They plan to visit in Philadelphia, New York, and other cities of interest before returning home. Both Mrs. Whicker (Catherine Smith) and Miss Teel are former students.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Gerald, Jr., were among the students of the University of Missouri who received the degree of Master of Arts last June. They are member of W. T.'s class of '27. Mrs. Gerald, the former Opal Dutton of Panhandle, was an English major and popular also in public speaking circles. Mr. Gerald was editor of the Prairie from 1925 to 1927. He has been teaching in the journalism department of the University of Missouri for the past three years.

Mrs. Edna Welch, '29, has returned to the Amarillo school system after receiving her Master's degree from the University of Texas.

Miss Esther Shoults, B. A., '26, is studying for the bar examinations in New Mexico.

Misses Jewel Foster and Mattie Jordan of the Canyon High School faculty did graduate work at the University of Texas last summer.

O. R. Bridges, class of '25, has received the Master's degree from the University of Oklahoma and is now teaching mathematics in the teachers college at Durant, Oklahoma.

Miss Ethel Rice, '26, after a year's leave of absence for graduate study in the University of Colorado, has returned to Pampa High School with her Master's degree in pure mathematics.

Miss Madge Childre is beginning her fifth year of work in the public schools of Fort Sumner, New Mexico. Miss Childre is a member of the class of '27.

L. W. Sloneker is now traveling for the C. A. Bryant School Supply Company of Dallas. His ter-

Jed Brown '28, and Bill Lockhart are juniors in the Medical School of the University of Texas. Bob Jarrett '31, is enrolled as a freshman in the same school.

Weldon Thompson, '26, is practicing law in Bowie, Texas. He is a graduate of the law school in Cumberland, Tennessee.

Newton Wayland, is a sophomore medical student in Stanford University, Palo Alto, California.

Contributors To Ex-Students' Issue

A word of acknowledgment is due the ex-students who are responsible for this special issue of the Prairie.

The editorials were written by Olin E. Hinkle, editor of the Pampa Daily News, and John L. McCarty, editor of the Dalhart Texan.

Stories which give glimpses of institutional activities in the past were contributed by Miss Anna I. Hibbets, Mrs. Tommie Montfort, and Mitchell Jones.

News stories were written by Miss Mattie Swayne, Miss Ruth Lowes, L. N. George, and Irby Carruth.

Data for many of the shorter news items were furnished by Miss Linnie Babston. Although not an ex-student, Miss Edna Graham generously contributed considerable information concerning the whereabouts of exes which the staff has found valuable.

Mailing lists, containing the names and addresses of ex-students who will be complimented with copies of this issue of the Prairie were provided by W. L. Vaughan.

HILL TO ATTEND EDUCATION MEET

President Hill will attend the next meeting of the State Board of Education in Austin, November 21. All presidents of state colleges are being called to the hearing with a view to effecting such economies through the reorganization of curricula as are consistent with high standards of service.

The State Board of Education has been making a study of problems of higher education. It has gathered a lot of data for the purpose of comparing the costs of different departments at different levels. The object of this study is to reduce state expenses for higher education.

Segregated Chapel Held Last Week

A separate assembly was held for the men last Tuesday in the auditorium of the education building during the regular chapel hour with Dr. Cook presiding.

The program was opened with a song, "America, the Beautiful," by the entire assembly. Dr. Cook introduced guests on the program which included Fred Wortham, Clyde W. Warwick, W. A. Warren, Oscar Gano, and S. D. Burton. Outstanding programs were discussed by Dr. Cook, among which were "The Student's Obligation to the Business Man," and "Duties of the Dean of Men."

Dalhart Exes

Alice Payne, teaching near Borger. Bessie Perkins, attending Simmons University. Laura Blanche Atkinson, at home in Dalhart. Meredith Ashby, teaching in Kella Hill ward school, Dalhart. Clarence Ashby, teaching at Hartley. Juanita Hudson, teaching in Kella Hill ward school Dalhart. Mrs. H. H. Jackson, teaching commerce in Dalhart High School. Mrs. Crawford Norman, to be remembered as Mary Frances (Frankie) Langston, is working in the Capitol Reservation Lands office in Dalhart.

Miss Margaret Peery, taking post graduate work in Dalhart High School. David Lee, in Dalhart, (editor's note) still loafing. Mrs. Ruth Dyson, teaching history in Dalhart High School. Misses Marie and Mabel Moore, at home in Dalhart. Mrs. C. N. Lane, nee Miss Ruth Holmlund, at her home in Dalhart.

Treasurer Urges Payment of Dues

Roy Cheatham, treasurer of the Ex-students' Association, requests that all ex-students pay their annual membership dues of two dollars at the earliest possible date. Exes who are fortunate enough to have a wife or husband who is a former student may take out two memberships for three dollars.

The prairie is sent for one year to all members who have paid their

FIRST LYCEUM NUMBER HERE NOVEMBER 7

MAJOR YEATS-BROWN, ENGLISH AUTHOR OF MYSTIC EAST, TO LECTURE.

An Englishman who became a Yogi, Major Yeats-Brown, formerly of the British Army in India, will disclose some of his unique and unusual experiences in the Orient when he speaks here under the auspices of the Lyceum committee, student's activities, November 7.

The major is on a visit to this country, including Hollywood where a part of the film of his book, "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer," was made. Most of the film was made in India on the scene of the happenings of the story.

An adventurer of the first water, Major Yeats-Brown has about him the lure of the Far East and the romance of the experienced campaigner. He, while an officer in one of the crack outfits of the British Indian Army, engaged in fights in Turkey, along the wilds of the Afghan border, and wherever else duty called him.

In native dress and in native haunts he did what few Englishmen ever do: he studied Indian mysticism at first hand, living among the people of India and doing as they did—even if in Ghandi fashion. Thus he learned the secrets of the Yogi, becoming a full-fledged member—one of very few men of the western world to achieve that mystical distinction.

Hall Fund

F. Sanders, treasurer of the Hall Fund.

Originated in 1921

The Mary E. Hudspeth Hall Fund originated in 1921-22 when the Ex-students Association launched a campaign to build a co-operative rooming house for girls. The proposed building was to bear the name of Mary E. Hudspeth Hall, in honor of Miss Mary E. Hudspeth, the college's first Dean of Women. During the years the demand for a co-operative home was most urgent, the size of the fund did not justify starting the structure. In more recent years, boarding house conditions have improved to the extent that additional housing facilities for girls have not been urgent.

When it appeared in the spring that the museum project might fail for the want of a few thousand dollars to finish out the sum of $25,000 which was to be raised by subscription to match a like amount appropriated by the state, the ex-students saw that the crisis offered them an opportunity to render a real service to the institution.

Purpose Transferred

It was impossible to get expressions from all subscribers to the Hall Fund as to their wishes concerning the disposition of the money in the face of present developments. However the majority of the members of the local ex-student committee which finally recommended the transferring of the fund to the museum treasury expressed the belief that subscribers would favor using the money to care for any institutional need which the college administration and present active members of the Association felt urgent and worthy of support.

In recognition made by the ex-students, the directors of the Historical Society have announced that the semi-circular art gallery in one end of the museum will be known as the Mary E. Hudspeth room.

W. T. STUDENTS AT LUBBOCK CONFERENCE

Fifteen W. T. students spent the past week end in Lubbock attending the annual Methodist Student Conference under the direction of the Wesley Foundation. Approximately one hundred college students were present at the meeting, including representatives from every college in North West Texas.

The Conference opened with a banquet Friday evening, and the program steadily gained in richness and momentum until a climax was reached in the Conference sermon Sunday morning preached by a chosen messenger. Saturday night, the W. T. group gave a candle light communion service under the direction of Jean Day. Elizabeth Faulkner sang a vocal solo; and Lloyd Neelley, President of the Local Chapter of the Wesley Foundation, took special part in the service.

Miss Arlene Pattison, the student speaker from W. T., spoke on "The Purpose and Worth of What We are Doing on Our Campus." Miss Pattison's official position in the Conference was that of Recording Secretary of the Young People's Division of Methodist Churches. The last two Conference Secretaries were also W. T. students, Miss Ila Mae Hastings and Miss Shirley Shook.

Miss Mattie Mae Swisher, the Officer's Counselor of the Northwest Texas section of the Wesley Foundation and local director, had charge of the W. T. delegates. The following group attended the conference: Mrs. Geraldine Green, Nell Green, Arlene Pattison, Jean Day, Elizabeth Faulkner, Lloyd Neelley, Dorothea Martin, Mary Orton, Oressa Hastings, James Vaughn, Mattie Lou Easley, Dorothy McKenzie, Georgene Sexheur, Christine Hamilton, Virginia Heaton and Vea Rose.

The next annual meeting of the Methodist Students will be held here.

WRITERS' CLUB TO MEET TONIGHT

The Writers' Club will meet tonight at 8 o'clock at the Little House of Fellowship with Mr. Thurman, sponsor, in charge of the meeting. Applications for membership and plans for the year will be considered during the business meeting.

To gain admittance to the club which is an organization for upper class students who are interested in creative writing, an applicant is required to submit an original article to one of his or her friends or acquaintances who are members of the organization. He is admitted upon judgments concerning the quality of his work.

ART STUDENTS ATTEND AMARILLO EVENTS

An ambitious group of young art students, Thursday evening of last week viewed the exhibit of Ben Carlton Mead and attended his lecture on illustration and the reproduction process in art at the Amarillo College of Music in Amarillo.

After browsing around the exhibit, the Villagers went en masse to the municipal auditorium where they once again drank deeply from the Cup of Beauty—this time thru the medium of sound and the kindness of the Amarillo Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra.

Miss Isabel Robinson, Art Department head, sponsored the excursions.

PHIDIAS ART CLUB PLANS CREATIVE WORK

At the regular meeting held last Wednesday evening, the Phidias Art Club, before its "arting" was begun, elected officers to fill the remaining vacancies in its administrative staff.

Josie Wiggins was chosen as annual representative; Lucille Burrows, Prairie reporter; and Idell Porter, parliamentarian.

Club work for this season was divided into five craft groups with individual leaders appointed. Block printing will be under the direction and leadership of Alma Lynn Been; leather tooling, Mildred Wharton, tie-dyeing and batik, Beatrice Fulton; modeling and casting, Lucille Burrows; and metal work, Josie Wiggins.

Group products will be offered the student body and general public in the annual "Before Christmas" sale later in the fall. The Club's handicraft has invariably made excellent, as well as unique Christmas gifts.

PI OMEGAS INITIATE MEMBERS

The Pi Omegas met Tuesday evening at the home of Ruth Greenfield for the formal initiation of pledges to the organization. Those initiated were Frances Holman and Mary Martin.

The organization also accepted nine new pledges. These are: Dorothy Cash, Roberta LaFon, Gene Smalley, Genevieve McCray, Helen Mitchell, Frances Alice Clark, Lucy Jo Louder, Marion Hill and Carrie Marie Townsend.

A dainty refreshment course was served following the initiation.

Y. W. C. A. TO BEGIN PROGRAM

Dorothy Cash, vice-president of the Y. W. C. A., announces that the organization will begin a series of programs on "Negro Life and Folklore" at the regular weekly assembly in Room 113E, Wednesday afternoon at 4:30. This first program of the series will feature discussions on the characteristics of the colored race and the singing of a number of well known spirituals.

Young women of the college are cordially invited to attend the service.

KERR HOUSE TEACHERS ENTERTAIN CABIN PARTY

Misses Normington, Hibbets, Cross, Walker and Mrs. Saunders were hostesses to new members of the faculty with a supper party at the Methodist Camp Grounds last Sunday, October 16.

The guests motored out to "Laruan," the cabin owned by Miss Hibbets, Miss Cross, and Mrs. Saunders, and between five and six o'clock in the afternoon were served a delicious meal cooked at the open fire place. The guest list included Misses Helen Hickman, Gladys Williams, Sadie Kate Bass, Rosalie Leslie, Hattie M. Anderson, and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Thurman, Carl York, and Dr. B. F. Fronabarger.

PRESS CLUB MEETS TOMORROW 7:00 P. M.

The Type High Press Club will hold its first meeting tomorrow night at 7:00 in the music room, number 101, a which time a varied program will be presented.

METHODIST YOUNG PEOPLE IN RALLY AT HEREFORD

During the past week end, Hereford was the scene of the Amarillo District rally of the Methodist Young People's section. The rally opened with a banquet Friday night at seven o'clock and lasted through Sunday.

Genevieve McCray and Carl Spratt were the representatives from Canyon.

Joe Bennett, former W. T. student, is enrolled in the University of Arizona for this year. He has pledged Alpha Tau Omega, a national social fraternity.

Mary Hellen Hardin motored to Childress Saturday where she visited with her parents and friends over the week end.

W. T. GRADS TO BREAKFAST IN FT. WORTH

LAW SONE IN CHARGE OF PLANS FOR ANNUAL EVENT STATE TEACHERS MEET.

Ex-students over the state who plan to attend the annual meeting of the Texas State Teachers Association in Fort Worth, November 24, 25, and 26 will be interested in the announcement that the W. T. breakfast will be held in the main dining room of the Texas Hotel at 7 o'clock Friday morning.

The breakfast is an annual event which exes and faculty members attending the state meeting anticipate with genuine pleasure.

At Texas Hotel

President Carruth has announced that Dean Law Sone of T. W. C. will serve as local chairman of arrangements. It will be possible to make reservations with Mr. Sone now, or at W. T. headquarters in the Texas Hotel as late as Thursday before the breakfast date on Friday.

Tickets will be priced at fifty cents.

At this time only a tentative program has been outlined. It is certain, however, that President Hill will appear on the program; and, if possible, an out-of-state speaker will be secured to address the group.

MRS. GREEN LEAVING FOR A. A. U. W.

STATE CONVENTION AT CORPUS CHRISTI; MISS ANDERSON UNABLE TO GO.

Mrs. Geraldine Green leaves tomorrow for Corpus Christi where she will attend the state convention of the American Association of University Women. She will represent the local branch of the A. A. U. W. and also the college. Mrs. Green will give a report on the work done by the local branch during the past year. She will also read the report of the International Relations Committee, which was to have been given by Miss Hattie M. Anderson who was unable to attend the meeting.

Athletic Review And Hall of Fame

Beginning back in the childhood days of the institution, when Crudginton, Shotwell, Key, Hazlewood and Studer were the heroes of athletic contests, this brief history continues down to the present teams. W. T. has always stood for the cleanest and most sportsmanlike brand of play. Character building has been given preference to winning ball, and the success of these men and of the many athletes in T. I. A. A. competition is pointed to with pride by the W. T. enthusiasts.

When the college entered the T. I. A. A., the Goodwins, the Goldens, Burson, Hills, Mitchell, Henry, Jones, Herm, Miller, Thompsons, Sanders, and Sone were placed on the W. T. list of men of honor in battle. Our first T. I. A. A. Conference Championship in basketball gave Lancaster, Mitchell, D. Hill, L. Hill, and N. Hale, places among the immortals. Since then other championship teams have contributed such famous characters as Crump, Lowes, Pearson, Ward, Gerald, Newman, A. Hale, Keith, Fuller, and Brown. Today such giants as Fortenberry, Comer, Monroe, and Colvin are carving their niches in W. T.'s hall of fame.

Heroes in Other Sports

Baseball, Track and Tennis have come in for their share of heroes. In Bagwell, southern A. A. U. half mile record holder; Lowes and Mitchell, holders of T. I. A. A. vaulting records; Herm, Landers, McCarty, McClure, Jenkins, and Fowler in Tennis; Tabor, Dawson, G. Hill, Johnson, Mitchell, Burson, Sone and Nations have placed enviable records both in baseball and later in professional life.

One time John McCarty was W. T.'s one-man track squad, again such men as Bagwell, Gamel, Keith and Lowes worked together to bring W. T. to the front.

W. T.'s men wherever they are playing the game with a fighting heart, a happy smile, and a never-say-die spirit. Up or down, hard knocks or the breaks, they are out there doing their best.

W. T. enthusiasts are proud of them one and all.

TEXAS OUTLOOK GIVES NAMES OF BAKER, SPEER, AND HILL; W. T. EXES.

FACULTIES ENROLL

John O. Baker of Higgins, J. B. Speer of Morse, and J. L. Hill of Follet and their faculties have enrolled one hundred per cent in the Texas State Teachers Association, according to an announcement in the October number of the Texas Outlook, official publication of T. S. T. A.

It is the policy of the Outlook to publish the names of all schools with one hundred per cent membership in the organization, and the schools mentioned above were among those receiving recognition this month.

All three superintendents are former students of W. T. S. T. C.

Mr. Hill, better known on the campus as Lewis, helped make basketball history in 1922, '23, '24. He was here last in the summer just past working toward his degree. Mr. Speer was a popular member of the class of '29, taking his B. S. degree with that group. Mr. Baker took a similar degree here in 1928.

Training School Pupils Audience at Music Program

Children of the kindergarten, first second, and third grades of the Demonstration School made up the audience which heard Miss Ada V. Clark, supervisor of music, present a thirty minute program of songs in the Education Building Saturday morning. Miss Clark was assisted by Mrs. Herschel Coffee, pianist.

The thirteen songs on the program were short and tuneful, and dealt with children's interest ranging from the kitchen clock to the giraffe at the zoo. Spontaneous expressions of approval left no doubt in the minds of Miss Clark and her accompanist that their efforts were appreciated. Of especial interest to the audience were "Pit-a-Pat" and "The Little Shoemaker" which provided a bit of dramatic play for the children. Curran's "Nursery Rhymes," introducing the escapades of well known Mother Goose characters, proved equally popular.

It is possible that other fine arts programs will be arranged for the children during the year.

Aln Reed, Soph, Gets Appointment To Prairie Staff

Announcement came early last week from the president's office to the effect that Aln Reed, sophomore, in W. T., has been appointed to the position of Business Manager of The Prairie. Reed will fill the vacancy made by the recent resignation of Winston Wofford.

He is a graduate of Spearman High School and has done all his college work in W. T. S. T. C. He worked on the publications staff in 1931-32 as a news reporter and acted as sports editor for The Prairie this school term until his recent appointment.

Reed was selected from a number of applicants for the vacant position and will act in the capacity of Business Manager of The Prairie until the fall term of 1933.

No decision has yet been reached concerning the sports editorship of The Prairie. A selection will probably be made this week.

Winston Wofford resigned his position to become principal of the grade school at Gruver, Texas.

FRESHMEN LED BY LARD AND MARTINDALE SHUT-OUT FEARED PAMPA HARVESTERS

SCORE 13-2

THOMPSON, POE, MOORE, AND
CHAMPION LEND POWER TO FISH CAUSE.

Led by the powerful offensive of Albert Lard, sensational recruit in the Fish ranks, the Frosh defeated the highly touted Pampa Harvesters of Odus Mitchell, Ex-Buffalo, by the decisive score of 13-2 in a hard fought game played beneath the Buffalo Stadium sunbeams Friday night, October 21.

The Slimes displayed a decided improvement in their offensive since the Sandle game week before last, and although the freshman defense was fairly good against Amarillo, it could not hold a candle to the type of protection put up against the Pampa crew.

Lard to Martindale

Lard made the first counter by sprinting 65 yards on an off-tackle play. A pass, Lard to Martindale—a combination which proved effective in their high school days at Pampa—netted the other score. Both these backs are ex-Harvesters mentioned for all-state honors a year or so ago.

Lard converted for the extra point after the first marker but the second attempt for the added score was blocked by a vicious Pampa defense.

The first quarter of the conflict was a toss up with Kelly, Pampa end, getting off several fifty yard punts and doing some exceptional tackling. Sullens and Turner, Harvester backs, made game offensive thrusts, but the tackling of Moore, Poe, and Champion thwarted all scoring hopes.

In the second quarter, Pampa fumbled to have the ball covered by Champion, W. T. guard. Fullingem, star Pampa tackle, blocked a Canyon punt. This, coupled with a completed pass, resulted in the first threat at scoring. The Frosh line held, however, and a few moments later Lard ran wild for the first chuckker of the game. After receiving the kick-off, Pampa suffered an unfortunate 20-yard kick. A few line plunges and Lard placed the ball in a position from whence he passed to Martindale for the second and last touchdown of the mele.

Harvesters Threaten

Early in the second half Pampa made her second scoring threat, as a result of effective line-bucking by Poole and Turner after Greene, Harvester center, had intercepted a Frosh pass. Poe stopped the advance with successive tackles beautifully executed.

The last quarter was a series of Cook's tours up and down the field. Thompson and Poe each intercepted Harvester passes. However, long gains by Sullens and Turner put the ball on the Fish five yard line with first down. The Freshman line held like so much concrete and the ball went over on downs with inches to go. Poe, in attempting to pass out of bounds, passed over the goal line where Pampa made its lone tally, a safety. In the last few minutes, Thompson led the way in another rush for a touchdown to be stopped by the gun on Pampa's three yard line with two downs to go.

Coach Jones did not make a single substitution during the entire game while Mitchell of Pampa substituted nine times.

The line-up:

Pampa	Canyon
Patton	Moore
Greene	left guard
Nelson	center
Johnson	right guard
Kelley	right tackle
Turner	right end
Sullens	quarter
Stevens	left half
	full

Substitutions: Canyon, None. Pampa: Owens for Stevens, Hamilton for Turner, Burgess for Johnson, Marborough for Owens, Reynolds for Hamilton, Woodward for Stevens, Sarton for Patton, Marborough for Poole, and Poole for Marborough.

First downs: Canyon nine, Pampa eight.

First Year

(Continued from first page) bers were "hand picked." They justified the picking. Of this hand-picked group each of the four who remain occupied distinctive positions. Miss Ritchie was the adored of the boys; Miss Hudspeith the friend and counselor of the girls. Mr. Hill was a favorite of boys and girls alike, and Mr. Allen was the Rock of Gibraltar of the institution as a whole.

There is something about the beginning of things that calls forth strong response, emotional, physical, and mental. Consequently, when extra-curricular activities were initiated by calls for the organization of the two literary societies, one for men and one for women, practically every student in the institution was at the appointed place at the appointed time, 4:30, September 30th, 1910.

A. C. C. TO MEET BUFFS THIS WEEK

CONFERENCE TILT

McCLENDON PREDICTS VICTORY FOR W. T. STALWARTS AGAINST FOES.

FRIDAY NIGHT

Friday night, October 28, Coach Burton and his herd of championship-aspiring Buffaloes will entertain the Abilene Christian College crew of footballers at Buffalo Stadium from 8 p. m. until a settlement is reached concerning the relative superiority of the two squads.

Upon pre-game predictions, taken from the ever tricky dope sheet, the Buffs enjoy a slight advantage due to their decisive defeat last week of McMurry, victors over A. C. C. by a 3-0 margin. However, A. C. C. is now reported to be the stronger of the two, having improved much since the season opened.

Deciding Factor in T. I. A. A. The game will go a long way toward deciding the T. I. A. A. Champs since it leaves the Buffs with only Sul Ross to contend with. If A. C. C. should win, the Buffaloes get a tie for first place if they in turn defeat Sul Ross the following week end. But if the locals win both games, W. T. should be roosting at the top when the season ends.

However, there is Texas A. & I. The Buffaloes do not have a scheduled game with them. If both squads should be undefeated it is possible that a game would be arranged to decide the undisputed championship of the T. I. A. A. in its last year of existence.

Scouts at Game

Assistant coach G. J. Crump, and Bill McClendon and Otis Burk, captain and quarter back respectively of the Buffaloes, scouted the A. C. C.-Sul Ross game in Abilene Friday—won by Sul Ross, 14-7, the winners scoring the winning points in the last 45 seconds of play.

Both teams remain on the Buffaloes schedule. "They are our meat," quoth Cap'n McClendon yesterday, with his customary confidence. "The Abilene fellows are small men—but fast. The Lobos have a heavier team than ours. But, you watch. We'll win."

just ten days after enrollment began. Interest was keen; enthusiasm waxed high. The numbers present justified the organization of two societies respectively for men and for women instead of the one as originally conceived. To effect the division amicably, numbers were drawn. In each of the two groups those students drawing even numbers formed one society, those drawing odd numbers a second. Later all societies maintained that not a single "odd one" got into their fold.

Societies Organized

The next week, October 6th, the four groups held their respective meetings, names were chosen, officers elected, and four live literary societies, the Barrett Brownings and the Sesames for girls, the Cousins and the Palo Duro for boys, sprang into life as precocious youngsters. In a short time the Barrett Brownings extended to the Palo Duros and the Sesames to the Cousins an invitation to become their brother societies. Both invitations were promptly and apparently joyfully accepted. Thus was begun Barrett Brownings-Palo Duro and Cousins-Sesames fellowship, friendship, and mutual helpfulness.

In contests "no quarter" was the practice. But when the smoke of battle cleared away it was pretty thick at times, hatchets were buried and the four groups became a unit in boosting for Alma Mater. Second in importance only to the literary societies was the Y. W. C. A. with Miss Hudspeith as its guiding spirit.

NOTICE

The Sophomore class will meet at 11 o'clock Thursday in room 201 for the purpose of discussing plans for the year. All Sophomores are urged to be present, as important business is to be taken up at this time.

BROTHERTON MAKES THREE CHUCKKERS TO KNOCK PROPS FROM BENEATH McMURRY

BISON BULL

by HOKUM HUNTER
and HEZZA SKINNER

The new editors of Bison Bull are almost afraid to accept the job of piloting the column for this year. There has been two editors of this particular section since the quarter started and both of 'em left town between suns. However, both the present incumbents are professional martyrs and take upon themselves just another job of martyrizing at so much per martyr.

Bison Bull isn't any lost and found column. If you have lost anything, go to Dr. Cook; he probably has it. If you have found anything—stray cats and lost hopes excepted—Hezza and Hokum will undertake to sell them for you and apply the proceeds to balancing the budget.

And Hezza has started the season with a grouch. He wants above everything else to get something on Al Duncan—the big stiff—for laughing at him the other day when Hezza got into the female section of "split chapel" by mistake. Miss Richardson—bless her heart—saved Hezza from sleeping through the assembly all unsuspecting like.

Oh me! Oh my! what a mighty team those Buff is! Last Tuesday when the Buffalo team was requested to stand up in chapel, the entire team to a man stood up on his feet! That fellow Burk hasn't any of those inferior complexions.

And old Bill McClendon pulled some of that fictionized stuff at Brownwood—a regular Frank Merriwell stunt. Bill intercepted a Goat pass and after seeing that he was surrounded completely by the entire flock of Billies, executed a perfect lateral pass to Colvin, who advanced the ball to the Hillbillies' five yard line before being downed. And some people will tell you that a college education is a waste of time and money!

Professor Michael Malcolm Hunt, former wrestler and boxer par excellence and also of Sociology fame spent the past week in and around the campus—attending the New Mexico State Teachers Convention. Professor Hunt has been unsuccessful in his attempt to extract alcohol from the lowly peanut. Try soap weed, Doctor.

The expression, "in other words" like the Ninety-fifth Article of War, covers a multitude of sins.

Jimmie Gamewell will, more than likely, have some new golph gossip this week since he went to see the Mighty Gene Sarazen strut his cake-walk on the Amarillo greens last week. Hezza heard Jimmie talking about a "hollow headed" club of some sort. Hokum used to belong to that club before he started getting the cavity filled.

Hezza went over to the new museum building the other day and did some observation work in architecture. Also he saw some potential ball toters acquiring brawn via the wheelbarrow route. Hezza noticed that transportation has not improved a lot since the ancient time—he saw three donkeys pulling a high wheeled cart filled with mud.

Hokum surely would like to meet that guy who writes The Mumbles. He says that the Mumbler is all wrong about Jake Harrison's ears.

Dr. Fronabarger says that everyone is saddled with some vanity or other. Hezza knows a guy that is carrying double—don't throw that typewriter, Cabe!

Will someone give Hokum the lowdown on Mr. Duflot's efforts at teaching College Joe how to harness a pair of mules?

Hezza and Hokum got in a load of dope on forth-coming games from here and yonder but we graciously refrained from using any more space in this issue. Some day we'll be exes ourselves and we'll want some space for our past. We've swapped out with the editor and we'll see you all at the A. C. C.-Buff wrangle next Friday nite.

Another Victory Toward T. I. A. A. Championship

Continuing their march towards another championship flag, the Buffaloes unleashed their dogs of war to defeat the McMurry Indians 19-0 in a conference game on the McMurray field at Abilene last Thursday.

Brotherton, Buffalo backfield ace, accounted for all three touchdowns, one in each of the last three quarters of the game. The first touchdown came at the beginning of the second quarter when the Buffs took the offensive in midfield and advanced to the Indians' goal for the curtain raiser.

Taking the ball on the kickoff, at the opening of the second half, the Buffs, via the Williams, Burk, Davis, and Brotherton route—drove 71 yards for their second counter, Brotherton repeating his trick of crashing over. At this stage of the game, with the Buffs on the Indian 2-yard line, Wadzeck, McMurry all-conference guard, headed a desperate rally to hold the Bisons for three downs, but weakened under the fourth attack and yielded to the inevitable.

Just one minute before the final gun the much battered Indians were forced to surrender to the terrific pounding of "Cow" Williams, powerful leader of the Herd's offensive. He took the initiative and, with Burk, Spence, and Davis carrying on, made the final drive from the Buffs 34 yard line to McMurry's Goal, with "Zeke" making it three in a row. Teague's educated toe accounted for one extra point after the second touchdown.

McMurry's big moment came in the early part of the first quarter when they were in scoring position inside the Buffalo twenty-yard line and again in the fourth quarter when they were within a hair's breadth of a first down on the Buffs' four-yard line.

GUS'S GOSSIP GAGS

Welcome, Exes, welcome! We're mighty glad to have you back. . . . Saw BILL STRAIN in town Saturday. We suspect that quiet but friendly air of his has already made him a popular teacher over at Berger. . . . And of course we couldn't overlook the presence of WINSTON SAVAGE—that curly-headed Apollo and dignified professor of something-or-other up in the Pampa district. . . . How could we go further and not say something about "MIKE" HUNT—the boy who always had something to say and who could put Daniel Webster in the shade when it came to saying it. . . . Freshmen, when you hear such names as PAT GERARD, CLEATICE CRUMP, ZELLA MAE CRUMP, DELBERT LOWES, ALLEITH ELLISTON, HERMAN TROUTMAN, JESSE BARKER, ADELINE BARKER, ALEX HALE, MITCHELL JONES, RUFUS DODGEN, DAVID LEE, BOB CLARK, OLIN HINKLE, HATCHER BROWN, DAVIS HILL, KATHLEEN CRONIN, WILMOTH GAMBLE, and BOB POWELL you should immediately realize that these persons were and still are SOMEBODY in W. T.—And say, we haven't begun to mention all the names that should be on this list. Once again, Exes, welcome home!

For once in his life FRANK WINSETT seems to be taking something seriously. Yes, it is CHARLIE MAE CARPENTER. . . . BILL McCLENDON has recently found that it doesn't pay not to write letters to one's friends. The other day BILL received notice that he had a telegram at the telegraph office. He immediately rushed down, paid the fifty or sixty cent charge, opened the message and read: "It is cheaper to write. Your friend, 'Perv'."
